A child (legal entity) borne (birthed) into the legal matrix and illusion of mammon can only perceive reason according to that artificial construct. Thus, most of our capacity for reason is of an artificial source, making our reasoning ability only as good as that which we are taught and exposed to by the agencies and agents of that artificial legal matrix; the dungeon-masters. A flawed foundation can only lead to flawed logic (dialectic) and rhetoric based on flawed grammar (adversaria), causing the so-called “trivium” method of liberal arts to be a pointless tool and endeavor when applied to the common, dog-Latin of the English language. A public teacher is a publicly educated person, and so can only teach within that public legal matrix, not without. The law of the legal code prevents any other methodologies to be expressed by its agents (teachers) in its bestowed degrees and credentialism. They can only teach public-mindedness. The colorblind can only teach the perspective and opinion of the colorblind. And yet the righteousness expressed by those so confident in their errors of reasoning through this language of illiteracy is the best example of non-spiritual, non-self-evident reasoning. To argue and debate over the correctness of the fictions created by man, including all his artifice of language arts, is the prime example of government (mind control).

Sadly, these statements will be taken as offensive by many readers. And yet Truth is only ever defensive. To be offended by what is self-evident Truth is to be wise in one’s own conceit. It is to love (believe) the lie and embrace the grand delusion. The origins of this system of pure logic without spiritual consideration will be discussed in Volume II of this work, where we find as much of a miserable failure of any ancient society as we do in today’s system of government. Under this strict logic, we find history merely repeating itself by those who ignore the substance and lessons of that history in lieu of and respect of the importance of the empty names of the persons, places, things, and dates ascribed to it.

And so we must remember that reason alone, that is, reason and logic without spirituality, without God (the Nature of Reality), is only a fabled tool of the legal fiction of church and state and its agents (believers/lovers/minions). It is generally based on lies or at least on parabolic inaccuracies, thus creating a false sense of right and wrong based solely on false or embellished information not self-evident. Rulers (gods) rely on this false enlightenment, as the artificial rubber-soul of their own binding law, which bonds all of us in our rented houses. Thus reason without spirituality has become the custom of all nations and all teachers even as a spirituality without reason has infected all priests. Recreated truths sold without self-evidence is the name of the game. When the law of man is in harmony with the Natural Law, then and only then is it reasonable. But then, what purpose or use does any legal law serve if it is in exact servitude and sameness to the unwritten Natural Law? None at all, except perhaps to add sanction and thus judgement (pretended justice and punishment) to what is otherwise non-sanctionable (spiritual) and voluntary (unenforceable). But the reason for the creation of legal (anti-God) law is designed for and will always be changed to suit the needs of its false legal gods (creators), and specifically to escape that bond of the Law of God. It can never stand in True Equitableness, for it always has its own gods with military force behind it.

Hard not to spot the freemason diatribe and mystery rhetoric in some of these maxims, eh?

Of course a king (sovereign) would perceive authority as a bright light; that of a devil’s staff and rod to rule by force. To a king, the violent subjection of all other men is a naturally reasonable, perfect psychopathy. Reason will always be skewed by a man’s status in society, through the beholder’s eye. The higher the status, the more his reason is warped according to his own falsely perceived dignity and authority, until at some point all of those below him in persona and title are condemnable, no better than cattle. This is why the scriptures teach over and over never to respect the persons and flattering titles of any man, and especially such a mark of falsehood upon thyself, even in the mistaken replacement of Jehovah with Jesus Christ. To worship the personification of Jehovah as christ (a part of the whole) without acknowledgement of the True Source and Nature of Jehovah (the Creator of christ) is a fruitless adventure, though many Christians have turned to call Jesus Christ as the Creator, as a separate, secondary god. But then, only within these false images can authority be possible for those claiming to be “the sweet christ on Earth” like the Pope. And only with respect of such ridiculously flattering titles (like the “pope” being as a temporal “Christ” with spiritual jurisdiction) is our own voluntary subjection to such lies in persona possible.

We must know that a “slave” may kill his “master” at any time, for the “master” is merely a magical word given authority by the will of the man believing himself to be trapped in the title of “slave,” which without scriptural, spiritual knowledge of the Law / Word of God’s Nature seems a perfectly reasonable and logical state of mind. It is the authority of those man-made words, the title of the man, that must be figuratively killed. The enemy is always fiction, not the man bearing it. And we are all each other’s enemy in our respect of legal fiction and the titles its creators (gods) create, even the supposed legal “equality” presupposed upon of the goyim of the nations.

“IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO ENSLAVE, MENTALLY OR SOCIALLY, A BIBLE-READING PEOPLE. THE PRINCIPLES OF THE BIBLE are the groundwork of human freedom.”

—Horace Greeley, founding editor of ‘The New-Yorker’ and ‘New York Tribune’ newspapers

To be clear, “the law” is a bunch of words written on paper by mostly deceased men of old, whom in their own imaginary flattering titles acted in the empty legal name (noun) of magistracy (as gods/lawmakers) in some fictional government (corporation) they created for their own benefit (trust). This legalistic law has no Life, no soul, and no actual spirit. We should never place the qualities of Jehovah (Nature, Reality) upon or under the authority of man’s art forms and customs, especially his legalese and rhetoric of law built on purposefully fallacious logic (false dialectic). Similitude is not sameness. The written, legal “law” is not the unwritten Word/Law/Son of God. It is of the self-evident Nature of no man. Nature is not made of words and the respect of Its Life and Law should not be skewed by the selfish reasoning and symbols of man and mammon.

The concepts spoken of often in the Pro-verbs (parables) of the Bible speak to the importance of Natural knowledge, understanding, and thus ultimately to spiritual (negative) wisdom. Those who follow the ancient pagan, Latinized, humanistic liberal arts or “trivium” method of education restate these scriptural terms literally as empty (artful) grammar, logic, and rhetoric. Logic is another word for dialectic, which means to stand under (under-stand) whatever limited knowledge is received, even if its source is Purely accidentally or intentionally adversaria. But we must always differentiate between the concepts of knowledge and grammar. Knowledge of that which is self-evident needs not grammar to fulfill its Existence or correctness, for grammar is only man’s creation based on his ultra-limited perception, not on God’s self-evident intention of Creation. One can easily learn and understand a lie and then logically proclaim its relevance and false truth with clever but unspiritual, grammar-based rhetoric using only this methodology of liberal arts. In fact, this is the origin of legalism dating back to the early, pre-christian Chinese empires that carried the title of logicians, which again will be covered in volume II of this work.

Most importantly, these logic-based societies were a miserable failure. Today, the liberal arts and the subsequent use of logical fallacy in argument are amongst the arsenal of tools taught to the attorney class and law society. And for just this reason, we must learn the spectrum of their usage so that we may not be fooled and defeated by such artful terms borne (carried) by fallacious logic.

However, this notion of a confident, even religiously adhered to dialectic of understanding is the make or break mental condition that causes man to either embrace Truth or succumb to a well-laid (kindled) lie as his accepted but false truth in perpetual convolution. Thus the quote above should be taken to heart for any that have fallen pray to this method of purely logic-based rhetoric. Dialectic (logic-based opinion) is indeed quite the opposite of spiritual freedom of thought. For improper grammar (as proclaimed knowledge) can seem to be certain in its enlightenment, just as Lucifer presents Itself in similitude to the Light of God.

To put this “trivium” or “classical liberal arts” method into proper perspective, two things must be understood. One is that the so-called trivium method may only be considered legitimate upon things and concepts created by man, for no self-evident, self-Existent thing in Nature (Reality) need stand before such limited scrutiny of the words and logic-based ideas of man. The name of what is Real may certainly be debated, but not the Reality the name represents. Thus the trivium may only debate fiction. This is not good or bad, and indeed this method is a powerful tool in this regard. But its limitations therein must always be at the forefront of our perspectives, lest our arrogance built upon false truths manifests exactly as the scriptures warn, as the dog returning to its own vomit (circular logic). Secondly, the trivium method is very much like the scientific method. It is a law, and the law of man is always imperfect. It can quite easily be used wrongfully to subjugate and force a lie or unlawfulness (licensure) as the law, to call as legal “truth” what is self-evidently not the Truth (of God’s Nature). It is a tool that must be applied and used correctly and with continued open-mindedness, for it may only lead one to the artful truth of what is not actual, Natural Truth (Jehovah). I would even say that these tools, such as these methods, should be used only by those graceful enough to admit to the limits of not only their own minuscule rationale of the total of what is available as collectable knowledge, but indeed to the almost infinite bounds of knowledge still then available and undiscovered or undiscoverable. Such humility makes one’s own knowledge and thus any singular dialectic based on that ultra-limited knowledge look like a leaf afloat in an ocean. To call the leaf as the One Truth according to science or some other liberal method of the logic-based constructs of man is to ignore the infinite Reality and universe that Is Truth (verb).

This is the key to spirituality, for to know thy own limits is to know the potentiality and threshold of thy Self as one’s own enemy. But in the logic-oriented, spiritually absent society we find ourselves in, both of these methods are instead worn as a sort of super hero-like cape and armor or badge of false show, institutionalized to the point that possessing them as a flattering title (that of the noun/flattering title of scientist or triviumist, if you will) causes their very intent to be skewed. Such a pretended badge causes a special kind of indefatigable logical fallacy. It is thus used prima facie as merely a surface appearance to “win” any argument by shoving the “trivium” or “science” (empty words) in the face of one’s opponent in discourse. “Trivium” is a noun, and when used correctly is a verb, an action, and should be a humility and limitation rather than a weapon or a badge or arrogant flattery and strict law or conclusion of rightness. And so without eloquence or effect of passing on knowledge, the “trivium” itself (as a noun/title) therefore can be said to be its own logical fallacy when used as a weapon of debate. It creates a false dialectic, a foundation-less, unscientific certainty, as the notion of I’m right simply because I followed the trivium method or the scientific method, despite the dog-Latin my grammar is written in and despite all the purposefully occulted knowledge I’m unfamiliar with. If one’s source of grammar is in its essence false or untrue, or even a half-truth if that’s really even possible, or is otherwise purposefully despoiled and designed to mislead as so much adversaria out there does, so too will be the dialectic of logic and resulting rhetoric (words). This over-confidence of what is truth without self-evidence spreads like a cancer through the mind and through society, based on the rhetoric of he who “has the trivium” as if it were the Force from Star Wars. And let us never forget that the entire scheme of the attorney class is based on an education in the liberal arts, and worse, in the proper legal use of logical fallacies to “win” their case. Ignore the message and attack the messenger, this is the way of he who attorns.

To profess theory as fact, this is the meme of false, institutionalized (corporate) science, government, and religion, and shows the severe danger of false dialectic (logic-based opinion alone). The entirety of the vaccine and drug industry relies on falsified data and fallacious logic, as do so many so-called “scientist’s” paychecks. More evidence that the title does not make the man.
“MOST SCIENTISTS ‘CAN'T REPLICATE STUDIES BY THEIR PEERS’”

“Science is facing a 'reproducibility crisis' where MORE THAN TWO-THIRDS OF RESEARCHERS HAVE TRIED AND FAILED TO REPRODUCE ANOTHER SCIENTIST'S EXPERIMENTS, research suggests. This is frustrating clinicians and drug developers who want solid foundations of pre-clinical research to build upon... Experiments are supposed to be replicable. The authors should have done it themselves before publication, and all you have to do is read the methods section in the paper and follow the instructions. Sadly nothing, it seems, could be further from the truth... Concern over the reliability of the results published in scientific literature has been growing for some time. According to a survey published in the journal Nature last summer, MORE THAN 70% OF RESEARCHERS HAVE TRIED AND FAILED TO REPRODUCE ANOTHER SCIENTIST'S EXPERIMENTS.”

Most accessible public books are indeed adversarial to True knowledge. This is not unlike many religions out there, whose practitioners and apologists certainly may lay claim to the correctness of their secular, patriotic conduct and that of the mercenary United States military in the LEGALIZED murdering of countless millions in the name of peace (free-flowing commerce), a fallacious interpretation of the scriptural, spiritual knowledge if ever there was one. Any creation/invention of man, either physical or mental, should be used only under careful consideration and care, and never without spiritual, scriptural Law as its superior check and balance.

—Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

—Vladimir Ilyich Lenin

We see here the danger in legalizing morals and Natural Law concepts from a negative (unwritten) aspect into the legal authority of strictly written (involuntary) and violently enforced positive law (lex scripta). The law solidifies and enforces the lie, forcing man to live by that lie and in support of it while in a legal persona, while plugged-in to that legal matrix (law of fictional things). Natural equity (under God’s Law) is a purely negative concept, meaning that man claims the understood negative right (privy) to be left alone in one’s private affairs by assuming the voluntary duty of and towards all men by doing the same unto all others. Non-interference; a Law breakable only to thwart unnatural (evil) actions against Nature. However, in the legalized artifice of what is named as “equity,” it re-presents (through legal words) the negative duties of man into a contractual, positive law, usually with the added intent of permissively breaking with that foundational, scriptural Word (Son) of God’s Nature.

We must never forget that the legal law of today, that romanticized (from Roman times) “law of the land” is not unique to the American constitution in any way, merely the same old repetitive legal law of that moving, ever-evolving kingdom of the pagan Roman Empire. For the strict, civil law is only the continued law of Rome, a creation of the Pope of the Church and State.

LEX TERRAE - The law of the land. The phrase is used to distinguish this from the civil or Roman law. 2. By lex terrae, as used in Magna Charta, is meant one process of law, namely, proceeding by indictment or presentment of good and lawful men. In the constitution of Tennessee, the words “the law of the land” signify A GENERAL AND PUBLIC LAW OPERATING EQUALLY UPON EVERY MEMBER OF THE COMMUNITY. (Bouv1856)

LEX TERRAE - The law of the land. The common law, or the due course of the common law, the GENERAL law of the land. Equivalent to “DUE PROCESS OF LAW.” In the strictest sense, trial by oath; the privilege of making oath. Bracton uses the phrase to denote a freeman’s privilege of being sworn in court as a juror or witness, which jurors convicted of perjury forfeited, (legem terrae amittant). The phrase means “the procedure of the old popular law.” (Black4)

LEX SCRIPTA - Written law; law deriving its force, not from usage, but from express legislative enactment, STATUTE LAW. (From the Latin Maxim) “If the written law be silent, that which is drawn from manners and custom ought to be observed; and, if that is in any manner defective, then that which is next and analogous to it; and, IF THAT DOES NOT APPEAR, THEN THE LAW WHICH ROME USES SHOULD BE FOLLOWED.” This maxim of Lord Coke is so far followed at the present day that, in cases where there is no precedent of the English courts, the civil law is always heard with respect and often, though not necessarily, followed… (Black4)

The constitution of the United States is lex scripta. So whatever subject-matter is not specified in the written law therein, or by custom, etc., reverts to the Roman (pagan) Law! This is anti-scripture! I cannot stress the importance of this statement by Mr. Bouvier, whose 1856 dictionary was commissioned by Congress and ratified as a strict part of the “law of the land.”

“The principles of the Roman law, being generally founded in superior wisdom, have insinuated themselves INTO EVERY PART OF THE LAW. Many of the refined rules which now adorn THE COMMON LAW appear there WITHOUT ANY ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF THEIR PATERNITY, and it is at THIS SOURCE THAT SOME JUDGES DIP TO GET THE WISDOM WHICH ADORNS THEIR JUDGMENTS. The proceedings of the COURTS OF EQUITY and many of the admirable distinctions which manifest their wisdom ARE DERIVED FROM THIS SOURCE. TO THIS FOUNTAIN OF WISDOM THE COURTS OF ADMIRALTY OWE MOST OF THE LAW WHICH GOVERNS IN ADMIRALTY CASES.”

—Bouvier’s Law Dictionary, 1856, definition for ‘Sources Of The Law’

“That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, AND CARRIED ABOUT WITH EVERY WIND OF DOCTRINE (LAW), BY THE SLEIGHT OF MEN, AND CUNNING CRAFTINESS, WHEREBY THEY LIE IN WAIT TO DECEIVE…”

—Ephesians 4:14, KJB

“For whoremongers, for them THAT DEFILE THEMSELVES WITH MANKIND, for menstealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is CONTRARY TO SOUND DOCTRINE (LAW)…”

—1 Timothy 1:10, KJB

“Jesus answered them, and said, MY DOCTRINE (LAW) IS NOT MINE, BUT HIS THAT SENT ME.”

—John 7:16, KJB

“And the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people was astonished at his doctrine (Law).”

—Mark 11:18, KJB

“Listen,” he said, “we're going up to Jerusalem, where the Son of Man will be betrayed TO THE LEADING PRIESTS AND THE TEACHERS OF RELIGIOUS LAW. THEY WILL SENTENCE HIM TO DIE AND HAND HIM OVER TO THE ROMANS.”

—Mark 10:33, NLT

“…They bound Jesus, led him away, and took him to Pilate, THE ROMAN GOVERNOR.”

Note here that when the Bible states that the leading teachers and priests of the religious Law will betray and sentence to die the son of Man, this is allegorical, and it means that the priest class will seek to bypass and destroy the Law (Son/Word) of God for all men. Do you not see that this propheesy has come True in every way, through the evangelists of mammon and through the denominations of Roman (Universal), false Christianity? Remember, it was the pope that created the Roman civil law (lex scripta), and that the civil law of the so-called “Jewish” people is not the Bible, but the Talmud.

To bypass the religious law, which would not allow such a cold-blooded execution, the chief priests, elders, and scribes of the Jews (those opposed to the New Law/Son) used instead the legalistic trickery of the strict Roman law to attempt to convict and obtain license to put to death an innocent “person,” not a man. This is a very important lesson (parable) being taught here. For to take upon oneself the false law (doctrine) and persona of another, one that is specifically opposed to the very moral fabric of that Highest Law of Nature, one is literally betraying the Nature and respect of God. And this exemplifies proof that the legal law, the law of man, is always that which opposes God’s Law and christ (Son/Word).

The Bible in its proverbs adamantly instructs us that he who is surety for another will most certainly smart (be put in pain) for it. Understand this, and we understand the nature of Title 42, section 1981 of the US Code…

All citizen-ships under the United States (in surety of a proprietary, US legal persona and surname) shall be subject to pain (being smarted), punishment, taxation, license, and exaction (extortion) of every kind…

Remember, these are the price of your free-dom (franchise). Free-dumb…

A man cannot escape True equity, no matter how private he is or how sovereign he claims to be, for the Natural Law is of a Purely equitable foundation, and includes the inherent right of Self-defense. Man cannot escape his True Nature nor the responsibility resulting by his actions. But a man can escape fictional publicity and therefore the positively constituted and created law (lex scripta) of man if he is at all times responsible for his own actions and avoids all commercially considered activity by avoiding all things in the personhood of mammon (monetary transactions valued in patented government currency considered as “interstate commerce”), while acting in the negative state of duty to his fellow man in bringing no harm or trespass thereof.

Without blood consideration, no man holds the pre-tended elitist status of one of the privately self-governed constituency of the sovereignty (We, the People), and thus cannot hold property through blood inheritance. The personhood and citizenship attained at legal birth is only as a debtor, user, and tenant. This is a criminal state of felony condemnation in censure. No blood, no heir… To place man’s person into legal and voluntary attainder is to mark a man as a beast of burden. The beast is you!
“And Jesus answering said unto them, Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of God? For when THEY SHALL RISE FROM THE DEAD, THEY NEITHER MARRY, NOR ARE GIVEN IN MARRIAGE; And as touching the dead, that they rise: have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? HE IS NOT THE GOD OF THE DEAD, BUT THE GOD OF THE LIVING: ye therefore do greatly err.”

—Mark 12: 24-27

Think you know what this means in dog-Latin?

Do you think this is talking about Natural death or civil death, spiritual Life or spiritual death, as the God of the Living and not the dead? And why would one who rises from civil life (figurative death) into spiritual One seek to avoid the civilly binding contract of marriage by the legal state?

Because only fictional persons (dead creations of the state) can be married under the state’s man-made law and license! To be legally married, one must contract with the state in its legal person. Men need no permission to make a vow (promise) of marriage to God. Only persons need permission from their false god creator to be incorporated together as one legal “family.” Only a spiritually dead, civil persona can get hitched by the state, a combination of two incorporated persons (surnames), as two properties of the state becoming as one public, family corporation (artificial person) in law. True wedlock needs no contract and no government, for it is a vow to God, the most binding promise of all, whereas a legal marriage is merely a contract of mammon, a vow not to Jehovah but to the god of the church and state.

The God (verb) of the Living… for Life is Jehovah and Jehovah is Life.

—Ephesians 5: 12 and 14, KJB

If you believe you must be physically dead to arise from the dead, then exactly whom were these words addressed to? Was he speaking to a graveyard? Was he teaching those who could not hear, that were not alive, or was he relating parabolically to those only dead of spirit and lost in the darkness of artifice? Do we not label most of the public-minded multitude as the sleeping masses, as sheep that lost their shepherd? Not even the staunch literalist can possibly believe that the use of this figurative word dead refers to the rotting corpses of those already departed from this Life and Existence. The parable is certainly lost on the fool, as the Bible intrepidly warns.
How can one who legally claims to be in spiritual death (legal life) claim the power and protection of the spiritual, moral Law (Light) by that of the Existing One, which is only the God of the Living and spiritually minded souls of Living men (of Creation)? A man that enters himself into a contractual dead pledge (in a citizen-ship) no longer has the authority and spirit of God’s Law by his side. For an artificial, civil life is figuratively representative of a spiritual death in corruption of blood. The Living man acting as agent for the dead person cannot partake in the blessings of the Living, Permanent Being of heaven on earth (God’s Kingdom), for his existence is false, his law is legal (anti-God), his blood is attainted, and his god is mammon. So he can only remain in hell; the open-air debtor’s prison of legal jurisdiction and obligation for civil life-forms called persons (debtors). We must realize that citizenship is contractually a voluntary spiritual death and a turning away from Jehovah and the Law of Nature into pure fiction. It is a contract with the devil (lied written in reverse). For personhood is a fictional anti-Life, the opposite of Living (blood/spirit), the opposite of the Reality of Nature. And the only god of the dead is the state, the nation (district), through its self-proclaimed status in the pretended sovereign authority of magistrates, for man is and forever will be the only creator of fictional things. God (verb) Creates nothing artificial, for this is as impossibility. Nature, as a foundational self-evident Law, neither produces nor respects any form of fiction. The inventions of man don’t come pre-fabricated or pre-mixed.

Do you think, for instance, that when you get a contract of “life insurance” under your government issued surname, that the “life” in question is your own? Of course not! A life in-SUR-ance is only for the fictional SUR-name, which is property of the state (United States or other legal government corporation). It only covers the civil death of a fictional legal person, which is thus certified and registered with a death certificate. A man’s death is self-evident, needing no closure or certification from God (man’s Creator) to prove what is a negative, Natural occurrence, an Act of God (Nature). Only a fictional entity must be closed out in the balance sheets and accounting books of government, for the man takes nothing of the artifices of this world with him. This is why all “benefits” are held up until the positively declared legal proof of the fictional, civil death of the fictional person is certified by the government that owns its admixed name (proper noun). Of course, the Living man for whom that person is insured will never be able to collect on that insurance, for the life of the puppet depends upon the continued Life of its ship-master who operates it. Life insurance is indeed a paradox unless you comprehend that the insurance does not cover any Creation of God, but only the legal name (vessel) assigned in fiction as the strawman, the property of the state.

This is all part of the legal concept of surety, ensuring profitability in any and every way from commercial entities. The State promotes insurance upon its own property (its status), and enjoys the cosmic joke that man should pay premiums throughout his Life for the sureness of his own death. Government certainly and with pleasure suffers fools who pay for the legal benefits of their own demise, and invests that full sum payout until it is paid out to the beneficiary. Everything is an investment scheme, and a life insurance policy is literally the creation of money, the value of which can be traded and invested by the bank. Of course corporations like State Farm have their own bank and multiple corporate entities. Putting a wager upon your Natural Life (a sure bet) is big business! Every human capital subject will pay dividends in that game. Again, in Reality, an insurance policy is nothing more than the creation of an “immature” monetary instrument, which the company uses as an investment tool for profit and gain until that money must be paid out to the “dead” person’s willed beneficiaries. Not family as by inheritance, but to whatever corporate legal id-entity is listed in receivership. It may be a natural person or an artificial person (corporation). It’s all a scam to cause man to use his strawman signature to create new debt money into mammon, without which the insurance corporation would have no capital. And you wonder why they don’t want to pay it out? As for the man, the actor in citizen-ship, all he sees is the prize at the end of his adventure in a spiritually dead life, one that in Life he will never himself obtain. The reward is nothing but an inducement to contract, a carrot on a stick, just one of many of satan’s illusions.

Ever noticed that a man can somehow be convicted and sent to prison for what are called as “consecutive life sentences?” How is this possible… unless the life spoken of is not of this Reality of Nature and only exists in the fictional, legal realm? A man is by his blood destined to die but once in the Reality of his Life on Earth, but a legal person can live (in artificiality) as a corporation for eternity in false immortality; in paper fiction. So the man, while acting merely as surety in bond to the person, can only serve those so-called “life” sentences for as long as his Real Life-force under God (in Nature) holds out while in that legal captivity. But the actual terms of the legal punishment upon that legal person, thank God, can never be actually fulfilled by the living man in his Reality of Life in Nature. The time is written off as a valuable consideration in the end, for the imprisoning of a man in person through his surety bond is merely another commercial enterprise for the profit of the state.

Time is in-deed money.

Speaking of civil life, how many rose from the dead and into a spiritual Life (civil death) under God in Nature, from Lazarus to Jesus, in the Bible? Without understanding the dualistic higher language (higher = higher in authority), the common man will think of this as the simple, vulgar story of the physical dying of these men; of an ancient, mini-zombie apocalypse perhaps. For it is only through this duality of words in which a master wordsmith creates either confusion or comprehension. And as we just read, christ (the Law personified) tells all men to rise from this spiritually dead legal life under false doctrine (law).

“Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, AND THE LIFE: he that believeth in me, THOUGH HE WERE DEAD, YET SHALL HE LIVE: And whosoever LIVETH AND BELIEVETH in me shall NEVER DIE.”

But wait a minute! How can a dead man buried deep in the ground believe in anything? The literalist will literally kill other men over the perceived literal fact that this must be taken as a literal interpretation. But you must be Living to have the capacity to believe in something, don’t you?

In dog-Latin, this is like unto a riddle. It must be deciphered. In applying logic and reason here we must surmise that christ absolutely and without question had to be referring to a Living man partaking in civil (dead) life. Christ’s message is to all of the spiritually dead living in civil (legal) captivity and within the nativity bond of nations as a dead pledger in this debtor’s hell. For that message would be unheard among the already physically dead and buried empty vessels, soulless husks absent of the spirit of Life that would allow such Belief (Pure Love, Truth, and Charity). In the finality of physical death, obviously the spirit would already know its fate, and vulgar belief would be unnecessary in the face of God.

To be clear, only Living men can Truly Be in belief (Love), for belief has no place after Life is extinguished. Life is a prerequisite for belief, considering its demanding limitations upon the soul.
No brain, no heart, no belief… And so to Live in Nature only for the expectation of some unknown, undefine life after physical death is in fact a ridiculous notion perpetrated by many ancient, barbarous, idolatrous religions from the dawn of recorded history. This is only an excuse to harm Nature (God’s Creation) as if Creation is not the True evidence of God. And destruction of evidence is a crime in both realms, which is why the anarchist legal church and state gives permissive license for crimes against Nature (God). These institutions simply cannot exist without ignoring scripture (knowledge).

It is important here to note that the word believeth (belief/love) is purposefully misapplied by all corporate religions so that men may merely emotionally externalize God but never internalize God’s Word and Law through their own actions (pro-verb). Again, we see the tenet of legalized
We may believe that we can build a barn... But unless we act upon our belief, the barn will remain always a subject of the pure artifice of vulgar faith only (name only); a figment of imagination. Until we physically take action to build it, it will remain unbuilt. Likewise, to merely believe without True Love and devotion in the scriptures (or in the name of “God”) is not the same as acting upon their guidance. And we must remember that a citizen-ship of the United States is bound to believe and act under man’s legal law in surety and no other, and that acting under the scriptural law would be illegal under man’s legal code and while under legal persona. Moral thought is allowed. But moral action based on that belief (love) is not allowed without license from the state to commit an illegal act of a legally (adversarially) considered equitable nature.

Think about that for a moment...

So why do these incorporated state churches wish for you to believe in but never act according to God’s Word (Son)? Could it be that those magistrates are acting as gods over their own fictional creation, and that the ten commandments are clear that man should have no such false gods?

The sinner, the man living in the spiritual death engagement of personhood as a dead-pledge (mortgage), can rise from that state of dead being and become part of the Supreme and Permanent Being of Nature once again, but only by acting upon his moral beliefs (Law) and against that of the legal fiction (false doctrine). And in this state of the Reality of Life he can never be declared legally alive in the fiction, for his body is only of the spiritual realm of Life. He can never die a spiritual death again, unless he wills and consents yet again to that legal artifice which he knows is opposed to his very Nature.

To believe in the law is to act according to the law. We obviously believe in government and its false legal law more so than in God, for we are acting against God’s Law with every breath while in a state of artificial personhood. The power of choice...

The Bible is not about some ethereal after-life that cannot be comprehended by man within this realm of Existence. It is about staying spiritually, eternally Alive (without legally registered beginning or end as birth and death certification) after civil death, remaining in God’s Realm of Nature under God’s Law without falling back into the hell (debtor’s prison) of legal fiction. This, allegorically, is called as eternal Life, a spiritual Life under God free of legal death. God is the only solution to the artifice of mammon, and mammon is likewise the only solution to God.

This spiritual Existence is the Natural state of man before his certified birth into that matrix of legal personhood; of simulated reality. It is simply a matter of choosing which master one wishes to serve, God or mammon, just as the scriptures teach, and no matter what the consequence. God is and knows only the spirit of Life. Mammon knows only the form (valuation in money) of artificial life, and is the true soul of man’s law. The spirit is destroyed when one is birthed into the artificial form of mammon, just as the spirit is released from that status of spiritual death when one is reborn into God’s Nature by abandoning all aspects and respect of mammon.

If the reader still thinks this Biblical story is merely religious nonsense and “dogma” instead of the foundation of all Law and of Life Itself as the Oneness of Jehovah (Existence), we have a lot of quite down-to-earth revelations to explore. For this is the Bible as you’ve never been able to see it, with True origin of grammar, without dogma and without the confidence game (faith) of the marriage between church and state.
DOGMA - In the civil law, a word occasionally used as descriptive of an ordinance of the Senate. (Black4)

ORDINANCE - A rule established by authority; a permanent rule of action; a law or statute. In a more limited sense, the term is used to designate the enactments of the legislative body of a municipal corporation. The name has also been given to certain enactments, more general in their character than ordinary statutes, and serving as organic laws, yet not exactly to be called "constitutions." Such was the "Ordinance for the government of the NorthWest Territory," enacted by congress in 1787… An ordinance was otherwise distinguished from a statute by the circumstance that the latter required the threefold assent of king, lords, and commons, while an ordinance might be ordained by one or two of these constituent bodies. (Black4)

In other words, the dogma of the senate in government needs not the will of its common subjects behind it. Ordinance (dogma) is the will and word of the gods. The legal law is created despite its citizenship (commoners) to control their registered persons just as the church supplants its own doctrines in lieu of the Bible to control its membership and steer us all away from the True scriptural teachings that all men of God should be partaking in. Remember, a Bible reading people cannot be enslaved, which is to say that a Bible reading people would never allow their Selves to be replicated into fictional citizen-ships under the dogma of evil men.

Because the scriptures are antagonistic and subversive to church and state, perhaps this organized deceit is understandable, though certainly not forgivable.

One of the most beautiful qualities inherent within this Law of Nature, to which we attribute to God as Jehovah in that Permanence of Supreme Being, is in fact that very Permanence Itself. While Nature and the Laws governing it never change, man’s law is quite opposite to this, changing at the moment where the law gets in the way of man’s unrelenting progress towards overcoming his own place in that Permanence of Being. Man’s law has no foundation in Permanence, even as its very foundational constitution is amended to no end or limit. But perhaps most telling in preponderance of this legal snake continuously speaking itself into a further existence of form as words without substance, is the fact that man’s legal laws have no sacred permanence. For the whole system is built on fiction. Its pillars are nothing if not completely interpretable and therefore in a permanent state of opinionated alteration per the desire of the judicial, administrative whim. For the law means nothing until presented in court, and a corruption of the judicial seat is the only ingredient necessary to continuously destroy (and thus rebuild in man’s image) the intent of the law. Of course, to judge is to have power, and all forms of power corrupt. Therefore, by this self-evident Law of Nature where no such power exists, all judges are inherently corrupt, without exception!

“We are under a Constitution, but the Constitution is what the judges say it is, and the judiciary is the safeguard of our liberty and of our property under the Constitution.”

—Charles Evans Hughes, 11th Chief Justice of the United States, 44th United States Secretary of State, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, and 36th Governor of New York
“We have seen that the American Constitution has changed, is changing, and by the law of its existence must continue to change, IN ITS SUBSTANCE AND PRACTICAL WORKING EVEN WHEN ITS WORDS REMAIN THE SAME.”

—James Bryce, Chief Secretary for Ireland (UK), Ambassador to the United States of America (UK), President of the Board of Trade (UK), Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs (UK), etc.

“It is emphatically the province and duty of the Judicial Department to say what the law is. Those who apply the rule to particular cases, must of necessity expound and interpret that rule. If two laws conflict with each other, the courts must decide on the operation of each.”

“It is emphatically the province and duty of the Judicial Department to say what the law is… If two laws conflict with each other, the Courts must decide on the operation of each. So, if a law be in opposition to the Constitution… the Court must determine which of these conflicting rules governs the case. This is of the very essence of judicial duty.”

"Presidents come and go, but the Supreme Court goes on forever."

—William Howard Taft, 27th US president, 10th Chief Justice of the United States, 42nd United States Secretary of War, quoted from: c. 1910 (Richard Panchyk, ‘Our Supreme Court’ (Chicago Review Press, 2006), pg. 1.)

"No higher duty, or more solemn responsibility rests upon this Court than that of translating into living law and maintaining this constitutional shield… for the benefit of every human being subject to our Constitution — of whatever race, creed, or persuasion."

—Hugo Black, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, US Senator from Alabama, quoted from: 1940 (Bill Saxonson, ed., Encarta Book of Quotations (Macmillan, 2000), pg.116.)

"The WORDS of the Constitution… are so UNRESTRICTED by their intrinsic meaning or by their history or by tradition or by priority decisions that they leave the individual Justice free, if indeed they do not compel him, to gather meaning NOT FROM READING THE CONSTITUTION BUT FROM READING LIFE.”

—Felix Frankfurter, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, quoted from: 1949 [Alpheus Thomas Mason, The Supreme Court from Taft to Burger (LSU Press, 1979), pg. 14.]

"The life of the law has not been logic, it has been experience…. The law embodies the story of a nation’s development through many centuries, and it cannot be dealt with as if it contained only the axioms and corollaries of a book of mathematics.”

—Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Chief and Associate Justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court, quoted from: 1880 [Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., The Common Law (1880; reprint published by The Lawbook Exchange, Ltd., 2004), pg. 1]

"The Constitution, on this hypothesis, is a mere thing of wax in the hands of the Judiciary, WHICH THEY MAY TWIST AND SHAPE INTO ANY FORM THEY PLEASE.”

-- Thomas Jefferson

The illusion of the permanence and authority of man’s law and constitution cannot be understated here, for it is this fictional judicial authority alone that declares the virtual reality of the meaning of man’s law daily and according to the needs of the fictional “nation” they represent in office. This organized chaos stands starkly opposed to the Supremacy and Permanence signified by the equitable and unchangeable Law of God’s Nature as the scriptures teach. In this way, the legislative law is merely the legalized simulation of law, having no actual Existence and solely based upon the later opinions of the judicial that are placed upon it. Thus, to say that a legislative law is “constitutional” or “unconstitutional” is purely the rhetoric of fools, for this assessment cannot be made by any body except the justices of the court. Evil men decide what is evil from evil’s (fiction’s) perspective, and may only do so through legally granted, flattering titles bestowed upon them by presidents and electors. This is the reasoning of law-makers.

JUS DARE - To MAKE the law. (WCA1889)

JUS DICERE - To SAY what the law is, to APPLY the law. (WCA1889)

JUS DICERE, NON DARE - To declare, not to make, the law. The duty of a judge is TO APPLY THE LAW AS MADE, NOT TO LEGISLATE. The courts ADMINISTER the law AS THEY FIND IT; they are not to make or modify it. Hence, considerations as to expediency are to be addressed to the law-making body. See Hardship. (WCA1889)

And this difference between making (creating) law and declaring (applying) the proprietary law that is already made brings us to the notion of “judicial discretion,” which in this author’s opinion is one of the most harmful legal concepts in that pretended legal existence. Here we can see that a judge, as a god, truly is above the law he portends to follow. The administrative judge is the butcher of that which is created by the legislative gods. But we should never be fooled into believing that these two “branches” of government are not in collusion. They are merely parts of the same confederation (conspiracy). Everything, including law, is interpretable. Words are transmutable. Art is permeable. Intention is repairable.

DISCRETION - A LIBERTY OR PRIVILEGE allowed to a judge, within the confines of right and justice, but INDEPENDENT OF NARROW AND UNBENDING RULES OF POSITIVE LAW, to decide and act in accordance with what is fair, equitable, and wholesome, as determined upon the peculiar circumstances of the case, and as discerned by his PERSONAL WISDOM AND EXPERIENCE, GUIDED BY THE SPIRIT, PRINCIPLES, AND ANALOGIES OF THE LAW… (Black4)

DISCRETION - Power or privilege of the court TO ACT UNHAMPERED BY LEGAL RULE. When applied to public functionaries, discretion means a power or right conferred upon them by law of acting officially in certain circumstances, according to the dictates OF THEIR OWN JUDGMENT AND CONSCIENCE, UNCONTROLLED BY THE JUDGMENT OR CONSCIENCE OF OTHERS. This discretion undoubtedly is to some extent regulated by usage, or, if the term is preferred, BY FIXED PRINCIPLES. But by this is to be understood nothing more than that the same court cannot, consistently with its own dignity, and with its character and duty of administering impartial justice, decide in different ways two cases in every respect exactly alike. The question of fact whether the two cases are alike in every color, circumstance, and feature is of necessity to be submitted to the judgment of some tribunal… (Black4)

DISCRETION - noun - [Latin, a separating. See Discreet.] 1. Prudence, or knowledge and prudence, that discernment which enables a person to judge critically of what is correct and proper, directed by circumspection, and primarily regarding one’s own conduct. A good man—will guide his affairs with discretion. Psalms 112:5. My son, keep sound wisdom and discretion. Proverbs 3:21. 2. LIBERTY OR POWER OF ACTING WITHOUT OTHER CONTROL THAN ONE’S OWN JUDGMENT: as, the management of affairs was left to the discretion of the prince; he is left to his own discretion Hence, To surrender at discretion is TO SURRENDER WITHOUT STIPULATION OR TERMS, AND COMMIT ONE’S SELF ENTIRELY TO THE POWER OF THE CONQUEROR. 3. Disjunction, separation. [Not much used.] (Webs1828)

So a judge has no set law under which to act or decide matters, and only relies on his own assumed moral compunction, personal moral, amoral or immoral wisdom, and supposedly wholesome, conscious opinion? And he is to base that opinion only upon the spirit and principals (maxims) of man’s law? Is that not what a conqueror would be expected to do over his subjects? And are we not submitting ourselves to these gods as our conquerors every time we fictionally appear in their strawman and respect their false, administrative judgements considering law?

Did not the scriptures warn us about respecting the laws and judgements of men over God’s?

“Every generation gets the Constitution that it deserves. As the central preoccupations of an era make their way into the legal system, the Supreme Court eventually weighs in, and nine lawyers in robes become oracles of OUR NATIONAL IDENTITY.”

—Noah Feldman

The only problem is that these later-added legal principles (maxims) of the law allow for the totality of utter corruption in every way possible through contracts of volunteerism and by other designs. They allow for the pretended, figurative destruction of God’s Law in a pretended, fictional realm and jurisdiction. They allow lies to be truth via the process of legal confirmation and ratification. They allow fiction to be the virtute of a false reality. And they allow men to be gods and slaves by flattery of legal, fictional title. All it takes is a bit of ignorance and the application of a public education and man may consent to and become agent for just about any tyranny imaginable, as long as it is dressed up as legal, patriotic justice.

ADJUDICATE - To settle in the exercise of judicial authority, to determine finally. Synonymous with adjudge in its strictest sense. (Black1)

ADJUDICATION - The giving judgment or decree in a cause; also the judgment or pronouncing a given. Or the entry of a decree by a court in respect to the parties in a case. It implies a hearing by a court, after notice, of legal evidence on the factual issue involved. The equivalent of a “determination.” And contemplates that, the claims of all the parties thereto have been considered and set at rest. The term is principally used in bankruptcy proceedings, the adjudication being the order which declares the debtor to be a bankrupt. (Black4)

ADJUDICATIO - In the civil law, an adjudication. The judgment of the court that the subject-matter is the property of one of the litigants; confirmation of title by judgment. (Black1)

ADJUDGE - To pass on judicially, to decide, settle, or decree, or to sentence or condemn. Judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction: equivalent of convicted and sentenced. Implies a judicial determination of a fact, and the entry of a judgment. Does not mean the same as deemed contra, under statute, only of an act of the court. (Black4)

Imagine having the power to declare with an Executive military force backing one’s decisions just what is the fact and intention of law, when we know that the principles of legality declare that any lie or untruth can be declared judiciously as a fact (as white can be adjudged to be black, and a black-skinned man like Barack Obama can be legally and by blood genealogy a “white person”). You don’t need to imagine this, for it is the essence of the administrative system most of us consent to in our public personas and actions. If this is the ultimate power, that of gods, and any power ultimately corrupts man, then what man could possibly claim the right and responsibility to adjudicate any other man even by his own apparent moral code and conscious?

The Bible seems to suggest this to be an impossibility, acknowledging the inherent corruption not of man himself, but in all of man’s designs and their influence upon all of man. The only incorruptible man is one in Nature, under God alone, where no fictions may effect his judgements. For only in Nature and in its Highest Law may man’s intentions remain Pure (Natural). But then, in this state of Being, in the Purest Love and Charity, no man would seek to be such a judge and punisher of other men. Only corrupt men with blemished souls in false personas (masks) may allow themselves to be judges under such a pre-tended flattering title.

We must know that any law at any time and at the whim of the court, whether written or unwritten, be it constitutional or not and whether known or unknown in history or precedent, can be instantly, magically invoked through this adjudication process at any time. This is the nature of judicial discretion, privilege, and authority. That is to say that there is no law because any law can be made to suddenly exist or not exist at the pleasure of the court magistrates; the creators of precedent. All deviations in the professed opinion of law being possible equates in Reality to Truly having no law at all. And this, above all else, should scare the hell out of you…
Even juries have the privilege of making void the law in each case, known as jury nullification!

“A new adjudication does not make a new law, but DECLARES THE OLD; because ADJUDICATION IS THE UTTERANCE OF THE LAW, and by adjudication THE LAW IS NEWLY REVEALED which was for a long time hidden.”

—NOVUM JUDICLIUM NON DAT NOVUM IUS, SED DEEKRAT ANTIQUUM. QUA JUDICIUM EST IURIS DICTUM ET PER JUDICIUM IUS EST NOVITER REVELATUM QUOD DILI FIUIT VELATUM. 10 Coke, 42. (Black)4

In other words, the meaning and intent of any law has the potential to be adjudicated (kept the same OR CHANGED) and administered in any way and with any word-magic (opinion) through the terms of art that its administrators (magistrate gods) see fit. Truly, there is no law of man but that which impermanently, fictionally exists, as that which is destined to be altered. Thus man’s law is specifically considered as temporary (not self-existent) next to God’s, changing just as quickly as the fads of each generation permits. This allows the true intent of the state to remain hidden until the time arises for it to be invoked through the king’s (sovereignty’s) court of administration.

But in the legal, commercial realm, the public law created by the sovereign People and their governments are set up only to control their public agents and protect themselves, as the citizenships and corporations under its agency relationship jurisdiction, which is not in any way a form of “constitutional law.”

“A constitution is, in fact, and must be regarded by the JUDGES, as a fundamental law. It therefore belongs to THEM to ascertain its meaning, as well as the meaning of any particular act proceeding from the legislative body. If there should happen to be an irreconcilable variance between the two, that which has the superior obligation and validity ought, of course, to be preferred; or, in other words, the Constitution ought to be preferred to the statute, THE INTENTION OF THE PEOPLE TO THE INTENTION OF THEIR AGENTS.”

Of course the members of legislature are the elected agents of the combination (conspiracy) of self-proclaimed “sovereign” People (landholders) of the several (private) States. Thus it is the States (People) that stand in the federal capacity as public lawmakers, as the principal to which all other United States agents, including public United States citizen-ships, stand under in surety through a legally contracted persona (strawman/dis-ease). Most importantly, this means that a public person (citizenship) is not a party to the negative protections of the State (People) created US constitution, as will be thoroughly discussed. And so the public acts of that legislative body (The People as represented in Congress assembled) effect only public persons and not the private People of each private (several) State.
In the end, just as all corporate state religions accomplish within their own professed and ever-changing doctrines, and which stand purposefully in antithesis to the very bible scriptures they pretend to emulate and follow, man’s legal law has no attachment to Reality, to Nature, to man, and therefore to God (the Permanence of Creation). The Natural Law of God never changes, not by the hand of man or by the Supremacy of Jehovah. But the legal law’s foundation is purposefully movable, changeable, alterable, and thus in its essence purely non-existent in any permanent substance, living only in its current form that may be changed at any moment. And this is why the Bible instructs that no man should put faith in other men and specifically into their imperfect legal laws of always changing fiction.

Yet another purposeful miscommunication of the meaning of scriptural terminology in church doctrine as a purposeful mis-transliteration is the notion of “fear” as a state of mind in name (noun) only as opposed to a conscious guide for our actions (verb). This notion of fearing God seems like an oxymoron if the reader or follower of the church doctrines does not seek the meaning of this concept from its original source. For the term does not refer to the actual fear of Nature (God), as that would be ridiculous. We are certainly a part of God’s Creation of Nature. So we would then need to fear our own Selves, the part without (foreign to) the whole, as if we were not a part of God’s Creation and Design. This notion of fear is one of reactiveness, as of the fear of harming God’s Nature and transgressing from Its Laws. It is of course the opposing force against God that is to be feared by men; the fear of what happens when we do not Live spiritually in and under God’s Law of Nature (and by our own). For the nature of our positive actions against God can only result in the exact dis-ease, poverty, debt, pestilence, devolution, austerity, and slavery to artifice in mammon that we see today. To fear God negatively, in other words, is to Live according to God’s Natural Law in duty at all times for fear of exactly what has happened to the world today for not doing so. With True Faith and Trust in God’s Nature of Being, and by man’s purposeful harmony to that state of Being, fear may manifest into Reality. The notion of fearing God is only the notion of what happens when God (and Its Realm of Nature) is not respected — the consequences of our own actions against the best interests of ourselves and that Nature which sustains our very livelihood and the essence of our Existence. To fear God is to fear the evils and wickedness that will cause us dis-ease and end our very Life by respecting that which should instead be avoided by embracing God’s Law and Natural, negative protection.

—Proverbs 10:27, KJB

Fearing God is no different from the fear of not eating healthy and working out to keep the body-temple in proper fitness and shape (in harmony with Nature), or any other preventative (negative) concern. Fear causes one to avoid danger, while citizenship is a state of unavoidable danger and thus an institutionalized fear of spirituality (religious, Lawful action). For do not forget, government is a jurisdiction of intentional legal danger (defined as “exposure to injury, loss, pain other evils”). And do not forget that under Title 42 of US Code, “pain” and other evils such as license and exaction (extortion) are your legally bound “equal rights” under the doctrine of master and servant that citizen-ship (subjection) falls under.

Please understand that fear and worship are in essence the same word, as the love of something that necessarily requires the fear of that which is opposed to that loved thing, which is why the fear of men in government and their legal matrix code is so dangerous. To fear God is to respect and worship only God’s Design, to actively fight the disrespect of any part of Nature (Creation), for evil manifests only through the minds of men acting against and in place of (anti-) God. The consequences of respecting such evil (artifice) against Nature’s Design is what we would call as the God’s (Nature’s) wrath, the unchangeable Design of Jehovah re-harmonizing Itself from whatever dis-ease man may love and worship without fear. Worship (fear) of God equates to the comprehension and realization of what happens when we don’t! And so we are taught to instead fear government and religion and dismiss Jehovah, even as we suffer because of that misplaced worship of artificial persons, places, and things in the fiction of false gods instead.

The fear one might feel while walking along a cliff where a single misstep might result in one’s own physical injury or death, or that our trespass may start an avalanche upon the hikers below us; this would be an example of how fear is a requirement for Life under God and the duty to protect it. Only a fool fears not, for only a fool believes in and lives under the insured securities and false protections of the fictional word magic of legal persons, places, and things.

“And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, THAT IS WISDOM; and to depart from evil IS UNDERSTANDING.”

—Job 28:28, KJB

Let us be clear here that wisdom is found only in Truth, and that christ’s actions in Jehovah are the story of self-evident Truth against evil. If we do not fear the horrors of history, we are doomed to repeat and Live them again. And yet this is a double-edged sword. For if we respect all history as fact, we are doomed to live by (pretend) only the perceived but generally over-embellished consequences of a historical lie told often enough that it appears to us as Truth. We live instead today within this modern legal lie based on the history of Roman law. History, quite simply, is not of God but of men. There is no self-evidence in history. If we do not fear the Truth (the Real Nature of Jehovah), we will easily believe in and fall prey to the big lie. If we do not fear Nature, we are doomed to a dead life of non-spiritual existence without It. If we do not fear and respect our spouse, we may find ourselves in spiritual emptiness and working overtime due to alimony payments. If we do not fear technology (art), we will become it.

Please note the difference above between wisdom and understanding. When we are asked whether or not we “understand” our rights as sureties to legal persons (strawmen), a yes answer causes us to depart from Good, from God’s Law of Nature, and to accept and consent to (stand under) the legal (anti-God) matrix that enslaves us and keeps us from applying and expressing our spiritual wisdom enough. We must understand (stand under) God’s Law by departing entirely from the legal (anti-God) matrix that enslaves us and keeps us from applying and expressing our spiritual wisdom through the Love and Charitable Works of our understanding the authority of God’s Nature and Law.

Following the Law of Nature is not the cause of fear but the solution to it. Webster describes this notion of fearing God succinctly:

FEAR - noun - [See the Verb.] 1. A painful emotion or passion excited by an expectation of evil, or the apprehension of impending danger. Fear expresses less apprehension than dread, and dread less than terror and fright. The force of this passion, beginning with the most moderate degree, may be thus expressed, fear dread, terror, fright. Fear is accompanied with a desire TO AVOID OR WARD OFF THE EXPECTED EVIL. Fear is an uneasiness of mind, upon the thought of future evil likely to befall us. Fear is the passion of our nature which excites us TO PROVIDE FOR OUR SECURITY ON THE APPROACH OF EVIL. 2. Anxiety: solicitude. The principal fear was for the holy temple. 3. The cause of fear. Thy angel becomes a fear. 4. The object of fear. Except the God of Abraham, and the fear of Isaac, had been with me. Genesis 31:42. 5. Something set or hung up to terrify wild animals, by its COLOR or noise. Isaiah 24:17. Jeremiah 48:43. 6. In scripture, fear is used to express a filial or a slavish passion. IN GOOD MEN, THE FEAR OF GOD IS A HOLY AWE OR REVERENCE OF GOD AND HIS LAWS, which springs from a just view and REAL LOVE of the divine character. LEADING THE SUBJECTS OF IT TO HATE AND SHUN EVERY THING THAT CAN OFFEND SUCH A HOLY BEING, and inclining them to aim at perfect obedience. THIS IS FILIAL FEAR. I will put my fear in their hearts. Jeremiah 32:39. Slavish fear is the effect or consequence of guilt; it is the painful apprehension of merited punishment. Romans 8:15.

THE LOVE OF GOD CASTETH OUT FEAR. 1 John 4:17. The worship of God. I will teach you the fear of the Lord. Psalms 34:7. 8. THE LAW AND WORD OF GOD. THE FEAR OF THE LORD IS CLEAN, ENDURING FOR EVER. Psalms 19:9. 9. Reverence: RESPECT: due regard. Render to all their dues; fear to whom fear. Romans. 13:7. - verb transitive - [Latin vereor.] 1. To feel a painful apprehension of some impending evil: to be afraid of; to consider or expect with emotions of alarm or solicitude. We fear the approach of an enemy or of a storm. We have reason to fear the punishment of our sins. I WILL FEAR NO EVIL, FOR THOU ART WITH ME. Psalms 23:2. To reverence; to have a reverential awe; to venerate. THIS DO, AND LIVE. FOR I FEAR GOD. Genesis 42:18. 3. To affright; to terrify; to drive away or prevent approach by fear or by a scarecrow. [This seems to be the primary meaning, but now obsolete.] We must not make a scarecrow of the law, setting it up to fear the birds of prey. - verb intransitive - To be in apprehension of evil: to be afraid; to feel anxiety on account of some expected evil. But I fear lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtility. SO YOUR MINDS SHOULD BE CORRUPTED FROM THE SIMPLICITY THAT IS IN CHRIST. 2 Corinthians 11:3. Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward. Genesis 15. - noun - A companion. [Not in use. See Peer.] (Webes1828)
Clearly christ feared only God and no other, super hero as he was. This is to say that, unlike most of us, he had no fear of the false authority of government, or of the men acting as its agents. Misplaced fear is the very soul of citizen-ship. For fear is merely a sign and token of respect.

An example of this fear might present itself when reading a mortgage or any other contract without truly comprehending the words within. Or it might come upon us when we spray poison on weeds (Life) or crush the Life-force from one of God’s minute Creatures. The fear of God may manifest when we clear-cut a forest with license from the legal authorities that pretend to exist, or when we accept a paycheck and a public or military pension for our individual act in the butchering of whole villages of men, woman, and children in the name of purely commercial wars for profit and gain. For we do so not in God’s stead, but in that of the uniform of the fictional nation we are supporting and worshiping with our actions and inactions, bearing (showing respect of) its corporate Arms as its prostitutes instead of bearing our own blood heraldry, and most importantly that of the Blood of christ through our actions. It is this fear of the consequences and evil nature of our own deeds that is presented here as the fear of God. To live in fear of the legal fiction and its false doctrine (law) is to disrespect God’s Nature and Word.

Latin principles of law agree here as well, where we can read:

“If many are better led by love, more are CORRECTED by fear.”

—Si meliores sunt quo ducit amor, plures sunt quo corrigit timer. Co. Litt. 392. (BouéMaxims)

And so the man that has no fear of God is the man resolute and firmly planted under God’s Nature and Law. For he has no need to fear that which he respects without question and without lies.

Fear is used by governments through sanctions, the punishment for breaking legally imposed laws. And yet, the whole point of fearing God is that man need not be entrapped under the legal law. To fear God is to obey the Law of God so that no other law may effect us. To obey the legal law is to have no fear of God, or to pretend in vain to believe (love) God while obeying another, legal god. Our fear must be focused upon our goals, not our vices. To fear government is to take another god before Jehovah. To fear God is to necessarily despise all things legal, which includes kings and the idea of any sovereignty other than that place under Jehovah caused by such fear of It.

It is the English language that so purposefully misinterprets and obfuscates such words as fear, causing men to believe (love) in the opposite meanings of so many beautiful concepts. Thus we must, strangely enough, come to recognize this state of fear as the state of True Love in, deep empathy for, and foremost duty to protect all things Living and Real (of Source). We must be conscious that fiction, citizenship, membership, and artifice necessarily exist without (outside of) the Source of Life and Love in respect of God’s Whole Nature and Law. This is the love of nothing substantial, only form; as simulation; vanity. For fear without Love (Source) is that which the church and state promote in their fictions as a means of controlling men in their false personas — the fear of images and fabled monsters, yes, but especially the fear of ceremonial priests (gods) imbued with secular, legal authority over men.

“Fear can make you do more wrong than hate or jealousy... fear makes you always, always hold something back.”

— Philip K. Dick, quoted from: ‘VALIS’

In other words, we should take care to avoid those things which we fear might ensnare us in pain and trouble in the future, both with our fellow man and under God’s Nature. Contracts of any type should be doubly feared, for they bind man in a fictional surety for some performance of a future deed as a certainty, and often stand against the True will, Law, and Love of Self of the man so bound. Pure Love, Devotion, and Charity seek no contract, and so these should be always of man’s intention. That which we have no need to fear is that which we should strive to exist within. We have no need to fear God if we only act under God’s Law. Thus fearing God is only the state of mind that equals fear of all things not of (belonging to) God. And so if one who claims love seeks a legally binding contract of marriage, if religion and government seek forced devotion to its legal principles in membership to its corporate structure, and if charity requires corporate interests and contractual and taxable obligations under those legal, contractual requirements, chances are that these things should be feared and thus avoided in lieu of their Natural, equitable equivalents under God’s Law. Love, Devotion, and Charity need never obtain man’s permissive fictions of law, and in Reality are utterly destroyed in their True intent by such corporate, impostor systems of these artificers.

All of these systems and the tools that invoke such evil stem from one source: artifice. It is only in “licensed” anarchy of God’s Nature and Law thereof that evil acts may be respected and protected in their commitment. And the government’s of men are created specifically for this purpose, as institutionalized evil through legal means that are opposed to the Natural Law. It is seemingly only through the justification and license (anarchy) of that artificial legal law of men that our acts against God’s Nature are conducted in artful comfort without fear. We believe in our own permissive, governed lie that we may each act with licensed impunity against the very Supreme and Permanence of Being that sustains us. This is in totality unreasonable.
“The safest course is to do nothing against one's conscience. With this secret, we can enjoy life and have no fear from death.”

—Voltaire

Now let us pause here and be perfectly clear…

Throughout this journey, the author wishes for the reader to remember the key to everything written within this work. Without the comprehension of this one concept as a foundation for all subjects within, the reader will fail in his or her mission to see the unseen, to touch the untouchable, and to perceive that which is not Reality. For like a computer simulation, the legal code only exists as a script in text format (syntax) and nowhere else.

As upon your own so-called “smart” technology device (such as a cellphone), the legal code can only exist through an application (a forced, false appearance) of that codex. And so you may download a file with that word code, and the phone application changes those words (syntax) into a visual re-presentation of the code, allowing your imaginary perception of something that seems Real enough. The lie of fiction thus appears as truth. Yet, like peering into the looking glass, we still (hopefully) perceive that what appears on the screen is nothing more than a fictional re-presentation of a specific coded language, no matter how realistic or 3-dimensional it seems in its false impersonation of Reality. The appearance of pictures and video (moving pictures) is simply a mass of organized word-data; a script that can no more be viewed in Reality than the blowing wind, requiring some artificially created device to manifest its appearance. And yet, like the self-evident yet invisibly whirling breeze, the fiction can cause much damage in Nature simply by the belief of its user in the perceived reality of that fiction. Personhood (personification) is like an article of invisible clothing (a law-suit) that guides the wearer in his or her actions like a puppet on strings. The books we read may be so emotionally gripping that we may even picture those written scenes in our minds. And yet we still know (hopefully) that these re-presentations are only figments of our imagination created by mere words (code) on a page, and that our mind is changing this coded syntax as we are reading and translating it into a chemically induced, imaginary stage-play that does not Exist in Reality.

—Arthur C. Clarke

Eventually, the digital voice will be indistinguishable from the Natural one, even in conversations with machines or other technology (art). But we must never forget that similarity is not sameness. And at this point, Reality (God) will become virtually impossible to ascertain from fiction (satan). We will be lost in a matrix of artifice, a grand delusion of our own making, built only upon our own created information (artificial intelligence). Knowledge will be lost, replaced by useless form (information). Reality will be blurred in Real time by the fiction. Men will literally become a projected person (property of another), as their false id-entities, their very DNA is wrapped-up and evolved within proprietary personhood. True justice then impossible, True Equity will be only a memory.
“Because today we live in a society in which SPURIOUS REALITIES ARE MANUFACTURED by the media, by governments, by big corporations, by religious groups, political groups... So I ask, in my writing, What is real? Because unceasingly we are bombarded with pseudo-realities manufactured by very sophisticated people using very sophisticated electronic mechanisms. I do not distrust their motives; I distrust their power. They have a lot of it. And it is an astonishing power: that of creating whole universes, universes of the mind. I ought to know. I do the same thing.”

“There will come a time when it isn't 'They're spying on me through my phone' anymore. Eventually, it will be 'My phone is spying on me.'”

— Philip K. Dick (separate quotes)

“I see clearly that man in this world DECEIVES HIMSELF BY ADMIRING AND ESTEEMING THINGS WHICH ARE NOT, AND NEITHER SEES NOR ESTEEMS THE THINGS WHICH ARE.”

— St. Catherine of Genoa

“Visual imagery is the most important device incorporated into magic.”

— Satanic Bible

When the perceived miracle of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and 4-dimensional Virtual Reality (VR) become second nature to us, as our digital self in the domain of the fourth person, will these be in Reality anything but what they always have been: digital, fictional words and codes being represented as 3D or 4D seemingly realistic but always unreal environments, with a simulated, life-like mathematical algorithm that pretends to answer our demands and questions with what appears to be Real intelligence?

The answer lies in what you can be made to beLIEve (love), for a lie must be believed and consented to in order to have an effect on Reality. Thus we have faith in government. And so above all else in our capacity as Living sentient beings, we must always remember this one very important thing...

The legal language of government is based on a complete lie!

The names (via the dictionary/thesaurus) of everything upon the Earth is also a complete and utter lie, including your own.

No, really... Government is literally a lie.
“In wartime, truth is so precious that she should always be attended by a bodyguard of lies.”

—Winston Churchill

The problem is not the lie itself, but the belief (love) of it by men, that the lie exists as Reality. For only Real eyes realize real lies. Notice that the notion of Truth is personified into a female “she” in this quote above. No, Churchill does not believe that truth is a man. He was here speaking in verse, the language of the gods, for he was appointed legally as one. And make no mistake, for all times to men such as these are times of war. War is peace…

Here’s the legal definition of this word lie, from various legal and other sources:

LIE - 1. (1) TO EXIST; SUBsist; as, to “lie in grant;” said of an incorporeal right; a corporeal right is said to “lie in deed;” (2) To be maintainable, sustainable; as, an “action lies.” Compare Lay, (3) To be concealed, or in ambush, as to: lie in wait. See DECEIT; Decoy; ESTOPPEL; Falsehood; FRAUD; REPRESENTATION, Slander. (WCA1889)

LIE - noun - An untruth deliberately told; the uttering or ACTING of that which is false for the purpose of deceiving; intentional misstatement. (Black4)

LIE - noun - 1. A criminal falsehood; a falsehood uttered FOR THE PURPOSE OF DECEPTION; AN INTENTIONAL VIOLATION OF TRUTH; FICTION; OR A FALSE STATEMENT OR REPRESENTATION, NOT INTENDED TO DECEIVE, MISLEAD OR INJURE, AS IN FABLES, PARABLES AND THE LIKE. IS NOT A LIE. IT IS WILFUL DECEIT THAT MAKES A LIE. A man may ACT a lie as by pointing his finger in a wrong direction, when a traveler inquires of him his road. 2. A FICTION; in a ludicrous sense. 3. FALSE DOCTRINE. 1 John 2:1. 4. An idolatrous picture of God; or A FALSE GOD. Romans 1:25. 5. That which deceives and disappoints confidence. Micah 1:14. To give the lie TO CHARGE WITH FALSEHOOD. A man’s actions may give the lie to his words. - verb intransitive - 1. To utter falsehood with an intention to deceive, or with an IMMORAL DESIGN. Thou hast not lied to men, but to God. Acts 5:3. 2. To exhibit a false representation; to say or do that which deceives another, when he has a right to know the truth, or when morality requires a just representation. - verb intransitive preterit tense - lay; - participle passive - lain, [LIEEN, obsolete?] [The Gr. word usually signifies to speak, which is to utter or throw out sounds. - TO BE; to rest; TO ABIDE; TO REMAIN; often followed by some word denoting A PARTICULAR CONDITION, as, to lie waste; to lie fallow; to lie open; to lie hid; to lie pining or grieving; to lie under one’s displeasure; TO LIE AT THE MERCY OF A CREDITOR, or at the mercy of the waves. 8. To consist. He that thinks that diversion may not lie in hard labor, forgets the early rising of the huntsman. 9. TO BE SUSTAINABLE IN LAW; TO BE CAPABLE OF BEING MAINTAINED. An action lies against the tenant for waste. An appeal lies in this case. To lie at, to tease or importune. [Little used.] To lie at the heart, to be fixed as an object of affection or anxious desire. 1. To lie by, to be reposed, or REMAINING WITH. To lie hard or heavy, to press; TO OPPRESS; TO BURDEN, To lie on hand, TO BE OR REMAIN IN POSSESSION… 2. TO BELONG TO. It lies with you to make amends. To lie over, to remain unpaid, after the time when payment is due; as a note in bank. To lie to, TO BE STATIONARY, AS A SHIP. (Webs1828)

STATIONARY - adjective - 1. Fixed; not moving, progressive or regressive; not appearing to move. The sun becomes stationary in Cancer; in its advance into the northern signs. The court in England which was formerly itinerary, is now stationary. 2. NOT ADVANCING, IN A MORAL SENSE: not improving; NOT GROWING WISER, greater or better; not becoming greater or more excellent. 3. Respecting place (as status and class). The same harmony and STATIONARY CONSTITUTION… (Weds1828)

TO LIE - That which is PROPER, is fit; as, an action on the case lies for an injury committed without force; CORPOREAL HEREDITAMENTS LIE IN LIVERY, that is, THEY PASS BY LIVERY; incorporeal hereditaments lie in grant, that is, pass by the force of the grant, and WITHOUT ANY LIVERY. Vide Lying in grant. (Bouc1856)

LIE TO - To adjoin... A cottage must have had four acres of land laid to it. (Black4)

DELIVERY - Contracts. THE TRANSMITTING THE POSSESSION OF A THING FROM ONE PERSON INTO THE POWER AND POSSESSION OF ANOTHER. 2. Originally, delivery was a clear and unequivocal act of giving possession, accomplished by placing the subject to be transferred in the hands of the buyer or his avowed AGENT, or in their respective warehouses, VESSELS, carts, and the like. This delivery was properly considered as the true BADGE of transferred property, as importing full evidence of consent to transfer; preventing the appearance of possession in the transferrer from continuing the credit of property unduly; and avoiding uncertainty and risk in the title of the acquirer. 3. The complicated transactions of modern trade, however, render impossible a strict adherence to this simple rule. It often happens that the purchaser of a commodity cannot take immediate possession and receive the delivery... If the vendor rely on the promises of the vendee to perform the conditions of the sale, and deliver the goods accordingly, the right of property is changed; but where PERFORMANCE AND DELIVERY ARE UNDERSTOOD TO BE SIMULTANEOUS, POSSESSION, OBTAINED BY ARTIFICE, WILL NOT VEST A TITLE IN THE VENDEE. Where, on the sale of a chattel, the purchase money is paid, the property is vested in the vendee, and if he permit it to remain in the custody of the vendor, he cannot call upon the latter for any subsequent loss or deterioration not arising from negligence. (Bouc1856)

LIVERY - English law. 1. The delivery of possession of lands to those tenants WHO HOLD OF THE KING in capite, or knight’s service. 2. Livery was also the name of a writ which LAY for the heir of age, TO OBTAIN THE POSSESSION OF SEISIN OF HIS LANDS AT THE KING’S HANDS. It signifies, IN THE THIRD PLACE, THE CLOTHES GIVEN BY A NOBLEMAN OR GENTLEMAN TO HIS SERVANT. (Bouc1856)

LIVERY OF SEISIN - Estates. A delivery of possession of lands, tenements, and hereditaments, UNTO ONE ENTITLED TO THE SAME. This was a ceremony used in the common law for the conveyance of real estate; and the livery was in deed, which was performed by the feoffor and the feoffee going upon the land, and the latter receiving it from the former; or in law, where THE GAME was not made on the land, BUT IN SIGHT OF IT. 2. In most of the states, livery of seisin is unnecessary, it having been dispensed with either by express law or by usage. THE RECORDING OF THE DEED HAS THE SAME EFFECT. In Maryland, however, it seems that a deed cannot operate as a feoffment, without livery of seisin, and the article Seisin. (Bouc1856)

ADJOIN - verb transitive - [Latin adjungo, ad and jungo. See Join] TO JOIN OR UNITE TO; to put to, BY PLACING IN CONTACT; to unite, by fastening together with a joint, mortise, or knot. But in these transitive senses, it is rarely used. [See Join.] - verb intransitive - TO LIE or be next to, or IN CONTACT; to be contiguous; as, a farm adjoining to the highway. This is the common use of the word, and to is often omitted; as adjoining the highway. (Weds1828)
JOIN - verb transitive - [Latin jungo, jungere; jungo for jugo, jugum; English YOKE; Gr. a yoke, and a pair, to join] 1. To set or bring one thing in contiguity with another. Woe to them that join house to house, that lay field to field. Isaiah 5:8. 2. To couple; to connect; TO COMBINE: as, to join ideas. 3. TO UNITE IN LEAGUE OR MARRIAGE… WHAT GOD HATH JOINED TOGETHER, LET NOT MAN PUT ASUNDER. Matthew 19:6. 4. TO ASSOCIATE. Go near and join thyself to this chariot. Acts 8:29. 5. TO UNITE IN ANY ACT. Thy tuneful voice with numbers join. 6. To unite in concord. But that ye be perfectly joined together IN THE SAME MIND, AND IN THE SAME JUDGMENT. 1 Corinthians 1:10… In general, join signifies to unite two entire things WITHOUT BREACH OR INTERMIXTURE, BY CONTACT OR CONTIGUITY, either temporary or permanent. It differs from connect, which signifies properly, to unite by an intermediate substance. But join, unite, and connect are often used synonymously. - verb intransitive - To grow to; to adhere... 1. To be contiguous, close or in contact; as WHEN TWO HOUSES JOIN. 2. To unite with in MARRIAGE, league, CONFEDERACY, partnership or SOCIETY…

LIE IN FRANCHISE - Property is said to "lie in franchise" when it is of such a nature that the persons entitled thereto may SEIZE it without the aid of a court: e. g., wrecks, waifs, estrays. (Black4)

LIE IN GRANT - Incorporeal hereditaments are said to "lie in grant;" that is, they pass by force of the grant (deed or charter) WITHOUT LIVERY. (Black4)

LIE IN LIVERY - A term applied to corporeal hereditaments, freeholds, etc., signifying that they PASS BY LIVERY, not by the mere force of the grant. (Black4)

LIE IN WAIT - See Lying in Wait. (Black4)

LYING IN WAIT - Lying in ambush: lying hid or concealed for the purpose of making a sudden and unexpected attack upon a person WHEN HE SHALL ARRIVE AT THE SCENE (I.E. BIRTH). In some jurisdictions, where there are several degrees of murder, lying in wait is made evidence of that deliberation and premeditated intent which is necessary to characterize murder in the first degree. This term is not synonymous with "concealed." If a person conceals himself for the purpose of shooting another unawares, he is lying in wait: BUT A PERSON MAY, WHILE CONCEALED, SHOOT ANOTHER WITHOUT COMMITTING THE CRIME OF MURDER. (Black4)

CONCEAL - To hide; secrete: withhold from the knowledge of others; to withdraw from observation; to withhold from utterance or declaration; to cover or keep from sight. The synonyms of conceal are "to hide: disguise, dissemble: secrete." To hide is generic: "conceal" is simply not to make known what we wish to secrete; disguise or dissemble is TO CONCEAL BY ASSUMING SOME FALSE APPEARANCE: to secrete is to hide in some place of secrecy. A man may conceal facts, disguise his sentiments, dissemble his feelings, or secrete stolen goods. The word "conceal," according to the best lexicographers, signifies TO WITHHOLD OR KEEP SECRET MENTAL FACTS FROM ANOTHER'S KNOWLEDGE, as well as to hide or secrete physical objects from sight or observation. (Black4)

CONCEALED - Not synonymous with "lying in wait"... The term "concealed weapons" means weapons willfully or knowingly covered or kept from sight. (Black4)

CONCEALERS - In old English law. Such as FIND out concealed LAND; that is, lands privily (privately) kept from the king by common persons having nothing to show for them. They are called "a troublesome, disturbant sort of men; turbulent persons." (Black4)

CONCEALMENT - A withholding of something which one knows and which one, in duty, is bound to reveal. The terms "misrepresentation" and "concealment" have a known and definite meaning in the law of insurance: Misrepresentation is the STATEMENT OF

The constituted gods… One does not create a magistracy without creating subjects to that majesty at the same time, or at least the potential to admit men into and under subjection to that godship of magistracy. Kingdoms and nations are not built for men to be born in the issue of godship (magistracy) without the opposite class structure being created as well. Without subjects a master has no purpose. Without the multitude in commonalty of service, no sovereignty may exist. Nothing can be above without that which is below it. The United States constitution, the con of the ages, is certainly no different in its structure.

Here again, religions be damned. We need not priests and politicians to show us this Reality. For these institutions only seek to be repositories (hoarders) of God’s abundant Nature so as to control that abundance; to re-package and sell what is, was, and always shall be the free Gift of Jehovah. This is the con game of the constitutionalists; seekers of prostitutes that will consent to live under only what they con-stitize.

CONSTITUTION - contracts - The constitution of a contract, is the making of the contract as THE WRITTEN CONSTITUTION OF A DEBT. (Bow1856)

CONSTITUTE - verb transitive - [Latin, to set] 1. To set; TO FIX; to enact; TO ESTABLISH. We must obey laws appointed and constituted by lawful authority. NOT AGAINST THE LAW OF GOD. 2. True religious Freedom under God and Natural Law is a requirement of these constituted authorities. Those who are awake to the fraud obviously then have the following diagnosis:

CONSTITUTIONAL PSYCHOPATHIC INFERIORITY - Individuals who show a lifelong and constitutional TENDENCY NOT TO CONFORM TO THE CUSTOMS OF THE GROUP, and who HABITUALLY MISBEHAVE, and have no sense of responsibility to their fellowmen or to society as a whole. These individuals fail to learn by experience and are inadequate, incompatible, and inefficient. (Black4)

The conformers, the public-minded, brainwashed pat-riots as lovers of their own enslavement, that common class of equalized house-slaves called the general public, the middle class of mammon, the goyim we are all trained to become from birth; these are the constitutors, the constituents, the honored dead absent of Living only a civil, artificial existence.

CONSTITUENT - adjective - [Latin, to set See STATUE, STATUTE.] Setting: constituting; applied to PARTS OF A THING THAT ARE ESSENTIAL TO IT. Hence, necessary or essential; elemental; forming, composing or making as an essential part. BODY, SOUL, AND REASON, ARE THE THREE CONSTITUENT PARTS OF A MAN. Oxygen and hydrogen are the constituent parts of water. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUENT - noun - 1. He or THAT WHICH SETS, FIXES OR FORMS; HE OR THAT WHICH CONSTITUTES OR COMPOSES. Their first composure and origination requires a higher and nobler constituent than chance. 2. THAT WHICH CONSTITUTES OR COMPOSES, as a part, or an essential part. The lymph in those glands is a necessary constituent of the aliment. 3. ONE WHO APPOINTS OR ELECTS ANOTHER to an office or employment. (Webs1828)
CONSTITUENT - He who GIVES AUTHORITY TO ANOTHER TO ACT FOR HIM. THE CONSTITUENT IS BOUND WITH WHATEVER HIS ATTORNEY (AGENT) DOES BY VIRTUE OF HIS AUTHORITY. The electors of a member of the legislature are his constituents, to whom HE IS RESPONSIBLE for his legislative acts. (Bouv1856)

STATUE - noun - [Latin, to set; that which is SET OR FIXED] AN IMAGE; a solid substance formed by carving into the likeness of a whole living being; as a statue of Hercules or of a lion. - verb transitive - TO PLACE, as a statue; TO FORM A STATUE OF. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUTED - participle passive - SET, FIXED, ESTABLISHED; made: ELECTED, APPOINTED. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUTED - In the civil law. AN AGREEMENT TO PAY A SUSTAINING DEBT which exists without any stipulation, whether of the promisor OR ANOTHER PARTY. It differs from a stipulation in that it must be for an EXISTING debt. A day appointed for any purpose. A form of APPEAL. Calvinus, Lex. (Black4)

CONSTITUTER - noun - One who constitutes or appoints. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUTOR - In the civil law. One who, by a simple agreement, BECOMES RESPONSIBLE FOR THE PAYMENT OF ANOTHER'S DEBT. Inst. 4, 6, 9. (Black4)

CONSTITUTOR - Civil law. He who promised by a simple pact TO PAY THE DEBT OF ANOTHER, and this is always A PRINCIPAL OBLIGATION. (Bouv1856)

CONSTITUTION - (repeated) - Contracts. The constitution of a contract, is the making of the contract as THE WRITTEN CONSTITUTION OF A DEBT. (Bouv1856)

CONSTITUTIONES - Laws promulgated, i.e., ENACTED by the ROMAN EMPEROR. They were of various kinds, namely, the following: (1) Edicta; (2) decretis; (3) rescripta, called also "epistolas." Sometimes they were GENERAL, and intended TO FORM A PRECEDENT FOR OTHER LIKE CASES; at other times they were SPECIAL, particular, or individual (personales), and not intended to form a precedent. The emperor had this POWER OF IRRESPONSIBLE ENACTMENT by virtue of a certain lex regia, whereby he was made the fountain of justice and of mercy. (Black4)

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW - (1) That branch of the PUBLIC LAW OF A STATE which treats of the organization and frame of government, THE ORGANS AND POWERS OF SOVEREIGNTY, the distribution of political and governmental AUTHORITIES AND FUNCTIONS, the fundamental PRINCIPLES which are TO REGULATE THE RELATIONS OF GOVERNMENT AND SUBJECT, and which PRESCRIBES generally the plan and method according to which the public affairs of the state are to be ADMINISTERED. (2) That department of the science of law which treats of constitutions, their establishment, construction, and interpretation, and of the validity of legal enactments as tested by the criterion of conformity to the fundamental law. (3) A constitutional law is one which is consonant to, and agrees with, the constitution; ONE WHICH IS NOT IN VIOLATION OF ANY PROVISION OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE PARTICULAR STATE. (Black4)

SUBJECT - … - noun - [Latin] 1. ONE THAT OWES ALLEGIANCE TO A SOVEREIGN AND IS GOVERNED BY HIS LAWS. The NATIVES of Great Britain are subjects of the British government. THE NATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES, AND NATURALIZED FOREIGNERS, ARE SUBJECTS OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT. Men in FREE governments, ARE SUBJECTS AS WELL AS CITIZENS; AS CITIZENS, THEY ENJOY RIGHTS AND FRANCHISES; as subjects, they are BOUND to obey the laws. THE SUBJECT MUST OBEY HIS PRINCE, BECAUSE GOD COMMANDS IT, AND HUMAN LAWS REQUIRE IT … 4. That in which any thing inheres or EXISTS… - verb transitive - 1. To bring under the power or DOMINION of. Alexander subjected a great part of the civilized world to his dominion. Firmness of mind that subjects every gratification of sense to the rule of right reason—2. TO PUT UNDER OR WITHIN THE POWER OF. In one short view subjected to our eye, gods, emperors, heroes, sages, beauties lie. 3. TO ENSLAVE; to make obnoxious. He is the most subjected, the most enslaved, WHO IS SO IN HIS UNDERSTANDING. 4. To expose; to make liable. Credulity subjects a person to impositions. 5. To submit; to make accountable. God is not bound to subject his ways of operation to the scrutiny of our thoughts—6. To make subservient. —Subjected to his service angel wings. 7. To cause to undergo; as, to subject a substance to a white heat; to subject it to a rigid test. (Webst1828)

CONSTAT - English law. The name of a CERTIFICATE, which the clerk of the pipe and auditors of the exchequer make at the request of any person who intends to plead or move in the court for the discharge of anything; and the effect of it is, the certifying what constat (APPEARS) upon record touching the matter in question. 2. A constat is held to be superior to an ordinary certificate, because IT CONTAINS NOTHING BUT WHAT IS ON RECORD AN EXEMPLIFICATION UNDER THE GREAT SEAL. OF THE ENROLMENT OF ANY LETTERS-PATENT, is called a constat. Vide Exemplification; Inspeximus. 3. Whenever an officer gives a CERTIFICATE that such A THING APPEARS OF RECORD, it is called a constat; BECAUSE THE OFFICER DOES NOT SAY THAT THE FACT IS SO, BUT IT APPEARS TO BE AS HE CERTIFIES. A certificate that it appears to the officer that a judgment has been entered, is insufficient. (Bow1856)

The constituted, principal authorities and the subjected agents... which one do you really think you are?

The Sealed birth certificate is constat (an official appearance) of the recorded deed (event) of the creation (birth) of a legal entity; a strawman. Thus, our legal self is publicly constituted (legally created) as a registered debtor, and so too are we pre-tended to be as acting agent in surety, as we play that fictional part throughout our lives by our expressions of actions taken through its ad-mixed surname and signature. The court hardly need prove the fact of our appearance in person there, for we foolishly present a false id-entity such as a driver’s license that certifies our legal existence and apparition in that courtroom at bar. To enter into and be heard in their cartoon world, we must admit to being a cartoon or to being its agent (attorney) answering a service of summons and process, the agent being a sort of bridge between worlds, able to speak not as but on behalf of the dead fictional character displayed by that legal persona (mask).

Let us never forget that the original United States of America were nothing if not slave colonies, that the constitution protected and promoted slavery, and that those colonies were then constituted (put into debt compact) as slave-states. This alone separates the constitution instantly from God’s Law. No rational man can possibly think that slavery is christ-like. Thus no man should be fooled into believing in the notion of the possibility of a “Christian nation” as being at all in harmony with christ’s scriptural teachings, only as one in harmony with the corporate church. For slaves were listed not just as valuable considerations, but in the lowest status as 3/5’s of a person only for taxation purposes as valuable property in mammon. They were not men but beasts personified and chained. And yet the most avid supporter and lover of this country places the legal constitution above the Bible, praising its legal re-creation as the end of involuntary slavery instead of its true intent: the inception of voluntary slavery and servitude we know today as US Citizenship.

At least the negroes and white indentures (white negro) knew they were slaves...
"How is it that we hear the loudest yelps for liberty among the drivers of negroes?"

—Samuel Johnson, quoted from: ‘Taxation No Tyranny - An Answer To The Resolutions And Address Of The American Congress.’

—Galatians 5:13, KJB

We hardly stop to consider that the constitution positively gave certain men liberty to own other certain men as slaves. We often confuse liberty and freedom as total Freedom without constraint, without pausing to consider those Laws of God’s Nature that abound, creating the duties we owe to all others in such a Natural Liberty. And so we forget the Source (God) of Natural liberty and Law, and instead receive legalized liberty (corporate franchise) from these constituted slave-master authorities, from a false legal source of constituted magistracy.

MAYOR - The chief or EXECUTIVE MAGISTRATE OF A CITY. His PRINCIPAL DUTY is to enforce the laws of the city. He may also preside over the mayor's court, which has JURISDICTION, concurrent with the courts of other committing magistrates, over offenses perpetrated WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS, and of special matters GIVEN BY STATUTE. See MAGISTRATE. (WCA1889)

LOCAL GOVERNMENT; MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT - See CORPORATION, Municipal. (WCA1889)

A city and a county are never anything but a municipal corporation. The term of art “city limits” is often, in many states, listed instead as “corporate limits.” To place any other image or respect upon any city other than this fact is to be fallen to fiction, to be romanticized by artifice and artful reputation. A city simply does not Exist. Its existence is in legal name (noun) only, consisting of a corporate charter and agencies filled by agents. The mayor is the chief magistrate (god) of any city or county (corporation). And so the imaginary notion of The Windy City is still in Reality just a fictional piece of paper; a constituted commercial corporation and nothing more, though its name is used to describe attributes of things that are not “the city.” To leave the city is to leave (stop believing in/loving) the corporate jurisdiction of that city, not necessarily the actual land it claims to legally, corporately control. For all parts of the United States have been districted (seized) into counties (municipal corporations), and so to leave the cities or counties would be legally impossible. We can only remain unseen and disrespected to their fictional laws and jurisdictions by following our own spiritual path under the Higher Law. We must distinguish between the Real and the fiction, especially when it involves the condition of our Self and how we are “seen” by the agents of law.

This word “election” is also strewn throughout the Bible. We should recognize that election is merely another word for choice. We have a choice between God and mammon, Reality and fiction, and our election makes that choice sure. In the induced legal, vulgar realm of dog-Latin, we do not comprehend that our legal elections represent the corporate franchise of voting for our constitutors, as constituted authorities, to which we become the constituents and subjects thereof. It is the participation in this so-called patriotic endeavor of voting for rulers that ultimately legitimizes that which seals our spiritual fate. For by participation in legal elections, Jehovah is never our choice. The elected legal gods fictionally destroy man’s power of choice to act morally against such artifice as themselves in flattering title through their legal (evil) design of that false doctrine of “freedom of religion” defined previously in this chapter. To vote is to consent and submit to fictional authority and the punishments (sanctions) of the false law and executive agents that enforce that imagined color of authority.

“Even so then at this present time also THERE IS A REMNANT ACCORDING TO THE ELECTION OF GRACE.”

—Romans 11: 5, KJB

“Knowing, brethren beloved, your ELECTION of God.”

—1 Thessalonians 1: 4, KJB

“Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to MAKE YOUR CALLING AND ELECTION SURE: for if ye do these things, YE SHALL NEVER FALL: For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, AND BE ESTABLISHED IN THE PRESENT TRUTH.”

—2 Peter 1: 10-12, KJB

And here we must pause to consider that our common idea of what Existence is in Reality and in Nature has no bearing or sameness in the legal fiction. A lie is never the present Truth of Life in God’s Nature. For to exist as a fiction is to be created by legal means, a confirmed untruth, an image, a fictional creation of man’s imagination, and at best a simulation of what Is. So we must herein comprehend that a legal existence is indeed a lie which is respected despite God. Anything and everything that exists and appears in legal form (in name and title) is a lie. But most importantly, a legal existence as a fiction only has artificial life as long as men can be convinced to acknowledge and confirm that legal life as anything but a lie. Belief (love) and faith in the lie by men christens the lie as a virtual reality, creating the legal existence of that which does not Exist in Nature, allowing false gods (magistrates) to rule in a falsehood of authority and law, under the dark robes of a Godless justice system.

Now let us hear from the fabled “father” of the declaration of independence himself, to whom the phrase “separation of church and state” originated in America. But we never stop to think that a nation or people free from religion is a nation and a people without a Higher, moral, foundational Law. To be free of religion is to be without religious law. It means to be morally Lawless, and that the legal law of man is respected as the highest in our voluntary dam-nation.
“The bill for establishing religious freedom... still met with opposition; but, WITH SOME MUTILATIONS IN THE PREAMBLE, it was finally passed; and a singular proposition proved that its protection of opinion was meant to be UNIVERSAL. Where the preamble declares that coercion is a departure from the plan of the holy author of our religion, an amendment was proposed, by inserting the word ‘Jesus Christ,’ SO THAT IT SHOULD READ ‘A DEPARTURE FROM THE PLAN OF JESUS CHRIST, THE HOLY AUTHOR OF OUR RELIGION.’ THE INSERTION WAS REJECTED BY A GREAT MAJORITY, in proof that they meant to comprehend, within the mantle of its protection, the Jew and the Gentile, the Christian and Mahometan, the Hindoo, and infidel OF EVERY DENOMINATION.”

—Thomas Jefferson, from his autobiography, in reference to the 1786 Virginia Act for Establishing Religious Freedom, a template for the First Amendment

“And the day will come when the mystical generation of Jesus, by the supreme being as his father in the womb of a virgin, will be classed with the fable of the generation of Minerva in the brain of Jupiter.”

—Thomas Jefferson, famously quoted in observation to John Adams

“The legitimate powers of government extend to such acts ONLY as are injurious to others. But it does me no injury for my neighbour to say there are twenty gods, OR NO GOD. It neither picks my pocket nor breaks my leg.”

—Thomas Jefferson, excerpt from: ‘Notes on the State of Virginia’

Many attempts are documented in the past to “christianize” the constitution of the United States, yet another obvious hint that there is nothing of christ (God’s Word / Law) within. One example of this came in 1864 during the American Civil War, when the National Association for the Amendment of the Constitution, renamed later as the National Reform Association (NRA), attempted desperately to constitutionally amend what it called as the “atheistical Constitution” by clearly declaring it as a “Christian Nation.” To this end, the preamble to the constitution was proposed to be changed to this:

“We, the people of the United States, humbly acknowledging Almighty God as the source of all authority and power in civil government, THE LORD JESUS CHRIST AS THE RULER AMONG THE NATIONS, HIS REVEALED WILL AS THE SUPREME LAW OF THE LAND, IN ORDER TO CONSTITUTE A CHRISTIAN GOVERNMENT… do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America”

Needless to say this amendment was defeated utterly by congress. This would have severely tied the hands of these commercial pirates as the principal money-changers and tax-farmers, and would have taken away their commercial intent (corporate personhood). The preamble is a statement of purpose, which is why only it was attempted to be changed. It is a preface, not dissimilar in purpose to the one in this work, describing the author’s intentions. For the founders of this incorporated structure based it purely in mammon, even as the preamble’s words exclaim well-being only for “Themselves (Ourselves) and their Posterity (bloodline),” and nothing could be farther from the True tenets, will, and testament of christ. Obviously the constitutions are respekters of legal (anti-God) persons, places, and things (legal terms of art). Instead, the constitution created a state of being that allowed private men to do unto others as they should not want us to do to them, and in turn created a structure of pure competition opposed to Real Love, Faith, Charity, and Piety.

The preamble establishes the fact that men as human capital (chattel) must be moved by the commercial law and systems of mammon. It established masters and servants as principals and agents, creating protective statuses (persons) for each class while calling it, including the shackled slave-class, as the legal “equality” of their own Manifest Destiny. It ordained false gods and established their followers.

PREAMBLE - noun - [Latin proe, before, and ambulo, to go.] 1. Something previous; introduction to a discourse or writing. 2. The introductory part of a statute, which states THE REASONS AND INTENT OF THE LAW. - verb transitive - To preface; to introduce with previous remarks. (Webs1828)

AMBLE - verb intransitive - [Latin ambulo, to walk.] 1. To move with a certain peculiar pace, as a horse, first lifting his two legs on one side, and then changing to the other. 2. To move easy, without hard shocks, Him time ambles withal. 3. In a ludicrous sense, TO MOVE WITH SUBMISSION, OR BY DIRECTION, OR TO MOVE AFFECTEDLY. - noun - A peculiar pace of a horse. (Webs1828)

Slaves and subjects in indenture must be ambled in their employments (use), and so the constitution intentionally created the foundation of the ultimate colony (plantation) as a nation of States, negatively protecting the masters of those States (People) from their positively enforced ambling and farming of all other men and public taxes. A colony is another word for a farm, a plantation, which is why a tax collector was nicknamed as a farmer of men. What is negatively restricted in the constitution towards those private States (People) leaves all positive, non-restrictive (unconstitutional) principles of public law to effect all the positively created subjects (legal entities) of the nation in the public realm of jurisdiction. They are to be moved with submission and by causal misdirection, a commercial system designed to move those affected (legally dis-eased) men by controlling the law and thus ability and freedom of movement while acting in public statuses (commercial vessels). How else might slaves have been made “equal” denizens to other US citizenships after the Civil War unless all other public US persons were made equally enslaved (enfranchised) as well? We all were made to meet somewhere in the middle, just as the definition of denizen suggests, unable to inherit land but more than able to rent it publicly in tenancy from its private, feudal holder, even while being tricked into believing it is our own.
Other examples of the utter dismissal of Christ’s testament and Law (Word) in the constitution, as provided from an article collated by an “atheist” website entitled patheos.com — listed and detailed not the words of atheists but of ardent religious opponents and reformers to the constitution — are here listed and sourced as follows:

- An anonymous anti-federalist writer in October 1787 complained about the Constitution’s “general disregard of religion” and “indifference towards religion.” In November another opponent of the Constitution who went by the pen name Philadelphiensis echoed these complaints, criticizing its “silence” and “indifference about religion” in November 1787. (Kramnick, Isaac and R. Laurence Moore. The Godless Constitution: The Case Against Religious Correctness. W.W. Norton, 1996, page 33, and continued…)

- In January of 1788, an anti-federalist warned in a Boston newspaper that since God was absent from the Constitution, America would suffer the curse pronounced by Samuel in 1 Samuel 15:23 (“BECAUSE THOU HAST REJECTED THE WORD OF THE LORD, HE HATH ALSO REJECTED THEE”). A March 1788 letter to the Massachusetts Gazette similarly criticized the Constitution’s “inattention” to religion and asserted that it would be impossible to establish an enduring government without “publick protection” for religious belief. (page 36)

- In 1789, a group of Presbyterian elders wrote to George Washington to complain that the Constitution contained no reference to “the only true God and Jesus Christ, who he hath sent.” (page 102)

- In 1811, Rev. Samuel Austin, later to be president of the University of Vermont, claimed that the Constitution’s “one capital defect” was that it was “ENTIRELY DISCONNECTED FROM CHRISTIANITY.” (page 144)

- In 1812, Rev. Timothy Dwight, the president of Yale and grandson of the infamous fire-and-brimstone preacher Jonathan Edwards, lamented that America had “offended Providence” by forming a Constitution “WITHOUT ANY ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF GOD: without any recognition of His [sic] mercies to us, AS A PEOPLE, of His government, OR EVEN OF HIS EXISTENCE… Thus we commenced our NATIONAL EXISTENCE under the present system, WITHOUT GOD.” (page 105)

- The president of Transylvania University, a Kentucky Presbyterian clergyman, in 1815 publicly deplored the fact that NOWHERE IN THE CONSTITUTION WAS “GOD THE SAVIOR RECOGNIZED.” (page 144)

- The chaplain of the New York State legislature in 1820 denounced the founders for their “ingratitude… without parallel” in writing a Constitution “in which there is NOT THE SLIGHTEST HINT OF HOMAGE TO THE GOD OF HEAVEN.” (page 144)

- Dr. John Mason, a New York clergyman, protested in 1793 that “from the Constitution of the United States, IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO ASCERTAIN WHAT GOD WE WORSHIP, OR WHETHER WE OWN A GOD AT ALL” (p.144), and that this was “an omission which no pretext whatever can palliate.” (Jacoby, Susan. Freethinkers: A History of American Secularism. Metropolitan Books, 2004, page 30)

It is again important to distinguish the intent of these words, whereas the notion of a church being that of a religious People is quite different from that of an incorporated church established by the legal, corporate fiction state. One is an extended family (verb) of spiritually like-minded, Self-governing men, one is an artificial person (corporation) with a necessarily opposing doctrine towards the scriptures. There is simply no need to form an artificial “church” (noun) of the legal state (person in law) when the actual State (People) is the Real church (verb).
At this point, the True Nature of what a church is should be clear in the mind of the reader, and this notion of separation of church and state should be coming into focus as the very exclusion of moral, religious Law from legal, civil law. It is law without a solid, True foundation. Commerce, as the exclusive interest of mammon, simply cannot exist in harmony with the tenants taught in Christ. Therefore in no way can even the possibility of any nation (legal state) being founded upon those of Christ’s teachings be considered, except by the self-interested antichrists as both masters and servants thereof; those principals and agents of the nations of mammon themselves. The title (noun) does not make the man (verb). The name and denomination (noun) does not represent the actions (verbs) of men. For only persons and not men live by the misguided commercial course of a legal, spiritual death in any nation.

We culturally and without conscious awareness repeat the colloquialism that satan is the king of lies. Translated, this simply means that evil is the false re-presentation of all of Reality by that which is adversarial (satanic) to God’s Nature of what is self-evidently True and self-Existential. If lies are abhorrent to Reality, then all lies can only be abhorrent to God, for Jehovah (verb) is nothing if not the Pure and utter essence of the Truth of the currently Existing Reality. To anthropomorphize God into the human form or of anything other than what is the self-evident Truth of the Nature of all Creation is to adhere to man’s false doctrines of church and state. It is to turn God into an institutionalized lie. For man should take no graven images and have no gods before the One True God. No nouns before the Verb! There are no snapshots or selfies of God on Facebook, for no camera or other artifice of man could possibly capture the fullness of God in any way, shape, Glory, substance, Truth, or form. All church-created images of God are a lie. All conceptualizations of God by men, no matter how sincere in their intent, are merely forms of the art of imagination and imagery, misrepresentation and subterfuge. For to mix any artificial form in re-presentation of any True substance is the very definition of adultery. And to believe in (love) that art over the Reality it re-presents is the True and fundamental foundation of all sin (syn).

Satan is purely man’s creation, a personification of evil (artifice), just as Christ is the personification of the Truth and Law of God’s Nature. For in all of Creation, in all of Nature, only man seems to have the capacity to lie even unto and about his own Self. No other Living or non-Living part of Nature (Creation) pretends to Exist by and under confirmed and believed-in lies as man does. For the artful existence of man’s power and authority over others can only exist if men believe in (love) and choose the great delusion of the big lie to be a replacement for Reality (self-evident Truth). Those who are in power must brainwash those under their own constituted, established, and ordained false-sovereign existence to love that which they should not, to respect that which they should defame, and to co-exist with that which they should shun.

From evil’s perspective, existence (artifice) can only be accomplished through deception in artful design. The existence of evil lives through the legal lies of foolish men, as does the church and state.

EXIST - To live; to have life or animation; to be in present force, activity, or effect at a given time; as in speaking of ‘EXISTING’ CONTRACTS, CREDITORS, DEBTS, LAWS, RIGHTS, or LIENS. To be or continue to be. See, also, Existing. (Black4)

EXISTING - The force of this word is not necessarily confined to the present. (Black4)

EXISTENCE - As applied to WILL, means physical existence. (Black4)

EXISTIMATIO - In the civil law, THE CIVIL REPUTATION WHICH BELONGED TO THE ROMAN CITIZEN, as such. Called A STATE OR CONDITION of unimpeached dignity or CHARACTER, (dignitatis inlæseae status) the highest STANDING of a Roman CITIZEN. Also the decision or award of an arbiter. (Black4)

PHYSICAL - Relating or pertaining to the body, as distinguished from the mind or soul or the emotions: material, substantive, HAVING AN OBJECTIVE EXISTENCE, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM IMAGINARY OR FICTITIOUS; REAL, HAVING RELATION TO FACTS, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM MORAL OR CONSTRUCTIVE. (Black4)

PHYSICAL FACT - In the law of evidence, a fact having a physical existence is distinguished from a mere conception of the mind; one which is visible, audible, or palpable, such as the sound of a pistol shot, a man running, impressions of human feet on the ground. A fact considered to have its seat in some inanimate being, or, if in an animate being, by virtue, not of the qualities by which it is constituted animate, but of those which it has in common with the class of inanimate beings. (Black4)

Here we must designate the so-called factualness of legal things. Fictions can indeed legally (adversarially) exist as “actual” facts, as long as we all agree that a lie is a fact according to law. But remember, all facts are lies, for all things legal are a lie made purely of artful words. Legal facts are only terms of art describing real or artificial things. For instance, the “event” of our strawman’s birth is a legal fact that creates a legal entity, all of which is made of certified words. Its existence is thus a “fact” in law, as is our surety to it by our express use of its status and signature. In other words, we cause the fiction to be fact.

FACT -vs- LAW

“A fact is either a state of things, that is, an existence, or a motion, that is, an event…”

“Fact” is very frequently used in opposition or contrast to “law.”

“SO AN ATTORNEY AT LAW IS AN OFFICER OF THE COURTS of justice: an attorney in fact is appointed by the written authorization of a principal to manage business affairs usually not professional.”

“Law is a principle; fact is an event. Law is conceived; fact is actual. Law is a rule of duty; fact is that which has been according to or in contravention of the rule. The distinction is well illustrated in the rule that the existence of foreign laws is matter of fact. Within the territory of its jurisdiction, law operates as an obligatory rule which judges must recognize and enforce; but, in a tribunal outside that jurisdiction, it loses its obligatory force and its claim to judicial notice. The fact that it exists, if important to the rights of parties, must be alleged and proved the same as the actual existence of any other institution.”

Definition of ‘fact,’ 1 Benth. Jud. Ev. 48. and Abbott. (Black4)
Here again we see the simple rule of Nature: that which needs proven to exist is not of Jehovah, and that which exists by proof as “fact” is always but a confirmed and acknowledged lie.

A US citizen-ship is a fact — a man representing by his confirmed and consensual agency a publicly registered (published) event (persona), a legal entity created by its positive legal birth. This is to say that a US citizen-ship (public persona) is not considered to be conceived legitimately by law. Fraud is legally allowed even by the corrupted maxims of law as long as it is agreed upon in contract, contented to, and acted within without avoidance. In other words, like the creation of any corporation, a citizen-ship has no blood consideration, for it is not Real. Thus the law may lawfully recognize no inheritable blood, for blood does not flow within a fiction of law. No blood, no heir, and so no inheritance… We know we are considered in public attainder, without blood right, simply because we must create an artificial, legal will, for the law recognizes no inheritable blood in public persons of the United States. The will and inheritance of every man is self-evident, being that of his closest kin, while the will of every legal person must be legally established and approved by the creator gods of all fictional persons (legal statuses). This one distinguishing fact must be comprehended so that the sin (synthesis) of impersonation in fiction is not confused with the spirit of Life. The will of persons is a fiction not automatically recognized by law, for all the issues (children) of legal persons are fictions of law (legal recreations per the state/district). The law (including those of the constitution) only protects the negative rights and duties of private men, not public persons. The person exists only in and under the terms of positive law, is created by positive law, and is governed only under positive law. It simply has no will of its own, and thus its agent (the subjected man in legally bound surety of a public citizen-ship) must positively create the will of that positively created (birthed) person. Without a will, the persons estate will be divided by the state and likely extorted (taxed) to its advantage, for all the property of the person already belongs to the state as the creator and administrator of it.

As legal, commercially registered agents we are acting as attorney's in fact (agents) for our public person’s principal owner (United States), re-presented by its own agencies and agents thereof, which in turn are attorney's at law and thus agents of the court. This imaginary fact of legal existence is called citizen-ship, where we conduct ourselves in mammon as commercial persons under that law of agency in international admiralty, maritime law. This is also known as the law of merchants (law merchant), under which we are acting in the capacity of merchants upon this fictional (legal) sea of commerce, in virtual ships called public citizens. Thus we have artificial benefits such as consumer protections, insurance, public tender, and security from our principal (United States) in all of our interstate commercial transactions, and therefore we also must suffer the reciprocal obligations in servitude to that principal for our use of its commercial entity (person/ship) and its benefits in the form of duties, taxes, rents, pain, punishment, exaction (extortion) and other such “rights” of United States citizenship (in agency). No benefit ever comes without an obligation, and no debtor can exist without a creditor. A debtor must have a trackable and traceable id-entity. Nothing legal is Naturally Free, for legal things exist only politically as a limited liberty. Politically, legal things are always a patented lie and the word free means only to act in the franchise of a principal corporation, which is called as the law of agency.

We are considered objectively as mere things; marked beasts of burden; as agents (factors) which serve no other purpose than to benefit our principal master in surety, the god that is sovereign government. We are only men of straw; cartoons, fictions, mere ghosts of the men we were born under God’s Nature to Be, and therefore transparent to the state in consideration of our God-given rights. We must know that sinners (men acting as legal persons in artifice) have no benefit of the Natural Law, for fictional persons are only judged by other fictionally titled persons of man as property, not as men of God. One cannot judge a fictional person a (mask) as part of God’s Nature and Creation. To act as something we are not is the actual sin (fact/event). Legal fiction is the realm and language of sin (syn). God’s Higher Law is nowhere to be found within the courts of the i-magi-nations of men. And no man can appear in legal fiction unless he accepts the legal persona of man’s sinful (synthetic) design of artifice allocated to him in surety.

We lay (lie) with the devils (evil geniuses) that are our legal lords and masters.

Reading this definition of what is a lie, as what are the best laid plans to deceive and entrap, is like viewing the vast, circular construct and code that is The Matrix — the artificial womb.

As strange as it may seem, we must comprehend that the lie exists, similarly to the notion that virtual reality exists, and therefore that government artificially exists, for to lie is to exist and stand in fiction and in subsistence of and by our belief in the big lie and confirmation of it through our actions, respect, and participation in it. Only our conscious efforts to not believe in (love) the legal lie may destroy all that lays as the existence of that big lie. Only the fear of God in anticipation of the consequences of believing and not fearing the lie may destroy the power and effect of the lie. Legal existence (the big lie) is laid when it is constituted and thus confirmed to exist by our own avoidable actions breathing life into its false admixed name (noun). Before any man can prostitute himself to a fictional master, that master must constitute the thing by which those men may then prostitute themselves by their own voluntary actions. We must all be figuratively prostrated (conquered/purchased/morally destroyed) so that we may be ruled over.

This is the legal matrix; a simulated reality.

—Philip K. Dick, quoted from: 'Counter-Clock World'

But here also we may come to a pinnacle of understanding as to what every form of “law” is. For law is only ever that which is laid by some authority, some sovereign power or entity, including both God and men pretending to be as such. By Webster’s constant, intentional separation of the opposing versions of law we follow, it should become quite clear to the reader as to what the Highest, self-evident Law is and that all other forms are only the creations of man’s i-magi-nations. And so it should also become clear how man’s legal codes are all a lie, based completely on fictional persons, places, and things, having nothing to do with God’s Law of Nature.

Note that the “Law of Nature” and the “Laws of Nature” are separate terms. The satanist often mixes up in purposeful fallacy the physical Laws of Nature as the attributes of Life with the rules of conduct that are the Law of Nature. Though both are the self-evident Truth of God’s Design, paganism is designed to worship only the attributes of Nature as gods, ignoring the True Law of God, a set of Moral Laws said to be the unwritten Word of God, the harmony that allows man’s adventure in God’s Nature to be Pure and equitable in all things. This distinction is key. And the distinction between what is laid by God (Designed) and what is laid by man is also of the utmost importance. For the laws of man are a lie, based only upon fictions of the mind, and are opposed to the unenforceable Law and Laws of Nature. The essence of the True Religion of scripture is to Live and obey at all times in Piety the Law according to this very self-evident distinction.

Again, whatever law we choose to follow is also a representation of the god we choose to follow. He that is without mark and unblemished by surname or other fictions follows God’s Law alone. He who takes the mark that signifies his Self to be a beast must follow the gods of beasts under the false law of man. This is the foundation of all law. And although the Bible is considered as the foundational part of the common law, we must not embrace any part of the common law as is defined below, for this would be an addition of false doctrine (law). To embrace the Bible as Law is to abandon all of man’s law, especially the “justice” de-lived of the courts. Any yet the courts acknowledge the Bible as the Highest Law. And so we must establish our Law to the courts so that they may not include their own judicial opinions and past, customary practices and presidents in an attempt to overcome the Word of God; to overcome our True Nature and Source of Creation. To accomplish this, we must never operate in any proprietary fictional person, place, or thing that falls within that courts imaginary, artificial jurisdiction. We must be conscious at all times the difference between Reality and fiction, between God and what is adversarial (satanic) to God, of the Law of Nature versus the law of man. And sadly, in order to accomplish this ultimate state of wisdom, we must do as the Bible instructs in Matthew, Chapter 10, becoming as sheep of the flock of Jesus. We do this, however, not only by knowledge and manifestation of the Law of God’s Nature, but by becoming wise as the serpent that seeks to beguile us in fiction and art, for only with the knowledge of evil (artifice) may we avoid it utterly, remaining as harmless as doves, in-juring no man, no thing, no place, and no person. Remember, to injure any man is to invoke his name in the legal capacity of law. Forgiveness and forgiveness alone in Pure Love and Charity is the only sure way to avoid the legal realm. For to invoke the name of another in fiction, both the accused and the accuser must take the false (sur) name in legal personification of evil (artifice), for to sue a fictional person one must become a fictional person. One must seek the judgement of man over the judgement of God by invoking man’s flattering title as a god (magistrate). But to be clear, in order to cause a man in flattering legal title to “judge” my enemy, I must also allow my Self to be judged by that invented persona of fiction. I must commit a crime against the Laws of Nature by invoking the fictional person of that man, a person that does not Exist in Nature or under Its Laws. And so I am breaking the fundamental Law of Nature by my conduct, for I am injuring (bringing into fictional law) a man by his surety to that strawman. To this crime there is no excuse before God, for this is akin to seeking the opinion and law of the king of lies.

Thus we may now understand the intent of the Bible when it states in James, Chapter 5 that we should: “Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the judge standeth before the door,” in Matthew, Chapter 7 that we should, “Judge not, that ye be not judged,” in Luke, Chapter 6 that we should, “Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned, forgive, and ye shall be forgiven.”

One cannot judge another unless he is already judged (doomed) at birth. Persons can only rejudged by other persons, and men only by Jehovah. The law of man is a lie, and believing in (loving) the lie through its persona is a curse upon your Life, that you should be required to live in the spiritual death of a civil, debtor’s hell.

LAW - noun - [Latin lex; from the root of lay. See lay. A law is THAT WHICH IS LAID, SET OR FIXED, like statute, constitution, from Latin statute.] 1. A rule, particularly an established or permanent rule, PRESCRIBED BY THE SUPREME POWER OF A STATE TO ITS SUBJECTS, FOR REGULATING THEIR ACTIONS, PARTICULARLY THEIR SOCIAL ACTIONS. Laws are imperative or mandatory, COMMANDING what shall be done; prohibitory, RESTRAINING from what is to be forbidden; or permissive, DECLARING WHAT MAY BE DONE WITHOUT INCURRING A PENALTY. The laws which enjoin the duties of piety and morality, are prescribed by God and found in the Scriptures. Law is beneficence acting by rule. 2. Municipal law is a rule of civil conduct PRESCRIBED BY THE SUPREME POWER OF A STATE, commanding what its subjects are to do, and prohibiting what they are to forbear; a statute. Municipal or civil laws are established by the decrees, edicts or ordinances OF ABSOLUTE PRINCES, as emperors and kings, or by the formal acts of the legislatures of free (franchise) states. Law therefore is sometimes equivalent to decree, edict, or ordinance. 3. LAW OF NATURE, is a rule of conduct arising out of the natural relations of human beings ESTABLISHED BY THE CREATOR, ANDEXISTING PRIOR TO ANY POSITIVE PRECEPT. Thus it is a law of nature, that one man should not INJURE another, AND MURDER AND FRAUD WOULD BE CRIMES, INDEPENDENT OF ANY PROHIBITION (I.E. LICENSURE) FROM A SUPREME POWER. 4. Laws of animal nature, the inherent principles by which the economy and functions of animal bodies are performed, such as respiration, the circulation of the blood, digestion, various secretions, etc. 5. Laws of vegetation, the principles by which plats are produced, and their growth carried on till they arrive to perfection. 6. Physical laws, or laws of nature. The invariable tendency or determination of any species of matter to a particular form with definite properties, and the determination of a body to certain motions, changes, and relations, which uniformly take place in the same circumstances, is called a physical law. These tendencies or determinations, whether called laws or affections of matter, have been established by the Creator, and are, with a peculiar felicity of expression, denominated in Scripture, ordinances of heaven. 7. Laws of nations, the rules that regulate the MUTUAL INTERCOURSE OF NATIONS OR STATES. These rules depend on natural law OR THE PRINCIPLES OF JUSTICE WHICH SPRING FROM THE SOCIAL STATE; OR THEY ARE FOUNDEN ON CUSTOMS, COMPACTS, TREATIES, LEAGUES AND AGREEMENTS BETWEEN INDEPENDENT COMMUNITIES. By the law of nations, we are to understand that code of PUBLIC instruction, which defines the rights and prescribes the duties of nations. IN THEIR INTERCOURSE WITH EACH OTHER. 8. Moral law, a law which prescribes to men THEIR RELIGIOUS AND SOCIAL DUTIES, in other words, THEIR DUTIES TO GOD AND TO EACH OTHER. The moral law is summarily contained in the decalogue or ten commandments, written by the finger of God on two tables of stone, and delivered to Moses on mount Sinai. Exodus 20:1. 9. Ecclesiastical law, a rule of action PRESCRIBED FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF A CHURCH; otherwise called CANON LAW. 10. Written law, a law or rule of action PRESCRIBED OR ENACTED BY A SOVEREIGN, and promulgated and recorded IN WRITING; a written statute, ordinance, edict or decree. 11. UNWRITTEN OR COMMON LAW, a rule of action which derives its authority FROM LONG USAGE, OR ESTABLISHED CUSTOM, which has been immemorially RECEIVED AND RECOGNIZED BY JUDICIAL TRIBUNALS. As this law can be TRACED TO NO POSITIVE STATUTES, its rules or principles are to be FOUND ONLY IN THE RECORDS OF COURTS, AND IN THE REPORTS OF JUDICIAL DECISIONS. 12. By-law, a law of a city, town or private corporation. [See By.] 13. Mosaic law the institutions of Moses, or the code of laws prescribed to the Jews, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM THE GOSPEL. 14. Ceremonial law THE MOSAIC INSTITUTIONS WHICH PRESCRIBE THE EXTERNAL RITES AND CEREMONIES TO BE OBSERVED BY THE JEWS, AS DISTINCT FROM THE MORAL PRECEPTS, WHICH ARE OF PERPETUAL OBLIGATION. 15. A rule of direction; a directory; as reason and natural conscience. These, having not the law as a law to themselves. Romans 2:12. 16. That which governs or has a tendency to rule; that which has the power of controlling. But I see another law in my members warring against the law of my mind, AND BRINGING ME INTO CAPTIVITY TO THE LAW OF SIN WHICH IS IN MY MEMBERS. Romans 7:1. 17. THE WORD OF GOD: the doctrines and precepts of God, or his revealed will. But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night. Psalms 1:2. 18. The Old Testament. Is it not written in your law I said, ye are gods? John 10:34. 19. The institutions of Moses. AS DISTINCT FROM THE OTHER PARTS OF THE OLD TESTAMENT: as the law and the prophets. 20. A rule or axiom OF SCIENCE OR ART; SETTLED PRINCIPLE, as the laws of versification or poetry. 21. Law martial, or martial law, the rules ordained for the government of an army or military force. 22. Marine laws, rules for the regulation of NAVIGATION, AND THE COMMERCIAL INTERCOURSE OF NATIONS. 23. Commercial law, law-merchant, the system of rules by which TRADE AND COMMERCIAL INTERCOURSE are regulated between merchants. 24. Judicial process; prosecution OF RIGHT in courts of law. Tom Touchy is a fellow famous for taking the law of every body. Hence the phrase, to go to law to prosecute; to seek redress in a legal tribunal. 25. Jurisprudence; as in the title, Doctor of Laws. 26. In general, law is a rule of action prescribed for the government of rational beings or moral AGENTS, TO WHICH RULE THEY ARE BOUND TO YIELD OBEDIENCE, IN DEFAULT OF WHICH THEY ARE EXPOSED TO PUNISHMENT: OR LAW IS A SETTLED MODE OR COURSE OF ACTION OR OPERATION IN IRRATIONAL BEINGS AND IN INANIMATE BODIES. Civil law, criminal law [See Civil and Criminal.] Laws of honor. [See Honor.] Law language, the language used in legal writings and forms, PARTICULARLY THE NORMAN DIALECT OR OLD FRENCH, which was used in judicial proceedings from the days of William the conqueror to the 36th year of Edward III. Wager of law, a species of trial formerly used in England, in which the defendant gave security that he would, on a certain day, make his law that is, he would make oath that he owed nothing to the plaintiff, and would produce eleven of his neighbors as compurgators, who should swear that they believed in their consciences that he had sworn the truth. (Webs1828)

If the reader is not clear as to these definitions of what each form of law equates to, please revisit this entry now. For we must at all times know what is a creation of man and what is the self-evident Creation of God. Our very Lives, our souls depend upon this ability to know without doubt, and this knowledge will manifest as a sign of confidence before any pretended agent of government that seeks to injure you by legal word magic.

Let us now examine the artificial nature of the United States, for it would not exist but for the legal process and ceremonial rite of legal confirmation. The birth process is also an act in need of future, eventual confirmation, as the abandonment of an infant to be found as pirate booty (sunken treasure) by the state in its district (seizure), becoming the confirmed status (strawman) attached to that man when the infant comes to the age of consent to his own adultery.

To be clear, all law must be confirmed and ratified, for it is fiction, stemming not from God’s Nature. What is artificial must be proven and confirmed/ratified. What is Real needs no such artful ratification, especially your Self. What is Real is laid only in the self-Existence of Jehovah. To confirm anything is to worship that which is known to be false as that which is true. The Truth of Reality stands without confirmation of man’s laws and opinions of it.

LEGALIZATION - The act of legalizing or MAKING legal or lawful. (Black4)

LEGALY - Lawfully. ACCORDING TO LAW. (Black4)

LEGALIZE - TO MAKE legal or lawful. TO CONFIRM OR VALIDATE WHAT WAS BEFORE VOID OR UNLAWFUL. TO ADD THE SANCTION AND AUTHORITY OF LAW TO THAT WHICH BEFORE WAS WITHOUT OR AGAINST LAW. (Black4)

When a contract has been entered into by a stranger without authority, he in whose NAME it has been made may, by his own act, confirm it; or if the contract be made by the party himself in an INFORMAL and VOIDABLE manner, he may in a more formal manner CONFIRM and RENDER IT VALID; and in that event it will take effect, as between the parties, FROM THE ORIGINAL MAKING. To make a valid confirmation, THE PARTY MUST BE APPRISED OF HIS RIGHTS, AND WHERE THERE HAS BEEN A FRAUD IN THE TRANSACTION, HE MUST BE AWARE OF IT, AND INTEND TO CONFIRM HIS CONTRACT. 3. - 2. Lord Coke defines a confirmation of an estate, to be “a conveyance of an estate or right in esse, whereby a voidable estate is made SURE and UNA VOIDABLE; or where a particular estate is increased.” … The proper technical words of a confirmation are, RATIFY AND CONFIRM, although it is usual and prudent to insert also the words given and granted.

5. A confirmation does not strengthen a void estate. Confirmatio est nulla, ubi donum precedens est invalidum, et ubi donatio nulla est nec valebit confirmatio. For confirmation may make a voidable or defeasible estate good, but cannot operate on an estate void in law. THE CANON LAW AGREES WITH THIS RULE, and hence the maxim, qui confirmat nihil dat.

6. AN INFANT IS SAID TO CONFIRM HIS ACTS PERFORMED DURING INFANCY, WHEN, AFTER COMING TO FULL AGE, HE EXPRESSLY APPROVES OF THEM, OR DOES ACTS FROM WHICH SUCH CONFIRMATION MAY BE IMPLIED. See Ratification.

EXPRESSLY - adverb - IN DIRECT TERMS; plainly. (Webs1828)

EXPRESS - That which is made known, and not left to implication. The opposite of implied. It is a rule, that WHEN A MATTER OR THING IS EXPRESSED, IT CEASES TO BE IMPLIED BY LAW: expressum facit cessare tacitum. (Bouv1856)

TACITLY - adverb - SILENTLY; BY IMPLICATION; WITHOUT WORDS; as, he tacitly assented. (Webs1828)

TACIT - adjective - [Latin tacitus, from taceo, TO BE SILENT, that is, to stop, or to close. See Tack | Silent: IMPLIED, BUT NOT EXPRESSED. Tacit consent is CONSENT BY SILENCE, OR NOT INTERPOSING AN OBJECTION. So we say, a tacit agreement or covenant of men to live under a particular government, when no objection or opposition is made: A TACIT SURRENDER OF A PART OF OUR NATURAL RIGHTS; a tacit reproach, etc. (Webs1828)

TACIT - That which, ALTHOUGH NOT EXPRESSED, IS UNDERSTOOD FROM THE NATURE OF THE THING, or from the provision of the law; implied. (Bouv1856)

TACIT LAW - A law which derives its authority FROM THE COMMON CONSENT OF THE PEOPLE, WITHOUT ANY LEGISLATIVE ENACTMENT. (Bouv1856)

CONFIRMOR - He who makes a confirmation to another. (Bouv1856)

RATIHABITIO - Latin. CONFIRMATION, AGREEMENT, CONSENT, approbation of a contract. (Black4)

RATIHABITION - Contracts. CONFIRMATION; APPROBATION OF A CONTRACT: ratification. (Bouv1856)
RATIFICATION - In a broad sense, the CONFIRMATION of a previous act done either by the party himself OR BY ANOTHER; CONFIRMATION OF A VOIDABLE ACT. The affirmation by a person of a prior act which did not bind him, but which was done or professedly done on his account, whereby the act, as to some or all persons, IS GIVEN EFFECT AS IF ORIGINALLY AUTHORIZED BY HIM. The adoption by one, AS BINDING UPON HIMSELF, of an act done in such RELATIONS that he may claim it as done for his BENEFIT, ALTHOUGH DONE UNDER SUCH CIRCUMSTANCES AS WOULD NOT BIND HIM EXCEPT FOR HIS SUBSEQUENT ASSENT. It is equivalent to a previous authorization and relates back to time when act ratified was done, except where intervening rights of third persons are concerned. In the law of PRINCIPAL AND AGENT, the adoption and confirmation BY ONE PERSON with knowledge of all material facts, OF AN ACT OR CONTRACT PERFORMED OR ENTERED INTO IN HIS BEHALF BY ANOTHER WHO AT THE TIME ASSUMED WITHOUT AUTHORITY TO ACT AS HIS AGENT. Ratification of transaction involves same elements as making of new contract, and understanding of material facts necessary to an intelligent assent is essential to "ratification." Essence of "ratification" BY PRINCIPAL OF ACT OF AGENT IS MANIFESTATION OF MENTAL DETERMINATION by principal to affirm the act, and this may be manifested by written word or by spoken word OR BY CONDUCT, or may be inferred from known circumstances and principal's acts in relation thereto. To constitute ratification of voidable contract the act relied on must be performed with full knowledge of its consequences and with an express intention of ratifying what is known to be voidable. EXPRESS ratifications are those made in express and direct terms of assent. IMPLIED ratifications are such as the law presumes from the acts of the principal. Estoppel and ratification distinguished. See Estoppel. (Black4)

RATE - A PUBLIC VALUATION or assessment of every man's ESTATE; or the ascertaining how much TAX every one shall pay. (Boul1856)

RATIFY - To approve and sanction; TO MAKE VALID; TO CONFIRM; to give sanction to. Though sometimes used synonymously, from a strictly lexical standpoint, THE WORD "ADOPT" SHOULD BE USED TO APPLY TO VOID TRANSACTIONS, while the word "ratify" should be limited to the FINAL APPROVAL OF A VOIDABLE TRANSACTION BY ONE WHO THEREFORE HAD THE OPTIONAL RIGHT TO RELIEVE HIMSELF FROM ITS OBLIGATIONS. (Black4)

RATIFY - verb transitive - [Latin ratum facio, TO MAKE FIRM.] 1. TO CONFIRM; to establish; to settle. We have ratified to them the borders of Judea. 2. TO APPROVE AND SANCTION; to make valid; as, to ratify an agreement or treaty. (Webs1828)

SANCTION - verb - To assent, concur. CONFIRM OR RATIFY. - noun - In the original sense of the word, a penalty or punishment provided as a means of enforcing obedience to a law. In jurisprudence, a law is said to have a sanction WHEN THERE IS A STATE which will intervene if it is disobeyed or disregarded. THEREFORE INTERNATIONAL LAW HAS NO LEGAL SANCTION. In a more general sense, A CONDITIONAL EVIL ANNEXED TO A LAW TO PRODUCE OBEDIENCE TO THAT LAW; and, in a still wider sense, an authorization of anything. Occasionally, "sanction" is used (e.g., in Roman law) to denote A STATUTE, the part (PENAL CLAUSE) being used to denote the whole. THE VINDICATORY PART of a law, or THAT PART WHICH ORDAINS OR DENOUNCES A PENALITY FOR ITS VIOLATION. (Black4)

SANCTUARY - In old English law. A CONSECRATED PLACE which had certain privileges annexed to it, and to which offenders were accustomed to resort for refuge, because THEY COULD NOT BE ARRESTED THERE, NOR THE LAWS BE EXECUTED. (Black4)

RATIFICATION - Contracts. An agreement TO ADOPT AN ACT PERFORMED BY ANOTHER FOR US. ... 6. AN INFANT IS NOT LIABLE ON HIS CONTRACTS; BUT IF, AFTER COMING OF AGE, HE RATIFY THE CONTRACT BY AN ACTUAL OR EXPRESS
DECLARATION. HE WILL BE BOUND TO PERFORM IT, AS IF IT HAD BEEN MADE AFTER HE ATTAINED FULL AGE. The ratification must be voluntary, deliberate, and intelligent, and the party must know that without it, he would not be bound. But a confirmation or ratification of a contract, MAY BE IMPLIED FROM ACTS OF THE INFANT AFTER HE BECOMES OF AGE; AS BY ENJOYING OR CLAIMING A BENEFIT UNDER A CONTRACT HE MIGHT HAVE WHOLLY RESCINDED; and an infant partner will be liable for the contracts of the firm, or at least such as were known to him, if he, after becoming of age, confirm the contract of partnership by transacting business of the firm, receiving profits, and the like. (Bour1856)

RATIFICATION OF TREATIES - The constitution of the United States, art. 2, s. 2, declares that the president shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur. So NO TREATY IS THEREFORE OF ANY VALIDITY TO BIND THE NATION UNLESS IT HAS BEEN RATIFIED by two-thirds of the members present in the senate at the time its expediency or propriety may have been discussed. Vide Treaty. (Bouv1856)

RATIFICATION - Acceptance or adoption of AN ACT PERFORMED BY ANOTHER AS AGENT OR REPRESENTATIVE; in particular, CONFIRMATION OF WHAT HAS BEEN DONE WITHOUT ORIGINAL AUTHORITY, AN ADOPTION OF A CONTRACT MADE ON OUR BEHALF BY SOMEONE WHOM WE DID NOT AUTHORIZE, WHICH RELATES BACK TO THE EXECUTION OF THE CONTRACT AND RENDERS IT OBLIGATORY FROM THE OUTSET. Requires some POSITIVE, ASSERTIVE ACT. An "estoppel" may be created by silence. Refers to contracts BETWEEN PRIVATE PERSONA, to treaties between states, AND TO CHANGES PROPOSED IN WRITTEN CONSTITUTIONS. 1. Ratification of the unauthorized act of another operates upon the act ratified AS IF AUTHORITY TO DO THE ACT HAD BEEN PREVIOUSLY GIVEN, except where the rights of third parties have intervened between the act and the ratification. In other words, it is essential that the party ratifying should be able not merely to do the act ratified at the time the act was done, BUT ALSO AT THE TIME THE RATIFICATION WAS MADE. It is by EXPRESS CONSENT, OR BY CONDUCT inconsistent with any other hypothesis than that of approval. BUT INOPERATIVE, IF THE PARTY SOUGHT TO BE CHARGED WAS NOT COMPETENT TO MAKE THE CONTRACT WHEN THE SAME WAS MADE, nor when the supposed act of ratification was performed, or if the contract was illegal, IMMORAL, or against public policy. Where FRAUD is of such a character as to involve a crime, ratification of the act from which it springs IS OPPOSED TO PUBLIC POLICY, and, hence, cannot be permitted; BUT WHERE THE TRANSACTION IS CONTRARY ONLY TO GOOD FAITH AND FAIR DEALING, WHERE IT AFFECTS INDIVIDUAL INTEREST MERELY, RATIFICATION IS PERMITTED. Thus, the forgery of an indorsement, being a criminal act, is incapable of ratification.' (WCA1889)

OBLIGATORY - A "writing obligatory" means, simply, a written contract UNDER SEAL. (WCA1889)

OBLIGATION - A ligament or tie: SOMETHING WHICH BINDS ONE TO DO OR NOT TO DO AN ACT. 1. In its most extensive sense, SYNONYMOUS WITH "DUTY." (WCA1889)

NATURAL OR MORAL OBLIGATION - AN OBLIGATION WHICH CANNOT BE ENFORCED BY ACTION, but which is nevertheless BINDING IN CONSCIENCE AND ACCORDING TO NATURAL JUSTICE. OPPOSED (TO) CIVIL OR LEGAL OBLIGATION... (WCA1889)

OBLIGATION (continued) - In Roman law, a contract was a pact, a convention plus an obligation. So long as the pact remained unclothed with the obligation, it was "nude" or "naked." An obligation was "juris vinculum, quo necessitate, adstringimur alicuius solvendae rei" (Justinian, Inst. Ht, 13, 1). The obligation is the "BOND" or "CHAIN," WITH WHICH
THE LAW JOINS PERSONS TOGETHER IN CONSEQUENCE OF THEIR VOLUNTARY ACTS. Obligatio may signify a right as well as a duty. The picture is that of a "LEGAL CHAIN," and the two ends were equally regarded. The obligation was a PERSONAL relation between two parties. A DEBTOR BOUND TO RENDER SOME SERVICE, A CREDITOR TO RECEIVE IT. The debt was a binding (obligatio), the payment a releasing (SOLUTIO) of the PERSON. THE CREDITORS HOLD WAS ON THE PERSON (later on the property) of the debtor. The imperfect obligation (naturalis) could not, like the perfect (civilis), be enforced by a direct action, BUT MIGHT HAVE FORCE IN INDIRECT WAYS. Natural obligations arose from transactions which would have created civil ones, BUT FOR SOME DEFECT IN FORM OR IN LEGAL CAPACITY. Civil obligations were those STRICTI HIRIS, subject to a literal and rigorous construction, and those bonae fidei, in which the aims of the parties and the demands of reason and equity were considered. 2. A LEGAL DUTY: A LEGAL LIABILITY. A valid, subsisting obligation consists of a legal debt or duty, and the remedy to enforce it. 3. AN UNDERTAKING UNDER SEAL, also, THE INSTRUMENT OR WRITING BY WHICH IT IS EVIDENCED, A BOND, OR OTHER WRITING IN THE NATURE OF A BOND. In a popular sense, ANY ACT BY WHICH A PERSON BECOMES BOUND TO OR FOR ANOTHER, OR TO PERFORM SOMETHING.' See Bond. (WCA1889)

AFFIRM - 1. To aver a thing as established or certain, or as existing, or as provable as a fact. Whence affirmative, affirmation. (WCA1889)

AFFIRMATIVE - 1. - adjective - Asserting as true: DECLARATORY OF WHAT EXISTS or is to be or to be done: POSITIVE, OPPOSED (TO) NEGATIVE. As, affirmative or an affirmative allegation, averment condition, covenant, defense, evidence, pleading, representation, statute, warranty, words, (2) - noun - THE AFFIRMATIVE, THE PARTY WHO MAINTAINS OR SUPPORTS, OPPOSED (TO) THE NEGATIVE, THE BURDEN OF PROOF RESTS UPON HIM WHO HOLDS THE AFFIRMATIVE OF AN ISSUE. See Proof, Burden of. (WCA1889)

AFFIRMATIVE PREGNANT - An AFFIRMATIVE allegation IMPLYING A NEGATIVE in favor of the adverse party. Opposed (to) negative pregnant: a negative allegation involving or admitting of an AFFIRMATIVE IMPLICATION, or, at least, an implication favorable to the adverse party. See Negative. (WCA1889)

NEGATIVE PREGNANT - The statement of a negative proposition in such a FORM as may IMPLY or CARRY with it the admission of an AFFIRMATIVE. A fault, within the rule that a pleading MUST NOT BE AMBIGUOUS IN MEANING. (WCA1889)

NEGATIVE - Is used in an untechnical sense, IN OPPOSITION TO AFFIRMATIVE OR POSITIVE; as negative, or a negative — allegation, averment, condition, covenant, easement, evidence, statute, qq. v. WHOEVER ASSERTS A RIGHT DEPENDENT FOR ITS EXISTENCE UPON A NEGATIVE MUST ESTABLISH THE TRUTH OF THE NEGATIVE, except where the matter is peculiarly within the knowledge of the adverse party - as, that the latter has no license for selling liquor. It is NOT a maxim of law that a negative is INCAPABLE of proof. When the negative ceases to be a SIMPLE one, — when it is qualified by TIME, PLACE, or CIRCUMSTANCE, — much of the objection is REMOVED; and proof of a negative may reasonably be required WHEN THE QUALIFYING CIRCUMSTANCES ARE THE DIRECT MATTER IN ISSUE, or the affirmative is either probable in itself, or supported by a presumption, or peculiar means of proof are in the hands of the party asserting the negative. WHEN A PRESUMPTION IS IN FAVOR OF A PARTY WHO ASSERTS THE NEGATIVE, IT AFFORDS AN ADDITIONAL REASON FOR CASTING THE BURDEN OF PROOF ON HIS ADVERSARY. It is when a presumption is in favor of the party who asserts the affirmative that its effect becomes visible, as the opposite side is then bound to prove his negative. One class of exceptions to the rule, that the burden of proof rests on the party holding the affirmative, includes the cases in which the plaintiff grounds his right of action upon a negative allegation which is an essential element in his case. So, where the negative allegation involves a charge of criminal neglect of duty, or fraud, or the wrongful violation of actual lawful possession of property, THE PARTY MAKING THE ALLEGATION MUST PROVE IT; for in those cases the presumption of LAW IS IN FAVOR OF THE PARTY CHARGED. See Affirm. (WCA1889)

STOP! Do not proceed with this work until the above statements about confirmation, express and tacit consent, and ratification are fully comprehended. This is perhaps the most important part of this entire presentation. For this is the definition of adultery, as the voluntary acceptance of the tacit (implied) contractual relationship through the expression (action) of the man (as agent) by the use of the fictional persona (principal property of government). The simple signing of the mixed christian and sur-names as the combination of signature is the expression of will to be positively protected and secured, which requires subjection to that law of persons. A sig-nature is an expression of legal confirmation of that contractual state of debt slavery. Anything signed in person is a binding contract of the person by its agent, which is the man in the legal “chains” of surety to that fictional persona. For what is avoidable (negative, illegitimate) becomes unavoidable (positive law) once any action is taken by the agentic surety under his principal. Actions confirm and ratify words. One cannot act in the apparent benefit and protection of the person (citizenship) while also denying to be in appearance (constat) of the person or as agent thereof. One cannot use the surname and also deny the status and law attached to the surname’s use. If the reader may understand just these terms of art and their deep meaning, then the reader may understand why citizenship is voluntary (under the doctrine of master and servant). This is the foundation of voluntary servitude to evil. It is also the foundation of abandoning both God and therefore the unalienable rights implied under God.

And finally, when we comprehend the above artificially binding concepts, we may truly understand why the private founders of the several States (Peoples) and many Biblical scholars, including Noah Webster, over and over stated that this government would only work based on True christian, scriptural principals of Law and no other. Literally, this type of “limited government” may only have success on a self-governing private People who reserve their Natural rights and bind themselves to that Natural duty so implied thereof. Once any other form of law is confirmed and ratified the original intent is corrupted and ruined. And of course it’s been turned into the pirate coven we see today. If you still don’t know why this word pirate is being used by the author, you certainly will by the end of the next, summary chapter. So don’t stop now...

“A ratification is EQUAL TO A COMMAND.”

— Ratihabitio mandato sequiparatur. (WCA1889)

And this is why acting only according to christ’s teachings (i.e., ratifying and acting according to only God’s Commandments and Law) is the only salvation and solution (solutio) from legal tyranny, for only then can man avoid that which would be legally unavoidable by his christ-like actions. The christian name alone is a negative, and cannot be affirmed or assumed as a legal name (in-jured) with legal capacity or title without addition of a surname (agnomen = event name). This is the story of christ, and the story of christ is nothing if not the potentiality of every man in his own journey and avoidance of legal, artificial things and states of false being under names and flattering titles.

While the church says pray with us (publicly) to have only the empty NAME (noun) of Jesus christ become our imaginary lord and master in personification of man, the Bible tells us that we must, each of our own Self, master the teachings of christ (verb) and exclusively by christ’s example be the christ-like master of our own Self. This is self-governance, self-discipline.

“He openeth also their ear TO DISCIPLINE, and commandeth that they RETURN FROM INIQUITY. If they obey and serve him, they shall spend their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasures. But if they obey not, they shall perish by the sword, and THEY SHALL DIE WITHOUT KNOWLEDGE.”

The follower of christ sees not christ as his vulgar and imagined lord, but instead recognizes that christ is the self-evident Word (Law) of God and that only with christ (the Word/Law) may he be self-governing under his True Lord Jehovah. It is patently ridiculous, when one ponders for only a moment, that the church tells us to pray to God through the “name” (noun) of Jesus christ, when the 1st and most important commandment is to have no other gods before Jehovah. If we were acting christ-like, we would not need to pray for Grace, we would be actively walking in Grace by christ’s path. And it should be noted that most prayers are for things that are not Creations of God, as if the abundance of Nature is not enough. So why would such prayers be answered when the pursuit of such fictions and artifices is against God’s Word? Paradox! If God could indeed reciprocate and correspond to the empty words of the typical public prayer, It would no doubt inquire from us all just why we are making such a prank call, and that we should simply start acting like Jesus the christ as the Word of Law as we are commanded. God would inquire as to why we are calling personally instead of merely walking as that parabolic example given to us in the scriptural teachings instead, and why we’re trying to prove that which does not Exist or which merely re-presents and symbolizes something that already Exists in Nature despite such art and imagery. We should stop bowing down to idols (images) and false gods in fancy dress and robes as some pretended, protective shield, while at the same time never following the actual Word (Son). And if not, if we do not follow the Law of God’s Nature, we shouldn’t inquire to God through prayer or meditation or vain cursing of Its Name just why our Lives are so damned and messed up! In other words, God would tell us to simply follow His Law (Son/Word) and stop calling him to fix the problems that would be non-existent if God’s Word was being followed in the first place. God would tell us that he sent the One example of man’s harmonious place in God’s Nature and that all questions and prayers are answered within that story of the Word (Son) of God, and that our problems would cease to fictionally exist if we would but follow Him. For all our problems stem from our own artifice, lies, and desires after false and fictional persons, places, and things in mammon. God would be like, WTF people? Get a clue. Read the instructions, idiots.

Our problems stem only from legal, artificial things, like say the church and state and the false law they conspire together to sustain as they have laid it against God’s Design. The man Living spiritually under God’s Word should seek to ratify and confirm nothing of the artifice of man, for he may only do so by undertaking a false persona in contracted admixture of his God-given First name with the state’s fictional title of legal surname in required worship of mammon. Man’s disease is his legal strawman, the very root of all fictional growths attached to him in surety.

Likewise, we must here see and feel the difference between the negative and the positive. The agents of the legal matrix are always seeking to prove some presumption or inducement that can turn a negative into a positive, a withholding into an affirmation, a duty into a declared right. I may certainly Love and Know my mother and father in Nature, as they may Know and Love me. But my affirmation as such in order to gain some legal thing, profit, benefit, protection, grant, patent, or any other aspect of fiction (lie) creates the presumption of desire and intent to impress that child into the legal fiction for positive law purposes. That which is self-evident (negative) is thus thrust into and affirmed as positive. That which before was ambiguous, disrespected, and unseen by man’s law is thus marked as its beast of burden. The man is made animal (soulless). The positive claim affirms the legal status in persona, and so the presumption is confirmed. This is a very difficult concept, but understanding it is absolutely necessary and is the foundation of the scriptural, spiritual teachings and way. No thing positive and thus spiritually dead may touch that negative, Natural path of Pure and un-adulterated Life.

And so we can see here that to tell the legal “truth” or state a legal “fact” is often the act of a non compos mentis fool, a lie affirmed to be as the ratified and confirmed but artificial truth in fact. For in law, the truth is only ever a positive declaration and its acknowledgment of artifice (false positive), though the positive truth about a negative (Reality) can only be a re-creation, as the positively affirmed lie (legal name, legal definition, and artful legal title) of its fictional form and consideration in law (artifice). In Nature, the Truth is undeniable. Only in fiction can God’s Creation and self-evidence of Existence and Law as man’s Highest Duty to It and each other be denied, and only then can such a denial be violently protected as law. When the court can deny Truth and then create and confirm lies as evidence at bar, then we know that we are certainly not Living in the Reality and beauty of the Truth. Pray (plea) as we may to that false robed god in judgement at bench (bank) in court, the Truth can and will never be heard by that fictional character and magistrate of the fictional law.

An averment is made to cause man’s negative state of being to become a false positive, to tune man into that cartoon world by establishing a clear, alternative legal character in fiction, destroying his ambiguity under God in his Pure christian name by affirming the opprobrious appellation of an attached, tainting surname, number, and identifying marks. In other words, every time we go to court or use our strawman we positively charge (confirm) that legal fiction and admit ourselves to its realm of jurisdiction. We are affirmers each time we are summoned and thus confirm the lie of our legally “true” and provable (positive) id-entity.

I am entrained to believe that I am Clint Richardson… I am legal. I am the strawman. I pretend to live at this fictional, federally (legally) addressed place on the map, as registered under the fictional Caesar’s postal district in seizure, distress, and distraint. I drive and act only commercially under this fictional, permissive photo id-entity. I appear here as the personification of all of these tokens, signs, and proofs of id-entity that manifest my false, legal existence. I affirm that I am not, therefore, appearing here as an Act of God, that I am not my own Self, not a man, that I have no spiritual, Higher Law, that I deny God’s authority, and thus that I claim and reserve no unalienable Natural Rights here at bar. I give my unholy, sacred (cursed) oath that these lies are all, in legal fact, artificially true before the magistrate gods and their agents at law. And I do so upon the very Bible that would free me from this fiction in blasphemy and unintentional hatred towards it, worshiping the public administrators of my legal persona as my false god. I am at the court’s mercy instead of Jehovah’s, for my truth is positive and only positively fiction. And so please judge, pleas god, hear my prayers (pleas), because I have just turned my back on the Real Nature of all things, Its God, and Its negative power over your fiction. I throw my false-self at the mercy of the court, for I have no master higher than the principal corporation that employs you.

All of this simply because I confirm to be a legal, admixed name. A picture ID is literally worth 1,000 cursed words.

And so what happens in a negative averment?

AVER - To assert for the truth, to state in that HE HAS NEVER BEEN DISCHARGED FROM HIS POSITIVE TERMS; to allege FORMALLY. (WCA1889)

AVERMENT - A POSITIVE statement of the TRUTH OF A FACT; a FORMAL allegation in pleading. An averment in a declaration is a direct and positive allegation of fact made in a manner capable of being traversed (denied). It includes the idea of an AFFIRMATION to be made out by inference and induction, “The use in pleading of an averment is to ascertain that to the court which is generally or doubtfully expressed; so that the court may not be perplexed of whom, or of what, it ought to be UNDERSTOOD; and TO ADD MATTER to the plea TO MAKE DOUBTFUL THINGS CLEAR,” — as, an averment in an action of slander. There is no particular form of words in use. The important matter is that each substantial fact be so averred as to be susceptible of a simple admission or denial. See Verify. (WCA1889)

VERIFY - To show to be true: TO CONFIRM BY OATH: as, TO VERIFY AN ACCOUNT, a petition. A PLEA. BY MAKING OATH TO THE TRUTH OF THE STATEMENT OF THE FACTS SET FORTH. Whence verification. Sometimes, TO CONFIRM OR SUBSTANTIATE BY OATH, sometimes by argument, in legal proceedings generally the former (by oath). A notary may “verify” a mortgagee’s written statement of the amount of his claim, but need not “authenticate” the act by his seal. “Verify” here means TO SWEAR TO. Compare Aver. (WCA1889)

NEGATIVE - A DENIAL: a proposition by which something is denied: a statement in the form of denial. TWO NEGATIVES DO NOT MAKE A GOOD ISSUE. As to negative “Covenant,” “Easement,” “Servitude,” “Statute,” and “Testimony,” see those titles. (Black4)

NEGATIVE EVIDENCE - Testimony that AN ALLEGED FACT DID NOT EXIST. (Black4)

NEGATIVE CONDITION - One by which it is stipulated that a given thing shall not happen. (Black4)

NEGATIVE AVERTMENT - As opposed to the traverse or SIMPLE DENIAL of an affirmative allegation, a negative averment is an allegation of some substantive fact, e. g., that premises are not in repair, which, although negative in FORM, is really affirmative in SUBSTANCE. AND THE PARTY ALLEGING THE FACT OF NON-REPAIR MUST PROVE IT. An averment in some of the pleadings in a case in which a negative is asserted. (Black4)

I can deny that I am Clint Richardson, to which the plaintiff must prove I am that which I am not. Or I can claim that I am a different legal person named John Smith instead of Clint Richardson, in which case I must prove that I am not Clint Richardson by providing positive evidence that I am indeed another fiction not named Clint Richardson. This is a dark legal trap, for to prove one legal (artificial) thing in error one must affirm another artificial legal thing to be positively true, which means that the legal law over that person, place, or things must also be true. I must embrace fiction over Reality, choosing a false master over my own Nature (Self). This is against God’s Word. Denial is a simple negative, whereas claiming or averring a false but legalized truth as existent or non-existent and authoritative is a negative averment, and so the negative claim of truth must be somehow positively proven. Therefore, as a general rule, one should do as Jesus did by remaining silent or speaking parabolically (not personally), never making such types of positive or negative affirmations. For names cannot harm us unless we respect them and claim (affirm) they are our own. But when I claim positively to be Clint Richardson only for the purpose of negatively claiming or disproving something that did not happen, I now must prove the negative. I have just become the devil’s advocate, pleading to the devil (attorney in black robe) to account me as the devil’s own.

At this point, we can go back to scripture and see where Christ lived simply and thus negatively in all things, never claiming to be anything but what was self-evident and simple, and teaching others to be like-minded. How dare anyone demand that God prove Itself as anything but the I Am. And as God’s Creation, we also are only what we are. All else is fiction. All else is positive. All else must be proven. The greatest legal trick is to cause the negative man to confess some positive (legally bound) aspect of his negative standing.
“Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. BEAR YE ONE ANOTHER'S BURDENS, AND SO FULFILL THE LAW OF CHRIST. FOR IF A MAN THINK HIMSELF TO BE SOMETHING, WHEN HE IS NOTHING, HE DECEIVETH HIMSELF, BUT LET EVERY MAN PROVE HIS OWN WORK, and then shall he have rejoicing IN HIMSELF ALONE, AND NOT IN ANOTHER.”

—Galatians 6: 1-4, KJB

“Ignorance is preferable to error; and HE IS LESS REMOTE FROM THE TRUTH WHO BELIEVES NOTHING, THAN HE WHO BELIEVES WHAT IS WRONG.”

—Thomas Jefferson

It always amuses me to see the look on people’s faces when I tell them that the quotes of their heroes and false gods are almost always to be found either directly or loosely plagiarized from the Bible, even when their heroes are enemies. But then much of the Bible is quoted and spiritually plagiarized from many other more ancient scriptures. And so these tidbits of knowledge eventually must be left to boil down to the filter of Natural reason, to what is self-evident and self-Existant Truth. To believe in (love) what is no thing of Nature, of Reality, is the epitome of self-deceit.

In these powerful verses we are told how to simply fulfill the spiritual law. Most importantly, it is said that we may only prove ourselves by our works, and not by chanted or prayed words in some false, fictional name and ritualistic flattering title. Works are the substance of a negative proof, a Sabbath Lifestyle, whereas the name and title are merely positive formalities, inventions of the mind, as empty proofs without works (without self-evidence in Reality). Do not be tempted by the perceived ease of such positively charged faults and flatteries, and thus in so doing don’t pretend to be some thing you are not. For ultimately, when compared to the artificial world of man, we are nothing at all. We are fiction-less; invisible. Immune from that artful dis-ease. And so it could be said that the whole satanic (adversarial) system of man’s artful law is to tempt man unto himself, to respect the mirror image in a false form and persona more so than the Nature and Source of its shining, and so to deceive himself in all things by loving (believing/placing faith in) the fiction over the Reality of all things. Based on this, then it would be fairly accurate to say that our societies are merely extensions of the fable of hell, where everything we do is in artifice and opposed to our very own Nature and harmful to that of all others.

To speak (verb) positively or negatively, that is the question. We have of course learned in our public-mindedness that positive is good and negative is bad. But let us not forget that the legal language deals in figurative dualities and opposites, and that a loss or lack of anything positive in law is a gain and retaining of spirituality. What is positive kills the spirit and pretends to corrupt the blood. For a legal entity only has a positive existence with positively (fictionally) created traits.
Let us take for example again the man who calls himself by the flattering title of “scientist” through government permission and licensure compared to the spiritual man who uses the “scientific method” in the Purest of responsibility, respect, and protection of that which he studies. Everything in Nature certainly has a hidden science (Design) about it, those self-evident characteristics of Existence and of that which sparks Life Itself. We may either protect our Nature or we may destroy it utterly with legal license in the flattering, positive (legal) name of “science.”

In Webster’s 1828 dictionary of the English Language, the word science is defined as an “ART derived from precepts or built on principles,” where “SCIENCE PERFECTS GENIUS,” and as “Any art or species of knowledge,” though with the caveat that “NO SCIENCE DOTH MAKE KNOWN THE FIRST PRINCIPLES ON WHICH IT BUILDETH.” For science is of course a noun, not a verb. And so science perfects the art of evil genius (the actual definition of devil) as well as sparking that imagination of the well intentioned discoverer. But a science created by man around anything is an acknowledgement and firm ratification of certain proclaimed facts, not the actual knowledge. Thus institutionalized science perpetually falls in upon itself, ever-changing in its conclusions, and always cast aside without apology by the next more popular and modern version of itself. This continuous metamorphosis of scientific fact (pretended truth) is usually concluded and brought to syndicalist consensus only after a strict and causal belief in the perfection of exactness of that which was the formerly “current” science (legally proven facts) of things is used to justify and give license to some of the most atrocious and horrific acts in history.

Sounds a lot like religion, does it not?

As we can imagine, a scientific mind is very much like a man of God, both corrupted in their innocence by powers that seek to exploit the very Design each man worships. The corporatized, Romanized denomination of religion despoils the Pure religious intent of man just as the institutions of licensed “science” despoils the neutrality of genius that causes a man to wish to discover the beautiful and seemingly chaotic but ultimately harmonic functionality of God’s Nature and Design. The noun (title) always destroys the verb (works); the art only ever able to be a still picture of the True flow of Nature. The individual discovery is always false, for the part can never reveal the Whole Design behind it. But this self-evident Truth does not seem to be a consideration in man’s institutionalized syndicate of sciences.

So what about man himself? How does the art alter the course and purpose of man when these syndicalist institutions in authority over any art become the governor of the law over the Real? What happens when legalistic, logical discourse ignores any spiritual (True) considerations of the Source and Reason of the Highest Laws and Law of Nature?

—Daniel 7:25, KJV

A spiritual man is positive about nothing, remaining and acknowledging only in the negative (organic) state of all things while acting as the instruments and protectors of Nature, not simply pretending to be its overlord and corruptor. But a “scientist” must be strictly positive about everything it (that flattering title) declares, naming and classifying each part of the whole, though never fully understanding its Source, even while destroying the very whole to understand the parts. And yet True science as the study of Nature’s self-evident Design will only ever reveal that it is only the whole that should be used in its Purest essence and self-Existent combination despite the appeal or profitability of its parts.
Without positive laws and names (proper words of art), the scientist cannot function in Nature, while the negative spirit of man simply nurtures that which is, was, and shall be in the permanent Being of self-Existence (I AM) without proprietary names being necessary. True christ-like behavior is that of the conscious and thus purposeful preserving of that Life-Force, Its Source and Design as one’s Highest Law, without feeling the adversarial need to tear it apart and destroy it to positively discover, register, patent (artful re-invention), and pretend to “scientifically” discover and improve upon its already perfected Natural Design and function. The spiritual man’s only science is his internally unmolested conscience, as the spiritual awareness of the priceless value and sacrifice of all Life and of the only actual Truth, being the protector of that only True Reality. The scientist must separate everything in Nature from Itself, from its completeness, and into its specific individually named (conquered) parts that make up that whole (Source) for study and thus genetic, foundation-al alteration, as if man can improve upon God’s Permanence of Design without ultimately harming himself. For he knows that any change is only ever temporary or utterly destructive of that Origin of Design, and can never thus grow or artificially live without man’s help or supplemental action. A seedless fruit, for instance, is self-evidently not able to Live past its own genetically altered Life, for it is a creation of man and not of the Source and Design of God. The spiritual man considers all in Oneness, knowing that it is only the whole that heals and sustains all Life and that all Life Lives only because of the balance of that systematic Whole. He never questions the harmony of the Design but instead Lives gladly and helplessly within Its Law in negative relation, harmoniously doing no harm except that which is a respectful sacrifice necessary for some Life to sustain other Life.

The scientist splits electricity into a separate positive and negative flow so as to limit and control Its Original Design flow capacity to exploit it for his own purposes. Yet the Spirit of Life requires the Purity of that Source in togetherness and harmony, even as the atmosphere discharges its in-surmountable and uncontrollable power upon the earth and sea through what scientists call as “lightening” without Truly comprehending the Nature and Design of that Force. For the legal scientist in mammon, whose person’s intent and licensed title is towards financial gain and property ownership instead of beneficial scientific discovery in and of itself in the Pure Love of Charity and Works for the harmony of all of man and his very Nature, his goal is not to share but to own knowledge via dis-covery and by controlling his re-created and re-purposed art and its name (proper noun) for patent and sale (extortion towards corporate profits and gains). He seeks this knowledge to benefit only himself or the corporation or government he is employed in agency under, his product of re-creation of Source being only a copy of Nature without an original, a novel, copyrighted simulacrum of God’s Design. His is the discovery and perversion of Nature without a spiritual and Life-affirming blueprint from its Source, with the sole purpose of causing God’s Creation to become re-sourced into that which is novel (unique) for patentable, commercial, monopolistic gain. For it is not the man considered as making the discoveries, it is his flattering title as an “educated” employee attached to the legal surname of another, and all property is of the state.

Remember, all that presently Exists in timeless self-evidence under God cannot be patented by man as a new idea or discovery. Nothing of God’s Creation is patentable, and so all of Nature must be modified into something adversarial (satanic, opposed) to its Source in order to be controlled and patented for all person’s permissive use or exclusion. All of Nature must be reorganized and made false by placing a false, positive legal name and title upon it. Patents do not apply to a private man who privately uses the idea only for his self without commercially attempting to sell it against public commercial patent rights, yet another difference between private use and public use. As long as no money or gain of any type valued in money (property) is made upon the application of the patented idea, no patented legal law is broken, yet another example of why Charity is the solution to most problems, while money and the belief (love) of it is almost exclusively the root cause. In that prostitute of a legal science corporation, the hireling “scientist’s” work is not his own, and yet his work would be impossible to accomplish in Nature without such a permissive, antichrist legal setting as ours without the money changers of mammon running his laboratory and funding his expeditions and experiments with unchecked licensure (anarchy). And so again, money is certainly the root of all evil, not the least of which is man selling his soul and dignity for a flattering title dignified only in the fictional circles of institutionalized art forms (syndicalist corporations). The scientist’s god is always mammon or some corporation thereof to which he prostitutes himself and his allotted, educated and pandered in flattering title as a base hireling, just as the priest’s of corporate religions do. For his work is always funded by the proprietary currency (credit) of a positively charged monetary system, and often by the syndicalist university system that granted his graduated diplomacy (diplomatic immunity) of licensed crime in the first place.

In viewing these definitions, remember that what is legal is always opposed to Nature, as something positively charged (accused and adjudged) or negatively discharged back into non-Existence (as end of contract).

NEGATIVELY - adverb - 1. With or by denial; as, he answered negatively. 2. In the FORM of speech IMPLYING THE ABSENCE OF SOMETHING; OPPOSED TO POSITIVELY. I shall show what this image of god in man is, NEGATIVELY BY SHOWING WHEREIN IT DOES NOT CONSIST (STAND), and positively, by showing wherein it does consist. 3. Negatively charged or electrified. [See Positively]. (Webs1828)

POSITIVELY - adverb - Absolutely; by itself, independent of any thing else; not comparatively. Good and evil removed may be esteemed good or evil comparatively, and not positively or simply. 1. Not negatively; really; IN ITS OWN NATURE; directly; INHERENTLY. A thing is positively good, when it produces happiness by its own qualities or operation. IT IS NEGATIVELY GOOD, WHEN IT PREVENTS AN EVIL, OR DOES NOT PRODUCE IT. 2. Certainly; indubitably. This is POSITIVELY YOUR HANDWRITING. 3. Directly; explicitly. EXPRESSLY. The witness testified positively to the fact. 4. Peremptorily; in strong terms. The divine law POSITIVELY requires humility and meekness. 5. WITH FULL CONFIDENCE OR ASSURANCE. I cannot speak positively in regard to the fact. Positively electrified, in the science of electricity. A body is said to be positively electrified or charged with electric matter, when it contains a superabundance of the fluid, AND NEGATIVELY ELECTRIFIED OR CHARGED, WHEN SOME PART OF THE FLUID WHICH IT NATURALLY CONTAINS, HAS BEEN TAKEN FROM IT. According to other theorists, when the electric fluid is directed outwards from a body, the substance is electrified positively; but when it is entering or has a tendency to enter another substance, the body is supposed to be negatively electrified. The two species of electricity attract each other, and each REPELS ITS OWN KIND. (Webs1828)

POSITIVE - Express; absolute; not doubtful; affirmative; direct; as, a positive or positive—affirmation, condition, evidence, fraud, proof, statute, etc. (WCA1889)

POSITIVE LAW - Law actually ORDAINED or ESTABLISHED; statutory regulations; enacted law, or enactments: THE LEX SCRIPTA. (WCA1889)

Remember that the original united States constitution (a unification of several separate, private Peoples as “States” in compact) in its own words was to positively “ordain and establish” the nation and fix absolutely and resolutely its magistracy, and also to distinguish them from all other classes and slaves. And its legacy is only left to the “posterity” in blood consideration of the Arms (heraldry) of fabled genealogy, therein reserving exclusive, private right to Bear such tokens over that of the legal, artificial Arms (flag and seal) of the United States. Know your place and class and you will know your law. Know your Self, and no positive law can effect you. Know (be familiar with, family with) your positively created (constituted) strawman person and its legal creator, and no law will escape your surety bond to it.

A negative duty repels the transgressions by others who respect the Natural Law. A positive contractual obligation (positive duty) repels by insurance and protection of the contract (promise) and the fear of breaking that false law, no matter how tyrannical or harmful. But the negative and positive can be made to fit together like hand in glove, just as the negative man is clothed by the positive legal person. But the positive cannot exist without the negative force and breath of Life behind it. For what is of the negative realm is of Source.

—NEGATIO DESTRUIT NEGATIONEM, ET AMBAE FACIUNT AFFIRMATIONEM. Co. Litt. 146b. Lord Coke cites this as a rule of grammatical construction, not always applying in law. (Black4)

—NEGATIO DUPLEX EST AFFIRMATIO. (Black4)

I cannot be two things at once in Reality, in Nature. I can Be and have only one unifying purpose. To pretend to be and feign an artificial appearance as some thing when we are in Reality no thing (we are not a noun in Nature; not a fictional person, place, or thing) to act opposed to God’s Nature and Law, which is to respect no person created by man, no jurisdiction or title created by man, and nothing of or within the fictional arts created by man. We are to remain spiritually negative without addition, which simply translates to telling and excepting no lies, especially from that domain we call the positive fiction of law under contract.

We must cease living dualistic, double lives, pretending to have one foot in Nature (God) and one in commerce (mammon). We must stop being two-faced. The second I claim to be anything but that I Am; that I Exist only in Nature with no other considerations, then whatever else I negatively claim as an addition to my already negative state is seen as an affirmation, and a positive statement must always be proved, even when it avers only a negative state of Being. One could vulgarly translate this quite easily into just the simple-to-understand statement of “just shut the hell up!” very much as Jesus was sometimes portrayed. No words, no affirmations. The parable is a simulation of silence, a speaking only in negative terms with no legal capacity. We cannot be private and act publicly at the same time. We cannot reserve our secrets and also be alienated of them in publicity at the same time. Under God’s Word, in Truth, we cannot live double lives. But we do…

DOUBLE - adjective - Dubl. [Latin. Gr. See Two.] 1. Two of a sort together; one corresponding to the other; being in pairs, as double chickens in the same egg; double leaves connected by one petiole. 2. Twice as much; containing the same quantity or length repeated. Take double money in your hand. Genesis 43:12. Let a double portion of thy spirit be on me. 2 Kings 2:9. With to; as, the amount is double to what I expected. 3. Having one added to another; as a double chin. 4. Twofold; also, of two kinds. Darkness and tempest make a double night. 5. Two in number; as double sight or sound. [See No. 1.] 6. DECEITFUL; ACTING TWO PARTS.
NEGATIVE - This word has several significations. 1. It is used IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO GIVING ASSENT; thus we say the president has put his negative upon such a bill. Vide VETO. 2. It is also used IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO AFFIRMATIVE; as, A NEGATIVE DOES NOT ALWAYS ADMIT OF THE SIMPLE AND DIRECT PROOF OF WHICH AN AFFIRMATIVE IS CAPABLE. WHEN A PARTY AFFIRMS A NEGATIVE IN HIS PLEADINGS, AND WITHOUT THE ESTABLISHMENT OF WHICH, BY EVIDENCE, HE CANNOT RECOVER OR DEFEND HIMSELF, THE BURDEN OF THE PROOF LIES UPON HIM, AND HE MUST PROVE THE NEGATIVE. Although as a general rule the AFFIRMATIVE of every ISSUE must be PROVED, YET THIS RULE CEASES TO OPERATE, THE MOMENT THE PRESUMPTION OF LAW IS THROWN INTO THE OTHER SCALE. WHEN THE ISSUE IS ON THE LEGITIMACY OF A CHILD, THEREFORE, IT IS INCUMBENT ON THE PARTY ASSERTING THE ILLEGITIMACY TO PROVE IT. Vide Affirmative Innocence. (Bouv1856)

NEGATION - Denial. Two negations are construed to mean ONE AFFIRMATION. (Bouv1856)

NEATNESS - Pleading. The statement, in apt and appropriate words, OF ALL THE NECESSARY FACTS, AND NO MORE. (Bouv1856)

NEAT or NET - Contracts. THE EXACT WEIGHT OF AN ARTICLE, without the bag, box, keg, OR OTHER THING IN WHICH IT MAY BE ENVELOPED. (Bouv1856)

ENVELOPED - participle passive - Inwrapped; covered on all sides; surrounded on all sides; inclosed. (Webs1828)

ENVELOP - verb transitive - 1. To cover by wrapping of FOLDING; to inwrap; TO INVEST WITH A COVERING, (i.e. HOOD). Animal bodies are usually enveloped with skin; the merchant envelops goods with canvas; a letter is enveloped with paper. 2. To surround entirely; to cover on all sides; to hide. A ship was enveloped in fog; the troops were enveloped in dust. 3. To line; to cover on the inside... (Webs1828)

DECK - verb transitive - 1. Primarily, to cover; to overspread; TO PUT ON. Hence, 2. TO CLOTHE; TO DRESS THE PERSON; but usually, to clothe with more than ordinary elegance; to array; TO ADORN; to embellish. The dew with spangles decked the ground. 3. TO FURNISH WITH A DECK AS A VESSEL. - noun - 1. The covering of a SHIP... (Webs1828)

In the legal realm all things must be proven to positively exist. But when the presumption of law is upon the negative aspect of that which a positive status or law is attempted to be clothed upon, namely a man or property, the positive law is thwarted. Only when a negative is used to prove that negative quality does the negative then need to be proven somehow positively so as to prove the other negative. Paradox... This gets confusing even for myself, and goes to show the Beauty of that simplicity of God’s Nature and Son (Word). To Live a simple Life is to always avoid artifice, never positively confirming or ratifying anything that is a design of man nor clothing it in false authority.

Bottom line: The Truly innocent man need never positively (legally) prove his innocence, for his innocence is his very lack of legal capacity. Innocence is not a positive state of Existence, but a total absence of legally (artificially) provable qualities. This reborn state is shown only through our actions, never through words. The innocent man is incapable of holding a positive (legal) charge (name, title, number, mark, sign).
These are the most devastating aspects of the legal indoctrination of men into fiction, for in the end we are screwing ourselves, wirelessly plugging ourselves into the legal matrix every time we idiotically speak in dog-Latin while positively acting under the opposing, legalistic terms of art. And this is the epitome of what the scriptural teachings warn against, of man’s fall into fiction, which is to say that only a man not learned in, following, and heeding the warnings of scripture and in fear of not doing so (the fear of God) could be tricked into this folly of personhood under the positive law of man. It is our own continued, individual use of the strawman, its signature, its legal ability and capacity positively permitted to enter into contract by its agent, and its benefits of social (public) security and other protective and obligatory benefits under Title 42 of US Code that confirms each of our choices to stay in mammon once adult-hood is reached; that consenting legal hood of permissive, legally licensed adultery.

An abandoned child is not ratified into the district (seizure) of government, for it has no ability or consideration to do so until it is of the age of consent. It is adopted. This adoption lies as a status purely voidable by the parents throughout the life of the infant until that age of consent (or ratification) is reached, for which we call adult-hood; the state of a grown-up bastard that can then choose his own adulterous ways through legal licensing and educative indoctrination via syndicalistic diploma (reward) and debt while still remaining an infant of unknown parentage. Hell, we can even voluntarily join the infantry when we are in full, voluntary adult-hood (legally licensed adultery).

PARENTAGE - noun - EXTRACTION; BIRTH; CONDITION WITH RESPECT TO THE RANK OF PARENTS; as a man of MEAN parentage; a gentleman of NOBLE parentage. (Webb1828)

To be clear, this fictionally acquired status of illegitimate or “unknown” parentage by legal marriage (of persons) has nothing to do with Nature, existing only as a positive, public legal status. The birth certificate and registration process can only reflect what the actual parent believes is the legal truth (fiction) about his or her own status in persona, but a person is only ever a legal entity, and a birth certificate only ever the creation of another legal entity. The tie of blood cannot ever be extinguished in Reality under God, only by the legal consideration of these false legal gods of nobility in their own fictional realm and con game; those privateering cheaters. It is only belief and positive consent by man through his own legal claim and signature as confirmation to such artifice that causes this birth condition of rank to express itself with any legal authority. The record (registration) of original birth sin and taxation must be corrected. Persons, not men, are borne of original sin (birthed as the son of a fictional nation in disrespect of blood ancestry). Men may only pretend to clothe themselves within that artificial matrix (womb) of personhood so as to partake in that sin. We must become negative by killing the positive aspects of that which is attached to us legally in persona. For these are the positive ingredients that make up the strawman, our surety to it relying upon our belief in (love of) its legitimacy and debt. But we must also remember that only by acting in christ’s name according to God’s Word (Son) may we be able to remain in such a Pure state of Being, by following that Law of Nature that christ exemplified. We must manifest our Self only as christ did, purely and without lies. We must have only one God, one Master. We must never volunteer; for a man acting in True Love and Charity has no use for volunteerism. His whole Life is already Lived by it, in and by motives stemming from only Pure Love and Charity, and so it need not be made into a noun, made official. He needs no badge or state identification, for his works display his Life without words, flattering titles, or approvals from the state. He needs no such term of art or title to act religiously in the spirit of his moral, Highest Law. The term “volunteer” as a noun, in other words, is redundant and pointless when one’s whole Life (Existence) is devoted to God’s Word (Son) and preservation of Its Law and Nature. In the legal society, a “volunteer” is merely a flattering title used for resume’s, job and school applications, and other forms of guilt and empty show.
The continued use and conduct of a man in that fictional personhood “without exercising the right to relieve himself from its obligations” is considered as a legal confirmation and ratification of that tacitly consented to contractual relationship, making that fraud which is voidable into that which is an unavoidable obligation of performance towards artifice in mammon. The adoption thus becomes a ratification of artificial paternity in this state and jurisdiction of legalized adultery. The nation and no other is the parent of its own fictional personas.

A lie is only as powerful as the projected temptation it promotes to be used.

—RATHABITIO MANDATO AEQUIPARATUR. Dig. 46, 3, 12; 4; Broom, Max. 387; Palmar v. Yates, 3 Sandf. (N.Y.) 151. (Black4)

For those who might claim that all of this is “fraud” and so therefore not lawful, consider again that one who voluntarily acts in the “fraud” and illegitimacy of legal personhood cannot claim his own actions to be fraudulent, nor that of his principal (government) in this agency relationship, one stands in the confirmed fraud of personhood through one’s own expressive (consensual) actions thereof as unaccepted and expressly consented to “fraud” until one is ready to void ALL such fraudulent relations, rights, privileges, benefits, and any other form of contractual obligations to that “fraud.” One must relinquish the apparently good things with the known bad things to void in totality said fraud. One cannot have two masters, two gods, and so the legal benefits, wealth, and property in mammon must especially be relinquished as they are merely inducements to contract. Just as the rock star must sell his soul to the devil (evil genius) to become famous, so too must the citizen sell his soul to acquire Social Security and other benefits and pensions. These benefits are literally too good to be True for being the result of contacted dis-ease. For to receive such good-ness one must accept all the badness, allowing for the most horrid atrocities and murderous destruction of man and Nature to be committed in one’s name, so as to protect the very legal fiction that allows such un-Natural and un-Godly benefits, comforts, and wealth at the expense of others. This is a shameful inequity that no man can deny. It is the epitome of satanism, labeled with such patriotic sounding nouns as “patriotism” and “American exceptionalism.” It is sometimes even called officially as “equity” or “equality,” a disgusting example of the Truly evil nature of legalese.

One simply cannot trade lightness for darkness if one wishes to subsist in an enlightened state of Being. This is called solution, an end of all contacts of debt, and there is no other way to solve this issue (birth). In this way, a man must be prepared to give up all artificial things, everything he thinks he “owns” in person (on paper), for such avoidance to take place. What is gained by the legal “public” persona in contract of mammon is not a gain of the man, only of the principal for which the man acts in the agency (bondage) thereof.

This confirmation and ratification process is also known as a bargaining. The state gains control of the “child” (as property) both through the birth certification process (registration/tax) and by the brainwashing of the parents that so informed upon their own flesh and blood. About 16 and 18 years later that adulterous child confirms that sale at his or her age of consent, when he elects to continue using, identifying, personifying, and claiming the positive law benefits, permits, licenses, laws, and scholarships of Caesar for himself (in persona) while acting as the strawman in the hood of adultery (surety). We are barred from our Natural, paternal property (actual baby) in lieu of mere use in maternal guardian-ship through the birth abandonment process.

BARGAIN - noun - An agreement between parties concerning the sale of property; or a contract by which one party binds himself TO TRANSFER THE RIGHT TO SOME PROPERTY, for a consideration, and the other party BINDS HIMSELF TO RECEIVE THE PROPERTY AND PAY THE CONSIDERATION. 2. Stipulation: interested dealing.
3. PURCHASE OR THE THING PURCHASED. 4. In popular language, FINAL EVENT: upshot. We must make the best of a bad bargain. To sell bargains, is a vulgar phrase. TO STRIKE A BARGAIN IS TO RATIFY AN AGREEMENT, originally by striking, or shaking hands. The Latin ferire foedus, may represent a like ceremony, unless it refers to the practice of killing a victim, at the SOLEMN RATIFICATION OF OATHS. Bargain and sale, in law, a species of conveyance, by which the bargainer contracts to convey the LANDS to the bargainee, and becomes by such contract a TRUSTEE FOR AND SEISED TO THE USE OF THE BARGAINEE. The statute then completes the purchase; that is, the bargain vests the USE, and the statute vests the POSSESSION. - verb intransitive - TO MAKE A CONTRACT OR CONCLUSIVE AGREEMENT, FOR THE TRANSFER OF PROPERTY; often with for before the thing purchased: as, to bargain for a house. A bargained with B for his farm. - verb transitive - To sell; to transfer for a consideration: as, A BARGAINED AWAY HIS FARM, a popular use of the word. (Wels1828)

As a man may bargain away his farm, so too may a man bargain away his child. For the bargain is words on paper, the name and title of the actual thing, not the substantial Reality. This is also called as wager. The word lay (lie) also includes the word wager (e.g., from Webster’s definition above, meaning: LAY (noun): 2. A bet; a wager. 3. Station; rank). A simple rule is this: a legal gain always favors the Bar association, its attorney members, and its principal government. Bar-gain. But before we discuss this further, let us speak to the wager that is the birth process and subsequent civil life (ad-venture) expected to take place, where the government wagers through contract that the child (in legal persona) will grow to be a profitable asset (as government live-stock) in agency under human capital management. In return, the state purchases (conquers) the vital statistics (false persona) and presumes surety of that child (legal entity) with the offered “social contract” and false valuation of security and legal protections that only a fictional, surrogate father under a public family and law (artificial womb/matrix) could provide. But the stipulation is that one must abandon Jehovah to do so, giving up all Natural Rights in the process in exchange for only legal rights of persons (the property of the state).

In Roman law, we find a similar form of distress (districting) that fulfills the modern derivation of this ancient system of pledging ourselves and our children in seizure at birth to the Caesar (the gods of the nations).

PIGNORIS CAPIO - Latin. In Roman law. This was the name of one of the legis actiones. It was employed only in certain particular kinds of pecuniary cases, and consisted in that the creditor, without preliminary suit and without the co-operation of the magistrate, by reciting a prescribed formula, TOOK AN ARTICLE OF PROPERTY FROM THE DEBTOR TO BE TREATED AS A PLEDGE OR SECURITY. The proceeding bears a marked analogy to DISTRESS at common law. (Black4)

PIGNUS - Latin. In the civil law. A PLEDGE OR PAWN; A DELIVERY OF A THING TO A CREDITOR, AS SECURITY FOR A DEBT. Also, A THING DELIVERED to a creditor as security for a debt. (Black4)

PIGNORATIO - Latin. In the civil law. THE CONTRACT OF PLEDGE; AND ALSO THE OBLIGATION OF SUCH CONTRACT; Sealing up (obsignatio). A shutting up of AN ANIMAL CAUGHT IN ONE’S FIELD and keeping it till the expenses and damage have been paid by its master. (Black4)

PIGNORATIVE CONTRACT - In the civil law. A CONTRACT OF PLEDGE, hypothecation, or MORTGAGE OF REALTY. (Black4)
We must comprehend that the gods like to play war and commerce games with their pawns. They like to gamble. Our future performance in legal persona, as qualified by our ability to perform in capitu via future labor potential as commercial vessels, is the nature of their wager. In that light, the notion of free-roaming (enfranchised) slaves is akin to a bet placed upon the performance of a man virtually chained in surety to a false legal persona, and is very similar to a sports book betting structure in horse racing. It is a very likely bet that all horses in the race will finish that race without breaking free of their harnesses or realizing they are being used as pawns in a game and as the subjects of commercial wagers, and so bets may be made at varying ratios of return and with insurance and reinsurance on the principal’s investment in his agent (horse and jockey). After all, the horses will never be taught the language of their masters, and so their enslavement appears and is presumed inevitable. Likewise, most men will continue to act in their assigned name and number throughout said legal ad-venture and commercial under-taking within the bondage of surety in persona, reaching that unavoidable final destination of a Natural death while still harnessed in the artificial civil life of citizen-ship, meaning that civil and Natural death will of course occur simultaneously; thus insuring that all insured bets of value in human capitalization are covered and policies paid. All bets are covered in seigniorage, and the house never loses. The man in commercial citizen-ship will most likely stay saddled to the state’s offered persona, and will run the gamut (obstacle course) of that legal, commercial path. From his commercial birth certification through to the finish line of commercial death certification, the gods can rest assured (insurance) that their persons will run the profitable inter-course put in front of them, constantly trying to jockey for a better position of employment among the vulgar mass of illiterates. And all the time we pay tribute (tax) to our master like dividends on a stock. This is the human race, delusional men driven by the perceived but artificial value of money and what it may purchase (conquer), yet never comprehending that nothing is actually their own. For they have no foothold upon the land they permissively tread upon or purchased with government-owned money in the registered property of their false persona.

(Black4)

WAGER - A CONTRACT by which two or more parties agree that A CERTAIN SUM OF MONEY OR OTHER THING shall be paid or DELIVERED to one of them or that they shall gain or lose ON THE HAPPENING OF AN UNCERTAIN EVENT or upon the ascertainment of a fact in dispute, WHERE THE PARTIES HAVE NO INTEREST IN THE EVENT EXCEPT THAT ARISING FROM THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH GAIN OR LOSS. It was said that contract giving one party or the other an option to carry out the transaction or not at pleasure is not invalid as a ‘wager.’ But if, under guise of contract of sale, real intent of both parties is merely to speculate in rise or fall of prices and property is not to be delivered, but at time fixed for delivery one party is to pay difference between contract price and market price, transaction is invalid as ‘wager.’ (Black4)

WAGER OF LAW - In old practice, The giving of gage or SURETIES by a defendant in an action OF DEBT that at a certain day assigned HE WOULD MAKE HIS LAW; that is, would take an oath in open court that HE DID NOT OWE THE DEBT, and at the same time bring with him eleven neighbors, (called "compurgators,") who should avow upon their oaths that they believed in their consciences that he said the truth. (Black4)

WAGER OF BATTLE - The trial by wager of battle was a species of trial introduced into England, among other Norman customs, by William the Conqueror, in which the person accused fought with his accuser, UNDER THE APPREHENSION THAT HEAVEN WOULD GIVE THE VICTORY TO HIM WHO WAS IN THE RIGHT. It was abolished by St. 59 Geo. III., c. 46. (Black4)

WAGERING CONTRACT - One in which the parties stipulate that they shall gain or lose, upon the happening of an UNCERTAIN EVENT, in which they have no interest except that arising from the possibility of such gain or loss. (Black4)
WAGER POLICY - See Policy of INSURANCE. (Black4)

WAGES - A compensation given to A HIRED PERSON for his or her services; THE COMPENSATION AGREED UPON BY A MASTER TO BE PAID TO A SERVANT, or any other PERSON HIRED to do work or business for him. Every form of remuneration payable for a given period to an individual for personal services, including salaries, commissions, vacation pay, dismissal wages, bonuses and reasonable value of board, rent, housing, lodging, payments in kind, tips, and any other similar advantage received from the individual's employer or directly with respect to work for him. In a limited sense the word "wage" means pay given for labor usually manual or mechanical at short stated intervals as distinguished from salary, but in general the word means that which is PLEDGED or paid for work or other services; hire, pay. In its legal sense, the word "wages" means the price paid for labor, REWARD of labor. Specified sum for a given time of service or a fixed sum for a specified piece of work. "Three factors contribute to the production of commodities, nature, labor, and capital. Each must have a share of the product as its reward, and this share, if it is just, must be proportionate to the several contributions. THE SHARE OF THE NATURAL AGENTS IS RENT; THE SHARE OF LABOR, WAGES; THE SHARE OF CAPITAL, INTEREST. The clerk receives a salary; the lawyer and doctor, fees; the manufacturer, profits. Salary, fees, and profits are so many forms of wages for services rendered." (In) Maritime Law: The compensation allowed to seamen for their services ON BOARD A VESSEL DURING A VOYAGE. (In) Political Economy: The reward paid, whether in money or goods, to human exertion, considered as a factor in the production of wealth, for its co-operation in the process. (Black4)

SEIGNIORAGE - noun - A royal right or prerogative of the king of England, by which he claims an allowance of gold and silver brought in the mass to be exchanged for coin. (Web1828)

SEIGNIORY - In English law. A lordship; a manor. The rights of a lord, as such, IN LANDS. (Black4)

SEIGNIORAGE - A ROYALTY OR PREROGATIVE OF THE SOVEREIGN, whereby an allowance of gold and silver, brought in the mass to be exchanged for coin, is claimed. MINTAGE; the CHARGE for coining bullion into money AT THE MINT. (Black4)

Mostly unknown to the American public, every paper dollar created (minted) and placed into circulation is charged over a $0.50 cent tax of "seigniorage," according to the US Mint's full audit, the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). This charge is what is then collected as that un-payable interest on every dollar printed, also known as the "national debt." If every dollar carries over a 50% tax upon its creation compounded with permanently increasing interest, then how can that debt ever be paid without printing more dollars with more tax into infinity? Trick question. It can't. And that's the point! This is the astounding prerogative of being in imaginary, legal "sovereignty." Debt-slavery is a performance contract in legal hell, where all roads (virtual waterways) lead to the treasury of hell, where the devilmasters (attorneys and accountants) of admiralty and of pirate booty rule with the persuasion found only in the art of numbers (symbology).
When a person is hired by a corporation, the corporation is wagering a bet that the man in surety to that person will perform the required labor, etc. His contract of employment (agreement to be used) is also a waiver of certain other rights. It is an agreement to be used (prostituted) in labor and be paid in debt (money/IOU). For what man does not realize in his daily grind is that to be paid in money is to be cursed, for the man that holds money so sacred that he would abandon his Self and his God in such a devil’s (evil genius’s) contract for its pursuit changes the meaning of the word sacred again to cursed. He foolishly trades his labor for money that he may only spend in the company store (nation) and its corporations, and is taxed for such a right to “freely” conduct that commerce in franchise (citizen-ship).

WAIVE - verb - To abandon or throw away: as when a thief, in his flight, throws aside the stolen goods, in order to facilitate his escape, he is technically said to waive them. In modern law, TO ABANDON, throw away, renounce, repudiate, OR SURRENDER A CLAIM, a privilege, a right, or the opportunity to take advantage of some defect, irregularity, or wrong. A person is said to waive a benefit when he renounces or disclaims it, and he is said to waive a tort or injury when he abandons the remedy which the law gives him for it. In order for one to “waive” a right, he must do it knowingly and be possessed of the facts. (Black4)

WAIVE - noun - In old English law. A WOMAN OUTLAWED. The term is, as it were, THE FEMININE OF 'OUTLAW'; the latter being always applied to a man; 'waive,' to a woman. (Black4)

WAIFE - Waifs are GOODS FOUND, BUT CLAIMED BY NOBODY, THAT OF WHICH EVERY ONE WAIVES THE CLAIM. Also, goods stolen and waived, or thrown away by the thief in his flight, for fear of being apprehended. Waifs are to be distinguished from bona fugitiva, which are the goods of the felon himself, which he abandons in his flight from justice. (Black4)

LYING IN FRANCHISE - A term descriptive of WAIFS, wrecks, estrays, and the like, WHICH MAY BE SEIZED WITHOUT SUIT OR ACTION. (Black4)

And so what happens when the mother signs the vital statistics form as a certification of birth of her child to the state? Quite simply, she presumably abandons (de-livers) her paternity rights and becomes the mere appointed guardian assigned by the state. For her child is considered by law as transferable “goods.” This is sometimes written as services rendered on invoices, where the act of caring for legal, public “children” as persons is labeled and described as the commercial venture (business) of “maintaining commercial and industrial machinery and equipment” from some department of “human resources.” Goods are defined as, “movables,” and, “may include animals” (WCA1889).

Remember, an “animal” in several places in the United States code is defined as, “man and other animals.” To the state, a child borne (carried) in nativity (legally registered and certified as birthed in the nation) is only movable property (a legal thing of status), an animal to be found, waged, insured, and exacted from as human capital. Causing man to abandon his only True property in Nature, his own children as blood heirs, so that they can be found as treasure (prize) abandoned upon the sea of commerce and so corrupted (attainted); this is the pirate way.

Trickery and deceit is the way of the pirate’s government (mind control), a system solely created to protect the creators and posterity of the federal pirate cove that all United States citizen-ships (public persons) are a creation of.
“Enemies are those with whom we declare war, or who declare it against us; all others are traitors or PIRATES.”

—HOSTES SUNT QUI NOBIS VEL QUIBUS NOBIS BELLUM DECERNIMUS; CAETERI PRODITORUM VEL PRAEDONES SUNT: 7 Coke, 24. (Black4)

“Give me four years to teach the children and the seed I have sown will never be uprooted.”

“Give us the child for 8 years and it will be a Bolshevik forever.”

—Vladimir Ilyich Lenin, Jewish communist leader of the Bolshevik revolution in Russia that killed many tens of millions. (Separate quotes)

The Natural mother waives her rights with a waiver called a certified “record of live birth” and the resulting birth certificate is like a receipt (proof of purchase) of that event and legal fact that the child was abandoned to be found as treasure by the state. Thus the child’s “paternal status” becomes that of its legal purchaser acting by the doctrine of parens patriae. The state becomes the legal parent, the Real parent (man) taking only 2nd place in authority to the state, for all registered property is a possession of the state. As with all Roman doctrines, the United States abuses this power at every turn for its own interest. And so for all public citiﬁcations out there, please know that the following applies to you and your child in false persona, the one you informed upon at birth and volunteered ignorantly through unilateral contract to waive all parentage rights of ownership of your own children (an Act of God) in the undertaking of a wager with the devilmasters of the state (a legal act of false creation).

PARENS PATRIAE - [Latin, PARENT OF THE COUNTRY] A doctrine that grants the inherent power and authority of the state to protect PERSONS who are LEGALLY unable to act on their own behalf. In FEUDAL times various obligations and powers, collectively referred to as the "royal prerogative," were reserved to the king. The king exercised these functions in HIS ROLE OF FATHER OF THE COUNTRY. IN THE UNITED STATES, THE PARENS PATRIAE DOCTRINE HAS HAD ITS GREATEST APPLICATION IN THE TREATMENT OF CHILDREN, mentally ill persons, and other individuals who are LEGALLY INCOMPETENT to manage their affairs. THE STATE IS THE SUPREME GUARDIAN OF ALL CHILDREN WITHIN ITS JURISDICTION, AND STATE COURTS HAVE THE INHERENT POWER TO INTERVENE TO PROTECT THE BEST INTERESTS OF CHILDREN whose welfare is jeopardized by controversies between parents. This inherent power is generally supplemented by legislative acts that deﬁne the scope of CHILD PROTECTION in a state. The state, acting as parens patriae, can make decisions regarding mental health treatment on behalf of one who is mentally incompetent to make the decision on his or her own behalf, but the extent of the state’s intrusion is limited to reasonable and necessary treatment. The doctrine of parens patriae has been expanded in the United States to permit the attorney general of a state to commence litigation for the beneﬁt of state residents for federal antitrust violations (15 U.S.C.A. § 15c). This authority is intended to further the public trust, safeguard the general and economic welfare of a state’s residents, protect residents from illegal practices, and assure that the beneﬁts of federal law are not denied to the general population. STATES MAY ALSO INVOKE PARENS PATRIAE TO PROTECT INTERESTS SUCH AS THE HEALTH, COMFORT, AND WELFARE OF THE PEOPLE, interstate Water Rights, AND THE GENERAL ECONOMY OF THE STATE, For a state to have standing to sue under the doctrine, it must be more than a nominal party without a real interest of its own and must articulate an interest apart from the interests of particular private parties. Cross-references: Antitrust Law; Child Abuse; Children’s Rights; Infants. (West’s Encyclopedia of American Law, 2nd Edition)

PARENS PATRIAE - (paa-wrens pat-tree-eye) - noun - Latin for "FATHER OF HIS COUNTRY,” the term for THE DOCTRINE THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS THE ULTIMATE GUARDIAN OF ALL PEOPLE UNDER A DISABILITY. ESPECIALLY CHILDREN, WHOSE CARE IS ONLY “ENTRUSTED” TO THEIR PARENTS. Under this doctrine, in a divorce action or a guardianship application THE COURT RETAINS JURISDICTION until the child is 18 years old, AND A JUDGE MAY CHANGE CUSTODY child support or other rulings affecting the child’s well-being, NO MATTER WHAT THE PARENTS MAY HAVE AGREED OR THE COURT PREVIOUSLY DECIDED. (See: divorce, custody, child support, guardian, ward). (Farley Free Dictionary online, Gerald N. Hill and Kathleen T. Hill.)

PARENS PATRIAE - THE JURISDICTION OF THE COURT TO ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY for the welfare of those otherwise unprovided for, such as children or lunatics, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THERE IS STATUTORY POWER. (Collins Dictionary of Law, W.J. Stewart, 2006)

ASSUME - TO TAKE to or upon one's self. See Assumpsit. A person who “assumes a lease” TAKES TO HIMSELF OR ACCEPTS THE OBLIGATIONS AND THE BENEFITS OF THE LESSOR UNDER THE CONTRACT. “Assumed” may be used in the sense of CLAIMED; as, in saying that assumed facts must be proved before the main fact can be inferred.” Compare: Presume. (WCA1889)

PARENT - The lawful father, or the mother, of another PERSON. Compare PARENS. (WCA1889)

PARENS - Latin. A parent; A FATHER. (WCA1889)

IN LOCO PARENTIS - (Latin). IN THE PLACE OF THE PARENT. Said of A PERSON INVESTED WITH THE RIGHTS AND CHARGED WITH THE DUTIES OF THE PARENT OF A CHILD, as a GUARDIAN, and, in some sense, A TEACHER, AND THE FACULTY OF A SCHOOL. (WCA1889)

WAIVER - THE INTENTIONAL OR VOLUNTARY RELINQUISHMENT OF A KNOWN RIGHT; or such conduct as warrants an inference of the relinquishment of such right, or when one dispenses with the performance of something he is entitled to exact or when one in possession of any right, whether conferred by law or by contract, with full knowledge of the material facts, does or forbears to do something the doing of which or the failure of forbearance to do which is inconsistent with the right, or his intention to rely upon it. The renunciation, repudiation, abandonment, or SURRENDER OF SOME CLAIM, RIGHT, PRIVILEGE, or of the opportunity to take advantage of some defect, irregularity, or wrong. A doctrine resting upon an equitable principle, which courts of law will recognize. See, also, Estoppel. “Waiver” is essentially UNILATERAL, resulting as legal consequence from some act or conduct of party against whom it operates, and no act of party in whose favor it is made is necessary to complete it, AND MAY BE SHOWN BY ACTS AND CONDUCT AND

SOMETIMES BY NONACTION. Waiver is distinguished from "estoppel" in that in "waiver" the essential element is an actual intent to abandon or surrender a right, while in "estoppel" such intent is immaterial: the necessary condition being the deception to his injury of the other party by the conduct of the one estopped. And "estoppel" may result though party estopped did not intend to lose any existing rights. Insurance Law - Substance of doctrine of "waiver" in insurance law is that if insurer, with knowledge of facts which would bar existing primary liability, recognizes such primary liability by treating policy as in force, it will not thereafter be allowed to plead such facts to avoid its primary liability. (Black4)

EXPRESS WAIVER - THE VOLUNTARY, INTENTIONAL RELINQUISHMENT OF A KNOWN RIGHT. (Black4)

IMPLIED WAIVER - A waiver is implied where one party has pursued such a course of conduct with reference to the other party as to evidence an intention to waive his rights or the advantage to which he may be entitled, or where the conduct pursued is inconsistent with any other honest intention than an intention of such waiver, provided that the other party concerned has been induced by such conduct to act upon the belief that there has been a waiver, and has incurred trouble or expense thereby. To make out a case of implied "waiver" of a legal right, there must be a clear, unequivocal and decisive act of the party showing such purpose, or acts amounting to an estoppel on his part. (Black4)

To better understand this state-as-father-ﬁgure concept, we must remember the source of our personhood. The United States is father (creator) of its persons, just as the State is father of its own private People. We read…

"It is no part of a State’s ‘duty or power,’ said the Court in Massachusetts v. Mellon, 978 ‘to enforce [her citizens] rights in respect to their relations with the Federal Government. In that ﬁeld, IT IS THE UNITED STATES AND NOT THE STATE WHICH REPRESENTS THEM AS PARENS PATRIAE, when such representation becomes appropriate; and to the former, and not to the latter, they must look for such protective measures as ﬂow from that status.’”

— The State as Parens Patriae: Controversies Between a State and Citizens of Another State, from Justia US Law website

Perhaps the most unbelievable aspect of this equation, that of how in the hell the state claims the highest authority of parentage over the child of any public citizen-ship that registered and certiﬁed a legal birth event, is the fact that in view of the law the child follows the status (personhood) of the natural parent (person).

GENUS - Latin. Kind; class; nature. (WCA1889)

GENUINE - Belonging to the ORIGINAL KIND or STOCK; NATIVE; hence, not false, fictitious, simulated, spurious, or counterfeit; as, a genuine note. (WCA1889)
The private People are legally considered as genuine, as the blood heirs and decedents in posterity of the original People who constituted the States and the compact of the nation. They are pretended and likened to gods. United States citizenships are of the lowest but “equal” genus of public servitude to those private, genuine People. This status is created at birth.

The father that was registered as a voluntary slave in public citizenship at his own birth and confirmed and ratified his own said status (strawman) in adultery (adulthood) cannot register (tax) his own issue (child) as any legal thing higher than that same legal status in rank and class (genus) than his own persona (status). But more to the point, a public person that marries another public person, thereby adjoining legal surnames in a familial incorporation by permit of the state, has no capacity in any way for legitimacy of blood. Public persons have no blood. Publicly married persons can birth nothing with blood, and the registration of the issue (child) of that marriage can only be as high in genus as its registered parent. And so, we must comprehend here that all legal marriages between public persons as citizens of the United States are without blood consideration and thus held in contractual attainder, and thus the man and woman in actuality are in an illegitimate wedlock. Only their persons are married, not their actual (spiritual) Selves. They stand in surety to the marriage as a corporation of two admixed natural persons, becoming one artificial person (name) in law, with the father always presumed and placed as head of that familial corporation. This subject will be detailed later in this work.

For now, let us return to what the legal marriage and citizenship really is, a bar-gain, a profitable adventure for the society of devils we call the law society and the government that controls and profits from it.

BATTOON or BATON - noun - A staff or club; a marshal's staff; a truncheon; A BADGE OF MILITARY HONORS. (Webs1828)

This open-air prison of jurisdiction has invisible bars, as the bars of US citizenship are those words and flattering titles of the agents (attorneys) that create, debate, administer, and contract the laws of the United States and of the law merchant. And of course, those who reign over hell may only be called as devils.

-- BARATRIAM COMMITTIT QUI PROPTER PECUNIAM JUSTITIAM BARACTAT. Bell. (Black4)

This historically despised class of devil, the barrister or attorney, is the enemy of a True follower of christ, always seeking to profess the law of man over the foundational Law of God. They must, for it is literally their prescribed job and duty at bar to advise and advocate for what is adversarial (satanic) to God’s Law, namely the legal fiction and its law matrix. For the measure (weight) of a man’s soul is merely a fictional commodity to these devilmasters, whose livelihood in mammon depends solely upon causing men to be clients to their owned and copyrighted ad-vice. To the law society and its international Bar Associations (artificial persons), the corruption of man as the cause of his fall into legal fiction is as gold upon the scale of their own system of legal justice. They can never be trusted, for they only deal in lies (legal fiction), and they’re only ever officers of the court at their root; hirelings (prostitutes) that work only for the state that grants them license to practice on behalf of its legal persons and estates. Nothing they deal in is of the realm of the Real, for their whole profession is based purely on the big lego lie, the artful simulation and representation of illiterate men organized institutionally through its own brand of syndicalism.

Is the jurisdiction of the United States, as a constituted debtor nation, an open-air hell? One may deny this if one does not understand the complexity of that word. The prison for debtors is again no longer a dungeon under the antiquated treasury department (exchequer) of the king, it is the very person (status) we are clothed in artificially, subjects under the invisible, jurisdictional chains of franchise (freedom) in the nativity of citizenship.

Oh, how I wish this were merely a play on words, this hell we are bound to:

PRISON BOUNDS - THE LIMITS OF THE TERRITORY SURROUNDING A PRISON, WITHIN WHICH AN IMPRISONED DEBTOR, WHO IS OUT ON BONDS, MAY GO AT WILL. See Gaol. (Black4)

GAOL LIBERTIES, GAOL LIMITS - A DISTRICT around a gaol, DEFINED BY LIMITS, WITHIN WHICH PRISONERS ARE ALLOWED TO GO AT LARGE ON GIVING SECURITY TO RETURN. It is considered a part of the gaol. (Black4)

GAOL - A prison for temporary confinement; a jail; a place for the confinement of offenders against the law. As distinguished from "prison," it is said to be a place for temporary or provisional confinement, or for the punishment of the lighter offenses and misdemeanors. See, also, Jail. (Black4)

GAOLER - A variant of “JAILER,” (Black4)

GAOL DELIVERY - In criminal law, THE DELIVERY OR CLEARING of a gaol of the prisoners confined therein, by trying them. In popular speech, the clearing of a gaol by the escape of the prisoners. (Black4)

GENERAL GAOL DELIVERY - In English law, at the assizes the judges sit by virtue of five several authorities, one of which is the commission of “general gaol delivery.” This empowers them TO TRY AND MAKE DELIVERANCE OF EVERY PRISONER who shall be in the gaol when the judges arrive at the circuit town, whether an indictment has been preferred at any previous assize or not. This is also a part of the title of some American criminal courts, as, in Pennsylvania, the “court of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery.” (Black4)

TERMINER - noun - A DETERMINING; as in oyer and terminer. (Webs1828)

DETERMINING - participle present tense - Ending, deciding, FIXING, SETTLING, resolving, LIMITING, DIRECTING. (Webs1828)

OYER - noun - 1. In law, a hearing or trial of causes. A court of oyer and terminer is constituted by a commission to inquire, hear and determine all treasons, FELONIES and misdemeanors. 2. The hearing, as of a writ, bond, note or other specialty; as when a defendant in court PRAYS oyer of a writing. (Webs1828)

The district of the nation is the gaol of the nation. It is where debtor’s are held (in purgatorial hell) temporarily, which can also mean for the artificial life of the resident status in public persona (demon) we so inhabit. The bond of suretyship is the bond of the gaoler, ensuring that we (men in agency) will return to the principal’s district courts (circuits) when our strawmen are charged with a summons to fictionally appear there in persona (legal mask). And this imaginary place (jurisdiction) is where we pray (plea) to the false gods (magistrate judges) of that fictional realm. Never forget that the United States jurisdiction is merely the district and jurisdiction of the gaol. This truly is an open-air prison for debtor’s, and this is the very purpose of the creation and law of nations. There are only private and public, master and servant, controllers and goyim.

And so what is it to bar-gain or to agree to a bar-gain? To gain one thing from the barring of something else. To suffer loss in order to gain something else. To be barred from one thing (land, paternity) in order to merely enjoy the other thing (tenancy, maternity). To lose the Real and accept the artificial in payment. To corrupt the unalienable blood-rights under God in exchange for mere legal rights. To sell your baby’s characteristics and likeness into the bondage of public citizen-ship is to allow the state to assume all rights over it, and in return the Natural parent is only to be placed into the receivership of the franchise and expenses of raising the state’s child according to its amoral and immoral law in limited and sanctioned guardianship and forced public education (slave school). What we gain at bar (in law) we lose in spirituality (our own Nature). Truth is lost to gain fiction. God is lost when mammon is worshiped and exchanged. And in the end, what we really gain is a lack of Natural Law duty as Self-responsibility to all aspects of man and God.

How many reading this would give up everything they believe that they “possess” to be a True man of God in Nature as the story of christ reveals, which is to say a completely Free and private man of a Pure and Charitable Nature, and to thus take back the rightful and full claim of paternity of one’s children by correcting that mis-taken legal identity and surname we bargained for through trickery and with voluntary ignorance by implied contract at birth?

This remains to be seen…
But the scriptural (foundational) Law has certainly laid its own course (righteous path) regarding this subject when it states that \textit{the path is narrow}, and that \textit{it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God}. This is because the rich man never realizes that the kingdom of God is under his own two feet the whole time; buried under his mansion and under his own Self-deceit, cut off from his spirit by his own conceit. Of course the church teaches that the kingdom cannot be attained in this Life except through its incorporation (artificial persona), telling us that the \textquote{law of the land} (of man) is actually a Godsend. And while partially \textit{true}, the church doesn't reveal the True nature of those gods of the nations that sent it. And so most fritter this Life away in pursuit of the devil's favor and of mammon's tools only because of the hope of a better, fictional \textit{life} that might await us in the hereafter. Nothing could be more ridiculous than to waste this True Life believing another will deliver us to heaven, especially when that Life is wasted here while ignoring heaven on earth and while disobeying the very Word (Son) that one would be judged upon thereof for entry. This is idiocy, unreasonable and indeed unscriptural, based solely on the word-magic of the priest class. It is sadly doubtful that most men, the majority of whom are so fervently addicted to the hell of money, false title, and social status stemming from their employments would ever be willing to release themselves from the legal debt-slavery for which that wealth and gain actually represents. The scriptures are clear in their teachings that many (the multitude) will not do so, and also that the remainder or \textit{remnant} must separate (circumcise) themselves from that mass of mammon worshipers in the cities in order to walk on the narrow path without such temptations in artifice.

Thayer’s Greek Lexicon describes the notion of what a \textit{rich man} is in terms that make this passage ever more clear:

Strong's G4145 - \textit{Plousios (rich man)}, from - \textit{πλούτος} (G4149):

\texttt{“G4145… for \textbf{rich}. Properly \textbf{wealthy}, \textbf{abounding in MATERIAL resources}, \textbf{SUBSTANTIVELY, WITHOUT THE ART}, a \textbf{rich man}. \textbf{METAPHORICALLY}, abounding, \textbf{abundantly \textit{supplied}, of THE THING IN WHICH ONE ABOUNDS}. \textbf{ABSOLUTELY, ABOUNDING IN CHRISTIAN VIRTUES AND ETERNAL POSSESSIONS}, \textbf{Of Christ, while he formally abounded in THE RICHES OF A HEAVENLY CONDITION, by assuming HUMAN NATURE he entered into A STATE OF (EARTHLY) POVERTY.”}

Earthly poverty ... This is but reference to the gain and conquering (purchasing) of secular things, be they commodities or false titles. The corporate church is in Reality only secular just as the governments of the earth. What one owns through government status is not the riches and wealth of spirituality. Earthly wealth and riches can only serve to take man away from his own spiritual Nature and connection to Source. Christ needed no stuff. And the only way to claim stuff as one's own is through confirmation of a legal persona and embracement of the legal law that would protect and insure it, and that acceptance necessarily means debt to a master. Without one, man has no insurances or assurances, only Natural Law duty. To the greedy man this sounds horrific, for his greed and his stuff necessarily must equate to others having less stuff than he, some hungry, some starving, and some dying of such a lack of food stuffs. This is the only Reality of legally protected wealth, for it is legally kept from all others who actually need it. It can be no other way, for wealth on one side must have its equal and opposite reaction on the other. Wealth cannot \textit{exist} in a Truly Equitable state of Being under the Pure Love and Charity principles of True christian piety, for poverty therefore could also not \textit{exist} under God’s Law. Wealth and poverty only \textit{exist} when artifice (evil) is respected over Nature. Poverty Exists because of the false-existence and respect of money and its valuation over all things in mammon, because of its power over men’s conscious actions without consideration of the foundational Law of Love and Charity, not because of its pretended artificial scarcity and absence.
As we will discuss later, this word external means the property of another, as something foreign, which is that for which we covet against our Nature. What is external is only that which we may use, but never know or hold. That which is external is opposed to that which is private or esoteric (secret), which is that which is not exoteric and public (external). The false, illusionary riches of the artificial (legal) wealth of persons is always an external show containing no True wealth of the Spirit of Source.

So what Really makes us happy?

HAP - An old word which signifies TO CATCH; as, “to hap the rent.” “to hap the deed poll.” (Boure1856)

HAP - noun - [Latin capio.] 1. That which comes suddenly or unexpectedly: CHANCE: FORTUNE; accident: casual EVENT. [See Chance and Casual.] Whether ART it was or heedless hap. CURSED BY GOOD HAPS, AND CURSED BE THEY THAT BUILD THEIR HOPES ON HAPS. 2. MISFORTUNE. [But this word is obsolete or obsolescent, except in compounds and derivatives.] - verb intransitive - To happen; to befall; to come BY CHANCE. (Webbs1828)

HAPPINESS - The foundation of ethics or natural law is “that every man should pursue his own true and SUBSTANTIAL happiness.” BUT AS UTILITY CONTRADICTS THE COMMON SENSE AND FEELING OF MANKIND, UTILITY IS NOT THE STANDARD OF RIGHT AND WRONG. The object of all government is to promote the happiness and prosperity of the community by which it is established. Happiness is an inalienable (sellable) right. In its pursuit all avocations, honors, positions, are alike open to every one. The right of men to pursue their happiness means the right to pursue ANY LAWFUL BUSINESS OR VOCATION, in any manner not inconsistent with the equal rights of others, which may increase their prosperity or develop their faculties, so as to give them their highest enjoyment. The right to follow any of the common occupations of life is an inalienable right; it was formulated as such under the phrase “pursuit of happiness” in the Declaration of Independence. This right is a large ingredient in the CIVIL LIBERTY of the citizen. No legislature may deny the right to all but a few favored individuals, by investing the latter with a monopoly. See Privilege. (WCA1889)

Legal happiness… the cosmic joke of the ages.

Can happiness be a bad thing? If the devil offered one “happiness” through his contract, does one not pause to consider what the cost of that specifically defined contractual “happiness” would be before signing up for it? Sadly, most would not. Would it ever occur to man that his happiness in the legal realm is a curse, meaning that happiness under mammon (debt) is despair under God and Nature? Can we ever come to realize that happiness in its legal form is pleasure without substance, a curse upon man? Can we truly find happiness knowing the poverty and suffering of so many others? Can we imagine that the acquired event of this legal term of art happiness in chance of fortune is actually a spiritual misfortune for man under God? In looking around at such a misfortunate society steeped in the secured happiness of its own greed, poverty, and spiritual death under voluntary enslavement to mammon, one has to wonder if man may ever again know happiness as intended under the Natural Law. In the legal realm, happiness is an alienable privilege, not an unalienable right. And so perhaps happiness is the ultimate legal dis-ease.

Ultimate legal happiness is the legal possession of a monopoly. And the right of happiness can be denied to all public, common citizenships, but not to those who dwell and act in privacy and in sovereignty over the public. This is of course adversarial (satanic) to True spiritual happiness.
It could be said that man need only defend his own castle if other men have less than he or nothing at all. Only in the legal realm would man seek to acquire “property” as the “happiness” of riches and wealth despite the Natural needs of all other men. A man with a home should never live in the secured privilege of legal happiness and thus be somehow spiritually content while any one of his fellow man is homeless. Legal happiness is not spirituality. Legal happiness is not Love. Happiness is a commercial, constituted legal term used as a specifically capitalized proper noun (in capitonym) with a specific legal (anti-God) meaning in the constitution of the United States.

What a strange concept, that we should avoid “happiness” at all costs when it is presented without its foundation in the Law of Nature. For it is only our person’s (legal status’s) fictional happiness that is considered by government, not the actual and physical happiness of our minds, bodies, and souls. The demon is only happy in hell.

The happiness of fiction… Just what does it mean to legally be in “pursuit of happiness” as it is used in the legalistic constitution?

PURSUER - Canon law. The name by which the complainant or plaintiff IS KNOWN IN THE ECCLESIASTICAL COURTS. (Bour1856)

PURSE - See BET, PRIZE. (WCA1889)

PURSUE - 1. To follow, in order TO OVER TAKE OR OBTAIN. Following immediately with INTENT TO RECLAIM OR RECAPTURE GOODS being carried off by a thief, or an escaping animal, is making “fresh pursuit.” 2. To use measures to obtain: TO PROSECUTE to continue: as, TO PURSUE A REMEDY. Compare Suit. See Happiness. (WCA1889)

Here again we must rethink our own fallacious thoughts. We must realize that when the government states that its citizens have a right to pursue LEGALIZED “happiness” (a corporate franchise), it is only saying that we have the legal, equal right and capacity to sue and be sued, which requires us to in-jure others. In commercialism, happiness is only monetary gain, for this is all that mammon has to offer. Of course government reserves that right so that its citizens can’t sue it. False gods are immune from their own laws and from pursuit by their own creations.

In other words, the verb of Living in Natural happiness is legally replaced by the noun, the name of “happiness” as a legal fiction. Happiness is a contractual obligation, not a state of mind or respect of Nature. How we say each word completely changes its meaning. An action, a description, a name, a title… these all sound the same but are often opposed to each other. The name of something does not necessarily mean that the thing so named is representative of the substance of the thing, and is more often only the husked out (dead) form of the thing — like a genetically altered virus that is scooped and re-filled with something quite different from the intent of its original purpose or meaning of Existence. “Happiness,” and for that matter every other capitalized word in the constitution, are just such proper nouns, which steal the substance, action, and description of Reality and replace it with legal form, personification, and trickery.

I suppose the cartoon character Wile E. Coyote exists in the form of fictional “happiness” because he has a vocation, a job, and his “happiness” manifests each time he gets blown up, falls off a cliff, is smashed, or gets clobbered by a boulder. In the cartoon world of legal fiction, happiness is only the franchise (free choice) of legalized business and occupation title, after all. Mr. Coyote really has no right to complain to his cartoon masters about his aliened privilege, and neither do we. The dead can’t complain about what life throws at them. And the more spiritually dead and corrupted we are, the more we may succeed in that foolish pursuit of legal happiness. The suit and tie is certainly representative of such utter corruption, the partaking in a uniform clothing of artificial happiness, like priests in their ceremonial robes.
Seriously though, what the hell is a tie for? Ever notice how ridiculous it looks, or is it so normalized into our cultural and customary norm that we can’t see the ridiculousness of it all? Ever notice the arrogance of those who wear one in their pursuit of the happiness of mammon and fiction? Ever measured the proudness of your self while you adorn your person in such fictional and non-functional, purely flattering trappings of commerce for show? And yet none of us seem to have any clue as to why we are even wearing it! This is normalization; a uniformity of public-minded insanity, doing the same thing day after day and expecting different results. With conformity comes promotions to higher flattery in fictional title. With such promotion of course comes more money. And with more money comes fancier uniforms and not only more debt capacity, but better debtor status. Slaves in ties. Symbolic neck chains by Ralph Lauren. Oh, the humanity! Oh, the idiocracy!

Where else but in legal fiction and in mammon could a society live by the rules of such a strange commerce as fashion, believing (loving) wholeheartedly that the clothes make the man? What is more symbolic of consumer slavery than that? What could possibly be more opposed and adversarial to God’s Word (Son) and to True, Natural happiness? Christ was anointed by Jehovah with spiritual gladness, not legal happiness.

But since we are all legally living under the forced pursuit of the equality of legal happiness, also called as debt, the question becomes how might one void that which is apparently in the view of law unavoidable? How do we render such a dis-ease of falsely contracted, commercial “happiness” in mammon back to Caesar so as to pursue the Reality of spiritual Happiness found only in and under God? We simply stop acting as something we are not! We stop being artificially uniform in the agency of such organized chaos. We stop participating in that custom and culture which offends our God because it offends the very Nature of our Selves. We stop working for masters, for their artful wages (evidences of debt), and stop creating their patented fictions and technologies designed to further enslave us. We render back to Caesar what is Caesar’s and render ourselves unto the Permanence of that Supremacy of Jehovah. We abandon our legal identity and all benefits and subsequent obligations that come with that artificial state of legal existence, and respect no longer any and all persons. We ditch mammon and return to our own priceless Nature. We act only in the non-legalized First person, respecting only the First, christan name. We stop being demonized, no longer answering as chattel when called or summoned by that legal pet surname. But most importantly, we do the opposite action of this legal act of consent by our confirmation and ratification...

MALUS USUS ABOLENDUS EST. Litt. B 212; Co. Litt. 141; 1 Bl. Comm. 76; Broom, Max. 921. (Black4)

The principle of equal but opposite reactions... could it be that simple?

ABOLISH - verb transitive - [Latin abolco; from ab and oleo, olesco, to grow, | 1. TO MAKE VOID; TO ANNUL, to abrogate: applied chiefly and appropriately to ESTABLISHED LAWS, CONTRACTS, RITES, CUSTOMS and INSTITUTIONS — as to abolish laws by a repeal, actual or virtual, 2. To destroy, or put an end to, AS TO ABOLISH IDOLS, Isaiah 2:18. TO ABOLISH DEATH, 2 Timothy 1:10. This sense is not common. TO ABOLISH POSTERITY, in the translation of Pausanias, Lib. 3. Ca 6, is hardly allowable. (Webs1828)

When the Bible speaks to abolishing death, no right-minded man can possibly believe this is anything but a metaphoric, parabolic concept. To have spiritual Life we must abolish civil life (spiritual death).
The lie of legal existence influences everything. It is this sheer belief (love) and faith (confidence) in the lie that confirms its false existence, and it lays (lies) in the subsistence of fraud until rebutted by the Reality of Nature through the will of man under God’s Law. The object (purpose and intent) of the lie is man’s subjection and allegiance to the trap laid (the name of the lie). The lie only seeks to perpetuate itself as a vicarious antithesis to the Reality of God’s Nature, just as one would expect from an adversarial (satanic) force. The legal creators of the lie can rule in no other way, as the magistrate gods over their own creation, than by making the lie seem as Real as possible to those who voluntarily suffer it. The lie as a foundation must be respected and its constitution prostituted to, or the legal matrix (simulation) as a corruptive power and authority over God’s Law (Reality) will fall. Everything we know as government, as our persona, as our name, as our property, and as our so-called legal freedoms, liberties, and rights are all part of the big lie. These things simply do not Exist in Nature and cannot in actuality Exist anywhere in Nature. They must be confirmed to be in artificial existence by men who therefore must acknowledge and support the lie in order to claim these things as their false reality. They represent a legal existence only. They are creations only of man and act only according to their artificial creator’s will. And most importantly, an established right for one person, just as with wealth, necessarily means that others do not possess such a right, for otherwise its existence would be pointless and redundant. This is the nature of the constitution, a restatement of certain rights reserved by the few while permissively being deprived from all others under them.

But none of it is Real unless you can be made to believe…

— Philip K. Dick, quoted from: ‘I Hope I Shall Arrive Soon’

The legal matrix-code exists only on paper and in the mind, and needs no computer interface to control man’s actions. It relies on man’s ignorance of and/or acceptance of it as a lie, combined with man’s belief in (love of) that lie’s formal existence as truth.

Technology came about long before computers did, for technology is merely art, and is only ever expressed by the language code that controls it…

TECHNOLOGY - noun - [Gr. ART, and word or discourse.] 1. A description of ARTS, or a treatise on the ARTS. 2. An explanation of the TERMS OF THE ARTS. (Webs1828)

An object, and therefore anything of a legal objective, does not mean or point to anything in Reality, but only to the past perception and description of the Real thing or idea as a re-presentation of it — as a physical or objective fact. But a legal fact is and can only be presented in words (terms of art). Thus all facts are merely confirmed lies which have no actual bearing on Reality, existing only in and as a representational lie. The lie becomes a confirmed legal (artificial) truth. Words (facts) in law must be agreed and consented to, and they must be confirmed and thus attached to some part of Reality in name only and by force of will. The fact has no requirement (force of mind) to be in harmony with Reality, and instead only need be believed to be a true representation of Reality. This is how government and its agents and agencies exist outside of Reality and its Law(s) while at the same time effecting it. This is how lies, fraud, and deceit are legally made into truth, fact, and evidence. And this is how man may call himself by any other word than that of a Creature of God, through names and flattering titles that are always a lie…

We live (illiterately) in and by a lie; a fictional matrix of legal words that strictly simulates Reality. And all aspects of this big lie are laid out in a design that creates a simulacra of this world — a copy with no original. The simulation is in fact so complete that most are not able to differentiate it from the Reality it re-presents. The fiction of words as names (nouns) has been laid upon all of Nature, like the impenetrable shell over a tender nut, so that man cannot even recognize himself as anything but his backwards mirror image in false legal persona and name. Nature has been covered up by this transparent lie; by legal designs laid by evil men (artificers). Nature waits to be uncovered; un-occulted; to be seen and respected again. Disclosure and rediscovery of what is Truth— a spiritual rebirth. Revelation…

If I claim to live in California, then my claim can only refer to my fictional persona as a legal (fictional) resident of that fictional state. If my home is in California, then I can only be referring to a piece of paper as a title and a fictionally framed area upon a map, for California does not Exist in Nature. If I claim to be American, then I can only be referring to the artificiality of my fictional persona in its birth and legal form called legally as ethnicity. I am confirming my legal bond by nativity. For I can only actually and in Nature Live, have a home in, and be man in and of Jehovah. California is not part of Nature. It is not of God. Its borders are not Reality, for no borders or even straight lines Exist in Nature. Yet its jurisdictional legal laws prevent me from being one with my God by requiring me to have a split personality, with one foot always in that commercial fiction of mammon.

When this false legal existence (the lie of personification) is compared to God’s Permanent Being in the Reality of Existence (as Jehovah; as Creation Itself), we see the True Nature of Reality as distinguished from the artificiality of the entire structure of government and religion, which is based completely on words as “terms of art” (words creating artifice through technology). The legal re-presentation of mammon stands as the spoken, written, and respected lie in and as this artificial existence. Its sole purpose is to act against Jehovah with impunity and without respect of God’s priceless and eternal Laws of Nature. Artifice simply does not and cannot respect Reality, for it cannot Exist in Reality. It is only ever a lie.

In this sense, when a man appears in court or in any jurisdiction where his use of fiction in commerce is assumed to be through a legalized fictional person (which is 100% of the time a presumption in the United States jurisdiction), that fictional persona is only then considered to be physically present in that jurisdiction. Remember, the word physical has a legal meaning, not just a Real or Natural one. To be physical in the legal realm means to exist (to lie) at that time in that false persona, so that the actions of the man (physical facts) are considered to be done in person — done publicly not privately. However, the person can also legally be considered to be in appearance without the man in surety physically being present in court, whereas the appearance would be subjective and purely fictitious. This is not uncommon. Attorney’s (agents) may also appear physically on behalf of the surety without that man being physically in court.

It occurs to me that this would all be so much easier to explain if personhood was in fact merely a baseball cap. When we wear it, we therefore would be in person. And our presence would be understood without doubt to be in that false persona. But because there is no tangible or visible artifact that reveals what personhood is to the senses or when it is being invoked, this work will necessarily be about 1,000 pages longer than if that were the case!

PRESENT - adjective - NOW EXISTING; at hand: relating to the present time; considered with reference to the present time. (Black4)

PRESENT - noun - A gift; a gratuity; anything presented or given. (Black4)

PRESENTER - One that presents. (Black4)

PRESENTLY - Immediately; NOW; at once; A right which may be exercised “presently” IS OPPOSED TO ONE IN REVERSION OR REMAINDER. (Black4)
PHYSICAL - Relating or pertaining to the BODY, as distinguished from the mind or soul or the emotions; material, substantive, HAVING AN OBJECTIVE EXISTENCE, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM IMAGINARY OR FICTITIOUS; REAL, having relation to facts, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM MORAL OR CONSTRUCTIVE. (Black4)

It must be comprehended that the gift of Life is a present from God, the gift of presence, of our very eternal Existence here and now. And so our Source, “christian” name is called the gift, the given name, for it Exists above all other attached fictional names, surnames, nicknames, titles, numbers and marks. It is immovable (attached to the Earth/Creation). It is the original, the First, whereas all other names are aboriginal, where the Latin prefix “ab-” means to separate, to depart from, or to move away from. To the legal gods, the term aboriginal is used upon those peoples not of their origin, but of the legal system and its trickery. They were the first, the inherent inhabitancy, the blood of the actual land. Thus aboriginal is a name of reproach and contempt to those who will not be governed by another and must be subjected therefore by military conquest (purchase). Purchase (to conquer) is merely another word for gain, meaning to acquire by any means but by descent or hereditary right (Webb1828).

But wait a minute, we must further define just what a body is here. Remember, this is legal-speak, originating from the devil-masters (lawyers and scribes), and not merely that vulgar common language. This word, as most others, must be considered dualistically and figuratively as well. For in legalism, the person’s body is made of nothing at all, appearing only as an anthropomorphized recreation of law made only of words on paper.

BODY - A PERSON. Used of a natural body, OR OF AN ARTIFICIAL ONE CREATED BY LAW, AS A CORPORATION. The main part of the human body; the trunk. The term may, however, embrace ALL MEMBERS OF THE PERSON, including the HEAD. Also the main part of an INSTRUMENT; in deeds it is spoken of as distinguished from the recitals and other introductory parts and signatures; in affidavits, from the title and jurat. A collection of laws; that is, the embodiment of the laws in one connected statement or collection, called a “BODY OF LAWS.” (examples) A cement mixer assembled on a truck. The Workmen’s Benefit Fund of the United States of America. (Black4)

So a body can be a Real (of Nature) or fictional (natural) person, a corporation, all individual (natural person) members of the corporation as one artificial body politic incorporated, part of or the whole man or hu-man, a private association, a whole set of laws, a fund in mammon, or a machine upon a vehicle. But nowhere is God’s Creation actually invoked when this word is used in legalisms. Man is simply not a legal body. Only the hu-man body is referenced, which means the body of man considered without the mind and soul as a legal “physical” but artful fact. Man can only be seen and considered by legal entities through the looking glass of fiction. Only the status (person) can be seen. Nature and its God must be vanquished. Non-sense must conquer.

Ultimately I have come to the strange conclusion that written language, be it numerical code, sigils, symbols, glyphs, letters, or any other form without substance, is evil when respected above its description. It is anti-Real, where the word anti again merely means replacement or in the stead of the Reality (Nature) with which the word re-presents. In this sense then, the word evil is being used here to express opposite, in place of. Anti-Life and anti-Nature (Source)... For words are not Alive and have no origin or place in Nature. Words in all languages, even etymologically speaking, are a form of simulacra, copies without original, without foundation. Any and every word can be changed tomorrow, and like so many before it, every modern language may become dead. Reality Exists despite the words used to name and describe Reality. But the legal law is based solely on words that are artificially and by force attached to the substance of all Being.
How many trees in the “forest” have never been called by their individual names? How many fish in the sea swim in the depths of the namelessly undiscovered? How many plants in the Amazon have never been seen or named? Yet their Existence thrives without the artifice of language, and their welfare is all the better for having not been found, legalized, or “protected” by man’s empty, fictional words, which destroy their True freedom and protection under God’s Nature and Law. For all things must first be legally named (fictionalized) to be protected, and they must first be protected before they can be declared as unprotected, and finally they must be declared as unprotected before they can be raped and destroyed. This is the legal way of licensure (anarchy); as legalized rape.

The substance of anything can only be considered upon its construction, and our simulated reality is based only upon the fictional form of these symbols of language. It is the art form which each symbol-set creates as a language art that re-presents Reality as fiction. Word DNA. To Live in Reality is to live without names and titles. This is not to suggest that words should be abandoned, only that art should be abolished in lieu of conscious awareness of the Reality those words mimic and describe in artifice and authority. A “doctor,” for instance, should not be allowed to be irresponsible for his actions in agency and malpractice merely because he is insured for the actions of his fictional person under his corporate surname and artful title. Artificial things (names and titles), in other words, should not be given a value over that of the Real thing they describe in Nature, and should certainly not be used as an excuse for one’s actions. Nature should be treasured but not considered as a treasurable commodity by its name. It should be treated as it is in self-Existent Being, not as disposable property. Nonsense should not be paramount over sense.

The word paramount is of course another word for sovereign. God vs. the gods… The word “God” as a noun (name) should not be placed in supremacy over the Reality that is the verb of God (Jehovah), the Permanence of Being as Supreme; as Life and Love Itself. God is priceless, nameless… but control of the name and title of “God” in church and state is certainly a valuable, albeit artificial commodity. In totality, words should never have value, power, or authority. They may be descriptive, but that description should never possess authority over the Real to alter or change Its Natural Right to Exist and thrive. For that which is self-evident, including Nature and Its Law and Life Itself, needs not words to define it. The Source of Law must be paramount over the words written as if they were of Source. The substance of God must be Supreme over the mere name of “God.” The lie (representation/simulation) should never have more power than Reality.

This notion of a legal physical existence, as a reference to the “will” and to a “fact,” requires even more imagination, or at least the turning off of Natural reason. For the lie that is a legal existence is not of God and Nature. It is not an Existence in Reality. The actual physical occurrence of a fact never actually happens in court, any more than Bugs Bunny is ever actually clobbered over its fictional head by an “Acme” cartoon hammer.

To be spiritually Living is to therefore be unrecognizable, undefinable, indescribable, innumerable, illegal, and totally ambiguous (without mark, name, and number) to any fictional government. To be of God’s Living Kingdom is to be name-less, mark-less, and number-less. A Purely spiritual (religious) man claims no personhood and no property belonging to another, and thus claims no civil rights, security, or protection (insurance) from the anti-spiritual government of mammon. Civil death does not require Natural death, only spiritual awakening in both belief (faith) and action (works). In the legal parlance, all of these words are purely descriptive of form, and do not refer to the Reality of spirituality in any way, for a natural person is of course in legal fact merely a civil (political) thing, a term of art. Legality does not recognize spirituality any more than God recognizes legality, for God and mammon are directly opposed to each other and cannot Exist in the same realm.

Now, if the reader still feels this is too “religious” in its connotations, he or she better quickly realize that government and the gods (magistrates) that rule over the legal realm is religion, in name only, and to be a person of government is to be faithful to that religiously “established” and “ordained” law, just as the preamble to the US Constitution clearly states. As we are about to discover that True christianity of piety and conscious is a negative part of the common law, meaning that each man is expected to learn and act the scriptural part and maintain that negative duty of the Natural Law, it isn’t so easy for the average common fool (like myself) to dismiss the Bible and its scriptural Higher Law any more. You will have religion whether you like it or not as your law. The only question is which one, which law, which God do you choose.

There are thousands of unique corporations calling themselves “religions” on this planet, all of which have residence within the hundreds of municipal governments that surround, control, create, and profess them. But none of them are required to have “God” as their magistrate or God’s Law as their government. These two realms (government and religion) have always, in all of history, been married. Organized religion has nothing to do with Jehovah or God’s Law of Nature, but only establishes man’s legal relationship with a legal definition of “God” under the rule of other men (magistrates). Religion by any other name (“government”) is still a part of legal religion; or more to the point, government is merely the executive (military) force of any religion called a State. The name of “God” only appears in government as a personification, the noun form of the verb of Being, as the root of authoritarian rule by men in God’s “name” as a legal appearance; the form of God with no substance.

And the money says: ‘IN GOD WE TRUST.’ Amen!

We mistake the concept of the “separation of church and state” to mean something other than it does in the United States. When a husband and wife that are voluntarily bound to each other in a legal marriage contract get a separation, they are still legally in contract with one another under marriage. This is not an annulment. The binding relationship of incorporation (marriage) still exists to the state. The union is not severed, only restricted and often ignored as a state of “divorce,” which is still a lesser state of marriage. And this is why government stands as controller and administrator of the child (issue/product) of that marriage (incorporation of persons), deciding against the will of the Natural parents where and when they may possess their abandoned child. And this is also why the male or father figure of that corporation of marriage, listed as head of household (corporation), is forced to financially support his issue (sub-corporation) with “child-support.”

The separation of religious morals from political opinions (fictions) as law is nothing to celebrate, I assure you. Government is based solely on personhood, on artificial status and rank. This realm of artificiality can only exist if the Bible (the self-evident Law of God) is forcibly separated from the political (imaginary) sphere (the legal law and designs of man), as God does not respect persons and plainly out-Laws their legal existence. So it is that the state is “separated” from the church, but still married. For the state must invoke religious moral doctrine (the Bible) to claim the authority of God as replacement (vicar) magistrates in Order to govern men in God’s empty name. The notion of being a “Christian Nation” is indeed a blasphemy of the scriptures, for a nation is only ever an artificial person (corporation). Of course, man must rename and redefine God as a legal thing before he can establish God as a Source of all legal power and jurisdiction.
But let us see the evidence once and for all of this dualistic term of art.

religion, to be clear, is Roman paganism; the false “Christianity” of natural fools.

I ironically, a spiritual man of God can have no other standing than to Be in contempt of court. For the court is a legal creation of men, not a Natural Creation of God. Its judgements are as false as its law. The court can only recognize fictions in artifice, that which appears only in a government-

But let us see the evidence once and for all of this dualistic term of art.
SO HELP YOU GOD - See OATH. See Christianity; Law, Divine; Religion. (WCA1889)

CHRISTIAN - One who BELIEVES OR ASSENTS to the doctrines of Christianity, as taught by Jesus Christ in the New Testament, OR WHO, BEING BORN OF CHRISTIAN PARENTS OR IN A CHRISTIAN COUNTRY, DOES NOT PROFESS ANY OTHER RELIGION, OR DOES NOT BELONG TO ANY ONE OF THE OTHER RELIGIOUS DIVISIONS OF MAN. See NAME. (WCA1889)

CHRISTIANITY - The system of doctrines and precepts taught by Christ; the religion founded by Christ. CHRISTIANITY IS SAID TO BE PART OF THE COMMON LAW. "Christianity is parcel of the laws of England; and, therefore, to reproach the Christian religion is to speak in subversion of the law." "The essential principles of NATURAL RELIGION" and "of revealed religion, ARE A PART OF THE COMMON LAW, so that any person reviling or subverting or ridiculing them may be prosecuted at common law." "The true sense of the maxim is that the law will not permit the essential principles of revealed religion to be called and styled "Christianity is A PART OF THE COMMON LAW OF PENNSYLVANIA in the qualified sense that its divine origin and truth are admitted, and therefore it is not to be maliciously and openly reviled and blasphemed against, to the annoyance of believers or the injury of the public. NOT CHRISTIANITY FOUND UPON ANY PARTICULAR RELIGIOUS TENETS; BUT CHRISTIANITY WITH LIBERTY OF CONSCIENCE TO ALL MEN. THE MAXIM DOES NOT MEAN THAT CHRISTIANITY IS AN ESTABLISHED RELIGION; NOR THAT ITS PRECEPTS, BY FORCE OF THEIR OWN AUTHORITY, FORM PART OF OUR SYSTEM OF MUNICIPAL LAW; NOR THAT THE COURTS MAY BASE THEIR JUDGMENTS UPON THE BIBLE; NOR THAT RELIGIOUS DUTIES MAY BE PENALLY ENFORCED; NOR THAT LEGAL DISCRIMINATION IN FAVOR OF CHRISTIANITY IS ALLOWED. The best features of the common law, especially those which regard the family and social relations, if not derived from, have at least been improved and strengthened by, the prevailing religion and the teachings of its sacred Book. BUT THE LAW DOES NOT ATTEMPT TO ENFORCE THE PRECEPTS OF CHRISTIANITY ON THE GROUND OF THEIR SACRED CHARACTER OR DIVINE ORIGIN. Some of those precepts, though we may admit their continual and universal obligation, we must nevertheless recognize as being INCAPABLE OF ENFORCEMENT BY HUMAN LAWS. Those precepts, moreover, affect the heart, and address themselves to the conscience; WHILE THE LAWS OF THE STATE CAN REGARD THE OUTWARD CONDUCT ONLY; FOR WHICH REASONS CHRISTIANITY IS NOT A PART OF THE LAW OF THE LAND IN ANY SENSE WHICH ENTITLES THE COURTS TO TAKE NOTICE OF AND BASE THEIR JUDGMENTS UPON IT, except so far they can find that its precepts and principles have been incorporated in and made a component part of the law of the State. THE MAXIM CAN HAVE NO REFERENCE TO THE LAW OF THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT, SINCE THE SOURCES OF THAT LAW ARE THE CONSTITUTION, TREATIES, AND ACTS OF CONGRESS. (WCA1889)

If the reader may understand what has been stated here then he may understand why his public birth into and confirmed participation in the performance debt of the surname and number of the nation causes two things to happen. Firstly, his artificial birth certification creates a legal (anti-God) registered entity (strawman) that he acts as agent for; and so he is automatically given at birth a legalized flattering title of “Christian” just as it was in Rome, for he lives in one of Caesar’s so-called “Christian” nations. This is a false state of being that defeats and defects the Natural Law and Religion established by the Son (Word) of God. Secondly, this false religious “state” or country being a pure fiction causes the man to lose his unalienable rights under God, which would be his privately reserved rights if he were not a commercial resident and foreigner in any State (People) and their government (state) through the United States (nation/domicile) in agency, and his only True Christian “identity” would be in his works and in his following of that Highest Law without actual title, not merely in his incorporated name of the state. Thus this notion of the separation of church and state could be said to be a separation of the public (common people) and the private (sovereign People). Regardless of this, there is one fact that cannot be disputed. That the common law includes True christianity without corporatized religion as its foundation of voluntary Law means that the reader better damn well stop demonizing the Bible and instead learn its precepts and maxims if he ever wishes to be free from the tyranny of the nation (state) that opposes that recognized, internal expression of the moral law.

“Our Jewishness is not a creed, IT IS OURSELVES, OUR TOTALITY. Indeed, it may be fairly said that the surest evidence of your lack of seriousness in religion is the fact that YOUR RELIGIONS ARE NOT NATIONAL, THAT YOU ARE NOT COMPROMISED AND DEDICATED, EN MASSE, TO THE FAITH.”

“You have had patron or appropriated gods: we have a national God. In the heart of any pious Jew, God is a Jew. Is your God an Englishman or an American? There is no real contradiction between this confessed anthropomorphism and my claim that we Jews alone understand and feel the universality of God. IN ANTHROPOMORPHISM WE MERELY SYMBOLIZE GOD: we reduce the infinite, temporarily, to tangible proportions: we make it ACCESSIBLE TO DAILY REFERENCE.”

—Maurice Samuel, from: ‘You Gentiles,’ 1924, separate quotes

The time for ignoring the Law (the scripture) must become a thing of the past. The foolish debates must end, and the Reality of this not-so-secret Truth must be revealed. Only an arrogant fool would dismiss this information and go back to being a flatteringly legally “Christian” (pagan), public citizenship in the dark without even contemplating his personal, adversarial disposition. The office of citizenship is a “Christian” office of the “Christian” nation (false church/People). It is, again, merely controlled opposition. And it’s all in the name…

“A DESIGNATION by which a PERSON, NATURAL OR ARTIFICIAL, is known... the law assumes that EVERYONE has a Christian name... The law recognizes only one Christian name... A non-resident, to whom a wrong name is given in an order of publication, receives no legal notice... IDENTITY OF NAME IS PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE OF IDENTITY OF PERSON... At common law, a man may lawfully change his name. HE IS BOUND BY ANY CONTRACT INTO WHICH HE MAY ENTER IN HIS ADOPTED OR REPUTED NAME, and by his... recognized name he may sue and be sued… 2. A man’s name, AS THE SYNONYM OF HIS POWER AND PERSONALITY, IS OFTEN PUT FOR THE MAN HIMSELF. Thus, AN AGENT IS SAID TO BUY “IN THE NAME” OF HIS PRINCIPAL when he buys for him, DECLARING HIS AGENCY. A man invests "in his own name" (as executor) when he invests openly for himself, THOUGH HE ONLY RECEIVES EVIDENCE (BONDS) OF THE INVESTMENT.”

--- Definition of “name” (WCA1889) ---

The King James Version of the Holy Bible is the foundation of the governing law, and the official (in office) oath is still taken upon it, or more aptly through it. This is not a vow or promise to God to follow the Natural Law of God, but a vain promise to the state (and thus the pope?) and its false law in God’s empty name only. The vow (promise) is a verb, the oath (or affirmation) a written noun. The vow is to God. The oath is a spite on God. One is in Love (Belief), while the other is just empty words. A vow to God is sacred, while an oath to the gods (magistrates) of the state taken upon the Bible (God’s Word) is a curse. The scriptures as God’s Law are suppressed and ignored by the municipal, administrative state and courts in every way and in all of its legal presentation and consideration of what legally is the law of the land. Scripture nor christ is in fact no part whatsoever a part of the law of the land, as stated above, except for those Highest foundational maxims (principles) that already happen to be based on scripture. But remember, contract makes the law, and the Bible tells us to make none. The legal law implies the power and authority of the Word (Law) for its existence and thus to control the minds of the unregenerate, unspiritual masses, which its own corrupt systems ensure the nature of, recognizing only the individual actions of the man in agency of its own version of his animal (without soul), humanized, Romanized self (strawman).

This is the purpose of the contract, and specifically the implied contractual relationship of citizenship. The contract makes the new law and rejects all others. In this way, the union of church and state has become a paradoxical puzzle with no internal solution, like a husband pretending his wife no longer Exists. It is a legal matrix with no escape, and no actual remedy for its debtors unless they unplug and quit using its personified avatar. For the church is governed by the state, which stands as the master and oppressor of its moral law. The Existence of a moral code of law has been relegated (exiled) into obscurity, locked away as a secured interest, considered as merely a referential to the supposed authority it grants to the corrupting state. The state rules despite the religious Law-book it claims as its authority to rule by. The Ying ignores the Yang, ultimately overcoming, usurping, and misdirecing its balancing purpose.

We see this as a rule, a principle (maxim) of law excluding other principles according to the corrosive elements of legalism and administrative functionaries. Remembering that Jesus christ is an example of the Perfection and execution of Law, as the Word of God personified, we must take heed of the following Latin maxim so that we may know that our subjection to man’s legalisms causes us to suffer separation from our Highest and most Perfect ability of Being. A strawman’s law is purely of corruption, purely antichrist.

This is how word magic is cast:

The caste system, just as Hollywood casts its actors and assigns them desired traits and characters...

Harmony with the masculine. Behind every heartless The queen emasculates the king, so that his reign is not overbearingly logical, un-empathetic, or heartless. The sacred balance is the power of the feminine, not above or below, but in perfect harmony. This is the epitome of Natural Law and Order, of True and spiritual equitableness under the Law.

Remember, a person has no “sex,” only the legal fiction of sexual orientation as status. A person is to be always legal (artificial) in all considerations, which eliminates God’s Design and Gift of any Real sexual consideration. Sex is only used as a weapon in the legal realm, never as the recognized wonder and beauty that is God’s Creation.

Another word for emasculate, in that legal (artificial) sense, is the word castrate. To rate man in a caste system, just as Hollywood casts its actors and assigns them desired traits and characters...

To cast a spell, as the spelling of artful, fictional words... Our lot is cast and our stake (cross) is planted, as soon as the birth registration process is complete. We are immediately presumed to be emasculated, cast-rated into the multitude of the nation, that fictional, legal father of lost souls. The people borne of and begotten by the nation, as the general public, the goyim...

The New World Encyclopedia defines a caste system as follows:

“Caste systems are any ranked, hereditary, endogamous occupational groups that constitute traditional societies in certain regions of the world, particularly among Hindus in India. There, caste is rooted in antiquity and specifies THE RULES AND RESTRICTIONS GOVERNING SOCIAL INTERCOURSE AND ACTIVITY FOR EACH GROUP BASED ON THEIR OCCUPATION AND SOCIAL STATUS. The different castes practiced mutual exclusion in many social activities, including eating, as well as marriage. In addition to the major castes, there also existed another group, the ‘OUTCASTES,’ who were relegated to the worst occupations if any employment at all. Ranked below the castes, they were treated as sub-human—‘unseeable’ and ‘untouchable’...

“Definition - Caste is defined by the American Heritage Dictionary as ‘an endogamous and hereditary social group LIMITED TO PERSONS OF THE SAME RANK, OCCUPATION, AND ECONOMIC POSITION.’ The word caste is derived from the Romance word casta (seen in Portuguese, Spanish, and Italian), which (in addition to representing the same concept as English caste) can mean ‘LINEAGE’ or ‘RACE.’ It comes from Romance casto, which can mean ‘PURE’ or ‘CASTE.’ Casto in Latin means ‘chaste,’ which is derived from castus, meaning ‘PURE, CUT OFF, SEPARATED.’

“...In its broadest sense, examples of caste-based societies include colonial Latin America under Spanish and Portuguese rule, Japan, Korea, some parts of Africa, as well as across the Indian subcontinent.”

“Many of these cultures show only the remnants of a caste system that divided the population into what might today be regarded as different social classes, BASED ON LINEAGES and on the role they performed in society. What remains, however, and is common to many cultures is the ‘outcaste,’ the people considered below the level of common humanity of all the others, ‘untouchable.’ They and their descendants, the dalit in India, the burakumin in Japan, the baekjeong in Korea, all have faced discrimination, and some continue to do so today.”

One would have to be a fool to not recognize the caste system in America. The private or pure-blood against the public or outcasts (those not of the bloodline or having knowledge of it, those not the private People as the sovereignty of each separate State). A caste by any other name or description is still just the same old feudatory.

As a consideration by government, man is much like oil. This naturally flowing blood of the Earth is called a “natural resource.” Again we see the referential to the quality of Nature as purely a descriptive matter, not as the main subject. When attached to a legal concept, that being a resource, the purpose and intention of the word natural changes from one of respect to one of conquest (purchase). To re-source something necessarily means to re-purpose it; to refine and therefore re-create it and to alter its intent for the service and benefit of another. And once Nature is touched, it is no longer of the Source of God’s Being of Creation. Oil is re-sourced from being a pure creation of God in Nature to an unnatural, impure re-creation of man. Ironically, it is the very imperfections of Source that are filtered out to make oil artificially “pure” and legally “natural.” So too may this be said about man.

This is the perfect allegory of the re-presentation of man into the personhood of citizenship. To make gasoline, for instance, requires a major refinement process to rid the oil of many of its undesirable Natural qualities and traits so that it can be used (employed) and trafficked as a commercial re-source…

Sound familiar?

The same can be said of the blood of man. For the man to be made into a citizen-ship he must be metaphorically re-sourced as well. Man must be taken away from his Source (his Creator) and its Law and re-generated into a fictional persona; a useable (employable) re-sourced product for commercial human trafficking. His blood must be legally (figuratively) corrupted in attainder. He must be refined through the public education and media brainwashing process before he can be used (employed) as a natural resource in capitalism (by the head); a natural person. Once this refine-ment process (corruption of blood and the mind through institutionalized “education”) takes place, the newly formed persona no longer expresses the Pure qualities of God’s Nature, retaining only the form without substance, yet still appearing as man-like (as man-kind) while acting in persona.

We may also reference gold here, where the quality of that natural resource is measured in the fineness of the art form (technology) that molded and pressed it, be it for coinage, jewelry, or as a legally defined “natural” resource in machinery and health products. Likewise, a man perfectly educated and publicly im-pressed (published) into society through this re-finishing process as a political entity is considered as quite the valuable commodity, a fine speci-man, a natural re-source exploited and perfectly employed in mammon. A hu-man commodity for hu-man trafficking.

Like crude, unrefined oil, man is born by his blood as a product of Nature. Like gasoline, the publicly educated HU-man person/citizen is a refined product of man’s designs in mammon.

To be even more clear, the true purpose of this specific magi-cal spell (spelling) of legal words is quite simplistic. Every Living and non-Living thing on this earth is merely animal, vegetable, and/or mineral in Nature, so to speak. As all of these Creatures (Create-ure = the Created things of God) do not comprehend the legal meaning of these fictional, artful names (nouns) that have been forced upon them within the legal language domain as used to de-scribe them into this governing nomenclature, all of the Creatures as Natural Beings of the Earth (as Jehovah) have no choice but to be dominated by man. The name is governed as a fictional and invisible bond; a virtual ball and chain attached and applied to the Real thing. They cannot de-fend themselves; they cannot fend off this legal fiction any more than oil can prevent itself from being sucked dry from Jehovah’s Veins. These creatures don’t speak the legal language. For they have no legal capacity. They are not volunteers such as man. They do not possess higher reason and therefore do not possess the sanctions and responsibility of choice.
However, in most cases, man has the ability and capacity to learn this magical language but generally chooses not to, while at the same time he chooses to (or believes he must) follow the law that is made up of those same unlearned words. And so man in his less than blissful ignorance is no better off and is considered no differently than all other voiceless (without choice) animals to be dominated. Beasts of burden. For, as the maxim states, the meaning of words is the spirit of the law. Man’s education in common (vulgar) words mean nothing to these legal magistrates, for man has been taught the language of Babel. General words and terms in dog-Latin appear in their form the same as in the legalese, but the meanings are most often opposite of the loving and truthful intention of those common words.

And here we can comprehend the desire and consecrated effort by those governing men to instill a forced, “public” education system. For those who seek to rule all men must keep us all acting and speaking publicly. Privacy is simply not taught to slaves.

And so we are taught the lower form of language, one without metaphoric or higher (more authoritative) meaning, so that we may never read the Law (scripture or legalese) to realize that we are trapped in the artifice; caught in a legal matrix. We are informed to accept the big lie…

FICTION OF LAW - Something known to be false is assumed to be true. (Black4)

FICTION - An assumption or supposition of law that something which is or may be false is true, or that a state of facts exists which has never really taken place. An assumption, for purposes of justice, of a fact that does not or may not exist. A rule of law which assumes as true, and will not allow to be disproved, something which is false, but not impossible.

These assumptions are of an innocent or even beneficial character, and are made for the advancement of the ends of justice. They secure this end chiefly by the extension of procedure from cases to which it is applicable to other cases to which it is not strictly applicable, the ground of inapplicability being some difference of an immaterial character. Fictions are to be distinguished from presumptions of law. By the former (fiction), SOMETHING KNOWN TO BE FALSE OR UNREAL IS ASSUMED AS TRUE; by the latter (presumption), AN INFERENCE IS SET UP WHICH MAY BE AND PROBABLY IS TRUE, but which, at any rate, THE LAW WILL NOT PERMIT TO BE CONTROVERTED. It may also be said that a presumption is a rule of law prescribed for the purpose of getting at a certain conclusion, though arbitrary, where the subject is intrinsically liable to doubt from the remoteness, discrepancy, or actual defect of proofs. Fictions are also to be distinguished from estoppels: an estoppel being the rule by which A PERSON IS PRECLUDED FROM ASSERTING A FACT by previous conduct inconsistent therewith on his own part or the part of those under whom he claims, OR BY AN ADJUDICATION UPON HIS RIGHTS WHICH HE CANNOT BE ALLOWED TO QUESTION. Best distinguishes legal fictions from presumptions juris et de tier, and divides them into three kinds, affirmative or positive fictions, negative fictions, and fictions by relation. (Black4)

So what then is the difference between the notion of the law as fiction and that of a fiction of law and that of the word deceit?

That’s just it… there is no difference! A fiction of law is a creation of an already fictional law. It is only that these acts of fiction and fictions of law are somehow legal while open deceit is not. And so a fiction of law is really just a personification of deceit, of the devil, a lie re-presented as a person, place, or thing. Words that deceive…

Is citizenship a fiction of law or a deceit?

That question, my friends, can only be answered by you. For you either call it fraud in deceit, or you confirm and ratify the deceit as an accepted and agreed upon fiction of law. Under God’s Law, it is deceit. Under the fictional legal gods and their created legal (opposed to God) laws, it is merely a part of the legally licensed and permitted fiction of the law of persons. Here we find either pain (Truth) or comfort (delusion) in words, for deceit by any other name—

DECEIT - A fraudulent and CHEATING MISREPRESENTATION, ARTIFICE, or device, used by one or more persons to deceive and trick another, who is ignorant of the true facts, to the prejudice and damage of the party imposed upon. A fraudulent misrepresentation or contrivance, by which one man deceives another, who has no means of detecting the fraud, to the injury and damage of the latter. A SUBTLE TRICK OR DEVICE, whereunto may be referred all manner of CRAFT and collusion used to deceive and defraud another by any means whatsoever, which hath no other or more proper name than deceit to distinguish the offense. A “deceit” is either: (1) The suggestion, AS A FACT, OF THAT WHICH IS NOT TRUE, by one who does not believe it to be true; (2) the assertion, AS A FACT, of that which is not true, by one who has no reasonable ground for believing it to be true; (3) THE SUPPRESSION OF A FACT, by one who is bound to disclose it, or who gives information of other facts which are likely to mislead for want of communication of that fact; or (4) a promise, made without any intention of performing it. To constitute “deceit,” the statement must be untrue, made with knowledge of its falsity or with reckless and conscious ignorance thereof, especially if parties are not on equal terms, made with intent that plaintiff act thereon or in a manner apparently fitted to induce him to act thereon, and plaintiff must act in reliance on the statement in the manner contemplated, or manifestly probable, to his injury. The essential elements of “deceit” are REPRESENTATION, falsity, scienter, DECEPTION, and injury. (Black4)

A celebrated, accepted, worshiped, and confirmed deceit is still only ever a deceit; a big lie; a satanic (adversarial to God’s Nature) truth. Yet this is how we live our lives, in the accepted Self-deceit of person-hood in a citizen-ship.

It is difficult to think that a lie such as man’s legal law may possess an opinion or presumption of its own. As with any artificial intelligence, that living lie may only contemplate that for which it is pre-programmed. And so we must realize that the whole of the law is based on presumption and on consent, and therefore is a voluntary state by man of permanent acceptance of this legal status of personhood. To say that the law presumes these things is no more ridiculous than to say that Bugs Bunny loves to eat carrots or that Santa Claus keeps a naughty and nice list. It is belief (love) in the lie, not the fact that it is a lie, that creates the existence and subsistence of the lie as law and custom.

We literally grow up believing in and therefore living in the big lie.

-ie-

— Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) 1-201 Definitions #1

-ie-

If the entire ‘positive’ legal law is fiction, being only in a state of existence based purely upon assumption and presumption, and the entire government is thus a fiction of law (deceit)... well, you do the math!

How do you defeat the darkness of a complete and total lie?
Flood it with God’s Light (Knowledge of Law) in the total Reality of Nature and Live only in the knowledge thereof!!! Rebut every presumption as nonexistent. Correct the statement of blood origin blasphemed by the birth record. And never live as a lie under man’s law, in his person, or in his commercial sphere again.

But I digress…

A person is a legal fiction, a creation of law, which is also but a fiction (deceit) of man. And it is automatically presumed that man in agency is operating in commerce through this fictional persona (legal mask) at all times in its existence. It is not something that is active or inactive, its time clock is 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, including holidays. Man therefore operates in a false persona that is assumed to be both his true intent and his true identity by the legally governing creator (generator, begetter) of that false fictional title. Consent and acceptance is always a presumption of citizenship. To claim to be a citizen of the United States for protection or mere show is the same as claiming to fall under the laws of the United States and to be legally (positively) immune from God’s Laws of Nature. Man’s relation to the person in surety is purely a presumption of law (of the legal creator). It is literally a strawman argument!

Once man claims to be this permanent legal name as a commercial fiction of law and signs in its name, a creation of and thus property and under government, he has placed himself into a state of unavoidable estoppel regarding his Natural Liberty under God. The acceptation of citizenship is literally an estoppel upon God and Nature. In other words, acting in fiction negates man’s religious freedom by holding a “bar” against the moral, spiritual Laws that govern God’s Creation, for God sees nor respects no person, regards no fiction (lies), and of course despises mammon. The fiction of man’s law is only temporary, and not of the Supreme Permanence of Jehovah. So reasonably, a man acting in fiction simply cannot invoke God to protect his person, for his opponent (government) is not of God, but is the calumniator; the Adversary of God and Nature. This is purely a logical, self-evident conclusion, requiring no religious beliefs at all, but instead only the simplest understanding of Nature and of contract law: that the principle of contract law is that the contract makes the law.

The devil is never fictionally portrayed as being able to control man’s actions until he tricks man into signing a contract, re-making man into a debtor bound to hell in exchange for license to have success within the system of mammon.

The legal process of “naturalization” is another misunderstood legal deprivation of the real meaning of this word natural. Citizenship is not found in Nature, so there really is no such thing as a “natural” citizen or “natural” person accept in fiction. In fact, nothing could be more unnatural or unreal as that of a political status, especially one designed with the specific legal intent to defeat and re-source God’s Natural Creation of Life. We must always remember that to have anything in a political form, including all supposed rights of citizenship, can only ever be an artificial state of being and opposed to Nature. Every aspect of political existence is a false deceit. A person can only ever have artificial, political rights. Nothing is God-given under a citizen-ship and in corporate person-hood. There are no exceptions.

The legal naturalization process is for one and only one purpose — to ethnically impose the will of a few men upon all other men so that their individual crimes are mutually accountable to all others, for which we politically call the “public.” More to the point, naturalization is the act of blocking the scriptural will and testament as God’s Law in order to impose man’s will and legal law over God’s Word (Son). Man is thus “naturalized” into the legal government as all other “natural” persons, places, and things are — in name (noun) only. And that’s not a good thing!

Once man claims that his very nature is other than that of God’s own creation, he assumes subjection to that lesser god and its false law by abandoning Reality, becoming a fictional character in some other pretended sovereignty than Jehovah. To be clear, naturalization is merely a total alienation from God.
NATURALIZATION - The act of ADOPTING A FOREIGNER and CLOTHING him with the privileges of NATIVE CITIZENS. (Black4)

NATURALIZE - To confer CITIZENSHIP upon an alien; to make a foreigner the same, in respect to rights and privileges, AS IF HE WERE A NATIVE CITIZEN OR SUBJECT. (Black4)

NATURALIZED CITIZEN - One who, BEING AN ALIEN BY BIRTH, has received CITIZENSHIP UNDER THE LAWS OF THE STATE OR NATION. (Black4)

NATURAL-BORN SUBJECT - In English law, one BORN WITHIN THE DOMINIONS, or rather WITHIN THE ALLEGIANCE, of the king of England. (Black4)

COLLECTIVE NATURALIZATION - This takes place where a government, by treaty or cession, ACQUIRES the whole or part of the territory of a foreign nation and TAKES TO ITSELF THE INHABITANTS THEREOF, clothing them with the rights of CITIZENSHIP either by the terms of the treaty or by subsequent legislation. (Black4)

NATURAL FOOL - A person born without understanding; a BORN fool or idiot. Sometimes called, in the old books, a “NATURAL.” (Black4)

The author wishes to stress the importance of this word fool. The author also wishes to inform all public persons of any nation that we are all, including myself, acting like complete fools, playing the part of fools, and thus deserving of the epitaph. For an epitaph is only given for the dead. Whatever we pretend to know, whatever we profess to have accomplished by our positions, statuses, and flattering titles, our foolishness does not leave us in our artificial success. From the homeless man on the street to the evermore foolish millionaire that benefits from the homelessness and poverty of others without Living in Pure Love and unblemished Charity, we are all playing the part of the casted fool in a game of fictional classes. And we have been since our legal birth and confirmation into legal adult-hood (legalized adultery); that age where we consent to our own corrupted ways and take over voluntarily the franchise of citizenship as consenting “adults.” We must learn not to take this knowledge, which is not disputable, as merely an insult, but as a self-evident Truth. It may only offend us if we continue lying to ourselves to justify the bigger lie. We must first admit our own defeat followed by recognizing our own conceit, and then and only then may we attempt to defeat the false flattery of title instead of continuing to embrace it. We must break free of this cyclic system of foolish behavior and become the men we were Born under God’s Nature and self-evident Law to Be. But this is voluntary…

The author here asks that the reader take a bit of extra time to read, comprehend, and fully understand the definition of fool below. For it is not only a legal name but a flattering title. It is not merely a fleeting insult, but a lifestyle evidenced by ones legal status in persona (mask). It is a descriptive causality for all of our collective Reality, for we who dwell only in the public, legal realm in idiocy and dogged illiteracy without God’s Word (Law) and under other men’s civil laws and temples of doom (judgement).

NATURAL LIFE. The period (term) of A PERSON’S EXISTENCE considered as continuing until terminated by physical DISSOLUTION OR DEATH OCCURRING IN THE COURSE OF NATURE, used in contradistinction to that JURIDICAL AND ARTIFICIAL CONCEPTION OF LIFE AS AN AGGREGATE OF LEGAL RIGHTS or the POSSESSION OF A LEGAL PERSONALITY, which could be terminated by “CIVIL DEATH,” that is, that EXTINCTION OF PERSONALITY which resulted from ENTERING A MONASTERY OR BEING ATTAINTED of treason or FELONY. (Black4)

NATIONALITY - (repeated) - That quality or CHARACTER which arises from the fact of A PERSON’S BELONGING TO A NATION OR STATE. Nationality determines the POLITICAL STATUS OF THE INDIVIDUAL, especially with reference to ALLEGIANCE; while DOMICILE DETERMINES HIS CIVIL STATUS. Nationality arises either BY BIRTH OR BY NATURALIZATION. According to Savigny, “nationality” is also used AS OPPOSED TO “TERRITORIALITY,” for the purpose of distinguishing the case of A NATION HAVING NO NATIONAL TERRITORY, e.g., THE JEWS. (Black4)
Remember for future reference the fact that to fool anyone else in order to defraud them is to cheat them. For as we will find, this nation of fools is literally and in every way a land controlled (governed) by cheaters, organized pirates replete with an incredible propaganda system that actually causes those cheated to be patriotic about their enemies and quite content in their servitude to them.

But let’s not get too far ahead of ourselves…

It is important to note what has been put forward here, so that anyone acting within the agency of United States citizen-ship (as that which may be summoned) may truly understand his or her plight. We must know that due to the fact that our political and civil status exist only within the United States district’s jurisdiction, as our domicile and nationality is only in the United States, these civil rights assigned to us are purely of and under that commercial, national government and its contracted law. These rights are forced upon us in agency. Therefore we have no protections or claims to the laws and immunities of private State citizens, as those whose private rights are reserved from the public law and thus actually and negatively protected under the nature of constitutional law. We are simply not the People of the individual States, not the creators of the nation, not the father, and thus have no access to the protective nature of that constitution, for as domiciled United States citizen-ships we are foreigners in the State for which we temporarily, commercially re-side. Therefore, since our legal “state” is the United States, all actions we take in the person (property) of the United States are foreign transactions in the individual (several/private/foreign) States (creators) of that union. And so the public, as legalized (Romanized) United States citizen-ships (commercial vessels in mammon) are always considered to be acting and performing in an interstate commerce situation and thus regulated as such under the law merchant, under the international law of nations. We must remember our persons operate and have artificial life only within a corporation, not in Reality. Our legal existence, in other words, within each individual state jurisdiction, is purely a political (public) one by foreign agents for commercial purposes. We are not “We, the People” of that constitution. We are not its creators or their professed and fabled posterity (bloodline) inheritors. We are not its landholders. We are only foreign commercial entities acting in agency within the United States district and jurisdiction as our principal, while the state we reside in as a third party to that contractual agency relationship. We are slaves that appear to be masters. While this fact will be thoroughly explored throughout this work, we must remember that the best slave is the man (beast) that knows not that he is one.

Each of us have our own nativity scene at our own birth…

NATIONALIZACION - In Spanish and Mexican law, nationalization. “The nationalization of property is an act which denotes that IT HAS BECOME THAT OF THE NATION by some process of law, whereby PRIVATE individuals or corporations have been for specified reasons DEPRIVED THEREOF (OF PRIVATE STATUS AND PROPERTY).” (Black4)

NATIVUS - Latin. In old English law, a native; specifically, ONE BORN INTO A CONDITION OF SERVITUDE; a born serf or villein. (Black4)

NATIVA - A niefe or female villein. So called because for the most part BOUND BY NATIVITY. (Black4)

NATIVITAS - Villenage; that state in which men were BORN SLAVES. (Black4)

NATIVI CONVENTIONARI - Villeins or bondmen by CONTRACT or AGREEMENT. (Black4)

NATIVI STIPITE - Villeins or bondmen by BIRTH or STOCK. (Black4)

NAIF - L. French. A villein; a born slave; a bondwoman. (Black4)
Natural life? In legalese, this only means an idiotic fiction of law. A natural-born fool.

A “natural person” in its artificiality lives (as a fictional, civil life) only as long as the man bonded in surety to it actually Lives in Reality under God’s Nature and no longer, for the legal “natural person” is merely an apparent commercial fiction (puppet) re-presenting the man as a legal form with no substance. No such “person” Exists in Nature; and in Reality, no person whatsoever can Exists in Nature. Person is strictly a legal status, never a Creature and Reality under God in Nature. It’s just a word; a term of art in the legal artifice. Technology… Again, that mirror image (personification) cannot exist without the man standing before the mirror, controlling the re-presentation. Whereas a corporation, as an “artificial person,” may live as long as it is passed between said fictional, “natural persons” in legal control of that legal corporation (artificial person). But we shouldn’t ever consider or respect this as Real Life, as the scriptures instruct, for the person cannot exist or function without man inhabiting it and with legal word-magic appearing as it in commerce and in commercial court, be it a natural or artificial person. Both are fictions of law. Utter deceits. We are living in a projected lie, a matrix of words.

Did you know you are bound by nativity? Was this nativity story not also the story of Jesus even as he rose from its spiritual death? Perhaps the obvious clue that one’s “nativity” is not Reality but mere legal status is the fact that it can be changed by war and conquest. For nativity is only a product of de facto military force and/or voluntary commerce, and nothing else. Natural, native, national… these terms of art are all in similitude. They are all a state of legal bondage, subjection, and servitude by birth.

—Richard Lovelace (1618-1658), from ‘To Althea From Prison’

The legal concept of “physical dissolution” (dis-solution) as the end of nativity is not a cession or death of any Life in Reality (God’s Creation of Nature), but is merely referential to an end of the bond of contractual relationship — the civil death of a person reborn into a purely spiritual Life without artifice. It is the abandonment of all technology (art). In other words, the life of a fictional, legal “natural person” ends when the man physically dies or quits pretending under contract to be another man’s person. But the contract of personhood must also be placed into a state of legal death and thus dissolution when the actual Life of the man ceases in physical substance. For a puppet cannot function without the puppet master — the master of the citizen-ship. The contract must be ended. To be perfectly clear the man can dissolve the binding nature of that contract and surety (persona) without actually dying himself. This is a civil death. It’s just paper. And citizen-ship is just a presumption of obligation to a de facto law that needs to be rebutted, corrected, and thus destroyed before man can ever reclaim his place under God’s Nature. His debt must be discharged, not merely paid, as his contracted performance comes to an end (is executed). We must quit acting the part of another player.

DISSOLVE - To terminate; abrogate; cancel; annul; disintegrate; To release or unloose the binding force of anything. As to “dissolve a corporation,” to “dissolve an injunction.” See Dissolution. (Black4)

DISSOLUTION -

IN CONTRACTS - The dissolution of a contract is the cancellation or abrogation of it by the parties themselves, with the effect of annulling the binding force of the agreement, and RESTORING EACH PARTY TO HIS ORIGINAL RIGHTS. In this sense it is frequently used in the phrase “dissolution of a partnership.”

IN PRACTICE - The act of rendering a legal proceeding null, abrogating or revoking it; unloosing its constraining force; as when an injunction is dissolved by the court.

OF CORPORATIONS - The dissolution of a corporation is the termination of its EXISTENCE as a body politic. This may take place in several ways; as by act of the legislature, where that is constitutional; by surrender or forfeiture of its charter; by expiration of its charter by lapse of time; by proceedings for winding it up under the law; by loss of all its members or their reduction below the statutory limit. De Facto Dissolution, is that which takes place when (a) corporation, by reason of insolvency or for other reason, suspends all operations and goes into liquidation.

OF MARRIAGE - The act of terminating a marriage; divorce; BUT THE TERM DOES NOT INCLUDE ANNULMENT. (Black4)

A person’s artificial “life” can only be considered in fictional, political terms. But this magical word-term natural references only the term (time) of artificial life that matches exactly that of the Real Life (time) of the man, whose Real and legal “natural” birth and death matches that of the certified person’s length of civil, political, artificial life, from certified fictional birth to certified fictional death.
Bottom line: despite this wonderfully devious word-magic and trickery, the word person should never be respected in any case as a Creation (Creature) of God and Nature, as anything Real, and instead always as a contradictory attack upon God and thus man’s Nature. A person is always artificial. We must never fall prey to these legal terms of art nor respect its always false titles. We should never be on defense against the Truth, against Nature’s Law and its True Judge (God) by our legal actions. We must remember that all legal title and authority is attached only to the fictional person of the state in surety to the man, but never to the man himself. Man may only make claim to political and civil rights if he first attaches (bonds) himself to the name of a politically created persona (legal status) to which those legal rights apply. If it isn’t clear by now, it must be understood that fictional law sticks (applies) only to fictional things, and Natural Law applies only to Real things. These laws cannot be intermixed and should never be confused, just as the cartoon (subject) must never be confused with its object.

The contractual relationship of citizenship is, in other words, a non-inheritable suretyship. The person assigned and confirmed by my Self cannot exist after either my Natural death or execution of that performance debt under contract (person). The person, in this way, is non-transferable. And this means the children of every public person are pirated out of everything their Natural parents in persona acquired, for all stuff is property of the person/status (property) of the state.

Understanding that the Laws of Nature are equitable in their application (individually considered upon each man), we must take serious note that the legal laws of suretyship in contractual personhood are opposed to equitableness (Natural Law). In a contractual relationship, the laws are held to be strict and generally without deviation or consideration to individual circumstances. Traffic laws are a good example of this. The legal law becomes supreme, even when the law is opposed to the Permanence and Supremacy of Nature and to the best interests of the man bound to it. Whereas equitableness is consideration of intent and of what is duty, a man in the bond of suretyship to a person legally lives by a strict set of legal rules and laws governing that and all other persons of the same status. Within this contract of suretyship, the law itself is not equitable, for it can never be in error. We may only pray to an administrator (judge) of that law for his false forgiveness. It is to be obeyed despite the moral beliefs of the man acting in surety, for the contract makes the law, and this is why the law was broken is in fact irrelevant. Intention is nullified through contract. The law is strictly attached to the fictional persona (legal mask) as a rule of use and operation of that person (vessel), much like a rental car contract.

Remember, we must metaphorically consider these aspects of the fiction from the fictional eyes and perspective of the fictional state and its fictional agencies. Of course, we do this all the time with movies, books and other entertainment media, and even through memorization of sports statistics. But when it comes to our own fictional stories in persona (mask) as actors of the state, we seem to fall short in our imaginations. It is much harder to be the victim than to watch it on TV.
“In the fiction of law there is always equity; a legal fiction is always consistent with equity.”

—IN FICTIONE JURIS SEMPER AEQUITAS EXISTIT. (Black4)

The man (blood) is not considered, for the man is of Nature (verb), and has given up that True Equitableness of Natural Law and its protections so as to operate solely in commercial suretyship and within the strict laws binding that state of fictional being in mammon. He becomes only a lesser, legally natural (noun), which is the opposite of True Being in the Nature of Jehovah (the actual verb of Existence).

STRICTISSIMI JURIS - Latin. Of the strictest right or law. “Licenses being matter of SPECIAL INDULGENCE, the application of them was formerly strictissimi juris.” (Black4)

STRICTUM JUS - Latin. Strict right or law; the rigor of the law AS DISTINGUISHED FROM EQUITY. (Black4)

STRict - Exact; accurate; precise; UNDEVIATING; GOVERNED OR GOVERNING BY EXACT RULES. (Black4)

EQUITABLE - Just; conformable to the PRINCIPLES OF JUSTICE AND RIGHT. Just, fair, and right, in consideration of the facts and circumstances of the INDIVIDUAL case. EXISTING IN EQUITY; available or sustainable ONLY IN EQUITY, or only upon the rules and principles of equity. (Black4)

EQUITABLE - That which is in conformity to the NATURAL LAW. (Boue1856)

INDULGENCE, INDULGENCY - noun - FREE PERMISSION to the appetites, humor, desires, passions or will to act or operate; FORBEARANCE OF RESTRAINT OR CONTROL; HOW MANY CHILDREN ARE RUINED BY INDULGENCE! INDULGENCE IS NOT KINDNESS OR TENDERNESS, but it may be the effect of one or the other, or of negligence. 1. Gratification; as the indulgence of lust or of appetite 2. FAVOR GRANTED; LIBERALITY; gratification. If all these gracious indulgencies are without effect on us, we must perish in our folly. 3. IN THE ROMISH CHURCH, REMISSION OF THE PUNISHMENT DUE TO SINS, GRANTED BY THE POPE OR CHURCH, and supposed to save the sinner from purgatory: ABSOLUTION FROM THE CENSURES OF THE CHURCH and from all transgressions. (Web1828)

Indulgences are declared often by the Pope. But how many priests of the Catholic Church have been absolved for the indulgence of their appetites into defenseless little children is an occulted mystery kept apparently under the rose. We should Live with the fear that Jehovah knows no such concept and thus indulges no such behavior under Its Law and judgement. To be forgiven by the church is a trifling legal conception by evil men seeking to hide their own indiscretions and undesirable hunger for the flesh.

Did I mention the pope is infallible?

Would you expect anything less from an anti-christ?
“He (the pope) can pronounce sentences and judgements in contradiction the rights of nations, to the law of God and man... he can free himself from the commands of the apostles, he being their superior, and from the rules of the Old Testament... The pope has power to change times, to abrogate laws, and to dispense with all things, even the precepts of Christ.”

—The Roman Decretalia, Decretal, de Translat. Episcop

“Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation. Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and for ever. Be not carried about with diverse and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.”

—Hebrews 13:7-9, KJB

—Malachi 3:6, KJB

To be clear, the strict nature of legal laws in a contractual relationship have the purpose of dismissing many of the principles (maxims) of any equitable law that would otherwise protect man from the fictional tyranny of commercial existence. The strictly defined terms of the contractual relationship voids any application of the protective nature of these scriptural principles of equity so that the contract supersedes any other law, and specifically those of God, referred to as otherwise “unalienable rights.” And this is the greatest danger of contracting in the surety-ship of person-hood under the state. This is the danger of using the signature (surname) of another.

But what is danger and how exactly can government protect us from it? Not ironically, this is very much like the mafia model, where the victim needs the aggressors protection, and so pays handsomely for it against his True will. It is inducement to sin, like paying the bully off to not hurt you in the public schoolyard. This word danger is one of those terms of the art of law that is totally opposed to that for which we vulgarly consider it, for danger is in fact a contracted dis-ease of citizenship. The words state and district literally means “danger.”

Etymologically, the noun danger stems from the mid-13th century, meaning the “Power of a Lord or Master, Jurisdiction,” from Anglo-French daunger and Old French dangier, meaning “power, power to harm, mastery, authority, control,” from the 12th century Modern French danger, an alteration of dongier, from the Vulgar Latin dominarium “power of a lord,” from Latin dominus “LORD, master” (also see DOMAIN). The modern sense of “risk, peril” (from being in the control of someone or something else) evolved first in French and was used in English by the late 14th century, replacing the Old English pleoh; in early Middle English this sense is found in peril.

Simply being a subject of any nation puts us in a contracted state of accepted and consented to “danger” (jurisdiction, executive authority). Taxes and other exactions and extortions are paid to the master government for the temporary avoidance of that danger from the exchequer (Treasury Department and its internal revenue collection agency). This is the false safety in mammon offered to all citizenships in franchise as an exchange for taxation (protection money). And we all know what happens when we don’t pay our protection money in the form of exactation and taxation (extortion) every year! Hell, if you really think you own the publicly registered home that you pay property tax upon, then stop paying those extortions (property taxes) and see what happens. You’ll be homeless in no time at all! Remember, private citizens pay no tax for being public.

To be put into danger is the very description of the franchise created by this birth registration process. The citizen-ship is assigned as the commercial ad-venture begins; after that Natural water is broken by the maternal vessel. We are exposed to the dangers of intercourse, and so our ships must be insured in chancery and with ourselves being made sureties. With danger comes protection, and with protection subjection, for the danger only exists from that which protects against it, mafia style. Without a citizen-ship, there is no insurable danger. A Free man under Natural Law assumes all liability and risks all chance alone, without the tyrannical hand of the state, and without insurance over future exposure to such risk and hazard. He is his own danger and his own security. By receiving no evil mark (status) that requires insurance and protection, no evil may befall a man in that legal, commercial sense. For it is only the assigned commercial vessel (personhood/citizen-ship) that allows danger (jurisdiction of the land-lord’s authority) to civilly overcome him. Without such evil status and title in artifice, no artificial evils may effect man if he makes his election of God his only surety.

DANGER - noun - Peril; risk; hazard; EXPOSURE TO INJURY, LOSS, PAIN OR OTHER EVIL. Our craft is in danger to be set at nought. Acts 19:27. It is easy to boast of despising death, when there is no danger. - verb transitive - TO PUT IN HAZARD; TO EXPOSE TO LOSS OR INJURY. (Webs1828)

Here we must stop to consider that it is in governments best interest to cause as much peril, risk, hazard, and exposures to as many evils as is possible while still pretending and appearing to remain legitimate (de jure) in the eyes of its victims (citizenships). The more hazard, the more opportunity for protection, the more insurance premiums and taxes for those protection-money agencies and their tax-harvesters (farmers of men) to collect. Again, this is not rocket science, merely a course in Voluntary Seritude 101 with a minor in dog-Latin and legalease. Logic prevails only when spirituality is its Source. Most of us resign to the false dialectic (logic) of that commercial system of mammon simply because we have lost all spiritual foundations and considerations that may defeat the pure and prevailing but false legalistic logic that so entraps us into a spiritual death of civil life (false existence). It is that our spiritual cause has been sidetracked at birth, that we have been brought (injured) into this legal system of money (debt), that we cannot ever seem to fulfill our spiritual selves. We can never find heaven because we are subjected to hell by our own volition. For danger is nothing if not an inducement to contract (protection). A legal person obviously has no will of its own. Its will is bound by the strict law of its use. And so free will only abounds in private men following God’s Law of Nature, or falsely (legally) in those who claim self-appointed sovereignty (godship) over others in God’s empty (without Spirit) name. In this the reader should have no doubt, for this is the very essence of the ancient wisdom of the scriptures, hidden in plain sight by those institutions of religion and law that exist only despite that spiritual, scriptural understanding, and which can only claim man as its subject through word magic and trickery via fictional personhood; a special membership to hell’s agency. While a man of God is burdened only by his own choices and duties in and because of his free will, a fictional person is in actuality the burden of strict absence of such free will and choice in lieu of the strictly set legal law of persons; that legalistic, amoral law that controls all actions of artificial state creations in its agency.

VOLITION - noun - [Latin volitio, from volo, to will. See Will.] 1. The act of willing the act of determining CHOICE, or forming a purpose. There is a great difference between actual volition and approbation of judgment. VOLITION is the ACTUAL EXERCISE OF THE POWER WHICH THE MIND HAS of considering or forbearing to consider an idea. 2. The power of willing or DETERMINING.  (Webs1828)

APPROBATION - noun - [Latin approbatio. See Proof and Prove.] 1. The act of approving: a liking: that state or DISPOSITION OF THE MIND, in which WE ASSENT TO THE PROPRIETY OF A THING, with some degree of pleasure or satisfaction, as THE LAWS OF GOD REQUIRE OUR APPROBATION. 2. Attestation: support: that is, active approbation or action in favor of what is approved. 3. The commendation of a book licensed or permitted to be PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY, as was formerly the case in England.  (Webs1828)

A man of God has volition by the Grace of his only Master, while a citizen-ship has only approbation to what his master wills and judges by strict law and custom. Volition is the spirituality of God’s gift of Nature, while mere approbation without God is legalism. There is a big difference between approbation (approving) and probation (actually proving):

PROBATION - noun - [Latin probatio.] The act of proving; proof. 1. TRIAL: examination; ANY PROCEEDING DESIGNED TO ASCERTAIN TRUTH: in universities, the examination of a student, as to his qualifications for a degree. 2. In a monastic sense, trial or the year of novitiate, which a person must pass in a convent, to prove his virtue and his ability to bear the severities of the rule. 3. MORAL TRIAL: THE STATE OF MAN IN THE PRESENT LIFE, IN WHICH HE HAS THE OPPORTUNITY OF PROVING HIS CHARACTER AND BEING QUALIFIED FOR A HAPPIER STATE. PROBATION WILL END WITH THE PRESENT LIFE. 4. In America, the trial of a clergyman’s qualifications as a minister of the gospel, preparatory to his settlement. We say, a man is preaches on probation. 5. In general, TRIAL FOR PROOF, or satisfactory evidence, or the time of trial.  (Webs1828)

Citizen-ships are essentially on probation, being placed into a life-long trial called legally as freedom and liberty, which is merely the legal right of the denizens of a legal debtor’s hell to act in the franchise of commerce within strict borders, laws, and customs. But the trial is not to ascertain some level of financial success in that fiction of mammon, but a test of character in overcoming that addiction in mammon. The wealthy goyim in public citizen-ship is a most miserable failure, having succumb to the very essence of the antichrist spirit, law, and false persona. For this is a trail to prove one’s True Nature of Self, not how successful one can be in false persona (behind a mask) in licensed sin (syn). Here the words prove and overcome are a terms of Nature, carrying the notion of True action and works, and are not merely a legal proof of empty words. And one either mentally, physically, and spiritually overcomes or one approves (enters mentally a state of approval) to the artifice and becomes hopelessly intertwined with the false persona and id-entity of the strawman, getting utterly lost in the matrix of legal life. This is legal approbation (approval) to mammon. Only men of God are born again, as probation ends with the present (artifice of legal) life. All others falling in between these states of being go to jail or are conquered militarily, killed off, impoverished, or made refugee.
And so we attempt to appear in court (in person) as private men, which is as silly a concept as crawling into the television to appear in a cartoon as a man, without being rendered as a cartoon (legal) person. Man (Reality) has no place in any legal jurisdiction (fictional place).

Those that wish to escape this system seem to forget that their accident of birth prevents them from escaping until that event of the birth record information and registration (tax) is corrected and overcome as the discharge of a contract of performance. Soldiers, for instance, get either an honorable or dishonorable discharge from their “service” (performance) contract with the military once that contractual term (life) is executed. Most problems in court are the result of public persons attempting to act in a private capacity while still claiming to be (appear as) public property in persona. The fool will still attempt to use the proprietary credit and benefits of that debtor system and franchise of mammon as if it is a God-given Right, committing civil actions in that sin (syn) of artifice and personhood (legal status) while remaining clueless about how to obtain such a spiritual (private) Life under God utilizing only the actual “negative” protections of God’s Nature and Laws. The second we claim the protective legal surname as that which is attached to our christian name in false security, the legal franchise of commercial citizenship is invoked, and God’s Nature is rendered absentee at bar. The trial is ongoing, the probation permanent until overcome. For we may only Exist and serve under one God (Sovereign). We may choose to worship the Sovereign Nature of Jehovah as God or we may continue in approbation to worship the words and contracts of a corporation calling itself as a god (legal sovereignty), knowing that all the gods of the nations are idols.

Most in the “alternative,” “patriot,” and “truth” movement get lost in their original ideals and intent, never finding the need to prove themselves to God and instead seeking the false promise of retribution in mammon. We are lead away from True knowledge of scripture at every turn, seeking remedy and reward in a form that can only ever be debt (as money) and thus property of some government corporation. Retribution is the reward for approbation to the legal system and law, for believing in (loving) its delusion more than the Reality of Nature and Its Law, and for acceptance and consent to that fictional existence in persona. This is a miserable failure, an attainment of mental conditioning and spiritual death that is the opposite of the end goal of such a probation. Instead of proving one’s worthiness to Be Free under God’s Law in Nature by adhering only to Its Highest Law in abandonment of what fictional legal id-entity Caesar has rendered, one instead accepts a state of retribution while remaining voluntarily ensnared in and addicted to the legal matrix, whether one finds himself under the illusion of wealth in the legal paradise of mammon or in the harsh Reality of legalized poverty and squaller.

RETRIBUTION - noun - 1. Repayment; RETURN accommodated to the action; REWARD; COMPENSATION. In good offices and due retributions, we may not be pinching and niggardly. 2. A GRATUITY OR PRESENT GIVEN FOR SERVICES IN THE PLACE OF A SALARY. 3. THE DISTRIBUTION OF REWARDS and punishments at the general judgment. It is a strong argument for a state of retribution hereafter, that in this world VIRTUOUS PERSONS ARE VERY OFTEN UNFORTUNATE, AND VICIOUS PERSONS PROSPEROUS. (Webs1828)

TRIBUTE - noun - [Latin tributum, from tribuo, to give, bestow or divide.] 1. An annual or stated sum of money OR OTHER VALUABLE THING, PAID BY ONE PRINCE OR NATION TO ANOTHER, EITHER AS AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF SUBMISSION, OR AS THE PRICE OF PEACE AND PROTECTION, OR BY VIRTUE OF SOME TREATY. The Romans made all their conquered countries pay tribute as do the Turks at this day; AND IN SOME COUNTRIES THE TRIBUTE IS PAID IN CHILDREN. 2. A personal contribution; as a tribute of respect. 3. Something given or contributed. (Webs1828)
The United States, as all other nations, is a holding company for the goyim, for the reprobate soul: Law of God, which admonishes respect and (demonic) possession of persons, flattering titles, chance of probation for good behavior through the unwavering adherence to only the foundational reprobate (those abandoned to sin). Yet this prison for debtors to mammon is set up with the a legal franchise (freedom) and commercial vessel (person) in debtor’s hell while remaining one of the reprobate silver shall men call them, because the Lord hath rejected them. Jeremiah 6:30. 2. Abandoned in sin; lost to virtue or grace. THEY PROFESS THAT THEY KNOW GOD, BUT IN WORKS DENY HIM, BEING ABOMINABLE AND DISOBEDIENT, AND TO EVERY GOOD WORK REPROBATE. Titus 1:16. 3. Abandoned to error, or in apostasy. 2 Timothy 3:8. - noun - A PERSON ABANDONED TO SIN; ONE LOST TO VIRTUE AND RELIGION. I acknowledge myself a reprobate a villain, a traitor to the king. - verb transitive - 1. To disapprove with detestation or marks of extreme dislike; to disallow; to reject. It expresses more than disapprove or disallow. We disapprove of slight faults and improprieties: WE REPROBATE WHAT IS MEAN OR CRIMINAL. 2. In a milder sense, to disallow. Such an answer as this, is reprobated and disallowed of in law. 3. To abandon to wickedness and eternal destruction. 4. TO ABANDON TO HIS SENTENCE WITHOUT HOPE OF PARDON. Drive him out to reprobated exile. (Webs1828)

But do not be fooled, for those private citizens of the States (People) are only in retribution legally, not spiritually. They are not men of God, but men in corporate corruption and piracy. They are not the followers of Christ, and instead built this legal matrix of nations and false doctrines to ensnare and entrap all men from their inception into God’s Kingdom. They are not the good guys. They are not heroes. They are not following Christ’s teachings in any way. They are nothing if not the personification of the devil watching over their own created hell for debtors. They are the artificers, the false gods, creators and patenters of all fictional inventions.

All legal systems are merely organized, legalized (permitted) crime. They literally can be nothing else in the figurative eyes of Jehovah (Nature). They are merely incorporated combinations of men in conspiracy to injure (bring under their own false law) and thus legally harm and extort from all others through a fictional system created in an occult societal Order with the design to elevate and benefit the few in magistracy at the expense of the multitude. This is not God’s way, and it is certainly not on par with Christ’s path or Law. They have twisted and misused the scriptural teachings in purposeful error and cursing its intent, using their own false interpretations and recreated doctrines (laws) to forcibly justify their lying existence in the stead of (anti-) God’s Word (Son). These are only systems of executive enforcement by land-lords (gods) over various forms (denominations) of feudalism. It has seemingly always been this way, and today’s multitude of the nations are what remains of that very old and modified legal system that drives men into this state of reprobation — a condemned sentence as the rejection of the acknowledgement of blood-right. The names change as do the defining words and languages, but the concepts from that tree of knowledge of good and evil in artifice remain. And so the self-appointed sovereign power will always offer its “protection” from “danger” to those willing to “dwell” in submission and conformity against Nature’s Law and God in approbation (approval) of the sovereign’s will and binding contract to its corporate, legal matrix code. We, as the willing denizens of this debtor’s hell, must therefore accept sin as a way of life and embrace lies as the confirmed truth. And through this corporate system, legal names and titles are recreated from the informed vital qualities as the statistics of a Life that will never be Lived as it was destined.

We are the enemy of our own Selves, for we personify what is adversarial (satanic) to our True Nature. We chose reprobation and never find redemption.

REDEMPTION - noun - [Latin redemptio. See Redeem.] 1. Repurchase of captured goods or prisoners: the act of procuring the deliverance of persons or things from the possession and power of captors by the payment of an equivalent; ransom; RELEASE, as the redemption of a ship and cargo. 2. DELIVERANCE FROM BONDAGE, DISTRESS, OR FROM LIABILITY TO ANY EVIL OR FORFEITURE, EITHER BY MONEY, LABOR OR OTHER MEANS. 3. Repurchase, as of lands alienated. Leviticus 25:24; Jeremiah 32:7. 4. THE LIBERATION OF AN ESTATE FROM A MORTGAGE; or the purchase of the right to re-enter upon it by paying the principal sum for which it was mortgaged with interest and cost; also, the right of redeeming and re-entering. 5. Repurchase of notes, bills or other EVIDENCE OF DEBT by paying their value in specie to their holders. 6. In theology, THE PURCHASE OF GOD’S FAVOR BY THE DEATH AND SUFFERINGS OF CHRIST; THE RANSOM OR DELIVERANCE OF SINNERS FROM THE BONDAGE OF SIN AND THE PENALTIES OF GOD’S VIOLATED LAW BY THE
Have you noticed that all of these legal terms are straight out of the Bible? From being redeemed, finding retribution or remedy, being reprobate and finding probation, and of course the notion of tribulation so misunderstood by the corporate Christian that knows not his place as a tributary of such evils in the artifice of church and state. This sort of legal (dead) simulation of the story of the Law (christ) has been recreated into the legal system, and ultimately we find it to be a simulacra — a copy without an original — for there is no redemption without the blood of christ. The legal matrix is outside of and detached from God’s Nature, and so even as a simulation it has no semblance to its proclaimed Source of authority and false legal existence, which is of course God. Yet God respects no such artifice, no such titles, no such borders of nations, and certainly no such fictional personas as those imposter “fathers” that built this nation with word-magic alone.

Ultimately, the entire structure built by these fathers (gods) of controlled chaos in the legal realm is to prevent us from yet another stolen and legalized term, to cause men to worship fictional gods as their landlords and saviors:

How can man be saved from his enemy when he is unwittingly patriotic towards it? In the legal realm we really only have two possibilities of status (persona), which is master or servant. The masters are in retribution by their legal tributary of subjects suffering from their voluntary approbation in agency. It is a system of master (receiver of tributes) vs. subject (prisoners on probation to become either masters or, in abandonment of the fiction towards spiritual salvation, men of God). For citizenship is indeed a bondage to sin (synthetic things) and a liability to spiritual death in legal personhood.

Please, whatever you do, do not confuse True Salvation in Jehovah (the figurative blood of christ) with what is acted out in false show within the evangelistic corporations and their employed (used) false preachers (teachers) in mammon. For the church and state are one and the same, two parts of the same artificial person of government, corporate entities with the same father of lies.

Here again we see the simulation of former caste systems, that insurable chance of hazard called interstate commerce being as just another artificial space on the monopoly board. Of course, all ships must be ensured on their ad-ventures on behalf of the state, for the ship (status) is state property as are the rights bestowed upon the status (person) in its commercial venture. One does not rent a car or other vessel without guaranteeing (insuring) its safe return, its voyage home to dock after ad-venture. So remember, to lay (lie) is defined as to wage a chance of hazard, where one’s lot is staked. It’s all about business, a Life-like game of monopoly played by actors in agency, as the game of artificial life in the AI.

ALEATORY - Depending upon an EVENT the outcome of which is unknown; resting upon a contingency. Applied, mainly, to annuities and insurance contracts. It is of the essence of all aleatory contracts that there should be RISK on one side or on both sides. (WCA1889) HAZARD - noun - [Latin casus, A FALL, and ard, the common termination.] 1. CHANCE; accident; casualty; a fortuitous EVENT; that which falls or comes suddenly or unexpectedly, the cause of which is unknown, or whose operation is unforeseen or unexpected. I will stand the hazard of the dice. 2. DANGER; peril; RISK. He encountered the enemy at the hazard of his reputation and life. Men are led on from one stage of life to another, in a condition of the utmost hazard. 3. A GAME AT DICE. To run the hazard to risk; to take the chance; to do or neglect to do something, when the consequences are not foreseen, and not within the powers of calculation. - verb transitive - To expose to chance; to put in danger of loss or injury; to venture; to risk; as, to hazard life to save a friend; to hazard an estate on the throw of a dice;
TO HAZARD SALVATION FOR TEMPORAL PLEASURE. Men hazard nothing by a course of evangelical obedience. 1. To venture to incur, or bring on; as, to hazard the loss or reputation. - verb intransitive - TO TRY THE CHANCE, TO ADVENTURE, TO RUN THE RISK OR DANGER. Pause a day or two, before you hazard— (Webs1828)

GRAMMAR. (Webs1828)

ACCEDE - verb intransitive - [Latin accedo, of ad and cedo, to yield or give place, or rather to move.] 1. To agree or assent, as to a proposition, or TO TERMS PROPOSED BY ANOTHER Hence in a negotiation. 2. TO BECOME A PARTY, BY AGREEING TO THE TERMS of a treaty or convention. (Webs1828)

ACCITE - verb transitive - [Latin ad and cito, to cite.] To call; to cite; TO SUMMON. [Not used.] (Webs1828)

ACCEDED - participle present tense - Agreeing; assenting; BECOMING A PARTY to a treaty by agreeing to the terms proposed. (Webs1828)

ACIDENT - The word “accident” is derived from the Latin verb “accidere” signifying “fall upon; befall. happen. CHANCE.” In an etymological sense anything that happens may be said to be an accident and in this sense, the word has been defined as befalling; a change; a happening; an incident; an occurrence OR EVENT. In its most commonly accepted meaning, or in its ordinary or popular sense, the word may be defined as meaning a fortuitous circumstance. EVENT; or happening. AN EVENT HAPPENING WITHOUT ANY HUMAN AGENCY, OR IF HAPPENING WHOLLY OR PARTLY THROUGH HUMAN AGENCY, an event which under the circumstances is unusual and unexpected by the person to whom it happens; an unusual, fortuitous, unexpected, unforeseen or unlooked for event, happening or occurrence; an unusual or unexpected result attending the operation or performance of a usual or necessary act or event; chance or contingency; fortune; mishap some sudden and unexpected event taking place without expectation, upon the instant. RATHER THAN SOMETHING WHICH CONTINUES, PROGRESSES OR DEVELOPS, something happening by chance; something unforeseen, unexpected, unusual, extraordinary or phenomenal, taking place NOT ACCORDING TO THE USUAL COURSE OF THINGS OR EVENTS, out of the range of ordinary calculations; THAT WHICH EXISTS OR OCCURS ABNORMALLY, or an uncommon occurrence; the word may be employed as denoting a calamity, casualty, catastrophe, disaster, an undesirable or unfortunate happening; any unexpected personal injury resulting from any unlooked for mishap or occurrence; any unpleasant or unfortunate occurrence, that causes injury, loss, suffering or death; some untoward occurrence aside from the usual course of events. WITHOUT KNOWN OR ASSIGNABLE CAUSE. In its proper use the term excludes negligence; that is, an accident is an event which occurs without the fault, carelessness, or want of proper circumspection of the person affected, or which could not have been avoided by the use of that kind and degree of care necessary to the exigency and in the circumstances in which he was placed. Essential requirement being that happening be one to which human fault does not contribute; happening of an event without any human agency. It has been said, moreover, that the word

"accident" does not have a settled legal signification; and that in its ordinary meaning it does not negative the idea of negligence on the part of the person whose physical act caused the occurrence. Not merely inevitable causality or the act of providence, or what is technically called vis major, or irresistible force. See ACT OF GOD. (Black4)

As hard as it is to ponder, the birth “event” as certified and sealed is an accident, a chance happening in the danger (jurisdiction), meaning that the district happened to find a treasure (pirate booty), a child (issue) abandoned (delivered) with unknown (undeclared) parentage.

While this may not seem relevant, we must understand that to the bloodline powers that be, heraldry or the right to bear family Arms is everything. And so for the bloodline there are no accidents of birth. Each issue is registered as part of a fabled genealogy that causes each descendant to be considered in law automatically as an heir to the inheritance of the family born into. While most common men acting in the publicity of national citizenships (dead, commercial vessels) have lost all sense of what it means to bear their own Arms in heraldry, those who have been made into the goyim of the nations, all births are considered thereof to be as accidental, unplanned, and illegitimate. For the intent of the issue is not recorded or respected with regard to blood and inheritance (heirship). Quite the opposite... the accident is always a corruption of blood, and thus not suitable (having no capacity) for heirship.

Here again I would ask that the reader not shoot the messenger, for we are only seeking the Truth about this fiction. Sometimes that means we must view the world through the eyes of the evil bastards who recreated it as simulation in legal fiction and fabled genealogies, the parabolic history of the bloodlines. I will continue to state that the blood of christ is all that actually matters and that yes, this is all a fable told by those born into false magistracy and sovereignty in Order to retain their family holdings. Do not mistake the intent of this work as justification for any of this legalistic crap!

ACCIDENT - An unforeseeable and unexpected turn of EVENTS THAT CAUSES LOSS IN VALUE, injury, and increased liabilities. THE EVENT IS NOT DELIBERATELY CAUSED AND IS NOT INEVITABLE. Refer to INCIDENT. (Black2)

ACCIDENT - noun - [Latin accidentem, FALLING, from ad and cadao, TO FALL. See Case and Cadence. Class Gd.] 1. A coming or falling; an event that takes place without one’s foresight or expectation; an event which proceeds from an UNKNOWN CAUSE, or is an UNUSUAL EFFECT OF A KNOWN CAUSE, and therefore not expected; chance: casually: contingency. 2. That which takes place or BEGINS TO EXIST without an efficient intelligent cause and without design. All of them, in his opinion, owe their being, to fate, accident or the blind action of stupid matter. 3. In logic. A PROPERTY, or QUALITY OF A BEING WHICH IS NOT ESSENTIAL TO IT, as whiteness in paper. Also ALL QUALITIES ARE CALLED ACCIDENTS, IN OPPOSITION TO SUBSTANCE, as sweetness, softness, and things not essential to a body, as clothes. 4. In grammar, SOMETHING BELONGING TO A WORD BUT NOT ESSENTIAL TO IT, as gender, number, inflection. 5. IN HERALDRY, A POINT OR MARK, NOT ESSENTIAL TO A COAT OF ARMS. (Webs1828)

INCIDENT - adjective - Falling; casual; fortuitous; coming or happening occasionally, or NOT IN THE USUAL COURSE OF THINGS, or not according to expectation or in connection with the main design. As the ordinary course of common affairs is disposed of by general laws, so man’s rarer incident necessities and utilities should be with special equity considered. A proposition introduced by who, which, whose, whom, etc. is called an incident proposition; as, Julius, whose surname was Caesar, overcame Pompey. 1. Happening; apt to happen; as intertemperate passions incident to human nature; diseases incident to a climate; misfortunes incident to the poor. 2. APPERTAINING TO OR FOLLOWING THE CHIEF OR PRINCIPAL. A court baron is incident to a manor. - noun - THAT WHICH FALLS OUT; AN EVENT: casualty. 1. THAT WHICH HAPPENS ASIDE OF THE MAIN DESIGN; an episode or subordinate action. No person, no incident in a play but must be of use to carry on the main design. (Webs1828)

INCIDENT - This word, used as a noun, denotes anything which inseparably belongs to, or is connected with, or inherent in, ANOTHER THING, called the "PRINCIPAL." In this sense, a court-baron is incident to a manor. Also, less strictly, it denotes anything which is usually connected with another, or connected for some purposes, THOUGH NOT INSEPARABLY. Thus, THE RIGHT OF ALIENATION IS INCIDENT TO AN ESTATE IN FEE-SIMPLE, THOUGH SEPARABLE IN EQUITY. (Black2)

INCIDENT AND APPURTENANT - A term that describes the things that happen WHEN PROPERTY OR LAND IS TRANSFERRED. (Black2)

APPURTENANT - Belonging to; accessory or incident to; adjunct, appended, or annexed to; answering to accessorium in the civil law. A thing is deemed to be incidental or appurtenant to land when it is by right used with the land for its benefit, as in the case of a way, or water-course, or of a passage for light, air, or heat from or across the land of another. (Black2)

ACCESSORY - Property. Everything which IS JOINED to another thing, as an ornament, or to render it more perfect, is an accessory. AND BELONGS TO THE PRINCIPAL THING. For example, the halter of a horse, the frame of a picture, the keys of a house, and the like; but a bequest of a house would not carry the furniture in it, as accessory to it. Accesorium non ducit, sed sequitur principale. Vide Accession; Adjunction; Appendant; Appurtenances; Appurtenant; Incident. (Black2)

ACCESSORY CONTRACT - One made for ASSURING THE PERFORMANCE of a prior contract, either by the same parties, or by others; such as SURETYSHIP, MORTGAGES, AND PLEDGES. 2. It is a general rule, that PAYMENT OF THE DEBT DUE, OR THE PERFORMANCE OF A THING REQUIRED TO BE PERFORMED BY THE FIRST OR PRINCIPAL CONTRACT, IS A FULL DISCHARGE of such accessory obligation. 3. An accessory agreement to guaranty an original contract, which is void, has no binding effect. (Black2)

CASE - noun - 1. A covering, box or sheath; that which incloses or contains; as a case for knives; a case for books; a watch case; a printers case; a pillow case. 2. The outer part of a building. 3. A certain quantity; as a case of crown glass. 4. A building unfurnished. - verb transitive - 1. To cover with a case; TO SURROUND WITH ANY MATERIAL THAT SHALL INCLOSE OR DEFEND. 2. To put in a case or box. 3. To strip off a case covering, or the skin. - noun - Literally, THAT WHICH FALLS, comes, or happens; AN EVENT. Hence, THE PARTICULAR STATE, CONDITION, OR CIRCUMSTANCES THAT BEFALL A PERSON, OR IN WHICH HE IS PLACED; as, make the case your own; this is the case with my friend; this is his present case. 2. The state of the body, with respect to health or disease; as a case of fever; he is in a consumptive case; his case is desperate. To be in good case is to be fat, and this phrase is customarily abridged, to be in case; applied to BEASTS, but not to men, except in a sense rather ludicrous. 3. A question; a state of facts involving a question for discussion or decision; as, THE LAWYER STATED THE CASE. 4. A CAUSE OR SUIT IN COURT; as, the case was tried at the last term. In this sense, case is nearly synonymous with CAUSE, whose primary sense is nearly the same. 5. In grammar, the inflection of nouns, or a change of termination, TO EXPRESS A DIFFERENCE OF RELATION IN THE WORD TO OTHERS, OR TO THE THING REPRESENTED. The variation of nouns and adjectives is called declension; both case and declension signifying, FALLING OR LEANING FROM THE FIRST STATE OF THE WORD. Thus, liber is a book; libri, of a book; libro, to a book. In other words, case denotes a variation in the termination of a noun, TO SHOW HOW THE NOUN ACTS UPON THE VERB WITH WHICH IT IS CONNECTED, OR IS ACTED UPON BY IT, OR BY AN AGENT. The cases, except the nominative, are called oblique cases. In case is a phrase denoting CONDITION or supposition; literally, IN THE EVENT OR CONTINGENCY; if it should so fall out or happen. Put the case, suppose the event, or a certain state of things. Action on the case in law, is an action in which the whole cause of complaint is set out in the writ. -

CAUSE - noun - s as z. 1. A suit or action in court; any legal process which a party institutes to obtain his demand, or by which he seeks his right or his supposed right. This is a legal, scriptural and popular use of the word, coinciding nearly with case from cado, and action from ago, to urge or drive. The cause of both parties shall come before the judges. Exodus 22:5. 2. That which produces an effect: THAT WHICH IMPELS INTO EXISTENCE, OR BY ITS AGENCY OR OPERATION PRODUCES WHAT DID NOT BEFORE EXIST; that by virtue of which any thing is done: THAT FROM WHICH ANY THING PROCEEDS, AND WITHOUT WHICH IT WOULD NOT EXIST. Cause is a SUBSTANCE exerting its power into ACT, TO MAKE A THING BEGIN TO BE. 3. The reason or motive that urges, moves, or impels the mind to act or decide. For this cause have I raised up Pharaoh. Exodus 9:16. And David said, is there not a cause? 1 Samuel 17:29. 4. Sake; account. I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong. 2 Corinthians 6:1. [See Sake.] 5. THAT WHICH A PARTY OR NATION PURSUES; or rather pursuit, PROSECUTION OF AN OBJECT. We say, Bible Societies are engaged in a noble cause. [See the first definition.] Hence the word cause is used to denote that which a person or thing favors; that to which the efforts of an intelligent being are directed, as, to promote religion is to advance the cause of God. So we say, the cause of truth or of justice. In all its applications, cause retains something of its original meaning, struggle, impelling force, content, effort to obtain or to effect something. 6. Without cause without good reason; without a reason or motive to justify the act. They hate me without cause. Psalms 35:19. Psalms 69:4. - verb transitive - 1. TO PRODUCE, TO BRING INTO EXISTENCE. They caused great joy to all the brethren. Acts 15:3. 2. TO EFFECT BY AGENCY, POWER OR INFLUENCE. I will cause it to rain on the earth forty days. Genesis 7:4. I will cause him to fall by the sword. 2 Kings 19:7. - verb intransitive - To assign insuficient cause. (Webster1828)

Note that Webster states above that alienation is a right! This is so important to understand for voluntary slavery is thus a right, as are any crimes against man and Nature (God) made incident to citizenship and other contracts created by these legal gods. And so yes in deed, exaction (extortion) when legalized (made lawful) is certainly your equal right! For equality, as an equal right for all citizenships, is merely the legalese way of saying that all slaves are equally punishable under law.

The initial fall of man is that which happens at the birth event (accident/chance), where abandonment (de-livery) takes place and where cause is created. No case exists until cause is established. But more importantly, no legal cause exists unless a legal person (status) is created, for no legal case can exist without the artificial existence of a party in law as its cause. A person can only be an accessory to the court system if he accedes to the principal of that system by accepting its legal status in persona and therefore that principal’s artful foundations (principles) of legal (anti-God) law. And this is the story of the Bible foretold, as an interwinding pathology of the prophetic tales and potentialities regarding the eventual fall of each man into this fictional state of being, which in the end necessarily ends with standing either with or opposed to God’s Law and Nature.

—Rex Ellingswood Beach, ‘Heart of the Sunset,’ chapter 9, 1915
The notion of an accident of birth is referential only to the goyim, those citizenships born generally of the nation in adulterous bastardy. Only public persons have accidents of births. For only public persons have no design or reason for giving birth, as we have no inheritable things to pass on to our kin. Our blood is already corrupted by our own legal origin of birth and de-livery. For the public slave, no purpose is served in procreation because no blood may be passed, no heir can be born, and so no Natural Design can be followed. No family tree need be filled in, for nothing will befall that new branch from the previous root. The bloodline is severed. This is to say that there is no purpose in law to claim paternity for the typical public person and subject in citizenship to the United States, for the child’s only value is seen as purely commercial, as in its future human trafficking and labor potential. A child born without heirship is a worthless (without land) bastard to be exploited only for its human qualities in capitalism. Only private persons have cause to give birth in a non-accidental way, serving the design and purpose of the inheritable blood-right in landed estate.

—Karl Deutsch, Nationality and Its Alternatives, 1969, extracted from Shlomo Sand’s “The Invention of the Jewish People,” (English) 2009

And this is the importance of the naming and recording process by those vampiric heirs and tyrants of blood. They have established us, the common people in blood corruption, as their chattel herd to feed upon our figurative flesh, which in scriptural terms refers to our secular (worldly) yet unspiritual actions in the commerce of mammon and temporal, legal fiction. And all herds must have a shepherd, a protector, one who is superior in entitlement and to whom the herd mentality stands in subjection. This is the price of such protection for the fallen. For the protector of any herd forces the issue of such protection only with intent to exploit that herd, either for its strength, its hide, or its meat. There is no exception to this rule but christ (“Jehovah is salvation”), not for the lonely farmer nor the church or state.

ACCIDENT OF BIRTH - Any and all particulars surrounding one’s birth (physical characteristics, social background, and even nationality) that are considered A RESULT OF PARENTAGE and the specific circumstances of birth, and are therefore ENTIRELY OUT OF ONE’S CONTROL. My poverty when I was young was merely an accident of birth; through hard work and determination, I was able to overcome it and lead a successful life. (Farlex Dictionary of Idioms, 2015)

ACCIDENT OF BIRTH - A situation CAUSED BY WHO YOUR FAMILY IS rather than by anything you do. (Macmillan Dictionary online)

ACCIDENT OF BIRTH - 1. Noun. (Idiomatic) A fact, situation, or PERSONAL CHARACTERISTIC, which may be desirable or undesirable, RESULTING FROM THE CIRCUMSTANCES INTO WHICH A PERSON WAS BORN, and which is therefore entirely beyond his or her control. (English Wiktionary)

This notion of accident, as all terms of art, is dualistic in meaning. We call in law and in the social sphere anything that happens in Nature, as that which happens outside of the control of man’s designs such as lightening or earthquakes as an “act of God.” This alone should be enough to foil any attempts by the reader whom may claim that the governments of the world do not recognize the power of God’s Nature. But when the legal gods bestow a name, right, title, number, or any other mark of distinction upon a child, this too is considered as an accident of the gods (of persons). In other words, some event happened that was completely out of the control of the infant, not because it was an act of God in Nature, but because the event happened before the age of consent and in an artificial system over which the common man has no control. But let’s be very clear here… while the birth event was certainly out of the child’s control, the choice to continue living in false existence in and by the legal name, title, number, image, and mark of that accident of birth is entirely up to the man acting in such false persona (status). The age of consent as adulthood is a choice to continue acting in legalized adultery. This is to say that we cannot blame that accident of birth or use it as an excuse before God and Nature, for God respects no such artifices as persons and titles. No excuses. We may only excuse ourselves before the magistrate gods by our acceptance of that legal state name, number, and mark. We must use the characteristics of birth and agree to its legal terms of art and law in order for its accidental qualities to “protect” us in our commercial adventures and en-danger-ment. We must, in other words, live (fictionally exist) in sin (synthetic life) for our sins to be protected and insured against, though our sins are never allowed to be directed against the gods of the state. We can screw each other over as much as we like, as long as government gets its take (tax and fee), and as long as its anti-God legal laws are followed in commerce. Sin (syn) is based in commerce, regulated under the Departments of Commerce and Treasury.

An accident of birth should not be confused with the notion of an intended or unintended pregnancy. These terms merely denote the planning of the rhythmic timing of sexual intercourse according to the cycles of fertility, not the status of the child when birthed in Nature and then into fiction. Any ignorant fool can give birth to a bastard at any time they may wish, be they married or unmarried. The corporate contract of legal marriage between public persons matters not, for citizen-ships can never have legitimate offspring by their legal combination (conspiracy). It is the ignorance of parental status in paternity and blood relation that creates the accident of birth, as the de-livery of the child as property in persona to the state.

All of Nature, all of God’s Creation, is in a state of alienation comparative to government. The legal name changes the consideration and status of all things. Nature’s verb is nounced, if you will, caused to be subjected by its man-made name. The name is property, thus legally what the name is attached to therefore should be considered as flatteringly titled property. Names are not creations of fiction, fiction is the recreation of names, of the terms of art of man’s imagination. Therefore government must conquer (purchase) all of God’s Creation by naming each part with legal names (nouns) and titles (nouns). While citizen-ship is worshiped as the apparent source of rights, those rights are merely political and legal in their assessment, artificial and commercial, having no moral consideration whatsoever and certainly not of any substance of the Natural Law. They are not voluntary. They are requirements of law for those who volunteer to stand under them in persona and surety for their performance. A man has no political rights unless he surrenders himself to the legal creator and governors (magistrates) of those rights as its legal subject. Be it Jehovah or magistrates pretending to be gods and standing as antichrists (vicars), man must surrender himself to one or the other, but never to both. God or mammon? The choice is clear…

“PROTECTION DRAWS WITH IT SUBJECTION, AND SUBJECTION PROTECTION.”

“The protection of an individual by government is on condition of his SUBMISSION TO THE LAWS, and such submission on the other hand ENTITLES the individual to the protection of the government.”

—PROTECTIO TRAHIT SUBJECTIONEM, ET SUBJECTIO PROTECTIONEM. 7 Coke, 5a. Broom, Max. 78. (Black4)
The maxims (principals of law) are all too clear.

But what exactly is “protection” and how is it applied to US citizen-ships dwelling in danger?

One thing is for sure, protection from the State is not that which is invoked through the Lord’s Prayer, and the negative protections secured by following God’s Law are quite opposite to that of securing the protection of legal, commercial paper. This legal word protection, while sounding reasonable and logical enough, is just another reference to the financial tyranny of mammon.

Protection is insurance — a guaranty of the use of the state surname in franchise. Protection is just another word for security in danger, from the peril of that commercial sea. And it requires a surety of performance in debtor’s hell...

Just as that bestowed protection of the state requires subjection (obligation) to the state and its legal laws, the protection of God requires subjection (duty) to God’s Laws and Nature. There can be only One, and subjection to either is defection from the other. Protection of God under the equitableness of Natural Law is either limited or quelled by protection of the state, just as the public legal laws of the state are canceled out by the Natural Law of God. God protects Free, Lawful men. The state protects persons as its property.

PROTECTION - noun - The act of protecting; defense; SHelter from evil; PRESERVATION FROM LOSS, INJURY OR ANNOYANCE. We find protection under good laws and an upright administration. How little are men disposed to acknowledge divine protection! 1. That which protects or preserves FROM INJURY. Let them rise up and help you, and be your protection. Deuteronomy 32:38. (Web1828)

PROTECTION - noun - 2. A WRITING that protects; a passport or other writing which secures from molestation. 3. EXEMPTION. Embassadors at foreign courts are entitled to protection from arrest. Members of parliament, representatives and senators, are entitled to protection from arrest during their attendance on the legislature, as are suitors and witnesses attending a court. Writ of protection (is) a writ by which the king of Great Britain exempts a PERSON from arrest. (Web1828)

PROTECTION - ...In former times the name "protection" was also given to a certificate given to a sailor to show that he was exempt from impressment into the royal navy. In mercantile law. The name of a document generally given by notaries public to sailors and other persons going abroad, in which it is certified that the bearer therein named is a citizen of the United States. IN PUBLIC COMMERCIAL LAW. A system by which a government imposes customs duties upon commodities of foreign origin or manufacture when imported into the country... (Black4)

SECURITY - PROTECTION; assurance; indemnification. The term is usually applied to an obligation. Pledge, mortgage, deposit, Lien, etc., GIVEN BY A DEBTOR IN ORDER TO MAKE SURE THE PAYMENT OR PERFORMANCE OF HIS DEBT, by furnishing the creditor with a resource to be used in case of failure IN THE PRINCIPAL OBLIGATION. The NAME is also sometimes given to ONE WHO BECOMES SURETY OR GUARANTOR FOR ANOTHER. (Black4)

SECURITIES - EVIDENCES OF DEBTS OR OF PROPERTY. Evidences of OBLIGATIONS TO PAY money or of rights to participate in earnings and distribution of corporate, trust, and other property. (Black4)

PERSONAL SECURITY - (1) A PERSON’S LEGAL and uninterrupted enjoyment of his LIFE, his limbs, his body, his health, and his reputation. (2) Evidences of debt WHICH BIND THE PERSON OF THE DEBTOR, not real property. (Black4)
PUBLIC SECURITIES - Bonds, notes, CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS, and other negotiable or transferable instruments evidencing the PUBLIC DEBT of a state or government. (Black4)

REAL SECURITIES - The security of MORTGAGES or other liens or incumbrances upon land. (Black4)

SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOR - A bond or recognizance which the magistrate EXACTS from a defendant brought before him on a charge of disorderly conduct or threatening violence, conditioned upon his being of good behavior, or keeping the peace, for a prescribed period, towards all people in general and the complainant in particular. (Black4)

One guess as to what the true nature of a public security actually is? The birth certificate is the named fictional citizen) as a bond and surety (in-surance) so that the man who acts in the undertaking of interstate commerce (as a foreign agent) can be forced by his bonded indebtedness to comply with all legal laws applying to the “person of the debtor,” and thus be exacted and extorted “in person” through taxation and other legal designs under the protections of that law of false things. The law protects slavery. A debt is any obligation, monetary or otherwise, yet all debts have a value in money (mammon). A performance debt is a wager of future return. The laws applied to the person are thus forcibly vested in personhood and so must be followed by the man acting in persona (a dummy acting in the legal title of another) in strictissimi juris. The legal law of the fiction, therefore, controls the spiritual Nature of man. Reality is usurped by fakery.

Do you feel protected by having a mortgage lien upon your strawman’s “personal” property?

Do you feel protected by being forced to pay for your own freedom through exaction of the court as a “security for good behavior” while trapped in its legal persona?

Do you feel protected because you are under personal security of the legal law, forced to follow it against your moral compunction of religious belief, knowing that the wellbeing of your life, liberty, property, and reputation are all evidences of debt that can be taken away any time with due process of legal law?

Do you now comprehend what citizenship really is? Do you think prison guards really “protect” their prisoners?

Do you think that just maybe the majority of common men must be so clothed in the surety of personhood and violently enforced legal laws of conduct merely to protect the select few who profit and gain from human bondage through capitalism (control of live-stock by the head) — a security for the legalized criminal class of men who ensure their reign, danger, and wealth by insuring and wagering against the Law of Nature’s equitable means? For what man with knowledge of these legal schemas and mysteries would submit to being ruled by such financial tricksters and artful wordsmiths as these?

SCHEMER - noun - One that contrives; a projector; a contriver. (Webs1828)

PROJECTOR - noun - One who forms a scheme or design. 1. One who forms wild or impracticable schemes. (Webs1828)
CONTRIVER - noun - AN INVENTOR; one who plans or devises: A SCHEMER - verb transitive - 1. To invent; to devise; to plan. Our poet has always some beautiful design, which he first ESTABLISHES, and then contrives the means which will naturally conduct him to his end. 2. To wear out. [This must be from the Latin Contero, contrivi, and if the French controuver, and Italian controvare, are the same word differently applied, the primary sense is, to invent by rubbing, that is, by ruminating; or to STRIKE OUT, as in FORGE. But the word is probably from trouver, TO FIND.] - verb intransitive - TO FORM OR DESIGN; to plan; to scheme. How shall we contrive to hide our shame? [This verb is really transitive, but followed by a verb, in the place of an object or name.] (Webs1828)

INVENTOR - noun - One who FINDS out something new; one who contrives and produces any thing NOT BEFORE EXISTING; a contriver. The inventors of many of the most useful arts are not known. (Webs1828)

SCHEMATISM - noun - [Gr. See Scheme.] 1. Combination of the aspects of heavenly bodies. 2. PARTICULAR FORM OR DISPOSITION OF A THING. [A word not much used.] (Webs1828)

SCHEME - noun [Latin schema; Gr. from a contracted word, probably from to have or hold.] 1. A plan; a COMBINATION of things connected and adjusted by design; A SYSTEM. We shall never be able to give ourselves a satisfactory account of the divine conduct without forming such a scheme of things as shall take in time and eternity. 2. A project; a contrivance; a plan of something to be done; A DESIGN. Thus we say, to FORM a scheme; to LAY (lie) a scheme; to CONTRIVE a scheme. The stoical scheme of supplying our wants by lopping off our desires, is like cutting off our feet when we want shoes. 3. A REPRESENTATION of the aspects of the celestial bodies; any lineal or mathematical diagram. - verb transitive - To plan; to contrive. - verb intransitive - To form a plan; to contrive. (Webs1828)

SCHEME - A design or plan formed to accomplish some purpose - A SYSTEM. In English law. A DOCUMENT containing provisions for REGULATING THE MANAGEMENT OR DISTRIBUTION OF PROPERTY, or for making AN ARRANGEMENT BETWEEN PERSONS HAVING CONFLICTING RIGHTS… (Black4)

INSURE - To make sure or secure, to guarantee, as, TO INSURE SAFETY TO ANY ONE. To engage to indemnify a PERSON against pecuniary loss from specified PERILS. To act as an insurer. (Black4)

CONSPIRE - verb intransitive - [Latin, to plot; TO BREATHE. But the primary sense is to throw, to wind; hence spira, a fold, circle, wreath or band; and the sense of the verb is, TO BREATHE TOGETHER, or more probably, to wind or BAND TOGETHER.] 1. To agree, BY OATH, COVENANT or otherwise, TO COMMIT A CRIME; TO PLOT; TO HATCH TREASON. The servants of Ammon conspired against him, and slew the king in his own house. 2 Kings 21:23. They conspired against Joseph to slay him. Genesis 37:18. 2. In law, TO AGREE FALSELY AND MALICIOUSLY TO INDICT AN INNOCENT PERSON OF FELONY. 3. To agree; to concur to one end. The press, the pulpit, and the stage, conspire to censure and expose our age. All things conspire to make us prosperous. (Webs1828)

What could man possibly do to further conspire against his fellow man than to create a legal scheme to maliciously indict all commoners in their innocence of infancy to a fictional life in legal bondage in felony against their very Nature by the corruption of their blood rights of inheritance? No greater conspiracy against God and Creation could be more evil and adversarial, for these conjurers destroy that Nature with their inventions and trick man into breathing synthetic life into their illusions.
CONSPIRACY - noun - [Latin. See Conspire] 1. A COMBINATION OF MEN FOR AN EVIL PURPOSE; AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN TWO OR MORE PERSONS, TO COMMIT SOME CRIME IN CONCERT; particularly, a combination to commit treason, or excite sedition or insurrection against the government of a state; a plot; a conspiracy against the life of a king; a conspiracy against the government. More than forty had made this conspiracy. Acts 23:13. 2. In law, an agreement between two or more persons, falsely and maliciously to indict, or procure to be indicted, AN INNOCENT PERSON OF FELONY. 3. A concurrence; a general tendency of two or more causes to one EVENT. (Weds1828)

CONSPIRATORS - Persons guilty of a conspiracy, THOSE WHO BIND THEMSELVES BY OATH, COVENANT, OR OTHER ALLIANCE that each of them shall aid the other FALSELY AND MALICIOUSLY TO INDICT PERSONS; or falsely to move and maintain pleas, etc. Besides these, there are conspirators in treasonable purposes, as for plotting against the government. (Black4)

INDICT - verb transitive - ind’ite. [Latin indictus, from indico; in and dico, to speak.] In law, to accuse or CHARGE WITH A CRIME or misdemeanor, IN WRITING, by a grand jury under oath. It is the peculiar province of a grand jury to indict as it is of a house of representatives to impeach. It is followed by of; as indicted of treason or arson. (Weds1828)

Ever notice that the word piracy is in the word conspiracy, that the word nation is in the word combination, and that the word federation (federal) is in the word confederation? Think it’s a coincidence that these words all mean basically the same thing?

The strawman is written (breathed) into existence, a conspiratorial indictment of the innocent baby by the federal and state governments of the bloodline People who created its persona. This act of attainder as corruption of blood allows the bloodline to keep their stolen lands, for no legitimate blood heirs are being born in the public, legal realm to claim or reclaim them, but only fictional persona’s that have no blood consideration to hold land. Their attorneys (agents/proxies), like vultures, wait in probate for the remainder of the old and legitimate bloodline ancestors to die — those who have been tricked into modernly abandoning their children (heirs) into de-livery so as to allow their family land and property to be taken as prize and booty by the still legitimate heirs. For as the man falls, so too does the seedless Arms of his family tree.

It could be said that the constitution for the United States was merely an instrument for insurance purposes; a plan between more than two men as conspirators (fathers) guaranteeing and militarily (executively) securing the privileges, protections, and immunities of those particular bloodline signers (a particular People) and their posterity of future blood heirs, whom conspired together to form a nation for and under themselves and their own posterity (bloodline and blood heirs), as nothing if not a commercial scheme and venture while acting in the combination (conspiracy) of oath to each other and their private citizens (as a specifically defined “white person” status). And it could be said that the “founding fathers” in their free-masonic glory and in Order of their law society were certainly the conspirers, schemers, contrivers, planners, and inventors of that artifice, and that they breathed artificial, legal life into it so as to conspiratorially cause all other men to be their subjects, by falsely and maliciously indicting all other men as some fictional lower class than they. It could also be said and is certainly written within that compact that this scheme was designed as a plot to justify and protect bondage and slavery, which in its writing it makes clear, and that when re-formed by amendment after the civil war, was subsequently reconstructed (through amendments) to enslave instead all men equally in the debt and obligation of the performance of surety in citizenship. But this effort only applied to those who could not or would not through ignorance claim to be of that posterity and immunity through the offer and surety of protection (a financial security) in exchange for subjection to that design in conspiracy. Only the fool accepts danger as his way of Life.
Or one might say, through this conspiracy of government and its 13th and 14th “reconstruction amendments,” that the fictional personas of all common men were breathed (constituted) into a purely legal existence, charged with the crime of national birth in the bond of nativity, and thus indicted with legal, original (ancestral) sin from that very artifice of inception called naturalization and citizen-ship at birth. Like cattle, all men were guaranteed to be monsters (hu-mans), naturals (fools), and thus considered without soul (animal) in return for their subjection as debt-slaves, even while the capitalists (those who use [employ] and profit [extort] from the heads [capita] and “four-footed” hands of men) live off the backs of all debtors, using their faith, their fealty, their property, and each one of us individually as a collective base of totalitarian collateral for the nation’s credit. For the nation pledges its property as collateral for its debts, and the common, dis-eased people (persons) and their future performance in labor are its property and issues…

CAPITA - Heads, and, figuratively, ENTIRE BODIES, whether of PERSONS or ANIMALS. PERSONS INDIVIDUALLY CONSIDERED, without relation to others (polls), AS DISTINGUISHED FROM STIRPES OR STOCKS OF DESCENT. The term in this sense, making part of the common phrases, in capita, per capita, is derived from the civil law (Black4)

CAPABLE - Susceptible; competent; qualified; fitting; possessing legal power or capacity. ABLE, fit or adapted for, “Capable of contracting” as meaning LEGALLY CAPABLE, NOT MENTALLY CAPABLE. (Black4)

CAPACITY - A word having many meanings, DEPENDENT ON ITS RELATIONSHIP TO THE SUBJECT-MATTER. It may mean: ability: actual production of an oil well. An intelligent perception and UNDERSTANDING OF THE DISPOSITIONS MADE OF PROPERTY, etc... Qualification: size, space, or compass, strength, power or force. SOUND MIND: THE ATTRIBUTE OF PERSONS WHICH ENABLES THEM TO PERFORM CIVIL OR JURISTIC ACTS. ‘Capacity to sue’ consists in RIGHT TO COME INTO COURT. "Public capacity” of municipal property is such capacity as all the people of the state are alike interested in. (Black4)

CAPAX DOLI - Latin. Capable of committing crime, or capable of criminal INTENT. The phrase describes THE CONDITION OF ONE WHO HAS SUFFICIENT INTELLIGENCE AND COMPREHENSION TO BE HELD CRIMINALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR HIS DEEDS. (Black4)

CAPAX NEGOTII - Latin. COMPETENT to transact affairs: HAVING BUSINESS CAPACITY. (Black4)

This state of being in capita, being considered as having capacity for under-standing of law and thus being accountable to it through our actions in personhood under that law, is not so difficult to comprehend. It is the foundation of capitalism, of legalism, which is merely the valuation of all men as persons (by legal status, class, and title), as well as that of all their property being in public holdings. This is the organizational structure of a human capital management system. It is merely the difference between being considered by blood with rights of inheritance to hold and dispose of land, or by commercial personhood as a debt-slave and renter (user). And the most important aspect of this legal state of capacity is this: you need not actually know or comprehend the law, but only be capable of doing so. Capacity is ABILITY to know and comprehend, not the actual knowledge or comprehension in and of itself. It is enough that we act in the person of the state that the state considers us as legally capable to the law of persons we act within. Again, our actions express consent to this presumption of law. So one who acts in the person of the law is considered as civilly bound to the law, regardless of the actual comprehension of that law of persons. It is only the capacity that is considered; the ability to comprehend, not the actual comprehension.
Under-standing is not the same word as comprehension. To stand under the law is to be bound by it, to be considered as having standing as surety in court. Comprehension is not required for understanding, only participation in that which is a voluntary action of the participant, even without comprehending the totality of the laws that bind one’s confirmed and ratified status. Ignorance of the law that governs use, while one operates and appears as a user of another’s property (person/status), is never a legitimate excuse by that agent (subject) to his principal (master). Knowledge is no requirement by these devils of contract law. Knowledge in fact kills the power of those devils.

To take a poll at voting time is really the action of the capitalists (private State land-holders), through their conspired and constituted schema of established legal government over public affairs (commerce), when they take the opinion of their chattel holdings (citizenships) as to their group opinions and morale. A happy commoner in the bliss of ignorance is a happy prisoner, and will actually vote for his rulers (administrative gods) believing he has an actual voice. Legal persons are only considered as live-stock; as movable land under the “law of the land,” as will be explained later in this work. In order to avoid the revolt of the common public, polls (votes) are taken so as to keep us on the brink of debt slavery without our knowledge, and so we can then be continuously manipulated through our own collated and official “public opinion” to view government with legitimacy and participate in it voluntarily. For a vote is taken as a sign of under-standing, no matter how ill-informed and illiterate the voter may be. No knowledge is required to vote, only under-standing.

US Code, in Title 42, Section 1981, makes clear that all US citizen-ships have the right and are assumed to stand in a capable capacity by declaring that all persons may (have capacity to) enter into contract and sue and be sued, where it states:

“All persons within the jurisdiction of the United States shall have the same right in every State and Territory to make and enforce contracts, to sue, be parties, give evidence, and to the full and equal benefit of all laws and proceedings for the security of persons and property. . . the term ‘make and enforce contracts’ includes the making, performance, modification, and termination of contracts, and the enjoyment of all benefits, privileges, terms, and conditions of the contractual relationship.”

The law cannot give anything to men, only to its own created persons (statuses and titles) through which men choose to act in franchise (false, legal freedom within jurisdictional borders), just as rats have the franchise of their human master to move around freely, but only in the jurisdiction of their provided cage (in nativity).

Unfortunately, there is no stipulation upon how this “contractual relationship” is entered into, and in fact this very code requires tacit (unwritten) consent to the presumption of US citizenship and therefore obligation to the entire US Code in its wording to even apply to any person. In other words, the law applies only to the strawman franchise, and the benefits of contract assigned by this code to fictional “persons” requires the legal acceptance of the presumptive, tacit contract of public citizenship through surety of the man acting in that fiction of law. This is agency. And through this agency persons may further contract with other third parties under “protection” of their principal. And to a US citizen-ship, all States are foreign third parties under interstate commerce rule.

One cannot at the same time rebut citizenship and also contract in the person of the legal state to receive benefits. Mammon requires personhood, while God despises such artifice. It is very important to comprehend this distinction, for man cannot be anchored in Nature at one moment and in artifice the next. Only one “life” may exist at one time, Real or fictional, when regarding the “opinion” of law. And the very right of appearing in court necessarily means that one is appearing in and thus consenting to that artifice of fiction, for a man may make no such appearances unless he abandons the Reality and Law of his True Nature. The court (danger) does not Exist in Nature.
Perhaps we can now take new meaning from that famous though obviously misunderstood quote by one of the founders of this corporate body politic of the United States, for these private men who claimed to be our legal “fathers” hold us in contempt for doing exactly what they avoid. And so they and their posterity always have and always will treat the goyim with the contempt we deserve for falling prey to their own fictional designs, as any slave master corrupted by his power.

—Benjamin Franklin, for the Pennsylvania Assembly in its Reply to the Governor (11 Nov. 1755), later used as a motto upon the title page of ‘An Historical Review of the Constitution and Government of Pennsylvania’ (1759), published by Benjamin Franklin, authored by Richard Jackson

—Earlier variant by Franklin in ‘Poor Richard’s Almanack’ (1738)

“But our great security lies, I think, in our growing strength, both in numbers and wealth; …unless, by a neglect of military discipline, we should lose all martial spirit... for there is much truth in the Italian saying, Make yourselves sheep, and the wolves will eat you.”

—Benjamin Franklin, from a letter to Thomas Cushing (1773)

As it turns out, these corporate “fathers” as legal gods of their own legal constitution are given plagiaristic credit for things that in actuality come straight from the Bible and describe those very same “fathers” and their false magistracy perfectly:

“Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep’s clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.”

—Matthew 7: 15, KJB

Here we are reminded as well that when the shepherd is not as well intentioned towards his flock as his words reflect, especially when considering the political drivel of countless speeches, then we end up in very much the same disposition we are today… we who worship the “fathers” of the country as if they were our own shepherds, placing faith in their corrupt posterity and not God. Just another example of why, as the scriptures warn us, we should not put our faith in men, especially those who plagiarize the scriptures to justify their own creation of a legally constituted slave-state that benefits only themselves and their posterity. Yet others in history have certainly chimed in to this notion of the dangers of the illusion of peace and security:
Security is indeed an illusion. It does not exist but in the mind of a fool, for only a fool can be made to believe that the fiction of money represents security. Security can only be had under accepted danger. Even the slaves of those founding fathers had some sense of security from those dangerous masters. Security is the hook, line, and sinker that leads man to that debtor’s hell in mammon, for without the devil-master’s fiction, no security exists but that which a man makes for himself and others through his actions. Truly, the only way to sell safety to the sheep, as Franklin surely alludes to above, is to sell the illusion of protection in exchange for that contract of performance under subjection. The protector is always the tyrant, and suffrage of that tyranny is always the price for its illusion of security. When man relinquishes his natural liberties in exchange for political liberties in limited franchise (legal freedom), the necessary consequence is to lose the Natural liberties so that the security of the false political (artificial) ones may overcome the Natural (God-given) ones. Man is purchased (conquered) by the offer of protection through the insurance of subjection to mammon.

—U.S. v. Jannotti, 673 F.2d 578, 614 (3d Cir. 1982)

—DAMNUM SINE INJURIA ESSE POTEST. Lofft, 112. (Black)

As for Franklin’s notion of man’s neglect of “military discipline,” he was not referring to that standing army as we have under the United States today, of which was the main complaint against that central government and king of England in the American Declaration of Independence as it stood in the colonies. For the modern US federal army exists as nothing but a standing army utilized unlawfully, Executively without congressional (State) approval, and thus serving only to protect the corporate interests of the “United States” as a municipal corporation from us domestics and from foreigners, and to expand its monied interests through violent coercion, force, and issuing a blanket license to kill in the name of property claims and commercial flow. Franklin was referring to the individual, private citizen as militia-men, who would defend himself and his blood from all foreign entities, including his own federal government. In other words, these were the men who fought for their own land and bloodline and the power to keep it their own, as compared to the mercenary army of common subjects that have nothing of their own today, fighting merely for their next paycheck with no moral law or compunction towards their own actions, just as the British “company” armies where then. It is hard to remember sometimes that each State is foreign (several) to the other, and that the United States municipal corporation is indeed foreign to all States (Peoples). And so the purpose of bearing Arms both as heraldry and as weapons to defend that blood right has been lost in comprehension today, for its purpose was to defend against the tyranny of centralized government, both foreign and domestic. At the time, that central government was of the king. A man that cannot defend himself is a man enslaved, for protection requires the subjection of slavery. This mafia model is alive and well in government and always has been.

Here the scriptures also chime in as the origin of this false insurance scam to warn us about the artifice of legalized “peace and safety,” which simply cannot Exist in Nature.

“For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape... Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness. Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober.”

—1 Thessalonians 5: 3 & 5-6, KJB

“And in the latter time of their kingdom, WHEN THE TRANSGRESSORS ARE COME TO THE FULL, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up. And his power shall be mighty, BUT NOT BY HIS OWN POWER: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the mighty and the holy people. And through his POLICY also he shall cause CRAFT to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, AND BY PEACE SHALL DESTROY MANY: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand.”

—Daniel 8: 23-25, KJB

An incorporated church under the laws and protection (security) of the state exists only in this legal box, out of God’s sight and out of God’s mind (mentis). A corporation, even a church, is in fact and in law an artificial person. According to the scriptures, towards this commercial enterprise of person-hood, God has no respect therefore of the corporatized church, for there is no respect by God of any person whatsoever. For a person is always only a fiction, a status under legal law, a purposeful deceit, a falsehood made to appear truthful. And so while a citizen of government claiming to be a member of a religion incorporated as an artificial person in law and mammon may believe he is acting as a follower of the scriptural christ, it must be said that his efforts are in vain, for he takes God’s First, christian name in vain. God recognizes only the body, mind, and spirit of each individual man as the church and temple, not a building or corporation supported by money (mammon). A person can only use God’s name in vain by attaching it to a commercial surname. A person cannot Truly worship God. A person has no mind, body, or soul. A person is a fictional creation and personification of mammon (valuation). A person serves no other purpose than to attempt to hide man’s actions from God under the veil of fictional, corporate protection. A person exists for issuing false securities over false things. But this is a hopeless endeavor, for such a legal vail is invisible to God, and fiction is invisible to Nature. Fiction can only ever harm and be opposed to Nature, to Jehovah.

In the end, man is responsible for all of his own actions; a soldier for his own killing, a thief for his own theft, a politician for his own corruption in bureaucracy, and a priest for selling his own soul to fiction (satan/the adversary to God’s Law of Creation) while inducing others to do the same by respecting the artificial person of government and false doctrines of a corporate machine. All these are merely men pretending to be something they are not, respecting the flattering title bestowed upon them by the state and clothing themselves in purely ceremonial things. And like actors on stage, they cling to a false hope that they will be judged by their performance in that artful character bestowed by men instead of as the legal liars they are, both to themselves and to God.

Nature does not forgive artifice because Nature knows no artifice. In all cases, things that are artificial and built of technology must be powered and forced to work in Nature, having no Life-force or blood of its own. Art is always that which emulates but never creates Self-Existence. What is not known by its self-evidence cannot be forgiven, and certainly should not be respected. So can a person of government ask for God’s forgiveness, or would that be a pointless prayer? In Reality, there is nothing to forgive, for the person does not actually Exist in God’s Realm of Nature. Man can only be forgiven of his person if he starts acting like a man of God again, following God’s Word (Law) without fictional stumbling blocks. Man cannot forgive his own sin (syn) against Nature (Jehovah), for his ability to do so is ordained only by the fictional persons (corporations) of church and state, which God’s Nature does not recognize as anything but evil. Forgiveness then must be acted out in a display of respect for God’s Designs of Law and Nature, not whimpered through the public prayers of fictional persons in cursed temples. Only through his True and Loving actions may man find his Heavenly, Eternal (timeless) Place in God’s Creation.

The conferring of citizenship is literally, as defined above, an alienation upon man. It is an invasion and takeover of the so-called “unalienable rights” of man under God in negative duty, and also an act of foregoing the duty man has to the protection of Nature (Creation) and to each other. In other words, man is literally selling his soul when he accepts and respects political rights by accepting and acting within the artifice of personhood from any nation (corporation) of Caesar (seizure) and thus following that false law of nations every false, legal persona is taxed (registered) under. Of course, the birth certification process in infancy has streamlined this process so that man scarcely realizes his soul is lost to fiction by the time he reaches and succumbs to adulthood (legalized adultery).

To legally naturalize a man is to make (prove) a fool out of that man — to make (evidence) him a “natural” (idiot) — for nothing of God’s Nature ever Exists in mammon. The nation cannot see the man (alien) until he is legally established through alienation (incorporation), when the man foolishly accepts and subsists in the government’s offer of alienation of his True Nature. Man can only be seen by government (fictional eyes) through his legalization; by the granting of legal “naturalized” personhood, which is in totality an offensive attack upon all of God’s Creation. Man, in accepting citizenship, becomes both legally secure and naturally defenseless at the same time, for he has forsaken and turned his back on God’s Law in lieu of a legal (anti-God) status - a legal protection from the binding Laws of Nature with legal permission (license) and sometimes a requirement to break Them. Ironically, he has also gone completely against the ad-\textquotesingle\textquotesingle;vices of those \textquoteleft\textquoteleft;founding fathers\textquoteright\textquoteleft\textquoteleft; while at the same time worshiping them as lawmakers (gods). The State can only dominate a creation of God by tricking the man (creature) into living within a totally legal existence, under a matrix code of legal law that is opposed to that of the Natural Law and Self-Existence. Government makes man into an employable commercial instrument as a legal person that is unrecognizable (not respected) by God.

This attack within and by the respected jurisdiction of the United States is easily comprehended when we consider the legal concept of the separation of church and state, which in man is the separation of the Natural Law from his own individual conscious actions while acting in a legal (hu-man) form. The state sanctioned person becomes the offender and the defender — the protectorate — the sin-eater causing man to obey government\textquotesingle; legal law over that of God\textquotesingle;s. The state replaces religious, moral belief and action with contractual, legal obligation, protecting man against the requirement of God\textquotesingle;s Law to \textquoteleft\textquoteleft;do no harm\textquoteright\textquoteleft\textquoteleft; by disallowing moral conduct by and between men in personhood. The state is the stealer of self-evidence.

A man as surety in personhood is always in a state of unnatural offense against God\textquotesingle;s Nature, which is in Reality only his own Nature and place within It, and thus is always on defense (in a state of false being) against all of Nature (Truth) by his own consent to the legal law of the State. For the artificial state can only ever offend the True Nature of man (as God\textquotesingle;s Creation).

FEND - \textit{verb transitive} - \textit{[The root of defend and offend}. The primary sense is to fall on, or to strike, to repel] To keep off; TO PREVENT FROM ENTERING; to ward off; TO SHUT OUT. With fern beneath to fend the bitter cold. It is usually followed by off; as, to fend off blows. To \textit{fend off a boat or VESSEL} is to prevent its running against another, or against a wharf, etc., with too much violence. - \textit{verb intransitive} - To act in opposition; TO RESIST; to parry; to shift off. (\textit{Webs1828})

DEFEND - \textit{verb transitive} - 1. To drive from; to thrust back; hence, TO DENY; TO REPEl A DEMAND, CHARGE, OR ACCUSATION; TO OPPOSE; to resist; the effect of which is TO MAINTAIN ONE\textquotesingle;S OWN CLAIMS. 2. To forbid; to prohibit; that is, to drive from, or back. MILTON CALLS THE FORBIDDEN FRUIT, THE DEFENDED FRUIT, The use of wine in some places is defended by customs or laws. 3. To drive back a foe or DANGER; to repel from any thing that which assails or annoys; to protect by opposition or resistance; to support or maintain; TO PREVENT from being INJURED, or DESTROYED. There arose, to defend Israel, Tola the son of Puah. Judges 10:1. 4. To vindicate; to assert; to uphold; to maintain uninjured, by force or by argument; as, to defend our cause; TO DEFEND RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES; TO DEFEND REPUTATION. 5. TO SECURE AGAINST ATTACKS OR EVIL; to fortify against danger or violence; to set obstacles to the approach of any thing that can annoy. A garden may be defended by a wall, a hill or a river. - \textit{verb intransitive} - To make opposition, as, the party comes into court, defends and says. (\textit{Webs1828})

It is at times difficult to alter our perspective in the way of considering things that we have wrongly considered as Truth our whole Lives, but here we may again see that to be in defense or support of anything false and not Self-Existent is an act against Nature, an act against our very Self. That which is self-evident of course needs not be proven, needing no excuse or justification for its Existence as part of God\textquotesingle;s Creation of Nature. Yet fiction must always be defended in its false existence, its subsistence wholly dependent upon its acceptance in and by the Real. We seldom defend that which we should, from the wetlands to our very own children, against these forces of fictional alienation. And yet at the same time we will defend our so-called \textquoteleft\textquoteleft;country\textquoteright\textquoteleft\textquoteleft; to our deaths. When fiction is more valuable than Life Itself and when defending that fiction is a matter justifiable in the taking of Real Life or destruction of Nature, then we are a society corrupted beyond reason and perhaps even beyond spiritual healing. Perhaps this is the cycle of all nations. Rome being the immortal corporate model of that circus of moral degradation and death that corrupts all places through its agents of destruction, as those who destroy through security and peace.
It is that illusion of legal security by monetary means that causes men to be offended, to cease being in a permanent state of defense against evil, and instead to accept artifice in place of action. No animal or thing in Nature, in its Natural essence of Existence, has any such guarantees or insurance policies. There is no citizenship under God’s Law. There is only defense against all forms of evil and from the predatory tyrants and vampires that seek to force all men into a securitized state of legal being. A mother in her Natural essence will protect her young to the death, while inversely a mother in man’s legal society will allow state agencies to steal “its” children without a fight under the doctrine of “due process of law,” as the “law of the land” opposed to the Law of God. This is a wholly unnatural state of Being. And it all stems from words on paper, delivered by legally titled agents of the principality of all legal things. Only through word-magic can such atrocities be standardized as a normalcy of subjection to the protectors. It is they who suffer us to be in offense to ourselves, to our family and friends, to our very own Nature, and to God at all times.

To defend the artifice is simply to offend God.

OFFEND - verb transitive - [Latin offendō; of and fendo, obsolete to strike, hit, meet, or thrust against. We use the simple verb in fend, to fend off, to fence. 1. To attack; to assail. [Not used.] 2. To displease; to make angry; to affront. It expresses rather less than make angry, and without any modifying word, it is nearly synonymous with displease. We are offended by rudeness, incivility and harsh language. Children offend their parents by disobedience, and PARENTS OFFEND THEIR CHILDREN BY UNREASONABLE AUSTEREITY OR RESTRAINT. The emperor was grievously offended with them who had kept such negligent watch. A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city. Proverbs 18:19. 3. To shock; to wound; as, TO OFFEND THE CONSCIENCE. 4. To pain; to annoy; TO INJURE, as, a strong light offends weak eyes. 5. TO TRANSGRESS; TO VIOLATE; as, TO OFFEND THE LAWS. But we generally use the intransitive verb in this sense, with against; TO OFFEND AGAINST THE LAW. 6. To disturb; annoy; or CAUSE TO FALL OR STUMBLE. Great peace have they that love thy law, and nothing shall offend them. Psalms 119:165. 7. TO DRAW TO EVIL, OR HINDER IN OBEDIENCE; TO CAUSE TO SIN OR NEGLECT DUTY. If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out; if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off. Matthew 5:29. - verb intransitive - 1. To transgress the moral or divine law; to sin; to commit a crime. Whoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, is guilty of all. James 2:10… 3. To be scandalized; TO BE STUMBLING. If meat make my brother to offend. 1 Corinthians 8:13. 1. To offend against, to act injuriously or unjustly. Nor yet against Caesar have I offended any thing at all. Acts 25:11. 2. To transgress; to violate; as, TO OFFEND AGAINST THE LAWS OF SOCIETY, THE LAWS OF GOD, OR THE RULES OF CIVILITY OR PROPRIETY. We have offended against the Lord already. 2 Chronicles 28:13. (Webs1828)

OFFENSE - noun - offens'. [Latin offensus, offensae.] 1. Displeasure; anger, or moderate anger. He gave them just cause of offense. He took offense. 2. Scandal; CAUSE OF STUMBLING. Christ is called a stone of stumbling and rock of offense to both the houses of Israel. Psalms 8:1. 3. Any transgression of law, divine or human; a crime; SIN, act of wickedness or OMISSION OF DUTY. Christ was DELIVERED for our offenses, and raised again for our justification. Romans 4:1. 4. An injury. I have given my opinion against the authority of two great men, but I hope without offense to their memories. 5. Attack; assault; as a weapon of offense. 6. IMPEDIMENT. Matthew 16:1. (Webs1828)

How can man expect a government to defend him when that government’s first act was one of offense against him, the act of causing man to stumble headlong and be birthed into hell as a debt slave?

If one offends against the laws of God and Nature, then one defends Its contrary law — that forbidden (defended) fruit from the tree of the legal concepts and the fictions of men. Thus one may easily offend the civil law by acting under the laws of God and Nature in good moral and religious conscious, which is most often illegal under the legal state. A man acting under the scriptural teachings of Christ is certainly and necessarily opposed and thus necessarily offensive in every way to the civil law, for the law itself only applies to fictional persons of a municipal corporation, not to Creations of God. God respects no person.

Let’s consider for a moment government as the purely offensive entity it is to the common man and to all of the Nature of Creation...

Legal government again stands literally and in foundation as an offense to God, to the Natural Law of equity, and to man in his Natural essence. In other words, legal law is a closed-loop circuit operating totally outside of and in opposition to all of the Designs of Nature. Government cannot be placed into a defensive position in its own courts according to its own legal laws over persons any more than a king can be made to subject himself to the law he creates for his own subjects; except in a commercial or monetary consideration where the government pays a fine to itself to appease those foolish subjects; i.e., for propaganda and publicity purposes. If government is considered as sovereign, then government has no moral (higher) Law or God to appease. Government has, in other words, an unlimited capacity to pay financially for any crime that it commits, for it is the creator of its own money (credit and debt) that would be used to pay for its own sin. In this sense no crime can truly be charged as every crime can be discharged, which simply places that debt upon the public heads (human capital) as public debt. The public cannot in reality ever win a case against the sovereign state, for the public ultimately gets charged and eventually pays for its government’s crimes through money creation (capitalism) under the appropriation of taxation as a never-ending public debt. It satiates its greed with the payment for its purely offensive crimes, the closest thing to a religious and moral conscious it has, and reminiscent of the paying for sins to the church by its permanent sinners in tithing. What one citizen may be remedied in court by government, or vulgarly won as a prize of the commercial sea through administration of false justice in mammon, can only be at the expense of all others, for money represents only the time and labor of all others. No matter how we look at it, all money is blood money.

The state cannot be put on defense for murder, for the state has no hands to murder with. Its agents hide behind its strictness of law and protection of persons in flattering titles as they commit their legal crimes of inequity against man and all of Nature through licensure (lawlessness). Yet any man who acts offensively against government or its agents in his own defense will be legally murdered or kidnapped and placed in captive incarceration for treason. For he is in surety. Government, in consideration of the Natural Law under God, is always offensive and totally lawless as a “sovereign” entity, legally extending that lawlessness to any of its agents (titled persons as employees) within its agencies as it sees fit. For they are all acting merely as fictions under color of law. It plays God. It grants legal license and permission to commit any crime against Nature that man’s imagination can contemplate, while restricting the same ordained privileges from all others without its own eminently granted permission and license. And yet nothing about it is real or alive!

These spelled words of the magisterial gods rule over any creature that cannot decipher the coded legal matrix of these evil men. We are all victims of causality, controlled by the sheer overwhelming force of man’s language code through mis-understanding. The animal kingdom never stood a chance, merely because animals have no capacity to comprehend or understand language on any cognitive level. They cannot cohesively voice their opinion no matter how much they may scream or weep in agony and despair, and silence (ignorance) is always taken as consent. Words have defeated them, for they have no weapon against words except their vulgar (Natural) animal defenses. They can neither defend nor offend in any legal capacity. They are governed utterly.

And so where does that leave man?

Man is the final frontier. Man is the anointed protector and steward of Nature, defender of the defenseless, and champion of the nameless. But what happens when man himself is so corrupted so as to be legally considered instead as some thing outside of Nature, not as a creature of God, but as merely another low-life four-footed animal as a “natural fool” that is just as non compos mentis as any other animal of God’s Creation. What if man is so controlled by words that he doesn’t comprehend that he becomes helpless to defend even his Self from the spells (terms of art) casted by such offender’s to God’s Nature?

As we will discuss, it is in fact the goal of the legal realm to alter man’s appearance into animal form; to strip man of his Natural reason and therefore trans-form man into his alter ego, the HU-man. If we act like animals, without comprehension and defense against words, then we will certainly be treated like the rest of the animal (soulless) kingdom. And the church purposefully mistranslates the Bible to suggest that man has tyrannical dominion over the animals and all of God’s Creation of Nature, instead of being the subservient caretaker of It to ensure a symbiotic health for all, the only Real security of Life possible.

Simply stated, they have defeated all of us who are caught under their tricks of spelling, and caused us to act as defenseless animals to be dominated by false doctrine and technology.

TRICK - noun - [Latin tricor, to play tricks, to trifle, to baffle. We see the same root in the Low Latin intrico, to fold, and in intrigue. Trick is from drawing, that is, a drawing aside, or a folding. INTERWEAVING, IMPLICATION | 1. AN ARTIFICE OR STRATAGEM FOR THE PURPOSE OF DECEPTION; A FRAUDFUL CONTRIVANCE FOR AN EVIL PURPOSE, OR AN UNDERHAND SCHEME TO IMPOSE UPON THE WORLD; A CHEAT OR CHEATING. We hear of tricks in bargains, and TRICKS OF STATE. He comes to me for counsel, and I show him a trick. 2. A DEXTEROUS ARTIFICE. On one nice trick depends the gen’ral fate. 3. Vicious practice; as the tricks of youth… 7. A particular HABIT or manner; as, he has a trick of drumming with his fingers, or a trick of frowning. [This word is in common use in America, and by no means vulgar.] - verb transitive - TO DECEIVE, TO IMPOSE ON, TO DEFRAUD, TO CHEAT; as, to trick another in the sale of a horse. - verb transitive. To dress; to decorate; to set off; to adorn fantastically … People are lavish in tricking up their children in fine clothes. YET STARVE THEIR MINDS, - verb intransitive - TO LIVE BY DECEPTION AND FRAUD. (Webs1828)

You see, man does indeed have the capacity for choice and free will unlike the other Create-ures of God. Man is the one Living Being upon this Earth that does, simply because man is the only Being that can express and understand or defeat the tricks of HU-man language by reasoning. And this presents a major problem for those few men who seek to be gods (sovereign magistrates) over all other men, though they have certainly succeeded throughout history in their tricks of spelling and systems. Only through words and ideas made of them may the overpowering mass of men be tied down into slavery. Only through worded commands and the promise of money and pensions can men be made to prostitute themselves as paid mercenaries into violent, legally organized, militarized murder squads that commit genocide against their fellow man in sole support of the source of that money. Only through voluntary submission to fictional nomenclature (respect of the authority of fictional words, names, and titles) can man be controlled (governed) through his own mind (mentis). The mind is governed (controlled) only by the hypnotic spelling and meaning of words. And only in this way can man be made to not protect all that is Truly Sacred, as that which should be worshiped and equitably Loved and secured as all of Life and Being in Nature. For instance, only the desires of mammon could cause man to kill herds of elephants merely to acquire their tusks to make and adorn jewelry. Money, being held and worshiped so sacredly by the mass of illiterates, is the ultimate curse.

In order for this feat of anti-Nature to be accomplished — that is, the total enslavement of mankind — man must be convinced of the perceived reality of fiction. The fiction must become his “truth.” He must be made to believe that words are a Reality. Man must be convinced that the fictional name is actually physically attached to the Reality, that Nature by name is the same as Nature in substance as Reality, where of course it actually Exists completely despite man’s names for it. We must be convinced that the word of the “God” of all Nature equates to man’s legal dictionary and thesaurus, and that those words are binding upon all mankind and all of God’s Creation in Divinity. God must therefore be personified into HU-man form, with a HU-man mouth and HUman hands, so that man’s own created language may be mis-attributed as a Godsend. The fictional, legal names given by man to God’s Creation must be assigned to and believed by the masses of controlled (governed) men as part of God’s Creation Itself through the concept of legalized (false), ordained divinity. This allows the perception that man’s words have the attribute of divinity or Godliness; that they are divinely inspired because man was “officially” ordained to be made in the image (form) of this name we call as “God,” though this is not what the Bible actually says. And these patented words form the basis of the legal law and society that is specifically and yet paradoxically realized as opposed to God and Nature.

Note here that the words of the Bible are not divine as man’s false-religious terminology artfully defines that word, being written by the hands of men, but are however wholly the words of self-evident reason. One needs not some mystical faith that these words are divinely inspired, one need only to think clearly without artifice of opinion based on technology and other creations of man.
The conclusions of the Bible are reachable by the very reasoning of any sane man, if only the trickery of language arts, culture, and imagery by the scribes and magi-strates of church and state weren’t so prevalent in their modern translation and construction. Mammon always gets in the way of Natural reasoning, causing men to see dollar signs where only substance and soul Exists in Reality. It is only the self-evidence that may be caused by those words that should be respected, not the words themselves, which are only the latest version of a created language code by men acting as novel (unique) word-smiths. Remember your dog-Latin and its purpose! And remember that only your spiritual Nature may overcome these language barriers that cause a bar in front of the attainment of knowledge. True knowledge must be felt as well as seen. The Self-Existence of Truth must touch all of the senses at once, not just artfully absorbed as merely some man-made doctrine of useless information by forgetful readers in cold, institutional settings and polished pews.

The Living (civilly dead) must be re-presented as the dead (spiritually dead) within the storyline of this fictional government as some material fact (subject matter) under a legal (anti-God) surname and within the fictional stage-play we call the jurisdiction of a courtroom. The artificial must be made and pre-tended to appear as seemingly tangible matter though only apparent — as an object merely of legal tender. But, of course, a legal subject is merely an artificial creation of the mind, ink on paper, and thus to be “subject-matter” in court is to be a fictional thing with no actual substance — the form of man but not man — a re-creation of man not of God. Man must be made to become the subject of fiction by his pretending to be a strawman under legal name in Order for the judicial person (a title) to become the form of a god (magistrate, judge) over man’s person (fictional name) and thus, through the law of persons and in surety, his very Self.

And so, when the judge asks one to place one’s hand on the Bible and to swear to tell the truth and nothing but the truth, here would be the correct response from anyone that has read that scripture:

So let me get this straight, dude… you are asking me to put my hand on the Bible, which has no place in such a corruption as this maritime, commercial, administrative, corporate court of mammon, an artificial person, both of which the Bible is clearly against, and you want me to do so while acting in a fictional, legal (anti-God) person, which the Bible tells me never to respect, and then to swear, meaning to take an oath to tell the Truth in your legalese language that is built on lies, and which for a necessarily Truthful man of God such an oath is a redundancy that again this very Bible tells me to never partake in such foolish oaths, and to do so while lying publically about my very own Nature in Creation under God by the attachment of your proprietary legal (antichrist) surname to my good christian name in order to signify a binding, public relationship under implied contract in surety, which the Bible says to avoid or I will surely smart for it, and that I should do all of this just because you, a member of a private law society swathed in a ritualistic black robe, speaking only an artful coded matrix of legal terms of art, can be given a pretended jurisdiction and authority made only of the spelling out loud of these magic words in oath, to become my false god, my magistrate, and thus my secular, temporal judge, even though the very highest possible law, the very first commandment of God, says specifically that I should take no gods before the One True God?

Yes, I know that was a run-on sentence…

Now, care to rephrase the damned question and get that sacred book of Law out of this hell?

Jurisdiction literally means the power to pre-judge man’s actions before God does; to consider man in a form other than a Creation of God, and to judge (doom) man at birth (nativity) by legal principles that are opposed to God’s Higher Law. Not ironically, these legal magistrates must trick the man into swearing an oath through God to government to obey and be subject to man’s legal law instead of God’s Natural One. For an oath to fiction is an insult to God. We swear to tell the truth in a legal jurisdiction based solely, 100% on lies. Thus, all truths in legal form are lies, no matter how close to Reality they may seem. Art (words) are never the same as the Source represented, for similitude is never sameness, and artifice is never Truth. And so in Reality, we swear an oath to lie and call it as truth. Similitude is not sameness. If we witness a man’s actions, we testify instead that his fictional person did the perceived dirty deed. We try the name of the person to which the lie of legal laws applies, not the man. This is evident by the fact that the man with enough money can pay for the crimes of his rented person. And in the corporate realm, the private man may just resign from the corporation (artificial person) and be immune from the law of persons, for he pretends the corporation (person) committed the crime as if that artificial person (puppet) could act without the man breathing life into it. And he calls this a legal “trust.” Of course, a trust is always a ratified lie. The person (corporation) is liquified to pay the price of its individual person’s crimes. And so the shareholders (stake-holders) walk away with millions.

Remember Enron? Remember that no man went to jail for the crimes of Enron, because Enron is not a man? Only persons can pay to the gods of mammon for their monetary crimes. Men of God have 100% responsibility for their own actions, and have no insurable qualities nor monetary considerations of anything in Nature. And so we can empathize with corrupt men for desiring the false security of government personhood to escape his Natural duty. No man of God would in good conscious utilize legal tender money in public, for legal tender may only be used on legal things, which a man of God would never respect. Only men with evil intentions would seek the asylum and securities of legal personhood, both natural and artificial (incorporation). Of course, those Federal Reserve Notes state clearly that their use is as public or private tender.

Jurisdiction is literally an imaginary, public prison for your mind. But worse than that, it is a safe haven and secular sanctuary for the criminally minded and psychopathic class of the sovereignty.

JURISDICTION - noun - [Latin jurisdictio; jus, juris, LAW, and dictio, from dico, to pronounce.]

1. THE LEGAL POWER OF AUTHORITY of doing justice in cases of complaint; the power of executing the laws and DISTRIBUTING JUSTICE. Thus we speak of certain suits or actions, or the cognizance of certain crimes being within the jurisdiction of a court, that is, within the limits of their authority or commission. Inferior courts have jurisdiction of debt and trespass, or of smaller offenses; the supreme courts have jurisdiction of treason, murder, and other high crimes. Jurisdiction is SECULAR or ECCLESIASTICAL.

2. Power of governing or legislating. THE LEGISLATURE OF ONE STATE CAN EXERCISE NO JURISDICTION IN ANOTHER.

3. THE POWER OR RIGHT OF EXERCISING AUTHORITY. Nations claim exclusive jurisdiction on the SEA, to the extent of a MARINE LEAGUE from the main LAND or shore.

4. THE LIMIT WITHIN WHICH POWER MAY BE EXERCISED.

Jurisdiction, in its most general sense, is THE POWER TO MAKE, DECLARE or APPLY THE LAW when confined to the judiciary department, it is what we denominate the JUDICIAL POWER, the right of ADMINISTERING justice through the laws, by the means which the laws have provided for that purpose. Jurisdiction is LIMITED TO PLACE or TERRITORY, to PERSONS, or to particular SUBJECTS. (Webster's Dictionary)
And so jurisdiction is, in other words, bound and limited to the names of persons, places, and things (nouns). Persons may only act and have protections within the secular liberties of their jurisdictional debtor’s prison. So too, therefore, may any man in surety to any persona commit crimes behind such a legal mask of licensure.

LIMIT - noun - [Latin limes. See Limb.] 1. Bound; BORDER; utmost extent; the part that terminates a thing; as the limit of a town, CITY OR EMPIRE; the limits of human knowledge.

2. The thing which bounds; restraint. 3. Limits, plural, THE EXTENT OF THE LIBERTIES OF A PRISON - verb transitive - 1. To bound; to set bounds to. 2. TO CONFINE WITHIN CERTAIN BOUNDS; to circumscribe; to restrain. The government of England is a limited monarchy. They tempted God and limited the Holy One of Israel. Psalms 78:41. 3. TO RESTRAIN FROM A LAX OR GENERAL SIGNIFICATION. World sometimes signifies the universe, and sometimes its signification is limited to this earth. (Webs1828)

SECULAR - adjective - [Latin secularis, from seculum, THE WORLD OR AN AGE] 1. Pertaining to the present world, or TO THINGS NOT SPIRITUAL OR HOLY; relating to THINGS NOT IMMEDIATELY OR PRIMARILY RESPECTING THE SOUL, BUT THE BODY; worldly. The secular concerns of life respect making provision for the support of life, the preservation of health, the temporal prosperity of men, of states, etc. Secular power is that which SUPERINTENDS and GOVERNS the temporal affairs of men, the CIVIL or POLITICAL power, and is CONTRADISTINGUISHED FROM SPIRITUAL or ecclesiastical power. 2. Among catholics, not regular; NOT BOUND BY MONASTIC VOWS OR RULES; NOT CONFINED TO A MONASTERY OR SUBJECT TO THE RULES OF A RELIGIOUS COMMUNITY. Thus we say, the secular clergy and the regular clergy. 3. Coming once in a century; as a secular year. ---

To be clear, as acting United States citizenships we are not confounded or confined to a monastery or subject to the rules of a religious community! The United States municipal corporation, Washington DC; that district (seizure, distraint, distress) is purely a secular jurisdiction. It is not in any way standing in respect of christ’s teachings or of that of the scriptures. No religious actions are allowed, for no religious (moral) law is allowed. Jehovah is illegal!

Please comprehend here that the notion of religion has been usurped and destroyed by corporate, commercial interests. The church and state exist only in mammon, and so both must promote mammon to exist in the legal realm as artificial persons (corporations). They have no other choice and no other functionality. They are businesses, and profit is the only goal of any corporation by law, even a so-called commercially established “non-profit.” For a corporation need not be titled as a non-profit if it wasn’t dealing in mammon. In Nature, everything is automatically non-profit. There isn’t even a word for its opposite except sin. But most importantly, we must fully understand that a man Living a purely spiritual (religious) Life is only the man alive that is not bound in surety to the state. The state cannot see a religious person, for that status is not regulable by the state. The moral law is like a sharp thicket, and the state avoids it like the plague, for moral law would infect the people under the state and cause a dis-ease that would effect its legal rule and profit model. This is to say that no matter how moral a man may act, if he is in the surety of personhood and citizenship, he is not considered according to his religious Nature. Instead, he is required to abandon his religious, moral law in lieu of the legal civil (anti-religious) law of persons.

At birth, after “information” is voluntarily given by the mother as vital statistics, the newly abandoned infant is found in the State’s district and jurisdiction and taken as prize of the sea, becoming officially registered to the status (persona) of a foundling infant of unknown parentage.
And we never stop acting in that false persona as we suck from the government teat the rest of our lives, using its name, mark, and number in our confirmation of its persona in agency and thus our ratification of its legal law as sacred. We sign our name in the cursed form we are acting within (cursive).

That part of France next to the Alps, was a Roman province and still bears the name Provence. 2. Among the moderns, a country belonging to a kingdom or state, EITHER BY CONQUEST OR COLONIZATION, usually situated at a distance from the kingdom or state, but more or less dependent on it or SUBJECT to it. The provinces of the Netherlands formerly belonged to the house of Austria and to Spain. 3. A division of a kingdom or STATE, of considerable extent. In England, a division of the ecclesiastical state under the jurisdiction of an archbishop, of which there are two, the province of Canterbury and that of York. 4. “I shall tell you where we are. We're in the most extreme and utter REGION of the human mind. A dim, subconscious UNDERWORLD. A radiant ABYSS where men meet themselves. Hell, Netley. WE'RE IN HELL.”

“Tis Dante I prefer. In his Inferno he suggests the one true path from Hell lies at its very heart... and that IN ORDER TO ESCAPE, WE MUST INSTEAD GO FURTHER IN.”

—Alan Moore, author, excerpted from: 'From Hell'

Whatever legal word as a name (noun) you arrive at, the name is still merely as fictional as the legally considered space, place, or other fictional notion (region) of control in jurisdiction it represents. As the legal word above, so the legal word below. Country, region, province, county, state, nation... eventually all of these words circle back upon themselves to mean the same or part of the same thing — an individual legal creation as a jurisdiction of and as part of the whole, fictional, circular (circuit) body politic. Corporate persons are created to control natural persons, and natural persons are created to control men. This is the non-Reality of the false id-entity and its ethnicity.

The land (earth) requires no name, nor does the water, the sky, or the Life that these Creations of God in Nature sustain. God’s Permanence of "jurisdiction" is Ultimate, and man may only interlope, sojourn, and converse in intercourse with his own always temporary, never permanent fictional creations. Only Jehovah (the Nature of Creation) is Permanent and Supreme, as a self-evident Truth. And this "fact" never changes, no matter how convincing the legal authority appears and despite its trickery upon man's mind.

Notice above that a district is purposed for the “collection of revenue.” But just what does this word mean in its foundational, legal form? What does it mean to be re-venued?

We must of course trace the full source and functionality of this word revenue so that we may comprehend what it is to have legal existence within the legal adversary’s (satan’s) fictional venues of artifice in debtor’s hell. For as it turns out, all venues require a venial tainting and corruption of blood. Only fictions of law may appear and act in legal venues, and revenue may only be generated and extorted “legally” from the capita (heads) of legal persons (as state property).

REVENUE - noun - [Latin revenio; re and venio, TO COME] 1. In a general sense, the annual rents, profits, interest or ISSUES of any SPECIES OF PROPERTY, REAL OR PERSONAL, BELONGING TO AN INDIVIDUAL OR TO THE PUBLIC. When used of individuals, it is equivalent to INCOME. In modern usage, income is applied more generally to the rents and profits of individuals, and revenue to those of the state. In the latter case, revenue is: 2. The annual produce of taxes, excise, customs, duties, rents, etc., which a nation or state collects and receives into the treasury for public use. 3. RETURN; REWARD; as a rich revenue of praise. (Webs1828)

VENUS - noun - [Latin venus, venenum; Eng. VENOM TO POISON, to fret or irritate. These affinities lead to the true origin of these words. The primary sense of the root is to shoot or rush, as light or wind. From light is derived the sense of white, fair, venus, or it is from opening, parting; and from rushing, moving, comes wind, and the sense of raging, fury, whence Latin venenum, poison, that which frets or causes to rage. These words all coincide with Latin venio (TO COME), which signifies to rush, TO FALL, TO HAPPEN; venor, to hunt, etc. The Greeks had the same idea of the goddess of love, viz. that her name signified fairness, whiteness, and hence the fable that she sprung from froth, whence her Green name.] 1. RANSOM - The money, price, or consideration paid or demanded for redemption of a captured person or persons, a payment that releases from captivity. In international law, THE REDEMPTION OF CAPTURED PROPERTY FROM THE HANDS OF AN ENEMY, PARTICULARLY OF PROPERTY CAPTURED AT SEA. A SUM paid or agreed to be paid for the REDEMPTION of captured property. Strictly speaking, not a recapture of the captured property. It is rather a purchase of the right of the captors at the time, be it what it may; or, more properly, it is a relinquishment of all the interest and benefit which the captors might acquire or consummate in the property, by a regular adjudication of a prize tribunal, whether it be an interest in rem, a lien, or a mere title to expenses. In this respect, there seems to be no difference between the case of a ransom of an enemy or a neutral. In old English law. A SUM OF MONEY PAID FOR THE PARDONING OF SOME GREAT OFFENSE. The distinction between ransom and amerciament is said to be that ransom was the REDEMPTION OF A CORPORAL PUNISHMENT, while amerciament was a fine or penalty directly imposed, and not in lieu of another punishment. A SUM OF MONEY PAID FOR THE REDEMPTION OF A PERSON from captivity or imprisonment. Thus one of the feudal "aids" was TO RANSOM THE LORD'S PERSON if taken prisoner. (Black4)

RANK - noun - Grade of official standing. The order or place in which certain officers are placed in the army and navy; in relation to others. Rank is often used TO EXPRESS SOMETHING DIFFERENT FROM OFFICE. It then becomes a designation or TITLE OF HONOR, DIGNITY, OR DISTINCTION CONFERRED upon an officer in order TO FIX HIS RELATIVE POSITION in reference to other officers in matters of PRIVILEGE, precedence, and sometimes of command, or by which to determine his pay and emoluments. This is the case with the staff officers of the army. (Black4)

"Dispose," said of an insolvent, in an attachment law, includes any intentional putting of property beyond reach of creditors. ---

Only those who have sold their birthright and allowed the attainder of their blood in corruption can appear in any legal venue, and thus have revenue exacted from them for that usage. For despite God’s Word, we must respect the lies of fiction by respecting that person (strawman) as something existent.

It should be noted here that the word “venefice” is but one letter off from “benefice,” which are the benefits of the use of the legal, flattering title allowing a monied ecclesiastical living; in other words, a church endowed with a stream of revenue in mammon. In the middle ages, the word benefice was used instead of the word free, as the feudal estate in lands, and held ex mero beneficio of the donor, according to Webster’s 1828 Dictionary of the English Language. So the payment in mammon to all priests (employees) is the venefice (poisoning) of their spirituality through the venality of benefice. For the jurisdiction of the fee (benefice) under the church and state is only a fictional venue based in mammon. A priest must become and act mercenarily to the church and prostitute himself to its doctrines and bear its marks and proprietary (corporate) flattering title to receive that corporate benefice (a reward for his whoredom). He must ignore the True intent of the scriptures and of the actions of christ so as to promote the vicarious actions of the antichrist church and legal state. All legalized, non-profit (false-prophet) churches are monied, veneficious benefices of their main corporation (creator), just as all McDonald’s exist only as lesser franchises of the main McDonald’s corporation, which all follow the laws of the main corporation (in benefice) and state, never deviating into the separate (private) Realm of God and spirituality. Religious actions are not allowed in legalism, only thoughts. Thus a legalized church may never act against its contracted, corporate creator, which is certainly not Jehovah. Its gods are only incorporated persons and its existence depends purely upon licensure and permission from the legal state.

To comprehend the nature of this word revenue is to realize that it can only exist in mammon as a legal fiction of law. And so the term revenue, as a reference to money gained in the system of mammon, can only be an extortion from men who have their stake (cross) and estate in the legal fiction instead of in God’s Nature and Law. We must pay to play in our imaginary legal selves and can only use its benefits in legal persona. But the strawman can only be used legally in venue, just as any corporate denominated title of “Catholic” or “Methodist” can only be “legally” used in that corporate franchise of the main, legally created and institutionalized church venue. Neither of these titles are recognized by Jehovah (in Nature). They are simply not Self-Existant, their source being that of man’s invention.

Again, the importance of swearing and pledging oneself and one’s children voluntarily to be judged (doomed) by man in the stead (replacement) of God is the basis of man’s legal art of government. And so man must be taken out of God’s Realm of Nature; his mind figuratively plucked from awareness of God’s Kingdom and Laws, so as to be artificially considered by man’s artificial legal law in the lie of personhood, and only by the office (person) and rank (title) of that fictional realm. His appearance as a legal creation of man (as a slave) must be invoked and summoned into the jurisdiction of man’s dead legal world — the venue of the district. The word district, as will still be further discussed, again means distraint, distress, and seizure, as a conquered (purchased) commonality and multitude of people (body politic); as one venial and mercenarily prostituting the test of the constituted authorities and exchangers of money (mammon). This is the world of Caesar, which is just another word for seizure under which men are rendered into legal fictions in monetary valuation, re-venued from the Real to the fiction. Caesar is the district, not a man. Caesar is a venue, and government its vendor. The Living man as a substance of God must be symbolically (figuratively) murdered in a ritualistic stage-play of sacrifice for his legal form to appear without God’s protection, made spiritually dead and brought forth instead as summoned legal entities into the artificial venue (realm) of that spiritually dead district. Thus man makes his appearance in fiction as a fictional, legal entity bound to the fictional laws of the fictional venue. The man becomes re-venued out of God’s Kingdom and Heaven on earth into the cold darkness of legal artifice. Revenue is, of course, only ever a tool of mammon.

VENIRE FACIAS - Practice, criminal law. According to the English law, the proper process to be issued on an indictment for any petit misdemeanor, on a penal statute, is a writ called venire facias. It is in the nature of A SUMMONS TO CAUSE THE PARTY TO APPEAR.

These important “Maxim’s” stand as the principles of law, and explain clearly this need to magically appear in the legal cartoon realm as a fictional character; not as our True Selves, but instead as actors (agents) playing the part assigned to us as the fictional strawman name, title, and /or number granted by and registered through government. If we do not appear as something we are not, as a legal creation (registered noun/name) of the state, the court (the realm of the legal gods) simply cannot recognize us, for it cannot claim jurisdiction over anything but its own persons (legal creations).

MAXIM - An established principle or proposition. A principle of law universally admitted, as being just and consonant with REASON. 2. Maxims in law are somewhat like axioms in geometry. They are principles; and ARE OF THE SAME STRENGTH AS ACTS OF PARLIAMENT. WHEN THE JUDGES HAVE DETERMINED WHAT IS A MAXIM; which belongs to the judges and not the jury. Maxims of the law are holden for law, and all other cases that may be applied to them shall be taken for granted. THE APPLICATION OF THE MAXIM TO THE CASE BEFORE THE COURT, IS GENERALLY THE ONLY DIFFICULTY. The true method of making the application is to ascertain how the maxim arose, and to consider whether the case to which it is applied is of the same CHARACTER, or whether it is an EXCEPTION to an apparently GENERAL rule. THE ALTERATIONS OF ANY OF THE MAXIMS OF THE COMMON LAW ARE DANGEROUS. (BouvMaxims)

Maxim’s exist as the artificial intelligence of legal law, a pre-programmed conscious of moral and amoral thoughts, rules (opinions), and accepted logical fallacies where none actually Exist. They are a simulacra; a copy without an original. This is not to say that these Maxim’s stand as that which is necessarily moral or immoral, right or wrong, or that they don’t allow choice and corruption to infiltrate, only that they stand as the artificial, fixed cortex of thought patterns behind all other law. They guide a judges decision. As citizenships, we must go to these principles as a guide or rulebook regarding what the magistrate might be bound to in its “opinions,” else we have no foundation behind our efforts and will ourselves be swallowed up by the allowances for contractual evil these Maxims portend.

Yet, if we commit them to knowledge, we are able to utilize them to defeat corruption by keeping it and its agent (judge) in check. We can only control and move the court if we know these maxim’s of the law before it, and the judge will always be bound by them as the foundation of his actions and decisions. For corruption and fraud can only be legitimized by our willing participation in it. And corruption has its foundation in what is called legal appearance. The fiction must appear in court to be considered and respected according to its fictional character. The maxim’s in a public character and consideration apply only to that status (person), not to the man appearing as such. But as surety man pays for the crimes of that legal character in his bondage to it. The appearance of the name in persona is the foundation of the corruption that is legal law, for the fictional law only applies to legal fictions (creations) of law.

— Contrae negantem principia non est disputandum. Co. Lit. 43. (BouvMaxim)

There is only one problem... while these maxims (principles) are certainly not to be disputed, and while a judge must always hold them as sacrosanct in the guidance of his legal opinions, they can easily be bypassed and worked around by fiction. The devil plays a strategic game, and his devil-masters (attorneys and judges) play along with both God’s and the devil’s rulebook, depending on the disposition of that person or subject-matter that lies before it. And while even in these maxims of law we find all of these Natural Law concepts, we also find the devil’s maxims (supporting lies) mixed within. It’s all about choice. All that is needed is a contract, the devil’s favorite weapon. For the contract makes the strict law, turning lies into legalized and consented to truths, while the maxim’s that apply to such contracts defeat all other principles of negative (God-given) rights and protections.

Christian (gift-given) name Clint cannot appear in person, for there may be thousands or millions of “Clint’s” out there, and so the first name is thus too ambiguous to clearly define the legal person (status as property of the state) as a subject-matter in question before the Bar. Only the incorporation of fiction in legal name-form called “Clint Richardson” can appear as a legal person in a legal jurisdiction at bar; an apparition; a manifestation of unreality. For the surname is not a gift of God, but a burden of debt granted through an implied contractual obligation. As for God’s negative Natural Law protections, when we use the combination of names in conspiracy of contract with that legal government, we take God’s gift-given name in vain. We attach it to a false god in apostasy. If we use it we lose IT.

APOSTASY - noun - [Gr. a defection, to depart.] 1. AN ABANDONMENT OF WHAT ONE HAS PROFESSED: A TOTAL DESERTION, OR DEPARTURE FROM ONE’S FAITH OR RELIGION… (Webster’s) **

One very important word in this legal fiction is the notion of being called as an “individual,” where a “person” is defined as an individual, corporation, association, etc. The spiritual aspect of this, of being considered as part of God’s Creation and as no other thing, is to say that as a part of something Whole we are in Oneness with that whole, and so cannot be called or summoned as any individual thing. But each unique person (novel invention) is especially designed to single out each man and cause his apostasy from that spiritual and Natural Oneness of Self in God’s Nature. To be considered in persona to be as an “individual” is to fall into the fictional trap of a legal personhood, to be singled out from the Whole (Jehovah) as a sinner towards the Whole. This is not the same as self-realization. The word individual is strictly in place to cause a 2nd self to appear, a false id-entity not our own that we can be tricked into claiming to be in the stead of (anti-) our own True Self. We are thus re-venued and are charged individual usage fees and taxes for such revenue purposes.

A corporate church organized under the legal laws, obligations, and restrictions of the legal state will never tell you that by joining such a registered, individual person (corporation) of a “religion” you are abandoning God for fiction, becoming part of its legal body incorporate instead of partaking in the Body of Christ in Jehovah. Its legal existence requires acquired ignorance of its members with regard to its proclaimed Source, which is the Bible. For only fools could ever embrace that which in its actions are opposed to the Source of what it preaches. But then, we are born fools. We speak only the language of fools (animals). We know not the origin and thus the intent of the Bible’s words. We are just naturals.

Ironically, when we leave any denomination of corporate religion out there, the church considers us in apostasy to it; not to God, but to the corporation. For the corporation is artificially likened to God’s Word. It is impossible to be excommunicated from God’s Nature (Creation), only from church and state “Property.”

“To the wicked, everything serves as pretext.” – Voltaire

Here we can understand that everything in law is assigned by pre-fix. In other words, the names of everything pre-fixes and thus presumes everything in legal form (unless the presumption is rebutted), and Reality may therefore only Exist according to its attached fictional name in fixed text (word) form though the i-magi-nations of men. All things in this legal realm may only exist in their false appearance; in name only. Everything is coded and thus re-venued.

A numerical existence…

A digital life in an artificial womb (matrix)…

PRETEXT - noun - [Latin proetextus.] Pretense; FALSE APPEARANCE; ostensible reason or motive assigned or assumed as A COLOR OR COVER FOR THE REAL REASON OR MOTIVE. He gave plausible reasons for this conduct, but these were only a pretext to conceal his real motives. He made pretext that I should only go, And help convey his freight; but thought not so. THEY SUCK THE BLOOD OF THOSE THEY DEPEND ON, UNDER A PRETEXT OF SERVICE AND KINDNESS. (Webs1828)

So let us be clear now that the maxim’s of law require an appearance of the fictional persona of all things legal (by name) in order to be considered by man’s legal law, which ironically cancels out the very scripturally based maxims that protect the negative right of non-appearance of man in fiction (fraud). We must appear voluntarily as something we are not, as a name (noun) with no essence or substance, in order to be identified, seen, heard, considered, and thus absolutely controlled by the property (name) of another.

MAXIM’S OF LAW:

“What does not appear does not exist.”

“Fact not appearing is presumed not to exist.”

“Concerning things not appearing and things not existing, the rule (reasoning, conclusion) is the same.”

“A thing which is not made to appear is regarded as if it could not be made to appear and did not therefore exist.”

Confused? Don’t be. For we are merely deconstructing the big lie one pretext at a time. And the lie may only exist by its false appearance in a false place overseen by artificially titled false persons and by your own belief in (love of) that false, legal form of false existence as the falsified and consented to truth. It has no substance, but its form appears to be substantive fact, as any lie may certainly trick the mind and so effect the body and soul. The trick is to convince man that he is merely a legal thing in his own false appearance (of spelling) so that he abandons his very Nature and Self under and in Jehovah.
Man cannot be summoned. Only the person of man can be summoned. It is the bond and surety of man to the legal persona, that incorporation of christian name and federal surname, that causes man to be required to answer in that rented person’s name. The agency relation-ship is thus christened. The puppet-master follows the puppet, the shipmaster its ship. But neither follow God. The strawman is driven by this surety relationship, for the strawman is controlled by the agent, as a dummy corporation by which man as agent is summoned by its principal devilmaster to appear as that legal person. Without appearance, the jurisdiction would be like an empty cartoon set, with no artificial life to animate it and thus serving no purpose in its pretended existence. A magic show must have victims to foment its illusions and tricks upon.

All law is therefore only apparent, prima facie, in appearance only. It’s only relevant if you believe (love) it. And the apostles of law change along with the law we worship, for our appeal to the Maker, the Creator of Law changes as well! Again, we choose our god (judge) by our choice of law.

APPARATOR or APPARITOR - Ecclesiastical law. An OFFICER or MESSENGER EMPLOYED to SERVE THE PROCESS of the SPIRITUAL COURTS in England. (Bouv1856)

APOSTLES - In the British courts of admiralty, when a party appeals from a decision made against him, HE PRAYS APOSTLES FROM THE JUDGE, which are brief letters of dismission, stating the case, and declaring that the record will be transmitted. 2. This term was used in the civil law. It is derived from apostulos, a Greek word, which signifies one sent. BECAUSE THE JUDGE FROM WHOSE SENTENCE AN APPEAL WAS MADE, sent to the superior judge these letters of dismission, or apostles. (Bouv1856)

APARENT - That which is manifest (only appears by) what is proved. It is required that all things upon which a court must pass, SHOULD BE MADE TO APPEAR, if matter in pays, under oath if matter of record, by the record. IT IS A RULE THAT THOSE THINGS WHICH DO NOT APPEAR, ARE TO BE CONSIDERED AS NOT EXISTING - de non apparentibus et non existentibus eadem est ratio. (Bouv1856)

This artificial world of government is known as the commercial world, where only incorporations of fictional personas operate under false (flattering) titles and names, and to which the commercial law is applied. It is a world based solely on word trickery, for a legal person is made up only of words. This is the world of the strawman. Only dummy’s need apply.

COMMERCIAL - adjective - 1. Pertaining to commerce or trade; as commercial concerns; commercial relations. 2. Carrying on commerce; as A COMMERCIAL NATION. 3. Proceeding from trade; as commercial BENEFITS or profits. (Webs1828)

COMMERCE - noun - 1. In a general sense, an interchange or mutual change of goods, wares, productions, OR PROPERTY OF ANY KIND, between nations or INDIVIDUALS, either by barter, or by purchase and sale; trade; TRAFFICK. INTERCHANGE; RECIPROCAL COMMUNICATIONS; as, there is a vast COMMERCE OF IDEAS. - verb intransitive - 1. TO TRAFFICK; TO CARRY ON TRADE. 2. To hold INTERCOURSE with... (Webs1828)

TRADE AND COMMERCE - The words “trade” and “commerce,” when used in juxtaposition impart to each other enlarged signification, so as to include practically every business occupation carried on for subsistence or profit, and into which the elements of BARGAIN AND SALE, BARTER, EXCHANGE, or TRAFFIC, enter. (Black4) INTERCOURSE - noun - [Latin intercursus, intercurro; inter and curro, to run.] Literally, a running or passing between. Hence, 1. COMMUNICATION; COMMERCE; CONNECTION BY RECIPROCAL DEALINGS BETWEEN PERSONS OR NATIONS, EITHER IN COMMON AFFAIRS AND CIVILITIES, IN TRADE, OR CORRESPONDENCE BY LETTERS. We have an intercourse with neighbors and friends in mutual visits and in social concerns; nations and individuals have intercourse with foreign nations or individuals by an interchange of commodities. BY PURCHASE AND SALE, BY TREATIES, CONTRACTS, etc. 2. SILENT communication or exchange. This sweet intercourse. Of looks and smiles. (Wels1828)

INTERCOURSE - COMMUNICATION; literally, a running or passing between PERSONS OR PLACES; COMMERCE. As applied to two PERSONS, the word standing alone, and without a descriptive or qualifying word, DOES NOT IMPORT SEXUAL CONNECTION. (Black4)

TRAFFICK - noun - [Latin trans.] 1. Trade: COMMERCE, either by barter or by buying and selling. This word, like trade, comprehends every species of dealing in the exchange or passing of goods or merchandise from hand to hand for an equivalent (i.e., money), unless the business of retailing may be excepted. It signifies appropriately foreign trade, but is not limited to that. My father, A merchant of great traffick through the world. 2. Commodities for market. - verb intransitive - 1. To trade; to pass goods and commodities FROM ONE PERSON TO ANOTHER FOR AN EQUIVALENT IN GOODS OR MONEY; to barter; to buy and sell wares; TO CARRY ON COMMERCE. The English and Americans traffick with all the world. Genesis 42:34. 2. TO TRADE MEANLY OR MERCENARILY. - verb transitive - TO EXCHANGE IN TRAFFICK. (Wels1828)

TRADE - noun - [Latin tracto, to handle, USE, treat] 1. The ACT or business of exchanging commodities by barter; or the business of BUYING AND SELLING FOR MONEY: COMMERCE; TRAFFIC; barter. Trade comprehends EVERY SPECIES OF EXCHANGE OR DEALING, either in the PRODUCE OF LAND, in manufactures, IN BILLS OR MONEY. It is however chiefly used to denote the barter or purchase and sale of goods, wares and merchandise, either by wholesale or retail. Trade is either foreign, or domestic or inland. Foreign trade consists in the exportation and importation of goods, or the exchange of the commodities of different countries. Domestic or home trade is the exchange or buying and selling of goods within a country. Trade is also by the wholesale, that is, by the package or in large quantities, or it is by retail, or in small parcels. The carrying trade is that of transporting commodities from one country to another BY WATER. 2. The business which a person has learned and which he carries on for procuring subsistence or for profit; occupation; particularly, mechanical employment; distinguished from the liberal arts and learned professions, and from agriculture. Thus we speak of the trade of a smith, of a carpenter or mason. But we never say, the trade of a farmer or of a lawyer or physician. 3. Business pursued; occupation; in contempt as, PIRACY IS THEIR TRADE. Hunting their sport, and PLUND'RING WAS THEIR TRADE. 4. Instruments of any occupation. The shepherd bears his house and household goods, his trade of war. 5. EMPLOYMENT NOT MANUAL. HABITUAL EXERCISE. 6. CUSTOM; HABIT; STANDING PRACTICE. THY SIN'S NOT ACCIDENTAL, BUT A TRADE. 7. Men engaged in the same occupation. Thus booksellers speak of the customs of the trade. - verb intransitive - To barter, or to buy and sell; to deal in the exchange, purchase or sale of goods, wares and merchandise, or any thing else; TO TRAFFIC; to carry on commerce as a business. - Our banks are permitted to trade in bills of exchange. 1. To buy and sell or exchange property, in a single instance. Thus we say, man TREATS with another for his farm, but cannot trade with him. A traded with B for a horse or a number of sheep. 2. TO ACT MERELY FOR MONEY. How did you dare, To trade and traffic with Macbeth? 3. To have a trade wind. They on the trading flood ply tow'r'd the pole. [Unusual.] - verb transitive - To sell or exchange in commerce. THEY TRADED THE PERSONS OF MEN. Ezekiel 27:12... (Wels1828)

Here’s the problem… our persons, for all intents and purposes as vessels in commerce, cause us to be merchandise (cargo) upon that vessel (citizen-ship). We are carried (in ships) on the sea of commerce and trade. In other words, we carry our selves in legal person upon the artifice of commerce (on top of the commercial sea) by inhabiting legal fictions called persons (citizen-ships). We are performers; executors. And the money we use is not our property, only a franchise of the state traded between “individuals.”

But we are more than that, for it is our persons that are exacted (extorted) through taxation, which means that we are being used as commercial vessels in surety to create profit for government. Our commerce between each other is only a pretext to steal from (tax) our purchases, for we are using the credit and debt-money (property) of the state to conduct our business, and the law is attached to the act of use. To be clear, our movable persons are the taxed merchandise being trafficked! Of course, even sex is considered as a commercial intercourse between persons (property), signifying the bond of two consumers consummating their contract of marriage incorporation, confirming their contractual relationship as one fictional person in law.

—MERCIS APPELLATIONE HOMINES NON CONTINERI. Dig. 50, 16, 207. (Black4)

—MERCIS APPELLATIO AD RES MOBILES TANTUM PERTINET. Dig. 50, 16, 66. (Black4)

Movable land… this is the legal status of a public person. Oh, and cattle! To gain title to merchandise, man must admit himself as well to be the subjected merchandise (persona) of the state. He must take upon himself a valuation in mammon, becoming live-stock branded by legal identity under human capital management. And the scripture (Law) is clear that this is the opposite state of innocence:

“Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee... By the multitude of thy MERCHANDISE they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned...”

—Ezekiel 28: 15-16, KJB
But just what is inequity, and why does it cause man to sin? Why it is public citizen-ship, of course. It is legal equality!

INIQUITY - noun - [Latin iniquitas; IN and oequitas, EQUITY.] 1. Injustice; unrighteousness; a deviation from rectitude; as the iniquity of war; THE INIQUITY OF THE SLAVE TRADE. 2. WANT OF RECTITUDE IN PRINCIPLE; as a malicious prosecution originating in the iniquity of the author. 3. A particular deviation from rectitude; a sin or crime; wickedness; any act of injustice. YOUR INIQUITIES HAVE SEPARATED BETWEEN YOU AND YOUR GOD. Isaiah 59:2. 4. Original want of holiness or depravity. I was shapen in iniquty. Psalms 51:5. (Webs1828)

A perfect example of what is the difference between this dog-Latin as the English language, considered as the “vulgar” tongue by its creators, and the correct application of the legal art form in Latinized (Roman) practice, is the perception of what this particular word intercourse means. In the most base and vulgar of understanding, of course the lower class of illiterates will instantly revert their minds to sex. Sex sells. Sex is a sport with rules to follow; a pursuit; an inducement to contract. Sex occupies and distracts the mind more than any other human purpose. And so in this way we can perhaps envision why these legal word-smiths might refer to their own thievry through the trickery of language as a higher form of communication via intercourse. We get off on shopping! As long as the slaves are concentrated on the sensual, vulgar, lowest (emotional) meaning of these apparently higher legal word terms, then the master gods of commerce can trick the slaves into abandoning the product of their labor — their children — to become a ward (award) to the legal state, or worse… to actually abort the mistake of their vulgar intercourse (sexual commerce) to avoid the accident of birth. While sexual intercourse is definitely and self-evidently an act of commerce in a contractual relationship, and sexual intercourse is certainly understood as an act of legally binding consent to the marriage compact, and is certainly that one necessary first step towards procreating Life in Reality, commercial intercourse (birth) is the one necessary step in tricking those parents into abandoning their own blood kin to the legal gods of the State through word trickery. Legal intercourse is literally the commerce of souls.

When the Bible refers to a city or kingdom of people, of a multitude under man’s law as government, we see reference to that people as part of the land.

Strong’s #H776 entry for the word land is ‘erets,’ stemming from the notion of “being firm,” and having various definitions as references to mankind, including: “inhabitants of the earth,” “inhabitants of land,” “people of the land,” “land of the living,” “district, region,” “country, territory,” “tribal territory,” “space or distance of a country,” and “city-state.” Remember that the word State is the same as the capitalized word (proper noun) People, of the men who are the State. The government created by that People (as a sovereignty) is the legal state (uncapitalized, non-proper), referring only to the legal fiction of man’s artifice of law and jurisdiction. In fiction, men can be considered as land through their person (status) just as any other live-stock. The King-ship (sovereignty) is a People, the commoners merely the mass of peoples (stocked) lower class persons (denizens) with no blood-right. And we mustn’t forget that the True church of christ is only the men who follow the Word (Son) as the Law of God, just as the True Nature of Israel in the Bible was at first a like-minded and Lawful People, not a legal jurisdiction, city (corporate limit), state, or nation. It is not a building nor corporation. It is only the respected and shared blood of christ.

“They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man’s, shall he return unto her again? shall not that LAND be greatly polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; yet return again to me, saith the LORD (translated here only of JEHOVAH, i.e. "THE EXISTING ONE"). Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and see where thou hast not been lien with. In the ways hast thou sat for them, as the Arabian in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the LAND with thy whoredoms and with thy wickedness… And I saw, when for all the causes WHEREBY BACKSLIDING ISRAEL COMMITTED ADULTERY I had put HER away, and given HER a bill of DIVORCE; yet HER TREACHEROUS SISTER JUDAH feared not, but went and played the harlot also.”

—Jeremiah 3: 1-2 and 8, KJB

Yet again the figurative nature of the scriptural teachings shines through here, as the assignment of sexual orientation to nations of people ("she"), as if Israel and Judah were as whores prostituting themselves to that which is against God’s Nature (Jehovah). This, again, is personification; an anthropomorphizing of that idea and invention of man which does not Exist in Nature (a nation of persons as a single body politic) into an existing and animated persona for the purposes of telling a story (parable), and to which a moral ending, that of returning to the Law of Jehovah, is sought through its parabolic intent. This is the very nature of the scriptures, though not that of the corporate religions, which seek to replace vicariously Jehovah with their own brand of legalized religious fiction approved by the CEO’s and other gods of church and state. No one in their right mind can mistake this verse as the literal speaking of some individual woman in history. Israel is allegorically being personified here into a woman, a collective People anthropomorphized into a single prostitute or harlot that acts against the Law of Jehovah, just as the common people (goyim) of the modern nations, and especially the whore that is the multitude of collective, public-minded goyim of the United States. This form of parabolic storytelling is the whole of the Bible. Again, a parable in the mouth of fools is like the legs of the lame, as effectual as the dog that returneth to and consumes its own vomit (logic).

Commerce is more than just the action of buying and selling or of trade or barter. To be a commercial citizen-ship in agency is to be and act as the actual “movable” thing (property) by which the laws of trafficking are collaterally based upon in a contractual surety. This is human capital management, which is the only purpose of government in mammon. It is man treated as money (in valuation) and counted by the head (per capita) via the treasure-trove of found surnames (property). To live an artificial, commercial life in the legal fiction of citizen-ship is to have your entire being valued as merely a legal estate within interstate commerce. Again, this legal life is absolutely opposed to Jehovah; as living by commercial law of mammon instead of that Highest Natural Law, as legal commerce in the very Nature of Life Itself.

These gods may only exist as capitalists — those parasites exact and extort from the tributary (taxed) labor and pains of all others. For their investments are us, and the return from their investments are the product of our labor potential (intercourse), be it sexual products (children of the proles) or the employment (use) of our time and energy. They even trick us into investing in our own person’s performances under the devil’s contract of life and social insurances!

CAPITALIST - One exclusively dependent on accumulated property, whether denoting a person of large wealth or one having an income from investments. The word has no legal meaning. (Black4)

CAPITALIST - noun - A man who has a capital or STOCK in trade, usually denoting A MAN OF LARGE PROPERTY, WHICH IS OR MAY BE EMPLOYED IN BUSINESS. (Webs1828)
CAPITALLY - adverb - 1. In a capital manner. NOBLY: finely. 2. WITH LOSS OF LIFE; as, to punish capitally. (Webster's 1828)

Slave-masters and property-holders have always been considered as the nobility; those who deal in and control men in a capital manner (by taking their Life and blood as legal property in slavery or indenture). No historical digging is required for that well-known fact and history.

Of course, words that perfectly describe the very structure of the crimes these legal gods commit by clandestinely accumulating for themselves all of man’s “registered property” through trickery and word magic will be stricken from the legal nomenclature. Otherwise, to be charged with being a “capitalist” would surely be a horrific crime worthy of the highest punishment. That is, if mammon was not the accepted god and man was Living rationally and in Right reason of mind. The creators, the sovereignty, certainly would not define themselves as criminals, instead licensing their acts legally under their own civil law and created governments, invoking the very power and authority of God even while defiling Its Laws. The legal code instead must be strung together in due diligence and read between the lines; the very nature and purpose of this work. For their greatest trick is in making us ignorantly volunteer to be their subjected debt-slaves; as satan’s greatest trick, fooling us to believe that these capitalist adversaries of man don’t actually Exist.

Capitalism is only the slave-trade hidden behind commercial personhood. It is slavery indirectly applied to men by placing value upon the surety bond of man’s person and its future labor potential, by employment (use) and through birth and de-livery of new infantile persons.

Like a computer simulation, the imaginary jurisdiction of this commercial world is everywhere and yet it is nowhere. It is the ultimate simulacrum. It is literally a matrix of legal fiction that has been so pulled over our senses and used to guide and control our everyday activities that most of us have hardly any inkling it even exists or that we are even participating in it. For we blindly appear within it, usually without ever contemplating our own personal pretext of a voluntary, fictional disposition under its created maxims. We believe we appear as our own True Selves, without realizing we are actually appearing in a form that is property of another. The chains are not visible or tangible, yet the code of legal words permanently attaches us to the fiction in bond and surety simply because we believe in (love), put faith in (respect), contract with (bind ourselves in debt to), and pay allegiance to it as debtors to the big lie.

Commerce is human trafficking, the business of human intercourse, as a communication and trade in souls. To act merely for money and in the pursuit of it is to act only in the persona of mammon. And only through money’s pure illusion as the ultimate form of wealth can man be made to give up everything Real in Life and in Nature in pursuit instead of the simulation of its fictional, monetary value that blinds our reason and logic and replaces all conscious examination with mere logical fallacy.

Our faith is our pledge in allegiance to the money system of the nation, and this action literally alienates us from Reality. When a religious man pledges himself and his allegiance to the state (an artificial person), he necessarily and literally loses his True religion and its negative Law protections. As the dollar bill states: In mammon (god) we trust…

ALIEN - noun - AN AMERICAN SOVEREIGN IN HIS PROBATIONARY STATE. (The Devil's Dictionary, by Ambrose Beirce, 1911)

LIGEANCE - The TRUE AND FAITHFUL OBEDIENCE OF A SUBJECT TO HIS SOVEREIGN, OF A CITIZEN TO HIS GOVERNMENT. It signifies also THE TERRITORY OF A SOVEREIGN. See Allegiance. (Black4)

ALLEGIANCE - THE TIE WHICH BINDS THE CITIZEN TO THE GOVERNMENT, in return for the PROTECTION which the government affords him. 2. It is NATURAL, ACQUIRED, or LOCAL. Natural allegiance is such as is due from all men BORN within the United States; acquired allegiance is that which is due by a NATURALIZED citizen. It has never been decided whether a citizen can, by expatriation, divest himself absolutely of that character. INFANTS CANNOT ASSUME ALLEGIANCE, ALTHOUGH THEY ENLIST IN THE ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES. 3. It seems, however, that he cannot renounce his allegiance to the United States without the permission of the government, to be declared by law. But FOR COMMERCIAL PURPOSES HE MAY ACQUIRE THE RIGHTS OF A CITIZEN OF ANOTHER COUNTRY, AND THE PLACE OF HIS DOMICIL DETERMINES THE CHARACTER OF A PARTY AS TO TRADE. 4. Local allegiance is that which is DUE FROM AN ALIEN, WHILE RESIDENT in the United States, for the protection which the government affords him. (Black4)

ALLEGIANCE - noun - [Latin alligo, of ad and ligo, to bind. See Liege and League] The tie or obligation of a subject to his Prince OR GOVERNMENT; THE DUTY OF FIDELITY to a king. GOVERNMENT OR STATE. EVERY NATIVE OR CITIZEN OWES ALLEGIANCE TO THE GOVERNMENT UNDER WHICH HE IS BORN. This is called NATURAL OR IMPLIED ALLEGIANCE which arises FROM THE CONNECTION OF A PERSON WITH THE SOCIETY IN WHICH HE IS BORN, and his DUTY to be a FAITHFUL SUBJECT, independent of any express promise. Express allegiance is that obligation which proceeds from AN EXPRESS PROMISE, OR OATH OF FIDELITY. Local or temporary allegiance is due from an alien to THE GOVERNMENT OR STATE IN WHICH HE RESIDES. (Webs1828)
LIEGE - adjective - [Latin ligo, TO BIND; Gr. to bind, to bend; a with.] 1. BOUND BY A FEUDAL TENURE; obliged to be faithful and loyal to a superior, AS A VASSAL TO HIS LORD; SUBJECT; faithful, as a liege man. By liege homage, a vassal was bound to serve his lord against all, WITHOUT EXCEPTING HIS SOVEREIGN; or against all, excepting a former lord to whom he owed like service. 2. SOVEREIGN: as a liege lord. [See the noun.]

LEAGUE - noun - leeg. [Latin ligo, TO BIND ] 1. An alliance or CONFEDERACY between princes or STATES for their mutual aid or defense: A NATIONAL CONTRACT OR COMPACT. A league may be offensive or defensive, or both. It is offensive, when the contracting parties agree to unite in attacking a common enemy; defensive, when the parties agree to act in concert in defending each other against an enemy. 2. A COMBINATION or UNION of two or more parties for the purpose of maintaining friendship and promoting their mutual interest, OR FOR EXECUTING ANY DESIGN IN CONCERT. And let there be 'twixt us and them no league nor amity. - verb intransitive - leeg. 1. To unite, as princes or STATES IN A CONTRACT of amity for mutual aid or defense: TO CONFEDERATE. Russia and Austria leagued to oppose the ambition of Buonaparte. 2. TO UNITE OR CON-FEDERATE, AS PRIVATE PERSONS for mutual aid. - noun - leeg. [Low Latin leuca.] 1. Originally, a stone erected on the public roads, at certain distances, in the manner of the modern mile-stones. Hence, 2. The distance between two stones. With the English and Americans, a league is the length of three miles; but this measure is chiefly AT SEA. The league on the continent of Europe, is very different among different nations. The Dutch and German league contains four geographical miles. (Webs1828)

RESIDE - verb intransitive - s as z. [Latin resideo, residual; re and sedeo, to sit, TO SETTLE. ] 1. to dwell permanently OR FOR A LENGTH OF TIME: to have a settled abode FOR A TIME. The peculiar uses of this word are to be noticed. When the word is applied to the NATIVES of a state, or others who DWELL in it AS PERMANENT CITIZENS, we use it only with reference to the part of a city or country in which a man DWELLS. We do not say generally that Englishmen reside in England, but a particular citizen resides in London or York, or at such a house in such a street, in the Strand, etc. When the word is applied to STRANGERS OR TRAVELERS, we do not say, a man resides in an inn for a night, but he resided in London or Oxford a month, or a year; or part of his life. A man lodges, stays, remains, abides, for a day or very short time, but reside implies a longer TIME, though NOT DEFINITE. 2. To sink to the bottom of liquors; to settle. Obsolete. [In this sense, subsede is now used.] (Webs1828)

Here we see the main difference between a resident and a domicile. A domicile (called also as permanent resident) is timeless, meaning that it does not end at some specified or contracted time and is thus passed from generation to generation through blood connection of ancestry. But notice that any temporary residence is always based on a contract of time, meaning that it may only be used upon the beneficent granting of another, a stranger, and so is not something that is inheritable by blood. In fact, he who holds temporary residence without private domicile, namely public citizenships, cannot pass anything to their abandoned children as wards of the state in de-livery due to this corruption of blood. What is in the time domain is only ever public in nature, not private. Blood flows eternally until it is pretended to be attainted, but there is always a prodigal heir out there. And so again the temporary resident must create a legal will, since the law recognizes no Real blood connection to a public citizenship or its legalized (Romanized) issues.

STRANGER - noun - 1. A FOREIGNER; ONE WHO BELongs TO ANOTHER COUNTRY. Paris and London are visited by strangers from all the countries of Europe. 2. One of another town, city, STATE or province IN THE SAME COUNTRY. The Commencements in American Estrange - verb transitive - 1. To keep at a distance; to withdraw; to cease to frequent and be familiar (family) with. Had we estranged ourselves from them in things indifferent. I thus estrange my person from her bed. 2. To alienate; to divert from its original use or possessor; to apply to a purpose foreign from its original or customary one. They have estranged this place, and burnt incense in it to other gods. Jeremiah 19:4. 3. To alienate, as the affections; to turn from kindness to indifference or malevolence. I do not know, to this hour, what it is that has estranged him from me. 4. To withdraw; to withhold. We must estrange our belief from what is not clearly evidenced. (Webster1828)

Alien - adjective - alyen. 1. To transfer title, property or right to another; as, to alienate lands, or sovereignty. 2. To estrange; to withdraw, as the affections; to make indifferent or averse, where love or friendship before subsisted; with from; as, to alienate the heart or affections; to alienate a man from the friends of his youth. 3. To apply to a wrong use. They shall not alienate the first fruits of the land. Ezekiel 48:14. - adjective - [Latin alienatus.] Estranged; withdrawn from; stranger to; with from. O alienate from God. O spirit accurst. The whigs were alienate from truth. (Webster1828)

US citizenships (strangers/ legalized foreigners/ alien friends or enemies) are not privy or party to the constitution, for they are creations under it. They are “resident citizens” only; denizens. Only those over it (in creation of it) in sovereignty are actually privy or private parties of its negatively protective law of immunity. Let us consider the 14th amendment to the US constitution here, for a private citizen is not born of a nation but in private (foreign) blood inheritance as an heir, and is thus only a participant in the nature of its covenant, not a subject to it. The agreeer (as the People) is certainly not a subject of itself. Private citizens (as a status) are outside of the United States and thus garner its negative protections, whereas public citizen-ships are born and remain inside of what that paper constitution created (constituted in debt compact) as a commercial government for slaves and volunteers.
“All PERSONS BORN OR NATURALIZED IN the United States, and SUBJECT to the JURISDICTION THEREOF, ARE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES and of the state wherein they RESIDE. NO STATE SHALL MAKE OR ENFORCE ANY LAW WHICH SHALL ABRIDGE THE PRIVILEGES OR IMMUNITIES OF CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES...”

—from the 14th amendment (article) to the United States constitution

Again we see that the individual (several) States or their respective commercial governments (states) cannot trump the law of the United States over and in consideration of its domiciled citizenships acting in temporary, commercial residence within any of those foreign state government jurisdictions. For the citizen-ship (person) is of course “BORN OF” or natural to (of the artificial nature/creation of) the United States’ district, and the state is merely a third party agency to that foreign agent (citizen-ship) of the United States (principal). To be clear, this constitutional amendment is not talking about the “persons” (status) of private citizens of untainted blood, only about fictional persons, or more accurately, the men who act publicly in interstate commerce within a United States person (status) as their vessel in surety while participating in foreign intercourse within each private (foreign) state jurisdiction. We know this because private State citizens are not born and registered in the district of United States.

“AN ALIEN HOLDS NO LANDS.”

— EXTERUS NON HABET TERRAS. Tray.Lat.Max. 203. (Black4)

Only the private People (private estates) are protected by their own constitution, which is only to say that their private, negative, reserved rights cannot be thwarted by that central government as constituted. Citizenship (residents) are not thus protected, for all rights of a person of the United States are strictly permitted and strictly administered positively and without possibility of reservation. The private People are not 14th amendment citizens, and their reserved, self-existent (unalienable) rights don’t come from the constitution but in spite of it, for their legal status is not publicly born (created) or naturalized (legalized) under, but over the United States. They are not goyim of any nation. Private persons are not public persons. Private citizens are not public citizenships.

So what exactly is allegiance according to the magistrate gods in the United States courts?

ALLEGIANCE:

“The tie or ligamen which BINDS THE SUBJECT [OR CITIZEN] TO THE KING [OR GOVERNMENT] in return for that protection which the king [or government] affords the subject [or citizen].” It consists in “a true and FAITHFUL OBEDIENCE OF THE SUBJECT DUE TO HIS SOVEREIGN,” and is a comparatively modern corruption of ligeance (ligeantia), which is derived from liege (ligius), meaning ABSOLUTE OR UNQUALIFIED. It signified originally liege fealty. I.e. absolute and unqualified FEALTY.”

“…IN THE UNITED STATES, ‘IT IS A POLITICAL OBLIGATION DEPENDING NOT ON OWNERSHIP OF LAND, BUT ON THE ENJOYMENT OF THE PROTECTION OF GOVERNMENT: AND IT ‘BINDS THE CITIZEN TO THE OBSERVANCE OF ALL LAWS’ OF HIS OWN SOVEREIGN.”

Pay the mafia, and the mafia will protect you. It’s the law… of master and servant.

After all, with no ability or capacity to hold as alodial (private) any land under patent, we the subjects (citizenships) have no land to call our own. We can only use in rent and tenancy that of our sovereign masters, and so we are charged for everything we do in the contractually granted names and titles (property) we use to legally trespass on the state (public) lands. And so we must therefore follow their established law of persons (legal status), the law of the vessel (person).

The worst part about the big lie is that we have been trained (educated as animals) to believe that in actuality even we, the multitude of the lower-class populace, while acting in a public citizenship, are at the same time somehow the private “Sovereign People” we pledge allegiance to. Yet another group delusion of that mass of illiterates we call the general public; the common people. The guy…

But how could a person be both one of the People as a sovereign and also subject to “the People” (their own selves) of government? Amazingly, this obvious paradox seems to go unchecked and thus unexamined by that mass of illiterates who have no idea they are indeed subjects (debt-slaves) in allegiance to a smaller group of People (a specific multitude of People in king-ship) as represented by their sovereign State (body) and its commercial state government.

The words have been altered, but their Latin (Roman) meanings have not.

There are two types of citizens in the United States. One is bound in public surety as agent for another’s property (a dummy), and one is a declared part of the “Posterity” of the original, private, sovereign landholders, to which the public entities pledge their allegiance to, usually without realizing they are doing so.

The difference lies simply in the matter of defining how, where, and why we are born…

To be clear, this is not a new system, but rather more ancient than this author can state in terms of fact. This is the corporatized system of an esoteric (private) agenda long in place and protected under the rose (in private/secretly) by those who know and benefit by its artifice. It is a combination (conspiracy and confederation) of religions and other sacred (cursed) aspects of geometry and astronomy combined with such crafts as astrology and pharmacopeia (witchcraft and poisoning, venom). But in the end, to cut it down to its most essential part, esoterica is simply a design to keep knowledge of the tree of useless information hidden “in plain sight” so as to keep certain men unawares of the private nature of the minority (elite), not the least of which is the language arts explained within this work.

ESOTERIC - adjective - [Gr. interior, from within] PRIVATE, an epithet applied to the private instructions and doctrines of Pythagoras; OPPOSED TO EXOTERIC, OR PUBLIC.

ESOTERY - noun MYSTERY, SECRECY. [Little used.] (Webs1828)

We must not allow our minds to wander from Reality, from that Supreme actuality and protection of Jehovah, by placing respect upon these false mysteries of evil men and their fictional worth, which has no place in Nature. Their values are always false. We can no longer be fooled into placing any Real mystical or magical connections to these groups, for their only mystery lies in the codes and ciphers they privately create while retaining any deciphering tools and arts to themselves. But their trickery is always empty and without substance, cheap magic designed to inspire false awe and marked impressions, with the main goal of misleading us all away from our Source, away from our spiritual Self and Oneness with the Reality of Nature. Nothing under God is actually hidden. Nothing is patented. Nothing is organized by status. And the only way to keep a common people (goyim) in their common place and under public status (personhood) in public-mindedness is to design a language structure (as dog-Latin) that is a similitude but never a sameness to its origin of source. To cause a general delusion in language comprehension is the only secret holding such esoterica in place, for again, if the slave learns the language of its master then the master loses that mystery that esoterically binds the mind (and thus the body) of the slave. Thus religions and instituted patriotisms are created to promote the fiction of these esoteric (private) practitioners of what underneath is just petty piracy.

—Calvin Coolidge, 30th President of the United States (1923–1929)

This quote is perhaps the most revealing false truth ever spoken by a president of that United States municipal corporation, if only we can decipher the underpinnings of esoterica used in his language. Most slaves would cheer after hearing this quote with the proud ignorance of patriotic fervor, believing themselves to be anything but the debt-slaves they are.

But the “human race” is not a reference to the sovereign People of each State. Mr. Coolidge is letting his governed (public) slaves know that the United States citizen-ship-slave-status is merely a political (artificial) privilege (not a natural right). It is a franchise given only to the lowest of fictional life-forms (animals) that pledge allegiance to himself and the rest of his bloodline “People” in compact as the private States united to protect each other from all enemies, foreign and domestic (including the general public). In short, the president is addressing the plebes of the nation, the goyim who’s domicile allows them the franchise of freedom under contract and only civilly upon good behavior in a state of never-ending probation. We are granted a sentence for the life of the legal person (status). This sycophant is not to be celebrated as anything but the corporate CEO of a commercial company holding an enslaved, totally degraded people. But apparently we have the best slave colony of them all! Be proud!
For perspective, this is like the president of McDonald’s mother corporation letting all subordinate (franchise) stores know that they are in the greatest franchise in the fictional realm of artificial persons. By owning a franchise corporation (artificial person) that pledges total fealty, allegiance, and of course tribute to the will of the mother corporation, this is the greatest political privilege ever accorded the public-minded fool (hu-man). Everything is a pretext.

In defining just what the District of Columbia is, as the principal seat for all agents in public citizenship and allegiance to it, we can read:

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA – A territory situated on the Potomac river, and being the SEAT OF GOVERNMENT of the United States. It was originally ten miles square, and was composed of portions of Maryland and Virginia ceded by those states to the United States; but in 1846 the tract coming from Virginia was retroceded. LEGALLY IT IS NEITHER A STATE NOR A TERRITORY, BUT IS MADE SUBJECT, BY THE CONSTITUTION, TO THE EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OF CONGRESS. (Black2)

If the District is under congress, which means that congress is sovereign over the District, then what in God’s name makes you think you are a sovereign entity when your domicile is inane under that District (seizure), when your rendered persona is a legal creation (property) of that District (Caesar/god)?

One should pay attention to how and what one pledges their allegiance to, for the pledge itself tells us that we are obviously not that sovereign to which we pledge our allegiance to:

The Oath of Allegiance to the United States: the following is the text of the Oath of Allegiance:

I hereby declare, ON OATH, that I absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, STATE, OR SOVEREIGNTY, of whom or which I have heretofore been a subject or citizen; that I will SUPPORT AND DEFEND THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA against all enemies, foreign and domestic; THAT I WILL BEAR TRUE FAITH AND ALLEGIANCE TO THE SAME; that I will BEAR ARMS ON BEHALF OF THE UNITED STATES when required by the law; that I will perform noncombatant service in the Armed Forces of the United States when required by the law; THAT I WILL PERFORM WORK OF NATIONAL IMPORTANCE under civilian direction when required by the law; and that I TAKE THIS OBLIGATION FREELY, WITHOUT ANY MENTAL RESERVATION OR PURPOSE OF EVASION; so help me God.```

Seriously, who in God’s name (literally) would take this oath in God’s name? Who but the most unknowledgeable of fools would voluntarily subject themselves to an executive military force such as this? Who, that is, that is compos mentis (of right mind)? Obviously this is a voluntary oath, done without coercion or “mental reservation” and only in the offering of some benefit, some false sense of protection in exchange for subjection. In other words, they are selling status and benefits in exchange for us pledging our very Lives to protect it (fiction) as our slave-master! Is anybody actually reading these things?

Reading between the lines here, we are literally agreeing to do whatever the legal law requires against our own moral code. We will kill for the United States when the “law” legally requires us to do so under permissive license. This is insanity. But most important to note here is that this is a voluntary (free from force) pledge and oath to the sovereignty, its established de facto governments, its legal laws, and ultimately towards its appointed (anointed) legal gods. It is a pledge to fight, die, and to be used (employed) forcibly for work (servitude) on behalf of the sovereignty (fictional state), as represented by its commercial government and flag (Arms), whenever the law of man requires it. Whenever the fiction requires it. This is slavery, represented in a flattering, patriotic formality, and garnered by voluntary consent through a legally binding pledge. The military draft, which forces young boys (infants) to become mercenary killers in adultery (infantry), is merely slavery reworded as public “selective” service. It is slavery because the consequences of denying this obligation of citizenship and law is to be forcibly placed into incarceration once this oath is taken. But firstly this is based on voluntary slavery because the agreement to serve in the military and be drafted was agreed to before the service could happen, as was the consequences of reneging on that agreement and oath. No moral objection will be accepted. For no morals are required or sought after by the takers of this oath. Moral resistance is futile...

But most importantly, this oath reads as a renouncement of Faith to all other “sovereignties,” including to God (Jehovah) and to any other law or state, including all of the several, individual States in the union! It is literally a willing pledge to abandon our blood-rights by denying we are a part of any other sovereign People. Therefore, no private citizen would ever take this oath. It is only for plebs; for publicly minded citizen-ships of the United States. It is the cost of volunteerism; of prostitution to the constitution as naturalized citizen-ships.

This non-religious faith in the form of a sacred (cursed) oath is further enforced and engrained into the public-mindedness of men and especially their children within public schools, where the pledge of allegiance is required to be chanted daily. Without comprehension of our words, we foolishly support our own oath of fealty to that corrupt symbol of the sovereignty above us:

“I pledge allegiance, to the FLAG, of the United States of America, and to the REPUBLIC, for which IT stands…”

If we are pledging allegiance to the Republic (the private States), then we are not part of any Republic, only its servants in fealty and ligeance. The republic spoken of is whatever State (People) the oath is being taken in. For the United States district itself is anything but a republic.

Do not the scriptures teach never to take false idols or pledge foolish oaths in adultery? Is the flag not an idol? It is certainly an artificial thing, a creation of man representing an artificial person (municipal corporation) and system of law created by man, and it certainly adheres to nothing of God’s Law of Nature by its very own law (law of the admiralty, maritime flag). So, is it not a graven image?

Why in God’s name (literally) would you pledge an oath to a piece of cloth? Does that really make any sense to you at all?

Unless… Could it be that the word flag carries with it a meaning that is in fact more than what meets the eye?

The commercial (war) flag of the United States, as will be discussed later in this work, signifies the international jurisdiction of the law of nations (law of the sea) outside of the nations own constitutional purview; placing its patrons within an interstate commercial enterprise for which we all are the faith and credit pledged. Even as the 14th Amendment states that US citizen-ships are citizens of both the United States in domicile and of their individual states in residence, this pledge of allegiance verifies that citizenships pledge themselves to the National Flag and to the People of each individual republic (State) for which the union’s municipal corporation stands in subjection. Logically, a man never need pledge his own allegiance to himself (as one of the People), for a king (sovereign) has no law above himself but that of God’s Law, if he so chooses to follow that path. But a man of God would certainly not enslave all other men. If the common, public class of peopled (live-stocked) persons in citizenship were indeed also the sovereign class of private citizens, then not only would almost all public and commercial governmental functions be unnecessary, there would be no point in establishing any sovereignty at all; for no man would fall under the title of this sovereignty that could be controlled by any legal godhead as a subject. Sovereignty is pointless without subjects. If the entirety of the men acting in the United States of America were sovereign (private), then no one would be a sovereign, for a sovereign must have subjects beneath him to be legally considered as a sovereign entity. What good is a kingship with no subjects? Nations would be pointless. Again, slavery by any other name, be it violently enforced or voluntarily consented to and pledged in fealty and citizenship, is still under any other name just slavery.

To put this into clear terms, man should only hold one Being as the True Sovereign, which is only God (Jehovah) and the Law of God, making man a subject only to Nature’s self-Existent and indefatigable, permanent, and thus inescapable Law. Only by personifying Jehovah through a false “Christ” head as a perpetual and transferable legal and ecclesiastical corporation sole and mixed secular and artificially spiritual office with ecclesiastical jurisdiction can man declare himself as a sovereign in God’s empty “name.” Without this trickery and blasphemy of God’s name, no man could claim such sovereignty over other men, for it is not of the Natural Design. And only by tricking and misinforming us all into leading a non-spiritual, public life in a dead pledge to these false gods can they also claim that they are spiritually superior over us and therefore have the Living, God-given right to rule over the dead. This is the foundation of man’s law. Complete and total corruption.

It is important to note here that all presidents of the United States are direct blood kin and cousins to George Washington and to the kings of England. They are each one of the posterity of the original constituters, and only one of the bloodline of the original and corrupt People (Posterity) will ever be allowed to become president (C.E.O) over this sovereign government corporation. The president is the keeper of the secrets of the State, and so appoints and confirms the Secretaries (secret-keepers) of each Executive Cabinet Agency (as Secretaries of State, Commerce, Treasury, Justice, War [as “Peace”], etc.). Blood right equates to the right of inheritance.

While this may be difficult to accept for most publicly minded persons reading this, those whom actually believe in the illusion of the American dream, a simple genealogy search will verify this as a True statement. In fact, every nation in the world is set up the same way, Israel being the most obvious with its specific blood-right of return. You will have a choice at the next election to vote popularly (as part of the lowest class of the public population of goy considered as one body politic, one voice, e pluribus unum) for one of two blood cousins of the Kings of Europe and of George Washington (would-be king of America) for president, just as it always has been, for we the indebted plebs in our servile personage and standing in a corruption of blood cannot become president. The constitution clandestinely states this, I'll spend no more time on this easily found genealogical fact. But rest assured that the man posing as the corporate entity “Barack Obama” and acting as president of the United States is not considered as the first “black” president of the United States, but instead only as one of the usual descendants of the bloodline of “white persons” through his mother’s family line, which is of the direct line to the “royal” blood of the constituted posterity. He would otherwise not be able (have capacity) to the electoral approval of president.

We must not be fooled by the complexion of this man in former office, for he is certainly not the first “colored” president. There will never be a Truly colored president of pure “black” or “negroid” blood. This word black is a word of corruption, not a word of mere color. No man is actually black in Nature. It signifies, from the perspective of the blood heirs in compact of posterity, a tainted (colored / admixed) blood by those who consider themselves to be of pure blood for political (fictional) purposes. And here lies the problem, for when we judge the outward appearance of a man we fail to realize the condition of his blood by law. Even the man most white in skin-color can potentially not qualify to have pure blood in this legal fable. And so we must know that, according to statute, Barack Obama is indeed a “white person” by law due to his proclaimed and recorded fabled genealogy. Nothing else matters in this legal (artful) determination of political class structure.
So then, let’s take a quick look at Obama’s pedigree, shall we? Let’s look through his skin and see what really qualifies him to be president and overseer of the bloodline’s principal, commercial government and its agencies.

The popular genealogy site geni.com reports the following information on the heraldry of president Obama (A.K.A.):

—Excerpt from (geni.com) article of the same title
Still think Obama’s just a negro, just Barack from around the block? Still believe the legal nonsense that he’s the first black dude in the Whitehouse, perhaps? A legally non-white person? Don’t be a fool! All presidents are of the “white” (pure) bloodline. Your eyes deceive you. You see, we have forgotten already the maxim (principle) of law, which says that legally, what is adjudged may cause \textbf{black to be white} and up to be down. And that becomes the ratified, confirmed truth in the legal realm of fiction. Perhaps we should discover just what it is to be a \textit{white person}?

\textbf{WHITE PERSONS} - As used in Rev. St. U.S. sect. 2169 (Naturalization Act March 26, 1790, c. 3, 1 Stat. 103, as amended by Act Feb. 18, 1875, c. 80, sect. 1, 18 Stat. 318 [8 U.S.C.A. 5 703]), members of the white or Caucasian race, as distinct from the black, red, yellow, and brown races. Whether applicant for United States citizenship is a “white person” eligible for citizenship under statute \textit{enumerating classes of people} eligible therefor \textbf{DEPENDS, NOT UPON ETHNOLOGICAL CLASSIFICATION OF GROUP TO WHICH HE BELONGS, BUT UPON WHETHER MEMBERS OF SUCH GROUP WITH CHARACTERISTICS EXISTING IN 1790 when statute was first enacted were intended by Congress TO BE CLASSIFIED AS WHITE PERSONS}. And statute uses the words “white persons” as meaning \textit{primarily the European peoples who constituted the class from which virtually all of immigration to United States has come and who readily become assimilated into our civilization}…

\textbf{WHITE PERSONS} - The acts of congress which authorize the naturalization of aliens, \textit{CONFINE THE DESCRIPTION OF SUCH ALIENS TO FREE WHITE PERSONS}. 2. This of course excludes the African race WHEN PURE, \textit{BUT IT IS NOT EASY TO SAY WHAT SHADE OF COLOR OR MIXTURE OF BLOOD WILL MAKE A WHITE PERSON}. 3. The constitution of Pennsylvania, as amended, \textit{confines the right of citizenship to free white persons}; and these words, white persons, or similar words, are used in most of the constitutions of the southern states, \textit{IN DESCRIBING THE ELECTORS}. (Bouc1856)

\textbf{WHITE} - “White person,” as used \textit{in the naturalization laws}, means \textit{A PERSON of the Caucasian race}, and does not therefore include a Mongolian, \textit{BUT DOES INCLUDE ONE NEARER WHITE THAN BLACK OR RED}. In the legislation of the slave period, \textit{PERSONS WITHOUT ADMIXTURE OF COLORED BLOOD, \textit{WHATEVER THE ACTUAL COMPLEXION MIGHT BE}}. See, also, White Race. In South Africa, persons of European descent. (Black4)

\textbf{WHITE} - The acts of congress which authorize the naturalization of aliens, \textit{CONFINE THE DESCRIPTION OF SUCH ALIENS TO FREE WHITE PERSONS}. 2. This of course excludes the African race WHEN PURE, \textit{BUT IT IS NOT EASY TO SAY WHAT SHADE OF COLOR OR MIXTURE OF BLOOD WILL MAKE A WHITE PERSON}. 3. The constitution of Pennsylvania, as amended, \textit{confines the right of citizenship to free white persons}; and these words, white persons, or similar words, are used in most of the constitutions of the southern states, \textit{IN DESCRIBING THE ELECTORS}. (Bouc1856)

\textbf{WHITE} - “White person,” as used \textit{in the naturalization laws}, means \textit{A PERSON of the Caucasian race}, and does not therefore include a Mongolian, \textit{BUT DOES INCLUDE ONE NEARER WHITE THAN BLACK OR RED}. In the legislation of the slave period, \textit{REFERRED TO A PERSON WITHOUT ADMIXTURE OF COLORED BLOOD, \textit{WHATEVER THE ACTUAL COMPLEXION MIGHT BE}}. See Citizen; Color, Mulatto. (WCA1889)

\textbf{WHITE} - A Mongolian is not a “white person,” within the meaning of the term as used in the naturalization laws of the United States; \textit{the term applies only to persons of the CAUCASIAN RACE}. (Black1)

\textbf{RACE} - \textit{A TRIBE, PEOPLE, OR NATION, belonging or supposed to belong TO THE SAME STOCK OR LINEAGE}. “Race, color, OR PREVIOUS CONDITION OF SERVITUDE.” (Black1)

\textbf{RACE} - \ldots \textit{DESCENT}. (Black4)

\textbf{DESCENT} - \textit{HEREDITARY SUCCESSION}. Succession to the OWNERSHIP OF AN ESTATE BY INHERITANCE, or by any act of law, as distinguished from “purchase,” \textit{Title by descent} is the title by which one person, upon the death of another, \textit{acquires the real estate of the latter as his heir at law}. (Black1)

\textbf{MONGREL} - \texttt{adjective} - \textit{[See Mingle]} \textit{OF A MIXED BREED; of different kinds}. \texttt{noun} - \textit{An animal of a mixed breed}. (Webs1828)

\textbf{MINGLE} - \texttt{verb transitive} - 1. \textit{TO MIX; TO BLEND; TO UNITE IN ONE BODY}; as, to mingle liquors of different kinds. 2. \textit{To mix or blend WITHOUT ORDER OR PROMISCUOUSLY}. (Webs1828)
There was fire mingled with hail. Exodus 9:24. 3. TO COMPOUND; TO UNITE IN A MASS, as solid substances; as, to mingle flour, sugar and eggs in cookery. 4. TO JOIN IN MUTUAL INTERCOURSE OR IN SOCIETY. THE HOLY SEED HAVE MINGLED THEMSELVES WITH THE PEOPLE OF THOSE LANDS. Ezra 9:2. Psalms 106:35. 5. TO CONTAMINATE; TO RENDER IMPURE; TO DEBASE BY MIXTURE. The best of us appear contented with a mingled imperfect virtue. 6. TO CONFUSE, There mingle broils. - verb intransitive - To be mixed; TO BE UNITED WITH. She, when she saw her sister nymphs, suppressed. Her rising fears, and mingled with the rest. - noun - Mixture; medley; PROMISCUOUS MASS. Not used.

Regardless of complexion…

Get this through your heads! It’s the bloodline! It’s the fabled genealogy of heraldic family Arms and how we Bear them, not the color of our skin! Being styled as a “white person” or a “negro” or any other color of law is not Reality, not Natural, and not spiritual; any more than the fictional pure and half-blood wizards from the Harry Potter series of fiction. This is purely a legal status, a flattering title, based on historical records of supposed “royal” bloodlines. The legal word color does not mean the same as the True Colors of Nature. It can only be the legal color of law, which is only ever as black as the ink used to fashion such artificial statuses and descriptions. This is the fabled tale of falsely (legally) sacred (cursed) blood. These are the private landholders (heirs to fortunes and estates). These are the pirates. Then as now they stand in combined (conspired) royal majesty over us, as rulers over the so-called “sovereign” nation and its induced and enslaved public “people.” The race wars are not Real, used only by these pirates (slave-holders) to pit their subjects (voluntary slaves) against each other for better control and entertainment (to enter and hold [taint] the mind). For when slaves fight amongst each other, imagining one class of slave better than the other, then no slaves are organized enough for fighting the pirates that control them all “equally” under civil law.

And right on schedule, in August of 2016, we were presented our next choice of bloodline cousins to vote (poll) for, as known and officially researched and reported:

Republican presidential candidate Donald Trump and his Democratic rival Hillary Clinton don’t have much in common in terms of policy, but as for heritage, the two front-runners are reportedly related.

According to a report from the “Extra” entertainment show, genealogists found that Trump and Clinton are 19th cousins, sharing a common ancestor from England 18 generations ago.

Genealogy experts at Geni.com said the real estate mogul and former secretary of state are the direct descendants of the 14th century first Duke of Lancaster, John of Gaunt, and his wife Katherine Swynford. Swynford was Gaunt’s mistress but they later married and THEIR CHILDREN WERE LEGITIMIZED, according to the Daily Mail.

And it turns out that THEIR 19TH GREAT GRANDFATHER IS KING EDWARD III, according to author A.J. Jacobs, who studied Geni’s research. “SO THERE IS A PRECEDENT FOR RULING A COUNTRY; IT’S IN THEIR GENES,” Jacobs told the television program…

Perhaps more surprisingly, President Barack Obama and former Vice President Dick Cheney are actually EIGHTH COUSINS, revealed Cheney’s wife Lynne in 2007 while researching her ancestry for her memoir, reports The Hill.”

Who ran for president in 2016? It was the same damn family members that always pretend to run against each other, dummy! It’s a fixed, rigged (false) competition, you fool! Just as fixed as the bloodline aristocracy of any of the crown corporation kingdoms, but with just a bit more propaganda and a whole lot more lies.

INAUGURATION - The act of installing or inducting into office with formal ceremonies, as the coronation of a sovereign, the inauguration of a president or governor, or the consecration of a prelate. A word applied by the Romans to the ceremony of dedicating a temple, or raising a man to the priesthood, after the augurs had been consulted. (Black4)

AUGUR - To be a sign of especially good or bad things in the future. (Cambridge Dictionary Online)

AUGUR - noun - [Latin augur. The first syllable is from avis, a fowl; but the meaning and origin of the last syllable are not obvious.] 1. Among the Romans, an officer whose duty was to foretell future events by the singing, chattering, flight and feeding of birds. There was a college or community of augurs, originally three in number, and afterwards nine, four patricians, and five plebeians. They bore a staff or wand, and were held in great respect. 2. ONE WHO PRETENDS TO FORETELL FUTURE EVENTS BY OMENS...* - verb intransitive - to guess; to conjecture by signs or omens; to prognosticate.* - verb transitive - to predict or foretell; as, to augur ill success. (Webs1828)

OMEN - noun - [Latin omen; Hebrew, an augur.] A sign or indication of some future event; a prognostic. Superstition and ignorance multiply omens; philosophy and truth reject all omens, except such as may be called causes of the events. WITHOUT A MIRACLE, HOW CAN ONE EVENT BE THE OMEN OF ANOTHER WITH WHICH IT HAS NO CONNECTION? (Webs1828)

The augur is also called as a soothsayer, enchanter, fortuneteller, and a practitioner of divination (from Strong’s H5172 - nachash), ranking up there in sin with sorcerer and necromancer.

“The augur was a priest and official in the classical Roman world. His main role was the practice of augury, interpreting the will of the gods by studying the flight of birds; whether they are flying in groups or alone, what noises they make as they fly, direction of flight and what kind of birds they are. This was known as “taking the auspices.” The ceremony and function of the augur was central to any major undertaking in Roman society—public or private—including matters of war, commerce, and religion...”

“The Roman historian Livy stresses the importance of the augurs: "Who does not know that this city was founded only after taking the auspices. THAT EVERYTHING IN WAR AND IN PEACE, AT HOME AND ABROAD, WAS DONE ONLY AFTER TAKING THE AUSPICES?…”

“Augury sought the divine will regarding any proposed course of action which might affect Rome’s pax, fortuna and salus (peace, good fortune and wellbeing). POLITICAL, MILITARY AND CIVIL ACTIONS WERE SANCTIONED BY AUGURY. HISTORICALLY PERFORMED BY PRIESTS OF THE COLLEGE OF AUGURS and by haruspices ON BEHALF OF SENIOR MAGISTRATES. The presiding magistrate at an augural rite thus held the “right of augury” (ius augurii). Magistracies (which included senior military and civil ranks) were therefore RELIGIOUS OFFICES IN THEIR OWN RIGHT, and magistrates were directly responsible for the pax, fortuna and salus of Rome and everything that was Roman.”

—Excerpt from sourced Wikipedia entry for ‘Augur’

The author will leave the reader to contemplate just which appointed positions in the president’s (magistrate’s) Cabinet resemble what are the modern versions of those ancient Romish augurs. And isn’t it funny that the pax, fortuna, and salus (peace, good fortune of the economy, and wellbeing of the fictional nation/person) of the United States district is told in the traditional soothsaying ceremony and prognostication of the “State of the Union Address” each year?

“Hope and Change.”

— Example of empty, unattached or meaningless augury (divination) used in campaign platform for ‘Barack Obama for president’

Since the president of the United States as well as its congress or judiciary cannot legislate hope, and since the backbone of government and the economy is in fact and always has been constant change, this particular slogan falls into the realm of fallacious rhetoric fit only for the most devious scumbaggery. And the common, public-minded multitude grabbed on to that tweet of hope and change and sucked it all the way into 2017, when the next bloodline candidate and cousin of Obama and Hillary Clinton was inaugurated on basically the same augury of an empty platform of hope and change that will somehow “make America great again.”

For accuracy, the lowest and most devious and of course non-scriptural, commercial form of the maxims of law warns us, as if the devil itself wrote it as such, that:

—Res judicata facit ex albo nigrum, ex nigrò album, ex curvo rectum, ex rectò curvum. (BouvMaxim)

“A thing adjudged MUST BE TAKEN FOR TRUTH.”

—Res judicata pro veritate accipitur. (BouvMaxim)
So what is truth in the world of an anything-goes legal fiction? Can artifice ever actually be anything in Truth (Nature)?

Of course not... We might as well still use augurs to track bird flight patterns and signs!

When the Bible tells us pretend to be “no thing,” it is telling us how to avoid being adjudged as some thing we are not.

Barack Obama appears (prima facie) to be “black,” and that is what our rulers wish us to continue believing through propaganda and public-minded idiocracy. But the law declares his bloodline as being clearly that of a “white person.” We must never adjudge the outward appearance or image of anything in Nature, except to distinguish what is self-evident and self-Existent compared to what is of artifice, to what is no thing at all in God’s Nature. “White persons,” of course, don’t actually Exist in Nature, only as a legal art form without substance. The word “white” doesn’t Exist in Nature. No one is born a “white person,” for no man is born a person (status) in Nature. There is no status under Jehovah. Persons are only created (birthed) from words through devilry, by doctors, attorneys, and scribes. These are just words, and words are not the Creator of man. Only the false, fictional persona of any man is a “white person” in law. No actual color Exists in the legal fiction, either. These are all terms of art, after all.

So riddle me this: exactly what color is a word? How can blood actually be “white,” and how can a person (fictionalized legal status made exclusively from artful legal words) have blood?

Now can we see the problem with the literalist stylings of dog-Latin that causes such an unwitting illiteracy in us all?

Most of us are fairly impressed with ourselves when we discover a random link to some president or famous person in the history of our family tree, foolishly flattering ourselves that this makes us suddenly better or at least different men because of that fabled genealogy. But let us never forget that we are to be judged by our works, not by our persons and flattering titles, and certainly not by such useless information of any fruit from the tree of conceptual, useless knowledge. Just as our actions in any legal persona are in-deed and self-evidently our own, they are equally our own despite our relations to any sacred (cursed) ancestors, which are no doubt given more or less credit than any man deserves by the legend-building scribes of those proscribed victors of civil history. And yet, very few of us may claim to be the “legitimate” bloodline posterity of one of “We, the People” of the bloodline posterity of George Washington and his royal founding bloodline cousins of that royal masonic estate. This means that very few of us can ever claim that the constitution was written for us, and certainly not while still acting agentically as the proprietary pirate booty we currently stand dis-eased as. Most of us simply are not those legitimately descending heirs of “the People” of the Crown. And if we are, that legitimacy was pretended to be stolen from our family line at the public (legal) birth of a strawman with our own legal name.
Surely no reasonable man could still believe in that American dream that we can become anything we want to be, even president! Sorry, but all or most of the offices of those prominent Actors, CEO's, presidents, vice-presidents, prime ministers, senators, Supreme justices, popes, kings and queens are already spoken for by one of them. For that is the legal (anti-God) design. These are only offices, masks (personas) in fiction, and through their corporate government they own the titles to those offices, just as the title of queen belongs not to the man but to the crown corporation. Commoners can’t be president, or for that matter be allowed to gain much power or public audience at all.

If the reader is familiar with my previous works, writings, and documentaries on the CAFR system The Corporation Nation, The Great Pension Fund Hoax, etc., and as another book I hope to compile in the future, the reader may understand this to be True not because of some involved conspiracy theory, but because I have shown through primary-source documentation governments to be the main shareholder in all major and most minor corporations around the world, showing their collective stranglehold upon all industries from media to food and water to education to war. And through proxy voting under majority shareholder powers, government through its established private associations (artificial persons) issues its own consensus as to the totality of corporate governance via its collective proxy shareholder votes. In other words, government votes to elect the boards of directors and decides on mergers and acquisitions for each corporation it holds stock in, not through statue or government bureaucracy, but though shareholder votes inside those corporations. To ask why this information is not “common knowledge” is a sign of the disease of public-mindedness. It’s a stupid question. The media, for all intents and purposes, is owned by government through stock investment! I will not ask the reader to take my word on this, but rather to seek out my documentary films and the multitude of primary-source articles I have written on the subject. And perhaps someday I shall endeavor to put it all into a book form, should I Live that long despite this current, diminishing, false paradigm of freedom (franchise).

Read the following carefully, applying it to our current system and organization of the US government...

BURG, BURGH - A term anciently applied to a castle or fortified place: A BOROUGH (q.v.). (Black4)

BURGH - A BOROUGH: (q. v.) a castle or TOWN (Bouv1856)*

BURGAGE - English law. A species of tenure in socage: it is where the king OR OTHER PERSON IS LORD OF AN ANCIENT BOROUGH, IN WHICH THE TENEMENTS ARE HELD BY A RENT CERTAIN. (Bouv1856)

BURGESS - A magistrate of a borough; generally, THE CHIEF OFFICER OF THE CORPORATION, who performs, within the borough, THE SAME KIND OF DUTIES WHICH A MAYOR DOES IN A CITY. In England, the word is sometimes applied to ALL THE INHABITANTS OF A BOROUGH, who are called burgesses, sometimes it signifies THE REPRESENTATIVES OF A BOROUGH in parliament. (Bouv1856)

BUREAU - A French word, which literally means a large writing table. It is used FIGURATIVELY FOR THE PLACE WHERE BUSINESS IS TRANSACTED: it has been borrowed by us, and used in nearly the same sense; as, the bureau of the secretary of state. (Bouv1856)

BUREAU - An office for the transaction of business. A name given to THE SEVERAL DEPARTMENTS OF THE EXECUTIVE OR ADMINISTRATIVE BRANCH OF GOVERNMENT, or their divisions. As applied to a division of an administrative department, the term may include the operating force. (Black4)

CRACY - Word-forming element forming nouns meaning “rule or government by”… (— Etymology Dictionary Online by Douglas Harper)
BUREAUCRACY - A system in which THE BUSINESS OF GOVERNMENT IS CARRIED ON IN DEPARTMENTS, EACH UNDER THE CONTROL OF A CHIEF, in contradistinction from a system in which the officers of government have a co-ordinate authority. (Black4)

BUREAUCRACY - The ABUSE OF OFFICIAL INFLUENCE IN THE AFFAIRS OF GOVERNMENT: CORRUPTION. This word has lately been adopted to signify that those persons who are employed in bureaus ABUSE THEIR AUTHORITY BY INTRIGUE TO PROMOTE THEIR OWN BENEFIT, OR THAT OF FRIENDS, RATHER THAN THE PUBLIC GOOD. The word is derived from the French. (Bow1856)

BUREAUCRAT - An official who WORKS BY FIXED ROUTINE WITHOUT EXERCISING INTELLIGENT JUDGMENT. (–Random House Dictionary)

Oh the horror! We are stuck in a democracy headed by a bureaucracy that governs an idiocracy…

But don’t let this get you down. You have to remember, you are a volunteer in their system of subjection. There is no gun to your head. You can quit any time, that is, if you figure out the game and how to finish it. But for most, we have no idea we are even playing a game in the first place, for its rules and commercial functionality has been normalized into what we call in our spiritual death as making a living. You don’t have to worship their bloodline any more than they are forced to despise yours. For to them, your blood is non-existent and in attainder (corruption). You need not pay tribute and taxation in extortion to them any longer, that is, unless you continue to operate in their proprietary vessel, their legal person (status), and keep using their legal benefits and values in currencies. Most will do just that. I seek to reach only the incorruptible remainder with these works, those who want to come out of this legal matrix of lies. Don’t blame anyone but yourself, for this choice is laid out in the very foundation of the unenforceable common law — the Bible. They are gods (magistrates) of their own created system (bureaucracy), just as Jehovah is God over All that is not built upon their artifice and fictional property. The choice is up to you and no one else. And nothing, my fellow servant in volunteerism, could be more self-evident than that!

We can never trust our senses when fiction rules over our Law, over our Nature. What is Real is what is moral and unblemished by legal marks, numbers (per capita), names, and titles. Our eyes cannot ever really see and our ears cannot hear the meanings of these empty words of art. By taking this false oath to the artificial person that is the corporate United States, we are agreeing to these types of corrupting foundational principles (maxims) of law, where anything can be colored, tainted, or twisted into anything else and then officially confirmed, ratified, and legally called as the “truth,” for that which is being considered and altered is simply not Real. In the fiction, truth is a noun, an empty name with no referential to Nature. After all, the laws of the cartoon world are without bounds, and anything can happen in fiction! I cannot stress this fact enough, for to accept a place (juris-diction) in such a corrupt city upon a hill (district) is to assent to the worst potentiality of tyranny.

While this all may be surprising due to its somewhat private mystery as kept amongst those several People of the conspiracy (confederation), it is nonetheless par for the presidential course. All presidents are blood relations to each other, as are all kings, prime ministers, and popes. Only a fool, or a nation of publicly educated fools, could possibly believe otherwise. The records are out there for the reader to verify, but only for those who actually wish to face Reality. Many don’t.

Welcome to America… Here lays Rome on steroids!

In anthropology, there are only three older classifications of man, all of which are considered as homo sapient beings in their purely animal (hu-man) form. These include:
Caucasian races (Aryans, Hamites, Semites)

Mongolian races (northern Mongolian, Chinese and Indo-Chinese, Japanese and Korean, Tibetan, Malayan, Polynesian, Maori, Micronesian, Eskimo, American Indian)

Negroid races (African, Hottentots, Melanesians/Papua, “Negrito,” Australian Aborigine, Dravidians, Sinhalese)

This is merely a scientific outlook and classification, having nothing to do with politics in and of itself. It could just as easily be butterflies or beetles so classified. It is not a judgement, being completely neutral by its surface intent. But the words themselves may certainly be used in judgement by unscrupulous men, namely men like those “founding fathers,” those legally self-declared “white persons” we so mistakingly cherish as moral men. But remember, it is the blood that is “white,” not the skin. Notice too that the “Semite” (i.e., the apparent, self-proclaimed “Jew”) is also considered a caucasian (and legally white) “race,” right next and equal to the Aryan!

Perhaps most interesting is that all dictionaries define the word semite not as a “Jew” but as an “Arab,” the connection to the modern “Jew” being merely an ethnicity (language of national identity) based on use of the Hebrew language.

SEMITE - 1a: A member of any of a number of peoples of ancient southwestern Asia including the Akkadians, Phoenicians, Hebrews, AND ARABS... (=Webster’s English Dictionary online)

SEMITE - A member of the group of CAUCASOID PEOPLES WHO SPEAK A SEMITIC LANGUAGE, INCLUDING THE JEWS AND ARABS as well as the ancient Babylonians, Assyrians, and Phoenicians... (=Collins English Dictionary online)

Even the Encyclopedia Judaica admits openly as to this description of the origin of the “Semites,” where it states:

“Semites, a term originally referring to those peoples listed in the table of nations (Genesis 10) as descendants of Noah’s son Shem (Sem in the LXX and the Vulgate). THE DERIVATIVE “SEMITE” WAS COINED as a linguistic term by A. L. Schloezer IN 1781... Shem is given five sons who had 21 descendants making a total of 26 peoples derived from him. These include the Elamites and the Assyrians, the Lydians (but note Genesis 10:13), the Arameans, AND NUMEROUS ARAB TRIBES THROUGH SYRIA AND ASSYRIA, TO PERSIA... “Semite” was then defined by the supposed physical characteristics of the chief surviving representatives of the list, THE JEWS AND THE ARABS... The problematic nature and EVIL results of earlier radical theories have led to A RESTRICTION OF THE TERMS SEMITE AND SEMITIC IN CAREFUL MODERN USAGE TO LINGUISTIC CATEGORIES. Aside from the Biblical referent, the linguistic is the only model scholarly-scientific use of the term. The combination of peoples under the rubric Semites in Genesis 10 is not justified by the criterion... These common features comprise the IDENTIFYING MARKS OF THE SEMITIC LANGUAGES, and in current usage THE PEOPLE SPEAKING THE LANGUAGES ARE CALLED SEMITIC — today mainly THE JEWS (HEBREW) AND ARABS...

In other words, the use of the accusation “antisemite” as a tool to defeat any rational, political debate is a pure and utter nonsensical logical fallacy. To call anyone “antisemite” is to also call them anti-Arab. And if indeed this semitic ethnic (language-based) title extends even to Persia, as according to Encyclopedia Judaica, then this scientific term is completely irrelevant in the way it is modernly used as a political weapon (word-magic), as those who support Iran and other Arab peoples and countries are also called as somehow antisemitic. So I guess we are supposed to ignore the deep and rich semitic nature of the Iranian (Persian) and other Arab peoples so that the synagogue of satan (false, modern, atheistic and secularized “Jews”) can lay exclusivity to that fallacious and purposefully incorrect political term? And perhaps most hilarious, the word semite is used to describe the Caucasioid (Caucasian) races above, which again are Aryan (Japheth?), Semite (Shem), and Hamite (Ham). It appears that the so-called race war between Jews, Arabs, and Christians is a non sequitur, a non-starter, as we are all really just Caucasians. One has to laugh at the idiocy of the common goy to be led into battle against our own racial cousins due to skin-color and cultural ethnicity (a nation and its language identity), and then further biased on which false transliteration of religion (simulation/simulacrum) each culture subscribes to. And all the while the very sacred texts that all these religions are stemmed from promotes Love, Peace, Charity, and Natural Law. The irony that all three of the currently warring peoples of mainstream significance are of the same anthropological classification, separated only by the mis-transliterated mysteries of religious dogma and common language, while all others are sidelined and called as the “third world” populations, stems not from accident but through careful planning by the ruling class. It is this author’s humble opinion that only through this false, racial division (political racism) as supported by the language (ethnicity) differential between each racially driven religious identity may one “royal” legal class (status) rule over the rest. Without racial divisions based on lingual (ethic) differences that lead ultimately to cultural (cult belief) differences, the multitude of One common people of Earth would combine under God’s Law of Nature to defeat those organized pirates that rule by the influence of technology (art) and the word-magic of legal language of government (mind control). No man may be One with God and Nature and also be a subject of any nation and its language arts and law. It is an eternal, devilish game of divide and conquer, where even those of “equal rights” remain ignorantly divided by their skin color and religious beliefs (love of ceremonial falsehoods and institutionalized lies).

I cannot stress enough here the importance of understanding that language as words of art are the single and only actual differential that makes up each ethnic culture around the world. And each of these common tongues is shadowed by the evils of legalese, the adversary of the law society of these devils (evil genius/class). And each is used experimentally in empire-building, driven culturally and ethnically (by the art of language and of mammon) toward its ultimate doom while the bloodlines (creators) never change, like the phoenix raising from its own ashes.

These group classes have certainly been used to distinguish in private law between the races, and specifically to exclude one or both from the other class and genius for their own “posterity,” even as the so-called “right of return” to Israel, based on blood right. Again, one is Reality and one is legal fiction, as fabled genealogy, the blood right of kings (sovereign Peoples). And in African countries we will find “black” kings and aristocracies that exclude “white” peoples, as would be expected in a bloodline family rule that strives to keep its bloodline pure of the other gene pools. For in the legal, fabled genealogical setting, we must remember that only the blood is considered, not merely the vulgar, outward characteristics of skin-color. This is the difference between institutionalized fiction and True science. And because of this fiction, the True science is also mistakenly demonized as “racist,” which of course is patently ridiculous; as ridiculous as blaming the Bible for the actions of the false churches that use it wrongly in practice towards their own designs. But from these group names we may certainly see where such exclusionary racism and the terms surrounding it stems from.

For our purposes though, only the caucasoid race, which includes Semites and is not dependent upon skin color alone, is our primary concern as to where the bloodline of Barack Obama stands. His mother is of course caucasian and Jewish (“semite”), standing as an issue from the Dunham clan of private, land-holding “white persons,” or so we are told in that fabled tree of Arms. Whatever is shown on any legal document, birth certificate, or other identification means absolutely nothing in regard to this man’s blood right to occupy the office of president.

A citizen-ship is a commercial person, a vessel in receivership by man to sail on the virtual sea of interstate commerce under the international law merchant in protection from the foreign laws of the individual States (bloodline People). It has nothing to do with blood accept that it signifies the legal “fact” that its bearer stands with a lack of inheritable blood as his lesser, lower-class status. He is human capital, a permanent renter and tenant, mere peopled live-stock. Federal law trumps state law only because of the higher authority of a federal citizen-ship due to domicile (dominion), just as the laws of other foreign nations are considered as higher when a citizen of another nation or country breaks a foreign law (as with diplomatic immunity). The offending citizen is generally extradited back to his correct jurisdiction, or he his held as a political prisoner. Ironically, the laws of a foreign nation only apply to the US citizen-ship by nature of that commercial relation. Without this legal persona, the foreign nation would deal with the man according to its own moral or amoral law and legal code. This slavery and the privilege of commercial, international travel is mistaken to be a good thing by citizenships, for it is the security of protection, and thus in Reality is only subjection to tyranny. It is only the modern version of travel by air and boat that creates this apparent need for protection, for a private man seldom need leave his own perfect title to land (his own sovereign castle). The enticement of world travel, like love is to marriage, is merely an inducement to contract. Trickery… No reasonable man would give up liberty in his own land just to go see the Wall of China for a day with artful security and insurance in mammon. Travel is nothing more than a quite modern, commercial inducement to contract.

Citizenship, of course, as a form of personhood, is a crime against Nature. It is a state of artificial, legal existence bound to international admiralty law, the human trafficking laws of that worldwide system of mammon under an international bloodline of families. A virtual (artificial) ship only sails on virtual (artificial) water, and never touches the physical land (soil) or real liquid.

FOREIGNER - noun - for’ aner. A PERSON BORN IN A FOREIGN COUNTRY, or without the country or jurisdiction of which one SPEAKS. A Spaniard is a foreigner in France and England. All men not born in the United States are to them foreigners, and they are aliens till naturalized. A NATURALIZED PERSON IS A CITIZEN; BUT WE STILL CALL HIM A FOREIGNER BY BIRTH. (Webs1828)

FOREIGNER - In old English law, this term, when used with reference to a particular city, designated any person who was not an inhabitant of that city. According to later usage, it denotes a person who is not a citizen or subject of the state or country of which mention is made, or any one owing allegiance to a foreign state or sovereign. (Black4)

Legal marriage is always a commercial sea contract. Remember that! And this includes the marriage of the christian-name and surname to create the strawman.

A public United States person represents a man standing in receivership of that benefit and who is thus bound in surety by the laws of the use of that public person. By operating that United States (Washington DC) person in any of the private States of the People and under their commercial state and municipal governments, all trade is foreign in nature, for domicilled US citizenships are foreigners in whatever state they merely temporarily reside in. The citizenship is under United States law, which trumps any state law opposed to it, though still being bound by both forms of commercial law. The state governments have normalized and agreed to instate federal law in their own legal governments, but only unto those foreign citizenships of the United States. The private People are not in any way bound under the public law of that District, for their person (status) is not rendered from it (from Caesar). The private People of each State are not under that public law of each of their own created governments, which are created only to govern the commercial transactions of foreigners. This is why, though “marijuana” may be legal in many of the several
A man who receives a vessel is in receivership, and becomes the voluntarist master of that vessel in agency relationship. Quite obviously, the US law controls a US person, for it is the creator of that legal status. After all, the use of United States' notes in trade for marijuana is certainly against the law of the creator of that currency, and a federal public person would always be considered as acting in interstate commerce under any transaction involving currency created by the United States. This is the price of usury and of worshipping false idols (the gods of the nations). The crime is not medicinal or recreational “use” of a plant, the crime is acquiring of a legalized “drug” with the use of patented money without license from the creator of that currency. Nothing of Nature is unlawful. Only manmade things are regulated as such. And unfortunately, as US citizen-ships, the very names (nouns) legally placed upon all things in Nature are the legal currency of words. We may only use the words in person with permission, which means that a legal, public person may only use Nature and worship Jehovah with license from government (anti-God). The man is bound and gagged from his God by that legal persona, for his own surname in admixture and surety under letters patent belongs to the state as well.

The addiction to money is infinitely more powerful than to any drug or plant (hint: cannabis is not a drug, it’s a plant. Only its legal name is illegal, and only for public citizenships, not private men).

RECEIVE - To take into possession and control; accept custody of. (Black4)

RECEIVER - noun - 1. One who takes or receives in ANY manner. 2. An officer appointed to receive public money: a treasurer. 3. One who takes stolen goods from a thief, knowing them to be stolen. AND INCURS THE GUILT OF PARTAKING IN THE CRIME. 4. A VESSEL for receiving and containing the product of distillation. 5. The vessel of an air pump, for containing the thing on which an experiment is to be made. 6. ONE WHO PARTAKES OF THE SACRAMENT (Webs1828)

SACRAMENT - noun - [Latin sacramentum, AN OATH, from sacer, sacred.] 1. Among ancient christian writers, A MYSTERY. [Not in use.] 2. AN OATH; A CEREMONY PRODUCING AN OBLIGATION, but not used in this general sense. 3. In present usage, an outward and visible sign of inward and spiritual grace; or more particularly, a solemn religious ceremony enjoined by Christ: THE HEAD OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH, to be observed by his followers, BY WHICH THEIR SPECIAL RELATION TO HIM IS CREATED, or their OBLIGATIONS to him renewed and RATIFIED. Thus BAPTISM IS CALLED A SACRAMENT for by it PERSONS are separated from the world, brought into Christ's visible church, and LAID under particular obligations to obey his precepts. The eucharist or communion of the Lord's supper, is also a sacrament for by COMMEMORATING THE DEATH and dying love of Christ, christians avow their special relation to him, and renew their obligations to be faithful to their divine Master. When we use sacrament without any qualifying word, we mean by it: 4. The eucharist or Lord's supper. - verb transitive - TO BIND BY AN OATH. (Webs1828)

EUCHARIST - noun - [Gr. a giving of thanks; well, favor.] 1. The sacrament of the Lord's supper; the solemn act or ceremony of COMMEMORATING THE DEATH of our Redeemer, in the use of bread and wine, as emblems of his flesh and blood, accompanied with appropriate prayers and hymns. 2. The act of giving thanks. (Webs1828)
Read the above definition carefully. This is a ceremony of pomp and circumstance that has nothing to do with the scriptures, only with that of the doctrines and traditions of the corporate church. For this is the sacrament of the church and oath to its doctrines, not to Jehovah.

"Article XXIX: Of the Wicked which do not eat the Body of Christ in the use of the Lord's Supper…"

“The Wicked, and such as be void of a lively faith, although they do carnally and visibly press with their teeth (as Saint Augustine saith) the Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Christ, YET IN NO WISE ARE THEY PARTAKERS OF CHRIST: but rather, TO THEIR CONDEMNATION, do eat and drink the SIGN or Sacrament of so great a thing.”

—Article 29 of the “39 Articles of Religion (Faith)” of the Church of England, 1563

This simulation of the Lord’s Supper, called as communion, is the sacrament (curse) of the corporate office of the pope, not a spiritual vow to Jehovah. This is the receiving of an unspiritual, vicarious secular token, an artifice of a processed artificial food substance in wafer form combined with a sip of homogenized, pasteurized, very likely irradiated “grape juice” processed with corn syrup, and is a mockery of the True meaning of christ’s metaphoric blood offering to all of us from this legally declared spiritual jurisdiction of the Holy Roman Empire. It is, of course, the worship of symbolism and simulation instead of the Real Thing. An oath is not a promise, and is nothing if not a legally binding contractual relationship under legal sanction, whereas a private promise or vow to God is the only Truth of Faith. Any temporal sacrament is only an oath (noun) to a corporation and its head, as a ceremony of allegiance and fealty to the personified, fictional representation and false legal title of the “vicar of christ” appointed by other men, not a promise (verb) to Jehovah. This is how men are tricked into taking God’s name (as Jehovah) in vain, by instead taking the worldly name of the antichrist (vicar of God and christ) as christ’s replacement in the temporal realm. Spirituality dies the second any oath (sacrament) is taken, for a promise to a fictional person, place, or thing (noun) is always a cursed transaction in the fiction and commerce of mammon. An oath to Jehovah is worthless to Jehovah, for man is already the property of God’s Creation and no false persona is needed. Spirituality Lives only in the promises (vows) made without oath or legal contract, which are those made privately and only to Jehovah through the actions of christ’s parabolic example and with conscious awareness and intent. One cannot take an oath or make promise to God while in pursuit of mammon, and one cannot pray to God to obtain the currency of mammon with any legitimacy. For this is not of the realm of the Reality and Nature of God. Spirituality relies solely on keeping the promise to follow God’s Law over all others, which necessarily means never respecting that law of any man-made, institutionalized church. There can be no middleman between man and his Creator, as the scriptures instruct.

But try telling that to the pope and queen! Off with your head!

The churches and states of men stand and can only ever stand in offense against christ’s teachings, seeking to sever man’s connection with his own True Nature of Source, seeking to draw the worship and energy of God’s Nature into the transmuted authority of those institutional fictions. We are either in receipt of God’s grace or we are standing in the dis-grace of legal, false idols.
RECEIVER - An indifferent PERSON BETWEEN THE PARTIES TO A CAUSE, appointed by the court to receive and preserve the property or fund in litigation, and receive its rents, ISSUES, and profits, AND APPLY OR DISPOSE OF THEM AT THE DIRECTION OF THE COURT when it does not seem reasonable that either party should hold them. Or where a party is incompetent to do so, as in the case of an INFANT. The remedy of the appointment of a receiver is one of the very oldest in the court of chancery, and is founded on the inadequacy of the remedy to be obtained in the court of ordinary jurisdiction. A fiduciary of the court, appointed as an incident to other proceedings wherein certain ultimate relief is prayed. He is a trustee or ministerial officer representing court, and all parties in interest in litigation, and property or fund intrusted to him. See also… Receivership, ONE WHO RECEIVES MONEY TO THE USE OF ANOTHER TO RENDER AN ACCOUNT. In criminal law: ONE WHO RECEIVES STOLEN GOODS FROM THIEVES, AND CONCEALS THEM. THIS WAS ALWAYS THE PREVALENT SENSE OF THE WORD IN THE COMMON AS WELL AS THE CIVIL LAW. (Black4)

RECEIVERSHIP - An extraordinary remedy of an ancillary character; chief reason for its allowance being TO HUSBAND PROPERTY in litigation for benefit OF PERSON who may ultimately be found entitled thereto. See also, Receiver. (Black4)

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS - The short name usually given to the offense of receiving any property with the knowledge that it has been feloniously, or unlawfully stolen, taken, extorted, OBTAINED, embezzled, or disposed of. (Black4)

RECEIVER'S CERTIFICATE - A non-negotiable EVIDENCE OF DEBT, or debenture, issued by authority of a court of chancery, as a first lien upon the property of a debtor corporation in the hands of a receiver. (Black4)

RECEIPT - Written acknowledgment of the receipt of money, or a thing of value, without containing any affirmative obligation upon either party to it; A MERE ADMISSION OF A FACT, IN WRITING. And being a mere acknowledgment of payment, is subject to parol explanation or contradiction. Act of RECEIVING; also, the fact of receiving or BEING RECEIVED: that which is received; that which COMES IN, in distinction from what is expended, paid out, sent away, and the like. (Black4)

DEBENTURE - noun - [Fr. from Latin debeo, to owe.] 1. A writing ACKNOWLEDGING A DEBT; a writing or CERTIFICATE SIGNED BY A PUBLIC OFFICER, AS EVIDENCE OF A DEBT DUE TO SOME PERSON. This paper, given by an officer of the customs, entitles a merchant exporting goods, to the receipt of a bounty, or a drawback of duties. When issued by a treasurer, it entitles the holder to a sum of money from the state. 2. In the customs, a certificate of drawback; a writing which states that a person is entitled to a certain sum from the government, on the exportation of specified goods, the duties on which had been paid. (Webs1828)

A man in citizenship is the agent in receivership and surety of United States property, the legal person, as the act of conducting one’s actions in strawman form. The birth certificate is the receipt of that thing of valuation, as an admission in discovery and disclosure of fact regarding the creation of a legal entity (natural person) in infancy. This is evidence of debt and obligation to the United States, the first alienation and fall of man into legal citizenship (sacrament) with the United States through its district (seizure). To be clear, it has no affirmative obligation upon an infant until, when attaining adulthood, the infant continues to use the benefits and status of that legal personhood (mark, name, and number) under allegiance to the United States with voluntary consent (action in legalized adultery). This is a confirmation of that which is voidable into something which is ratified as unavoidable. The man generally has no idea what he is doing, acting only in the custom he is brought forth in by his parents and extremely limited public education, and so this state of legal existence seems perfectly normal to us by the time we are able to avoid it by voiding it through quitting (quitclaim). Ignorance is always key to enslavement.

But can a ship really sail on anything but Real water? We must of course remember that most legal terms are figurative, metaphorical, and downright lies.

For instance, the American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language, Fifth Edition, defines water as:

WATER - a. The VALUATION of the assets of a business firm BEYOND THEIR REAL VALUE. b. Stock issued in excess of paid-in capital… b. A level of excellence… (from thesauries) - 1. TO LESSEN THE STRENGTH OF BY OR AS IF BY ADMIXTURE. Also used with (water) down.

WATERING - To increase (the number of shares of stock) without increasing the value of the assets represented.

UNDER WATER - 1. BEING OR HOLDING AN ASSET that is worth less than its purchase price or the debt owed on it. 2. Not making enough money to meet financial obligations.

To be clear, only through the placing of some artificial valuation in money or other credit or debt instrument in mammon upon what is Real and of God’s Nature (Creation) can things be liquified.
In other words, to cause a fictional representation of anything in Nature is equal to taking away its substance therein, causing it to appear in the form of a liquid asset. By recreating (legally naming) what is solid (of substance) into what is of the water (form without substance), only then may all things be pretended subservient to its creator (issuer of name). This extra or lessened valuation (credit or debt) simply does not Exist in Nature, and yet it is the epitome of how legal fiction and law rules over the Law of Nature, which admits to no such valuation. To be perfectly clear, without credit there would be no government or rulers. And without debt, there would be no subjects.
Without money (false valuation), this work would be entirely pointless, for only God’s Creation would remain Whole and without artifice.

Collins English Dictionary, Complete and Unabridged (2003), states that water is (figuratively):

WATER - 12. (Banking & Finance) a. Capital stock issued without a corresponding increase in paid-up capital, so that the book value of the company’s capital is not fully represented by assets or earning power. b. THE FICTITIOUS OR UNREALISTIC ASSET ENTRIES THAT REFLECT SUCH INFLATED BOOK VALUE OF CAPITAL.

HOLD WATER - 15. To prove credible, logical, or consistent: the alibi did not hold water.

Random House Kernerman Webster's College Dictionary (2010) states:

WATER - 11. FICTITIOUS ASSETS OR THE INFLATED VALUES GIVEN TO THE STOCK
OF A CORPORATION. 21. To discharge… 23. Of or pertaining to water in any way… 30.
RESIDING BY OR IN, OR RULING OVER, water: water people; water deities.

HOLD WATER - 2. Hold water, to be able to be substantiated or defended…

LIKE WATER - Freely: abundantly: lavishly…
We use these terms metaphorically terms all of the time without pausing to consider what we are saying. It has become as second nature to us. This is a bad thing, of course, for we are allowing fiction to justify and excuse our course of action. We are nicknaming our sins with more acceptable terms of art. We are not Living in Reality.

Finally, we can follow the trail of this virtual water jurisdiction so as to find a great flood upon the entirety of all the land; the great sea of commerce over which the spiritually Living Jesus Christ was able to walk upon without becoming legally wet (wed) in any legal commercial capacity, for the spiritual man contains no legal capacity for person-hood or for engagement upon that great sea of commerce:

FLOOD - noun - fluid. 1. A great flow of water: a body of moving water: particularly, a body of water rising, swelling and overflowing land not usually covered with water… 2. The Flood by way of eminence. The Deluge: the great body of water which inundated the earth in the days of Noah. Before the flood men live to a great age. 3. A river; a sense chiefly poetical… 5. A great quantity: an inundation; an overflowing; abundance; superabundance; as a flood of bank notes; a flood of paper currency. 6. A great body or stream of any fluid substance; as a flood of light; a flood of Java. Hence, figuratively, a flood of vice. 7. Menstrual discharge. - verb transitive - To overflow; to inundate; to deluge; as, to flood a meadow. (Webs1828)

DELUGE - noun - [Latin To wash] 1. Any overflowing of water; an inundation; a flood; a swell of water over the natural banks of a river or shore of the ocean, spreading over the adjacent land. But appropriately, the great flood or overflowing of the earth by water, in the days of Noah; according to the common chronology, Anno Mundi, 1656. Genesis 6:1. 2. A Sweeping or Overwhelming calamity. - verb transitive - 1. To overflow with water; to inundate; to drown. The waters deluged the earth and destroyed the old world. 2. To overwhelm; to cover with any flowing or moving, spreading body. The Northern nations deluged the Roman empire with their armies. 3. To overwhelm; to cause to sink under the weight of a general or spreading calamity; as, the land is deluged with corruption. (Webs1828)

WATER - As designating a commodity or a subject of ownership, this term has the same meaning in law as in common speech; but in another sense, and especially in the plural, it may designate a body of water, such as a river, a lake, or an ocean. Or an aggregate of such bodies of water, as in the phrases "Foreign waters," "Waters of the United States," and the like. Water is neither land nor tenement nor susceptible of absolute ownership. It is a movable thing and must of necessity continue common by the law of nature. It admits only of a transient usufructuary property, and if it escapes for a moment the right to it is gone forever. The qualified owner having no legal power of reclamation. It is not capable of being sued for by the name of "water," nor by a calculation of its cubical or superficial measure; but the suit must be brought for the land which lies at the bottom covered with water. As water is not land, neither is it a tenement, because it is not of a permanent nature, nor the subject of absolute property. It is not in any possible sense real estate, and hence is not embraced in a covenant of general warranty. (Black2)

WARRANTY - noun - 1. In law, a promise or covenant by deed, made by the bargainer for himself and his heirs, to warrant or secure the bargaineer and his heirs against all men in the enjoyment of an estate or other thing granted. Such warranty passes from the seller to the buyer, from the feoffor to the feoffee, and from the releaser to the releasee. Warranty is real, when annexed to lands and tenements granted in fee or for life, etc. And is in deed or in law; and personal, when it respects goods sold or their quality. In common recoveries, a fictitious person is called to warranty. In the sale of goods or personal property, the seller warrants the title; the warranty is express or implied. If a man sells goods which are not his own, or which he has no right to sell, the purchaser may have satisfaction for the injury. And if the seller expressly warrants the goods to be sound and not defective, and they prove to be otherwise, he must indemnify the purchaser. The law implies A CONTRACT IN THE WARRANTY TO MAKE GOOD ANY DEFECT. But the warranty must be at the time of sale, and not afterwards. 2. Authority: justificatory mandate or precept. If they disobey any precept, THAT IS NO EXCUSE TO US, nor gives us any warranty to disobey likewise. [In this sense, warrant is now used.] 3. SECURITY. The stamp was a warranty of the public. - verb transitive - To warrant; TO GUARANTY. [A useless word.] (Webs1828)

Everything we do is upon the legal, virtual water, in a commercial vessel (person). In short, since water is movable and cannot be insured (warranted), and it can never be land or tenement, it cannot be owned as real property. So everything we do in public is not attached to the ground, flowing instead only in the virtual waters of commerce. And so we may own nothing, for things of the nature of water are common, public, and thus not able to be privately held. We are the victims of a great flood, a deluge of corruption in a system of total, organized criminality. A private landholder holds dry land, but a public citizenship only virtually floats over it in a national commercial vessel (citizen-ship) as a foreigner on the territory (land), and thus only temporarily as an unfixed resident with no domicile in that place of actual residence. Home is not residence. Home is only domicile. Residence without domicile is thus not home; not fixed, only temporary as in the time domain. A United States district citizen-ship that is a legal, commercial resident in California, has his fixed home (domicile) in the foreign United States only, in that place of the birth of its legal creation (impersonation), and not in any several (private) state (territory/land). The US person is foreign to California. Like a ship flying its home nation’s flag, a US citizenship is a foreigner with temporary permission (license of personhood) to reside and act in that foreign, private State, under that commercial state government (in water) as a resident only, one without domain in the estate of the State sovereignty over those lands.

We may also come to understand the intent of what seems almost ridiculous in the chapters of the Old Testament, such as those of Leviticus, where the metaphor and the literal are used in moral teachings. We are, of course, not supposed to touch the flesh of anything “in the water” that is not a Natural Source of sustenance. For we know what lurks in the commercial sea is not that which will nourish us…

“These shall ye eat of all that are IN THE WATERS: whatsoever hath fins and scales in the waters, in the seas, and in the rivers, them shall ye eat. And all that have not fins and scales in the seas, and in the rivers, of all that move in the waters, and of any living thing which is in the waters, they shall be an abomination unto you: They shall be even an abomination unto you; ye shall not eat of their flesh, but ye shall have their carcases in abomination. WHATSOEVER hath no fins nor scales in the waters, that shall be an abomination unto you.”

—Leviticus 11:9-12, KJB

Remember that the figurative definition for water is that which is “of danger, violence, transitory things, refreshment.” The scriptures are chalked full of this figurative notion of the water, of being raised and cleansed and washed when there is no actually water to be found or discussed.

He sent from above, he took me, HE DREW ME OUT OF MANY WATERS. He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hated me: for they were too strong for me. They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the LORD was my stay... The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness; ACCORDING TO THE CLEANNESS OF MY HANDS hath he recompensed me. FOR I HAVE KEPT THE WAYS OF THE LORD, AND HAVE NOT WICKEDLY DEPARTED FROM MY GOD.

All water is common, which means individuals may not own it, for it has no stability or foundation in and of itself and is not anchored to the land. A public person is of the water, having only unclean hands and figuratively eating of what is unNatural to Creation (respecting art/fictions of the commercial sea and its maritime law).

Everything under that deluge of legal terms and jurisdiction in personhood is property of the church and state (corporations) and their creators. Water is not land (soil), just as persons are not men. Persons only exist in the flood, as the liquidation of virtual water in commerce. Public persons may only be operated on the sea (see) of interstate commerce, for they are the ships (commercial vessels) sailing in agency and thus flying the flag and Arms of their principal (father of the common, soulless, bloodless people) just as it was in days of old. But the United States flag is that of the Dread Pirate Washington.

DOMINANT ESTATE OR TENEMENT - That to which A SERVITUDE OR EASEMENT IS DUE, or for the benefit of which it exists. A TERM USED IN THE CIVIL AND SCOTCH LAW, AND THENCE IN OURS, relating to servitudes, meaning the tenement or subject in favor of which the service is constituted; AS THE TENEMENT OVER WHICH THE SERVITUDE EXTENDS is called the “servient tenement.” (Black4)

DOMIICUM - Latin. Domain; demain; demesne. A LORDSHIP. That of which one has the lordship or ownership. THAT WHICH REMAINS UNDER THE LORD'S IMMEDIATE CHARGE AND CONTROL. The mere right of property, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM THE POSSESSION OR USUFRUCT. THE RIGHT WHICH A LORD HAD IN THE FEE OF HIS TENANT. In this sense the word is very clearly distinguished by Bracton from dominicum. The estate of a feoffee to uses. "The feoffee to use shall have the dominium, and the cestui que use the disposition." SOVEREIGNTY OR DOMINION. (Black4)

DOMINION MARIS - THE SOVEREIGNTY OF THE SEA. (Black4)

DOMAIN - The right of the owner of a thing TO USE IT OR DISPOSE OF IT AT HIS PLEASURE. (Bouv1856)

DOMAIN - The complete and ABSOLUTE OWNERSHIP OF LAND; a paramount and individual right of property in land. Also the real estate so owned. The INHERENT SOVEREIGN POWER CLAIMED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF A STATE, of controlling private property for public uses, is termed the "right of eminent domain." A distinction has been made between "property" and "domain." The former (property) is said to be that quality which is conceived to be IN THE THING ITSELF, considered as belonging to such or such person, exclusively of all others. By the latter (domain) is understood that right which the owner has OF DISPOSING OF THE THING. Hence "domain" and "property" are said to be correlative terms. The one (domain) is the active right to dispose of; the other (property) A PASSIVE QUALITY WHICH FOLLOWS THE THING and places it at the disposition of the owner. National domain is sometimes applied to the aggregate of the property owned directly by a nation. PUBLIC DOMAIN EMBRACES ALL LANDS, THE TITLE TO WHICH IS IN THE UNITED STATES, including as well land occupied for the purposes of federal buildings, arsenals, dock-yards, etc., as land of an agricultural or mineral character not yet granted to PRIVATE OWNERS. (Black4)

DOMAIN - It signifies sometimes, dominion, territory governed – sometimes, possession, estate – and sometimes, land about the mansion house of a lord. By domain is also understood THE RIGHT TO DISPOSE AT OUR PLEASURE OF WHAT BELONGS TO US. .. (Bouv1856)

DISPOSAL - Sale, pledge, giving away, use, consumption or any other disposition of a thing. TO EXERCISE CONTROL OVER; TO DIRECT OR ASSIGN FOR A USE; TO PASS OVER INTO THE CONTROL OF SOME ONE ELSE; TO ALIENATE, bestow, or part with. (Black4)

DISPOSE OF - To alienate or direct the ownership of property, as disposition by will. Used also of the determination of suits. Called a word of large extent. TO EXERCISE FINALLY, in any manner, one's power of control over, to pass into the control of someone else; to alienate, relinquish, part with, or get rid of; to put out of the way; to finish with; to bargain away. Often used in restricted sense of "sale" only, or so restricted by context. (Black4)

DOMESTICATED - Made domestic or converted to domestic use. (Black4)

DOMICELLUS - In old English law. A better sort of servant in monasteries; also an appellation (name) of a king's bastard. (Black4)

DOMICILE - That place where a man has his true, fixed, and permanent home and principal establishment, and to which whenever he is absent he has the intention of returning. Not for a mere special or temporary purpose, but with the present intention of making a permanent home, for an unlimited or indefinite period. In international law, a residence at a particular place, accompanied with positive or presumptive proof of an intention to continue there for an unlimited time. The word "domicile" is derived from Latin "domus," meaning home or dwelling house, and domicile is the legal conception of "home." The established, fixed, permanent, or ordinary dwelling-place or place of residence of a person as distinguished from his temporary and transient, though actual, place of residence. It is his legal residence, as distinguished from his temporary place of abode or his home. As distinguished from a place to which business or pleasure may temporarily call him, "citizenship," "habitancy," and "residence" are several words which in the particular case may mean precisely the same as domicile. "Domicile" and "residence," however, are frequently distinguished, in that domicile is the home, the fixed place of habitation; while residence is a transient place of dwelling. Domicile may be deemed to be of three sorts: domicile by birth, domicile by choice, and domicile by operation of law. The first is the common case of the place of birth, domicilium originis; the second is that which is voluntarily acquired by a party, proprio motu; the last is consequential, as that of the wife arising from marriage.

National Domicile - The domicile of a person considered as being within the territory of a particular nation, and not with reference to a particular locality or subdivision of a nation.

Quasi National Domicile - One involving residence in a state.

Municipal Domicile - One which is distinguished from "national domicile" and "quasi national domicile" (see those titles, infra), has reference to residence in a county, township, or municipality.

Domestic Domicile - A name sometimes used for "municipal domicile."

Foreign Domicile - A domicile established by a citizen or subject of one sovereignty within the territory of another.

711

Natural Domicile - The same as domicile of origin or domicile by birth.

Domicile of Origin - THE HOME OF THE PARENTS. That which arises from a man's birth and connections. THE DOMICILE OF THE PARENTS AT THE TIME OF BIRTH, or what is termed the "domicile of origin," constitutes the domicile of an infant, and continues until abandoned, or until the acquisition of a new domicile in a different place.

Matrimonial Domicile - The place where a husband and wife have established a home, in which they reside in the relation of husband and wife, and WHERE THE MATRIMONIAL CONTRACT IS BEING PERFORMED. (Black4)

DOMICILIUM - Latin. Domicile. (Black4)

DOMICILIARY ADMINISTRATION - Administration in state where PERSON was domiciled at time of death is deemed PRINCIPAL OR PRIMARY ADMINISTRATION and is ordinarily termed "domiciliary administration." (Black4)
DOMICILIATE - To establish one’s domicile: TO TAKE UP ONE’S FIXED RESIDENCE IN A GIVEN PLACE. To establish the domicile of another person whose legal residence follows one’s own. (Black4)

DOMICILIATION - In Spanish law, The acquisition of domiciliary rights and STATUS, nearly equivalent to naturalization, which may be accomplished BY BEING BORN IN THE KINGDOM, by conversion to the Catholic faith there, by taking up a permanent residence in some settlement and marrying a native woman, and BY ATTACHING ONESELF TO THE SOIL, purchasing or acquiring real property and possessions. (Black4)

It is very simple to define domicile and residence as separate concepts, but not so simple for most to accept. For acceptance requires acknowledgement of status, and many slaves still believe they are sovereigns, thanks to gurus and shock-jock radio personalities and “patriots” that either lie or parrot their own falsely conveyed brand of tainted “truth” in utter ignorance or purposeful deceit.

There are two conditions of natural persons. One is the domicile, one the residence. One can maintain fixed residence where one is domiciled, but can also maintain temporary residence in another “foreign” place. But a domicile is always fixed, never temporary, and so only the residence can be separate from its source (as temporary / time-based). Domicile never changes without loss of citizenship. A private citizen of a State, being several (separate) and thus foreign from the United States jurisdiction, does not call the United States its master or principal, for his private person (landed status) is not of the origin or in that districted jurisdiction. A private citizen is not a “natural” person created by the United States, but is rather he whose ancestors created and control it. The private State citizen is not seized by its own created district at birth nor certified to be dead or to have any form of public, legal, civil life. But a public citizen-ship (status at commercial sea) is created by the United States, and therefore its domicile will always and without exception be within that source of nativity and fixed to it, as the United States district of Washington (New Columbia). The creator controls. A United States citizenship has permanent domicile only in the United States (DC), and thus can never have permanent residence in one of the several (private) States (as the People of each sovereignty). The ship is rendered and berthed from and must be returned (docked) to the district that created it, causing its execution (civil death) and discharge of contractual performance debt. Only one domicile is possible, just as honoring only one God / god is possible. A US citizenship can only ever be temporary in one of the several (foreign/private) states, for nothing he may obtain as “property” is fixed to the land, but is only of the water (sea) and possessed in usufrecht only on behalf of his principal in that agency relationship, the state being a third party to that commercial agency. His existence is purely a permissive and commercial one, and all that he does and obtains therein is only on behalf of his principal. He has no dominion in the lands of the actual State (People), only permission to act in commercial tenancy under rent and tribute to that territory’s (sovereign People’s) commercial state government in public agency.

Quite frankly, I cannot claim any “Natural rights” in a State for which I am only a temporary, legal resident within because I am a foreigner (alien) to that land (territory), having only the capacity to drive and converse a public United States vessel on public highways and roads. I can only conduct commercial activity in public places where United States citizen-ships are allowed to sail that public commercial sea by license and easement. US citizen-ships are always foreign in their political nature to any other state (country) or nation, for they are not of or claiming the right of blood inheritance and heirdom to any land therein.

Even the “road” is just a virtual waterway for commercial vessels, as dirt, brick, and asphalt flooded by the artificial sea of commerce. The holy, sacred (cursed) Roman See.

RULE OF THE ROAD - The popular English name for the regulations governing the NAVIGATION OF VESSELS IN PUBLIC WATERS, with a view to preventing collisions. (Black4)
SEA - noun - SEE. [This word, like LAKE, signifies primarily A SEAT. SET or LAY. A REPOSITORY, a basin.] 1. A large basin, cistern or laver which Solomon made in the temple, so large as to contain more than six thousand gallons. This was called THE BRAZEN SEA, and used to hold water for the priests to wash themselves. 1 Kings 7:23. 2 Chronicles 4:2. 2. A large BODY of water nearly inclosed by land, as the Baltic or the Mediterranean; as the sea of Azof. Seas are properly BRANCHES OF THE OCEAN, and upon the same level. Large bodies of water inland, and situated above the level of the ocean, are lakes. The appellation (name) of sea, given to the Caspian lake, is an exception, and not very correct. So the lake of Galilee is called a sea, from the Greek. 3. The ocean; as, to go to sea. The fleet is at sea, or on the high seas. 4. A wave; a billow; a surge. THE VESSEL SHIPPED AT SEA... 6. Proverbially, a large quantity of liquor; AS A SEA OF BLOOD. 7. A rough or AGITATED PLACE OR ELEMENT. In a troubled sea of passion tossed. Milton. (Webs1828)

THE AUTHORITY OF THE POPE OR COURT OF ROME; AS, TO APPEAL TO THE SEE OF ROME. - verb transitive - [Latin sequor, and Eng. essay, are all from the same radix. To perceive by the eye; to have knowledge of the EXISTENCE AND THE APPARENT QUALITIES of objects; by the organs of sight; to behold. I will now turn aside and see this great sight. Exodus 3:3. We have seen the land, and behold, it is very good. Judges 18:1. 2. To observe; TO NOTE OR NOTICE; TO KNOW; to regard or look to; to take care; to attend, AS TO THE EXECUTION OF SOME ORDER, OR TO THE PERFORMANCE OF SOMETHING. To discern; TO HAVE INTELLECTUAL SIGHT; to penetrate; TO UNDERSTAND; with through or into; as, TO SEE THROUGH THE PLANS OR POLICY OF ANOTHER; to see into ARTFUL SCHEMES AND PRETENSIONS. 3. To examine or inquire. See whether the estimate is correct. 4. To be attentive. 5. TO HAVE FULL UNDERSTANDING. But now ye say, we see, therefore your sin remaineth. John 9:41. Let me see, let us see, are used TO EXPRESS CONSIDERATION, OR TO INTRODUCE THE PARTICULAR CONSIDERATION OF A SUBJECT, OR SOME SCHEME OR CALCULATION. See is used imperatively, to call the attention of others to an object or a subject. See, see, how the balloon ascends. See what it is to have a poet in your house. Pope. (Webs1828)
SEAT - noun - [L. sedes, situs.] 1. That on which one sits; a chair, bench, stool or any other thing on which a person sits. SEATED LAND - Land that is occupied, cultivated, improved, RECLAIMED, farmed, or used as a place of RESIDENCE. Residence without cultivation, or cultivation without residence, or both together, impart to land THE CHARACTER of being seated. The term is used, as opposed to “unseated land,” in Pennsylvania tax laws. (Black4)

It is common for most people to claim to be able to see an idea when it makes sense to them in their mind. And yet we accept this as if it were a reasonable response, knowing that it is a fallacy, a lie of the imagination. But, we say, “It makes sense.” But with a minute! What exactly makes sense? Dare I say that our only senses are what God Designed? Taste, touch, sight, etc? So how can an idea make sense? What I am trying to say is that this is not a term of Nature, and therefore neither should the Holy See be taken as a Creation of Jehovah. Though this word see is defined above as that which can be known by revelation (discovery), we must always consider the source and intent of that which we “see” to determine it as a Real sense or as non-sense. What comes from the mouth of the pope is uttered nonsense; the fiction of the ecclesia. This is a false doctrine of that which is not of the senses and not a self-evident Truth. In fact, it’s just a lot of Bull.

The history of what is called today as Washington, DC and formally as the “District of Columbia,” which more commonly is referred to in political (fictional) discourse as “Washington,” “the District,” or simply “DC,” is the seated, permanent capital and residence of the “United States.” The district has no seat and residence any where else, and the exclusivity of its jurisdiction under the congress of the United States (known officially in congressional records as: “the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled”) exists in all public places within the United States.

The signing by “Congress assembled” of the Residence Act on July 16, 1790, approved the creation of a commercial, capital district located along the Potomac River of the East Coast. The US Constitution provided for a residence to house the “seat” of government, a federal district under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Congress. This district is therefore not a part of any US State in compact, and so neither is any citizen-ship under it. Citizen-ships of the United States are Stateless, which is to say we are not part of the private (several) People (States) in contractual confederation and compact of “friendship” with each other.

We see that specific act and declaration of immunity in privacy declared by each foreign, several State (People) in the first three articles of confederation:
I. The style of this Confederacy shall be “The United States of America.”

II. Each State retains its sovereignty, freedom, and independence, and every power, jurisdiction, and right, which is not by this Confederation expressly delegated to the United States, in Congress assembled.

III. The said States hereby severally enter into a firm league of friendship with each other, for their common defense, the security of their liberties, and their mutual and general welfare, binding themselves to assist each other, against all force offered to, or attacks made upon them, or any of them, on account of religion, sovereignty, trade, or any other pretense whatever...

There is no way to take this last statement or article but as them against us, as “the People” (the States in Union) against the non-People. And so we really need to stop and think about this for a moment, and ask ourselves a few simple questions:

What could possibly be the reason for creating such a confederation of several People (States) if every man in this geographical region or later naturalized upon these lands were part of those landholding People (States)? What could possibly be the purpose of creating a public sphere and a constitution protecting slavery unless all men were not included within the description of those private People (States)?

One very important consideration here is that each of these private States retain its individual sovereignty (privacy) except that which is ceded (given/abandoned) to the United States. Thus the United States again is not one of the States united. And so inversely, and this is key to our public disposition in civil life without such privacy, that which is of (belonging to) the “United States” is that which is not of (belonging to) the private States. This fact is enforced and reinforced whenever the patriotic delusion of nationality (ethnicity) is challenged and spiritually guided reason without ego and Self-defense of the third person identity in mammon takes over. These hidden gems are almost all hidden under such obtuseness; little pieces of a much greater and disturbing puzzle where words must be rearranged and restated for full comprehension. This deciphering method does not change the meaning mind you, but only causes it to be clear from the opposing perspective of the slave bound to it. For all law is written to promote the master’s benefit, of course. It would be foolhardy to believe otherwise.

The 13th amendment is a prime example of this obfuscation of intent through the use of legal word magic and propaganda, where on its surface it states that, “involuntary slavery and servitude” was abolished. But in Reality, it also negatively states that slavery is to be recreated into the voluntary state of what would become national citizenship via the 14th amendment, which is said to be a “punishment for crime,” as the illegitimate but legally permissive and sanctioned birth (felony) certification and the resulting imprisonment (nativity) within the nation (district) as a debtor. To put it simply, the 13th amendment created and legalized a national, voluntarily contracted relationship of slavery/servitude. These magicians of words are very clever, for they are the keepers and magistrates (gods) and devils (evil geniuses) over this debtor’s hell. And it is most often what they do not specifically say that is the most important aspect of their trickery.

Obviously, by the writing of these “articles,” the entity called as the “United States” is being distinctly pointed out as that which is separate from the actual confederacy (conspiracy) of private States, as a separate entity that must have congressional approval as so assembled as “the People” of those States for anything to be given or ceded to it, including their “sovereignty, freedom, and independence, and every power, jurisdiction, and right.”

Now stop and consider this from the perspective of a public citizenship of the United States. Have you ever had an opportunity of privy (privilege) to declare any of these things and withhold them?
of America.” The States (People) are the share or stakeholders in union (private compact), while the aspect of the “United States” independently of their status of private citizens of the “united States.

congressmen in ßattering title they direct the non-constitutional, non-governmental, commercial corporation under legal titles. In other words, they wear two hats. Board members are often paid in ownership privately as shareholder (landholders), they act publicly in their administration of this corporation to the stockholding owners of a corporation (shareholders) as opposed to the board of directors and CEO of that same corporation that is privately owned. One is a private stakeholder, corporate to the stockholding owners of a corporation (shareholders) as opposed to the board of directors and CEO of that same corporation that is privately owned. One is a private stakeholder, directors and CEO of the same corporation is privately owned. One is a private stakeholder, one is the title of a public officer. While the officers (congressmen/directors) and CEO share in their ownership privately as shareholder (landholders), they act publicly in their administration of this corporation under legal titles. In other words, they wear two hats. Board members are often paid in shares of the company, and so are both shareholders (landholders) and members of the board (US congress). The title of “congressman” is only a legal person in law, a fiction of law, and so as congressmen in flattering title they direct the non-constitutional, non-governmental, commercial aspect of the “United States” independently of their status of private citizens of the “united States of America.” The States (People) are the share or stakeholders in union (private compact), while the titled officers of congress created by US Code are merely employees, artificial persons designated from that nation? No, of course not... They are not yours to withhold. You are acting publicly, not privately, not severally as one of the People (States). You never reserved any of these unalienable, Natural rights, and so you have no right to declare them while in the voluntary servitude of a US citizen-ship. These things only apply to those not in this debtor’s prison of hell. A US person has no choices such as these. And so again we must realize that the creation of these things was not intended for every man, but only for the protection and “friendship” of those who sought to rule over all others, and to leave that incorporated slave-state (nation) to their “posterity” (bloodlines). As Arthur Schopenhauer so succinctly stated, eventually these Truths will become self-evident in men’s minds, even to the most brainwashed, voluntarily ignorant, and patriotic of their induced victims. What they do about it is another question, a Truth only known to the future holder of such devastating knowledge.

If all men were sovereign and private, then this whole thing would be redundant and pointless, for no man (or all men) would be so without question, and no government would be needed for public, commercial purposes! This point indirectly answers the question as to who that private “We, the People” actually are, and also lets us know that this “People” is not any man acting solely in a legal, public persona created by some municipality (as a commercial principality and district). That which exists only by fiction of law inside of the district is obviously not several (foreign/private) from it. And so the constitution negatively protects only those whose name is not upon the registers of that distressful and distressing district of Caesar (seizure), as those whose birth is not certified therein and whose blood is not figuratively tainted by its legalistic (artificial) law. He who acquires rights from this district is subject to its jurisdiction and loses all Natural considerations (e.g., God-given Rights), while those who reserve all Natural Rights from it stand as its artful masters.

This confederation (combination/conspiracy) of private (several) States (Peoples) of “the united States of America” in compact for their own mutual protection is not to be confused with the constitution of the “United States” as their own creation of a district and holding corporation for all things public and based purely in commerce. For remember, the established “state” is separated from the ordained “church” (People). It should also not be confused that in any way this so-called confederation between States was ever disbanded or replaced by that later created constitution. Only the names were changed to legally protect the not-so-innocent. To put it as simple as possible, first the conspiracy in confederation was formed, and only then was the United States federal district and seat of commercial government formed in and under said conspiracy of combined, confederated but still private States. It was nothing more than a business arrangement between conspirators. Thus, the “United States” holds an inferior sovereignty under those Sovereign States (We, the landed People) that created it, while those public subjects under the United States corporation in public citizenship to it lay subject to that sovereignty of People, and are governed through this holding company called (styled) as the “United States,” as controlled by those private People of the united States of America as represented in “Congress assembled.” The commercial “congress” created into the US Code by “the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled” is not the same, but is a similar body, as a man that wears two hats, or in this case two faces.

To place this into metaphoric terms for ease of understanding, we might compare these two bodies corporate to the stockholding owners of a corporation (shareholders) as opposed to the board of directors and CEO of that same corporation that is privately owned. One is a private stakeholder, one is the title of a public officer. While the officers (congressmen/directors) and CEO share in their ownership privately as shareholder (landholders), they act publicly in their administration of this corporation under legal titles. In other words, they wear two hats. Board members are often paid in shares of the company, and so are both shareholders (landholders) and members of the board (US congress). The title of “congressman” is only a legal person in law, a fiction of law, and so as congressmen in flattering title they direct the non-constitutional, non-governmental, commercial aspect of the “United States” independently of their status of private citizens of the “united States of America.” The States (People) are the share or stakeholders in union (private compact), while the titled officers of congress created by US Code are merely employees, artificial persons designated as the board of directors of the corporation (United States). Congress, when assembled in their supposedly de jure (lawful/legitimate) functionality as the “Congress assembled” (of America) in confederation, are acting as representatives of and as We, the People. But in this non-governmental capacity as the commercial congress (board of directors) of the “United States” under the commercial US Code, they are merely the lawmakers and managers of human capital in interstate and international trade. They are the de facto keepers and moneychangers of mammon.

Notice that the word stile is used to address the name given to this confederacy (conspiracy) of People (States). Remember from the beginning of this work that the words stile is a term that means title. And of course, he or they who have the power to create a title (stile) of any thing must therefore be in propriety (ownership) of that thing. No subject of anything may create its own title or name. They who stile any thing must, in other words, be the private landholders. They must have the power of perfect title and of usufruct, the ability to use and dispose of that thing.

And as globalism vastly approaches, that is exactly what they are doing; disposing of their national sovereignty (but not their State sovereignty) by collectively and incrementally constructing and embracing through legislature of the People (in Congress assembled) the United Nations, where the “United States” will be just another state of and under the United Nations. They will retain their own sovereignty as a private “People” under private law while allowing their constituted nation to be placed fully under international peacekeeping and law. They will still be negatively protected in their human capital and land management of the multitudes of commoners, but their subjects (you and me) in commercial citizen-ship will not. For it was never our country, but theirs. We are only tolerated refugees, allowed license to inhabit by tenancy their private lands in a publicly registered capacity. It is their corporation and jurisdiction to alter and dispose of as they see fit. And the more we, the plebes fight against this legalized transformation into an international commercial control system, the more we will be militarily punished for our insubordination by this international peace-keeping force assigned to protect the private bloodlines of “People” (sovereign State corporations) of all the world. Ironically, it will only really be house-slaves killing and controlling other slaves again on behalf of their masters (principal governments), just like in the American civil war. The agentic psychology of the non compos mentis, public-minded multitudes of every nation united in confederacy (conspiracy, combination) will rise mercenarily against any fellow slave of any other nation that gets out of line, causing all in the public realm to bear the mark of mammon so as to “legally” buy, sell, or trade within that international, global feud of a beast system.

But the private People (States) as the landholders of Earth titled in alldium will remain in their own corporately declared sovereignty, and so will essentially remain in lawlessness as all the slaveholders of history have. For slavery by any other name is still slavery.

A man either sets his own course and fixes his Self under the Laws of Nature, or he converses with artificial (evil) forces and allows his path to be set before him, forever afloat on that watery fiction that will never provide anchorage and quietness from man’s false law and tax. One either plays the part of an actor of the state or one takes all responsibility for his private Nature and renders back to Caesar what is publicly Caesar’s property, for a private man cannot act publicly, else he must answer for that sin to Caesar (in seizure).

And Caesar’s best trickery was always the promotion of sport, which the pursuit of money is; a game of monopoly where we flow with the tide and pay fines for landing on and using the property of private owners, and where the central bank is god. But it was only when the sports were taken out of the coliseum and made part of society that Caesar’s power of distraction defeated the multitude, a trivial pursuit in the category of mammon.

In case this recurring theme of language arts being what constitutes ethnicity hasn’t become clear in the mind of the reader, it should be understood here that our words and how and in what form we use them, as the words officiated over by the state, are what creates the character of the person in any nation. Ethnicity is not a race, it is a language-based national id-entity. Our conformity to the gods of the nations cannot be accomplished by any other means in the language arts than that of outright and unhidden slavery. Obviously any tyrant would prefer volunteerism over force, especially when volunteers agree to such wonderfully forceful legal measures being used “lawfully” (artfully) upon them, along with the equal “rights” of pain, punishment, taxation, execution and imprisonment. Quite simply, language is the paintbrush that renders and articulates the false persona, the life-giving word-DNA of the artifice. Words. Terms of art. The fiction of syllables combined in binding nomenclature.

Discourse, intercourse, commerce; these are all the same concepts, and all of them are within the legal fiction only the actions of “actors on the state.” Everything is a sport; a narrative play, where the characters function only within their watery engraves like apparitions floating over the unapproachable land in that figurative realm of spiritual death. It is the inter-course of citizen-ships on the sea of commerce.

SPORT - noun - 1. That which DIVERTS and makes merry: PLAY; game; diversion; also, mirth. The word signifies both the cause and the effect; that which produces mirth, and the mirth or Merriment produced. Her sports were such as carried riches of knowledge upon the stream of delight. AMUSE - verb transitive - s as z. [Gr. and Latin musa.] 1. To entertain the mind AGREABLY: TO OCCUPY OR DETAIN ATTENTION WITH AGREABLE OBJECTS, whether by singing, conversation, or a show of curiosities. Dr. Johnson remarks, that amuse implies something less lively than divert, and less important than please. Hence it is often said, we are amused with trifles. 2. TO DETAIN; TO ENGAGE the attention BY HOPE OR EXPECTATION; as, to amuse one BY FLATTERING PROMISES. (Webs1828)

AMUSEMENT - noun - s as z. That which amuses, DETAINS OR ENGAGES THE MIND: ENTERTAINMENT OF THE MIND; pastime; a pleasurable occupation of the SENSES, or that which furnishes it, as dancing, sports or music. (Webs1828) game-piece (person/ship) goes round and round in a circuitry, circulating another’s money and paying tax each time it circulates to its owner (the state). Along the way, we have the opportunity to collect paper titles that show we are the registered owners (users) of some part of the land on that board, but it is only paper. For at the end of the day, the money all goes back to the bank because it cannot be spent in any other place except in that fictional game, the jurisdiction of the legal sport of human capital management, the very international model of the modern company store. The board game folds up just like paper. And those apparent titles to property never actually belonged to us anyway, only to the game-piece (legal person) of the fictional game. In the end, we have wasted our fictionally driven lives in the game, playing the part of fakery as actors while believing we acquired inherent wealth, when in Reality we had nothing to inherit and pass on except debt. We languish away our lives and that of our children within the trifling amusements of the game-master. Even when the winning game-piece (person) collects more than the other players and apparently wins the game, the player doesn’t actually win anything except pieces of paper (false titles) showing tenancy in a feudalistic stage play; evidence of rent of the lands of the modern feudalistic landholders that created the game we play. Everything in the fiction is but a trifling diversion. And each of us has been recreated as but a trifle.

TRIFLE - noun - A thing of very little value or importance; a word applicable to any thing and every thing of this CHARACTER. With such poor trifles playing. Moments make the year, and trifles, life. PATHOS - noun - [Gr. TO SUFFER.] Passion; warmth or vehemence, in a speaker; or in language, that which excites emotions and passions. (Webs1828)

A private citizen with private land has no pathos attached to his land. It is dry. It is not of the water. A public citizenship with public land has pathos attached to his land. It is wet (wed). It is of the water.

It is an understatement to say that the masses of men in the American continent and indeed around the world have been diverted, that their pathos and strength of masculine force have been redirected and degraded (cast-rated) instead towards all forms of sport, to stage-plays and their modern versions in movies and television, and by the most terribly low humor of sitcoms, dramas and comedians. Man serves no purpose except that of either the state or its taxable persona (status) and estate in usufruct. The fruit of his labor is seedless, bearing no Living heirs, consisting only of debt and dead things. And collectively, this imposed idiocracy has certainly brought the power of the masses to a point not dissimilar to the citizens of Rome in their debauchery and love of the colosseums, that perfection of a system of distraction and diversion now perhaps attaining the status of the number one industry in America.

The parable of the ant and the grasshopper comes to mind here. In the end, after entertaining himself with all manner of amusing diversions in the summer, the grasshopper starves in the winter months even after the ant warned him to prepare for the coming cold famine.

Ultimately these proverbs may be difficult to grasp, and so we pass them on without comprehension. This is a fear tactic. The fool embraces his fear and ignorance as his understanding, standing under its authority and under those who harness it in their artful systems of fiction, whereas the wise man desires knowledge and righteously seeks it in fear of God; the fear of not understanding God’s self-evident and always permanent Nature and Law. And so the difference between the unregenerate fool and the righteous believer (lover and doer of the Word) is only their use of their own fear. It either drowns a man in understanding as it does the goyim in the citizenship of nations, or it frees a man to hate that dead state of artifice for fear of God’s Nature and Law. The fool lives in darkness for fear of being without it, while the wise man Lives in the Light for fear of Living without It. The wise man understands what is the verb Jehovah in Oneness and knows the self-evidence of scripture without false-hoods and despite his own temptations and wants, remaining only in fulfillment of his actual needs, for to desire and fall prey to the fiction of artifice is to under-stand only evil. To need like an ad-diction what is fictional is the sign and mark of satan (that which is adversarial to Reality, Nature, and Life Itself).

—Proverbs 10:23, KJB

“These (Christianity/Judaism) are two ways of life, each utterly alien to the other. Each has its place in the world — but they cannot flourish in the same soil, they cannot remain in contact without antagonism. Though to life itself each way is a perfect utterance, TO EACH OTHER THEY ARE ENEMIES.”

“Sport is for you a serious SPIRITUAL matter. It is the proper symbolization, the perfect ritual, wherein your spiritual forces, finding expression, also find exercise and sustenance.”
“The most amazing thing in your life, the most in contrast with ours, is its sport. By this I do not mean simply your fondness for physical exercise, your physical exuberance, but the PSYCHOLOGICAL and SOCIAL INSTITUTIONALIZATION OF SPORT, its organization, its predominant role AS THE OUTLET AND EXPRESSION OF YOUR SPIRITUAL ENERGIES.”

“YOUR SPIRIT IS SPORT: particularly your young men, who are not yet absorbed in the struggle for existence, and whose emotions are therefore for the largest part FREE, must find in sport, in games, in contests, the most satisfactory expression of their instincts.”

“The contention of the majority of your educators, THAT THE MORAL INSTINCT IS TRAINED ON THE FOOTBALL AND BASEBALL FIELD, in boxing, rowing, wrestling and other contests, is a true one, is truer, perhaps, than most of them realize. YOUR IDEAL MORALITY IS A SPORTING MORALITY. The intense discipline of the game, the spirit of fair play, the qualities of endurance, of good humor, of conventionalized seriousness in effort, of loyalty, of struggle without malice or bitterness, OF READINESS TO FORGET LIKE A SPORT — all these are brought out in their sheerest and cleanest starkness in well-organized and closely regulated college sports. AND ON THE EXPERIENCES AND LESSONS WHICH THESE SPORTS IMPLY YOUR ENTIRE SPIRITUAL LIFE IS INEVITABLY FOUNDED.”

—Maurice Samuel, from: ‘You Gentiles,’ 1924, separate quotes

The false Jew, that for what the Bible calls as the “synagogue of satan,” so full of Zionist pretenders in religious name only, and just as the typical “Christian” feigns his or her own false and flattering title, has control of the gentiles (goyim) of the nations just as the Roman Caesars (Tzars) did, through various outlets of sport. They make rules which in their private capacities they do not and are not required to follow, but penalize us for not following them. Every aspect of the legal society is of sport, even its systems of so-called justice. Judges are referees.

In poles, the most popular daytime sporting event on television is in fact the “Judge Judy” show, where viewers root and cheer for the winner and loser of that false show of justice. This spells the ridiculousness and foolish nature of our collective idiocracy, a cultural difference so vast so as to be night and day compared to our controllers. We are a conquered people, purchased by so many sporting inducements and controlled (governed) by the ignorance necessary to embrace them as more important than our own place in Jehovah. Again, this is not actual religion. This is a class structure that pretends to be religions. This is public vs. private, the owners of the team versus the players and spectators.
SPECTATOR - noun  - [Latin whence]  1. One that looks on; one that sees or beholds; a beholder; as the spectators of the show. 2. ONE PERSONALLY PRESENT, The spectators were numerous. (Webs1828)

PLAYER - noun  - One who plays in any game or sport. 1. AN IDLER. 2. AN ACTOR OF DRAMATIC SCENES. ONE WHOSE OCCUPATION IS TO IMITATE CHARACTERS ON THE STAGE. 3. A MIMIC. 4. ONE WHO PERFORMS ON AN INSTRUMENT of music. 5. A gamester. 6. One that ACTS A PART in a certain manner. (Webs1828)

This word behold comes from the Latin servo, meaning “to keep.” In other words, the spectator and the player are beheld to the master of the ceremony they so love (believe in) as Reality. Like pets kept occupied by toys, we are kept entranced by fictional performances of a competitive nature. We are kept separate by this competitive fever, a contracted dis-ease that prevents our Oneness and mutual Love and Charity towards one another. This is the Judaizing and Romanization of True Christianity. For the false Jew follows not the Bible but the Talmud as his law. If the reader has not read the Talmud then he cannot know what True evil is nor how the typical “Christian” is controlled by its tenets and controllers. And though you will judge me and call myself as the author of this work by the false titles assigned for you to use in sport (judgement) by the very masters that have fooled us all, the Truth stands immune from such carefully placed fallacies. The master always teaches his slave to protect the name of his master. This is certainly written and warned about in the Bible, that we should fall so deeply under that strong delusion of the Pharisees (hypocrites). Talmudist thought is akin to Zionism, and Zionism is akin to national patriotism. The Talmudic, corporate “Jewish” Zionist friend of a corporate “Christian” is as a sheep accepting a wolf in sheep’s clothing simply because the very source and structure (law) of that obviously false costume is ignored. Remember, the Jewish name of God is I AM THAT I AM. No man of God would claim to be I AM “Jewish” or “Christian” so as to separate one people (blood) from another. One cannot be respected as Purely the I AM without only respecting all others as the same and without exception, to do unto others as you would have them to do unto you, and to see and respect no fiction. Only a fiction may see and in-jure other fictions, just as a cartoon may only interact with others of its kind, and only at the will of the men who cause it to be fictionally animated. Such false titles have no place in this spiritual philosophy and Highest of Law. For Truly, this is the Natural, negative Law of God. And just as the followers of christ (the Word) are instructed to hate false religion, so too is the follower of the Jewish Torah to hate these sects of false “Jews” who follow another doctrine by corrupt men. The self-evident Truth is never of the source of any of man’s writings and doctrines. The people of Israel are Real, not merely some citizens of some legal “state” or nation upon a map fictionally called as “Israel.”

The word Israel from Strong’s H3478 - Yisra’el - means “God prevails” and “contender or soldier of God.” As a Real People, this name (noun) was used to describe a genuine people that were in the favor of God, not because of their special birth and bloodlines but because of their respect of that Law of God. It was their collective disrespect as a false legal entity, when the noun (name) became empty as the name of a corporation nation (artificial person) and personal responsibility and duty was replaced by legal licensure, that they were exiled in their Babylonian woe. Today as then they followed the Pharisees and became as hypocrites to their own Highest Law; just as the Popish “Christians” have been so fooled and misled. This word Yisra’el comes from its root words of Strong’s H8280 - sarah - meaning to place in order or in a row, a series, as to be noble and princelike, and also to be warlike and contend, have power, contend with, persist, exert oneself, and to preserve; and from Strong’s H410 - ’el - meaning god or god-like, as MEN OF RANK or OF HIGH PLACES, angels, false gods and demons, imaginations, OR OF GOD AS THE ONE TRUE GOD, WHICH CAUSE MEN TO BE MIGHTY THINGS IN NATURE AND TO HAVE STRENGTH AND POWER, as mighty heroes.

As with all words, we find again the typical dualism of Reality and fiction, of Law and false doctrines, of God and false gods, and of false status and rank in empty name only. Verb (actions/works) vs. noun (name/title). The Israelite, also mistakenly called as the modern term “jew,” is no exception to this rule. The man of God is either genuine or he is artificial, just as the false, flattering titles of “Christian” and “Muslim.” And He either stands in warlike protectionism of His Free and Lawful way and path of Life or He succumbs to man’s fictions in opposition to His True intent and Real piety.

The fool will choose and literally insist upon this word Israel to have been an actual man born within the fabled genealogy of the Old Testament, believing in the personified history instead of the parabolic wisdom and nature of the story. For in the Bible scriptures the personification of this word is told to be the second name for Jacob, given to him by God after his wrestling with the angel at Peniel. It is also the name of the descendants and the nation of the descendants of Jacob, the name of the northern kingdom consisting of the 10 tribes under Jeroboam, of which the southern kingdom was named as Judah. Finally, it is the name of that nation after the return from exile. We believe (love) the name over the meaning of the word that is turned into that name (i.e., literalism), assigning it false authority over the Reality or fiction it represents. And so, like the modern fake nobility and recently invented people called “Jewish” that relies solely on one’s genealogy and the names of descendants (bloodlines) for one’s place and rank in the false legal “state” and society for the “right of return” into a purely false legal state and jurisdiction under false gods named but not acting as “Israel,” the tenets and Laws (Son) of God are completely lost. The figurative blood of Christ is replaced by fables and mythos of long dead men with flattering titles and personified teaching tools of the scriptures (ancient knowledge). The propaganda is so strong through the Judaized Hollywood superstructure and false evangelism of television pirates that even the modern and misled, Judiazed “Christians” hold this invented people as the higher “chosen” people of God today, simply because they were born that way and for no other reason. This is patently ridiculous, and is nothing if not the mentality of a slave-race (goyim). The shoe certainly fits.

Jewishness, as the teachings of the false, universal church of “Christianity,” is a learned behavior. It is personal control according to a chosen law other than harmony with God’s Natural Oneness as moral Self-control. All men may become as the sons of God, as the Bible instructs, but only when the Old Law is fulfilled with the New.

To the commonalty of citizen-ships of the nations of goyim under their mind-control (government), our christian religion (as part of the common law) has been reduced to sport, a mere false show and part played and acted out for other spectators every Sunday morning. Instead of Living in God we play the dead parts of a legal script as if socially obligated once a week while playing also the referee (judge) of our fellow actors. We spectate not in Love and careful concern but in competition and contempt.

Whom among us can deny this?

Organized, “professional” sports is perhaps the best example of the satanic pursuit of fiction, be it in entertainment or in politics and religion. For despite all the hype, money spent, and preparation for the touted sporting event, in the end nothing actually happens. Nothing is actually accomplished. The entirety of the actions of all involved added up to absolutely nothing and it is forgotten almost as soon as it is over, reduced to a statistical entry in some false history book. Is it any wonder that the most protected and well-funded outlet of the education and university system is their sports franchises? Is it any wonder that brilliant minds are left to waste away while sports players are granted scholarships? Think about that for a moment…

It is very difficult to alter one’s perceptions from literal interpretations that describe Reality into these legal, figurative, and metaphorical considerations both in a spiritually parabolic form and inversely in so much adversarial and deceptive artfulness. But in order to comprehend the big lie, which just happens to be, commercially speaking, the nonspiritual great flood of virtual (legal) water over all of Reality and Nature in the legal sense, we must start thinking like the wolves and not like the sheep we have allowed ourselves to become. We must think like the shepherd we choose to follow. We must first admit defeat by all of these sporting diversions before we may overcome the suffocating effects of that unseen commercial water in trickery. For the land is covered by an invisible, legal sea (holy see), and so man must of course be assigned a commercial ship (vessel) as a commercial personhood to navigate that international commercial sea. And so within this figurative flood, we must comprehend that water is not legally the same as land, and that commercial things of the water (imperfect titles) cannot be owned or held outright, for water is always public in nature, never able to be held privately. There is no perfect title to water. A public persona can only use the water, never hold or own it, for its flow must not be interrupted by private concerns. It will always slip and escape through the artificial (dead) hands of legal persons. And so all property held under the public law of the sea (commerce) is common and is thus national property of the public, which means that all commercial things are property of the public district created by the actual (but long dead) bloodline of incorporated “People” through its contracted government in trust. A strawman can inherit no tenements, and thus cannot pass on any true inheritance to his kin. No blood, no heir... For, as the maxim states, God alone makes the heir, not man. When man’s god is government, government remakes and diverts the capacity of the heir into the public forum, causing him to believe that the commercially aliened paper deed and title is the actual land, and not just a piece of worthless (in Nature) legal paper.

An element of water controls an element of land only because the land cannot absorb the water. The sea incapacitates the soil, by charging and covering it with legal title. And the high water mark that for obvious reasons sits upon the highest mountains declares the vast extent of the legal, virtual flood, limiting the higher use of the land by describing the land as a victim of the commercial tide. Either the water is damned (barred) by their land elements (immovable heirs) or the water floods and thus covers the land so that only commercial vessels (citizenships/movable chattel) may engage upon it in usufruct. But the ship may never find land until the man sailing it docks, thus ending the binding relation-ship and ad-venture between man and this legal, commercial vessel. A man of God needs no ship, for he can walk over the water as christ did, without sinking or getting wet (wed). Christ was immune from commerce. For he respected no person, and so he needed no ship. He never sank or fell into the fiction of man.

DOCK - …verb transitive - 1. To cut off, as the end of a thing; to curtail; to cut short; to clip; as, to dock the tail of a horse. 2. To cut off a part; to shorten; to deduct from; as, to dock an account. 3. To cut off, DESTROY OR DEFEAT; TO BAR; AS, TO DOCK AN ENTAIL. 4. To bring, draw or PLACE A SHIP IN A DOCK. (Webs1828)

QUIT - adjective - Clear; DISCHARGED; FREE; also spoken of persons absolved or acquitted of a charge. - verb - In conveyancing, TO RELEASE OR RELINQUISH A CLAIM; TO EXECUTE a deed of quitclaim. (Black4)

QUITCLAIM - noun - A release or acquittance given to one man by another, in respect of any action that he has or might have against him. Also ACQUITTING OR GIVING UP ONE’S CLAIM OR TITLE. (Black4)

QUITCLAIM - verb transitive - [quit and claim.] TO RELEASE A CLAIM BY DEED WITHOUT COVENANTS OF WARRANTY; to convey to another who hath some right in lands or tenements, ALL ONE’S RIGHT, TITLE AND INTEREST IN THE ESTATE; BY RELINQUISHING ALL CLAIM TO THEM. The words used in the instrument are, ’A hath REMISED, RELEASED AND FOREVER QUITCLAIMED ALL HIS RIGHT, title and interest to a certain estate.’ - noun - A deed of RELEASE; an instrument by which ALL CLAIMS TO AN ESTATE ARE RELINQUISHED TO ANOTHER WITHOUT ANY COVENANT OR WARRANTY, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED. (Webs1828)
We must quit claiming to be something that we are not, to be property of another. We must be no thing. We must dock the ship assigned to us for the purposes of acting in commercial fiction as a public citizen so as to become private. We must discharge our undertaking by bringing it to an end, by executing the contractual relationship and bringing final solution, as the end of all of those devil’s contracts.

But before we can do that, we must comprehend and understand just what has been enjoined and entailed to our persons. We must admit to our slave status in agency before we can end it. Acknowledgement of defeat must happen before our Natural Freedom from it may be attained. And so just what is an entail and fee?

ENTAIL - verb - To settle or LIMIT THE SUCCESSION TO REAL PROPERTY; to create an estate tail. noun - A FEE abridged or limited to THE ISSUE, OR CERTAIN CLASSES OF ISSUE, INSTEAD OF DESCENDING TO ALL THE HEIRS. Entail, in legal treatises, is used to signify an estate tail, especially with reference to THE RESTRRAIN WHICH SUCH AN ESTATE IMPOSES UPON ITS OWNER, or, in other words, the points wherein such an estate differs from an estate in fee-simple. And this is often its popular sense; but sometimes it is, in popular language, used differently, so as to signify a succession of life-estates, as when it is said that “an entail ends with A.,” meaning that A. is the first person who is entitled to bar or cut off the entail, being in law THE FIRST TENANT, IN TAIL.

Break or Bar an Entail - TO FREE AN ESTATE FROM THE LIMITATIONS IMPOSED BY AN ENTAIL, and permit its free disposition, anciently by means of a fine or common recovery, BUT NOW BY DEED IN WHICH THE TENANT AND NEXT HEIR JOIN.

Quasi Entail - An estate pur autre vie may be granted, not only to a man and his heirs, but to a man and the heirs of his body, which is termed a “quasi entail,” the interest so granted not being properly an estate-tail (for the statute De Donis applies only where the subject of the entail is an estate of inheritance), but yet so far in the nature of an estate-tail that it will go to the heir of the body as special occupant during the life of the cestui que vie, in the same manner as an estate of inheritance would descend, if limited to the grantee and the heirs of his body. (Black4)

ENTAILED - Settled or limited TO SPECIFIED HEIRS, or IN TAIL. (Black4)

ENTAILED MONEY - Money directed to be invested in realty to be entailed. (Black4)

ENTAILMENT - AN INTERFERENCE WITH AND CURTAILMENT OF THE ORDINARY RULES PERTAINING TO DEVOLUTION BY INHERITANCE; a limitation and direction by which property is TO DIFFERENT FROM THE COURSE WHICH IT WOULD TAKE if the creator of the entailment, grantor or testator, had been content that the estate should devolve in regular and general succession TO HEIRS AT LAW in the statutory order of precedence and sequence. (Black4)

EN - IN. (Webs1828)

TAIL - Limited; abridged; reduced; curtailed, AS A FEE OR ESTATE IN FEE, TO A CERTAIN ORDER OF SUCESSION, OR TO CERTAIN HEIRS. (Black4)

ESTATE IN TAIL - An estate OF INHERITANCE, which, instead of descending to heirs generally, goes to the heirs of the done & body, which means his lawful issue, his children, and through them to his grandchildren IN A DIRECT LINE, SO LONG AS HIS POSTERITY ENDURES IN A REGULAR ORDER AND COURSE OF DESCENT, and upon the death of the first owner without issue, the estate DETERMINES. A FREEHOLD OF INHERITANCE, limited to a person AND THE HEIRS OF HIS BODY, general or special.
male or female, and is the creature of the statute de Donas. The estate, provided the entail be not BARRED, REVERTS TO THE DONOR OR REVERSIONER, IF THE DONEE DIE WITHOUT LEAVING DESCENDANTS ANSWERING TO THE CONDITION ANNEXED TO THE ESTATE UPON ITS CREATION, unless there be a limitation over to A THIRD PERSON on default of such descendants, when it vests in such third person or remainderman.

Several Tail - An entail severally to two; as if land is given to two men and their wives, and to the heirs of their bodies begotten; here the donees have a joint estate for their two lives, and yet they have a several inheritance, because the issue of the one shall have his moiety, and the issue of the other, the other moiety.

Tail after Possibility of Issue Extinct - A species of estate tail which arises where one is tenant in special tail, and a person from whose body the issue was to spring DIES WITHOUT ISSUE, OR, HAVING LEFT ISSUE, THAT ISSUE BECOMES EXTINCT. In either of these cases the surviving tenant in special tail becomes "tenant in tail after possibility of issue extinct."

Tail General - An estate in tail granted to one "and the heirs of his body begotten," which is called "tail general" because, how often soever such donee in tail be married, his issue in general by all and every such marriage is, in successive order, capable of inheriting the estate tail per formam doni. This is where an estate is limited to a man and the heirs of his body, WITHOUT ANY RESTRICTION AT ALL; or, according to some authorities, with no other restriction than that in relation to sex. Thus, tail male general is the same thing as tail male; the word "general," in such case, implying that there is no other restriction upon the descent of the estate than that it must go in the male line. So an estate in tail female general is an estate in tail female. The word "general," in the phrase, expresses a purely NEGATIVE idea, and may denote THE ABSENCE OF ANY RESTRICTION, OR THE ABSENCE OF SOME GIVEN RESTRICTION WHICH IS TACITLY UNDERSTOOD.

Tail Male - When certain lands are given to a person and the male heirs of his or her body. The female heirs are not capable of inheriting it.

Tail Special - This denotes an estate in tail where the succession is restricted to certain heirs of the donee's body, and does not go to all of them in general; e.g., where lands and tenements are given to a man and the heirs of his body on Mary, his now wife, to be begotten; here no issue can inherit but such special issue as is engendered between those two, not such as the husband may have by another wife, and therefore it is called "special tail." It is defined by Cowell as the limitation of lands and tenements to a man and his wife AND THE HEIRS OF THEIR TWO BODIES. But the phrase need not be thus restricted. Tail special, in its largest sense, is where THE GIFT IS RESTRAINED TO CERTAIN HEIRS OF THE DONOR'S BODY, AND DOES NOT GO TO ALL OF THEM IN GENERAL. (Black4)

What does it mean in law that an estate can be determined?

We need to understand that the only way anything can be determined, including our person (status) at law and any property or lands attached to it, is if that thing is fictional. That which is self-evident need not be determined. Only the paper representation of the person, place, or thing can be determined. In other words, only that which is the slave of a master and the agent of a principal can be determined. Only gods have the power to determine anything under their established, de facto (illegitimate in Nature) law. And the only man immune from such judicial, legal determinations of his land and property, including his children, is a private man of God. For his agency is only to the Principal Creator of all Nature, and his Law is Highest.
But the landlords certainly have the power through their government agencies to determine the property of their subjects, especially when man is tricked by them into abandoning his children at birth. For through the legal birth process, the motive for the act of procreation of children is tainted and legally misguided. It is made pointless in the eyes of the corruption that is man’s law, and the birth is only considered as a burden to the state. The birth is a crime, the legal child a felon, and the citizen-ship a penal punishment of invisible legal chains in an open-air prison for debtors. Evils such as abortion (population control) are thus medically suggested and approved, for no heir is needed by the goyim (voluntary slaves) of the state. Every action of every debtor is one of tallage, as that which is required to be accounted for (to the IRS) and taxed for use by its principal holder. Every action man takes in the person of another, and every property he might obtain, is wholly subject to the determination of his principal in agency.

DETER - To discourage or stop BY FEAR, to stop or prevent from acting or proceeding BY DANGER, difficulty, or other consideration WHICH DISHEARTENS OR COUNTERVAILS THE MOTIVE FOR THE ACT. (Black4)

DETERMINE - To come to an end, To bring to an end, To bring to a conclusion, TO SETTLE BY AUTHORITY SENTENCE, TO DECIDE, TO ADJUDICATE ON AN ISSUE PRESENTED, To estimate, To decide, and analogous to “adopt” or “accept.” (Black4)

DETERMINATION - The decision of a court of justice. It implies an ending or finality, the ending of a controversy or suit. THE ENDING OR EXPIRATION OF AN ESTATE OR INTEREST IN PROPERTY, OR OF A RIGHT, POWER, OR AUTHORITY. The coming to an END IN ANY WAY WHATEVER. Also, an estimate. As respects an assessment, the term implies judgment and decision after weighing the facts: not mere arithmetical computation. (Black4)

DETERMINATION OF WILL - A phrase used of the PUTTING AN END TO AN ESTATE AT WILL. (Black4)

DETERMINABLE - LIABLE TO COME TO AN END UPON THE HAPPENING OF A CERTAIN CONTINGENCY, SUSCEPTIBLE OF BEING DETERMINED, FOUND out, definitely decided upon, or settled. As to determinable “Fee” and “Freehold,” see those titles. (Black4)

This state of feudal tenure in tenancy is the standard operating procedure of all public citizen-ships, which cannot hold land perfectly, and may only rent the lands of another with permission. This fee as it was called, which was said to be in tail or entailed, is the same state of false, empty owner-ship that we exercise under the lord-ship of our masters today. We pay the People tribute through their created legal entities and municipal corporations. For we only occupy our homes and our lands through agency and in a legal, public person, and are not allowed to obtain perfect or simple (patent of allodial) title while acting in the persons (ships) of the foreign United States. Foreigners, regarded as public persons, cannot inherit land, thus they cannot be holders of land. A United States citizen is never an heir, never being considered to hold the inheritable blood of the posterity that stands in perpetuity as the heirs at law of that bloodline.

TAILLE - French. In old English law, The fee which is OPPOSED TO FEE-SIMPLE, because it is so minced or pared that IT IS NOT IN THE OWNER’S FREE POWER TO DISPOSE OF IT, but it is, by the first giver, cut or divided from all other, and TIED TO THE ISSUE OF THE DONEE, — in short, AN ESTATE-TAIL. In old French law, A tax or assessment levied by the king, or by any great lord, upon his SUBJECTS, usually taking the form of AN IMPOSITION UPON THE OWNERS OF REAL ESTATE. The equivalent of the English TILLAGE, the typical DIRECT TAX in France of the Middle Ages, as tonlieu was the generic term for AN INDIRECT TAX. See Tallage. (Black4) defective. It can however be patented, which is equivalent to the feudal notion of fee simple, as the whole cannot be considered in "allodial" perfection, or perfection of title. It is alienated; If a piece of the whole is severed, cut out to an individual for the purposes of taxation and fee, then its value as a tax or toll gatherer; mentioned by Chaucer (and spelled “talaigier”).

TALLAGE - See Tallage. (Black4)

TAILZIE - In Scotch law, AN ENTAIL. A tailzied FEE is that which THE OWNER, BY EXERCISING HIS INHERENT RIGHT OF DISPOSING of his property, SETTLES upon others than those to whom it would have descended BY LAW. (Black4)

HEIR IN TALZIE - Scotch law. Heirs of talzie or tailzie, are heirs of estates entailed. (Boire1856)

TALLAGE, or TAILAGE - A piece cut out of the whole, USED METAPHORICALLY for A SHARE OF A MAN'S SUBSTANCE paid by way of TRIBUTE, TOLL, OR TAX, being derived from the French "tuiller," which signifies TO CUT A PIECE OUT OF THE WHOLE. A term used to denote subsidies, TAXES, customs, and, indeed, ANY IMPOSITION WHATEVER BY THE GOVERNMENT FOR THE PURPOSE OF RAISING A REVENUE, SMUGGLING, etc. A TAX UPON CITIES, TOWNSHIPS AND BOROUGHS granted to the king as a part of THE ROYAL REVENUE. (Black4)

TALLAGER - A tax or toll gatherer; mentioned by Chaucer (and spelled “talaigier”). (Black4)

TALLAGIUM - L. Latin. A term including ALL TAXES. (Black4)

TALLAGIUM FACERE - To give up accounts in the exchequer, where the method of accounting was by tallies. (Black4)

TALLATIO - A keeping account by tallies. (Black4)

TALLIA - L. Latin. A tax or tribute; TALLAGE, a share taken or cut out of any one's INCOME OR MEANS. (Black4)

TALLEY, or TALLY - A stick cut into two parts, on each whereof is MARKED, with notches or otherwise. WHAT IS DUE BETWEEN DEBTOR AND CREDITOR, IT WAS THE ANCIENT MODE OF KEEPING ACCOUNTS. One part was held by the creditor, and the other by the debtor. The use of tallies in the exchequer was abolished... and old tallies were ordered to be destroyed... By the custom of London, SEALED TALLIES WERE EFFECTUAL AS A DEED. They are admissible by the French and Italian Codes as evidence between traders. It is said that they were negotiable.

Tally of loan - A term originally used in England to describe exchequer bills, which were issued by the officers of the exchequer when a temporary loan was necessary to meet the exigencies of the government, and charged on the credit of the exchequer in general, and made ASSIGNABLE FROM ONE PERSON TO ANOTHER.

Tally trade - A system of dealing by which dealers furnish certain articles on credit, upon an AGREEMENT FOR THE PAYMENT OF THE STIPULATED PRICE BY CERTAIN WEEKLY OR MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS. (Black4)

The tally trade was merely replaced by the modern mortgage and property tax scheme. But the creditor, despite his methods, has always been there like a vampire feeding on the common goy like a wolf upon sheep.

If a piece of the whole is severed, cut out to an individual for the purposes of taxation and fee, then the whole cannot be considered in “allodial” perfection, or perfection of title. It is alienated; defective. It can however be patented, which is equivalent to the feudal notion of fee simple, as the highest title available to private citizens of any several (private) State. To be in citizen-ship is to be in every possible way within a state of defective incompleteness, of expectancy, of tenancy and rent only, as only a part of a greater thing and thus in a state of incompleteness and corruption. The citizen-ship never ends its journey and it has no goal, for it may never find perfected title to land. It may never establish its own private castle, for no legal capacity for privacy exists within such a public persona. Its only purpose is to commercially support the landholders that govern it for profit through their own agents called “governments.” For these heirs of the bloodlines, however, the perfection of land is the only goal. Land is the only real wealth. But holding that land is only the privilege of those creator gods and the heirs of their own posterity. The dread pirate never allows his employed crew to own their own ship. (See epilogue of this Volume for complete explanation of allodial land and patenting of title.)

ALLODIAL - adjective - Pertaining to allodium; freehold; FREE OF RENT OR SERVICE; HELD INDEPENDENT OF A LORD paramount; OPPOSED TO FEUDAL. (Black4)

ALLODIUM - noun - Freehold estate; land which is the ABSOLUTE PROPERTY OF THE OWNER; real estate held in absolute independence, without being subject to any rent, service, OR ACKNOWLEDGMENT TO A SUPERIOR. It is thus OPPOSED TO FEUD. In England, there is no allodial land, all land being held of the king; BUT IN THE UNITED STATES, MOST LANDS ARE ALLODIAL. (Black4)

So how does the typical public citizenship know instantly that his lands are not held by him in alodium, as the perfection and privy of title? How does one know he is in a modern feudal state by some other more modern name? It’s real simple. Only a slave pays public property taxes in service to his lord and master. No sovereign landholder would ever pay rent or any form of tallagium to another, for the land would be held only in private hands (under patent) in an undetermined foot-hold without interference of time, and his heirs automatically receive that land by their own self-evidence of blood relation in law; that is of course unless the blood of those heirs is corrupted by, say, the rendering of publicity as the attainder of United States citizenship. A king pays no rents nor offers any service to another. But a subject will always pay the king.

To be clear, these landholders under their own private law certainly pay taxes on what they consent to pay to support the very government and military force that protects their status under the constitutional provisions of the enabling acts and constitutions of the several States. For the lands ultimately belong in their allodial status to the States (corporations) themselves, and are subserviently patented then to individual (undivided) private citizens. The claim to the land is through the sovereignty of State (a corporation of “People”) as a whole body, not above it. The People is an artificial person, a proper noun, and without such a legal incorporation this word would have no higher meaning. It would be a general term instead of special. To create a “People” that word must be defined, and it is so defined as the posterity (bloodline) of the royal families and founders. But in America, these private landholders cannot individually become tyrants over public, United States persons resident upon their lands in municipal corporations (cities/counties), which are of course protected under US code as foreigners. The State (People) as a corporation is the tyrant, the “sovereign,” and all private citizens are subservient to the State.

And here we come to the ultimate Truth, one I had never expected to find… It is irrational and technically impossible to believe that any man or person (status) may obtain a legal standing (status) or flattering title in society that is higher than that corporate entity which grants such legal personhood (status). The corporation (artificial person) is a false god (sovereign), and no man may claim to be that god, for no single man is capable of actually Being a plurality (a People). The greatest of all patriot mythologies is that of the capacity of inherent sovereignty in any man. For only God (Jehovah) is Truly Sovereign, and only corporations can fictionally claim legalized sovereignty under the law of nations. This is the death of the so-called American dream. In the end, we see the same practice, that this false nobility of blood in America exists only under a false god (corporation) that grants such false, flattering titles. (See again the epilogue to this first Volume for more clarity and evidence on this subject.)
It is, therefore, this separation of all common, public persons from the land (as a perfect, patented / invented title) that causes the general population to be the slaves of the state. For without land of his own, a man can only ever be in trespass on the private property of another, even when that land is called as public property. Public property is property of the public, which is only property of the landholders (the combination of private People incorporated as each State in compact) that created the centralized federal government, which in turn created all entailed public property. In essence, the word public is equal to water, as that which is owned by no individual (natural person). A slave needs license to travel on public and private lands, and there is no place in the United States that is not either public or private. A private citizen has the right and duty of easement without license over those same public lands and highways that a public citizen needs licensure and permission to use and cross over. In other words, what government considers as a private person (with reserved rights) has retained the equitable (Natural Law) right of travel and must respect the negative rights of other private men as his duty. The public person, however, is only considered as a trespasser that is given legal right (permission in licensure) to commercially drive and use said property of the incorporated landholders of the private States, which are controlled federally as public places (districts/jurisdictions). This is not a Natural right of travel, only a legal privilege granted to subjects (agents) in franchise by their principal corporation.

It is the greatest fallacy of all that citizenships of the United States actually believe in their own ability of perfection with-out Jehovah (outside of Nature), when in fact their whole fictional, legal existence is designed to serve only their sovereign master (corporation) in agency. But in this permanent state of commercial ad-venture, a public citizenship’s voyage is never finished, never complete, never docked, until civil death. To reach perfection would be to reach the end. To find and become a part of God. To find Law. This is impossible in the continued, never-ending false pursuit of mammon in commerce. The best one can do in this private legal hell is to bear an heir (at law) in a continued, timeless blood inheritance of family estate.

PERFECT - adjective - [Latin perfectus, perficio, to complete; per and facio, to do or make through, to carry to the end.] 1. Finished: COMPLETE: consummate: NOT DEFECTIVE:
having all that is requisite to its nature and kind; as a perfect statue; a perfect likeness; a perfect work; a perfect system. As full, as perfect in a hair as heart. 2. FULLY INFORMED: completely skilled; as men perfect in the use of arms; perfect in discipline. 3. COMPLETE IN MORAL EXCELLENCIES. Be ye therefore perfect even as your Father who is in heaven is perfect.
Matthew 5:48. 4. Manifesting perfection. My strength is made perfect in weakness. 2 Corinthians 12:9. Perfect chord, in music, a concord or union of sounds which is perfectly coalescent and agreeable to the ear, as the fifth and the octave; a perfect consonance. A perfect flower, in botany, has both stamen and pistil, or at least another and stigma. Perfect tense, in grammar, the preterit tense; a tense which expresses AN ACT COMPLETED. - verb transitive - [Latin perfectus, perficio.] To finish or complete so as TO LEAVE NOTHING WANTING; to give to any thing all that is requisite TO ITS NATURE AND KIND; as, to perfect a picture or statue. 2 Chronicles 8:16. Inquire into the nature and properties of things, and thereby perfect our ideas of distinct species. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. 1 John 4:1. 1. To instruct fully; to make fully skillful; as, to perfect one’s self in the rules of music or architecture; to perfect soldiers in discipline. (Webster828)

Just a quick note … if perfect title in allodium is opposed to a feudal state, and only the bloodline of heirs may possess such a grant of a piece of that alodial land via a perfected title, perhaps it’s time to come to the realization that we all live under the similitude of feudal tenure, under the matrix code of a sovereign kingship (incorporation) of landholders. Just saying…”

In Truth, in Reality, only a man of God can resemble Perfection (Purity). For all Land and all Things in Nature are only the Creations of God. These legal considerations and their definitions are only ever that of words on paper titles. It’s all fiction. And respect of them makes man imperfect and without God’s Power of Perfection.
No pretended holdings of public (US citizenships) or private persons (State citizens) can ever be in a state of True Perfection, for only God’s Nature is of Perfection in its Origin of Design. But remember, legal perfection is adversarial to what is Truth, to what is the actual, substantial Perfection of Jehovah. IT can be no other way. A status is never Self-Existing in any man, only ever being part of a corporate system, an artificial person in false godhood. As with Jehovah, only the lack of attachments of legal, fictional things causes land to Exist Self-Evidently in Its Perfection of Being (without the words, names, and titles of men). God has no defects, so neither should you or your property while held in God’s Name and under Its Highest Law. But when it is held in the name of these legal gods, God is nowhere to be found by the state. This is the essence of that parabolic moral law of the Bible, as is re-written and thus tainted in man’s legal law. Thus the Bible is foundational to man’s law, and no man may find artificial perfection in man’s law without his recognition of and abandonment of God’s Perfection of Natural Law. Again, not a religious concept, only a self-evident Reality that says respect of legal, artificial things fictionally destroys (in law) respect and authority of Real, Natural, Self-Existing Things. This is simple and quite obvious, really:

—Matthew 5:48, KJB

While in England the lands are the estate of the crown, in the United States most lands are in a status of allodium, which means that the bloodline of People actually hold the land (as a confederation, a combination, a conspiracy of consanguinity in sovereign kingship), and then rent it out in a modern feudal tenancy to the common, commercial citizenships (municeps) and to municipal governments. While the land is held by that select group of sovereign People (States) incorporated into a body politic (conspiracy/confederation/comination), the governments are set up to ensure that all public persons remain illiterate (publicly educated) servants and renters only to the private landholders, never having any connection or True interest to the land.

But the American Dream is a nightmare sold to all who would naturalize (prostitute) themselves to the constituted authorities in voluntary servitude here based on false imagery, false representation of what citizenship actually is. And so public-minded, voluntary slaves live their whole bonded existence believing (loving) that the word American is akin to the spiritual words sovereign and freedom. They believe (love) despite all possibilities that they are one of the heirs in posterity of the States (People), standing in pure ignorance of their own, self-imposed, unilaterally contracted fate. Some are successful in that amoral, public commercial system of corruption based on mammon while some aren’t, while conscious awareness is at all turns blocked through education, entertain-ment, and by the general obligations and sanctions of legal law. But none of us are perfect, for none of us have God’s Nature and Law as our only sovereign. And we remain in this open-air debtor’s prison paying tribute to its false gods without a clue that we are merely peopled, marked cattle put out to open range pasture (franchise).

Today, the term “tallies of loan” in the US congress has been changed to the word appropriations, and committees are formed to appropriate (create) money and thus charge it to the national debt of its subjected persons in citizenship. Auto and other property loans are merely a tally trade, but the sticks are today paper, the marks made with ink. The creditor always holds first lien position on the title held by the debtor, as the principal is always seated (upon the sea) in superiority to the agent. And of course the constitution was a very special tail, entailing lands upon their posterity (heirs by law), but not to the peons and proles of the general public.
"Gangsterism is likely to crop up wherever the forces of law and order are weak. European feudalism was mainly GANGSTERISM THAT HAD BECOME SOCIETY ITSELF AND ACQUIRED RESPECTABILITY THROUGH THE NOTIONS OF CHIVALRY."

—Barrington Moore Jr.

The old fee simple as a feudal tenure has only changed in name (legal noun). It seems the only difference between the modern public citizen-ship and the old feudalism is the ignorance of the difference between the modern public citizenship and the old feudalism is the ignorance of the legal meaning of their given pledge. The patriotic compassion that men in bondage display towards their rulers today seems to stem only from their lack of True comprehension of the legally bound understanding required from their voluntary servitude, their freedom (as a permissive corporate franchise), while remaining clueless that they hold no actual lands as dwelled tenants in rent.

FEE - noun - [Latin pecu, pecus. From the use of cattle in transferring property, or from barter and payments in cattle, the word came to signify MONEY; it signified also goods. SUBSTANCE IN GENERAL. The word belongs to Class Bg, but the primary sense is not obvious. A reward or compensation for services; recompense, either gratuitous, or established by law and claimed of right. It is applied particularly to the reward of professional services; as the fees of lawyers and physicians; the fees of office; clerk's fees; sheriff's fees; marriage fees, etc. Many of these are fixed by law; but gratuities to professional men are also called fees. - noun - [In English, is LOAN. This word, FEE INLAND, or AN ESTATE IN TRUST, originated among the descendants of the northern conquerors of Italy, but it originated in the south of Europe. See FEUD. ] Primarily, A LOAN OF LAND, AN ESTATE IN TRUST, GRANTED BY A PRINCE OR LORD, to be held by the grantee ON CONDITION OF PERSONAL SERVICE, or other condition; and if the grantee or tenant failed to perform the conditions, THE LAND REVERTED TO THE LORD OR DONOR, called the LANDLORD, OR LEND-LORD, THE LORD OF THE LOAN. A fee then is any land or tenement held of a superior on certain conditions. It is synonymous with FIEF and FEUD. All the land in England, except the crown land, is of this kind. Fees are absolute or limited. AN ABSOLUTE FEE OR FEE-SIMPLE IS LAND WHICH A MAN HOLDS TO HIMSELF AND HIS HEIRS FOREVER, WHO ARE CALLED TENANTS IN FEE SIMPLE. Hence in modern times, the term fee or fee simple denotes an estate of inheritance; and IN AMERICA, WHERE LANDS ARE NOT GENERALLY HELD OF A SUPERIOR, a fee or fee simple is an estate in which THE OWNER HAS THE WHOLE PROPERTY WITHOUT ANY CONDITION ANNEXED TO THE TENURE. A limited fee is an estate limited or clogged with certain conditions, as a qualified or base fee which ceases with the existence of certain conditions; and a conditional fee which is limited to particular heirs. In the United States, an estate in fee or fee simple is what is called in English law AN ALLODIAL ESTATE, an estate held by a person IN HIS OWN RIGHT, and descensible to the HEIRS IN GENERAL. (Web's1828)

FEE IN ESTATES - Ordinarily, the word "fee" or "fee simple" is applied to an estate in land, but term is applicable to any kind of hereditament, corporeal or incorporeal, and is ALL THE PROPERTY in thing referred to or largest estate therein which person may have. A FREEHOLD ESTATE IN LANDS, HELD OF A SUPERIOR LORD, AS A REWARD FOR SERVICES, AND ON CONDITION OF RENDERING SOME SERVICE IN RETURN FOR IT. The true meaning of the word "fee" is the same as that of "FEUD" or "FIEF" and in its original sense it is taken IN CONTRADICTION TO "ALLODIUM" which latter (allodiun) is defined as A MAN'S OWN LAND, WHICH HE POSSESS MERELY IN HIS OWN RIGHT, WITHOUT OWING ANY RENT OR SERVICE TO ANY SUPERIOR. In modern English tenures, "fee" signifies an estate of inheritance, being the highest and most extensive interest which a man can have in a feud; and when the term is used simply, without any adjunct, or in the form "fee simple," it imports AN ABSOLUTE INHERITANCE CLEAR OF ANY CONDITION, limitation, or restriction to particular heirs, but descendible to the heirs general, male or female, lineal or collateral. An absolute estate in lands, which is clogged or confined with some sort of condition or qualification. Such estates are base or qualified fees, conditional fees, and fees-tail. The term is opposed to "fee simple." In American Law, An estate of inheritance WITHOUT CONDITION, belonging to the owner, and ALIENABLE BY HIM OR TRANSMISSIBLE TO HIS HEIRS ABSOLUTELY AND SIMPLY, and is AN ABSOLUTE ESTATE IN PERPETUITY AND THE LARGEST POSSIBLE ESTATE A MAN CAN HAVE. Terms "fee," "fee simple," and "fee simple absolute" are equivalent.

Here again we see the time domain in legal things. That which is granted and thus lies in grant for any period of time, be it years or for the life of the person in that agency relationship, is not in allodium. That which stands in perpetuity, as that which, without will or any other legal thing, passes onto the heirs of the man automatically and forever (in blood consideration only) is the perfection of title. This is the exclusion of legal interferences and limits or conditions. This is not to be mistaken for the only True and Natural Freedom of men under God. This is only a person’s (legal status) fictional castle and false security.

FEE AND LIFE-RENТ - In Scotch law, two estates in land — the first of which is the full right of proprietorship, the second the limited right of usufruct during life - may be held together, or may co-exist in different persons at the same time.

ALLODARII - Owners of allodial lands. Owners of estates as large as a subject may have. "Tenure." (Black4)

ALLODIAL - Free; NOT HOLDEN OF ANY LORD OR SUPERIOR; OWNED WITHOUT OBLIGATION OF VASSALAGE OR FEALTY, THE OPPOSITE OF FEUDAL. (Black4)

ALLODIUM - Land held absolutely in one's own right, and not of any lord or superior; LAND NOT SUBJECT TO FEUDAL DUTIES OR BURDENS. An estate held by absolute ownership, WITHOUT RECOGNIZING ANY SUPERIOR TO WHOM ANY DUTY IS DUE ON ACCOUNT THEREOF. (Black4)

FEUD - noun - 1. Primarily, a deadly quarrel; hatred and contention that was to be terminated only by death. Among our rude ancestors, these quarrels, though originating in the murder of an individual, involved the whole tribe or family of the injured and of the aggressing parties. Hence in modern usage, 2. A contention or quarrel, particularly, an inveterate quarrel between families or parties in a state; the discord and animosities which prevail among the citizens of a state or city, sometimes accompanied with CIVIL WAR. In the north of Great Britain, the word is still used in its original sense; denoting a combination of kindred to revenge the death of any of their blood, on the offender and all his race or any other great enemy. We say, it is the policy of our enemies to raise and cherish intestine feuds. The word is not strictly applicable to wars between different nations, but to intestine wars, and to quarrels and animosities between families or small tribes. (Webs1828)

FUED - noun - [Latin ßdes; Eng. loan] A fief; A FEE; a right to lands or hereditaments held IN TRUST, or on the terms of PERFORMING certain conditions; the right which a vassal or FEUDAL SYSTEM - The system of feuds. A political and social system which prevailed throughout Europe during the eleventh, twelfth, and thirteenth centuries, and is supposed to have grown out of the peculiar usages and policy of the Teutonic nations who overran the continent after the fall of the Western Roman Empire, as developed by the exigencies of their military domination, and possibly furthered by notions taken from the Roman jurisprudence. It was introduced into England, in its completeness, by William I. A. D. 1085, though it may have existed in a rudimentary form among the Saxons before the Conquest. It formed the entire basis of the real-property law of England in medieval times; and survivals of the system, in modern days, so modify and color that branch of jurisprudence, BOTH IN ENGLAND AND AMERICA, THAT MANY OF ITS PRINCIPLES REQUIRE FOR THEIR COMPLETE UNDERSTANDING A KNOWLEDGE OF THE FEUDAL SYSTEM. The feudal system originated in the relations of a military chieftain and his followers, or king and nobles, or lord and vassals, and especially their relations as determined by the bond established by a grant of land from the former to the latter. From this it grew into a complete and intricate complex of rules for the tenure and transmission of real estate and of correlated duties and services; while, by tying men to the land and to those holding above and below them, it created a close-knit hierarchy of persons, and developed an aggregate of social and political institutions... (Black4)

FEUDAL TENURES - The tenures of real estate under the feudal system, such as knight-service, socage, vilainage, etc. (Black4)

FEUDAL POSSESSION - The equivalent of "SEISIN" under the feudal system. (Black4)

SEISIN - The completion of the feudal investiture, by which the tenant was admitted into the feud, and performed the rights of homage and fealty... (Black4)

FEUDALIZE - To reduce to a feudal tenure; to conform to feudalism. (Black4)

FEUDALISM - The feudal system; the aggregate of feudal principles and usages. It is a vague term to describe a congeries of customs and legal relations by no means uniform throughout Europe and never static. But feudalism had one basic characteristic traceable through all its variations: it rested on relations to land, the primary factor in a relatively primitive agrarian civilization. (Black4)

FEUDARY - A tenant who holds by feudal tenure, (also spelled "feudatory" and "feudatory.") held by feudal service. Relating to feuds or feudal tenures. (Black4)

FEUDUM - L. Latin. A feu, fief, or fee. A right of using and enjoying forever the lands of another, which the lord grants on condition that the tenant shall render fealty, military duty, and other services. It is not properly the land, but a right in the land. This form of the word is used by the feudal writers. The earlier English writers generally prefer the form feoman. There was an older word feum. Its use by the Normans is exceedingly obscure. "Feudal" was not in their vocabulary. Usually it denoted a stretch of land, rarely a tenure or mass of rights. It came to be applied to every person who had heritable rights in land. (Black4)
FEUDUM ANTIQUUM - An ancient feud or fief; a fief descended to the vassal FROM HIS ANCESTORS. A fief which ancestors had possessed for more than four generations. (Black4)

FEUDUM APERTUM - An open feud or fief; a fief resulting back to the lord, where THE BLOOD OF THE PERSON LAST SEISED WAS UTTERLY EXTINCT AND GONE OR WHERE THE TENANT COMMITTED A CRIME, or gave other legal cause. (Black4)

FEUDUM FRANCUM - A free feud. One which was noble and free from talliage and other subsidies to which the plebeia feuda (vulgar feuds) were subject. (Black4)

FEUDUM NOVUM - A new feud or fief; a fief which began in the PERSON of the feudatory, AND DID NOT COME TO HIM BY SUCCESSION. (Black4)

FEUDUM NOVUM UT ANTIQUUM - A new fee held with the qualities and incidents of an ancient one. (Black4)

As modern “tenants” in a limited, non-allodial type of fee system of feudalism in America, that word usually and specifically printed in mortgage contracts referencing the citizen-ship purchaser in feud (loan/rent) as merely a tenant, we are bound by the same personal, military “selective” service conditions and forfeiture laws as in those days of old, through that ancient system of pledging service (performance contract). The banks have legally taken the middleman position and have been assigned the authorities of the landlord (lord of the loan/feud). We even pay our property taxes to the banks today, as a line item included in our payment of fee, with the full violent support of the executive, administrative government in protection of its granted use to those banks (agents) to create its (the principal’s) money by mere signature and journal book entry, the keeping (tally) of accounts and debtors of the exchequer (treasury).

As our dollar bill states, we put trust in the god that is government and its sovereignty. This disposition of every land lord (lend-lord) is all throughout the Bible as well, with the “lord-god” often being confused as being Jehovah. Kings are gods too, the land-lords, just as corporations are people too. Anything can happen in fiction, and anything can be styled as a god.

It might be stated that the above definition of feud as it describes the civil war and that revenge of blood and race should be seriously taken into consideration here. For this is straight out of the Talmud, the canonical and civil law book of the Jewish people, one of the sacred free-masonic lodge books (Talmud, Bible, and Quran), by those who still abide by the strict and fallible Old Testament Law and ways. What better revenge than to legally, artificially corrupt the knowledge and blood of an entire people, destroy and Judaize their ability to Live according to the True christian path, and to entertain them into their own sporting oblivion?

Let us take a closer look at the True Abraham Lincoln, seeing through the historical romanticism and into that of his True intentions as corporate CEO of the United States (union), which was to preserve his own bloodline’s national ability to govern over the plebs:

“America will never be destroyed from outside. If we falter and lose our freedoms, IT WILL BE BECAUSE WE DESTROYED OURSELVES.”

—Abraham Lincoln
“You will take possession by military force of the printing establishments of the New York World and Journal of Commerce … and prohibit any further publication thereof…. You are therefore commanded forthwith to arrest and imprison … the editors, proprietors and publishers of the aforementioned newspapers.”

—Executive Order by President Lincoln, May 18, 1864

“I have no purpose, directly or indirectly, to interfere with the institution of slavery IN THE STATES WHERE IT EXISTS. I believe I have no lawful right to do so, and I have no inclination to do so.”

—President Lincoln, excerpt from his 1860 inaugural address

“My paramount object in this struggle is TO SAVE THE UNION, and is not either to save or to destroy slavery. IF I COULD SAVE THE UNION WITHOUT FREEING ANY SLAVE I WOULD DO IT; and if I could save it by freeing some and leaving others alone I would also do that. What I do about slavery, and the colored race, I do because I believe it helps to save the Union.”

—President Lincoln, excerpt from: a letter to Horace Greeley, dated August 22, 1862.

“I AM NOT, NOR EVER HAVE BEEN, IN FAVOR OF BRINGING ABOUT IN ANY WAY THE SOCIAL AND POLITICAL EQUALITY OF THE WHITE AND BLACK RACES. I am not, nor ever have been, in favor of making voters or jurors of Negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people. There is a physical difference between the white and black races, which I believe WILL FOREVER FORBID THE TWO RACES LIVING TOGETHER ON TERMS OF SOCIAL AND POLITICAL EQUALITY.”

—President Lincoln, written in 1858, quoted from Cato Institute article ‘Lincoln, Secession and Slavery’ by Tibor R. Machan

The Truth hurts. But if you are like me, you will come to love the pain… For only the Truth sets us Free. Whatever aspect of that patriotic American dream that we have read about from a delusional, romanticized public history (his story) published by the current posterity of victors was destroyed... long ago by the civil war that Lincoln created through Executive Order (sovereign privilege). The purpose of that war has been sold to all of us resulting, voluntary debt-slaves as purely the struggle and effort toward the abolishment of slavery. And yet this hidden history records a completely different Lincoln than what has been offered in that propagandist morass of public education and fairy tales. For the result of the civil war and the ensuing reconstruction period and amendments was not an abolishment of slavery at all, as Mr. Greeley comments so eloquently, but an inclusion of all men acting as public citizen-ships (denizens) into the ranks of volunteerism, which is another word for the doctrine of “master and servant.”

"Slavery discourages arts and manufacturing... EVERY master of slaves is born a petty tyrant."

—George Mason (Virginia Delegate), 1787

“We have seen the mere distinction of color made, in the most enlightened period of time, a ground of the most oppressive dominion ever exercised by man over man."

—James Madison, 1787

"I am exceedingly distressed at the proceedings of the Convention -- being... almost sure, they will... lay the foundation of a Civil War.”

—Elbridge Gerry (Massachusetts Delegate), 1787

There is nothing romantic about the founding of a slave colony such as America. That is, unless you decipher that word. Rome has always had slaves. So perhaps the notion of slavery is Roman-tic after all. What do I know?

And just what is the root etymology of that Roman-tic history of the “colonies” that settled in America?

The words colony stems from the late 14th century noun, having the meaning of an "ANCIENT ROMAN SETTLEMENT OUTSIDE ITALY," from the Latin colonia "settled land, farm, LANDED ESTATE," from colonus "HUSBANDMAN, TENANT FARMER, settler in new land," and from colere "to inhabit, cultivate, frequent, practice, tend, guard, respect." It was also used by the Romans in their translation of the Greek apoikia, meaning "PEOPLE FROM HOME." Modern application dates from around the 1540s.

To colonize (verb) stems from the 1620s, meaning “to settle with colonists,” from the stem of the Latin colonus “tiller of the soil, farmer,” said in the sense “TO MAKE ANOTHER PLACE INTO A NATIONAL DEPENDENCY” without regard for settlement there by 1790s (such as in reference to French activity in Egypt or British work in India), and probably stems directly from colony.

Interestingly, but not surprisingly, the noun form of cult stems also from the early 1600’s, meaning ‘worship,” and also “a particular form of worship,” from the 17th century French culte, and from Latin cultus, as “care, LABOR, CULTIVATION, culture; worship, REVERENCE,” originally "tended, cultivated," and past participle of colere “to till.” It is rare after the 17th century, though revived in the mid-19th century as a reference to ancient or primitive rituals. The meaning of “devotion to a person or thing” is from 1829. A cult is an organized group of people, RELIGIOUS OR NOT, with whom you disagree. (Rawson)

Finally, the word domicile (noun) as will be discussed in more detail stems from the mid-15th century, from 14th century Middle French domicile, and from the Latin domicilium, perhaps from domus “house” (see domestic) added to colere “to dwell” (see colony). As a verb, it is first attested 1809. Related: Domiciled; domiciliary.

And so to have domicile is to inhabit or dwell in a place. A subject has domicile in the district of its master, which is why US citizenships are called and treated militarily as domestics. The American colonies had domicile in Great Britain under the king, but their residence was in the New World.

As an example of this corporate colonization and creation of plantations (colonies), one which many historians have no difficulty in expressing, is the notion of what a colony really is regarding the enslavement of a people. This colonization process can be better understood by simply revealing the nature of the East-India Company of Great Britain, the same corporation that colonized America. The East India Company, for instance, had a monopoly upon the tea trade in the colonies, and the Tea Act of the British Parliament forced the colonists to pay a tax (revenue) on all unsold tea, which led to the infamous “Boston Tea Party.” This would not be dissimilar to forcing all Americans today to purchase all unsold automobiles at the end of each fiscal year, labeling such a purchase as a tax, and yet no taxpayer would receive the benefit of their tax. No cars would be delivered. The American colonists were forced to purchase the unsold tea from British warehouses collectively and unwillingly.

The happenings in India are described here word for word as essentially just what happened in North America, and mirror the current political state we live under today, forced through taxation into tribute to the district corporation of Washington DC, paying for its blunders and overstocks of oil, stock trading, money markets, and other “bail-outs.” What was once the despised actions of a tyrant are now the “normal” operations of this US corporation nation, and whatever complaints were launched against the king of Great Britain by the Declaration of Independence pail in comparison to what this district has created in its empire, not the least of which is its “standing army” and military forces stationed around the world and in every state, protecting the interests of the corporation in commerce and not the peopled subjects of that Romanticized colonial structure.

“The invariable course of the Company’s policy is this: EITHER THEY SET UP SOME PRINCE TOO ODIOUS TO MAINTAIN HIMSELF WITHOUT THE NECESSITY OF THEIR ASSISTANCE, OR THEY SOON RENDER HIM ODIOUS BY MAKING HIM THE INSTRUMENT OF THEIR GOVERNMENT. IN THAT CASE TROOPS ARE BOUNTIFULLY SENT TO HIM TO MAINTAIN HIS AUTHORITY. That he should have no want of assistance, a civil gentleman, called a Resident, is kept at his court, who, under pretense of providing duly for the pay of these troops, gets assignments on the revenue into his hands. Under his provident management, debts soon accumulate; new assignments are made for these debts; until, step by step, THE WHOLE REVENUE, AND WITH IT THE WHOLE POWER OF THE COUNTRY, IS DELIVERED INTO HIS HANDS. The military do not behold without a virtuous emulation the moderate gains of the civil department. They feel that in a country driven to habitual rebellion by the civil government the military is necessary; and they will not permit their services to go unrewarded. TRACTS OF COUNTRY ARE DELIVERED OVER TO THEIR DISCRETION. Then it is found proper to convert their commanding officers into FARMERS OF REVENUE. Thus, BETWEEN THE WELL-PAID CIVIL AND WELL-REWARDED MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT, THE SITUATION OF THE NATIVES MAY BE EASILY CONJECTURED. THE AUTHORITY OF THE REGULAR AND LAWFUL GOVERNMENT IS EVERYWHERE AND IN EVERY POINT EXTINQUISHED. Disorders and violences arise; they are repressed by other disorders. and other violences. Wherever the collectors of the revenue and the farming colonels and majors move, ruin is about them, rebellion before and behind them. The people in crowds fly out of the country; AND THE FRONTIER IS GUARDED BY LINES OF TROOPS, NOT TO EXCLUDE AN ENEMY, BUT TO PREVENT THE ESCAPE OF THE INHABITANTS.

—Edmund Burke: Speech on Mr. Fox’s East India (Company) Bill, Dec. 1, 1783

“Against misgovernment such as then afflicted Bengal it was impossible to struggle. The superior intelligence and energy of the dominant class made their power irresistible. A war of Bengalees against Englishmen was like a war of sheep against wolves. OF MEN AGAINST DEMONS. The only protection which the conquered could find was in the moderation, the clemency. THE ENLARGED POLICY OF THE CONQUERORS. That protection, at a later period, they found. But at first English power came among them unaccompanied by English morality. There was an interval between the time at which they became our subjects and the time at which we began to reflect that we were bound to discharge towards them the duties of rulers. DURING THAT INTERVAL THE BUSINESS OF A SERVANT OF THE COMPANY WAS SIMPLY TO WRING OUT OF THE NATIVES A HUNDRED OR TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS AS SPEEDILY AS POSSIBLE, that he might return home before his constitution had suffered from the heat, TO MARRY A PEER’S DAUGHTER, to buy rotten boroughs in Cornwall, and to give balls in St. James’s Square.”

A colony is a farm, a plantation, as Webster explains below. First the farm is peopled (stocked), and as it was in India, the farmers of those people called as revenue collectors or “cheaters” (escheaters) are set into positions of authority and militarily protected. The farmers of men merely changed uniforms, from military dress to the suits and ties of Internal Revenue Collection Agents bearing concealed weapons and the power of the legal pen.

COLONY - noun - 1. A COMPANY or BODY OF PEOPLE transplanted from their mother country to a remote province or country to cultivate and inhabit, AND REMAINING SUBJECT TO THE JURISDICTION OF THE PARENT STATE; as the British colonies in America or the Indies; the Spanish colonies in South America. When such settlements cease to be subject to the parent state, they are no longer denominated colonies. The first settles of New England were the best of Englishmen, well educated, devout Christians, and zealous lovers of liberty. There was never a colony formed of better materials. 2. The country planted or colonized; A PLANTATION; also, the body of inhabitants in a territory colonized, INCLUDING THE DESCENDANTS OF THE FIRST PLANTERS. The people, though born in the territory, retain the name of colonists, till they cease to be subjects of the parent state. 3. A COLLECTION OF ANIMALS; as colonies of shell-fish. (Wels1828)

We were tricked into condoning our own voluntary servitude (slavery) by marrying our christian name with the state surname. It was not a war to end slavery but to institutionalize and nationalize it under the Romanized dictatorship of the Executive Branch. It was the rebranding of a civil, feudatory state as the creation of a new company, the “United States.” This nation was, without any doubt, created by and for slaveholders. For the constitution tells me so, and the constitution is the bible of sovereign tyrants...

CONDONACION - In Spanish law. The remission of a debt, either expressly or tacitly. (Black4)
CONDONATION - The CONDITIONAL REMISSION OR FORGIVENESS, BY MEANS OF CONTINUANCE OR RESUMPTION OF MARITAL COHABITATION, by one of the married parties, of a known matrimonial offense committed by the other, that would constitute a cause of divorce; the condition being that the offense shall not be repeated. "Condonation," to constitute valid defense in divorce action, must be free, voluntary, and not induced by duress or fraud; 'condonation' means pardon of offense, voluntary overlooking or implied forgiveness by treating offender AS IF OFFENSE HAD NOT BEEN COMMITTED. The term is also sometimes applied to forgiveness of a past wrong, fault, injury, or breach of duty in other relations, as, for example, in that of MASTER AND SERVANT. Also, antenuptial unchastity is capable of condonation. (Black4)

CONDITIONAL - That which is dependent upon or granted SUBJECT TO A CONDITION. (Black4)

CONDITIONAL CREDITOR - In the civil law, A creditor having A FUTURE RIGHT OF ACTION, or having a right of action IN EXPECTANCY. (Black4)

Citizenship is of course a conditional contract, a con-donation (evil gift) by a private People to let the lowest, mean, and vulgar inhabits their lands, on the condition of good behavior and extortion under their own updated, limited liability version of the Roman civil law.

"Any conditions are odious, but especially those which are against [in restraint of] marriage and commerce."

—CONDITIONES QUALIBET ODIOSAE; MAXIME AUTEM CONTRA MATRIMONIUM ET COMMERCIUM. Lofft, Appendix, 644. (Black4)

"It is called a ‘condition’ when something is given on AN UNCERTAIN EVENT, WHICH MAY OR MAY NOT COME INTO EXISTENCE."

—CONDITIO DICITUR, CUM QUID IN CASUM INCERTUM QUI POTEST TENDERE AD ESSE AUT NON ESSE, CONFERTUR. CO. Litt. 201. (Black4)

The event that is the recording of vital statistics and for which that application is then re-created into a legal entity through the birth certificate process of legal delivery is such a condition as this — the registration of an event that may or may not be executed (confirmed), for whether or not that child will grow up to inhabit and ratify the commercial entity assigned to its good christian name is unknown at the time of the “issue” of that legal persona (child, infant of unknown parentage). Whether or not the condition will be confirmed when the child enters into the age of consent and ratification in adulthood is uncertain. Thus the legal person is conditional (merely an assumed condition) until that confirmation in adulthood (legalized adultery), which could be called the express execution, consent, and maturity of that financial birth instrument. This is called a wager.

To call odious the laws restricting marriage and commerce is certainly to call public citizenship as odious, for it is these conditions and their restrictive and permissive laws that define the freedom (corporate franchise) of a legal person. Public, legal marriage is always, above all else a contract with and under the state, and is in and of itself only an act of commerce confirmed by intercourse, as all acts of incorporation are.
And so we must here understand and subsequently always be aware of our own condition, be it of blood or of a corruption of blood, of publicity or of privacy, and of personhood or of alodial (free and reserved) right. How we conduct ourselves in public and in private creates the enduring legal condition that we will be considered in, tacitly and expressly. And this is the importance of always obeying God’s negative Law over that of man’s positive law, for an Act of God may never take on the condition of legal consideration, as Being a man considered only by his actions, not his words, names, titles, etc.

CONDUCT - verb - To manage; direct; lead; have direction; CARRY ON; regulate; DO BUSINESS. (Black4)

CONDUCT - noun - PERSONAL BEHAVIOR; deportment; MODE OF ACTION; ANY POSITIVE or NEGATIVE ACT. (Black4)

CONDUCTIO - In the civil law. A hiring. Used generally in connection with the term locatio, A LETTING. Locatio et conductio, (sometimes united as a compound word, “locatio-conductio”) a letting and hiring. (Black4)

CONDUCTOR - In the civil law. A hirer. (Black4)

CONDUCTUS - A THING hired. (Black4)

ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT - An estoppel exists where A MAN BY HIS OWN ACTS OR ACCEPTANCE IS CONCLUDED FROM SAYING THE TRUTH. See, also, Equitable Estoppel. The doctrine does not apply to an agreement which is illegal. Elements or essentials of estoppel are acts done which cannot be contravened WITHOUT FRAUD OR GROSS MISCONDUCT. Change of position to injury of party claiming benefit of estoppel; FALSE REPRESENTATION OR CONCEALMENT; ignorance of facts of one claiming right of estoppel; INDUCEMENT TO DO OR FORBEAR DOING, SOMETHING ONE WOULD NOT, OR WOULD OTHERWISE HAVE DONE; INTENT TO HAVE OTHER PARTY ACT OR CONDUCT CALCULATED TO MISLEAD; knowledge of party sought to be estopped; misleading of person claiming estoppel; prejudice to Party claiming estoppel; RELIANCE UPON CONDUCT OF ONE SOUGHT TO BE ESTOPPED; representation or concealment of material facts. (Black4)

Allegiance to the District of Columbia is in essence the abandonment of allegiance to God’s Nature, the Creation (Jehovah), and therefore signifies an abandonment of the Natural Law. It is literally an estoppel from telling or acting in Truth, in Reality. Allegiance is always an act of religion (establishment of man’s relation to some legal or ecclesiastical “god” or as a falsely religious “legal” oath in blasphemy through “God’s” name and upon the Bible). For the sovereign is the false god whose laws one is in allegiance and fee to, and therefore one must follow that “god” over the One True God. Again, our choice of law shows without question our actual choice of who is our lord and master. Remember that legally granted free-dom (franchise) of religion from the state does not include True Freedom to act morally outside the immoral or amoral laws of the legality of that state. As all gods are proclaimed vicars (acting in replacement) of some idea of the Supreme Being, government becomes the outlet through which man relates to God. Allegiance to government is respect and consent that God’s creation is in-deed bound up by the secular names, legal territories and jurisdiction (fictional places) of man, and therefore that only certain men above that government (as the People) pretend to be sovereign over God’s Will and Law (Nature’s Design). The personal connection to God and Its True Nature is broken, the state becoming a surrogate landlord. The state’s legal law replaces man’s conscious will and actions called his religion. It means the state may harm and destroy all of nature (including man) with no respect to that Law of Nature. Consideration of God (Truth) is thus estopped while man acts in the agency of personhood. If you are a resident of government, you are not a resident of Nature. If your domicile is in fiction, the realm of Natural Law has been usurped and subsequently defeated in relation to yourself and all those around you. But most importantly, allegiance to the state as god (the lawmaker) is allegiance to the fiction and its lies of fictional words, names, flattering titles, numbers, marks, fabled genealogies, and all other legal forms without substance, all of which is against the scriptures. The devil cannot be defeated in its own domain.

If God is Ultimate Truth, then legal fiction is also a formally declared and sanctioned ultimatum of “truth.” For truth can certainly be a lie if so consented to by parties ratifying it as accepted fraud in a contract or government code, and the maxims of law allow this, the contract making the law. But only one of these truths can exist in Reality, for man can only have one master. Truth in fiction (legal law) is not the same as Truth in God. In fact, it’s purposefully quite the opposite.

RELIGION:

“BOND uniting man to God, and a virtue whose purpose is to render God worship due him AS SOURCE OF ALL BEING AND PRINCIPLE OF ALL GOVERNMENT of THINGS.”

——Nikulskoff v. Archbishop, etc., of Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church, 255 N.Y.S. 653, 663, 142 Misc. 894. From definition of Religion. (Black4)

This legal opinion, given as regards to one sect of the Catholic (universal) “Christian” religion, is also talking about an office like that of Pope or King as “god.” For Jehovah has no government, only the Design of the Self-Evident Permanence of Nature’s Supreme Existence. And so to claim a religious affiliation with any corporation calling itself a religion binds man to the temporal, secular structure of man’s legal designs against God’s very Nature of Being. The author completely sympathizes with the reader, but offers no apologies for quoting the gods in their own interpretations of themselves playing as gods.

Interestingly, the word “religion” breaks down as the following. Remember that the word God can mean spiritual or secular, True or false legal/adversarial-ness adjudged as pretended truth, and as man acting within a corporate office of lord and god despite Jehovah:

RE - prefix or inseparable particle - In the composition of words, denotes return, repetition, iteration. (Webs1828)

LIG - verb intransitive - TO LIE. [See Lie]… (Webs1828)

RELIGION - noun - relig’ion - [Latin religio, from religo, TO BIND ANEW; re and ligo, TO BIND. This word seems originally to have signified AN OATH OR VOW TO THE GODS, or the OBLIGATION of such an oath or vow, which was HELD VERY SACRED BY THE ROMANS.] I. Religion in its most comprehensive sense, includes a belief in the being and perfections of God, in the revelation of his will to man, in man’s obligation to obey his commands, in a STATE of reward and punishment, and in man’s accountableness to God; and also TRUE GODLINESS OR PIETY OF LIFE, WITH THE PRACTICE OF ALL MORAL DUTIES. It therefore comprehends theology, as A SYSTEM OF DOCTRINES OR PRINCIPLES, as well as practical piety; for the PRACTICE OF MORAL DUTIES WITHOUT A BELIEF IN A DIVINE LAWGIVER, AND WITHOUT REFERENCE TO HIS WILL OR COMMANDS, IS NOT RELIGION… (Webs1828)
RELIGION - ...2. Religion as distinct from theology. Is godliness or real piety in practice, consisting in the performance of all known duties to God and our fellow men, in obedience to divine command, or from love to God and His law. James 1:26. 3. Religion as distinct from virtue, or morality, consists in the performance of the duties we owe directly to God, from a principle of obedience to His will. Hence we often speak of religion and virtue, as different branches of one system, or the duties of the first and second tables of the law.

Let us with caution indulge the supposition, that morality can be maintained without religion. 4. Any system of faith and worship. In this sense, religion comprehends the belief and worship of pagans and Mohammedans, as well as of Christians; any religion consisting in the belief of a superior power or powers governing the world, and in the worship of such power or powers. Thus we speak of the religion of the Turks, of the Hindoos, of the Indians, etc. As well as of the Christian religion. We speak of false religion as well as of true religion.

5. The rites of religion, in the plural. (Webs1828)

Religion - man's relation to divinity, to reverence, worship, obedience, and submission to mandates and precepts of supernatural or superior beings. In its broadest sense includes all forms of belief in the existence of superior beings exercising power over human beings by volition, imposing rules of conduct, with future rewards and punishments. One's views of his relations to his creator and to the obligations they impose of reverence for his being and character, and of obedience to his will. It is often confounded with cultus or form of worship of a particular sect, but is distinguishable from the latter… (Black4)

Apparition - noun - [See appear] 1. In a general sense, an appearance, visibility. [Little used.] 2. The thing appearing; a visible object; a form. 3. A ghost; a specter; a visible spirit. [This is now the usual sense of the word.] 4. Mere appearance, opposed to reality. (Webs1828)

Bind - verb transitive - 1. To tie together, or confine with a cord, or any thing that is flexible; to fasten as with a band, fillet or ligature. 2. To gird, inwrap or involve; to confine by a wrapper, cover or bandage; sometimes with up; as, to bind up a wound. 3. To confine or restrain, as with a chain, fetters or cord; as, bind him hand and foot. 4. To restrain in any manner. He bindeth the floods from overflowing. Job 28:11. 5. To oblige by a promise, vow, stipulation, covenant, law, duty or any other moral tie; to engage. If a man shall swear an oath to bind his soul with a bond. Numbers 30:2. We are bound by the laws of kindness, of nature, of a state, etc. 6. To confirm or ratify. whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven. Matthew 16:19. 7. To distress, trouble, or confine by infirmity. Whom Satan hath bound these eighteen years. Luke 13:1. 8. To constrain by a powerful influence or persuasion. I go bound in the spirit to Jerusalem. Acts 20:1. 9. To restrain the natural discharges of the bowels; to make costive; as, certain kinds of food bind the body or bowels. 10. To form a border; to fasten with a band, ribbon, or any thing that strengthens the edges; as, to bind a garment or carpet. 11. To cover with leather or anything firm; to sew together and cover; as, to bind a book. 12. To cover or secure by a band; as, to bind a wheel with tire. 13. To oblige to serve, by contract; as, to bind an apprentice; often with out; as, to bind out a servant. 14. To make hard or firm; as, certain substances bind the earth. To bind to is to contract; as, to bind one's self to a wife. To bind over is to oblige by bond to appear at a court. - verb intransitive - To contract; to grow hard or stiff; as, clay binds by heat. 1. To grow or become costive. 2. To be obligatory. - noun - …2. Among miners, indurated clay, when much mixed with the oxyd of iron. (Webs1828)
These elite pretenders believe that they are superior beings (gods), and they obviously impose their own power and rules of conduct with a wager of future rewards and punishments in the name of God. But they are merely liars lying in support and proclamation to their own lies, laying the binding foundations of legal and other art forms. For a man to be bound to a corporation calling itself a “religion” is only the same as being bound to the state itself, for every state incorporated religion in and of itself, by its very nature as a legal creation of the state, is bound only by the laws of the state, not of Jehovah. God’s Law is outlawed there, and the strict legal “freedom of religion” as a franchise of non-moral action is imposed harshly and with violence. For to act upon scripture would be to act against the legal (anti-God) state in every way. It is indeed strange to consider that if the many denominated “Christian” religions out there standing as incorporations of the legal “Christian” state, the scriptural Laws of Christ have in no way a binding authority over them. Perhaps that’s why they are so popular amongst the multitude of worshipers (hirelings/employees) of mammon? And perhaps this is why the wealthy love the false church, for their very wealth is a curse upon them in the Real world. The wealthier each individual member becomes in his prostitution to mammon, the wealthier the corporation (church) becomes in its tithing, a farmer of sin-tax.

Now, if you might recall, how many sermons has your corporate church minister thought regarding this root of all evil? And how could he while keeping a straight face as the church collection plates are passed around from pew to pew? This kind of institutionalized hypocrisy without conscious thought, of going through the motions set out by law and culture, especially that of all the multitude false doctrinal religions, is that which is most warned of in the scriptures.

“But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition. FOR THE LOVE OF MONEY IS THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL: which while some coveted after, THEY HAVE ERRED FROM THE FAITH, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows. BUT THOU, O MAN OF GOD, FLEE THESE THINGS; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

—1 Timothy 6: 9-11, KJB

The state allows you to believe without action, for the always forthcoming but never actualized spiritual hope of a physical return of “Jesus Christ” by its debt-slaves is a major trickery that keeps men under the thumb of the state. The concept here of having a visible spirit alludes to the name or title of calling oneself by the name of a religion without actually Living by that invisible spirit and Law invoked. I may call myself a “Christian,” just as the pagan Roman’s did under Caesar’s legal, flattering title, and as the districted public of the modern system of the gods of the nations united continue in doing. But this would only be my visible, political re-presentation in name and form only, not my actual spiritual path; not Reality. Not Truth... Hypocrites bear no shame in bearing the name of their corporate persona in false religious title while ignoring the True, sacred, Natural Law. Religion, or the appearance of its countenance, is naked in the eyes and suffering of Jehovah (Nature) to its organized criminal intent.

A member of a corporate, state religion, while acting in legal persona, is a man estopped from acting in spirituality. One cannot be a member without a legal surname, signifying the last name, will, and testament (law).
State re-ligion is not only to speak and respect a lie as false doctrine not of or in harmony with the actual Scriptures and that Natural Law, but is a physical action with intent to make a promise and oath to protect and serve that lie no differently than that oath taken to support the nation for which that religion is incorporated under. A standing religion and government are one and the same thing; both incapable of existing without the other. Each require a ceremony and membership to join. It is therefore this legal "existence" of religious corporations and their legal "members" that must be examined, as such an artifice is opposed to God’s Design and Nature. Membership is just state citizenship reimagined for false religious purposes. Legal religions as state institutions serve only one purpose: to govern man’s moral actions by mental restraint so as to allow the immoral authority of the state to rule. Corporate religion is always, in every case, a false, legally created and confirmed doctrine, meaning that the morals of commercial religion are also only ever a legal falsehood, even when they mirror the scriptures in exactness. Corporate religion is the artificial person of True Christian Law; a similitude but not a sameness. Thus, while acting as citizens of government, so too is man sustaining a false persona within his membership to any religion, sailing the Holy See in ignorance of its purposeful deceit.

We live a legal lie in every way imaginable, a fictional simulation of what is Reality. The big lie is a corruption so deep and so true that it can barely be explained in the “dog-Latin” and legalese we have uncovered thus far. The “duties to God” defined above, when conferred and confirmed in man’s persona by a corporate religion, are replaced by the taxes to government (monetary duties required of legal law of mammon) and tithes to the church (religious taxes legally considered and collected without state or federal taxation) — both of these being corporations (artificial persons) in their very being, and thus merely two traffickers in mammon under different artful titles.

Religion is simply not needed if man’s ligance is only to the scriptural teachings, for a Bible reading people would never allow themselves to fall prey to priests, politicians, and false judges. In this legal world, the nature of corporate religions and governments always demand that one give up something else in order to accept the newer doctrine, and to vow (promise) and pledge oath (fealty) to only that single corporate body. Membership in a corporation (ecclesiastical or civil), as part of citizenship, is a willing consent to a change of law and a state of necessary opposition to all other fictional nations and peoples as enemies, both foreign and domestic. It is the abandonment of all other sovereigns (lords), including Jehovah.

“And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; AND LOVE NO FALSE OATH: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.”

— Zechariah 8: 17, KJB

As strange as it is to accept, calling each other as strawmen, by the legal name, is to imagine evil (artifice) towards our fellow man. It is to acknowledge the legal identity over the Truth, the Source. And thus to imagine such evil is to love the oath of allegiance to the legal state, for to acknowledge the authority of the false legal name is to acknowledge the authority of the law of persons and its creator gods as sovereign. There is no citizenship without oath, without allegiance to dead things not of Jehovah.

Only the dead of spirit require the temporal comforts, vanities, imageries, and pomp of corporate religious circumstance. Only the spiritually dead need speak by the ordained, constituted prayers and oaths created by men in sacramental robes while chanting together publicly, for they know not what the True Temple of the body is, and even their empty chants, hymns, and prayers are in vain. They rely on men as godheads, masters, not on the very Nature and Permanence of Jehovah Itself.
Many even pray to God in hope of receiving gifts of money or other valuable tokens in mammon and thus in promotion of a dependence upon money, which above all else is the epitome of these legal false doctrines and how they destroy man’s power under God.

Imagine the anthropomorphized look on God’s face if you had the nerve to ask Him for money, for that which He hates most of all!

SECTARIAN - A term that relates and pertains to a sect or religion that differs from non-sectarian, which is not related to a religion or sect. (Black4)

SECTARIAN - adjective - [Latin secrarius.] Pertaining to A SECT OR SECTS; AS SECTARIAN PRINCIPLES OR PREJUDICES. - noun - One of a sect: one of a PARTY in religion WHICH HAS SEPARATED ITSELF FROM THE ESTABLISHED CHURCH, or which HOLDS TENETS DIFFERENT FROM THOSE OF THE PREVAILING DENOMINATION IN A KINGDOM OR STATE. (See Secular) (Webs1828)

TEMPORAL - adjective [Latin temporalis, from tempus, TIME] 1. Pertaining to this life or this world or the body only: SECULAR; as temporal concerns; temporal affairs. In this sense, IT IS OPPOSED TO SPIRITUAL. Let not temporal affairs or employments divert the mind from spiritual concerns, which are far more important. In this sense also it is OPPOSED TO ECCLESIASTICAL; as temporal power that is, SECULAR, CIVIL OR POLITICAL POWER; TEMPORAL COURTS, those which take cognizance of CIVIL suits. Temporal jurisdiction is THAT WHICH REGARDS CIVIL AND POLITICAL AFFAIRS. 2. MEASURED OR LIMITED BY TIME; or by this life or this state of things; HAVING LIMITED EXISTENCE; OPPOSED TO ETERNAL. THE THINGS WHICH ARE SEEN ARE TEMPORAL BUT THE THINGS WHICH ARE NOT SEEN ARE ETERNAL. 2 Corinthians 4:18. 3. In grammar, relating to a tense; as a temporal augment. 4. Pertaining to the temple or temples of the head, as the temporal bone; a temporal artery or vein; temporal muscle. (Webs1828)

Time is money… But God is timeless.

This most important concept is the basis of all temporal affairs and concerns, for everything is valued in money, and money is merely a representation of time (i.e., future and past labor). Mammon is measured in the potential of time, while God is Eternal and spiritual Life is timeless (without artificial values). What is time but a measure of potential, insurable value? Time (as valued in money) is the root of any wager of money (a representation of time), a strange and circular commerce indeed.

TIME - The measure of duration. The word is expressive both of a precise point or terminus and of an INTERVAL BETWEEN TWO POINTS. TIME IS THE ESSENCE OF CONTRACT. Means that performance by one party AT TIME OR WITHIN PERIOD SPECIFIED IN CONTRACT is essential to enable him TO REQUIRE PERFORMANCE BY OTHER PARTY. (Black4)

This is simply man’s attempt to control the flow of time, which we call the currency, as the current of the commercial sea.

Corporations in any form, including governments and religions, are always only of mammon, for a corporation can only be created for a temporal, secular consideration, and only according to the time allotted by its charter. No corporation or any other form of person is of the spirit of man’s soul. All corporations are based on profit, either for (per) or non (not). And so while the government (corporation) of the state may proclaim that legally corporations are people/persons too, we must remember that governments can only declare legal, temporal things as living, not spiritual ones. Just another lie within the lie that causes the lie to exist... for governments are also considered by other governments as legal persons with rights of persons.

CORPORATION - AN ARTIFICIAL PERSON OR LEGAL ENTITY CREATED BY OR UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE LAWS OF A STATE OR NATION, composed, in some rare instances, of a single person and his successors, being the incumbents of a particular office, but ordinarily consisting of an association of numerous individuals, WHO SUBSIST AS A BODY POLITIC under a special DENOMINATION, which is regarded in law AS HAVING A PERSONALITY AND EXISTENCE DISTINCT FROM THAT OF ITS SEVERAL MEMBERS, and which is, by the same authority, vested with the capacity of continuous succession, irrespective of changes in its membership, either in perpetuity OR FOR A LIMITED TERM OF YEARS, and of acting as a unit or single individual in matters relating to the common purpose of the association. WITHIN THE SCOPE OF THE POWERS AND AUTHORITIES CONFERRED UPON SUCH BODIES BY LAW, A FRANCHISE POSSESSED BY ONE OR MORE INDIVIDUALS, who subsist as a body politic, under a special denomination, and are vested by the policy of the law WITH THE CAPACITY OF PERPETUAL SUCCESSION, and of acting in several respects, however numerous the association may be, as a single individual. AN ARTIFICIAL PERSON OR BEING, endowed by law with the capacity of perpetual succession; consisting either of a single individual, (termed a "CORPORATION SOLE") or of a collection of several individuals, (which is termed a "corporation aggregate") An intellectual body, created by law, composed of individuals united under a common name, the members of which succeed each other. SO THAT THE BODY CONTINUES ALWAYS THE SAME, notwithstanding the change of the individuals who compose it, and which, for certain purposes, IS CONSIDERED A NATURAL PERSON. A "corporation" is more nearly a method than a thing, and the law, in dealing with a corporation, need not define it as a person or entity, or even as an embodiment of functions, rights, and duties. The statement that a "corporation" is an artificial person or entity, apart from its members, is merely a description, in figurative language, of a corporation viewed as a collective body. A corporation is a collection of natural persons, joined together by their VOLUNTARY ACTION OR BY LEGAL COMPULSION, by or under the authority of an act of the Legislature, consisting either of a special charter or of a general permissive statute, to accomplish some purpose, pecuniary, ideal, or governmental, authorized by the charter or governing statute. (Black4)

ELEEMOSYNARY AND CIVIL - Lay corporations are classified as "eleemosnary" and "civil," the former being such as are: created for the distribution of alms or for the ADMINISTRATION OF CHARITIES or for purposes falling under the description of "charitable" in its widest sense, including hospitals, asylums, and colleges; the latter being organized for the facilitating of business transactions and the profit or advantage of the members. In the law of Louisiana, the term "civil" as applied to corporations, is used in a different sense, being contrasted with "religious." CIVIL CORPORATIONS ARE THOSE WHICH RELATE TO TEMPORAL POLICE; SUCH ARE THE CORPORATIONS OF THE CITIES, THE COMPANIES FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COMMERCE AND AGRICULTURE, literary societies, colleges or universities founded for the instruction of youth, and the like. RELIGIOUS CORPORATIONS ARE THOSE WHOSE ESTABLISHMENT RELATES ONLY TO RELIGION; SUCH ARE THE CONGREGATIONS OF THE DIFFERENT RELIGIOUS PERSUASIONS. (Black4)

ELEEMOSYNARY CORPORATION - A private corporation created for charitable and benevolent purposes. (Black4)

ELEEMOSYNARY CORPORATIONS - Such as are constituted for the perpetual distribution of the free alms and bounty OF THE FOUNDER, in such manner as he has directed; and in this class are ranked hospitals for the relief of poor and impotent persons, and colleges for the promotion of learning and piety, and the support of persons engaged in literary pursuits. THESE CORPORATIONS ARE LAY, AND NOT ECCLESIASTICAL, EVEN THOUGH COMPOSED OF ECCLESIASTICAL PERSONS, AND ALTHOUGH THEY IN SOME THINGS PARTAKE OF THE NATURE, PRIVILEGES, AND RESTRICTIONS OF ECCLESIASTICAL BODIES. Eleemosynary corporations are for the management of PRIVATE PROPERTY according to the will of the donors. They are private lay corporations, such as colleges, hospitals, etc. They differ from civil corporations in that the former are the MERE CREATURES OF PUBLIC INSTITUTION, created exclusively or the public advantage, and subject to governmental control and visitation; whereas a PRIVATE CORPORATION, especially one organized for charitable purposes, IS THE CREATURE OF PRIVATE BENEFACION, ENDOWED AND FOUNDED BY PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS, AND SUBJECT TO THEIR CONTROL, LAWS, AND VISITATION, AND NOT TO THOSE OF THE GOVERNMENT. (Black1)

ELEEMOSYNARY - Relating to the distribution of alms, bounty, or charity; charitable. (Black1)

ELEEMOSYNARIUS - In old English law, An almoner, or CHIEF OFFICER, who received the eleemosynary rents and gifts, and in due method distributed them to pious and charitable uses. The name of an officer (lord almoner) of the English kings, in former times, who distributed the royal alms or BOUNTY. (Black4)

ELEEMOSYNAE - Possessions belonging to the CHURCH. (Black4)

ELEEMOSYNARIA - The place IN A RELIGIOUS HOUSE where the common alms were deposited, and thence by the almoner distributed to the poor. In old English law, the aumerie, aumby, or ambry; words still used in common speech in the north of England, to denote a pantry or cupboard. The office of almoner. (Black4)

BOUNTY - A gratuity, or an unusual or additional benefit conferred upon, or compensation paid to, A CLASS OF PERSONS. A premium given or offered TO INDUCE MEN TO ENLIST INTO THE PUBLIC SERVICE. The term is applicable only to the payment made to the enlisted man, as the inducement for his service, and not to a premium paid to the man through whose intervention, and by whose procurement, the recruit is obtained and mustered. It is not easy to discriminate between bounty, reward, and bonus. The former (bounty) is the appropriate term, however, where the services or action of many persons are desired. AND EACH WHO ACTS UPON THE OFFER MAY ENTITLE HIMSELF TO THE PROMISED GRATUITY, without prejudice from or to the claims of others; while reward is more proper in the case of a single service, which can be only once performed, and therefore will be earned only by the person or co-operating persons who succeed while others fail. Thus, bounties are offered to all who will enlist in the army or navy; to all who will engage in certain fisheries which government desire to encourage; to all who kill dangerous beasts or noxious creatures. A reward is offered for rescuing a person from a wreck or fire; for detecting and arresting an offender; for finding a lost chattel. Bonus, as compared with bounty, suggests the idea of a gratuity to induce a money transaction between individuals; a percentage or gift, UPON A LOAN OR TRANSFER OF PROPERTY, OR A SURRENDER OF A RIGHT. (Black1)

Why do loan officers and real estate agents get a bonus?

Because they are tricking the public-minded into acting publicly in an invented (patented) public system, inducing us to use a government signature (the property of another) so as to insure that we never claim property as our own private estate in blood inheritance, and so that we surrender any Natural Law (negative/unalienable) rights to that property. A bonus is purely a tribute of mammon paid to its minions (agents). The signature creates the money “from thin air.”
Well, then, why are soldiers paid a bounty?

Because they are contract mercenaries; hirelings induced into public service by unscrupulous recruiters in public schools and universities (eleemosynary corporations), which also receive a bonus for their inducements to voluntary contract by government. They prostitute themselves to the constituted authorities as employed hirelings in mammon, not voluntary (unpaid) militia, and not to protect the men and women that are acting in the public, but only to ensure that peace (commerce) between those men and women in public persona continues unabated around the world. The public is property of government, and military force is used only to protect that interest. But let us be clear that the corporation of the United States has only one product. As a business, it has only its own money to protect, both in regulation of its valuation through artificial scarcity and in its controlled and regulated circulation (credit). And its military is in place for no other reason than to protect and dominate that monetary interest in international war and commerce (peace). All law regards some aspect of this product of money, from production to destruction. Again, all crimes are only ever financial, for all crimes stem from that root of all evil, the love (belief in the valuation of) money.

Only when commerce is halted by political means, are those hirelings used in wars of aggression to destroy any moral blockade of the United State’s and other leading nation’s ability to trade internationally and interstate (domestically). This is the chess game of the exchequer… protecting and serving its created, open-air debtor’s hell on earth.

—Henry Kissinger, quoted from Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein’s book ‘The Final Days,’ (1976), to Chief of Staff Alexander Haig

Remember, to be used is to legally employed. To be dumb is to act in public person and under its false law without a higher (regenerate) moral Law — to not speak; to remain mute by the authority of words and ranks (flattering titles). To be animal is to be without soul (without choice) as a pawn (pledge); a voluntary (purchased) order-follower under foolish oath, contractual obligation, and threat of sanction (punishment).

PEON - noun - In Hindoostan, a FOOT SOLDIER, or a footman armed with sword and target; SAID TO BE CORRUPTED from piadah. [Qu. Latin pes, pedis] Hence, 1. In France, a COMMON MAN IN CHESS, usually written and called PAWN. (Webs1828)

It isn’t that Mr. Kissinger is merely an evil man for saying such things, it’s that he is telling the abridged, pre-textual Truth. And since the Truth never offends a man (son) of God, Kissinger’s fork-tongued words should be used defensively against his ilk and certainly without patriotism (nationalist Stockholm Syndrome).

Knowing the full root of artifice (evil) that money represents as the purpose and identity behind every nation and every aspect of commerce, one would think the root of all spiritual and secular problems would be quite obvious and troubling. And yet we only seek more, allowing our bodies to be used (employed) only for the benefit of mammon’s secular, worldly means, to further build upon the money system and prop it up with our labors (performance) in permanent debt. And we judge all others without legal, traceable identity, without debt to the artifice of government, militarily conquering all nations into this modern, united beast system. The catchphrase? We are “spreading freedom and democracy,” which means we are spreading voluntary servitude, as the legal dis-ease of the publicity of identity, of corporate franchise (freedom) in mob rule, otherwise known as democracy.

The word demo, from the Latin demotic, refers to a district. Democracy is best defined as rule by district, where a district is further defined as a “common people.” This does not mean that the common people rule, but that the common people are ruled (districted) as a lower class, but given the political franchise (vote/pole) to choose their rulers from the upper-class. And so, commercially speaking, of course that royal class seeks to spread its rule (cracy) by making all common people of all nations into public beasts of burden (demotic goy). For this will lead to legalized world peace, which is another word for free-flowing, utterly controlled and taxed commerce, where all common men are marked as beasts. Some call this a New World Order, while currently the United Nations is calling it Agenda 2030. More on this apocalyptic plan of total information awareness and domination as we proceed…

Again, the King James Bible is the foundational law, an unseen, unobserved, and unenforceable part of the common law, its current translation certainly designed to deceive the reader of only dog-Latin unless one diligently studies its lingual origins through transliteration in the king’s “higher” language. This should at this point in our journey be self-evident. And this purposeful transliteration problem is the case with every new Bible version published by these alternative doctrine corporations, leaving the vulgar debate over which Bible one should read as a foolish one. For to choose a book by its cover (name) signifies taking that new translation on face value without committing to due diligence and verification of the ancient and seemingly dead but very much alive language arts intended. The concordances and lexicons do not change. Only the English (dog-Latin) versions change, being measurably dumbed-down with each pressing (impression) until the Nature and meaning of Jehovah and Its Law is all but devoid from the story. Money, however, never looses its epithet of evil’s foundational, causal root. As technology (art) and fiction is built up in the modern law and propaganda of society, so the scriptural purpose is twisted so as to justify such institutionalized artifice under the Natural (Real) Law of God, a paradox that cannot be remedied and that should be admonished by any reasonable seeker of what is the self-Existent Truth (God).

And so let us look at how governments (persons) use the Bible as the foundation of volunteerism, by employing it as their system of “faith.” Just as in the scriptures, man always has a choice. Governments merely cloud the notion and comprehension that choice Exists, though in the end must always concede to whatever enlightened or unenlightened choice man makes. Most men will choose mammon, for most men have been allowed to know no other way. Public education and media entertainment ensures this causality and course of inaction away from the path of spirituality in and under God. And so the use of the devil’s property (money) ensures both the law we follow and the false god (nation/as the creator of money) we choose.

Remember, the US constitution and hundreds of other masonic constitutions in history are merely made up of articles, which are also called as the additional amendments. Only imperfect, temporary laws and things need amended, which is why the Eternal permanence of the Natural Law that is Jehovah is a Design that cannot ever be in Reality amended by man. The so-called “Bill of Rights” was merely a group of twelve articles, of which 10 were ratified. But never may legal articles have authority over the spiritual, moral (unwritten) Law unless man acts in that spiritually dead capacity of a legal, public persona (property of a corporation, not of Jehovah).
ARTICLES OF RELIGION - In English ecclesiastical law, Commonly called the “Thirty-Nine Articles,” a body of divinity DRAWN UP BY THE CONVOCATION IN 1502, AND CONFIRMED BY JAMES I. (Black1)

ARTICLES OF FAITH - In English law, The SYSTEM of faith of the Church of England, more commonly known as the “Thirty-Nine Articles.” (Black1)

ARTICLES OF THE CLERGY - The title of a STATUTE passed in the ninth year of Edward II, for the purpose of ADJUSTING AND SETTLING THE GREAT QUESTIONS OF COGNIZANCE THEN EXISTING BETWEEN THE ECCLESIASTICAL AND TEMPORAL COURTS. (Black1)

ARTICLE - noun - [Latin articulus, a joint, from artus; Gr.] 1. A single clause IN A CONTRACT, ACCOUNT SYSTEM OF REGULATIONS, TREATY, or other WRITING; a particular separate CHARGE or item, in an account; A TERM, CONDITION, OR STIPULATION, IN A CONTRACT. In short, a distinct part of a writing, instrument or discourse, consisting of two or more particulars; as, articles of agreement; an account consisting of many articles. 2. A point of FAITH: A DOCTRINAL POINT OR PROPOSITION IN THEOLOGY: AS THE THIRTY-NINE ARTICLES. 3. A distinct part. Upon each article of HUMAN DUTY. 4. A particular COMMODITY, OR SUBSTANCE; as, an article of merchandise; salt is a necessary article. In common usage, this word is applied to almost every separate substance or material. The articles which compose the BLOOD. 5. A POINT OF TIME. [Not in use.] 6. In botany, that part of a stalk or stem, which is between two joints. 7. In grammar, AN ADJECTIVE USED BEFORE NOUNS, TO LIMIT OR DEFINE THEIR APPLICATION: as hic, ille, ipse, in Latin; in Greek; the, this, that, in English. The primary use of these adjectives was TO CONVERT AN INDETERMINATE NAME INTO A DETERMINATE ONE; OR TO LIMIT THE APPLICATION OF A COMMON NAME, TO A SPECIFIC, KNOWN, OR CERTAIN INDIVIDUAL. But article being an improper term to express the true signification, I make use of DEFINITIVE, which see. - verb transitive - 1. TO DRAW UP IN DISTINCT PARTICULARS; as, to article the errors or follies of a man. 2. TO ACCUSE OR CHARGE BY AN EXHIBITION OF ARTICLES. He shall be articed against in the High Court of ADMIRALTY. Stat. 33. George III. 3. TO BIND BY ARTICLES OF COVENANT OR STIPULATION; as, to article an apprentice to a mechanic. - verb intransitive - [supra.] To agree by articles: to stipulate. (Webs1828)

CONSTITUTOR - (repeated) - Civil law. He who promised by a simple pact TO PAY THE DEBT OF ANOTHER; and this is always A PRINCIPAL OBLIGATION. (Bouv1856)

DEFINITIVE - adjective - 1. Limiting the extent; DETERMINATE; POSITIVE; EXPRESS, as a definitive term. 2. Limiting; ending; determining; final; OPPOSED TO CONDITIONAL, provisional, or interlocutory; as a definitive sentence or decree. - noun - In grammar, AN ADJECTIVE USED TO DEFINE OR LIMIT THE EXTENT OF THE SIGNIFICATION OF AN APPPELLATIVE OR COMMON NOUN (NAME). Such are the Latin hic, ille, ipse; the, this and that, in English; le, la, les, in French; il, la, lì in Italian. Thus tree is an apppellative or common noun; the tree, this tree, that tree, designate a particular tree, determinate or known. HOMO SIGNIFIES MAN; hic homo, ille homo, A PARTICULAR MAN, etc. But in some languages, the definitives have lost their original use, in a great degree; as in the Greek and French. Thus La force de la vertu, must be rendered in English, THE FORCE OF VIRTUE, NOT THE FORCE OF THE VIRTUE. The first la is a definitive; the last has no definitive effect. (Webs1828)
Clint is an ambiguous term, indeterminate, and not final or fixed in any fictional state or publicly registered and pre-defined id-entity. It is so common a name that it cannot be definitively articulated to any man. The given name Clint is a gift of Life, a gift from and within Jehovah, and signifies nothing but that Nature of the Life-Blood of man as a part of that Eternal Supremacy of Permanent Being that is the Natural, Spiritual Realm of God; a Oneness with Source. But when the name Clint is incorporated to merely describe as an adjective (article) the definitive nature of the surname (noun) Richardson (i.e., as a fictional, “natural person”), and when other marks, numbers, and signs are applied to that particular combination in surety, suddenly the word Clint is only a powerless article in legal existence by virtue of the owner of the surname it describes. To address Clint in full legal name is to make an accusation, a charge of the doom (judgement) of legal identity. This incorporation of names is the essence of the legal trap, and the chains of the legal lie. The strawman must be surnamed, the authority of the christian name thus destroyed by ad-diction. For the christian name no longer represents the actions (verb) of a spiritual man, but is changed into a mere description (adjective) of something in surety to that which is non-spiritual (anti-God). This is the rape of man’s True Nature.

The immediate response by a rational man to government’s statement at bar that corporations are people or persons too should be one and only one thing: to immediately rid oneself of that artificial status of legal personhood, instead of suffering at being constantly offended at having to share a status and rights with corporations in the artifice. At the very least, it should make the reader understand that all statuses are corporate (artificial) in their nature (source), and thus artificial. In other words, if anyone or anything can be made into a person of equal status as your Self in your own legal standing, even when that person is a piece of paper (articles of incorporation or letters patent), then there is nothing else we can call ourselves while acting in the person of the state than as property of the state. The proof is not those words on paper, but the very manifestation of our choice, though it be only vicariously shown through our actions in confirmation of that status (person).

The 39 articles of religion are simply the 39 forced beliefs (internal, false corporate doctrines) of the state corporation known as the “Church of England.” The Old Testament in the Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Greek Orthodox Bibles just happen to also have 39 books in common, which are Christian Biblical canon. There are only 27 books in the New Testament, and yet the Catholic Bible somehow has a total of 73 books in its edition. You do the math…

But notice that the New Testament is not included as part of the articles of faith. For the New Testament shows man how to govern himself, that man’s own body (Self) is the temple, and that man’s only salvation is through his christ-like actions in belief (love) in commitment to that Higher Law. The church and state cannot have that as their commercial pitch in mammon, now can they?

So which Bible should we put our Trust (Faith) in?

None of them! You must read and see only self-evidently with open eyes, an open mind, and an open heart, in search of the self-existent Truths hidden behind the purposefully mis-transliterated nonsense that supports each specifically added and proclaimed religious (elesmosinary), private corporate doctrine. Have Faith in God (Truth), not the words of men. The King James Bible is used herein as the first choice of this author, only because it is the accepted work and moral Law at the English common law, towards which the United States law is an independently franchised corporate replica. In whatever version you may peruse, find the words that express the intended self-evident Truth of God’s Nature and Law and disregard what is purposefully mis-transliterated to deceive and support the artifices of man’s inventions. It is of course this very contradictory nature of organized religions that has the side effect of turning people away from the ancient wisdom of the actual Truths of the scriptures, as it did for myself for so long, and for which the individual reader must study and decipher to find that spiritual message within. To decipher, one must first know he holds something that has been cyphered, something that needs de-coded in the correct intent and meaning. If whatever Bible you have supports any man acting as the temporal Pope (antichrist), it’s probably written that way by the supporters of that Pope. Kings will of course translate the Bible to be supportive of the kings and governments (corporations) they install. Yet with due diligence, these unmistakable but artfully hidden Truths can be pulled from that attempted wreckage of them. The doctrines of corporate religions are naked and without reason when standing in comparison to the scriptures and spiritual Law they claim to be supported by, for what is self-evident shines Light on their false nature as merely artificial persons with agendas of magistracy (godhood) that are a far cry from those scriptural teachings of Christ.

False religion abounds, for any religion is false if it’s not acting and thriving within Nature’s foundational Laws. And all established, universal “Christian” religions are of course instantly recognizable as false by their very nature of legal existence, as corporations (artificial persons) under the state, which is against all teachings of the scriptures. A nation simply cannot be religious. A nation is not a man. It has no soul. It makes no choice of its own.

We mustn’t be fooled by the so-called Jewish “state” either, for we find that the law of the “state” of Israel is not the Bible, not the Torah, and not the Bible at all, but instead that horrific work of rabbinical fiction called the BABYLONIAN Talmud. For the state is not a people, but a legal corporation built to violently control people, a militarized zone or district not so different from the pretended, people-less “state” of the United States as a de facto (militarized) district. No men Exist in these fictions of law called Israel or United States, only legal persons (statuses). Like false Christianity, the spiritual moral law is overshadowed by false legalisms as the “civil law” doctrines of the rabbis (priest-class) and scribes. And the infiltration of Judaism into Christianity is as ridiculous as mixing sheep with hungry wolves. For it is the pretended integration of the Jew master-class and the goyim, yet another attack upon True christian understanding. This somehow controversial view is easily verified by a simple glance at the Talmud, which is the guiding force of political and “moral” law for that people.

TALMUD - A work which embodies THE CIVIL AND CANONICAL LAW of the Jewish people. (Black4)

Of course, just as the scriptures warn against false and forgetful hearers of the Word that use flattering titles of “Christianity” for political reasons only, the Bible also warns us against these false “Jews,” whose name and title are yet another exclusionary, fabled genealogy used for status, wealth, and gain in mammon.

“I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and I KNOW THE BLASPHEMY OF THEM WHICH SAY THEY ARE JEWS, AND ARE NOT, BUT ARE THE SYNAGOGUE OF SATAN.”

—Revelation 2:9, KJB

Stong’s lexicon describes this state of being in false religion, as an infiltrating force of “satan,” so that we may take heed of this warning per their modern day coup de tat over the Christian church.

Strong’s G4567 - Satanás (Σατανᾶς)

1. ADVERSARY (one who opposes another in purpose or act), the name given to:

   A. the prince of evil spirits, the inveterate adversary of God and Christ:
1. HE INCITES APOSTASY FROM GOD AND TO SIN
2. CIRCUMVENTING MEN BY HIS WILES
3. THE WORSHIPPERS OF IDOLS are said to be under his control
4. BY HIS DEMONS HE IS ABLE TO TAKE POSSESSION OF MEN AND INFLECT THEM WITH DISEASES
5. By God's assistance he is overcome
6. On Christ's return from heaven he will be bound with chains for a thousand years, but when the thousand years are finished he will walk the earth in yet greater power, but shortly after will be given over to eternal punishment

B. A SATAN-LIKE MAN

The Israelites were known as a religious people in the Bible precisely because they were Lawful and nationless, as a political statelessness (without false god). This is a very important lesson, for to be a religious man is to be without legal residence and with domicile only under God’s Law in Nature. Thus Jesus was accused of being the king of the Jews by the Jews, which really was a reference to the Israelites, not all “Jews” (those opposed to Christ). The Israelite, as opposed to the generally titled Jew, was a people with clean hands and heart. The word Israelite means “God prevails,” which refers to God’s Law being followed.

—Psalms 73:1, KJB

“Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Israel, which are of Israel: Neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but, In Isaac shall thy seed be called. That is, THEY WHICH ARE THE CHILDREN OF THE FLESH, THESE ARE NOT THE CHILDREN OF GOD…”

And what is it that happened, what event took place that these People called as Israelites lost their chosen status (favor) with God? What caused them to become the wretched “Jews” destined to wander the Earth without respect and without honor among the peoples of other nations? From what did this curse state of being and religious apostasy from God’s Law and Son (Word/Law) stem from?

The Bible certainly answers this question in triplicate:
“Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith the LORD (Jehovah). A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: FOR THEY HAVE PERVERTED THEIR WAY, AND THEY HAVE FORGOTTEN THE LORD THEIR GOD. RETURN, YE BACKSLIDING CHILDREN, AND I WILL HEAL YOUR BACKSLIDINGS. Behold, we come unto thee; for thou art the LORD our God. Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel. FOR SHAME HATH DEVoured THE LABOUR OF OUR FATHERS FROM OUR YOUTH; their flocks and their herds, THEIR SONS AND THEIR DAUGHTERS. WE LIE DOWN IN OUR SHAME, AND OUR CONFUSION COVERETH US: FOR WE HAVE Sinned AGAINST THE LORD OUR GOD, WE AND OUR FATHERS, from our youth even unto this day, AND HAVE NOT OBEYED THE VOICE OF THE LORD OUR GOD.”

—Jeremiah 3: 20-25, KJB

We may know the false Jew (synagogue of satan/meaning the church of the adversaries of christ) by his national affiliation to the legalized corporation (artificial person) blasphemously called as “Israel,” the United States standing as their protective nation of choice, just as we may know a false “Christian” by his own birth and nativity as the goyim of the gods of the nations. This combination of doctrines (laws) of two totally opposed to each other, adversarial (satanic) religious doctrines is an affront to all reason and logic, and yet its popularity is growing at alarming progress as foolish Americans are being used like pawns (peons) to fight an ancient Jewish holy war of blood against all of Islam, for the purposes of reestablishing what was titled as “Greater Israel” upon the coins and maps of older days.

Otherwise known as the ancient “promised land” from Genesis 15: 18-21 or the Complete or “Entire Land of Israel,” which in the Hebrew was expressed as ארץ ישראל השלמה, or Eretz Yisrael Hashlemah, being a more accurate translation of “Greater Israel,” we find it to be defined by three geographical landmarks, all of which are currently held by Muslim countries. Genesis 15:18–21 defines the land that was given to all of the children of Abraham, including Ishmael, Zimran, Jokshan, Midian, etc., again relying on these fabled genealogies for the supposed justification of modern war, oppression, piracy, and conquest, describes the Eretz as a large territory spanning “from the brook of Egypt to the Euphrates,” which includes all of modern-day Israel, the Palestinian Territories, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Iraq, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emeritus, Oman, Yemen, most of Turkey, and all of the land east of the Nile river. Definitions are also to be found in the books of Deuteronomy 11:24, Deuteronomy 1:7, Numbers 34:1–15, and Ezekiel 47:13–20, though with smaller territories and of course reference to the bloodline of the twelve tribes and their self-proclaimed, divided lands. It even describes this hostile takeover stemming from a religious war as the lands that will be slowly, incrementally be given back to the “the children of Israel” over many years.
"THE TALMUD IS TO THIS DAY THE CIRCULATING HEART’S BLOOD OF THE JEWISH RELIGION. Whatever laws, customs or ceremonies we observe — whether we are Orthodox, Conservative, Reform or merely spasmodic sentimentalists — WE FOLLOW THE TALMUD. IT IS OUR COMMON LAW."

—Herman Wouk, Jewish-American author of the Caine Mutiny

"As monstrous as it may seem, we are engaged in close combat BETWEEN ISRAEL AND THE NATIONS — and it can only be GENOCIDAL AND TOTAL because IT IS ABOUT OUR AND THEIR IDENTITIES."

—Yitzhak Attia, Israel Magazine, April 2003

And we wonder where such opposition and psychological operations against the “Christian” nations comes from? To oppose that which is being confused and used (employed) to fight the battles of another, is the same as opposing that which is the confuser. Zionism and patriotism are the same thing. The military of the United States is being misdirected to support the interests of Zionism in a self-fulfilling prophecy that entails the conquering (in war and in purchase) and takeover of “Greater Israel,” purposefully slaughtering millions and raping the lands of the enemies of those satanic false Jews. And we have to realize that most so-called “Jews” are also being educated in this system, themselves merely pawns of their own “state.” But a True Israelite of the Bible would be of course stateless, just as any True follower of Christ would be. Of course, this generally remains out of the headlines, even when the #1 labeled terrorist in the world lets us know why we are the very targets of they who we victimized in the first place.

"Zionist plans for expansion of what is called the Great Israel... to achieve full control over the Arab Peninsula which they intend to make an important part of the so called Greater Israel."

—Osama bin Laden, In a May 1998 interview with ABC’s John Miller

"At Israel's founding in 1948, the Labor ZIONIST leadership, which went on to govern Israel in its first three decades of independence, accepted a pragmatic partition of what had been BRITISH PALESTINE into independent Jewish and Arab states. The opposition Revisionist ZIONISTS, who evolved into today's Likud party. sought Eretz Yisrael Ha-Shlema—Greater Israel, or literally, the Whole Land of Israel (shalem, meaning complete).”

—Joel Greenberg, Zionist Jewish writer for the New York Times

“Zionism” is very much like corporate “Christianity” in that neither group actually follows the namesake or Higher Law of their religion. In other words, their common law is separate doctrine from their religion, their civil law higher than any moral considerations of unwritten Law. And while in America these false Jews are welcomed with open arms into a supposedly “Christian” nation, in Israel it is often reported that, “Christian” priests and nuns are spit upon regularly and prejudiced against greatly for their religion. For the Talmud spits upon the notion of christ in every way, vulgarly portraying him as boiling in excrement (bile and shit) for all of eternity in hell. This judaizing of the law and of religion will be discussed further as we progress. For our purposes, we need only to recognize this scripturally warned-against falsity, the corrupted simulation, legalism, and paganism of religion and moral Law into what it has become today on every front and under every denomination (name/noun). For there is only one Truth, one self-evident path, one God.

What is not known publicly, or what is at least severely under-reported is Osama bin Laden’s words on this Zionist influence upon the totally corrupted Christian element of America. The military attacks on the Arab people on behalf of Zionist interests have caused the same exact discombobulation of moral right and wrong as in the Catholic history of its own murder and conquest in the name of the incorporation of religion and spread of empire, not God’s Word. It is the turning of the peaceful nature of True followers into the institutions of death and destruction, where the protective necessity outweighs the necessity of peace and thwarts the ability for those peoples to follow their Higher Law.

PBS: “Mr. bin Laden, you have issued a fatwah calling on Muslims to kill Americans where they can, when they can. Is that directed at all Americans, just the American military, just the Americans in Saudi Arabia?”

OSAMA BIN LADIN (as translated): “Allah has ordered us TO GLORIFY THE TRUTH and to defend Muslim LAND, especially the Arab peninsula ... AGAINST THE UNBELIEVERS. After World War II, THE AMERICANS GREW MORE UNFAIR AND MORE OPPRESSIVE TOWARDS PEOPLE IN GENERAL AND MUSLIMS IN PARTICULAR. ... The Americans started it and retaliation and punishment should be carried out FOLLOWING THE PRINCIPLE OF RECIPROCITY, especially when WOMEN AND CHILDREN ARE INVOLVED. Through history, AMERICA HAS NOT BEEN KNOWN TO DIFFERENTIATE BETWEEN THE MILITARY AND THE CIVILIANS OR BETWEEN MEN AND WOMEN OR ADULTS AND CHILDREN. Those who threw atomic bombs and used the weapons of mass destruction against Nagasaki and Hiroshima WERE THE AMERICANS. Can the bombs differentiate between military and women and infants and children?”

“AMERICA HAS NO RELIGION THAT CAN DETER HER FROM EXTERMINATING WHOLE PEOPLES.”

“Your position against Muslims in Palestine is despicable and disgraceful. America has no shame ... WE BELIEVE THAT THE WORST THIEVES IN THE WORLD TODAY AND THE WORST TERRORISTS ARE THE AMERICANS, nothing could stop you except perhaps retaliation in kind. We do not have to differentiate between military or civilian. As far as we are concerned, they are all targets, and this is what the fatwah says...”
“The fatwa is general and…”

“IT INCLUDES ALL THOSE WHO PARTICIPATE IN, OR HELP THE JEWISH OCCUPIERS IN KILLING MUSLIMS.”

—Osama bin Laden interview with John Miller on PBS, 1998

Perhaps it is time to ask ourselves why we, the citizen-ships of the United States, stand so fervently behind such a murderous coalition with such a Zionist agenda in the Middle East? Why do we glorify and patriotically support without reason or conscious those undeclared commercial wars and the pawns (soldiers as mercenaries for hire in mammon) used to fight it? Perhaps the hardest question to answer is just why we justify to ourselves the tortuous murder of so many millions of men, woman, and children in Muslim countries and then allow ourselves to be led falsely by a predominately Jewish, Zionist propagandist media in demonizing the True religion and culture of those who’ve been made the involuntary victims by the weapons of that United States municipal corporation? And why would we, with a straight face, support an oil man and the CEO of Halliburton corporation to be president and vice president in a war for oil and for reconstruction of what we are caused to root for to be destroyed? To call George Bush and Dick Cheney as war criminals and profiteers in piracy is the understatement of the century, the “Project For The New American Century,” that is.

The point here is that the actions of a peaceful people under a peaceful religion, under both True Mussulmen (the Abrahamic religion based on the Quran, a follower of Mohammed) and christ-like tenets without artifice of incorporation under the state, are being misdirected and obfuscated to the point where each of these incorporated peoples will have no choice but to participate in what is falsely to be blamed and labeled as a “religious war,” which is forbidden in both doctrines except in times of necessity. The maxims of law clearly state that necessity knows no law. And so we find that it is in the best self-interest of the legal lawmakers, as sovereign magistrates in legalized piracy, to cause artificial (legally declared) “necessity” behind every move they make. This is the nature of both Executive Branch tools labelled as Presidential Directives and Executive Orders, which are “laws” being created solely at the will and authority of the president, with automatic approval by statute of congress (covered in detail later in later volumes). The “war on terror” is no war at all, merely a trick of the artists; a war against an undefined word-term under the doctrine (law) of necessity where no man’s person (fictional character), neither foreign or domestic, is immune from being attached with such a demeaningly flattering title.

But behind this religious war is not the True religious man of Judah but the false Jew, the members of the “World Zionist Organization,” manipulating and guiding the falsely proclaimed and incorporated “Christian” goyim of the nations by pulling the strings of all adversarially (legally) incorporated institutions of religion without mercy or any moral Law but that of their own twisted, non-self-evident formation. And this public participation (silence as consent) can only take place once all men are placed into a single body politic under one nation with one single voice (e pluribus unum), where “the public” has no voice but that as one body controlled by agents of that synagogue of satan in high places. Remember, a citizenship (fictional, legal person) has no voice in matters of morality as religious action, and must support in subjection the actions of its legal creator and maker of its controlling legal law. With protection comes subjection. A slave does not tell his master what to do or how to act. And so the people of two otherwise peaceful world religions are played like puppets against each other, governed not by their True religious doctrines but by a Zionist controlled Hollywood and its news media, and through infiltration of the “Common Core” curriculums of the public, university, and military education programs. Intention is stolen, replaced by causality. Knowledge is reimagined into mystery. Hatred is substituted for Love. And a permanent, murderous, unlawful, undeclared war against “terror” is pretended to be a state of peace.
“There is nothing more frightening than active ignorance.”

Many “Jews” worldwide understand the True nature of Zionism as being against the True Jewish People’s (i.e., True Israelites’) interests. Many Jews are openly anti-Zionist, an action that would falsely be called “antisemite” when declared by any non-Jew (Gentile). For the politically outspoken Jew, the term “self-hating Jew” is instead used to fallaciously attack the messenger of God’s Word. It is important to underlay here that all religious ceremony, worship, and belief are learned actions, not inherent in any way. To Live in Truth is a choice, just as to live by false doctrine (lies) is a choice. The problem is that we continue to chant the mantra that this type of brainwashing and even public standard of education could never happen in our culture, in our nation, when in fact the entire world is being subverted though organizations like the book-banning Anti-Defamation League (ADL), being one of the largest contributors of “lesson plans” to public schools and military colleges under “Common Core” for what it coined as “non-bias” education and learning materials. In other words Shakespeare is being banned in public schools because the word Jew is used disparagingly, as a supposedly anti-semite term. Much of the counterculture propaganda in public forums and schools as to the transgender and other supposedly “biased” use of terms of sexual identity stems from such Jewish, specifically Zionist organizations as well.

Karin Friedemann for instance, as an ethnically (Hebrew speaking) Jewish anti-Zionist blogger, wrote the following:

“American Jews are actually being trained (by Zionists) SINCE CHILDHOOD to interact with non-Jews in a deceitful and arrogant manner, in coordination with each other, TO EMOTIONALLY DESTROY NON-JEWS AND ISRAEL CRITICS IN ADDITION TO WRECKING THEIR CAREERS AND INTERFERING WITH THEIR SOCIAL RELATIONSHIPS. This is actually deliberate, wicked, planned behavior motivated by a narcissistic self-righteous fury… The problem is that non-Jews are taught through emotional pressure and violence via the media and the school system to be very sensitive to Jewish suffering so when a Zionist becomes outraged at them for challenging their world view, the non-Jew really has to fight against his own inner self in a huge battle against his “inner Jew” making him feel inadequate and intimidated. But the Jew doesn’t care how much he or she hurts others, Jews only care about what’s good for the Jews… I once reduced a 50 year old man to hysterical sobbing tears because I told him gently and lovingly that Jews were not that unique. I just told him the Jews, like everyone else, have had good times and bad times. Times when they were slaughtered and other times when they slaughtered others. Just like everyone else. Guess what he did next? He emotionally abused me in an insulting way and then cut off all further communication. Jewish behavior is so predictable that it’s truly scary… If you mention cutting off the money or if you mention the possible compromise of living with Palestinians as equals in one state they become very angry and start using bullying tactics, unless they have some reason to fear you, in which case they shun you and complain about you to the authorities. Try to get you arrested or try and destroy your career or social status through character assassination. Zionists all believe in the myth of “1000 years of Jewish suffering” and feel that the world owes them compensation for their ancestors’ “unique” suffering. It’s a criminally insane viewpoint. They cope with the contradictions between their belief that they are the good guys and what Jews are actually doing to their neighbors, both in the Middle East and in the US, by developing mental health issues. Most Zionists are functional schizophrenics.”

Please note the difference between a religious Jew and a secular Zionist here, for one need not be in any way a “Jewish” to be a “Zionist” (e.g., Sayanim, defined as a Zionist helper or assistant living outside of Israel providing assistance to its government and its Mossad). This respecting of titles as good or bad is exactly why the highest law of scripture tells us to suffer and respect not any man’s name or flattering title. His actions are his own, and that goes for all men regardless of their branding, entrainment, or breeding. Amazingly, we must not forget that all of this is based on a lie, on a great and terrible logical fallacy. For today’s “Jew” is much like today’s “Christian,” acting Godlessly (Lawlessly) without even knowing it and yet bearing a denominational title of chosen religion that has about as much spiritual meaning as any team and mascot of the National Football League (NFL), which by the way is somehow also registered as a non-profit organization. The great fallacy is simply that the Biblical Israel was a land (territory), not a People. It was not a nation or a country, for these are not a part of God’s Nature, nor was it a border or city. It was nothing more than a Law-abiding, God-fearing People. And yet all the wars and conflicts, genocides and holocausts that have taken place in history are merely petty land and title disputes. Zionism is, for all intents and purposes, the most religiously pure form of empty patriotism ever created, of re-establishing a title of “land” that never actually existed in the first place, one exclusive of the so-called Jews (as opposed to the Israelites). The term Jew (Yahoodiy/Loudaitas) was again used of those who fell away from Israel, Used by Paul as those specifically opposed to Christ (the New Law), as those fallen away from loving God’s Law.

Part of this mythos of Zionism and of a goal for “Greater Israel” is described here, again by official Jewish authors both in the Israeli legislature (Knesset) and in university settings, and being the as yet unrealized dream of world-wide Zionism such as that of the Chabad, that Israel will one day extend from the Litani River in the north (i.e., Lebanon) to the River Nile in the south (i.e., Egypt) to the Euphrates in the west (i.e., Iraq):

DEFINING JEWISH ERETZ YISROEL (i.e., ‘Greater Israel’):

“If Zionism today means Greater Israel, not only am I a post-Zionist, I am an anti-Zionist. If Zionism is (the illegal settlements of) Netzarim and Kiryat Arba, I am an anti-Zionist. I do not accept the type of Zionism that took Judaism, with all its dazzling beauty, and turned it into the worship of trees and stones. When I look around today, my feeling is that Netzarim has become an altar, GOD HAS BECOME A MOLOCH (AN IDOL) AND OUR CHILDREN HAVE BECOME SACRIFICES; HUMAN SACRIFICES TO TERRIBLE IDOL WORSHIP.”

—Avraham Burg, former Jewish Speaker of the Israeli Knesset (legislature of Israel).

“The (UN) General Assembly determines that ZIONISM IS A FORM OF RACISM AND RACIAL DISCRIMINATION.”

—United Nations General Assembly Resolution Number 3379, which was later revoked under massive international Zionist pressure by Resolution Number 4686.

“What emerged for me, from the study of the first chapters (of Sefer Haranya, the central works of the Chabad ultra-Orthodox organization) was the discovery that the main stream of Jewish thought is permeated BY GENETIC SPIRITUAL SUPERIORITY OF JEWS OVER GENTILES, disconcertingly reminiscent of racist notions of our time... Living in Israel for the past twenty years... I have come to realize the vitality of Jewish racist notions, and I am more than ever convinced that the hold Judaism will have on this and future generations will be gravely impaired unless these notions are neutralized...”

“We have to recognize that JEWISH BLOOD, AND THE BLOOD OF A GOY, ARE NOT THE SAME THING.”

“The difference between a Jewish soul and souls of non-Jews — all of them in all different levels — IS GREATER AND DEEPER THAN THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A HUMAN SOUL AND THE SOULS OF CATTLE.”

“If certain Jewish communities had distinctive qualities, THEY WERE DUE TO HISTORY, NOT BIOLOGY.”
—Shlomo Sand, from ‘The Invention of the Jewish People’

“I was not raised as a Zionist, but like all other Israelis I took it for granted that the Jews were a people living in Judea and that they were exiled by the Romans in 70 AD.”

“But once I started looking at the evidence, I discovered that the kingdoms of David and Solomon WERE LEGENDS.”

“Similarly with the exile. In fact, you can’t explain Jewishness without exile. But when I started to look for history books describing the events of this exile, I couldn’t find any. Not one.”

“THAT WAS BECAUSE THE ROMANS DID NOT EXILE PEOPLE. In fact, Jews in Palestine WERE OVERWHELMING PEASANTS and all the evidence suggests THEY STAYED ON THEIR LANDS.”

“It is not taught in Israeli schools but most of the early Zionist leaders, including David Ben Gurion [Israel’s first prime minister], believed that the Palestinians were the descendants of the area’s original Jews. They believed the Jews had later converted to Islam.”

“(…THE EXILE WAS A MYTH PROMOTED BY EARLY CHRISTIANS TO RECRUIT JEWS TO THE NEW FAITH.) Christians wanted later generations of Jews to believe that their ancestors had been exiled as a punishment from God.”

—Quotes from article, ‘Israel’s surprising best seller contradicts founding ideology,’ taken from an interview with Shlomo Sand, author of “The Invention of the Jewish People,” as originally printed in The National, excerpted from reprint by Jonathan Cook in The Electronic Intifada (separate quotes)

“Strictly speaking IT IS INCORRECT TO CALL AN ANCIENT ISRAELITE A ‘JEW’ OR TO CALL A CONTEMPORARY JEW AN ISRAELITE OR A HEBREW.”

—‘A brief History of the Terms for Jew,’ 1980 Jewish Almanac, page 3 “Dominated by Zionism's particular concept of NATIONALITY, the State of Israel still refuses, sixty years after its establishment, to see itself as a republic that serves its citizens. ONE QUARTER OF THE CITIZENS ARE NOT CATEGORIZED AS JEWS, AND THE LAWS OF THE STATE IMPLY THAT ISRAEL IS NOT THEIR STATE NOR DO THEY OWN IT. The state has also avoided integrating the local inhabitants into the superculture it has created, and has instead deliberately excluded them… ISRAEL INSISTS ON SEEING ITSELF AS A JEWISH STATE BELONGING TO ALL THE JEWS IN THE WORLD, EVEN THOUGH THEY ARE NO LONGER PERSECUTED REFUGEES BUT FULL CITIZENS OF THE COUNTRIES IN WHICH THEY CHOOSE TO RESIDE. The excuse for this grave violation of a basic principle of modern democracy, and for the PRESERVATION OF AN UNBRIDLED ETHNOCRACY THAT GROSSLY DISCRIMINATES AGAINST CERTAIN OF ITS CITIZENS, RESTS ON THE ACTIVE MYTH OF AN ETERNAL NATION THAT MUST ULTIMATELY FORGATHER IN ITS ANCESTRAL LAND.”

—Shlomo Sand, Jewish author and University teacher in Israel

“Behind every act in Israel's IDENTITY POLITICS stretches, like a long black shadow, THE IDEA OF AN ETERNAL POWER AND RACE.”

—Shlomo Sand, from 'The Invention of the Jewish People'

It's always about the fabled genealogy, the bloodlines versus the goyim (muggles, mudbloods) of the nations. To be ignorant of this fact is the American way, the dumbed-down public-mindedness of a peopled colony (plantation). And yet to be external from any nation is the actual definition of a True Israelite and of a True follower of christ, to be without legal person or ethnic (national) identity. For ethnicity is not born out of race, it is nationality. It is fiction and not to be respected in the eyes of God.

And what is the number one cry of these oppressors? That they are racially discriminated against! And so a state and a so-called “people” created solely on the idea of a totally exclusive race actually has the gaul to insist that they are racially oppressed. And you wonder why God’s Word of Law has no such limitations or requirements of genealogy, why the New Law claims all men under its umbrella, regardless of pretended race, skin-color, or legal status? How can there be peace with such a racist, exclusive “state” as Israel? And for that matter, how can we continue to allow the racist bloodlines of kings to continue to rule over all “white” nations?

The beautiful answer is that all men may partake of the figurative Blood of christ. We may all become christ-like. We may follow the Law of Nature, the Law of God. The only True and self-evident Law may become our self-government. None of this fabled history has a place under the Word (Son) of Jehovah. We will not defeat these kingdoms and their bloodline rulers by bloodshed and war, but only by doing as christ did, by picking up our stake (cross) and leaving their jurisdictions to fall back into Nature’s God once more.

“The construction of a new body of knowledge always bears direct connection to the IDEOLOGY in which it operates. Historical insights that diverge from the narrative laid down at the inception of the nation can be accepted only when consternation about their implications is abated. This can happen WHEN THE CURRENT COLLECTIVE IDENTITY BEGINS TO BE TAKEN FOR GRANTED AND CEASES TO BE SOMETHING (THAT) ANXIOUSLY AND NOSTALGICALLY CLINGS TO A MYTHICAL PAST, WHEN IDENTITY BECOMES THE BASIS FOR LIVING AND NOT ITS PURPOSE — THAT IS WHEN HISTORIOGRAPHIC CHANGE CAN TAKE PLACE.”

—Shlomo Sand, from ‘The Invention of the Jewish People’

In the end, the only identity one should strive to be recognized by is one of christ-like; a self-evident, self-existent follower of the Highest moral and spiritual Law proven only by his actions and self-responsibility thereof. In the most simplistic of terms, this merely means that one might exist without ego, without status, and thus without any id-entity at all. It is to act at all times as one’s True Self, without lies and legal fictions (false truths), and without ethnicity (nationality) or corporate church (false laws). It is not only to follow Nature’s Law but to Live only to serve and be part of Nature (Creation and its Creator), to be a working, active, contributing part of the whole of Jehovah instead of its adversary.

Please bear in mind that these are the words of self-proclaimed “Jews” above, not of this author, and cannot therefore be fallaciously dismissed as racist or antisemite, a clever trick used to prevent further discourse. This Zionist trick of words will not do here, for we seek only Truth.

Amy Goodwin (‘Democracy Now’ host):

“Often, when there is dissent expressed in the United States against the policies of the Israeli government, people here (US) are called antisemitic.” What is your response to that as an Israeli Jew?”

Shulamit Aloni (former Israeli Minister, Knesset member and head of the Meretz Party):

“WELL, IT’S A TRICK. We always use it. When from Europe somebody is criticizing Israel then we bring up ‘the holocaust.’ When in this country (US) somebody is criticizing Israel then they are ‘antisemitic.’”
And the organization is strong and has a lot of money... And their attitude is 'ISRAEL MY COUNTRY RIGHT OR WRONG;' the identification. And they are not ready to hear criticism. And it’s very easy to blame people who criticize certain acts of the Israeli government as anti-Semitic, and to bring up the Holocaust, and the suffering of the Jewish people, and that is, THAT JUSTIFY EVERYTHING WE DO TO THE PALESTINIANS."

"ZIONISM IS A SECULAR MOVEMENT! It’s a movement to bring the Jewish people and give them a home in the land of Israel. IT IS NOT A MESSIANIC MOVEMENT... those people who are extremely religious in Israel, then they’ll tell you that THEY ARE ANTI-ZIONIST. Because they say “We as Jews cannot go back to Israel, unless we fulfill what’s said in the Bible, which means WAIT UNTIL THE MESSIAH COMES AND BRINGS YOU BACK. SO IF WE GO BACK AS A RELIGIOUS GROUP WE HAVE NO RIGHTS TO THE LAND...”

“When I was in the MOSSAD and we had a guy that gave us problems in the US, and he was speaking out (against Israel)... So what you do is you get in touch with a guy in the station in New York or in the station in Washington and you say, tell the guys at Benabria (q.v.) TO LABEL HIM. AND OF COURSE THE CAMPAIGN STARTS AND BEFORE YOU KNOW IT THE GUY IS LABELED. AND HE’S AN ‘ANTISEMITE,’ BECAUSE THAT’S WHAT WE SAY HE IS. And that’s one stain you cannot wash. Now, it shames me as a Jew to tell you that. But that’s the fact, and it’s wrong. And the people who are perpetrating this don’t really understand what they are doing...”

At some point you must ask yourself, what truly is the difference between Zionism and American patriotism? Are the Native American Indians not in similitude to the Palestinians, their lands conquered and replaced by militarized settlements? And at what point do we say our government is wrong, when in patriotism and in Zionism the government can do no wrong?

It is also interesting to note that the only reason Christians and Jews are “friends” is because these false titles of people are completely secularized. They follow nothing of the Law of God. And no religious Jew would claim Jesus christ as his Messiah or savior. Yet the secularized Christian religions are easily assimilated and Judaized for Zionist interests, and so Israel’s only political ally, the United States, will continue to siphon billions into Israel’s defense budget from this so-called its homelands to fall helplessly into the new state (trap) of Israel, as planned long ago. and allegiance to the crown before world war II was staged and worldwide Jewry was shaken from conquered that land on behalf of world Zionism, for organized, worldwide Jewry pledged its faith of a “national home” for the Jewish people.” And in the end, it was the British military forces that purpose was, “Confirming support from the British government for the establishment in Palestine of a “national home” for the Jewish people.” And in the end, it was the British military forces that in militarily occupied British Palestine, just as so many immigrants made their way to the shores of the so-called New World to join in bondage with the commercial British corporations (colonies) there. For what use would a new state of “Israel” be without a majority of lost, secular, atheistic false “Jews” by title only, fooled into raping that land according to World Zionist Congress plans?

Christian population. They even have Christians insisting, without scriptural precedent, that Jesus christ was somehow biologically and Lawfully a Jew! (Hint: Jewishness is not biological, not Natural.) Ironically, Jesus christ was certainly not a “Christian” either, for these are merely artful titles of organized religion. The English word obviously didn’t even exist, and the modern word “Jew” is not used at all in any non-English Bible. He was indeed no thing, just as his Father instruct-ed all men of God’s Nature to be by the Law (Word). This negative Law merely means to remain innocent as you are born to be, to avoid additions addictions of names, marks, titles, and signs of any artfully false identities, either secular or religious. One is to Be only part of the I Am…

In the end, there is only one Truth for both of these “peoples.” They are and still are the same damned people. Only fiction decides them, not their True Nature of Existence. We are all victims, pawns used to create, fund, and justify feudalistic, tyrannical, de facto governments (nations). The world-wide population that entitles itself secularly as “Jews” were used, paid off, and sometimes militarily or politically forced out of their homes and countries in order to take refuge (as refugees) in militarily occupied British Palestine, just as so many immigrants made their way to the shores of the so-called New World to join in bondage with the commercial British corporations (colonies) there. For what use would a new state of “Israel” be without a majority of lost, secular, atheistic false “Jews” by title only, fooled into raping that land according to World Zionist Congress plans?

The World Zionist Organization (Hebrew: הליגוי העולמי הצעירות: HaHistadrut HaTzionit Ha Olamit), or WZO, was founded as the Zionist Organization (ZO; 1897–1960) at the initiative of Theodor Herzl at the First World Zionist Congress, which took place in August 1897 in Basel, Switzerland. Its founding goals, as the leader of the Zionist movement, were stated in its resolution known as the “Basel Program,” which included the takeover and settlement of Palestine some 70 years before the war and land-theft actually took place. In other words, the creation of Israel and its invented (patented) Jewish people was purely the product of commercial, political panoply. This legal event was not in any way the “plan” or “design” of God, nor can it be justified by any scriptural reference without blatant and purposeful mis-transliteration. It is safe to say that all Ten Commandments were broken during this Zionist takeover of Palestine.

In 1917, we find a key to this settlement agreement and hostile takeover, as written in the Balfour Declaration, a letter dated November 2, 1917, from the United Kingdom’s Foreign Secretary Arthur James Balfour to Walter Rothschild, 2nd Baron Rothschild, a prominent leader of the Jewish community in Great Britain and its international kingdom, for transmission to the Zionist Federation of Great Britain and Ireland, known also as the British Zionist Federation. Its stated purpose was, “Confirming support from the British government for the establishment in Palestine of a “national home” for the Jewish people.” And in the end, it was the British military forces that conquered that land on behalf of world Zionism, for organized, worldwide Jewry pledged its faith and allegiance to the crown before world war II was staged and worldwide Jewry was shaken from its homelands to fall helplessly into the new state (trap) of Israel, as planned long ago.

The Balfour Declaration reads:

“His Majesty’s government view with favour the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavours to facilitate the achievement of this object, it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine, or the rights and political status enjoyed by Jews in any other country.”

To read this declaration of intent today, post military settlement and genocidal murder and harm towards the Palestinian inhabitants and the “Transfer Agreement” of Jews forcibly out of Germany between the Nazi (National Socialist) of Hitler and the World Jewish Congress, is a laughable travesty of a lie.

The Jewish Shoah Resource Center explains the details of what was the actual “final solution” to transfer Jews to Palestine:

The Transfer Agreement and the Boycott Movement: A Jewish Dilemma on the Eve of the Holocaust

In the summer of 1933, the Jewish Agency for Palestine, the German Zionist Federation, and the German Economics Ministry drafted a plan meant to allow German Jews emigrating to Palestine to retain some of the value of their property in Germany by purchasing German goods for the Yishuv, which would redeem them in Palestine local currency. This scheme, known as the Transfer Agreement or Ha’avarah, met the needs of all interested parties: German Jews, the German economy, and the Mandatory Government and the Yishuv in Palestine. The Transfer Agreement has been the subject of ramified research literature. Many Jews were critical of the Agreement from the very outset. The negotiations between the Zionist movement and official representatives of Nazi Germany evoked much wrath. In retrospect, and in view of what we know about the annihilation of European Jewry, these relations between the Zionist movement and Nazi Germany seem especially problematic. Even then, however, the negotiations and the agreement they spawned were profoundly controversial in broad Jewish circles. For this reason, until 1935 the Jewish Agency masked its role in the agreement and attempted to pass it off as an economic agreement between private parties.

In 1935, Gruenbaum expressed reservations about the Transfer Agreement, regarding it as evidence of the willingness of Jewry to accept expulsion and thereby offer its consent to an “exodus,” as he put it. But whereas Gruenbaum opposed the Transfer Agreement out of concern that rulers in Eastern Europe, especially Poland, would consider it an exemplary way to instigate an exodus of Jews, some favored the Agreement for these very reasons. Margulies, manager of the “Ha’avarah Ltd.” company in Palestine on behalf of the Anglo-Palestine Bank, was enraged by the irresolution of the Zionist movement concerning the Transfer Agreement. In a sharply worded letter to Ruppin, the head of the German desk at the Jewish Agency, he wrote:

“For the first time, the situation that Herzl predicted - the collapse of the Diaspora - has come to pass, and for the first time Zionism has an opportunity to fulfill Herzl's vision concerning the mass liquidation of this situation. It must be said that the Zionist movement has not proved itself fit to undertake this mission. Herzlian Zionism, based on the thesis that all peoples are anti-Semitic, instructed us to prepare in advance for the exodus, so we would be ready when the time came. When the time came, all the Zionist movement did was act incensed at the fulfillment of its predictions.”

Subsequently, in 1936, Gruenbaum himself became convinced that exodus was the only solution to the predicament of Polish Jewry.

An accord similar to the Transfer Agreement, known as the Clearing Agreement, was worked out between the Jewish Agency and the Polish Government in the second half of 1936 and signed in March 1937. Its purpose was to enable Jewish emigrants from Poland to transfer their assets to Palestine despite Polish currency laws by purchasing Polish goods. Unlike the Transfer Agreement, the “clearing” was supposed to be reciprocal, i.e., to create the possibility of transfers of capital and goods from Poland to Palestine and vice versa… The Clearing Agreement began to coalesce as the condition of Polish Jewry deteriorated and debates on “EVACUATION” became more frequent. Gruenbaum led the negotiations on behalf of the Jewish Agency, thereby implementing his gloomy prophecy concerning “FLIGHT AND ORGANIZED EXODUS.” These subsequent developments in Poland thus proved the sorrowful impotence of the boycott movement in contrast to the practicality of Zionist formula.

The Transfer Agreement enabled the British-backed, Freemasonic template of Albert Pike to become a self-fulfilling prophecy, that of the creation of a new, fictional “Israel” to be implemented as a pre-cursor to unrest and war in the middle east, eventually leading to World War III. Why else would you purposefully stick a bunch of sworn enemies into the middle of surrounding Arab, enemy countries and then protect it at huge international expense and with irrational violence from encroachment, thereby enraging every other country thereof? The only reasonable answer to this riddle is the recognition of the ancient goal of “Greater Israel,” for all these Arab countries must be defeated for Greater Israel to extend its boundaries through them. And these Arab countries are very aware of this foolish plan. What better way to start a war of depopulation than to forcibly erect a threat such as this, allowing both sides to wipe each other off the map?

To quote from this much-quoted but extremely disputed source, we find a masterful plan laid out by whomever actually wrote this particular document:

“The Second World War must be fomented by taking advantage of the differences between the Fascists and the political Zionists. THIS WAR MUST BE BROUGHT ABOUT SO THAT NAZISM IS DESTROYED AND THAT THE POLITICAL ZIONISM BE STRONG ENOUGH TO INSTITUTE A SOVEREIGN STATE OF ISRAEL IN PALESTINE. During the Second World War, International Communism must become strong enough in order to balance Christendom, which would be then restrained and held in check until the time when we would need it for the final social cataclysm.”

“The Third World War must be fomented by taking advantage of the differences caused by the 'agentur' of the 'Illuminati' BETWEEN THE POLITICAL ZIONISTS AND THE LEADERS OF ISLAMIC WORLD. The war must be conducted in such a way THAT ISLAM (THE MOSLEM ARABIC WORLD) AND POLITICAL ZIONISM (THE STATE OF ISRAEL) MUTUALLY DESTROY EACH OTHER.”

— Quoted from a disputed source: Albert Pike, from a letter to Giuseppe Mazzini, dated August 15, 1871

To be clear, these words have not been verified to have been written by the quoted author, nor has the museum verified its showing in 1871. It is quoted here merely for its perfection of evil genius and accuracy, and for the stated reason for its supposed writing, which is that these three world wars must be instigated ignorer to bring about a One World Order (i.e., global government and religion). Because the shoe fits so nice and snug, I include these excerpts herein. For honestly nothing else fits. Nothing else makes sense. And nothing else is so precisely accurate as to past and current events and the evident reasons for them.

Of course, no one seems to ask the question, where did all the millions of so-called “Jews” come from to fill British occupied Palestine if they were at the same time arbitrarily exterminated in genocide by the so-called Nazi’s? For asking such a question publicly brings the same fallacious stylings and petty accusations, as we have discussed above. Questions about the this Zionist influenced, forced economic boycott and Jewish Exodus into a new “state,” as with any religion or religious story, are frowned upon. Were the Jews exterminated… or transferred? Because population census reports in Europe certainly show that reasonably it can’t be both. One thing is certainly for sure…

“The Hollywood Jews created a powerful cluster of IMAGES AND IDEAS — so powerful that in a sense, THEY COLONIZED THE AMERICAN IMAGINATION... Ultimately, AMERICAN VALUES CAME TO BE DEFINED BY THE MOVIES THE JEWS MADE.”

“The truth! But it is just THE TRUTH THAT CANNOT BE KNOWN OF THE MULTITUDE, for truth is revolutionary.”

“In a time of UNIVERSAL DECEIT, TELLING THE TRUTH IS A REVOLUTIONARY ACT.”

—Unknown origin. Though attributed to George Orwell by many authors, its first appearance being a book titled “Partners in Ecocide: Australia’s Complicity in the Uranium Cartel” by Venturino Giorgio Venturini (1982).

When one reads with neutrality the speeches of Adolph Hitler and considers them only by their sameness to historically recorded facts, one gets the distinct impression that the German people, just as those written about above in Poland, did not agree with the transference and exporting of German (national) wealth, money, and goods along with those Jews that the German people had been forcibly required to allow refuge and settlement therein as part of the first world war treaties, despite their known usurious, counterculture practices. Surely no “American” would be happy that his economy would be severely damaged by allowing their nations wealth to be taken by those expatriating elsewhere to form a new, anti-Christian state. But again, we are not to ask such reasonable or logical questions, such as, where did the population of “Israel” and all of its imported wealth come from if more “Jews” were killed that the census even showed to exist in Europe, lest we be labeled and publicly condemned as something we are not! And yet the answer is clear when this knowledge of an organized exodus (Transfer Agreement) is discovered. Of course the same sentiments were coming from all countries where these “Jews” were attempting to take the common wealth of the people to form a new state and allegiance elsewhere. Generally, the fact that one is not allowed to speak openly of such things without personal attack and persecution is a sure sign of its revolutionary Truth. For the attack is never upon the message, only the messenger.

But just whom was Arthur Balfour?

“Arthur Balfour, who was a member of Hort’s Apostles, Westcott’s Eranus, (Hort called this group a senior Apostles club), as well as President of the S.P.R. (Society for Psychic Research), SOON BECAME PRIME MINISTER OF ENGLAND AND INSTRUMENTAL IN THE FIRST LEAGUE OF NATIONS. Balfour not only headed the S.P.R., holding seances at his home, but initiated a group called “The Synthetic Society,” WHOSE GOAL WAS CREATE A ‘ONE WORLD RELIGION.’ He invited Fredric Myers of the S.P.R. to join and together they created “The Preamble of all religions.” It includes the dogma, “DEPARTED SPIRITS CAN COMMUNICATE.”

—Excerpt from the ‘historicist.com’ website

It’s a simple game plan, and one straight out of Hegel’s playbook. Create the problem, foment and magnify the reaction, and by the false light of the newly instilled chaotic hopelessness of the lie, offer and implement the solution. The League of Nations, being of course the ill-accepted precursor to the United Nations (i.e., the Fourth Beast of Revelation), is a necessary stem in such a plan for world governance, religion, and therefore limited education. To put it as simply as possible, religions are doctrines (law systems), and each religion (law) opposes the other in many ways, while all oppose the Bible (Source). A one world religion, therefore, even as we are seeing the resulting growing pains today, can only bring a state of chaos by such conflicting laws. These lords of chaos are then perfectly poised to offer the secular solution to such a mixed-bag of world religion and law, which is world government through the United Nations and uniform military rule. For only when the moral Law is broken or so profoundly distorted and confused may the law of man take authority over such an illicit combination (conspiracy) of religious doctrines (a.k.a. One World Religion).

But there is a much deeper aspect of this that this author cannot even begin to warn the reader about in any reasonable terms. For what we call as science and pharmacopeia is the ancient practice of alchemy, not only of metals but of chimeric cell lines where man is the re-creator of new Life forms (without substance) Itself, the genetic manipulation of a Brave New World. This notion of perfecting man, as perfecting God’s Creation, stems from the gnostic belief that man is the image of God. And obviously this Babylonian Mystery pattern of thought has thoroughly cannibalized corporate Christianity, as the idol worship of Jesus christ not as the Son (exemplified, personified Law/Word) of God but as God incarnate. And yet we cannot ever mistake “Jehovah” to be bound by the definition of man in any way. There is no man without man’s Creator, and man is not the Creator of that which allows him to Live within the Universe. To worship man as God is literally to worship man as the Universe and all of the Oneness of Existence. And so we may know the root cause of these theosophic mystery schools even as we witness first hand their modern, technological (artful) and inharmonious intrusion into God’s Design of Nature and Its Law.
"Many of BIOTECHNOLOGY'S specific products and areas of research are AIMED AT CREATING NEW FORMS IN REALITY---NEW SPECIES--- BY ASEXUAL MEANS, THAT REFLECT ESOTERIC DOCTRINE, SUCH AS ROSICRUCIAN ALCHEMICAL PRECEPTS AS ANDROGYNY AND MAN'S TRANSCENDENCE OF ALL MORAL ABSOLUTES AND EVEN PHYSICAL FIXITY; perfectibility as preached by the Cathari; and Valentinian gnosticism's teaching regarding man's return into the 'one' via gnosia and enlightenment. All of these are part of the same centuries' old gnostic streams. THE ESOTERIC GOAL OF THE 'NEW WORLD ORDER' IS A CONTRA-GENESIS ANTI-CIVILIZATION WHOSE EMBLEM IS A Gnostic GARDEN OF EDEN IN WHICH MAN IS PERFECT AND INCORRUPTIBLE. Some of the newest TECHNOLOGIES, SUCH AS ORGAN FARMING USING TOTIPOTENT STEM CELLS OF HUMAN EMBRYOS ARE AIMED AT IMMORTALITY, AT LEAST FOR THE FEW."

—Alchemist Lord Edward Bulwer-Lytton [1803-73], Martinist, Order of the Rose Croix, as quoted from Steve Van Nattan, from a correspondence from Suzanne Rini, author of 'Beyond Abortion: A Chronicle of Fetal Experimentation'

“Martinism” is a common name given to A SECRET MYSTIC THEOSOPHY, CONCERNING THE ORIGIN AND DESTINY OF MAN. The source of these teachings is shrouded in the antiquities of history, but was concieved and shaped into a coherent philosophy and spiritual school by three distinct individuals, giving rise to the name “Martinism”: Martinez de Pasqually, and his two students and friends Louis-Claude de Saint Martin and Jean-Baptiste Willermoz... O.R.C. teaches the martinist tradition in its three branches through initiations, mentoring, self-studies, MEDITATION, MAGIC AND INNER ALCHEMY. These ESOTERIC DISCIPLINES arms the initiate in his spiritual quest, AND LEAD TO THE REVELATION OF WHAT THE TRADITION CALLS THE ONE MYSTERY – THE INDIVIDUAL GNOSIS OF ONE'S TRUE NATURE. Martinism is an initiatory tradition where the ritual work unifies and unfolds the teachings THROUGH ACTIVE PARTICIPATION IN ITS MYSTERIES.”

—Excerpt from www.ordreuxcroix.org/martinism/ — official site of the Ordre Roux Croix
We find that these orders and teachings of the various Orders of theosophy have permeated all religions and political states, not the least the United Nations, after a nineteenth century occultist revival, the Synthetic Society being a rebrand of the Metaphysical Society.

THEOSOPHY - noun - Divine wisdom; Godliness. 1. KNOWLEDGE OF GOD. (Web1828)

THEOSOPHIST - noun - One who pretends to divine illumination; one who pretends to derive his knowledge from divine revelation. (Web1828)

THEOSOPHIST - noun - [Gr. God, and comment; wise.] PRETENSION TO DIVINE ILLUMINATION; ENTHUSIASM. (Web1828)

SOPHIST - noun - [Latin sophista.] 1. A professor of philosophy: as the sophists of Greece. 2. A CAPTIOUS OR FALLACIOUS REASONER. (Web1828)

SOPHISTRY - (repeated) - noun - 1. FALLACIOUS REASONING; REASONING SOUND IN APPEARANCE ONLY. These men have obscured and confounded the nature of things by their false principles and wretched sophistry. 2. EXERCISE IN LOGIC. (Web1828)

This sophist, fallacious logic saturates the common (illiterate) practitioners of modern day Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. One may see theosophy’s chaotic devices at work simply by attempting to have a rational, reasonable conversation with the typical corporate Christian of any denomination (in name/appearance only). For instance, a common response steeped in cognitive dissonance might be simply that you need to have faith. And yet faith means Trust, as belief in the credibility of anything based on Truth. The doctrines of corporate religions are anything but Truth, and certainly are not based on the scriptures, which exclaim never to take any other doctrine. There is nothing of the self-evidence and self-Existence of God in such intercourses. Instead, the notion of blind faith in a confounded, circular logic defeats any rational Truth or question.

And the Bible remains virtually unread, misunderstood, and theosophically defeated. The pretenders becoming their own self-deceivers caught in the grand delusion exactly how it was explained within scripture. For in scripture, wisdom is not necessarily a good thing, for it is knowledge only of “human learning; erudition; knowledge of arts and sciences.” However, we find in the theology of corporate religions, such human wisdom is their true religion. Wisdom, “in Scripture theology, wisdom is true religion; godliness; piety; the knowledge and fear of God, and sincere and uniform obedience to his commands.” (Web1828) The seemingly subtle difference here is actually an enormous one. For human wisdom is not the same as wisdom from above. Knowledge of what is Truth and what is fiction leads to the Wisdom of God’s Nature and Law. But knowledge of humanistic concepts and inventions of man’s secular commerce is that which is opposed to True knowledge.

The Synthetic Society produced several papers not on its belief but on the implementation of its beliefs into society, not the least of which is this pretended divination with ascended spirits or masters. We find again that these theosophic informations “were based upon communications from the departed spirits with whom he was now convinced that he was in genuine contact.” A summary of the five points of belief towards this model of one world religion was written by Alan Gould:

“(1) The preamble of all religions, the primary belief from which they all begin, is that our... material world is interpenetrated and to an extent acted upon, BY ANOTHER ORDER OF THINGS, AN UNSEEN SPIRITUAL WORLD... IT IS ONLY IF THE EXISTENCE AND NATURE OF SUCH A WORLD CAN BE ESTABLISHED SCIENTIFICALLY that we may expect any rapprochement between the warring sects.
(2) 'The founders of religions have attempted to begin at once with the highest generalizations. Starting from the existence of God… IT IS POSSIBLE THAT IN ALL THIS MANKIND MAY HAVE BEGUN AT THE WRONG END…

(3) … WE POSSESS OR ARE EVOLVING CAPACITIES WHICH TRANSCEND MERELY TERRENE LAWS:

(4) We can therefore obtain information about the metetherial plane BY 'COMMUNICATING WITH THE DISCARNATE IN THE ORTHODOX WAYS. THEIR STATE IS ONE OF ENDLESS EVOLUTION IN WISDOM AND LOVE:

(5) … the metetherial realm (is) a World Soul from contact with which we can in a suitable frame of mind draw in a revitalising strength and Grace. And linked to all… is a Universal Spirit… (whose) benefits may come DIRECTLY THROUGH THE WORLD SOUL… or are so to speak CHANNELLED THROUGH SPIRITS NEARER TO, BUT STILL ABOVE, US.'

—Alan Gauld, The Founders of Psychical Research (pages 305-310), sourced from Tim and Barb Aho’s expose on ‘COUNCEL FOR NATIONAL POLICY, Part Three’

It is difficult to differentiate between the similarities of the scriptures (God’s Word) and the Luciferian doctrines of such power-hungry entities. For we are warned that the darkness will pretend to be and appear as the Light of Truth, and that most of us will be fooled into following the wrong path, not by reason but by our own wants and desires for which the Luciferian lawlessness licenses and indulges. It’s influences are far and wide, extending significantly into the psychology and psychiatry fields, which is of course the field where human diseases are invented to secure sales of patented drugs and as an excuse to produce ever more variations of pharmaceutical products (pharmakeia being transcribed in scripture as potions, poisoning, and witchcraft).

Both Sigmund Freud and Carl Jung were Members of and Contributors to the Society for Psychical Research Journals, the SPR being credited as a source for many of Jung’s theories:

"With the founding of the Society for Psychical Research in England in 1882, and the copious publications of its investigators, new models of THE UNCONSCIOUS MIND emerged. The most respected model was that of the 'subliminal self' by Frederick Myers (1843-1901), the 'mytho-poetic' (myth-making) function of which RESEMBLES JUNG’S LATER CONCEPTION OF A COLLECTIVE UNCONSCIOUS. JUNG READ WIDELY IN THE LITERATURE OF PSYCHICAL RESEARCH IN MEDICAL SCHOOL AND HIS 1902 DISSERTATION CITES THE WORK OF MYERS AND OTHERS IN THIS SCHOOL."

Now correct me if I’m wrong, but the time periods of these new age transitions seem to dovetail with that of revival Christianity, morphing it into a similarly “unconscious” religious practice, where one needed not to act upon one’s faith and Law (to follow the Son/Word) but merely to vulgarily believe it to Exist. It would certainly be accurate to the extreme to describe the organized herds of corporate “Christians” of today, so caught up in legal society and in the clutches of valuation and money in mammon, as those caught in purely secular ritual and ignorant of doctrine (Law), mindlessly working without conscious thought or reason and without the spirit of True Works, and certainly existing without any scriptural support for such unnatural and purely legalistic behaviorism. It appears that we have moved into the realm of science without fact, religion without consciousness, and Law without reason or spirit. And finally, today, we find our children and many adults attendant in schools (legal education) without True knowledge. It is self-Evident that Jehovah certainly does not promote ignorance of Its Word. However, these occultist, theosophic Orders of divined chaos and ultimate deceivers very much promote such idiocy to the commonalty within their nations, preaching non-sense to their herd-masses of illiterates, knowing quite well the revolutionary reaction caused by the dissemination of Truth. For these institutions may only have power and authority over men that do not follow the Word of God as the foundation of all Law. There is no antichrist without christ, no opposition without Jehovah (that which stands in permeance as the verb of Supreme Being). There is nothing temporary without a foundational permanence.

Make no mistake, the “nation” or “state” of Israel was not created for the True Religious Freedom of “Jews” to Live openly under or bound to God’s Law. Israel has a purely non-religious, secular legal matrix code just as the United States. No… like any so-called “Christian” nation, the idea of building a nation is to stop True Religion practice (action) but not organized (tainted) belief, to place every tribe under the law of nations. Israel is designed to enfranchise (voluntarily enslave/set commercially free) those who take that state as their false god and dwell within its legal sanction. The goal is to control the religion to control the people. And to do that, Even the nomadic Jews must be placed under this word government, the United Nations. Israel is no cure for the diaspora, but a curse and mark of the international beast system.

And, remembering their bloodline connection in heraldry, world leaders seem to have achieved consensus:

"The creation of AN AUTHORITATIVE WORLD ORDER is the ultimate aim toward which we must strive.”

—Winston Churchill (United Kingdom)

"NATIONS MUST UNITE IN A WORLD GOVERNMENT OR PERISH.”

—Charles De Gaulle (France)

"[Pope Paul VI] wrote a papal encyclical that called on the nations TO ABANDON SOVEREIGNTY TO FORM A WORLD GOVERNMENT.”

—William T James, editor of 'Foreshocks of Antichrist,' 1997 (page 101)
“I agree that NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY IS THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL.”

—Phillip Jessup, member of the Council of Foreign Relations (CFR) and on the World Court, quoted by Dennis Laurence Cuddy in ‘President Clinton Will Continue the New World Order’ (Oklahoma City, OK, Southwest Radio Church, 1993) (page 13)

“WE ARE GOING TO END UP WITH WORLD GOVERNMENT. It’s inevitable... There’s going to be conflict, coercion, and consensus. That’s all part of what will be required AS WE GIVE BIRTH TO THE FIRST GLOBAL CIVILIZATION.”

“We deplore the division of mankind on nationalistic grounds. We have reached a turning point in human history where THE BEST OPTION TO TRANSCEND THE LIMITS OF NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY AND TO MOVE TOWARD THE BUILDING OF A WORLD COMMUNITY...”

—Paul Kurtz, from 'The Humanist Manifesto' (Humanist Manifestos I and II), Prometheus Books, 1973, (page 21)

“We must move as quickly as possible TO A ONE-WORLD GOVERNMENT; A ONE-WORLD RELIGION; UNDER A ONE-WORLD LEADER.”

—Robert Muller, former Assistant Secretary General of the United Nations, as quoted from Dwight L. Kinnan’s ‘The Worlds Last Dictator’ 1985, (page 81)

One might mistake this as something other than a call for an institutionalized, legalized anti-christ... And while one might read into this incorrectly and thus believe (love) this to be a good thing, this specific call for the relinquishment of the Sovereignty of all nations is actually the call to accept the mark of the beast of this Luciferian model of a one world government and religion. It is to accept a state sanctioned religion as well as a new legal matrix of law, were all nations are merely states of the United Nations, and subject to its own, uniquely positioned sovereignty in the world. This is the opposite of the teachings of christ, of self-responsibility and self-governance by God’s Law without corporate persons posing as religions and nations. This is the beginning of the horrors of the Book of Revelation, the rebuilding of the tower of Nations (Babel). It is to accept the new and expanded Roman Empire, its wounds healed.

But always remember this:
“Jesus answered, MY KINGDOM IS NOT OF THIS WORLD: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, THAT I SHOULD NOT BE DELIVERED TO THE JEWS: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

—John 18:36, KJB

Trust me when I say that Christ’s kingdom would not be a member of any nation or of the United Nations, and neither should any follower of the Law (Son). The point of being forced to finally make a real choice is close at hand. Your children are already being lead to accept all of this through a system called as Common Core, based on Robert Muller’s “World Core Curriculum.”

“Robert Muller created a ‘WORLD CORE CURRICULUM’ and is known throughout the world as THE ‘FATHER OF GLOBAL EDUCATION.’”

—Excerpt from RobertMuller.org website, ‘World Core Curriculum’ page

“The underlying philosophy upon which the Robert Muller School is based upon will be found in the teachings set forth IN THE BOOKS OF ALICE A. BAILEY (THEOSOPHY)... The school is now CERTIFIED AS A UNITED NATIONS ASSOCIATED SCHOOL PROVIDING EDUCATION FOR INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION AND PEACE...”

—Robert Muller, former Assistant Secretary General of the United Nations, from the preface of his ‘World Core Curriculum’

We have seen the influence and implementation of this Theosophic publishing group, formally labeled as “Lucifer Publishing Company” and today as the “Lucis Trust,” and as an official part of the United Nations. It is impossible for this author to stress the importance of understanding this whole schema of world government, education, religion, and law. But one thing you had better recognize really fast is that this doctrine of Lucifer (false light) is known as “Common Core” in most nations, including the United States.

Imagine that, a global, common core of education based on the cult of Alice Bailey’s writings in Theosophy, not researched and prepared by men but instead “summoned” by “departed spirits” that can “communicate” with the Living.

Welcome to public school...
“Lucis is a form of the Latin word, lux, and means ‘Light.’ Recent themes include: On the threshold of a new energy era; the Spirit of Relationship; the deep choices confronting HUMANITY; TOWARDS AN AGE OF LIGHT… there are no fees or subscriptions charged for study with THE ARCANE SCHOOL (“TRAINING FOR NEW AGE DISCIPLESHP”)… The Lucis Trust is dedicated to the establishment of a new and better way of life FOR EVERYONE IN THE WORLD BASED ON THE FULFILLMENT OF THE DIVINE PLAN FOR HUMANITY. ITS EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES PROMOTE RECOGNITION AND PRACTICE OF THE SPIRITUAL PRINCIPLES AND VALUES UPON WHICH A STABLE AND INTERDEPENDENT WORLD SOCIETY MAY BE BASED. The ESOTERIC PHILOSOPHY of its founder, Alice Bailey, informs its activities which are offered freely throughout the world in eight languages… The Lucis Trust has Consultative Status with the Economic and Social Council OF THE UNITED NATIONS (ECOSOC) and World Goodwill is recognized by the Department of Public Information at the United Nations as A NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATION (NGO). As such the Trust and World Goodwill are part of a community of many hundreds of NGOs that play an active role in the United Nations, particularly in spreading information about the UN and fostering support for UN programs. Since their inception Lucis Trust and World Goodwill have given their support through MEDITATION, EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS AND SEMINARS, BY HIGHLIGHTING THE IMPORTANCE OF THE UN'S GOALS AND ACTIVITIES as they represent the voice of the peoples and nations of the world.”

—Excerpt from several pages from the information awareness website for The Lucis Trust, lucistrust.org

“The underlying philosophy upon which The Robert Muller School is based will be found in the teaching set forth IN THE BOOKS OF ALICE A. BAILEY by the Tibetan teacher, Djwhal Khul.”

—Robert Muller, former assistant Secretary General of the United Nations and winner of the UNESCO Prize for Peace Education in 1989, in a speech for his ‘World Core Curriculum’
“[I am] a Tibetan disciple of a certain degree, and this tells you but little, for all are disciples from the humblest aspirant UP TO AND BEYOND THE CHRIST HIMSELF. I live in a physical body like other men on the borders of Tibet and at times (from the exoteric standpoint) preside over a large group of Tibetan Lamas, when my other duties permit.”

—Alice A. Bailey, from her 1934 writings describing her “master” as a psychically channeled, ascended master, known also as the “Ageless Wisdom tradition

“[The objective is] THE HELPING OF THE GREAT ONES and the rendering to Them of that intelligent assistance WHICH WILL MAKE THEIR PLANS FOR HUMANITY MATERIALIZE… Preparation too must be given TO THE DEVELOPING OF HIGHER PSYCHIC POWERS… Hospitals and SCHOOLS WILL APPEAR UNDER THE DIRECT GUIDANCE OF THE MASTERS; TEACHERS… WILL TRAIN THE MINDS OF THE PUPILS TO BE RESPONSIVE TO DIRECT INSPIRATION FROM ABOVE.”

—Non-existent, but so-called “Master Djwhal Khul,” as supposedly channeled through Alice A. Bailey, from her book, ‘The Externalization of the Hierarchy,’ (pages 516-517)

And so the now international core of common standards for both education and military training stems from a channeled, esoteric, non-existent Tibetan teacher, whose words were apparently channeled by the now dead Alice A. Bailey, and now fully implemented into the “New Age” as the “Core” education system.

Do I have that correct? Because I didn’t hear any complaints about this at my last PTA meeting, where paid civil-society actors are placed to control the flow of topical information allowed to be presented in order to reach a fallacious consensus based on predictive programming of popular opinion…

If you’d like to speak directly, or indirectly, to this ascended master Djwhal Khul, just as Alice A. Bailey did a century ago through her own channeling, I’ve got some great news for you! Let’s read from the Master DK website:

Personal Sessions:

“In ancient spiritual traditions, the power of the DIRECT ENERGETIC TRANSMISSION FROM TEACHER TO STUDENT was recognized as the single most transformative experience available to an aspirant. For many today, A PRIVATE SESSION WITH MASTER DK PROVES TO BE EXQUISITELY PROFOUND AND OFTEN LIFE ALTERING.
Sessions are offered via telephone, and run approximately 50 minutes...
A single session costs $175. For those calling internationally, “What’s App” is available to allow free phone time. An mp3 recording of the session will be sent to you via e-mail.”

—From masterdk.com website, personal sessions section

 Psychic Friends Network be damned! Why hear it from a third person, hireling phone-bank psychic in a strip-mall cubicle when you can hear it straight from the channeled demon— er, I mean, ascended (dead) master’s otherworldly presence over the telephone? Apparently this is the same as a direct connection, an “energetic transmission.” I wonder if they take Master-Card? That would be clever marketing, wouldn’t it? They should sponsor the DK-MasterCard — the world’s first natural, life-altering credit card. I guess now we know where the Council of Nations will be getting its spiritual advice from. Hopefully they get a minion discount for insiders.

In actuality, we find the following:

“MasterDK.com is dedicated to helping people FIND INNER PEACE IN A CHAOTIC WORLD. As we negotiate the precarious territory of the 21st century, the wisdom of a Master Teacher can provide invaluable help and inspiration. KATHLYN KINGDON has been sharing the timeless wisdom of “The Tibetan” with the world since 1983.”

Master Djwhal Khul:

“A Master Teacher in every respect, Djwhal Khul is recognized as one of the Great Masters of Wisdom and Compassion. Dedicated to helping all beings achieve inner peace, he teaches that enlightenment will be experienced AS A GROUP PROCESS IN THIS NEW AGE. Drawing on the collective wisdom of many spiritual traditions, Master DK is a captivating storyteller who powerfully illuminates important spiritual truths. His students come away with a profound appreciation for HIS vastness, depth, and clarity.”

What is an Ascended Master?

“Ascended Masters are traditionally held to have been spiritual adepts formerly EMBODIED ON EARTH who, through rigorous spiritual transformation and metamorphosis OVER LIFETIMES, GAINED MASTERY OVER THE MATERIAL REALM. This achievement is generally considered to be THE COMPLETE AND PERMANENT ACT OF UNION WITH THE DIVINE. Having attained the spiritual wisdom and physical mastery required, an Ascended Master has no further need of a physical body AND CONTINUES TO EVOLVE AS A COSMIC BEING.”

—From masterdk.com website, about section

“My kingdom is not of this world.” — Jesus Christ

Translation: my realm is certainly not the material realm. A mastery of the material realm is not even worth placing upon a resume to Jehovah.

“There is no political solution To our troubled evolution Have no faith in constitution There is no bloody revolution We are spirits in the material world... Our so-called leaders speak With words they try to jail you They subjugate the meek But it’s the rhetoric of failure We are spirits in the material world”

—The Police, lyrics from the song 'Spirits In The Material World'

This strange, New Age push for a cosmic Jesus permeates many religions, including Mormonism, where each initiate may ascend to acquire and rule over their own planet to be the “Jesus” as god figure over it. But I assure you, when Jesus Christ state that’s kingdom is not of this world, he is not referring to another planet, not even planet Kolob.

“If you could hie to Kolob In the twinkling of an eye, And then continue onward With that same speed to fly, Do you think that you could ever, Through all eternity, Find out the generation WHERE GODS BEGAN TO BE?”

—Mormon hymn, ‘If You Could Hie to Kolob,’ written by William W. Phelps, 1792-1872
“Kolob, signifying the first creation, nearest to the celestial, or the residence of God. First in government, the last pertaining to THE MEASUREMENT OF TIME. The measurement according to celestial time, which celestial time signifies one day to a cubit. One day in Kolob is equal to a thousand years according to the measurement of the Earth, WHICH IS CALLED BY THE EGYPTIANS JAH-OH-EH.”

I gotta laugh at anyone who dismisses Jesus Christ because he is a fictional character, while at the same time silently consenting to allow this purely antichrist, non-self-evident institution to flourish in a world government based on the channeled wisdom of pretended, ascended masters. They say the devil’s greatest trick is to make you believe it doesn’t exist. I say the greater trick is to cause men to positively stop believing in (Loving) the authority and Law of self-Existence (Nature as the Creation of Jehovah) Itself. What could be more satanic than that? For he who believes (loves) not in his own, self-Existential soul will be ruled by the legal gods of non-Existence (id-entity), driven by the false light (Luciferian in-formation) like predictable insects.

And one must ask the question: Who in their right mind would seek such a thing as inner peace in a recognizably chaotic world? This is not a spiritual concept, but an escapist, satanic one. The Law of God is not an inner peace or secret garden. For chaos is self-evidently the result of the Natural Law of God specifically not being followed by men in and out of authority. Christ does not teach inner peace. Inner peace is not a Biblical concept. Inner peace is the chewing gum of cowards, a cherry-flavored baby’s pacifier fitted for adults. Inner peace is feigned happiness regarding a painfully intrusive splinter. Inner peace is the brainwashing that it’s somehow normal to have a half-million dollar mortgage (dead pledge) on property that is and can never be your own, and paying property taxes, a student loan, and the national debt of Caesar’s district on top of that. Inner peace is the set of invisible shackles present on every cooperative slave. Inner peace is but one of many “New Age” concepts borrowed from other eastern religions. It is the practice of meditative Yoga while trying not to think about billions starving and suffering. Imagine having inner peace in the pain of burning hell described by the Catholic church, and perhaps you may begin to understand the ridiculousness of this false paradigm of these New Age infiltrators and artificers.

The Works of a spiritual son of God (keeper of Law) are not expressed inwardly but outwardly. Inner peace amongst chaos sounds more like a heavy shot of black-tar heroin cooked on a silver spoon and delivered directly by injection into the blood stream to corrupt man’s moral duty to destroy what causes such chaos in the first place. Inner peace is the “Soma” pill from Brave New World, a vaccine for conscious reasoning.

“...the warm, the richly coloured, the infinitely friendly world of soma-holiday. How kind, how good-looking, how delightfully amusing every one was!”
“By this time the soma had begun to work. Eyes shone, cheeks were flushed, THE INNER LIGHT of universal benevolence broke out on every face in happy, friendly smiles. Even Bernard felt himself a little melted.”

“I don’t understand anything,” she said with decision, DETERMINED TO PRESERVE HER INCOMPREHENSION INTACT. “Nothing. Least of all,” she continued in another tone, "why you don't take soma when you have these dreadful ideas of yours. YOU'D FORGET ALL ABOUT THEM. AND INSTEAD OF FEELING MISERABLE, YOU'D BE JOLLY. SO JOLLY…”

“All the advantages of Christianity and alcohol; none of their defects.”

Did I mention this is where your child’s “Common Core” public education materials are ultimately sourced from? These wolves in sheep’s clothing of the Fabian and other societies of their own secrets? And just what do we find going on out there today in the public realm of re-education?

“Nearly 70 percent of Americans are on at least one prescription drug, and more than half take two. Mayo Clinic researchers say. ANTIBIOTICS, ANTIDEPRESSANTS AND PAINKILLING OPIOIDS are most commonly prescribed, their study (in Mayo Clinic Proceedings) found.”

“The 17th annual back-to-school survey just released by the National Center on Addiction and Substance Abuse focused this year on use at school -- and it's not good. For the sixth consecutive year, 60 PERCENT OR MORE OF TEENS IN THE SURVEY REPORTED THAT DRUGS ARE USED, KEPT OR SOLD AT SCHOOLS AND 52 PERCENT SAID THERE'S A PLACE ON OR NEAR SCHOOL GROUNDS WHERE STUDENTS GO DURING THE DAY TO USE DRUGS, DRINK OR SMOKE CIGARETTES.”

—Survey by the center at Columbia University, national results, as reported in NewsTimes online, August 23, 2012
It’s normal, you see? So normal, in fact, that kids now openly admit to and discuss it as normal, something I would never have done 27 years ago in my own public high school.

The New American reports what most others will not, showing the integral connections to this growing beast system, which is impossible without a controlled, global education system:

“For over a year now, Americans have been up in arms over the Obama administration’s unconstitutional efforts to bribe and bludgeon state governments into surrendering control over K-12 education through the controversial so-called “COMMON CORE” national standards — and the outrage is still growing. A peek beneath the surface, however, reveals that the nationalization of American schools is actually just one component of a much broader global agenda being pushed by the Obama administration, THE UNITED NATIONS, Bill Gates, and others: THE GLOBALIZATION OF EDUCATION… For decades now, the globalists at UNESCO and other UN outfits have been openly plotting to impose what they sometimes refer to as the “WORLD CORE CURRICULUM” on all of humanity. According to the agency, IT IS ALL LINKED TO UN AGENDA 21 (NOW AGENDA 2030). IN ADDITION TO GATHERING UP UNPRECEDENTED AMOUNTS OF DATA ON EVERYONE, the global “education reform” movement is essentially seeking TO INSTILL RADICAL NEW VALUES IN CHILDREN — turning them into “GLOBAL CITIZENS” WITH VIEWS INHERENTLY AT ODDS WITH BIBLICAL CHRISTIANITY — to facilitate the total regimentation of human society. Countless programs and initiatives such as “Education for All” are working toward that goal… Obama’s Education Secretary Arne Duncan even boasts openly that THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION HE LEADS IS “COOPERATING” WITH GROUPS SUCH AS THE UNITED NATIONS, often dubbed a “dictators’ club,” TO “IMPROVE” EDUCATION IN AMERICA. In a 2010 speech to UNESCO, Duncan even referred to the UN “education” agency as one of the administration’s “global partners” in the effort TO GLOBALIZE SCHOOLING as part of the “CRADLE-TO-CAREER EDUCATION AGENDA.” …In 2004, for example, on behalf of Microsoft, Gates personally signed a “Cooperation Agreement” with UNESCO to accelerate the globalization of education through information technology and communication… UNESCO Director General Koichiro Matsuura gave a speech offering more insight into the plot. Among the goals of the partnership, the UN agency boss explained: “fostering WEB-BASED COMMUNITIES OF PRACTICE INCLUDING CONTENT DEVELOPMENT AND WORLDWIDE CURRICULA REFLECTING UNESCO VALUES.” As the document itself explains, “MICROSOFT SUPPORTS THE OBJECTIVES OF UNESCO AS STIPULATED IN UNESCO’S CONSTITUTION” (For more on UNESCO values, see “Common Core and UN Agenda 21: Mass Producing Green Global Serfs.”) …It may or may not be a surprise to many Americans to learn that in a 2011 document about an advanced training program produced by UNESCO’s International Institute for Educational Planning, the would-be global Department of Education, even uses the term “COMMON CORE.” …UNESCO’s use of the term “Common Core,” too, goes back decades. In 1984, for example — the same year President Ronald Reagan withdrew U.S. participation from the UN agency — the outfit released a 51-page document entitled “A Methodological Guide to the Application of the Notion of COMMON CORE IN THE TRAINING OF VARIOUS CATEGORIES OF EDUCATIONAL PERSONNEL.” That scheme was aimed at training teachers worldwide using the same standards, so that they, in turn, could fan out across the globe to “educate” students all over the world. Even as far back as the late 1940s, UNESCO was actively promoting the use of education as a means to achieve what its first Secretary General, JULIAN HUXLEY, described as “POLITICAL UNIFICATION IN SOME SORT OF WORLD GOVERNMENT,” which he claimed was "necessary." In a 1949 PAMPHLET on using the classroom to promote “WORLD UNDERSTANDING,” UNESCO said: “AS LONG AS THE CHILD BREATHESTHE POISONED AIR OF NATIONALISM, EDUCATION IN WORLD-MINDEDNESS CAN ONLY PRODUCE PRECARIOUS RESULTS.” So, to deal with that, SCHOOLS SHOULD USE VARIOUS MEANS TO “COMBAT FAMILY ATTITUDES.” Critics and analysts have slowly started taking notice. “Some have decried COMMON CORE AS THE NATIONALIZATION OF AMERICAN EDUCATION. Far more dangerous, however, is the globalism of Common Core that demotes American values, undermines American constitutional principles and DETACHES STUDENTS FROM THEIR FAMILIES AND FAITH.” observed Catholic journalist and public speaker Mary Jo Anderson in a piece for Crisis magazine. “Common Core is simply the newest attempt in the decades-old battle (Outcome Based Education, Goals 2000) TO IMPose A U.N. GLOBALIST WORLDVIEW aimed at ‘peace,’ sustainability and economic stability at the expense of freedom” ...

— Excerpted from The New American, ‘UN, Obama, And Gates Are Globalizing Education Through Common Core’

And you wonder why homeschooling is so demonized? For how might one’s child fit into normal society as a global citizen-ship of mammon if he or she isn’t exposed to the common core of Luciferian doctrine? How can your child be so easily misguided, marked, and satanically branded if he or she is taught the scriptures by responsible parents? This cannot be allowed… for one’s child might grow up too intelligent to be used as live-stock for the global artificers. The child given the benefit of scriptural Law might not fit in to the common beast system most children are publicly entrained to accept and be employed (used) by. Normalization into this New Age, this Brave New World, is key to its success. Hell doesn’t just happen in Nature.

In scripture, we are warned in triplicate to beware the wolf in sheep’s clothing, the enemy pretending and extending its arm of friendship, as that which comes with the offer of peace and security. For Jehovah offers no such platitudes, only the self-evident Law that might actually sustain such a state of Being for all men in harmony with Nature. Peace is what each man makes, for no artificial person (corporation) built in the love of (belief in) mammon, even a global one, may provide such spiritual rewards. To this global body politic, this beast of all beasts united, a permanent war against the consciousness of men in christ and thus against the Law of Nature’s God is its legally declared peace.

But how can you create world government unless you first induce the commercial, agency relationship of a public legal status to all men in all nations, especially to those “stateless” Jews used as useful idiots to populate the latest, manufactured edition to that United Nations body called as Israel? How do you globally, inter-nationally educate as one common core the people of Earth in the principles and doctrines of such a dark light from that false liberator of the flesh, Lucifer, unless you first make legal id-entities (anti-God) of all men? How else might such “re-education” be legally forced (through the devils’ contract) upon all men in that agency, creating the ability to withhold legal (artificial) benefits, foodstuffs, and money to those who refuse such gifts of the light of a Luciferian (adversarial) education and way of life bound by these Theosophical roots?

Let us hear from the host of the master herself, Alice A. Bailey, and from those in the know:

“... These methods of overshadowing will largely be the ones used by the Great Lord and his Masters AT THE END OF THE CENTURY, and for this reason THEY ARE SENDING INTO INCARNATION, IN EVERY COUNTRY, DISCIPLES who have the opportunity offered them to respond to the need of training men and woman to recognize the higher psych-ism, and the true inspiration and mediumship, and to do this scientifically. In fifty years time, the need for true psychics and conscious mediums (such as H.P.B. [Helena Petrova Blavatsky], for instance) will be very great IF THE MASTERS' PLANS ARE TO BE...
CARRIED THROUGH TO FRUITION, AND THE MOVEMENT MUST BE SET ON FOOT IN PREPARATION FOR THE COMING OF HIM FOR WHOM ALL NATIONS WAIT.”

—Alice A. Bailey, from ‘A Treatise on Cosmic Fire,’ (pages 757-758)

“The aim of public education is not to spread enlightenment at all, it is simply to reduce as many individuals as possible to the same safe level, to breed and train a standardized citizenry, to put down dissent and originality.”

—H.L. Mencken

“The global agenda of the 21st century (Agenda 21) is set around economy and trade, with manufacturing shifting from the west to the east… In order to sustain their economic growth, developed as well as developing economies NEED TO INTENSIFY THEIR HUMAN CAPITAL FORMATION. Not surprising then, NATIONS ACROSS THE WORLD ARE INCREASINGLY INVESTING IN EDUCATION FOR CONTINUED DEVELOPMENT OF THEIR HUMAN CAPITAL… THE RESPONSIBILITY TO SHAPE YOUNG MINDS AND PREPARE THEM FOR A NEW WORLD RESTS ON EDUCATION. The world needs to renounce some age old practices in its education system AND ADOPT A FUTURISTIC PEDAGOGY… REINVENTING THEIR EDUCATION SYSTEM IN LINE WITH THE UNFOLDING REALITIES OF 21ST CENTURY, CORE is uniquely poised to… help nations enhance the productive capabilities of their future workforce AND CREATE IMMENSE VALUE FOR ALL ITS STAKEHOLDERS over coming decades.”

—CORE Corporation, India, FY 2011-12 Annual Financial Report

“The quality of education given to the lower class MUST BE OF THE POOREST SORT, SO THAT THE MOAT OF IGNORANCE ISOLATING THE INFERIOR CLASS FROM THE SUPERIOR CLASS IS AND REMAINS INCOMPREHENSIBLE TO THE INFERIOR CLASS. With such an initial handicap, even bright lower class individuals have little if any hope of extricating themselves their assigned lot in life. THIS FORM OF SLAVERY IS ESSENTIAL to maintain some measure of social order, peace, and tranquility FOR THE RULING UPPER CLASS.”

—Excerpt from: ‘Silent Weapons for Quiet Wars’ (page 7)

“A really efficient totalitarian state would be one in which the all-powerful executive of political bosses and their army of managers CONTROL A POPULATION OF SLAVES WHO DO NOT HAVE TO BE COERCED, BECAUSE THEY LOVE THEIR SERVITUDE. TO MAKE THEM LOVE IT IS THE TASK ASSIGNED, in present-day totalitarian states, to ministries of propaganda, newspaper editors AND SCHOOLTEACHERS”… Most men and women WILL GROW UP TO LOVE THEIR SERVITUDE AND WILL NEVER DREAM OF REVOLUTION…”

—Aldous Huxley, from his ‘Brave New World’

“LUCIFER COMES TO GIVE US THE FINAL GIFT OF WHOLENESS. IF WE ACCEPT IT, THEN HE IS FREE AND WE ARE FREE. THAT IS THE LUCIFERIC INITIATION. IT IS ONE THAT MANY PEOPLE NOW, AND IN THE DAYS AHEAD, WILL BE FACING, FOR IT IS AN INITIATION INTO THE NEW AGE.”

—David Spangler, from his ‘Reflections on the Christ’ lecture series, a self-proclaimed “practical mystic” and “clairvoyantly aware,” considered one of the founding figures of the modern New Age movement; also a member of the Board of Directors for the United Nations “Planetary Citizens” organization

“We must remember that the United Nations Charter opens with the words, ‘WE THE PEOPLES OF THE UNITED NATIONS.’“

—Drafted, televised statement by the Secretary-General for United Nations Day celebration, 1975

“The United Nations is the greatest fraud in all History. ITS PURPOSE IS TO DESTROY THE UNITED STATES.”

In a perfect twist of fate, we find here again that the words “We the Peoples” is not a referential to common men, but to nations (i.e., districts of seizure, distraint, and distress) joined in union to the central (federal) structure, the United Nations corporation. Nations are the members (artificial Peoples/States), not men. And so again, the common goyim of the nations are certainly not the private “People” therein. The United Nations is the centralization of all other central (national), syndicalist, organized criminal estates of the private land pirates.

Author’s Note… Have no confusion here as to the intent of this work. One might stop to consider that I have written this work staunchly opposed to nations, and that I would therefore support such efforts at globalization, of a New Age of perfected commerce. This would, however, be a grave fallacy of logic. I can think of nothing worse or antichrist, in fact, than bearing the mark and name of a global government under this corporation (god) called the United Nations. And so I remind the reader that I am merely the messenger, attempting to act christ-like in my presentation herein. I seek not the destruction or violent tearing down of nations in any way. I seek only the voluntary, reason and scripture (moral) based will of all men to be manifested without legal encroachment so that each of us might leave her. For a principle is nothing without its agents, a king’s crown empty without its subjects, and a nation (Caesar’s district) dead without debt-slaves to charge it. Do not let these nation-builders fool you into this new form of singular nationhood, as global citizenship, for it is absolutely opposed to God’s self-evident Word. The cause of the problem is never a solution to itself, and spiritual problems Truly have no political solutions. There is no spirit of Jehovah to be found in the Luciferian Initiation and humanist doctrine (law) that is already at the foundation of this corporate entity. For as the gods of all the nations are idols, the false gods of a United Nations would together be the god of gods, the king of kings, the president of presidents, the prime minister of prime ministers, the general of generals, the admiral of admirals, the congress of congresses, the judge of judges, and the lord of landords. In other words, the antichrist of the remainder of the sons of God and all who worship it as New Babylon.

It is in tribute to the Anti-Defamation League’s (ADL’s) extensive participation in and creation of Zionist “educational” propaganda and counterculture lesson-plans for public schools and specialized, race-based misinformation lesson-plans in military colleges that I continue here, including so much recent nonsense about gender neutrality and anti-bias materials, (“anti-bias” being a trademark of the ADL, and its excuse for the banning of many cherished books). The open but publicly occulted history of world Zionism’s fulfillment of its own established legal state and subsequent corruption of the global Christian, Jewish, and Muslim cultural structure and societal law of nations towards one United Nations structure is being fulfilled before our eyes. For out of such created chaos and pointless war comes the incremental, chaotic rule of the satanic Order of the Ages.

As to this declaration by the mystic spiritualist Balfour, it was in fact so transparent that the leaders of the affected Arab populations considered it a violation of former treaties and the obvious precept to a future declaration of war. It was instrumental in what is called the Arab-Israeli conflict, which today remains intractable and likely will permanently remain unresolved. For the Arabs were fooled by the British into revolting against the Ottoman Empire during World War I in exchange for a protectionist treaty of that land in Palestine, just as worldwide Jewry has been fooled into supporting Israel and its main goal of Aliyah (Hebrew: עלייה aliyah, meaning “ascent”) which is the immigration of Jews from the nationless “diaspora” (Greek ἰδιαπορία, meaning “scattering, dispersion”) to the now legally declared Land of Israel (Hebrew: ארץ ישראל Eretz Israel; Arabic: إسرائيل Isrá‘il). This notion of return, known as “the act of going up” towards Jerusalem is said to be the fulfillment of “making Aliyah” by moving to the land (unlawful state settlement) of Israel. This act is at the heart of secular Zionism alone. Israel’s legal system of law allows the “right of return” to all Jews of the world; an pretended refuge for an invented people.

However, since the notion of Jewishness extends to so many skin colors of so many actual races, (because Jewishness is not a race) and because Israel is recognized internationally and by the United Nations as a “racist,” absolutely exclusionary state, there have been some conditions for entry upon this supposed right of return that should make ones skin crawl. And such facts
Israel Forcibly Injected African Immigrants with Birth Control, Report Claims

January 28, 2013

This weekend, a report revealing that African women immigrating to Israel were subjected to mandatory contraceptive injections, effectively amounting to forced (if temporary) sterilization made global headlines.

Some 130,000 Ethiopians, most of them Jewish, live in Israel. The community experiences higher poverty and unemployment rates than the rest of the country’s Jewish population. In the past decade, the birth rate among Ethiopian-Israelis has declined by at least 20 percent. Advocacy groups now claim this decline is the result of a birth control regimen forced upon Ethiopian immigrant women.

According to an article in Haaretz, an Israeli news source…

Israel has acknowledged the issue (without admitting any wrongdoing) and has vowed institutional changes in healthcare for immigrants. By decree of Israel’s health minister, gynecologists have been ordered “not to renew prescriptions for Depo-Provera for women of Ethiopian origin if for any reason there is concern that they might not understand the ramifications of the treatment.” Still, intense scrutiny should be applied by women’s groups and international organizations to make sure these changes are implemented in full. Moreover, more attention must be paid to the plight of vulnerable African immigrants around the world.

That Israel should allegedly engage in this activity is particularly shocking, considering the practice was widely used by the Germans throughout the Shoah. While the scale and effects of these operations cannot be compared, Israel’s implicit intent to limit “burdensome” (read: undesirable) portions of the population recalls the dark eugenics experiments of World War II…

From a sociological perspective, this incident shows the strain between Israel’s religious heritage and its modern political agenda. “Behold, the heritage of the Lord is sons, the reward is the fruit of the innards. Like arrows in the hand of a mighty man, so are the sons of one’s youth. Praiseworthy is the man who has filled his quiver with them,” the Torah proclaims.

The involuntary sterilization of African immigrants suggests that the Jewish moral code (inextricably connected with Israel’s domestic legal codes) can be selectively applied to those with “desirable” backgrounds. It is hard, indeed almost impossible to believe that an American Jewish woman immigrating to Israel would be forced to take birth control.

—Article from Forbes magazine online, originally sourced from Haaretz of Israel, with headline, ‘Israel Admits Ethiopian Women Were Given Birth Control Shots’ from January 27, 2013

While these “news” stories reveal the effects, they never tell you that injectable drugs such as Depo-Provera are vaccines against reproduction.

While this right of return was made law in the 1950’s for this synagogue of satanic Jews (those who call themselves as the True Israelites but are not), the lesser known Palestinian “right of return” is of course ignored and outlawed for this displaced people made refugees in their own land, meaning that Palestinians are even barred from visiting their own family members. Now if the irony is... lost on you here, what we are seeing here is that the over 750,000 Palestinians that were expelled and thus were forced to leave their homes in and around 1948 to become political refugees as the pretender Jews illegally moved into and forcibly settled their homes under this mythical Jewish right of return pretended to be sanctioned by God, the same exact Palestinian right of return for those now counted as refugees (in a created diaspora of their own) is denied by Israeli civil (Talmudic) law. I guess the law of do unto others as you would have done to yourself doesn’t apply in such an unlawfully gained legal (anti-God) state and false religious, atheistic, Talmudic culture as this, any more than it applied to the American murder and decimation of so many Indian tribes.
For the commandments of God, transcribed by Moses, and fulfilled by Christ are certainly dead in this spiritually barren land of Israel, even as the now completely Judaized, Zionist-influenced America follows close behind without connection to its New Testament roots.

“And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, HEAR, O ISRAEL; THE LORD OUR GOD IS ONE LORD: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOUR AS THYSELF. THERE IS NONE OTHER COMMANDMENT GREATER THAN THESE.”

—Mark 12:29-31, KJB

“Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: FOR THIS IS THE LAW and the prophets. Enter ye in at the strait gate: FOR WIDE IS THE GATE, AND BROAD IS THE WAY, THAT LEADETH TO DESTRUCTION, AND MANY THERE BE WHICH GO IN THEREAT: Because strait is the gate, and NARROW IS THE WAY, WHICH LEADETH UNTO LIFE, AND FEW THERE BE THAT FIND IT.”

—Matthew 7:12-14, KJB

Perhaps the most difficult, dissonant question one might not think to ask one’s Self is this: can the way in which we do treat our neighbors, be they down the street or upon the other side of the Earth, be a sign of how much or how little we Truly Love our Selves? With Self-Love being an absolute part of the Law of Nature, perhaps we are charged in this era of scripturally prophetic change not to fix the problems of the flesh and of the world, but to fix and be reborn into our True Selves. For no man would need or use any false persona (legal mask), surname, or other mark of legal or religious sin (syn) lest that man hate his True Self, and seeks to spread that hate in inequity towards his omnipresent neighbors. Are not the men that call themselves by the flattering title of “Jew” and the men that call themselves as “Palestinian” or “Arab” and the men that call themselves as “Christian” Really just the nameless, ambiguous Creation of the same God and Its
As with myself, while I find myself present in the company of and questioning the Truth and intent of those presupposing their own corporate “Christianity” as a legal, societal id-entity and supposed status without adherence to scriptural Law or works, the outcasted and well-intentioned Jewish messenger is often character-assassinated and otherwise falsely discredited ad hominem (kill the messenger) while his message, as the Bible, is actively ignored, despite the overarching and self-evident Truth espoused. He becomes styled as a “self-hating Jew,” yet another clever trick of words used by Zionist apologists, for open criticism is simply not allowed of that oxymoronic Jewish state. Likewise, the typical public-minded US citizen-ship will respond just as fallaciously, as for instance to tell the criticizer to get out of his country if you don’t like it, having no idea what they are actually demanding. It is actually an amusing enterprise to ask them how exactly to do this, how to give up one’s citizen-ship, and then invite them to look into it for you. Sometimes they might even figure out the slave-system, and that citizen-ships are virtual prisoners of war in franchise (freedom) of commerce, commoners being mere sureties (live-stock) for the property of the United States. But usually we find just more of the same entrained cognitive dissonance that rules over the ignorant mind.

There are no Truly “Jewish” men any more than there are any Truly “Christian” men. No man is born into Nature with any knowledge or title of religion, and ultimately one must abandon all titles and religious doctrines in order to be reborn into God’s Nature. There is no actual “Jewish” blood any more than there is “Christian” blood. These are not races. They are not alive. And they certainly are not a part of Nature (Jehovah). By comparison, there are also no Truly “Satanic” people (psychopathy notwithstanding), just as there are no “atheists” or “anarchists.” Why? Because none of these are self-Existent in Nature. They are un-Real reactions to un-Real problems designed to lead one to un-Real solutions. They are specifically learned behaviors under false, flattering titles. There is no Life or substance within these empty names. The only True People (men) that Exist are God’s Creation, and we are all a self-evident Truth that, in the end, cannot ever be pretended away by fiction and its religions. God (Jehovah) and Nature obviously does not divide men into religions and neither does Its Word; only men pretending false godhood via their minced and artful words do this. Religions (corporations) are built merely upon word magic, containing no substance of self-evidence. They exist only under the doctrines (legal laws) of the nation they are created by, creations of men (in persona) within legal boundaries. They can never be anything but legal (anti-God) entities (artificial persons). And they serve no purpose under or for God, for their purely secular existence would be a mere redundancy if they did, as their doctrine (law) would necessarily according to scripture be the Bible alone, and under no circumstance would they become legal corporations of Caesar’s districts (nations).

And just as the True followers of the example of Christ were thrown into the Roman colosseums to be eaten by the lions for their non-conformity to the Latinized doctrines (laws) of the powers that be, nothing can be more frightening to the spiritually driven man of today than such active, Man, in whatever flattering religious denomination (noun/title) he may call himself in third person while acting falsely (legally) under the state and under the false, legal title of “Christianity,” certainly does not describe the actions of a man compared to his stated religious sentiment. The title is not respected by God, only the actions taken by the believer (lover) of the Word (Son). One is a follower of the Law (Son) or one is not. The title is useless. It is but a legal consideration and status of a goyim, and there are plenty of atheistic “Jews” that are as well registered goyim of the gods of the nations. For we all suffer from a lack of knowledge of the foundations of our scriptural Law. But it means nothing to God, for God only judges the actions (verb) of man in his True state of Being, not by his corporate fiction names and titles (nouns) acquired hypocritically without acting in the part of that proclaimed title. Government, and by association any church as a corporation under the legality and licensure of the state, serves no purpose but as a bar (barrier) to man’s ability to actually Live and act in a spiritual Life, and especially to fight against that which is opposed to such a Truly religious, morally driven Life-style. Thus its nations in commercial unity have formed the professional, international association by that very name: the International Bar Association (IBA) to which most national and legal state associations are members.

—“The International Bar Association, established in 1947, is THE WORLD’S LEADING ORGANISATION OF INTERNATIONAL LEGAL PRACTITIONERS, BAR ASSOCIATIONS AND LAW SOCIETIES. The IBA INFLUENCES the development of INTERNATIONAL LAW REFORM and shapes the future of the legal profession THROUGHOUT THE WORLD. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and MORE THAN 190 BAR ASSOCIATIONS AND LAW SOCIETIES SPANNING OVER 160 COUNTRIES. It has considerable expertise in providing assistance to THE GLOBAL LEGAL COMMUNITY.”

—International Bar Association website, from ‘about’ section

Of course globalism is just another word for universal legalism; a globally interconnected and sanctioned legal matrix code.

It is interesting to note here that a court at bar can only ever deliberate whatever after-the-facts are presented. It’s always a post-production, like a Hollywood movie, a judgement ceremony of magic only ever performed post-event. All cases are a false re-presentation of a past moment in TIME, the re-creation of the history of artificial characters in legal form and register. All actual physical facts in Nature happen outside of said court, before the court is ever in session. Court is always therefore a post-Reality, a post-revelation of second-hand knowledge, and therefore impossible to be in accuracy. It is a house of lies legally made into truths, and its opinions are quoted as if they are some permanence of Reality in other cases. These precedents of opinion are like a viscous disease of the fictional lives of legal persons, and so they effect the health of the men in surety to those fictional strawmen.

If the physical fact of a case was a sound that happened three months ago, like a gunshot heard by a witness, then only words on paper as a description of that former (actual) sound as it actually happened are the “facts” of the case, but not the actual sound itself as it Truly happened. The fact that the sound Existed in Nature can only be re-presented as purely an anecdotal story, a his-story. Representation of fact is not Reality, similitude being in no way sameness, and so words of emotion and fallacy may be used to make the perception of that fact (of the sound) seem better or worse than it was when it actually, previously happened. This allows a sound to be defined as much louder, softer, higher or lower in pitch, or more or less angry or aggressive in Nature than it actually was at the time it happened, which is always in past history (his story). Every fact is only ever opinion, unless that which is described as “fact” is self-evident and self-existent. Yet in the legal realm of cartoon fiction even that which is self-evident, even Jehovah and Its Law can be made to factually not exist. Problem, reaction, solution…

If violence or murder by stabbing or gun shot is a physical fact of the case, these “facts” can only be placed into evidence as perceptions described through words. A word can never be the actual sound, it can only describe and define the form of the sound, never the substance. Thus, so many legal crimes are pinned on the wrong person through merely these corruptible word-facts, and the man as surety goes to jail in bondage to that wrongfully accused strawman person simply because the words-as-facts are a perceptive lie made (declared) and thus confirmed as legally true. The violence, the gunshot itself, obviously does not physically happen during the court proceeding. The physical fact is thus only as Real as the Truth told about it in mere words. And a quite convincing lie by a false-witness is certainly legal evidence of truth and fact in a system based on fiction. In fact, some unscrupulous men did and still do make a financial living (franchise) through the profession of lying in court as a false witness. In the history of legal terms, these prostitutes as testifiers-for-hire were called men of straw, a known element among judges, whom also took and still take bribes for their opinions.

MEN OF STRAW - Men who used in former days to ply about courts of law, so called from their manner of making known their occupation, (i.e., by a straw in one of their shoes), recognized by the name of "straw-shoes." An advocate or lawyer who wanted A CONVENIENT WITNESS knew by these signs where to meet with one, and the colloquy between the parties was brief. "Don't you remember?" said the advocate; to which the ready answer was, "I do." Then come into court and swear it: "And straw-shoes went into court and swore. Athens abounded in straw-shoes. (Black2)

STRAW MAN - 1. Draft or outline copy ready for suggestions and comments. 2. THIRD PARTY USED AS A COVER IN ILLEGAL OR SHADY DEALS. 3. Nominee director. 4. A weak or flawed person WITH NO STANDING. Also called MAN OF STRAW. See judgment proof. (Black2)

JUDGMENT-PROOF - A phrase that describes the PEOPLE AGAINST WHO A JUDGEMENT OF A COURT WILL HAVE NO EFFECT as they will not be able to pay a debt or to meet the demands of a judgement. (Black2)

JUDGMENT IN PERSONAM - A judgment against a particular person, as distinguished from a judgment against A THING or a right or status. The former class of judgments are conclusive only upon parties and privies: THE LATTER UPON ALL THE WORLD. (Black2)

Today, we carry our own man of straw into court, agentially appearing as illiterate fools in its countenance. We lie about who and what we are in Nature, and we rat on ourselves as our own political witness, though the maxim of law states that no man can be made to be a witness against himself. But a strawman is bound to do so, to appear in straw-bail form, for it is a fictional creation of the law and its agent must account to its principal for all that it does in commerce, and the creator controls. Man is protected by that spiritual maxim (by Natural Law), public persons are not. There is no privacy in public places and within public personas.

The legal fiction court makes its own truth from a pronounced and proclaimed hyper-reality of words, though the truth found by the court from these presented physical “facts” may very well be lies about Reality magically turned into legal “truths.” Some are even admitted lies (fictions) considered as truths by force of law, for how else would the lie that is the court itself have power unless it is perceived as the “true” decider of law and judgement? The lies of the liars decide what is legally considered to be truth. Even the intentional, best-worded Truth from a completely honest witness is still only a perception of a past Reality. It is but a well-told lie called truth. And a better lie created purely from lies may defeat the truer tale.

In short, a court judge and jury can never offer anything else but its own opinion. It takes strict law to force opinion into the conceit of truth. While God may only judge Reality, legality may only judge perception caused by words called as “truth.” Truth, in name (in words of art) only, is never Reality. And words are never self-evident Truth. What Exists as True is akin to Jehovah, and so Truth is only what is in self-Existent Being (verb). Clint, Clint Richardson, or Doctor Richardson are never True, for property is never True. What is of God’s Nature is God’s alone.

DELICATE - verb - To weigh; ponder; discuss; regard upon; consider; to examine; to consult.
IN ORDER TO FORM AN OPINION. To weigh in the mind; to consider the reasons for and against; to consider maturely; reflect upon; as to deliberate a question; to weigh the arguments for and against a proposed course of action. (Black4)

DELICATE - adjective - Well advised; carefully considered; not sudden or rash; considered; circumspect; slow in determining. Willful rather than merely intentional. Formed, arrived at, or determined upon as a result of careful thought and weighing of CONSIDERATIONS, as a deliberate judgment or plan; carried on coolly and steadily; especially according to a preconceived design; given to weighing facts and arguments with a view to a choice or decision; careful in considering the consequences of a step; slow in action; unhurried; CHARACTERIZED BY REFLECTION; DISPASSIONATE; not rash. The word carries with it an implication of some obstinacy. headstrongness, foolish daring, OR INTENTIONAL WRONG DOING. By the use of this word, in describing a crime, the idea is conveyed that the perpetrator weighs the motives for the act and its consequences, the nature of the crime, or other things connected with his intentions, with a view to a decision thereon; that he carefully considers all these: and that the act is not suddenly committed. It implies that the perpetrator must be CAPABLE OF THE EXERCISE OF SUCH MENTAL POWERS as are called into use by deliberation and the consideration and weighing of motives and consequences.
“Deliberation” and “premeditation” are of the same character of mental operations, differing only in degree. Deliberation is but prolonged premeditation. In other words, in law, premeditation is premeditation in a cool state of the blood, or, where there has been heat of passion, it is premeditation continued beyond the period within which there has been time for the blood to cool, in the given case. Deliberation is not only TO THINK OF BEFOREHAND, which may be but for an instant, but the inclination to do the act is considered, weighed, pondered upon, for such a LENGTH OF TIME after a provocation is given as the jury may and was sufficient for the blood to cool. One in a heat of passion may premeditate without deliberating. Deliberation is only exercised in a cool state of the blood, while premeditation may be either in that state of the blood or in the heat of passion. (Black4)

DELICATELY - Willfully; WITH PREMEDITATION; intentionally; purposely; IN COLD
BLOOD. (Black4)
When we judge others, do we not put them into our own conceit, even as we attempt to judge them out of it? Is this not the ultimate conceit of man? Do we judge their own actions or do we judge our own persona? Are we Truly able to cast the first stone by our own innocence? Is our judgement helping or condemning to man? And when we are legally (without God’s Law) judged by our original, ancestral sin (origin/source of legal status and title) and thus doomed through the birth-abandonment process into public person-hood, are we not made weak and inactive as any man would be that we may judge and punish?

Ironically, when we are called to jury, it is our own persona of self-conceit — our own falsely projected self-image as “moral persons” in citizen-ship — that are called to sit. We are thus called as agents of the false law, or more accurately, summoned demons in support of the devil’s contract.
And we do not judge the defendant as a man, but as a fictional person (status) bound under legal law. Not morally, but artificially... We do not judge the man, we judge his performance in persona without True intent, as a strawman under the strict law of other men (masters/gods). Slaves judging slaves. Debtor upon debtor applying opinionated, state sanctioned false-morals over and out of conceit of God’s Law.

But hey... that's just the way it is, right?

If you hurry, you can catch American Idol or Dancing With The Stars. After all, you judge those performers just as you do the citizen actors in the person of government on TV and in court now don’t you — with ignorance and conceit of God’s Law?

The Reality is that we all make each other extremely weak through our own legal conceit (imagination) of each other. And that is exactly where the church and state wishes us to be, controllable by the fiction of mere legal opinion, judging and infighting amongst ourselves so that the puppet-masters in their secured pirate cove are never fingered.

“Opinion has caused more trouble on this little earth than plagues or earthquakes.”

— Voltaire

“Judgments are, as it were, the sayings of the law, AND ARE RECEIVED AS TRUTH.”

—JUDICIA SINT TANQUAM JURIS DICTA, ET PRO VERITATE ACCIPIENTUR. “2 Inst. 537.” (Black4)

“Judges are not bound to explain the reason of their sentence.”

—JUDICES NON TENENTUR EXPRIMERE CAUSAM SENTENTIAE SUAE. Jenk. Cent. 75. (Black4)

To be clear, opinion evidence is not admissible in court. And yet, somehow, the judgement of the court is based upon the opinion of the judge and/or jury. So we are literally ruled by the opinions of self-professed experts — professors (speakers) of the law. They are godheads; the administrators of their own re-creation. It is indeed the opinion of this author that no moral man, and especially no follower of christ’s teachings, can justify sitting as judge or jury over other men. The Law of God is specifically moral and designed to be against those teachings. Therefore no judge or jury can possibly be my peer or my superior if I profess the Law of God. And that’s the point! This is the notion of possessing, acting in, and thus declaring only the Highest Law, of becoming a son (Word) of God. A civil, legally created judge (magistrate god) cannot be qualified to judge my actions unless I abandon my own Nature. For as a titled, legal creation of man he can in no way be a man of God. A judge is purely a legal entity; a corruption of God’s Nature. He is acting as nothing more than a fictional person with a fictional legal title, given authority only under color of legal law. God respects no person, and neither should we.

Thus we may know the reason behind the scriptural Law that Jehovah is to be man’s only judge. By following the law without error, license, or indulgence, we may indeed parabolically judge our own actions before we commit to them. But please understand, this is exactly what citizenship is, a pre-judgement and public wager upon each man that he will not follow God’s Law and instead habitually sin under man’s offered artificial womb (legal matrix) of fictional protections and financial securities. In other words, he is caused to be bound to fictional gods and their laws because he does not respect the Real One. He is unable to self-govern through christ’s story, by God’s Word (law).

A leader is or at least can be a man of God. A ruler is always a fictional status of man. We must know the difference. Christ was portrayed as a leader, not a ruler. One is either led by moral law or ruled by an amoral legal code.

“He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.”

—John 8:7, KJV

He that is without sin (artifice); without legal name and number, mark and flattering title. He that is not already pre-judged (doomed) in their nativity, who has not accepted the name and number of a beast, cast your stone.

This paradoxical statement is much deeper than we can imagine. For how may any man judge another without some burden of artifice (sin)? How may a judge exist without the sin (syn) of legalized personhood and flattering title? Syn is the Greek prefix signifying to be together, in fusion, or united with some thing. But remember, to be out of sin (syn) we are to imagine ourselves to be no thing. So how does one imagine oneself to be God (judge) or have such God-given authority to judge as a lesser god? For this is not the way of the Natural Law. What judgement of any man is not to receive forgiveness according to christ? And what Law may a man be judged by but God’s, which requires no such judgement in worldly things? Here again we can see that the ability to speak in parables (parabolically) is the ability to defeat all enemies. This means to never have or admit to certainties (prejudices), in any aspect of art and fiction, to never respect what is not Real (of God). But will such rational thought cause men to cease casting their stones and moral stumbling blocks at each other? Of course not, for the multitudes of men are born and educated as fools, and a parable in the mouth of fools has no value. We can only act by example. There are no guarantees, no insurances, and no protections from psychopathy and logic-based causality. We must not become like them after we are reborn into our Selves under Nature and Its Law. We cannot judge when there is no legal (artificial) thing or persona to judge, and no place (fictional, legal jurisdiction) to do so.

Apparently all court decisions and opinions are necessarily done in cold blood. For certainly a judge never considers his own artifice in his false judgement of others; his own sin. He only judges the actions of the person, not the man, for his legal law only applies to the artificial, legal person. No blood runs through any judge in artifice, for no Life Exists in such flattering titles. To judge names and other words is to judge only fiction, try as they may to establish some moral principle over their actions. But this is an impossibility, for a judge must be cold and amoral by law in his judgements of fictional persons, places, and things. His law is the very origin and licensure of sin.

“The judge must see that no order be made or judgment given or sentence passed either more harshly or more mildly than the case requires; he must not seek renown, either as a severe or as a tender-hearted judge.”

— RESPICIENDUM EST JUDICANTI NE QUID AUT DURIUS AUT REMISSIUS CONSTITUATUR QUAM CAUSA DEPOSIT: NEC ENIM AUT SEVERITATIS AUT CLEMENTIAE GLORIA AFFECTANDA EST. (Black4)

If a judge knows you are innocent by personal experience or knowledge, he cannot declare it or present it in court, even while sentencing your person (districted property) to life in prison. He must recuse himself if his moral compass — his religious belief (Love) gets in the way. For it’s only the life of the person (status) that is in consideration, not Reality. Morals have no place in corporate affairs over artificial constructs. It’s kind of like killing the enemies in a video game. No moral thought or barriers needed. We (persons) simply are not Real. A false witness giving false testimony is more powerful than the judges actual knowledge, for the judge only considers what is presented as legal accepted evidence. Fiction reigns.

I warn people all the time that emotion has no place in the legal realm, for no emotions and no souls Exist there. There is no True Love to be found, for as we will discover, love is not a recognized concept in the legal language except for fraudulent purposes, as the using of its power and purpose only for evil intent. Love is illegal in the legal realm. Judges, apparently, are also supposed to be cold-blooded as they de-liberate the fate of man in doom and judgement with their professional (professed) opinions as decisions given under false flattering titles in the office of their fictional persona, no doubt considering as well the monetary value of men as prisoners made to voluntarily participate in the prison labor industry for slave wages that benefit only the state and its contracted private-prison corporations. To de-liberate a case means to take what is at liberty (Reality: the Real answers to questions as opposed to the consideration of evidential and circumstantial facts versus Reality) and to chain what is that self-evidently known Reality to a re-considered, cold-blooded opinion based merely on some monetarily re-presentative value of It. Hence the legal opinion and decision can only have effect on a man standing in person with corruption of blood in a citizenship. The liberty of what actually Is must be stolen, as that Reality becomes set into the fact of opinionated legal words. These words become the figurative opinion of “the law” for which the judge artificially represents as its agent, created by one man’s persona and enforced upon another man’s persona. And man must also relinquish his own liberty for the benefit of this “protection” of person-hood, sealing his fate to be thereby judged by men acting as gods. In other words, a judge is the false, corporeal re-presentation in personification of a Supreme god, created by the fictional law. The judge is the voice in agency of that voiceless legal law, while the Executive (president, governor, and county Sheriff) is the representation of God’s wrath in the guise of the military force behind it, without which the voice would be pointless and without respect. Violent (executive) force is the only reason for this respect of legal law by the subjects (voluntary slaves) to it. Reality re-presented in any form is still non-Existent in law. Words (fictions) are never Reality. The respect is not Natural. The consent is manufactured like a witches brew.

“Rights” may also certainly be said to not Exist in Reality, for rights come only from the imagination of men. “Rights” exist only in a legal and religious (ecclesiastical) form. They don’t grow on trees. They cannot be plucked from the earth. They cannot be fished from the sea. God did not Create them, though the name of God is used falsely to justify their legal existence as “God-given.” But they certainly aren’t tangible or physical in any way. Men must believe in (Love) and abide by God’s Law and consciously apply it towards all other men for negative rights to have constructive use. In this way, the Natural duty extinguishes the need for a declared fictional right, for no right is needed if all men keep their negative, Natural Law duty to all other men and to Nature Itself.
In other words, no positive law is needed if the negative law is at all times adhered to. And this must be the basis of any society of men.

“The Constitution is not an (positive) instrument for the government to restrain the people, it is an (negative) instrument FOR THE PEOPLE TO RESTRAIN THE GOVERNMENT — lest it come to dominate our lives and interests.”

—Patrick Henry, American colonial revolutionary. (italicized emphasis mine) added.

Adding the words positive and negative above makes quotes such as these much easier to understand in relation to the negative fundamentals of the unenforceable (negative) Natural Law versus that of man’s legal, positively enforced law. Only a private man would understand this “revolutionary” statement of old, for only a private man in Reality has anything to lose. Only he its privately educated as to how government works. Only the private man has reserved his Natural (negative) God-given Rights to be left alone. The US constitution, in other words, only restrains government from private citizens. But for public citizenships (property), all law is positive and distrains and distresses by force. For he that is already seized (under Caesar’s district) and set free in commercial franchise is already in prison, the open-air debtor’s hell of mammon.

—President Barack Obama

In other words, the constitution gives nothing, bestows no rights, and only respects and protects what has not been previously given away, as reserved, “God-given,” Natural rights. But more importantly, by its word-magic and artful trickery, it may call any tyranny, any crime against Nature, and any extortion scheme it may create as a benefit, a protection, or a necessity. It may harm or kill you, in other words, on your behalf. That is, if you have not reserved your negative rights and immunities from and without contract to it. A subject is never Naturally free from its master’s bestowed benefits, for a subject must abandon his Creator God to become subject to fictional gods (creators), and the creator controls.

Of course this quoted statement, as accurate as it is, made the idiocracy of patriotic public citizenships and the shock-jocks that purposefully or without knowledge mislead them quite angry. For as the blind leading the blind, they know not the public dis-ease they have contracted, they comprehend not their status in publicity even while tactfully under-standing it, unable to fathom that the constitution only limits government from harming private citizens, not goyim under public contract. And yet if this perfectly truthful statement can just be comprehended by the public mass of illiterates (the public people in citizenship to the United States), then they would suddenly understand why the government abuses them so much. They would finally recognize their own voluntary enslavement, and that all their so-called rights are a positive, contracted dis-ease.

The following court case shows that public, US citizens are not privileged by the constitution(s):

In Maxwell v. Dow, supra, where the plaintiff in error had been convicted in a state court of a felony upon an information, and by a jury of eight persons, it was held that the indictment, made indispensable by the 5th Amendment, and the trial by jury, guaranteed by the 6th Amendment, WERE NOT PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITIES OF CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES, as those words were used in the 14th Amendment. The discussion in that case ought not to be repeated. All the arguments for the other view were considered and answered, the authorities were examined and analyzed, and the decision rested upon the ground THAT THIS CLAUSE OF THE 14TH AMENDMENT DID NOT FORBID THE STATES TO ABRIDGE THE PERSONAL RIGHTS ENUMERATED IN THE FIRST EIGHT AMENDMENTS, because those rights were not within the meaning of the clause 'privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States.' If it be possible to render the principle which governed the decision more clear, it is done so by the dissent of Mr. Justice Harlan. We conclude, therefore, that the exemption from compulsory self-incrimination IS NOT A PRIVILEGE OR IMMUNITY OF NATIONAL CITIZENSHIP guaranteed by this clause of the 14th Amendment against abridgment by the states.”

“The defendants, however, do not stop here. They appeal to another clause of the 14th Amendment, and insist that the self-incrimination which they allege the instruction to the jury compelled was a denial of due process of law. This contention requires separate consideration, for it is possible that some of the personal rights safeguarded by the first eight Amendments against national action may also be safeguarded against state action, because a denial of them would be a denial of due process of law. Chicago, R. & Q. R. Co. v. Chicago, 166 U.S. 226, 41 L. ed. 979, 17 Sup. Ct. Rep. 581.

If this is so, IT IS NOT BECAUSE THOSE RIGHTS ARE ENUMERATED IN THE FIRST EIGHT AMENDMENT(S), BUT BECAUSE THEY ARE OF SUCH A NATURE THAT THEY ARE INCLUDED IN THE CONCEPTION OF DUE PROCESS OF LAW. Few (211 U.S. 78, 100) phrases of the law are so elusive of exact apprehension as this. Doubtless the difficulties of ascertaining its connotation have been increased in American jurisprudence, where it has been embodied in constitutions and put to new uses as a limit on legislative power…”

“The words ‘due process of law’ were intended to secure the individual from the arbitrary exercise of the powers of government, UNRESTRAINED BY THE ESTABLISHED PRINCIPLES OF PRIVATE RIGHTS AND DISTRIBUTIVE JUSTICE.” Bank of Columbia v. Okely, 4 Wheat. 235, 244, 4 L. ed. 559, 561 (approved in Hurtado v. California, 210 U.S. 516, 28 L. ed. 232, 235, 4 Sup. Ct. Rep. 171, 292); Leyer v. Texas, 139 U.S. 462, 468, 33 S. L. ed. 225, 227, 11 Sup. Ct. Rep. 577; Scott v. McNiel, 175 U.S. 34, 45, 38 S. L. ed. 896, 901, 14 Sup. Ct. Rep. 3108). This court has never attempted to define (211 U.S. 78, 102) with precision the words ‘due process of law.” …It is sufficient to say that there are certain immutable principles of justice which inhere in the very idea of free government which no member of the Union may disregard.” (Hicken v. Hardy, 169 U.S. 346, 349, 42 S. L. ed. 780, 790, 18 Sup. Ct. Rep. 383, 387. “The same words refer to the law of the land in each state, which derives its authority from the inherent and reserved powers of the state, exerced within the limits of those fundamental principles of liberty and justice which lie at the base of all our civil and political institutions.” Re Kemmler, 136 U.S. 436, 448, 34 S. L. ed. 519, 524, 10 Sup. Ct. Rep. 930, 934. “The limit of the full control which the state has in the proceedings of its courts, both in civil and criminal cases, is subject only to the qualification that such procedure must not work a denial of fundamental rights or conflict with specific and applicable provisions of the Federal Constitution.” West v. Louisiana, 194 U.S. 258, 263, 48 S. L. ed. 965, 969, 24 Sup. Ct. Rep. 650, 652.”

—Twining v. State of New Jersey, 211 U.S. 78, 98 (1908)
Positive (property-based) law is not negative (ambiguity-based) law. Positive law is an addition, while a negative law is an absence of application or attachment. They are as repulsive to each other as magnets can be when forced together against their Natural states. The negative repels the positive, and negative (spiritual Law) is superior to the positive (contractual law). This is similar to the exclusion principle that dictates two electrons in an atom cannot occupy the same energy state, or cannot be charged by the same force of power simultaneously. A negative right is only the right to not have positive rights forced or charged upon us. Private persons are negative persons of each State in the purview of federal (US) law. The public is purely positive, and public persons are bound by the right to have positive law forced (charged) upon their public personas (property) simply because they are not acting privately (negatively) within those Natural duties that it presumes to do no harm to others and their property. And so the government does horrible things under this positive application of law “on our behalf,” for its own profit and gain as the excuse of tyrants old and new.

A tree must be destroyed to create artificial, positive rights with legal ink upon its dead pulp we call as paper, while a negative right is self-evident; a Law of Nature. Legal rights (in name only) are artfully worded lies told and contractually established by a few men in order to break with God’s Natural Law and negative duty to It and others, to either protect themselves from the tyranny of a few men, or to claim the legal right to become the few tyrants over all other contracted men. No rights Exist in Nature. They have no Natural Source, no original, except in man’s simulacrum of his legalese of nomenclature. They are not created by God and Nature as written words or ideas, for Nature and its Creator does not create or recognize words, legal names, or titles, which are of course required to claim a legal right. A negative right is merely the non-existence of legal rights, which positively tread on the negative duty of non-interference and “do no harm” principles. Legal or civil rights only apply to persons, not men. To claim a legal right, man must abandon God and act only in false persona (artificial, positive status) to therefore be bound by the legal law of persons.

“Rightful liberty is unobstructed action according to our will within limits drawn around us BY THE EQUAL RIGHTS OF OTHERS. I do not add 'within the limits of the law' BECAUSE LAW IS OFTEN BUT THE TYRANT'S WILL, AND ALWAYS SO WHEN IT VIOLATES THE RIGHTS OF THE INDIVIDUAL.”

—Thomas Jefferson

Here again, Jefferson is speaking of negative law in “unobstructed action” through that respect of the duty to all others to not obstruct or infringe upon their own moral actions. Only consent to man’s positive law can defeat the self-evident Truth of the negative duties to all, the Natural Law of Jehovah. Self-responsibility requires self-governance under God’s Law of Nature.

As a disclaimer, I use quotes by these so-called “founding fathers” with hesitation and perspective care. I do so only bearing in mind that, while so fervently decrying tyranny in favor of their own private liberty and ensuring it for that of their bloodline of “posterity,” these signers created a legal system that allowed and regulated the legal slavery and forced bondage of others not of their own progeny (genealogy, as specifically defined legal “white persons”). They allowed by law the taking, valuation, and purchasing (conquering) of “negroes” from another continent, and claimed the same continued ownership of that already established bondage of slavery for their offspring. And so the lesson, the moral of this American story and its legal creators (founder-gods) is that when liberty is obtained only at the cost of any others’ liberty, even that of one individual, it is not True moral, negative, or Natural (Lawful) Liberty under God. Slavery and its protection as a commercial intercourse was one of the stated purposes if incorporating this United States of America, even while “God” was shamefully invoked as its purpose and justification of establishment. The only way to justify slavery is through the legal artifice (i.e., the assignment of fictional, legal status), which the constitution established as a rightful and permisive positive violation of the negative Natural Law. The lesser oppressor often complains about his own tyrants (kings) even as he oppresses others under those higher tyrant’s permisive laws and customs. This is the True story of the United States. It cannot be changed or altered for entertainment or educational purposes, though efforts have certainly been made. Even those who stood against slavery conceded to and signed it in the end, which is the same as promoting and participating in it. This is inexcusable.

But most amazing to this author is that those bloodlines of private landholders today, after their enfranchisement (setting free) of all commoners and slaves into one status of national citizenship, still technically hold all of us common US persons in bondage and voluntary servitude. I am amazed simply because the ignorance of this fact is the very religious foundation of patriotism, of Godless idol worship under the fiction that is the United States, its founders, and through to their modern progeny. Let us never forget that all the gods of the nations are idols…

We can either choose to dismissively belittle or worship these quotes stated by the free men of the several States (Peoples) like idiots, or we can choose to learn from their deeper meaning by applying our knowledge of the status of private versus public citizens in comprehension of their True intent. We must consider perspective, which means that their words only applied to their own bloodline, their own class, not to their peopled common live-stock. Only a fool would ignore something based upon their conceit of its goodness or badness instead of learning from its actual application.

One cannot understand or imagine heaven without having equal knowledge of hell. One cannot be protected from evil by simply ignoring it in hope and expectation that good will prevail. One cannot simply pray evil away without taking action against it. And this is why the Bible instructs us to put no faith in any man and call no man father, and that includes these hypocrites we parabolically call as the fictional “founding fathers.”

Never forget that slavery, in the form of voluntary servitude, is very much alive in the United States. The 13th amendment is clear that, since the end of the civil war, only voluntary slavery and servitude is constitutional. Just as an external hard drive is an impressionable slave to its master computer’s operating system, so too is a public person (property) a slave to its principal’s legal code.

There are no spells or spellings in Nature, no definitions, no constitutions, no written laws. There are not even any straight lines! These are mortal devices; created for dead pledges in consensual allegiance to fictional authority figures. Rights are only of the social, of society, and can only be obtained in a public (fictional) forum and only in cursed form without substance. And to be clear, for one individual to obtain a legal (anti-God) right, some other class of individual or non-legal man must be denied that same right. This is antichrist behavior, called as inequity, and is rewarded only in the artifice of mammon and its false valuation. The US Code, however, calls this as “equal rights.” The public cannot effect the private without untamed force, claiming it as their positive legal right, which is against each man’s Natural moral duty to all other men. Positive (legal) rights are and can only be socialist (public). For a man to claim civil or other rights as his own, he must first conceive to become Naturalized and/or be birthed into and in confirmation of a public, socialized, civilized persona as an obedient citizen to the source of those public rights, away from his True God (Origin of Source), and therefore must accept all obligations of the legal creator of those rights. Only a fiction can have and hold fictional things such as rights. A legal right is not a duty, and merely defines a legal contractual obligation per other entities. A legal duty is merely a tax. A right is taken, never given. It is the private responsibility of adhering to the negative duty under God’s Law (to do no harm) that protects private men and their only duty to each other, which creates the right not to be forced by other men to do anything and to do unto other men as they would have them do unto you.
This is the essence of Natural Law. One needs not governmental, legal law if one fulfills this negative state of Being (verb) in Natural Law only. And this is vastly different than the public law which we say is positively created, as the source of one’s (strawman’s) so-called legal rights...

POSITIVE LAW - Law actually and specifically enacted or adopted BY PROPER AUTHORITY for the government of an organized jural society. "A law," in the sense in which that term is employed in jurisprudence, IS ENFORCED BY A SOVEREIGN POLITICAL AUTHORITY. It is thus DISTINGUISHED NOT ONLY FROM ALL RULES WHICH, like the principles of MORALITY and the so-called laws of HONOR and of fashion, ARE ENFORCED BY AN INDETERMINATE AUTHORITY, but also FROM ALL RULES ENFORCED BY A DETERMINATE AUTHORITY which is either, on the one hand, SUPER-HUMAN, or, on the other hand, politically subordinate. In order to emphasize the fact that ‘laws’ in the STRICT sense of the term, ARE THUS AUTHORITATIVELY IMPOSED, THEY ARE DESCRIBED AS POSITIVE LAWS. (Black4)

Whatever your romanticized opinion of this government, you must know that by their own official opinions and timeless definitions its law is against morals, against reasoning, against honor, and thus against spirituality under God.

“It Positive rules of law [AS DISTINGUISHED FROM MAXIMS (PRINCIPLES OF LAW) OR CONCLUSIONS OF REASON] will be receded from [given up or dispensed with] rather than that crimes and wrongs should remain unpunished.”

*—REEDITUR A PLACITIS IURIS, POTIUS QUAM INJURIAE ET DELICTA MANEANT IMPUNITA. Bac. Max. 55, reg. 12. *(Black4)

Sounds good on the surface, does it not? But what happens when license is given so that such crimes and wrongs are legal and thus positively accepted? What happens when a judge declares what is criminal and wrong as what is actually legal and right? All it takes is a contract of person-hood in agency and like a magic spell the black-robed, administrative devilmaster’s (attorney’s) legal words apply. The fiction becomes law; for without law no fictions may exist.

Notice first and foremost that the indeterminate, God-given (negative) lawful authority and man’s determinate positive law authority are unnaturally mixed to create a fictionally positive law, just as the christian and surname are so admixed. For the church and state must support each other to justify their combinations (conspiracy / confederations) of powers to rule, just as the right and the left, the Democrat and the Republican parties prop each other up while pretending competition for the benefit of the masses of illiterates. Both are of the false law. And the illusion of choice (as causality) has the same psychological effect as actuality of choice. A government will ultimately always claim God as its justification for existence, even as it disobeys at every turn and by its definition of law that moral Law of God’s Nature. Again, this is a perfect example of why no man may claim two masters, or more specifically two opposing sets of law to follow at the same time.

Here, in this choice of Law, lies what is called morality. Without it, choice means nothing. Evil will always present itself as good, just as these legal “devilmasters” will always present themselves as beneficial to man, when all they can really do is to add vice (give legal council) to man’s fictional persona. Good and evil, as Nature and artifice, should never be artfully mixed. Like oil and water, they cannot be enjoined unless they are forced together.
“It is when people forget God that tyrants forge their chains.”

—Patrick Henry

Positive law allows, through legality and special license, the act of crime to go unpunished. And it is most often government and its agents that commit these legalized crimes. For the crime is not considered in its action (verb) or essence in and against Nature, but only by the fictional words that describe the legal (permissible) and strictly defined crime in persona against only the false nature (technology/art) of the fiction. If the crime can be described in a way that is in harmony with legal law, despite its complete attack on the moral, unwritten Law, the legal magistrate “devilmasters” may forgive the name and title (noun) of the crime while its victim still suffers the Reality (verb) of it.

Legal law is established to control unlearned men who cannot govern their own actions, who are not responsible for the well-being of other men and the Natural world as the very essence and purposeful result of their own lifestyle and actions thereof, and for those who seek to gain from other men’s labor. But those men who would govern under this artificial system never attempt to teach their pledges how to self-govern themselves, for that would signal the loss of respect and authority that allows them such unnatural, “super-human” power over ignorant men. A devious magician never reveals that which would uncover his illusion and expose his artful designs of deceit.

Citizenship is by invitation only. It is purely voluntary. And only fools become public United States citizens under that legal law, first through the implanted and purposefully engrained ignorance of our parents at the birth-delivery process, and then through our voluntary acceptance of the legal realm as a false-reality, accepting all benefits and obligations of that citizenship through confirmed use of the legal signature. The legal realm exists as a debtor’s hell on Earth because most men cannot attain the keys to heaven on Earth by Living in Truth (Jehovah) and controlling their own actions under Its Law. That is to say that man has lost the ability to use God to destroy the artifice by scriptural instruction and under-standing. In the end, either under God or mammon, there is only one maxim of law that matters; only one principle that defines man’s disposition and establishes his law. For whatever law man chooses to follow, be it God or mammon, this one requirement as a foundation is always the same…

“OBEDIENCE is the essence of the law.”

Obedientia est legis essentia. 21 Coke, 100 (Black4)

Think you know what obedience Really is?

Think you should learn what your magistrates say it is instead of falling prey to the dog-Latin taught to you as their pets? Let’s face it… only when we were taught that obedience to the church and state is equal to obedience to God did things really go to shit.

Don’t be vulgarly offended by this word shit, for words cannot harm you unless you either let them or don’t understand them. The word shit comes from the noun (name) shyster, which has the meaning of “UNSCRUPULOUS LAWYER” from the 1800s, being a US slang word and probably altered from German Scheisser “incompetent worthless PERSON,” from Scheisse “shit,” from Old High German skizzan “to defecate.”
To describe a lawyer or attorney as “unscrupulous” is of course like describing water as “wet.” It’s an obvious redundancy. For make no mistake about it, every attorney is required at bar, as agents of the court, to be obedient to the law of man. There is no honesty or integrity in fiction. To this end, my friends, there is no “good” attorney. They’re agents of the legal matrix, existing only as part of its legal code as its pretended, entitled fictions of law. Never be fooled that they can be anything else, despite their charms or feigned religious de-nominations. To operate in the agency of government one cannot go against government or its law. They have no choice. It’s practice or quit! Attorneys are little shits, and there’s just no getting around that. But the problem is, another word for agent is attorney. So we are all worthy of this title, not as an insult, but as a fact of our false existence as agents for the fictions of law (persons) of government and the law we follow. When you take the mystery out of words they can no longer harm or offend you, for the Truth they may or may not represent comes shining through to reveal our own dispositions in that netherworld of evil. We may embrace the Truth or go on pretending to be offended by it. Either way, a citizenship is an agent of (belonging to) the state, not of Jehovah.

Whatever man’s individual choice, he must become and remain obedient to the creator of that choice, be it to God’s Law over men or to government’s law over persons, for to act in person is to be obedient to man’s legal law over that of God’s Design. Man may only have one master, and therefore one law, for both adversarial laws cannot Exist in one place at the same time. Time is meaningless in timelessness, while value is worthless in pricelesslessness. Opposites do not attract in the case of law, and man cannot follow the scriptures while acting as a fictional person (without Self-Love), as personhood is outlawed by Nature just as Nature is outlawed by legal considerations.

OBDIENCE - Compliance with a command, prohibition, or known law and rule of duty prescribed; THE PERFORMANCE OF WHAT IS REQUIRED OR ENJOINED BY AUTHORITY, OR THE ABSTAINING FROM WHAT IS PROHIBITED, in compliance with the command or prohibition. (Black4)

OBEDIENTIA - An OFFICE, or the ADMINISTRATION of it; a kind of RENT; SUBMISSION; obedience. (Black4)

OBERATUS - Latin. In Roman law, A DEBTOR WHO WAS OBLIGED TO SERVE HIS CREDITOR TILL HIS DEBT WAS DISCHARGED. (Black4)

PROHIBIT - To forbid by law; TO PREVENT; not synonymous with “regulate.” (Black4)

PROHIBIT - verb transitive - [Latin prohibeo; pro and habeo, TO HOLD.] 1. To forbid; to interdict by authority; APPLICABLE TO PERSONS OR THINGS, but implying authority or right. God prohibited Adam to eat of the fruit of a certain tree. THE MORAL LAW PROHIBITS WHAT IS WRONG AND COMMANDS WHAT IS RIGHT. We prohibit a person to do a thing, and we prohibit the thing to be done. 2. To hinder; TO DEBAR; to prevent; to preclude. (Webs1828)

PROHIBITION - noun - [Latin prohibitio.] 1. The act of forbidding or interdicting; A DECLARATION TO HINDER SOME ACTION; interdict. THE LAW OF GOD IN THE TEN COMMANDMENTS CONSISTS MOSTLY OF PROHIBITIONS; ‘thou shalt NOT do such a thing.’ 2. In law, a writ of prohibition is a writ issuing from a superior tribunal, directed to the judges of an inferior court, commanding them to cease from the prosecution of a suit. By ellipsis, prohibition is used for the writ itself. (Webs1828)

PROHIBITION - Inhibition; interdiction... The term prohibition is ALSO applied to the interdiction of making, possessing, selling or giving away, intoxicating liquors, either absolutely, or for beverage purposes, or for other than medicinal, scientific, and SACRAMENTAL PURPOSES. (Black4)
HABIT - noun - [Latin habitus, from habeo, to have TO HOLD. See Have.] 1. Garb; dress; clothes or garments in general. The scenes are old, the habits are the same. We wore last year. There are among the statues, several of Venus, in different habits. 2. A coat worn by ladies over other garments. 3. STATE OF ANY THING; implying some CONTINUANCE or PERMANENCE; temperament or particular state of a BODY, formed by nature OR INDUCED BY EXTRANEOUS CIRCUMSTANCES; as a costive or lax habit of body; a sanguine habit. 4. A DISPOSITION OR CONDITION OF THE MIND OR BODY ACQUIRED BY CUSTOM or a frequent repetition of the same act. Habit is that which is held or retained, the effect of custom or frequent repetition. Hence we speak of good habits and bad habits. Frequent drinking of spirits leads to a habit of intemperance. We should endeavor to correct evil habits BY A CHANGE OF PRACTICE. A great point in the education of children, is to prevent the formation of bad habits. Habit of plants, THE GENERAL FORM OR APPEARANCE, or the conformity of plants of the same kind in structure and growth. - verb transitive - To dress; TO CLOTHE; to array. They habited themselves like RURAL DEITIES. TO DWELL; TO INHABIT. (Webb1828)

To put it simply, God forbids and prohibits mammon and legal law, while legal law forbids and prohibits God and moral Law. It’s classic Good vs. evil; God vs. satan (adversary). Habit and custom are often used to justify the worst kind of devilry and evils against God (Jehovah) and man.

Is not the public education system specifically designed to teach children the bad habits and customs of the nation? Is not the purpose of public school to keep children thinking and acting in a public (commercial) capacity? Isn’t public school just citizenship training? Does it not teach and cause public-mindedness and conformity to the terms of art based on dog-Latin? And have you ever really considered why the Bible is banned from most public schools?

Let us seek the words of Noah Webster as to these questions; to discover the purpose of his dictionary designed to teach Scriptural Law and legal law side-by-side, a mutual intent of this very same work.

“Every civil government is based upon some religion or philosophy of life. Education in a nation will propagate the religion of that nation. IN AMERICA, THE FOUNDATIONAL RELIGION WAS CHRISTIANITY. And it was sown in the hearts of Americans through the HOME and PRIVATE and PUBLIC schools for centuries. Our liberty, growth, and prosperity was the result of a Biblical philosophy of life. OUR CONTINUED FREEDOM AND SUCCESS IS DEPENDENT ON OUR EDUCATING THE YOUTH OF AMERICA IN THE PRINCIPLES OF CHRISTIANITY.”

“The heart should be cultivated with more assiduity than the head.”

“Before a standing army can rule, the people must be disarmed; as they are in almost every kingdom of Europe. The supreme power in America cannot enforce unjust laws by the sword; because the whole body of the people are armed, and constitute a force superior to any band of regular troops that can be, on any pretense, raised in the United States.”
“The moral principles and precepts contained in the Scripture OUGHT TO FORM THE BASIS OF ALL OUR CIVIL CONSTITUTIONS AND LAWS.”

“In my view, the Christian religion is the most important and one of the first things in which ALL CHILDREN, UNDER A FREE GOVERNMENT, OUGHT TO BE INSTRUCTED… No truth is more evident to my mind than THAT THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION MUST BE THE BASIS OF ANY GOVERNMENT INTENDED TO SECURE THE RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES OF A FREE PEOPLE.”

“A PURE DEMOCRACY IS GENERALLY A VERY BAD GOVERNMENT. It is often the most tyrannical government on earth; FOR A MULTITUDE IS OFTEN RASH, AND WILL NOT HEAR REASON.”

“Every child in America should be acquainted with his own country. He should read books that furnish him with ideas that will be useful to him in life and practice. As soon as he opens his lips, he should rehearse the history of his own country.”

“The education of youth should be watched with the most scrupulous attention. [I]t is much easier to introduce and establish an effectual system… than to correct by penal statutes the ill effects of a bad system… THE EDUCATION OF YOUTH… LAYS THE FOUNDATIONS ON WHICH BOTH LAW AND GOSPEL REST FOR SUCCESS.”

—All above, separate quotes by Noah Webster

Have you figured out why a judge wears a black moo-moo?

They are clothing themselves in the symbol of the artifice of legal title. Black is the color of the evil of empty authority. A judge wears a “habit” to pre-tend that authority over man due to his formal appearance as a legal, fictional persona under color of title. The habit of the judge signifies an administrative disposition as over-Lord of the legal realm. He that legally (artificially) appears before the judge in person suffers the wrath of that fictional (evil) act.

This action allows the judge to pretend to be above the Natural, moral Law. It allows the purpose of Law to be twisted from its scriptural principles and foundation, allowing man to be considered without the foundational (e.g., constitutional, blood) considerations of that law, and instead be viewed and considered only within the law of persons; as mere animals (without soul).
“Decency, security and liberty alike demand that government officials shall be subjected to the same rules of conduct that are commands to the citizen. In a government of laws, existence of the government will be imperiled if it fails to observe the law scrupulously. Our Government is the potent, the omnipresent teacher. FOR GOOD OR FOR ILL, IT TEACHES THE WHOLE PEOPLE BY ITS EXAMPLE. CRIME IS CONTAGIOUS. If the Government becomes a lawbreaker, it breeds contempt for law; it invites every man to become a law unto himself; IT INVITES ANARCHY. To declare that, in the administration of the criminal law, the end justifies the means -- to declare that the GOVERNMENT MAY COMMIT CRIMES IN ORDER TO SECURE THE CONVICTION OF A PRIVATE CRIMINAL -- would bring terrible retribution. Against that pernicious doctrine this Court should resolutely set its face.”

—See Olmstead v. United States, 277 U.S. 438, 471-485 (1928)

To get around this, the private People created the public (commercial) realm of legal fiction. The private People cannot be secured by the legal falsities of that public commercial law, whereas the public people (goyim) are purely the victims of its contracted strictness.

Sadly, this conclusion has already manifested itself in the last 87 years. The once private man is now largely become public. The government commits crime as its daily functionality, and the courts support the licensed fraud even while claiming God as master. The contagion of citizenship has allowed government officials and corporate heads to be immune from the rules of conduct of the citizenry, for the law of persons is not the same as that private, Higher Law of God. We have a government of approved, permitted anarchy.

A man that follows only God’s Law (Son) needs no prohibitions or interdictions from other men. A man of God will never habitually fall victim to the ceremonies, customs, and culture of a factitious society of legal, public personas.

FACTITIOUS - adjective - [Latin factitius, from facio.] MADE BY ART, in distinction from what is produced by nature: ARTIFICIAL, as factitious cinnabar; factitious stones; factitious air. (Webb1828)

LONG ROBE - A metaphorical expression designating the PRACTICE OF PROFESSION of the law; as, in the phrase “gentlemen of the long robe.” (Black4)

ERMINE - By metonymy, this term is used to describe the office or functions of a Judge, whose state ROBE, lined with ermine, IS EMBLEMATICAL OF PURITY AND HONOR WITHOUT STAIN. (Black4)

ROBE - Fr. A word anciently used by sailors for the cargo of a SHIP. The Italian “roba” had the same meaning. (Black4)

Nothing at all… Both are merely judges employed to preach their own doctrine and sometimes pretend to forgive sins behind ceremonial cloth and masonic symbols of false authority, while intentionally, knowingly ignoring God’s Word.

Is this really a legal crime if a judge does so through legal means under the pretended unstained purity and honor of his robe? After all, the property belongs to the person, the person belongs to the government, and the judge only administers state property. So how can an agent of government steal from itself?

HUMAN - adjective - [Latin humanus; Hebrew. FORM, species] 1. BELONGING TO MAN OR MANKIND; pertaining or RELATING TO the race of man; as a human voice; human shape; human nature; human knowledge; human life. 2. Having the QUALITIES of a man. 3. PROFANE; NOT SACRED OR DIVINE; as a human author. (Webs1828)

ADAM - noun - In Hebrew, Man; primarily, THE NAME OF THE HUMAN SPECIES; MANKIND; appropriately, the first Man, the progenitor of the HUMAN RACE. The word signifies FORM, SHAPE, or suitable form, hence, SPECIES. It is evidently connected with Hebrew, TO BE LIKE OR EQUAL, TO FORM AN IMAGE, TO ASSIMILATE. Whence the sense of likeness, IMAGE, FORM, shape; Gr., a body, like. [See Man.]… (Webs1828)

ADAMIC - adjective - Pertaining to Adam. Adamic earth, is the term given to common red clay, so called by means of A MISTAKEN OPINION THAT ADAM MEANS RED EARTH. (Webs1828)

MAN - noun - plural men. [Hebrew species, kind, IMAGE, SIMILITUDE] 1. Mankind, THE HUMAN RACE; the whole species of human beings; BEINGS DISTINGUISHED FROM ALL OTHER ANIMALS BY THE POWERS OF REASON AND SPEECH, as well as by their shape and dignified aspect. 'Os homini sublime dedit.' And God said, Let US make man in OUR image, after OUR likeness, and let THEM have dominion—Genesis 1:26. Man that is born of a woman, is of few days and full of trouble. Job 14:1. My spirit shall not always strive with man. Genesis 6:3. I will destroy man whom I have created. Genesis 6:7. There hath no temptation taken you, but such as is common to man. 1 Corinthians 10:13. It is written, man shall not live by bread alone. Matthew 4:4. There must be somewhere such a rank as man, Respecting man whatever wrong we call— But vindicate the ways of God to man. The proper study of mankind is man. In the System of Nature, man is ranked as a distinct genus. When opposed to woman, man sometimes denotes the male sex in general. Woman has, in general, much stronger propensity than man to the discharge of parental duties. 2. A male individual of the human race, of ADULT growth or years. THE KING IS BUT A MAN AS I AM. And the man dreams but what the boy believed. 3. A male of the human race; used often in COMPOUND WORDS, or in the nature of an adjective; as a man-child; men-cooks; men-servants. 4. A SERVANT, or an attendant of the male sex. I and my man will presently go ride. 5. A word of familiar address. We speak no treason, man. 6. It sometimes bears the sense of A MALE ADULT of some uncommon qualifications; particularly, the sense of strength, vigor, bravery, virile powers, or magnanimity, as distinguished from the weakness, timidity or impotence of a boy. OR FROM THE NARROW MINDEDNESS OF LOW BRED MEN. I dare do all that may become a man. Will reckons he should not have been the man he is, had he not broke windows— So in popular language, it is said, he is no man. Play your part like a man. He has not the SPIRIT of a man. Thou art but a youth, and he a man of war from his youth. 1 Samuel 17:8. 7. AN INDIVIDUAL OF THE HUMAN SPECIES. IN MATTERS OF EQUITY BETWEEN MAN AND MAN — UNDER THIS PHRASEOLOGY, FEMALES MAY BE COMPREHENDED. So a law restraining man or every man from a particular act, COMPREHENDS WOMEN AND CHILDREN, IF OF COMPETENT AGE TO BE THE SUBJECTS OF LAW. 8. Man is sometimes OPPOSED TO BOY OR CHILD, AND SOMETIMES TO BEAST. 9. ONE WHO IS MASTER OF HIS MENTAL POWERS, OR WHO CONDUCTS HIMSELF WITH HIS USUAL JUDGMENT. When a PERSON has lost his senses, or acts without his usual judgment, we say, HE IS NOT HIS OWN MAN. 10. It is sometimes used indefinitely, without reference to a particular individual; ANY PERSON; ONE. This is as much as a man can desire. A man in an instant, may discover the assertion to be impossible. This word however is always used in the singular number, referring to an individual. In this respect it does not answer to the French on, nor to the use of man by our Saxon ancestors. In Saxon, man of sloth, signifies, they slew; man sette ut, they set or fitted out. “human” belongs only to man, not to God.

It is difficult to pin down the proper usage of words to their proper art form, especially when most men are ignorant of what art is according to its strange, fictional existence. The word “man” can be a reference to God’s Creation or to a slave of another of God’s Creation called as the name of a person in title. Legally speaking, the artful form or hue of man is not as important as the word private, whereas a public man implies personhood and subjection to government, and where a private man does not, through the allegiance of private men to each other under the conjuration of an oath is what makes a State (People). Remember, words portrayed in legalese are only ever of form and status. So the word man must be used carefully. The word human, however, is always form without substance, referring solely to the animal habits and characteristics of man, not the higher or regenerate soul. Human laws are laws that belong to man, and are not of Nature. What is “human” belongs only to man, not to God.

For clarity, let’s define terms in a way that shows the devolution of man into fiction (the Biblical story), where the mere representation of man into the form of something false and hu-man steals away his substance. The word human is used specifically to describe man scientifically (without spirit, without Life) as something other than a creation of God in Nature, as the shadow of his actual internal being.

The word “human” (monster) may certainly be a description of the form of man, or something belonging to man, but is never in his private capacity within his own mind, body, and soul. This word human is not a term of Nature, meaning it’s not defined as a Creation of Nature. God Created the True substance of man, not hu-mans. God is not the creator of words. Most importantly to law, anything hu-man is of man or made and thus belonging to (property of) man. This is not a referential to God as Creator, but to man in his artful sciences and general appearances.

Mankind is also not man, but a reference to the whole of a species. Mankind (Adam) is not one man, for the True substance of man can only be one soul in Nature and under God. No man is a plurality.

When species is applied to any creation, the substance of the individual is lost in the legal science of consideration of a class structure. These are the underpinnings of principles (maxims) of law.

In other words, human is only the form of man with no substance. And the societies that have formed around that false form of man have been manipulated and led to what we know today as the legal world, with emphasis not on the ambiguous substance of Reality but on the insubstantial form of property (words).

known by some adherents as Humanism, specifically with a capital H to distinguish it from other forms of humanism) embraces HUMAN REASON, ethics, social justice and philosophical naturalism, WHILE SPECIFICALLY REJECTING RELIGIOUS DOGMA.

HUMAN - …3. BELONGING OR RELATIVE TO MAN AS DISTINGUISHED FROM GOD OR SUPERHUMAN BEINGS; pertaining to the sphere or faculties of man (with implication of LIMITATION OR INFERIORITY); MUNDANE; SECULAR. (Often opposed to divine). (Oxford New English Dictionary of 1901).

AS CONTRASTED WITH REVELATION.’ (The Shorter Oxford English Dictionary, 1933)

MONSTER - [Latin monstrum, from monstro, TO SHOW. So we say in English, a sight. See Muster.] 1. An ANIMAL produced with A SHAPE OR WITH PARTS THAT ARE NOT NATURAL, as when the body is ill formed or distorted, or the limbs too few or too many, or when any part is extravagantly out of proportion, either through defect or excess. 2. ANY unnatural production; something greatly deformed. Monsters are common in the vegetable kingdom. 3. A PERSON so wicked as to APPEAR horrible; one unnaturally wicked or mischievous. NATURAL PERSON - Natural person means HUMAN BEING, and not an artificial or juristic person. (Shawmut Bank, N.A. v. Valley Farms, 610 A. 2d. 652, 654; 222 Conn. 361)

NATURAL - AN IDIOT; one whom nature debars from understanding: A FOOL. (Samuel Johnson’s Dictionary 1755)

We may certainly find ample evidence of this distinction between the Real Nature and the artificial nature of the ranked man within the pen-named, artful literature and adversaria of days past, especially when these corrupted men in their feigned nobility speak so vilely about the lower, common class. Of course, such pretended flatteries of title by blood nobility require above all else the purposeful deceit and trickery of a generally induced public-mindedness upon the lower-class to ensure such divisiveness and belief in (love of) that class structure. A slave must be made or punished into believing he actually is a slave (noun). These nobles speak in contempt without any interest in being the causal agents for the “regeneration” of their enslaved, ignorant cattle, any more than a rancher seeks to enlighten and free the minds of his dumb, predictable, and profitable cattle.

“The natural man has only two primal passions, to get and to beget.”

—William Osler

“THE NATURAL MAN IS A SPIRITUAL MONSTER. His heart is where his feet should be, fixed upon the earth; his heels are lifted up against heaven, which his heart should be set on. His face is towards hell; his back towards heaven. He loves what he should hate, and hates what he should love; joys in what he ought to mourn for, and mourns for what he ought to rejoice in; glories in his shame, and is ashamed of his glory; abhors what he should desire, and desires what he should abhor.”

—Thomas Boston, quoted from: 'Augustus Toplady, Complete Works'
"Take the thoughts out of that narrow compass he has been all his life confined to, you will find him no more capable than a perfect natural."

—John Locke

"But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: NEITHER CAN HE KNOW THEM, BECAUSE THEY ARE SPIRITUALLY DISCERNED."

—1 Corinthians 2:14, KJB

"That a monster should be such a natural…"

—Shakespeare, from 'Tempest'

And what does this word animal refer to, in the calling of man by such an epitaph? As discussed, it's different from what you might think. For to have animal life is to be a “natural” in corruption of blood-right, to be out of the purview and protection of God and Nature, and to be subjected only to the secular law of corrupt men. It is to be in motion without True knowledge, barred by the mysteries of false gods. The animal is that which is animated without self-Love and spirit of Source.

ANIMA - Latin. SOUL. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition)

ATE - The preterite of EAT, which see. - noun - a'ty. [Gr. MISCHIEF; TO HURT. Ate is A PERSONIFICATION OF EVIL, mischief or MALICE.] In pagan mythology, the goddess of mischief, who was cast down from heaven by Jupiter. (Webs1828)

ANIMATE - verb intransitive - [Latin amine. See ANIMAL.] 1. To give NATURAL LIFE to; to quicken; TO MAKE ALIVE; as the soul animates the body. 2. To give POWERS to, or to heighten the powers or effect of A THING; as, to animate a lyre (harp). 3. To give spirit or vigor; to infuse courage, joy, or other enlivening passion; to stimulate or incite; as, to animate dispirited troops.- adjective - Alive; POSSESSING ANIMAL LIFE. (Webs1828)

To legally anima-ate a person is figuratively to eat the soul of a man, to personify man as evil (artifice), as only an animal. To be animal is to act without soul, or at least to be considered legally as without soul, without blood. For in law the mere fact of being alive is not enough; it is only unregenerate animal life. Man must show the ability to reason in order to be distinguished from his animal Nature. The legal form of the word “natural” means a fool without understanding, an idiot. The legal fiction can never create anything of the essence (substance) of God's actual Nature, and can only instead diminish and rape Nature (Reality) down to mere word-form. And we must never forget that words are never Truth. The legal word magicians had to redefine Nature into an evil (live) consideration, a play on words, and then trick men into animating their fictional creations in artifice. Thus men are called by these word-smiths as “naturals” according to their opposing legal definition of nature, as unregenerate animals not having been born again into and under the Natural Law of God’s Kingdom on earth. Bastards…
Man is legally considered as “only hu-man” and therefore only to be considered legally as animal (without soul) and thus illegitimate. An illegitimate cannot be heir to land. Thus the private People are able to keep and be lords over all the land of the naturals.

It is of course a great fallacy and confusion to state that in Nature animals have souls just like man. Think about that. It was very hard for an animal-lover like myself to comprehend the True meaning and intent of these words legally without controlling my vulgar emotional considerations, as it will likely be for the average reader. The notion of the “soul” as occurring in only man as a species is the very basis of why men can and will be governed, be it under God or under man’s anti-God design. For man is the only creature of reason capable of language arts; his soul thus set apart from the animal world not because animals don’t have souls, but because man alone can distinguish between moral right and wrong and act accordingly. Man can lie to himself with ease and build entire systems around those lies, whereas the animal kingdom cannot. This consideration as the “soul” of man distinguishes man from the rest of the animal kingdom. This is only a legal consideration, for most of man’s false intelligence and folly stems from the foolish understanding of his own invented, unnatural information. Anti-Truth… Without this legal distinction and that notion of misguided dialectic of fallacious logic (capacity for lies, as belief in legal fictions), man would need no law to govern him and would be purely animal in his Natural thought and functionality. His artifice and designs simply cannot effect Nature’s Design without organization into legal societies under ethnicity of language and cultural habit. We must be tamed and trained to become that which we are not in Nature to fit into those adversarial societies (corporations), to be ruled by the terms of art.

This, again, is merely the figurative comprehension of words. We must not let emotion lead our minds when defining emotionless legal terms that apply to no living man or thing. In the Reality of Nature, no rational man would ever consider that animals have no soul or no feelings. But in law, this distinction is made for an important and distinct purpose. It is not put forth as an idea in Reality, just in immoral legality, for man is certainly and uniquely capable of reason and false dialectic (logic) to his own detriment and to that of all Nature Itself.

But again, when considering God (Jehovah) as Creation and as all of Nature Itself, it is not logical or reasonable to consider that God (Existence) would allow Itself to be decimated and destroyed by Its own Creation of man. God would certainly not give license to any man in his invention (re-creation) to legally dissemble God’s Design and poison Its Life-giving properties.

The Bible tells us that man has the duty of Being protector of Nature and its Design in a spiritual dominion and Law. It does not bestow any legal right to be the violent dominatrix and destroyer of Nature and all Creatures within It on a whim, though the church and state promote such mythology.

To be legally considered is to be considered without soul, as purely animal in Nature and actions, with a veil of artificiality (legal status) draped or clothed over the man. Man as beast. It is not so much the notion of being without soul, merely the notion of acting without spirituality or a Higher moral Law, an ability we attribute to the soul. An animal in Nature acts without spiritual considerations in its animal functions of survival. Likewise, a man acting in the spiritually dead domain of legalism acts just like those animals, driven by the artificial instincts of an automaton driven only to fulfill his strict contractual requirements and monetary pursuits.

AN - The English indefinite article. Equivalent to "ONE" or "any"; seldom used to denote plurality. (Black4)

ANIMA - (repeated) - Latin. SOUL. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition)

MAL, or MALE - As a prefix, in composition, denotes ILL, or VEIL. Latin malus. (Webs1828)

MAL - A prefix meaning bad, wrong, FRAUDULENT; as maladministration, malpractice, malversation, etc. (Black4)
MALADY - noun - [Latin mali: Eng. mellow, Latin mollis.] 1. Any sickness or disease of the human body; any distemper from impaired, defective or morbid organic functions; more particularly, a lingering or deep seated disorder or indisposition. It may be applied to any animal body, but is, I believe, rarely or never applied to plants. The maladies of the body may prove medicines to the mind. 2. DEFECT OR CORRUPTION OF THE HEART; DEPRAVITY; MORAL DISORDER OR CORRUPTION OF MORAL PRINCIPLES. Depravity of heart is a moral malady. 3. DISORDER OF THE UNDERSTANDING OR MIND. (Webs1828)

ANIMAL - In law. ALL ANIMAL LIFE OTHER THAN MAN. An INFERIOR or IRRATIONAL SENTIENT BEING, generally, though not necessarily possessed of the power of locomotion. In etymology, comprehending ALL LIVING CREATURES, WHETHER BRUTISH OR HUMAN. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition).

ANIMAL - Any ANIMATE being which is endowed with the power of VOLUNTARY MOTION… (Black4)

ANIMAL - noun - [Latin animal from anima, air, BREATH, SOUL.] An organized body, endowed with life and the power of VOLUNTARY motion; a living, sensitive, locomotive body; as, MAN IS AN INTELLIGENT ANIMAL. Animals are essentially distinguished from plants by the property of sensation. The contractile property of some plants, as the mimosa, has the appearance of the effect of sensation, but it may be merely the effect of irritability. The distinction here made between animals and vegetables, may not be philosophically accurate; for we cannot perhaps ascertain the precise limit between the two kinds of beings, but this is sufficiently correct FOR COMMON PRACTICAL PURPOSES. The history of animals is called zoology. BY WAY OF CONTEMPT, A DULL PERSON IS CALLED A STUPID ANIMAL. - adjective - That belongs or relates to animals; as animal functions. ANIMAL IS DISTINGUISHED FROM INTELLECTUAL, as animal appetites, the appetites of the body, as hunger and thirst. The animal functions, are touch, taste, motion, etc. Animal life is opposed to vegetable life. ANIMAL IS OPPOSED ALSO TO SPIRITUAL OR RATIONAL, WHICH RESPECTS THE SOUL AND REASONING FACULTIES; as animal nature, spiritual nature, rational nature. Animal food may signify that food which nourishes animals; but it usually denotes food consisting of animal flesh. Animal economy is THE SYSTEM OF LAWS BY WHICH THE BODIES OF ANIMALS ARE GOVERNED and depending on their organic structure. Animal spirit is a name given to the nervous fluid. Animal spirits in the plural, life, vigor, energy. ANIMAL SYSTEM, or animal kingdom denotes THE WHOLE CLASS OF BEINGS ENDOWED WITH ANIMAL LIFE. (Webs1828)

TAME - Domesticated; accustomed to man; RECLAIMED FROM A NATURAL STATE of wilderness. In the Latin phrase, tame animals are described as dominas naturae. (Black4)

DOMITAE - Latin. Tame; domesticated; not wild. Applied to DOMESTIC ANIMALS, IN WHICH A MAN MAY HAVE AN ABSOLUTE PROPERTY. (Black4)

DOMINATE - To MASTER, to RULE, or to CONTROL. (Black4)

DOMINATIO - In old English law. LORDSHIP. (Black4)

DOMINICAL - That which denotes THE LORD'S DAY, OR SUNDAY. (Black4)

DOMINICA PALMARUM - (Dominica in ramis palmarum,) L. Latin. Palm Sunday. (Black4)

DOMUS DEI - THE HOUSE OF GOD; a name applied to many HOSPITALS and RELIGIOUS HOUSES. (Black4)
DOMINUS NAVIS - In the civil law. The OWNER of a VESSEL. (Black4)

As we can see here, the notion of being born again into Nature (God) does not refer to a state of religious ignorance of scriptural teachings in a mere animal life alone; a ceremonial life (evil) spent kneeling before false gods in false religious houses. Animals will always be tamed (domesticated) and dominated by evil men, be they hu-man or any other beast carrying man’s burden of legality. Most importantly we must reclaim our innocence, our child-like understanding of all things, without the adultery, licenses, canonized indulgences, and confirmed lies of the artful re-creations of men.

“At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, And said, Verily I say unto you, EXCEPT YE BE CONVERTED, AND BECOME AS LITTLE CHILDREN, YE SHALL NOT ENTER INTO THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN. WHOEVER THEREFORE SHALL HUMBLE HIMSELF AS THIS LITTLE CHILD, THE SAME IS GREATEST IN THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN.”

—Matthew 18: 1-4, KJv

Here again we see nothing of the word heaven as some afterlife concept, but as the realm of God on this Earth inhabited only by those not lost in the fictions and lies of men, and who are instead Living Purely in Nature and under Its Law.

This notion of being born again into heaven (the Purity of Nature) must be understood, not as the ridiculousness parroted by corporate “Christians” who pray to and for mammon, but in the way it was intended in the scriptures. For this mysterious notion of being “born again” is not at all esoteric when translated correctly, and instead quite desirable and reasonable. It is the reward for following the Law/Word/Son of Jehovah. It’s to find and remain only in Truth. And yet so many of us remain as publicly declared non-believers… somehow believing not in (hating) the Heavenly Reality of Nature that sustains us, choosing delusion and fiction over Source, respecting the law of names (nouns) over the self-Existent Law of Life (Being).

In fact, within the parabolic teachings of the Bible, we who pose such questions of misunderstanding due to the church and entertainment industry’s false indoctrinations are not so different from that Judaized character and story of Nicodemus, who could not fathom what it was to be born anew while having already lived falsely for so many years already. The metaphor, as with so many caught in literalism of dog-Latin today, was lost upon such a worldly, wealthy man. And he whom is successful in mammon, after his prestigious education and climb up the fictional ladder of rankings and raises, seldom sees the “value” in starting over as if a child, nor that he needs any such savior as the Word (Son/Law) of Jehovah. For his whole career subsists and shines only thorough every broken law and commandment, through the lies of commercial values in mammon. So much can be attained in Real Life from this one parable:
“There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews: The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, EXCEPT GOD BE WITH HIM. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, EXCEPT A MAN BE BORN AGAIN, HE CANNOT SEE THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

Nicodemus saith unto him, HOW CAN A MAN BE BORN WHEN HE IS OLD? can he enter the second time into his mother's WOMB, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, EXCEPT A MAN BE BORN OF WATER AND OF THE SPIRIT, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. THAT WHICH IS BORN OF THE FLESH IS FLESH; AND THAT WHICH IS BORN OF THE SPIRIT IS SPIRIT. MARVEL NOT THAT I SAID UNTO THEE, YE MUST BE BORN AGAIN. The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: SO IS EVERY ONE THAT IS BORN OF THE SPIRIT. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be? …IF I HAVE TOLD YOU EARTHLY THINGS, AND YE BELIEVE NOT, HOW SHALL YE BELIEVE, IF I TELL YOU OF HEAVENLY THINGS?"

Oh the plight of the literalist, who cannot see the spiritual side of all things, who cannot trust in the Source of that invisible Spirit behind the wind even as it pushes him over.

So what is the biggest difference between the True and Pious follower of the Word (Son) and the citizenry of any of the gods of the nations? Simple… One is free to journey upon an unset course with no beginning and no end under only God’s Law (as eternal, spiritual Life), and one is fixed in residency by a pre-determined course in commercial franchise (legal free-dom) and insurances of artificial monetary securities (mammon), acting in the agency of man and under his artificial law (without eternal Life, only evil). While the man may Live equally as long in both lives, his eternal Life stems only from his not being registered in birth and death certification (the time domain, as the beginning and end of false existence), and instead from Living only in the Spirit and innocence of God’s Nature (Creation). Lands are only passed through the eternal Life-blood, to those children untainted by the seizure of false existence under registered personhood, of that artificial life (status) that exists only in the time domain of a legal contract. Death, for the eternal man, is merely the passing of the Life estate upon his kin. Whereas the certified death of a public persona is the dissolving of a corporate, fictional entity without blood consideration. Strangely enough, this means that to have Eternal Life, one must be spiritually Free to have only a Natural death. One must die without legal name in districted capacity, for to die in Eternity one must have been reborn under God’s Nature and Law. Jehovah is by definition Eternity, and so too is man when unblemished by worldly, secular things. For the untainted man is part of that Eternal Oneness of the Whole Being of self-Existence. The “Eternity” of Life scripturally spoken of is of course another figurative description of the un-fallen man; as opposed to he that is induced by many temptations of the artifice to abandon his own Self-respect, Self-Love, and Self-Existence in the pursuit of extraneous and unessential money and other artifices and adversarial, meaningless stuff. This is not religious gobbledygook, but a very clear and parabolic narrative of the very separate moral conditions and characters of man. Only the fool would spit upon this ultimate wisdom due to the mistranslation of others who seek to destroy its original intent. But then only a fool would consider and believe in (love) the non-Existence of Existence (Jehovah) and Its self-Evident Law. Only the fool can be tricked into acting outside of his True Self, as property (person) of another, while at the same time wholeheartedly believing in that false, legal existence as Reality.

And my God have we all been made the fool…

The soul of each man in spiritual Life must be governed by his own mind with Natural Reason and knowledge, including the fear (respect) of God. It’s not enough to pretend to be “born again” through some religious ceremony of rites conducted by a hireling preacher or other legalized clergy-person under a false corporate church doctrine in some false Domus Dei built by the hands of masonic men. This is a purposefully instilled, externally conditioned state of ignorance and carefully planned and institutionalized misunderstanding of the scriptural teachings. It is not the pomp and ceremony but the Life Lived that either makes the man or reveals the animal. The church only promotes legal things it may control. In Reality, a born again man would never continue in personhood and surety of citizenship knowing its intention against that of God’s very Nature and Law, as this legal status can only exist upon the registered spiritual death of man, while man can only commune with Nature on a spiritual level. The very support of the state by the church and vice versa reveals all corporate religions to be false doctrines against God’s Law and scriptural teachings. All corporate, registered state religions, in other words, are an artificial matrix to hide the Truth that is God.

CEREMONY - noun - 1. OUTWARD RITE: EXTERNAL FORM IN RELIGION. 2. Forms of civility. RULES ESTABLISHED BY CUSTOM FOR REGULATING SOCIAL INTERCOURSE. 3. Outward forms of STATE: THE FORMS PRESCRIBED OR ESTABLISHED BY ORDER OR CUSTOM, serving for the purpose of CIVILITY OR MAGNIFICENCE, as in levees of princes, the reception of ambassadors, etc. Master of ceremonies, an officer who superintends the reception of ambassadors. A PERSON who regulates the forms to be observed by the company or attendants on a PUBLIC occasion. (Web1828)

SACRAMENTARY - noun - 1. An ancient book of the Romish church, written by pope Gelasius, and revised, corrected and abridged by St. Gregory, in which were contained ALL THE PRAYERS AND CEREMONIES PRACTICED in the celebration of the sacraments. 2. A sacramentarian: a term of reproach applied by papists to protestants. (Web1828)

SACRAMENTARY - adjective - Pertaining to sacramentarians and to their controversy respecting the eucharist. (Web1828)

EUCHARIST - noun - [Gr. a giving of thanks; well, favor.] 1. The sacrament of the Lord's supper: the solemn act or CEREMONY OF COMMEMORATING THE DEATH OF OUR REDEEMER, in the use of bread and wine, as emblems of his flesh and blood, accompanied with appropriate prayers and hymns. 2. The act of giving thanks. (Web1828)

SACRAMENTUM - Latin. Roman Law. AN OATH, as being a very sacred thing; more particularly, the oath taken by soldiers TO BE TRUE TO THEIR GENERAL AND THEIR COUNTRY. In one of the formal methods of beginning an action at law (legis actiones) known to the early Roman jurisprudence, the sacramentum was A SUM OF MONEY deposited in court by each of the litigating parties, as a kind of WAGER or forfeit, to abide the result of the suit. The successful party received back his stake; the losing party forfeited his, and it was paid into the public treasury, to be expended for sacred objects, (in sacris rebus), whence the name. Roman Law… (In) common law. AN OATH. (Black4)
SACRAMENT - noun - [Latin sacramentum, AN OATH, from sacer, sacred.] 1. Among ancient christian writers, A MYSTERY. [Not in use.] 2. An oath; a ceremony producing an OBLIGATION; but not used in this general sense. 3. In present usage, an outward and visible sign of inward and spiritual grace; or more particularly, A SOLEMN RELIGIOUS CEREMONY enjoined by Christ, THE HEAD OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH, to be observed by his followers, by which their special relation to him is created, or their obligations to him renewed and ratified. THUS BAPTISM IS CALLED A SACRAMENT for by it persons are separated from the world, brought into Christ's visible church, and laid under particular obligations to obey his precepts. The eucharist or communion of the Lord's supper, is also a sacrament for by commemorating the death and dying love of Christ, christians avow their special relation to him, and renew their obligations to be faithful to their divine Master. When we use sacrament without any qualifying word, we mean by it, 4. The eucharist or Lord's supper. - verb transitive - TO BIND BY AN OATH. (Webb1828)

SACRAMENTUM FIDELITATIS - In old English law. THE OATH OF FEALTY. (Black4)

It should be noted that when these religions speak of Christ, as the stated head of the “Christian Church,” it’s reference is generally towards the vicar (replacement), the acting officer, the corporation sole; namely the pope, queen, or king, for the church of Jesus the Christ is only a Real People, not a corporation of persons. Think of it this way, one cannot register “Jesus the christ” as the president of a legal corporation, now can they. Trust me when I say that Jesus is nowhere to be found as the head of any legalized, state-sanctioned, corporate church.

Jehovah requires no oath, only that you follow the Law without fault or derision. An oath is a legally positive redundancy when one’s Life is already in celebration of Truth. Oaths need only be taken to artificial, sacred (cursed) things created by man, like an oath to the words of the constitution (debt compact). Abeyance to the Law of Nature is Life Itself, a True action of the Purest of Being, not a ceremony done every Sunday to a false christ standing fictionally as a 501(c) 3 legal figurehead. Oaths are only made to artificial persons by natural persons, never by men, and never to the Reality of God.

Let’s take a look at some of the sections of the Articles of Incorporation of the President of the Mormon “church,” and see if anything at all can be said to be of scriptural purview or of the Law of God’s Nature:

“Fourth: The TITLE of the PERSON making these articles of incorporation is “President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.” He and his successor in office shall be deemed and are hereby created a body politic and CORPORATION SOLE WITH PERPETUAL SUCCESSION, having all the powers and rights and authority in these articles specified or provided for by law.”

“Second: The object of this corporation shall be to acquire, hold and dispose of such real and personal property as may be conveyed to or acquired by said corporation for the benefit of the members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, a religious society, for the benefit of religion, for works of charity and FOR PUBLIC WORSHIP (UNDER AND PURSUANT TO the provisions of Chapter 3, Title 19, of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1917, on “Churches and Religious Societies,” AND ALL ACTS AMENDATORY THEREOF AND SUPPLEMENTARY THERETO…) Such real and personal property may be situated, either within the State of Utah, or elsewhere, and this corporation shall have power, without any authority or authorization from the members of said Church or religious society, to grant, sell, convey, rent, mortgage, exchange, or otherwise dispose of any part of all of such property.”

—Separate Articles of Incorporation for LDS church president, amended in years 1923 and 1940
By viewing these documents as exactly what they are, strictly legal documents for a strictly secular, legalized “religion” that is totally bound under the legal law of the fictional “state,” we may understand just why these corporations called churches have nothing of God’s Word (Son) within them. And “public worship” is certainly against the scriptural teachings. The president of the church is not a man, but a person, holding a corporate office very much like the “queen” or “pope,” where successors to that false, “immortal” office of continuously fraudulent, fictional characters is controlled by a “board of directors” called as the churches “quorum.”

And what does the IRS warn about such corporate tax shelters pretending to be as churches?

IRS Warns of “Corporation Sole” Tax Scam

“These corporate vehicles are used by individuals to get exemption from federal income taxes as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3).”

“This scheme shamelessly tries to take advantage of special tax benefits available to legitimate religious groups and church leaders,” said IRS Commissioner Mark W. Everson. ‘Unscrupulous tax promoters always look for ways to game the system and prey on unsuspecting victims.

Taxpayers should be on the look-out for these and other scams…’ The IRS also warned that ‘the scam could be starting to spread with multiple cases seen recently in states such as Utah and Washington.’”

This system, this multi-billion dollar commercial hub of the LDS corporation (nicknamed as the Vatican of Utah) is but a microcosm of the corporate United States itself, or that of any nation or state as a pirate cove. The corporation is a body politic of specific, higher in class “people” who are in control of all the assets and holdings of the corporation (church), while the entirety of its tributary (tithing) membership in the millions holds nothing thereof, having no actual interest in the land and property holdings of that sole corporate persona in law, the “president.”

But the most important aspect here is that this corporation is not in any way a True church (people) of Jehovah, and certainly not of christ. It does not in any way follow the Law of God, and even created its own divinely channeled law as the Mormon “Doctrines and Covenants” in complete disrespect and in spite of the Bible and based on glass scrying stones. I would state here that no man in his right mind would join such a corporate body politic, which the Bible clearly shuns, but then I must remind myself constantly that right-mindedness is a rare commodity in this world.

For more on this mystic history of the so-called Mormon prophet (president), among so many accessible sources of Smith’s unique and creative misinterpretations of scripture, read “Scrying for the Lord: Magic, Mysticism, and the Origins of the Book of Mormon,” by Clay L. Chandler.

Romans (pagans) in their universal (Catholic) church corporation celebrate the death of christ, not the spiritual Life. The pope cannot claim to be in the office of Christ unless his followers accept that christ is utterly dead, both literally, spiritually, and figuratively. But a True follower of the teachings of christ examines the Life (Light), not the death of christ, and certainly not the writings of such false replacements (antichristos) claiming to be the office of Christ on Earth. The parabolic telling of the christ story as the “New Testament” (New Law) is delivered for every man to walk in His footsteps, with man’s own body as the only temple upon that narrow path assigned to such spiritual men. But the pope and other false gods seek to impersonate christ’s character and reputation into an artificial persona that can pretendedly captured and thus represented and anthropomorphized within a legal, immortal ecclesiastical office of corporation soul, which can be passed from man to man in perpetuity; a sick and twisted ceremonial re-creation of and tribute to christ’s death and resurrection, which without, the vicar of christ may not therefore exist. It is only the death of christ that gives the pope life. But this is really just the ritualistic passing of the Babylonian fish-hat (mitre) of Dogan, the fish-god of the Philistines and Babylonians. How easily we forget the Babylonian roots of the Romish Church! For Rome, its empire and its flattering titles, were born under the Old Law, the Old Testament, and so must necessarily be antichrist (against the fulfillment of the New Law towards the Old).

“"The miter is derived directly from the miters of the ancient pagan fish-god Dagon and the goddess Cybele. THE PAPAL MITER REPRESENTS THE HEAD OF DAGON with an open mouth, which is the reason for the pointed shape and split top."

—Ruben Joseph, excerpted from: ‘Why Are The Young People Leaving The Church’

“In their veneration and worship of Dagon, the high priest of paganism would actually put on a garment that had been created from a huge fish… The head of the fish formed a mitre above that of the old man, while its scaly, fan-like tail fell as a cloak behind, leaving the human limbs and feet exposed.”

—Austen Henry Layard, excerpt from: ‘Nineveh and Babylon’

“The most prominent form of worship IN BABYLON was dedicated to Dagon, later known as Ichthys, or the fish. In Chaldean times, THE HEAD OF THE CHURCH WAS THE REPRESENTATIVE OF DAGON, he was considered to be INFALLIBLE, and was addressed as ‘YOUR HOLINESS’. NATIONS SUBDUED BY BABYLON HAD TO KISS THE RING AND SLIPPER OF THE BABYLONIAN GOD-KING. The same powers and the same titles are claimed to this day by the Dalai Lama of Buddhism, and the Pope. Moreover, the vestments of paganism, the fish mitre and robes of the priests of Dagon ARE WORN BY THE CATHOLIC BISHOPS, CARDINALS AND POPES. Ea Enki, who is a God of Sumerian (Enki) and Babylonian (Ea) mythology... WAS A WATER GOD who was half man, half fish hybrid. In Greek mythology, Ea was known as Oannes...It is believed that, in the daytime, this deity would emerge from the water and WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR TEACHING ART, SCIENCE AND WRITING TO THE HUMAN RACE.”

—Mary E. Walsh, excerpt from: 'Wine of Roman Babylon'

“At first they led a somewhat wretched existence and lived without rule after the manner of beasts. But, in the first year AFTER THE FLOOD appeared an animal endowed with HUMAN REASON, named Oannes, who rose from out of the Erythian Sea, at the point where it borders Babylonia. He had the whole body of a fish, but above his fish's head he had another head which was that of a man, and human feet emerged from beneath his fish's tail. HE HAD A HUMAN VOICE, AND AN IMAGE OF HIM IS PRESERVED UNTO THIS DAY. He passed the day in the midst of men without taking food; he taught them the use of LETTERS, SCIENCES AND ARTS OF ALL KINDS. He taught them to construct CITIES, to found TEMPLES, to compile LAWS, and explained to them the PRINCIPLES OF GEOMETRICAL KNOWLEDGE. He made them distinguish the seeds of the earth, and showed them how to collect the fruits; in short he instructed them in everything which could tend TO SOFTEN HUMAN MANNERS AND HUMANIZE THEIR LAWS.

From that time nothing material has been added by way of improvement to his instructions. And when the sun set, this being Oannes, retired again into the sea, for he was amphibious."

—Writings of Berossus, a 3rd century Babylonian priest

“The Masons hold their grand festival on the day of St. John, NOT KNOWING that therein they merely signify the fish-god Oannes, the first Hermes and THE FIRST FOUNDER OF THE MYSTERIES, THE FIRST MESSENGER TO WHOM THE APOCALYPSE WAS GIVEN, and whom they ignorantly confound with the fabulous author of the common Apocalypse. The sun is then (midsummer day) in its greatest altitude. In this the Naros is commemorated.”

—'Book of Enoch' (vol. ii., p. 514), as quoted from: 'Encyclopedia of Freemasonry and its Kindred Sciences,' by Albert C. Mackey

As the author has chosen to include no images within this work, it is recommended that the reader search out this information in order to verify these strange Mysteries, so that they are no longer hidden under the rose of religious ceremony and the flattering, pampas, and extravagantly misunderstood robes of that fishy papal incorporation.

The scriptures tell us to take no other gods before the self-Existing and Permanent One, before that of Jehovah. For to take a god requires an oath and fealty to that god and its false law. It’s this requirement and need for a contractual, voluntary surety that is how we shall know that which is false, for we are told to take no oaths, making only vows (promises) between ourselves and our Nature (Creator), and thus being judged only ultimately by our Maker. This is the only True Freedom, when Jehovah is the only True and recognized Sovereign, and we are again a Living part of Its Nature and Law. In other words, True Freedom happens only when we stop acting unnaturally, lying to ourselves, and pretending that we are some fictional person or thing we are not in a place that doesn’t actually Exist.

In the scriptures, another word for oath is said to be a sacredly held curse. And we sign our contracts in cursive (cursed) writing.

“An oath has in it three component parts, — truth, justice, and judgment; TRUTH IN THE PARTY SWEARING; justice and judgment IN THE JUDGE ADMINISTERING the oath.”

— Sacramentum habet in se tres comites,—veritatem, justitiam, et judicium; veritas habenda est in jurato; justitia et justicium in judice. 3 Inst. 160. (Black1)

“A FOOLISH OATH, though FALSE, makes not perjury.”

— Sacramentum si fatuum fuerit, licet falsum, tamen non committit perjurium. 2 Inst. 167. (Black1)

“...and love no false oath...”

— Zechariah 8:17, KJB

— Samuel Butler (1612-1680), Hudibras

The judge takes no oath to you, the fool. Only you must tell the legal brand of truth, not the judge. The oath you take to whatever inanimate object’s name is invoked (e.g., flag, constitution, etc.), solidifies that fiction-of-law “judge” as magistrate (god), causing its opinion (confirmed lie) about fiction and its law to become infallible truth.

Choice, in other words, be not foolish in the eyes of the law, for the law only lures fools to its false flames of justice. Man is free to take any oath, and even the Bible admits to this. But he is also responsible for the consequences and bound by his foolish actions thereof. The Bible Law only

Pontiff Francis AND HIS LEGITIMATE SUCCESSORS, and also dedicate myself to them with all my strength, sacrificing if necessary also my life to defend them. I assume this same commitment with regard to the Sacred College of Cardinals whenever the SEE is vacant.
Furthermore I promise to the Commanding Captain and my other superiors, respect, fidelity and obedience. This I swear! May God and our Holy Patrons assist me!”

—Oath of the Swiss Guard to the Pope (to the perpetual Corporation of the Crown)

When the See of the water god is vacant due to the death of the man acting in the office of pope, the board of directors or “Sacred College” takes over the corporation in the interim, and so the oath must include that secular body politic until their vote for a new man-pope is revealed by a ceremonial smoke signal.

God is always invoked in every oath, yet no oath is ever to Jehovah, only to the replacement gods and magistrates of the artful world; the vicars. God needs no oaths from men, only duty to Its Law, which of course tells us to take no such foolish oaths. But there is no oath to Jehovah at all in the Bible, it’s just a given, and even one of the Ten Commandments! One only need take an oath to that which is false, for the oath requires the subject to act falsely in a fealty against his own Nature and God (Law). A Life Lived in Nature and by Its Laws would not be furthered by any oath in any way.
Jehovah respects no oath any more than the false Nature of the oath keeper or the artifice to which that oath is taken, for an oath is always, without exception opposed to God’s Nature and Law. An oath can only ever take man away from God (Reality) and into fiction, and it can only ever be in respect of the flag, seal, and other symbolic idolatry of false gods. An oath also falls under the doctrine of master and servant, as an act of volunteerism. No oath is ever forced upon any man, for such involuntary force equates to legal illegitimacy. It is always a choice, generally accompanied by a unilateral contract with the devils that created that oath. This fact is generally stated as part of the written oath, as, I take this oath freely, in good conscious, and without coercion…

Man is considered as mere animal (without soul) while he animates a non-spiritual, fictional persona and its flattering titles, which in its national (birthed) form requires the abandonment of God’s Law and any substance of Nature through an oath of allegiance. The man is no longer considered as Living, only as a dead pledge. To be Truly Alive is to be born again into the purity of Nature, which only means to come back into the full Supremacy of Permanent Being of Jehovah with absolutely no respect to persons or other artifices, including those personages of the church and state and their false promises (vows) via legal oath. To be born again is only to revert to our Original state of Being in Nature. But being merely alive is not enough, for any low animal is alive.
Reason must accompany the man in his spiritually Alive endeavors. The Highest Moral, Natural Law must guide his choices and defeat any adversarial causalities and stumbling blocks thrown in his narrow Path. A man alive but without reason and knowledge will surely be governed by other men who seek to make him contractually a legally dead animal — a beast of burden.

But what is the essence of the regenerate man, as compared to the spiritually dead character of humanity? Can a man actually be a human (Adam), or is this just another trick of magical spellings of the false gods (re-creators)?

CREATURE OF REASON – MAN. (Ballentine's Legal Dictionary, 3rd Edition - Slate v Jones, 1 Miss (Walk) 83, 85.).

In law, man is by default not automatically considered as an animal (soulless). Man’s rationality (reason) separates him from the beasts in this way. It is his marks and outward signs that cause him to be considered as more or less than he is (I Am), and by the actions taken by the man in consideration of that fictional law, as that which is impressed upon his imaginations. But man’s law is not a protection in this regard, for we know that the principles (maxims) of law certainly and without question allow for man’s fall, just as God does. It’s all voluntary.

—ancient Latin proverb, as errare humum est

---

“To err is humane, to forgive, divine.”

—Alexander Pope, English poet, from his poem ‘An Essay on Criticism,’ Part II (1711). At the time, humane was the common spelling used for the word humane.
Man in his spiritual substance is an Act of God, thus man is an Act of perfection. He is born into Nature already for-given (Divine/without sin). We are all born innocent (without words, without syn), but the pirates and their agents are ever lurking, seeking to plug us into the commercial artifice every chance they get, for their bounty for every spiritual death they impersonate into bondage, for every strawman after-birthed and delivered, is paid in mammon.

When man errs against God’s Law, this is an act of the sophist in hu-manity. Legal and ecclesiastical systems are always of human nature (in err), not of the Perfection of God’s Nature (Divine), for they are only creations of man’s invention of re-creation, not of the Source of Nature.

To name any man as a person (legal identity) so as to accuse him of a legal (Þctional) crime is to cause err upon that man, to throw a stumbling block in his path, while to ambiguously forgive that same man is to treat him Divinely, as part of the Oneness of Jehovah. This is True Love.

ERR - verb intransitive - [Latin erro.]. 1. TO WANDER FROM THE RIGHT WAY; TO DEVIATE FROM THE TRUE COURSE OR PURPOSE. But errs not nature from this gracious end, From burning suns when livid deaths descended? 2. TO MISS THE RIGHT WAY, IN MORALS OR RELIGION; TO DEVIATE FROM THE PATH OR LINE OF DUTY; TO STRAY BY DESIGN OR MISTAKE. We have erred and strayed like lost sheep. 3. To mistake; to commit error; TO DO WRONG FROM IGNORANCE OR INATTENTION. Men err in judgment from ignorance, from want of attention to facts, or from previous bias of mind. 4. To wander; to ramble. A storm of strokes, well meant, with fury ßies, And errs about their temples, ears, and eyes. (Webs1828)

Remember that to act Divinely may mean under the Law of Jehovah or under the licensed anarchy of false gods or anything that is deïded to be falsely divine. One may consider Lucifer (darkness) as the divine light. Divination is the action (verb) of heathens, while the doing of works Divinely (adjective) is to express the Word and will (Testament) of God through christ’s example. For this no reward of the ßesh is gained, nor would it be expected for Purely Loving, spiritual acts. True Divineness is not a bargain, but a gift. And it is when all of a man’s Life is dedicated to giving that the Law is fulïled. Forgiveness is perhaps the most Divine of all negative Law actions, for all things artful and of deceit require accusation and positive feedback toward the legal matrix. Absolute forgiveness is a prerequisite for Natural Freedom under God’s Law. We can hold onto nothing of their artificially created world of terms and laws, offering no respect of persons, places or things by our vengeful desires for false, legal justice by them. The legal system is a beast that feeds off of such hatred and accusatory error. Its magic and authority is only invoked when its patented words (names) are summoned to appear. However, the state may have no power if no man is charged to be its person (status/property) or with its crime. These are positive actions, requiring infinitely more effort and energy than the negative actions of Loving forgiveness, of non-trivial pursuit. We must rise above such trißing, vulgar, public exhibitions, for our only reward there can be in mammon, causing our ßnancial debt to rise and our spiritual death to strengthen and subsist.

EXHIBITION - noun - [Latin exhibitio.] The act of exhibiting for inspection; a showing or presenting to view; display. 1. THE OFFERING, PRODUCING OR SHOWING OF TITLES, AUTHORITIES OR PAPERS OF ANY KIND BEFORE A TRIBUNAL, IN PROOF OF FACTS. 2. PUBLIC SHOW, REPRESENTATION of feats or actions in public; display of oratory in public; any public show. 3. Allowance of meat and drink; pension; salary; benefaction settled for the maintenance of scholars in universities, not depending on the foundation. 4. Payment; recompense. (Webs1828)

EXHIBERE - TO PRESENT A THING CORPOREALLY, SO THAT IT MAY BE HANDLED, TO APPEAR PERSONALLY TO CONDUCT THE DEFENSE OF AN ACTION AT LAW. (Black4)

our promise, is to God and God alone. All else, as whatever may distract you from the path, is only artifical, and vengeance is the act of a madman. One must not deviate from one's own path merely to love thy enemy through forgiveness is the brightest Light upon that narrowly righteous path of any man. Only by one's respect of persons may one become a debtor under some devilish contract. Out the mask of surety to some government personhood (property), no charge may be applied to merely government extortion (taxation) of its own property (citizenships in persona/status). With-constantly charged with crimes in fiction, if the persons of men were not respected as the scriptures of God. The system simply cannot continue if no action is brought to court, if no one was being over and over instruct. No persons, no organized crime (government). For organized crime is never submitted. We are answerable for them to our God. The legitimate powers of government extend to such acts only as injurious to others.

“OUR RULERS CAN HAVE NO AUTHORITY OVER NATURAL RIGHTS, ONLY AS WE HAVE SUBMITTED TO THEM. THE RIGHTS OF CONSCIENCE WE NEVER SUBMITTED. WE ARE ANSWERABLE FOR THEM TO OUR GOD. THE LEGITIMATE POWERS OF GOVERNMENT EXTEND TO SUCH ACTS ONLY AS INJURIOUS TO OTHERS.”

—Thomas Jefferson
There can be no injury to “persons” or “property” if these artificial constructs of fiction are never invoked. The privateers of the States stay private by avoiding such public methodologies, and retain the negative protections written in the constitution only because they have not waived or given up any of their Natural Rights to that nation/district they created. We must always remember that to take any benefit of legal personhood and usufruct in property from the state, we are required to submit to the state under implied contract our ability to claim Natural Rights against it’s artificial person (body politic). For we cannot have two masters. Do you not see that only through Loving Forgiveness without the impossible to quench lust and desire for money can we set each other free from this legal matrix? It is a moral test, and we are failing it miserably as the courts are overloaded with persons suing persons, invoking each others bond and mark of surety with every commercial action we take. We are dragging down and keeping each other in the administrative system of this debtor’s hell.

And so when man seeks forgiveness from men acting as imperfect gods (judges), which is due to an error by his purely humanistic actions, this act of forgiveness, that is, to pretend “to forgive” legally or ecclesiastically, is an act of artificial, magical, nonspiritual divination by those false magistrate gods. Magicians deal only in illusion, never in the Real. Of course, a legal god can only forgive a legal person (fiction) in legal action, as that which only exists in false name and title. A man’s crimes against Nature, against what is Real, are only ever his own, for Jehovah respects no persons, titles, or other proprietary words of men, and does not recognize any man’s invisible hiding places (jurisdictions). The legal fiction of kingdoms can only forgive on paper (with proprietary, unnatural words). The soul is never cleansed through the black moo-moo’d opinionated judgement of administrative law. A judge, similarly to the character of christ, is a personification of the legal law. A “judge” (flattering legal title) is never a Real man, and so never a man of God. No Truth Exists in any “judge” (false god).

We do not get away with crimes in God’s eyes. We are not pardoned for our crimes under God. We cannot have our crimes or sins removed from our soul (permanent spiritual record) as they can be magically removed (erased) from the temporary legal registrar’s records of our fictional person, which doesn’t really Exist in Nature. They are a permanent stain upon our soul, and no legal judge may alter, forgive, pardon, or abate that Truth. Only in the legal realm can crimes be overlooked, pardoned, remitted, licensed, or legally pretended to be forgiven. But the soul is never cleansed of the crime, only the record of the artificial person, which carries no weight in God’s Realm of self-Existence. There is no excuse before God in Nature, for under that Highest Law of Nature man is always responsible for his own actions. God is certainly no apologist for Its own Creation, Its own Self-Existence! And the church certainly has no power to pardon your sins, even while it pretends to be God by using Its Name in blasphemy.

However, the man that can be made to believe that the fictional church and state can and will forgive his sinful actions is the most dangerous man alive. It is more frightening to consider that perhaps this is the most common of men alive today as well, who hide behind the cross, the Star of David (Seal of Solomon), or some other religious or legal symbology while wrapping themselves in the armor of their national flag in justification for all possible crimes. Sounds strangely enough like the typical American...

A pardon can only be received by a legal person (property of the state), bestowed upon the name or flattering title of a man acting in the agency and legal capacity of personhood and in receivership. Not only is the crime a sin, but the pardon for the crime just as sinful (syn-thetic). Temporal forgiveness merely causes an inducement for future crimes, a license to sin, which is the blueprint of how the church and state operate. A sovereign always forgives and makes divine (perfect) its own crimes.

FORGIVE - verb transitive - Forgiv', preterit tense forgave; participle passive forgiven. [Latin remitto. See Give.] 1. TO PARDON; TO REMIT, as an offense or DEBT; TO OVERLOOK AN OFFENSE, and treat the offender as not guilty. The original and proper phrase is to forgive the offense, TO SEND IT AWAY, to reject it, that is, NOT TO IMPUTE IT [PUT IT TO] THE OFFENDER. But by an easy transition, we also use the phrase, to forgive the PERSON offending. Forgive us our debts. If we forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly father will also forgive you. Matthew 6:12. AS SAVAGES NEVER FORGET A FAVOR, SO THEY NEVER FORGIVE AN INJURY. It is to be noted that pardon, like forgive may be followed by the name or person, and by the offense; but remit can be followed by the offense only. WE FORGIVE OR PARDON THE MAN, BUT WE DO NOT REMIT HIM. 2. To remit as a debt, fine or penalty. (Webs1828)

PARDON - verb transitive - [Latin per and dono, to give; per having the sense of the English for forgive, and re in Latin remitto, properly to give back or away.] 1. TO FORGIVE; TO REMIT, as an offense or crime. GUILT IMPLIES A BEING BOUND OR SUBJECTED TO CENSURE, PENALTY OR PUNISHMENT. TO PARDON IS TO GIVE UP THIS OBLIGATION, and release the offender. WE APPLY THE WORD TO THE CRIME OR TO THE PERSON. We pardon an offense, when WE REMOVE IT FROM THE OFFENDER and consider him as not guilty; we pardon the offender, when we release or absolve him from his liability to suffer punishment. I pray thee, pardon my sin. 1 Samuel 15:25. 2. To remit, as a penalty. I pardon thee thy life before thou ask it. 3. TO EXCUSE, as for a fault. 4. Pardon me, is a phrase used when one asks for excuse, or makes an APOLOGY, and it is often used in this sense, WHEN A PERSON MEANS CIVILLY TO DENY OR CONTRADICT WHAT ANOTHER AFFIRMS. - noun - Forgiveness; the release of an offense or of the obligation of the offender TO SUFFER A PENALTY, or to bear the displeasure of the offended party. We seek the pardon of sins, transgressions and offenses. 1. REMISSION OF A PENALTY. An amnesty is a general pardon. 2. Forgiveness received. (Webs1828)

REMIT - verb transitive - [Latin remitto, to send back, re and mitto, to send.] 1. To relax, as intensity; to make less tense or violent. So willingly doth God remit his ire. 2. To forgive: TO SURRENDER THE RIGHT OF PUNISHING A CRIME; AS, TO REMIT PUNISHMENT. 3. To pardon, as a fault or crime. WHOSE SOEVER SINS YE REMIT THEY ARE REMITTED TO THEM. John 20:23. 4. TO GIVE UP; to resign. In grievous and inhuman crimes, offenders should be remitted to their prince. 5. To refer; as a clause that remitted all to the bishop's discretion. 6. To send back. The pris'ner was remitted to the guard. 7. TO TRANSMIT MONEY, bills or other thing in payment for goods received. American merchants remit money, bills of exchange or some species of stock, in payment for British goods. 8. TO RESTORE. In this case, the law remits him to his ancient and more certain right. - verb intransitive - 1. To slacken; to become less intense or rigorous. When our passions remit the vehemence of our speech remits too. So we say, cold or heat remits. 2. To abate in violence for a time, without intermission; as, a fever remits at a certain hour every day. (Webs1828)

So what is the difference between legal forgiveness and legal remittance?

A legal entity, as a judge (attorney), may only ever legally forgive a legal debt, and this implies that such a debt was attached before any so-called legal crime was committed. Fiction, in other words, may only forgive its own fictions. This is the nature of a performance debtor (citizenship). We must reconsider the original sin; the legal birth process. For a man is guilty by association to the nation of which he is born into and acts within commercially. That ethnic or “ancestral” sin cannot be forgiven in such forums. The original sin is what allows the judge (false god) to have the power to forgive legal sins in the first place. But the original sin (personhood) is never surrendered. The man in persona (legal, artful mask) remains a debtor to the state in contractual sin despite the state’s forgiveness for his committed sins. A debtor in debtor’s hell never leaves hell until he remits himself of that original sin. This is the fate of man’s acceptance of that artificial life lived under a legal person-hood; an admission (admit) of spiritual death. To forgive is to remove the charge of any crime from the person, and thus the man (agent) of that persona. To remit is only to forgive or pardon the punishment, not the crime. The spirit must forgive all, lest its desire for vengeance or compensation in mammon overwhelm the spirit and cause us to fall back into legal (anti-God) law, which requires the embracement of its false magistrates (gods). This harms us as complainant (exhibitant) just as much as it does he who is exhibited as the defendant. We both are caused to fall into fiction to solve non-existent (legal) crimes by non-existent (legal) remedies.

The mere act of stating one’s surname for the record of the court as a general “appearance” is an admission of guilt towards one’s already felonious, legal existence in persona (fiction). When one admits the big lie (to acting in the agency of a districted persona, not as a man of God), one’s charge of spiritual death (civil life) is clearly established as a confirmed and unavoidable legal truth, and it becomes self-evident that one’s discharge ( exoneration) from that state of dead being (noun) may only be obtained through the exoneration of fiction and reclamation of a spiritual Life. One must be reborn into one’s Source as a spiritual man without legal title in surety and personhood for another. One must choose one’s Law and have obedience only towards that election of Its God (Law-maker /Creator) alone as Highest.

ADMIT - verb transitive - [Latin admitto, from ad and mitto, to send.] 1. To suffer to enter; to grant entrance: whether into a place, or an office, or into the mind, or consideration; as to admit a student into college; to admit a serious thought into the mind. 2. TO GIVE RIGHT of entrance: as, a ticket admits one into a play house. 3. To allow; TO RECEIVE AS TRUE: as, the argument or FACT IS ADMITTED. 4. TO PERMIT, GRANT OR ALLOW, OR TO BE CAPABLE OF: as, the words do not admit of such a construction. In this sense, of may be used after the verb, or omitted. (Webs1828)

ABSOLVE - verb transitive - Abzolv’, [Latin absolvere, from ab and solvo, to loose or release; to absolve to finish; Hebrew to loose or loosen. See Solve.] TO SET FREE OR RELEASE FROM SOME OBLIGATION, DEBT OR RESPONSIBILITY; OR FROM THAT WHICH SUBJECTS A PERSON TO A BURDEN OR PENALTY; as to absolve a person FROM A PROMISE; to absolve an offender, which amounts to an acquittal and remission of his punishment. Hence, in the civil law, the word was used for acquit; and in the canon law, for FORGIVE, or a sentence of remission. In ordinary language, its sense is TO SET FREE OR RELEASE FROM AN ENGAGEMENT. Formerly, good writers used the word in the sense of FINISH, ACCOMPLISH; as to absolve work, in Milton; but in this sense, it seems to be obsolete. (Webs1828)

EXONERATE - To relieve, to exculpate. (Black4)

EXONERATION - THE REMOVAL OF A BURDEN, CHARGE, OR DUTY. Particularly, THE ACT OF RELIEVING A PERSON OR ESTATE FROM A CHARGE OR LIABILITY by casting the same upon another person or estate. A right or equity which exists between those who are successively liable for the same debt. A surety who discharges an obligation is entitled to look to the principal for reimbursement, and to invoke the aid of a court of equity for this purpose, and a subsequent surety who, by the terms of the contract, is responsible only in case of the default of the principal and a prior surety, MAY CLAIM EXONERATION AT THE HANDS OF EITHER, “A right to have a fund applied to payment of guaranteed claims. The right which a PERSON has who has been compelled to pay what another should be forced to pay in full. (Black4) his praise; as divine SERVICE; divine songs; divine worship. - noun - 1. A MINISTER of the gospel; A PRIEST; A CLERGYMAN. CONJECTURER - noun - One who guesses: a guesser: ONE WHO FORMS OR UTTERS AN OPINION WITHOUT PROOF. (Webs1828)

VANITY - noun - [Latin vanitas, from vanus, vain.] 1. EMPTINESS; WANT OF SUBSTANCE to satisfy desire: uncertainty; vanity. Vanity of vanities, said the preacher; all is vanity. Ecclesiastes 1:2. 2. Fruitless desire or endeavor. VANITY POSSESSETH MANY WHO ARE DESIRIOUS TO KNOW THE CERTAINTY OF THINGS TO COME. 3. TRIVIAL LABOR THAT PRODUCES NO GOOD. 4. Emptiness; UNTRUTH. Here I may well show the vanity of what is reported in the story of Walsingham. 5. Empty pleasure; vain pursuit; IDLE SHOW; UNSUBSTANTIAL ENJOYMENT; Sin with vanity had fill’d the works of men. Think not when woman’s transient breath is fled, that all her vanities at once are dead; succeeding vanities she still regards. 6. Ostentation; ARROGANCE. 7. INFLATION OF MIND upon slight grounds: EMPTY PRIDE, INSPIRED BY AN OVERWEENING CONCEIT OF ONE’S PERSONAL ATTAINMENTS OR DECORATIONS. Fops cannot be cured of their vanity. VANITY IS THE FOOD OF FOOLS. No man sympathizes with the sorrows of vanity. (Webs1828)

Vanity is but a fruit plucked and eaten from that forbidden tree of knowledge (vain concepts). When we look in the mirror and we believe (love) that what we see is the Real world, then we are hopelessly lost in fiction. This is allegorical to all that exists as the legal realm without (outside of) God, as that which exists without substance. Amazingly, to contemplate a Life without (outside of) God is indeed paradoxical, as that which is impossible; an existence somehow without (outside of) Existence. We may deny Jehovah (self-Existence) and Its Law in our mind, but in no way may we ever actually be without (outside of) Jehovah. We are It and It is us. Systems of control rely solely on the power to pretend that True Existence is possible without (outside of) God. It is not. But belief (love) in such artifice as utter Self-deceit as to the obvious Truth and Law of Life… this is the key to the circular legal matrix of government.

It is important to note that divinity is not a concept of God (Nature). For Jehovah is self-Evident as all of the Permanence of Being in Nature, needing not the vain want or desire to prove to man Its obvious Existence. Thus the behavior of men towards their religious entrainments, their religions, and their tone and way of speaking, has nothing to do with Jehovah. These are but the learned behaviors and ceremonies of men, and in general are only the worship of idols. The behaviors of these church-goers, from the dogmatic swaying prayers of the Jews to the bow-on-the-knees Muslim to the Southern Baptist cat-callers that yell “hallelujah” or “praise the lord” after every catchphrase their deified reverend makes, has absolutely nothing to do with True spirituality in Harmony with Nature, with Jehovah and Its Law, or with Jesus christ. This is the foolishness and vain custom of corporate religion and nothing else, for none of these actors are following the Word (Law/Son) of God. It takes not a special language or way of acting in a mask (persona), it just requires the Law to be followed and the Truth to always be told and worshiped above all else!

But for this, these pretenders must obtain knowledge of the Law from the scriptures. Now how is that going to happen when all they listen to week after week is a bunch of virtual car-salesmen peddling to them the false-salvation of mammon and the legal law of the land (judicial opinion)?

Only man has use for the art and practice of divinity, for only men need prove themselves to be gods over other men. Nature in and of Itself never requires proof of its self-evidence of Existence as part of God, nor does it contain any ego that it would need such proofs. The divinity of man, as a purely legal (i.e., ecclesiastical) status, is a wholly unnatural conceit; a vanity of the ages passed on to each new generation of empty souls under jeweled crowns.

If a king (sovereign) Truly ruled under this notion of the divine Nature of God and under the teachings of christ, then a king would only exist to serve and ensure that the Law of God is followed above all else. The king would have no riches or wealth or holdings of land for rents. The king would endorse no artifice or other statute. The king would practice no judgement and never suffer of vanity. And the king by necessity of God’s Law would outlaw all legal laws, ideas, and other things of artifice. In this way, the idea of man as king (God incarnate) is at best the dreamful state of a glorified but ultimately false-presentation of a history to justify current and future kings, and at worse fairly close to what we have in “existence” today.

But in our modern times, there is no “religious test” for kings and presidents, and the US constitution states clearly that no religious (moral) test shall be required for political (legal) office. After all, half of congressmen are already devils (attorneys)! Kings are not chosen by their devotion to the divinity of Jehovah, but need only show bloodline relation to inherit that political (legal) office by their own false, fabled divinity as an accident of birth. And so we should rather expect that a legally considered king would act in a strict legal capacity, that is, as a man opposed to the very God he claims as his divine right to rule. This paradox is so very difficult to comprehend, and yet is foretold straight from the Bible, speaking disparagingly of these diviners of false law and faith (contractual, artificial trust).

Of all the puzzles presented by christ in the scriptural parables, it was perhaps this single utterance that stands truly unchallenged by all men seeking power through such false divinity. And so I repeat it here:

“...He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.”

—John 8: 7, KJB

By this precedent, would not a king be held to the same standards? Would not a lawmaker’s own law need be lawful under God’s Law before casting any ballot of opinion on legal matters, which would mean he must absolutely abolish all of his legal (artificial) considerations and judgements in line of Nature and Its undeniable Law? Would not a judge need to surrender in good conscious his bench in tenure by the very legal (false) name, flattering title, and authority he so proclaims in sin against God to respect and judge other men’s persons and cast such artful, pretended stumbling blocks (stones) before all who stand to be barred before his false magistracy?

Whom among us all could possibly rule by the stone (judgement) if rule by such legal laws requires abandoning God’s Law? Truly, what fictional person could possibly stand in anything but the state’s predefined doom? What debtor could possibly judge anything with integrity when he himself exists only in the false appearance and illusionary protections of contracted sin?

Of course, the Strong’s Lexicon entry for the word stone is #G3037 - λίθος (lithos), and is meant as a figurative term that, while it can referentially mean small and large stones, is a metaphor to such spiritual building stones.

“…of building stones; metaphor of christ: one whose words, acts, end, men (so stumble at) take such offense at, that they reject him and thus bring upon themselves ruin (so stumbling stones)… of Christians: LIVING STONES, OF WHICH THE TEMPLE OF GOD IS BUILT (1 Peter 2); of the truths with which, as with building materials. A TEACHER BUILDS CHRISTIANS UP IN WISDOM, costly stones (1 Corinthians 3: 12). Of precious stones, gems: stones cut in certain form: stone tablets (engraved with letters), statues of idols (Acts 17: 22; Ezekiel 20: 32).”

How difficult it is to consider our own words and actions as only the stumbling stones of others and even to ourselves, that we should cast our own opinions and judgements upon another based on fiction instead of teaching the wisdom of scripture with forgiveness, love, and devotion even to our enemies. These harsh words, especially the strict legal law as expressed in its dog-Latin foundation, are indeed the heaviest stones of all.

“They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. THE HEADS THEREOF JUDGE FOR REWARD, AND THE PRIESTS THEREOF TEACH FOR HIRE, AND THE PROPHETS THEREOF DIVINE FOR MONEY YET WILL THEY LEAN UPON THE LORD, and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evil can come upon us. Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest.”

—Micah 3: 9-12, KJB

“They have seen vanity and LYING DIVINATION, saying, The LORD saith: and the LORD hath not sent them: AND THEY HAVE MADE OTHERS TO HOPE THAT THEY WOULD CONFIRM THE WORD. Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken A LYING DIVINATION, whereas ye say, The LORD saith it; albeit I have not spoken? Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD. And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that DIVINE LIES: THEY SHALL NOT BE IN THE ASSEMBLY OF MY PEOPLE, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.”

—Ezekiel 13: 6-9, KJB

“And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lies? ...Because with lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad; AND STRENGTHENED THE HANDS OF THE WICKED, THAT HE SHOULD NOT RETURN FROM HIS WICKED WAY, BY PROMISING HIM LIFE: Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, NOR DIVINE DIVINATIONS: for I will deliver my people out of your hand: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.”

—Ezekiel 13: 19, and 22-23, KJB

“Whiles they see vanity unto thee, WHILES THEY DIVINE A LIE UNTO THEE, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked, whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end. Shall I cause it to return into his sheath? I WILL JUDGE THEE IN THE PLACE WHERE THOU WAST CREATED, IN THE LAND OF THY NATIVITY. And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, AND DELIVER THEE INTO THE HAND OF BRUTISH MEN, AND SKILLFUL TO DESTROY.”

—Ezekiel 21: 29-31, KJB

“Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the KNOWLEDGE of God, and of Jesus our Lord, According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto LIFE and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue: Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: THAT BY THESE YE MIGHT BE PARTAKERS OF THE DIVINE NATURE, HAVING ESCAPED THE CORRUPTION THAT IS IN THE WORLD through lust. And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; And to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness CHARITY. FOR IF THESE THINGS BE IN YOU, AND ABOUND, THEY MAKE YOU THAT YE SHALL NEITHER BE BARREN NOR UNFRUITFUL IN THE KNOWLEDGE OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST. BUT HE THAT LACKETH THESE THINGS IS BLIND, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins. Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to MAKE YOUR CALLING AND ELECTION SURE: for if ye do these things, YE SHALL NEVER FALL: For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.”

—2 Peter 1: 3-9, KJB

“When thou art come into the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, THOU SHALT NOT LEARN TO DO AFTER THE ABOMINATIONS OF THOSE NATIONS. There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, OR THAT USETH DIVINATION, OR AN OBSERVER OF TIMES, or an enchanter, or a witch, or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, OR A NECROMANCER. For all that do these things are an abomination unto the LORD: and because of these abominations the LORD thy God doth drive them out from before thee. Thou shalt be perfect with the LORD thy God. FOR THESE NATIONS, WHICH THOU SHALT POSSESS, HEARKENED UNTO OBSERVERS OF TIMES, AND UNTO DIVINERS: but as for thee, the LORD thy God hath not suffered thee so to do.”

—Deuteronomy 18: 9-14, KJB

“To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and INHERITANCE among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.”

—Acts 26:18, KJB
“And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of LIGHT.”

—2 Corinthians 11:14, KJB

The scriptures warn that it is certain most men will be deceived by all the many artifices and adversaries we have seen manifest in these modern technological (artful) times. After reading this, will you continue to admit to being a dead human, destined to receive with pride the permanent mark of that vain, legal id-entity, or would you like to learn how to be considered only as a Living and spiritual man under the Permanent Being of God by that legal realm and its agents in non-fiction? The Bible is totally and utterly against legal law, personhood, citizenship, titles, oaths, debt, money, surety, and any other legal concepts only known to and created by man. It's against the organized church (for each man alone is the temple) and against the organized state (for God’s Law alone should be followed). Does this surprise you, or have you just never actually read and defined these terms that are the negative foundation of all Law?

You can read the scriptures in condemnation and demonize them, if only because the corporate church, state, and counter-culture promotes this, using them instead as an utterly fallacious appeal to its own authority, or you can read the Bible and understand its words despite such fiction, applying its teachings in and as the Highest and only Law. As the scriptures and the legal state make clear, this is our voluntary choice and our election must be sure. And that’s exactly where we all stand, with a choice between legal mammon (money) or the Natural Law (Love).

I will however tell you one thing about this book of scriptural knowledge… it is the most subversive book you will ever read, if you will only learn its language and discover the True intent and meaning of every word presented. Webster’s 1828 dictionary stands as a big help and reference with this task. We are surrounded by that which is subversive to God and destructive of Its Nature and Design, for this is the essence and purpose of church and state. The subversiveness I speak of is that which is subversive to almost every aspect of our pretended lives in this legal hell, to that which enslaves us. It offers heaven on Earth, which subverts the hell we are thrown into by our own events and scenes of nativity. One thing is for sure, punk rock music, earrings and tattoos, drugs, and political action groups are not a salvation, for these are only the tools of the idiocracy designed and allowed not to change the system, but to distract and keep us all in it. Protests and petitions (nouns) are not a solution, and are seen as merely the whines of helplessly ignorant slaves who think they own the plantation they are peopled upon despite their obvious chains to it. Sadly, the legal “Christian” church falls into the same category, serving up the false hope of pagan divinity in false prophets. A slave goes to church. But a man of God is the church, his body the temple, his mind the weapon, his soul Alive.

Or you can just poop on it all in the pure bliss of the arrogance of ignorance in mammon. It is your choice. No one will force you to do anything against your will, for this is a foundational Law that even they follow. And this fact is why the realization that our submission to them is a voluntary, contractual, voidable relationship is so crucial to comprehend. And also that inversely, our relationship to Jehovah is as permanent as Its Law, no matter what we do to pretend otherwise. For Jehovah is (defined as) the very essence and Existence of all Life.

The point is that the legal codes only apply to persons (humans), not to men with visible blood. Personhood is corruption of blood, a purely figurative term confirmed into a false reality by our own actions therein, a spiritual death in civil (artificial) life outside of God’s Nature and Law. Sadly, the fiction and its purely humanistic system is much easier to follow than God’s Law, not in actual practice but through the purposeful diversion and contracted lack of spiritual strength needed to overcome its illusion, for satan (the adversary) appears as the false light even in its utter darkness.
If this is still not clear, let us examine closer this word human, for we all identify ourselves by this term of art.

Hu or Huwa is a name for god in Sufism. Literally, Arabic for “He.” So hu-man can also refer to god-man, as in self-idolatry. Of course a god-man is a creature of the mind, a mental imagery, a phantom, a fiction that does not exist in reality. An idolatry of the self...

Examples illustrating that the word HU equates to the word “god” include Allah HU Akbar, AHUd, YaHUsa (jehovah/YHVH), YesHUa, HUIda, AHUra Mazda, and HUman being (god-man being).

To be clear, Allah Hu is a reference to a god of sufism. To be hu-man is to be a man of the Sufi way. Sufism is the mystical tradition of Islam, involving mysticism and altered (unnatural) states of consciousness. The Sufi influence, importantly, was especially seen in the so-called 60’s and 70’s “drug/love generation,” where the 13th century Mevlana Order’s ritual Sufi dance of turning or spinning in place around a central point (as a pillar of the earth) became popular amongst that CIA-promoted drug culture and music scene. This was the adversarial, near-east counter-cultural invasion into the Christian culture of America. This Sufism dance of the “whirling dervishes” came crashing into American culture, riding the coat-tails of the New Age or One World “religion” movement that infested on a global scale music, art, culture, opinions and lifestyles. This modern Kabbalist cultural intrusion stems entirely within the realm of Jewish, cabalist (Babylonian) mysticism and thought, turning the notion of the Christian Lifestyle and Law into what we see today, often labeled as “Judeo-Christianity,” which is far more concerned with civil ethnicity, symbology, mystery and ceremony than any expression of the teachings of Christ (God’s Word/Law). Popularized in the 1950s, Judeo-Christianity has certainly created a civil, secular-based religion far from its spiritual purpose.

Inayat Kahn’s Sufism was brought to America in the mid 19th century as “The Sufi Order of the West” by his son, Pir Vilayat Kahn, and by an American disciple, Sam Lewis (Sufi Sam), the son of Jewish parents. His father was vice president of Levi Strauss company and his mother was the daughter of Lenore Rothschild of that House and international money-changer family of mammon.

In 1967, after a heart attack, Lewis publicly claimed to hear the voice of God say, “I make you spiritual leader of the hippies.” He was recognized as the Zen master and Sufi murshid (a senior teacher), and founded an order of Christian mysticism called the Holy Order of Mans. He was a co-pioneer of the “green” philosophy and false spirituality, a technocratic pre-cursor to the United Nations “Agenda 21” plan of technocratically governed, global “sustainability.” His role in the CIA’s “counter-culture” scheme helped to spread hu-manism as LSD (a psychotic) and other drug-induced “hippies” slowly dispersed back across America as preachers of the hu-man way. Allah means God. Adding Hu to Allah means God himself, or God present here. Thus hu-manism as a man-as-his-own-god culture was instrumental in deconstructing the Christian culture that once internalized God and institutionalized Its Law as Sovereign. Humanism, like any other false religion, is in its essence counter-christian as a reference to the scriptural teachings. It is not Self-Love under God’s Law, but God as Self (lawlessness before God).

Sufi Sam died in 1971, only having taught three years in the Haight community of San Francisco, but that community afterwards spread and thrived. Wali Ali Meyer, a Jewish Mississippian and follower headed the cult after his death. Sufism has spread across America, disguised as “yoga” and other forms of God-less meditations and cabalist teachings based on sufism. The symbolism that represents sufism is the winged heart, now used many places, with the meaning of flying to God with an open heart, but more specifically with being HU-man (unregenerate). The root of this mystical teaching of Sufism is based on the Sufi interpretation of the Islamic credo: La Ilaha El Allah Hu. The traditional Moslem community popularly interprets this as a declaration of monotheism, as “There is no God but Allah.” But the Sufi doctrine hides this under the notion of absolute unity, as “There is no reality but God.” The now traditional Sufi greeting is Ya Azim, meaning “How wonderfully God manifests to me through you.”
The reader should note the difference here from the christian man of (belonging to) God and the Sufi notion of man is God. The difference appears on the surface as a fine line, but is indeed a deep and dark chasm to fall into, a bottomless pit. It is the difference between I am (no thing) and I am God. This Talmudic influence of Cabalistic thought was part of the Judiazing of Christian America and of the institutions of modern, corporately denominated (in name only) Christianity. How many times today do we hear the lie that Jesus was a “Jew,” though that word never appeared in any of the “original” Bible language texts? A poor translation for Yêhûwâh (Strong’s h3064), as a people (tribe) eventually known as the Israelites (after the Restoration), from the Canaanite line of Judah, Judah being a territory as well. Thus the notion of a Jehudite (i.e., Judeite or Jew), the modernly re-invented secular (national) atheistic “Jew,” whose civil law is the Babylonian Talmud without the Torah, is that of what the Bible declares as the Synagogue of Satan, those who call themselves Jews (as God fearing Israelites) but are not, and whom are certainly adversarial to christ, as “the opponents of our Lord” (—Smith’s Bible Dictionary). But to be clear, the so-called “Christians” of the so-called “Christina nations” are equally without scripture (the moral, New Law of Christ) within the civil law of nations, standing in a purely monetary, commercial intent while suckling the bosom of mammon (the Jew’s favorite, usurious tool). Neither is following the calling of Jehovah, and none of their leaders or peoples can therefore be called as the chosen of God. While the term “Jew” refers to nationality (ethnic identity), specifically to distinguish the Jew from the Gentile, the name of the Jew as a “Hebrew” is confounded upon the Jew due to the language spoken (again, national ethnicity), having nothing to do with the origin of that ancient religious culture or its law, and more specifically to distinguish the nationalistic identity of the Hebrew speaking Jew from the Hellenist — the Greek speaking Jew. The term Israelite, not to be confused with Israel (the illegal, so-called corporate state), is referential to purely religious “Israelites” (People) that were called as the “chosen” or “choice” people. This modernly twisted word comes from ἐκλεκτός eklektós; from Strong’s #G1586, which carries the meaning of the elect. Thus it is a word styled to kings, angels, the “Messiah,” said to be the highest office appointed by God, and other high offices of man’s election. More importantly, it is a word applied to Christians, as the “chosen or elect” of God, the best of show, if you will, who obtain salvation through christ. The word elect is used twice as much as the word chosen in the Bible, and generally refers to those appointed to offices of high election, which are said to be appointments by God. Thus we find all throughout the Bible that the “elect” (eklektós - chosen) shall be deceived. The modern Jewish people is certainly a deceived one, to say the least. We also find that “many will be called (#G2822 - kletons), but few chosen,” (Matthew 22:14), God called the light Day and the darkness Night and the firmament Heaven, and he also calls all men to Live spiritually, as “to be invited (by God in the proclamation of the Gospel) to obtain eternal salvation in the kingdom through Christ; called to (the discharge of) some office, as one divinely selected and appointed.” All men, in other words, are called to follow the Law (Son/Word) of God, while only the elect are chosen. Yet all men choose citizenship to the false gods of nations instead (antichrist). There is no invitation by Jehovah to be bound as bondservants to artificial persons (corporations) that create their own law based on mammon in commerce and without the Word (Law/Son) of God. God does not call on men to become the goyim (subjects) of legalized nations and worldly things.

I’d like to think, for instance, that I have been called to create this voluminous work, but I would never seek to use such a spiritual gift and privilege of expressing the True and foundational Word (Law) to my fellow man as an empty, chosen political title as the false Jews have in these modern times, calling themselves the “chosen people” without Law or works. To believe (love) this figurative word chosen to be a literal one, this is the folly of man. It is the gateway of the ego, of false gods. It is the cause of countless wars, ritualistic genocides, and the sacrificial spill blood of innocents, both man and animal. And it is the reason we are suffering the idea of a new and hopeless world war between three apparently chosen but ultimately false, corporate state religious ideals. In Truth, these are merely wars between three differing systems of man’s legalistic law, where the Law of Nature, of Jehovah, is cast aside for commerce in mammon. We suffer a war of ethnicity, of language barriers kept firmly in place by the false elect (gods) of the nations.
Sufism of the West has spread all over the United States. When the “hippies” left San Francisco and the southern Laurel Canyon drug and music-based scene as that phase of the CIA controlled counterculture ended, those who’d been affected by the influence of sufism (تَصَوُّف, Arabic: التصوف), which is defined as “Islamic mysticism,” or the inward dimension of Islam,” took the sacred (cursed) representational dances and meditative poses with them, under the rubric “Dances of Universal Peace,” and spread them back to their hometowns and country communes. Of course, this influenced much of the Zionist Hollywood media machine, that holy grail of propaganda and corruptive influence over entire generations. And by the 1980’s yoga became all the rage, one of the six major orthodox, metaphysical schools of Hinduism. Stemming from सांख्यa, regarded as an atheistic philosophy not based on reason by many scholars, Yoga at least espouses a “personal god” that lies as an inactive deity. The word सांख्य means empirical or relating to numbers, or what is called as metaphysical knowledge. But make no mistake that metaphysics is not spiritual in any way, but merely a science of man.

METAPHYSICS - noun - s as z. [Gr. after, and physics. It is said that this name was given to the science by Aristotle or his followers, who considered the science of natural bodies, physics, as the first in the order of studies, and the science of mind or intelligence to be the second.] The science of the principles and causes of all things existing; hence, THE SCIENCE OF MIND OR INTELLIGENCE. This science comprehends ontology, or the science which treats of the nature, essence, and qualities or attributes of being; cosmology, the science of the world, which treats of the nature and laws of matter and of motion; anthroposophy, which treats of the power of man, and the motions by which life is produced; psychology, which treats of the intellectual soul; pneumatology, or the science of spirits or angels, etc. Metaphysical theology, called by Leibnitz and others theodicy, treats of the existence of God, his essence and attributes. These divisions of the science of metaphysics which prevailed in the ancient schools, are now not much regarded. The natural division of things that exist is into body and mind, things material and immaterial. The former belong to physics, and the latter to the science of metaphysics. (Webster's 1828)

It is hard sometimes to differentiate a science from a religious belief system. But if one may contemplate a religion based purely on the science of information (useless knowledge), which worships the knowledge of the purpose of all things in self-existence over the beauty and wonder and right of that which is all in self-existence (God), then we may understand the metaphysical, scientific mind. Again, when spiritual Law and reasoning is removed from any aspect of Life, as the protective Natural Law of self-Existence, then the purely unhindered, scientific mind will literally destroy Life in his attempt to discover its reason and source of Existence and ascertain Its Life-force. And this state of mind may only appear when the knowledge of what God Is becomes shattered, when one Living part of God is singled out (named) and removed from its consideration and Truth of Being in self-existent as part of the whole, a part of the Oneness that is Jehovah. Only the legally accepted, syndicalist (consensus based) classification and status systems created by men and known only in the metaphysic realm of “science” may create such a destructive mentality, causing men to presume themselves as gods over lower Life-forms. Without the spiritual Law of Nature, without consideration that all life is Sacred because all Life is a part of the Oneness of God, the bodies that contain Life itself is instead understood by the purely scientific (un-empathetic) mind to be merely an empty vessel that must be destroyed in order to extract information. Not True knowledge — just cold, hard, Lifeless data for the AI.

Here we arrive back at the idea of anarchy against God’s Natural Law. In this case, we have the scientific license to kill, maim, torture, and genetically alter God’s Design of Creation. He who applies his employments and works towards the name (noun) of science is not doing so in the name (verb) of Jehovah. This imperative by evil men in church and state to separate all Life and Nature Itself from the concept of God is a necessary step in the institutional corruption of the mind’s of men. For he who respects the very Oneness of all self-Existing Life and Nature as his God (as Jehovah) and who thus follows the Law of that God would certainly never feign to have an excuse (license) to arbitrarily destroy any part of God, any Life-form at all, in the name of man’s concept of the sciences and collection of information. The spiritual knowledge of what Life Is must be deadened, the empathy towards all Life crushed, so that the empty, non-spiritual, unlawful, informational awareness of what causes Life may be obtained through its harm, alteration, and destruction. This is legalized Satanism — the legal, forced classification of “lower” Life detached from Its Source, Its Oneness with God. And so in government, even man himself has been legally, scientifically classed as a lower-class Life-form without the protections of God’s Law of Nature.

In the scriptures, we find our current state of decay from the moral, foundation Law of Nature’s God to be explained as exactly what transpired before the flood, being as it was in the days of Noah. In other words, Nature (God) caused all of his Creation (Life) to come back into harmony with Nature’s Design and Law, else it was figuratively swept away by the great “flood.” But like Jesus the christos, Noah and his family virtually walked on the water, never sinking into the false gods and legalisms of that day while in the uncorrupted vessel (body), mind and spirit of (at “rest” with) God.

The symbol of the Sufis is again the winged heart. Sufism, its Masters say, is not a way of the head but of the heart. The way to fly to God is to open the heart, to be human and to love and offer life in service to God and to others in his place. In other words, as the ‘Brave New World’ model suggests, don’t worry, be happy; use your heart only instead of your mind. Be non compos mentis! Accept man’s law (legalism = moral lawlessness) and its rulers (false gods).

I was surprised to be instructed by the scriptures to stand against what I now comprehend to be utter nonsense, that our customary, cultural use and reference of this word heart as anything but a bodily organ that pumps blood is oxymoronic at the least, as to think with or live by the heart. We sometimes don’t realize how absurd our imaginary use of such words can be, even as they drive our actions into self-oblivion. And, of course, the mind is the target of such foolery and logical fallacy, for only the mind may guide us in reason, the heartbeat being literally an autonomic response to Life Itself. And so in Truth, this concept of the heart is a completely sophist idea. Let us see what really comes from the heart from the parabolic teachings of christ...

“And Jesus said, Are ye also yet without understanding? Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught? But THOSE THINGS WHICH PROCEED OUT OF THE MOUTH COME FORTH FROM THE HEART; AND THEY DEFILE THE MAN, FOR OUT OF THE HEART PROCEED EVIL THOUGHTS, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies: THESE ARE THE THINGS WHICH DEFILE A MAN: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.”

—Matthew 15, 16-20, KJB

The moral Law of God comes not from the heart, but from the reasonable, spiritually driven mind. The mind controls the heart lest the passions of the heart take control of the mind. The heart is the animal (soulless) and anarchic (lawless) nature of the hu-man. And so it is quite logical that the elect, the powers that be, would seek its subjects to live illiterately by their hearts, and to cause this completely irrational concept to become a vulgar mainstay in the dog-Latin mentality of their common, subjected and mentally enslaved goy. For what is it to have a Pure heart but to have a strong mind controlling ones passions (figurative emotions of the heart) under the Law of God’s Nature? Remember, there is no heart. It’s just a fictional word, a noun (name) created in the imaginations of men.

There is no spoon…

And just where is it that you think the “love of money” comes from… the heart or the mind? The answer to this question is easily answered by simply examining what it is that most people spend their money on. He with a strong heart will do well in the simulation of The Matrix, for no Self-control is required, and there is no True Freedom to fight for. There is no God, for The Matrix is a god, and all plugged in to it are agenticly giving that god its control is required, and there is no True Freedom to fight for. There is no God, for The Matrix is a god, and all plugged in to it are agenticly giving that god its life in false-existence (power), for the mind is corrupted in lieu of the delusions and passions of the heart.

And that’s how we got into this modern mess, for the former hippies now wear suits and ties, are responsible for not cleaning up oil spills and all forms of pollution, are governmental, legal law-makers, and teach with tenure in syndicalist universities that guide and license the hearts over the minds of future offenders of Nature and Its Law! The scriptures tout knowledge above all else, not blind ‘California Dreaming’ as mere Sufist HU-mans. Similitude is not sameness! Modern Christianity is but a simulacrum, a copy without any origin. Think about that next time the hippies whip out and play their guitars as copyrighted “Christian music” on the alter of your own incorporate church, for they may know not what it is they do and where that idea came from, nor its origin of intent as an obfuscation of spirituality, knowledge, custom, tradition, and Law. The counter-culture is everywhere, powered mostly by useful innocents that have been tricked into abandoning all the foundations of Law and Natural reasoning.

But there is that remnant spoken of prophecy; those whose minds are too strong to live without consciousness in such a delusion. I know you are out there… and you know on a deep, inexplicable level exactly what you are. For you yearn to be illegal so that you may act by the Law of your Nature!

“And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went TO MAKE WAR WITH THE REMNANT OF HER SEED, WHICH KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS OF GOD, AND HAVE THE TESTIMONY OF JESUS CHRIST.”

Do not hesitate, and be not confused, for you already know exactly what the dragon is. The dragon is just an anthropomorphized representation of that which is every aspect of satan, of what is generally manifested through the agents of church and state (a conspiracy of false doctrine) which are your adversaries (from Strong’s #G1404 - δράκων, drakōn), the haters of Truth (God).

HU-man rights campaigns of the past and present stem from this cultural subversion of Sufism (humanism). For without God in the way, all things against God’s Creation seem possible. The man as god philosophy makes all of man’s actions godly, exhibiting a sovereignty that knows no higher law than himself. And virtually ever commercial we see exclaims the virtu of breaking all limits and rules. Cause that’s so damned cool.

This is not in harmony with the teachings of the scriptural christ, nor is the fact that the secular religions are using the name of God in promotion of adultery, money, and sufism. In other words, this Sufi, humanistic way is certainly not the self-evident Truth of Nature’s Law. It’s a schema purely of man’s design. It’s just another false doctrine without self evidence in Nature.

Part of this subversion of spirituality is the promoted legal concept of human rights. For in order to qualify for the rights afforded to the lowest form of man without substance, the human animal, all spiritual considerations must be removed so that only the animal (hu-man) is left. The rights of animals in human form need not be in accordance with the spiritual, moral Law of God, only similar to those rules for which a master might treat his slave, a farmer his cattle.

A “right” only exists where fictional names and thus classes and titles exist, for a right is always positively bestowed upon the legal (false) title or status of a fictional persona, and never upon a man in his True spirit. If all Life (including animal and all supposedly “lower” Life) were held equally and unconditionally sacred, no man could be treated as merely human (animal) by other men, for that would be against the negative duty of the Natural Law. Status is only ever a legal form, that which is opposed to God’s Nature of Creation. The only status of man in the eyes of God is that of a Living, sentient Being (verb), which is legally invisible (negative) and immune (not attachable or contractable) to any legal law or term of art, as the perfection of God’s Creation. No one is born a king, and yet equitably speaking every man is. Therefore no man can be a king over other men without consent in abandoning one’s very own Nature and Right of self-Existence under God. Any rights attributed to man are merely negative in Nature, meaning only that man’s positive laws cannot effect a man of God without his contractual consent to alienate himself via bestowed and accepted human (civil) “rights.” A legal title may only exist upon a legal, fictional name (property) and nowhere else. To claim God as a Source of negative rights is really just the act of not claiming any man or person as one’s pretended (legal) source of positive rights under positive law. To have what are named as “God-given rights” one must follow God’s law and never entangle himself or join in man’s secular, public world of positive government. Positive means legal. Negative means spiritual. Man must never allow word DNA to be twisted into and enjoined with his own body as God’s Creation. If you are claiming your rights from an established, fictional government, ideal, movement, or incorporated religion of the state, then in Reality, in Nature and under God you simply have none — only legal (anti-God) rights on paper and in name only. You only have a lie and the right to be a liar in order to legally harm others.

If you beLIEve they exist, then you live in the lie. Legal existence is the lie. It is satan. And it can only exist in man’s mind. Thus man is his own worst enemy. We must know our Self to know our enemy.

There is no spoon because “spoon” is only a word of art describing a form of something Real and knowable through the senses (tangible). “Spoon” is an intangible, fictional name that has legal “standing” only in legal law jurisdictions (the legal matrix) as a re-presentational, empty form of something Real and tangible (with substance). It stands (has standing and consideration) in name (as a fictional character or prop) only. Thus a “spoon” can never be found in Nature. It exists as word magic only. It lies only in legal title, a strand of word-DNA. The hunk of metal or other real material that makes up the substance of what is called a “spoon” Exists in Nature despite what it is named, as does man. Only the name gives it a status or authority. And the law of man prevents the "spoon" as a representation of the Real from being bent. The fiction thus controls the actual qualities of the Real. The word (art form) is made to magically control its Source (substance in Reality).

God has a similar characteristic. Names cannot define or redefine what Jehovah (verb) is, for if such an entity as God Exists, then "God" is merely a descriptive word to re-present what that unfathomable, unintelligible, Sovereign Entity actually is in Reality and to the senses. Thus any legal or ecclesiastical definition of "God" or of anything actually in God's Creation of Nature should never be taken as anything but an opposition to God and Nature. The name is not the Reality. Man must represent himself as a legal god (artificial person/corporate CEO) to rule despite God. And so the word "God" as used in this work should be considered as such, as the difference (opposing forces) between the Reality of and in Nature (tangible, sensible) and the lies of legal existence in the cartoon world of legal fiction, and nothing more or less. The reader's own religious beliefs are one's own, and do not pertain to this work other than to say that citizen-ship cannot have two masters any more than men of God can. God or mammon... This choice always abounds. One either Lives in one's Faith (Trust) of Reality or lives in false faith (contracted dis-ease) to government and its idols in the fiction of believed in (loved), confirmed lies.

—Sophocles

Perhaps this comprehension of the negative (Eternal) substance of God and of Creation (including man) can be better revealed to the reader in other terms. Only things that have been specially defined can be considered as legal "things." Something must be defined and named for it to have a legal existence. When man is re-defined as a HU-man or as a person (legal status), he then inherits with that description a positive legal existence, a false image. At this point man can be seen in the legal realm because of his legal description (his persona). When God that Eternal and all things as One in Nature is defined and named by governments and religious doctrines, the same phenomenon takes place, where the God of Nature becomes instead a false legal consideration. God is personified; anthropomorphized; humanized; legalized. Since legal things cannot acknowledge the Real God (all that IS) as their Creator, the legal and ecclesiastical fictions must re-define God into legal terms. Thus men may inherit the qualities and empty character (mask) of God through legal means, claiming to be re-defined gods over any re-defined men in persona that accept the legal fiction and its authorities as their own defined gods. Only one of these gods can be invoked at one time, spiritually or secularly. Thus the scriptural notion that one cannot have two masters always applies. Once a man allows himself to become a legal entity, he necessarily accepts a legal master, having broken the foundational (Natural) Law. He not only accepts mammon (money) as his god, of which all things are thus valued (flooded) in despite their actual Nature, but in fiction becomes the collateral for that money, being himself valued according to the worth of his labor and offspring in personhood. A person of money (mammon) is not and cannot be a man of God. A person cannot Live in the kingdom of God’s Nature, for a person is literally made of money (nothingness).

Just as God is known to be the Permanence of All that Is in Being (verb), the legal gods must redefine all of that Being so as to determine the big lie as the permanent legal law. The fixed establishment of man's government does not exist without its own post-creation description, its definite terms of art, and its ratified determination as “truth.” The lie only exists according to the words that define it.
The character of the soul is determined by the character of its god/God. Do not proceed with this work until that really sinks in and this distinctive opposition between the gods of legal fiction and God’s Creation of Nature is clear. For this is the foundation of all Law. This is God or mammon. This is Nature or fiction. This is everything...

A Free man in Nature can only be said to be one that has no legal existence, no name, no persona, no determined status, no description or definition, and no fixed determination (course) set merely by man’s law. Only when the legal authority cannot recognize the man as a person (legal status/property) can the man be Free and clear of the legal authority. Legal eyes cannot see or respect non-legal things. The dead cannot control the Living without our consent. Artifice cannot consider the unwilling soul. But a Truly Free man will never remain Truly Free unless his God is declared, not merely by his words, but by his actions and total lack of participation in legal things. A legally free (enfranchised) man without God is only a hu-man. And human animals will be tamed and made beasts of burden like all others that roam freely (in franchise) between fences (borders), for the legal realm must have proof of man’s intentions as its limitation.
God’s Creation must be re-defined, described, humanized, incorporated, registered, and thus determined to be evil (legal) entities by the governments of men in order to be controlled and dominated by those men acting as false gods. All things must be named (put into noun form) and thus cursed (made insubstantial) by the artful words of personification held sacred above Reality.

If I name my spoon a fork, is the name any more or less a false re-presentation of the actual, tangible metal object I eat with?

In Reality, no... Nothing in Nature has actually changed.

But what about in the fiction? Has it changed?

The mind-bending answer to this question is yes... or no. For the gods make the rules of their own defined terms (property), and only the words exist in that fiction; a matrix code. A lie cannot be in Reality harmed in any way. It is not a permanent fixture. Its false nature cannot be harnessed or sensed in Reality. The legal fiction, remember, is made up only of specifically defined words. The name re-presents the object as a specifically described fiction. The name is always a lie. So government can change words and their meanings any time it wishes, for they have no actual attachment to Real things. They can re-name anything at anytime, but nothing in Reality will ever change. The Real is not altered in any way by this act of a legal name-change except in the fictional realm. Each word creates a unique legal construct that does not Exist in Reality, so Reality has no bearing on the meaning or purpose of any word.

The defined word itself cannot be physically bent like the actual piece of metal can. But amazingly, through the power of government (mind control), if the legal law states a rule that it is illegal to bend a “spoon,” man acting in legal personhood may mistake that law as a Law of Nature (of God), beLIEving that the spoon cannot actually be bent because it would be against the legalistic (false) law, even if its bending would somehow benefit man. While a word can be re-defined and re-spelled in disillusionment, it can never actually Exist tangibly in Nature.

But there are consequences. Words can effect Nature with their power over the mind, will, and thus actions of men under the enchantment of their spelling and determination. Legality and personhood then is the opposite of self-determination in Free will. For under this law of men, we believe in the intangible and invisible chains upon our wrists and throats that cannot be broken, for an established, pre-defined, official word cannot be broken, and a law of artful words respected without soul and spirit (Source) is an unbreakable, circular DNA chain. The jurisdiction wherein those words have anchor and artificially exist, within those nations of the idolatrous magistracy; this is the realm that must be abjured (abandoned/quitclaimed). For heaven sits beneath all of man’s designs, waiting to be rediscovered by the misled victims of that false legalist dialectic. And to be a part of that Utopia (nowhere) we must be no thing and no person, Existing in no place. To Exist in the ambiguity of Nature we must become ambiguous once again. We must be reborn into our original Nature, respect utterly and without exception its laws and design of self-existence, and follow only Its self-evident Natural Law.

By renaming what we call as the spoon into a “fork,” has its Nature and Design in Reality changed? Is it less usable as a commodity? Has the mineral content or shape of those compounds actually been altered by its re-naming?

No, of course not. The name is just a fiction. But the perception, the reputation, and the characteristics are altered in man’s mind. Its legal quality and consideration has thus been changed, just like a man’s Natural quality, standing, and consideration does when he becomes enjoined to a strawman person in the volunteerism of contractual bond and surety. The spoon could be renamed as a “weapon,” which in turn can cause a person to be named by the opinion of court as a “criminal” in its utility and use.

Government subsists (exists as a lie) because we believe that the personification of that fiction (words on paper) somehow actually Exists in Reality, as part of Reality, and is the men that incorporate within the fiction. You may, for instance, still be afraid of the last fictional monster you read about in some Stephen King tale, while simultaneously knowing in your mind that “IT” (the freaky mutant alien killer clown) doesn't actually Exist in Nature (Reality). It is purely a fiction of the mind. Yet so are “police” and “military officers.” The mind makes it seem Real, and we form a representation of Its description in our minds, causing us to turn on extra lights just to make sure those descriptive words created no actual substance hiding (lying) in the closet. Words (names) may re-create the form and description of Reality in the fiction, but words can never create Its actual substance. The man that believes in (loves) his own flattering, official title is often quite willing to harm or kill to protect its fictional creator (legal gods).

Words must be acted out by agents, and these act-ions are defined by created words. A “murderer” only exists when a man acts without license to kill, a purely false and de-scriptive word, and the persona (property) is so charged with that fictional crime, though no actual Life Exists in the legal realm. Law is but pre-ordained, positively enforced action and inaction upon the actors of legal words, names, and titles. Nature is the negative, random act of Life without definition, description, or determination by man’s law, Existing without and despite being simultaneously, magi-cally spelled into legal existence. The two realms… Nature has no legal standing simply because it is not made or Designed by the words and inventions of man. (Created) Thus legal words allow and invite the disruption of Nature’s processes through the defined, limited, and often forced actions of actors. In this regard, Nature is rendered defenseless, for man is supposed to be its defender, steward, and guardian. How can man’s purpose reasonably (Naturally) be conceived of any other way than this? The Laws of Nature must be re-defined if the laws of fiction are to control Nature and man’s place within such an artificial construct. This is satanism, or that which is adversarial to God’s Nature and Law. There is no mystery behind this word satan, but what man recreates in his false doctrines and images of religion.

Before a legal actor (agent of the strawman) can legally bend a “spoon,” the establishment of that artificial word “spoon” upon the Real substantive object in Nature to be bent must be ordained with that fictional title in admixture. In the end, the legal authority that governs words through controlling the mind (govern-ment) may only administer the laws over its own creation (terms/names), under its own law (words in nomenclature), and as its own word-title of “spoon.” Yet it has no authority over the substance of the actual metal object unless that authority is believed in (loved) and respected as truth in the false reality of men’s legalistic inventions (deceptions).

RESPECT - verb transitive - [Latin respecto, or respectus, from respicio; re and specio, to view. ] 1. To regard; TO HAVE REGARD TO IN DESIGN OR PURPOSE. In orchards and gardens, we do not so much respect beauty, as variety of ground for fruits, trees and herbs. 2. To have regard to, in relation or connection; TO RELATE TO. The treaty particularly respects our commerce. 3. To view or consider with some DEGREE OF REVERENCE; to esteem as POSSESSED OF REAL WORTH. I always loved and respected Sir William. 4. To look towards, Palladius adviseth the front of his house should so respect the south. [Not in use.] TO RESPECT THE PERSON. TO SUFFER THE OPINION OR JUDGMENT TO BE INFLUENCED OR BIASED BY A REGARD TO THE OUTWARD CIRCUMSTANCES OF A PERSON, TO THE PREJUDICE OF RIGHT AND EQUITY. Thou shalt not respect the person of the poor. Leviticus 19:15. NEITHER DOTH GOD RESPECT ANY PERSON. 2 Samuel 14:14. - noun - [Latin respectus.] 1. Respect; attention. 2. That ESTIMATION OR HONOR in which men hold the distinguished worth or substantial good qualities of others. It expresses less than reverence and veneration, which regard elders and superiors; whereas respect may regard juniors and inferiors. Respect regards the QUALITIES OF THE MIND, or the actions which CHARACTERIZE those qualities. Seen without awe, and serv'd without respect. 3. That deportment or course of action which proceeds from esteem; regard; due attention; as, TO TREAT A PERSON WITH RESPECT. These same men treat the sabbath with little respect. 4. Good will; favor. The Lord had respect to Abel and his offering. Genesis 4:4. 5. Partial regard; UNDUE BIAS TO THE PREJUDICE OF JUSTICE; AS THE PHRASE, RESPECT OF PERSONS. 1 Peter 1:17. James 2:1. Proverbs 24:23. 6. RESPECTED CHARACTER, as persons of the best respect in Rome. 7. Consideration; MOTIVE in
The actor (man in persona) must be made to beLIEve (love) whole-heartedly in his lines (coded legal words) for the legal authority of that fictional law of words to apply to him. As the Hollywood star, all legal persons are professional liars — self-deceivers. The actor must never be told that all the world is a stage, for if he knew, he could control and avoid the matrix code that is man’s legal law. He could defeat all evil. He could bend the spoon because there is no “spoon” in Reality, existing only as an intangible, non-authoritative name (noun) with no referential to Nature or its Laws. “Spoon” is a lie, as all words and names are. Without artifice, man could re-define terms to reference only the Truth in ambiguity, without authority or false (written) law. Or he may cease to use words and names altogether if he so chose, that he might ensure his relationship to God and Nature is never tainted, as with a vow of silence. The actor would realize that he didn’t need to bend the rules, for in Reality there are no rules. Rules are merely fictional words stemming from the i-magi-nation. There are no words. There are no titles. There is only self-evident Truth.

There are no rules because there are no words… because there is no “spoon.” We only put quotations around names and titles so that they seem authoritatively Real.

Likewise, the imaginary monster (government) can only lawfully harm you if you believe it has the right and authority to do so, because you believe you are its strawman (property), its legal registered name. And its harm of other foreign peoples around the world also stems from your lying by in silence while it militarily and unlawfully conquers and kills in the artifice and protection of your name. For government can only legally harm the legal persona it has created by surname, title, and status, not the man. It therefore labels all peoples of the world as potential or active “terrorists” and “enemies of the state” instead of as Living men of God, and therefore creates a specifically defined legal fiction that government then claims authority over so as to have the ability to break God’s Commandments. It assigns a pretended determination (course) by naming. Government destroys only what it creates and thus what is bound to that creation in surety and under the law of nations — the legal status of every thing and every one. It pretends that man, while acting in a legal fictional capacity (in person), is not responsible for his own actions… as if his soul is somehow hidden from God. It relies on man’s belief in (love of) the lie that man is in fact the strawman (name and title) to literally get away with murdering other men under the legal name and status of that other fictional persona. Without this false religious belief by man in fiction, government would have no lawful power or authority under its own maxim’s of law. At this point, the True nature of government would be revealed (disclosed), as the military would be called out to quell the disbelief in the civil authority of the fictional government. This would be called revelation, apocalypse, words which merely mean dis-closure of knowledge. Things would become quite uncivilized to say the least. In the end, government is only as powerful as the ignorance of the men in its police and military force, manifesting government’s (an artificial person’s) will in the chaotic brute strength that culminates from their own collective false belief in (love of) the lie that they have some permissive, lawful authority (under a false god) over other men because of some shiny badges and supposed legal status. Being possessed and mesmerized by a projected self-image in the pretended alter-ego of personhood; this is the citizen soldier; the patriot. In this way, the law is like the image of the Ouroboros - popularly known as “the serpent eating its own tail.” But it is not after all just vulgarly devouring itself, it is instead magically (through word spelling) speaking itself into a constantly new and false existence through its devilishly forked tongue, continuously re-inventing itself just as government does.

“Be not the slave of Words…”

Do not be confused or confounded by this word/title of “foreign.” No man is foreign to or outside of God’s Nature. This is an impossibility. There are no aliens in the universe, in the Oneness of all Existence. Foreign is merely a term of the legal artifice, of scientific and artful labeling, and it only refers to legal personas (fictions/creations of law) in other cartoon jurisdictions. Foreign is not to be Naturally Free, but to be bound in citizenship to another principal corporation (nation). As a public person of the United States (district) in any foreign (private) State of the union, you are a foreigner acting in agency with government within a US citizen-ship or through another nation’s ethnic status. That’s what a person (status) is. Something foreign cannot exist unless a group of men can be convinced that a nation or country (district) first exists, and that participation in that fiction makes them not foreign to it. This is the game of nations, the game of thrones. Lies and propaganda. To any nation, all other published (public) members of all other nations have no blood to protect them, and are merely goyim (chattel) birthed ripe for slaughter.

FOREIGN - adjective - for’ an. [Latin foris, foras.] 1. BELONGING TO ANOTHER NATION OR COUNTRY; ALIEN; NOT OF THE COUNTRY IN WHICH ONE RESIDES; extraneous.

We call every country foreign which is not within the jurisdiction of our own government. In this sense, Scotland before the union was foreign to England, and Canada is now foreign to the United States. More generally foreign is applied to countries more remote than an adjacent territory; as a foreign market; a foreign prince. IN THE UNITED STATES, ALL TRANS-ATLANTIC COUNTRIES ARE FOREIGN. 2. PRODUCED IN A DISTANT COUNTRY OR JURISDICTION; coming from another country; as foreign goods; goods of foreign manufacture; a foreign minister. 3. Remote; NOT BELONGING; not connected; with to or from. You dissemble; the sentiments you express are foreign to your heart. This design is foreign from my thoughts. [The use of from is preferable and best authorized.] 4. Impertinent; not pertaining; not to the purpose. The observation is foreign from the subject under consideration. 5. EXCLUDED; NOT ADMITTED; held at a distance. 6. Extraneous; adventitious; NOT NATIVE OR NATURAL. 7. In law, a foreign attachment is an attachment of the goods of a foreigner within a city or liberty, for the satisfaction of a debt due from the foreigner to a citizen; or an attachment of the money or goods of a debtor, in the hands of another person. A foreign bill of exchange, is a bill drawn by a person in one country, on his correspondent or AGENT in another, as distinguished from an inland bill, which is drawn by one person or another in the same jurisdiction or country. Foreign plea, a plea or objection to a judge as incompetent to try the question, on the ground that it is not within his jurisdiction. (Webs1828)

ETHNIC - noun - A heathen; A PAGAN. (Webs1828)

ETHNICISM - noun - Heathenism; PAGANISM; IDOLATRY. (Webs1828)

ETHNICAL - adjective - [Latin ethnicus; Gr. from NATION from the root of G. heide, heath, woods, whence heathen. See Heathen.] Heathen; PAGAN; PERTAINING TO THE GENTILES OR NATIONS NOT CONVERTED TO CHRISTIANITY; OPPOSED TO JEWISH AND CHRISTIAN. (Webs1828)

HEATHEN - noun - [Gr. from heath, that is, one who lives in the country or woods, as pagan from pagus, a village.] 1. A PAGAN; A GENTILE; ONE WHO WORSHIPS IDOLS, or is unacquainted with the true God. In the Scriptures, the word seems to comprehend ALL.
NATIONS EXCEPT THE JEWS OR ISRAELITES, as they were ALL STRANGERS TO THE TRUE RELIGION, AND ALL ADDICTED TO IDOLATRY. The word may now be applied perhaps to ALL NATIONS, except to Christians and Mohammedans. Heathen, without the plural termination, is used plurally or COLLECTIVELY, FOR GENTILES OR HEATHEN NATIONS, Ask of me, and I will give thee the heathen for thine inheritance. Psalms 2:8. Heathen, however, has a plural, expressing two or more individuals. If men have reason to be heathens in Japan— The precepts and examples of the ancient heathens. 2. A RUDE, ILLITERATE, BARBAROUS PERSON, - adjective - Gentile, pagan; as a heathen author.

The legal presumption that all men agentically living under the protections of other nations are acting as fictional persons with allegiance to that particular nation makes all men ethnocentric foreigners (heathens), and so the presumption of law creates legal authority to destroy the person (reputation) that belongs to the “foreign” nation. The Living man each foreigner (person) lies fictionally attached to may only be considered as collateral damage in surety. But the actual Life, the Creation of God, is not considered in war, only its status (persona) as a statistic, a numbered and tagged beast of burden. All pawns look alike. And all pawns are treated as pawns, like game-pieces on a game-board. These are wars on titles and status, for all citizens are agents of government, in support of the state. To governments, men are only fictional pegs on a game board, clothed (uniformed) with artificial corporate persons (targets) and moved about like avatars. For in Reality there is no country to attack, only the men contained and indebted within claiming allegiance and ethnicity by that false idol (paganism) and flag (bloodless Arms).

As we have learned, the foreign status of US citizenships in each individual (private) State and under their commercial state governments, a status that is unknown to the majority of the population that worship their own lowest of possible statuses in public while falsely believing themselves to be the free “American” People of each private State, is only that of a foreigner licensed to commercially reside in that foreign legal state. So the paper person created by the United States resides only in the filing cabinet of the foreign state, which is but another corporation on paper.

You might wonder then how a man acting in persona under government as a common citizen may be charged by government for the murder of another man. But this is not how fiction works, for fiction only deals with the already legally dead (acts of the state), unable to consider Life (as an Act of God). The man acting in agency as a citizen does not kill another man, he prematurely executes the contract of another HU-man citizen. In other words, he disrupts the commercial capacity of government property (the fictional person). By this legal act named as “murder;” his strawman (property) has disturbed the commercial potential of another government strawman (property). And so government places the “murderer” as surety into custody in order to pay for his sin against his principal, which is a valuable consideration that is paid for with his time and future labor potential while incarcerated to match the lost potential of the other now defunct commercial person of government. In other words, the crime is not the loss of actual Life, but the loss of the force of Life that puppeteers the fictional persona (status) in commerce. For when the Real man dies, so too does the ability of his assigned persona to act as a subject in agency. All crime in fiction is only ever financial. A price is placed upon every crime, and the payment is with time. Currency represents merely the time and labor of others, past and future. So one either pays for his crimes with his own time and labor while imprisoned, or he does so with the cash money (mammon) that represents someone else’s time and labor value. This is how the wealthy stay out of jail. They pay for their crimes with legal tender. Only the poor labor to pay with their imprisoned bodies in surety. Prison is for debtors that have no credit. But then, so is citizenship — an open-air prison legally called hell, incorporated for the purpose of paying the national debt through capitalism, otherwise known as human trafficking.
Only if government is made into a false creator god can government (an artificial person) claim the right as god to harm its own creation (of words). It is our voluntary bond to that creation (strawman) that makes us the bearer of that harm in a state of surety. We stand for, as, and in their proprietary fictional character. For the law sees no immortal man of God, only his mortal (dead), fictional, corporate person. These terms mortal and immortal will be expounded upon later in this work.

And how does the government god create? It forges letters as raw materials into the DNA of words and phrases, like a blacksmith forges weapons from iron, creating the legal names of all Living and non-Living things so as to forge them into fictional, imaginary forms of their real substance...

FORGE - To fabricate, construct, or prepare one thing in imitation of another thing, with the intention of substituting the false for the genuine, or otherwise deceiving and defrauding by the use of the spurious article. To counterfeit or make falsely. Especially, to forge a spurious written instrument with the intention of fraudulently substituting it for another, or of passing it off as genuine; or to fraudulently alter a genuine instrument to another's prejudice; or to sign another person's name to a document, with a deceitful and fraudulent intent. To forge (a metaphorical expression), borrowed from the occupation of the smith, means, properly speaking, no more than to make or form, but in our law it is always taken in an evil sense. To forge is to make in the likeness of something else, with a view to defraud by passing the false copy for genuine or original. Both words, 'forged' and 'counterfeited,' convey the idea of similitude. In common usage, however, forgery is almost always predicated of some private instrument or writing, as a deed, note, will, or a signature; and counterfeiting denotes the fraudulent imitation of coined or paper money or some substitute therefor. (Black1)

SIMILITUDE - noun - [Latin similitudo.] 1. Likeness; resemblance; likeness in nature; qualities of appearance; as similitude of substance. Let us make man in our image, MAN IN OUR SIMILITUDE... 2. Comparison; simile. Tasso, in his similitude never departed from the woods. (Webs1828)

SIMILE - noun - [Latin] In rhetoric, similitude; a comparison of two things which, however different in other respects, have some strong point or points of resemblance; by which comparison, the character or qualities of a thing are illustrated or presented in an impressive light... (Webs1828)

SAME - The word "same" does not always mean "identical," not different or other. It frequently means of the kind or species, not the specific thing. When preceded by the definite article, meaning the one just referred to. (Black4)

IDENTITY - Law of Evidence. Sameness, the fact that a subject, person, or thing before a court is the same as it is represented, claimed, or charged to be. (Black4)

IDENTIFICATION - PROOF OF IDENTITY: the proving that a person, subject, or article before the court is the very same that he or it is alleged, charged, or reputed to be; as where a witness recognizes the prisoner at the bar as the same person whom he saw committing the crime; or where handwriting, stolen goods, counterfeit coin, etc., are recognized as the same which once passed under the observation of the person identifying them. (Black4)

ALLOGRAPH - A writing or signature made for a person by another; opposed to autograph. (Black4)

AUTOGRAPH - One's handwriting. (Black4)
While the animal, vegetable, and mineral kingdoms have no choice but to fall prey to these legally forged names under man’s legalized (anti-God) dominion, man in his ability to speak and make choices presents the ultimate challenge to the total domination of mankind by those that claim god-like governing authority over him. So the illusionist’s trick of casting word spells in law (legalese) is utilized to make men believe in the words (names and titles) more than the Reality of the object so named. The simulation becomes the false reality, the person the man. It is incredibly sad and infuriating to realize that this entire legal structure and the language that defines it was all created to corrupt, just as man’s designs have so corrupted Nature throughout his history. This design is a trap laid to re-create legalized beasts out of most men so that we never realize, in our induced animal (human) nature, our own power to simply say no. Thus we have no idea how to thwart evil (artifice) by acting only in a True religious state of Being under a Purely moral Law, in the Purest substance and action of Love and Charity under God. For this would be an illegal life-style!

And to accomplish this great feat of anti-Nature, of the anti-Real, man must be convinced that he is not man at all but instead a mere similitude of man — a HU-man; the artful name of a strawman. While you or your children may dream that the wizarding world of Harry Potter were a Reality, it nonetheless remains forever purely fictional. Ironically, you may dress up in wizard and witch costumes from the fictional Harry Potter world, and your appearance may very much resemble a judges black robe as a costume from the magi-cal legal fiction, minus the pointy hat. Nevertheless, Harry Potter and those legal judges both remain purely fictional characters in a fictional world, given what appears to be magi-cal power in the Real world only by imagination and contractual agreement through silent consent to such word illusion.

But even the fiction of Hogwarts gives us clues as to its own hidden meaning, where the magic words spoken as protective spells figuratively exist in that fictional legal parlance; a Hollywood simulation of the already make-believe, existing legal simulation:

PATRONUS - IN ROMAN LAW, A person who stood in the relation of PROTECTOR TO ANOTHER who was called his “client.” ONE WHO ADVISED HIS CLIENT IN MATTERS OF LAW, AND ADVOCATED HIS CAUSES IN COURT. (Black4)

CLIENT - noun - 1. AMONG THE ROMANS, A CITIZEN who put himself under the protection of a man of distinction and influence, who, in respect to that relation, was called his PATRON. Hence in modern usage, 2. ONE WHO APPLIES TO A LAWYER OR COUNSELOR FOR ADVICE AND DIRECTION IN A QUESTION OF LAW, OR COMMITTS HIS CAUSE to his management in prosecuting a claim, OR DEFENDING AGAINST a suit, in a court of justice. 3. A DEPENDENT. (Webs1828)

AGENT - adjective - ACTING; OPPOSED TO PATIENT, or sustaining action; as, the body agent. [Little used.]- noun - 1. AN ACTOR, one that exerts power, or has the power to act; as, a moral agent. 2. An active power or cause; THAT WHICH HAS THE POWER TO PRODUCE AN EFFECT; as, heat is a powerful agent. 3. A SUBSTITUTE, deputy, or factor; ONE ENTRUSTED WITH THE BUSINESS OF ANOTHER; an ATTORNEY; a MINISTER. (Webs1828)
Very clever, the Latin patronus (attorney) spell summoned by the wave of a satanic Hollywood wand comes to the aid of the unlearned child (non compos mentis mud-blood) to protect against the dementors (de-minders), which in the end are also merely agents under a different description, as executive deputies and law enforcers acting under mere color of law, authority, and license. They are just the typical minions of government; demonic hirelings and hitmen invoked into authority by the magical words of judicial opinions and licenses, which can only be controlled by other magical spells, the spelling of legally binding terms of art. Of course, without those multitudes of minion policing agents, the judicial and governing body (the state) would have no power behind its empty words. This was just a little spell of legal word magic slipped in under her fan’s noses, and was certainly not the only example. In the public, though, a muggle’s only aid is an attorney, an advocate, the adders of vice as agentic oppressors of thought.

In 2014, it was made public by her attorney and in various news sources that Rowling’s other pen name was Robert Galbraith! Yep, J. K. Rowling also masquerades as a dude! Of course, it’s all just legal make-believe, despite the very Real and powerful “magical” effect induced upon men’s minds by this counter-cultural coven of mind-dementing wordsmiths.

This clandestine glorification of the practitioners (attorneys) of the legal profession might change your perception of just what the Harry Potter stories are pushing upon children and adults beneath their special effects and child-like sophistry. Hollywood is far more dangerous than you might expect. I know, for I worked and lived there for 9 years putting sounds to movies, games, and commercials in post production; a career I gave up once I fully understood the devilish nature of a propagandist industry and its Truly evil intent — as the blackest heart and soul of fictional creation.

A judge rules only on the fiction of the law (the law of the land and sea) as it applies to dead persons (mortals), not Living men. Likewise, a judge rules only on the legal estate and title to the landed property, not the actual (Natural) land or soil Itself. The judge, as a creation of the fiction (a fiction of law), can only judge other fictional things as lesser creations in the status and jurisdiction of that same fiction. For a judge is but a fictional, titled character as well, not a man. If no man dons a robe and pretends to act as if he were a judge in God’s stead, then no judge would exist in the fictional story of any court. The man must enjoin himself with a fictional title for the fiction to live (evil). Inversely, if no man appears in the fictional room where the judge pretends to have jurisdiction over all fictional things, surnames, and legally assigned titles of men, then the judge has no jurisdiction over any man. Only when man appears as an enjoined (incorporated), fictional persona in declared agency does man himself fall under that fictional jurisdiction in bonded surety.

And so the de-mentors are called in once the administrative judgement of the gods is spoken:

DEMENTED - Of unsound mind. (Black4)

DEMENCY - Dementia, med. jur. A DEFECT, hebetude, or IMBECILITY OF THE UNDER STANDING, GENERAL OR PARTIAL, BUT CONFINED TO INDIVIDUAL FACULTIES OF THE MIND, PARTICULARLY THOSE CONCERNED IN ASSOCIATING AND COMPARING IDEAS, whence proceeds great CONFUSION AND INCAPACITY IN ARRANGING THE THOUGHTS. 2. Demency is attended with a general enfeeblement of the MORAL AND INTELLECTUAL faculties, CONSEQUENCE OF AGE OR DISEASE, which were originally well developed and sound. It is characterised by forgetfulness of the past, indifference to the present and future, and a childish disposition. It differs from idiocy and imbecility. In these latter, THE POWERS OF THE MIND WERE NEVER POSSESSED, WHILE IN DEMENCY, THEY HAVE BEEN LOST. 3. Demency may also be distinguished from mania, with which it is sometimes confounded. In the former (dementia), THE MIND HAS LOST ITS STRENGTH, AND THEREBY THE REASONING FACULTY IS IMPAIR-ED, while in the latter, the madness arises from an exaltation of vital power, or from a morbid excess of activity... 5. When demency has been fully established in its last stages, THE ACTS OF THE INDIVIDUAL OF A CIVIL NATURE WILL BE VOID, BECAUSE THE PARTY HAD NO CONSENTING MIND, Vide Contracts; Wills. HAVING NO LEGAL WILL OR INTENTION, HE CANNOT OF COURSE COMMIT A CRIME. Vide Insanity; Mania. (Bouv1856)

DEMENTIA - See Insanity. (Black4)

MENTE CAPTUS - Persons who are habitually insane. (Black4)

DE - A Latin prefix, denotes a moving from, separation… Hence it often expresses a negative… (Webs1828)

MENTORIAL - adjective - [From MENTOR, the friend and adviser of Ulysses.]
CONTAINING ADVICE OR ADMONITION. (Webs1828)

ADMONITION - noun - Gentle reproof; counseling against a fault; instruction in duties; caution; direction. Titus 3:10. 1 Corinthians 10:11. In church discipline, PUBLIC OR PRIVATE REPROOF TO RECLAIM AN OFFENDER; A STEP PRELIMINARY TO EXCOMMUNICATION. (Webs1828)

No surprise here… just more legalese put into a not-so-mystical story form to create Hollywood magic. The dementors cause the mind to lose its ability to choose the correct, moral path. They are thus merely antichrist characters, the anthropomorphized policing agents of government acting upon the warrant of the black-robed attorney’s (devil’s) will and decision.

To be clear, Holly wood comes from the Holly tree. It is considered to be a most sacred tree in witchcraft, just as the propaganda machine of enter-tain-ment that styles itself in that wood’s namesake. This is, of course, no coincidence. Names are everywhere. Names are magical. Foolish “Christians” and non-Christians alike hang decorative Holly branches upon their doors and around their house (dwelling) at what societally and commercially is called Christmas time without even the slightest comprehension of the pagan origins and antichrist intent of their actions. And what else would one expect to see from a common people raised with Hollywood enter-tain-ment as their dementor disguised as a mentor (teacher and friend).

It is mythically foretold that the branch of the Holly tree, if thrown at any animal, even without touching it, had the property of compelling the animal to return and lie down by the thrower; a taming of the low, animal beasts. Is this not the obvious magical purpose of Hollywood enter-tain-ment? Not at all surprising, the wood of the Holly tree was actually, historically used by ancient Druids in the fabrication of their magical wands. And I’m sure it was merely a coincidence that Micky Mouse’s wand in Fantasia was also pretended to be crafted of the wood of the Holly tree. And the wand of Harry Potter? Why, its made of Holly wood, of course! Holly was to the druids also a most sacred symbol, referentially symbolic to the sacred mother Holle or Hel, the goddess of the underworld. Hollywood (the druidic Hel-wood) is merely an imaginary place, but stands as a production house of visual and audial magic used for purely evil intent. It’s all about the illusion.

J.K. Rowling, author of the Harry Potter series, states from her own website:

“I gave Harry a wand made of holly wood back in 1990, when I first drafted chapter six of ‘Philosopher’s Stone.’ IT WAS NOT AN ARBITRARY DECISION: holly has certain connotations that were perfect for Harry, particularly when contrasted with the traditional associations of yew, from which Voldemort’s wand is made. European tradition has it that the holly tree (the name comes from ‘HOLY’) repels evil, while yew, which can achieve astonishing longevity (there are British yew trees over two thousand years old), can symbolize both DEATH AND RESURRECTION, the sap is also poisonous.”
—Source website: http://www.jkrowling.com

What is holy to those in evil pursuits is of course intently opposite of what is Truly Holy under Jehovah. Such evil intent and use of sacred (cursed) words by such artificers is always adversarial, appearing as a perceptual similitude but never sameness. Hollywood is used to cast spells from worded scripts and with hypnotizing sound and “music” emanating from a conductors wand (baton) that just happens to be made of that same Living source of magic, from the wood of the Holy tree. Dismiss this as coincidence at your own, and that of your children’s dementia and legal peril. For while this author of magical word-spells and tales appears to be speaking gobbledygook in her magical incantations and spellings, she is actually using the king’s higher language of illusion, as the Latin legalese, while her victims (readers and fans) hear only the dog-Latin English words we are literally, publicly entrained to love (believe in) and be fascinated by their magics.

However, while the magic spells of the movies may not be able to physically harm you as they appear in your living room television or on the big screen, their effect as to the control over your mind (mentis) and your future actions is a different story. The magi-strates of the legal world have convinced you that their magi-cal words (spells) are Real, and so the legal fiction and its lies certainly may harm you in Real Life, through your faith in the contractual birth-bond that you and others act out a civil life within, as fictional (surnamed), scripted characters.

This is called belief.

(BE-LIE-f): Be the lie…

Belief (love) in the representation (name) of anything of substance is nothing more than the tainted perception of Reality, no matter how opposed to Reality our beliefs (truths) may be. And while Reality (the Nature of Truth) never changes, perception (artful truth) is ever-changing; as with the ebb and flow of experience and referential knowledge from the tree of good and evil, of useless, conceptual in-formation. As a member of the fictional society, called a public “citizen,” we participate in and validate the power of the spell (fiction) over our True Selves. We wear our legal (anti-God), corporate persona (mask) like a veil of invisible, corporate clothing.

To be the lie or not to be the lie, that is Truly the only question… BeLIEve it or not! Live or play dead.

If you beLIEve you are the lie in the form of a false persona with a surname and other marks of false id-entity, that you can be and are a fictional character in a fictional world, and that this belief gives you imaginary special powers called “rights” and “privileges” and thus certain licensed or permitted status over or under others, then you perceive the fictional world as the truth — a false reality. A prison for your mind… And this is where wars, pestilence, poverty, hunger, eugenics, and the corporate religions and governments that cause them are created and approved as necessary to maintain these fictional realities. Wars are fought to preserve established, legal truths (confirmed, ratified, and violently sanctioned lies). The fiction’s goal is solely to maintain its own false existence, subsistence, and sustainability of the big lie that it has become. It has no other goal but its own perpetual existence, no matter what the cost to Nature and Life Itself. It is the incarnation and personification (incorporation) of ever-expanding evil. And the men behind the fictional curtain make it all happen while remaining hidden under the veil, behind the wizarding legal curtain of Oz. To love or to hate the fiction requires first belief in the false existence of fiction and its power.

In a recent propaganda article posted on the dictionary.com website I was surprised to find in these following tidbits some of the legal terms portrayed as magic words (spells) in the Harry Potter series. We find the same bloodlines and feudal class structures of that apparently fictional Harry Potter world to be but a cartoonish mirror image our own.

“Do you know why we non-magical folks are referred to as muggles in the world of Harry Potter?”

“J.K. Rowling says she created the word MUGGLE from MUG, AN ENGLISH TERM FOR SOMEONE WHO IS EASILYfooLED. At the 2004 World Book Day, Rowling said: “I was looking for a word that suggested BOTH FOOLISHNESS AND LOVEABILITY. The word ‘mug’ came to mind, FOR SOMEBODY GULLIBLE, and then I softened it. I think ‘muggle’ sounds quite cuddly. I didn’t know that the word ‘muggle’ had been used as drug slang at that point… ah well.” It’s true, one of the other definitions for muggle, is a slang term for marijuana, but obviously that’s not where Rowling was going…”

“A mandrake is a narcotic, short stemmed European plant. In Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets, we learn that a Mandrake, or Mandragora, is a powerful, RESTORATIVE plant. They are used TO "RETURN PEOPLE WHO HAVE BEEN TRANSFIGURED OR CURSED TO THEIR ORIGINAL STATE." Professor Sprout teaches herbology students how to repot the plants. They must wear earmuffs, because "THE CRY OF A MANDRAKE IS FATAL TO ANYONE WHO HEARS IT." When Professor Dumbledore tells Argus Filch that his cat, Mrs. Norris, IS PETRIFIED (NOT DEAD), mandrakes are the SOLUTION: “We will be able to cure her, Argus,” said Dumbledore patiently. “Professor Sprout recently managed to procure some Mandrakes. As soon as they have reached their full size, I will have a potion made that will revive Mrs. Norris.”

Marauder’s Map: "A marauder is someone who roams or goes on A QUEST OF PLUNDER. In Harry Potter, marauders are MORE MISCHIEVOUS THAN CRIMINAL. The Marauder’s Map is a magical document that young wizards use to roam within Hogwarts AND FIND SECRET PASSAGES TO LEAVE THE CASTLE. In Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban, Fred and George Weasley give the Marauder’s Map to Harry. Fred says IT HELPS “A NEW GENERATION OF LAW-BREAKERS.” At first, Harry thinks it’s a “bit of old parchment”: George took out his wand, touched the parchment lightly and said, "I SOLEMNLY SWEAR THAT I AM UP TO NO GOOD." [The Marauder’s Map] was a map showing every detail of the Hogwarts castle and grounds. But the truly remarkable thing were the tiny ink dots moving around it, EACH LABELED WITH A NAME in minuscule writing.”

We are all, of course, cursed outside of our original (ancestral) state of Being (Source). This is very clever devilry indeed, my innocent little Mrs. Rowling! But why must the enslaved children wear earmuffs when handling this restorative agent? How could the cure, the solution, possibly harm them? The answer to this is that the mandrake’s cry kills their persona, their flattering titles, and the pretended power of their fabled genealogy. Without registered identity, they would become civilly dead (without legal (magical) capacity), and thus their use of these proprietary magical words would be uncontrollable. The mandrake is the metaphoric solution to a civil life (petrification). Without it, one would lose one’s limited license to cast spells in legal terms.

Could this whole magical story simply be Rowling’s twisted interpretation of her own experiences in university, where she learned these older languages in her own education and research?

PETRIFIED - participle passive - Changed into stone. 1. FIXED IN AMAZEMENT. (Weds1828)

WAKENING - participle present tense - ROUSING FORM SLEEP OR STUPIDITY, CALLING INTO ACTION. (Weds1828)

WAKENING - Scotch law. The revival of an action. 2. An ACTION is said TO SLEEP, when it lies over, not insisted on for a year in which case it is suspended. With us A REVIVAL is by scire facias. (Black4)

SCIRE FACIAS - Remedies, practice. The name of a judicial writ… 2. It is, however, considered an ACTION, and in the nature of a NEW ORIGINAL. 3. The scire facias against a bail, against pledges in replevin, TO REPEAL LETTERS-PATENT, or the like, is an ORIGINAL proceeding; but when brought to revive a judgment after a year and a day, or upon the death of marriage of the parties… It is but A CONTINUATION OF THE ORIGINAL ACTION. (Bouv1856)

REVIVE - TO RENEW, revivify; TO MAKE ONE’S SELF LIABLE FOR A DEBT BARRED BY THE STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS BY ACKNOWLEDGING IT; or for a matrimonial offense, once condoned, by committing another. (Black4)
REVIVAL - The process of RENEWING THE OPERATIVE FORCE OF A JUDGMENT WHICH HAS REMAINED DORMANT OR UNEXECUTED FOR SO LONG A TIME THAT EXECUTION CANNOT BE ISSUED UPON IT WITHOUT NEW PROCESS TO REANIMATE IT. THE ACT OF RENEWING THE LEGAL FORCE OF A CONTRACT OR OBLIGATION, which had ceased to be sufficient foundation for an action, on account of the running of the statute of limitations, by giving a new promise or acknowledgment of it. (Black4)

Man-drake = man-dragon. The word drake is Latin for dragon. The serpent... Man as the devil...

And so, the Harry Potter series, written by a lover of magical (legal) items and words, is about an organized, pure bloodline (extended family) of magical spell-casters that create magical realms (jurisdictions) no muggle can comprehend while using magical terms of art (legalese) to cast spells on the gullible public of corrupted and half-blood mugs? Sounds just like the real world, doesn’t not? Gee… I want my kids to watch that, for sure! After all, they’ll never figure out it’s actually their own life story of former abandonment through delivery as goyim in persona of the state! They surely will never realize that these marauding pirates of the make-believe magical (legal) world are Real. And our children will never catch on to the fact that the very reason they are allowed to watch such trash on the television is to keep them from studying the Bible as the Law and Truth of all things. They will watch movies and cartoons because they aren’t instead working the land that would one day be passed by blood to them, harvesting the crops and attending to the livestock, all because long ago the mugs that are mommy and daddy also fell under their piratical, magical spellings, meaning that mommy and daddy have no land and no estate to Truly give their offspring. They can only offer debt and empty titles. There is no point in teaching the children well, for their public-mindedness is reinforced in every facet of their legalized, licensed lives. To teach them the Right, spiritual path would likely interfere with their public-minded, muggle studies and cause them unnecessary confusion, pain, and anguish in their life-long pursuits under mammon that only benefit the bloodline. To teach the moral law would be cruel and unusual punishment!

But let’s not get sidetracked with these principal players, entertainers, and wordsmiths of this agentic game. Let’s not play the blame game or use individuals as excuses for our own actions and inactions. Instead let’s forgive this published agent of the Crown for her deceits against our gullible lifestyle and otherwise innocent children via the corruption of magic (legal) words and through the arcane of visual imagery stemming from the rotten core of that Holly wood tree of good and evil.

The remaining sections of this work (including future Volumes) are designed to expound and enlighten upon the concepts presented in these first summary chapters. To that end, legal terms (word magic) will be further explored and exhaustively defined so that the reader may better comprehend this false reality of fiction that literally (by words) imprisons our minds. So many more sources will be presented as to the True nature of the corporate church and that of its artificial persona (corporation sole) called “pope,” as well as many scriptural presentments and prognostications on the subject.

PROGNOSTICATION - noun - The act of foreshowing a future event BY PRESENT SIGNS. 1. The act of FORETELLING AN EVENT BY PRESENT SIGNS. 2. A foretoken: previous sign (Webster1828)

While some of the words and terms of art we have discussed thus far may remain as yet unclear or undefined at this point, and while some of what makes up these Truths may have offended your own personal beLIEfs, I promise you’ll feel right as rain by the end of this multi-voluminous work.

Have another cookie and let’s continue…
Chapter 3: Augmented Reality, Artificial Life, And The Simulation Of Creation

Just what does it mean to live in sin?

One thing for sure, it is definitely not what you’ve been taught by the corporate (artificial) church, which is protected by the executive, military authority of the fictional state.

First and foremost, we must know that the word sin is equal to the words lie, artifice, and simulation. In fact, we must recognize that the whole legal system of government and law is in fact a simulation—a matrix of word-code and fiction that is recognized artificially as “fact.” But then, from satan’s perspective, what else would one expect? For all kings are only the kings of their own lies and that of their heraldic forbearers.

SIMULATE - TO ASSUME THE MERE APPEARANCE OF, WITHOUT THE REALITY; TO assume the SIGNS or indications of, FALSELY; to counterfeit; feign; imitate; PRETEND; TO ENGAGE, usually with the co-operation or connivance of another person, in an act or series of acts, which are APPARENTLY TRANSACTED IN GOOD FAITH, and intended to be followed by their ordinary legal consequences, but WHICH IN REALITY CONCEAL A FRAUDULENT PURPOSE OF THE PARTY TO GAIN THEREBY SOME ADVANTAGE TO WHICH HE IS NOT ENTITLED, or to INJURE, DELAY, or DEFRAUD others. (Black4)

SIMULATION - Assumption of appearance which was feigned, false, deceptive, or counterfeit. In the civil law, Misrepresentation or concealment of the truth; as where parties pretend to perform a transaction different from that in which they really are engaged. A feigned, pretended act, ONE WHICH ASSUMES THE APPEARANCE WITHOUT THE REALITY and, being entirely WITHOUT EFFECT, IT IS HELD NOT TO HAVE EXISTED, and, for that reason, it may be disregarded or attacked collaterally by any interested person. In French law, COLLUSION; a fraudulent arrangement between two or more persons TO GIVE A FALSE OR DECEPTIVE APPEARANCE TO A TRANSACTION IN WHICH THEY ENGAGE. (Black4)

Simulation and citizenship are virtually the same words. We are born into sin (simulation) by being borne within a nation. And so we have a simulated birth into a simulated legal realm of simulated jurisdiction, proven by simulated facts which create a simulated contract by which we are judged under simulated gods with simulated authority. But all of this starts with the simulated purchase (sale/conquering) of man out from under God (Reality) at a simulated birth from his own voluntarily ignorant parents acting themselves as a simulated people.
Birth is akin to a simulated sale.

SIMULATED SALE - One which has all the appearance of an actual sale in good faith, intended to transfer the ownership of property for a consideration, but which in reality covers a collusive design of the parties to put the property beyond the reach of creditors, or proceeds from some other fraudulent purpose. It results when parties execute a formal act of sale of a thing for which no price is paid or is intended to be paid, and such sale has no legal effect and no title is transferred thereby. If there exists an actual consideration for transfer evidenced by alleged act of sale, no matter how inadequate it be, the transaction is not a "simulated sale," and, even though it be charged to be in fraud of vendor's creditors, such transfer cannot be set aside as a simulation although it may be subject to annulment on the ground of fraud or the giving of undue preference. (Black4)

SIMULATED FACT - In the law of evidence. A fabricated fact; an appearance given to things by human device, with a view to deceive and mislead. (Black4)

SIMULATED CONTRACT - One which, though clothed in concrete form, has no existence in fact. It may at any time and at the demand of any person in interest be declared a sham and may be ignored by creditors of the apparent vendor. (Black4)

SIMULATED JUDGMENT - One which is apparently rendered in good faith, upon an actual debt, and intended to be collected by the usual process of law, but which in reality is entered by the fraudulent contrivance of the parties, for the purpose of giving to one of them an advantage to which he is not entitled, or of defrauding or delaying third persons. (Black4)

To be born in the blood of your mother is the gift of God. To be borne (taxed) into the artificial system through simulated certification and registration as a legal entity is quite another matter. As we will discuss further in this work, one either bears the Arms of his blood, or he carries the Arms (seal) of the state (nation). Arms and weapons are not necessarily synonymous, though sometimes are used together. To bear Arms is to wear the bloodline of one's family and therefore one's legitimacy upon one's Self. This is the great mystery of hidden knowledge regarding the 2nd amendment of the US constitution, for the right to bear Arms (heraldry and genealogy as "posterity") shall not be disturbed. It is vulgar and frankly plain good-old fashioned American public ignorance to consider this word "Arms" simply as guns or other weaponry. Remember, the higher (more authoritative) language must be applied to all legal writings, and the constitution is certainly no exception.

Let us now examine the birth certification and registration process and what it accomplishes in simulation of Life:

Difference Between Birth Certificate And Certificate Of Live Birth:
Written by: J. Hirby

For most purposes of identification, people use the Birth Certificate as the original document. But some have recently heard about something called the Certificate of Live Birth. What is the difference between the Birth Certificate and Certificate of Live Birth?

"Hospital Record of Birth: Certificate of Live Birth"

The medical community has established the practice of issuing the Certificate of Live Birth when a Human Being enters the world. This form will include the basics of the baby name, parent names, doctor names, hospital, sex, race, date of birth and person completing the record. Health care professionals will then enter the information into their hospital database.

At this point, the father should verify that the information on the form is correct. Mistakes can be made on the original form or during medical data entry. The mother will, of course, be stressed and won’t be able to concentrate when given the form. Corrections should be made before the Birth Certificate is officially issued.

The Certificate of Live Birth is the first UNOFFICIAL DRAFT of the fact that your mother gave birth to you. Once this information is complete, this Certificate of Live Birth is sent to the Office of Vital Statistics or State REGISTER to create the OFFICIAL Birth Certificate.

“Official Government Issued Record of Birth: Birth Certificate”

For the sake of school, insurance, taxes, identification cards and travel documents, you should use your Birth Certificate. While the Certificate of Live Birth shows that you are MEDICALLY ALIVE, the Birth Certificate is the OFFICIAL RECORD DECLARING YOUR PLACE OF BIRTH. Some people are not born in hospitals and don’t have these other records.

The United States federal government may not take your Certificate of Live Birth for Passport purposes either. There have been some difficulties with birth documents in Puerto Rico. It is always wise to have your official Birth Certificate in a safe deposit box.

Remember that the live birth hospital form is primarily for data entry purposes. Your Birth Certificate is for official RECORDING purposes and will have the signature and date of a STATE OFFICIAL on the bottom. It should be printed on high-quality paper or cardboard WITH A REGISTRAR’S EMBOSSED STATE SEAL in the corner for authenticity. This official Birth Certificate will also have a REGISTRATION NUMBER, so it can easily be looked up for reference.

Once the mother has “informed” on her Real baby, creating the simulation (character) of a legal child (person) through her state signature and application called the “Certificate Of Live Birth,” only then has that legal evidence of an event (fictionally birthed life) been invoked (word magic) in the creation of a legal entity (person) that ties and incorporates the God-given first (christian) name and state-given last name (surname) together. This is the fictional marriage of names (of Nature and artificiality). The informer (paternal mother) allows for her offspring to be issued as surety to an informal legal person (in form not substance).

Per this record, having been re-created and registered into an official entity recognizable by birth certificate and as a fictional person who is birthed (borne/carried on paper) into the United States as its corporate subject (natural person), the child as reared into adulthood until death is thus required to bear the burden of the Arms (flag and seal) of its adoptive “family” and “father” — the artificial body politic (artificial person) that is the United States - in order to claim legal rights and benefits from his legal fiction master. Through this artificial “legal” birth his blood has been corrupted by the voluntary attainder and registration of the birth certification process. This fictional person (status) is described by “vital statistics,” which are merely words on paper as legal signs and tokens of id-entity.

This Reality of simulation will be made ever more clear as we progress. But for now, note the difference between the word born (blood inheritance) and borne (carried) as defined below, and that these words are used interchangeably by the legal deceivers. Note too that in the fictional world of finance and commerce it is only commercial paper that is carried. A manifest, for instance, displays the description of cargo. We wear a custom-made and tailored, bonded and impressed paper law-suit of personhood, thus manifesting our fictional representation and disposition. A man of straw (paper).
PAPER - A written or printed document or instrument. A document filed or introduced in evidence in a suit at law, as, in the phrase "papers in the case" and in "papers on appeal." Any writing or printed document, including letters, memoranda, legal or business documents, and books of account, as in the constitutional provision which protects the people from unreasonable searches and seizures in respect to their "papers" as well as their houses and persons. A written or printed EVIDENCE OF DEBT, particularly a promissory note or a bill of exchange, as in the phrases "accommodation paper" and "commercial paper." In English practice. The list of causes or cases intended for argument, called "the paper of causes." (Black2)

COMMERCIAL - adjective - 1. Pertaining to commerce or trade; as commercial concerns; commercial relations. 2. CARRYING on commerce; AS A COMMERCIAL NATION. 3. Proceeding (borne) from trade; as commercial benefits or profits. (Webster1828)

COMMERCIAL PAPER - The term "commercial paper" means bills of exchange, promissory notes, bank-checks, and other negotiable instruments for the payment of money, which, by their form and on their face, purport to be such instruments as are by the law-merchant recognized as falling under the designation of "commercial paper." Commercial paper means negotiable paper given in due course of business, whether the element of negotiability be given it by the law-merchant or by statute. A note given by a merchant for money loaned is within the meaning. (Black2)

ACCOMMODATION PAPER - An accommodation bill or note is one to which the accommodating party, be he acceptor, drawer, or indorser, has put his NAME WITHOUT CONSIDERATION, FOR THE PURPOSE OF BENEFITING OR ACCOMMODATING SOME OTHER PARTY WHO DESIRES TO RAISE MONEY ON IT, and is to provide for the bill when due. Must be executed for the purpose of loaning credit, and incidental benefit to party is insufficient. (Black2)

PROCEEDING - participle present tense - Moving forward; passing on; ISSUING; transacting; CARRYING ON. - noun - Process or movement from one thing to another; a measure or step taken in business; transaction; in the plural, a course of measures or conduct; COURSE OF DEALING WITH OTHERS. We speak of a legal or an illegal proceeding... It is our duty to acquiesce cheerfully in all God's proceedings towards. 1. In law, the course of steps or measures in the prosecution of an action is denominated proceedings. [See Process. ] (Webs1828)

TRANSACTION - Act of transacting or conducting any business; negotiation; management; proceeding; that which is done; an affair. Something which has taken place, whereby a CAUSE of action has arisen. It must therefore consist of an act or agreement, or several acts or agreements having some connection with each other, in which more than one person is concerned; and BY WHICH THE LEGAL RELATIONS OF SUCH PERSONS BETWEEN THEMSELVES ARE ALTERED. A broader term than "contract." A GROUP OF FACTS SO CONNECTED TOGETHER AS TO BE REFERRED TO BY A SINGLE LEGAL NAME, AS A CRIME, A CONTRACT, A WRONG. (Black4)

Perhaps the easiest way of comprehending what citizenship to mammon is can be explained by defining what it is to be an endorser. For the power of being assigned to a commercial entity as the persona representing a status in citizen-ship is as well the licensed (anarchical) power to create money (debt) by that strawman’s signature.

IN - A prefix, Latin in is used in composition as a particle of negation, like the English un, of which it seems to be a dialectical orthography; or it denotes within, into, or among, as in inbred, incase; or it serves only to augment or render emphatical the sense of the word to which it is prefixed, as in inclose, increase. - preposition - [Latin in ] in denotes present or inclosed. SURROUNDED BY LIMITS; A STATE OF BEING MIXED, OR COMBINED… It denotes PRESENT IN ANY STATE: as in sickness or health. It denotes present in time. - In the name, is used in phrases of invoking SWEARING, declaring, praying, etc. In prayer, it denotes by virtue of, or for the sake of. In the name of the people, denotes ON THEIR BEHALF or part: IN THEIR STEAD, or FOR THEIR SAKE. In, in many cases, is equivalent to on. This use of the word is frequent in the Scriptures; as, let fowls multiply in the earth. This use is more frequent in England than in America. We generally use on, in all similar phrases. In signifies by or through… In that, is sometimes equivalent to because. (Wells1828)

DORSUM - Latin. The back. In dorso recordi, on the back of the record. (Black4)

INDORSE - verb transitive - indors'. [Latin in and dorsum, the back ] 1. To write on the back of a paper or written instrument; as, to indorse a note or bill of exchange; to indorse a receipt or assignment on a bill or note. Hence, 2. To assign by writing an order on the back of a note or bill; TO ASSIGN OR TRANSFER BY INDOREMENT. The bill was indorsed to the bank. To indorse IN BLANK, to write a name only on a note or bill, LEAVING A BLANK TO BE FILLED BY THE INDOREE. (Wells1828)

INDORSE - To write a name on the back of a paper or document. Bills of exchange and promissory notes are indorsed by a party’s writing his name on the back. “Indorse” is a technical term, having sufficient LEGAL CERTAINTY without words of more particular description. (Black4)

INDORSE - The PERSON to whom a bill of exchange, promissory note, BILL OF LADING, etc., IS ASSIGNED BY INDOREMENT. (Black4)

INDORSEE IN DUE COURSE - An indorsee in due course is one who, IN GOOD FAITH, IN THE ORDINARY COURSE OF BUSINESS, AND FOR VALUE, BEFORE ITS APPARENT MATURITY OR PRESUMPTIVE DISHONOR, AND WITHOUT KNOWLEDGE OF ITS ACTUAL DISHONOR, ACQUIRES A NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENT DULY INDORED TO HIM, or indorsed generally, or payable to the bearer. (Black4)

INDORSEMENT - The act of a payee, drawee, accommodation indorser, or holder of a bill, note, check, or other negotiable instrument, in writing his name upon the back of the same, with or without further or qualifying words, WHEREBY THE PROPERTY IN THE SAME IS ASSIGNED AND TRANSFERRED TO ANOTHER. That which is so written upon the back of a negotiable instrument. In the law of negotiable instruments, a new and substantive contract by which TITLE TO THE INSTRUMENT IS TRANSFERRED AND BY WHICH INDORSER BECOMES A PART TO THE INSTRUMENT AND IS LIABLE, on certain conditions for its payment. In this respect INDOREMENT DIFFERS FROM A COMMON-LAW ASSIGNMENT. One who writes his name upon a negotiable instrument, OTHERWISE THAN AS A MAKER OR ACCEPTOR, AND DELIVERS IT, with his name thereon, to another person, is called an “indorser,” and his act is called “indorsement.” The word “indorsement” is also used with reference to writs, insurance policies, certificates of stock, etc. The term as used in the Uniform Stock Transfer Act contemplates A WRITING PASSING OR ATTEMPTING TO PASS TITLE OR AN INTEREST. As applied to a writ or warrant “indorsement” is an entry made on the back thereof.

Accommodation Indorsement - In the law of negotiable instruments, one made by a third person without any consideration, but merely for the benefit of the holder of the instrument, or to enable the maker to obtain money or credit on it. Unless otherwise explained, it is understood to be a LOAN OF THE INDORSER'S CREDIT without restriction.

Blank Indorsement (blank check) - One made by the mere writing of the indorser's name on the back of the note or bill, without mention of the name of any person in whose favor the indorsement is made, but with the IMPLIED UNDERSTANDING THAT ANY LAWFUL HOLDER MAY FILL IN HIS OWN NAME ABOVE THE INDOREMENT IF HE SO Chooses.

Conditional Indorsement - One by which the indorser annexes some condition (other than the failure of prior parties to pay) to his liability. The condition may be either precedent or subsequent.

Irregular Indorsement - One made by a third person before DELIVERY of the note to the payee; an indorsement in blank by a third person above the name of the payee, or when the payee does not indorse at all… (Black4)

INDORSER - He who indorses; i. e., being the payee or holder, writes his name on the back of a bill of exchange, etc. (Black4)

INDUCT - TO PUT IN ENJOYMENT OR POSSESSION, ESPECIALLY TO INTRODUCE INTO POSSESSION OF AN OFFICE OR BENEFICE, with custom ary ceremonies, to bring in, INITIATE, TO BE PUT FORMALLY IN POSSESSION, inaugurate or install. (Black4)

INDUCE - To bring on or about, to affect, CAUSE, TO INFLUENCE TO AN ACT OR COURSE OF CONDUCT, LEAD BY PERSUASION OR REASONING, INCITE BY MOTIVES, prevail on. (Black4)

INDUCEMENT - In Contracts. THE BENEFIT OR ADVANTAGE WHICH THE PROMISOR IS TO RECEIVE FROM A CONTRACT is the inducement for making it. In Criminal Evidence. MOTIVE, THAT WHICH LEADS OR TEMPTS TO THE COMMISSION OF CRIME. In Pleading. That portion of a declaration or of any subsequent pleading in an action which is brought forward by way of explanatory introduction to the main allegations. (Black4)

INDUCIAE - In International Law. A truce; a suspension of hostilities; an agreement during war TO ABSTAIN FOR A TIME FROM WARRI LIKE ACTS. (Black4)

Peace, in-deed, is still war.

For a young, ignorant mother, the inducements to fill out the birth record are many. Nurses are instructed to insist upon acquiring vital statistic information simply because the government pays bonuses to hospital administrators for every legal entity created by those records of live birth. The parents believe (love) the propaganda of the government, which says that by not recording and registering (taxing) their child’s information into Caesar’s dominions in district (in seizure) that those great benefits of citizenship will not be allotted to the child. Little do they know they are abandoning their child by never claiming their own paternal property, instead endorsing the child over to the state as a legal entity in bonded debt-slavery. Inducement to contract, as the intent of the action, is everything. And so it is this very ignorance and lack of full comprehension that makes the act of birth registration a fraud. But a fraud is only a fraud when man stops acting fraudulently and calls the fraud a fraud with true intent in honest disposition of leaving and quitclaiming all benefits of that fraud. This is called as solution; the end of any contractual relation-ship. A citizenship cannot claim fraud or paternal rights because a citizenship is not a man of authority under God. A public person can only beget another legal person through endorsement, for a public person is always acting in fraud.

An endorser is not a maker, nor an acceptor. So when the mother signs the birth certificate, as an endorsement, the mother is not the maker of the legal entity (fictional “person”), nor the accepting party. She is just an illiterate, willing participant in the abandoning through de-livery of her flesh and blood offspring. She enables the false gods of the State and district (makers of issues).
MAKE - I. TO CAUSE TO EXIST; TO FORM, fashion, or produce; to do, perform, or execute; AS TO MAKE AN ISSUE, to make an assent, as to make a conveyance, to make a note. 2. WRITTEN INSTRUMENT - Something REDUCED TO WRITING as a means of evidence, and as THE MEANS OF GIVING FORMAL EXPRESSION TO SOME ACT OR CONTRACT. (Black4)

ACCEPTOR - The person who accepts a bill of exchange, (generally the drawee,) or who engages to be primarily responsible for its payment. (Black1)

ACCEPTEUR PAR INTERVENTION - In French law. Acceptor of a bill for honor. (Black1)

The act of a person to whom A THING IS OFFERED OR TENDERED BY ANOTHER, whereby he receives the thing with the intention of retaining it, such intention being evidenced by a sufficient act. The acceptance of goods sold under a contract which WOULD BE VOID BY THE STATUTE OF FRAUDS WITHOUT DELIVERY AND ACCEPTANCE involves something more than the act of the vendor in the delivery. It requires that the vendee should also act, and that his act should be of such a nature as to indicate that he receives and accepts the goods delivered as his property. He must receive and retain the articles delivered, intending thereby to assume the title to them, to constitute the acceptance mentioned in the statute. In marine insurance, THE ACCEPTANCE OF AN ABANDONMENT BY THE UNDERWRITER IS HIS ASSENT, either express or to be implied from the surrounding circumstances, to the sufficiency and regularity of the abandonment. Its effect is to perfect the insured's right of action as for a total loss, if the cause of loss and circumstances have been truly disclosed. (Black1)

ABANDON - To desert, SURRENDER, relinquish, give up, or cede. See ABANDONMENT. (Black1)
ABANDONEE - A party to whom a right or property is abandoned or relinquished by another. Applied to the insurers of vessels and cargoes. (Black1)

ABANDONMENT - The surrender, relinquishment, disclaimer, or cession of property or of rights. The giving up a thing absolutely, without reference to any particular person or purpose; as throwing a jewel into the highway; leaving a thing to itself, as a vessel at sea; desertion, or dereliction. In marine insurance. A relinquishment or cession of property by the owner to the insurer of it, in order to claim as for a total loss, when in fact it is so by construction only. (Black1)

DESERT - To leave or quit with an INTENTION TO CAUSE A PERMANENT SEPARATION; to forsake utterly; TO ABANDON. (Black1)

DESERTION - The act by which a person abandons and forsakes, without justification, or unauthorized, A STATION OR CONDITION OF PUBLIC OR SOCIAL LIFE, RENOUNCING ITS RESPONSIBILITIES AND EVADING ITS DUTIES; THE ACT OF FORSAKING, DESERTING, OR ABANDONING A PERSON WITH WHOM ONE IS LEGALLY BOUND TO LIVE, OR FOR WHOM ONE IS LEGALLY BOUND TO PROVIDE, as a wife or husband. The act by which a man QUILTS THE SOCIETY OF HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN, OR EITHER OF THEM, and renounces his duties towards them. (Black1)

In the corporation of legal marriage, we have been entrained and publicly educated to, at tax-time, actually write our children off as burdensome dependents instead of as beloved blood descendants, all in pursuit of more return of wealth in mammon. As christ would say, forgive them, Father, for they know not what they do.

In essence, one’s birth record is the first or original commercial transaction from which all other actions proceed, and from which all commercial activity is carried and insured upon. Strangely, the birth certificate is actually referred to as a legal matrix, as something borne into an artificial womb, signifying the legal proof of origin and creation of a fictional person (legal entity) in artifice. This legal matrix is the origin of artificial life, and as will be discussed later in this work, is representative of the state acting maternally as the artificial mother (and paternally as the artificial father) of the legal child, and is the first draft of a document (instrument) for which all future copies must be taken. The vital statistics recorded and registered as the final birth certificate forms the new legal entity in persona, and we wear its fictional existence with every legal action we take under that combination and incorporation of names. The matrix (birth certificate) is the simulated man; the proof of the public invention of a strawman, a dummy corporation, and a receipt (proof) of a performance debt, which as a legal entity of no substance becomes a simulacrum (a copy without an original) by our own formal actions in agency.

MATRIX - noun - [Latin matrix from mater, mother] 1. The womb; the cavity in which the fetus of an animal is formed and nourished till its birth. 2. A mold; the cavity in which any thing is formed, and which gives it shape; as the matrix of a type. 3. THE PLACE WHERE ANY THING IS FORMED OR PRODUCED; as the matrix of metals; gang. 4. In dyeing, the five simple colors, black, white, blue, red and yellow, of which all the rest are composed. (Webs1828)

ARTIFICER - noun - [Latin artifex, from ars, and facio.] 1. An artist; a mechanic or manufacturer; one whose occupation requires skill or knowledge of a particular kind; as a silversmith, or saddler. 2. ONE WHO MAKES OR CONTRIVES; AN INVENTOR; AS AN ARTIFICER OF FRAUD OR LIES. 3. A cunning, or ARTIFUL fellow. [not used.] (Webs1828)

ILLUSION - noun - s as z. [Latin illusio, from illudo, to illude] DECEPTIVE APPEARANCE; FALSE SHOW, by which a PERSON is or may be deceived, or his expectations disappointed; mockery. Ye soft illusions, dear deceits, arise! (Webs1828)
You’ve probably never noticed that your birth certificate is printed on a bank note. Mine, for instance, states at the bottom “MIDWEST BANK NOTE COMPANY” as its origin, and the Arms of the United States is of course embossed and displayed officially in a raised SEAL. For that person is the son of the state (Caesar’s district), created and borne into legal existence by it. It retains no blood, and therefore has no blood right. It is merely a commercial paper. The seal represents the Arms of the United States, the persons “father.”

This commercial paper falsely re-presents God’s Creation of blood into a fictional personification, and the man must therefore carry that false persona with him in the form of identification; a token of his permanent state of false being in the sin of fiction. In other words, we undertake to carry (bear) our person in commerce, and a person of the United States is required by law to bear the Arms (flag and seal) of that government corporation, not those of his blood kin or of his State (People).

“...in the arcanum of magic it is declared that ‘HE CONTROLS THE SOUL WHO CONTROLS THE BLOOD OF ANOTHER’...”

“Though the demonism of the Middle Ages seems to have disappeared, there is abundant evidence that in many forms of modern thought — especially the so-called "prosperity" philosophy, "will-power building" metaphysics, and systems of "high-pressure" salesmanship — black magic has merely passed through a metamorphosis, and ALTHOUGH ITS NAME BE CHANGED ITS NATURE REMAINS THE SAME.”

—Manly P. Hall, "Ceremonial Soverery And Magic"

We are the carriers of commercial vessels called citizen-ships. We are borne citizens at the registration of our birth, which is the figurative (legal) seizure of our blood through word magic. And the only remedy to this nightmare of fictional re-presentation is to be re-born (as “Christians” call it) into Nature, back into our origin of blood and Spirit and Source under God (Jehovah). Until we shed ourselves of all simulation through the magic of artifice and fiction, until we shed our straw, we voluntarily give up our right to bear our bloodline right in the Arms of heraldry and instead bear the Great Seal of the United States as our “father” and “family” upon a paper straw-man persona, which we carry and bear as our burden in commerce (artifice of mammon).

BORN - participle passive - of bear. Baurn. BROUGHT FORTH, AS AN ANIMAL. A very useful distinction is observed by good authors, who, in the sense of produced or brought forth, write this word born; but in the sense of CARRIED, write it BORNE. This difference of orthography renders obvious the difference of pronunciation. 1. To be born is to be produced or brought into life. ‘Man is born to trouble ’ A man born a prince or a beggar. It is followed by OF. BEFORE THE MOTHER OR ANCESTORS. Man that is born of woman is of few days and full of trouble. Job 14:1. 2. (Black4)
FORBEARANCE - Act by which creditor waits for payment of debt due him by debtor after it becomes due. A DELAY IN ENFORCING RIGHTS. Refraining from action. The term is used in this sense in general jurisprudence, in contradistinction to “act.” WITHIN USURY LAW, term signifies CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATION OF LENDER OR CREDITOR TO REFRAIN, DURING GIVEN PERIOD OF TIME, from requiring borrower or debtor to repay loan or debt then due and payable. (Black4)

USURY - Modern Law. An ILLEGAL contract for a loan or FORBEARANCE of money, goods, or things in action, by which illegal interest is reserved, or agreed to be reserved or taken. An unconscionable and exorbitant rate or amount of interest. AN UNLAWFUL CONTRACT UPON THE LOAN OF MONEY, to receive the same again with exorbitant increase. The reserving and taking, or contracting to reserve and take, either directly or by indirection, a greater sum for the USE of money than the lawful interest. See, also, Usurious Contract. "Usury" does not depend on question whether the lender actually gets more than the legal rate of interest or not; but on whether there was a purpose in his mind to make more than legal interest for the use of money, and whether, by the terms of the transaction, and the means used to effect the loan, he may by its enforcement be enabled to get more than the legal rate. A profit greater than the lawful rate of interest, intentionally EXACTED as a BONUS, FOR THE FORBEARANCE OF AN EXISTING INDEBTEDNESS or a loan of money, imposed upon the necessities of the BORROWER in a transaction where the money is to be returned at all events. Old English Law. Interest of money; increase for the loan of money; A REWARD FOR THE USE OF MONEY. THE TAKING OF ANY COMPENSATION WHATEVER FOR THE USE OF MONEY. (Black4)

We are periodically charged fines and fees and other exactions (extortions), not because government is a tyranny, but because we voluntarily borrow its personhood and spend our Lives off course, paying for its forbearance of our debts. Government, as creditor, and as the origin of conspiracy, of course may charge unlawful usury without fear of lawful punishment. The punisher never punishes himself. The king never turns upon his own crown. And as long as we pay these rents in tribute to the constituted, sovereign magistracy, as long as government is in receivership of these taxes as protection money in exaction, we are left to our civil, public adventures. But for this usurious privilege of contract we pay the price of usury because we exist in pretended indebtedness to the creator magistrates of persons, for we are not at rest in God but instead sailing its citizen-ship in a commercial incorporation, never fixed to the land. Our souls are tied up in bondage, mixed and grafted with the artifice; acting as sureties for its profits in its permanently bankrupt debt system.

TRIBUNE - A CONTRIBUTION which is raised by a prince or sovereign from his subjects to sustain the expenses of the state. A sum of money PAID BY AN INFERIOR sovereign or state to a superior potentate, TO SECURE THE FRIENDSHIP OR PROTECTION OF THE LATTER. (Black1)

TRIBUTE - A contribution which is sometimes RAISED BY THE SOVEREIGN FROM HIS SUBJECT, to sustain the expenses of the state. It is also a sum of money paid by one nation to another UNDER SOME PRETENDED RIGHT. (Bouv1856)

CONTRIBUTIONS - Public law. TAXES or money contributed to the support of the government. 2. Contributions are of three kinds, namely: first, those which arise from persons on account of their property, real or personal, or which are imposed upon their industry - those which are laid on and paid by real estate WITHOUT REGARD TO ITS OWNER; and - those to which personal property is subject, in its transmission from hand to hand, WITHOUT REGARD TO THE OWNER... 3. This is a generic term which INCLUDES ALL KINDS OF IMPOSITIONS FOR THE PUBLIC BENEFIT. See Duties; Imports; Taxes. 4. By contributions is also meant FORCED levy of money or property by a belligerent in a hostile country which he occupies, BY WHICH MEANS THE COUNTRY IS MADE TO CONTRIBUTE to the support of the army of occupation. These contributions are usually TAKEN INSTEAD OF PILLAGE (Bouv1856)

The use of these terms of volunteerism can be confusing, but the doctrine of master and servant (volunteerism) does not pretend the notion of choice, rather that these “contributions” such as tax and other extortion and exactions that all public subjects pay to their masters are the result of said initial act of volunteerism. We are birthed into this legal matrix, and confirm that act by our use of its surname, signature, and other identity-based benefits. If it’s still unclear how force may be used within such a voluntary society as this US public citizenship, consider for a moment a “voluntary” military service contract. One does not enter the military as a volunteer, one volunteers to enter the military and be bound to its separate system of law under contract and strict law. The volunteerism was an action pre-contract. The soldier does not attempt to use his volunteerism to bypass any military codes, for that would be ridiculous. One does not retain any choice to resist while under contract law, until that contract is executed. Citizenship is no different, being the result of a previous action of voluntary consent and a continuing result of silence thereto. What is avoidable by correct choice and end of contract is not a tyranny, it is the essence of volunteerism. And volunteers will be violently forced to contribute to the public, legal fiction, paying tribute to exactly the artificial god in mammon they have chosen and made election of. For it’s the person, not the man, that must pay tribute. And if the person does not pay, the surety for that person, the man, will be punished for such negligence of contract.

Just remember that every tax you pay is an act of voluntary contribution, and that you are funding this international, commercial war machine through your taxed volunteerism. But do not be confused in any way, for your contributions are not a choice, because slaves, even voluntary ones, simply don’t have a choice.

It is interesting to note here that the word Noah in the Bible translates to being at “rest.” And of course figuratively, the three states of unrest or sons (states of being) of Noah are Seth (name), Ham (red, angry), and Japheth (gullibility). The gullible (generally common caucasoid/Eropid peoples) are ruled by the tribe of the name (genealogy, as the keepers of records of blood inheritance/land-holders), and pitted against the tribe of Ham (the passionate and angry) Middle Eastern peoples under the doctrine of the Quran. No rest is allowed, no peace between nations of goyim. Noah is out to Sea! We will discover more on this figurative nature of the word tribe and the True meanings of all the names in the Bible later. For now, merely realize that every character in the Bible is but a figurative personification and story of you, of your potential in both glory, grace, and in corruption. These are not historical figures, they are character lessons to be learned through trials that can be avoided by the understanding of their individual stories in scripture. Just look at everything that Noah had to go through just to be at rest, and you will begin to understand the Nature of your own journey towards the even higher, ultimate example of the Lawful man of God.

To rest on the Sabbath day, the 7th “day,” in honor of the Nature of Jehovah and to give Its fallow fields and Its wondrous beasts of burden rest... that was the commandment of scripture, as Jubilee. But the legal Land-Lords in their Judaic (Old) Law altered that perfect rationality of Natural action under the Supreme Law of Jehovah yet again into a ceremonial, customary replacement of that Natural Law of God. They turned the verb (action of) “rest” into a conceptual noun of fiction.
and usury, into a charge of extortion (exaction). They made rest into a fee of penalty. They turned man’s place in Nature as his “interest” in Jehovah and in himself and his own blood kin into a monetary consideration of interest upon his forbearing-of-God and debt obligation to man as god-kings; the land-lords of government. Of course, no man of God would dare to pay interest to another man, for his interests would be solely in serving all men and God in Natural substance, not by the artificial and pointless form of mammon (money). One’s Life is only Lived to honor and please God’s Nature in reciprocity for the abundance of that beautiful, edible shelter of Nature. A man of God would never put himself into the debt and surety of another, as the ancient wisdom of the scriptures instruct him to at all times avoid such misadventures that he would surely smart for. For his creditor will become his false god, his idol, and his law-maker, just as the nations and their idolatrous gods. Here again we see the word-smiths magically recreating God’s prescribed teachings of rest and interest into nothing more than fictions of the usurious legal code and system of pirates. Just as man’s person is built upon the back of and collateralized in mammon, so too shall man pay tribute for that person’s anthropomorphized interest in mammon, so that the god of mammon shall rest in the sight of the “peace” of its free-flowing commerce, ruling in supremacy over the land by flooding it with that virtual, legal sea of false legalistic valuation.

Perhaps nothing strikes this author as more ridiculous in the false corporate “Christian” dialectic (fallacious logic) than the notion of “resting” on Sundays only, of going to a corporate church in some masonic temple or building as if that fulfills some obligation to God. It does not. It is not an instruction in the Bible. It is an affront upon the Word. For to participate in evil, in mammon, in commerce six days a week and then pretend to be holy only one day per week is the epitome of ignorance. Nowhere does the Word of God say be evil and ignore the Higher Law except on the Sabbath day once a week. This is the perfect example of the sheer irrational behavior caused by the priest-class, pharisees, the gods of nations, and the usurious changers of money. This concept is about as oxymoronic as a bank holiday (holy day). Imagine that, a banker in mammon celebrating Christmas… How absurd!

And so, through these corporate institutions of religion, both Catholic (universal) and its protestors (Protestants), we find a pointless argument based on the Roman Catholic calendar, a creation of man. For as a legal corporation based in mammon (money) and instituted under the legal laws of the state, the idea of the Sabbath must also be made to conform with the ideals of mammon, to the 5 day work-week of legal debt slaves, turning the holy “day” into a vulgar conceptualization of a spiritual vacation from the normalized, everyday sin (syn) committed by the common man in the name of the gods of the state (deified, artificial person) every week. Should the Sabbath take place once a week on the Roman Saturday (Saturn worship) or on the Roman Sunday (Sun worship)?

The word Sabbath comes from the root of Strong’s H7673 - shabath, which is translated into the English words rest, rested (as when God rested on the seventh “day” of creation), cease, put away, put down, to be lacking, celebrate, keep, rid, make, to exterminate, to destroy, to cause to desist, to cause to fail, etc… There is the Sabbatical Year, in which the lands are not plowed, and the Sabbatical week for different cultures. Generally, this is an old-Testament Jewish term that can, in man’s vulgarity of legal law, only be utilized politically in a usurious, money-based labor and/or slave labor economy. Its Spirit of intent has been lost, delegated to a literalist translation based on the Roman calendar.

SABBATIC, SABBATICAL - adjective - 1. PERTAINING TO THE sabbath, enjoying or bringing an intermission of labor. Sabbatical year, IN THE JEWISH ECONOMY, WAS EVERY SEVENTH YEAR, IN WHICH THE ISRAELITES WERE COMMANDED TO SUFFER THEIR FIELDS AND VINEYARDS TO REST, OR LIE WITHOUT TILLAGE, and the year next following every seventh sabbatical year in succession, that is, EVERY FIFTIETH YEAR, WAS THE IUBILEE, which was also A YEAR OF REST TO THE LANDS, and a year of redemption or release. Leviticus 15:1. (Webs1828)

Of course, when we see that this word “day” is yet another obfuscating word used in the King’s dog-Latin confusion of terms of art, we may take a whole new meaning from this word, which figuratively may mean anything from a day to a year to a lifetime, and even as an entire age. The rigmarole of this 7 day schedule has nothing of the spirit within its design, the modern calendar of course being a Roman creation. Only he who is unspiritually fixed in the pursuit of worldly rigmarole of this 7 day schedule has nothing of the spirit within its design, the modern calendar of

Who wins the debate? Nobody, of course! For the foundation of the argument is flawed, the meaning of the word purposefully mistranliterated for the masses of modern illiterate, dog-Latin goyim.

—John 5:16, KJB

“And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go; And answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day? And they could not answer him again to these things.”

—Luke 14:3-6, KJB
“And it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn fields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands. And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is NOT LAWFUL to do on the sabbath days? And Jesus answering them said, HAVE YE NOT READ SO MUCH AS THIS, WHAT DAVID DID, WHEN HIMSELF WAS AN HUNGRED, AND THEY WHICH WERE WITH HIM; How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; WHICH IT IS NOT LAWFUL TO EAT BUT FOR THE PRIESTS ALONE?”

Now it’s your turn, you of the so-called “Christian” flattering title and that bears the empty symbol of the cross... Have you not read what David did? Have you not read what christ did over and over in respect of the Pure and permanent Sabbath in spite of the Jewish priest-class and Pharisees of the old Law and purely Babylonian religious-based tradition? Do you not see that even christ was trying to parabolically talk sense into you? Do you not see that your work in legality and mammon is not acceptable on any day or at any time, in the figurative eyes of God’s Nature and Law, for it benefits not God’s kingdom nor protects its Nature and Design? Can you not see that the legal custom of keeping the Sabbath is merely an excuse by the ecclesia and corporate church and state to cause men to sin (to go against God’s law) the other 6 days a week?

If all days are Sabbath, if the Sabbath is Eternal, what need is there of man’s artful world, debt instruments, and law, and how does one justify such a fictional license from God’s Law every other day but “Sunday,” like a Roman holiday?

It is important to understand here that the word Sabbath differs from the biblical word sabbaton, which is not spiritual or of God in any way. Jesus the christos then exclaims the following:

“And he said unto them, That the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.”

—Luke 6:5, KJB

But how can this be, unless the word here used is not the word Sabbath (capitalized), but instead the uncapitalized or general meaning of the word in man’s legal domain? And that’s exactly what we find, another confusing transliteration from the king (false god and lord). Here, a different word is intended, which is Strong’s G4521 - σάββατον, or sabbaton. And, of course, we find this term to be intended as exactly what we would expect of those adversaries and false gods of mammon. The word sabbaton is strictly a secular, legalistic word of Hebrew origin, with no spiritual, Higher Law aspect to it at all.
Sabbaton is defined as “the Sabbath (i.e., Shabbath), OR DAY OF WEEKLY REPOSE FROM SECULAR AVOCATIONS (also the observance or institution itself); by extension, a se’nnight, i.e., the interval between two Sabbaths, likewise the plural in all the above applications:—sabbath (day), week.

And Strong’s outline of Biblical usage for this mistransliterated word are as follows:

G4521 - σαββατον, or sabbaton

1. THE SEVENTH DAY OF EACH WEEK which was A SACRED FESTIVAL on which THE ISRAELITES WERE REQUIRED TO ABSTAIN FROM ALL WORK.

A. THE INSTITUTION of the sabbath, THE LAW for keeping holy every seventh day of the week.

B. A single sabbath, sabbath day.

2. Seven days, a week.

With a bit of further due diligence, we find this to be a strictly Jewish, Talmudic (civil law) legal concept only, including the law of a sabbath-day’s journey, defined in Theyer’s Greek Lexicon as “the distance it is lawful to travel on the sabbath-day or sabbaton according to the Talmud,” being “two-thousand cubits or paces.”

In comparison, the secular sabbaton of the Jew is to the actual holy Sabbath of God what the day Sunday is to the timelessness of God’s Word/Law. It is ritualistic, secular nonsense that pretends to replace the Reality of the keeping of True Law at all times. It is like attending a weekly, ritualistic church service to pay for your sins the rest of the week. And it is utterly ridiculous in the parabolic stories of Christ.

As Mr. Veith, a “Seventh Day Adventist” is quoted as saying above, the choice is God’s Sabbath or Rome’s career day of the week as a sabbatic mark of authority over God’s Word/Law/Son. But the answer is not to worship Saturn (Saturday) as the one day out of seven to act christlike, but to worship all days and all times as Sabbath without error or exception, without license or popish indulgences, and without secular logic or ritual pomp and circumstance. The Sabbath is not a sabbatical from a sinful agency with devil’s (attorneys) once per week, but a permanent Lifestyle that defeats those devils, the artificers and their schemes.

Remember, the new Law (Son) fulfills the old Law. The Sabbath as the secularized sabbaton is the old Law, and is based solely on commercial enterprise, a ceasing of paid or involuntary slave-labor as a day of legal rest. It has its basis, in other words, on nothing of Christ’s teachings. This is to say that if men were acting piously in Pure Charitably and at all times in Love and in the Grace of God’s Nature and Law, the Sabbath would be a pointless custom, for it would never end. For there is nothing of God’s commandments that would be outlawed on the Jewish Sabbath. Charity is not an employment, it is a permanent Lifestyle. One would not cease to be Charitable in all things and works every day but the sabbaton. One that is a son of God needs no Sabbath, for every day is Sabbath. And so I am sorry, but if you believe in and utilize this old Law of commerce, be it Saturday or Sunday or any day, month, or year, you are just not what you think you are. God’s Law is not to be turned on and off like a Light-switch. All days are, and all Being is of Jehovah. Every second of every day and in every aspect of one’s Life is to be kept as the Sabbath. And most importantly, money in any form can hold no place in the Sabbath.

Ultimately, the ridiculousness of the situation boils down to this: either you will sin Monday thru Saturday and keep Sunday as God’s day or you will protest and sin instead Sunday through Friday and keep Saturday alone for the Law and works of God. This is patently idiotic. For what Christ is attempting to teach the Pharisees and lawyers above is a timeless lesson, that work (employs) in man’s system of law and commerce are opposed to the works of the followers of christ (God’s Law/Word/Son). It is not work to save a Life, but part of the works of Pius men under Jehovah. It is not work to feed the hungry, but the required and expected timeless works of all men of God. We are not to work against God all the days of the week, and only on the seventh day of the Roman calendar week rest from our sins. This is certainly not a commandment of God, to sin 6 of 7 days just so that one may keep the separate, Sabbath day holy. Nor can any man possibly think this to be a reasonable custom for men of christ’s teachings under the New Testament, now that this ludicrous idea of a “Sabbath day” in the time domain of strictly commercial Roman law is no longer occulted from one’s Natural Reason. The debate is absolutely, 100% fallacious. It is a religious and legal debate, not a spiritual one under the Law of God’s Nature.

“Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?”

—Luke 6:9, KJB

With his interest laid firmly upon the legalistic dependence of money, man’s stake in Jehovah and the True Nature of keeping the Sabbath holy is of course lost. For his stake (cross) becomes paper thin in form only and without any anchor to the land (to God, to Reality). Our notion of what rest is has been transliterated into a commercial term of art, a simulation of the Real. Noah was Truly at rest with God, for he wrestled not against the Law of God. The word Noah means “rest.” We, however, are all parabolically lost at sea without an ark of the covenant.

From action (verb) to fiction (noun)...

RESTS - noun - Periodical BALANCING’S OF AN ACCOUNT, (particularly in mortgage and trust accounts), made for the purpose of CONVERTING INTEREST INTO PRINCIPAL, and CHARGING THE PARTY LIABLE thereon with compound interest. (Black4)

INTEREST - verb transitive - [Latin inter and esse.] 1. To concern: TO AFFECT, to excite emotion or passion, usually in favor, but SOMETIMES AGAINST A PERSON OR THING. A narration of suffering interests us in favor of the sufferer. We are interested in the story or in the fate of the sufferer. We are interested to know the result, ISSUE or EVENT of an ENTERPRISE. It is followed by in or for. We are interested in the narration, but for the sufferer. 2. TO GIVE A SHARE IN. Christ, by his atonement, has INTERESTED BELIEVERS in the blessings of THE COVENANT OF GRACE. 3. TO HAVE A SHARE. We are not all interested in the public funds, but we are all interested in the happiness of a free government. 4. TO ENGAGE; as, to interest one in our favor. TO INTEREST ONE’S SELF. IS TO TAKE A SHARE OR CONCERN IN - noun - Concern: advantage: good; as PRIVATE INTEREST; PUBLIC INTEREST. Divisions hinder the common interest and public good. 1. INFLUENCE OVER OTHERS. They had now lost their interest at court. He knew his interest sufficient to procure the office. 2. SHARE, PORTION, PART, PARTICIPATION IN VALUE. He has parted with his interest in the stocks. He has an interest in a manufactory of cotton goods. 3. Regard to PRIVATE profit. ’Tis interest calls off all her sneaking train. 4. PREMIUM PAID FOR THE USE OF MONEY; the profit per cent derived from money lent. OR PROPERTY USED BY ANOTHER PERSON, OR FROM DEBTS REMAINING UNPAID. Commercial states have a legal rate of interest. Debts on book BEAR an interest after the expiration of the credit. Courts allow interest in many cases where it is not stipulated. A higher rate of interest than that which THE LAW ALLOWS, is called usury. Simple interest is that which arises from the principal sum only. Compound interest is that which arises from the principal with the interest added; INTEREST ON INTEREST. 5. Any surplus advantage.

With all speed, you shall have your desire with interest. (Webs1828)

If a man’s interest is in money, and if everything in his purview of conscious thought is therefore to be valued only in money, including his own life and its taxable future labor potential (actuarial), then man’s master is obviously money (mammon). Though man may kill for money to obtain a temporary but false sense of financial freedom, he will somehow not do the same to gain his ability to be free from that very same system of enslavement.

It is very important to know that man in person-hood and citizen-ship has not merely his every interest in money, but that his name is only money under mammon. His signature is magically monetized into new debt currency, creating new money from that dark void, as all money under mammon represents only debt (to the god of nothingness). Only form, no substance, as a false god. Money is created by man’s use of that person in ad-venture capitalism, and the creation of money by his name (signature) upon any and every application is likened unto a virtual charge against the christian name of Jehovah, a sacrifice to appease the god of money so as to hold at bay the God of Nature. Every aspect of our civil life in personhood revolves around our interest in money. And yet the money is never ours. We have the mere privilege of use. It is only ever attached to the admixed commercial surname. We cannot actually earn anything Naturally by using another’s political property to receive it. What is purchased (conquered) by it therefore cannot be our own, for the acquiring of anything by money is always false; an artificial title for public use. But the public is a domain not our own. The public owns our surname. What is received in citizenship can be confiscated at any time by the creator-government of that ship. And we pay a heavy price indeed, not only by the usury charged from our mere use of another’s money (commercial paper), but in the fact that we are the actual collateral for that money. Our names are created by and only as monetary considerations (financial instruments) for the use and creation of more money, a charge that can never be paid back by permanent debtors with no ability to discharge our foundational, constituted performance debt.

Without debt, however, government would cease to exist. For a constitution is a debt compact. No debt, no constituted authorities, and no nation. Its very purpose is debt and no other. Its only power issues from debt. Its constitution is defined as “a debt compact.” All of its laws revolve around debt and the foolish debtors who faithfully charge it in pledge. Its only purpose is to service debt. It is truly a debtor’s hell with no possibility of escape under its circular system of law…

Which is why we must overcome its artful designs and abandon its false gods.

CAPITULATION - noun - 1. The act of capitulating, or SURRENDERING to an enemy upon stipulated terms or conditions. 2. The treaty or instrument containing the conditions of surrender. 3. A REDUCING TO HEADS. 4. In German polity, a contract which the Emperor makes with the electors, in the names of the princes and states of the empire, before he is raised to the imperial dignity. (Webs1828)

Man is reduced to heads. Another word for head is capita. Man is considered per capita; per head… just like cattle. This and the valuation and monetization of each head of chattel is called capitalism.

CAPUT - A head; THE HEAD OF A PERSON; the whole person; the life of a person; ONE'S PERSONALITY; STATUS; CIVIL CONDITION… In civil law. It signified a person's civil condition or status. AND AMONG THE ROMANS CONSISTED OF THREE COMPONENT PARTS OR ELEMENTS. —libertas, liberty; civitas, citizenship; and familia, family. (Black4)
CAPITA - Heads, and, figuratively, entire bodies, WHETHER OF PERSONS OR ANIMALS, PERSONS INDIVIDUALLY CONSIDERED, WITHOUT RELATION TO OTHERS. (polls); as distinguished from stirpes or STOCKS OF DESCENT. The term in this sense, making part of the common phrases, in capita, per capita, is derived from the civil law. (Black4)

PER CAPITA - By heads; by the poll; as individuals. In the distribution of an intestate's personality, the persons legally entitled to take are said to take per capita, that is, EQUAL SHARES, WHEN THEY CLAIM, EACH IN HIS OWN RIGHT, AS IN EQUAL DEGREE OF KINDRED; in contradistinction to claiming by right of representation, or per stripes. (Black4)

CAPITE - Latin. By the head. TENURE IN CAPITE was an ancient FEUDAL TENURE, whereby a man HELD LANDS OF THE KING IMMEDIATELY. It was of two sorts: the one, PRINCIPAL AND GENERAL, or OF THE KING AS THE SOURCE OF ALL TENURE; the other, special and subaltern, or of a particular subject. It is now abolished. Jacob. As to distribution per capita, see Capita, per. (Black4)

CAPITE MINUTUS - In the civil law. One who had suffered capitis diminutio, ONE WHO LOST STATUS OR LEGAL ATTRIBUTES. (Black4)

CAPITIS DIMINUTION - In Roman law. A DIMINISHING OR ABRIDGMENT OF PERSONALITY; A LOSS OR CURTAILMENT OF A MAN'S STATUS OR AGGREGATE OF LEGAL ATTRIBUTES AND QUALIFICATIONS. (Black4)

What is abolished as law is often recreated through voluntary contract. Any law can be created via contract, as long as the contract stands and all parties agree to it. And so, while direct feudalism is certainly no longer the law, contractual feudalism by another name certainly is. It's called US citizenship. It is the nature of being a public person under an implied "social contract."

The public acts in capita (by the head), and so the private god "We, the People" through its constituted government takes (taxes) per capita. The private always acts in the re-presentation of and as a part of a bloodline of some private family or lineal stock in fabled genealogy, while the public person in agency never acts in his own right (e.g., sui juris) or blood-right but through the property (person) of another. In other words, the public person and thus the man standing in surety to it is stuck in (pledged to) a modern rent, a re-presented feudatory tenancy upon the private lands of the gods of the nation. The man in public person represents his Self as something he his not, and certainly not by his connection of blood and Arms to some private family. His family is in the stead of the state, that creator of publicity, the nation to which a fictional person's birth and nativity is rendered and certificed, and then confirmed and ratified by the man acting thereof in agency. The private man has no thing to render back to Caesar, for his private person (status) is not born (rendered) by that district of seizure, distress, and distraint. The public person shares only in the bloodless, backwards live (evil) of fictional things.

Evil is not merely some Biblical term. In fact, it was used for a variety of ailments, diseases, and political conditions in days of old. We forget sometimes that all the words of the Bible were in existence long before the Bible was written, and that such existence through the magic spelling of artful terms was certainly not in origin an English existence. A simulacra has no True source.

In its etymology, the noun evil stems from the Old English yfel. In its adjective form, this Old English word (in Kentish being evel) meant "bad, vicious, ill, wicked," from Proto-Germanic ubilaz and cognates: Old Saxon ubil, Old Frisian and Middle Dutch evel, Dutch eeuvel, Old High German ubil, German übel, and Gothic ubils), from PIE upelo- , from root wap- "bad, evil" and as the cognate: Hittite huwapp- "evil". In Old English and other older Germanic languages other than Scandinavian, "this word is the most comprehensive adjectival expression of disapproval, dislike or disparagement." Evil was the word the Anglo-Saxons used where we would use bad, cruel.
Remember, the national debt is a charge equally placed upon each person individually but as one body politic (nationalized) as well. One can only be charged with evil by evil men under evil titles while under color of law and false (evil) authority. It is charged per head (per capita), meaning individually. It is a capitalist system, meaning that man in persona is only considered by his capita value (per head, as of cattle/chattel), while the group or herd is charged as merely one body politic, or as the “general public.” The point is, that which is charged (as contracted debt, as dis-ease) can ultimately only ever dissipate by being discharged. It cannot simply be paid with money, for it is not only a monetary debt. It is a performance contract in persona. The performance of the pledge must be executed to the satisfaction of the granter of the person (status). The agent must fulfill the charge of his agency. The strawman must pose and do the bidding of his farmer (creator). He must please the god of his person. The charge, of course, happens at birth when that official birth certificate as a financial instrument and creation of a legal entity in fiction is monetized, creating the wager of a hopefully confirmed and ratified fictional entity in mammon as a felon in franchise (civil, commercial freedom). From this original, accidental charge of birth, like a “credit card” our very legal existence in strawman form is continuously re-charged by the very debt of the nation. And we can never pay off this debt, for such a debt represents the very purpose of our artificial, civil life in the invisible chains of mammon. Just as one does not escape from that scriptural hell presented in religious lore, one does not escape this debtor’s hell while still claiming and acting in the rights of the person-hood controlled by the devil’s of the exchequer (treasury). This is to say that the person (status) of the state exists only in hell, and the man in surety to it cannot escape from that debtor’s hell while legally, contractually attached in any way to that public persona. The person lives only in hell. The man Lives only in the heaven of untouched Nature, unless he pretends his Self to be some thing, some person (noun/name) in another place (legal jurisdiction) he is not. I cannot express the importance of this realization, that it’s our very false re-presentation as a Self-deceit and lack of True Self respect (Self-Love) that creates this hell on earth. For it is only the fiction of men, the artificial self (persona) turned into a virtual reality by our belief (love) in its veracity and in the sovereign authority of those idolatrous gods of all the nations. The money is representative of a non-payable debt, as a performance that can never be executed. But the money itself is not the source of the debt, only a tool used to support its illusion. We live in agency to serve our person’s principal. Debt is not merely the owing of money, its True purpose and intent is to cause obligations implied in the commercial use of that money, to require contractual performance where none would exist before, as the making of a dis-ease. Without debt, this current (currency of) government would serve no purpose, for without such charged debtors in pledge to pay an unplayable debt and continuously replenishing fountain of tax, no commercial system would be needed to administer that debt and its paradoxical performance debtors. Whatever purpose or justification the reader may put upon the use of money, we must know that first and foremost money is only an inducement to contract a legal dis-ease. Without money, we’d have our feet firmly upon the land and Live only in Reality at all times, seeking that which we need and not that for which we merely desire. We would rely on our own land and upon others in the Purest expression and totally unregulated Freedom of Love and Charity, not upon some conglomerate corporation in total dependence upon the smooth and uncharitable running of the commercial debtor state. We would be “off-grid” in the most spiritual sense of that phrase, the only meaning that counts. We would certainly need no vessel (citizen-ship), for the sea of commerce would have dried up just as its governing devils would have withered away, waiting to prey on the future generations of those who woke up in this one by incrementally causing their fictional dis-ease to contractually spread once again. To those they may make illiterate once again through their trickery and “education.”
The franchise would be replaced by the Real thing - Natural Freedom under only God’s Law of Nature by Self-governing men.

This is my dream… MLK can eat my shorts!

The only way to discharge the debt is to dock the ship, to stop using that public persona (legal status) which is thus charged, to abandon the commercial agency by abandoning the use of the name in mammon as a tool for money management. For the debt of citizenship is a debt of performance, not of mere money.

Consider the difference here, figuratively, between earth and water. When we seek to ground a charge of electricity, we literally hold it to the ground (the land) so that it is discharged. But what happens if we are standing permanently in water, in the sea? Water is a conductor of that charge, and therefore a man who has only legal standing in the fictional sea of commerce with no access to stand upon the land will continue to hold that charge of debt regardless of his beliefs. A person, as a commercial vessel, is designed to do exactly that — to hold a charge of permanent debt and perform like the infected, dis-eased hosts for these parasites.

Thus, for this god of mammon to exist (as a lie) and thrive (subsist), it must continuously deceive us into claiming interest in that beast system in opposition to God. We must believe in (love) it and thus desire it. We must be separated from our very Nature, from Jehovah, from the land, so that we may only see Nature by its false, monetary valuations. We have been made to judge all things in the shadow of the god of mammon. And we must live in a state of permanent use, and therefore subsist only in a simulated feudal state of usury. As we manifest that fiction in persona despite God and Nature, we must pay interest for the very use and surety of the strawman person in sur-name, and the only way to pay is to create new money all the time by our continuous charges via its signature. In other words, as pertaining to the citizen-ship, money becomes our nature and essence, our building blocks, our legal (anti-Nature) DNA; for the monetized false blood of legal persons is the currency of debt. Monetary debt is only numbers, and numbers are only the digital terms of yet another form of coded language designed to deceive and obfuscate us from our Nature and True, spiritual course.

— Electa una via, non datur recursus ad alteram. 10 Tull. n. 170. (BouvMaxim)

God never abandons us, we merely pretend to abandon God. For we choose the fiction of mammon as our means and therefore have no recourse to God’s Light and protections of Natural Law according to the law of persons in that consented to system of mammon. Our choice, our election is clear, for our actions in the person (property) of another expresses our consent.

We live under the laws of mammon, using and being used as money in a public, usurious contract as permanent borrowers. We borrow for our own use the commercial person so as to have said interest (stake) in that fiction of mammon — the power to create debt as “credit” by our signature. Our commercial voyage re-sets our course away from God’s Nature and Law into the usurious heart of evil (artifice, legal fiction).
“He that diligently seeketh good procureth favour: but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him. HE THAT TRUSTETH IN HIS RICHES SHALL FALL…”

—Proverbs 11: 27-28, KJB

This word credit is yet another completely misunderstood and thus misused word by the public-minded fools who place value on such fictional things. And the actual meaning of this word is unsettling to be sure, even as we bestow upon the gods of the nations a credit they do not deserve.

CREDIT - noun - [Latin, See CREED] 1. BELIEF: FAITH: A RELIANCE OR RESTING OF THE MIND ON THE TRUTH OF SOMETHING SAID OR DONE. WE GIVE CREDIT TO A MAN’S DECLARATION, WHEN THE MIND RESTS ON THE TRUTH OF IT, WITHOUT DOUBT OR SUSPICION, which is attended with wavering. We give credit to testimony or to a report, when we rely on its truth and certainty. 2. REPUTATION DERIVED FROM THE CONFIDENCE OF OTHERS. Esteem: estimation. GOOD OPINION FOUNDED ON A BELIEF OF A MAN’S VERACITY, INTEGRITY, ABILITIES AND VIRTUE: as a physician in high credit with his brethren. Hence, 3. HONOR: REPUTATION: ESTIMATION: APPLIED TO MEN OR THINGS. A man gains no credit by profaneness; and a poem may lose no credit by criticism. The credit of a man depends on his virtues: the credit of his writings, on their worth. 4. That which procures or IS ENTITLED TO BELIEF: testimony: AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM ONE’S CHARACTER, OR FROM THE CONFIDENCE OF OTHERS. WE GIVE CREDIT TO A STORY ON THE CREDIT OF THE NARRATOR. We believe in miracles on the credit of inspired men. We trust to the credit of assertion, made by a man of known veracity. 3. INFLUENCE DERIVED FROM THE REPUTATION OF VERACITY OR INTEGRITY, or from the good opinion or confidence of others. INTEREST: POWER DERIVED FROM WEIGHT OF CHARACTER. FROM FRIENDSHIP, FIDELITY OR OTHER CAUSE. A minister may have great credit with a prince. He may employ his credit TO GOOD OR EVIL PURPOSES. A man uses his credit with a friend: A SERVANT, WITH HIS MASTER. 6. In commerce, TRUST: transfer of goods in confidence of future payment. When the merchant gives a credit he sells his wares on an expressed or implied promise that the purchaser will pay for them at a future time. The seller believes in the solvability and probity of the purchaser, and delivers his goods on that belief or trust: or he delivers them on the credit or reputation of the purchaser. The purchaser takes what is sold, on credit. In like manner, money is loaned on the credit of the borrower. 7. THE CAPACITY OF BEING TRUSTED; or the reputation of solvency and probity which entitles a man to be trusted. A customer has good credit or no credit with a merchant. 8. In bookkeeping, the side of an account in which payment is entered; opposed to debit. This article is carried to one’s credit and that to his debit. We speak of the credit side of an account. 9. PUBLIC CREDIT THE CONFIDENCE WHICH MEN ENTERTAIN IN THE ABILITY AND DISPOSITION OF A NATION, to make good its engagements with its creditors; or the estimation in which individuals hold the public promises of payment. WHETHER SUCH PROMISES ARE EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED. The term is also applied to the general credit of individuals in a nation, when merchants and others are wealthy, and punctual in fulfilling engagements; or when they transact business with honor (and) fidelity; or when transfers of property are made with ease for ready payment. So we speak of the credit of a bank, when general confidence is placed in its ability to redeem its notes; and the credit of a mercantile house rests on its supposed ability and probity, WHICH INDUCE MEN TO TRUST TO ITS ENGAGEMENTS. Cherish public credit. When the public credit is questionable, it raises the premium on loans. 10. THE NOTES OR BILLS WHICH ARE ISSUED BY THE PUBLIC OR BY CORPORATIONS OR INDIVIDUALS, WHICH CIRCULATE ON THE CONFIDENCE
OF MEN IN THE ABILITY AND DISPOSITION IN THOSE WHO ISSUE THEM, TO REDEEM THEM. They are sometimes called bills of credit. 11. The TIME given for payment for lands or goods sold on trust; as a long credit or a short credit. 12. A sum of money due to any person; ANY THING VALUABLE STANDING ON THE CREDITOR SIDE OF AN ACCOUNT. A has a credit on the books of B. The credits are more than balanced by the debits. [In this sense, the word has the plural number.] - verb transitive - [from the Noun.] 1. TO BELIEVE: TO CONFIDE IN THE TRUTH OF; as to credit a report, OR THE MAN WHO TELLS IT. 2. TO TRUST: to sell or loan in confidence of future payment; as, to credit goods or money. 3. To procure credit or honor; to do credit; TO GIVE REPUTATION OR HONOR. May here her monument stand so, to credit this rude age. 4. To enter upon the credit side of an account; as, to credit the amount paid. 5. To set to the credit of; as, to credit to a man the interest paid on a bond. (Wells1828)

Faith, belief, trust, confidence... these are the essential elements that create the authority of legalistic law and corporate religious doctrine. It is not guns or the men wielding them, for they too must possess these same attributes regarding the fictional issuer of their Arms and their license to use them. Their own individual authority counts on their master’s legitimacy in the eyes of the illegitimates who subscribe to it. And in the end, the only way to cause this to happen, this false estimation of the worth of a nation and its sovereign (lawless) magistracy, is to cause man to see other men as merely individual valuations of money (artificial titles and statuses). Just what is a man’s Life worth? In America, apparently the answer to that question is a paycheck of slightly more than minimum wage plus a federal pension and quite shitty veteran’s health insurance for the life of the “person” so entitled.

PENSIO - Latin. In the civil law. A payment, properly, for the USE OF A THING; A RENT; A PAYMENT FOR THE USE AND OCCUPATION OF ANOTHER'S HOUSE. (Black4)

PENSION - A stated allowance out of the public treasury granted by government to an individual, or to his representatives, FOR HIS VALUABLE SERVICES TO THE COUNTRY, or in compensation for LOSS OR DAMAGE SUSTAINED BY HIM IN THE PUBLIC SERVICE. "Pensions" are in the nature of BOUNTIES OF THE GOVERNMENT, WHICH IT HAS THE RIGHT TO GIVE, WITHHOLD, DISTRIBUTE, OR RECALL AT ITS DISCRETION. In civil, Scotch, and Spanish law. A rent; an annual rent. In English practice. An annual payment MADE BY EACH MEMBER of the inns of court. Also an assembly of the members of the society of Gray’s Inn, to consult of their affairs. (Black4)

PENSIONER - ONE WHO IS SUPPORTED by an allowance AT THE WILL OF ANOTHER; A DEPENDENT. It is usually applied (in a public sense) to those who receive pensions or annuities from government, who are chiefly such as have retired FROM PLACES OF HONOR AND EMOLUMENT. Persons making periodical payments are sometimes so called. Thus, resident undergraduates of the university of Cambridge, who are not on the foundation of any college, are spoken of as “pensioners.” The head of one of the Inns of Court, otherwise the Treasurer. Pension was used to designate meetings of the Benchers in Gray’s Inn. (Black4)

PENSION - (repeated) - An allowance made to any one without an equivalent. In England, it is generally understood to mean PAY GIVEN TO A STATE HIRELING FOR TREASON TO HIS COUNTRY. (Samuel Johnson’s Dictionary of the English Language, 1755)

No public pensioner will ever admit that they are on government welfare, that they are being supported by the state as payment for their prostituted employments (use) in support of its legal, organized criminal ventures. Public pensions are of course merely taxpayer funded welfare for the middle class... Truth hurts, especially to those who demonize the loudest the poor, to which their own taxpayer money as “welfare” goes to support in their destitution. God forbid that these enfranchised charity cases, these pensioners, should be charitable to the disenfranchised.

Truth be told, these privileges received by public pensioners on the backs of all taxpayers are equal in this public (debtor’s prison) to house privilege, to the concept of a house-slave.

Notice here the difference between a Bar attorney (e.g., a barrister of the inns of court) and the public agent that we act in surety for as the public person (status). Both of these are agents (attorneys), and both are pensioners, but one of them pays and one is so paid. This seemingly trifling contemplation is actually very important.

A pension, as defined above, is also a form of rent. And so when it comes to a professional attorney, an agent and officer of the courts of government and a registered and confirmed member of such a legal law society thereof, the person is actually paying for the use of that title of membership. In other words, the attorney pays a pension in order to rent his approved and legalized flattering title and licensure from that government and society in union. This is to say that the person must pay a pension to use some thing belonging to another, in this case a legal status and flattering title of “attorney,” so that he may use that title in good standing.

So why then does government pay pensions to its public employees (hirelings)? It’s real simple... We allow our Selves to be employed (used) by government, and so government pays its person (property) to rent the man in surety to that person for its own evil designs. In the end, it loses nothing for such payments, for all money that government creates is designed to eventually be spent, taxed, and exacted back to government many times over. It may, for instance, require through unconscionable “draft” a person to join its military. For this, it pays rent for that service to its own person (property), which the Living man acts in surety under. And so we may say, as defined by the eccentric Samuel Johnson in his own honest and quirky dictionary, that we are paid pensions to commit treason against our country, remembering that it is the Living People, not the legal documents or municipalities, that are the True country; just as Real People are the only Real church, not a building or corporation in name only. To work and be pensioned to the United States is certainly a treason against the private States (Peoples), but one protected and permitted by law. For it was those People that created the foreign United States for the management of their goyim. One cannot be private and public at the same time, and one cannot serve two masters (laws) at the same time. Ultimately though, to be a pensioner of any type is always to be in blasphemy to God. Again, this rent paid to hireling mercenaries of the state is purely an inducement to contract with fiction and to respect the gods of that fiction as higher than Source. Without workers, the corporation would not have fictional life. It is to give service to, to prostitute oneself to the kingship and in return receive rent for one’s body. This is a difficult concept, to be sure, but also vital.

The scriptures and indeed the Maxim’s as foundational principals of law in their essence tell us that first and foremost man and Nature, Being priceless under God, should never be evaluated falsely in mammon. No price should ever purchase (conquer) a man’s morals in employment. And from what I have come to understand, the non-valuation (causing pricelessness/Pure Love) of all Life and the Source of It is the first key to everlasting Peace and an eternal Life for all men upon this overtly coveted but seemingly unreachable heaven on Earth.

"The value of A THING IS ESTIMATED BY ITS WORTH IN MONEY, and the value of MONEY IS NOT ESTIMATED BY REFERENCE TO ONE THING."

—Res per pecuniam aestimatur, et non pecunia per res. 9 Co. 76; 1 Bouv. Inst. n. 922. (Black4)

"The wisdom of law CANNOT BE VALUED BY MONEY."

—Sapientia legis nummario pretio non est aestemanda. (BouvMaxim)

These are not the principles of those who have created this system of commerce by any means, except to say that these are the principles that they live by when dealing with themselves in privacy. For the public though, these foundational maxims that protect the privacy of man are contractually destroyed by those contingencies and exceptional principles of the public persona. Obviously these maxims do not apply to slaves, be they voluntarily or involuntarily induced into that valuation of forced “laborers.” The support and protection of the commercial institution of slavery by the united States’ constitution tells us that these men in their private estates do not apply their own foundational principles of law to anyone but themselves, for slavery could not exist without such exceptions to those spiritual, scriptural rules. He who reserves his own rights under the authority of God in privacy is the only man who may receive the benefit of such spiritually principled Maxim’s of law as we have just read them. All others, literally and figuratively, be damned. Put into damnation. The damned nation...

Money has no value intrinsically, only when comported to other things. Thus, a private man has no person (thing) to be valued, for his status is not commercial. To be priceless is to be Truly Free. As for the notion that the wisdom of law is priceless, this is only in reference to private, Natural Law, not to commercial, public law. For the principles of law always allow and protect man in his own choice to sell his mind, body, and soul. To know the spiritual, scriptural Law necessarily causes one to avoid all other forms of man’s corrupted law and fiction (lies). This is the only True wisdom. But false knowledge abounds, and so as the Bible instructs, we should avoid those who are wise only in their own conceit, whose wisdom rests only in the false valuation of Real things, and whose source of knowledge is only the fictional histories and educative, institutionalized logical fallacies of man. He who lives by the veracity of the valuation of the noun (name) of all things lives without recognizing first and foremost the Reality of the timeless and priceless spirit of all Creation as the Oneness of Being, is living only in the simulacrum, the copy with no Original, with no Real Source.
He values all things in money but never comprehends that money has no actual value. He understands the authority of that which does not exist. He transfers this valuelessness characteristic of money over to that which he considers only by its perceived and entrained valuation in money, thus worshiping all things in their adversarial (satanic), artificial (artful) state before God.

We literally manifest the personification of usury openly in society (public) by our use of that fictional strawman, creating fictional interest on top of fictional debt compounded with more interest to be added as more debt and charged more interest leading to unplayable debt slavery. Of course, if all that debt were paid, no money would technically exist in any lawful way, for credit is only faith-based. It is a game of confidence; a sham. No debt would mean no need for credit, which would only leave room for charity. We continuously eat from that fig-apple tree of useless concepts in the garden (open-air prison) of credit and debt, of good and evil. We exist only as usurious bastards in the corrupted eyes of the legal state, and so that is how we are governed (controlled).

USURA - Latin. In the civil law. Money given for the USE of money: INTEREST. Commonly used in the plural, "usurac." (Black4)

USURA MANIFESTA - Manifest or open usury: as distinguished from _usura velata_, veiled or concealed usury, which consists in giving a BOND for the loan, in the amount of which is included the stipulated interest. (Black4)

USURIUS - Latin. In the civil law. One who had the MERE USE OF A THING BELONGING TO ANOTHER for the purpose of supplying his daily WANTS: A USUARY. (Black4)

USURARIUS - In old English law. _A usurer_. (Black4)

USURIOUS - Pertaining to usury: PARTAKING OF THE NATURE OF USURY: involving usury: TAINED WITH USURY, as, A USURIOUS CONTRACT. (Black4)

USURIOUS CONTRACT - A contract if interest contracted to be paid exceeds the rate ESTABLISHED BY STATUTE. It being sufficient when there is contingency whereby lender may get MORE THAN LAWFUL RATE of interest. (Black4)

USUS - Latin. In Roman law. A precarious ENJOYMENT of land, corresponding with the right of _habitation_ of houses, and being closely analogous to the _tenancy at sufferance or at will of English law. THE USURIUS_ (I. E., TENANT BY USUS) COULD ONLY HOLD ON SO LONG AS THE OWNER FOUND HIM CONVENIENT, and had to go so soon as ever he was in the owner's way (_molestus._) The usuarius could not have a friend to share the produce. It was scarcely permitted to him (Justinian says) to have even his wife with him on the land; and he could not let or sell, the right being strictly PERSONAL to himself. Brown. (Black4)

USUS FRUCTUS - Latin. In Roman law. USUFRUCT: usufructuary right or possession. THE TEMPORARY RIGHT OF USING A THING, WITHOUT HAVING THE ULTIMATE PROPERTY, OR FULL DOMINION, OF THE SUBSTANCE. (Black4)

USO - In Spanish law. Usage: that which arises from certain things which men say and do and PRACTICE uninterruptedly for a great length of time, without any hindrance whatever. (Black4)

USUAL - Habitual, ordinary; customary; according to usage or custom; COMMONLY ESTABLISHED, OBSERVED, OR PRACTICED. Such as is in _common use_ or occurs in ordinary practice or _course of events. Synonymous with custom, common, wonted, regular._ (Black4)

USUAL PLACE OF ABODE - Within meaning of statute _relating to SERVICE OF PROCESS is place where defendant is actually living at time of service._ (Black4)
USUAL COURSE - These words in statute excepting from application of Compensation Act employment not in usual course of employer’s trade or business, refer to normal operations constituting regular business of employer. (Black4)

USUCAPIO or USUCAPTIO - A term of Roman law used to denote a mode of acquisition of property. It corresponds very nearly to the term “prescription.” But the prescription of Roman law differed from that of the English law, in this: that no mala fide possessor (i.e., PERSON IN POSSESSION KNOWINGLY OF THE PROPERTY OF ANOTHER) could, by however long a period, acquire title by possession merely. The two essential requisites to usucapio were justa causa (i.e., TITLE) and bona fides, (i.e., IGNORANCE.) The term “usucapio” is sometimes, but erroneously, written “usucaptio.” (Black4)

Mammon is usury, for usury is the placing of a value on that which is priceless. Usury is simply value placed upon time. In Reality, it is value placed upon something that is nothing. Our residence is only a part of mammon, words on paper that represent our fixedness in mere monetary consideration and performance. We are only bona fide users of the mala fide holders. Another phraseology for this state of use as a usuary is called Cestui Que Use.

CESTUI, CESTUY - He. Used frequently in composition in law French phrases. (Black4)

CESTUI QUE VIE - HE WHOSE LIFE IS THE MEASURE OF THE DURATION OF AN ESTATE. The PERSON for whose life any lands, tenements, or hereditaments are held. (Black4)

CESTUI QUE USE - He for whose use and benefit lands or tenements ARE HELD BY ANOTHER. The cestui que use has the right to receive the profits and benefits of the estate, but the legal title and possession (as well as the duty of defending the same) RESIDE IN THE OTHER. (Black4)

CESTUI QUE TRUST - He who has a RIGHT to a beneficial interest in and out OF AN ESTATE THE LEGAL TITLE TO WHICH IS VESTED IN ANOTHER. The PERSON who possesses the equitable right to property and receives the rents, issues, and profits thereof, the legal estate of which is VESTED IN A TRUSTEE. Beneficiary of trust. (Black4)

CESTUI QUE TRUST - He for whose benefit ANOTHER PERSON IS SEIZED OF LANDS OR TENEMENTS OR IS POSSESSSED OF PERSONAL PROPERTY. He who has a right to a beneficial interest in and out of an estate the legal title to which is VESTED IN ANOTHER. He may be said to be THE EQUITABLE OWNER. (and) is entitled therefore, to the rents and profits; may transfer his interest, subject to the provisions of the instrument creating the trust; MAY DEFEND HIS TITLE IN THE NAME OF HIS TRUSTEE; BUT HAS NO LEGAL TITLE TO THE ESTATE, AS HE IS MERELY A TENANT AT WILL IF HE OCCUPIES THE ESTATE, AND MAY BE REMOVED FROM POSSESSION IN AN ACTION OF EJECTMENT by his own trustee. See Trust. (Bouv1892)

Oft quoted but little understood, the 1666 Cestui Que Act of Great Britain is very much about the law of persons, and is clear that estate is attached to a person (legal status, a fiction of law). As we now fully understand that a spiritually dead man is a legal person under the crown or nation, and that all lands stem from that dead trust, this act explains and attempts to rectify the strange occurrence of very much Alive men being seen as dead when “beyond sea,” meaning beyond the king’s realm of fictional jurisdiction. Persons simply cannot exist anywhere outside of a legal jurisdiction unless an agreement between two kingdoms (principalities) is created so as to cause such recognition of foreign persons, which fall mostly under the law of nations today. So it is with each State of the United States, as well as with each nation. And today we may acquire a world passport from the United Nations so that our person is recognized and protected in all consenting nations, so that we as persons (voluntary slaves) don’t have so many “inconveniences” in our dead existence and travels.

No blood… no Life! The life of a fictional, legal person lasts as long as the man’s (agent’s) heart beats and no longer, since no legitimate blood flows to his issue (offspring). The puppet (person) lives only as long as its master controls it through agency. We exist in persona (behind a mask) on a giant monopoly board, without land, and pay tax every time we trespass on another’s land (property), which is in fact all of the land out there! Our maze never ends.

—Cestui Que Vie Act 1666, 1666 c. 11 (Regnal. 18_and_19_Cha_2), from the U.K. Legislature Archives

Proof of life… This is obviously not speaking of the self-evident Reality of God’s Nature.

Here we can see that a pirate, in order to steal the lands and tenements of all men, simply need cause those men to become somehow statistically dead in their consideration as Living (spiritually Alive) men. Personhood, as public citizenship to the United States, causes such an attainder of blood so as to mimic such a Natural death. In other words, by causing all newly born heirs of the blood to be registered and certified as foreign, public United States citizenships instead of as private heirs of the blood of one of the private, landholding People (several States), the pirates can then enter onto those lands and claim them as their own. No heirs are apparent by law, for the contract makes the law. No heirs are Living (in blood consideration).

And yet, even in this Cestui Que Vie Act as currently active law, we find that a man need merely prove he is alive for his trust and lands and tenements to be re-granted and all profits and interests made by these land-grabbing pirates in their trickery, as recompensed to the proven, Living (blood) heir!

We can now fully understand the purpose of creating this nation, this district (distress, distraint, seizure), this pirate cove, which is purely to cause the fictional death of all the commonalty and to lesson the numbers of landholders by diminishing legitimized heirship — to cause original (ancestral) sin (syn) via artificial, legal corruption of blood as a heraldic suicide (infanticide by legal rebirth). And so we are back to the notion of fabled genealogies, for without lawfully considered blood and Arms no man may hold lands in this conquered (purchased) system. A United States citizenship is the modern, foreign version of being “beyond sea,” as being beyond the realm of the actual Lands of the States (People) in their actual confederation and union, and so considered as being dead in connection to any of the Lands of those territories (terra) of the States.

One example of the presumption of fact that verifies the common, public citizenship to be bound by and under this trust act comes from the New York Second Class Cities Law, §22:

OFFICERS, TRUSTEES OF PUBLIC PROPERTY:

“The common council and the several members thereof, and all officers and employees of the city are hereby declared trustees of the property, funds and effects of said city respectively, so far as such property, funds and effects are or may be committed to their management or control. AND EVERY TAXPAYER RESIDING IN SAID CITY IS HEREBY DECLARED TO BE A CESTUI QUE TRUST IN RESPECT TO THE SAID PROPERTY FUNDS AND EFFECTS RESPECTIVELY: and any co-trustee or any cestui que trust shall be entitled as against said trustees and in regard to said property, funds and effects to all the rules, remedies and privileges provided by law for any co-trustee or cestui que trust; to prosecute and maintain an action to prevent waste and injury to any property, funds and estate held in trust; AND SUCH TRUSTEES ARE HEREBY MADE SUBJECT TO ALL THE DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES IMPOSED BY LAW ON TRUSTEES, AND SUCH DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES MAY BE ENFORCED BY THE CITY OR BY ANY CO-TRUSTEE OR CESTUI QUE TRUST AFORESAID. The remedies herein provided shall be in addition to those now provided by law.”

—New York Second Class Cities Law, sub-Section 22, New York Code

Let me emphasize here… Every taxpayer (US public citizenship) resident in New York City is basically considered as dead! What a dead (bloodless) man holds in persona is always the property of that which constitutes (decides/designs) what is life. Nothing is dead under Jehovah (Natural Law), for the cycle of Life goes on despite what ceases to Exist in any moment. Death happens in time, a mere blip in the continuous Reality of Existence and passing on of blood (Real Life). And what was of the Life before its Death continues in that Life’s offspring. This is Eternal Life. The blood never ceases to flow. Only the fictions of men may pretend to defeat such a self-existent, self-evident Reality. And with a bit of word-magic and brainwashing, the fiction is very effective in causing belief (respect) of the life and authority of dead things.

This is the great mystery now revealed. These pirates may only have power over us as long as we continue to accept and consent to the confirmation and ratification of our own spiritual death in personhood. If we were to reclaim our heirship, our blood inheritance, our private lands held by their estates through trickery and word magic, then their public laws of contract with US persons no longer would apply. The great secret is that only because our lands were tricked and pirated out from under our bloodline in Arms, knowing that as private men we have the right to bear those heraldic Arms of our True fathers as a right negatively protected by the constitution, we are instead under the positive law will of the state. Only when we reclaim these territorial lands as our own heritage will we ever be considered as privately Alive (in blood) again. And only then might we ever have a say in the political corruption that controls the multitude and the international trade schemes of commerce. Only by lawfully (by blood right) taking back our private lands can we possibly ever even attempt to Free all other men without war and bloodshed. Only when we come Alive again may we be indulged to follow Christ’s teachings and defeat these word-magicians, priests, and legal pirates.
“He who would have been heir to the father of the deceased shall also be heir of the son.”

“He to whom THE PEOPLE IS FATHER, HAS NOT A FATHER.”

—Cui pater est populus non habet ille patrem. Co. Litt. 123. (BouvMaxim)

“An accessory follows the nature of his PRINCIPAL.”

—Accessorius sequit naturam sui principalis. 3 Co. Inst. 349. (BouvMaxim)

“The accessory does not lead, but FOLLOWS ITS PRINCIPAL.”

—Accessorium non ducit sed sequitur suum principale. Co. Ltt 152. (BouvMaxim)

So who is he whose father is the people? It's you of course, if the above maxim (principle of law) fits. That is, if your parents de-livered you by birth certification into the possession of the national, distressed (districted) state (People’s government). A public person is an accessory to fraud, a user of another’s property both in name and in title, a felon. We access the right of use through a licensed agency relation-ship, by acting in the person of government (principal), which is why we cannot call foul or claim fraud. A fraud acting purposefully and “knowingly” in agency cannot expect his fraudulent principal to rescue him from fraud, now can he? There is no salvation from fraud while acting as accessory to it. There is no Natural freedom while using the proprietary name (id-entity) and false corporate trust of another.

Does the legal law help or hinder, protect or antagonize you? Only your actions and intent can answer that question, and only the principles of law can help to deduce motive.

ACCESSORY - adjective - [Latin Accessorius, from accessus, accedo. See Accede. This word is accented on the first syllable on account of the derivatives, which require a secondary accent on the third; but the natural accent of accessory is on the second syllable, and thus it is often pronounced by good speakers.] 1. Acceding; contributing; AIDING IN PRODUCING SOME EFFECT, OR ACTING IN SUBORDINATION TO THE PRINCIPAL AGENT. Usually, in a bad sense, as John was accessory to the FELONY. 2. Aiding in certain acts or effects in a secondary manner, as accessory sounds in music. - noun - 1. In law, ONE WHO IS GUILTY OF A FELONY, NOT BY COMMITTING THE OFFENSE IN PERSON OR AS PRINCIPAL, BUT BY ADVISING OR COMMANDING ANOTHER TO COMMIT THE CRIME, OR BY CONCEALING THE OFFENDER. There may be accessories in all felonies, but not in treason. An accessory before the fact, is one who counsels or commands another to commit a felony, and is not present when the act is executed; after the fact, when one receives and conceals the offender. 2. THAT WHICH ACCedes OR BELONGS TO SOMETHING ELSE, AS ITS PRINCIPAL. (Webst1828)

ACCESSORIAL - adjective - Pertaining to an accessory: AS ACCESSORIAL AGENCY, ACCESSORIAL GUILT. (Webs1828)

ACCEDE - verb intransitive - [Latin accedo, of ad and cedo, to yield or give place, or rather to move.] 1. To agree or assent, as to a proposition, or to terms proposed by another. Hence in a negotiation. 2. TO BECOME A PARTY, by agreeing to the terms of a treaty or convention. (Webs1828)

HE - Properly a pronoun of the masculine gender, but commonly construed in statutes to include BOTH SEXES as well as CORPORATIONS. May be read “THEY.” (Black4)

“He who seeks equity must do equity.”

“- This expression means that the party asking the aid of an equity court MUST STAND IN A CONSCIENTIOUS RELATION TOWARD HIS ADVERSARY, and the transaction from which his claim arises must be fair and just and the relief must not be harsh and oppressive upon defendant. And that court will not confer equitable relief on party seeking its aid, unless he has acknowledged and conceded or will admit and provide for all equitable rights, claims, and demands justly belonging to adverse party and growing out of or necessarily involved in subject matter of controversy. It is in pursuance of this maxim that equity enforces the right of the wife’s equity to a settlement. (Black4)

Yet another figurative condition of law... the doctrine of clean hands. But to be considered as clean in man’s law can only mean a higher status in corruption, one superior to the plebes in blood consideration. But remember that there is only purity and cleanliness in God’s Nature and nowhere else. The law of man recognizes this, and is repulsed by that state of Natural Being, rather respecting the negative protections of that Natural Law, except in those that received it for themselves.

Again, we cannot act in fraud (in public citizenship) and also claim to have clean hands.

CLEAN HANDS - Equitable relief may be DENIED on ground of DECEIT OR IMPURITY OF MOTIVE, FRAUD OR WILFUL MISCONDUCT, unjust and unfair conduct, UNLAWFUL OR INEQUITABLE CONDUCT, WROGDOING. The maxim is confined to misconduct in relation to or connected with the matter in litigation. It is inapplicable where to withhold relief would offend public morals more than to grant relief, and where result will be TO LEAVE PROPERTY IN HANDS OF ONE HAVING NO CLAIM THERETO or require further litigation. The act must prejudicially affect defendant. But it has been held that application of maxim is not limited to a case where the iniquitous action is one of which the moving party may personally complain. (Black4)

CLEAN - Irreproachable; innocent of fraud or wrongdoing; FREE FROM DEFECT IN FORM OR SUBSTANCE; FREE FROM EXCEPTIONS OR RESERVATIONS. It is a very elastic adjective, however, and is particularly dependent upon context. (Black4)

CLEAN - adjective - In a general sense, FREE FROM EXTRANEOUS MATTER, OR WHATEVER IS INJURIOUS OR OFFENSIVE; hence its signification DEPENDS ON THE NATURE AND QUALITIES OF THE SUBSTANCES TO WHICH IT IS APPLIED. 1. Free from dirt, or other foul matter; as clean water; a clean cup; a clean floor. 2. Free from weeds or stones; as clean land; a clean garden or field. 3. Free from knots or branches; as clean timber. In America, CLEAR is generally used. 4. FREE FROM MORAL IMPURITY. INNOCENT. Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? Job 14:4. Acts 18:6. 5. FREE FROM CEREMONIAL DEFILEMENT. Leviticus 10:10; Numbers 19:9. 6. Free from guilt; sanctified; holy. John 13:10; Psalms 51:7. 7. That might be eaten by the Hebrews. Genesis 7:2; Genesis 8:20. 8. Free from infection; as a clean ship. A clean bill of health is a certificate that a ship is clean or free from infection. - adverb - 1. Quite; PERFECTLY, WHOLLY; entirely; fully; indicating separation or complete removal of every part. The people passed clean over Jordan. Joshua 3:17. Is his mercy clean gone forever? Psalms 77:8. This use of clean is not now elegant, and not used EXCEPT IN VULGAR LANGUAGE. 2. Without miscarriage; dextrously. Pope came off clean with Homer. - verb transitive - TO REMOVE ALL FOREIGN MATTER FROM; to separate from any thing whatever is extraneous to it, or whatever is foul, noxious, or offensive, as dirt or filth from the hands, body or clothes, foul matter from a vessel, weeds, shrubs and stones from a meadow; TO PURIFY. Thus, a house is cleaned by sweeping and washing; a field is cleaned by plowing and hoeing. (Webs1828)

A man, one who was condemned and doomed (judged) at birth and thus continues operating in commercial personhood through confirmation without blood (with unclean hands), may never receive equitable relief, for his permitted, felonious actions done in legalized adultery (adult-hood) are never considered as done in equitableness, never under God's Law. All actions of citizenship are done in fraud, willful misconduct, deceit, and in felony, as with impurity of motive. Yet those sinful actions are all protected in security by the licensure (permissive anarchy) of legal law. This is the state of being a strawman. In debtor's hell, dummy's (agents) cannot have clean hands because they have no hands of their own, their hands being only the tools of their principal.

So what does it mean to have the right to use property by prescription?

We commonly (vulgarly) know the common word prescription to be what a doctor writes as instructions for the usage of drugs. In other words, the authoritarian governing master and syndicalist professor of medicine is laying down the laws of how the subservient patient may use those drugs legally, according to the laws prescribed by government. The doctor is an agent, the patient a third party. But the patient never acquires the drugs as his own property, only being granted the ability to use what is not his for a heavy, usurious charge. Hospitals and pharmacies are merely grocers of pharmacopeia.

Perhaps this is a good point to explore this word pharmacist and doctor as it pertains to magic and those syndicalist automatons who prescribe it. It is only the perceptions of what pharmacopeia was and is that have changed, not the actual meaning. And the bonus money is abounding for such witting and unwitting but legally licensed deceit and fraud.

The word pharmaceutical is an adjective from the 1640s (pharmaceutic in the same sense is from 1540s), stemming from the Late Latin pharmaceuticus "of drugs," and from Greek pharmakeutikos and pharmakon "preparer of drugs, poisoner."

The noun pharmacy then comes from the late 14th century with the meaning of "a medicine," from Old French farmacie "a purgative," from Medieval Latin pharmacy and Greek pharmakeia "use of drugs, medicines, potions, or spells; poisoning, witchcraft; remedy, cure."

A pharmacist, like a witch, prepares a recipe, from the 1580's, meaning a "medical prescription." from Middle French récépi of the 15th century, and from the Latin recipe meaning "take!" the second person imperative singular of recipere "to take" (i.e., receive). This word (take) is written by physicians at the head of prescriptions. Figurative use is from the 1640s, while its meaning of "instructions for preparing food" was first recorded 1743. The original sense survives only in the pharmacist's abbreviation Rx.

Rx represents whatever formula is concocted by the pharmacist, this word formula stemming from the 1630's meaning "words used in a CEREMONY OR RITUAL" (earlier as a Latin word in English), from the Latin formula "form, draft, contract, regulation." In law, it takes the meaning of "a rule, method," and literally "small form," a diminutive of forma "form." Modern sense is colored by Carlyle's use (1837) of the word in a sense of "RULE SLA VISHLY FOLLOWED WITHOUT UNDERSTANDING." From 1706 used as "A PRESCRIPTION, a recipe." Also used mathematically and in chemistry, and more modernly in motor racing.

Interestingly, the verb (action) of doctoring something stems from the word doctor, taking its meaning from the 1590s, as "to confer a degree on," the word degree as used in education and licensing having the meaning of a "DEGREE OF CRIME," from the noun form of doctor. But in verb form it has the meaning of "to treat medically" from 1712, and the sense of "ALTER, DISGUISE, FALSEFY." is from 1774.

Like a remedy at law, drugs offer no cure or solution, only symptom relief. The disease is doctored (disguised) by chemical pharmacopeia, but never cured, for pharmacy is only the illusionary practice of magic as "medicine." The doctor slavishly prescribes drugs without actual understanding of their qualities and effects especially with vaccines, just as so many other legally titled and licensed persons in the idiocracy of legalism and flattering title are degreed to do in exchange for a piece of mammon in usufruct.

The word physician is equally of interest in the magic arts, stemming from the noun leech, an obsolete title for "physician," from the Old English læce, and probably from Old Danish læk, from Proto-Germanic legaz, "ENCHANTER, ONE WHO SPEAKS MAGIC WORDS, HEALER. PHYSICIAN." As cognates we find Old Frisian letza, Old Saxon laki, Old Norse læknir, Old High German lähl, and Gothic lekeis, all carrying the meaning of "PHYSICIAN," literally "one who counsels," perhaps connected with a root found in Celtic (compare Irish liag "charmer, exorcist, physician") and Slavic (compare Serbo-Croatian lijekar, Polish lekarz), from lep-agi "conjuror," from root leg- "to collect," with derivatives meaning "to speak" (see lecture). For sense development, we can compare Old Church Slavonic bulji "doctor," ORIGINALLY "CONJURER," as related to Serbo-Croatian bajati "enchant, conjure," as well as Old Church Slavonic vraći, Russian vrać "DOCTOR," related to Serbo-Croatian vrać "sorcerer, fortune-teller." The form is merged with leech in Middle English, apparently by folk etymology. In 17c., leech usually was applied only to veterinary practitioners. The fourth finger of the hand, in Old English, was lacafinger, translating Latin digitus medicus, Greek daktylus iatrikos, supposedly because a vein from that finger stretches straight to the heart.

Of course, we know what the purpose of a magician is in all its black art forms, including especially the legal one. The word misdirection is a noun taken from around 1768, having the meaning of "action of a conjurer, thief, etc. to distract someone." And the word illusionist is a title (noun) for a "conjurer, magic act performer" from 1840, stemming from the earlier notion of "one suffering from illusions," from 1812. Middle English had illusor, meaning "deceiver, deluder."
Finally, the word medicine has an equally interesting history in its origins of magic, as that bestowed by a conjurer to distract and mislead, most often as a remedy without cure, or as a design to prolong the disease state to ensure future return use and profits.

The noun medicine stems from the 12th century with the meaning of "medical treatment, cure, remedy," and was also used figuratively, of spiritual remedies, from the Old French medecine (Modern French médecine) "medicine, ART of healing, cure, treatment, POISON," from Latin medicina "the healing ART, medicine, a remedy," and also used figuratively, perhaps originally ars medicina "the medical ART," from the feminine of medicinus "of a doctor," from medicus "a physician" (see medicinal); though OED finds evidence for this is wanting. The English meaning is format he mid-14th century as "a medicinal potion or plaster." To take (one's) medicine is to "SUBMIT TO SOMETHING DISAGREEABLE," first recorded in 1865. The North American title of an Indian medicine-man "shaman" is first attested 1801, from American Indian adoption of the word medicine in sense of "MAGICAL INFLUENCE." The US-Canadian boundary they called the "Medicine Line" was first attested in 1910, as it conferred a kind of MAGIC PROTECTION: punishment for crimes committed on one side of it could be avoided by crossing over to the other. A medicine show as a "traveling show meant to attract a crowd so PATENT medicine can be sold to them" is from American English, circa 1938.

Webster, in his 1828 compilation, defines the word pharmaceutical as such:

PHARMACEUTIC, PHARMACEUTICAL - adjective - [Gr. TO PRACTICE WITCHCRAFT OR USE MEDICINE: POISON OR MEDICINE.] Pertaining to the knowledge or ART of pharmacy, or to the ART of preparing medicines. (Webs1828)

PHARMACY - noun - [Gr. a medicament, whether SALUTARY or POISONOUS.] The art or practice of preparing, preserving and compounding substances, whether vegetable, mineral or animal, for the purposes of medicine; the occupation of an apothecary. (Webs1828)

DRUG - verb transitive - ... 2. Any commodity that lies on hand, or is NOT SALABLE, an ARTICLE of slow sale, or in no demand in market. 3. A mortal drug or a deadly drug is POISON. 4. A drudge. 1. To season with drugs or ingredients. 2. To TINCTURE with something OFFENSIVE. (Webs1828)

And finally, we can consult the ancient language of the bible.

To put it simply, man’s body is made up of minerals, including water. A pharmacist, on the other hand, creates compounds, which simply means two or more minerals bound together; generally within these corporations in an artificial way so as to ensure patentability. For nothing can be patented unless it is not of Nature. The sorcerers of the pharmaceutical industry must therefore magically (through technology) mix together that which does not grow in Nature, which we call as unique or novel, and therefore patentable drugs. The US Code defines a “drug” specifically as two or more substances mixed together.

Title 21, section 321(g)(1) of US Code let’s us know not only that the word drug is a fiction, but also what government considers us as patients, that is, as just another animal.

(g) The term “drug” means (A) articles recognized in the official United States Pharmacopoeia, official Homoeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States, or official National Formulary, or any supplement to any of them; and (B) articles intended for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease IN MAN OR OTHER ANIMALS; and (C) articles (other than food) intended to affect the structure or any function of THE BODY OF MAN OR OTHER ANIMALS; and (D) articles intended for use as a component of any article specified in clause (A), (B), or (C)...

A “drug” is an article? A drug is a group of words? So the fiction of law that is a “drug” doesn’t actually exist in Nature, for anything the legal authority says is a “drug” becomes a fictional “drug” by its descriptive sentencing and flattering title. Poof! And a plant is magically (named as) a “drug.”

ARTICLE - A separate and distinct part of an INSTRUMENT OR WRITING comprising two or more particulars: ONE OF SEVERAL THINGS PRESENTED AS CONNECTED OR FORMING A WHOLE: A particular object or substance, a material thing or a class of things. Material or tangible object. ‘THING’ OF VALUE. (Black4)

ARTICLES - 1. A connected series of propositions; a system of rules. The subdivisions of a document. CODE, book, etc. A specification of distinct matters agreed upon or established by authority or requiring judicial action. 2. A statute: as having its provisions articulately expressed under distinct heads. Several of the ancient English statutes were called “articles” (articuli). 3. A system of rules established BY LEGAL AUTHORITY; as articles of war, articles of the navy, ARTICLES OF FAITH. (See infra.) 4. A CONTRACTUAL DOCUMENT EXECUTED BETWEEN PARTIES, CONTAINING STIPULATIONS OR TERMS OF AGREEMENT; as articles of agreement, articles of partnership. 5. A naval term meaning EMPLOYMENT CONTRACT… (Black4)

Do not for one-second think that this use of the word article is strange or that it might be a misprint or misuse of the word. It’s just word-trickery by artful conjurers. The subjects of these lawmakers must be in agreement with these terms of art for them to apply to any thing of value (in mammon), for the word drug only refers to that things valuation as a commercial product (salable article). The US public citizenship is of course the implied and recognized agreement and constant to this US code, and thus consent to its assigned punishments and fines for breaking that legal law of the Food and Drug Administration.

You see there, its all in the name.

“Administrative” law, not judicial… It’s not constitutional and certainly not Natural.

In other words, it is what government (the FDA) says it is and that’s that. The FDA code is strictum jus, strict law, as that which is opposed to equitableness (Natural Law) and unburdened by actual consideration of any intent. It allows poisons to be called as “medicine.”

While we may certainly find compound substances in Nature, such as chalk (calcium carbonate), the body of man and of animal and of insect and of plant needs these uncompounded minerals in their individual natures, just as plants use the trace minerals of the soil to thrive, not compounds. Put a piece of chalk in a glass of water for a week and you’ll see why “supplements” in compound form on grocery store shelves are all but worthless. They do not dissolve in water, which composes around 70% of our body. Almost the entire vitamin and mineral market is a pharmaceutical fraud, a magic trick. These compounded minerals in combination are of course broken apart by the fulvic acid content in the soil, leading to these minerals (metals) increased solubility in water and thus making them able to be absorbed by all the various Life forms of the earth. In other words, Nature is the only medicine (cure, healer), and like anything else artfully created, the pharmaceutical industry stands as adversarial (satanic) to the True meaning of medicine, which is only of Source, not sorcery. Magic and sorcery is not True medicine, and neither are drugs. Drugs cause disease, having the side effect of sometimes masking symptoms of other disease while causing ever more problems. For poison is no curative…

“And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee… for thy MERCHANTS were the great men of the earth; for by thy SORCERIES (G5331 - PHARMAKEIA) were all nations deceived. And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.”

Chlorine, fluoride, anti-depressants, cocaine, MDMA, opium, tobacco… you name it, and chances are the sorcerers of the “pharmaceutical” industry have patented and legalized it as a helpful and healthful “drug.” That is… until its deadly effects harm enough “patients” and is recalled as no longer profitable.
In the legal parlance of real estate and title we must use this word prescription as a term of art within its higher standard of meaning. Though its contemplation is not so different from the doctor/patient relationship, in this case the relation-ship is between government and every common (public) citizen-ship in commercial usury. We either have it or we don’t. This is a similar but different form of word magic. A prescriptive right of the use of property, like that of prescription drugs, is in actuality only under the law of usufruct, as a use and enjoyment of property that does not necessarily belong to the user. Like those prescription drugs, the property itself (right of disposal) belongs to the States (People), and is beneficently granted to the citizen only for his temporary use. Any other use thereof would be illegal without permissive license, which is obtained by prescription. The right of use is merely prescribed by legal title with no conveyance of the actual land or other property. The grant (lie) is only for the use of paper title (attached to the fictional person/name of government in franchise), and therefore the foreign user (man in agency) does not actually hold the property (land or hereditaments) in any tangible way. His use is only ever through the property (person) of another. His castle is pre-plundered.

Government is like a land-management corporation, where its clients (the apparent sovereign “People”) rent to its tenants (goyim; as the common, public people in citizenship). It’s a purely fictional ownership, a simulation of Reality all on paper, form without substance, words without Reality. He may enjoy and profit from the use and benefits of the property, but it ultimately belongs to another. In other words, the prescriptive user as a public citizen “property owner” only has a ship, an owner-ship based on his relation-ship to government as a citizen-ship, but the man is not the actual holder of that property by his blood or in consideration of any Natural blood inheritance by foundational law. Instead, he is in a state of mere use and enjoyment within the limited prescribed rights of a feudalistic usufruct granted by that sovereign authority of magistrates through its constituted government (district).

Only a legal citizenship is dis-eased and corrupted, so only the citizen-ship requires the remedy of prescription.

PRESCRIPTION - A direction of REMEDY or remedies for a DISEASE and the manner of using them, a formula for the preparation of a drug and medicine.

In International Law - Acquisition of sovereignty over a territory THROUGH CONTINUOUS AND UNDISPUTED EXERCISE OF SOVEREIGNTY over it during such a period as is necessary to create under the influence of historical development the general conviction that the present condition of things is IN CONFORMITY WITH INTERNATIONAL ORDER.

In Real Property Law - The name given to a mode of acquiring title to incorporeal hereditaments by immemorial or long-continued ENJOYMENT... In Louisiana, prescription is defined as a manner of acquiring the ownership of property, or DISCHARGING DEBTS, by the effect of time, and under the conditions regulated by law. Each of these prescriptions has its special and particular definition. The prescription by which the ownership of property is acquired, is A RIGHT BY WHICH A MERE POSSESSOR ACQUIRES THE OWNERSHIP OF A THING which he possesses by the continuance of his possession during the TIME fixed by law. The prescription by which debts are released is a peremptory and perpetual bar to every species of action, real or personal, when the creditor has been SILENT for a certain time WITHOUT URGING HIS CLAIM. In this sense of the term it is very nearly equivalent to what is elsewhere expressed by “limitation of actions,” or rather, the “bar of the statute of limitations”... “Prescription” and “custom” are frequently confounded in common parlance, arising perhaps from the fact that immemorial usage was essential to both of them; but strictly, they materially differ from one another, in that custom is properly a local impersonal usage, such as borough-English or postremogeniture, which is annexed to a given estate, while PRESCRIPTION IS SIMPLY PERSONAL, as that a certain man and his ancestors, or those whose estate he enjoys, have immemorially exercised a right of pasture... common in a certain parish, and usage differs from both, for it may be either to persons or places. Again, prescription has its origin in a grant, evidenced by usage, AND IS ALLOWED ON ACCOUNT OF ITS LOSS, EITHER ACTUAL OR SUPPOSED, and therefore only those things can be prescribed for which could be raised by a grant previously... but this principle does not necessarily hold in the case of a custom.

Corporations by prescription - In English law. Those which have existed beyond the memory of man, and therefore are looked upon in law to be well created, such as THE CITY OF LONDON.

Prescription in a que estate - A claim of prescription based on the immemorial enjoyment of the right claimed, BY THE CLAIMANT AND THOSE FORMER OWNERS "WHOSE ESTATE" HE HAS SUCCEEDED TO AND HOLDS. (Black4)

PREScribable - That to which A RIGHT MAY BE ACQUIRED BY PRESCRIPTION. (Black4)

PRESCRIBE - To assert a right or title to the Enjoyment of a thing, on the ground of having hitherto had the UNINTERRUPTED AND IMMEMORIAL enjoyment of it. To lay down authoritatively as a guide, direction, or rule; TO IMPOSE as a peremptory order; TO DICTATE; to point; to direct; TO GIVE AS A GUIDE, direction, or rule of action; TO GIVE LAW. To direct; DEFINE; MARK out. In modern statutes relating to MATTERS OF AN ADMINISTRATIVE NATURE, such as procedure, REGISTRATION, etc., it is usual to indicate in general terms the nature of the proceedings to be adopted, and to leave the details to be prescribed or regulated by rules or orders to be made for that purpose in pursuance of an authority contained in the act. In a medical sense prescribe means to direct, designate, or order use of a REMEDY. (Black4)

PROSCRIBED - In the civil law. AMONG THE ROMANS, a man was said to be "proscribed" WHEN A REWARD WAS OFFERED FOR HIS HEAD; but the term was more usually applied to those who were SENTENCED TO SOME PUNISHMENT WHICH CARRIED WITH IT THE CONSEQUENCES OF CIVIL DEATH. (Black4)

Note here that a prescription in real estate referred to the right of men to claim land by immemorial use of it through his timeless blood kin. In other words, this was a word relating to blood inheritance, which killed its civil consideration (artificial life). But what happens when the scribes and pharisees through their word magic are able to legally corrupt the blood of man? His right of prescriptive claim suddenly disappears with his blood-right. For his blood is a God-given gift, and mammon respects not the coursing blood of God’s Creation, only the commercial flow of liquid currency.

A man that has been thus proscribed as a person in surety (public citizenship) may then enter only into states of a usufruct condition through that fictional status under the Cestue Que Vie, for he has no other type of rights granted him through that fictional (dead) person. He no longer has a blood connection under law to his kin, and therefore none to the land his bloodline inhabited immemorially. The blood is tainted, dis-inheritable, unrecognizable by legal law, and so the rights can only be passed to dead hands (in mortmain).

MORTMAIN - noun - In law, possession of lands or tenements in DEAD HANDS, or HANDS THAT CANNOT ALIENATE. Alienation in mortmain is AN ALIENATION OF LANDS OR TENEMENTS TO ANY CORPORATION, sole or aggregate, ecclesiastical or temporal, particularly to religious houses, by which the estate BECOMES PERPETUALLY INHERENT IN THE CORPORATION AND UNALIENABLE. (Webster1828)
Remember, the City of London and the City of New Columbia (Washington DC) are corporations holding the mortmain. Persons of those corporations can only hold land with dead hands, for they are dead in blood and in spirit.

The title of the land as property and all laws binding it is proscribed only to the person (the name), not the man, by the administrative corporation (municipal government) set up by the landholders in trust called the state. The man, in order to obtain usurious legal title through surety to a government person, must therefore by that of the agency relationship act and acquire tenancy only permissively in public persona, and therefore must follow those legal laws of usufruct applied to persons (citizen-ships) so as to enjoy the benefit of use assigned to that fictional entity in rent. But in the end, the man himself has nothing. For his attached legal (anti-God) surname destroys his blood as an inheritable consideration at law. A son of the people has no father. A user is never an heir. A tare is never the wheat. The tainted seed of a dead person (status) can only beget other dead persons, for the status of the child follows the status of the father.

USUS FRUCTUS - Latin. In Roman law. USUFRUCT: usufructuary right or possession. THE TEMPORARY RIGHT OF USING A THING, WITHOUT HAVING THE ULTIMATE PROPERTY, OR FULL DOMINION, OF THE SUBSTANCE. (Black4)

USUFRUCT - In French law. The same as the USUFRUCT of the ENGLISH AND ROMAN LAW. (Black4)

USUFRUCTUARY - In the civil law. One who has the usufruct or right of ENJOYING ANYTHING IN WHICH HE HAS NO PROPERTY. (Black4)

USUFRUCT - In the civil law. THE RIGHT OF ENJOYING A THING, THE PROPERTY OF WHICH IS VESTED IN ANOTHER, and to draw from the same all the PROFIT, UTILITY, AND ADVANTAGE WHICH IT MAY PRODUCE, PROVIDED IT BE WITHOUT ALTERING THE SUBSTANCE OF THE THING. Under Greek Law: A RIGHT ATTACHED TO THE PERSON WHICH MAY NOT BE INHERITED.

Quasi Usufruct - In the civil law. Originally the usufruct GAVE NO RIGHT TO THE SUBSTANCE of the thing, and consequently none to its consumption; hence only an incomestorable thing could be the object of it, whether movable or immovable. But in later times the right of usufruct was, by analogy, EXTENDED TO CONSUMABLE THINGS, and therewith arose the distinction between true and quasi usufructs. See Imperfect Usufruct, Supra.

Perfect Usufruct - An usufruct in those things which the usufructuary CAN ENJOY WITHOUT CHANGING THEIR SUBSTANCE, though their substance may be diminished or deteriorate NATURALLY BY TIME OR BY THE USE to which they are applied, as, a house, a piece of land, furniture, and other movable effects.

Imperfect Usufruct - An imperfect or quasi usufruct is that which is of things which would be useless to the usufructuary IF HE DID NOT CONSUME OR EXPEND THEM OR CHANGE THE SUBSTANCE OF THEM; as, MONEY, grain, liquors. (Black4)

This concept of use only (rent in usufruct) is the key to everything wrong or evil within this worldwide system of nations. It is a system of pure, empty form designed to strip and steal any substance from man and Nature through the simulation of a modernized system of contract-feudalism. For if you can take away the very essence of the substantive holding of property rights and replace it with only the form of mere tenancy (rent) on paper, then eventually, as we see today, man is left with nothing of his own as his private property. There is nothing left of man but his representational form of either the publicly agentic goyim (slave) or of the principal gods of that synagogue of satan (master). If all property of the multitude is public, held only in the dead hands of a usufruct by public persons while in actuality controlled by only the few private hands, then not one iota of that property is private to its user and beneficiary. Without private land and property, a man simply has no place of his own to act privately, no sanctuary from the legal system, and thus no place to be a True and pious, morally religious man. Yet someone else does hold its substance privately, renting it to the public person so seized.

Instead, we live in a state of artificial being that is at its heart nothing but pure usury. For man is considered only by the commercial value and status of his fictional person. Man, through surety to the state’s persona, is considered as just another commodity in trade by his person’s false gods (creators of art). Surprisingly, this corrupted state of being that we take very much for granted is actually called as “rent.”

RENT - participle passive - of REND, TORN ASUNDER; split or burst by violence; torn. - noun - [from rend. ] 1. A fissure; a break or breach made by force; as, a rent made in the earth, in a rock or in a garment. 2. A SCHISM: A SEPARATION, AS A RENT IN THE CHURCH - verb transitive - To tear. [See Rend. ] - verb intransitive - To rant. [Not in use. ] - noun - A SUM OF MONEY, or a certain amount of OTHER VALUABLE THING, ISSUING YEARLY FROM LANDS OR TENEMENTS: a compensation or return, in the nature of an acknowledgment, FOR THE POSSESSION OF A CORPOREAL INHERITANCE. Rents, at common law, are of three kinds; rent-service, rent-charge, and rent-seek. RENT-SERVICE is when some corporal SERVICE is incident to it, as by FEALTY and a sum of money; RENT-CHARGE is when the owner of the rent HAS NO FUTURE INTEREST OR REVERSION EXPECTANT IN THE LAND, but the rent is reserved in the deed by a clause of DISTRESS for rent in arrear; rent-seek, dry rent is rent reserved by deed, but without any clause of distress. There are also rents of assize, certain established rents of free-holders and copy-holders of manors, which cannot be varied; called also quit-rents. These when payable in SILVER, are called WHITE RENTS, IN CONTRADISTINCTION TO RENTS RESERVED IN WORK OR THE BASER METALS, CALLED BLACK RENTS, OR BLACK MAIL. Rack-rent is a rent of the full value of the tenement, or near it. A fee farm rent is a rent-charge issuing out of an estate in fee, of at least one fourth of the value of the lands at the time of its reservation. - verb transitive - 1. TO LEASE: to grant the possession and enjoyment of lands or tenements for a consideration in the nature of rent. The owner of an estate or house RENTS IT TO A TENANT FOR A TERM OF YEARS. 2. To take and hold BY LEASE the possession of land or a tenement, for a consideration in the nature of rent. The tenant rents his estate for a year. - verb intransitive - To be leased, or let for rent: as, an estate or a tenement rents for five hundred dollars a year. (Webs1828)

BLACK RENTS - Rents reserved in work, grain, or baser money than silver. (Black4)

BLACK MAIL - Rents reserved, payable in work, grain, and the like. Such rents were called black mail (raditus niger) in distinction from white rents (blanche firmes), which were rents paid in silver. A YEARLY PAYMENT MADE FOR SECURITY AND PROTECTION TO THOSE BANDS OF MARAUDERS who infested the borders of England and Scotland about the middle of the sixteenth century AND LAID THE INHABITANTS UNDER CONTRIBUTION. In common parlance, the term is equivalent to, and synonymous with, EXTORTION - THE EXACTION OF MONEY, EITHER FOR THE PERFORMANCE OF A DUTY, THE PREVENTION OF AN INJURY, OR THE EXERCISE OF AN INFLUENCE. It supposes the service to be unlawful, and the payment involuntary. Not infrequently it is EXTORTED BY THREATS, OR BY OPERATING UPON THE FEARS OF THE CREDULITY, or by promises to conceal, or offers to expose the weakness, the follies, or the crimes of the victim. (Bow1892)

RENTERER - noun - A Fine-drawer. (Webs1828)

MAIL - [Latin macula. ]... 4. A RENT. Also, a spot. (Webs1828)
SPOT - noun - [We see this word is of the family of spatter, and that the radical sense is to throw or thrust...]. 1. A MARK ON A SUBSTANCE MADE BY FOREIGN MATTER; a speck; a blot; a place discolored. The least spot is visible on white paper. 2. A STAIN ON CHARACTER OR REPUTATION; SOMETHING THAT SOILS PURITY; disgrace; reproach; fault; blemish... - verb transitive - 1. To make a visible mark with some foreign matter; to discolor; TO STAIN; as, to spot a garment; to spot paper. 2. To patch by way of ornament. 3. To stain; to blemish; TO TARTNISH; TO DISCARGE; TO TARNISH; AS REPUTATION. (Webs1828)

FINE - noun - [...] [This word is the basis of FINANCE, but I have not found it, in its simple form, in any modern language, except the English. The word seems to be the Latin finis, and the application of it to pecuniary compensation seems to have proceeded FROM ITS FEUDAL USE, IN THE TRANSFER OF LANDS, in which a final agreement or concord was made BETWEEN THE LORD AND HIS VASSAL.] 1. In a feudal sense, a final agreement between PERSONS concerning lands or rents, or between the lord and his vassal. PRESCRIBING THE CONDITIONS ON WHICH THE LATTER SHOULD HOLD HIS LANDS. 2. A SUM OF MONEY PAID TO THE LORD BY HIS TENANT, FOR PERMISSION TO ALIENATE OR TRANSFER HIS LANDS TO ANOTHER. This in England was EXACTED only from the king's tenants in capite. 3. A sum of money paid to the king OR STATE by way of penalty for an offense; a mulet; a pecuniary punishment. Fines are usually prescribed by statute, for the several violations of law; or the limit is prescribed, beyond which the judge cannot impose a fine for a particular offense. In fine [Latin in and finis]; In the end or conclusion; to conclude; to SUM UP all... (Webs1828)

FABRICA - In Old English law. The making or coining of MONEY. (Black4)

FABRIC - [...] something that has been fabricated, constructed, or put together; any complex construction; a system built up of correlated parts; structure or edifice. Something that has been fabricated, constructed, or put together; the structure of anything or anything manufactured... (Black4)

FABRICARE - Latin. To make. Used in old English law of a LAWFUL COINING, AND ALSO OF AN UNLAWFUL MAKING OR COUNTERFEITING OF COIN. Used in an indictment for forging a bill of lading. (Black4)

FABRICATION - To invent; TO DEVISE FALSELY. Invent is sometimes used in a BAD SENSE, BUT FABRICATE NEVER IN ANY OTHER. To fabricate a story implies that it is SO CONTRARY TO PROBABILITY AS TO REQUIRE THE SKILL OF A WORKMAN TO INDUCE BELIEF IN IT. The word implies FRAUD OR FALSEHOOD; a false or fraudulent concoction, knowing it to be wrong. To fabricate is to arrange or manufacture circumstances or indirect, AFTER THE FACT COMMITTED, WITH THE PURPOSE OF USING THEM AS EVIDENCE, AND OF DECEITFULLY MAKING THEM APPEAR AS IF ACCIDENTAL OR UNDEIGNED; to devise falsely or contrive BY ARTIFICE with the intention to deceive. Such evidence may be wholly forged and artificial, or it may consist in so warping and distorting real facts as TO CREATE AN ERRONEOUS IMPRESSION IN THE MINDS OF THOSE WHO OBSERVE THEM AND THEN PRESENTING SUCH IMPRESSION AS TRUE AND GENUINE. (Black4)

FABRICATED EVIDENCE - Evidence manufactured or arranged after the fact, and either wholly false or else warped and discolored by artifice and contrivance with a deceitful intent. See supra. (Black4)

FABRICATED FACT - In the law of evidence. A fact existing only in statement, without any foundation in truth. An actual or genuine fact TO WHICH A FALSE APPEARANCE HAS BEEN DESIGNEDLY GIVEN; a physical object PLACED IN A FALSE CONNECTION WITH ANOTHER, OR WITH A PERSON on whom it is designed to cast suspicion. (Black4)
The birth certificate is described above perfectly, which is to say that the person (status) thereby created as a false, legal id-entity of the man already Naturally born, takes the Real, already happened event and re-creates it into a fictional certification. The birth process, as a fabrication of Life itself that creates an avatar to be placed in an existence subsisting only in that legal matrix code of pretended jurisdiction, is defined above as: to arrange or manufacture circumstances or indici, after the fact committed, with the purpose of using them as evidence, and of deceitfully making them appear as if accidental or undesigned; to devise falsely or contrive by artifice with the intention to deceive. It is then considered as a fabricated fact, certified legally, and thus is: A fact existing only in statement, without any foundation in truth. An actual or genuine fact to which a false appearance has been designedly given; a physical object placed in a false connection with another… This is what is referred to as prima facie evidence of fact, which is to say that which on the face of it, as the first and unquestioned appearance of that legally spoken or written “fact,” is taken as evidence of legalized (non-self-evident) truth even when it is a known lie. All persons are lies, as form (appearance) with no substance (mind, body, and soul). We sometimes call this as the taking of some thing at face value. And yet the scriptures and principals of law warn time and time again that we should never put a value upon man. And of course this is why the devilry created the fictional, false legal persona, so that man might voluntarily assign such a valuation to himself and stand as jury over others in similar valuation under mammon.

FACE - That which is shown BY THE MERE LANGUAGE EMPLOYED without any explanation, modification, or addition FROM EXTRINSIC FACTS OR EVIDENCE, the principal sum which it expresses to be due or payable, without any additions in the way of interest and costs. THE OUTWARD APPEARANCE OR ASPECT OF A THING. The SURFACE of anything; especially the front, upper, or outer part or surface; that which particularly offers itself to the view of a spectator. THE WORDS OF A WRITTEN PAPER IN THEIR APPARENT OR OBVIOUS MEANING, as, the face of a note, bill, bond, check, draft, judgment record, or contract; the face of a judgment for which it was rendered exclusive of interest. The surface of anything; especially the front, upper, or outer part or surface; that which particularly offers itself to the view of a spectator. (Black4)

FACE OF BOOK - Under an act providing that a public or private statute or the proceedings of any legislative body purporting on the face of the book to be printed by authority of the government of the state are evidence without further proof, the “face of the book” and the “title page” NEED NOT COINCIDE, as “face” is used in contradistinction to “cover.” (Black4)

FACE OF INSTRUMENT - That which is SHOWN BY THE LANGUAGE EMPLOYED, without any explanation, modification, or addition from extrinsic facts or evidence. Thus, if the express terms of the paper disclose a fatal legal defect, it is said to be “void on its face.” Regarded as an EVIDENCE OF DEBT, the face of an instrument is the principal sum which it expresses to be due or payable, without any additions in the way of interest or costs. (Black4)

FACE OF JUDGMENT - The sum for which it was rendered, exclusive of interest. See, also, Face of instrument. (Black4)

FACE VALUE - This term, in a statute taxing transfers of corporate stock, means par value. As used in statute concerning acceptance of bonds as bail means that value, written or printed on face of instrument and the unmatured coupons attached thereto, without reference to the actual or market value of bonds. The “face value” of an interest bearing note, is the principal plus accrued interest. The value which can be ascertained from the language of the instrument without aid from extrinsic facts or evidence. (Black4)

FACERE - Latin. To do; to make. Thus, facers defaltam, to make default; facere duellum, to make the duel, or make or do battle; facere finem, to make or pay a fine; facere legem, to make one’s law; facere sacramenturn, to make oath. (Black4)

FACILE - In Scotch law. Easily persuaded; easily imposed upon. (Black4)
PRIMA FACIE - Latin, AT FIRST SIGHT; on the FIRST APPEARANCE; ON THE FACE OF IT; so far as can be judged from the FIRST DISCLOSURE; PRESUMABLY. A FACT PRESUMED TO BE TRUE UNLESS DISPROVED BY SOME EVIDENCE TO THE CONTRARY. (Black4)

FACIES - Latin. The face or countenance; the exterior appearance or view; hence, contemplation or study of a thing on its external or apparent side. Thus, prima facie means at the first inspection, on a preliminary or exterior scrutiny. When we speak of a “prima facie case,” we mean one which on its own showing, on a first examination, or without investigating any alleged defenses, is apparently good and maintainable. (Black4)

Most of us admit defeat by merely appearing in persona (legal mask) or with attorney in answer of our strawman demon being summoned. At this point, the case is merely an administration of the post-effects of the case. The judge tells us what we owe the court and we are on our way, for on the face of the case no evidence contrary to the lie that we are that person is spoken. In this way, consent is as well prima facie simply because we are silent subjects acting in a false performance debt created in infancy and confirmed by our use of the legal id-entity in voluntary adultery.

Ever heard or used the expression I can’t place the name with the face? Ever really thought about what that means? Is the surface or face of the sea truly a full representation of the water, or is it merely the outward appearance with no depth of substance? Is the appearance of government merely what is presented by its own propaganda, entertainment, and public education, or is that all just prima facie evidence of government and law? When a “person” magically appears in court, is anything actually there? What happens when you ask questions about what lies beneath the “facts?” You get a work like this one... and you find that it is all hinged on one lie built upon the next lie until, even more so than any religion can artfully manifest, the faith, beLIEf, and love by the believers (citizens) of the prima facie truth of government’s legal matrix enters and take over the mind without mercy and without any actual, tangible, or sensual evidence of its existence. It is like the fabled ouroboros, the serpent speaking itself into existence while appearing to be eating its own tail. Its residents are locked inside of the invisible face of its legal appearance, and so caught in the bowels of its perpetual self-reincarnation, fuel for its self-incarnation, batteries for its consumption, worker bees for its pre-tended sovereign class of kings and queens.

“IDENTITY OF NAME IS PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE OF IDENTITY OF PERSON.”

—Stebbins v. Duncan, 103 U. S. 47 (1832), cases; State V. Kelsoe, 76 Mo. 507 (1882); 25 Pa. 133; 68 id. 200; 53 Mi. 427. (WCA1889)

Who would ever consider that their very name and identity is merely a rebuttable presumption of law with no actual evidence but our own idiotic acceptance of the supposed face of the facts of our nativity (captivity) in personhood?

Amazingly, we must realize that all of the commercial laws of the United States are but prima facie in their legalistic nature, totally voluntary, and absolutely rebuttable for the enlightened, regenerate man. This is simulated law, illusionary, magically represented as if it were legitimate.

U.S. CODE, TITLE 46, APPENDIX APP. > CHAPTER 23 > § 837:

PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE:

911
“In any action or proceeding under the provisions of this chapter to enforce a forfeiture the conviction in a court of criminal jurisdiction of any person for a violation thereof with respect to the subject of the forfeiture shall constitute PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE of such violation against the PERSON so convicted.”

So what does prima facie mean? It means that the presumption stands unless you act and speak out against it. It means that words will be permitted by the state to define what you are despite your actual Nature as long as you don’t rebut the opinion of that agent of artificial law. It means you cannot remain silent or your silence will be considered as consent on the face of the “facts” at hand (at bar). These false facts as confirmed lies will be rendered as prima facie and therefore stand legally (without substance) as non-rebutted, full evidence of your acquiescence and agreement to whatever status is presumed.

“What is prima facie evidence of a fact?”

“It is such as, in judgment of law, is sufficient TO ESTABLISH THE FACT; AND, IF NOT REBUTTED, REMAINS SUFFICIENT FOR THE PURPOSE.”

—United States v. Wiggins, 39 U.S. 334, 347 (1840), Cornell Law Library online Presumption of law is the name of the game. Consent is garnered tacitly through inaction and silence, which is figuratively considered as an expression of will. The devil can only accuse, never evidence. Fiction cannot be proven except in the fiction, and debt only exists in that legal debtor’s hell. The devil relies only on the ignorance of man to the contractual relationship, to the language of the laws that bind the man because of it, and thus man’s clueless and unwitting understanding to that satanic fiction of law due to non-rebuttal of its legitimacy. Silence and inaction are the main ingredients of the legal realm, breathing life into that which has none. But most important to these devilmaster’s scenes is the voluntary ignorance of these legal terms of art and laws they form. Ignorance, above all else, is key to enslaving the mind. Public-mindedness is an impressed ignorance like no other, institutionalized in every form of education, entertainment, and church and state propaganda. We are trained to always take what we see at face value, including the validity and legitimacy of the legal law.

Title 1 of U.S. Code §204 states:

§204. Codes and Supplements as evidence of the laws of United States and District of Columbia; citation of Codes and Supplements. In all courts, tribunals, and public offices of the United States, at home or abroad, of the District of Columbia, and of each State, Territory, or insular possession of the United States—

(a) United States Code - The matter set forth in the edition of the Code of Laws of the United States current at any time shall, together with the then current supplement, if any, establish PRIMA FACIE the laws of the United States, general and permanent in their nature, in force on the day preceding the commencement of the session following the last session the legislation of which is included: Provided, however, That whenever titles of such Code shall have been ENACTED INTO POSITIVE LAW the text thereof shall be LEGAL EVIDENCE OF THE LAWS therein contained, in all the courts of the United States, the several States, and the Territories and insular possessions of the United States.

(b) District of Columbia Code - The matter set forth in the edition of the Code of the District of Columbia current at any time shall, together with the then current supplement, if any, establish PRIMA FACIE the laws, general and permanent in their nature, relating to or in force in the District of Columbia on the day preceding the commencement of the session following the last session the legislation of which is included, except such laws as are of application in the District of Columbia by reason of being laws of the United States general and permanent in their nature.

(c) District of Columbia Code; citation - The Code of the District of Columbia may be cited as "D.C. Code."

(d) Supplements to Codes; citation - Supplements to the Code of Laws of the United States and to the Code of the District of Columbia may be cited, respectively, as "U.S.C., Sup.", and "D.C. Code, Sup." the blank in each case being filled with ROMAN FIGURES denoting the number of the supplement.

(e) New edition of Codes; citation. - New editions of each of such codes may be cited, respectively, as "U.S.C., ed." and "D.C. Code, ed.", the blank in each case being filled with figures denoting the last year the legislation of which is included in whole or in part. (July 30, 1947, ch. 388, 61 Stat. 638.)

One is left to wonder then which of the laws of these United States are mere prima facie presumptions of law that are cured by denial of consent, and which ones are actually legal evidence of law that cannot be denied by rebuttal. As it turns out, this is based on commercial considerations. Unconstitutional laws are generally commercial and international in nature, as in the admiralty/administrative jurisdiction, and so not a primary or constitutionally created function of government. In other words, the prima facie law is essentially the “for-profit,” de facto (illegitimate) side of government, from the slave-trade to interstate commerce of imports and exports. So while the creation of the judicial was a constitutional act and thus stands evidentially as positive law, the creation of the administrative (non-judicial) commercial agencies in the Executive Department of Justice are only ever prima facie, strictly for “customers” in public (commercial) persona. We must consent to their opinions for those opinions to effect us and become our law, for we accept them on their face as if they were True, factual, and legitimate, and our signatures and other actions in persona seals the deal through confirmation of that which is avoidable. A fools paradise...

When in consideration of what is a “constitutional law,” we must realize that the constitution mostly set up the structure of the government, not the law itself. In other words, the constitution was not an administrative document of law; it was a foundational establishment of the government itself. A local, municipal statute or code on golf courses in municipal corporations (cities/counties) for instance, has nothing to do with the constitution. And unfortunately, a public law dealing with United States subjects (citizenships) has nothing to do with the foundation of government, and so has nothing to do with the constitution, for public persons are not a party to that negative law because they stand with no reserved rights. When all rights are granted by government, unto persons (property) that have no rights existing outside of government, then no constitutional considerations can be taken to protect any reserved, negative, unalienable, God-given rights. For no person is ever a Creation of God, and so no persons Exist in Nature or under its Law.

To be clear, the constitution did the following:

It established the foundation of:
Article I – The Legislative Branch.

Article II – The Executive Branch.

Article III – The Judicial Branch.

Article IV – The States (personification of relationship between fed and several private and public States)

Article V – Amendments (ability of future generations in posterity of blood to amend the constitution)

Article VI - Debts, Supremacy, and Oaths, establishing that all laws made from it are the 'supreme Law of the land', and that all officials and agents must swear an oath to that Constitution (a piece of paper).

Article VII – Ratification. Justification by signature of the attorney/agents who created it.

What in God’s name makes anyone think that the federal, government-created strawman they legally (artificially) stand in the bond of surety for in agency is a party to anything in the constitution that established this principality? This is nothing more and nothing less than the ordaining and establishment of a nation, as the creation of a magistracy (sovereignty), and a protection of they who created it in posterity. The status of public persons is not mentioned or protected in any way, shape, or form. Seriously, the damn thing protects slavery, not freedom for all!

So let’s look and see just what laws in the US Code of the United States are actually legitimate ones by their legally issued titles.

“Positive law titles of the United States Code, indicated by an asterisk, are LEGAL EVIDENCE of the law and need no further authoritative citation as prior acts concerning those titles have been repealed. Other titles to the U.S. Code are ‘PRIMA FACIE’ evidence of the law (1 USC §204), and ARE PRESUMED TO BE THE LAW, BUT ARE REBUTTABLE by production of prior unrepealed acts of Congress at variance with the Code…”

The following titles of US Code ARE PRIMA FACIE, and are thus rebuttable for the enlightened, private man:

Title 2 - THE CONGRESS
Title 6 - Homeland Security
Title 7 - Agriculture
Title 8 - Aliens and Nationality
Title 12 - Banks and Banking
Title 15 - Commerce and Trade
Title 16 - Conservation
Title 19 - Custom Duties
Title 20 - Education
Title 21 - Food and Drugs
Note here that every single _prima facie_, rebuttable title of the US Code above is _commercial_ in its purpose as opposed to being legitimately foundational (constitutional). Even the “Congress” (of Title 2) was re-created by that _de jure_ “Congress assembled” into a commercially driven, _de facto_ clone as an incorporated legal entity (body politic) in the districted “United States” to control international trade and interstate commerce under international Admiralty/Maritime law, and specifically not under the purview of constitutionally derived law. It’s like an evil twin, a non-governmental aspect of the governmental process. In other words, these titles deal with “customers” and not “tax-payers” or “citizens,” and this is how these government’s financial reports list their assets and liabilities within their Comprehensive Annual Financial Reports (CAFR’s), as “governmental” and “non-governmental” funds. In this anterior personality (legal, corporate mask), the “Congress” is not bound under any constitutional considerations, for these are all illegitimate functions of the Executive Branch, most of them set up by the Title 2 corporation called “Congress” as separate agencies and corporations.

From an anonymous, pamphlet-style expose called ‘The Nation That Never Was,’ we read the following simple chart of the congressional history of this split personality:

(1) The Congress of the Confederation, or Continental Congress, met from March 1, 1781, to March 4, 1789, the last such meeting being at 26 Wall Street, New York, New York.

(2) The first alleged congress of the new government met for the first time in New York, at 26 Wall Street therein, on March 4, 1789.

(3) Summarizing the two events, it has been perceived and proposed in U.S. history that: “The Congress of the Confederation met from March 1, 1781, to March 4, 1789, WHEN IT WAS REPLACED BY THE CONGRESS ESTABLISHED BY THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION.”

(4) By the alleged “replacement” process, it was claimed, in essence, that the Continental Congress _HAD PASSED ITS_ “TORCH” OR “WAND” _OF AUTHORITY ON TO THE NEW ALLEGED CONGRESS FOR THE PROPOSED UNITED STATES, IN ORDER THAT THE SAME MIGHT BE ENABLED TO DO BUSINESS IN ITS STEAD, accordingly.

Let us be very clear here the difference between a corporation and a government, or rather a government and a corporation pretending to be its own government as the de facto, militarily ruled United States district.

There is only one fact that needs to be said here, and we must fully understand this fact in order to understand our own disposition in legal existence under this district corporation. Quite simply, the difference between a legitimate (de sure) government structure and every corporation is that a government is a lawmaker, while a corporation is bound under that government’s law. In other words, the “United States” as a corporation created by congress in the “corporation of Washington DC” to be “the seat of government” of (under) the united States of America. To break this down even more succinctly, a de jure (legitimate) government governs over land (a thing) while corporations govern over fiction (names and titles of things). The United States, a corporation, is not land. It is a corporation granted trust over certain public and privately held lands. In other words, the United States corporation is not a territory (land), but a corporate entity assigned the trust and care over the territories of the States (incorporated territories). The People of each State (landholders) are the congress of the united States of America in contractual union, but they created the corporation called the United States to manage their public lands and protect themselves and their private lands from the common people (national, US citizen-ships). And as the civil war proved, they created a monster that would attack its own body (union of several States) to ensure its own military rule and trust. This, again, is the illusion of competition — the United States being an incorporated, totally controlled opposition of the landholders (People) of each State, who are the congress and president (lawmakers) of that corporate entity.

Thus all of these de facto, positive congressional laws in the US Code (being not constitutional but instead commercial in their nature) in title themselves are prima facie and rebuttable as applied by commercial ventures and agencies of the United States! Persons may not be able to rebut them, for persons are property and bound to them. But men of God reborn under Nature’s Law alone are supra (above) them in every way. These US district laws only apply to commercial things, to the commercial considerations of Caesar, including public persons but not necessarily private ones (the People). This is very important to comprehend, for government was not in its organic purpose created for commercial ventures, though the ability to control “commerce” under admiralty law was certainly and quite purposefully established and constituted to be “under congress” by the statement: “To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian Tribes.” This statement left open the temptation to create a commercial structure far surpassing the stated purpose and intent of the constituters. But make no mistake, they knew exactly what they we’re doing. For power is only taken and kept when done so in incremental steps.

To be blunt, the constitution did not create the pirate cove that is the modern United States, but it certainly allowed for it to be later constructed through virtually unlimited statute by its constituted authorities under prima facie and unconstitutional considerations. And so the apparently legitimate (de jure) congress recreated itself into a commercial persona, an artificial person incorporated for the strict purpose of the expanding the hell out of this purposefully vague and mostly undefined commerce clause. This is not so different a phenomenon than the Highest, moral maxims of law, which as foundational and scriptural principals protect the private man as he who does not sell his soul and fall into fiction. And yet ever-increasingly and in meticulous incrementalism and design, the added maxims of man’s law dealing in contracted dis-ease allow for the most heinous of corruption towards those foundational principals of the Natural Law. The constitution is foundational only to the structure of government, not to the laws of the nation with regard to its voluntary subjects and its primary commercial product, the dollar.

When asked to explain his public comment that “THE CONSTITUTION THAT I INTERPRET AND APPLY IS NOT LIVING BUT DEAD,” former Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia had this to say:
“Much of the, um, HARM that has been done in recent years by activist constitutional interpretation has been made possible by a theory, which says, that UNLIKE AN ORDINARY LAW, WHICH DOESN’T CHANGE... THE CONSTITUTION CHANGES from decade to decade to comport with, and this is a phrase that we use in our 8th amendment jurisprudence, we, the court does, to comport with “THE EVOLVING STANDARDS OF DECENCY THAT MARK THE PROGRESS OF A MATURING SOCIETY.” In other words, WE HAVE A MORPHING CONSTITUTION. And, of course, IT’S UP TO THE COURT TO DECIDE WHEN IT MORPHS AND HOW IT MORPHS. That’s generally paraded as the “living constitution.” And unfortunately, that philosophy has made enormous headway, not only with lawyers and judges, but even with John Q. Public.”

— Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia, excerpted from a FORA.TV interview

Let us be clear here that even this judge of the Supreme Court is basically calling the activists and constitutionalists out there as idiots! Here is a god telling his subjects that it is he and his fellow attorney-class alone that “morphs” the constitution according to “evolving standards of decency,” even when that evolution is in fact an utter devolution in knowledge and moral awareness as we see happening today.

This commercial functionality, law, and Executive infrastructure had to be created later as de facto legal entities, as agencies of the prima facie (illegitimate, commercially acting) congress. It was not created by what is allowed or established by the constitution, nor by men acting under constitutional restrictions, but only reconstituted to be under the control of that two-faced, commercialized “Congress” re-created under Title 2. The constitution certainly established the legitimate congress in its official capacity under the private States united in compact and to protect that privacy between States (Peoples), but the congress then commercially recreated itself under its own rules and code, establishing its own jurisdictional realm of fiction in which to trap and rule over the multitude. It created its own legal hell. This distinction must be understood, just as the congress recreated the evil twin of the “Judicial” branch through the Judicial Act of 1789, which created an Executive agency in similitude but not sameness, as an administrative, not judicial agency to oversee the purely illegitimate (unconstitutional) commercial aspects of that district. In this way Washington DC and its jurisdiction is very much like The Matrix, a false reflection of the actuality of government, with intent completely opposing the reason for its sources existence; built to suck the prosperity and liberty of the common people dry like a vampire. It’s piracy, legalized. Thus a private citizen will not participate in commerce of any sort recognizable as foreign or interstate, for that would be a public transaction not protected by the constitution. Congress literally wears two hats. One has a picture of the constitution, while one has a picture of the skull and crossbones of piracy on the commercial high seas. The intent of congress defines the law it creates as either positive or prima facie. As all commerce is designed in fraud and deceit and specifically for profit and revenue, they must create this secondary commercial, de facto structure and law in the form that it requires voluntary participation and consent of customers, which merely means that, if not rebutted, the presumption stands as a silent consent to any fact of law. And this is why it is said that the United States has two different governments, the original, constitutional one and the simulated, unconstitutional, re-created commercial one.
The IRS, for example, has no standing in law without your consent, affirmation, and confirmation of commercial taxpayer status in personhood, for its very existence as an agency in US Code is \textit{prima facie}. But that doesn’t mean you can’t voluntarily contract yourself as their debt-slave, in the legal title of “taxpayer.” Title 42, including Social Security, minimum wage and other employee regulations, Health Care, and so many other public benefits that strangle and specifically identify the population through this individual status of personhood by such evil, blood-tainting marks and numbers, has no weight unless you agree to participate in its agencies and their commercial (unconstitutional) programs, thus giving them contractual power over your strawman persona in proprietary publicity. It collects on public debts by public persons using public funds. And that collection agency of the treasury (exchequer) places the surety (man contractually bound to perform in public persona) into a federal debtor’s prison when the debt is not paid. Stolen time and forced labor equals profit and gain. This has nothing to do with the constitution, of course. And we must realize that as public citizenships, as debtor’s in the contracted hell of legal personhood, we are not acting legitimately and so cannot invoke the negative aspects and securities of the constitution, for we reserve no rights while in surety to another’s property. Remember that with government protection comes contractual subjection to government. Hospitals and the mental health industry, including the massive liberties granted to the pharmaceutical industries — these are all \textit{prima facie}.

Basically, all commercial entities created by the commercial side of the commercially acting congress are \textit{prima facie} and \textit{de facto} (illegitimate) in their legal nature. The banks, education, agriculture, public lands — all of these commercial applications are consent-based. Signature-based. Even the War Department (now offensively renamed as “Defense”), which conquers through violent force and the purchase of other countries and states, is purely a commercial agency and \textit{prima facie} in all its actions. It would only be lawful if a war was officially declared by the congress acting in its intended constitutional functionality, which has not happened since the declaration of war in 1942. All military actions after World War II have been unlawful, \textit{prima facie}, and purely commercial in nature under illegitimate Executive authority called \textit{emergency war powers}. These will be discussed thoroughly in Volume II of this work.

All of these are merely the operating presumptions of law, the presumption being that these are the standing legal considerations by all courts, in that you agree to, consent to, and tacitly understand all of these US Codes and their agencies and agents to be the authority of law. This is not comprehension, only understanding, for the principals of law protect one’s right to stand in voluntary ignorance. To act in person is to \textit{stand under} the law of persons in commercial fiction. Unless you just say no and quit claiming to be a public person, unless you execute the strawman’s \textit{life} purpose, the government automatically says yes. Your actions and inactions equally express your will and understanding.

Inversely, notice that the other codes that are considered as enacted, revised, and stand as “positive” law, have very little if anything at all to do with the commercial side of government in its business and acquisitions of men, industries, and corporations, being mostly just public services or protections, or the foundational aspects thereof. They are also the sources of many government functionalities, such as the banking code, as creator and regulator of the money itself, which is purely the rules and regulatory functionality of money and money-changers to be used in commerce, not the actual illegitimate commercial thing or entity itself. Not, for instance, the actual standing central bank, but the standards of weights and measures thereof.

Environment, Wildlife, The President, National Park Service, Voting and Elections, Public Buildings and Works, the Postal Service, Patriotic and National Observances, Ceremonies, Organizations, the Military, National Guard, Pay and Allowances of the Uniformed Services, Patents, and Money and Finance are all created as positive law codes. They are actually legitimate, constitutionally driven governmental functions within law, or at least as legitimate as a conspiracy designed to enslave can be. They are, in other words, legitimate to the private People of the several States, who participate only privately and with reserve in all things public and commercial.
As for what is the constitutional and positive law, we may consider the following maxim. As public persons, that which is positively established is a requirement of law that hears no exceptions.

“The radical element of justice is equality.”

— Prima pars aequitatis aequalitas. (BouvMaxim)

—–

“Acts required by law to be done, admit of no qualification.”

— Actus legiti non recipiunt modum. Hob. 153. (BouvMaxim)

Again, these positive laws are actual legal evidence, not prima facie (pre-tended) evidence, and so they are not rebuttable. They are the standard existence as the legal code, and no assumption is needed for them to apply. They are foundational, not speculative. No reason (qualifying purpose) for any law is required for its enforcement once it is established. No moral considerations apply to its blind execution. Only a private man may put to question the authority of that positive law of persons (status), for he carries not any such artifice or public (proprietary) corporate US id-entity. These United States laws simply do not affect a private citizen of each foreign State with reserved rights, for it is only public law in the United States’ public jurisdiction. For all others in public intercourse though, the law is strictly taken without error. This is legalistic equality vs. equitable-ness under the Natural Law.

When reading the following maxims of law regarding what equity is and how it is applied, do not forget the dualistic nature of this word. To act in Natural equitableness (verb) according to the Natural Law of God as one’s negative duty to one’s fellow man is not the same as a legal system of legally established (named) equity (noun). For a United States public person, nothing in Nature may touch such a fiction of law. When the law decides what equity is, equity is no longer a term of Natural Law. Equity in fiction is the road runner vs. Wile E. Coyote. Both of these are cartoon characters, and their law is the law of their artistic creator. Their actions are not their own, and their law is what is forced upon them. This is legal equity via contractual relationship to the state, the equity of artificial (legally natural) persons. And so in each case below, remember your perspective. Remember what is equity under the God of Truth and what it is under the legal gods of the big lie. Legal equality is only equal punishment (sanction) under the law. But most important to comprehend here is that by becoming (acting as) a strawman, by taking upon oneself in persona (property) the positive (anti-God) rights and marks of a fictional entity, the man has removed himself from the negative realm of God-given rights in Truth Equity and Equality, and claims instead to be above God’s Nature and Its Law. Citizenship in any form is by necessity an inequity and inequality to all men not also citizens. One who abandons his place in God’s Nature has no God-given rights, for he no longer is a vessel of God but of commerce (the state).

—(BouvMaxim)

If these don’t yet make sense, remember they are limited to perspective. He who reads and considers these must remember their own status under the doctrine of master and servant. To a slave (subject/servant), this legal term of art equity carries a whole different meaning than to a master. And for the man of God it carries only the Truth and intent of God’s Law. Again, equal rights (equity) under the law for citizenships (agents) of the United States is no different from what co-employed, similarly titled hirelings share at the local conglomerate of Walmart stores. Walmart rights are not necessarily governmentally created rights any more than governmental rights are Natural (of God).

The justification for war is always one of necessity, where “necessity knows no law.” Thus war, out of necessity, generally creates a state of legal equity (equal oppression, extortion, and punishment for all). In other words, war resets commercialism by destroying that which opposes or blocks it. And this is why sanctions are used before war might be declared. But never forget that war is only ever for commercial purposes, a tool of the devil in a system of mammon.

Comprehending this distinction between equity and all other formalities of law is crucial. For as we have read here in these maxims, the default state of thought for any judge should be equitableness, or as that which is in harmony with the Natural Law. We must also remember that these maxims are preferable but not a requirement. In other words, since the more localized and personal maxim that contract makes the law also must play in that judges forum and jurisdiction as a foundational principle, if the contract itself stands in fraud and inequity as agreed upon by the parties then the judge must also stand in support of the fraud and inequity of that voluntary contract, and so may not consider equitable means to find remedy, instead following the strict, amoral rule regarding such contractual relationships. Thus the strict law of the voluntary contract defeats the ability of the judge to act morally even if he wanted to. And the Bible is excluded from his purview and unenforceable as the common law thereof, for contract law conquers other forms of law. These maxims and their power over one another are ultra-important to learn, for we can know the judges opinion before he makes it if we have a full understanding of the principles that will necessarily and legally guide it. Equity within contract is simply not the same as Natural equity without. And we have no hope of extracting equitable means from any administrative judge of United States citizenships, for the contractual relationship destroys the Natural equity principle through juris strictum, as that strict, written law of persons. Acceptance of the written law destroys the implications of the unwritten Law, which respects no fiction. The principles of law cannot defeat a contracted dis-ease, for the terms of the contract are designed to pretend defeat over the scripturally-based, moral, and unenforceable equitable terms of God’s Law. And what a beautiful rule to Live by, the same as do unto others and treat thy neighbor as thyself, that to be (have Being/Life) in True Equity one must always stand in True Equity towards all others regardless of their disposition. We should only expect to receive what we put forward.

This defeatism we all suffer as common persons and municeps is generally based on the fact that positive laws deal with the everyday running, infrastructure, and general services to taxpayers. Commercial, prima facie laws, however, deal with customers, not taxpayers. And this is why taxpayers are called (devolved) as the “customers” of most for-profit government agencies instead of taxpayers or citizens. Perhaps you should go check your local municipal corporation (city or county) bill to see what status of person it is addressed to. Are you a “customer” of government? Water, sewer, trash, golf, etc…

FACIES - Latin. The face or countenance: the exterior appearance or view; hence, contemplation or study of a thing on its EXTERNAL or APPARENT side. Thus, prima facie means at the first inspection, on a preliminary or exterior scrutiny. When we speak of a “prima facie case,” we mean one which, ON ITS OWN SHOWING, on a first examination, or WITHOUT INVESTIGATING ANY ALLEGED DEFENSES, is APPARENTLY GOOD AND MAINTAINABLE. (Black4)

FACIO UT DES - (Latin. I do that you may give.) A species of contract in the civil law (being one of the innominate contracts) which occurs WHEN A MAN AGREES TO PERFORM anything for a price either specifically mentioned OR LEFT TO THE DETERMINATION OF THE LAW TO SET A VALUE ON IT; AS WHEN A SERVANT HIRES HIMSELF TO HIS MASTER FOR CERTAIN WAGES OR AN AGREED SUM OF MONEY. Also, the consideration of that species of CONTRACT. (Black4)

FACIO UT FACIAS - (Latin. I do that you may do.) The consideration of that species of contract in the civil law, or the contract itself (being one of the innominate contracts), which occurs when I agree with a man to do his work for him if he will do mine for me; OR IF TWO PERSONS AGREE TO MARRY TOGETHER, OR TO DO ANY OTHER POSITIVE ACTS ON BOTH SIDES: or it may be TO FORBEAR on one side in consideration of something done on the other. (Black4)

FACSIMILE - An exact copy, preserving all the MARKS of the ORIGINAL. (Black4)

Any way you look at it, rent is extortion. Blackmail. It is veiled slavery, as indenture. For the money we use to pay rent today represents only that commercial current (currency) of time. Money, again, is just a re-presentation of the physical substance of labor, hours of work in monetary form that can be traded or used to pay extortion, exaction, or rent. Remember, extortion (as exaction) is a protected right under Title 42 of US Code, forced upon the public citizenship for his crime of use of another’s property. In Reality, and in consideration of what the earth provides us in ultra-abundance if it is cared for in respect of God’s Laws, no man should ever live in such a state of controlled adversity that he should pay rent to another. And no man should wish to lay such sufferance upon his fellow man, for no man should be or desire to be lord and master over another. Rent can and only will ever exist in inequitableness. It is unnatural. But rent is clearly an ancient custom, part of the cult-ure. And it is quite clear in recorded history that slaves often fight for their right at the chance to charge and enslave other slaves as they themselves were so charged; the strange hierarchical bedfellows of mutual captivity.

So why is a perpetuity considered as a state of inequity in the maxim above? How about perpetual debt?
"...And to preserve their independence, WE MUST NOT LET OUR RULERS LOAD US WITH PERPETUAL DEBT. We must make our ELECTION between economy and liberty or profusion and servitude. If we run into such debts as that we must be taxed in our meat and in our drink, in our necessaries and our comforts, in our labors and our amusements, for our callings and our creeds, as the people of England are, our people, like them, must come to labor sixteen hours in the twenty-four, and give the earnings of fifteen of these to the government for their debts and daily expenses; and the sixteenth being insufficient to afford us bread, we must live, as they now do, on oatmeal and potatoes; HAVE NOT TIME TO THINK, NO MEANS OF CALLING THE MISMANAGER'S TO ACCOUNT; BUT BE GLAD TO OBTAIN SUBSISTENCE BY HIRING Ourselves TO RIVET THEIR CHAINS ON THE NECKS OF OUR FELLOW SUFFERERS..."

— Thomas Jefferson, as quoted in: 'The Making of America,' page 395

Of course, for every rent a user is needed. Someone or something needs to be charged. And so we find that rent is merely a reoccurring necessity in the artful existence of a permanent state of usury. We call and accept this quality as "government." We even anthropomorphize government as "the man!"

In defining usufruct, as the Cestue Que Vie, we get a glimpse into how the ancient laws and history were once against our modern form of usury, and how those laws were changed through the expansion of usufruct upon consumable commodities. Where as before money (currency and coinage) could not be altered in its substance into any other form, meaning that its value could not be arbitrarily changed (inflated and deflated) and usury could not be imbued to increase the imaginary, uncirculated amount of its value in mammon through an actuarially calculated future debt as "interest," the laws over time and political dispositions thereof were incrementally changed to make consumable commodities and the exchange currency they are purchased with (money) into a usurious thing. Thus the consideration of money was changed from one of pure substance (such as gold or silver) to that of pure form (as our current paper, fiat US dollar). While the substance could not be altered because it was physical (pure), and whereas nothing artificial could be begotten from it, the re-presentation of its substance into paper form allowed it to be altered in any way the issuer and loaner of that paper currency saw fit, or as they say, artfully created out of thin air. When artifice became money, man’s person and his property also became money personified.

The form pressed into a gold coin made no difference to the value of the actual gold as the substance in weight that made up the coin. The value of the gold was the value of the coin. But the form of a piece of paper that represents value with no actual substance in reference to that value carries unlimited potential for corruption, greed, and most importantly usury. Likewise, the paper birth certificate as a commercial paper bank note creates unlimited corruption of the blood, with unlimited monetary consideration of the mere form (name) of man. The substance of man is represented into the form of a commercial certificate of exchange. Thus, man is re-considered from substance to form (flesh and blood to paper), just as money is re-considered from metals, grains, or livestock into a representative paper form with no substantive reference or actual connection to the original. In this way, the future calves of those cattle or products of other seeded commodities can be secured as future currency for today’s debts, for paper can represent anything, even future life in debt and labor potential. And so the issues as offspring of citizen-ships are collateralized through the birth registration process to secure the public debt, a debt that can never be paid, only performed in public service and servitude in perpetuity and without equitableness. We call this state of commercial existence as “equality.” But legal equality is not Natural Equity. All slaves are equal, but no slave has True (Natural) Equity.

The author wishes to disclaim here that this notion of what is “lawful money” is yet another patriot mythology. The Bible makes no distinction between any form of money, for slaves were certainly valued in gold and silver in their commercial trade. All money is the root of all evil. End of story. And so we must take a quick look at the clever designs of the money-changers so that we may prove this statement, that there is no such thing as lawful money under God, only under tyrants and in constituted pirate coves. To say that money is lawful simply means that a certain form of money was written as the strict law to be lawful, in other words, legal. It means nothing else, and no, Jehovah does not put Its seal of approval upon any metal or any other form of “money.”

So let us discover how these pure coins of gold and silver were made impure for taxation purposes. We will do this simply to show that money in any form is the seed of absolute corruption, and all forms thereof are absolutely corruptible.

Ever ask yourself why 90% gold and silver coins only had 90% gold and silver?

The typical answer by the pat-riot and coin collector would be that the baser (less valuable) metals admixed therein were included to somehow strengthen the coin for its circulation. And that’s where they stop, other than to meticulously evaluate the worth of that coin by how it appears to their ego. Fine, extra-fine, etc. This is a perfect example of public-mindedness that plagues the rational of the common goyim.

The actual reason for this admixture of metals was simply a tax; nothing more, nothing less. So how is a bit of extraneous, lesser valued metal to be taken as a tax?

A sourced Wikipedia article on “Seigniorage” explains how the commonalty is hoodwinked into paying a tax every time we use money, no matter what its form or substance:

Seigniorage, also spelled seignorage or seigneurage (from Old French seigneuriage “right of the lord [seigneur] to mint money”), is the difference between the value of money and the cost to produce and distribute it. The term can be applied in the following ways:

- Seigniorage derived from specie—metal coins—is a tax, added to the total price of a coin (metal content and production costs), that a customer of the mint had to pay to the mint, and that was sent to the sovereign of the political area.

- Seigniorage derived from notes is more indirect, being the difference between interest earned on securities acquired in exchange for bank notes and the costs of producing and distributing those notes.

The term also applies to monetary seigniorage, where sovereign-issued securities are exchanged for newly minted bank notes by a central bank, thus allowing the sovereign to ‘borrow’ without needing to repay. However, monetary seigniorage refers to the sovereign revenue obtained through routine debt monetization, including expanding the money supply during GDP growth and meeting yearly inflation targets.

Seigniorage is a convenient source of revenue for some governments.
To make this clear, it was the added metals that made coins only 90% gold or silver. But the user and purchaser paid for the coin as if it were 100% gold or silver. That 10% over pay, which is filled in with baser metals of low value, is called a tax of seigniorage. And every time that coin is spent the tax is repeated, over and over and over. This tax is also included with the current dollar and other currencies of the many nations. The US mint even reports this tax of seigniorage as one of its added profits within its Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). In fact, before a dollar bill even leaves the press it’s issued upon it’s taxed for over half its value ($0.50+) for seigniorage before it ever reaches its first bank or wallet. The penny now costs way more than 1 cent to produce as the nickel is barely holding its own. This over-cost of producing each penny is also called as seigniorage.

Legal equality... ironically, this is a convoluted way of saying simply that man is patriated into citizen-ship, virtually recreated into a strawman in his own mind. And just what does it mean for a commercial entity to be patriotic of his own voluntary enslavement, to love his government corporation (artificial person) in blasphemy to God, and to love the money (of mammon) that represents his own nativity and valuation as human capital?

PATRIOTISM - noun - LOVE OF ONE'S COUNTRY; the passion which aims TO SERVE one's country, either in defending it from invasion, or protecting ITS rights and maintaining ITS laws and institutions in vigor and purity. Patriotism is the CHARACTERISTIC OF A GOOD CITIZEN, the noblest passion that ANIMATES A MAN IN THE CHARACTER OF A CITIZEN. (Wesb1828)

Cartoon characters in a cartoon world...

Love of God or love of country? Man must love one and not the other, for the love of one necessarily destroys the law of the other. But which was here first? Whose land is It Really? Who Created It?

When comparing national citizen-ship (nativity) to the tribal nature of the former condition of Native American Indians and their love of the land, we can Truly see the difference between this legal, financial protectionism of surety and insurance as opposed to the Highest negative duties of spiritual, brotherly Love and Charity.

"When people are destroyed and LANGUAGES ARE DESTROYED, YOU DESTROY THAT KNOWLEDGE ALONG WITH IT. So what do indigenous people have to offer? Indigenous people have the LONG-TERM THINKING required for proper context."

"What Indians are about, I think, first of all is community. They're about mutual support. They're about sharing. They're about understanding what's common land, common air, common water, common and FOR ALL. They're about freedom."

"We are now. Now is us. We're the seventh generation. I'm sitting here as the seventh generation BECAUSE SEVEN GENERATIONS AGO" PEOPLE WERE LOOKING OUT FOR ME. SEVEN GENERATIONS FROM NOW SOMEONE WILL BE HERE, I KNOW. EACH GENERATION MAKES SURE THAT SEVENTH GENERATION IS COMING, ALL THE TIME."

—Chief Oren Lyons, from an interview with Bill Moyers on July 3, 1991, as aired on 'Public Affairs Television'

Is our accumulation of “national debt” in any way supposed to be a benefit to our future generations? Or have we secured our children into a sort of bondage that cannot even be fathomed but by the final chapters of the Bible?

Countries (corporations) exist in purposeful spitefulness of God and the Natural, spiritual Law. It can be no other way, for government and religion are not the self-evident designs of God’s Nature, not in Being of the Supreme Permanence of Jehovah, and have no relation to Real Life. They are only dead, fictional things and therefore can only relate to dead, fictional persons, places, and things (nouns/names/ flattering titles).

A “Christian nation” has nothing of its legalistic law written in any way according to the Bible scriptures. If it did, there would be no purpose for any other law, and thus no purpose for that so-called government and its administrative gods. God’s Law is unwritten, voluntary, and un-enforceable. When considering just the banking law alone as compared to scripture, this conclusion is self-evident. Commercialism would be outlawed if the Law of God was being followed and exemplified through christ. Charity would be the only True Law, for one of the supreme purposes of Charity is that of avoiding exactly the artificial debts we find ourselves in today. Debt and artificial authority go hand in hand. Nations are identified by the strength of their currency (gross national product valued in money). The gods of the nations are built upon debt. Countries are only created by false-magistrate gods seeking to bypass the moral law and rule over others through debt, for countries are simply not Creations of God in Nature. Thus, patriotism is a state of artificial being and belief in the veracity of fiction that is totally against God’s Design and Law in favor of man’s. The love of (belief in) fiction can be simply defined as patriotism.

“Patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel.”

—Samuel Johnson, quoted from Boswell’s: ‘Life of Johnson’

So love of country is the last refuge of a scoundrel. Thus love of the fiction that allows a scoundrel to exist legally (against God’s Law) is the True purpose of patriotism. No surprise, for the victim often loves his captor and corruptor, and the patriot enjoys the ingured licensure (anarchy) to break with his own personal responsibility under God, being legally allowed to commit crimes against Nature and against Self.

In The Matrix movies, it was stated that anyone plugged into The Matrix was “a potential agent.” As science fiction this was cool, but in Real Life this is also a verifiable Truism. This was not just science fiction, but a metaphor of the legal fiction, for all men in the legal fiction are actors that rely on the central AI for their pretended but artificial lives, as the registered agents of assigned legal personas, acting in an agentic and dependent way towards one’s master and principal. Patriotism, the love of the artifice of the fictional nation, causes all men to be potential enemies to any Free man under God. The patriot loves fiction over Nature, loving his nation over his own Natural Freedom. and the government and its legal laws over that of God’s. And so the typical DMV worker, for instance, certainly plays the part of an agent, treating their fellow man in citizen-ship with a contempt only possible through the flattering titles conferred upon such slightly inflated govern-ment agents. The agent always defends its principal, for without such a master that servant’s status and subsequent benefits and protections in and because of that servitude and flattering legal title would not exist. So all men acting in the persona of government are agents thereof, including all common citizenships, and their patriotism may be invoked at any time due to their vested interest in the legal systems that feed and falsely enrich them. We defend, in other words, not merely the teat we suck from, but that which it is attached to. We must do this or our make-believe persona will cease to exist, and so our fear of God would no longer be obscured. It is our artificial womb, our legal matrix (mother). Thus, the entire public population are turned into enemies of each other, informers and betrayers, as agents of the machine. For in order to retain our legally bestowed, unnatural benefits we must support the hand that feeds us over that of the very Nature and Natural Equity of all that is Jehovah. We must abandon God (Reality) and embrace the fiction of the legal matrix.

_The simulacrum is made legally true…_

“Beware the leader who bangs the drums of war in order to whip the citizenry into a _patriotic fervor_ for patriotism is indeed a double-edged sword. It both embolds the blood, just as it narrows the mind. And when the drums of war have reached a fever pitch and the blood boils with hate and the mind has closed, the leader will have no need in seizing the rights of the citizenry. Rather, _THE CITIZENRY, INFUSED WITH FEAR AND BLINDED BY PATRIOTISM, WILL OFFER UP ALL OF THEIR RIGHTS UNTO THE LEADER AND GLADLY SO_. How do I know? For this is what I have done. _And I am Caesar._”

Patriotism is not the fear of God, as the fear of what will happen by not following that Law of Nature, but instead is the fear of government, as the fear of not selling our souls to that fiction and against God.

Let’s break this word patriotism down into its selective parts, shall we, and then examine what it is to be a _pat-riot_?

Talk about word magic! I’d use the colloquialism here that you can’t make this stuff up, but my whole point is that the complete opposite is True, that a language this demeaning and deceiving is in fact and can only be total make-believe. The problem is not that all words in legalese are lies, it is that such authority is given to that whole lingual system of lies. Could you have ever imagined that to be for anything is to actually be against it? If I support a wall, do I not put that support against it to prop it up? Does it make sense to you that to defend is to actually oppose?

—Michael Ellner

To defend evil is to be an agent for evil, to act in protection of it or in its place (stead). This is a very difficult concept. But let us consider the current Queen of England and its corporate state Church of England. A defender of any faith (trust) is an attorney (agent) for (in the stead of) that which it opposes. In other words, the queen (or king) of England is the vicar of the pope (false Christ), acting vicariously of but in support of (as controlled opposition) the Vatican and its Holy See. To be a defender of any form of the secular forms of legal “Christianity,” of the universal (catholic) Faith is to be an offender to the True Nature of the Word of God. The queen of England, that immortal corporation sole of the Crown, is not opposed to the pope, but a defender of its franchise that she operates as god-head over. All things are opposite in evil. What is created by the sovereign to stand against its own sovereignty is that which is by its own nature a defender of it.

And so to be a “protestant” (in pro-test) is not quite what you might have been lead to believe it is. To protest is to affirm, and to affirm is to give support to, to be for something. And so the flattering religious title of “Protestant” turns out to be merely another defender of the same old Catholic Faith, a controlled opposition.

PROTEST - verb intransitive - [Latin protestor; pro and testor, to affirm it.] 1. TO AFFIRM WITH SOLEMNITY; to make a solemn declaration of a fact or opinion; as, I protest to you, I have no knowledge of the transaction. 2. To make a solemn declaration expressive of opposition with against; as, he protests against your votes. The conscience has power to protest against the exorbitancies of the passions. 3. To make a formal declaration in writing against a public law or measure. IT IS THE PRIVILEGE of any lord in parliament to protest against a law or resolution... (Webs1828)

To be clear, patriotism for the United States by its subjected citizenships is literally controlled opposition. No slave in right mindedness would love his master, though the illusion of romance and even idol Godliness of any nation by its citizen-slaves certainly solidifies the relation-ship. All citizen-ships are without choice defenders of the US trust because persons are property of the United States, defending the artificial faith (legal trust) of tyrants in mammon through pat-riotism, which inversely stands as a legal opposition to our own individual freedom of movement and action without such bar and restraint. It is a state of loving the laws and money forms that bind ourselves and others in subjection to debt (purchased protection). It is a state of riotous behavior streamlined and directly funneled into a specific, reorganized, and thus useful cause in support of the very thing that oppresses, which is of course the needs and justification of the state in international commercial activity under a war flag (Arms) at sea. Between a bee hive, a hornets nest, and ant colony, and the United States... what’s the difference? Commercialism of human capital management through contracted (voluntary) employment (use) in corporations (artificial persons) is the most organized form of slavery in existence, causing men to love their servitude for love of money, which may only be obtained through legal means such as employment of persons (prostitution). Military structures and rankings are also set up in this way, the murdering soldiers mere mercenaries just following the orders of their striped and marked, flatteringly titled patrons.

By strangers with a calm, judicial pen,
And when the borders bleed we watch with dread
The lines of ink across the map turn red.”

This strange behavior and love does not benefit the “patriot” in any way, for the patriot is just cannon-fodder for the state, and is contractually obligated to serve the state (an artificial person/god) in Life and/or death as its slave and defender. However, the patriot is convinced that he is better off with the state, and so the benefits entailed with that servitude cannot be ignored, and the murder of millions by the standing army of that state and its police (peace-keepers of commerce) are thus patriotically accepted and even cheered for by such pat-riots as part of a prosperous citizenship. The patriot cheers for his captor and feeds from its teat in utter dependence thereof. Foreigners must die and suffer in destruction so that we may exist and live (evil) in controlled and taxed intercourse.

All of our energies and awareness must be redirected into supporting utterly the fiction and its infrastructure to further facilitate and ensure our own dead existence therein. And today, most employments are meaningless in every way, supporting only the artificial intelligence systems and coded language of information and money. From bank tellers to computer programmers to lawyers to systems analysts, the entire structure of employment has been driven toward the building and maintenance of the artifice of this legal (satanic) matrix.

Pat = to be controlled.
Riot = violent opposition.
Ism = a state of being.

Patriotism is literally just a permanent state of being used (employed) as controlled opposition in support of tyranny. It’s called public citizenship. It causes men to love and worship that which oppresses them. For only a slave-holder creates the title of slave, and only a sovereign nation creates the title of citizenship. We love our captors; love our nativity. This is akin to Stockholm Syndrome.

"To me, it seems a dreadful indignity to have a soul controlled by geography."
— George Santayana

So what happens when the state becomes the father and god-father of every man through birth citizenship within its own pretended kingdom of geographical jurisdiction? Exactly what you see today...

The state becomes the legal father (patron saint) of the fatherless — the abandoned (delivered) infant of unknown parentage, a child of the people born of the nation and within its bond of nativity. All men defend the state by displaying its artificial Arms (flag and seal) instead of that of their own paternal bloodline. One must abandon God’s Permanent Law to be adopted by the gods under legal laws. One must continually patronize that artifice as a surrogate father or it will cease to exist (as a lie). And one must allow themselves to be chargeable as to the rents and extortions that keep government running in immortal, corporate self-perpetuation.

This is why kings and queens are called “Defenders of the Faith,” defense by pretended moral/political opposition. For the Faith cannot defend itself, and so it must be defended by the legal, militarized state. Only a thing standing in opposition to the Natural order requires a defender, for to defend any of the corporate church doctrines is to stand in opposition to God and the self-evidence of the knowledge written in those scriptures, which clearly defy and warn against all other doctrines of “persons” in “flattering titles” such as kings, queens, and magistrates. Only that which is opposed to Nature need prove itself to falsely exist as a confirmed and ratified lie, as these “Defenders of the Faith” must do. For the church is only the form, the noun, not the substance that is the verb of Jehovah and the self-evident Law (Word/Son), and its so-called faith merely a legally (anti-God) constituted trust. But only one that has no True Faith in God’s Nature and Law needs an artificial, legal trust to replace one’s own shortcomings. To worship by way of a perpetual corporation sole is to worship in name (noun) and empty title only. Church and State rely on each other to exist (as a patronizing, mutually supportive lie).

“[The Catechism is] a valid and legitimate instrument for ecclesial communion and a sure norm for teaching the Faith.”
— Pope John Paul II, from the apostolic constitution ‘Fidei depositum’

And what “Faith” (legalized truth) is that exactly, because it certainly is not the Word of Jehovah, which commanded respect of no other doctrines and no other gods?

CATECHISM - noun - 1. A form of instruction by means of questions and answers, particularly in THE PRINCIPLES OF RELIGION. 2. An elementary book containing A SUMMARY OF PRINCIPLES IN ANY SCIENCE OR ART, but appropriately in religion, reduced to the form of questions and answers, and sometimes with notes, explanations, AND REFERENCES TO AUTHORITIES. (Webs1828)
And to which authority of the false church are we to vicariously turn to in the stead of Christ in Jehovah (the Word/Law/Son)?

A footnote to the English language (dog-Latin) version of the 1994 Catechism, sometimes referred to as the “4 pillars of the faith,” states that it is “subject to revision…” depending on changes made to the Latin original. Really? Because I don’t think the Bible makes such a disclaimer. But then, anyone that is insane enough to believe himself to be the official Christ on Earth would certainly also allow himself to alter the words of Christ in the Bible. The sources for the words in the Catechism are listed as Scriptures, the Church Fathers, the Ecumenical Councils and other authoritative Catholic statements, principally those issued by recent popes, this according to the Vatican website for the Catechism of the Catholic Church, as an apostolic letter.

I should not need to tell you at this point what the word Roman does when attached to the term Catholic (universal) Church. For the Roman law is certainly opposed to that of God’s. History apparently reveals to us that the Romans killed the True followers of Christ’s teachings just as they were tricked by the Jews to beat, torture, and crucify Christ, as those free men under God who would not join under Caesar’s false flattering marks and titles, who of course fed them promptly to the lions in the colosseum as sport and entertainment for the pagan, false “Christian” masses, which need bread and circus to be mentally and physically sedated in their own nativity. Today we call it “professional sports,” and it has the same stupefying effect. Those who followed Christ would not follow Caesar, according to their True Faith in Jehovah. The incorruptible and therefore uncontrollable men of Christ were tortured and used for sport in the coliseum, not the good titled-citizen “Christians” of that “Christian Nation” that were mere Pagans in disguise and whom, in the stands of the colosseum, cheered the loudest at the death of what they could never in Reality become or follow. The path is narrow. A Roman (pagan) of any nation of Caesar (seizure under man’s district and law) cannot also be a follower of Christ.

The church has its patron saints, just as the country has its patriotic fathers. Both are Defenders of the legal incorporation of Faith, not the spiritual Reality of God’s Nature. Legal faith is stripped from its verb (works) and made into a noun (status), a legal form in name only. To believe and pledge faith to government and doctrinal religion is simply not to act in the Pure Faith, Love, and Charity of God’s Commandments and Law of Nature. “Members” are but servants subject to the laws of their fictional master, not of Jehovah, for they worship and have faith only in fictional persona. “Christians” of the corporate denominations are mere vessels of the municipal and religious incorporation of commerce, not men of God. For they have gods other than that of Jehovah in both the state and in the church and place their faith in them through non-scriptural, unnatural, sacred (cursed) ceremony and ritual. The “true faith” (lie) of Rome and England is simply not based in Reality, and certainly not respectful of Its self-evident and thus Supreme Law and Permanence of Being (verb).

Controlled opposition… problem, reaction, solution.

Ironically, patriotism for many folks stems from a religious fervor and zeal for “God and country.” More properly, it is the blind support of a nation as if somehow the nation and its gods in magistracy are gifts from Jehovah. This patently ridiculous thought process is not only totally against scriptural teachings and an assault on reason, but is also a necessary state of mind that must be instilled into the common plebes through wrongful education in public-mindedness, for without such patriotic zeal the nation would fall and its gods would be seen as what they really are — mere pirates and criminal conspirators (confederates); fragile old men hiding behind the very might of those which they have cheated and fooled into protecting them in patronage, as the old man behind the wizarding curtain of the technology (art) of Oz. The military of the United States is perhaps the greatest pat riot on earth, as million of men doing what they are told by the most corrupting element and nation upon this earth while having no idea what it is they are actually fighting for. The Babylonian woe…
Patriotism is the support of organized chaos, the legal anarcho-syndicalist and capitalist system that we call our fictional government today. Suitable indulgence, fit luxuriation, and convenient blasphemy are protected states (legal statuses) within that artificial womb of its legal matrix. This is nothing more or less than institutionalized paganism, just as it was and is in Rome.

GENTILE - noun - [Latin gentilis; from Latin gens, NATION, race; applied to PAGANS] In the scriptures, a pagan; a worshipper of false gods; any person not a Jew or a christian; a heathen. The Hebrews included in the term GOIM or NATIONS, all the tribes of men who had not received the true faith, and were not circumcised. The christians translated goim by the Latin gentes, and imitated the Jews in giving the name gentiles TO ALL NATIONS who were not jews nor christians. In civil affairs, the denomination was given to ALL NATIONS WHO WERE NOT ROMANS. - adjective - Pertaining to pagans or heathens. (Webs1828)

It is up to the reader to decide whether or not a patriot (in a pat riot) can worship anything but false gods. The evidence is forthwith presented, and fools may be suffered perhaps more so by God than by myself, a fault I am trying to work on. As we can see throughout the tales of recorded history, a slave often loves (believes in) and thus unreasonably defends his despotic master even when he dislikes him very much. It is often the case that being vested in a system that grants benefits creates patrons of that system. Cognitive dissonance allows for many crimes by man against his fellow man and against all of Nature while acting in the fiction of a personal, logical fallacy. This author will not be your judge, only whatever is Jehovah may take that place.

“And if ye call on the Father, WHO WITHOUT RESPECT OF PERSONS JUDGETH ACCORDING TO EVERY MAN'S WORK, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear: Forasmuch as ye know that YE WERE NOT REDEEMED WITH CORRUPTIBLE THINGS, AS SILVER AND GOLD, FROM YOUR VAIN CONVERSATION RECEIVED BY TRADITION FROM YOUR FATHERS...”

I have begun to think that somewhere along the line that the notion of parenting and respect of elders became very much attuned to the ire and unreasonable demands of the priest-class, where their methods, customs, and laws are simply not to be publicly questioned despite their obvious flaws and logical fallacies. We never like to think of our parents as our enemies, but perhaps we need to realize this is so in a spiritual capacity through no fault of their own, and even as we Love them and they Love us. For we are told to love our enemies, but not the designs of them. To not obey God’s Law of Nature simply because our parents were culturally and educationally trained by their parents to do so is ludicrous. In fact, if we stop and consider, these bloodlines of kings and nobility standing in the pretended sovereignty of their parents are equally insane for following the traditions of their parents (fathers) and People. Neither of us have any excuse for our behavior, not the master or the slave, except to lie to ourselves and declare that this is just the way it is and always has been. Really? Because this assumes that a time somehow did not Exist without mankind and its artful designs present therein, and that Nature could not Exist without man! That doesn’t even jive with the New Testament, let alone with deductive reasoning. And this assumes a time in Real history when men had no language never Existed either! This assumes that men are and have always been born in Nature as the words and definitions of “masters” or “slaves,” that these are the Designs of God and Nature. And that is patently ridiculous.
When one is governed by the force and fear of man’s legal punishments upon his person instead of being self-governed by the fear of God’s judgement in Nature and his mistreatment of it as a whole, with respect for the deceit and acknowledgement of that false, invisible person-hood and flattering titles, man can know only corruption of his soul. There is no other option while living in personhood, for its foundation is purely of artifice. The individual soul is nothing if not the spirit of Jehovah in everything that Exists. Thus, it is only a reasonable conclusion that how we respect and treat Jehovah’s Creation (Nature) is how we will be judged, which includes the way we treat each other and our Selves. Indeed, it is written so in the nightmares of Revelation.

“And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, WHICH IS THE BOOK OF LIFE: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, ACCORDING TO THEIR WORKS. And the SEA gave up the dead which were in it; and DEATH AND HELL DELIVERED UP THE DEAD which were in them: AND THEY WERE JUDGED EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO THEIR WORKS.”

—Revelation 20: 12-13, KJB

The word sea is used with a double meaning here and throughout the Bible, and figuratively applies to everything in the unspiritual and artificial aspects of the world, or all “worldly” things, defined as “all the world.” And so to be given up to God from the sea is a figurative reference to spiritually dead persons living civil lives in the commerce of cities and nations, those upon the commercial sea, as the multitude of spiritually dead goyim of the nations, and of course we cannot forget the Holy See of the Vatican city-state. We are judged upon our Life and works therein, nor by our words, for each of our Lives is an open book to God, and we cannot hide our action or inaction behind dead things and dead pledges. Our works are only ever our own. Our silence is also our own.

This is a wonderful parable, teaching a moral lesson in perfect self-evidence. As a parabolic teaching it cannot be denied. The history though, as the personification of the narration of the story, is what causes the moral to be lost upon man in his arrogance of ignorance and pursuit of some history and proof of artifice, he who is lost in the Roman calendric time and valuation scheme in mammon. Though no specific man is mentioned by name here, and instead all men in all the world, the fact that Jehovah (God) is personified into a usable form for story purposes is what is disputed as making this a false story. Only an idiot, or for that matter a public-minded fool educated only at the whim of a powerful but false church and state, would dismiss such self-evidently taught knowledge on such moronic grounds. Again, I should know, for I am only recently awakened from my own dead slumber and self-conceit. So do not be insulted by these words, as the Truth in its self-evident form can only work against our own ego, killing our false strawman id-entity. The only lies that subsist in false existence are the ones we tell and accept for our false personas, behind our masks. There are no lies under God’s Nature; no artful comforts in insured and safe places, and certainly no artificial matrices (wombs) to hide in.

Man must be converted into following fiction over Nature, and this process is implemented at birth and carried forth through the public indoctrination centers called public schools. Hypnotically flashing television, movies, and video games fill in the rest. We grow up being conversant in legal volunteerism.
The word converse in adjective form, as to be converse in one’s actions, is to be the “that define their government, its name, and its subscribed-to ideology.

Words and words alone that cause men to go to war with each other and on behalf of the words most powerful weapons ever imagined and designed by men. Nothing else even comes close. For it utterly with babel and nonsense can we be made to be controlled through it. Words are indeed the in darkness, the false light of that which is adversarial. Only if our conversation is controlled which is why these terms of art are obfuscated in their higher meanings and why the public is kept naturally, the most conversant way that we have intercourse with each other is through language, the Old French conversation, from Latin conversationem (nominative conversatio), meaning the “act of living with:” a noun of action from past participle stem of conversari “to live with, keep company with,” and literally “turn about with” from Latin *com- (with) and -vertere, frequentative of vertere (versus). It has the specific sense of “talk” from the 1570s. Conversation has also been commercially used as a synonym for “sexual intercourse” from at least 1511, hence criminal conversation is a legal term used for ADULTERY from at least the late 18th century.

Naturally, the most conversant way that we have intercourse with each other is through language, which is why these terms of art are obfuscated in their higher meanings and why the public is kept in darkness, the false light of that which is adversarial. Only if our conversation is controlled utterly with babel and nonsense can we be made to be controlled through it. Words are indeed the most powerful weapons ever imagined and designed by men. For it is words and words alone that cause men to go to war with each other and on behalf of the words that define their government, its name, and its subscribed-to ideology.

The word converse in adjective form, as to be converse in one’s actions, is to be the "EXACT OPPOSITE," from the Latin conversus "turn around," past participle of convertere "to turn about" (CONVERT). Originally a mathematical term, the noun is attested from the 1550s. Related: Conversely. In its verb form, converse came to mean “TO COMMUNICATE (with)” around the 1590s, from earlier meanings of "to move about, live, DWELL" in the mid-14th century, from the 12th century Old French converser “to talk,” and from Latin conversari (see conversation).

Of course, to be in conversation is ethnically to be a convert to the nation by which that language is official and national, the verb convert coming from around 1300, as the Old French convertir, from Vulgar Latin convertire, and Latin convertere “turn around, transform,” from com- "together" and -vertere "to turn" (versus). Originally, this was reference to the religious sense. The Latin word was glossed in Old English by gecryren, from cierian “to turn, return.”

It is of the utmost importance to comprehend that this process of refining and altering man’s image into a commodity with valuable consideration is representative of the destruction of man’s Life and Law under God, and is the figurative re-creation of man into and under the system of mammon in only a legal (dead) id-entity of existence. It is a simulation of hell. This conversion process alters and molds the mind to be governable, making boys grow up with “public-mindedness” and with no knowledge of any other way. One’s religious teachings or lack thereof, being a source of and under legal state sanction, never teach one the origins of Natural Law. Man becomes the collateral for the money he thus spends. His life revolves solely around the use of money, for his debt can never be paid, try as he may. His in-person-nation in surname and signature creates the money, because the money is only a representation of the future labor and tax potential of the bonded man in surety through personhood. Everything he purchases (conquers) with money in the name of the state therefore does not belong to him, for he is merely the agentic user and renter of things purchased with another’s patented property and in another’s name.

This is the very nature of our relationship to mammon. And this is the very destruction of man’s Natural bond to Jehovah. For this is how man’s Self is purchased (conquered) at birth through information and conversation. We are convicted at birth into a life of legal crime, civilly licensed and morally deprived.

The legal law is created in very much the same way and with the same intent, without the substance but with the intent of the destruction of the Laws of God and Its Nature. This historical alteration of money into the mere form of substance (a false mirror image of the Real) literally made money the foundational root of all evil (artifice), which is the virtual wellspring of unlimited usury. Not ironically, our entire system of legal law and commerce is built in the same way and upon the same artificial foundation; on the interest (tax) of form without substance.
So what does this make you?

This legal artificiality of patriotic personhood in a state of continuous usury is what the Bible, though not the corporate church doctrines, defines as a sinner. For the act of committing to personhood is in fact adultery, as a commercial attachment to legal entities (idols) of only a representational form (image) in abandonment of all substance (of Jehovah).

ADULTERY - noun - [Latin adulterium. See Adulterate] 1. Violation of the marriage bed; a crime, or a civil injury, which introduces, or may introduce, into a family, a spurious offspring. INDULGE - verb transitive - indulg.; [Latin indulgeo; tolero.] 1. as a favor; to grant in compliance with wishes or desire. Yet, a moment, one dim ray of light. Indulge, dread Chaos and eternal Night! 4. In general, to gratify; to favor; to humor; TO YIELD TO THE WISHES OF; TO WITHHOLD RESTRAINT FROM. It is remarked by Johnson, that if the matter of indulgence is a single thing, it has with before it; if it is a habit, it has in. He indulged himself with a glass of wine; he indulges himself in sloth or intemperance.

- verb transitive - indulj'. TO PERMIT TO ENJOY OR PRACTICE; OR TO YIELD TO THE ENJOYMENT OR PRACTICE OF, WITHOUT RESTRAINT OR CONTROL; AS, TO INDULGE IN SIN, or in sensual pleasure. This form of expression is elliptical, a pronoun being omitted; as, to indulge myself or himself. MOST MEN ARE MORE WILLING TO INDULGE IN EASY VICES, THAN TO PRACTICE LABORIOUS VIRTUES. 1. To yield; TO COMPLY; TO BE FAVORABLE… (Webs1828)

INDULGENCE, INDULGENCY - noun - FREE PERMISSION to the appetites, humor, desires, passions or will to act or operate; FORBEARANCE OF RESTRAINT OR CONTROL. How many children are ruined by indulgence! Indulgence is not kindness or tenderness, but it may be the effect of one or the other, or of negligence. 1. Gratification: as the indulgence of lust or of appetite. 2. Favor granted; liberality; gratification. If all these gracious indulgencies are without effect on us, we must perish in our folly. 3. IN THE ROMISH CHURCH, REMISSION OF THE PUNISHMENT DUE TO SINS, GRANTED BY THE POPE OR CHURCH, and supposed to save the sinner from purgatory; ABSOLUTION FROM THE CENSURES OF THE CHURCH AND FROM ALL TRANSGRESSIONS. (Webs1828)

The church indulges sin, accepting payments in mammon for its supposed forbearance of punishment in the stead of God. Does that sound spiritual to you? Or is it now clear that the church is only a legal creation of man to justify and license permissive sin?

How can the personage of the flattering title of the pope and bishopric of the corporation of the Catholic or other church remiss anything that is only of the Nature of Jehovah? It cannot, for God does not respect any such person or title, even an ecclesiastical one. We can pretend, but as the above scripture tells us, 'And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work…' But no thing of this world can replace the Father in Heaven, the Creator of and as Creation. For they are only the titles of usurpers, which use word magic and trickery to make men love (believe in) the empty form of political and societal statuses instead of (anti) God's True Nature of substance. Godfathers…

What is the apostasy of adultery if not personhood, citizenship; the mask of a fictional commercial undertaking in the voluntary understanding and consent of legal fiction and law as it stands directly opposed to God’s Nature?

How does a man comprehend his idolatry if his adultery is such that he was tricked into it at birth by both the church and state, as an infant of such tender age that under no circumstance can he be held liable for that idolatrous legal surname and representation in good faith? And when he turns into an adult (becomes legally adulterated), is it any surprise that he continues to indulge in artifice after being educated to do so and told he cannot buy, work, or sell if he does not take and keep that mark of false id-entity by both church and state? Nothing has changed in that pagan Roman system in combination (conspiracy and confederation) of church and state. Remember, while the action of corporate religions and governments to adulterate in apostasy is a verb, the fictional persona created by that adulteration is a noun (name of person), as an idolater. We go from legal infants to legal adults, now don’t we? The only difference is consent. In personhood, sadly, even the most devoutly titled “Christians” are acting as Romanized pagans despite their inner moral beliefs. For it is their status in persona that betrays them to God. This is the power of the magi word-smiths in their trickery and rule by deception.
While a man is considered (by God) only by his priceless substance as the sole (soul) Creation of Jehovah, a person is to God only an insulting idol as a false being and low existence in some statistical form of man without obedience to God or Natural Law. Person-hood as adultery is a direct violation of the scriptural commandments; and not just the Bible’s, but of all ancient wisdom and teachings. Thus, persons are not considered or respected by God, as the scriptures instruct time and time again. As to this artifice that the Bible calls out as sin, the church relishes in its own corporate artifice (personhood) and monetary collections to honor its place in mammon. The church promotes only artifice. The church literally promotes by indulgence (license) Biblical sin as permissive adultery and idol worship, as it instructs to obey the legalized “Law of the Land” and to respect government’s legal existence and authority in artificial personhood. The church invests its profits and collects the interest (usury). And the state is happy to promote these corporate religions as well, for they feed one another their members and both hold man’s (their own) law above God’s.

So what is the difference between adultery and fornication, and why have these two concepts been mixed together as if they are the same terminology?

The etymology of the word adultery comes from the Old French avoutrie, a noun of condition from avoutre/aoutre, and from the Latin adulterare “to corrupt,” meaning, “debauch; falsify, debase.” The term adulterate is used correctly when describing a lie or a corruption of something that was pure. Broadly speaking, an act of Adultery is an act that makes purity into impurity.

All ancient religions concur on this point. Only man’s recreation of false doctrines in incorporation obfuscates the intent of most religions.

"Three evil deeds [that create suffering] depending upon the body are: killing, stealing, and committing adultery."

—Buddha, from The Practice of Dhyâna

"Have nought to do with adultery; for it is a foul thing and an evil way."

—Mohammed, from the Qu’ran, Sura XVII, The Night Journey, Mecca

No Natural religion will ever be created that promotes good without demonizing evil. For no parable may be told about good without exposing its opposite. No religion, barring the satanist (adversarial) cults and entries within the masonic Talmud, will ever promote fiction over Reality or legality over the self-evident Natural Law. And no legal system will ever promote God over its own self-proclaimed gods (creators/magistrates) in idolatry, for the legal artifice serves only the purpose of adulteration of all men into its fictional ways. Only when good is redefined as evil may man’s individual religious (moral) disposition be corrupted by such mis-transliterations of corporations that require his membership and money.

And so like the substance of Real gold replaced with merely the form of the image of paper money, man too relinquishes his very substance in order to operate in a formal, commercial, Godless personhood - a membership to the constituted debtor’s hell. He carries and thus bears that fictional persona (status) of and under mammon, making him the undertaker of a usurious disposition. In other words, we all become a commercial venture for the state as we continuously act artificially within its person (property/status) and under its easements. Our lives are supposed to be set upon a mission from God, but our actions are usurped and redirected by the legal gods into a monetary ad-venture and under-taking for those state magistrates (idolatrous gods):

SHIP - As a termination, denotes STATE OR OFFICE; as in lordship. [See Shape.] (Webs1828)

SHIP - noun - [Latin scapha; from the root of SHAPE.] In a general sense, a vessel or building of a peculiar structure, ADAPTED TO NAVIGATION, or floating on water by means of sails. In an appropriate sense, a building of a structure or form fitted for navigation. ... Ships are of various sizes and are for various uses; most of them however fall under the denomination of ships of war and merchant's ships. - verb transitive - 1. To put on board of a ship or vessel of any kind; as, to ship goods at Liverpool for New York. 2. To transport in a ship; to convey by water. The sun shall no sooner the mountains touch, But we will ship him hence. 3. To receive into a ship or vessel; as, to ship at sea. To ship the oars, to place them in the rowlocks. To ship off, to send away by water; as, to ship off convicts. (Webs1828)

ADVENTURE - A hazardous and striking enterprise, a bold undertaking in which hazards are to be met and issue hangs upon unforeseen events. Generally, Adventure, bill of. In mercantile law, a writing signed by a merchant, stating that the property in goods shipped in his name belongs to another, to the adventure or chance of which the person so named is to stand, with a covenant from the merchant to account to him for the produce. Gross adventure. In maritime law, a loan on bottomry. So named because the lender, in case of a loss, or expense incurred for the common safety, must contribute to the gross or general average. Joint adventure. A commercial or maritime enterprise undertaken by several persons jointly; a limited partnership. - not limited in the statutory sense as to the liability of the partners, but as to its scope and duration. A special partnership. An association of two or more persons to carry out a single business enterprise for profit, for which purpose they combine their property, money, effects, skill, and knowledge. A special combination of two or more persons, where, in some specific adventure, a profit is jointly sought, without any actual partnership or corporate designation. It is ordinarily, but not necessarily, limited to a single transaction, which serves to distinguish it from a partnership. But the business of conducting it to a successful termination may continue for a number of years. There is no real distinction between a “joint adventure” and what is termed a “partnership for a single transaction.” A “joint adventure,” while not identical with a partnership, is so similar in its nature and in the relations created thereby that the rights of the parties as between themselves are governed practically by the same rules that govern partnerships. Marine Insurance. A very usual word in policies of marine insurance, and everywhere used as synonymous, or nearly so, with “perils.” It is often used by the writers to describe the enterprise or voyage as a “marine adventure” insured against. Mercantile Law. Sending goods abroad under charge of a supercargo or other agent, at the risk of the sender, to be disposed of to the best advantage for the benefit of the owners. The goods themselves so sent. (Black4)

Attaching the terminating suffix (-ship) upon any word creates a fictional state of being in that thing, setting the undertaker of that simulated ship on a commercial adventure upon the sea of commerce. Citizen-ship is the state of being in the public office and adventure of a US citizen. One simply does not and cannot claim at some time to be and at other times not to be in a state of citizen-ship. It is a false permanence of contractual being, and one that cannot be denied once obtained and once appearance is made in that identity of persona. As the existence of man in fiction, the ship (status/state of being) is always assumed to be sailing (in legal existence and subsistence). The legal law, therefore, is also always assumed and presumed to apply to all men acting in citizen-ships, all of the time.

To act in person is to under-take an ad-venture upon the commercial sea within the ship (person) of another (of the nation/country). The only purpose for this undertaking upon (ad) a citizen-ship (venture) is literally to play the life-long game of Monopoly - to land occasionally on Chance, to make (create), collect (borrow), and spend (use commercially) money from thin air (loan/usury) in a state of manifest usury by our signature, and for financial business and real estate purposes (the game of monopolies, building houses and hotels in rent upon the titled land of another under usufruct). Ad-venture is a word used almost exclusively in in-SUR-ance policies, to insure the SURname (as government property) against risk of loss in voyage, theft, hazard, peril, danger, chance, wager, etc., while operating that commercial vessel of the United States. Government takes no chances with its own property (persons) any more than a rental car company might, requiring insurance to be procured on all of its registered property, including what we are led to believe is our own home, car, and other tenements. We insure (ensure) that which is under the surname, for all that is registered as property under that admixture of the christian and sur names belongs only to that last (higher in status) name, not the man that merely uses it under fee and rent in tenancy.

In this regard, we are the usurious bearers or carriers (registered agents) of the commercial paper (matrix) we call as fictional persons. Though our ship is bound for hell, we will not abandon its hand that feeds us, like rats being led into a delectably cheesy trap. Consequently, we are possessed and held in a debt obligation called public personhood, like summoned demons being controlled by magical word-spells. We allow the demon (person) to voluntarily enter our God-given vessel, and we manifest its evil in commercial artifice while transacting the business called civil life. We legally carry it wherever we go and we use (employ) its legal name (noun) in whatever we do. It’s like a thin, thorny, disease-ridden blanket, offering only the illusionary warmth of legal protection.

APOLOGIST - noun - [See Apology.] One who makes an apology; one who speaks or writes in defense of another. (Webster1828)
APOLOGY - noun - [Gr. DISCOURSE] AN EXCUSE; something said or written in defense or extenuation of what appears to others wrong, or unjustifiable; or of what may be liable to disapprobation. It may be an extenuation of what is not perfectly justifiable, or a vindication of what is or may be disapproved, but which the apologist deems to be right. A man makes an apology for not fulfilling an engagement, OR FOR PUBLISHING A PAMPHLET. An apology then is a reason or reasons assigned for what is wrong or may appear to be wrong, and it may be either AN EXTENUATION OR A JUSTIFICATION of something that is or may be censured, by those who are not acquainted with the reasons. (Webs1828)

DISCOURSE - (See index; defined in Chapter 1) (Webs1828)

DIS - a prefix or inseparable preposition, from the Latin, whence Fr. Des, Sp. dis and de may in some instances be the same word contracted. Dis denotes SEPARATION, A PARTING FROM; hence it has the force of A PRIVATIVE AND NEGATIVE, as in disarm, disoblige, disagree. In some cases, it still signifies separation, as in distribute, disconnect. (Webs1828)

It is applied to water or other liquids, to air or wind, and to light, in the sense of motion or passing. Applied to solid bodies, it signifies motion or passing; as the course of a rolling stone; the course of a carriage: the course of the earth in its orbit. Applied to navigation, it signifies a passing or motion ON WATER, or in balloons in air; A VOYAGE. 2. A passing or process; the progress of any thing; as the course of an argument, or of a debate; a course of thought or reflection. 5. Regularity; order; regular succession; as, the classes follow in course. 18. EMPTY FORM; as, compliments are often WORDS OF COURSE. Of course by consequence; in regular or natural order; in the common manner of proceeding; without special direction or provision. This effect will follow of course. If the defendant resides not in the state, the cause is continued of course. (Webs1828)

DUE COURSE OF LAW - This phrase is synonymous with "due process of law," or "the law of the land," and the general definition thereof is "LAW IN ITS REGULAR COURSE OF ADMINISTRATION THROUGH COURTS OF JUSTICE" and, while not always necessarily confined to judicial proceedings, yet these words have such a signification, when used to designate the kind of an eviction, or ouster, from real estate by which a party is dispossessed, as to preclude thereunder proof of a constructive eviction resulting from the purchase of a PARAMOUNT TITLE when hostilely asserted by the party holding it. (Black4)

OF RIGHT - As a matter OF COURSE. (Black4)

OF COURSE - As a matter of RIGHT. Any action or step taken in the course of judicial proceedings which will be allowed by the court upon mere application, without any inquiry or contest, or which may be effectually taken without even applying to the court for leave. (Black4)

OF GRACE - This phrase had its origin in an age when kings dispensed their royal favors at the hands of chancellors, but has no rightful place in American jurisprudence. A term applied to ANY PERMISSION OR LICENSE granted to a party in the course of a judicial proceeding which is not claimable as a matter of course or of right, but is ALLOWED BY THE FAVOR OR INDULGENCE OF THE COURT. (Black4)

OF THE BLOOD - A technical legal phrase meaning TO BE DESCENDED FROM THE PERSON referred to OR FROM THE SAME COMMON STOCK AND FROM A COMMON ANCESTOR. (Black4)

OF - A term denoting THAT FROM WHICH ANYTHING PROCEEDS; indicating ORIGIN, SOURCE, DESCENT, and the like; as, he is of a race of kings; he is of noble blood. Associated with or connected with, usually in some causal RELATION, efficient, material, formal, or final. The word has been held equivalent to after, at, or BELONGING TO, IN POSSESSION OF, MANUFACTURED BY, by, RESIDING AT, FROM, (and) IN. (Black4)

When we hear the word of, as in citizen OF the United States, it describes our origin, as those born of (in) the nation (as goyim) and belonging to it via legal status. And so the word independence, since it is granted by the United States, really means of dependence — a state of being that is dependent on the master. It is only formal independence, not actual, substantive Reality. Denizen-ship… A rat in a cage has political independence too within its master’s borders!

Likewise, when a judge or other attorney or officer of the court and state uses the term “of course,” we cannot consider this in our vulgar tongue. For the authoritarian figure is claiming a thing of right, and that the thing done of course was done in the course (road) of de jure (legitimate) purpose in Law, while the whole time acting in the undertaking of commercial citizenship or under legal title and license to commit crime with permission of the state.

Is the law of the United States supreme? OF COURSE it is, but only to its voluntarist slaves (subjects) in servitude… God’s (Nature’s) Law, however, is always Highest. Man must abandon God and under-take a public office in ad-venture for legal law to become artificially supreme; a dis-course away from God dependent solely upon the words that govern our ad-venture. The law is only supreme over those that claim to be of (belonging to) the creator of that law.

As public citizens, our legal course is set for us as regulatory restrictions and political liberties upon persons. These are prescribed, predefined, constituted, franchised, enforced, instilled, professed, propagandized, patronized, and personified into our very legal existence. Our beliefs bend to the will of government’s person and in its usage within its legal matrix of word-magic, and those that don’t bend get bent into shape by force and imprisonment or through other means and exactions (extortions). Government is in the business of dis-course, of taking each man away from his Natural ways and means; as a purposeful, legal separation away from his God-granted gift, course (negative Right), and the ability to assert his Highest duty to his fellow man under that Natural Law.
We may only carry the laden (burden) of the state when we act the part of its citizen-ships in commerce. These legal codes and terms of art are like the cargo that a ship bears or carries upon the water. And it is our proudness of the artifice of those collected and carried paper possessions of low title in usufruct that blinds us to the Truth… that there is no “title,” no “spoon,” no “name,” and no actual “property.” Ships may carry, but their voyage and possession is only ever a temporary adventure and undertaking of their principal master.

"Though the LORD be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off."

—Psalms 138: 6, KJB

Those who carry titles upon their false surnames of the state are the proud, the arrogant; as those who have knowledge of fiction of the tree of knowledge (artificial concepts) but none of the Reality of Life under God and Nature. The lowly are those who are humbled by God’s Nature, the ignoble, who have humility and take upon them no station, condition, title, nor the wealth that those artifices cause of course. The lower in rank the higher in esteem under God; the less in artifice the more in God’s Nature.

But even the rank of citizenship is a title of the lowest nobility. For when one is subject to a king, to a sovereignty other than Jehovah and Its Supreme Laws, one is not ignoble.

Even the act of carrying the foundling cargo that is our own personified children is presumed by law to be an avocation, for the cargo (child) is registered state property under the dis-course of that certified birth and abandonment process. Ad-venturers need permission and license for such under-takings to both act in and transport commercial cargo (children) in state agency (DMV) registered vehicles operated by the vessels (public persons) known as citizen-ships. And the Department of Motor Vehicles requires residential commercial adventurers (drivers) to have auto insurance on government’s person and registered property, and of course vehicle registration for purposes of identification and commercial licensing (permission to drive in a continuous, purely commercial capacity under the family car and other “doctrines” as a US public, resident foreigner).

For the vehicle belongs only to the legal person, and the legal person belongs only to the state. The man only bears that status, he does not hold it as private property, for it is a public persona. And so the state requires usury and insurance on anyone using its proprietary surname and numbers (marks) to cover the risk upon its registered property while being operated under the “freedom” of that commercial name (franchise).

CARGO - In mercantile law. THE LOAD OR LADING OF A VESSEL: goods and merchandise put on board a ship to be CARRIED to a certain port. The LADING or freight of a SHIP: the goods, merchandise, or WHATEVER is conveyed in a ship or other merchant vessel. A cargo is the loading of a ship or other vessel, the bulk of which is to be ascertained from the CAPACITY of the ship or vessel. The word embraces all that the vessel is CAPABLE of CARRYING. The term may be applied in such a sense as to include PASSENGERS, as well as freight, but in a technical sense it designates goods only. (Black2)

GOODS AND CHATTELS - This term is applied to ALL PERSONAL PROPERTY that is not real estate. (Black2)

CHATTEL - An ARTICLE of personal property: any species of property NOT AMOUNTING TO A FREEHOLD OR FEE IN LAND. The name given to things which in law are deemed personal property. Chattels are divided into chattels real and chattels.

personal[; chattels real being INTERESTS IN LAND which devolve after the manner of PERSONAL estate, as leaseholds. AS OPPOSED TO FREEHOLDS, THEY ARE REGARDED AS PERSONAL ESTATE. But, as being interests in real estate, they are called “chattels real.” TO DISTINGUISH THEM FROM MOVABLES. (Black2)

PERSONAL PROPERTY - The BELEONINGS OF AN INDIVIDUAL, excluding any real estate property or other buildings. Generally includes tangible and intangible ASSETS OF AN INDIVIDUAL. (Black2)

INDIVIDUAL - As a noun, this term denotes a SINGLE PERSON as distinguished from a group or class, and also, very commonly, a PRIVATE OR NATURAL PERSON as distinguished from a partnership, corporation, or association; but it is said that this restrictive signification is not necessarily inherent in the word, and that it may, in proper cases, include artificial persons. As an adjective, “individual” means PERTAINING OR BELONGING TO, OR CHARACTERISTIC OF, ONE SINGLE PERSON, either in opposition to a firm, association, or corporation, OR CONSIDERED IN HIS RELATION THERETO. (Black2)

NATURAL PERSON - A HUMAN BEING, NATURALLY BORN, versus a LEGALLY GENERATED juridical person. (Black2)

JURIDICAL PERSON - Entity, as a firm, that is NOT a single natural person, as a human being, authorized by law with duties and rights, recognized as a legal authority having a distinct identity. A LEGAL PERSONALITY. Also known as ARTIFICIAL PERSON, juridical entity, juristic person, or legal person. Also refer to BODY CORPORATE. (Black2)

ARTIFICIAL PERSON - A NONHUMAN ENTITY that is CREATED BY LAW and is legally different owning its own rights and duties. AKA juristic person and legal person. Refer to body corporate. (Black2)

We must know that all requirements of the legal sphere are proprietary, meaning they are only attached to the object of the right. A persona may be attached to just about anything we can imagine, as long as at some point there is a mask of id-entity attached to what is Real so that it may

“One is only required to insure and stand in surety to what is not one’s own. Home, car, natural and artificial person (franchise)... Remember, a human being is not a man, and neither is a legally created natural person. A human is not a Creation of God, and is not of Nature. Human is animal, as that which is considered without soul, without blood. That which is hu-man is what is of (belongs to) man.

And so here is a trick question, after all we have learned so far. Does two or more “persons” equal a “people?”

No, absolutely not! Men are people, persons are property. Persons cannot exist without first there being a man to agenterically puppet-mastor it upon its legal ad-venture. “The People” create persons as and through their own corporations. “The People” (constituted States) will always be the god (creators and controllers) of persons.

you cannot quit claiming and volunteering to be something you are not?

Do you really believe and use the lame excuse that government citizen-ship is really any different? Do you think that anytime by ending the contract if you don’t like it, its rules, or its rulers? Do you think that the ship carrying the lading (load) of all the rules and obligations of the member? Is not the (rules) of its member-ships for which you use the numbered identification of to acquire benefits? Is in use of. When you join a club do you not follow the rules of the club, which prescribes the law or moral right, only what the law presumes and proscribes upon the person you are remembering, when acting in the person (self) of another, at no time does it matter what you believe should be law or moral right, only what the law presumes and prescribes upon the person you are in use of. When you join a club do you not follow the rules of the club, which prescribes the law (rules) of its member-ships for which you use the numbered identification of to acquire benefits? Is not the ship carrying the lading (load) of all the rules and obligations of the member? Is not the member-ship in contract what is used to force the man to act under the rules of the ship? Do you not sail upon their ship (title and number) while acting as merely a digital member of their member-ship in contract what is used to force the man to act under the rules of the ship? Do you not the ship carrying the lading (load) of all the rules and obligations of the member? Is not the member-ship in contract what is used to force the man to act under the rules of the ship? Do you not sail upon their ship (title and number) while acting as merely a digital member of their commercial enterprise? Are you not bound then to their club rules? Are you not merely an “individual” member (person), considered wholly as one body politic of members in member-ship? And do their laws, rules, customs, and beliefs not trump your own opinions under contract within that club’s jurisdiction?

The only other questions you should consider, are these: Can you not quit that member-ship anytime by ending the contract if you don’t like it, its rules, or its rulers? Do you think that government citizen-ship is really any different? Do you really believe and use the lame excuse that you cannot quit claiming and volunteering to be something you are not?

MEMBER - noun - [Latin membrum... 2. A part of a DISCOURSE, or of a period or SENTENCE; a clause; a part of a VERSE. Harmony in poetry is produced by a proportion between the members of the same verse, or between the members of different verses. 3. In architecture, a subordinate part of a building, as a frieze or cornice; sometimes a molding. 4. AN INDIVIDUAL OF A COMMUNITY OR SOCIETY. EVERY CITIZEN IS A MEMBER OF THE STATE OR BODY POLITIC. So the INDIVIDUALS of a club, a CORPORATION or CONFEDERACY, are called its MEMBERS. Students of an academy or college are its members. Professed christians are called MEMBERS OF THE CHURCH. 5. THE APPETITES AND PASSIONS, CONSIDERED AS TEMPTING TO SIN. Romans 7:5. Colossians 3:5. (Webs1828)

CLAUSE - noun - s as z. Literally, a close, or INCLOSURE. Hence, that which is INCLUDED, OR CONTAINED, WITHIN CERTAIN LIMITS. 1. In language or grammar, a member of a period or sentence; a subdivision of a sentence, in which the words are inseparably connected with each other in sense, and cannot, with propriety, be separated by a point; as, there is reason to think that he afterwards rose to favor, and obtained several honors civil and military. In this sentence are two clauses. 2. An ARTICLE in a CONTRACT or other WRITING; a distinct part of a contract, will, agreement, CHARTER, commission, or other writing; a distinct stipulation, condition, proviso, GRANT, COVENANT, etc. (Webs1828)

INCLUDED - participle passive - Contained; COMPREHENDED. (Webs1828)
INCLUDE - verb intransitive - [Latin includo; in and cludo, TO SHUT UP] 1. TO CONFINE WITHIN; TO HOLD; TO CONTAIN; as, the shell of a nut includes the kernel; a pearl is included in a shell. [But in these senses we more commonly use INCLOSE.] 2. To comprise; to comprehend; to contain. The history of England necessarily includes a portion of that of France. The word DUTY includes WHAT WE OWE TO GOD, TO OUR FELLOW MEN, AND TO OURSELVES; IT INCLUDES ALSO A TAX PAYABLE TO THE GOVERNMENT. (Webst1828)

CLOSE - noun - A PORTION OF LAND, as a field, inclosed, as by a hedge, fence, or other visible inclosure. The interest of a PERSON in any particular piece of ground, whether actually inclosed or not. The noun "close," in its legal sense, imports a portion of land inclosed, AND NOT NECESSARILY INCLOSED BY ACTUAL OR VISIBLE BARRIERS. THE INVISIBLE, IDEAL BOUNDARY, FOUNDED ON LIMIT OF TITLE, WHICH SURROUNDS EVERY MAN'S LAND, CONSTITUTES IT HIS CLOSE, irrespective of walls, fences, ditches, or the like. In practice, the word means termination, winding up. Thus the close of the pleadings is where the pleadings are finished, i.e., when ISSUE has been JOINED. - adjective - In practice. Closed or SEALED UP. A term applied to WRITS AND LETTERS, as distinguished from those that are open or PATENT. (Black2)

CLOSE AND OPEN - A "close" corporation is one in which the directors and officers have the power to fill vacancies in their own number, without allowing to the general body of stockholders any choice or vote in their election. An "open" corporation is one in which all the members or corporators have a vote in the election of the directors and other officers. (Black2)

OPEN CONTRACT - This is a contract the terms of which DO NOT DESCRIBE THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE TWO PARTIES INVOLVED, with clauses or provisions that can be MODIFIED WITHOUT MUTUAL CONSENT (usually by the vendor). (Black2)

CORPORATOR - A MEMBER of a corporation aggregate. (Black2)

AGGREGATE - Composed of SEVERAL; consisting of MANY PERSONS UNITED TOGETHER. (Black2)

CORPORATION - AN ARTIFICIAL PERSON OR LEGAL ENTITY CREATED BY OR UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE LAWS OF A STATE OR NATION, composed, in some rare instances, OF A SINGLE PERSON AND HIS SUCCESSORS, being the incumbents of a particular office, but ordinarily consisting of AN ASSOCIATION OF NUMEROUS INDIVIDUALS, WHO SUBSIST AS A BODY POLITIC under a special DENOMINATION, which is regarded IN LAW as having a PERSONALITY and EXISTENCE DISTINCT FROM THAT OF ITS SEVERAL MEMBERS, and which is, by the same authority, VESTED WITH THE CAPACITY OF CONTINUOUS SUCCESSION, irrespective of changes in its membership, either in perpetuity or for a limited term of years, and of ACTING AS A UNIT OR SINGLE INDIVIDUAL IN MATTERS RELATING TO THE COMMON PURPOSE OF THE ASSOCIATION, within the scope of the powers and authorities conferred upon such bodies by law. (Black2)

AGGREGATE LIABILITY - The total amount that is covered by a LIABILITY INSURANCE POLICY. It may cover a set amount for a claim and an aggregate amount for several claims of similar nature. See insurance; liability. (Black2)

There is no state of innocence (Nature) when one is a member of what can only be called evil (artificial). When one has pledged oneself in surety to the adversary of God and Nature in legal fiction, one cannot hope to be anything but admonished thereof, abandoned of God’s unalienable protection by one’s own accord in contract. Membership (citizenship) in any aggregate corporation (government) of any state or church (aggregate, corporate religion) is an act against God.

While acting in mammon (commerce and usury) as an individual person of the whole aggregate body politic of the United States, your sole opinion and will means precisely nothing. Jehovah is made unobtainable. Just as a man apparently cannot control his own actions while possessed by a demon or parasite (mind control), neither can a man decide or alter the laws governing a person (name) that belongs to government (mind control) as a commercial instrument. A person’s course is set by the very nature and purpose of legal existence, which is to profit its master as a vessel in commerce and tribute. We must only perform in person by the law of the person under sanctions of the strict law. The law of persons is not prescribed by God and lays not in a pure negative duty. The legal version of duty is literally to pay a tax for the ability to live and act artificially in the permanent sin (sin) of artifice. These are the “benefits” of legal, contractual obligation granted within the voluntary servitude of a performance membership. This word duty is the perfect example of how the legal version of a Natural Law word and concept is twisted into an utterly unrecognizable functionality, generally into the formal servicing of the mammon state. Duty as a positive contractual performance article is a required sin-tax in the legal realm, whereas a negative Duty is a promise to God to do no harm or such extortion to others in Nature as the Highest Law. In the legal realm, in other words, duties are a contracted sin charged for use of that which is evil (opposed to Nature). We must pay to play in the devil’s (attorney’s) playground.

Everything we purchase (conquer the Nature of) in legal person and within that system of money (mammon), within the presumed purview of consumer protections and insurance attached to government’s legal tender and credit, is in a state of receivership. Thus, everything purchased (conquered) comes with a certificate of receipt of lading, and everything sold requires a bill of lading, including our children.

LITERAE RECOGNITIONIS - In maritime law. A bill of lading (Black4)

LADING - 1. Transporting vessel receiving its cargo. 2. Transportation vessel's loaded cargo for transport. The cargo's carrier issues a receipt known as a bill of lading. (Black2)

BILL OF LADING - In common law. The written evidence of a contract for the CARRIAGE and DELIVERY of goods sent BY SEA for a certain freight. A written memorandum, given by the person in command of a merchant vessel, acknowledging the receipt on board the ship of certain specified goods, in good order or “apparent good order,” which he UNDERTAKES, in consideration of the payment of freight, TO DELIVER in like good order (dangers of the sea excepted) at a designated place to the consignee therein named or to his assigns. The term is often applied to a similar receipt and UNDERTAKING given by a carrier of goods BY LAND. A bill of lading is AN INSTRUMENT IN WRITING, SIGNED BY A CARRIER OR HIS AGENT, DESCRIBING THE FREIGHT SO AS TO IDENTIFY IT, stating the NAME of the consignor, the terms of the CONTRACT for carriage, and AGREEING OR DIRECTING THAT THE FREIGHT BE DELIVERED to the order or assigns of a specified person at a specified place. It is receipt for goods, contract for their carriage, and is DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE OF TITLE TO GOODS. A clean bill of lading is one which contains nothing in the margin qualifying the words in the bill of lading itself. An order bill of lading is one in which it is stated that goods are consigned to order of any person named therein. A straight bill of lading is one in which it is stated that goods are consigned to a specified person. A through bill of lading is one by which a railroad contracts to transport over its own line for a certain distance carloads of merchandise or stock, there to deliver the same to its connecting lines to be transported to the place of destination at a fixed rate per carload for the whole distance. (Black4)

SHORT FORM BILL OF LADING (B/L) - A bill of lading that has no conditions or terms of carriage that are printed on the reverse. (Black2)
LONG FORM BILL OF LADING (B/L) - B/L with the terms and conditions of carriage printed on its back. Either the older Hague rules or the more recent Hague-Visby rules govern these terms. Conditions of carriage are defined as the RIGHTS, RESPONSIBILITIES AND LIABILITIES OF THE CARRIER AND THE SHIPPER. Also refer to short form bill of lading. (Black2)

Need the author remind the reader that, while we may receive a short form certified copy of our birth certificate (bill of lading) as the receipt and proof of origin, that this original birth certification matrix is in long form?

CARRIER - One who UNDERTAKES TO TRANSPORT PERSONS OR PROPERTY FROM PLACE TO PLACE, BY ANY MEANS OF CONVEYANCE, and with or without compensation. (Black2)

SHIPPER - 1. The owner of goods WHO INTRUSTS THEM ON BOARD A VESSEL FOR DELIVERY abroad, by charter-party or otherwise. 2. Also, a Dutch word, signifying THE MASTER OF A SHIP. It is mentioned in some of the statutes; is now generally called “skipper.” (Black2)

SKIPPER - noun - 1. The master of a small trading vessel. 2. (From skip) A DANCER. 3. A youngling; A YOUNG THOUGHTLESS PERSON. 4. The hornfish, so called. 5. The cheese maggot. (Webs1828)

SKIP-KENNEL - noun - A LACKY; A FOOTBOY. (Webs1828)

DANCER - noun - One who practices dancing, or is skillful in the performance. (Webs1828)

DANCING - participle present tense - Leaping and stepping to the sound of the voice or of an instrument; moving in measured steps; frisking about. (Webs1828)

DANCE - verb intransitive - 1. Primarily, to leap or spring; hence, to leap or move with measured steps, regulated by a tune, sung or played on a musical instrument; to leap or step with graceful motions of the body, corresponding with the sound of the voice or an instrument. There is a time to mourn, and a time to dance. Ecclesiastes 3:4. 2. To leap and frisk about; to move nimbly or up and down. To dance attendance, to wait with obsequiousness: TO STRIVE TO PLEASE AND GAIN FAVOR BY ASSIDUOUS ATTENTIONS AND OFFICIAL CIVILITIES; AS, TO DANCE ATTENDANCE AT COURT. - verb transitive - To make to dance; to move up and down, or back and forth; to dandle; as, to dance a child on the knee. - noun - 1. In general sense, a leaping and frisking about. Appropriately, a leaping or stepping with motions of the body adjusted to the measure of a tune, particularly by two or more in concert. A lively brisk exercise or amusement, IN WHICH THE MOVEMENTS OF THE PERSONS ARE REGULATED BY ART, IN FIGURE, and by the sound of instruments, in measure. (Webs1828)

Ever seen a puppet show?

You think that’s really the puppet dancing?

We dance on the strings of a coded legal tune of written instruments, with predetermined steps regulated by the legal art of the legal terms that make up the legal law of legal persons. It would of course be “vulgar” to insist upon the literal definition for dancing as the only one in existence. And that’s exactly why they call us the vulgar, common mass of illiterates, as those who speak only in low dog-Latin even as we dance on the word-strings of our puppet-masters.
At no time in the fictional commercial world is anything considered by its substance as and under God’s Nature, but only as the informal name, title, mark, and number attached thereupon in commercial consideration. This includes children, adults, groceries, dogs, cattle, and anything else one undertakes as a purchaser or carrier of in lading, through the person-hood of citizen-ship. All actions by public persons all of the time are considered as commercial ones, even when one’s personal, inner intent is of a Duty to God. Remember that the allowed “freedom of religion” does not include acting morally according to one’s belief; only the freedom to think, not to act. Membership is in-deed amoral. It is permission to act according to a set of legalities that do not consider or actively regulate morality. It is action without consciousness.

AMORAL - Lacking a moral sense: unconcerned with the rightness or wrongness of something; an amoral attitude to sex. (Oxford University Press, 2015)

IMMORAL - Not conforming to accepted standards of morality: unseemly and immoral behaviour.* (Oxford University Press, 2015)

When morals are outlawed, the new and overbearing legalistic law becomes a falsely declared morality. The laws of hell, for instance, are merely the moral laws of satan. The creator controls.

Again, citizenship (membership) is not so much immoral as it is amoral, and yet it is both of these in combination (confederacy). For it places one into a state of purposeful and voluntary ignorance of the moral laws and duties one has to God, to man, and to all of Nature, and is enforced at the barrel of a gun. It causes man’s actions to be of a source that is not morally “grounded” and not concerned with a moral code of conduct. And this is why it is considered as evil (as amoral), not so much as a religious term but as an established lack of consideration for moral codes in Life and in Nature Itself. Amorality leads to immorality as its side effect, for immorality is part of the law of temptation as control. Both religion and government are guilty of creating false doctrines and indulgences regarding the moral law, for one is incorporated under (subservient to) the other, and therefore both are required (as a legal requirement and protective duty of contract) to support one another. Yet the Bible offers no such exception so its Law any more than it suffers religion’s apologists. The moral law (of God) is defeated by those who believe in the legal law (of the devil), and vice versa. The puppet cannot choose its own course, always going where its agent strings it along.

The only difference between a puppet show and a day in the legal life of a commercial citizen-ship is that in that later, mentally, the fictional person (puppet) and its laws certainly seem to control the actions of the Living man. One might think this to be the “natural” course of technology (art), where eventually the artificial intelligence (AI) controls the Reality of Nature and its Creatures. Of course, that’s exactly what a technocrat would want the common citizenry to believe… that evolution would change Nature into artifice as a Natural process; as part of God’s Master Plan. But the only master plan you will find in the fiction is located in every municipal corporation planning office. It is used for the unlawful but legalized eminent domain of property, so as to fulfill the plans of evil men and their legal, New Age, dystopian designs. For the land must be stolen and re-purposed so that these evils may feed their own will and conceit.

As for earthly (worldly) possessions, what a legal person conquers (purchases) a legal person may temporarily retain, but the legal person is not property of the man who wields (uses) it. All property of any legal person may be confiscated at any time. What man acquires while acting in persona belongs to the creator of the person, not the mere user of that member-ship. Things registered (including de-livered infants) in personhood belong to the creator of the person.

This notion of eminent domain is the justification of unlawful confiscation. We cannot understand why this is legal until we break down this word confiscation into its component parts.
CONFISCATE - verb transitive - [Latin, a basket, hamper or bag; hence, REVENUE OR THE EMPERORS TREASURE] TO ADJUDGE TO BE FORFEITED TO THE PUBLIC TREASURY as the goods or estate of a traitor OR OTHER CRIMINAL, by way of penalty: OR TO CONDEMN PRIVATE FORFEITED PROPERTY TO PUBLIC USE. The estate of the rebels was seized and confiscated. - adjective - Forfeited and adjudged to the public treasury, AS THE GOODS OF A CRIMINAL. (Webs1828)

CON - (repeated) - …1. TO KNOW. 2. TO MAKE ONESELF MASTER OF; TO FIX IN THE MIND or commit to memory… (Webs1828)

FISC - noun - [Latin fiscus. Fiscus, signifies a basket or hamper, probably from the twigs which composed the first baskets. Eng. whisk. The word coincides in elements with basket, and Latin fascia, twigs being the primitive bands.] THE TREASURY OF A PRINCE OR STATE; HENCE TO CONFISCATE TO TAKE THE GOOD OF A CRIMINAL AND APPROPRIATE THEN TO THE PUBLIC TREASURE. (Webs1828)

ATE - (repeated) - The preterite of eat, which see. - noun - a’ty. [Gr. mischief; to hurt. Ate is A PERSONIFICATION OF EVIL, MISCHIEF OR MALICE. IN PAGAN MYTHOLOGY, THE GODDESS OF MISCHIEF, who was cast down from heaven by Jupiter. (Webs1828)

So what can be said about this practice of confiscation? Perhaps we should start with the fact that what is condemned becomes public. And that which is condemned is confiscated for public use. Yet only criminals have things legally confiscated from them.

So let’s do the math here… A public citizenship is subject to confiscation, is confiscated at birth, and is considered as a felon and a subject. The public is subject to eminent domain (confiscation) without limitation, accept the pretended remedy of “just compensation,” which really only applies to the private People but is allowed to the public citizenry to keep up constitutional appearances. For it is the administrative judge that determines what such just compensation is, and very seldom is it actually just.

The master (con) of the treasury (fisc) eats (ate) my land and my house!

In Truth, the subject never owned it in the first place, holding merely an imperfect paper title in legally permissive tenancy (modern feudalism). One cannot lose what one never actually held, and a fictional persona can only hold fictional things. Even the lands of the native “Americanized” Indians was conquered (purchased) simply because they were made to believe (love) that Real Land is equal to some magical legal names and words on paper (title).

For confiscation to take place without choice, one must necessarily be a prisoner (in person) of the open-air debtor’s prison. No man can rationally consider eminent domain to be in any way as True Freedom. But it certainly can be and definitely is a part of the commercial franchise of voluntary servitude called US citizenship.

In other words, mammon figuratively destroys Nature and its Law, allowing government to be man’s father and king. All property is rented from the private People (god) in their sovereign capacity as landholders, and they can take back their own land whenever they choose through such legal tools. The tenant must vacate as ordered, and the “government” pays the “just compensation” out of the condemnation investment funds they set up from taxpayer monies. It’s a perfect crime, legal in every way, yet utterly and completely corrupt. The property is placed into the public treasury as conquered (purchased) treasure, and through the escheat laws we are about to discuss it is granted back to its non-rightful, usurping bloodline holder in posterity, for no rightful prodigal son returns to reclaim the original line of the lawful blood inheritance.
Personhood destroys individual “religious” and moral belief and demands conformity to the amoral civil rules governing persons. It is voluntary slavery in every way, just as True christianity is the opposite forced, as a voluntary slavery to God and the Natural Law. One master, one Law. A legal person is always morally corrupt as it is birthed from and in a state of false immorality, for a person is artificial and has not the capacity to act in any way for itself. It is not so much the corruption as the absence of moral capacity, for the legal law is opposed to moral thought that leads to the moral actions of the True Self. The man controlling it cannot act morally under its controlling legal (amoral) law. The man cannot operate a person in any other way than as authorized and as permitted (licensed) by government. His own moral compunction takes a back seat to the legal law of persons, while Mother Nature weeps in want and commiseration of her lost children.

A citizen-ship is literally a contractual relationship for carrying on a permanent state of business in commerce, as if 24/7 one is an employee (agent) and servant of government. As a more refined description, citizenship is that permissive state of fictional being by which government grants to a man certain privileges of membership, specifically the use of government property and money under that protected legal status. It is permission by satan (the legal adversaries and barrators) to ignore God and the Laws of Nature even at the expense of our very own Lives and that of others. And because we use what does not belong to us, government claims the right to charge upon that use a requirement of usury in the form of fees, fines, penalties, taxes, and other exortions and exactions of every kind.

The renter is created, exists, and subsists only to fulfill the principal’s contract and will. The user always pays for the legally permissive, contractive crime of his use of what is not his own.

As long as we are carriers in person, we will be employed (used) to promote, create, and collect usury charges. For it is our very legal existence (name) and signature that is the creator of mammon (valuation in money). This is no different from renting a car and paying the price charged for it and for the taxes attached to that price (government’s cut), while being required to have insurance upon the name of the “driver” of that commercial-use vehicle. The person, not the man, is the driver. One simply cannot publicly rent a car without a full name and identification as surety! And one may only rent that car according to the owner’s conditions and governing laws, and certainly not his own. A person is just a vessel rented by a man from government in agency, and he pays for this sin (synthetic life) with pain, punishment, taxation, licensing and permit fees, fines, duties, immoral obligations and all other symptoms of the commercial, contractual disease called usury.

It’s quite simple really. To Live Purely under God’s Law in Nature is to be in a state of ease. To live under the legal law is to be in a state of dis-ease. Quiet vs. disquiet. And to use another’s property or person is to be in a state of ease-ment.

DIS - …denotes separation, a parting from…. (Webb1828)

EASE - noun - s as z. [Latin otium.] 1. Rest; an undisturbed state. Applied to the body, freedom from pain, disturbance, excitement or annoyance. He sits at his ease. He takes his ease. 2. Applied to the mind, a quiet state; tranquillity; freedom from pain, concern, anxiety, solicitude, or any thing that frets or ruffles the mind. His soul shall dwell at ease. Psalms 25:13. WOE TO THEM THAT ARE AT EASE IN ZION, Amos 6:1. 3. Rest from labor. 4. Facility; freedom from difficulty or great labor. One man will perform this service with ease. This author writes with ease. 5. Freedom from stiffness, harshness, FORCED EXPRESSIONS, OR UNNATURAL ARRANGEMENT; as the ease of style. 6. FREEDOM FROM CONSTRAINT OR FORMALITY; UNAFFECTEDNESS; as ease of behavior. At ease IN AN UNDISTURBED STATE; free from pain or anxiety. - verb transitive - To free from pain or any disquiet or annoyance, as the body; to relieve; to give rest to; as, the medicine has eased the patient. 1. To free from anxiety, CARE or disturbance, as the mind; as, the late news has eased my mind. 2. TO REMOVE A BURDEN FROM, either of body or mind; to relieve; with of. Ease me of this load; ease them of their burdens. 3. To mitigate; to alleviate; to assuage; TO ABATE OR REMOVE IN PART ANY BURDEN, PAIN, GRIEF, ANXIETY OR DISTURBANCE. Ease thou somewhat the grievous servitude of thy father. 2 Chronicles 10:4. 4. To quiet; to allay; TO DESTROY, as, to ease pain. To ease off or ease away, in seamen's language, is to slacken a rope gradually. To ease a ship, is to put the helm hard alee, to prevent her pitching, when close hauled. (Webs1828)

QUIET - adjective - UNMOLESTED: tranquil, FREE FROM INTERFERENCE or disturbance. (Webs1828)

DISQUIET - adjective - [dis and quiet.] UNQUIET; RESTLESS; UNEASY. [Seldom used.] - noun - Want of quiet; uneasiness; restlessness; WANT OF TRANQUILITY IN BODY OR MIND; disturbance; anxiety. - verb transitive - To disturb; TO DEPRIVE OF PEACE, rest or tranquility; to make uneasy or restless; to harass the body; to fret or VEX THE MIND. That he may disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. Jeremiah 1:1. Why hast thou disquieted me. 1 Samuel 28:15. O my soul, why art thou disquieted within me? Psalms 42:5. (Webs1828)

EASEMENT - noun - Convenience; accommodation; that which gives ease, relief or assistance. He has the advantage of a free lodging, and some other easements. In law, ANY PRIVILEGE OR CONVENIENCE WHICH ONE MAN HAS OF ANOTHER, either by PRESCRIPTION or CHARTER, WITHOUT PROFIT; AS A WAY THROUGH HIS LAND, etc. (Webs1828)

EASEMENT - A right in the owner of one parcel of land, by reason of such ownership, TO USE THE LAND OF ANOTHER FOR A SPECIAL PURPOSE NOT INCONSISTENT WITH A GENERAL PROPERTY IN THE OWNER. A privilege which the owner of one adjacent tenement hath of another, existing in respect of their several tenements, by which that owner against whose tenement the privilege exists is obliged to suffer or not to do something on or in regard to his own land for the advantage of him in whose land the privilege exists. Termes de la Ley, Easements. A privilege, SERVICE, or convenience which one neighbor has of another, BY PRESCRIPTION, GRANT, OR NECESSARY IMPLICATION, AND WITHOUT PROFIT; AS A WAY OVER HIS LAND, a gate-way, WATER-COURSE, and the like. A LIBERTY, privilege, or advantage WITHOUT PROFIT, which the owner of one parcel of land may have in the lands of another. The land against which the easement or privilege exists is called the 'SERVIENT' tenement, and the estate to which it is annexed the 'DOMINANT' tenement; and their owners are called respectively the 'SERVIENT' AND 'DOMINANT' OWNER. These terms are taken from the civil law. Distinguished from "servitude," "profit à prendre," "covenant," "franchise," "restriction," (and) "prescription." (Black4)

One who claims to be a private citizen must know and respect this notion of easements. For this is the principle of negative duty, as responsible stewardship of land. Ownership is never absolute concerning the duty man owes to his fellow man, though he never must suffer use of his land for any purpose that is commercial without benefit for that use. The commercial, public citizenship enjoys only use, and so may never be in a position to partake in such negative easements, for his law is fixed and he need not think for himself. He must have public permission or legal license to commercially travel over the land of others. Everywhere the public person travels is only a commercial venture, and thus is only an act taken as a permitted (by special or general permit or license) easement of another’s held land and property. His law is only written, not unwritten; legal, not of Nature.

A good example of that which would constitute an easement, or that which would constitute a public consideration even on private land, would be the following:
PRIVATE POND - A body of water wholly on the lands of a single owner, or of a single group of joint owners or tenants in common, which did not have any such connection with any PUBLIC waters that fish could pass from one to the other. If pond was so connected with public waters that at time of high water, fish could go in and out, it was not "private pond" from which defendants could seine fish whether fish might go out same day or next season. (Black4)

Here we find that notion of private responsibility under the Natural Law. If the pond were truly private and did not in any way effect that which is adjacent or "downstream" from that pond, then no easement or publicity would be implied, and the land under the water of the pond would be considered as no different from the private land without water upon it. But when anything shares a common trait, as the flow of water in lakes, ponds, rivers, streams, etc., then the concept of easement comes into play. In this way, the private owner must consider under negative, Natural Law conditions and responsibility to Nature any actions which might effect the public use of what is first upon his private estate. His private actions must consider everyone else, public or private, for he must do no harm to his fellow man above all else. To pollute the water that might flow to another's property, or to that of the public, would be a crime not only against Nature, but against legal law. While in Nature this is inexcusable and the man is ultimately responsible for his actions, in the legal realm license is granted to corporations (persons) to pollute the water no matter what damages might be inflicted downstream. This anarchical pre-pardoning (licensing) of crimes is the nature of the legal law and its designers, that of total corruption of the Highest, moral Law. This is why the word license is a simile to the word anarchy. Licensure is legal anarchy; lawlessness in Nature by permission of the legal law that recreates Nature into its own fictional representation. And so even man cannot complain because he is only acting in fiction, not Nature, though he may receive money as damages as he dies from the cancers that will kill him. In this legal hell and warped moral corruption of the legalistic state of the common man's mind, money will likely make the man temporarily but artificially happy despite his bodily or property damages, and he may even feel he has won some twisted form of a moral battle in court, though all he received was a debt-money payoff, and the criminal he sued never actually pays in any tangible way for his actual crimes. Remember, all public crimes are monetary. If anything, money is used by that wealthy elite to purchase and shelter the moral compunction and retribution of men for any immoral acts committed against us. Money makes the commercial world go round, which conversely and necessarily makes crime rampant and unpunished except by fictional, insignificant means. The creators of money will never run out, and so they will never be unable to purchase a legal pardon for their crimes, especially those committed upon their pledged and publicly subjected slaves.

To fully grasp how we as citizen-ships are constantly in a state of easement on another's property, we must go back to our origins. We are birthed into a district (seizure) of the United States, therefore that legally created persona (legal status) is only domiciled in the United States, Washington, in that District of New Columbia. That is our only legal "land," and our status (persona) is an artificial part of that movable, legal "land." But it's not actual land, only the artificial title of it. Therefore wherever we go or set up residence (settle) within the geographical jurisdiction of the 50 independent state governments of that union (covenant), we are in a state of special (of species) easement. We are permanent, foreign neighbors, if you will, whom are always intruding on our neighbors lands and never go home. And so to travel upon the land of our neighboring states, all 50 of them, we need a legal capacity in which we may make our way over that legal, fictional "land." Thus we are granted a public easement via licensure and passport by the private owners of that land (the States as the People) through their government (agent), and we call this a citizen-ship. This publicly granted ship figuratively flies the national flag of its master, as its Arms, just as ships on the sea do today and did in days of old, signifying the origin of its birth and the purpose of its commercial journey. But a ship may only sail upon the virtual water-course of the law of the sea. This is public citizen-ship, signifying that man has no relation to any land and that his only purpose in being there is for the benefit of his master and upon its sea (sacred/cursed See). His ship never docks, for it cannot ever find (hold) actual land (God’s Creation), and so his entire journey, his ad-venture, is only one of permissive public easement upon private lands held by another in trust. We are the water people.

If there were a truthful sign posted at each boarder for each State on each highway (virtual water-way), it would say: Welcome to the land of all free, private bloodlines of the Posternity of this State (People) and to all others. Foreign, public commercial residents to travel in legal ships (federally issued persons) only.

Understanding our place in this nation, unfortunately, goes against all we’ve been taught in the “public” schools and churches. For they only teach the common language, and those teaching it are equally fooled by the trickery of word magic. Parrots. Masters of their own delusions. Tricked by their own empty use of another’s words of art. For the common language is the public language. “Educators” never tell us that our blood was corrupted. They never tell us that we are foreignners (neighbors) upon the land we live. And they never tell us that every action we take is a commercial privilege granted to us by our neighboring State through agency. They simply have no idea this is so. For they, the instructors, are merely us; the blind leading the blind. And their flattering titles of teacher, professor, and doctor do not make them knowledgeable, but only burdened and branded as well-trained animals allowed to in turn become animal trainers.

All of our political rights as US citizen-ships, all our so-called liberties, all our privileges, and all of our duties, are nothing more than easements granted to the person we are in bond and surety to, so that we may as registered agents carry on commercial activity within that State’s prison (government and district). We serve our person, and therefore we serve no other purpose than as foreign commodities in service and in usury to both our servient (subordinate) keepers in agency and our dominant (domiciliary) owners as principal.

To Live on the land with no dominant holder before you but God would be a Pure State of ease, of rest (Noah). To be a servant in owner-ship of someone else’s property causes a dis-ease. And with disease comes the symptoms of disease, that being all legal requirements and taxes upon the person as a subject in servient position upon the land of another that holds the domiciliary or perfect, non-defective title. The benefit of easements are descriptive of the general anatomy of these symptoms.

CONTINUING EASEMENT - One that is self-perpetuating, independent of human intervention, as, the flow of a stream, or one which may be enjoyed without any act on the part of the person entitled thereto, such as a spout which discharges the water when it rains, a drain by which surface water is carried off, windows which admit light and air, and the like. Also, it is sometimes termed an “apparent” easement, and defined as one depending on some artificial structure upon, or natural conformation of, the servient tenement, obvious and permanent, which constitutes the easement or is the means of enjoying it. (Black4)

This is a fancy, legal way of avoiding the name of God, stating that a continuing or Permanent state of Being upon Jehovah as an act of God (such as a Naturally flowing stream) needs no legal (false) easement attached to it. It Exists despite man’s actions or word-magic, a self-evident act of God that was not created by the designs of man.

However, once that Natural State of Being is relegated into a legal easement, the Natural Law no longer applies. The stream may be touched, polluted, and tainted by the man living in corruption of his own blood. All fictional persons in usufruct fall under the following easements:

DISCONTINUING EASEMENT - Discontinuous, non-continuous, or non-apparent easements are those the enjoyment of which can be had only by the interference of man, as, a right of way or a right to draw water. (Black4)
INTERMITTENT EASEMENT - One which is usable or used only at times, and not continuously. (Black4)

NEGATIVE EASEMENT - Those where the owner of the SERVIENT ESTATE is prohibited from doing something OTHERWISE LAWFUL upon his estate, BECAUSE IT WILL AFFECT THE DOMINANT ESTATE, (as interrupting the light and air from the latter by building on the former). As to "reciprocal negative easement," see that title, infra. (Black4)

RECIPROCITY - Mutual. The term is used in international law to denote the relation existing between two states when each of them GIVES THE SUBJECTS OF THE OTHER CERTAIN PRIVILEGES, on condition that its own subjects shall enjoy similar privileges at the hands of the latter state. (Black4)

RECIPROCAL NEGATIVE EASEMENT - If the owner of two or more lots, so situated as to bear the relation, sells one with RESTRICTIONS OF BENEFIT to the land retained, the servitude becomes mutual, and during the period of RESTRAINT, the owner of the lot or lots retained can do nothing forbidden to the owner of the lot sold; this being known as the doctrine of "reciprocal negative easement." (Black4)

RECIPROCAL NEGATIVE EASEMENT - The term given to an easement that originates from a restriction LIMITING THE USE OF A PROPERTY FOR RESIDENTIAL PURPOSES. (Black2)

RESTRAIN - To LIMIT, confine, abridge, narrow down, restrict, obstruct, impede, hinder, stay, destroy. To prohibit from action; to put compulsion upon; to restrict; to hold or press back. TO ENJOIN (in equity). (Black4)

RESTRAINING POWERS - Restrictions or limitations imposed upon the exercise of a power by the donor thereof. (Black4)

RESTRAINT - Confinement, abridgment, or LIMITATION. Prohibition of action; holding or pressing back from action. Hindrance, CONFINEMENT, or restriction OF LIBERTY. Obstruction, HINDRANCE OR DESTRUCTION OF TRADE OR COMMERCE. (Black4)

RESTRAINT OF TRADE - Contracts or combinations which tend or are designed to eliminate or stifle competition, EFFECT A MONOPOLY, ARTIFICIALLY MAINTAIN PRICES, or otherwise hamper or obstruct the COURSE of trade and commerce AS IT WOULD BE CARRIED ON IF LEFT TO THE CONTROL OF NATURAL AND ECONOMIC FORCES. With reference to contracts between individuals, a restraint of trade is said to be "general" or "special." A contract which forbids a person to employ his talents, industry, or capital IN ANY UNDERTAKING within the limits of the state or country is in "general" restraint of trade; if it forbids him to employ himself in a designated trade or business, either for a limited time or WITHIN A PRESCRIBED AREA OR DISTRICT, it is in "special" restraint of trade. "Restraint of trade" at which the Sherman Anti-Trust Act is aimed, are only those which are comparable to restraints deemed illegal AT COMMON LAW. (Black4)

RESTRAINT ON ALIENATION - Restriction of the power of aliening property. See Perpetuity. In English practice, as applied to counsel, a notice given to a counsel by an attorney on behalf of the plaintiff or defendant in an action, in order to secure his services as advocate when the cause comes on for trial. In old English usage. A SERVANT, not menial or familiar, that is, NOT CONTINUALLY DWELLING IN THE HOUSE OF HIS MASTER, BUT ONLY WEARING HIS LIVERY, and attending sometimes upon special occasions. (Black4)

RESTRICT - TO RESTRAIN WITHIN BOUNDS; TO LIMIT; TO CONFINE. (Black4)
RESTRICTION - In the case of land registered under the English land transfer act, 1875, an entry on the register made on the application of the registered proprietor of the land, the effect of which is to prevent the transfer of the land or the creation of any charge upon it, unless notice of the application for a transfer or charge is sent by post to a certain address, or unless the consent of a certain person or persons to the transfer or charge is obtained, or unless some other thing is done. (Black4)

RESTRICTED LANDS - Lands the alienation of which is SUBJECT to restrictions imposed by Congress TO PROTECT THE INDIANS FROM THEIR OWN SUPPOSED INCOMPETENCY. (Black4)

Sadly, it was the legalization of the Indian tribes that defeated them. It was the acceptance of legal personhood and the proprietary (unique) identification of each individual of the tribe. Their oneness was stripped apart. They were then able to be legally considered (with legal capacity) as a “natural person” of each tribe (in ethnicity), and with this simple spelling of word magic they have been defeated ever since. Their defeat stems from the same causal root as our own, which is original (ancestral) sin. They are seen only as persons (fiction), not men. To be a Free man is not the same and is quite opposed to being part (borne/carried) of a nation. Just more word trickery, playing upon the proudness of the tribal spirit by fooling men into participating in the legal version (incorporation) and recreation of the tribe into a nation. All ab-originales are conquered (purchased) through similar artifice, by terms of art, and by the introduction of mammon. You might say that those private Indians contracted the dis-ease of publicity, of original (ancestral) sin from the incorporated white man, along with other more exotic diseases of the medical jurisprudence. Their True tribal culture was changed to a legal "nationality," their men recreated through the lie of fictional id-entity into legal personas.

EXOTIC - adjective - [Gr. without] FOREIGN; PERTAINING TO OR PRODUCED IN A FOREIGN COUNTRY; NOT NATIVE; extraneous; as an exotic plant; an exotic TERM OR WORD. - noun - A plant, shrub or tree not native; a plant PRODUCED IN A FOREIGN COUNTRY. 1. A WORD OF FOREIGN ORIGIN. (Webs1828)

CONTRACTED - participle passive - 1. DRAWN TOGETHER, or into a shorter or narrower compass; shrank; BETROTHED; incurred; BARGAINED. - adjective - 2. Narrow; MEAN; SELFISH; AS A MAN OF A CONTRACTED SOUL OR MIND. (Webs1828)

As a public US citizen-ship in agency keeping residence within one of the 50 several (private) states united, no matter which state you currently reside within, the property and land you think you “own” outright is actually in a negative easement and usufruct. Again, US citizens (foreign residents) cannot hold and dispose of land or property in any of these neighboring foreign states. They can only use property and land belonging to others. Therefore, you the reader and public US citizenship (if that is your status), are bound to get permits, licenses, and other permissive qualifications before you can alter or sell that property, BECAUSE IT BELONGS TO SOMEONE ELSE! The actual landholders, entitled “the People” that make up the “State,” constituted that corporate, commercial state government (corporation) specifically to administer residential foreign agents of the United States, whose domicile is Washington DC. To be clear, no US citizen-ship can be an actual land holder, only a user. The commercial sea figuratively prevents us from touching the land.

PRIVATE OR PUBLIC EASEMENTS - A private easement is one in which the enjoyment is RESTRICTED to one or a few individuals, while a public easement is one the right to the enjoyment of which is VESTED IN THE PUBLIC GENERALLY or in an entire community, such as an easement of PASSAGE ON THE PUBLIC STREETS AND HIGHWAYS OR OF NAVIGATION ON A STREAM. (Black4)
One cannot worship and respect God while carrying the State’s burden and thus its legal code. If a citizen is always in person, in mammon, then the only way to rid oneself permanently of any and all symptoms is to rid oneself in totality of the dis-ease. And so the only way to rid oneself of mammon is to stop being a carrier of its commercial seed (its person) in that dis-eased state of society. Being a carrier of the legal status of public personhood is that dis-ease, manifested legally as a public easement. Serfdom, debt slavery, and loss of all Natural (negative) rights are the symptoms. For no legal easements would be needed if all men followed voluntarily the Natural Law, for the negative duties implied would prevent the trespass in the first place. To be a Free Living man under God’s Supreme Law and Authority or (versus) to be the sick carrier and puppet of “satan’s” artifice (the “adversary” to man and Nature)... is that really even a serious choice, or just an unknown one to most men?

After all, God is the True holder (Creator) of all lands, all men, and all things. Governments are merely users of God’s Domain, pretending to take His place. Anti-God... And this makes God a third party to citizens of the United States, for man’s relation to God’s Nature is only through his governing magistrates (idols posing as gods) and through legalized corporate religions with license to legally practice state-sanctioned “religion.” If a citizen is always in person, in mammon, then how can the man expect to reach out and touch God? His person is likened to a body glove, a complete prophylactic that prevents man’s ability to commune with God and Nature in any Real sense.

One cannot worship and respect God while carrying the State’s burden and thus its legal code.

CARRIER - One UNDERTAKING to transport persons or property, or one EMPLOYED IN OR ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS OF CARRYING goods for others for hire. In common speech, “carriers” means transportation systems as distinguished from corporations owning or operating them... A school bus acts as a “carrier...” COMMON carriers are those that hold themselves out or UNDERTAKE to carry persons or goods or all persons indifferently, or of ALL WHO CHOOSE TO EMPLOY IT, or those whose occupation or business is transportation of persons or things for hire or reward. Common carriers of passengers are those that undertake to carry all persons indifferently who may apply for passage, so long as there is room, and there is no legal excuse for refusal. Private carriers are those who transport or undertake to transport in a particular instance for hire or reward. (Black4)

CARRIAGE - A vehicle used especially for the transportation of persons either for pleasure or business, and drawn by horses or other draught animals over the ordinary streets and highways of the country; not including cars used exclusively upon railroads or street railroads expressly constructed for the use of such cars. The act of carrying, or a contract for transportation of persons or goods. As used in exemption statutes, includes an automobile, and it includes motor vehicles under various other circumstances. In admiralty, 'carriage' includes ability to lift a cargo and hold it afloat, and does not necessarily involve any translation of the vessel from one place to another. The business of carriage is that arising under contracts by which a person obligates himself, for an agreed price, to transport, or have transported, an object of some kind, to a designated place. The contract of carriage is a contract for the conveyance of property, persons, or messages, from one place to another. (Black4)

CARGO - In mercantile law. The load or lading of a vessel; the goods, merchandise, or whatever is conveyed in a ship or other merchant vessel. While "cargo" is primarily the load of the ship, it may have a varying meaning. The term may be applied in such a sense as to include passengers, as well as freight, but in a technical sense it designates goods only. (Black4)

LOADING - The act of putting a load on or in: As to load a beast of burden, a car or a vessel; hence, to charge as with a load or burden. The difference between gross and net premiums on (insurance) policies. (Black4)

To be more precise, public persons are charged with debt and obligation at birth as their burden (load). But this kind of debt cannot simply be paid with more debt money, for all money in mammon represents the same charge upon all other men birthed into this system. And so we must define what it is to be a debtor. For while you can have no outstanding monetary debt in your financial statements in consideration of corporations, banks, etc., you will always be a permanent debtor of government as surety to its citizen-ship. Your debt to government is again a performance debt; a contract to perform. In other words, the only way to fulfill the contract is to act per the form of a person and to thus be bound by the legal laws of persons in a commercial, public under-taking. A person is a debtor, and man must play as an actor in this part to gain benefits from the master of all puppets (persons). But most importantly, it is debt and debt alone that creates the ability for one to be punished, for there is no debt without the doctrine of master and servant. Debt always has a principal and agent, a giver and a receiver, a creditor and a debtor. Without the form of implied performance debt attached to every public citizen-ship, the government (principal) would have no ability to sanction (punish) its agents. So naturally it is government that reserves the right to create, control, regulate the weights and measures of, and hold exclusive right of printing and credit under its central banking structure. Only a fool would agree to such a power as allowing total control of the only legally accepted money system, and thus the power of creating (constituting) perpetual debt upon all persons. Yet that's exactly what we agree to (facitly) when we sign (express) the signature of government property (the admixed surname and christian name). And to be clear, the use of another's property, including a legal persona (status), is always a debt of performance bound under the law of contract. To accept debt is to accept sanctioned tyranny.

DEBT - noun - det. [Latin debitum, contracted.] 1. That which is due from one person to another, whether money, goods, or services; that which one person is bound to pay or perform to another; as the debts of a bankrupt; the debts of a nobleman. It is a common misfortune or vice to be in debt. When you run in debt you give to another power over your liberty. 2. That which any one is obliged to do or to suffer. Your son, my lord, has paid a soldier's debt. Hence death is called the debt of nature. 3. In law, an action to recover a debt. This is a customary ellipsis. He brought debt instead of an action of debt. 4. In scripture. SIN; TRESPASS; GUILT; CRIME; THAT WHICH RENDERS LIABLE TO PUNISHMENT. Forgive us our debts. Lord's Prayer.
(Webs1828)

PERFORM - verb transitive - [Latin per and forno, to make.] 1. To do: TO EXECUTE; to accomplish; as, to perform two days' labor in one day; to perform a noble deed or achievement. 2. TO EXECUTE; TO DISCHARGE; AS, TO PERFORM A DUTY OR OFFICE.
3. TO FULFILL, as, TO PERFORM A COVENANT, PROMISE OR CONTRACT; to perform a vow. - verb intransitive - To do: TO ACT A PART. The player performs well in different CHARACTERS. The musician performs well on the organ. (Webs1828)

PERFORMANCE - noun - Execution or completion of any thing; a doing; as the performance of work or OF AN UNDERTAKING; THE PERFORMANCE OF DUTY. 1. ACTION; DEED; thing done. 2. THE ACTING OR EXHIBITION OF CHARACTER ON THE STATE. Garrick was celebrated for his theatrical performances. 3. Composition; work written. Few of our comic performances give good examples. 4. The acting or exhibition of feats; as performances of horsemanship. (Webs1828)

If you comprehend what is stated here, then you should be coming to a very distinct revelation.
Debt is sin. A constitution is a debt compact. Citizenship is a debt. Debt is that which makes us liable to punishment. There is simply no ignoring of this fact.

The debt charged as an obligation of service must be performed and discharged. The charge must be extinguished, the contract executed, and the ship docked (rendered back to Caesar/the district).
Like electricity, the man must become grounded upon God's earth once more, shedding all legal artifice, so that the legal charge may dissipate. For we all know that water is a conductor for electricity, not a discharger. So man cannot discharge his debt and obligation while on the sea of artiﬁce, so that the legal charge may dissipate. For we all know that water is a conductor for commerce. Only God's Nature, his very own Nature, can save him. Until then, the man is considered merely as cargo upon the citizen-ship, caught in a permanent state of burden and carried through the holy see of the false gods. The birth certiﬁcate is that initial charge, the creation of life (evil) as a bill of lading.

CARGA - In Spanish law. An incumbrance; A CHARGE. (Black4)

CARGAISON - In French commercial law. Cargo; LADING. (Black4)

CARGARE - In old English law. TO CHARGE. (Black4)

BILL - A formal declaration, complaint, or statement of particular things IN WRITING. . . In commercial law. A written statement of the terms of a contract, or SPECIFICATION OF THE ITEMS OF A TRANSACTION OR OF A DEMAND; also a general name for any item of indebtedness, whether receivable or payable. Accounts for goods sold, services rendered, or work done. (Black4)

LADING - participle present tense - LOADING; CHARGING WITH A BURDEN or freight; throwing or dipping out. (Webs1828)

LADING - noun - That which CONSTITUTES A LOAD OR CARGO; freight; BURDEN; as the lading of a SHIP. Acts 27:10. (Webs1828)

ORIGINAL BILL OF LADING - Bill of lading that is used when DELIVERING a shipment or to file a claim for DAMAGED OR LOST GOODS. OTHER COPIES ARE ONLY FOR RECORDS. (Black2)
CERTIFIED BILL OF LADING - To CERTIFY THAT A SHIPMENT MEETS THE IMPORTING COUNTRY’S REGULATIONS, the importing country’s consul in the exporter's country, ISSUES THIS CERTIFICATE. (Black2)

In legal law, a child is not considered as a Living sentient being, only a piece of certified paper representing some recorded vital statistics of a legal status in law (a fictional person). A child is a legal issue, birthed (issued) from the matrix (paper womb) of government in lading. The original bill of lading, that original birth certificate from which all certified copies are made is called a matrix. And this is how all persons are potential agents of the legal matrix simulation, as deceivingly portrayed in the movie by that same name. We act in the sur-name birthed by the state and legally (artfully) attached to our christian name.

MATRIX - Womb, A PLACE WHERE ANYTHING IS GENERATED OR FORMED. (Samuel Johnson’s Dictionary, 1755)

MATRIX - In civil law, THE PROTOCOL OR FIRST DRAFT OF A LEGAL INSTRUMENT, FROM WHICH ALL COPIES MUST BE TAKEN. (Black4)

ISSUE - noun - … The act of issuing, sending forth, emitting or promulgating; THE GIVING A THING ITS FIRST INCEPTION; as the issue of an order or a writ - verb - To send forth; to emit; to promulgate; as, an officer issues orders, process issues from a court. TO PUT INTO CIRCULATION; as, the treasury issues notes. To send out, to send out officially; TO DELIVER FOR USE, or authoritatively; to go forth, as authoritative or BINDING. (Black4)

The Real mother is responsible for the bodily conception in Reality (in Nature) of a baby, but is also simultaneously tricked into becoming a contractual, legal informer. She, while already acting in surety to a legal persona (property), certifies through a series of volunteered vital statistics (proprietary words of art) that a felonious legal conception in appearance/ fiction (false truth by deception) was created at the same time as that Real Life, so as to abandon her baby in the district (seizure) as pirate booty. Now lost at sea, the baby will thus be found as flotsam on the virtual water, as an infant of unknown parentage; a bastard with no heir-apparent inheritable blood. And all found treasure belongs to the king (legal sovereignty). That certified matrix is the artificial mother (person), which contemplates the legal state (national district) as the adoptive father — a corporate, artificial person; an artificial womb.

— RES NULLIUS NATURALITER FIT PRIMI OCCUPANTIS. (Black4)

This act of de-livery (abandonment) creates the charge that is placed upon the artificial life called the person (status). As the child grows into that legal matrix system, he or she never knows anything different from what the legal simulation provides, for the parents were also entrained, educated, and reared within that public-minded system and similarly confirmed their own existence as an imaginary legal fiction. They know nothing of Nature and God and so can teach their children nothing of Nature and God. To be born in the legal matrix (the nation) is to be a child of the matrix (the nation).
And as that fictional movie told the story of how man is plugged-in and used (employed) merely as batteries to charge the simulation that imprisons them, this was only a metaphor about a metaphor, for we are charged by the legal system at birth and spend our dead lives in fiction in the performance debt of that artificial creditor called government, the artificially protective womb. Again, Reality is stranger than any Hollywood production, and its scientific fantasies in movie and television form are only designed to blind you from Real Life, from Nature’s God, disguising the legal fiction that utterly controls and imprisons your mind, body, and soul as the only possible truth, the only course and path to follow.

CHARGE - verb transitive - 1. To rush on; to fall on; to attack, especially with fixed bayonets; as, an army charges the enemy. 2. To load, as a musket or cannon; to thrust in powder, or powder and ball or shot. 3. To lead or burden; to throw on or impose that which oppresses; as, to charge the stomach with indigestible food; or to lay on, or to fill, without oppressing; as, to charge the memory with rules and precepts; to charge the mind with facts. 4. To set or lay on; to impose as a tax; as, the land is charged with a quit rent; a rent is a charge on the land. 5. To lay on or impose, as a task. The gospel chargeth us with piety towards God. 6. To put or lay on; as, to charge a building with ornaments, often implying superfluity. 7. To lay on, as a duty; followed by with. The commander charged the officer with the execution of the project. See Genesis 40:4. 8. To entrust to; as, an officer is charged with dispatches. 9. To set to, as a duty; to place on the debit side of an account; as, to charge a man with the price of goods sold to him. 10. To load or lay on in words, something wrong, reproachful, or criminal; to impute to; as, to charge a man with theft. 11. To lay on in words; to impute to; followed by on before the person; as, to charge a crime on the offender; to charge evil consequences on the doctrines of the stoics. 12. To lay on; give or communicate as an order, command or earnest request; to enjoin; to exhort. In all this, Job sinned not, nor charged God foolishly. Job 1:22… Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded. 1 Timothy 6:1. In this sense, when the command is given in the name of God, or with an oath, the phrase amounts to an adjuration. To adjure; to bind by an oath. 1 Samuel 14:28. 14. To give directions to; to instruct authoritatively; as, the judge charged the grand jury to inquire respecting breaches of the peace. 15. To communicate electrical matter to, as to a coated vial, or an electrical battery. - verb intransitive - To make an onset. Thus Glanville says, like your heroes of antiquity, he charges in iron; and we say, to charge with fixed bayonets. But in this application, the object is understood; to charge with fixed bayonets. But it is used for an onset of cavalry as well as of infantry. 2. An onset; a rushing on an enemy; attack; especially by moving troops with fixed bayonets. But it is used for an onset of cavalry as well as of infantry. 4. An order, injunction, mandate, command. Moses gave Joshua a charge. Numbers 27:19. The king gave charge concerning Absalom. 2 Samuel 18:5. 5. That which is enjoined, committed, entrusted or delivered to another, implying care, custody, oversight, or duty to be performed by the person entrusted. I gave Hanani charge over Jerusalem. Nehemiah 7:2. Hence the word includes any trust or commission; an office, duty, employment. It is followed by of or over; more generally by of. Hence, 6. The person or thing committed to another’s custody, care or management; a trust. Thus the people of a parish are called the ministers charge. The starry guardian drove his charge away to some fresh pasture. 7. Instructions given by a judge to a jury, or by a bishop to his clergy. The word may be used as synonymous with command, direction, exhortation or injunction, but always implies solemnity. 8. Imputation in a bad sense. Accusation. Lay not this sin to their charge. Acts 7:60. 9. That which constitutes debt, in commercial transactions; an entry of money or the price of goods, on the debit side of an account. 10. Cost; expense; as, the charges of the war are to be borne by the nation. 11. Imposition on land or estate; rent, tax, or whatever constitutes a burden or duty. 12. In military affairs, a signal to attack; as, to sound the charge. 13. The posture of a weapon fitted for an attack or combat. Their armed slaves in charge... 15. IN HERALDRY, that which is BORNE upon the COLOR; or the FIGURES REPRESENTED on the escutcheon, BY WHICH THE BEARERS ARE DISTINGUISHED FROM ONE ANOTHER... (Webs1828)

ISSUE - In REALTY LAW, DESCENDANTS, All PERSONS who have descended from a common ancestor. Offspring: progeny; descent; lineage; lineal descendants. In this sense, the word includes not only a child or children, but all other descendants IN WHATEVER DEGREE; and it is so construed generally in deeds. But, when used in wills, it is, of course, subject to the rule of construction that the intention of the testator, as ascertained from the will, is to have effect, RATHER THAN THE TECHNICAL MEANING OF THE LANGUAGE USED BY HIM; and hence issue may in such a connection, be restricted to children, or to descendants living at the death of the testator, where such an intention clearly appears. The word "issue" in a WILL is generally a word of LIMITATION, and when so used, is sometimes said to be equivalent to "HEIRS OF THE BODY." But it has been pointed out in other cases that this word is not as strong a word of limitation as the words "heirs of the body," and yields readily to a context INDICATING ITS USE AS A WORD OF PURCHASE. The word is commonly HELD TO INCLUDE ONLY LEGITIMATE ISSUE. (Black4)

LAWFUL ISSUE - The TERM that is given to PEOPLE who are ABLE TO INHERIT due to KINSHIP. (Black2)

LEGAL ISSUE - Another term used to describe a PERSON'S descendants and is the same as lawful issue. (Black2)

NATURAL ISSUE - Term given to describe the CHILDREN BORN OF THEIR PARENTS and are NOT ADOPTED. (Black2)

Note the difference here between an actual inheritable blood issue (child) and that of a corrupted blood issue. One is an heir according to law, and one is not. The second one needs a will, for no heirs are assumed. This is the tainted status of a public citizen-ship of the United States. Note also that the bloodline of posterity and lineage is of the realty law, meaning that the only purpose of the keeping of these fabled genealogy records is an attachment to land. Land and blood stand in a figurative oneness.

And just what happens when our blood is legally corrupted?

We issue no heir and our life and death is rendered as a pointless endeavor in mammon without bearing legitimate seed or fruit. Of course, in Reality one’s blood Lives on, but in consideration by the fictional legal realm the family chain was decimated, the bloodline made extinct! And the child passes on this legacy of nothing-ness to all future offspring that will all die in succession but without lawful issue, for he may only pass on his own status, never any that is higher than his own persona. As the first, so be the last. To correct his child’s (dependent’s) status he must first fix his own.

DIE WITHOUT CHILDREN, HEIRS, OR ISSUE - In a will, as applied to reality, prima facie imports an INDEFINITE FAILURE OF ISSUE, — TOTAL EXTINCTION OF THE TESTATOR'S FAMILY, or the DEATH OF ALL HIS DESCENDANTS to the remotest generation. This has uniformly been the construction, when there were no expressions in the will controlling the legal meaning of the words, or pointing to a definite failure of issue. As applied to personality, construed to mean dying without heirs LIVING at the death of the devisee. When there is anything in a gift or limitation to show that the testator meant a failure of issue in the life-time of the first taker, instead of an indefinite failure, a limitation over is construed as an executory devise in defeasance of a fee-simple, and not as a remainder sustained by an estate-tail. Whether a presumption that a person died without issue will be indulged depends upon the circumstances shown in each case. If, for instance, circumstances are proven indicating non-marriage or childlessness, THEN DEATH WITHOUT ISSUE MAY BE presumed. See further Definite; Issue. (WCA1889)

Let the reader be very clear by this point that the above definition applies to any and all of you that claim or have ever claimed US citizenship without proof of quitting. I seriously doubt that anyone reading this is accidentally acting in a private capacity. One simply does not live a private life and not know his status and that below it. The artificial default in this legal design has been set, and all of its public roads lead straight to the public domain of the metaphoric realm of Caesar. No man can escape this publicly grided web unless his father had paternally guided him to his own private blood-inheritance. This knowledge is openly kept under the rose, though placed deftly and without cypher into that disguising lexicon of English dog-Latin. But the legalese of Romanized concepts reveals these artificial constructs.

KIN - Relation or relationship BY BLOOD or consanguinity. "The nearness of kin is computed according to the civil law." As to "next of kin," see NEXT. (Black2)

NEXI - Latin. In Roman law, bound; BOUND PERSONS. A term applied to such insolvent DEBTORS as were DELIVERED UP TO THEIR CREDITORS, by whom they might be HELD IN BONDAGE UNTIL THEIR DEBTS WERE DISCHARGED. (Black4)

NEXUM - Latin. In Roman law, in ancient times the nexum seems to have been a species of FORMAL CONTRACT, involving a loan of money, and at tended with peculiar consequences, solemnized with the "copper and balance." Later, it appears to have been used as a general term for any contract struck with those ceremonies, and hence to have included the special form of conveyance called "mancipatio." In a general sense it means the obligation or bond between contracting parties. In Roman law, this word expressed the TIE OR OBLIGATION involved in the old conveyance by mancipatio, and came latterly to be used interchangeably with (but less frequently than) the word "obligatia" itself. (Black4)

PATERFAMILIAS - The FATHER OF a family. In Roman law, The head or MASTER of a family. This word is sometimes employed, in a wide sense, as equivalent to sui juris. A person sui juris is called "paterfamilias" even when under the age of puberty. In the narrower and more common use, a paterfamilias is ANY ONE INVESTED WITH POTESTAS OVER ANY PERSON. It is thus as applicable to a grandfather as to a father. (Black4)

POTESTAS - Latin. In the civil law. Power; authority; DOMINATION; EMPIRE, IMPERIUM, OR THE JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATES. THE POWER OF THE FATHER OVER HIS CHILDREN, patria potestas: THE AUTHORITY OF MASTERS OVER THEIR SLAVES. (Black4)

PATRIA POTESTAS - Latin. In Roman law, PATERNAL AUTHORITY: THE PATERNAL POWER. This term denotes the aggregate of those peculiar powers and rights which, by the civil law of Rome, belonged to the head of a family in respect to his wife, children, (natural or adopted) and any more remote descendants who sprang from him through males only. Anciently, it was of very extensive reach, embracing even the power of life and death, but was gradually curtailed, until finally it amounted to little more than a right in the paterfamilias TO HOLD AS HIS OWN ANY PROPERTY OR ACQUISITIONS OF ONE UNDER HIS POWER. (Black4)
"CHILDREN ARE ALWAYS PRESUMED TO BE LEGITIMATE, FOR FILIATION CANNOT BE PROVED."

—Semper praesumitur pro legitimatione pueroen, et filiatione non potest probari. Co. Litt. 126. See 1 Bouv. Inst. 26 n. 303. (Black4)

“One may relinquish FOR HIMSELF AND HIS HEIRS a right which was introduced FOR HIS OWN BENEFIT.”

—POTEST QUIS RENUNCIARE PRO SE ET SUIS [URI QUOD PRO SE INTRODUCTUM EST. Bract. 20. (Black4)

This very important maxim is yet another corruption of scriptural principal, meaning that any right that is copied in simulation from that of being inalienable and self-evident to being merely a contractive legal benefit of personhood can be sold or relinquished by the man in agency. And this is exactly what happens when we deliver our issue to the dead hands of the state, taking the effect of the foundation of law and destroying it. In other words, by delivering our children to the state we are relinquishing our right for that birth to be lawfully recognized in blood relations, and so the corruption of blood kills such equitable considerations. And yet the law admits that such legal nonsense is purely a fraud, a coveted and sacred (cursed) deceit, designed only to cause the legal piracy of the apparent rights and lands of blood heirs. Since filiation, as the affiliation of son to mother and father by blood relation, was always said to be unprovable but by these fabled records of the history of genealogy, the Truly great and hidden mystery is that all children are children of God, all of them Naturally legitimate. And so only the false belief (love) of that illegitimate and fabled his-story of lineage can cause such divides among men in class, rank, title, and status. Its pure bullshit, in other words, no matter how accurate those records might be. Only an evil man would subject a child to suffering due to his lack of provable blood lineage and “good parentage.” This is as anti-scriptural and antichrist as we can get. And its origin is of course based on the old testament Jews, who to this day rely on their blood for admission to their purely secular “state” and status. There is no actual conversion to become a “Jew,” for the flattering title is only assigned by fabled genealogy. The blood of christ (God’s Word/Law), however, is potentially within us all. We are born into Nature with It. This is the New Testament.

Unfortunately, with the modern advent of blood, gene, and DNA testing, that which was unprovable (negative) has become vulgarly provable (positive) through modern “science.” And while this technology (art) is hailed as a wondrous new frontier, in fact it only solidifies the fictional, fallacious rationality that only some of us are the “chosen people,” for our DNA apparently proves this as truth. This grand delusion of exclusionary posterity is now reinforced with the ultimate lie… the worst kind of lie in fact, as one based on actual Truth.

FILIAITION - The RELATION of parent and child, BUT DOES NOT IMPORT LEGITIMACY, although often A STEP TO THAT END. Correlative to "PATERNITY." THE JUDICIAL ASSIGNMENT OF AN ILLEGITIMATE CHILD TO A DESIGNATED MAN AS ITS FATHER. In the civil law, the DESCENT of son or daughter, with regard to his or her father, mother, and their ancestors. (Black4)

FILIAATE - TO FIX A BASTARD CHILD ON SOME ONE, AS ITS FATHER, TO DECLARE WHOSE CHILD IT IS. (Black4)

FILIOLUS (or FILIOUS) - In old records, a godson. (Black4) lost our Nature and replaced It with an artificial, legalistic nature, as that of a fiction of law called state/People). This is how we appear in court, and how the court sees our children. FILIUS FAMILIAS - In the civil law, the SON OF A FAMILY; an UN-EMANCIPATED son. (Black4)

FILIUS NULLIUS - An illegitimate child; SON OF NOBODY. (Black4)

FILIUS POPULI - A SON OF THE PEOPLE. Natural child. (Black4)

To be clear, when speaking of the status (person) of any man, we always must establish that status with a describing word. “Person” is an ambiguous term, and so it cannot stand at bar alone without signs and marks any more than a christian (first) name alone can have standing. We must add a description of the nature of that term of civil law. And so we would say private person or public person. Thus when the man is considered by or in law, the nature of his person is discernible, and the way that man is treated depends on the nature of his person (status). The law only recognizes man’s status (person), not man in and as himself (by his blood). The private man may use only his christian name. The public person will answer to a surname. In this way, the description of public need not be used, for the status is manifested by the expression of consent in answer to that registered and confirmed surname admixed with the christian name. The last (higher) name establishes jurisdiction by canceling out the moral, Higher Law presumed by use of the christian (first) name alone. The contractual relationship is established at bar by this appearance in admixture of names.

The surname establishes the presumptive fact of paternity in that the person appearing has the public status of filius nullius (illegitimate), and consent to being publicly filius populi (a son of the state/People). This is how we appear in court, and how the court sees our children. For we have lost our Nature and replaced It with an artificial, legalistic nature, as that of a fiction of law called as a “natural” child; a Hu-man; an animal; one acting without soul or with tainted blood. He who is not of God’s Nature but in the nature of the state… this duality of words reigns supreme in the matrix of legal simulation.

—FILIUS EST NOMEN NATURAE, SED HAERES NOMEN JURIS. 1 Sid. 193. 1 Pos. Deo. 311. (Black4)

“A son in the mother's womb is part of the mother's VITALS.”

—FILIUS IN UTERO MATRIS EST PARS VISCERUM MATRIS. 7 Coke, 8. (Black4)

“FILIATION CANNOT BE PROVED; that is, the husband is presumed to be the father of a child born during coverture.”

—FILIATIO NON POTEST PROBARI. Co.Litt. 126. But see 7 & 8 Vict. c. 101. (Black4)
To place one’s child into the artificial matrix (protective womb) of the state, to call the state as father, is to give up one’s vital connection (blood) to that child. We sell that vitality, represented by worded vital statistics, in exchange for rights and protections from the state, which in turn require subjection to that father-figure as the state.

Modern DNA testing techniques may have changed the vulgar consideration of this maxim, but its principle power remains. In essence, the child has his mother’s vitals but is born with his father’s status. A bastard though, as a child with no paternal (authoritative) claim by its father as delivered (abandoned), continues only in the maternal (nurturing) status. In essence, the child has his mother’s vitals but is born with his father’s principle power remains. In this small window of time, after the coverture and expulsion from the womb until the baby leaves the hospital that the vital statistics are taxed (recorded and registered) and the districted legal entity is created. This is the secondary, legal de-livery into the legal matrix (artificial womb), taking place only after the actual, natural birth from the mother’s womb.

COVERTURE - noun - 1. Covering; shelter; defense. 2. In law, the state of a married woman, who is considered as UNDER COVER, OR THE POWER OF HER HUSBAND, and therefore called a "feme-covert," or "femme-covert." The coverture of a woman disables her from making contracts to the prejudice of herself or her husband, WITHOUT HIS ALLOWANCE OR CONFIRMATION. (Weds1828)

BARON ET FEME - Man and woman; HUSBAND AND WIFE. A wife being under the protection and influence of her baron, lord, or husband, is styled a "feme-covert" (faemina viro cooperta), and her state of marriage is called her "coverture." (Black4)

FEME; or FEMME - French. A woman; a wife. Feme is the older form: L. femella, femina, a young woman. Plural, femes, femmes. Feme coert, or feme-covert. A married woman. BY MARRIAGE, HUSBAND AND WIFE ARE ONE PERSON IN LAW, UNDER HIS PROTECTION AND "COVER," SHE DOES EVERYTHING, and is therefore called in law-French a feme-covert; while her condition is called "coverture." (WCA1889)

FILATION PROCEEDING - A special statutory proceeding. CRIMINAL IN FORM, but in the nature of a CIVIL ACTION TO ENFORCE A CIVIL OBLIGATION OR DUTY SPECIFICALLY FOR THE PURPOSE OF ESTABLISHING PARENTAGE AND THE PUTATIVE FATHER'S DUTY TO SUPPORT HIS ILLEGITIMATE CHILD. (Black4)

HERITAGE - noun - 1. INHERITANCE; an estate that PASSES FROM AN ANCESTOR TO AN HEIR BY DESCENT OR COURSE OF LAW, that which is inherited. In Scot's law, it sometimes signifies immovable estate, in distinction from movable. 2. In Scripture, the saints or PEOPLE OF GOD ARE CALLED HIS HERITAGE AS BEING CLAIMED BY HIM, and the objects of his special care. 1 Peter 5:3. (Weds1828)

MANCIPIUM - Latin. In Roman law, the momentary condition in which a filius, etc., might be when in course of emancipation from the potestas, and before that emancipation was absolutely complete. The condition was not like the dominica potestas over slaves, but slaves are frequently called "mancipia" in the nonlegal Roman authors. To form a clear conception of the true import of the word in the Roman jurisprudence, it is necessary to advert to the four distinct powers which were exercised by the pater familias, viz.: the manus, or martial power; the mancipium, resulting from the mancipatio, or alienatio per aet et libram of a freeman; the dominica potestas, THE POWER OF THE MASTER OVER HIS SLAVES, and the patria potestas, THE PATERNAL POWER. When the pater familias SOLD HIS SON, venum dare, mancipare, the paternal power was succeeded by the mancipium, or the power acquired by the PURCHASER over the PERSON whom he held in mancipio, and whose condition was assimilated to that of a slave. What is most remarkable is, that on the emancipation from the mancipium HE FELL BACK INTO THE PATERNAL POWER, which was not entirely exhausted until he had been sold three times by the pater familias. Si pater filium ter venum dat, fissa est a patre Ziber esto. Gaius speaks of the mancipatio as imaginaria quedam venditio, because in his times it was only resorted to for the purpose of ADOPTION or EMANCIPATION.

(Black4)

MANCIARE - Latin. In Roman law, TO SELL, ALIENATE, OR MAKE OVER TO ANOTHER; to sell with certain FORMALITIES; TO SELL A PERSON, one of the forms observed IN THE PROCESS OF EMANCIPATION. (Black4)

MANCIATE - TO ENSLAVE; TO BIND; TO TIE. (Black4)

EMANCIPATE - adjective - Set at LIBERTY. (Webb1828)

PRAEMIUM EMANCIPATIONIS - In Roman law. A reward or compensation anciently allowed to a father on emancipating his child, consisting of one-third of the child’s separate and individual property, not derived from the father himself. (Black4)

MANCIATI - Latin. In Roman law, a certain ceremony or formal process anciently required to be performed, to perfect the sale or conveyance of res mancipi. (land, houses, slaves, horses, or cattle.) The parties were present (vendor and vendee), with five witnesses and a person called "librarius," who held a balance or SCALES. A SET FORM OF WORDS was repeated on either side, indicative of TRANSFER OF OWNERSHIP, and certain prescribed gestures made, and the vendee then struck the scales with a piece of copper, thereby SYMBOLIZING THE PAYMENT, or WEIGHING OUT, of the stipulated price. The ceremony of mancipatio was used, in later times, in one of the forms OF MAKING A WILL. The testator acted as vendor, and the HEIR (or familiae emptor) AS PURCHASER, THE LATTER SYMBOLICALLY BUYING THE WHOLE ESTATE OR SUCCESSION, OF THE FORMER. The ceremony was also USED BY A FATHER IN MAKING A FICTITIOUS SALE OF HIS SON, which sale, when three times repeated, EFFECTUATED THE EMANCIPATION OF THE SON. (Black4)

MANCIPI RES - Latin. In Roman law, certain CLASSES OF THINGS WHICH COULD NOT BE ALIENED OR TRANSFERRED EXCEPT by means of a certain FORMAL CEREMONY OF CONVEYANCE called "mancipatio." These included land, houses, slaves, horses, and cattle. All other things were called "res nec mancipi." THE DISTINCTION WAS ABOLISHED BY JUSTINIAN. The distinction corresponded as nearly as may be to the early distinction of ENGLISH LAW INTO REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY: res mancipi being objects of a military or agricultural character, and res nec mancipi being ALL OTHER SUBJECTS OF PROPERTY. Like personal estate, res nec mancipi were not originally either valuable in se or valued. (Black4)

MANCEPS - Latin. In Roman law, A PURCHASER; one who took the ARTICLE sold in his hand; a formality observed in certain sales. A farmer of the PUBLIC taxes. (Black4)

MANUMISSION - The act of liberating a slave from bondage and giving him FREEDOM. In a wider sense, releasing or DELIVERING ONE PERSON FROM THE POWER OR CONTROL OF ANOTHER. (Black4)

“To manumit is the same as to place beyond hand and power.”

—MANUMITTERE IDEM EST QUOD EXTRA MANUM VEL POTESTATEM PONERE. Co. Litt. 137. (Black4)

As was declared by Horace Greeley in reference to the 14th amendment citizen-ship status that all common issues are delivered into at birth, each becoming natural children (a child of the people), the release of the black slaves from forced bondage as an act of emancipation was merely the setting of them at a political liberty without tangible chains. It was the placing of them into the open-air prison or gaol (district), and was in actuality the equalizing of all common citizenships, including all “white persons” that are made to be ignorant of their right of blood inheritance by relation to the constituted “Posterity,” as so diminished to that common level of political but not True Liberty in Nature. A person (status) was assigned to each man, representing the bondage of artificially districted (seized) “freedom” not dissimilar to that which a branded cow has within the white picket fences of a farmer’s ranch, the fictional persona or personality (legal status) being used as identification, as that of a brand burnt into the flesh of the cow to mark it as property. This is the political system representing a tacit simulation of liberty. This is the same act that all common, public persons do as they abandon (set free) their child to be found in and seized by the district. In other words, emancipation was merely the creation of voluntary slavery and servitude through word trickery to replace the old system of involuntary slavery and servitude. It was the forced purchase (eminent domain) of all bound slaves by the state (district) in public office, where in turn they were set free (placed into a public, commercial franchise called as a citizen-ship). Equalization made all men free to be slaves of their own vocational choosing in permissive employment (being used in mammon). This is the legal, artificial, virtual version of a controlled freedom and liberty (enfranchisement), which can only exist in legal, public personhood (property), and only within the borders of the governed land in nativity. It is the ultimate deception, for a free slave is a prosperous slave. And so it is that this number one catchphrase of patriotically public persons captured freely in US citizenship, whom actually believe they are part of that sovereignty that reigns over them and for which they pledge their allegiance to, is to proclaim and sing fervently that, “I’m proud to be an American, where at least I know I’m free.” It’s a cosmic joke; a mis-transliteration based on ignorance of Romanization and the concept of franchise and its gaol (district). It’s the magic of dog-Latin. For only by their blood and by refusal of publicity in citizenship would they be able to make such a claim of blood inheritance and constitutional protections.

“All truth passes through three stages. First, it is ridiculed. Second, it is violently opposed. Third, it is accepted as BEING SELF-EVIDENT.”

—Arthur Schopenhauer

How many “patriots,” as those that falsely believe they are free, will ridicule this work alone in that first stage of denial? How many will violently oppose it as cognitive dissonance swirls like madness in their brains? Alas, the author fears that the number that will see this work as self-evident must surely be the lesser of these three stages, for who can imagine that the love of Truth is so vastly different and more painful than that comfortable belief and artful legal life expressed in the accepted lies of fiction?

ILLEGITIMATE - THAT WHICH IS CONTRARY TO LAW; it is usually applied to children born out of lawful wedlock. A BASTARD IS SOMETIMES CALLED AN ILLEGITIMATE CHILD. (Bouv1856)

ILLEGAL - CONTRARY TO LAW; UNLAWFUL. 2. It is a general rule, that THE LAW WILL NEVER GIVE ITS AID TO A PARTY WHO HAS ENTERED INTO AN ILLEGAL CONTRACT, whether the same be in direct violation of a statute, against public policy, or opposed to public morals… NOR TO A CONTRACT WHICH IS FRAUDULENT, WHICH AFFECTS THE DEFENDANT OR A THIRD PERSON… (Bouv1856)
Let’s face it, revealing that entire generations of US citizens are actually illegitimate bastards under falsified legal marriage contracts between fictional persons designed to cause that illegitimacy and be adopted by the state in voluntary servitude is not easily excepted by all of us bastards out here, we whom are falsely living in an imaginary self-aggrandize of our captured Selves. And so the author sympathizes with the many deeply ingrained fallacies imposed by the public sphere that may be preventing the enlightenment of that third stage of Truth’s acceptance from being attained very easily. For the author though, these self-evident Truths are now just second nature, after over a decade of striving to find answers that I too didn’t want to hear. Ego is a very powerful obstacle.

But on the bright side, we must never forget that this is all fiction. Only the God of Nature knows Truth, and only under God’s Law is that opinion of the fictional state destroyed as it applies to us individually. Remember, legal marriage is artificial, and so is legal fiction. Christ was a “bastard” in law too, but his path out of that nativity and accident of birth are the epitome and purpose of those scriptural teachings. To follow His path is to attain the only True spiritual Legitimacy possible, and that means so much more than the custom of attending a fictional ceremony every Sunday in a corporate, Romanized “Christian” church. As is written, all men should strive to be the sons of God, for no man is ever a bastard in the Reality of Nature, which is God’s Realm and no other.

Artificial things can only be proven in the artificial legal realm of man, but such titles and pretended statuses in fiction have no respect of the God of Nature.

NEXT - Nearest; closest; immediately following. Nearest or nighest, not in the sense of propinquity alone, as, for example, three persons on three chairs, one in the midst, those on each side of the middle one are equally near, each “next” to the middle one; but it signifies also order, or succession, or relation as well as propinquity. (Black4)

NEXT OF KIN - A wife, by affinity, or BY BLOOD, like a parent, sibling, or offspring is a deceased’s nearest relative. (Black2)

NEXT OF KIN - In the law of descent and distribution, this term properly denotes the persons nearest of kindred to the decedent, that is, those who are most nearly related to him by blood, but it is sometimes construed to mean ONLY THOSE WHO ARE ENTITLED TO TAKE UNDER THE STATUTE OF DISTRIBUTIONS, and sometimes to include other persons. The words “next of kin,” used simpliciter in a deed or will, mean, not nearest of kindred, but those relatives who share in the estate according to the statute of distributions, including those claiming per stirpes or BY REPRESENTATION. (Black4)

SIMPLICITER - Latin. Simply; without ceremony; in a summary manner. Directly; immediately: as distinguished from inferentially or indirectly. By itself; by its own force; per se. (Black4)

NEXT DEVISEE - Person to whom remainder is GIVEN BY WILL. (Black4)

NEXT EVENTUAL ESTATE - Estate taking effect UPON HAPPENING OF THE EVENT TERMINATING ACCUMULATION. (Black4)

NEXT PRESENTATION - In the law of advowsons, the right of next presentation is the right to present to the first vacancy of a benefice. (Black4)

KINDRED - Relatives BY BLOOD. “Kindred of the whole blood, preferred to kindred of the half blood.” (Black2)

AFFINITY - At common law. Relationship BY MARRIAGE between the husband and the blood relations of the wife, and between the wife and the blood relations of the husband. Affinity is distinguished into three kinds: (1) DIRECT, or that subsisting between the husband and his wife’s relations by blood, or between the wife and the husband’s relations BY BLOOD; (2) SECONDARY, or that which subsists between the husband and his wife’s relations BY MARRIAGE; (3) COLLATERAL, or that which subsists between the husband and the relations of his wife's relations. In the civil law, The connection which arises by marriage between each PERSON of the married pair and the kindred of the other. (Black2)

CHILD - This word has two meanings in law: (1) In the law of the domestic relations, and as to descent and DISTRIBUTION, it is used strictly as the correlative of "parent," and means a son or daughter considered as IN RELATION with the father or mother. (2) In the law of NEGLIGENCE, and in laws for the protection of children, etc., it is used as the opposite of "adult," and means the young of the HUMAN SPECIES, (generally under the age of puberty). WITHOUT ANY REFERENCE TO PARENTAGE and without distinction of sex. (Black2)

ADOPTED CHILD - The child who is NOT THE NATURAL CHILD OF THE PARENTS but has become a TRUE child by legal action. Can be considered a legal heir. (Black2)

LEGALLY ADOPTED - The term used to signify that a child has been adopted in accordance with the state laws. (Black2)

ADOPTION AND LEGITIMATION - Adoption, properly speaking, refers only to PERSONS WHO ARE STRANGERS IN BLOOD, and is not synonymous with "legitimation," which refers to PERSONS OF THE SAME BLOOD. Where one acknowledges his illegitimate child and takes it into his family and treats it as if it were legitimate, it is not properly an "adoption" but a "legitimation." TO ACCEPT AN ALIEN AS A CITIZEN OR MEMBER OF A COMMUNITY OR STATE AND INVEST HIM WITH CORRESPONDING RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES, either (in general and untechnical parlance) BY NATURALIZATION, or by an act equivalent to naturalization, as where a white man is "adopted" by an Indian tribe. (Black2)

ADOPTION - The act of one WHO TAKES ANOTHER'S CHILD INTO HIS OWN FAMILY, treating him as his own, and giving him all the RIGHTS AND DUTIES of his own child. A JURIDICAL ACT CREATING BETWEEN TWO PERSONS CERTAIN RELATIONS, PURELY CIVIL, OF PATERNITY AND FILIATION. (Black2)

FILIATION - The relation of a child to its parent: correlative to "PATERNITY." The JUDICIAL ASSIGNMENT OF AN ILLEGITIMATE CHILD TO A DESIGNATED MAN AS ITS FATHER. In the civil law, The DESCENT of son or daughter, with regard to his or her father, mother, and their ancestors, … but does not import legitimacy, although often a step to that end. Correlative to "paternity." (Black2, Black4)

LEGITIMATION - The MAKING LEGITIMATE OR LAWFUL THAT WHICH WAS NOT ORIGINALLY SO; especially the act of LEGALIZING THE STATUS OF A BASTARD. (Black2)

BASTARD - An illegitimate child; a child born of an unlawful intercourse, and while its parents are not united in marriage. A child born after marriage, but under circumstances which render it impossible that the husband of his mother can be his father. One begotten and born OUT OF LAWFUL WEDLOCK, ONE BORN OF AN ILLICIT UNION. A bastard is a child born out of wedlock, and whose parents do not subsequently intermarry, or a child THE ISSUE OF ADULTEROUS INTERCOURSE of the wife during wedlock. (Black2)

BASTARDIZE - TO DECLARE ONE A BASTARD, AS A COURT DOES, TO GIVE EVIDENCE TO PROVE ONE A BASTARD. A mother (married) cannot bastardize her child. (Black2)
It is again important to note that these legal statutes of proclaimed legitimacy and bastardization are not terms of Nature. In other words, they do not just happen in Nature, but are purely considerations of man’s law and fictional language arts in contract. This is most important to consider due to the fact that all of these states of existence (artificial being) must be declared or are presumed. They are forced, not Naturally occurring. They are not simple. And modernly this requires the original instrument and form (matrix) of birth certification or naturalization. Nothing happens without action. This is to say that the act in Nature of having a child does not automatically mean that the law presumes this to be your own child. Instead, the presumption of paternity is based upon the status of the parent. Under man’s artificial law, a slave cannot give birth to a free man any more than a free man may bear a slave. Likewise, a citizen of the United States is presumed by the marriage contract (a contract between the husband, wife, and with the state in dominative authority) to be in agreement (a consenting state of mind) that the product of that marriage contract (a child in fictional persona) is issued as property of the state — the product of that contractual, commercial incorporation of names.

As the contracting agents in marriage are bound to know the law that governs that legal marriage and citizenship in commerce, the following applies. For a status (person) is merely a commercial product, a bill of goods sold to foolish consumers with insurable protections that require subjection to the law of the person as purchased.

PRODUCT ADOPTION PROCESS - The mental process that every potential customer goes through from the awareness of a product to its rejection or becoming loyal CUSTOMERS.
(1) Awareness: The potential customers come to know about the product but lack the necessary information on it. (2) Interest: They try and search for information on it, (3) Evaluation: They weigh its pros and cons, (4) Trial: They PURCHASE it for the first time to determine its utility and quality, (5) Adoption/rejection: THEY DECIDE TO CONTINUE USING IT OR REJECT IT COMPLETELY. (Black2)

This is the perfect description of the use of money. This process is also the very nature of the citizen-ship. We can only weigh the pros and cons of citizenship and the birth process according to the awareness we garner from our interest level on learning the true nature of this legal compact. Citizenship is always a state of trial (probation), for we are purchased (conquered) as long as we utilize that contractual state of artificial, political status, and we lush in a state of adoption as we continue acting our lives out under the legal construct of citizenship, incorporating our given (christian) first name with the state surname or last name. And so we agree to allow the state’s name to overcome our christan name, as the secular overcoming the spiritual, the fiction over Reality, granting authority to the state and its legal laws over that of the Natural Law of that which rules First and as the Origin of Source (as God-given), the first name.

The word last has a special meaning in law, one that all men bearing its load should be aware of:

LAST - In old English law, signifies A BURDEN; also a measure of weight used for certain commodities of the bulkier sort. (Black2)

LAST - adjective - Latest, ULTIMATE, FINAL, most recent. (Black4)

The commercial carrying of the surname, as the burden or “last” name supra to our first (gift from God) name, as the unalienable christian name, causes us to become beasts of burden. It signifies the purchase (conquering) in contractual relationship of the man (as in the singular christian or first name) by that god of mammon, and is thus a mark of ultimate, original sin against God and Nature. To put it simply, it is to place the name of evil (mammon) over the name of good (God).
“A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold.”

—Proverbs 22:1, KJB

“Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by that which ye are called?”

—James 2:7, KJB

“Lest ye CORRUPT YOURSELVES, and make you a graven image, THE SIMILITUDE OF ANY FIGURE, the likeness of MALE OR FEMALE.”

—Deuteronomy 4:16, KJB

“But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment seats? Do not they blaspheme that WORTHY NAME by the which ye are called?”

—James 2:6-7, KJB

The attachment and use of a surname adjoined to the christian name in law, especially in the form of a sig-nature, represents an act of expression against God and Nature and Its Law as an express consent that is a token and sign of the last record of will of that man to act in the sin of artificiality and personhood. For the last name serves only commerce, only mammon, only similitude. It is of the utmost importance for the reader to comprehend this fact in law, which is to say that our appearance and operation under this combination of good and evil, of Reality and fiction, and of Nature and artifice by name (proper noun) seals our fate. The attachment of that last (higher in law) name is proof of legal existence, proof of commercial intent, and proof of our positive understanding to that international code of the idolatrous gods of the nations. It is the destruction of Self, of self-evidence. Remember, our understanding comes not from knowledge but from our actions. Understanding in legalese is a contracted dis-ease, a binding chain to those fictional, constituted authorities. It is the last name that is first considered and officially written, for it is the last evidence of intent, consent, will, and testament. To have an admixed name is a sign of consent to the law of that artifice which created it.

“If two conflicting provisions are found in a will, the LAST is observed.”

—SI DUO IN TESTAMENTO PUGNANTIA REFERENTUR, ULTIMUM EST RATUM. Loj6 251. (Bib4A)

The last name (surname) conflicts with the first name (Christian name), two opposing forces in an eternal struggle for man’s mind, body, and soul. For the surname was the last thing added to man’s personified legal will, a sign of intent by the informing mother and father. Thus the legal state only observes by its principals of law the last sign and mark of man’s will, which is manifest by his claim and use of the surname (last evidence of will). The surname is like a badge of unholy desire.

We are bastardized through our apparently legalized second birth away from Nature into the legal fiction, into simulated life. And only the separation as a quidclaim and voiding of that attachment and incorporation of first name and surname as the last (intentional higher status) name can cause a regeneration back into our Natural state of Being as part of God’s Creation. We must express our will by negatively opposing legal fiction, by ceasing to use or participate in the artificiality of legal things and concepts. We must not show signs, use tokens, or speak in or of the authority of that illiterate language of Latinized paganism. We must mean what we say. We must never speak falsely nor speak through fictional mediums. We must never seek proof of that which is artificial, and we must never have need to prove who or what we in self-evident Reality are in our own Being. We must be in the Truth of our own self-evidence and self-Existence and that of Nature at all times, never deviating from our understanding of God. But most of all, we must never feel secure, never safe or sure, and always be on defense of our own principals against the principalities of corrupt men. Nothing in Nature is this way, for nothing in Nature relies on anything but Nature Itself for its survival and well-being. In other words, we must look only to God for protection by having faith only in Reality and never in the lies we might tell each other and to ourselves. Our religion must be only the very self-evident meaning of Truth, as the meaning of our own Nature within Reality.

Again, your mental belief in some false religious image and personification of “God” is not a requirement to understand that this is how the legal law operates against Nature. But you must know that the legal law itself, that which is a horrifically militarized force of jurisdiction that has killed 100s of millions of men throughout history to forward its own fictional and financial cause and course will not recognize you as anything but one of two things: either an enslaved legal person or as a religious man acting in love (be-lief) under God’s Law alone without actual threat to its commercial intent.

“If those are better who are led by love, those are the GREATER NUMBER who are CORRECTED BY FEAR.”

—SI MELIORES SUNT QUOS DUCIT AMOR, PLURES SUNT QUOS CORRIGIT TIMOR. Co. Litt. 392. (Bux44)

To acknowledge publicly that there is no God is only ever to declare that the state thus has the right to be the tyrannical god it strives to be, as no higher power or Law Exists in and over the mind, body and soul of the unregenerate, unenlightened man. The author admits to the reader that this was indeed one of the most difficult concepts to accept in my own understandings, and yet this is so obviously a self-evident truth and definitely the most important understanding of all law. The gods must separate man from his Nature, from his actual Creator, in order to usurp that metaphorical throne in artifice as the legal creator of his false personification of self. This is the same temptation offered to Christ. This work is not attempting to tell you what is your own perception of Reality, only to tell you the functionality and purpose of that fictional, legal state and how it operates to keep you its ignorant slave. We are only deconstructing the simulation. And to do so, we must know that which is opposed to all simulated things. Light and dark; Good and evil. There is no simulation without first there being an original, though eventually man can be convinced to worship the simulacrum, which is a simulation of that which has no original. For we have all eaten that fruit and now must choose how we digest and act with such knowledge.
Some take this as only a religious instead of as a True and spiritual concept. Some may ignore this enlightenment because they arrogantly believe that True religion is false and therefore the scriptures are false. And yet no matter what your background or system of belief, there can be no denial of the self-evident Truth, reason, and logic of these concepts. For they are not the author’s opinions, but the very backbone of the principals of all forms of law, corruptible only by man’s degradation into falsehoods and fictions.

And from these scriptural lessons and understandings we may begin to comprehend the foundation of corruption in both church and state. For their conspiratorial combinations have always been and always shall exist side-by-side, one not able to exist without the other’s justification. All sovereigns, all tyrants, all masters, and all priests need subjects to rule over. And to rule over man, his spiritual Nature must be destroyed so that his political, social nature can be manipulated and exploited. And from this degradation, no recovery can be made within that system of sin. A public person will always be just that. Only voiding out the combination and admixture of names will change the presumed status of the man’s persona. The bad must be exorcized from the good, for the status of the public surname will never be anything but one of voluntary servitude to the magistrates of that system of mammon.

“Whatever is once bad, is presumed to be so ALWAYS in the same degree.”

The ridiculous Hollywood version in entertainment of what exorcism is in actuality shows again how manipulated we are through the imagery of technology (art). For demonology is merely the art of the evil genius (devilry) and designs of man through various magic spells in the artful languages. But the truth about fiction is always so much stranger, for the power and authority of the devil only attaches itself to man through his voluntary oath and contract to it, the covenant of evil (artifice). The surname is that which turns the spirit of man towards evil, as if possessed by a demon, where he follows in person-hood only the path and law of the false creator of that which it lies and exists in rent.

The church and state tricks man into the legal ceremony of exorcism from Nature, which is merely the act of pledging one’s oath to those fictional corporations so that man may be saved from his True Nature by the false-hood of legalism. An oath to church and state is an oath to oppose God and Nature. For these legal and ecclesiastical institutions consider man in his Natural state of Being under God and without their false legal permission to live in their personification and membership to be as an apostasy to themselves, a crime against the nature of those legalistic gods in fiction. We must therefore be exorcised from Nature and from Nature’s God by being adjoined into the legal realm by oath and fealty. We must be made as mortal in the shadow of those corporate offices of the immortal priests and politicians. We must pledge our allegiance to the cursed “holy name” of popes, kings, and all lesser magistrates in Order to be saved from our Natural Selves, and so that we may in a dead pledge live and subsist within the granted fictional persona of the gods and their iniquitous system of mammon. We must become demonically controlled and summonable sureties for their property.

The legalistic, ecclesiastical ceremony of exorcism is not to rid the demon (person) from controlling the man, but to rid man’s moral Nature and Law from controlling the state’s demon (person). Exorcism is the acceptance of the fiction over the Reality, to except the metaphor as a virtual reality without realization of the actual Reality in Nature it metaphorically points to. It is the ceremonial destruction of man’s soul, and the replacing of it with the artifice of legal and false-religious persona, for the moral soul of man is uncontrollable without that demonic possession of the re-created persona (status) of the state being artfully intermixed within the mind. Exorcism is to adjure, not to abjure.

To AD-JURE means to enter into the legal realm and system of law of the church and state.

To AB-JURE means to separate one's Self from that realm and legal system of law.

To use; to exert; as, TO EXERCISE AUTHORITY OR POWER. 3. To use for improvement in skill; as, to exercise arms. 4. To exert one's powers or strength; TO PRACTICE HABITUALLY; as, to exercise one's self in speaking or music. 5. To practice; TO PERFORM THE DUTIES OF; AS, TO EXERCISE AN OFFICE. 6. To train to use; to discipline; TO CAUSE TO PERFORM CERTAIN ACTS, as preparatory to service; as, to exercise troops. 7. To task; to keep employed; to use efforts. HEREIN DO I EXERCISE MYSELF; TO HAVE ALWAYS A CONSCIENCE VOID OF OFFENSE TOWARDS GOD AND MEN. Acts 24:16. 8. To use; to employ. 9. To busy; to keep busy in action, exertion or employment. 10. TO PAIN OR AFFLICT; to give anxiety to; to make uneasy.

- verb intransitive - To use action or exertion; as, to exercise for health or amusement. (Webster1828)

It is only when we take seriously with solemnity the legal fiction as our virtual reality that we lose ourselves within its artifice and illusion. And we only exercise this fictional persona for two reasons, ignorance or knowing corruption. Either way, to do this we must abandon our God and Nature.

It is only the person of man, the employment status, that causes man to act habitually in artifice (art) and in religious ceremonies that have nothing to do with the spiritual Nature of God or of man as and in his Eternal Existence and part of the Oneness of Creation. We fictionally exercise the franchise of personhood, and so we must be Naturally exorcized to be rid of that demonic possession of state property.

We must abjure the realm, not by leaving the physical land that we call by name (noun) the country, state, or nation, but by departing figuratively from the contractual state of jurisdiction and respect that name implies under oath. We must stop believing in the unreal. We must find the land and ground ourselves by quitting the watery graven image of the commercial sea. We must embrace Reality by extinguishing the fiction from our minds. We must reclaim the power of the blood and spirit. But let us be clear, the legal fiction will only be thwarted through spiritual means, and it only recognizes True religion as that which it cannot effect or respect. The devil that is the state can only cling to its own legal persona, which man voluntarily contracts in surety to his soul. And so only a religious man, a man of God following in the footsteps and example of Christ's teachings, may throw off in exorcism and abjuration that legal demonic possession. Only by ceasing to exercise the franchise of public citizen-ship can that demon be expelled.

No corporate, priest as corporate agent (employee) of the pope (antichrist) is needed…
“Exile is a PRIVATON of country, A CHANGE OF NATAL SOIL, A LOSS OF NATIVE LAWS.”

—Exilium est patriae privatio, natalis soli mutatio, legum nativarum amissio. 7 Coke, 20. (Black1)

But if the reader chooses to believe in Hollywood’s metaphorical, propagandist version of its artful imaginations and imagery of demons and exorcism in collusion with that Romish church and state, the author certainly cannot control your mind as government and the entertainment industry can. But know this... as we proceed, we will discover that werewolves, vampires, and most other mythological creatures and stories of man’s imagination also have their origins only in the legal fiction (this will be covered in Volume II). Reality, the Natural world, is our only goal, that which we must seek to realize without artifice and fear of imaginary things and church-created monsters. Belief in these fictions is no different from belief in the realness and legitimacy of government.

We are often left to foolishly wonder, as we gaze with utter amazement and disbelief upon the present corruption of our legally created politicians, why government does not charge itself with the present corruption of our legally created politicians, why government does not charge itself with corruption? But under reasonable scrutiny and without fallacious and patriotic beliefs in the belief in the realness and legitimacy of government.

CONSPIRACY - Criminal law, TORTS. An agreement between two or more persons to do an unlawful act, or an act which may become by the combination injurious to others... (Bouv1856)

CONFEDERACY - Criminal law. An agreement between two or more persons to do an unlawful act, or an act, which though not unlawful in itself, becomes so by the conspiracy. The technical term usually employed to signify this offense, is the technical term usually employed to signify this offense, is CONSPIRACY, (Bouv1856)

INJURY - Civil law, in the technical sense of the term it is a delict committed in contempt, or outrage of any one, whereby his body, his dignity, or his reputation, is maliciously injured. 2. Injuries may be divided into two classes. With reference to the means used by the wrong doer, namely, by words and by acts. The first are called verbal injuries, the latter real... A wrong or tort. Injuries are divided into public and private; and they affect the person, personal property, or real property. (Bouv1856)

INJURIOUS - adjective - [Latin injuriosus.] 1. Wrongful; unjust; hurtful to the rights of another, that which impairs rights or prevents the enjoyment of them, is injurious. 2. Hurtful to the person or health. Violence is injurious to the person, as intemperance is to the health. 3. Affecting with damage or loss. Indolence is injurious to property. 4. Mischievous; hurtful; as the injurious consequences of sin or folly. 5. Lessening or tarnishing reputation. The very suspicion of cowardice is injurious to a soldier’s character. 6. Detractory; contumelious (approachful and contemptuous); hurting reputation; as, obscure hints as well as open detracti, are sometimes injurious to reputation. 7. In general, whatever gives pain to the body or mind, whatever impairs or destroys property or rights.
What is indolence and why is it injurious to property? Understand this, and you understand the True price of Natural Freedom (verb) in action under God (verb), compared to inaction (verb) as the resulting danger of political security (noun) and monetary protection (noun) of the church (noun) and state (noun) in opposition to God’s Nature (verb). The corporate “Christian” in his secular office and membership is indolent in his worship, for his actions do not match his words, and his habits are idle compared to his spiritual course. He has no grace because his actions are not done in the glory of God’s Nature and Law, but in the pursuit of mammon and satisfaction of his principal (false god).

INDOLENCE - noun - [Latin indolentia; in and doleo, to be pained.] 1. Literally, freedom from pain. 2. Habitual idleness; indisposition to labor; laziness; INACTION OR WANT OF EXERTION OF BODY OR MIND, PROCEEDING FROM LOVE OF EASE OR AVERSION TO TOIL. Indolence like laziness, implies A CONSTITUTIONAL OR HABITUAL LOVE OF EASE; idleness does not. (Webs1828)

Indolence is the difference between a militia man and a man legally protected by a centralized “federal” military. One has calloused hands while the other’s remain soft and easily torn. One fights for his own freedom like a wolf and the other is merely a domesticated, four-footed animal content to be fed and fooled by his spewing dog-Latin, free to roam within borders and laws selected by others.

Darkness is much easier than Light, ignorance easier than knowledge, evil easier than Good, fiction easier than Reality, political slavery easier than Natural Freedom, and satan (the lie) easier than God (the Truth). This is why ease is considered a sin. In other words, indolence is easier than the efforts, labor, pains, and toils of moral rectitude in Natural Freedom. It is far easier to be bound to the legal law in contracted franchise and with the monetary protections of voluntary slavery without even knowing what that law says than to contemplate, apply, and follow the unwritten moral Law without any false protections in absolute responsibility for our own actions in all things. Ease is at best an inducement to sin, and the cities appear devilishly to provide ease from Nature’s hardships. And so we continuously lie to ourselves and except the fictions and monetary, temporary insurances of mammon that pretend to exist all around us, a matrix of utter self-deceit. And man seems to unconsciously seek that which is easiest, despite whether or not it is right, including the enslavement of other men in mammon’s valuation of money and interest. If you haven’t figured it out yet, Living under God is Living right, which is to say that Living consciously is what a Truly religious (adjective) man does, without the false burden of bearing the title (denomination) some false religion (noun) and its doctrine as a fiction of legal (anti-God) law. And though that path is never the easy one, it is the one with the least regrets and the most spiritual rewards. For in the end, man only has his soul, his spiritual substance, even as his body betrays him and the synapses of his mind fail. What use is fiction then? What use are the prizes of the sea when the body is finally placed into the dirt? And what good will these churches built by the hands of men serve but to trick the next generations of men, including your own children, into taking the false doctrines of church and state?

You might say that the Articles of Confederation and the Constitution of the United States (or the constitution of any nation as a fictional incorporation) were the original in-juries to all common men without bloodline consideration within their proclaimed legal jurisdictions; the original (ancestral) sin against God and Nature. These were the original conspiracies to exorcise and contractually in-jure (bring under legal law) men as fictional persons under oath (sacrament) into an ordained corporation called “government.” In other words, the national, federal government was created (constituted as a plan between several but not all specific People) to bring into a legal standing the artificial persons of other men through bondage, incorporating their “private” characters and reputations into fictional “public” personas, so that man could be instead considered as fictional characters (creations) of government under the bond of surety. In this way man, through such a fictional, proprietary id-entity, could be ruled via the administration of that fiction of law, the person, by and through the pretended impersonation of magistrates (creator gods) that as agents govern over their own fictional creation (legal jurisdiction). This is akin to satan tricking man into contractually entering hell by doing his deeds in Life rather than Living for admittance into heaven. The state forces men to do its bidding by conning man to voluntarily contract with it in a person-hood. While this may go against the identity crisis of that traditional pat-riot-ism of the typical “citizen” of the United States or elsewhere, Reality is much different from what that belief system portrays. This work is of course designed to uncover just what a citizen is juxtaposed to the lie that is sold to men acting in that citizenry.

And we must not forget that the Bible, as an unwritten part of the common law, is there for a purpose. It is there as a guidepost, a disclaimer if you will, which warns against all that the state has to offer in its contracts and district. It is the moral law that stands in juxtaposition to the secular establishment of legalism. It is as well considered as an unwritten part of the common law because without it, man loses his access to the common and spiritual law when he excepts that which is contractually opposed to and warned against in the Bible. In other words, you have no excuse but ignorance of scriptures (Law), and ignorance of even the Highest Law is certainly no excuse.

And this brings us to the artful word tort. The question is not so much what a tort is but rather who may claim it? Who or what may actually be tortiously harmed? Encyclopedia Britannica explains this notion of what exactly is a tort. Pay close attention to the last sentence in this definition:

“Tort, in common law, civil law, and the vast majority of legal systems that derive from them, any instance of harmful behaviour, such as physical attack on one’s PERSON, INTERFERENCE WITH ONE’S POSSESSIONS, OR THE USE AND ENJOYMENT OF ONE’S LAND, economic interests (under certain conditions), HONOUR, REPUTATION, and PRIVACY. The term derives from Latin tortum, meaning “something twisted, wrong, or crooked.” THE CONCEPT ENCOMPASSES ONLY THOSE CIVIL WRONGS INDEPENDENT OF CONTRACTS.”

It is very important to note that public persons have no ability to claim actual tort damages in any constitutional or other lawful way, except that which is strictly expressed or tacitly presumed by the external, tacit contract of personhood. The contractual relationship destroys all others, and a US citizenship is therefore never under common law. The contract kills equitable and common law considerations and destroys spiritual ones. Contracts are the surrendering of general rights in acceptance of special (in species/class) legal ones. And one certainly cannot harm (cause tort to) the privacy of an already public (published) persona!

"In Minor v. Happersett, Chief Justice Waite, when construing, in behalf of the court, the very provision of the Fourteenth Amendment now in question, said: "The Constitution does not, in words, say who shall be natural-born citizens. Resort must be had elsewhere to ascertain that." And he proceeded to resort to the common law as an aid in the construction of this provision. 21 Wall. 167."
"In Smith v. Alabama, Mr. Justice Matthews, delivering the judgment of the court, said: "THERE IS NO COMMON LAW OF THE UNITED STATES, IN THE SENSE OF A NATIONAL CUSTOMARY LAW, DISTINCT FROM THE COMMON LAW OF ENGLAND AS ADOPTED BY THE SEVERAL STATES EACH FOR ITSELF, APPLIED AS ITS LOCAL LAW, and subject to such alteration as may be provided BY ITS OWN STATUTES... There is, however, one clear exception to the statement that THERE IS NO NATIONAL COMMON LAW. The interpretation of the Constitution of the United States is necessarily influenced by the fact that ITS PROVISIONS ARE FRAMED IN THE LANGUAGE OF THE ENGLISH COMMON LAW, AND ARE TO BE READ IN THE LIGHT OF ITS HISTORY." 124 U.S. 478.”

—UNITED STATES v. WONG KIM ARK, 169 U.S. 649 (1898)

In other words, you know nothing about the US constitution unless you know the entirety of English common law and its history, which of course stems from Roman law. And this is why most "patriots" are laughed out of the courtroom when they attempt to invoke the constitution in a purely non-constitutional, administrative, commercial court. For they know not the nature of the syn (person) they are appearing as.

"[T]he Constitution REQUIRES NOT FOLLOWING THE DICTATES OF THE DOCUMENT BUT WORKING OUT, OVER TIME, A COMPLEX BALANCE AMONG INSTITUTIONAL INTERESTS. THAT IS HOW WE DO CONSTITUTIONAL LAW... IT IS NEVER ACCEPTABLE TO ANNOUNCE THAT YOU ARE IGNORING THE TEXT."

The devil only operates and has influence via contract, and man can only be harmed by these legal devils when he contracts with them. This cannot be understated, for the contractual relationship prevents the Law of God as Natural Law and also any constitutional law from negatively protecting the contracted party. No tort exists under the contract of citizenship, except those defined by the tortuous creators of that contract. An evil man (devil) will never punish his own evil actions. This is to say that, because the person (legal status) is property of government, the man in surety to the person has no right to declare that a tort was committed against his person. He is not acting in privacy, and so his projected self-image cannot be harmed.

Instead, government offers what is called as remedy, which is a fee paid to justify an act of harm, usually after the harm is already done and in Reality unrepairable. When we are harmed through our strawman, dis-ease caused by such harm and injury is generally contracted only upon that fictional persona, not our actual (private) Self. And so a false cure, a remedy, may be attained in certain cases. But this is not a tort. Essentially, we are merely talking about accepting money as a valuation of the crimes and evils committed against us, while the evil-doer’s go free without punishment. This is remedy, and it is what every attorney strives to attain for its clients. Remedy, very importantly, is not a solution. Throwing money at legal organizations and fictional, political associations as reparations for slavery is an example of remedy, as the paying off of mischiefs and evils committed by valuing them in monetary form, a shameful sham of a practice, even as the bloodline posterity of those constitutionally protected land and slave holders of old continue today in private, sovereign power and authority over the money supply and over the persons of the lineage of those former slaves! Nothing has changed, except that all common men became the slaves of government instead of belonging to the private landholders.

To the corrupt man, money remedies all dis-ease even as the symptoms flourish.

REMEDY - noun - [Latin remedium; re and nedeor, to heal.] 1. That which CURES A DISEASE: any medicine or application which puts an end to disease and restores health; with for; as a remedy for the gout. 2. That which counteracts an evil of any kind; with for, to or against; usually with for. CIVIL GOVERNMENT IS THE REMEDY FOR THE EVILS OF NATURAL LIBERTY. What remedy can be provided for extravagance in dress? The man who shall invent an effectual remedy for intemperance will deserve every thing from his fellow men. 3. THAT WHICH CURES UNEASINESS. Our griefs how swift, our remedies how slow. 4. That which REPAIRS loss or disaster. REPARATION. IN THE DEATH OF A MAN THERE IS NO REMEDY. - verb transitive - 1. To cure; to heal; as, to remedy a disease. 2. To cure; TO REMOVE. AS AN EVIL. as, to remedy grief; to remedy the evils of a war. 3. To repair; TO REMOVE MISCHIEF; in a very general sense. (Webster1828)

When we cure meat with salt, that is, meat that is already dead, we do not fool ourselves into thinking we are providing Life-affirming remedy or a cure for disease, but rather are seeking only to preserve and prolong the already dead state of being so that we may continue to devour that dead thing for a longer period of time. Well, I’m sorry to inform you, but citizenships are also considered as spiritually dead animals whose diseases are cured similarly, but with money as that remedy. After all, money makes the world go round. Hopefully by now we can recognize what is the Real world and what is the figurative, monetized one.

This notion that civil government is the remedy or cure for the evils of Natural Liberty, as the civil government of the public-minded, unregenerate, spiritually dead goyim, is one of the most profound statements I have come across. It is a True statement in every sense of the word. For to a slave-master, to a devil, and commercially speaking, the notion of free men under God’s Word (Son) is the purest of evil, especially to those of the Talmudic law. Natural Liberty can only be obtained under the scriptural teachings and no other way. For even the private People of the several (private) States are not Naturally Free, relying on this corrupt system to control all others civilly and militarily in commerce so as to protect the false sovereignty of their own private legal status. For these men are not acting morally or under the Higher Law of God. Instead, they created this legal system to bypass that Law of Nature and establish themselves as a constituted magistracy and body politic of idolatrous gods, having no law higher than their own corruption. And so as long as our collective fear lies in these landlords instead of the Lord of All Things, we will be governed by such civil means and we will continue to fall victim to the manufactured consent and empty remedies to the serial crimes committed by these most corrupted of men.

So let us be clear here that the constitution is a compact in covenant, which is just another word for contract. We speak of covenant law both in the ecclesiastical and civil law. But from what root does this word actually stem from? The answer is surprising, especially to those fooled by the notion of the supposed “spiritual” covenant law within national constitutions, as if spirituality can be found in any form of the legal words of a contract.
There is a reason that witches and thieves form covens, and it is the same reason that lawyers, politicians, industrialists, and jurists do as well; the same reason those so-called “founding fathers” formed the specific covenant law of the United States. It is only to break all other laws by creating an unnatural realm and jurisdiction that excuses such fraud by the anarchy of permissive license (organized chaos), an honor system among thieves. To avoid punishment for one’s own crimes, one merely need constitute oneself as a sovereign god and pretend to be untouchable while forging a false history (his story) in the romantic glory of artifice for those who would worship your artful greatness and lawlessness.

COVENANCED - participle passive - PLEDGED or promised by covenant. (Webs1828)

COVENOUS, COVINOUS - adjective - [See COVIN ] COLLUSIVE; FRAUDULENT; DECEITFUL; as a covenuous lease of LANDS. (Webs1828)

COVINUS - adjective - Deceitful; collusive; fraudulent. (Webs1828)

COVIN - noun - In law, a collusive or deceitful AGREEMENT BETWEEN TWO OR MORE TO PREJUDICE A THIRD PERSON. (Webs1828)

COVENANT - noun - [L, to come; a coming together; a meeting or agreement of minds.] 1. A mutual CONSENT or agreement OF TWO OR MORE PERSONS, to do or to forbear some act or thing; A CONTRACT; stipulation. A COVENANT IS CREATED BY DEED IN WRITING, SEALED AND EXECUTED; OR IT MAY BE IMPLIED IN THE CONTRACT. 2. A WRITING CONTAINING THE TERMS OF AGREEMENT OR CONTRACT BETWEEN PARTIES; or the CLAUSE of agreement in a deed containing the covenant. 3. In theology, the covenant of works, is that implied in the commands, prohibitions, and promises of God; the promise of God to man, that man’s perfect obedience should entitle him to happiness. This do, and live; that do, and die. The covenant of redemption, is the mutual agreement between the Father and Son, respecting the redemption of sinners by Christ. The covenant of grace, is that by which God engages to bestow salvation on man, UPON THE CONDITION THAT MAN SHALL BELIEVE IN CHRIST AND YIELD OBEDIENCE TO THE TERMS OF THE GOSPEL. 4. In church affairs, a solemn agreement between the MEMBERS of a church, that they will walk together according to the precepts of the gospel, in brotherly affection. - verb intransitive - To enter into a formal agreement; to stipulate; TO BIND ONE’S SELF BY CONTRACT. A covenants with B TO CONVEY TO HIM A CERTAIN ESTATE. When the terms are expressed it has for before the thing or price. They covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver. Matthew 26:15. - verb transitive - To grant or promise by covenant. (Webs1828)

Remember, a conspiracy is an agreement or coming together of minds between two or more persons to do some act, specifically as a covenant to harm, injure, or exclude other persons. This is merely the definition of the word covenant, and a constitution is merely a legal covenant. It was the Bible that said love thy neighbor, love no foolish oaths, and to beware of combinations of men (conspiracies). But it is the corporate denomination of the Christian church that often says love only thy brother, only the other members of the corporation, and excommunicate without love all others, even our own family, our own sons, daughters, or parents. Freemasonry is built upon this tenet of “brotherly love,” but this false love (belief) is only a form of protectionism that says do not rat out your fellow masonic members in their commission of crimes. In christ, there is no brotherhood, there is only all of man. To love one’s enemy is the Higher love. But to any member, any artificial brother, all outsiders are the enemy. To the Jew, the enemy is all those not Jewish by blood, the goyim, and are to be enslaved to serve the Jew according to Talmudic civil law. A nation is built specifically upon the intention of injuring and thus harming the rights of all others not inclusive of the original covenant and its bloodline posterity. This cannot be dismissed by any reasonable man in due diligence, and certainly not by a spiritual one.
We must also be able to discern between the dualistic forms of the “gospel” as presented by the corporate church. Secular, organized religions will only ever promote their own doctrines, for their existence is against the very gospel of christ. There is the gospel of christ and there is the gospel of church and state. Which one we follow defines the state of our soul, our spiritual and moral Being, and thus our Law.

GOSPEL - noun - [Latin evangelium, a good or joyful message] The history of the birth, life, actions, death, resurrection, ascension and doctrines of Jesus Christ; OR A REVELATION OF THE GRACE OF GOD TO FALLEN MAN THROUGH A MEDIATOR, including the character, actions, and doctrines of Christ, WITH THE WHOLE SCHEME OF SALVATION, as revealed by Christ and his apostles. This gospel is said to have been preached to Abraham, by the promise, ‘in thee shall all NATIONS be blessed.’ Galatians 3:8. It is called the gospel of God. Romans 1:1. It is called the gospel of Christ. Romans 1:16. It is called the gospel of salvation. Ephesians 1:13. - verb transitive - To instruct in the gospel; OR TO FILL WITH SENTIMENTS OF RELIGION.

1. GOD’S WORD.
2. Divinity; theology.
3. ANY GENERAL DOCTRINE. (Webs1828)

Nothing in the teachings of christ was a blessing on any nation. Nothing in the Bible states that the God of Nature blesses nations. Only men acting as gods, as kings in christ’s and therefore God’s stead blesses nations in the name of God. Here again, this statement might offend the patriotic mind, but it’s only a self-evident Truth. Nature and fiction are opposed. Nature is the blessing of God. And so it is ridiculous to contemplate that God would bless anything but Its own Creation. There is no nation in the world that does not claim to be blessed by God. And yet there is no nation in the world that follows God’s Law. Nations are legal creations, following only the legal law of their own creation, as generally added to the law of Rome. They are created only in opposition to God and Natural Law. And yet each “people” identifies as God’s chosen ones. This is at the very least oxymoronic, and at worst completely insane.

Are the differences between the gospel of christ and the doctrines of religion clear? Even the scriptures warn of the conspiracy of the religions and their non-prophets, who seek to draw men into their covens and membership contracts for fraudulent purposes and to teach their own doctrines against that of the True words of christ.

“THERE IS A CONSPIRACY OF HER PROPHETS in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey; THEY HAVE DEVoured SOULS; they have taken the treasure and precious things; they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.”

—Ezekiel 22:25 KJV

There is one moral question that the reader must ask him or her Self. How exactly did these men originally obtain the land that it supposedly then granted and conveyed through its self-proclaimed constitutional authority to do so? Did history magically re-start? Was the world re-created by these legal gods in 1776? Ultimately, there are only two answers, that of the deceits of conquering by bloodshed and commercial money transfer for purchase. Either form was only that of blood-money used to conquer that which is God’s Nature and resell it to the fools who worship in their own conceit.
We must remember that once men join together in conspiracy (confederation), then those men can commit no conspiracy except among themselves and against that system of government that they have created, but never to or against those fools who voluntarily subject themselves to it. To subject oneself to a government is to subject oneself to a conspiracy, and thus is an act of express consent to accept that no conspiracy or fraud legally exists. It is make-believe; as legalized (art forced into) truth. Honor among legal thieves. The confederation (conspiracy) cannot commit a separate conspiracy against that which is not a party to the original combination in covenant, especially those of us who voluntarily participate and subject ourselves under the authority of that conspiracy. We have no right to complain about the usual course of business (happiness) in commerce if we are acting as commercial property (willing slaves) of that commercial conspiracy in persona. We either leave it in abandonment or we go along with its game of monopoly. We have free will. We are free to individually choose. Yet we are under the illusion of these word-magicians that we have no Real choice, for the magical fiction has pulled mammon’s wool of person-hood over our eyes to blind us. We equate money (remedy) to True Freedom, forgetting that God’s Natural Realm is the only salvation (solution), the only Truth.

Whatever fantasy you may have about the constitution being a spiritual covenant, I assure you that you are sadly mistaken. Paper is never spiritual; not this work, not the Bible, and certainly not the constitution of the United States. Spirituality is a result of actions, not a grouping of words. Spirituality is only what happens in Nature, as that which happens inside of man and is then expressed and manifested through his actions, that is the only spirituality. All else is only fiction, parable, fable, words, law, and most often deceit. Mention of christ is certainly nowhere to be found within any national constitution and certainly not in this one, nor is any aspect of the Natural Law of God secured. The US constitution is nothing more or less than a blueprint for a pirate and witch coven built for commercial purposes, where spells of word-magic are cast in the legal craft causing men to abandon all spirituality in their pursuits of mammon. It is certainly correct to say that constitutions are of covenant law, but now you know the Reality about what any other covenant is outside of God’s Grace, outside of Natural Law. For any other covenant can only ever be exclusive, created for the purposes of commerce, which is opposed to the covenant of Grace. No oaths (pledges), only vows (promises to God). To be absolutely clear, a legal covenant can only consist of two or more men conspiring against others, or at least in exclusion of all others so as to benefit by their indenture. It can serve no other purpose, for without such exclusion there would be no need to constitute the covenant despite scripture.

A sovereignty must have its subjects, or there can be no purpose in that sovereignty. A new, legal covenant between all living men in the world would be pointless, for all men would necessarily be included and none excluded. The Bible is the only legitimate covenant, including all men in its potentiality, for the only way that this Higher, moral Law may manifest is through man’s own actions in conscious duty to his fellow man. Thus, the Bible is a Purely negative covenant, and such Grace of God may only be attained by the learned and just moral man who abandons his positively permitted, legally licensed heathen ways. With nothing lower, there would be nothing higher, and so the word sovereignty would be a pointless redundancy. The very fact that legal “sovereignty” exists in the United States and other nations and states necessarily requires there to be a lower class of subjects to that sovereignty. Again, this is merely a self-evident conclusion of reason. God’s covenant of Grace is the only one that fulfills that promise, that all men should be blessed by their covenant with God’s Nature and Law, and be duty bound to respect that Truth of Nature. The US constitution, as a covenant (coven) between only legally considered “white persons” of a certain blood-line, has nothing of God’s spiritual Realm about it. It originated as only a covenant of security in support of slavery, commerce, taxation, and monetary gains over those not of the posterity, including slaves, indentures, domestics, and commoners. And so you must ask yourself, what does it really mean to be a “constitutionalist,” when in fact public persons are constituted as debtors under that compact? In Reality, celebrating patriotically and defending to the death that which contractually enslaves you to a performance debt in abandonment of God’s law… is that not akin to devil worship?
The officers of government are agents (employees) acting under flattery in the agency of their corporate principal government employer. Their actions as hirelings, prostitutes, and mercenaries are generally protected and pensioned by their principal under the color of title and office in contract and insurance. This is again called conspiracy or confederation, a simulation of security by money and violence, and the injuries caused by these agents are thus pretended to be justified under color of law and color of title under color of office and by monetary compensation and insurance. The problem is, all citizen-ships are also agents of that principal government; employees; officers. Even the proudest of slaves will agentically lash out against his fellow slaves to protect his limited shelter and protections — his “pursuit of happiness” under his slave-master.

No king would ever accuse himself of a plan against himself, nor would he charge those under him with conspiracy for a plan put into place with the design of benefiting that kingdom (corporation), even at the expense (injury/tort) of all men in persona (mask) under that government. The purpose of government is plainly and easily explained as a conspiracy against its voluntarily contracted or militarily conquered subjects for the benefit of its creators (the People that created/constituted the government corporation as signatories for themselves and their Posterity). A kingdom, national, or state government is absolutely no different from any other form of commercial corporation created to benefit its CEO and stake-holders. This is again an obvious, self-evident Truth.

By comprehending that the constituted government (created by the supposed bloodline of People) acts as a single body politic god over its own patented fictional words, then we can see why men acting as gods in government would claim it as evil to impede man’s fictional law in government, calling it as a conspiracy. “God,” whether it be Jehovah or as a legal title of magistrates or of the ecclesiastical ranks, is always good. And that which opposes any form of “god” is always evil. Thus the One True God is evil to these secondary legal gods. These are merely terms of art, stolen from Nature and repurposed by evil men for their own good. Money is good to them, for they are its creator, and money is the foundation of the contractual debt laid upon their subjects in mammon. The constitution is meaningless to public persons in this regard, for the act of a citizen-ship impeding even the most corrupt government function (whether it be constitutional or unconstitutional) is the same as a slave attempting to impede his master’s crop or other production capacity. He will bleed the Real red blood he supposedly has no legal capacity to hold for his efforts against his master.

In law, while standing in front of these gods of fiction at bar and in the office and jurisdictional authority of their legal agency, we appear as the image or form of something other than what we Truly are: as artificial (dead) creations of man’s legal law (of the gods) known as “fictions of law,” In persona (mask), our actions are not our own nor guided by our own moral Good, but instead are done through agency as fictional persons of the state and its law, not our own. If our morals are told to us by amorally governing religious institutions, then we can ourselves lay no claim as the Source (Self) of our own moral behavior or being. In fact, incredibly, our moral actions are quite illegal under the law of man without permission (license) to act upon them. Morals are legally redefined to benefit the pursuits of the legal gods. This is why churches are incorporated under permissive, legal, contractual federal laws, for a church without incorporation under the state as its supreme authority instead of God would be illegal and thus uncontrollable by the state. The state cannot control the Creation and Property of God, only its own false re-creation, that which is built by hands and words. True Religion belongs to God, while secular, corporate religions can only belong and worship to the state and pay tribute to it in mammon.

In the realm and art of a fictional court of legal law, we are literally invisible without first identifying ourselves as the name of a legally registered, dead “persona” — the full, admixed name of a strawman.

To comprehend what the word illegal means in this case, we must define similar terms.

INFORMAL - adjective - [in and formal.] Not in the regular or usual form; as an informal writing; informal proceedings. 1. Not in the usual manner; NOT ACCORDING TO CUSTOM; as an informal visit. 2. NOT WITH THE OFFICIAL FORMS; as the secretary made to the envoy an informal communication. (Webb1828)
INFORMAL - Deficient in legal form; INARTIFICIALLY DRAWN UP. (Black1)

INFORMALITY - WANT OF LEGAL FORM. (Black1)

INFORMALITY - noun - [from informal.] Want of REGULAR or CUSTOMARY form, THE INFORMALITY OF LEGAL PROCEEDINGS MAY RENDER THEM VOID. (Wels1828)

FORMA - Latin. Form: formality: CHARACTER. Occurs in the phrases in forma pauperis, and pro forma. (WCA1889)

FORMALITER - IN FORM: formally. (WCA1889)

FORMALITY - ESTABLISHED ORDER OR METHOD, rule of proceeding or EXPRESSION. Opposed (to) informality. (WCA1889)

FORMAL - BELONGING OR ESSENTIAL TO THE FORM or frame of a thing; NOT OF THE SUBSTANCE; as, a formal defect or irregularity. A FORMAL PARTY: also, according to regular method of procedure. OPPOSED (TO) SUBSTANTIAL, REAL. See Demurrer. (WCA1889)

FORM - 1. ESTABLISHED METHOD OF EXPRESSION OR PRACTICE: A FIXED WAY OF PROCEEDING. Compare COURSE. 3. The model of an INSTRUMENT OR LEGAL PROCEEDING; a formula. See Blanks. OPPOSED TO SUBSTANCE. THAT WITHOUT WHICH THE RIGHT SUFFICIENTLY APPEARS TO THE COURT IS FORM. WHATEVER IS WANTING OR IMPERFECT, by reason whereof THE RIGHT APPEARS NOT, is a DEFECT OF SUBSTANCE. Matter of form is whatever relates, not to the purpose or object of an instrument, or to a right involved in, or affected by it, BUT MERELY TO THE LANGUAGE OR EXPRESSION, without affecting the issue presented, the evidence requisite, the right of a party, or a step necessary in furtherance of legal proceedings. (WCA1889)

The mother of the child, at birth, in assuming the office of and signing as the “informer,” is accusing her own child as being a violation of law; of being the product of an adulterous and illegitimate union without substance (blood), and therefore unwittingly declaring and certifying it to be formed as such; as a bastard, an abomination before God and country. The child (issue) is thus no longer in a state of informality. It is given legal capacity in legal form as a legal persona. Its legal form is constituted by the mother’s in-formation of it into the legal matrix (womb) of the district. This is the simulation of a blood sacrifice to the gods of the nation.

A child without a birth certificate is a child without legal form. A spiritual man is informal, Living without legal form or capacity, without status, without insurance, and generally without a mask. It is this informality that figuratively immunizes that child from legal dis-ease and consideration. With no person (status), no man (surety) can be summoned, for no possession is apparent or certified. With no surety, no bond under debt can be broken, no artificial chains can be pulled, and no contractual relation-ship can be said to exist or be legally pirated. No legal injury can occur and no insurance can be claimed, for no surname exists to insure. No public ad-venture in interstate (foreign) commerce is established, no principal, and no agent. In other words, there has been no legal capacity established.

The spiritual, True Religiously (verb) Lawful man is only ever in an informal (i.e., ambiguous) state of Being, of Pure negative substance in Self-Existence, without artificial (legal) form or memberships. The substantial, spiritual man takes no artificial legal form, instead remaining purely a Being of substance Living only in the Realm of God’s Nature (Reality). The spiritual man has no legal name and no legal status except that of a negative and reserved consideration, standing only in opposition to any imposed presumption of any vehicle or word magic of positive law. Therefore he cannot be gravely recognized by the dead things of government, for he has not taken the marks and signs of the spiritually dead. He has no capacity to carry the dead artifices of man’s law, for he has been born again into innocence, into the absence of all of man’s controlling fictions. The Living have no place in the legal fiction, just as the spirit repulses that which is unspiritual.

But all of this changes when man takes upon his True and unblemished Self any legal name, number, or title in surety, and expresses himself in the fictional disposition and surety of another (a stranger), bearing its Arms despite one’s own blood consideration (family, filiation). If a man has taken no legal form, the artificial substance of the legal law cannot attach itself to the man, for the man has no recognizable person (status) that might attract such an attachment. He is invisible; incorruptible, intangible, as a ghost in the machine. And it’s his and only his choice alone to remain that way, to Be as the remnant in remainder.

Citizen-ship and person-hood (personification) places the spiritually Living man into such a fictional disposition. In other words, his unalienable position under God and within Nature (Creation) and Its Law is alienated by legal fiction (government), and that contractual relation-ship establishes the law. This is in-jury; the injuring of man into the legal fiction.

When we break that word apart into its functioning word-DNA parts that make up the whole, we can comprehend that to in-jure someone or something is to bring it into and under the status (standing) of the legal realm of law. The law only applies to those in-jured (adjudged) under it. Law only lingers without purpose until an injury is incurred, and only then is the man’s attached persona brought forcibly (summoned) into that domain. This is called injury; the state of being fictionally contemplated in persona by a magistrate and jury in administrative judgement. Thus a man and his land or property is legally seized by government. The man takes possession of (uses) a person (legal status) of the state, acting in the agency thereof (as an agent of the government of the state) in all his affairs, and so the state taxes his use and gains therein. All his stuff belongs to the fictional persona, not to his actual Self, for the person and the law that protects it belong to the state. Thus, all his commercially (publicly) acquired stuff belongs to the state.

As Bouvier explains, we are injured by the use of the Arms of the United States, as our dignity and reputation is slandered by our false birth into this fiction and incorporation of its surname with our Real, God-given (blood-right) first name. We are distinctly, formally, publicly marked, which is an injury (harm) to our privacy.

INJURY - Civil law. In the technical sense of the term it is a delict committed in contempt, or outrage of any one, whereby his body, his DIGNITY, or his REPUTATION, is maliciously injured. 2. Injuries may be divided into two classes. With reference to the means used by the wrong doer, namely, by WORDS and by ACTS. The first are called verbal injuries, the latter real. 3. A verbal injury, when directed against a PRIVATE PERSON, consists in the uttering contumelious (reproachful) words, which tend TO EXPOSE HIS CHARACTER, by making him little or ridiculous. Where the offensive words are uttered in the heat of a dispute, and spoken to the person’s face, the law does not presume any malicious intention in the utterer, whose resentment generally subsides with his passion; and yet, even in that case, the truth of the injurious words seldom absolves entirely from punishment. Where the injurious expressions have a tendency TO BLACKEN ONE’S MORAL CHARACTER, OR FIX SOME PARTICULAR GUILT UPON HIM, and are deliberately repeated in different companies, or banded about in whispers to confidants, it then grows up to the crime of slander, agreeably to the distinction of the ROMAN LAW, de injur. 4. A REAL injury is inflicted by any fact by which a person’s honor or dignity is affected; as striking one with a cane, or even aiming a blow without striking; spitting in one’s face; ASSUMING A COAT OF ARMS, OR ANY OTHER MARK OF DISTINCTION PROPER TO ANOTHER, etc. The composing and publishing defamatory libels may be reckoned of this kind. (Bouv1856)
INJURING - participle present tense - Hurting; damaging; impairing; weakening; RENDERING WORSE. (Webs1828)

INJURIA - Latin. Injury; wrong; THE PRIVATION OR VIOLATION OF RIGHT. (Black1)

INJURE - To violate the legal right of another or inflict an actionable wrong. To do harm to: to hurt; damage; impair; to hurt or wound, AS THE PERSON; to impair the soundness of, as health. As applied to a building, "injure" means to materially impair or destroy any part of the existing structure. (Black4)

IN - In the law of real estate, this preposition has always been used to denote the fact of SEISIN, TITLE, or POSSESSION, and apparently serves as an elliptical expression for some such phrase as "in possession," or as an abbreviation for "intitled" or "invested with title." Thus, in the old books, a TENANT is said to be "IN BY LEASE OF HIS LESSOR." An elastic preposition in other cases, expressing relation of presence, EXISTENCE, situation, inclusion, action, etc.; INCLOSED OR SURROUNDED BY LIMITS, as in a room; also meaning for, in and about, on, within, etc., according to context. (Black4)

JURE CIVILI - By the civil law. (Black4)

By this definition, we can stop wondering what it is to be in a state of independence, remembering that a declared independence by a government is always artificial (political) and thus only internal, and that even the conquered nations and cities of that Roman Empire were also politically independent of the empire that Rome "built" (i.e., declared existent through lines on maps). The conquerer seldom alters the existing government of that which it conquers, instead incrementally destroying it from within due to its dependence, which we call romantically as independence. Do not be fooled by these terms of art. Legal is opposed to God and Nature. Never forget this Truth, and don’t let pat-riot-ism (emotion) defeat your ability to reason.

A legal in-law (in-jure) by marriage contract is a strange concept. It is a violation of Nature (Law), creating legal connection of that which is not connected in Reality (by blood). And so this is really an injury, the bringing of two persons into a legal representation and relation-ship by force of law. It’s a false, bloodless joining of Arms. And so we must begin to consider that everything that happens to us in law as it affects the attached strawman persona, is indeed an injury. Without that person (status) and the surety bond we are presumed to hold by our use of its surname, no public, positive law would have the power to injure us (nor summon us) into that legal system. For the injury only happens to the person, not the man.

If the word in refers to a state being within “fact of seisin, title, or possession,” then again we better rethink just what it means to be in-dependent. For political independence can then only mean that we are in a title of dependence, that we are dependent upon the state for our possessions. It should be obvious by now that a fiction, a fictional persona (estate), can only exist and subsist (as a confirmed and ratified lie) within the confines of a government or nation’s jurisdictional borders (form without substance). And so like a cartoon character, a person cannot be Naturally in-dependent from the state, for a person is not of Nature. Persons are birthed and incorporated in the state, never without. There can be only political independence in the political fiction, as a cartoon is free to roam within its cartoon borders, and a pet rabbit or bird can roam freely within its cage. But a person or state cannot exist except within its established and ordained borders of franchise (political freedom), its jurisdictional consideration, just as a cartoon character (person) cannot step into the Real world, into God’s Nature, for it is not a Creation of God. The cartoon has no choice as to what its creator attaches to it, as that artificially drawn clothing of legal forms and marks. We are all in-jured into the legal system via attachment of our Good name to the state’s (last) surname in surety and bondage.

This also explains the functionality and limitations of what are called “independent agencies of government,” including the Post Office, Federal Reserve, Social Security Administration, Securities and Exchange Commission, etc. To imagine these to be Naturally independent from the United States, as if they could exist or be created somehow to operate outside of their own creators’ realm of jurisdiction and somehow obtain a status higher than their legal creator-gods (government), has been one of the leading and most ridiculously fallacious truths (celebrated lies) in the patriot mythology and alternative shock jock transmissions. And it allows “Congress” to blame its own creation, the central bank, for all the problems that Congress is responsible for. For the central bank is completely, 100% bound by the laws of the United States, which Congress creates. And so we find these independent agencies to be merely another form of controlled opposition, dummy corporations created to do the dirty work so that Congress (the principal) can pretend to have clean hands and pretend to have no control over these independent agencies it created. Imagine that, an agent without a principal. That’s like cow’s milk without a cow (source). It’s certainly a false sense of the perception of freedom, which as we now know, is merely a franchise. Citizenship is politically independent agencies too. But that doesn’t mean in any way that we’re somehow Free under God or not contractually bound by the law of our principal (creator of artifice).

Let us look even closer at what it means to be birthed into the nation; to be residential tenants within and forced under this neo-feudal condition. Remember, only the blood in posterity as private citizens of each State (People) can legitimately (lawfully) hold lands, not public subjects as purely foreign, commercialized citizen-ships (dwellers) in mere resident usufruct. Only blood-heirs may claim domiciliary rights to hold land. Here is what happens to most of us renters in tenancy when our blood is corrupted by legal word trickery and magic; when we are made certifiably, spiritually dead by the granting of civil life through our birth and de-livery. For the son follows the status (person) of his parents, and the blood of our actual forefathers (not the fictional founders/fathers of a municipal corporation) were de-livered long ago into this fictional death and debtor’s hell.

“"The Constitution of the United States was made not merely for the generation that then existed, but for posterity — unlimited, undefined, ENDLESS, PERPETUAL POSTERITY."

—Henry Clay

---

But who qualifies to be the posterity of those whom then politically existed as We, the private People?

More importantly, just who or what is excluded?

We, as United States citizenships are not acting in and by the fabled genealogy in posterity of our Natural blood ties and heraldic Arms, but instead only in a legal, artificial office. We are not acting as the posterity or ancestry in blood relations, we are adopted officers (employees) of the state. We have lost our Natural Arms in consanguinity of blood relations, and instead we bear the artificial, legal Arms of the United States (or of the other fictional nations of goyim), flying its flag and worshiping its Seal (Arms) with every dollar (or other national currency) we spend and every term of art we speak.

POSTERITY - noun - [Latin posteritas, from posterus, from post, after] 1. Descendants; children, children’s children, etc., indefinitely; the race that proceeds from a progenitor. The whole HUMAN RACE are the posterity of Adam. 2. In a general sense, SUCCEEDING GENERATIONS; OPPOSED TO ANCESTORS. To the unhappy that unjustly bleed, Heav’n gives posterity t’ avenge the deed. (Webs1828)
POSTERITY - Descents, All the descendants of a person IN A DIRECT LINE. (Bouv1856)

DIRECT - Straight forward; NOT COLLATERAL. 2. The direct line of descents for example, is formed by a series of degrees between persons who descend one from another. (Bouv1856)

DESCENT - HEREDITARY SUCCESSION. Descent is THE TITLE, whereby A PERSON, upon the death of HIS ANCESTOR, ACQUIRES THE ESTATE OF THE LATTER, AS HIS HEIR AT LAW. This manner of acquiring title IS DIRECTLY OPPOSED TO THAT OF PURCHASE. 2. It will be proper to consider, 1. What kind of property descends; and, 2. The general rules of descent. 3. - §1. All real estate, and all freehold of inheritance in land, DESCEND TO THE HEIR. And, as being accessory to the land and making a part of the inheritance, fixtures, and emblements, and all things annexed to, or connected with the land, DESCEND WITH IT TO THE HEIR. TERMS FOR YEARS, AND OTHER ESTATES LESS THAN FREEHOLD PASS TO THE EXECUTOR, AND ARE NOT SUBJECTS OF DESCENT. IT IS A RULE AT COMMON LAW THAT NO ONE CAN INHERIT REAL ESTATE UNLESS HE WAS HEIR TO THE PERSON LAST SEISED. THIS DOES NOT APPLY AS A GENERAL RULE IN THE UNITED STATES. Vide article Possessio fratris… 12. It is proper before closing this article, to remind the reader, that IN COMPUTING THE DEGREES OF CONSANGUINITY, THE CIVIL LAW IS FOLLOWED GENERALLY IN THIS COUNTRY, except in North Carolina, WHERE THE RULES OF THE COMMON LAW IN THEIR APPLICATION TO DESCENTS ARE ADOPTED, TO ASCERTAIN THE DEGREE OF CONSANGUINITY. Vide the articles Branch; Consanguinity; Degree; Line. (Bouv1856)

ANCESTOR - noun - [Latin antecessor, of ante, before, and cedo, to go.] One from whom a PERSON descends, either by the father or mother, at any distance of time, in the tenth or hundredth generation. AN ANCESTOR PRECEDES IN THE ORDER OF NATURE OR BLOOD; A PREDECESSOR, IN THE ORDER OF OFFICE. (Webs1828)

FOREFATHER - noun - An ancestor; one who PRECEDES another in the line of genealogy, in any degree; usually in a remote degree. (Webs1828)

PREDECESSOR - noun - [Latin proe and decesso, to depart.] A PERSON who has preceded another IN THE SAME OFFICE. The king, the president, the judge, or the magistrate, follows the steps of his predecessor OR HE DOES NOT IMITATE THE EXAMPLE OF HIS PREDECESSORS. It is DISTINGUISHED FROM ANCESTOR, WHO IS OF THE SAME BLOOD; but it may perhaps be sometimes used for it. (Webs1828)

PREDECEASE - verb intransitive - [pre and decease.] To die before. (Webs1828)

PREDECEASED - adjective - DEAD BEFORE. (Webs1828)

Read the above definition of descent carefully. Bouvier is explaining quite plainly that as public citizenships in a contractual relationship with the foreign United States outside of the common law, we have no heirs by law. Thus incorporated, nationalized, public persons (fictional offices as commercial citizens) without the Natural right of successive blood inheritance) fall under the civil law, and are only ever purchasers under civil, not private law. Public (attainted/corrupted) persons are measured in the fictional time domain (life event and death event of legal persona/contract), not by the Eternity of blood relation (a Naturally, perpetually ongoing family line). Therefore, we must create an artificial will for the persona we dwell within, for no will (intent) is recognized by law, and we must appoint an executor to that will to carry out the legal contractual obligations of that commercial intent. The law simply does not recognize any rightful heirs of public persons, and so the citizen-ship must declare its manifest and lay its burden of the state’s property upon its legally birthed child (ship).
As incredible as all of this sounds, even as it is spelled out plainly above, and as only the messenger of the schema of these evil institutions, this author offers no apologies for these shameful Truths of the legal artifices of evil men (lies made legal as adjudged truths). If you continue to worship them as your own founding fathers (pretended source of existence) through their posterity in spite of your True Source (Jehovah), then you deserve exactly what you are in receivership and surety of, and you deserve to smart (be put in pain) for your belief (love) of fiction as a bond-servant, just as the scriptures warn. This is considered as “God’s wrath,” but make no mistake, we do it to ourselves. Jehovah is neutral. And man’s choices while under the gift of Free Will of God cannot be blamed on God. We have only our own corrupted Selves to blame, for we know self-evidently the Law of our own Nature.

BOND - That which binds
Any instrument in writing that legally binds a party to do a certain thing. “Bond,” “obligation,” and “instrument in writing” are sometimes used as convertible terms. A deed whereby the obligor obliges himself, his heirs, executors, and administrators, to pay a certain sum of money to another at a day appointed. See Oblige...

- A deed or obligatory instrument, in writing, whereby one binds himself to another to pay a sum of money or to do some other act, contains an obligation with a penalty, and a condition which expressly mentions what is to be done and the time within which it must be done. At common law, and at the present time, imports a sealed instrument, bonds are either negotiable or non-negotiable. The former (negotiable bond) pass ownership by mere delivery, the latter, by written transfer, duly signed, sealed, and, perhaps, attested...

BONDAGE - SLAVERY

Yes, the birth certificate is a sealed instrument, the official, raised seal being the Arms of the United States. Yes, the agent (man) that uses that proprietary legal entity created by the birth certificate is a surety. Yes, a surety is in bondage to its principal. And so yes, you are, while acting in the persona of US citizen-ship and according to the 13th amendment, a voluntary slave.

We must be clear here that all legal offices are dead entities. That which proceeds from a dead office or thing can only be another dead thing, never Truly Living, and thus never Existing with flowing, inheritable blood. All things in public office and flattery of title are dead, including citizen-ships. Nothing dead can bestow actual Life or other Real Existence through fictional birth. Death cannot pro-create Life, nor can a lower status establish or birth a higher status than itself. All legally public and private (noun) persons (statuses) are dead, though some are worshiped as if they were Existing (Living) gods in pretended sovereignty (a confirmed and ratified lie), as magisterial kings, popes, presidents, governors, prime ministers, bishops, and judges. Spiritual death is the simulation of Real Life, but all simulations are inherently dead.

“He cannot be considered AS HAVING CEASED TO HAVE A THING WHO NEVER HAD IT.”

—NON POTEST VIDERI DESISSE HABERA QUI NUNQUAM HABUIT. Dig. 50, 17, 208. (Black4)
A fictional, public persona never has Life, never has blood consideration, and never has perfected patent to property, and so these cannot be ceased in or from it. A man acting in public persona and registering all his property (including his children) in that status, which is the legal property of the state, can never be considered to have been the actual holder or owner of that property, including his own children (legally considered as natural persons/property of government). In other words, when a man dies in Real Life, that which he held under the strawman name was always property of the state. It was always in a state of districting, of seizure and distress. The person was already a dead legal entity and property of the state, and so the man cannot be considered as ceasing to hold anything if he always held that property in the name of that which was already legally pre-deceased, in the commercial name of another.

To be born in abandonment (by legal delivery) to parents who’s “father” is the common people of the district (the legal state) is to be born in the nativity (captivity) of the nation; a stillborn; pre-deceased. Only when we cease to claim the rights of citizenship and reclaim our blood-right of inheritance in Nature will we ever be spiritually alive again as the scriptural (spiritual) heirs. Until then, we can only lay claim to the artificial rights of the dead legal ofice we act within and exercise the rights and responsibilities of our legal citizenship.

DEPART - verb intransitive - 1. To go or move from. Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire. Matthew 25:41. It is followed by from, or from is implied before the place left. I will depart to my own land, that is, I will depart from this place to my own land. Numbers 10:30. 2. TO GO FROM; TO LEAVE; TO DESIST, AS FROM A PRACTICE. Jehu departed not from the sins of Jeroboam. Jehoshaphat departed not from the way of Asa his father. 3. To leave; to deviate from; TO FORSAKE; NOT TO ADHERE TO OR FOLLOW, as, we cannot depart from our rules. I have not departed from thy judgments. Psalms 119:115. 4. To desist; to leave: TO ABANDON; as, he would not depart from his purpose, resolution, or demand. 5. TO BE LOST; to perish; to vanish; as, his glory has departed. 6. To die; TO DECEASE; to leave this world. Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word. Luke 2:29. To depart this life is elliptical, from being understood. 8. TO CEASE. The prey departeth not. Nahum 3. 9. To deviate; to vary from. If the plan of the convention be found to depart from republican principle. 10. To vary; TO DEViate FROM THE TITLE or defense in pleading.

DECEASE - noun - [Latin to depart or to withdraw.] Literally, departure; hence, departure from this life; DEATH; APPLIED TO HUMAN BEINGS ONLY. Moses and Elias, who appeared in glory, and spoke of his decease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem. Luke 9:31. - verb intransitive - To DEPART from this LIFE; to die. Gen. Washington deceased, December 14, 1799, in the 68th year of his age. (Wels1828)

DE - A Latin prefix, denotes a moving from, separation... Hence it often expresses a negative... (Wels1828)

CEASE - verb intransitive - 1. To stop moving, acting or speaking; to leave of; TO GIVE OVER; followed by from before a noun. It is an honor for a man to cease from strife. Proverbs 20:3. 2. To fail; to be wanting. The poor shall never cease out of the land. Deuteronomy 15:11. 3. To stop; to be at an end; as, the wonder ceases; the storm has ceased. 4. To be forgotten. I would make the remembrance of them to cease. Deuteronomy 32:26. 5. TO ABSTAIN, as, cease from anger. Psalms 37:8. To cease from labor, is to REST; to cease from strife, is to be
To be in citizenship is to be in a de-ceased (belonging to Caesar) state of being, in an extinction of the spirit, where whatever course the Laws of Nature might have driven us were diverted by fictional things and pursuits in worship of mammon. Thus, most of us may only ever depart from that bondage of servitude (spiritual death) when our actual spark of Life ceases to Exist in the Reality of Nature. Our bodies must die while still in the bondage of citizenship to escape that status, though our children must carry on our burden. In other words, only when our biological life force is declared to be “deceased” do we ever escape our slavery to the nation we are borne into. To be legally seized is to be required to cease from our Natural, spiritual course under God.

QUIET - but in such phrases, the sense of cease is not varied. - verb transitive - To put a stop to; to put an end to. Cease this impious rage. [But in this use the phrase is generally elliptical, ] - noun - EXTINCTION. (Webs1828)

SEIZE - To put in possession; INVEST WITH FEE SIMPLE; be seized of or in; BE LEGAL POSSESSOR OF; OR BE HOLDER IN FEE SIMPLE. (Black4)

SEIZE - verb transitive - 1. To fall or rush upon suddenly and lay hold on; or to gripe or grasp suddenly. The tiger rushes from the thicket and seizes his prey. A dog seizes an animal by the throat. The hawk seizes a chicken with his claws. The officer seizes a thief. 2. To take possession by force, with or without right. At last they seize, The scepter, and regard not David’s son. Milton. 3. To invade suddenly; TO TAKE HOLD OF; to come upon suddenly; as, a fever seizes a patient. And hope and doubt alternate seize her soul. Pope. 4. To take possession by virtue of a warrant or legal authority. The sheriff seized the debtor’s goods; the whole estate was seized and confiscated. We say, to arrest a person, to seize goods. 5. To fasten; to fix. IN SEAMAN’S LANGUAGE, to fasten two ropes or different parts of one rope together with a cord. To be seized of; to have possession; as a griffin seized of his prey. A B WAS SEIZED AND POSSESSED OF THE MANOR OF DALE. To seize on or upon, is to fall on and grasp; TO TAKE HOLD ON; TO TAKE POSSESSION. (Webs1828)

SEIZER - noun - One that seizes. (Webs1828)

CAESAR - The TITLE assumed by the ROMAN EMPERORS after Julius Caesar. In the New Testament this title is given to various emperors as SOVEREIGNS OF IUDAIA WITHOUT THEIR ACCOMPANYING DISTINCTIVE PROPER NAMES (John 19:15; Acts 17:7). The Jews PAID TRIBUTE to Caesar (Matt. 22:17), and ALL ROMAN CITIZENS HAD THE RIGHT OF APPEAL TO HIM. (Acts 25:11). (Easton’s Bible Dictionary)

There is a reason that this word Caesar was used without the proper name. For the proper name holds no false, legal authority, and only refers to the man wielding it. To be a tyrant or king (tsar) is of course an improper use of a name. Without the title of Caesar, of King, or of President or of judge, what authority would a proper man have to assume such despotic and ruthless roles as these, and who among us would respect such a man without such a title and military, mercenary force behind it? What is power without crown and title? For it is only the title that carries the illusion, not the man. It is the fabled history of the idol, the title, that carries its imagined majesty to its next bearer.
“You have but to know an object by its proper name for it to lose its dangerous magic.”

—Elias Canetti

What power would Barack have over any man unless he was known as President Barack Obama? What power would Elizabeth have over any man unless she was known as Queen Elizabeth? Take the improper title away and all that is left is the proper name, which carries no weight whatsoever.

CESAREAN - adjective - The cesarean operation is THE TAKING OF A CHILD FROM THE WOMB BY CUTTING; an operation, which, it is said, GAVE NAME TO CAESAR, the Roman emperor. (Webs1828)

DISTRICTIO - Latin. A distress; a distraint. (Black4)

DISTRICT - noun - [Latin, to press hard, TO BIND. See DISTRAIN.] (See full definition in Chapter 2) (Webs1828)

STRICT - adjective - [Latin See Strain.] 1. Strained; drawn close; tight; as a strict embrace; a strict ligature. 2. Tense; not relaxed; as a strict or lax fiber. 3. EXACT; ACCURATE; rigorously nice; as, to keep strict watch. Observe the strictest rules of virtue and decorum. 4. Severe; rigorous; GOVERNED OR GOVERNING BY EXACT RULES; OBSERVING EXACT RULES; as, the father is very strict in observing the sabbath. The master is very strict with his apprentices. 5. DISTRAINER, or DISTRAINOR - He who SEIZES a distress. (Black4)

DISTRAINT - SEIZURE, THE ACT OF DISTRAINING or MAKING A DISTRESS. (Black4)

STRESS - noun - 1. Force: urgency; pressure; importance: that which bears with most weight: as the stress of a legal question. Consider how much stress is laid on the exercise of charity in the New Testament. This, on which the great stress of the business depends— 2. Force or violence: as stress of weather. 3. FORCE; VIOLENCE; STRAIN. Though the faculties of the mind are improved by exercise, yet they must not be put to a stress beyond their strength. - verb transitive - TO PRESS; TO URGE; TO DISTRESS; TO PUT TO DIFFICULTIES. [Little used.] (Webster1828)

DISTRESS - THE TAKING A PERSONAL CHATTEL OUT OF THE POSSESSION OF A WRONG-DOER INTO THE CUSTODY OF THE PARTY INJURED, to procure a satisfaction for a wrong committed; as for non-payment of rent, or injury done by cattle. THE TAKING OF BEASTS OR OTHER PERSONAL PROPERTY BY WAY OF PLEDGE, TO ENFORCE THE PERFORMANCE OF SOMETHING DUE FROM THE PARTY DISTRAINED UPON. The taking of a defendant's goods, IN ORDER TO COMPEL AN APPEARANCE IN COURT. The seizure of personal property TO ENFORCE PAYMENT OF TAXES, to be followed by its PUBLIC SALE if the taxes are not voluntarily paid. Also THE THING TAKEN BY DISTRAINING, THAT WHICH IS SEIZED TO PROCURE SATISFACTION. And in old Scotch law, a pledge taken by the sheriff from those attending fairs or markets, to secure their good behavior, and returnable to them at the close of the fair or market if they had been guilty of no wrong. (Black4)

As horrific as it is to come to grips with, the United States (Washington DC) is the incorporation of Caesar, which seizes by distress the property (issue) of its subjects, distressing and feigning corruption of the blood (Nature) of all it can so as to seize all corrupted things. It does so to secure the good behavior of its citizen-ships within the 50 foreign (private) states in protection of the actual proclaimed sovereignty of those States (People) from we the commoners in commerce, and so as to induce us to pay both our own and their own taxes. To be taken in distress is to be seized, to be seized is to be taxed, and to be taxed is to be registered in certified publicity into a contractual feudal state, for to be birthed in distress is to become the commercial possession of the Caesar (district). To be in legal possession through personhood is to have the capacity to be legally summoned. Demonology is just citizenship, the demonologists merely pirates. The district of the seizing Caesar always retains the right to confiscate its found property (children) from those illegitimate parents it has bestowed the right of limited parentage upon, due to the trickery of birth registration (taxation) as a legal distress and distrait upon any Natural but unreserved paternal rights.

These are the pirates of the law of the sea...

“…GOODS THROWN FROM A VESSEL IN DISTRESS BECAME THE PROPERTY OF THE KING, OR THE LORD on whose shores they were stranded.”

— Definition for ‘ALGARUM MARIS,’ Lagenum maris, lagan being a right, as flotam and jitsam. Speelman; Jacob; Du Cange. (Black4)
As painful as this Reality is and as seemingly ludicrous this metaphorical system of robbery on the virtual high seas appears to be in its linguistic presentation and authority, we must realize our place, participation, and thus victimization within it if we are ever to be Free of it. We must destroy our ego, our id-entity, and abandon our false hopes that one day government will somehow be magically or "constitutionally" fixed. It will not. It cannot. For its very foundation is the creation of that district of Caesar as a pirate cove, posing as the sinful common people’s false messiah, and offering safe public passage over its landholder’s private lands only to those who will willingly bear its public mark of Arms (flag and seal). You simply cannot fix what is not broken, and the United States corporation runs like a well-oiled machine. It stands as the epitome of how organized crime should be organized. Even satan smiles in jealousy of that nations’ success.

We are its vessels in distress (District of Columbia), its citizen-ships, and our children are abandoned into a false persona within an artificial, legal matrix, which is property of that district where it has been stranded.

"In connection with SALVAGE, ‘shore’ means THE LAND ON WHICH THE WATERS HAVE DEPOSITED THINGS WHICH ARE THE SUBJECT OF SALVAGE, whether below or above ordinary high-water mark."

— From definition of ‘SHORE,’ (Black)

The first step to fixing the problem, of course, is to first admit our defeat. We must see ourselves through the looking glass and perspective of the state. We must recognize our illiteracy above all else, our absent-mindedness with regard to these terms of art, so that the art can no longer control Reality.

And so, as difficult as it is, we must realize that for all intents and purposes, the legal birth information, registration, and certification process is in-deed an act of legalized piracy. We must recognize that our children are being pretendedly thrown from us into the imaginary, commercial sea, straight into the hands of that kingship of “People” and stranded unto the seizure of Caesar’s district, only to be found and incorporated (enfranchised) into the virtual property (foundlings) of those magical word practitioners in the bond of surety and performance. We must face as well our own such abandonment, a legally considered bastardy, and we must do so with absolute forgiveness for our parents who abandoned us, for causing our fictional death through the legal birth process without comprehension of their actions. They know not what they did, and the reader of this has no excuse now to follow in that deranged custom and tradition of this debtor’s hell. We may not be able to save ourselves, but we can certainly free our children from this chain of madness and voluntary servitude by simply keeping their God-given name free from such legal addictions, performance sureties, and ad-vides, despite the social and legal pressures that may befall us for choosing the moral path. Remember, the devil has no power but by his own words (property), his unilateral contracts. His dis-eases cannot harm us unless we succumb to his forked tongue and warning threats though the arts of language. The state is (by law) powerless without a fictional person (property) to bully.

Governments are ordained and established in conspiracy (confederation and combination) only to create a lower, super-natural (outside of Reality) sovereign order and law, overseen by an upper-class structure in fiction that adheres only to the doctrine of master and servant (volunteerism). This is the epitome of Biblical, spiritual choice. Children are voluntarily abandoned and seized at birth so that their parents can be summoned into court and be compelled to appear on behalf of that which they are reassigned as the legal guardian of. For unless they appear in legal persona, the legal child will be taken in distress and possibly sold at public sale for non-appearance, which modernly under the lie of “Child Protective Services” and within the pretended legal corporate property doctrine of “child welfare” is labeled as the “foster care” and “adoption” programs. This is purely a process of civil, legal law, having nothing whatsoever to do with spirituality or charity, Natural (negative) or paternal rights, or of the Natural Law. It’s all about mammon and the legal, capitalist slave trade (commerce in souls), the only True value of the lower proles. This is legalized kidnapping via the presumed contractual relationship of de-livery. These are the very bowels of man’s created legal hell at its worse. For at least in open tyranny men know their positions and rank in society. But in America, men have no idea of their places as literal live-stock under district (seizure), as possessions of the state.

SEISI - In old English law, Seised; POSSESSED. (Black4)

SEISINA FACIT STIPITEM - “Seisin makes the STOCK” (Black4)

SEISIN - The completion of the FEUDAL INVESTITURE, BY WHICH THE TENANT WAS ADMITTED INTO THE FEUD, AND PERFORMED THE RIGHTS OF HOMAGE AND FEALTY. Possession with an INTENT on the part of him who holds it to claim a freehold interest. Right to immediate possession according to the nature of the estate. Under our law, the word “seisin” has no accurately defined technical meaning. At Common law, it imported a feudal investiture of title by actual possession. With us it has the force of possession under some LEGAL TITLE OR RIGHT TO HOLD. This possession, so far as possession alone is involved, may be shown by PAROL, but if it is intended to show possession under a legal title, then the title must be shown by proper conveyance for that purpose. EVERY PERSON IN WHOM A SEISIN IS REQUIRED by any of the provisions of this chapter SHALL BE DEEMED TO HAVE BEEN SEISED, IF HE MAY HAVE HAD ANY RIGHT, TITLE, OR INTEREST IN THE INHERITANCE.

Actual Seisin - Possession of the freehold by the pedis positio OF ONE'S SELF OR ONE'S TENANT OR AGENT, or by construction of law, as in the case of a state grant or a conveyance under the statutes of USES, or (probably) of grant or devise WHERE THERE IS NO ACTUAL ADVERSE POSSESSION; it means ACTUAL POSSESSION AS DISTINGUISHED FROM CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION OR POSSESSION IN LAW.

Constructive Seisin - Seisin in law where there is NO SEISIN IN FACT, as where THE STATE ISSUES A PATENT TO A PERSON WHO NEVER TAKES ANY SORT OF POSSESSION OF THE LANDS GRANTED, he has constructive seisin of all the land in his grant. THOUGH ANOTHER PERSON IS AT THE TIME IN ACTUAL POSSESSION.

Livery of Seisin - DELIVERY OF POSSESSION, called, BY THE FEUDISTS, “INVESTITURE” …

Seisin in Law - A right of immediate possession according to the nature of the estate. As the old doctrine of corporeal investiture is no longer in force, THE DELIVERY OF A DEED GIVES SEISIN IN LAW. (Black4)

———

So where is the local, state office that holds these records of original, ancestral sin?

Where do we find that keeper of the evil deeds of foolish men acting in fiction?
"The REGISTER OF DEEDS office is the official steward of birth records for Orange County. The Orange County Register of deeds only has birth records FOR PERSONS born in Orange County."

"Birth Certificates for births occurring in Guilford County are issued at the Guilford County REGISTER OF DEEDS office..."

"The REGISTER OF DEEDS office provides a standardized, permanent record of real estate ownership and transfers in Sampson County. Our office records deeds, deeds of trust, cancellations, plats, ASSUMED NAMES, powers of attorney and other miscellaneous documents related to real estate. Our office also records and issues BIRTH CERTIFICATES, death certificates, marriage certificates, marriage licenses, military discharges, and maintains the records of notary public commissions."

But why would birth certificates be at an office that records wills and deeds?

Silly natural persons, tricks are for infants! The act of de-livery is an act of free will, an accounting and recording of the dirty deeds of corrupted souls in illegitimate legal adultery under a registered legal, fictional corporation. The birth event is recorded as a deed of contempt to God, where the mother informs on the criminal nature and felonious origin of her adulterous, illegitimate bastard. Thus the deed’s description and profile of vital statistics (the birth event) is certified and recorded.

DEED - noun - 1. THAT WHICH IS DONE. ACTED OR EFFECTED; AN ACT; A FACT; a word of extensive application, including WHATEVER IS DONE, GOOD OR BAD, great or small. And Joseph said to them, what deed is this which ye have done? Genesis XII. We receive the due reward of our deeds. Luke 23:41. 2. Exploit; achievement; illustrious act. Whose deeds some nobler poem shall adorn. 3. Power of action; AGENCY. With will and deed created free. 4. A WRITING CONTAINING SOME CONTRACT OR AGREEMENT, AND THE EVIDENCE OF ITS EXECUTION; particularly, AN INSTRUMENT ON PAPER OR PARCHMENT, CONVEYING REAL ESTATE TO A PURCHASER OR DONEE. THIS INSTRUMENT MUST BE EXECUTED, AND THE EXECUTION ATTESTED, IN THE MANNER PRESCRIBED BY LAW. INDEED, IN FACT; IN REALITY. These words are united and called an ADVERB. But sometimes they are separated by very, in very deed; a more emphatical expression. Exodus 9:16. - verb transitive - TO CONVEY OR TRANSFER BY DEED; a popular use of the word in America; as, HE DEEDED ALL HIS ESTATE to his eldest son. (Webster1828)

INVESTITURE - noun - The ACTION of giving POSSESSION, or LIVERY OF SEIZIN. THE GRANT OF LAND OR A FEUD WAS PERFECTED BY THE CEREMONY OF CORPORAL INVESTITURE OR OPEN DELIVERY OF POSSESSION. It was customary for princes to make investiture of ecclesiastical benefices. 1. The right of giving possession OF ANY MANOR, OFFICE OR BENEFICE. He had refused to yield to the pope the investiture of bishops. (Webster1828)
INVESTITURE - A ceremony which accompanied the grant of LANDS in the FEUDAL AGES, and consisted in THE OPEN AND NOTORIOUS DELIVERY OF POSSESSION IN THE PRESENCE OF THE OTHER VASSALS, which perpetuated among them the aera of their new acquisition at the time WHEN THE ART OF WRITING WAS VERY LITTLE KNOWN; and thus the evidence of the property was reposed in the memory of the neighborhood, who, in case of disputed title, were afterwards called upon to decide upon it. In Ecclesiastical law, Investiture is one of the formalities by which the election of a bishop is confirmed by the archbishop. (Black4)

INVESTMENT - The placing of CAPITAL or laying out of money in a way INTENDED TO SECURE INCOME OR PROFIT FROM ITS EMPLOYMENT. (Black4)

Never forget that hu-mans are merely animal capital just like cattle, counted by and taxed by the head, and that money represents the future labor potential of those hu-mans. We are laid out in commercial design and distraint with the intention that Caesar will collect the taxes of our income by profiting from our employment (use). We are under a hu-man capital management system through our deeds (tributes) of investiture. We stand as certified, voluntarily slaves; as mere agents wrestling against these principalities (Ephesians 6:12).

It is perhaps easier to contemplate how our children are stolen through de-livery by seizure (seizin) if we know that this act creates a modern type of feudal estate. In other words, a public person is made to be a user of all public things. With no land of his own, the public person has investiture in the office of citizenship, which means that he may never settle upon his own land except in commercial residence (use only) without dominion over that land. The land will always be that of another. His every step is a legally licensed (permitted) trespass on land foreign to him, called public domain. His possession is only on behalf of the state with no right of disposal, only the political right of usufruct. You see, these pirates never needed to steal any man’s land, only his Natural identity and capacity, as the removal of any spiritual connection to that land (Jehovah).

Just as a rat may roam freely in the franchise of what its owner allows within the borders of its cage, the citizenship may roam freely (in franchise) within the public lands and municipal corporations set up for its use (employment) by the sovereignty. Yet he may not travel on private lands and estates or property, nor does he hold his own. There is nothing Truly private among public entities. Only under God is this land (Earth) my land and this land is your land, but in legal fiction this can only refer to certain limited tracts of designated “public property” for commercial use by commercial persons under taxation (registration) and fee without inheritable rights or legitimate claim to that land. For legal land is only legal words of art on paper, and only private men or papered public persons may tread there. We have only as much right as any refugee. Ironically, illegals have more Natural rights than legals in the eyes of the legal state, though less civil (required and forced) ones.

“Government has no other end but the PRESERVATION OF PROPERTY.”

— John Locke (1632-1704) in ‘2nd Treatise on Civil Government,’ 1690

Ah... but whose property is government protecting? Why its own creator’s, of course, which is to say that government is set up always to protect the few lawfully legitimate blood-heirs against the common hoard of goyim they have conquered (purchased) through trickery and mammon (debt) It protects and preserves the founding People’s (Posterity’s) holdings of land from being squatted on by the mass of illiterates that they use as their labor pool of debtors in rent. Government, as the agent of that sovereign bloodline of People in posterity, ensures that no common citizen (goy) may ever be granted by prescription or realize by blood their lawful due. Organized crime. Piracy…

The only difference between the former feudal system and this modern legal system of today known as 14th amendment citizenship (voluntary feudalism) is that the common goy have been taught to read and write a language of illiteracy, as English or “dog-Latin,” and so the names, motions, and ceremonies are all that have changed. The commoners in their legal capacity are less intelligent than those of old, who at least knew their place in the feud and fiefdom. The English language has created a new standard of literacy in stupidity. The feuds of today have no idea they are seized, and are clueless in their deeds of de-livery. Whereas livery in history was an action (deed) before witnesses (a verb), today the deed is written, signed, and registered in a language (noun) designed to deceive.

SEISIN - … Upon the introduction of the feudal law into England, the word "seisin" was applied only to the possession of an estate of freehold, IN CONTRASTION TO THAT PRECARIOUS KIND OF POSSESSION BY WHICH TENANTS IN VILLEINAGE HELD THEIR LANDS, which was considered to be the possession of those IN WHOM THE FREEHOLD CONTINUED. THE WORD STILL RETAINS ITS ORIGINAL
SIGNIFICATION, being applied exclusively to the possession of land of a freehold tenure,
IT BEING INACCURATE TO USE THE WORD AS EXPRESSIVE OF THE POSSESSION OF LEASEHOLDS OR TERMS OF YEARS, or even of copyholds. Under our law, the word "seisin" has no accurately defined technical meaning. At common law, it import a FEUDAL
INVESTITURE OF TITLE by actual possession. (Black2)

CESS - noun - A rate or tax - verb - TO RATE or LAY A TAX, is probably a corruption of ASSESS, or from the same root. - verb intransitive - To neglect a legal duty. (Webs1828)

CESSION - noun - 1. THE ACT OF GIVING WAY; a yielding to force or impulse. 2. A ecclesiastical law, the leaving of a benefice without dispensation or being otherwise qualified.

(Webs1828)

CESSOR - noun - 1. In law, he that neglects, for two years, to perform the service by which he holds lands, so that he incurs the DANGER of the writ of cessavit. [See Cessavit.] 2. AN ASSESSOR, OR TAXER. (Webs1828)

ASSESSOR - noun - 1. One appointed to assess the PERSON or PROPERTY. 2. An inferior officer of justice, who sITS TO ASSIST THE JUDGE. 3. One who sits by another, as next in dignity. (Webs1828)

TAXER - noun - One who taxes. 1. In Cambridge, two officers chosen yearly to see the true gauge of weights and measures observed. (Webs1828)

CESSAVIT - noun - In law, a writ given by statute, TO RECOVER LANDS, when the tenant or occupier has CEASED for two years TO PERFORM THE SERVICE, WHICH CONSTITUTES THE CONDITION OF HIS TENURE, and has not sufficient goods or chattels to be DISTRAINED, or the tenant has so inclosed the land that the lord cannot come upon it to distrain. (Webs1828)
We know that we are not the actual holder of property because we pay property taxes on it for our secondary, permissive use. We hold nothing of the land, only the paper that re-presents it as legal property in residence. A fiction cannot actually hold Reality. Remember, a home is only considered as movable land, as that which is attached to the land. But this feudal state and knowledge is doubly apparent when we do not perform our required service, which is to pay those taxes for use of the property. It is then that the actual land, both immovable and movable by law, is recovered through seizure and confiscation by the militarized force of government in protection of the private estate, and placed back into the title of the patented landholder alone, without defect of title or rent.

This is the purpose of government, of nations, as the preservation of property (including children) through its power of distraint. We are in a constant state of distraint, for public persons of the United States live only in a district of the United States. So we live in a constant state of distraint, which is called the district of the United States. The child is distrainted at birth, for the debt of the parent is the performance of its contractual obligation, having nothing to do with any monetary consideration, only the presumed obligation of the contractual duties and terms of law regarding fictional personhood, which also include certain public fees and taxes. The child is the product of the labor of the marriage corporation under contract and license via conjugal, sexual intercourse (commerce), and the state as principal in that three-way marriage contract takes (finds) all children borne (carried) of that contract, for the husband and wife are only the agents acting in the personas of their principal, and agents only ever do anything for the benefit of their principal. Just as an employee uses the tools of his employer to benefit his employer and a servant works only to benefit his master, so to do the legal parents (married or unmarried legal persons acting in the body politic of incorporated surnames) raise their children only on behalf of and upon their principal, as its property. A debtor is only a contracted public feud using the state’s children (property) in enjoyment by usufruct under the beneficent will of the state, just as he merely uses the registered automobile, land and home as the property of another. And when the assigned maternal parent in his state-permitted and sanctioned guardian-ship is declared by the state to be a bad agent in that contractual citizen-ship, the legal child (person) as presumed without rebuttal to be surety to the property (person) of the principal is stricken and re-delivered (seized) into the state. This is done by the act of distraint, as the causality and course of the child’s already legal disposition and implied permanent legal existence in a state (district) of seizure. Children (the legal fiction), in other words, are seized already, permanently, at birth. The child, by the ignorant will and continued consent of the parents, is taken only as surety for the commercial ad-venture wagered upon though the registered paper person (status); the strawman. Only through this fiction can man be tricked into giving up his own blood right and inheritance, even to his own kin (issue).

We will read the opinions of the courts later in this work, which absolutely confirm these statements as legally true. While they are horrific to contemplate, we must acknowledge them as self-evident if we are ever to overcome them. In the end, though no man can be considered as merchandise or as property to be bought and sold, i.e., involuntary slavery, the fact is that fictional inventions that are the “persons” of men can in-deed be considered as merchandise and as property. The law against slavery can be abolished and reestablished at any time, the constitution amended instantly at the whim of the land holders. We must remember that laws are subject to change without notice to the public, which is why the public suffers as the patients of so many ridiculous laws.

One thing is very clear, both morally and legally. If the parents don’t claim their own child (issue) as their own paternal property by blood, the state will certainly do so like a thief in the night through its legal trickery. This de-livery process is now such a streamlined process and custom that these pirates go unseen, causing hospital employees (agents) to do their dirty work for them and offering bonus checks for every child registered (taxed) into Caesar’s (seizure’s) system. Its agents (nurses and social workers) complete their dirty legal deeds for them, receiving monetary compensation as reward or assuming the role of the farmers of men; taxation-source creators.

DISTRAIN - verb transitive - [Latin dis and stringo. See Strain. Blackstone writes distraint.] 1. TO SEIZE FOR DEBT; TO TAKE A PERSONAL CHATEL FROM THE POSSESSION OF A WRONG-DOER INTO THE POSSESSION OF THE INJURED PARTY; to satisfy a demand, OR COMPEL THE PERFORMANCE OF A DUTY; as, to distrain goods from rent, or for an amercement. 2. TO REND; to tear. - verb intransitive - TO MAKE SEIZURE OF GOODS. On whom I cannot distrain for debt. For neglecting to do suit TO THE LORDS COURT, OR OTHER PERSONAL SERVICE, THE LORD MAY DISTRAIN OF COMMON RIGHT. [In this phrase however some word seems to be understood; as, to distrain goods.] (Weds1828)

DISTRICT - noun - [Latin, to press hard, to bind. See DISTRAIN.] 1. Properly, a limited extent of country; a circuit within which power, right or authority may be EXERCISED, AND TO WHICH IT IS RESTRAINED; a word applicable to ANY PORTION OF LAND OR COUNTRY, OR TO ANY PART OF A CITY OR TOWN, WHICH IS DEFINED BY LAW OR AGREEMENT. A governor, a prefect, or a judge may have his district… (Weds1828)

DISSEIZE - verb transitive - [dis and seize] In law, to DISPOSSESS wrongfully; TO DEPRIVE OF ACTUAL SEIZIN OR POSSESSION; followed by of; as, to disseize a tenant of his freehold. A man may suppose himself disseized, WHEN HE IS NOT SO. (Weds1828)

SEIZIN - noun - 1. In law, POSSESSION. Seizin is of two sorts, seizin in deed or fact, and seizin in law. Seizin in fact or deed, is actual or corporal possession; seizin in law, is WHEN SOMETHING IS DONE IN WHICH THE LAW ACCOUNTS POSSESSION OR SEIZIN AS ENROLLMENT, OR WHEN LANDS DECEND TO AN HEIR, but he has not yet entered on them. In this case, the law considers the heir as seized of the estate, and the person who wrongfully enters on the land is accounted a disseizer. 2. The act of taking possession. [Not used except in law.] 3. The thing possessed; possession, LIVERY OF SEIZIN. [See LIVERY.] Primer of seizin. [See Primer.] (Weds1828)

SEIZING - ppr - Falling on and grasping suddenly; laying hold on suddenly; taking possession by force, or taking by warrant; FASTENING. - noun - 1. The act of taking or grasping suddenly. 2. In seamen’s language, the operation of fastening together ropes with a cord; also, the cord or cords used for such fastening. (Weds1828)

SEIZED - pp - Suddenly caught or grasped; taken by force; invaded suddenly; TAKEN POSSESSION OF; fastened with a cord; having possession. (Weds1828)

These are not just antiquated, forgotten concepts. They’re not out of date definitions. They have been “in the family” for many hereditary generations and ages of blood and of feudal fee. Only the words have changed in their intentionally illiterate English presentation to the infantile masses, not the origin of their Latin meanings. A delivered child is a ward of the court, which is evident to any commoner who has gone through the so-called “family court” system and had their child stripped from them and re-assigned to visitation on weekends and holidays, as if a common criminal is being allowed to have the company of his family or of a prostitute in prison. This prison is open-air though, the bars being only that of the courts private association of devils (attorneys). Oh, how I wish that this term devil were just a clever nickname instead of the actual, official English legal title of those legal advocates and devilmasters (see section in Volume II and definition on “deviling”).
Ultimately delivery, certification, and registration has the foundational effect of remaking our children as wards of the court. Wardship is citizenship. Citizenship is the simulation of parentage (fatherhood) by the state. And so parents are just glorified baby-sitters of state property.

WARD OF CHANCERY OR OF COURT - A minor or lunatic under the protection of a court of equity. More particularly, a minor under the personal care of a guardian. "While the infant is in ward." A person under the age of twenty-one years, and subject to the guardianship of another. An inseparable incident to tenure in chivalry was "wardship." When a tenant died seized of a knight's fee, leaving an heir of full age, the king received of the heir a year's profits of the land, if in immediate possession, and, if in reversion expectant on a life estate, a half year's profits. This right was called "PRIMER SEISIN." If the heir was a male under twenty-one, or a female under fourteen, THE LORD WAS ENTITLED TO THE WARDSHIP OF THE HEIR, as "guardian in chivalry" — with custody of body and lands, without accounting, till the male was twenty-one and the female sixteen. "Wardship of the land," or CUSTODY OF THE FEUD, was retained by the lord that he might oust the guardian and choose another guardian. But as heirs so young made improvident choices, enacted that the father might BY WILL APPOINT a guardian to serve till the ward attained twenty-one. The father failing in that, THE COURT OF CHANCERY WOULD NAME SUCH GUARDIAN, THAT STATUTE IS THE ORIGINAL OF SIMILAR LEGISLATION IN THIS COUNTRY. See further Guardian; Necessaries. (WCA1889)

LIVERY - noun - 1. The act of DELIVERING POSSESSION of lands or tenements; a term of English law. It is usual to say, livery of seisin, which is FEUDAL INVESTITURE, made by the delivery of a turf, of a rod or twig, from the feoffor to the feoffee. In America, no such ceremony is necessary to a conveyance of real estate. THE DELIVERY OF A DEED BEING SUFFICIENT. 2. RELEASE FROM WARDSHIP; DELIVERANCE. 3. The writ by which possession os obtained. 4. The state of being kept at a certain rate; as, to keep horses at livery. 5. A form of dress by which noblemen and gentlemen DISTINGUISH THEIR SERVANTS. The Romish church has also liveries for confessors, virgins, apostles, martyrs, penitents, etc. Hence, 6. A particular dress or garb, appropriate or peculiar to particular times or things; as the livery of May; the livery of autumn. Now came still evening on, and twilight gray had in her sober livery all things clad. 7. The whole body of livewmen in London. - verb transitive - To clothe in livery. (Wets1828)

DELIVERY - noun - 1. THE ACT OF DELIVERING. 2. RELEASE; RESCUE; as from slavery, RESTRAINT, OPPRESSION OR DANGER. 3. SURRENDER; A GIVING UP. 4. A GIVING OR PASSING FROM ONE TO ANOTHER, as the delivery of goods, or of a deed. 5. Utterance; pronunciation; or MANNER OF SPEAKING. He has a good delivery. I was charmed with his graceful delivery. 6. CHILDBIRTH. Isaiah 26:17. 7. Free motion or use of the limbs. (Wets1828)
This act of legal (artificial) childbirth, as a creation and de-livery of the wardship of the child from the natural parents into that of the persona of the state, is considered by the state an act of rescue. This “term of the sea” is one of treasure being found, or that of saving the child from the low and mean wretches that bore it under danger. It’s like the simulation of the hand of God reaching out to protect the child from the unregenerate adultery and bastardy of the common proletariate. But in Reality, this is merely a streamlined act of legalized piracy on the fictional high seas of commerce, of word trickery and magic designed to cause the act of volunteerism through language arts and contract.

“Compacts (contracts) usually take their clothing from the thing itself, from words, from writing, from consent, FROM DELIVERY.”

—RE, VERBIS, SCRIPTO, CONSENSU, TRADITIONE, JUNCTURA VESTES SUMERE P ACTA SOLENT. Plowd. 161. (Black4)

Think of a compact (contract) as two or more things being forced and pressed together, again, like contracting a disease. Thus a constitution forces foreign States to support and defend each other along with other goodies, yet to remain foreign (private) in their legal nature. And so of course the People who created it had to protect themselves with the many negative aspects of that national constitution, including the bill of rights, which only applies to the bloodline posterity who in turn reserve all Natural and other Rights but what is specifically (positively) constituted (not reserved). They agree (contract) in their own State constitutions to be liable to eminent domain for public purpose, for instance. But inversely no bill of attainder (corruption of blood) shall be passed against them.

The only argument under debate was whether to use the words We, the People or the words We, the States in the constitution (contract between foreign/several States/private Bloodlines and Arms). After all, we wouldn’t want the general people to get confused and think they are this special People, right? Or do we…?

It is important to note here that this whole process is dependent upon one very important and foundational thing, which is ignorance of scripture, of that Law of God and Nature. For the whole process of de-livery is only based on one essential forbidden sin, that of the respect of persons and flattering titles. Only the title can be transferred, the admixed name, which carries with it the legal simulation of a symbolic transfer (delivery / abandonment) of the possession of the Real thing, carrying only the empty (legal) name and title in surety. We find repeated over and over in scripture that man should not respect the persons of men or that of the names applied to all things in Nature over Nature Itself. Since the title is only an addition to the name of the person (fiction), respect of flattering titles represents firstly the respect of fictional persons (legal names).
can only receive title to the legally recreated child (a fictional, legal entity), which requires abandonment of God’s Law by respect of the state-owned (proprietary) person (legal status) of one’s own child. The birth and delivery process, in other words, can only take place in disrespect of God’s Word of Law, the very foundation of all Law.

Religion? No… Just plain uncommon sense? Absolutely! For religions can also only have official members by respecting the legal persons of men in combinations of the legal surname, and can only attach their fictional “religious” titles of flattery and corporate priest-hood’s to the names of those respected persons. The Mormons even demand to audit their members tax returns each year!

Why does no one ask what the purpose of the corporate church baptism ceremony is, that naming ceremony that confirms the child to stand in blasphemy to God’s Word through assignment of an assumed surname of the state? Corporate religions by necessity and by tax (registration) must disrespect the very scriptural law they claim to worship, adhering only to the legal word (law) of the false gods responsible for their legal incorporation. Therefore, a corporate religion’s whole legal existence is only ever according to the legal names and titles bestowed upon it by the legal state, being lead only by legally educated and titled priests, ministers, rabbis, and pastors. These men are only in the business of religion, not the Reality. They do not and cannot by the legal law walk the path they pre-tend to preach, for they only have legal “freedom of religion” by license of the legal state, which as we know makes actual religious, moral acts illegal. Thoughts are cool. But acting on those thoughts? That’s definitely a legal no-no! So to be clear here, EVERY legally titled priest of EVERY legalized corporate religion is a hypocrite, acting in legal, flattering title only, either by choice or by accident of birth and through the instillment of public-mindedness through corporate, religious universities that teach only ignorance of the scriptures in lieu of their own chosen and incorporated doctrines. In the end, no reader and studier, no priest of the scriptures that has done even a small portion of the due diligence required to fully grasp the moral Law of the Bible would ever set foot in such a legal establishment as any state incorporated and legally licensed “church.”

But as we have now come to know, especially in these modern and technological times, it seems more often today that this priest-class becomes the hirelings of some corporate religion not to practice True Piety under God, but to hide behind the public, sacred (cursed) robes and crosses in protection of their own private hungers of pedophilia and other “cardinal” sins. This is a perfect example of the reasons not to respect such flattering titles of the fictional persons (reputations) of men, and why legal law should not be mixed with the spiritual Law. The priest hides behind his cross, his collar, for legal protection, instead of using it to thwart that very legal system (the state) that protects his sins. For there is no sin without law, and no license without sin. A criminal or a cardinal, the difference is only in these flattering titles. And they’re both frightened by God.

Please know that the author isn’t making a personal judgement here. Again, we must acknowledge the problem before we can solve it. The author only presents the Truth while acknowledging his own sins and participatory part in this system of mammon. I can only judge myself, just as the reader, the priest, the politician, the judge, and the average goy in citizen-ship can only do the same. I only seek the Truth despite my opinions of my flattering but false legal self, for I cannot know and follow the right path without exposing all of its wrong turns and pitfalls. We cannot make a choice unless we know the full consequences and power of each choice available to us. And most of us have no idea such choices even exist, thanks to the illusions cast by these legal word-smiths, magicians, accountants, attorney’s (devils), and priests.

Titles simply do not Exist in Nature, and so any title assumed by man is only ever that which is unnatural, against God’s Word of Law. Nowhere in the Bible does it tell us to trust any man because he is a “priest,” or under any other flattering title for that matter. There are no priests in Nature. No man, in other words, is born a priest.

RABBI, RABBIN - noun - A TITLE ASSUMED by the Jewish DOCTORS, signifying MASTER OR LORD. This title is not conferred by authority, but ASSUMED or ALLOWED BY COURTESY to learned men. (Webs1828)
PRIEST - noun - [Latin proestes, a chief, one that presides; proe, before, and sto, to stand, or sisto.] 1. A MAN WHO OFFICIATES IN SACRED OFFICES. Among pagans, Priests were persons whose appropriate business was to offer sacrifices and perform other sacred rites of religion. In primitive ages, the Fathers of families, princes and kings were priests. Thus Cain and Abel, Noah, Abraham, Melchizedek, Job, Isaac and Jacob offered their own sacrifices. In the days of Moses, the office of priest was restricted to the tribe of Levi, and the priesthood consisted of three orders, the high priest, the priests, and the Levites, and the office was made HEREDITARY IN THE FAMILY of Aaron. Every priest taken from among men IS ORDAINED FOR MEN in things pertaining to God. that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins. Hebrews 5:1. 2. In the modern church, a person who is set apart or consecrated to the ministry of the gospel; a man in orders or licensed to preach the gospel; a presbyter. In its most general sense, the word includes archbishops, bishops, patriarchs, and all subordinate orders of the clergy, duly approved and licensed according to the forms and rules of each respective denomination of Christians. as all these orders ‘are ordained for men in things pertaining to God.’ But in Great Britain, the word is understood to denote the subordinate orders of the clergy, above a deacon and below a bishop. In the United States, the word denotes ANY LICENSED MINISTER of the gospel. (Webb1828)

Take notice that in the legal and general definition of this word priest or presbyter, there is no mention of Christ or of God in the first person, only of the permissive, subjective authority of men (as gods both civil and ecclesia, anti-God) to appoint and ordain other men into legal offices through licensure. The title is attached to the legal, admixed surname (false persona) that obtains the license, enjoined to that last name which is legally superior to the Christian name, as that which lies in opposition to God. This is not just some mere oversight on our controller’s part. This is the subversion of just what it means to be an actual religious man detached from all artificial things, names, numbers, marks, titles, and other doctrines (laws), all of which are needed to be a legally licensed “priest.” The surname ensures that the man will follow the law of the state that bestows the legal title to that surname, never acting by his God-given Christian name under Its Higher Law. And so these followers (priests) act according to their legalized leader, never attaining that Higher State (Verb) of Being in the Nature of Jehovah. We are stuck in the noun. We reside in the land of make-believe, never entering the domicile of God’s Kingdom of Nature.

The author can only hope that the reader now contemplates the corruption of both religion and of the many forms and degrees of atheism and paganism as organized false “churches,” and that the disposition of the author’s treatment of these institutionalized, confirmed, and ratified fallacies is not merely a trivial pursuit or somehow not based in principles of Reason and of spirituality. These social incorporations are but nouns (names) designed to hide the verb (action) of the Truth of the Nature of God and man’s relationship to It. They are different forms of organized chaos. And both are designed to divide and conquer the other’s spirit.

Both are designed to cause ignorance, to make a people perish by their lack of knowledge. Both are creations of government intended to cause the normalization of a generational birth and abandonment system through legal, voluntary de-livery of all future children as issues into the hands of the state in artful perpetuity. For the only escape is through scriptural teachings, in finding and following the spiritual path. And while the corporate church’s teach a false-religion that ignores the fundamentals of God’s Law, atheism teaches a Godless law that despises True Religion. A naturalist is not of Nature, any more than a licensed, titled priest is of God’s Nature. Both are purveyors of the noun. Both only cause man to positively respect and be respected by the legal fiction unwittingly, each taking away by design the negative protection of God’s Nature and Law, which is the only Law self-evidently recognized as supreme to all others. Both worship only mammon (false values), and use that god of money to battle each other in constant political debate. and subterfuge without spiritual, scriptural wisdom. Organized, impersonal religion and atheism can only ever keep man in subjection and slavery to other men and to their legal systems of mammon.

DELIVERY - TRANSFER OF THE BODY OR SUBSTANCE: SURRENDER OF PHYSICAL POSSESSION OR CONTROL: tradition. Opposed to non-delivery. To “deliver” is TO GIVE OR TRANSFER ANYTHING TO ANOTHER PERSON. “Delivery,” used alone, is of PERSONAL PROPERTY: of letters, notices, telegrams; of negotiable instruments: of SEALED INSTRUMENTS: of opinions, CHARGES, verdicts. 1. In the law as to gifts, sales, and transportation of personality, delivery is absolute or conditional, actual or constructive, and symbolical.

Absolute delivery - A transfer without any qualification, expressed or implied.

Conditional delivery - A transfer accompanied by one or more conditions which must be fulfilled before the GENERAL property vests in the possessor. A conditional sale may become an absolute sale by an unconditional delivery of the goods, the title then passing to the PURCHASER. To constitute a conditional delivery IT IS NOT NECESSARY THAT THE SELLER DECLARE THE CONDITIONS IN EXPRESS TERMS. It is sufficient if the INTENT of the parties, that the delivery is conditional, CAN BE INFERRED FROM THEIR ACTS AND THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CASE.

Actual delivery - Manual or corporal transfer, made in FACT OR REALITY.

Author’s Note: A legal fact is never a Reality, and most often is an accepted or confirmed lie. Thus, the distinction is used here between fact OR Reality. Reality is never fiction, and facts are never Reality, because similitude (fact) is not sameness (Reality), and at best these facts are only the creations of man, of words (simulations, synthetics), and at best of man’s own perspective. The part (perspective) is never the whole (Reality, e.g., the whole Truth).

Constructive delivery - A transfer which WHILE NOT IN REALITY MADE IS YET VIEWED IN LAW AS AS GOOD AS MADE. “Constructive delivery” is a general term, comprehending all acts which, although NOT TRULY CONFERRING A REAL POSSESSION OF THE THING sold on the vendee, HAVE BEEN HELD constructione juris EQUIVALENT TO ACTS OF REAL DELIVERY.

Symbolic or symbolical delivery - HANDING OVER ONE THING AS EVIDENCE OF PARTING WITH OWNERSHIP IN ANOTHER OR OTHER THINGS. Delivery is frequently SYMBOLICAL; as, delivery of the key to a room containing goods, BY MARKING timber on a wharf or goods in a warehouse, or by separating, measuring, or weighing them; or otherwise constructive, as by delivery of part for the whole; or by delivery of a BILL OF LADING or of a bill of sale. See Gift. (WCA1889)

LIVERYMAN - noun - 1. ONE WHO WEARS A LIVERY: AS A SERVANT ... (Webs1828)

LIVERYMAN - A MEMBER OF SOME COMPANY IN THE CITY of London; also called a "FREEMAN." (Black4)

WORDS OF PURCHASE - When, in a will, the limitation of a remainder is to a "son" or "sons," "children" or "issue," "heir" or "heirs" of the life tenant, if the word is a descriptio personae, the descendant takes as a PURCHASER; it intended to comprehend A CLASS TO TAKE BY INHERITANCE; the word is a term of "LIMITATION," within the rule in Shelley’s case. "CHILD" AND "CHILDREN" ARE ALWAYS REGARDED AS WORDS OF PURCHASE, unless the testator unmistakably used them as descriptive of the extent of the estate given, and not to designate the donees, in which case they are words of limitation.
"CHILDREN" IS CERTAINLY A WORD OF PURCHASE AS "HEIRS OF THE BODY" ARE WORDS OF LIMITATION. This is the rule, but a testator may evince a different INTENT. See further Child; Heir; Issue; Limitation; Shelley's Case. (WCA1889)

HIRING - A CONTRACT FOR THE USE OF PERSONALITY OR FOR SERVICES. A species of BAILMENT for a price or recompense. 1. As to things. A CONTRACT whereby THE POSSESSION AND A TRANSIENT PROPERTY IS TRANSFERRED FOR A PARTICULAR TIME OR USE, ON CONDITION TO RESTORE THE GOODS AS SOON AS THE TIME IS EXPIRED OR THE USE PERFORMED, together with the price, expressly agreed upon or left to be IMPLIED BY LAW ACCORDING TO THE VALUE OF THE SERVICE. THE HIRER ACQUIRES A TEMPORARY PROPERTY IN THE THING, accompanied with AN IMPLIED CONDITION TO USE IT with moderation; while the owner or lender retains a REVERSIONARY INTEREST in the thing, and ACQUIRES A NEW PROPERTY IN THE PRICE OR REWARD. Of such is the loan of money on interest. 2. As to services. The contracts classed under this head are contracts for work, for the safe-keeping of personality, and for the carriage of persons or personality. "Storage" and "carriage" are in more common use than any inflections of hire, to designate a contract for the custody of ordinary merchandise, or for the transportation of persons or property. The idea of "hiring" may be involved in "employment," but its application is not restricted to any particular mode of use. See Bailment; Deposit; Locatio. (WCA1889)

PERSONALY - Personal PROPERTY (WCA1889)

PERSONAL - Pertaining to the person, belonging to an individual person, individual: as, personal or a personal — action, asset, baggage, chattel, contract, covenant, credit, demand, disability, estate, goods, injury, knowledge, liability, liberty, note, performance, property, representative, security, service, servitude, tax. REFERRING TO SOME SUBJECTS — AS, AN ACTION, ASSET, CHATTEL, ESTATE, PROPERTY — "PERSONAL" MEANS SIMPLY MOVABLE TRANSITORY, THAT WHICH MAY FOLLOW THE PERSON OF THE OWNER OR DEFENDANT. Again, referring to some subjects — as, an action, contract or covenant, defendant, injury, privilege, security, service, tax — "personal" is contrasted with real, or that which concerns REAL ESTATE. See those substantives. (WCA1889)

"But he that is AN HIRELING, AND NOT THE SHEPHERD, WHOSE OWN THE SHEEP ARE NOT, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep. THE HIRELING FLEETH, BECAUSE HE IS AN HIRELING, AND CARETH NOT FOR THE SHEEP."

— John 10:12-13, KJB

The priest feigns the corporate office of shepherd, but this is a false family. The state feigns the corporate office of family, of a father-hood, but again this is just a false, unnatural familiarity. Neither care actually. Naturally for their sheep except as commodities that bring in tithing and revenue. And for this reason, it is said that man should only call christ, the Son (Word/Law) of God, as his shepherd, as his guide through legal trappings and trickery.

Whatever one’s lord is, be it Jehovah or the false gods and magistracy of legal and ecclesiastical re-creation, that lord shall surely keep you.
The bloodline careth for its own flock, shepherding its own while despising all others as mere beasts. And so multiculturalism is foisted upon the public, for the public can have no set religion and no set moral law, lest it lose its collectivist, communitarian, foolish consent. Multiculturalism is public-mindedness, the acceptance of all opposing forces as one cult-ure bound by one amoral (absence of set moral) law. It is not that the public has freedom of religion, it is that religion is illegal accept by corporate license. For freedom is only a word meaning franchise controlled by another’s dominion and jurisdiction. And so while it appears that religion abounds, no public person is actually able to act religiously in any moral, non-corporate sense of the word. We may put on the heirs and costumes and go through the ceremonies and customs, but we can never deny the one thing that defeats all religious and spiritual actions, which is the legal (anti-God) law. We are fools declaring and pretending to be that which we are not, prancing around in the very flattering titles forbidden by God’s Nature and Law. We claim that I AM “Christian,” I AM “Muslim,” I AM “Catholic,” I AM “Jewish,” etc… Yet the religions of the earth say to only ever be plainly at Oneness with the I AM of the Nature of Jehovah, or just I AM. The bible does not say to be “Christian” any more than the Quran says to be “Muslim” or “Islamic.” For these are only flattering titles of the incorporations of men in the personification of mammon and their corporate members. The Holy Books only teach action, not excuses.

The word Muslim is merely a term that etymologically means to be whole and intact. This is scripturally the same as the teachings of Christ, to be only as I AM with no additions, titles, numbers, etc. The only wars fought between religions and the governments surrounding them are over the authority of the false names of those religions in their secular governing capacities, which ironically all teach the same goal. I AM “Christian” must kill I AM “Muslim” which must kill I AM “Jewish.” Yet each religion is a similitude, with the simple message that we should be only I AM. Ironically, to be “Muslim” is but a false religious flattering title just as a corporate “Christian” of that entitled Romish church, is to not be Whole, Pure, and intact in (at one with) one’s Self. For the flattering title is an addition that takes away the ability to be whole and intact under God by our purely religious (spiritual) actions. The church only exists under the government’s legal law that binds it in fiction (sin) against God’s Law. And for God’s sake these institutionalized religions absolutely love their own holy wars!

But the governments and religions of man ensure continuous discord for the purposes of the perpetual cycles and wealth generation of war and commerce. And this vicious cycle can only continue as long as men can be made to believe they are strawmen, that they are not all a part of God’s Creation (I AM) without any fictional representation, religion, or law of man. This is the self-evident Truth of God; that if all men are our sheep and our shepherd, then we must care for all men not as some job title but as if we are all one family.

The author realizes the difficulty engendered in this philosophy, which is why the author is not seeking or selling modern governments and religions as any form of solution. They must be left to kill themselves, for they are already in dead hands and pledge (mortgage). The spiritual man can only walk away from these fictions. And so the only question that remains is where do we walk to? This is the great mystery. Christ had no destination, no end to his journey, and no place to call home, for all these things are only legal and thus temporary, as that which is opposed to Nature. And because of this, he had no wars to fight except with that not of man himself but of man’s designs in artifice that deflected him from his own Natural path, a constant battle against fiction but not necessarily against the men respecting it. His was a battle of words, of parables, and of unrequited moral wisdom and rectitude. This is not to say that a man may not build a dwelling and Live peaceably there for a time. This is to say that in Nature (in Reality) there is no insurance, no security, and no protections. And so we must at all times be prepared to lose all possessions in order to maintain the Permanence of our spiritual Nature under God. We must be willing to walk the path wherever it may lead in perpetual spirituality away from the evils of the artifice. But spirituality does not include stuff. The church is not a building or a physical structure or house. We should not go to war to ensure the survival of our acquired stuff over the very Lives and blood of our family, our True church. The church is only the flock. And the flock needs no artifice, name, or title to Exist in Oneness. It needs only the Highest Law. It is of the blood of christ, not of masonry. It certainly does not need a corporation or a building to be part of the I AM both individually and as a whole. Whether our flock is 1 or 100 or 7 billion, we must always place Its wellbeing and especially that of each individual over all other considerations, but only in consideration of our duty to his or Its negative righteousness. And yet we must treat all men in this way, even our supposed enemies. The man with nothing to steal from is certainly the bitter enemy of these pirate gods of the nations who sponsor and gain with legal license from all forms of theft. And yet we are taught scripturally to treat even the highest and the lowest only how we should wish them to treat us. No man is a “thief,” for this is merely a flattering title bestowed upon the consequences of the pain and corruptibility of such desperate men, as that which is a potential of all men when given unbearable wealth, authority, or poverty, all of which corrupt absolutely or through a falsely created political necessity, as a pretended, manufactured scarcity created by those that covet wealth over welfare. To the wealthy man, happiness may only be retained by the ensured poverty of others. We must not incorporate our charity and never seek reward or expectation of reciprocation for it, for this is the artful, false nature of the corrupting legal relationship in contract. We must not legalize our words into property nor pretend to have the legal capacity and status (personhood) of understanding them. We must not respect anything but what is Reality, for all other stuff is only an anchor to the fiction. The worst legal phrase we can respect is to say that anything is mine. For only man’s false re-creation of words on paper can be owned, and this is the basic underpinning of the legal system, for the system is owned by the few to control the many through licensure and debt. Property is an example of this, for we own only a paper representation of another’s property, and thus we are enslaved to that actual holder and his confederation of “People.” Only fictional titles can be owned.

Under the Natural Law, it is our duty to respect privacy and to not tread on others stuff just as we would expect others should do unto ourselves. The only difference is that, because we are dualistically (at the same) time each other’s shepherd and sheep, not one of us should ever be in want of anything we may need. There is no need for the laws of men if no one man has need to violate the Laws of God. Under the Highest Law, need trumps want. Without want and desire, need is no crime. Without crime, criminal law is not needed. Without man’s criminal justice system of legal law and without crime, fictions of law need not exist in flattering title to obey or to enforce such laws of men and mammon. And without legal personhood (status), there is nothing for that artifice of law to attach to. This (Pure, Loving Charity at all times) is the only solution, a True and Lawful Existence without valuation, money, or debt of any kind. For that system of artifice will use each of us to stay in power, pitting us against each other in the competition of agency, killing and incarcerating as many of its artificial flock in surety as it must in order to continue its own false existence for the benefit of the few privy to the legal “sovereignty” of their own State (corporation). But in Reality, in Nature, only God is Sovereign, which makes us all equally, spiritually wealthy.

This word hire as used in the Bible above is utilized only in conjunction to the words reward and wages. One cannot be considered a hireling (prostitute) unless his reward is of mammon. A hireling, of course, works only for the monetary rewards and wages of his master or principal in mammon. A soldier is paid his just and evil rewards as a hired mercenary, and each Life he takes carries its own, perverted reward for each nation, generally paying a life insurance premium (reward for death) to the originating nation of that soldiers military title, like a board game of “Risk” between the gods of nations. And so a hireling can never earn any spiritual reward for his actions, for he acts on behalf of another, a stranger that is opposed to all the spirit of Law and Nature. Likewise, a citizen-ship in persona acts only as a hireling of his principal government, never able to obtain anything of the spiritual rewards of God’s Nature. A public person in citizenship knows only his master’s principal desires, and works towards that end only in the agency relationship, as his shepherd’s hireling and tool of mammon. He is simultaneously the sheep-dog and the sheep of other dogs (agents); the manager of some slaves while the slave of other managers.

One is hard-pressed not to consider here that strange social example of those unhappy hirelings of the DMV and Post Office perched in their seats of federal agency and practicing proudly (and quite often contemptuously) what limited, licensed authority they fictionally possess by their federal employment (being used), while dictating like house-slaves those services, benefits, and fees required by all others who must submit to and temporarily worship them in their uni-formed flattering title of employed officers in agency, even while they suffer the same fate and fees as their perturbed and resentful, temporary subjects. But then we all pretend to be something we are not in our titles of employment, do we not? And more often than not we use that hireling status and office with arrogant pride and false authority in our own meager dealings with others, if only to feel better about our own subjection to all the other hireling agents out there prostituting themselves to their constituted authorities. No employee is acting in his own spirit, and certainly not in the spirit of Christ. And so an employer is only as a hireling shepherd, caring not for his flock except by what he may personally gain from their employment (use) as human capital. An employee is only ever working for the benefit of his employer, as that principal’s own uncaring shepherd not of men but of other legal persons, just as a subject in citizenship only ever exists for service to its master. For every agent only ever exists at the behest and will of its principal creator. And the creator (God) controls…

Our ultimate test in this Life, in this author’s opinion, is our choice between the darkness and the Light. This highly interpretable and metaphoric notion of Light vs. darkness is that of Good vs evil, Nature vs. fiction, Posterity vs. agency, Spirituality vs. legalism. And yet it is so often that the darkness is portrayed as the only light available, the artificial light of satanism (that which is adversarial to the Light of God). Light is True knowledge. False light is the fruit of useless (seedless/unnatural) information, a knowledge of fiction and art.

“And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, AND MEN LOVED (BELIEVED IN) DARKNESS RATHER THAN LIGHT, because their DEEDS WERE EVIL. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, LEST HIS DEEDS SHOULD BE REPROVED. BUT HE THAT DOETH TRUTH COMETH TO THE LIGHT, THAT HIS DEEDS MAY BE MADE MANIFEST, THAT THEY ARE WROUGHT IN GOD.”

—John 3: 19-21, KJB

“Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I AM THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD: he that followeth me SHALL NOT WALK IN DARKNESS (spiritual death), but shall have THE LIGHT OF LIFE.”

—John 8:12, KJB

Not in death shall we find God’s Realm, but in the Light of a spiritual Life on earth following the path set out by Christ (God’s Word/Law). But Life only Exists in Nature, never in the artificial construct of man’s legal matrix and inventions.

I pause here to reflect on my own former ignorance of the words in the scriptures. This last verse, though it be obvious to me now, was but a fleeting notion in some hymn I once knew on the guitar. I sang its words without conscious awareness of its intent, and I spoke in arrogance of those words in my discourse with others. I was in darkness. I was mislead under artificial lighting. It was only when I started following in those footsteps of Christ even in my very limited capacity, by deciphering and following the words of the Bible, that I fathomed any of the spiritual intent of this verse. For while the non-profit, non-prophet priests sold from their pulpits the lie that I could simply believe that christ at one point in history Existed as a historical figure, and that this belief (false love) is all that was needed to be a member of that secular corporation posing as legitimate, True religion, the True spiritual journey implied by these words in every walk of Life has nothing to do with some anthropomorphized history, only with my own will and actions for or against that which is the darkness of the established and ordained legal and ecclesiastical artifice. The spirit is Alive, not dead. Choose Light, not graven darkness. And like the artificial spirit of legal persons, Christ can only be alive if I act in his personification. Christ can only Alive in spirit through my own actions upon the path that was laid out by those scriptural teachings.

Or I can continue to act like a demonic persona in possession by the state.

We all have a choice...

The deed of placing a child into birth registration by unwitting parents who, in conceded consent to the darkness of voluntary ignorance know not what they do, is an act of voluntary condemnation (being condemned to live in a nation under its false law), setting the child upon the path of darkness by romanizing and romancing the form of its name. This sentences in writing the criminal child as a ward of the state, districting (distraint/seizing for debt) all of us into the darkness of that commercial, municipal corporation of Washington DC and binding us to another’s (a stranger’s) law.

DISTRICTIO - Latin. A distress; a distraint. (Black4)

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA - A territory situated on the Potomac river, and being the seat of government of the United States. It was originally ten miles square, and was composed of portions of Maryland and Virginia ceded by those states to the United States; but in 1846 the tract coming from Virginia was retroceded. LEGALLY IT IS NEITHER A STATE NOR A TERRITORY, BUT IS MADE SUBJECT, BY THE CONSTITUTION, TO THE EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OF CONGRESS. (Black4)

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA - IS NEITHER A STATE NOR A TERRITORY. CONGRESS IS AUTHORIZED "TO EXERCISE EXCLUSIVE LEGISLATION IN ALL CASES WHATSOEVER OVER SUCH DISTRICT " (not exceeding ten Miles square) AS MAY, BY CONCESSION OF PARTICULAR STATES, AND THE ACCEPTANCE OF CONGRESS, BECOME THE SEAT OF THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES. " Maryland and Virginia ceded territory on the Potomac, which Congress, by act of July 16, 1790, accepted. In December, 1800, THE SEAT OF GOVERNMENT WAS REMOVED FROM PHILADELPHIA. By the act of July 11,1846, Congress retroceded the county of Alexandria to Virginia. THE DISTRICT CONSTITUTES THE COUNTY OF WASHINGTON. A CITIZEN OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA IS NOT A CITIZEN OF A STATE. The laws in force December 1, 1873, were revised and republished, by direction of Congress, in a separate volume known as the Revised Statutes relating to the District of Columbia. (WCA1889)

What is birthed in the district is bound in nativity to the exclusive jurisdiction of congress in the public United States. That’s freedom, you see? A county is only a municipal corporation, which indeed is neither a State nor a territory.

But more importantly, as we read between the lines here, A UNITED STATES CITIZEN IS STATELESS! In other words, that which is public property of the corporation of the United States is without a People (State). Remember the word “state” has multiple meanings, and that we call the United States district colloquially as “the state,” just as in Orwell’s fictional government of Nineteen-Eighty-Four was as well “the superstate,” complete with its “Ministry of Truth” that was responsible for historical revisionism and propaganda and for its use of a language known as Newspeak or “English Socialism,” nicknamed as IngSoc. Sound familiar?

But let us verify this through court record, so that no doubt or patriotic, public-minded non-sense remains:

"We therefore decline to overrule the opinion of Chief Justice Marshall, and we hold that THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA IS NOT A STATE WITHIN ARTICLE 3 OF THE CONSTITUTION. In other words, cases between citizens of the District and those of the states were not included of the catalogue of controversies over which the Congress could give jurisdiction to the federal courts by virtue of Article 3."

Paraphrase (not sourced): “In other words, CONGRESS HAS EXCLUSIVE LEGISLATIVE JURISDICTION OVER CITIZENS OF WASHINGTON DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA and through their plenary power NATIONALLY COVERS THOSE CITIZENS EVEN WHEN IN ONE OF THE SEVERAL STATES AS THOUGH THE DISTRICT EXPANDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF REGULATING ITS CITIZENS WHEREVER THEY GO THROUGHOUT THE STATES IN UNION.”

"The term "District Courts of the United States," as used in the rules, without an addition expressing a wider connotation, has its historic significance. IT DESCRIBES THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURTS CREATED UNDER ARTICLE 3 OF THE CONSTITUTION. COURTS OF THE TERRITORIES ARE LEGISLATIVE COURTS, properly speaking, AND ARE NOT DISTRICT COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES. We have often held that vesting a territorial court with jurisdiction similar to that vested in the District Courts of the United States DOES NOT MAKE IT A "DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES." Reynolds v. United States, 98 U. S. 145, 98 U. S. 154, etc.”

—Mookini v. United States, 303 U.S. 201 (1938)

"Territorial courts are legislative courts, created in virtue of the general right of SOVEREIGNTY WHICH EXISTS IN THE GOVERNMENT, or in virtue of that clause which enables Congress to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory BELONGING TO THE UNITED STATES. THE JURISDICTION WITH WHICH THEY ARE INVESTED IS NOT A PART OF THAT JUDICIAL POWER WHICH IS DEFINED IN THE THIRD ARTICLE OF THE CONSTITUTION, BUT IS CONFERRED BY CONGRESS, in the execution of those general powers WHICH THAT BODY POSSESES OVER THE TERRITORIES OF THE UNITED STATES."

—9 Federal Statutes, Annotated, 212

“A citizen of the United States is A CITIZEN OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT and at the same time a citizen of the State in which he RESIDES. Determination of what is qualified residence within a State is not here necessary. Suffice it to say that one possessing such double citizenship OWES ALLEGIANCE AND IS ENTITLED TO PROTECTION FROM EACH SOVEREIGN TO WHOSE JURISDICTION HE IS SUBJECT.”

—Kitchens v. Steele, 112 F.Supp 383 (1953)

Imagine a continually morphing, undulating amoeba. Wherever one travels as a US districted (seized), domestic citizen-ship, the tendrils of that amoeba precede our trespass there, for a United States citizen-ship may only exist inside of the amoeba, inside the United States jurisdiction. Thus generally, the citizen-ship is not allowed to travel upon private lands, only public (US) trust property. This is again the difference between a State (private) and a national (public) citizen. Each are foreign sovereignties from the other.

FOREIGN - That which BELONGS TO ANOTHER COUNTRY; that which is STRANGE. 2. Every nation is foreign to all the rest AND THE SEVERAL STATES OF THE AMERICAN UNION ARE FOREIGN TO EACH OTHER, WITH RESPECT TO THEIR MUNICIPAL LAWS. 3. But the reciprocal relations between the national government and the several states composing the United States are not considered as foreign, BUT DOMESTIC. (Bove1856)

We must be clear here that these administrative courts, which are often referred to as part of the “administrative state,” are more accurately to be called as agencies, and are created not by the constitution under Article 3, but by the “Revised Codes” as statute law of the legislatures of each state. US citizenships have no right or privilege under common law, and should not be fooled into believing in the legitimate or de jure nature of such administrative, executive de facto courts of agency steeped in admiralty/maritime law, the law of the flag (Arms) of nations. Public persons are municipe, and municipe attend municipal courts (i.e., holding courts). So if you ever hear a judge issue a warrant for the arrest of a person, this is an executive act, not a judicial one. There are no judicial courts reserved for US citizenships, and there has not been since the civil war. The common law is reserved for the bearers of private Arms, not for the voluntary subjects enfranchised under contract of citizenship to those private People through their holding company the United States. And here we find the difference between what is the States (People) in union, and what each of those several (private) States established to administer foreign citizenships of the United States. Oregon, the State (private People), created the administrative “state” to control commercial vessels of the United States district, which means that on top of the land lies a secondary, public governmental structure, a jurisdiction of administrative agencies organized as a Federal Municipal Corporation. It pretends statehood, despite the fact that the District of Columbia (Federal government) is not considered as an actual State (having no People), and being in totality a creation of congress (representatives of the States / People) assembled and totally under its authority. And so to put it as vulgarly as possible, the states governments are merely holding corporations, plantations for public servants, the State (People) being their master through Federal, administrative jurisdiction. The tendrils of the Federal amoeba extend to all territories not granted to private citizens of each State, which are called as public lands in trust.

One other aspect is to research the fact that all of these agencies and their agents are municipal corporations in nature. How do we know this? Simple, we look at their tax information. And what we find is a FEDERAL TAX ID NUMBER attached to every state municipal and district court, to every Justice of the Peace court and every circuit court, and every superior and supreme court. Even the so-called “state court” has this federal ID. In other words, all these courts have only de facto (executive/military) existence as federal, United States, administrative district courts. None of them are in the private States. None of them are common law jurisdictions or Article 3 courts as constitutional creations. They are purely commercial, administrative courts set up for the control and exaction of commercial agents (strawmen).

So let us be clear here. The Supreme Court of the United States is a constitutional court. All other courts have been federally created by acts of congress, and exist only under the Department of Justice (DOJ), which is not under the now defunct Judicial Branch but the Executive Branch of the President. In other words, there are only two branches of government that US citizenships are ever generally in intercourse with, for this simulation of “justice” has nothing to do with any legitimate, constitutional, Judicial Branch entity, judge (magistrate), or court. This further shows the fact that a United States citizenship is never actively participating in any private capacity in any State, and that all agencies we deal with in public persona are Federal (stateless) and purely administrative (unconstitutional/commercial) in nature. Again, while we may call the United States as the state, this is not an official moniker, and is more of a homage to Orwell’s 1984 version of the administrative, militarized, executive “state.” We never set foot in any State, for the amoeba of federal US jurisdiction continuously surrounds and “protects” our persons as property bound by the legal chains of voluntary servitude, with us in tow through the binding chains of the performance debt of surety. And this reaffirms the legal fact (confirmed and ratified lie) that legal state (municipal corporation) law is always trumped by federal law regarding US citizenships, for all courts are as well merely federal municipal corporations without (outside of) the common law and certainly without the Law of Jehovah, for all this is purely a legal (anti-God) fiction, the United States being just another artificial person (corporation).

"The supreme court of the United States IS A CONSTITUTIONAL COURT. ALL OTHER FEDERAL COURTS HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED BY ACTS OF CONGRESS, pursuant to authority granted by the constitution of the United States, and, BEING COURTS PROVIDED FOR BY LEGISLATIVE, AND NOT DIRECTLY BY CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY, THE CONGRESS MAY ENACT ANY LAWS IT DEEMS WISE FOR THE CONDUCT AND OPERATION OF SUCH COURTS."

"When this court has once decided a question of law, that decision, when the question arises again, IS NOT ONLY BINDING ON ALL INFERIOR COURTS IN THIS STATE, BUT IS BINDING ON THIS COURT UNTIL THAT CASE IS OVERRULED."

We are FIRMLY BOUND TO CONFORM to the decisions of the United States supreme court upon such questions as any Federal or other court."

—GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY v. STATE, 147 Wash. 630, 637 [Nos. 21092, 21093. En Banc. May 8, 1928]

"STATE COURTS MUST FOLLOW THE INTERPRETATIONS OF THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION MADE BY THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT."

"Decisions of the United States Supreme Court ARE CONTROLLING OVER CONFLICTING CASE LAW AND STATUTORY LAW OF THIS STATE."

States. States. States. and hidden behind what is styled as the “Federal Areas” of the landholders (Lords) of the Private is the outline of a modern feudal system, make no mistake. The feud has merely been redefined.

There are no unalienable, God-given rights for the persons (property) of government. Slaves may demand nothing but what the law of their master proclaims or beneficiently gives remedy for. This is why so many gurus fail in their endeavors of paper terrorism. For it is never realized by such public-minded fools that each legal state government is a municipal corporation and territorial possession of the United States. And this is why the difference between these similar but not the same terms of art, State and state, must be comprehended and understood before one attempts to go against an indestructible (sovereign) foe while acting in that foe’s proprietary status of personhood. There are no applicable private or States’s rights when it comes to federal citizenships. There are no rights at all for slaves but what is agentically granted by their master and principal. Public persons are not the People of the several (private/foreign) States united. And no state law can ever protect a US citizenship from US law.

The most important aspect of this is that as US citizenships under contract with the United States, we must remember not to use or count on common law concepts and maxims (principles) to save us, and that certainly includes the Bible and its Natural Law. Remember, the contract makes the law. There are no unalienable, God-given rights for the persons (property) of government. Slaves may demand nothing but what the law of their master proclaims or beneficiently gives remedy for. This is the outline of a modern feudal system, make no mistake. The feud has merely been redefined and hidden behind what is styled as the “Federal Areas” of the landholders (Lords) of the Private States.

What is a creation of congress is not a creation of the constitution. And remember, congress assembled re-created themselves as a legal entity of the United States under Title 2 of US Code. Congress assembled and created the corporate United States “Congress.” When working for the several States, they are congress assembled, the creators of and sovereign entity over the United States. When working and being paid by the federal United States under this federal, municipal office of the district they created, they are employees (members) of the United States and paid as such.

If this still isn’t registering, consider this. The so-called founding fathers, when they came together as “Congress Assembled” to hash out the US constitution, were not paid for their efforts. When congress acts in its de jure (legitimate) form of “the united States in Congress Assembled” they are not paid by the United States because they are the united States (People), they as a body are the 50 States/People (representatives) united. When they act as de facto (illegitimate/unconstitutional) municipal congressmen overseeing their own creation of the corporation called the United States, they are paid for their lesser employments as members thereof. These are two different hats. Congress Assembled is the boss of the United States congress, one the incorporated legal, commercial simulation of the other, as the anti-congress.
"110(d) The term "State" includes any Territory or possession of the United States."

"11(e) The term 'Federal Area' means any lands or premises held or acquired by or for the use of the United States or ANY DEPARTMENT, ESTABLISHMENT, OR AGENCY OF THE UNITED STATES; and any Federal area, or any part thereof, which is located within the EXTERIOR BOUNDARIES of any State, SHALL BE DEEMED TO BE A FEDERAL AREA LOCATED WITHIN SUCH STATE."

"I wish to pay special recognition and thanks here to the many herein unnamed folks that have researched, collected, and posted freely as I have for so many years, such cases and quotes for the likes of myself and others to find, verify, utilize, and build upon. Many of the above few pages of collected, well researched quotes comes from collections made by one Luis Ewing with thanks. I hope that my own work may be as useful to others.

The States (People) created the state constitutions upon the territories held in US trust by this Federal holding company called the United States (a creation of those same People/States), so why would anyone think that a stateless person of the District of Columbia might be a party to those People’s (State’s) negative constitutional restrictions and protections? To act within a US citizenship is to exist within a slave-holding company as a bonded agent in surety. No employee (agent) is his own master, and certainly not the holder of that which employs it. It is to be in a state of transience, a temporary disposition of being without land for the length of one’s attachment to that legalistic public persona, caught up in the spiritual death of the pursuit of mammon in civil life. When a man is separated from the land, from his Source, having no blood connection and inheritance to it, his spirit is lost. His Life force is dead to God (Nature) and his deeds without True purpose therein. His Natural and self-evident Dependence to God is illusionary replaced by an artificially induced dependence on within the artificial matrix (womb) of the state. He has been seized by the distress and distraint of Caesar. He has been personified and districted into oblivion.

DISTRAIN - TO TAKE AS A PLEDGE PROPERTY OF ANOTHER, AND KEEP IT UNTIL HE PERFORMS HIS OBLIGATION or until the property is replevied by the sheriff. It was used TO SECURE AN APPEARANCE IN COURT, PAYMENT OF RENT, PERFORMANCE OF SERVICES, etc. Also, any detention of personal property, whether lawful or unlawful, for any purpose DISTRESS is now generally used. (Black4)

DISTRAINER, DISTRAINOR - He who SEIZES a distress. (Black4)

DISTRAINT - SEIZURE, the act of distraining or making a distress. (Black4)

DISTRESS - THE TAKING A PERSONAL CHATTEL OUT OF THE POSSESSION OF A WRONG-DOER INTO THE CUSTODY OF THE PARTY INJURED, TO PROCURE A SATISFACTION FOR A WRONG COMMITTED; as for non-payment of rent, or injury done by cattle. THE TAKING OF BEASTS OR OTHER PERSONAL PROPERTY BY WAY OF PLEDGE, TO ENFORCE THE PERFORMANCE OF SOMETHING DUE FROM THE PARTY DISTRAINED UPON. The taking of a defendant’s goods, in order to compel an appearance in court. The seizure of personal property to enforce payment of taxes, to be followed by its public sale if the taxes are not voluntarily paid: also the thing taken by distrainting. THAT WHICH IS SEIZED TO PROCURE SATISFACTION. And in old Scotch law, a pledge taken by the sheriff from those attending fairs or markets, TO SECURE THEIR GOOD BEHAVIOR, and RETURNABLE to them at the close of the fair or market if they had been guilty of no wrong. (Black4)

DISTRESS INFINITE - One that has no bounds with regard to its quantity, and may be repeated from time to time, until the stubbornness of the party is CONQUERED. Such are distresses for fealty or suit of court, and for compelling jurors to attend. A power of ATTORNEY by which LANDLORD DELEGATES EXERCISE OF HIS RIGHT to his duly authorized AGENT. (Black4)

DISTRESS WARRANT - A writ authorizing an officer to make a distraint; particularly, a writ authorizing THE LEVY OF A DISTRESS ON THE CHATTELS OF A TENANT for non-payment of rent. (Black4)

WRIT OF GRAND DISTRESS - A writ formerly issued in the real action of quare impedit, when NO APPEARANCE HAD BEEN ENTERED after the attachment; it commanded the sheriff TO DISTRAIN THE DEFENDANT'S LANDS AND CHATTELS IN ORDER TO COMPEL APPEARANCE. It is no longer used, having abolished the action of quare impedit, and SUBSTITUTED FOR IT the procedure in an ORDINARY ACTION. (Black4)

SECOND DISTRESS - A supplementary distress for rent in arrear, allowed by law in some cases, where the goods seized under the first distress are not of sufficient value to satisfy the claim. (Black4)

DISTRESS AND DANGER - The "distress" and "danger" to which a ship needs to be exposed to entitle its rescuer TO SALVAGE NEED NOT BE ACTUAL OR IMMEDIATE, OR THE DANGER IMMINENT AND ABSOLUTE. It is sufficient if at the time the assistance is rendered, the ship has encountered any damage or misfortune which might possibly expose her to destruction if the services were not RENDERED, or if a VESSEL is in a situation of actual apprehension though not of actual danger. (Black4)

SALVAGE - noun - [Latin salvus, salvo.] In commerce, a reward or recompense allowed by law for the saving of a ship, OR GOODS FROM LOSS AT SEA, either by shipwreck or other means, or by ENEMIES OR PIRATES. Salvage, for savage, not used. [See Savage.] (Webs1828)

SAVAGE - adjective - [Latin silva, a wood, or silvicola, an inhabitant of a wood, or silvaticus.] 1.
Pertaining to the forest: wild; remote from human residence and improvements: uncultivated: as a savage wilderness. Cornels and savage berries of the wood. 2. Wild;
UNTAMED; as savage beasts of prey. 3. UNCIVILIZED; UNTAUGHT; unpolished; rude: as savage life; savage manners. What nation since the commencement of the christian era, EVER ROSE FROM SAVAGE TO CIVILIZED WITHOUT CHRISTIANITY? 4. Cruel; barbarous; fierce; ferocious; inhuman; brutal; AS A SAVAGE SPIRIT. - noun - 1. A HUMAN BEING IN HIS NATIVE STATE OF RUDENESS; ONE WHO IS UNTAUGHT, UNCIVILIZED OR WITHOUT CULTIVATION OF MIND OR MANNERS. The savages (i.e. indians) of America, WHEN UNCORRUPTED BY THE VICES OF CIVILIZED MEN, are remarkable for their hospitality to strangers, and for their TRUTH, EIDELITY AND GRATITUDE to their friends, but implacably cruel and revengeful towards their enemies.
From this last trait of the savage character, the word came to signify, 2. A man of extreme, unfeeling, brutal cruelty; a barbarian. 3. The name of a genus of fierce voracious flies. - verb transitive - To make wild, barbarous or cruel. [Not well authorized and little used.] (Webs1828)

BASTARDY - noun - A state of being a bastard, or begotten and BORN OUT OF LAWFUL WEDLOCK, which CONDITION DISABLES THE PERSON FROM INHERITING AN ESTATE. (Webs1828)
Savages need to be saved by these pirates by salvaging us at birth when we are informed on and abandoned to the sea of commerce in mammon, and savages in captivity (nativity) certainly can’t be trusted to hold land. The common bastard class in citizen-ship, like the entrained Tarzan after his captivity (nativity), is the tamed and civilized savage class, considered as unregenerate bastards.

You see, these “civilized” men through their legal means truly believe they are saving us from our very own “human” nature, as a factory farmer saves a newborn calf by unnaturally separating it from its mother and chaining it to an artificial feeder, profiting off of each head they salvage within their capitalist system, and claiming that we can only be saved by their absolutely twisted version of legalized, civil, Romanized paganism called by them as the legal flattering title of “Christianity” under a “Christian nation.” A clever trick of words to be sure… By corrupting men from Living in Truth, fidelity, and gratitude with each other under the blessings of God in Nature and without the artifice of a legal system, man is somehow to be better off as subjects of a totally corrupt system of the false law of these false saviors. But most important, since these gods are the enemies of all people except their own blood kin, it is of the utmost importance to teach the vulgar commonality of brutes and mean barbarians to somehow love their enemies; their captors. This is of course taken from the similar but quite different idea laid out in the Bible. We are being saved (salvaged) by the legal gods of the state, like cargo found adrift at sea and taken as booty, and we are expected to thank that false “god” (the People) for such a privilege as this, even as we pledge allegiance to the pirate flag (Arms) of the district and to the republic (sovereign State/People) for which that flag stands representing our land-lords as the creator gods, but certainly not in any way directed at Jehovah. For God receives, needs, or respects any such oath or fictional contract, and such a dead pledge would be an absolute redundancy if God’s Word were followed utterly. A contract is only the devil’s tool, and can only represent and prove a lack of the Law of Nature. Only artificial things require proof of pledge and fealty. Only frail men need the oaths of strong ones so that they may, through binding word magic, defile that un-defeat-able strength. Only devils need a contract to have any power over spiritual men. For a devil cannot be trusted in any promise he makes, and man’s promises (vows) to God cannot be considered as legitimate when promised through the devil’s artifice and trickery of personhood. A person may only pray (plead) to legal magistrates (the gods and administrators of persons), but never to Jehovah. The devil has no power over man without first binding him by words and by fooling him into believing in the sacred (secretly cursed) quality and character of those legally protected words, thus inciting him to suffer the will and tyranny of a dark master.

And we are trained to call this darkness as light.

Yet, the love spoken about by christ in the scriptures had nothing to do with conforming with one’s enemy’s system of artifice of law that stands as opposed to God’s Law of Nature. In fact, the whole point is to Love the man but hate his artifice, for man’s only True enemy is fiction. Without fictions of (belonging to and protected by) law, all men are indeed Created Equal in our untainted Origin (Source). Without trickery, without names and delusional flattering titles, no man can rule over another. For he must not only trick the slave, he must fool and pay others to support such slavery so as to be guards (agents) over them. When Christ violently threw over the tables of the money-changers he did so in hatred for his enemy, which was that design of mammon and its power over the minds of men. But he only did so in the purest Love; for those men were tricked by the enemy that is the temptation towards fiction. Only the titles and persons of man are man’s enemy, for the man never acts as his True Self while acting in the name of another, though his actions are certainly his alone to bear before God’s judgement. These legal gods (titles of men) demand the false love (belief) of their subjects (persons) by oath of fealty at all costs and in all points of law regarding their falsely promulgated superiority and sovereignty. They demand that the money-changers be respected by the legalized, nationalized “Christians” even as the whole of the population is drowning in their debt instruments and against the self-evident, spiritual teachings of Christ. For the gods of the state are the only creators of this money monopoly, and the money-changers are only their agents (bankers) acting on behalf of their principal government. The more debt created by the agent, the more taxes and investment potential are created from that debt for the principal.
Nowhere does Christ say love thy neighbor’s fraud. He says only to love and treat thy neighbor as an untainted, completely Equal man like thyself, despite his lies and self-deceit and not because of them.

CHANGER - An officer formerly belonging to the king’s mint, in England, whose business was chiefly to exchange coin for bullion brought in by merchants and others. (Black4)

CHANGER - noun - 1. ONE WHO ALTERS THE FORM OF ANY THING. 2. One that is employed in changing and discounting money: A MONEY-CHANGER. 3. One given to change. (Webs1828)

Money cannot be capitalized upon unless it is in a constant state of flux, where its value changes with each passing day and its comparative value to foreign currencies never balances. The illusion of competition is continuously maintained by media manipulation and pretended scarcities of commodities. There is certainly nothing random about these cycles of change, which are controlled utterly by these change-agents, who through seignorage and other schemes continuously scrape gains from these small but ever-present changes.

Make no mistake, the money-changers change you into money, into a valuation of mammon, and into a vessel of commerce for its use. This is the greatest of all these devil’s trickery. And this artificial form considered without substance relies strictly on your denial of God and Its Law, denial of your very own Nature and Source. Mammon (valuation in money) as fiction can only exist without spirituality, without the Law of Nature (Reality).

So how do we know for certain that the United States and other nations are not the temples of God they claim to be as “Christian” nations? The answer is so simple that only a completely brain-washed, cult-like society could possibly miss the clues. For the nations are the creators of money, and house and protect the tables and corporations (artificial persons) of the money-changers. The temple of the Federal Reserve and US Treasury and Mint is the epitome of the money-changers setting up shop in what they pretend to be God’s temple, one nation under the god of mammon. No right-minded man could possibly mistake the United States government as that which is in the favor of Christ (the Son/Law/Word of Jehovah). For this nation as all others is only a customs house for creation and taxation of commerce and merchandise. It would take a nuclear bomb for Christ to overturn the corruption of this temple built by hands. And yet all men residing within its fictional grasp and borders could rise up and be born-again from that dead civil life of citizenship in captivity (nativity) in three days just as Christ did, and would if they were actually following and acting in their whole Being as the Son (Word/Law) of God and abandoning such fictional things. For the money-changers and merchants of the invisible sea may only inhabit the artificial temples of masonry, not the temples of God that is each of us in Nature and under Its Law are in our spiritual Being.

> “And found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables; And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; MAKE NOT MY FATHER’S HOUSE AN HOUSE OF MERCHANDISE.”

— John 2: 14-16, KJB
It is only when we come to the comprehension that, not the man but the strawman, as the person (property) of the United States, is actually considered as a tradable, commercial merchandise, that we can really understand the above verse personally. This is to say, that we attend church, calling it the Father’s House, while acting in surety and agency for the merchandise of the legal (anti-God) state. When we attend church in public worship (in citizen-ship) we are doing so as merchants (commercial vessels) of the state. We are appearing as and in the name of legal (anti-God) persons, not men of God. This is a dishonor and a blasphemy to Jehovah and towards the teachings of christ, and yet we generally have no idea we are doing so. This is one of the most important aspects of the prophesied strong delusion.

MERCHANDISE - noun - 1. The objects of commerce; wares, goods, commodities, whatever is usually bought or sold in trade. But provisions daily sold in market, horses, cattle, and fuel are not usually included in the term, and real estate never. 2. Trade; traffick; commerce. - verb intransitive - To trade; to carry on commerce. (Webs1828)

MERCHANTMAN - noun - A ship or vessel employed in the transportation of goods, as distinguished from a ship of war. (Webs1828)

Remember, in the legal realm, including within these incorporated, 501 non-profit religions, charity is a regulated commercial practice. Here “charity” is a flattering title, not True Charity. Being tax-exempt does not mean being exempt from and unlimited by legal law, conditions, and districting. In other words, these corporate churches are not sanctuaries of God, but merely the deceivingly decorated temples of mammon.

If, for some reason, this isn’t abundantly clear, consider this: when you put a check into the collection plate, whose name did you sign thereupon? Do you think that check of mammon is valid without the consent of the legally assigned agent in commerce and only by its full signature, including that of the legal surname?

The creation of the legal entity at birth represents a distress, a seizure of the child by the legal, intangible hands of the district of the United States, a prize found at sea (in commerce) created by the commercial intercourse of legal (illegitimate) marriage or other form of adulterous bastardy (producing/issuing illegitimate children). And this attachment to the state and its public law ensures (in surety) that the child will be educated in proper form to benefit its principal without any regard or comprehension of its legal agency relationship. For as a ward of the state, the state is required to educate the child.

In the following definition, the word “child” is not in reference to the actual Living boy or girl, only to the legal status (person-hood) called in noun (name) form as a “child,” a fiction (creation) of legal law. Form without substance. The boy or girl (the man) is only filling an office called “child.” In other words, a “child” is an it, a thing, a property, not a he or she.

“In a contest for the POSSESSION OF A CHILD, the welfare of the child is the controlling consideration. The father will be GIVEN the custody of IT, UNLESS he is shown to be unfit or incompetent for that OFFICE, or unless the welfare of the child DEMANDS A DIFFERENT DISPOSITION.”

—Definition of ‘Child,’ referencing: Re Scarritt, 76 Mo. 565, 584 (1883), cases. (WCA1889)

“‘All PERSONS born or naturalized in the United States, and SUBJECT TO THE JURISDICTION thereof, ARE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES and of the state WHEREIN THEY RESIDE. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States…”

—14th amendment to the US constitution

“A CITIZEN OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA IS NOT A CITIZEN OF A STATE.”

—Definition of ‘District of Columbia’ repeated from above (WCA1889)

“The People’ DOES NOT INCLUDE U.S. CITIZENS.”

—Barron v. Mayor of & City Council of Baltimore, 32 U.S. 243, (paraphrase of Baron v. Mayor case cited below)

“The Citizens of each STATE shall be entitled to all PRIVILEGES and IMMUNITIES of Citizens in the SEVERAL STATES.”

—Article 4, Section 1, clause 2 of the United States constitution

These are not conflicting statements.

If a United States citizen-ship (a public, commercial vessel) is not a citizen of any of the private (several) States, meaning not one of the actual bloodline of private People of each individual State, and are thus only the peopled human capital of the United States’ human capital management system (district), then obviously the citizen-ships of the United States have no access to the privileges and immunities entitled to those citizens of each private State. This clause only claims that citizens of one private State will have the same (equal) privileges and immunities in any other private (foreign) State he may enter, including the United States as a jurisdiction. Thus the private citizen, as one that reserves all rights from the United States, is literally immune from the United States’ public law. But a United States public citizen-ship is a status (personhood) that is under the authority of that private People and its created district, not over it like these private, reserved State citizens are. They are the creators, we are their subjects in fealty and pledged allegiance. Big difference… Of course this is just one of many illusions that the subjects of the United States in citizen-ship carry as a mistaken identity, servants believing they are masters, agents believing they are principals, as those who are so hopelessly enslaved by word-magic that they believe they are Free.

Let us examine the opinion of the court delivered by Chief Justice Marshall so that we may better grasp the fact that the constitution does not effect the State governments or the private People of the States in their local government:

“The plaintiff in error contends that it comes within that clause in the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution which inhibits the taking of PRIVATE PROPERTY for public use without just compensation. He insists that this amendment, being in favor of the liberty of the citizen, ought to be so construed as to restrain the legislative power of A STATE, AS WELL AS THAT OF THE UNITED STATES. If this proposition be untrue, the court can take no jurisdiction of the cause.”

“The question thus presented is, we think, of great importance, but not of much difficuulty. The Constitution was ordained and established BY THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THEMSELVES, FOR THEIR OWN GOVERNMENT, AND NOT FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE INDIVIDUAL STATES, EACH STATE ESTABLISHED A CONSTITUTION FOR ITSELF, and in that constitution PROVIDED SUCH LIMITATIONS
AND RESTRICTIONS on the powers of its particular government as its judgment dictated.
The people of the United States framed such a government for the United States as they supposed best adapted TO THEIR SITUATION AND BEST CALCULATED TO PROMOTE THEIR INTERESTS. The powers they conferred on this government were to be exercised by itself, and the limitations on power, if expressed in general terms, are naturally, and we think necessarily, applicable to the government created by the instrument. THEY ARE LIMITATIONS OF POWER GRANTED IN THE INSTRUMENT ITSELF, NOT OF DISTINCT GOVERNMENTS FRAMED BY DIFFERENT PERSONS AND FOR DIFFERENT PURPOSES.”

“If these propositions be correct, THE FIFTH AMENDMENT MUST BE UNDERSTOOD AS RESTRAINING THE POWER OF THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT, NOT AS APPLICABLE TO THE STATES, IN THEIR several Constitutions. THEY have imposed such restrictions ON THEIR RESPECTIVE GOVERNMENTS, as their own wisdom suggested, such as THEY deemed most proper for themselves. IT IS A SUBJECT ON WHICH THEY JUDGE EXCLUSIVELY, and with which others interfere NO FURTHER than they are supposed to have a common interest.”

How many US citizen-ships have tried and failed miserably to claim in court that their property is “private” property? How ridiculous of a concept this must be to the experienced judge when he must deal with such nonsensical, false-patriotic rhetoric of such illiterate, public-minded beasts, of those who falsely believe they are Free and private? It is always the State, not the nation, that takes by eminent domain any private property of its private People. The tenants, the public persons of the nation that may happen to dwell in residence and rent of that land have nothing to say in the matter. In short, the constitution does not apply to US citizenships with regard to its protection clauses over private land, simply because public persons are not private and cannot hold privately any land!

Further information in this same case sheds ever more light on the fact that citizen-ships of the United States corporation are not the same as the citizens of any private (several) State, and later shows conclusively that cities and their inhabitants are corporations of public interest:
“Syllabus: The provision in the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States declaring that PRIVATE PROPERTY shall not be taken for PUBLIC USE without just compensation is INTENDED SOLELY AS A LIMITATION ON THE EXERCISE OF POWER BY THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES, AND IS NOT APPLICABLE TO THE LEGISLATION OF THE STATES...”

“This right was interfered with, and the benefit of this property taken away from the plaintiff BY THE CORPORATION avowedly, as the defence showed, FOR PUBLIC USE. FOR AN OBJECT OF PUBLIC INTEREST — the benefit more immediately of the community of Baltimore, the individuals, part of the population of Maryland, KNOWN BY THE CORPORATE TITLE OF THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF BALTIMORE. THE ‘INHABITANTS’ OF BALTIMORE ARE THUS INCORPORATED BY THE ACTS OF 1796 ch. 68. AS A CORPORATION, they are made liable to be sued, and authorized to sue, to acquire and hold and dispose of property and, within the scope of the powers conferred by the charter, are allowed to pass ordinance and legislative acts, which it is declared by the charter shall have the same effect as acts of assembly, and be operative, provided they be not repugnant to the laws of the state, or the constitution of the state, or of the United States.”

Now, so that you fully understand, if you want to live within the corporate limited of the artificial person (municipal corporation) of “Baltimore,” you must comprehend that you are submitting yourself (your strawman persona) to being a member of that corporation. Be very clear that Baltimore is not a city, it’s a PERSON IN LAW. When the city of Baltimore goes to court, it appears there as an artificial person represented by its appointed agents (corporate attorneys). This is what it means, in the Latin, to be a municipe, to live publicly (legally/fictionally) in the legal persona (vessel/property) of commerce within a municipal corporation (district, city, county, state government). Corporations are persons to. Never forget this. Never forget the lie you have volunteered to live under. Never forget that the person (state/State) is god of its own creation (persons).

Of course the artificial person that is the “Baltimore Corporation” may take private land regardless of any national, public persons standing in public (permissive) residence upon that land (i.e., fictionally, within that corporation) with just compensation on behalf of the State. And no US constitutional protections apply, since the act is done outside of the United States district proper and not on public lands. The State (corporation of “People”) owns the land because the State created and owns the status and Allodial title to the land.

Again, we must learn our place in society, in the social contract. To appear in court with such flawed perspectives means we lose the case before it happens. For when we make a claim of “truth” based on false ideals and patriotic delusions, as if we are one of the private People protected by the constitution, then we are forever lost in our own idiocracy. When our ac accepted truths are built on lies, on fictions, then our pretended truths are cursed (held sacred).

But we must define terms. If the constitution guarantees Immunity and Privileges only to citizens of the several private States (e.g., the equal footing clause), then we must be clear of the meaning of this distinction. For this can only mean that these private citizens of the private States have privileges and immunities from (against) the constituted authorities and government that public citizen-ships aren’t privy to.

However, as with eminent domain, a private State citizen is beholden to his own private law of each private State. And so to be clear, the State is still that private citizen’s god (sovereign). His privacy (a legal status) exists only by his subjection to this State. He is not a private man under Jehovah (under Nature’s Law), and is certainly no follower of the Word (Son/Law) of god through christ.
You see, the word privilege comes from the word private. Just as the word separate is similar to the word several, or private. Only a private citizen can be in privilege. All other public citizenships, though the term is certainly used, have no right of privacy, and so the privileges offered to public persons are so in name only. Revokable franchise… In other words, the right to privacy of a public person is an oxymoron. Public is not private. A public person can only claim the rights assigned to it by government, whereas a private person can claim privilege (exemption) from those forced public rights. The problem is that we think legal (anti-God) rights are a good thing. Thus we suffer the right to be put in pain, punished, licensed, incarcerated, taxed, exacted, extorted, and a host of many other legal rights that are in Truth only contractual obligations violently enforced upon others. Only a private man may reserve his unalienable rights, which is just another expression for the negative Law of God. Reservation of rights is a privilege against the enforcement of required, foreign, public rights, or to be more accurate, to the contractual duties those assigned and consented-to rights impose. Legal rights are a required imposition upon the disposition of a private man acting purposefully in the agency of a public fiction. The strawman, like the scarecrow, is only a subject of its creator, and a private man must give up his unalienable status in order to operate under the name of that strawman, as the property of another.

PRIVILEGE - noun - [Latin privilegium; privus, separate, PRIVATE, and lex, LAW; originally a PRIVATE LAW, some public act that regarded AN INDIVIDUAL.] 1. A particular and peculiar benefit or advantage enjoyed by a person, company or society, BEYOND THE COMMON ADVANTAGES OF OTHER CITIZENS. A privilege may be a particular right granted by law or held by custom, or it may be AN EXEMPTION FROM SOME BURDEN TO WHICH OTHERS ARE SUBJECT. The nobles of Great Britain have the privilege of being TRIABLE BY THEIR PEERS ONLY. MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT AND OF OUR LEGISLATURES HAVE THE PRIVILEGE OF EXEMPTION FROM ARRESTS IN CERTAIN CASES. The powers of a banking company are privileges granted by the legislature. He pleads the legal privilege of a Roman. THE PRIVILEGE OF BIRTHRIGHT WAS A DOUBLE PORTION. 2. Any peculiar benefit or ADVANTAGE, RIGHT OR IMMUNITY, NOT COMMON TO OTHERS OF THE HUMAN RACE. Thus we speak of national privileges, and civil and political privileges, which we enjoy above other nations. We have ecclesiastical and religious privileges secured to us by our constitutions of government. PERSONAL PRIVILEGES ARE ATTACHED TO THE PERSON, as those of ambassadors, peers, members of legislatures, etc. REAL PRIVILEGES ARE ATTACHED TO PLACE, as the privileges of the king’s palace in England. 3. Advantage; favor; benefit. A nation despicable by its weakness, forfeits even the privilege of being neutral. Writ of privilege is a writ to deliver a privileged person from custody when arrested in a civil suit. - verb transitive - To grant some particular right or exemption to, to invest with a peculiar right or immunity; as, TO PRIVILEGE REPRESENTATIVES FROM ARREST; to privilege the officers and students of a college from military duty. 1. TO EXEMPT FROM ENSURE OR DANGER. This place doth privilege me. (Webs1828)

ENSURE - And its derivatives. [See INSURE.] (Webs1828)

INSURE - verb transitive - inshu're. [IN and SURE.] To make sure or secure; TO CONTRACT OR COVENANT for a consideration TO SECURE A PERSON against loss, or to engage to indemnify another for the loss of any specified property, at a certain stipulated rate per cent, called a premium. The property usually insured is such as is exposed to extraordinary HAZARD. THUS THE MERCHANT INSURES HIS SHIP OR ITS CARGO, OR BOTH, AGAINST THE DANGERS OF THE SEA; houses are insured against fire; sometimes hazardous debts are insured, and sometimes lives. - verb intransitive - To underwrite; to practice making insurance. This company insures at 3 per cent, or at a low premium. (Webs1828)

UNDERWRITE - TO INSURE life or property. See Underwriter. To insure the sale of corporate bonds or similar securities to the public by agreeing to buy those which are not sold… (Black4)
Legal persons are literally written (as graven images) into fictional, legal existence and underwritten (insured) before their undertaking in the districted commercial debtor’s hell.

To be clear, a private citizen of the several (private) States is exempt (in privilege from) being required to carry a public strawman! In other words, a private citizen is not required to be surety for another’s person (ship) or to insure his adventures. A private citizen is exempt from insurance, from being required to ensure anything, for he is not acting in the property and name and flattering (cog) title of another, and so needs no bond of insurance to protect such a use. He need not stand in surety. Ultimately, this is the case only because the private citizen is exempt from adding the underwritten surname (insured name) to his God-given name of origin (Source). His law is not public. His person (status) is not property of the public (district/nation). His god is not the creator of fictional, public things, for he is of the body politic of his own creator god (State).

Note that our illustrious, prestigious leaders in legislature have almost total exemption from crime in their official capacity. They can simply do no legal wrong, for they are acting under a privileged status, under diplomatic immunities. No man should have or be granted such privilege, such power, such authority, nor should the common goy stand for such an outrage. But alas, history is chock full of such sovereign rulers as these.

“A MINISTER OF STATE IS EXCUSABLE FOR THE HARM HE DOES WHEN THE HELM OF GOVERNMENT HAS FORCED HIS HAND in a storm; but in the calm he is guilty of all the good he does not do.”

—Le Siècle de Louis XIV, ch. VI: “État de la France jusqu’à la mort du cardinal Mazarin en 1661” (1752)

Is the reader really surprised to learn that the United States is merely a municipal corporation called by the name of Washington, the District of Columbia? Neither a state nor a territory (not on land), it is only an imaginary jurisdiction. To be in citizen-ship to such a fictional place is to be absent from and thus foreign to all other places, both Real and in fiction, including the several (private/foreign) States. It is to be merely a ship on the sea of foreign commerce, floating in a sort of permanent vagrancy as temporary residents, as unwitting carpet baggers upon the lands of a foreign, pirating, usurious Private People. The legal creations (citizenships) of the United States only have domain in that imaginary district, as the cartoon people of a cartoon realm, sent to entertain their masters as the king’s fools in commerce and in idiocy.

In fact, the constitution tells us outright our place in each of the several (private) States, by referring to us as merely “domestic” in our status of residence.

—–

“...And [the United States] shall protect each of them (the States) against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) AGAINST DOMESTIC VIOLENCE.”

—Article 4, Section 4, Clause 2 of the United States constitution

Here we are left to wonder just what constitutes domestic violence? Just what is a “domestic” any-way and why is it distinguished here as something different from foreign invasion?

DOMESTIC - adjective - [Latin, A HOUSE.] 1. BELONGING TO THE HOUSE, or home; PERTAINING TO ONE'S PLACE OF RESIDENCE, AND TO THE FAMILY; as domestic concerns; domestic LIFE; domestic DUTIES; domestic affairs; domestic contentions; domestic HAPPINESS; domestic WORSHIP. 2. Remaining much at home; living in retirement; as a domestic man or woman. 3. Living near the habitations of man; TAME; NOT WILD; AS DOMESTIC ANIMALS. 4. PERTAINING TO A NATION CONSIDERED AS A FAMILY, OR TO ONE'S OWN COUNTRY; INTESTINE; NOT FOREIGN; as domestic troubles; domestic dissensions. 5. MADE IN ONE'S OWN HOUSE, NATION OR COUNTRY; as domestic manufactures. - noun - ONE WHO LIVES IN THE FAMILY OF ANOTHER, as a chaplain or secretary. Also, A SERVANT OR HIRED LABORER, RESIDING with a FAMILY (Webster’s). 6. PUBLIC; RELATING TO THE STATE. 7. RELATING TO THE HOMELAND. 8. BETWEEN CHILD AND PARENT.

To be considered as “domestic” to any nation is to be considered not foreign to that nation. And if one is domestic to any nation, one is certainly a foreigner to any State. One cannot be domestic to both, just as man cannot have two masters. A public citizen-ship of a nation is not a private citizen of any State (People).

In other words, the civil war was a domestic war, where the head (principal) of the household (nation) kicked the shit out of those domestic subjects that sought to leave the very tyranny that, by its Executively (unlawfully) declared civil war, reconquered and forced them into newly revised or “reconstructed” legal state-government constitutions that require unwavering support of the United States constitution without exception. And so yes, the mercenaries in this modern United States military are no different from those fighters of the civil war of their masters, today being only more organized (uniformed) into a protective ordinance of the nation. Soldiers for hire will kill those supposedly equal to themselves in civilian clothing as long as a flattering title such as “domestic terrorist” is placed upon us by that principal government, as the domestic called US citizenships are easily renamed as foreigners called as “enemies” and “terrorists,” including those different-skinned children and infants unable to yet utter such a word of art and war as “terror.”

This is not just some personal exercise of petty name-calling on this author’s account, for the use of the word “mercenary” is merely a self-evident Truth, as a soldier-for-hire’s job description has always been the same. He who prostitudes himself for money cannot be called anything else, especially when one kills another man because of the fictional flag (Arms) he bears. To pretend that killing a man is anything but what it is, as the pretended action of killing not a Creation of God but a creation of some legal state with the flattering titles of “enemy” or “insurgent” are placed upon that man’s person is the greatest delusion. It is the killing of Nature, the extinguishment of a part of Jehovah. It is quite often that the True purveyors of terror, that being almost exclusively legal governments under the law of nations, do so in the name of keeping peace through bloody conquest and cold-blooded murder, even of those millions of unwitting and innocent women and children that stand in the way. And today’s most destructive terrorists under the protection and uniform of the United States military do so while flying bomb-dropping, pilotless drones, the worst kind of brainwashed and un-empathetic cowards controlling a video game joystick and fire button with a three-second delay of the carnage they cause in Real-time. Ironically, the public have been fooled into believing (loving) another flattering title placed upon those non-domestic terrorists, one that if actually understood would not be used by the propagandists of war. To control the meaning of words is to control the people who use them.

INSURGENT - adjective - [Latin insurges; in and surgo, to rise. In opposition to lawful civil or political authority; as insurgent chiefs. - noun - A person who rises in opposition to civil or political authority; one who openly and actively resists the execution of laws. [See Insurrection. ] AN INSURGENT DIFFERS FROM A REBEL. THE INSURGENT OPPOSES THE EXECUTION OF A PARTICULAR LAW OR LAWS; THE REBEL ATTEMPTS TO OVERTHROW OR CHANGE THE GOVERNMENT, OR HE REVOLTS AND ATTEMPTS TO PLACE HIS COUNTRY UNDER ANOTHER JURISDICTION. All rebels are insurgents, but all insurgents are not rebels. (Wes1828)

So who were the insurgents of the past?

All Americans against the Crown who fought in the insurgency against it.

All confederates who fought against the United States to attempt to win their freedom, being called as rebels.

All militias that organize in protection of their own State against encroachment by national authorities.

All True followers of christ that oppose any legal law and forced execution against themselves and their fellow man.

And most relevant of all, it’s the very common people of every country out there that fight against the occupying, murderous forces of the United States and other “allied” national mercenary militaries, including the domestic citizenships of the United States.

The Articles of Confederation were very clear…

“Ill. The said STATES hereby SEVERALLY ENTER into a firm LEAGUE OF FRIENDSHIP WITH EACH OTHER, for THEIR common defense, the security of THEIR liberties, and THEIR mutual and general welfare. BINDING THEMSELVES TO ASSIST EACH OTHER against ALL force offered to, or attacks made upon THEM, or any of THEM, on account of religion, SOVEREIGNTY, TRADE, or ANY other pretense whatever…

“VI. NO TWO OR MORE STATES SHALL ENTER INTO ANY TREATY, CONFEDERATION OR ALLIANCE WHATEVER BETWEEN THEM, without the consent of the United States in Congress assembled, specifying accurately the purposes for which the same is to be entered into, and how long it shall continue.”

Like the constitution, this agreement of “friendship” was between only the private (several) States (People), and offers no friendship or negative protection to the common citizen-ship. Quite the opposite, it’s an agreement to protect these Private People (States) from the commercially oriented public they enslave and indenture. And when some of those States formed their own confederacy in a several (private) conspiracy with each other and without permission of “Congress assembled,” it was the “duty” of the “United States” to re-conquer (or purchase) those States (People) back into the Union.

For those house-slaves out there that believe in (love) the “constitution,” yes indeed, this military action is then and is today certainly “constitutional” in every way, shape, and form. This is because no religious or moral law Exists by or under that constitution. God is absent from these “People,” as proven not by their words but by their actions. That is to say that anything the “United States” does to all but the private State citizens that created it is quite constitutional, for the constitution only protects those who reserve all rights from its Caesar, from the district (distress, distraint, and seizure) of the nation. The actions of the seat of government, the corporation called the United States, are not bound by the constitution. It’s not alive. It’s a fictional, artificial person. Its law is the law of nations, not the scriptures, and not the constitution. It’s a creation of and under Congress, not of the constitution. As a nation, the command given by Lincoln by Executive Order to conquer (re-purchase) that domestic hoard of the illiterate masses of each “confederate” state was and still is a requirement of this nation’s (union of State’s) chartered compact. US citizen-ships are today as then merely alien friends that may be declared instantly as the alien enemy of the nation. Our commercial presence in the States is only allowed through our good standing in the United States jurisdiction, our strawman, which can be severed from us at any time. And trust me, your convenient little pocket constitution will not stop a bullet from a prostituting soldier’s rented mercenary gun. That is, unless you are a private citizen of the private State (People); unless you carry the artificial, legally acquired white stone of a private State citizen.

“He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; TO HIM THAT OVERCOMETH will I give to eat of the hidden manna, AND WILL GIVE HIM A WHITE STONE, AND IN THE STONE A NEW NAME WRITTEN, WHICH NO MAN KNOWETH SAVING HE THAT RECEIVETH IT.”

—Revelation 2:17, KJB

This figurative, parabolic teaching is not so mysterious as its prima facie appearance. For “in the ancient courts of justice the accused were condemned by black pebbles (stones) and the acquitted by white,” according to Strong’s definition of stone as revealed above (as #G5586 - psēphos). To carry the white stone of government is not at all the same thing as carrying such a righteous burden and duty of Natural Law in personal responsibility from God. To God is owed a vow (promise) of duty and honor, while to the State is owed fealty and an oath to some fictional title of liege-lord (landlord). And so this notion of the carrying of the white stone of innocence or of one not condemned (blackened/attainted), as one not a goyim and subject of the false law of any condem-NATION and who carries the first and only the first christian name of God, is used here (scripturally) as a parabolic symbol of he that has overcome the fiction and Lives only to serve Jehovah. But the keepers of the secret hide this Truth from us under the rose, recreating their own status (stone) in form without substance, as the “sovereignty” of private landholders acting totally against God’s Word. This artificial white stone protects these private landholders from the sanctions (punishments) of law, with very few exceptions (felony, treason, etc.). Of course that multitude of marks and signs stemming from the origin of the matrix of a legal birth certificate, and from it to the voluntary confirmation and acquiring of the driver’s license and Social Security number and other identifying symbols, signs, marks, and benefits that now in biometrical form stem from that matrix; these are all black stones upon our soul. We are black-balled from the eliteness of the “sovereignty” and their union. We are birthed into their district and governed by their commercial law of Rome. They are what differentiate and judge us at birth as unspiritual, domestic beasts of burden not worthy of saving. And yet these are the very black stones we have been taught from birth and in public to signify as our delusional state “free-dom” (franchise under another’s dung) in our legal citizen-ships. What a laughable, cosmic joke on us all it is. For we actually believe we will be “saved” by the legal fiction and judgement over our pretended false id-entity of the state, and that those mercilessly unconscious mercenaries of the militarized nation will bow down to our non-sovereignty, blackened petition of pretended legal authority. We are a colony of fools.

The United States, my friends, is our surrogate family. Like it or not we are lost to the state, treasure found by the induced ignorance of our lineal ascendancy. We are the descendants of fools; men educated to be slaves and to abandon their own children to the sea with every generation, throwing us overboard to be found as flotsam and jetsam with no known ownership (as infants of unknown parentage). We are its children, actors in agency, and its children are merely domestics resident in another’s home.

How do we know this?

If the United States will protect the private (several) foreign States (as “We, the People”) from domestic threats, then the domestics referred to can only be of the United States’ family. In other words, the domestics of each several State are all the United States citizenships residing there, for their domicile is only of the United States district. And so we can see that the private States created and amended the constitution not only to allow domestic servants to legally exist as citizenships in this debtor’s hell, but also to ensure and protect those landholders from being harmed by us if we ever wake the hell up. In short, the constitution only protects the private People that are the citizens of each private State, for they are the creators of our persons, and only they have reserved their unalienable rights from the United States. Citizenship of the United States are under lien. We are only ever domestics in whichever of the several States we reside in (without domicile).

Remember not to take these terms literally, only figuratively in their legal meaning and false authority. For a person is not of Reality, and so its domicile and its residence is not Reality either. And the home or house, as a legal fiction representing the nation, is of course also only a figurative word of legal description. Do, however, consider that this is the same feudal state of landholders and public domestics that has existed in mans’ history of empire.

To the States, we are domestic servants temporarily residing and working within their home and territory.

DOMESTICS - THOSE WHO RESIDE IN THE SAME HOUSE WITH THE MASTER THEY SERVE. The term does not extend to workmen or laborers employed out of doors. The Act of Congress of April 30, 1790, s. 25, uses the word domestic in this sense. 2. Formerly, this word was used to designate THOSE WHO RESIDED IN THE HOUSE OF ANOTHER, HOWEVER EXALTED THEIR STATION, AND WHO PERFORMED SERVICES FOR HIM. Voltaire, in writing to the French queen (in 1748, says)”Deign to consider, madam, that I AM ONE OF THE DOMESTICS OF THE KING, and consequently yours, lily companions, the gentlemen of the king.” 3. Librarians, secretaries, and persons in such honorable employments, would not probably be considered domestics, although they might reside in the house of their respective employers. 4. Pothier, to point out the distinction between a domestic and a servant, gives the following example: A literary man who lives and lodges with you, solely to be your companion, that you may profit by his conversation and learning, is your domestic. FOR ALL WHO LIVE IN THE SAME HOUSE and eat at the same table with the owner of the house, are his domestics, but they are not servants. On the contrary, your Valet de, chambre, TO WHOM YOU PAY WAGES, AND WHO SLEEPS OUT OF YOUR HOUSE, is not, properly speaking, your domestic but your servant. Vide Operative: Servant. (Bouz1856)

And so we can see that a domestic is one who Lives in another’s house (estate), not by wage but by conversation and education. In other words, a domestic is a resident. But the domicile of any resident of any of these private, several States (houses/families) is always first made into a United States citizen-ship, be it a permanent or temporary one. No foreigner may temporarily reside in any state or attends any college in any state without establishing first a permitted domicile in the fictional United States. The States created the United States for this purpose, so that all foreign residents (which is every and all United States citizen-ship no matter how “exalted their station” may be in their names, flattering titles, and public statuses) are considered as alien friends, and in the event of domestic disturbances or violence, can then be considered as alien enemies to be federally removed, interned, or defeated (conquered) from those private estates like cattle. It’s not so dissimilar to being removed from a bar for fighting after a night of obscene drunkenness, for the bar is the private house of the proprietor, and the customer is only a temporary resident (bar fly) occupying a station (bar stool) and conducting some commerce there (playing pool, conversing with others, drinking, and perhaps trying to get meaninglessly laid in adultery). The friend of the bar becomes the public enemy of the bar (association) when domestic violence breaks out and is forcibly removed by his master’s executive police officer (sheriff) or by the local municipal corporation security guards (hireling police) there at the bar (as mercenary agents for hire under color of lesser police badges).

Ultimately, we must know our place. We must know where our domicile is. If it is not under God (under Nature’s Sovereign Law) then we can only be under that of another’s dominion. Remember, a citizen of the United States domicile is not a citizen of any State (domicile), and thus can only be a resident in any other state or country compared to the United States. His home never changes, for the created persona (status) of any citizen may only ever call its creator as home (domicile).

Being foreign and resident in any private State is similar to acting a part on a stage, a play-thing to be used and abused by the People who produce, host, and direct us in voluntary servitude.

ACTOR SEQUITUR FORUM REI - According as rei is intended as the genitive of res, A THING, or reus, A DEFENDANT, this phrase means: The plaintiff follows the forum of the property in suit, or THE FORUM OF THE DEFENDANT’S RESIDENCE. (Black4)

DOMICIL - The place where a person has FIXED his ordinary dwelling, without a present intention of removal. The law of domicil is of great importance in those countries where the maxim “actor sequitur forum rei” is applied to the full extent. 2. A MAN CANNOT BE WITHOUT A DOMICIL, for he is not supposed to have abandoned his last domicil UNTIL HE HAS ACQUIRED A NEW ONE. Though by the Roman law a man might abandon his domicil, and, until he acquired a new one, he was without a domicil. By fixing his residence at two different places a man may have two domicils at one and the same time; as, for example, if a foreigner, coming to this country, should establish two houses, one in New York and the, other in New Orleans, and pass one-half of the year in each; he would, for most purposes, have two domicils. But it is to be observed that circumstances which might be held sufficient to establish a commercial domicil in time of war, and a matrimonial, or forensic or political domicil in time of peace, MIGHT NOT BE SUCH AS WOULD ESTABLISH A PRINCIPAL.
OR TESTAMENTARY DOMICIL, for there is a wide difference in applying the law of domicil TO CONTRACTS AND TO WILLS. 3. There are three kinds of domicils, namely: 1.
THE DOMICIL OF ORIGIN: domiciliun originis vel naturale. 2. THE DOMICIL BY OPERATION OF LAW OR NECESSARY DOMICIL. 3. DOMICIL OF CHOICE. 4. - §1. By domicil of origin is understood THE HOME OF A MAN’S PARENTS, NOT THE PLACE WHERE THE PARENTS BEING ON A VISIT OR JOURNEY A CHILD HAPPENS TO BE BORN. DOMICIL OF ORIGIN IS TO BE DISTINGUISHED FROM THE ACCIDENTAL
PLACE OF BIRTH. 5. - §2. There are two classes of persons who acquire domicil by operation of law. 1st. THOSE WHO ARE UNDER THE CONTROL OF ANOTHER, and to whom the law gives the domicil of another. Among these are, 1. The wife 2. The minor 3. The lunatic.
2d. Those on whom the state affixes a domicil. Among this class are found, 1. THE OFFICER
2. THE PRISONER. 6. - 1st. Among those who, being under the control of another, acquire such person’s domicil, are, 1. The wife. THE WIFE TAKES THE DOMICIL OF HER HUSBAND, and the widow retains it, unless she voluntarily change it, or unless, she marry a second time, when she takes the domicil of the second husband. A party may have two domicils, the one actual, the other legal. The husband’s actual and the wife’s legal domicil, are prima facie, one. THE DOMICIL OF THE MINOR IS THAT OF THE FATHER, OR IN CASE OF HIS DEATH, OF THE MOTHER. The domicil of a lunatic is regulated by the same principles which operated in cases of minors the domicil of such a person may be changed by the direction, or with the assent of the guardian, express or implied. 7. The law affixes a domicil. 1. Public officers, such as the president of the United States, the secretaries and such other officers WHOSE PUBLIC DUTIES REQUIRE A TEMPORARY RESIDENCE AT THE CAPITAL, RETAIN THEIR DOMICILS, Ambassadors preserve the domicils which they have in their respective countries, and this privilege extends to the ambassador’s family, Officers, soldiers, and marines, in the service of the United States, do not lose their domicils while thus employed. 2nd. A prisoner does not acquire a domicil where the prison is, nor lose his old. 8. The domicil of origin, which has already been explained, REMAINS UNTIL ANOTHER HAS BEEN ACQUIRED. In order to change such domicil there must be an actual removal with an intention to reside in the place to which the party removes. A mere intention to remove, unless such intention is carried into effect, is not sufficient. When he changes it, he acquires a domicil in the place of his new residence, and loses his original domicil. But upon a return with an intention to reside, his original domicil is restored… (Bouv1856)

Do not let these words confuse. Do not cause the fictions to be set in some perceived Reality, as if a word describing a fiction exists as some permanent certainty. Only Nature is certain, only God’s Creation. All else is temporary regardless of the artful definitions of these legal words and terms.

To be clear, when we see in law that a “14th amendment citizen” is both a citizen of the United States and a citizen of the state he resides in, this is only referential to the corporation called a state or local government of that legal, commercial realm (jurisdiction) within that state, a public corporation and agency of the US. This means that the US citizenship (foreigner) is subject first to the federal United States law of its domicile (source) and then and only then to the state government law of its residence. In other words, the US citizen-ship is “protected” from the commercial law of the state, but is therefore also not a party or privy to the protections afforded to the “republic” that is that private State (People) that reserve all or most rights. To be clear, the private concerns of the privileged bloodline of People of any State will always trump those of a foreign, US citizenship residing therein. The public person has no hold on the land, and so has no rights attached to the land. The national citizen-ship is only ever moveable chattel (property), though we do not say this outright for fear of domestic revolt. But the law is clear, not by its parts but by its whole intent. Remember that a person is a thing (Latin: res), not a man. But the state government is only a legal creation of the People that make up the corporate State, and so the state government serves only a public, commercial function. To be a citizen of any fictional government is to be subject to its creator. And so the use of the United States status in public person-hood is, under the 14th amendment, subject to the will of the private People of each of the several States both federally and locally. This is not a good thing. Private creates public, and so public persons are always subject and in fealty to private ones. A thing public cannot exist unless the private creates it. Public never rules over private, for the creator always controls, just as man can never actually rule over Nature, for all of Existence is a Creation of God. Man’s claim of sovereignty over other men (over God’s Creation of man) is thus only ever false, for man is the creator of nothing Real or Original (of Source). And what is of Nature (Jehovah) is not able to be patented as property. What is original (of Source) must be tainted and corrupted or combined in some form of impurity to be patentable as a creation of man. A slave cannot control its master. Man must be artificially remade into man’s image, into the fictional (evil) line of the seed of Adam’s fall, and he must be fooled into believing this is so through the public-mindedness of state religion and through an education only in dog-Latin and in Romanized things.

ABSENT - Being away from; at a distance from; not in company with... (Black4)

FOREIGN - Belonging to another nation or country; BELONGING OR ATTACHED TO ANOTHER JURISDICTION; made, done, or RENDERED IN ANOTHER STATE OR JURISDICTION; SUBJECT to another jurisdiction; OPERATING or SOLVABLE in another territory; EXTRINSIC; outside; extraordinary; NONRESIDENT. (reprinted from chapter 2) (Black2)

SOLVABLE - adjective - 1. That may be SOLVED, resolved or explained. 2. That can be PAID (Webs1828)

It is interesting to note both scripturally and legally that anything which is rendered by Caesar (seizure of a district) is also that which is solvable by Caesar. In other words, a debtor’s debt can be paid by rendering back to Caesar what is Caesar’s, as the scriptures declare. For we would only be rendering back what we borrowed in commerce, as that fictional status (rented vessel) of personhood. For only then would the debt be in finality performed (paid by performance) and the purpose of the person (contract) fully executed.

You see, DC is only an i-magi-nation and creation of congress, and so it is subservient to its legal creator. Therefore any persons (status) created by it (like all US citizen-ships) are also subservient to congress. But what is congress? It is merely a representation of the sovereign People, an agency of that principal sovereignty. To be a subject (in citizenship) under congress is to be subject to the People who created congress, for congress is only the agent of those sovereign States (People) and their posterity. Obviously these sovereign People of each State are not citizens of their own created district or under its subjection. A master is never also his own subject (slave), nor an agent his own principal. They do not restrain themselves, only distri ting their civilized, bastardized, cheated, and adopted savages in piracy. A doctor cannot also be his own patient. No, really! This is an important maxim of law! For the agent is not merely acting on behalf of the principal, all agents exist only as a subjective and connected part of the principal, just as all corporations using the name “McDonald’s” are the agents of that principal corporation, acting in and as a franchise of that principal’s name, allowed to operate in commerce freely (in franchise) independently of the principal but only under that principals rules and regulations, and ultimately only to benefit and profit the principal. The franchise is in dependence of its principal. The principal can end this contractual relationship to any of its franchise agents at any time. Each McDonald’s franchise only exists because it is part of its principal acting in agency. Just as an arm is part of the body while it acts in agency of the body. Just as employees are only offices created by their employer, so too are the citizens of the United States only a tiny but “equal” body part and employee of that principal body politic. We must separate the citizen from the man, never confusing the person (status) of the man with the man himself. The status (legal persona) of privacy under (belonging to) the State is not the same as spiritual privacy under God’s Law. The man belongs only to God, while the citizenship (person) belongs to the state or other principal holder. Man is not human, for that which is human is what belongs to man. It is only a long con, an imaginary legal fusion of these two statuses that creates life in that legal persona.

And here is where the whole thing gets convoluted. Pay close attention…

As a citizen-ship, the man is the agent acting in and under the person (status) of the principal. The agent (man) is the master of the ship (person), but the government is the principal (master) of the agent (man). And the ship (persona) is property only of the principle (principality), never the agent. In this way, the shipmaster is only acting in the agency of his principal, and so is subservient to it like an employee to an employer. The person (status) is subject to its master’s (principal government’s) law, even as that person (subject) is used by its ship-master (man) via agency under the doctrine of master and servant (volunteerism), but the person (ship) can only be operated by the master (man) according to the will and set laws of the principal government (mind controller).

The ship-master (man as operator of the citizen-ship in agency), strangely enough, is thus only ever the voluntary slave of his principal, for his ship belongs to another master. Like a hired captain placed upon a ship to rule the crew, the man is only a hireling in the employment (use) of his master’s ship, and so the captain is the ship-master acting only in the agency of his principal (government), which is the actual owner of the ship (person). He is a middle manager. A citizenship is, at best, only a house-slave; the slave that is perhaps master over some other slaves, but only carries the status of slave himself. Shit, they say, flows downhill. And so every slave can be the hierarchical, legal master of another. But all slaves are only offices held in agency of a principal despite their status of “master.” This is the subtle difference between the doctrines of principal and agent and that of master and servant. While a principal is always a master, a master is not necessarily a principal. To be master of a servant that is a person (property) of another is only to act in the agency of the principal owner of that property. Thus the principal owns the legal title of master, for the master is only an office created by the principal to control its subject (person). Thus the master may call the man as a “man,” which generally in legal terms means slave. We are voluntarily acting as the entitled masters of another’s servant (person). So we may only act according to our own master’s law under its principal authority. And this is why citizenships (public persons) are labeled as subjects (servants) of government (the principal and head master), which is in actuality only the agent of the sovereign People of the States. And so even as US citizenships (persons) are themselves merely slaves of a master (as men acting in franchise), and the ship-master (man) is merely agent of a principal (government), our principal (government) is also only the principal agent (house-slave) of that sovereign People (the several States in compact). They are the creators, the constitutors of debt, the incorporated god of that sovereign legal government (principal) we pledge oath and fealty to. Pledging oath to the agent of the principal is the same as pledging oath to the principal. Government is only the subject of its own master (congress); which is the agent of its own principal (the People/States); standing only as a legal creation of its own gods (We, the People in blood consideration).

This is the fall of man into fiction, the Genesis and Revelation of the big lie. This is what the Bible is trying to tell you to exit (exodus) despite its English Romanization and fantastical history.

We cannot be called as subjects under law and also be foolish enough to believe that we are sovereigns. We cannot any longer be called public and also be dumb enough to believe that anything we do is in private. And we certainly cannot be registered agents for service of process and be brain-dead enough to believe we are at the same time a principal (above the law). Unless, that is, we are the patients of the doctors and professors of such a syndicalist infection as public education.

I must admit that when I read most of these maxims, definitions, and court opinions for the first time I was in a state of shock and denial before it became self-evident, as that procession of the acceptance of Truth often bears itself so painfully in the dumbed-down, humanized mind. And so I would Naturally expect that most readers are likely experiencing the same sort of cognitive dissonance as I did, that illogical disbelief that such a horrific system of legal trickery could be sitting right under our noses and spelled out so openly in these legal texts. But eventually I got over my egotistic self, that is, my artificial public impersonation of self. I overcame my public education.

And so perhaps this next definition, as the opinion of the court (the saying of the law), will explain better than I can the fact that all legal marriages between public persons are fraudulent, illegitimate, and merely acts of legalized adultery against God designed only with the intent to cause the replication and issue of a perpetual, bloodless supply of abandoned bastards, which in turn can legally under the law of the sea be found by the district in distress and distraint and thus made into wards of the state through piracy. Imagine a judge telling you this opinion straight to your face, that the law opinionated your marriage contract as the following, which caused your child to fictionally be considered as a bastard in the eyes of the state and that the “child” was never your “legal” property in any way, again, only according to man’s law:

COHABITING IN STATE OF ADULTERY OR FORNICATION - Living together as husband and wife. Proof must establish at least one act of sexual intercourse, or facts from which such act may reasonably be inferred. (Martin v. State, 89 Ind. App. 107, 165 N.E. 763. Warner v. State, 202 Ind. 479, 175 N.E. 661, 663, 74 A.L.R. 1357.) (Black4)

Read that again, wont you?

What we consider as legal marriage is considered by the state as adultery. Make no mistake about it. To reign over us we must be made to believe what is not True. It’s real simple… If legal marriage was a legitimate spiritual joining under God then we wouldn’t need a legal state license to do it. Only an illicit union needs approval and license by the church and state. Legal marriage is legalized (licensed) adultery, and only illegitimate things may be issued (birthed) from illegitimate unions. It’s all fiction, for a marriage contracted between two legal persons is not in any way a wedding of two men of God (male and female). But the falsity of the marriage causes the actions and product (children) of the parties in contract to be just as illegitimate as that legal marriage is. This is the fall of man into fiction. Remember, what is Reality and what is the trickery of these cheaters at law are always opposed to each other. Stop believing legalism has anything to do with Reality, Nature, or God. It is a design against Reality and Nature as a system of chattel slavery. And it’s all done through the magic spellings of artful terms, through the inducement of volunteerism under the doctrine of master and servant, and by the criminal sentencing of us all by our crime of birth. The devil must always have a contract to interfere in our Lives. All contracts are satanic, being adversarial to Truth, Trust, Charity, Love, responsibility, and friendship.

VOLENS - Latin. WILLING. He is said to be willing WHO EITHER EXPRESSLY CONSENTS OR TACITLY MAKES NO OPPOSITION. (Black4)

Remember that the word “child” and “adult” is just a legal term that means only some detached legal person (status) of any actual man, and only exists in the jurisdiction of the creator of that person (child). A legal child is not Real. It’s just a noun (name/title). The actual Life of the child is not the person of the child. The legal id-entity is not the man. And so what belongs to the state is your child’s persona, status, and property assigned to it by the state as a recreated set of vital statistics registered as a son of the nation. You didn’t really abandon your child to the state, you only gave information that was used to create a legal entity called a legal “child,” which is used against you in every way imaginable through word-magic and trickery. And you are not in Reality cohabiting in a state of adultery, only your fictional persona of the state is, for it doesn’t exist in Nature and is certainly not a Creation of Jehovah. That fiction can never be legitimate in the eyes of God, and the state acting as its own god will never make you or your child equal in sovereignty to itself or its private holders. You see, its all fiction, especially the very “state” in question. And its power over you is only as powerful as your belief (love) in its own re-creation of you and your child’s artificial status. For the child’s status follows the parent’s. It’s just a pirate cove. It’s a professional, well-oiled machine whose only goal is as a kidnapping racket that ensures the escheated lands (wealth) remain in the hands of the corrupt few, and that the multitude of goyim never find out who or what we really are.

“He who consents CANNOT RECEIVE AN INJURY.”

— VOLENTI NON FIT INJURIA. Broom, Mas. 268, 269, 271, 395; Shelf. Mat. & Dis. 449; Paoli v. Lutz (Black4)
We are fooled into believing that a legal contract, a trick of the devil, masters of the magi, is an act of love. What we believe to be a bond and promise (vow) to God in lawful marriage is actually only a fiction of word magic between fictional persons (legal statuses) that creates a new legal incorporation of surnames. And the product, the purely commercial issue from this illegitimate union is the written form of a new fictional entity as in-formed and thus found as a legal persona thus written, certified, and registered into a legal existence upon that commercial birth; lost souls condemned to a life of fiction without actual heirship or blood inheritance available to the future products (children) of our own legal (adulterous) unions and labor.

Ah... the sin-tax of legalese.

If there is one thing the author of this writing is not, it is that of a scribe. I am the anti-scribe, the anti-pharisee, the anti-attorney, the anti-agent, the anti-dummy. I seek civil death to all strawmen, an end to all authority of fiction and agency. I seek the release of men from these scribe’s legal writings of law by releasing man’s mind from believing (loving the idea that) he must act in its fictional persona; its slave. This work is only dedicated to that end.

As we enter this new age of mass delusion, that of a global United Nations, which some may call the end times (end of an age), and as the global fictionalization of all men into a registered, voluntary global citizenship (slavery) is almost complete in its inscription of that artful world of the legalization of all things, the pen is truly destroying any and all Natural consideration of all persons, places, and things. Today, however, the pen is but a digital curser leaving the most destructive of artificial code, cursing man through its fictional databases and systems in total domination of all Natural considerations. In this information age, they are creating instantaneously (anon) the art form of all men (as vital information without substance) without conscious awareness that man and person (status) are being fused at the core, the mark and sign of property (status) becoming indistinguishable from the very design of DNA in every unique man. All of Nature is being catalogued and turned into proprietary, patented technology (art).

The world is being utterly Romanized through technology (art).

“The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) is moving forward with its plans to use biometric technology to identify and track refugees… The UNHCR will use Accenture’s Biometric Identity Management System (BIMS) for the endeavor. BIMS can be used to collect facial, iris, and fingerprint biometric data, and will also be used to provide many refugees with their only form of official documentation. The system will work in conjunction with Accenture’s Unique Identity Service Platform (UISP) to send this information back to a central database in Geneva, allowing UNHCR offices all over the world to effectively coordinate with the central UNHCR authority in tracking refugees.”

—Excerpt from an article entitled ‘UN Agency Selects Accenture for Refugee Biometrics Project,’ May 19, 2015 at the ‘Find Biometrics Global Identity Management’ website

All men must be given a unique id-entity marker, for the purpose of removing any and all ambiguities, and this satanic system is best accomplished through biological tracking and technology. We must understand that the ability to be identified in a unique capacity is the very foundation of legal tyranny, the word DNA of that strawman system. Without individually verified proof of artificial existence, without the name, number, and other identifying marks and signs, the negative Being cannot be turned to and put under the positive law. Man’s law may only apply to that which it can prove attachment to, which is only the legalized person of man, not man himself. The surety bond must be established and linked to every unique individual. The ubiquitous Nature of all Living things in their negative substance of Being (in self-evidence and verbosity) under God must receive the mark of the name (noun), which establishes his bond and surety to the legal fiction persona. And so the man in surety who was formally ubiquitous now finds himself trapped within legal borders and jurisdictions that, without his legal status, do not exist to him. For they are against his Nature, Existing nowhere in Nature. Man must be plucked out of the entirety and unlimited Realm of God’s Nature of Existence and pretended to be stuck in some fictional legal jurisdiction of some super-nation that binds not only his strawman but its source, as that of all other nations.

UBIQUITY - noun - [Latin ubique, every where.] EXISTENCE IN ALL PLACES OR EVERY WHERE AT THE SAME TIME; omnipresence. THE UBIQUITY OF GOD IS NOT DISPUTED BY THOSE WHO ADMIT HIS EXISTENCE. (Webs1828)

UBIQUITY - Omnipresence: PRESENCE IN SEVERAL PLACES, OR IN ALL PLACES, AT ONE TIME. A FICTION of English law is THE "LEGAL UBIQUITY" OF THE SOVEREIGN, BY WHICH HE IS CONSTRUCTIVELY PRESENT IN ALL THE COURTS. (Black4)

And here we see the fine line between God and godship, between christ and its vicars, between Reality and fiction. Be it the God of Nature or the gods of legal words (persons, places and things), the existence is proven not by declaration but by the usage of property. The whole is omnipresent in all parts. This is the Nature of God and of the men pretending godhood.
What the common, public people of the United States and of all other nations have never realized is that every single one of us bastards is a refugee. This self-evident Truth is easy to comprehend with what we have learned thus far, but let us be ever more clear. Like any other refugee in the world, we have nowhere to retreat to, no land and no castle of our own except that of our protectors in security via government license as permission to legally intrude in a “public” capacity (though a legal citizen-ship) on the lands of another (a stranger). We are in constant trespass upon another’s land holdings. We are at best tenants under contract, protected in our usufruct only by that same law created by the agencies of those who hold those lands in their own principality. It is their government and we use their government’s strawmen (status) to gain privileges of use only. A refugee cannot exist unless he is a burden upon some other place for which the refugee seeks protective refuge, and the United States is foreign to all the States (People and their private lands). A True man of God in negative Existence is no refugee, for a man of God would seek no shelter or dependence upon any government or take upon his God-given name any legal fiction surname, and he would certainly never believe (love) that such an artificial person of some government could protect and harm anything but itself from its own devilish designs. A new “refugee” is one in want of a new god (idol of some nation), of a new landlord to tax and register him into sin (syn). But only the man that accepts the mark, name, and number brand of a nation is a legalized refugee, a dependent, a permanent seeker of shelter and safety.

Refugee, and its root refuge, are not words to be found in any of our legal dictionaries. Logically this makes sense, for a refugee is a seeker of some artificial womb and refuge to shelter himself within from past dangers. A refugee is not a person, not a place, and not a thing. It is a lack of legal status, a state of being temporarily outside of all legal jurisdiction. A refugee is not defined as homeless, for he has no legal place to be homeless in. And so the legal codes and courts are quite ambiguous and general with this purely non-legal word, being in fact a state of non-legal status.

Sadly, we find the beast system has been set up not only to create through perpetual war but to then collect all of these lost sheep. And the United Nations is the ultimate false representation of all worldly principalities, the “fourth kingdom” that seeks to mark the entire population of the world by 2030 as world citizenship; members of a global debtor’s hell. For of course no refugee would ever be prodigal, never recognizable as part of any posterity (bloodline), would never be able to claim land of his own to hold, and so will always be a debtor (in performance debt) while trespassing only upon the public places (jurisdictions) of another, never knowing or over-standing anything privately in any way. After all, everywhere he may tread is just a part of that false god of all nations, and his identity within that nation (part) will signify his abandonment of the christ (the Law) and therefore Jehovah. In short, the world is being turned into a giant Monopoly board game.

World Bank, Accenture Call for Universal ID

September 29, 2015

“In a new report issued in collaboration with Accenture, the World Bank is CALLING ON GOVERNMENTS TO WORK TOGETHER TO IMPLEMENT STANDARDIZED, COST-EFFECTIVE IDENTITY MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS. A report synopsis notes that about 1.8 billion adults around the world currently lack any kind of official documentation. THAT CAN EXCLUDE THOSE INDIVIDUALS FROM ACCESS TO ESSENTIAL SERVICES, and can also cause serious difficulties when it comes to trans-border identification... The (biometric) ID cards are important for helping to ENSURE that refugees can have access to services, and for KEEPING TRACK of refugee populations. Moreover, the nature of the deployments has required an economically feasible solution, and has demonstrated that reliable, biometric ID cards can affordably be used on a large scale. IT OFFERS HOPE FOR THE UN’s SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOAL OF GETTING LEGAL ID INTO THE HANDS OF EVERYONE IN THE WORLD BY THE YEAR 2030 with its Identification for Development (ID4D) initiative.”

—Excerpt from an article entitled ‘World Bank, Accenture Call for Universal ID,’ September 29, 2015, at the ‘Find Biometrics Global Identity Management’ website

To say that this part of history is Biblical is an understatement. Technology (art) is now, for the first time, able to be utilized to cause this global biometric slave system of mammon to exist in that legal realm. In other words, we are incrementally being plugged-in to an international legal matrix, the joining of Reality with fiction, biology with law. We are currently witnessing this self-fulfilling prophecy as we Live and breathe, the onset of a new world order (new age order). Whatever your opinion of the Bible, its warnings and predictive parables cannot be denied. And whatever your opinion of The Matrix movie, its fantastic portrayal of a biometric hell of virtual reality is already upon us, being implemented and connected at an incrementally alarming rate. But change necessarily happens slowly, so that each new piece of the technology of these devil’s art is accepted and impressed upon our children, whom in consequence cannot imagine a Real Life without the artifice of their masters.

“And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, THAT THEY SHOULD BELIEVE A LIE: That they all might be damned WHO BELIEVED NOT THE TRUTH, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.”

—2 Thessalonians 2: 11-12, KJB

“And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: And that NO MAN MIGHT BUY OR SELL, save he that had the MARK, or the NAME of the beast, or the NUMBER of his NAME.”

—Revelation 13: 16-17, KJB

This overused, worn-out part of the book of Revelation (knowledge disclosure) is often taken literally, as if it will be quite obvious that it’s happening, as if some microchip or other thing will be used and as if some single man will be that described “anti-christ” beast. But remember, all men are capable of being beasts (animalistic, soulless hu-mans), and the Bible states clearly that there will be many (the multitude) who will be deceived and will therefore act in the capacity of antichrist. The sign of that beast-hood is citizen-ship unto the many nations, united into one body, one lifeless was of an artificial person (corporation). A beast is merely a goy (slave) who has taken the name and social security number of that nation’s name and property, accepting its legal delusion and acknowledging its nativity, being born under its sign and brand and respecting its corporate Arms as Reality.

Here we can already see this biometric mark of identity being used worldwide to limit just who is allowed to receive “essential services” from government, including food and water:

Subsidized Food Shops in Delhi to Have Biometric Authentication by Next May

November 23, 2015

“India’s government is planning to bring biometric authentication to its food subsidy system, and Delhi, the nation’s capital, should have it in place next spring... India’s government distributes its food subsidies through what it calls ‘fair price shops,’ via its Public Distribution System. In Delhi alone, there are about 2,300 fair price shops catering to many thousands of PDS cardholders with access to subsidized food under various schemes... India’s Minister of State for Food and Civil Supplies, Dinesh Gundu Rao, announced plans back in October to implement biometric authentication in the country’s fair price shops, ensuring that individuals (public persons) and their subsidy entitlements could be accurately verified. The plan was to link identification to citizens’ Aadhaar ID cards, which are linked to a National Biometric Registry. Now, says Minister Hussain, work on the system has already begun. When it’s in place, it should not only cut down fraud but also help to improve efficiency, with subsidized food transactions tracked digitally and in real time.”

“Singapore To Begin Collecting Iris Scans From Citizens Starting In 2017”

“Starting on Jan. 1, 2017, Singapore will take a step toward becoming a dystopian novel. The country plans to start collecting iris scans as part of its registration process for citizens and permanent...
RESIDENTS. According to Singapore’s Ministry of Home Affairs, the initiative to collect eye images will improve the ‘effectiveness and efficiency’ of operations handled by the Immigration and Checkpoints Authority (ICA). The ICA will start collecting iris scans, in addition to photographs and fingerprints, from Singapore residents in the new year. THESE IDENTIFIERS WILL BE GATHERED WHEN A CITIZEN GOES TO RE-REGISTER AN IDENTITY CARD—which Singapore has issued to ALL RESIDENTS since 1965—OR APPLIES FOR OR RENEWS A PASSPORT… The Electronic Frontier Foundation warns on its website, ‘BIOMETRICS’ BIGGEST RISK TO PRIVACY COMES FROM THE GOVERNMENT’S ABILITY TO USE IT FOR SURVEILLANCE. As face recognition technologies become more effective and cameras are capable of recording greater and greater detail, SURREPTITIOUS IDENTIFICATION AND TRACKING COULD BECOME THE NORM.”

Dependence is only another word for slavery, as in a performance debt (citizenship). This is not charity or welfare, this is the perpetual hell as the goal (and gaol) of the United Nations; an international debtor’s hell; a prison planet. All slaves (citizens and permanent residents) must be registered (identified/taxed) to ensure performance, and this may only be guaranteed through total surveillance of all transactions. Cash, being a tool of anonymity and therefore ambiguity, must be phased out. Without anonymity, buying, selling, and trading will be impossible without this mark of identity. For it is not merely the man (in persona) being registered and tracked, it must also be all articles of “property” in possession within “commerce” that will be individually registered to each person. All things will have a name and identity, including all common men, and all things will be connected in an artificial intelligence matrix. Everything in Existence (of God) will receive some form of bar code.

Seems perfectly logical on its face, and it will be sold as such, as part of the antichrist “peace and security” of the United Nations Agenda 2030 global plan. It will “save the world;” not the Real Earth of Jehovah, of Nature, mind you, but the legal, worldly realm of the flesh and all secular, artificial things.

It is disturbing enough to comprehend the current dependence by most common people (goy) of all the nations upon these legal governments (principalities). But we are now beginning to see how that dependence will be used as the ultimate weapon to create this beast system via the unique biometric mark of every man.

But there is a more sinister aspect to this notion of the Biblical mark of the beast, for it is appearing in these modern, technological (artful) times not as some visible mark or microchip, but as the unique biological sign of each individual beast! Ironically, incrementally, it is each of our very own individual traits of the ambiguous uniqueness of Nature’s Design under God that will be used against us like a set of intangible chains. For the mark used by these devils (evil geniuses) is biologically our own self-evidence; the use of the Reality of Nature Itself as the artificial sign of legal identity for all men. Unconscionably, it is that very Sign of God’s self-evident Wonder and Design, even through such unique traits of un-redacted randomness, that is literally being utilized as the mark of each unique commercial beast of burden in this global human capital management system.

In other words, we bear the mark because we are born with the mark. Our identification, our intention is thus scannable. Our findable (readable) persona (legal status) will determine our ability to buy, sell, and trade as if a biological barcode magically and permanently emanates from our Natural Being. For we cannot escape our very own Nature. Our sins and attachments to the legal artifice will be found whether we like it or not. There is no escape, but by the embracing of Source and the exclusion of all fiction. This is the Law of God. We are in the Revelation and we must become the Revealers of Truth against these Luciferian purveyors of lies.

Vein Recognition

“Vein recognition or vascular biometrics refers to identity management solutions that authenticate BASED ON THE UNIQUE PATTERNS MADE BY A USER’S VEINS. Said veins can be IN A USER’S PALM, in their finger. Though the technology used in most vascular biometrics solutions is still too big to be designed into a smartphone, the modality is carving out a niche in finance and physical access control thanks to a special trait INHERENT in vein patterns. Because vein patterns are located beneath the skin and must have blood flowing through them to be scanned, THEY ARE VIRTUALLY IMPOSSIBLE TO SPOOF.”

—Excerpt from: ‘Vein Recognition’ at the ‘Find Biometrics Global Identity Management’ website

“No community should be considered to be outside the span of this new agenda. WHATEVER YOUR ETHNICITY, WHATEVER YOUR LIVELIHOOD, WHATEVER YOUR LIFESTYLE OR LOCATION, ALL OF YOU ARE INSIDE THE AGENDA. We need to INFORM everyone that these goals are the heart of a plan for the future OF THE WORLDS PEOPLE, as well as for THE PLANET ITSELF… PEACE AND SECURITY, human rights and justice, and sustainable development, brought together within this 2030 AGENDA.”

16.9 - “By 2030, PROVIDE LEGAL IDENTITY FOR ALL, INCLUDING BIRTH REGISTRATION.”

—United Nations Sustainable Development 2030 Target Goal 16.9
World Bank

“Overview: PROVIDING LEGAL IDENTITY FOR ALL (INCLUDING BIRTH REGISTRATION) BY 2030 IS A TARGET SHARED BY THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY as part of the Sustainable Development Goals (target 16.9). The World Bank Group (WBG) has launched the Identification for Development (ID4D) cross-practice initiative to help our client countries achieve this goal and with the vision of making everyone count: ENSURE A UNIQUE LEGAL IDENTITY AND ENABLE DIGITAL ID-BASED SERVICES TO ALL.”

—United Nations 2030 Agenda, from a World Bank publication entitled, “Identification for Development”

“Let us now repeat the catechism…”

“COMMUNITY. IDENTITY. STABILITY.”

—From ‘Brave New World,’ by Aldous Huxley.

Community = Nations united into one body politic, one super-nation.

Identity = Birth registration and subsequent legal identity (the mark) for all people of all nations.

Stability = Sustainable Development Plan, Agenda 2030.

This, my friends, is the Brave New World of the fourth beast of revelation being constructed right in front of our eyes. But do not be fooled, for this is merely the workings of the “Open Conspiracy” of men, of not-so-secret societies like the Fabians (democratic socialism) and so many others of the “points of light” of Lucifer. As a Fabian Society member, H.G. Wells was not so much a simple writer of science fiction as he was a sort of innocent utopian purveyor of “blueprints” for the predictive programming of future generations into the managerially socialist “New World Order,” the very global society and singular religious Order we see emerging today. Noting here that the Arms (symbol) of the Fabian Society is a wolf in sheep’s clothing... as a distinguished member, Wells wrote:

“The political world of the Open Conspiracy must weaken, efface, INCORPORATE AND SUPERSEDE EXISTING GOVERNMENTS... The character of the Open Conspiracy will then be plainly displayed. It will be A WORLD RELIGION. This large, loose assimilatory mass of groups and societies will definitely and obviously ATTEMPT TO SWALLOW UP THE ENTIRE POPULATION OF THE WORLD AND BECOME A NEW HUMAN COMMUNITY… The immediate task before all people, A PLANNED WORLD STATE, is appearing at a thousand points of light… [HOWEVER] GENERATIONS OF PROPAGANDA AND EDUCATION MAY HAVE TO PRECEDE IT.”

—H.G. Wells, understudy of T. H. Huxley, author, lecturer, futurist, and Fabian Society member, from his book ‘The New World Order’ (1940), and preceding from ‘The Open Conspiracy’ (1922), subtitled ‘Blueprints for a World Revolution’

How ironic it is that the Life-signs of our own ambiguous Self, as one’s bio-metrical, readable uniqueness, as the very sign of one’s own individuality as part of God’s unfathomable Oneness in a seemingly random Design of Natural and genetically passed traits are the very thing that will cause us to be legally found and re-cog-nized by our fictional id-entity. We will carry the burden of our strawman, our debtor status in persona, no longer as an external id-entity but as part of the unique Design of our genetic make-up. And this is why the Bible insists that we must make a choice to bear this mark of beast-hood in mammon or follow the Natural path and Law through christ. For the choice will no longer be available once the legal identity becomes inserted and intertwined with our very vital signs and DNA, when government property (the legal person/strawman) becomes an internal part of our temple (body), our defiled temple is then cut off from Jehovah without the chance of parole and salvation.

To recollect or recover the knowledge of, either with an avowal of that knowledge or not. WE RECOGNIZE A PERSON at a distance, when we recollect that we have seen him before, or that we have formerly known him. We recognize his features or his voice. It seems the only time we personally recollect our composure in strawman form is when we disturb the “peace” of that commercial system it exists within. It is at these times when, with utter fear and cognizance, we realize that we are nothing more than cogs in this legal system. And so we answer through our cog-nomen (cog name). But that cognomen was used not as the family name, for that bloodline is legally tainted by the birth event. Thus the cognomen (surname) is turned from a vital statistic representing True family connection and inheritable blood, into an agnomen that represents that Reality of Nature and blood into a birth event that created a legal entity, a strawman given the attributes and legal appearance of each of us. As the agnomen (legal surname as property of the state) arises (is recreated into a legal form without substance) from an extrinsic event, we may now understand how our negative blood right is turned into a positive legal right, and how our last name in its statistical consideration of status defines our place or jurisdiction. It is when we use (employ) this external name not our own instead of our internal name based on blood and family that we declare our law. While the cognomen is Natural, the agnomen is purely a legal (artificial) word, and is governed according to man's law of artifice. And so to be clear, any and all usages of the name “Clint Richardson” in this anonymous work are not used in any way to give artificial, legal, or other form of pretended life or existence to any legally registered cognomen-turned agnomen in any nation, state, country, military jurisdiction, or in any other fictional or legal capacity imaginable or already patented. The rest of the time, unchallenged by the immediate sanction and authority of these tyrant’s false law of the commercial sea and false name, we pretend to be Free while in actuality we are merely slaves impressed with our own oblivious recognizance, as prisoners on parole. This is called as legal freedom within the closed-matrix and jurisdictional borders that enclose legal persons. If we follow the rules of the antichrist, anti-God system, we are left alone in our public franchise (freedom) of citizen-ship like birds with clipped wings.

RECOGNIZANCE - noun - recon’izance. 1. ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF A PERSON OR THING; avowal, PROFESSION; AS THE RECOGNIZANCE OF CHRISTIANS, BY WHICH THEY AVOW THEIR BELIEF IN THEIR RELIGION. 2. In law. AN OBLIGATION OF RECORD WHICH A MAN ENTERS INTO BEFORE SOME COURT OF RECORD OR MAGISTRATE DULY AUTHORIZED, WITH CONDITION TO DO SOME PARTICULAR ACT, AS TO APPEAR at the assizes, TO KEEP THE PEACE OR PAY A DEBT. This recognizance differs from a bond, as it does not create a new debt, BUT IT IS THE ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF A FORMER DEBT OR RECORD. This is witnessed by the record only, and not by the party's seal. There is also a recognizance in the nature of a statute staple, acknowledged before either of the chief justices or their substitutes, the mayor of the staple at Westminster and the recorder of London, which is to be enrolled and certified into chancery. 3. The verdict of a jury impaneled upon assize. (Webb1828)

Remember this word cog, for it is TO CHEAT. This can only be legally done through the attached and corrupted disease of the surname, by a cognomen (family name) that is based on the agnomen (birth event). This, it turns out, is the key to all organized crime of government, as we will soon see. For what is a criminal but one that cheats another? A pirate...

A judge (administrator) of legal persons (strawmen) may not take notice of a man without some badge and token of cognizance upon his person (a mark and sign/surname of legal status). In other words, the judge must find the fictional, proprietary status within the man’s use of his full name in order to profess the right to try and determine that man’s fate as surety for the state’s property (person) in that fictional district’s jurisdiction. The man’s contracted person must be found to be at sea (in interstate commerce, in foreign trade), where it can be summoned like a demon to fictionally, legally appear. He must be found to be carrying the mark of the Arms (Flag and Seal) of the United States or other district so as to be known to that court’s legal jurisdiction over virtual water (maritime/admiralty law). Without confession of that mark, no knowledge may be found to be acknowledged. This is to say that ambiguity of name kills the ability of such a demon to be summoned. No cognizance may be obtained in any case without the use of some ship (commercial persona) present at bar and represented by the man in surety to it, as the master of that citizen-ship subject to its principal that set it upon a commercial ad-venture in agency.
Here we must pause to comprehend just what has been defined. Knowledge is of two kinds, that of the Nature of all things and that of the imaginations and admixture of the fictional re-presentation of all things upon Nature. We already know the difference between these kinds, for one is the substance of God’s self-evident Nature of Creation and one is merely the re-creations of man’s designs against that Reality of Nature. And there is nothing new under the sun-gods, only trickery.

But the most important knowledge we may ever possess is that which allows us to not only distinguish between these two types, between Reality and fiction, but that which allows us to choose one over the other at times. Our choice in one destroys and renders powerless the other. For this legal system to remain intact, our cognizance and thus acceptance and consent of legalisms as mere fictions of law is always created through trickery, and must therefore be forced into our minds by trickery. We must be made to believe that which is unbelievable. We must be made to embrace the lie, the cog, so that our minds may be governed (controlled) by the creators (cogitators) and implementors (conjurers) of the big lie. We must be made to love being cheated by being made to recognize and know no other path, no other law.

It is important to recognize that these beast systems, as all the legal governments of men, do definitively exist in fiction, as much as any other master created by the imaginations of fiction writers. Our belief in those monsters cause us to turn on lights in dark hallways to verify they have not leapt off their perspective pages and manifested themselves into Reality through our own imagined fear of them. Inversely, government’s green propaganda causes us to turn those lights off even if we are in want of their artificial luminance. And so yes, they exist; though self-evidently not in Nature, granted. But at this point we have sufficiently explored the concept of legal, fictional existence enough to know that it is an existence based purely on respect in the minds of men, not a Real Existence of the senses. Its characters must be animated by men, lest they fall to waste and ruination as all of man’s artifice against God’s Nature and Law shall. It cannot hurt you, but the men who are believers in (lovers of) its fiction as Reality certainly can hurt you as any cult following of brainwashed servants might.

The only difference is that in a cult, the harm done is illegal. The subject of fiction is granted license to harm and kill in the name of the fiction, supporting a superstructure that can only ever function and exist as long as the cult of its constitution exists. The plantations (colonies) can only hold slaves as long as those men can be made to believe and accept that they are slaves.

The author stresses here that this war is not one of brute strength but of personal will and the will to Exist despite false personas. It is a war between the compos mentis, rational man and the temptations of the world (age). It is a battle of intent. For to Live only under God’s Will and Testament is becoming an evermore punishable crime, not only according to the legalistic law of nations, but also in the minds of the already enslaved beasts who profit from and thus profess that international system of mammon in name and occupation, and whose flattering titles and estates could not fictionally exist without its enslavement of all others. Each individual man is a potential agent of that government of nations, each protecting his perceived stake (cross) in that fiction. And each gentle man will be so publicly brainwashed into continuously seeking out each other’s mark and identity in both social and commercial life that the remnant, the remainder of christ’s unmarked followers will be made to appear as evil and shunned as the unmarked, the unclean, the unvaccinated. Life in antithesis — where dis-ease is the new ease and spiritual death is the new life.

The big lie will not be avoidable in the near future, in our lifetime, for its mark is already identifiable, in place beneath our flesh and within each unique retinal gaze. The lie will apparently be fully functional by 2030 if the Vatican-supported United Nations has its way, when all common men upon this earth will purportedly be turned into “refugees” by being natural-born or by naturalization.

For to be born of any nation is the sign and mark of already being its beast of burden.
“Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sakes, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory. It is a faithful saying: FOR IF WE BE DEAD WITH HIM, WE SHALL ALSO LIVE WITH HIM: If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: IF WE DENY HIM, HE ALSO WILL DENY US…”

—2 Timothy 2: 10-12, KJB

If we deny the Word (Son), the Law (Son) of God will also deny us. We will not be protected by that which we turn our back to. If we pollute and poison our bodies and all of Nature, then Nature will poison us, for this simple and self-evident Law is ignored. But figuratively as well, if we allow our blood to be corrupted by man’s legal inventions, then we cannot look to the Law of God’s Nature (the Son) to save us, for we have strayed from the clean and righteous path.

Remembering that we must read this in the figurative, allegorical nature for which it was originally written, we may recognize the familiar theme that civil death is spiritual Life. This True and unblemished Life can only be Lived in circumcision (separation) from the legal realm and of its flattering names and titles, numbers and marks. In other words, a Life Lived Truly without sin (artifice). And what is suffering but a lack of artifice? What is suffering when all of God’s green pastures and abundance are readily available to you? What is suffering but the lack of artificial wealth in mammon at the cost of your very soul? To deny the Son of God is to deny the Word of God, and to deny the Word is to deny the self-evidence of Law and Nature that is Jehovah, the untainted embrace of which is the only salvation.

For a moment, let us read these verses as they were intended to be understood. For the scriptures state that they may also obtain the salvation which is in (Jehovah is salvation) with eternal glory. “Jesus Christ” should not be interpreted any other way than this, as the perfected example (New Testament) of what it is to follow the Law of God’s Nature through this allegorical story of Christ.

TESTAMENT - noun - [Latin testamentum, from testor, to make a WILL.] 1. A solemn authentic instrument in writing, by which a person declares his will as to the disposal of his estate and effects after his death. This is otherwise called A WILL. A testament to be valid, must be made when the testator is OF SOUND MIND, and it must be subscribed, witnessed and published in such manner as the law prescribes. A man in certain cases may make a valid will by words only, and such will is called nuncupative. 2. THE NAME OF EACH GENERAL DIVISION OF THE CANONICAL BOOKS OF THE SACRED SCRIPTURES; as the Old Testament; the New testament. The name is equivalent to covenant, and in our use of it, we apply it to the books which contain the old and new dispensations; that of Moses, AND THAT OF JESUS CHRIST. (Webs1828)

NUNCAPATIVE - adjective - [Latin, to declare.] 1. Nominal; EXISTING ONLY IN NAME. 2. PUBLICLY or SOLEMNLY declaratory. 3. Verbal, not written. A nuncupative will or testament is one which is made by the verbal declaration of the testator, and depends merely on oral testimony for proof, THOUGH AFTERWARDS REDUCED TO WRITING. (Webs1828)

We may declare that the New Testament is the nuncupative testament of christ, as written by his witnesses. But to be stuck in such a fallaciously logical history of events defeats the spiritual self-evidence of that timeless New Testament. Obviously books written by “disciples” that were not even born in christ’s supposed historical timeline of Life cannot be the testimony of actual first-hand witnesses. This is the type of vulgarity of reason that defeats the message of that ancient, parabolic, and timeless knowledge scripture. We lose ourselves in the history and forget the purpose and intent of His story. We “prove” in our minds that these histories did not actually exist, and choke on our own conceit and pride in such false victories even as we accept other false histories, “proving” one history false by the acceptance and assent to other false histories and fictional characters. To say that this ridiculousness causes us to miss the very point of the story is the understatement of the age. We are in the midst of “bearing false witness” to all that is adversarial to christ’s teachings, loving what we should hate and blaming history for our own sins.

A vast multitude of the public beholders and believers (faithful servants) of the masters of the big lie very likely cannot be told of their dis-position in that international delusion under the legal, Roman law of nations; that they are plugged into that legal matrix code through trickery and word-magic, and that their blood is utterly (figuratively) corrupted in law, because they try to stand without the blood of christ (God’s Law). The path may be shown to all, but only the few may actually walk in its Light. Soon it will be too late for most to recover what they have already lost, for the loss happened so long ago, and the newly birthed (registered/taxed) generations of Caesar are already being skillfully, artificially detached from their families through legal means, becoming wards of the state at birth and being systematically reprogrammed through entertainment and public education to loath all family connections and visitations. We are being taught to despise even the very purpose of the spiritual, religious custom of marriage, which rests purely on the passing of lands to the heirs of the blood without need of legal means or wills of fictional persons that stand only in the legal (artificial) corruption of blood.

It is interesting to note that the prefix used in many of our modern words, such as dis-position, disease, dis-illusion, dis-jointed, dis-covery, dis-proportional, dis-gust, and dis-trust, is one of the names attributed to “satan” in the circles of hell imagined by Dante in the 1200s.

Lucifer: Circle 9, Inferno 34:

“Lucifer, Satan, DIS, Beelzebub--Dante throws every name in the book at the Devil, once the most beautiful angel (Lucifer means "light-bearer") then—following his rebellion against God—THE SOURCE OF EVIL AND SORROW IN THE WORLD, beginning with his corruption of Eve and Adam in the Garden of Eden (Genesis 3).”

—from ‘danteworlds’ website, paraphrase of Dante’s ‘Inferno’

“Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil walks about like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour.”

—1 Peter 5:8, KJB

"How you are fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! How you are cut down to the ground, You who weakened the nations!"

—Isaiah 14:12-14, KJB

“Let no one deceive you by any means; for that Day will not come unless the falling away comes first, AND THE MAN OF SIN IS REVEALED (human, spiritually dead, soulless animal man), the son of perdition, WHO OPPOSES AND EXALTS HIMSELF ABOVE ALL THAT IS CALLED GOD OR THAT IS WORSHIPED, SO THAT HE SITS AS GOD IN THE TEMPLE OF GOD, SHOWING HIMSELF THAT HE IS GOD.”

—Thessalonians 2:3-4, KJB

“You are of YOUR FATHER the devil, AND THE DESIRES OF YOUR FATHER YOU WANT TO DO. He was a murderer from the beginning, and DOES NOT STAND IN THE TRUTH, BECAUSE THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM. WHEN HE SPEAKS A LIE, HE SPEAKS FROM HIS OWN RESOURCES, for he is a liar and THE FATHER OF IT.”

—John 8:44, KJB

If I didn’t know better, I’d say that last verse was talking to every one of us strawman citizen-ships out here, telling us that we are Living the lie created by our father, as the creator and government over all legal lies. After all, to be in the agency of anyone or anything but Jehovah is certainly to be in league with some devil’s contract in evil (artifice). The shoe certainly fits. It’s all in the adoptive, legal family. For the agent only exists to benefit its principal, that sovereign legal prince of the big legal lie. Think about it… for the son of perdition is any man that exalts himself and his fiction over that of the Reality of God. It’s just satanism. We have all been manipulated and turned into just a controlled opposition (patriot) against God and Nature. And just as christ can only be manifested through any man’s action, satan can only be manifested through every man’s equal inaction.

What is it to be a victim of this sacred curse of the son of perdition? It is not merely to lose stuff or possessions, but to be possessed as the stuff of satan. It is to lose your soul. It is the ruination connected to celebrating and worshiping the artifice of man’s fiction and i-magi-nations, of celebrating instead of utterly destroying the United Nations. For to have an entirety of loss can only refer to that which we ought to hold most precious, our spirit and our soul. Perdition is akin to spiritual death, the loss of timelessness and of intrinsic pricelessness, the loss of even the ability for True happiness, as the utter corruption of the soul by the killing of the spirit and pretended corruption of the blood. Perdition is the artificial womb, the legal matrix of anti-Truth, the anti-God. The realm of that which is adversarial and exists only in the imagination and in calumniation (in name, form, and image only), this is the whole of the meaning of that word satan. If Jehovah is the Existing Oneness of all Things, then satan as Its opposite is the non-Existent nothingness and non-sense of the big legal lie. If God Created Nature, then satan (including the satanic man) may create nothing but fiction (anti-Nature). Matter vs. anti-matter.

And yet the solution is so simple… embrace only the Pure Truth of Reality! Accept no more lies! All we must do is choose the Son (Word of Law) of God over the son (lying words) of perdition.
PERDITION - noun - [Latin perditio, from perdere, to lose, to ruin] 1. ENTIRE LOSS OR RUIN; utter destruction; as the perdition of the Turkish fleet. [In this sense, the word is now nearly or wholly obsolete.] 2. THE UTTER LOSS OF THE SOUL OR OF FINAL HAPPINESS IN A FUTURE STATE; FUTURE MISERY OR ETERNAL DEATH. The impenitent sinner is condemned to final perdition. IF WE REJECT THE TRUTH, WE SEAL OUR OWN PERDITION. 3. Loss. [Not used.] (Webb1828)

Is this religion? No... Perdition is but an apt description of the 2030, Agenda 21, Sustainable Development plan under the United Nations, the worldwide registration and taxation as Caesar’s rendering of all men into a global, social fiction under the “safety and security” and surety of positive law. It is to cause all men not just to become, but to believe (love) that they are property, as the false identities of legal persons (strawmen).

In short, this is a battle between man’s respect of two polar opposites, the Natural Kingdom of God and the artful principalities of a few men. Sadly, ironically, just as it was in the Roman colosseums, the majority of corporate, flattering entitled “Christians” that have been so Judaized and Latinized into that beast system of goyim through so many denominations under legalistically titled “Christian Nations,” will likely be the leaders and protectorate of that international system of Caesar (seizure), believing that identification of all men on earth is actually a charitable concern of God. For as it is today the delusion is more powerful and somehow more appealing than Reality, the lie easier than the Truth. By 2030, future technology will no doubt provide remedy for all the loose ends and current perceptions of the intent of these ultimate nation-builders, taking all doubt away from that evil delusion in its image among good men, though not before they foolishly help to build their own international incorporation of perdition. The public illiterates educated only in variations of dog-Latin, try as they may, will never actually be able to read their Bibles and so will never Truly know the Word (Son) and Law of God. For more than any other breed of brain-washed and managed hu-man capital, the falsely and flattering entitled “Christians” that do not follow Christ in any way but in name only (in calumniation = in satanism) within this system of blatant usury in mammon, are a terrible army of righteousness revealing the legal “word” not in God’s Nature and Law but in their own monetary wealth and self-delusion, as the he-goats of the goats. They are perhaps the most dangerous of all Caesar’s indentured pagans, as history has certainly shown, for they more than any other sect must justify, prove, and publicly show their legal existence in membership to their legal gods, and history’s death toll certainly shows just how powerful such a cult of corporate Christian personality can be, killing, burning, and torturing in the name of God.

But let’s be perfectly clear here. All nations claim God as their purpose and as the reason for their legal (anti-God) existence. All nations claim that God is behind their armies of paid mercenary soldiers even as they kill for purely commercial purposes in the name of mammon. And the ultimate principality of the United Nations and its prostituting, mercenary peace-keeping forces, with members spanning all nations and intermixed within, will certainly claim that God is as well on their international side.

Just what is the goal of the United Nations and their international “Peacekeeping” regime?

DISARMAMENT, DEMOBILIZATION AND REINTEGRATION

Disarmament, demobilization and reintegation (DDR) has become an integral part of post-conflict peace consolidation, featuring prominently in the mandates of peacekeeping operations over the last twenty years.

DDR activities are crucial components of both the initial stabilization of war-torn societies as well as their long-term development. DDR must be integrated into the entire peace process from the peace negotiations through peacekeeping and follow-on peacebuilding activities in Timor-Leste.
DISARMAMENT IS THE COLLECTION, DOCUMENTATION, CONTROL AND DISPOSAL OF SMALL ARMS, ammunition, explosives and light and heavy weapons from combatants AND OFTEN FROM THE CIVILIAN POPULATION.

Demobilization is the formal and controlled discharge of active combatants from armed forces and groups, including a phase of “reinsertion” which provides short-term assistance to ex-combatants.

Reintegration is the process by which ex-combatants acquire civilian status and gain SUSTAINABLE employment and income. It is a political, social and economic process with an open time-frame, primarily taking place in communities at the local level.

The objective of the DDR process is to contribute to security and stability in post-conflict environments so that recovery and development can begin. DDR helps create an enabling environment for political and peace processes by dealing with security problem that arises when ex-combatants are trying to adjust to normal life during the vital transition period from conflict to peace and development.

DDR supports ex-combatants to become active participants in the peace process through:

- REMOVING WEAPONS FROM THE HANDS OF COMBATANTS;
- taking the combatants out of military structures;
- integrating combatants socially and economically into society.

—United Nations website (un.org), from ‘Disarmament, Demobilization and Reintegration’ page

I can think of nothing worse that to be forced to integrate into a society that is caused to exist by world governance and corporate influence. But hey, isn’t that exactly what happened to the “confederates” after the civil war?

I musingly ask how God can possibly be on every nation’s side considering each nation’s vast differential of moral and ethical laws, and also be on the side of all nations united into one satanic brood and incorporation? Is that not oxymoron? Or perhaps just moronic? Or perhaps its because the nations aren’t really representative of the people in their nativity?

But hey, why not, for most corporate “united” religions licensed by these nations already support the United Nations.

“The General Assembly of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA and Church World Service have called for churches in the U.S. to observe the 60th anniversary of the issuance of the United Nations' Universal Declaration on HUMAN Rights on Sunday, Dec. 14. In a Nov. 24 letter, the organizations praised the Declaration on HUMAN Rights for its far-sighted application and continuity with THE CHURCH’S MISSION. "Its affirmation of HUMAN dignity and of harmonious relationships among people is SURELY consistent with the gospel of God's love for every PERSON and God's will for reconciliation," the letter said.”

—United Church of Christ website, dated December 06, 2008, written by Gregg Brekke
The persons of men, which “God’s gospel of love” says over and over to never respect, are certainly respected by such massive “religious” corporations, which we must remember only exist as artificial persons. And need I say more about what exactly are “hu-man rights” at this point? For no man may receive the mark until he is made to be considered as merely a hu-man animal through legal personification, and this can only be accomplished by marking every man on earth into the international social security scheme run by the United Nations ISSA system and its World Bank. This is a New World Order so oft spoken of by so many leaders of so many principalities (nations).

“Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle NOT against flesh and blood, BUT AGAINST PRINCIPALITIES, AGAINST POWERS, AGAINST THE RULERS OF THE DARKNESS OF THIS WORLD, AGAINST SPIRITUAL WICKEDNESS IN HIGH PLACES... Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with TRUTH, and having on the breastplate of righteousness; ABOVE ALL, TAKING THE SHIELD OF FAITH, WHERETHWITH YE SHALL BE ABLE TO QUENCH ALL THE FIERY DARTS OF THE WICKED. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, WHICH IS THE WORD OF GOD...”

— Ephesians 6: 11-12, 14, 16-17, KJB

In short, this united church corporation is celebrating the principalities and legalistic systems of men over that of the Kingdom of God against the very scriptures they employ (use) to pretend to justify their very legal existence. Of course, most goyim of the world born and heralded within these nations have no capacity to comprehend these words as written, showing how the strong delusion of language (babel) is the satanists most powerful tool.

PRINCIPALITY - noun - 1. SOVEREIGNTY: supreme power. 2. A prince; one INVESTED with sovereignty. Titus 3:1. 3. The TERRITORY of a prince; or the country which gives title to a prince; as the principality of Wales. 4. Superiority: predominance. [Little used.] 5. In Scripture, royal state or attire. Jeremiah 13:1. (Webs1828)

REFUGEE - noun - 1. One who flies to a shelter or place of safety. 2. One who, in times of persecution or political commotion, FLEES TO A FOREIGN COUNTRY FOR SAFETY; as the French refugees, who left France after the revocation of the edict of Nantz, and settled in Flanders and America; the refugees from Hispaniola, in 1792; and the American refugees, who left their country at the revolution. (Webs1828)

REFUGE - noun - [Latin refugium, refugio; re and fugio, to flee] 1. SHELTER OR PROTECTION FROM DANGER OR DISTRESS. Rocks, dens and caves, but I in none of these find place or refuge. We have made lies our refuge. Isaiah 28:15. We might have strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold on the hope set before us. Hebrews 6:18. 2. That which shelters or protects from danger, distress or calamity; a strong hold which protects by its strength, or a sanctuary which secures safety by its sacredness; any place inaccessible to an enemy. The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats. Psalms 104:18. The Lord also will be a refuge for the oppressed. Psalms 9:9. 3. An expedient TO SECURE PROTECTION or defense. This last old man - their latest refuge was to send to him. 4. Expedition, in general. Light must be supplied, among graceful refuges, by terracing any story in danger of darkness. Cities of refuge among the Israelites, certain cities appointed to secure the safety of such persons as might commit homicide without design. Of these there were three on each side of Jordan. Joshua 20:2. - verb transitive - To shelter; to protect. (Webs1828)

Do we not seek out the United States as refugees from both God’s Law and from the States (People and their/our lands) upon which we are born? Is the birth certificate not the legal evidence of this fact, and do not our own actions serve as a confirmation of consent to that protection and safety offered by that artificial womb of the nation and through its public personhood?

Why do we not seek refuge in our very own Origin of Nature, of True Self, and in the God of that indefatigable Realm? To ask the correct question, why do we not follow and act as the exemplified Son (Word) of God shows us?

“And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power, Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places, FAR ABOVE ALL PRINCIPALITY, and power, and might, and dominion, AND EVERY NAME THAT IS NAMED, not only in this world (age, period of time), BUT ALSO IN THAT WHICH IS TO COME…”

—Ephesians 1:21, KJB

All common, vulgar men and thus their offspring (issues) have been or are in the process of being personified as the goyim of the multitudes within the combination (conspiracy) of (united) nations, of being Romanized into that legal system of a game of thrones, the sport of nations. All men by their strawmen persons are to be given a false sense of paper social security that is corporately only a Latinized id-entity steeped in the pure falsehood of that Roman legal fiction and centralized through that beast of many heads (many capitals, principalities) called the United Nations, that towering heap of Babel (confusion, disorder). All roads lead to Rome, for all places have been Romanized and districted (distressed) under Caesar (seizure).

Truth be told, Rome is not an actual place, merely a civil and ecclesiastical jurisdiction as words on paper enforced by fools who pledge their actual Lives to its fictional existence. All roads, in other words, are virtual waterways on the sea of international commerce that lead to the fiction of “Rome.” It takes not soldiers or police to be forcibly Romanized, only the word-craft and trickery of those confounding language arts. We are bound only by our use of that dog-Latin of the English language, illiterately speaking ourselves into a false existence under the rendering and distraint of Caesar.

Pay close attention here, for the following terms define the procession of our enslavement by the words of art hidden by such a purposefully induced language barrier.

ROMAN - adjective - [Latin Romanus, from Roma, the PRINCIPAL CITY of the Romans in Italy. Rome is the oriental name Ramah, ELEVATED, that is, A HILL; for fortresses and towns were often placed on hills for security; Hebrew to be HIGH, TO RAISE | 1. Pertaining to

“As soon as a coin in the coffer rings, a soul from purgatory springs.”

POPE - noun - [Low Latin PAPA.] 1. The BISHOP of Rome, the HEAD of the catholic church. (Webs1828)

PAPA - noun - [Latin PAPA.] FATHER; a word with us USED BY CHILDREN. (Webs1828)

BISHOP - noun - [Latin episcopus; Gr. of, over, and inspector, or visitor; to view, or inspect; whence, to visit; also, to view. This Greek and Latin word accompanied the introduction of christianity into the west and north of Europe.] 1. AN OVERSEER; A SPIRITUAL.
SUPERINTENDENT, RULER OR DIRECTOR, APPLIED TO CHRIST, Ye were as sheep going astray, but are now returned to the shepherd and bishop of your souls. 1. Pet. 2. 2. In the primitive church, a spiritual overseer: an elder or presbyter; one who had the pastoral care of a church. The same persons are in this chapter called elders or presbyters, and overseers or bishops. Scott, Comm. Acts 20:1. Till the churches were multiplied, the bishops and presbyters were the same. Ib. Philippians 1:1. 1. Tim.3:1. Titus 1:7. Both the Greek and Latin fathers do, with one consent, declare, that bishops were called presbyters, and presbyters bishops, in apostolic times, the name being then common. 3. In the Greek, Latin, and some Protestant churches, a prelate, or PERSON CONSECRATED FOR THE SPIRITUAL GOVERNMENT AND DIRECTION of a diocese. In Great Britain, BISHOPS ARE NOMINATED BY THE KING, who, upon request of the dean and chapter, for leave to elect a bishop sends a congé d’élire, OR LICENSE TO ELECT, with a letter missive, NOMINATING THE PERSON WHOM HE WOULD HAVE CHOSEN. The election, by the chapter, must be made within twelve days, OR THE KING HAS A RIGHT TO APPOINT WHOM HE PLEASES. Bishops are consecrated by an archbishop, with two assistant bishops. A BISHOP MUST BE THIRTY YEARS OF AGE, and all bishops, except the bishop of Man, ARE PEERS OF THE REALM. By the canons of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States, no diocese or state shall proceed to the election of a bishop unless there are at least six officiating presbyters RESIDING therein, who shall be QUALIFIED, ACCORDING TO THE CANONS (NOT SCRIPTURE), TO VOTE FOR A BISHOP; a majority of whom at least must concur in the election. But the conventions of two or more dioceses, OR STATES, having together nine or more such presbyters, may join in the election of a bishop. A convention is composed of the clergy, and a lay delegation, consisting of one or more members from each parish, IN EVERY STATE, THE BISHOP IS TO BE CHOSEN ACCORDING TO SUCH RULES AS THE CONVENTION OF THAT STATE SHALL ORDAIN (AGAIN, NOT SCRIPTURE). The mode of election, in most or all of the states, IS BY A CONCURRENT VOTE OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY, in convention, each body voting separately. Before a bishop can be consecrated, he must receive a testimonial of approbation from the General Convention of the church (NOT FROM JEHOVAH); or if that is not in session, from a majority of the standing committee in the several dioceses. The mode of consecrating bishops and ordaining priests and deacons differs not essentially from the practice in England. - noun - A cant word for a mixture of wine, oranges, and sugar. - verb transitive - TO CONFIRM; TO ADMIT SOLEMNLY (BY OATH) INTO THE CHURCH. 1. Among horse-dealers, TO USE ARTS to make an old horse look like a young one, or TO GIVE A GOOD APPEARANCE TO A BAD HORSE. (Webs1828)

To state that the office of Pope, as the most highly acclaimed “bishop” of the Catholic (universal) Christian religion, has absolutely nothing to do with Jehovah in all of its official artifice and election is perhaps the understatement of the age. So let us now discover, through the incremental defining and thus unlocking of these terms of art, the self-evident Truth of the artificial nature of that abomination to all that is Good and True under God named as “the pope.”

In a more restricted sense, the Germans understand by this term merely the law of Justinian, as ADOPTED by them, IN ENGLAND AND AMERICA, IT APPEARS TO BE CUSTOMARY TO USE THE PHRASE, INDIFFERENTLY WITH "THE CIVIL LAW" TO DESIGNATE THE WHOLE SYSTEM OF ROMAN JURISPRUDENCE including the Corpus Juris Civilis; or, if any distinction is drawn, the expression "CIVIL LAW" denotes the system of jurisprudence obtaining in those countries of continental Europe which have derived their juridical notions and principles FROM THE JUSTINIAN COLLECTION, while 'Roman law' is reserved as the proper appellation of THE BODY OF LAW DEVELOPED UNDER THE GOVERNMENT OF ROME from the earliest times to the fall of the empire. So what is the Pope?

What lies have you told yourself about “the pope” while its self-evidence is nowhere to be found? What is the source of that title?

Can you honestly answer that question in any other way than to see a frail, artfully elected man acting as some thing when in Reality he is no thing at all, as the title of a purely legal office consisting of the adversarial mix of the Water of the Gladness of God and the ceremonial, ritualistic anointing oils of the false church? The bishop in this perpetual game of chess is always right next to the king and queen, peripherally overseeing and domineering at both their right and left hands, standing upon both their shoulders in the conjoined dualism of the white devil and the black angel, always protective of that militarized fiction that ensures the church’s own very false existence in only the art of that legal name and flattering title. And the chess-master uses the multitude of pawns and supposedly noble knights and rooks in their fee and feudatory pledge of surety to protect the head persons (a quorum of corporate officers and advisers/worm-tongues) standing as the current church and state in sole corporation at all costs. For the life of the fiction must survive even the deadliest of opposing feuds and artificial systems, and the plebes are always the most expendable assets of such a jurisdictional gaol (a prison, from Latin carcer, as in incarceration).
Of course the more modern nuclear and biological weapon options might leave only the puppets with no masters.

The Roman Catholic Church is a legal, artificial person (corporation), not a spiritual People. How else could it be said to have a “juristic personality” in and of its artificial self (a false persona) in law if it were not considered and respected by law as a single legal (anti-God, anti-Nature, antichrist) person? Never forget that the legal law is blind to True religious actions done in the Purest of Truth, Love, and Charity. These are therefore never the traits of any legal corporation or other person. That which the legal law of man respects is always hated by God. The legal law does not respect True religion or True religious men. This is to say that it cannot respect these for it cannot see them through fictional eyes. True religion and True religious men have no person (status) in law, and so no law may be attached to them in surety. The self-evident Truth of Nature respects not the artifice and law of man, suffering it only until it democratically kills itself under its own non-Existential weight.

And yes, its laws are the originating laws and principles we follow today, plus all of the millions of additions and amendments in the modern lex scripta. We are a confused, confounded, self-destructing, Romanized people.

JURIST - noun - [Latin jus, juris, law.] 1. A man who PROFESSES THE SCIENCE OF LAW; one versed in the law, or more particularly, in the civil law; a civilian. 2. One versed in THE LAW OF NATIONS, or who writes on the subject. (Webs1828)

JURISTIC - Pertaining or BELONGING TO, OR CHARACTERISTIC OF, JURISPRUDENCE, OR A JURIST, OR THE LEGAL PROFESSION. (Black4)

Can legal or ecclesiastical law also be science? More to the point, can the law be a Natural Science, as that cherished method which seeks to destroy all lies and discover the Truth and Real Nature of all things? Is the legal law found anywhere in Nature? And to this point, to call man’s law as a “science” seems only to prove the illegitimacy of what fictional recreations man has placed under the flattering title of “science.” Under legal terms, under any fiction that is, what sin cannot be labeled as a science? What lie cannot be told and upheld in the false righteousness of flattering titles?

So is the whole of the legal law of man merely a strange journey into the imaginary realms of science fiction? Are not the created laws of any imaginary realm the science of any fiction? Is not the author of any imaginary realm of fiction also its creator god and lawmaker? And are not the greatest fictions ever told simply the many histories of those ancient gods of the old nations? The reader will suffer the author his privacy here, leaving that contemplation to myself, and instead will let this work stand as its own testament and apocalyptic revealing of the origin that artifice of law as a legal science so very steeped in manufactured history, weaponized anthropology, and falsified archaeology.

But there is an even more devious notion being brought forward here. For to be Romanized is not merely to be conquered physically by that empire in some violent military campaign of war and oppression as in days of old. No, we are defeated by the words of a political campaign, proscribed (doomed /prejudged) under treaties and international commercial laws of the nations, and by the very romanish dog-Latin we have been trained to speak. We are all acting catholicly, because catholic only means generally, commonly, and universally pledged in collective deceit, as a united nations of popishly acting “liberal” goyim under a universal religion of popish “Christianity.” It is a title of romanized ceremony and doctrinal code, stripped from the Bible that was written, kept a mystery, and read only by the catholic priesthood for centuries until modernly re-visioned into a scientific, pagan doctrine of legalistic law. All “Christian” nations lead to Rome, for Rome is only a legal, artificial person itself. It is the Romanized language that conquers the minds of men through language arts, not some army. What Rome is cannot be reduced to a mere geographical place on the earth. It is the tree of knowledge of good and evil personified into a global corporate structure, a coded matrix, its priests the serpents of the figments of our imaginations. To be Romanized is to be Latinized, which is to be manipulated into speaking a version of the Latin language of that office of a Roman pagan chimera, speaking itself into the false existence of a legal perpetuity via the inheritable corporation sole. It is our consistent use of dog-Latin (general/catholic/universal low English) that enslaves us to that Latinized system of law (lex scripta) without the slightest contemplation.

“Vernacular Bible: Biblia Sacra - Vulgate Editions…

“Pope Damasus I commissioned Saint Jerome, in 382, to revise the Vetus Latina, which was the compendium of all biblical texts, translated into Latin. Jerome’s product became known as “versio vulgata,” or “COMMON VERSION.” It was the translation used most often from then on throughout Western Europe, and from 400 to about 1530, THE LATIN VULGATE WAS THE ONE AND ONLY BIBLE MOST WESTERN EUROPEANS EVER ENCOUNTERED. It is, in fact, STILL THE ONLY OFFICIAL BIBLE OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

“Nothing is wrong with any of this, because Jerome’s translation is perfectly accurate and at its time of publication Latin was spoken throughout most of Europe. It is, more or less, THE KING JAMES VERSION IN LATIN, SINCE THE KING JAMES TRANSLATORS USED IT AS ONE OF THEIR PRIMARY GUIDES. But the problem arose when the commoners throughout Europe told their priests, who told their bishops, who told the popes, THAT THE COMMONERS DID NOT UNDERSTAND THE FIRST THING ABOUT LATIN. IT WAS NOT SPOKEN EXCEPT IN CHURCH CEREMONIES, AND THUS, IN ORDER TO LEARN IT, THE COMMONERS HAD TO GET THEIR PRIESTS TO TEACH THEM. But the priests would not bother teaching them. Why?

“BECAUSE KNOWLEDGE IS POWER, AND THE CATHOLIC CHURCH HAD ALL OF BOTH. For about 1,000 years, the Bible remained well known ONLY TO THE CHURCH OFFICIALS, clergy of all orders, and an elect few well educated scholars. It was never counter to any Papal Bull for any person to translate the Bible into another language. However, anyone who intended to do so was STRONGLY ADMONISHED by the Pope himself, with every archbishop, bishop and priest of the continent TOLD NOT TO TRANSLATE THE BIBLE INTO ANY LANGUAGE besides BIBLICAL HEBREW, ANCIENT GREEK OR LATIN. THESE THREE LANGUAGES WERE ALMOST DEAD AT THE TIME, MEANING NO ONE SPOKE THEM COMMONLY.”

— Flamehorse website, excerpt from: ‘Top 10 Shameful Moments in Catholic History,’ June 6, 2011

Today we too unwittingly speak a dead language. But its death is not due to disuse. Rather, while the commoners who speak it generally communicate decently enough between each other, our words fall upon dead ears when we attempt to use them to the priest class, the magistracy, the only users of those dead languages. To them, we speak as a mass of blubbering fools and are treated as such. It is not the language that is dead, but its users, babbling brooks issuing worthless streams of words without conscious thought behind them. And so the Bible goes on today, as it was then, unread and misunderstood but by that priest class.

William Tyndale, author of the first English translation of the Bible from the Greek and Hebrew texts, was executed by strangulation in 1534 for his “heretic” efforts, as his writings were against the pope’s universal control of kings, leading to the more modern concept of the “divine right of kings.” This divine right was specifically anti-catholic (anti-universal), as controlled opposition.
And it is important to note that the 54 scholars that compiled the “King James” Bible in 1611 drew heavily from Tyndall’s translations. It was apparently the logic and reasoning of Tyndale’s booklet “The Obedience of a Christian Man...” that allowed King Henry VIII to break the Church of England from the Roman Catholic Church. Obviously there is more to this story of independence, but Tyndall’s quotes help to comprehend the importance of English as the language of illiteracy, a critique on the mysteries and use of Latin by the priest-class to an English-only speaking people.

“How can we whet (put into practice, use and exercise) God’s Word upon our children and household, WHEN WE ARE VIOLENTLY KEPT FROM IT AND KNOW IT NOT? ...On the holy days which were ordained to preach God’s word, set up long ceremonies, long matins, long masses and long evensongs, AND ALL IN LATIN THAT THEY UNDERSTAND NOT, AND ROLL THEM IN DARKNESS, THAT YE MAY LEAD THEM WHITHER YE WILL... AND YET PAUL (WAS…) FORBIDDETH TO SPEAK IN THE CHURCH OR CONGREGATION SAVE IN THE TONGUE THAT ALL UNDERSTAND.”

—William Tyndale, quoted from: ‘The Obedience of a Christian Man…”

I certainly do not support the idea of any divine right of any king, or in the case of the United States, any sovereignty called as a “People,” to bear and hide True knowledge merely to keep power over the masses of induced, entrained, and impressed illiterates. This history is included here only to reinforce the fact that all kings were beholden not to God alone, but to the Roman god of the Catholic Church. Kings ruled only through the middle-man and vicar of christ that the pope still to this day pretends to be. And so this helps us to understand the origins of this divine right, psychopathic as it may be. And from that same tune of psychopathy, the American exceptionalism of the private landholding “People” stems, entrained even into their beholden, voluntarily subjective citizen-ship.

Ironically, Tyndall’s premise was based on the fact that Jesus proclaimed that each man individually should read the Bible, for only then may he be able to recognize just who were the false prophets. And whom else but the very priest-class did Jesus himself call out in the Bible as being such false prophets, whose false doctrines could only lead men away from Jehovah? In this way, a man might know a good king from bad. And also in this way, the commonalty of the United States should certainly know their own leaders for what they are, if they were only to be able to read the Bible as intended and not for their own personal “filthy” lucre and gain in mammon and in support of pointless world wars.

Think of it this way… for those who have studied the trivium method as to the application of the liberal arts in the specifically ordered use and communication of grammar first, then logic, and then and only then rhetoric, we must obviously be conscious of the source of our foundation of grammar (knowledge) lest our logic (dialectic) fail and become a false belief (love), while our rhetoric (speech) shines only in the false light of our self-induced and confident ignorance. To this end, let us not forget that the English language is the language of intentional illiteracy, as called as dog-Latin. And so it is very dangerous to place one’s knowledge upon a pedestal over other English-speakers, and especially over those that operate in and practice any higher language, when that knowledge is based in a language designed to obfuscate the origin and True meaning of most words. It is therefore doubly dangerous to insist upon possessing proper logic and reason based upon such knowledge in our rhetorical diatribe, for our logic is only as good as our grammar, and the source of all English grammar is purposefully and thus often accidentally tainted towards being of the adversaria, often by men with otherwise good intent. In other words, our history has been Romanized. Our history is merely a strung together tale of romantic, fantastical stories designed to enforce the big legal lie. The characters of our confirmed lies called “histories” are portrayed as gods and heroes, steeped with bravery and seemingly supernatural powers, with hardly the notion that these were often only frail men underneath their fantastically glorified titles and romantic deeds and habits. Even the founders of the United States appear in our fabled history as the supposed godfathers and fighters of Natural Liberty, though nothing they accomplished was in any way original or moral. Just ask those they allowed to be commercially enslaved! And ask yourself again after reading this work just what is their purpose and intent.

Unfortunately, if we are to examine history and literature honestly by these standards in their artfully tainted language, we must include one of the most Romanized books ever to be in Existence; that of the Holy Bible. One cannot deny that in America we for the most part read the Bible, in general, only in its translated English (dog-Latin) version. This is not unlike the times of old when only the priest class was allowed the privilege and ability of learning to read and write in otherwise dead languages to the common goyim. Today, the commoners read the Bible without under-standing, not due to any lack of the ability to read, but instead due to their heavily ingrained English-only language barrier. Our logic is therefore in general flawed, not by any fault or lack of effort on the part of the man in subjection who might master that low and mean language with the best of intentions if he were not publicly governed (controlled) not to do so, but only because he has not the proper tool of language to accomplish the correct grammar that would correct his false dialectic caused by his sole use of dog-Latin. And so while the illiterates of yesterday had no grasp of the artful use of language, the illiterates of today believe they have a full grasp on a language that is secretly designed to confuse and mislead them and to cause a false dialectic, logical fallacy, with few ever contemplating it as a bastard language borrowed and stolen from many other sources. Some are even very clever in their use, even awarded prizes for their discourses and tragic fictions, dramas, and comedies.

English is somewhat of a simulacrum, a copy with no original source, for the original sources are many and some are merely copies of others. One is left to wonder which people had a worse situation — those in known ancient ignorance or we of modern arrogance of the same? At least those who could not read or write actually knew of their own illiteracy.

“If names are not correct, LANGUAGE WILL NOT BE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TRUTH OF THINGS.”

— Confucius

Whatever the case, we must break free from this fictional cage of word magic. We must break the language barrier. We must remain only in the singular Realm of Nature, in Reality, where our words mean One and only One thing without artifice and without property. It is only that respect of the power and authority of words that is the problem, not the words themselves. Only when Reality is more Real than the fictions used to re-present It by name and description will language cease to be used to conquer (purchase) all people.

This dualism of words in writing and in law must be put to an end. Men will always conspire in confederation by attempting to use words as tools for the dis-ease and enslavement of all others.
And so it is only individually all men that may free their minds of this word-simulation and legal code, and to teach their children well.
But the name of the legal game is piracy. We have been locked in a battle of the spirit for many generations, a war for the mind, body, and soul of the common man. The object of that victory is to legally steal the landed estates of most men, by tricking them into abandoning their heirs, their offspring, their children to the legal state. By artificially corrupting the inheritable blood of most children through the registration and delivery certification process of birth, the land held through prescription or by other means is reverted back to the first grantor, which is in the “trust” and territory of the United States on behalf of each of the several (private) States in compact. The government through its many agencies may only hold that land in the trust of “the People” until one of the bloodline People of each State then claims that land as a legitimate private land-holder, and so passes it by law and by blood to his own legitimate heirs in consanguinity. This is in a clandestine way merely outright theft, as piracy of the sea. And all it requires is absolute ignorance through a continuous, circular public education process of all parents and children, so that they may never even imagine their own inheritable rights ever existed in the first place. This process of publicity, of delivery into the seizure of government’s district in distraint, has been streamlined and normalized as a part of the custom of our national societies, as has the Social Security systems that are now in over 140 countries around the world, all controlled by the United Nations and the World Bank under the International Social Security Association (ISSA). It is the ultimate, worldwide governmental public scheme to kidnap all children into and under the international law of nations, One big fictiously registered (taxed) family under one Caesar, taking us all away from our private, spiritual, Natural states of being and marking (publishing) us as merely sons and dughters of the nations. It is an attempt at the total abandonment of the Natural Law and of God, replaced only by legal considerations, treaties, and declarations of human rights in commerce.
Human rights are merely animal rights. World government, as commercial globalism upon one united sea (See), is upon us. It is the system of the beast, that is, men considered only as soulless beasts of burden under a permanent, un-payable debt, performing the contractual script of the devil.

And is this not exactly what the Bible warns us about: an international social security insurance system as the numbering of all chattel beasts in the surety of false id-entities?

Meanwhile the church and state propaganda machines fill the minds of false-religious men with images of “The Beast” as a monster with many heads that will wreak havoc upon the Earth. For the church must hide the state’s plan to mark every man as an individual beast that makes up the whole collective beast system as human capital management on an organized, global scale and controlled centrally (federally). Inversely, the state must hide the church’s role by protecting its secrets. The multitude is the communal beast, a body politic of all individual beasts. Many heads in one system of capitalism. E Pluribus Unum; out of many one. This is the true essence of demonology, where evil geniuses succeed in killing the spirits of men by possessing their minds with fictional, demonic concepts of law and personhood through the trickery of word-magic.

"He who makes a beast of himself gets rid of the pain of being a man."

Ultimately, this whole piracy scheme is what is known as an Escheat. By reverting all lands back to the original grantor due to the simulation of death caused by birth to the blood-heirs of all families, the commonality is completely stripped of all wealth and property, as well as any Real prosperity in posterity, living only in the artificial womb of the person and property of the very pirates that took it all in the first place. It’s like stealing your car and then renting it back to you with tax and interest. They steal your home and land, allowing you to remain there as long as you pay property tax on what is not actually the Real property and land of the very thief collecting those taxes in exaction and extortion. And this is all done on paper, using only the terms of art we have discussed.

So what is it to escheat an entire generation?

“Escheat is derived from the French word "eschoir," which signifies to happen, because IT FALLS TO THE LORD FROM AN EVENT and from an unforeseen circumstance.”

—ESCHETAE VULGO DICUNTUR QUAE DECIDENTIBUS IIS QUAE DE REGE TENENT, CUM NON EXISTIT RATIONE SANGUINIS HAERES, AD FISCUM RELABUNTUR. (Bouv1856)

“As the exchequer was only the agent of the king (principal), the United States and state governments are only the agents of the pirates known as the sovereignty (sovereign People) of each State. They are the private, landed (papered/pedigreed) lords. Our public persons are those recorded events.

But how does the legal government (principal) make Living heirs appear to not Exist in the eyes of the law?

Before moving on, we must understand the following term of art, disinheritance. And we must understand that whether we know this information or this word and its meaning or not, our submission to the law of persons and of this government as its subjects requires us to know the law. Remember this maxim of the devilmasters… To be bound to know or to be able to know IS THE SAME AS TO KNOW. It is your responsibility, your duty, to know the law you contract under. There is no excuse. No man in his right mind would voluntarily become a United States citizenship when the unknowable mountain of its laws are shown to him, laws that no man, even its creators, may possibly know with completeness in one lifetime. But you certainly need to know, above all else, that this is part of this devilish system of legal law of the United States so that you may understand your own, voluntary victimhood and rape (seizing/privation) of your family’s lands and estate by these pirates:

DISINHERITANCE - THE ACT BY WHICH A PERSON DEPRIVES HIS HEIR OF AN INHERITANCE, who without such act would inherit. 2. BY THE COMMON LAW, ANY ONE MAY GIVE HIS ESTATE TO A STRANGER, AND THEREBY DISINHERIT HIS HEIR APPARENT. (Bouv1856)
It is the birth EVENT that simulates the abandonment of our heirs to the state, causing the severing of any connection as an attainder of any blood relation to us and our private property. It is the legal separation of the man from the land (in estate). The escheat happens when we physically die, causing the end of our person (status) at law, and when our children are somehow nowhere to be legitimately “found” by the state (the cheater). For the state legally hides our children’s blood from us in consideration of its law of distribution. It’s just a cheap con game. A well organized, immoral, legal land-grab.

“A patriot sets himself apart in his own country UNDER HIS OWN FLAG, sneers at other nations and keeps AN ARMY OF UNIFORMED ASSASSINS on hand at heavy expense TO GRAB SLICES OF OTHER PEOPLE’S COUNTRIES AND KEEP THEM FROM GRABBING SLICES OF HIS. In the intervals between campaigns he washes the blood off his hands and works for ‘the universal brotherhood of man’ - with his mouth.”

—Mark Twain, 'The Lowest Animal'

But low and behold, the black magic of the legal language is clear that to purchase is to conquer. No blood need be spilt if it can simply be pretended to be tainted, if the inheritable connection can be severed by trickery of artful words.

The word escheat as a noun stems from the notion of THE REVERTING OF LAND TO A KING OR LORD in certain cases, from the early 14th century and stemming from Anglo-French eschete (late 13th century) and the Old French eschete “SUCCESSION, INHERITANCE,” as literally “that which FALLS to one,” which is the noun use of feminine past participle of escheoir “happen, befall, occur, take place; fall due; LAPSE (legally),” and from Late Latin excalere “to fall out,” from Latin ex- “out, away” added to cadere “TO FALL,” and representing a restored form of excidere, which yielded excise.

The word cheat as a noun correlates to the verb cheat. The word cheat, in the mid 15th century carried the meaning of “to escheat,” a shortening of Old French escheat, a legal term for REVISION OF PROPERTY TO THE STATE WHEN THE OWNER DIES WITHOUT HEIRS, literally “that which falls to one...” The royal officers evidently had a low reputation. Its meaning evolved through the word “CONFISCATE” (mid-15th century) with the meaning of to “DEPRIVE UNFAIRLY” (1580s). To cheat on (someone) as to "be sexually unfaithful" was only first recorded around 1934. Related: Cheated; cheating.
The author cannot stress enough how each of us have been cheated, or more properly escheated out of our blood inheritance. We have been cheated out of our lands. We have been cheated out of our children. We have been cheated out of our parents. We have been cheated out of our lineage. We have been cheated out of our blood inheritance. We have been cheated out of our lands. We have been cheated out of ESCHEAT - In feudal law. Escheat is an obstruction of the course of descent, and consequent determination of the tenure, by some unforeseen contingency, in which case the land naturally results back. By a kind of reversion, to the original grantor, or lord of the fee. It is the casual descent, in the nature of forfeiture, of lands and tenements within his manor, to a lord, either on failure of issue of the tenant dying seised or on account of the felony of such tenant. Also the land or fee itself, which thus fell back to the lord. Such lands were called "excendentes," or "terrae excadentiales." In American law, escheat signifies a reversion of property to the state in consequence of a want of any individual competent to inherit. The state is deemed to occupy the place and hold the rights of the feudal lord. "Escheat at feudal law was the right of the lord of a fee to re-enter upon the same when it became vacant by the extinction of the blood of the tenant. This extinction might either be per defectum sanguinis or else per delictum tenantis, where the course of descent was broken by the corruption of the blood of the tenant. As a fee might be held either of the crown or from some inferior lord, the escheat was not always to the crown. The word 'escheat,' in this country, at the present time, merely indicates the preferable right of the state to an estate left vacant, and without there being any one in existence able to make claim thereto." Single Escheat. When all a person's movables fall to the crown, as a casualty, because of his being declared rebel. (Black4)

ESCHEAT - noun. [Latin cadere.] 1. Any land or tenements which casually fall or revert to the lord within his manor, through failure of heirs. It is the determination of the tenure or dissolution of the mutual bond between the lord and tenant from the extinction of the blood of the tenant, by death or natural means, or by civil means, as forfeiture or corruption of blood. 2. In the United States, the falling or passing of lands and tenements to the state, through failure of heirs or forfeiture, or in cases where no owner is found. 3. The place or circuit within which the king or lord is entitled to escheats. 4. A writ to recover escheats from the person in possession. 5. The lands which fall to the lord or state by escheat. 6. In Scots law, the forfeiture incurred by a man's being denounced a rebel. - verb intransitive - In England, to revert, as land, to the lord of a manor, by means of the extinction of the blood of the tenant. 1. In America, to fall or come, as land, to the state, through failure of heirs or owners, or by forfeiture for treason. In the feudal sense, no escheat can exist in the United States; but the word is used in statutes confiscating the estates of those who abandoned their country during the revolution, and in statutes giving to the state the lands for which no owner can be found. - verb transitive - To forfeit. [Not used.] (Webster)
Let us be clear here that the old feudal landlords and barons were the agents holding lands of the feudal king. The conspiracy of People as the so-called sovereign landholders of today, as those private citizens of the several States, are the combined (confederated) kingship of today, and we their unwitting agents. The governments they create serve only as a simulation of the old landlords and barons (agents). In other words, the common people of the United States are tenants of lands held by the land-holders in collective sovereignty, but we only deal with the landlords, which we today call the agencies and agents of the federal and state governments, those artificial persons as creations of the kingship (We, the “white” People in blood posterity). And so while Mr. Anderson is above certainly telling the Truth that this system of escheat is feudal in name only, the Reality is that only the words and names have changed. The system is still of a feudal nature. The only difference is that while yesterday that feud was not a choice and was instead under a complete tyranny, today it’s a voluntary chattel system that can only exist as long as the common goyim (we who are born of nations and whose father is the state/People) have no idea it’s happening and that the consequences of our choices lead to that same exact system of old. The only difference is the language. All else regarding that feudal system remains intact. It’s now only conducted under contract law instead of monarchical and cannon law as a holy dictatorship. This is to say that these cheats have figured out a way to trick us all into abandoning any common law consideration by acting in a contractual relationship with a landlord (government), and so this action of what under the common law is called as cheating is not recognized by the law of contracts, the law of nations. To put it a different way, the law in its legitimate functionality is always searching for heirs, but the so-called “unforeseen event” of legal birth causes man’s blood to be blotted out and thus legally unrecognizable by any legitimacy of law. The man’s blood cannot be found, for it is attained by the fiction of the state. What do you expect from a bunch of pirates flying the commercial Arms (flag) of war and death? If we accept the flag, we except its intended jurisdiction, as the “law of the flag.”

Again here I wish to pledge to my fellow man that this work should be considered only as a gift of knowledge, but perhaps even more so as a swift kick in the ass to wake you the hell up from your own voluntary enslavement!

As it turns out, most government employees are really just escheat officers of government, managing government property that its goyim foolishly believe is their own. Slaves acting as hirelings, prostituting themselves to their privateering alienators and against their very own kind, against their own blood and family — the perfection of induced, unqualified patriotism.

ESCHEATOR - An officer who takes charge of escheated estates FOR THE GOVERNMENT.
(WCA1889)

ESCHEATOR - In English law. The name of an officer who was APPOINTED IN EVERY COUNTY to look after the escheats which fell due to the king in that particular county, and to certify the same into the exchequer. An escheator could continue in office for one year only, and was not re-eligible until three years. There does not appear to exist any such officer at the present day. (Black4)

CHEATERS, or ESCHEATORS - Were OFFICERS APPOINTED TO LOOK AFTER THE KING’S ESCHEATS, a duty which gave them great opportunities of FRAUD AND OPPRESSION, and in consequence many complaints were made of their misconduct. Hence it seems that a cheater came to signify A FRAUDULENT PERSON, and thence THE VERB TO CHEAT WAS DERIVED. (Black4)
Consider this... does this current system of fraud effect the public? That is to say, does this process effect the “known rights” of any United States citizen-ship? Of course not. The nature of a citizen-ship is of the nature of the after-effects of escheat, of pre-tainted, doomed blood. The public has no legitimate holding of lands in the first place, so how can they be stolen through escheat? When the birth certificate is created, birthing the legal entity as property of government, no escheat happens at that time. Only upon the death of the last parent in blood consideration of consanguinity does this piracy take place, and at that point there is no heir by law or blood to offend or steal from in the eyes of the common law. Public persons are contracted to a legal system not protected under common law equity. The contract makes the law. It’s a perfect scheme, for it sidesteps the common law and causes men to cheat themselves and all their own future generations by the now customary act of birth certification and registration.

There were several points during the collection of this research that the author felt as low as one could feel while being at the same time enlightened by such information. This was one of them. It is the realization that our culture is so “advanced” in its ignorance of itself and its Source that the dark ages are taught to us to be the modern era of light. That we live in a system of government (mind control) revolving around cheating (escheating) is one thing, but to comprehend that the game they are legally and by state license cheating at is only to block our most powerful ability to ever win the game (as our spiritual awakening and our attachment to the land in self-governance) and that the origin of this word cheat comes from stealing land legally under the law of the king by his own agents, I am still going through my own strange form of cognitive dissonance, which is manifesting as a deeper sadness than I have ever felt in my Life. But I do not feel defeated, only incredulous. I simply cannot fathom how this happened, unless I consider that nothing ever really changed but the words that describe it. It is a battle of the mind, and it was perhaps the organized propaganda bestowed by false history, public education, and perverted entertainment that changed good men into bumbling fools always returning to their own vomit. And now you know why we’re made to be pretended felons at birth, for felons can’t be landholders in their probation (published personhood).

Of course, the kings escheats still exist in the queens United Kingdom. In British Columbia, Canada for instance, we find this piracy scheme alive and well:

ESCHEAT ACT
[RSBC 1996] CHAPTER 120

Escheated land may be taken by Attorney General

Alert: Minnesota AG and DOC Investigating Compliance With STATE ESCHEAT LAWS

December 14, 2011

The Minnesota Attorney General’s (AG) office and Department of Commerce (DOC) have commenced an investigation to determine whether insurance companies are complying with state escheat laws. In accordance with state laws, the AG and DOC seek to ensure that life insurers ARE NOT KEEPING UNCLAIMED DEATH BENEFITS THAT SHOULD BE PROPERTY OF THE STATE... Minnesota’s statutes with respect to unclaimed property are provided in Minn. Stat. Chapter 345.

The issue of compliance with escheat laws has been raised in other states. Earlier this year, an investigation in California found that insurance companies were using the Social Security Death Master File (DMF) to stop making annuity payments as soon as policy... holders were deceased, but were not using the same information from the DMF to promptly pay beneficiaries of life insurance policies OR TURN OVER UNCLAIMED PROPERTY TO THE STATE. As many as 38 states, including Minnesota, are now undertaking investigations to determine whether insurance companies are complying with their respective state laws...

In all of the states we find similar publications and advertising by attorneys (devilmasters) regarding the escheat of estates, even as the bar further promotes the mythology that the lands and property of the common people actually belong to the common people, instead of Truthfully disclosing this piracy scheme that bestows only the secondary, alienated, imperfect title that under law belongs to some land baron (lord god) of the blood-line.

This last advertisement even tells us that we need our genealogical chart to establish our blood inheritance, though most of us are conditioned only to use the birth certificate, which is of course a voluntary consent to the abandonment and attainder of any legitimacy of those family trees and our blood-rights. For the birth certificate shows only an infant adulterer that is borne in and thus only the bastard son of a nation.

ESTATE & PROBATE: Protecting Your Inheritance
By Attorney Albert Gurevich on November 14, 2012

If you do not have a valid Florida WILL or TRUST at the time of your death, THE STATE OF FLORIDA CAN CLAIM YOUR PROPERTY AFTER YOU PASS AWAY THROUGH ESCHÉAT IF YOU HAVE NO HEIRS OR RELATIVES THAT COME FORWARD TO MAKE A CLAIM. The court will issue an ORDER whereby your property gets transferred to the State of Florida. However, if an heir does come forward, the heir can make a claim with the court...

The claim must be made within three months after the publication of the Notice of Administration. AN HEIR MUST ESTABLISH THAT THEY ARE RELATED TO THE DECEDENT THROUGH BIRTH CERTIFICATES, FAMILY TREE OR GENEALOGY CHARTS. The attorney will review the documentation to make sure that it is sufficient for the court to rule in favor of the claimant and recognize the claimant as THE RIGHTFUL HEIR OF THE DECEDENT. THE COURT WILL ISSUE AN ORDER APPROVING THE DECEDENT'S HEIR so that the assets can be distributed to the heir after all the claims have been paid and the estate can be closed...

Let’s clear up the above statement by replacing the word “State” with the word “People.” The People that is Florida can claim your person’s property, which again means, as a common US citizenship, YOU AREN'T THE PEOPLE! One only needs a will or trust if one hasn’t retained any blood heirs in consideration of law. Fictional persons have no will of their own, and so a will must be created for them by their agents. For the law only protects the negative liberties of private men, not the positive rights of enslaved citizenships. A slave has no right of inheritance, but has the right to request of the government that it allow the fictional titles to land and property (proof of debt) to be passed on to their abandoned children in taxation instead of merely taken by force. If you need a will or trust, you are not free, you are not legitimate, you are not in equitable status under the Natural Law, and you are only the user of your children and your property, says man’s legal law.

We can find escheat (cheat) laws in US Code and as considered in SEC regulations as well. In this code, we get a healthy dose of very bad tasting medicine. For we see here that the United States is only created to protect the States (the sovereign People) from us and not we, the citizenships of the United States from those States. Remember, the creator controls.
No overpayment of any tax imposed by this title shall be refunded (and no interest with respect to any such overpayment shall be paid) if the amount of such refund (or interest) would escheat to a State or would otherwise become the property of a State under any law relating to the disposition of unclaimed or abandoned property. No refund (or payment of interest) shall be made to the estate of any decedent unless it is affirmatively shown that such amount will not escheat to a State or otherwise become the property of a State under such a law.

Where any sum is payable on a money order, traveler’s check, or other similar written instrument (other than a third party bank check) on which a banking or financial organization or a business association is directly liable:

(1) if the books and records of such banking or financial organization or business association show the State in which such money order, traveler’s check, or similar written instrument was purchased, that state shall be entitled exclusively to escheat or take custody of the sum payable on such instrument, to the extent of that State's power under its own laws to escheat or take custody of such sum;

(2) if the books and records of such banking or financial organization or business association do not show the State in which such money order, traveler’s check, or similar written instrument was purchased, the State in which the banking or financial organization or business association has its principal place of business shall be entitled to escheat or take custody of the sum payable on such money order, traveler’s check, or similar written instrument, to the extent of that State's power under its own laws to escheat or take custody of such sum, until another State shall demonstrate by written evidence that it is the State of purchase or;

(3) if the books and records of such banking or financial organizations or business association show the State in which such money order, traveler’s check, or similar written instrument was purchased and the laws of the State of purchase do not provide for the escheat or custodial taking of the sum payable on such instrument, the State in which the banking or financial organization or business association has its principal place of business shall be entitled to escheat or take custody of the sum payable on such money order, traveler’s check, or similar written instrument, to the extent of that State’s power under its own laws to escheat or take custody of such sum, subject to the right of the State of purchase to recover such sum from the State of principal place of business if and when the law of the State of purchase makes provision for escheat or custodial taking of such sum.

Accounts – Abandoned or Unclaimed: THE ESCHEATMENT PROCESS

All states require financial institutions, including brokerage firms, to report when personal property has been abandoned or unclaimed after a period of time specified by state law — often five years. Before a brokerage account can be considered abandoned or unclaimed, the firm must make a diligent effort to try to locate the account owner. If the firm is unable to do so, and the account has remained inactive for the period of time specified by state law, the firm must report the account to the state where the account is held. THE STATE THEN CLAIMS THE ACCOUNT THROUGH A PROCESS CALLED "ESCHEATMENT," WHEREBY THE STATE BECOMES THE OWNER of the account.

As part of the escheatment process, the state will hold the account as a bookkeeping entry against which the former account owner may make a claim. STATES TEND TO SELL THE SECURITIES IN ESCHATED ACCOUNTS AND TREAT THE PROCEEDS AS STATE FUNDS. When a former account owner makes a valid request, however, the states will normally provide the former owner with CASH EQUALING THE VALUE OF THE ACCOUNT at the time of escheatment. This amount of cash does not include any dividends or interest covering the time after escheatment.

There are several websites, including commercial ones, where you can search for unclaimed property. One non-commercial site, the National Association of Unclaimed Property Administrators, allows you to search by individual state.

States have their own requirements for FINDING and claiming unclaimed property. If you believe you have unclaimed property, the state will require you to send them INFORMATION about YOURSELF to verify your ownership of the unclaimed property. After verifying your OWNERSHIP, the state will either mail you a claim form or PERMIT you to fill out the form online and print it for SUBMISSION TO THE STATE.

So what is the difference between the English system of escheat under the Crown and this United States system of commercial escheat laws? In England, this is tradition. It has always been a feudal tenure, its citizens always subject-slaves of that crown. But in America these are not standing laws. They are of the nature of a voluntary, contractual dis-ease. They are steeped in trickery and deceit, born of voluntary ignorance and false pride, and controlled by attorneys pretending to be legitimate lawmakers.

If your parents made an accidental overpayment on any taxes while they were physically alive and also living in the spiritually dead legal form of a public status called “taxpayer” before that strawman’s civil death was caused by their Natural death, the federal (confederate/conspiratorial) law is set up to ensure that the issues (children) of that straw will be cheated out of any refund or recompense because its only function protects and preserves property of the States (People). The property was always held of the private State through tenancy and rent. And so the State (legitimate bloodline of People in posterity) has first rights to the estate before those little adulterous bastards with tainted blood, the children being not of the bloodline of the State (People) and therefore not actual holders of the landed estates of their ancestry or of their so-called “property.” And so each of the 50 pirate ships (several States) that make up the compact and created the pirate cove government called the “United States” are guaranteed their share of that pirate booty (estate and property of their own public persons) when it is found within any of their bordered territory of seizure (district). It is treasure found through word magic and trickery by cheaters (escheaters).

PELFE, or PELFRE - Booty: also THE PERSONAL EFFECTS OF A FELON CONVICT.
(Black4)

BOOTY - PROPERTY CAPTURED FROM THE ENEMY IN WAR. ON LAND, U. S. v. Bales of Cotton, 28 Fed. Cas. 302. (Black4)
Notice the case referenced is the United States vs. Bales of Cotton. Just how exactly does “Bales of Cotton” represent itself as a person? It does not. Pirate booty simply has no defense for itself. And as felons birthed into the United States, what is in our possession as “property” is by its very nature booty (pelfe) for the taking. It can be legally “taken” at any time, for we are merely a conquered (purchased) people voluntarily acting and accumulating all things in the commercial vessel (property) of these pirates. And booty is merely a form of exaction (the taking of what is not one’s due), which is of course the “equal right” of all US citizens to be exacted (Title 42, Section 1981). Peace is indeed war. Just ask anyone who’s been convicted and sent to prison. Of course, booty is just another word for what is legal “personal property” or property of the US person collected during the highly unlawful but legally permitted (licensed) asset forfeiture raids that all but fund some municipal police departments (organized criminal street gangs) around the nation. As felons by birth, it is very difficult to retrieve back what was “personal property,” for it was never considered to be of the first person. It is never actually our own. Everything on the monopoly board is another’s property by name and title. Everything!

Are these escheat laws in America the same as the old feudal escheat? Sure thing… Only the appearance of the “king” has changed, which in America is now a sovereign People acting in a body politic through a collective, conspiratorial, incorporated king-ship. It’s just the master cheaters through the office of head attorney as legal executive and “General” re-distributing State owned property to the dead hands of its ship-masters, as agents to their principal. For all the work an employee (agent) does in his life’s work at any corporation, no product of that work is his own, for the agent works only to build the estate and holdings of the principal (corporation). This feudal state of being, called as making a living, is no way to Live.

ESCHEAT - In feudal English land law, the return or forfeiture TO THE LORD OF LAND HELD BY HIS TENANT. There were generally two conditions by which land would escheat:

THE DEATH OF THE TENANT WITHOUT HEIRS OR THE CONVICTION OF THE TENANT FOR A FELONY. In case of FELONY, THE LAND WOULD LOSE ITS INHERITABILITY AND ESCHEAT TO THE LORD, who would then hold the land subject to the crown’s right TO EXPLOIT THE FELON’S LANDS for a year and a day. In time, this exploitation right of the crown was commuted in return for a money payment OR SERVICE RENDERED to the crown by the lord. In the case of a tenant convicted of high treason, however, his land escheated directly to the crown, and the lord forfeited all rights he had in that tenant’s lands completely. The escheat of lands for felony was abolished by statute in England in 1870; and by a statute enacted in 1925, no longer does land escheat to its former owner solely for failure of heirs. In the United States, laws passed in all states provide THAT LAND WILL ESCHEAT TO THE STATE (COUNTY OR CITY) IF AN OWNER DIES WITHOUT A VALID WILL AND IF NO HEIRS CAN BE FOUND. See also ATTAINDER.

(Encyclopedia Britannica online)

ATTAINDER, BILL OF ATTAINDER - In English law, the extinction of civil and political rights resulting from a sentence of death or outlawry AFTER A CONVICTION OF TREASON OR A FELONY. The most important consequences of attainder were forfeiture and CORRUPTION OF BLOOD. For treason, an offender’s lands were forfeited to the king. For felonies, lands were forfeited to the king for a year and a day and then, because felonies were considered A BREACH OF THE FEUDAL BOND, escheated (forfeited) to the lord from whom the offender held his tenure. Subsequently, in Magna Carta (1215), the crown renounced its claim to forfeiture in the case of felony. Even harsher than attainder was the doctrine of corruption of blood, by which THE PERSON ATTAINED WAS DISQUALIFIED FROM INHERITING OR TRANSMITTING PROPERTY AND HIS DESCENDANTS were forever barred from any inheritance of his rights to title. All forms of attainder—except the forfeiture that followed indictment for treason—were abolished during the 19th century. As a result of the English experience, the framers of the Constitution of the United States provided (Article III, Section 3) that “the Congress shall have Power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture EXCEPT DURING THE LIFE OF THE PERSON ATTAINED.”
Historically, a legislative act attainting a person without a judicial trial was known as a bill of attainder or—if punishment was less than death—as a bill of pains and penalties. Acts of attainder or of pains and penalties were passed by some of the American colonial legislatures until the Constitution forbade them. In applying these prohibitions, THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES HAS EXPANDED THE HISTORICAL CONCEPTION OF ATTAINDER… (Encyclopedia Britannica online)

Now correct me if I’m wrong here, but if I state in my constitution (contract) that “… no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture EXCEPT DURING THE LIFE OF THE PERSON ATTAINDED” did I not just state that attainder and treason shall work corruption of blood during the life of the person? And does that not merely mean that attainder is fine and dandy as long as the person is alive? And does that not mean that all these pirates have to do to keep their greedy little hands on everyone else’s lands and property is to ensure through the birth process that every child is registered under Caesar and so found and seized in a modern pseudo-feudal state? Again I’d hate to be wrong here, but doesn’t that mean that attainder can only be worked on a person from the beginning of his fictional birth to the end of that strawman’s civil life, since there is no actual man implied in fictional personhood but as surety for its legal performance? Is not the registration of property (of the children of God) into fictional persons not one’s own, into persons that belong to the state, the same thing as an attainder of blood, as the killing of the heirs? Isn’t that the opposite of protection, or can we now see that the constitution only protects the pirates and their own bloodline? Does no one question this? Really? Because it turns out that the constitution is absolutely full of these circular statements and exception clauses that only benefit the private People in their own reserved rights.

The 13th amendment literally allows legalized, voluntary slavery as long as it “is a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted,” while making it sound like quite the opposite to the casual reader, as if all slavery were abolished. Once children are enslaved and confirmed, the 5th amendment literally states that our “life, liberty, and property” is safe and can’t be taken UNLESS the government convicts us of a crime, as in THE CRIME OF BIRTH AS A FELONY. Seriously, go read it, right now. It says voluntary slavery and voluntary servitude are perfectly LEGAL as long as (EXCEPT IF) the person is a convicted criminal, and that our life, liberty, and property, CAN be taken with “due process of law.” As registered agents for service of process, what idiot can possibly think they are not a victim of that law of the land, otherwise known as “due process of law?” Go ahead, go and read it. This can wait…

So the question that one still in the delusion of patriotic constitutionalism might ask here would be, is that constitutional? Is slavery, seizure of life, liberty, and property, and attainder by felony at all constitutional?

Sigh… It’s all written in there, is it not?

Get this straight. Everything is, or at least can be declared in the courts as “constitutional,” whether it is in or out of the constitution… but only if you are a slave. It’s simply not your call or opinion to make. That covenant only restricts a very few things, and most of those things have exception clauses like those we just saw, which literally state that it is constitutional to cheat from you your contracted legal life, liberty, and property, including your legalized children. These are not things of Nature. These are constituted things, pretending they’re not merely the paper that represents those things of Reality. A political right only effects political things, and all things political are only ever artificial. The constitution is only the creation of lies and protects only its own created lies. They are only called politically as “truths,” and a lie is a legal “truth” when it is confirmed and ratified by a liar. This is the domain of the devilmasters.

Those who act privately and reserve all of their rights in sovereignty need not worry. But those created 14th amendment citizenships of the United States cannot claim that anything is unconstitutional, for they are not a party to it. Just like an earthling cannot claim something is un-
Martian-ational while residing on earth, a public person cannot complain privately about public law. These are two different worlds (realms). One is of the right of blood, one is of the constitutionally permitted cheat of those contractually bound in the attainder of blood of commercial personhood in that pirate cove (district). The bloodless are the constitution-less. We are not that private People in any constituted compact. We are not above the constitution and so we cannot compare the law that governs us to that constitution, which only negatively protects the unalienable rights of those privately in compact to it. We are foreigners, aliens in each state. We have no unalienable rights and so nothing done to us can ever be compared to the constitutional protections of those who have negatively reserved their unalienable rights. And so everything that the prinicipality of government, which was initially created by the constitution, does to its own creations as its agents is perfectly constitutional. To declare what is constitutional is certainly not a right of public persons. Nor is any spiritual set of True, Natural Life, Liberty, and Property the right of public persons (property). Property (slaves) generally have no rights. The liberty is only in an open-air prison for aliens/foreigners in commerce under mammon, and the property is only ever that of a stranger’s paper title. Without holding the Real thing, no man’s person has any right to, in Reality, actually effect it. A papered man deals only in paper things. A strawman can’t Really be harmed, now can it?

We see in the British Columbia Escheat Act above that the pirates even offer rewards for the strawman can't Really be harmed, now can it?

TO THE FREEHOLD OR INHERITANCE. A spoil and destruction of the estate, in houses, woods, or lands, by demolishing not the temporary profits only BUT THE VERY SUBSTANCE OF THE THING, THEREBY RENDERING IT WILD AND DESOLATE, which the common law expresses by the word \textit{vastum}. Spoliation or destruction to lands or other corporeal heirditaments by a tenant to the prejudice of the reversioner or remainder-man. Any unlawful act or omission of duty on things forming an essential part of it, done or suffered by a person rightfully in possession as tenant, or having but A PARTIAL ESTATE LIKE THAT OF A MORTGAGOR. (WCA1889)

This term of year and day is the ancient equivalent of the artificial \textit{life} of the natural person. At the end of that term of \textit{life} the land reverts back to the state, and is thus reassigned to the next person in trust. But the blood is absent in this consideration. The property never leaves the hands of the landlords, only being transferred on paper to the next tenant in rent.

As we further delve into these old words, we find a surprising twist. For public property is more likened to a disease (debt) than a cure.

\textbf{CADUCA} - In the civil law. \textit{Property of an INHERITABLE QUALITY}; property such as \textit{DESCENDS TO AN HEIR}. Also the \textit{LAPSE OF A TESTAMENTARY DISPOSITION OR LEGACY}. Also \textit{AN ESCHEAT}; \textit{ESCHEATED PROPERTY}. (Black4)

\textbf{CADUCARY} - Relating to or of the nature of \textit{ESCHEAT}, \textit{FORFEITURE}, OR \textit{CONISCATION}. (Black4)

\textbf{CADUCITY} - noun - \textit{Tendency TO FALL}. (Webs1828)

\textbf{CADUCOUS} - adjective - In botany; \textit{falling early}; as \textit{caducous leaves}, which fall before the end of summer. A caducous calyx falls before the corol is well unfolded. (Webs1828)

\textbf{CADUCEUS} - noun - In antiquity, \textit{Mercury's rod}; a wand entwisted by two serpents, borne \textit{(carried)} by Mercury as \textit{AN ENSIGN OF QUALITY AND OFFICE}. On medals, the caduceus is \textit{a symbol of good conduct, peace and prosperity}. The rod represents \textit{POWER}; the \textit{serpents}, \textit{WISDOM}; and the two wings, \textit{DILIGENCE AND ACTIVITY}. (Webs1828)

How’s that for a segue?

Don’t you wonder why the caduceus is the symbol of pharmacology (licensed witchcraft and poisoning), as the artful practice of modern, legalized “medicine,” even as professed “doctors” cause disease, poison, irradiate, and chemically lobotomize this entire cancer and disease-ridden generation? For what is “good conduct” by a demon but the harming of others? What is “peace and prosperity” to a psychopath and eugenicist who’s agents (useful innocents) are given the charge by these agencies of government of vaccinating the entire public for the purposes of population control and spread of profitable dis-ease? Perspective is everything. What is good to \textit{them} is not necessarily good for \textit{us}, and rarely is this not the case.

And just what is this Roman god who bears the caduceus?

In the ‘\textit{Glossary to Ovid’s Fasti}’ by Boyle and Woodard and from ‘\textit{The Religion of the Romans}’ by Rupke, Mercury is described as \"the patron god of FINANCIAL GAIN, COMMERCE, eloquence (and thus poetry). MESSAGES/COMMUNICATION (including DIVINATION). TRAVELERS, BOUNDARIES, LUCK, TRICKERY AND THIEVES; he is also THE GUIDE OF SOULS TO THE UNDERWORLD \ldots\" (excerpt from Wikipedia.com entry for ‘Mercury’)

Now why in God’s name would that be the symbol for the institutions of modern medicine, unless the creators of this modern medical institution prescribe to quite a different god than their patients? Isn’t it obvious? They are commercial agencies and professors working as licensed agents of government for their own financial gain, ensuring the communication and certification of vital statistics for every child, which metaphorically makes every child corrupted in felony and thus necessarily registered into the debtor’s hell of mammon run by these tricksters and thieves, who divine themselves as the gods of Romanized things. Nothing has changed except the perception and dress of these crafts, ceremonial robes replaced by white coats and licenses. What could be more fitting than this symbol of the pagan gods of commerce? There is no possible excuse for the use of this symbology except the Truth.

Of course those doctors working in the employment of these institutions are generally speaking only useful idiots (useful innocents), many only following in their father’s or family’s profession, and most only publicly educated and vested so that they would never question just why the inscribed presence of the symbol of a Roman god adorns the letterhead of every prescription they write and of every label attached to every drug they induce the use of by their patients (those who suffer evil beneath them; those who fall by caducity). We are Truly a class of people cheated out of the well-being of our Life, Liberty, and Property, and its all “constitutional!”

Notice that in the definition of “cheat” above that any protections of the common law or other systems of law do not apply to escheats relating to felony. In other words, this legal theft as piracy on the high seas of commerce can only be excusable by licensure of law if the supposed seizure is only induced upon one that is a felon (without rights) standing only in public capacity. And so full circle here we can understand why this whole shell game was created regarding birth and abandonment through certification and registration of bastard children born of illegitimate but “legal” marriages that cause attainer (corruption of blood) and thus generate no legitimated heirs capable of inheriting land. It is the only way to get around the Natural Law of God, by cheating. And a municipal citizenship to the United States creates such a contractual relationship that allows each sovereign State’s (King’s) escheaters to legally cheat us all out of our inheritable land and property. This has been made customary, ritualistic, and even a religious behavior. For though we are born in the geographical area known as one of the states (governments) of the union, we pledge our allegiance to a foreign power, which just happens to be the holding corporation in municipal form that the State’s created so as to bar its denizened members from acquiring their inheritances. And so the treasonous felony of being born in the United States is confirmed and ratified by the information provided by our maternal parent (usually the mother) acting as “informer” of the felonious act of adulterous bastardy, and the felon (child of the district) is tainted from his rights through the cheat of the pirates of each State (People) and their agentic central government.

Again, as John Locke stated without any perfect clarity of his own status and pirate tendencies at the time, the purpose of the central government is to preserve and protect the property of the States (They, the sovereign People) who created it from the common goyim (common people of the nation) it was stolen from, and to ensure the transfer of wealth (land) from these common felons, plebes, and foreigners into their several (private) hands through the laws of escheat. Government is constituted, in other words, to protect the cheaters. Born felons need not apply, for how can I hold the lands with a private State if I left that State (People) to have domicile in a foreign nation (state)? He who departs to become a civilly dead person of the United States jurisdiction in district will certainly be giving up all of the inheritances of his blood and People (State). He is no longer acting as one of the People, but merely as a subject under them.

FELON - noun - [Low Latin felo.] 1. In law, a person who has committed felony. [See Felony.] 2. A whitlow; a painful swelling formed in the periosteum at the end of the finger. - adjective - 1. Malignant; fierce; malicious. PROCEEDING FROM A DEPRAVED HEART, Vain shows of love to vail his felon hate. 2. Traitorous; disloyal. (Webs1828)

FELONY - noun - [See Felon.] In common law, ANY CRIME WHICH INCURS THE FORFEITURE OF LANDS OR GOODS. Treason was formerly comprised under the name of felony but is now distinguished from crimes thus denominated, although it is really a felony.
All offenses punishable with DEATH are felonies; and so are some crimes not thus punished, as suicide, homicide by chance-medley, or in self-defense, and petty larceny. Capital punishment therefore does not necessarily enter into the true idea or definition of felony. The true criterion of felony being forfeiture of lands or goods. But the idea of felony has been so generally connected with that of capital punishment, that law and usage now confirm that connection. Thus if a statute makes any new offense a felony it is understood to mean a crime punishable with death. (Wesb1828)

DEATH - . . . 2. The state of the dead; as the gates of death. Job 38:17... 9. In theology, perpetual separation from God, and eternal torments; called the second death. Revelation 2:10. 10. Separation or alienation of the soul from God; a being under the dominion of sin, and destitute of grace or divine life; called spiritual death. We know that we have passed from death to life, because we love the brethren. 1 John 3:1. Luke 1. CIVIL DEATH IS THE SEPARATION OF A MAN FROM CIVIL SOCIETY, OR FROM THE ENJOYMENT OF CIVIL RIGHTS, as by banishment, abjuration of the realm, entering into a monastery, etc. (Wesb1828)

DEAD USE - A future use. (Black4)

DEAD PLEDGE - A mortgage, mortuum vadium. (Black4)

DEAD-BORN - A dead-born child is to be considered as if it had never been conceived or born; in other words, it is presumed it never had life, it being a maxim of the common law that mortuus exitus non est exitus (a dead birth is no birth). This is also the doctrine of the civil law. (Black4)

DEATH - The cessation of life; the ceasing to exist, defined by physicians as a total stoppage of the circulation of the blood, and a cessation of the animal and vital functions consequent thereon, such as respiration, pulsation, etc. This is "natural death." In contradistinction to "CIVIL DEATH," and, also, to "violent death," See those titles, infra. (Black4)

DEATH - Cessation of life; extinction of political existence. See Life. (WCA1889)

CIVIL DEATH - The state of a person who, though possessing natural life, has lost all his civil rights, and as to them is considered as dead. At common law, the extinction of civil rights and relations, so that the property of a person declared civilly dead passes to his heirs as if dead in fact. The "civil death" spoken of in the books, is of two kinds: (1) Where there is a total extinction of the civil rights and relations of the party, so that he can neither take nor hold property, and his heirs succeed to his estate in the same manner as if he were really dead, or the estate is forfeited to the crown. (2) Where there is an incapacity to hold property, or to sue in the king's courts, attended with forfeiture of the estate to the crown. Of the first kind, are the cases of monks professed, and abjuration of the realm; all the other cases are of the second kind. Strictly speaking, there but two cases of civil death; those of a monk professed, and an abjuration of the realm. In New York a person sentenced to imprisonment is thereafter deemed civilly dead under Penal Law Sub-Section 511. (Black4)

CIVIL DEATH - Extinction of civil rights. A bankrupt is regarded as civilly dead, so is an insolvent corporation, to the extent that its property may be administered as a trust fund for creditors and stockholders. Formerly, if a man was banished or abjured the realm, or entered a monastery, before the law he was civilly dead — civilitur mortuis. Then, a monk, like a dying man, could make a will, or leave his next of kin to administer as if he had died intestate. Since, also, the act determined a lease for life, conveyances for life were usually made for the term of one's "natural life." A convict, in the penitentiary, is civilly dead, and cannot be sued. (WCA1889)
In Nature, a man is said to be independent of government unless he accepts a legal status and additional legal surname. And so here we can dissect the difference between common and legal meanings of words. Let’s take independence for example. If a man has Natural independence, he holds a Natural state of Being (verb) Free from government, contract, bond, etc., except to that Law in obedience of Nature’s God. But this is not the same as a legally defined state of artificial in-dependence placed on citizenships(servants/slaves) of government. A citizen-ship is in a state of dependence placed on citizenships(servants/slaves) of government. Thus his rights are solely dependent upon that person (status) with no rights specifically and privately reserved from that legal government. Thus the man is in a state of dependence through his straw-man. He is in political dependence to government by his citizen-ship.

US citizenship is only the simulation of independence, a franchise of birth in nativity.

It is perhaps the greatest fallacy of the citizenry of the United States in their patriotic fervor that this voluntary state of servitude called “citizenship” actually creates a state of betterment and of higher right and status. Quite the opposite is the case.

And so let us be clear, citizenship is a punishment that carries with it an induction into the penal colony we call the United States jurisdiction. We are all penal prisoners of an open-air debtor’s prison (jurisdiction), accountable only for our innocent involvement in the penal crime of our adulterous parents; felons held in answer merely for the crime of our birth. Though attainer is unconstitutional to the private bloodline, the contractual relationship implied by birth and confirmation show the intent of the public citizenship is not to reserve any right in any private capacity. The constitution cannot protect fools nor those that treat their own religious status as anything but the Highest Law.

PENAL - Punishable; inflicting a punishment; containing a penalty, or relating to a penalty. (Black4)

PENAL ACTION - In practice. An action upon a penal statute; an action for the recovery of a penalty given by statute. An action which enforces a FORFEITURE or penalty FOR TRANSGRESSING THE LAW. The term “penal” is broader than ‘criminal,” and relates to actions which are not necessarily criminal as well. The term “penalty” in its broad sense is a generic term which includes fines as well as other kinds of punishment, but in its narrowest sense is the amount recovered for violation of the statute law of the state or a municipal ordinance, which violation may or may not be a crime, and the term applies mostly to a pecuniary punishment. The word "forfeiture" is frequently used in civil as well as criminal law, and it is also used in actions for a penalty, although the action is a civil one.

Distinguished from a popular or qui tam action, in which the action is brought by the INFORMER to whom part of the penalty goes, a penal action or information is brought by an officer, and the penalty goes to the king. But in American law, the term includes ACTIONS BROUGHT BY INFORMERS OR OTHER PRIVATE PERSONS, as well as those INSTITUTED BY GOVERNMENTS OR PUBLIC OFFICERS. In a broad sense, the term has been made to include all actions in which there may be a recovery of exemplary or vindictive damages, as suits for libel and slander, or in which special, double, or triple damages are given by statute, such as actions to recover money paid as usury or lost in gaming. But in a more particular sense it means (1) an action on a statute which gives a certain penalty TO BE RECOVERED BY ANY PERSON WHO WILL SUE FOR IT; or (2) an action in which the judgment against the defendant is in the nature of a fine or is intended as a punishment, actions in which the recovery is to be compensatory in its purpose and effect not being penal actions but civil suits, though they may carry special damages by statute. (Black4)

PENAL BILL - An instrument formerly in use, BY WHICH A PARTY BOUND HIMSELF to pay a certain sum or sums of money, OR TO DO CERTAIN ACTS, or, in default thereof, to pay a certain specified sum by way of penalty; thence termed a "penal sum." These instruments have been SUPERSEDED BY THE USE OF A BOND in a penal sum, with conditions. (Black4)

PENAL BOND - A promise to pay a named sum of money, the penalty, with a condition underwritten that, IF A STIPULATED COLLATERAL THING, OTHER THAN THE PAYMENT OF MONEY, BE DONE OR FORBORNE, THE OBLIGATION SHALL BE VOID. (Black4)

The sum of our penal payment, our fine and fee of penalty, is to be separated from the land and from our God (Source), made only to follow the law of our commercial gods (fiction) and to wander hopelessly upon lands that can never be our own. Our performance debt as a bond of surety is a penal one, expressing our felony of birth and professing us as criminals by our parental informers.

We must remember to consider this all from the mind of the psychopath, from the imagination of the mind of a self-proclaimed god (sovereign). This crime of being born is similar in its criminality to that of the modern commercial scam of carbon credits. Our birth represents an imaginary burden upon the state and to the thugs upon the lands, those land-lords whose governments control the resources of the state. We are taxed for this burden that causes the state so much pretended pain, and like the tithing to a church, we are allowed to exist in this penal state of citizenship only to pay for the sin of our accident of birth.

Remember that the legal word taint in law means "A conviction of FELONY, or the person so convicted" and that to attaint is "to corrupt," and that attainder is "CORRUPTION OF BLOOD DUE TO FELONY."

Man becomes a disposable commodity (slave) of government through his voluntary bond and subjection to a person-hood in surety. The person is in a state of citizenship, not the man. Man only agrees to conduct himself as a servant, utilizing the public persona (ship) provided by government in the contractual commercial capacity of his master. Government becomes his creator and thus rules his state of fictional being while in legal persona despite any Natural Law. A person is not Natural, though often called as a false "natural." A man acting in person is exempt and removed from the Natural Law in legal consideration of his actions and rights. His "God-given rights" are sold and stripped away in alienation, replaced by legal benefits and obligations attached to the strawman person under a contractual relationship of which he is surety for. The contracted disease. Government disposes upon man a fictional (legal) state of artificial being called a “person,” which it uses to alienate and thus control the Living man’s actions within a disposition of formality. Man takes upon himself a mark, as the imaginary form (fiction) of evil. The Living substance of man takes on the dead form of incorporation. But in order to take upon man’s soul the legal artifice of man’s fictional persona, he must change his disposition by giving up on, deposing, alienating, abdicating, and abandoning his True God and Nature (Source).

The more simple description of this process is merely that a man is born private until he enters into a legal status of citizenship (personhood), which is purely public. Privacy is abandoned for the public (government’s) commercial good. All the man’s possessions, property, liberties, etc., become public (government property). Man in public persona only has the rights of use of public things, but holds nothing privately. The public person is a bankrupt, but a private citizen would never declare himself as such. He voluntarily abandons his private Nature (as a Being of God) and enters into a public persona (legal entity of government).

Let’s dissect these terms to discover their individual DNA roots within the art of legal word-magic:

DISPOSITION - noun - [Latin] 1. The act of disposing, or state of being disposed. 2. OF YOUR SON? 6. TO DIRECT WHAT TO DO OR WHAT COURSE TO PURSUE: as, they know not how to dispose of themselves. 7. TO USE OR EMPLOY: as, they know not how to dispose of their time. 8. To put away. The stream supplies more water than can be disposed of.

DIS - A prefix or inseparable preposition, from the Latin, whence Fr. Des. Sp. dis and de may in some instances be the same word contracted. Dis denotes separation, a parting from; hence it has the force of a privative and negative, as in disarm, disoblige, disagree. RIGHT OR TRUST; renunciation. ABDICATION OF RIGHTS TO PROPERTY MAY CONSTITUTE AN ASSIGNMENT. It differs from resignation, in that resignation is made by one who has received his office from another and restores it into his hands, as an inferior into the hands of a superior. ABDICATION IS THE RELINQUISHMENT OF AN OFFICE WHICH HAS DEVOLVED BY ACT OF LAW. It is said to be a renunciation, QUITTING, and relinquishing, SO AS TO HAVE NOTHING FURTHER TO DO WITH A THING, OR THE DOING OF SUCH ACTIONS AS ARE INCONSISTENT WITH THE HOLDING OF IT. (Black4)

POSSESS - TO OCCUPY IN PERSON; to have in one's actual and physical control; to have the exclusive detention and control of; TO HAVE AND HOLD AS PROPERTY; to have a just right to; TO BE MASTER OF; to own or be ENTITLED to. (Black4)

POSSESS - This word is applied to THE RIGHT AND ENJOYMENT OF A TERM, or A PERSON HAVING A TERM, who is said to be possessed, and NOT SEISED. "Possessed" is a variable term in the law, and has different meanings as it is used in different circumstances. It sometimes implies A TEMPORARY INTEREST IN LANDS; as we say A MAN IS POSSESSED. IN CONTRAST, POSSESSION TO BEING SEISED. It sometimes implies the corporal having; as we say A MAN IS SEISED AND POSSESSED. But it sometimes implies no more than that one has a property in a thing; that he has it as owner; that it is his. (Black4)

DEPRAVE - To defame; VILIFY, exhibit contempt for. (Black4)
DEPRIVE - TO TAKE. The term has this meaning in a constitutional provision that no person shall be ‘deprived of his property’ WITHOUT DUE PROCESS OF LAW, and denotes A TAKING altogether, A SEIZURE, a direct appropriation, DISPOSSESSION OF THE OWNER. It connotes want of (without) consent. (Black4)

PRIVY - A PERSON who is IN PRIVITY WITH ANOTHER. One who is a partaker or has any part or interest in any action, matter, or thing. See Privies; Privity. Also, a water-closet. As an adjective, the word has practically the same meaning as “PRIVATE.” (Black4)

PRIVITY - Mutual or successive relationship to the same rights of property. Thus, the executor is in privity with the testator; the heir with the ancestor; the lessee with the lessor; Derivative interest founded on, or growing out of, contract, connection, or bond of union between parties; mutuality of interest. Private knowledge; joint knowledge with another of a private concern. COGNIZANCE IMPLYING A CONSENT OR CONCURRENCE. In a strict and technical sense a judgment CREDITOR DOES NOT OCCUPY SUCH A RELATION TO HIS DEBTOR AS TO FALL WITHIN THE MEANING OF THE WORD “PRIVITY.” FOR THERE IS NO SUCCESSION TO THE PROPERTY OF THE DEBTOR until a sale under execution is had and the judgment creditor has become vested with the title thereof. But a majority of the courts have enlarged the meaning of the word, and consequently have held that there is privity between the two BEFORE THERE IS AN ACTUAL DEVOLUTION OF THE TITLE OF THE PROPERTY OWNED BY THE DEBTOR. (Black4)

PRIVITY OF BLOOD - Exists BETWEEN AN HEIR AND HIS ANCESTOR (privity in BLOOD INHERITABLE), and between co-parceners. This privity was formerly of importance in the law of descent cast. (Black4)

DEPRIVATION - In English ecclesiastical law. The taking away from a clergyman of his benefice or other spiritual promotion or dignity, either by sentence declaratory in the proper court for fit and sufficient causes or in pursuance of divers penal statutes which declare the benefice void for some nonfeasance or neglect, or some malfeasance or crime. See Degradation. In American law, A TAKING AWAY: CONFISCATION; AS THE DEPRIVATION OF A CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT. Thus a taking of property without due process of law: or of liberty. (Black4)

DEGRADE - verb transitive - [Latin A step, a degree.] 1. To REDUCE from a higher to a lower rank or degree; to deprive one of any office or dignity. BY WHICH HE LOSES RANK IN SOCIETY: to strip of honors; as, to degrade a nobleman, an archbishop or a general officer. 2. TO REDUCE IN ESTIMATION; TO LESSEN THE VALUE OF; to lower; to sink. Vice degrades a man in the view of others; often in his own view. Drunkenness degrades a man to the level of a beast. 3. To reduce in altitude or magnitude. Although the ridge is still there, the ridge itself has been degraded. (Webs1828)

DEGRADATION - noun - 1. A reducing in rank; the act of depriving one of a degree of honor, of dignity, or of rank; also, deposition: removal or dismissal from office; as the degradation of a peer, of a knight, or of a bishop, in England. 2. In architecture, the contraction of the upper part of a column, by which its diameter is made less than that of the lower part. 6. In music, the imitation of or reply to a subject in notes of half the length or value of those of the subject itself. (Webs1828)

The private, sovereign States (People) are in privity with each other, a sort of strange constituted conspiracy of blood that ensures all others are in privation under their bestowed and enforced diminution. For slaves are also in mere legal (artificial) privity with each other, having “equal rights” under the public law. But the private, several People of each State are coparceners (equal heirs at law), a devilish religious society in privity designed to hold all other men in a publicly contemptuous disposition under the scarlet letters of the strawman name. Worst of all, these noble pirates employ their common slaves to control one another, registering and policing each other in a system of mutually un-beneficial depravity.

And all of this is based on corruption, on pretended attainder, causing legally (artificially) tainted blood. But none of this applies to any man in Nature, only to his false belief that he is the strawman, the fictional persona, and therefore that his actual blood is corrupted by the fiction. The whole pirate cove runs solely on these fictions of rank and status, of faked genealogies, and of this total moral depravity enforced as the higher law of the lower class.

Form has no functionality without a substance to utilize and move or drive it. A rock, for instance, will forever remain in its place until some other force moves it. It has form only, but no animating substance to make it appear as Living. Water has substance by Natural occurrences, and therefore the rock may be swept away or propelled by the substance of the water. Even the wind, with enough substantial force of Nature behind it, may move the rock.

Be water my friend…

In the legal realm, all legal things are like hollow rocks, easily moved by any illiterate fool. No law or person has actual substance, only form with no soul and thus no self-determination. All things legal (formal) must be moved and controlled by something or someone with substance, namely man (informal). If a man pretends to have a hollow legal form, this is called a person, and the person is legally surnamed accordingly. The name of the man (substance) is combined with the name of the legal fiction (form) to create a fiction of law; called legally the “natural person.” But this fictional, “natural” person is like a rock; it (a form) can only be moved by the man (a substance).

When the substance dies, so too does the legal, civil “life” force of the fiction. The death of the puppet-master represents the death of the existence of the puppet. A corporation (form) only produces a product that equals the disposition of labor (substance) of the men employed within its functionality and under its titles of employment (use). The corporation itself creates nothing. The substance of a corporation (form) is merely the result of men employing skills in the corporation’s name. Without the substance of man in motion, a corporation is merely a useless rock (form).
When a Real (informal) thing is placed into a paper form it becomes a legal thing (formal). It is thus named and defined as a legal thing. The legal overpowers the Reality. It is assigned a legal name and given a legal fiction called civil life. A form is a worded document, a financial instrument with some considerable value in mammon. To be informal is to be a Reality; to be without a legal presence or person, without incorporation, and most importantly to be without consideration of value in money (mammon). Only slaves (property) are valued in money. Citizships are human capital. Capital (Latin: capita) is a value in money “per the head” of each person considered.

The word legal, in its Truest sense as man’s “positive law,” literally means not of Nature and in opposition to God’s Law.

POSITIVE LAW - Law proper, as opposed to moral laws, or to natural or “God-made” Law, an enforceable legal rule which prohibits or requires certain conduct. Often contrasted with moral law. Lawyers speak of positive law to distinguish it from other rules similarly expected to be followed but not conduct-related. For example, many of the provisions of the Laws of Manu deal with morality or hygiene. This made it hard for jurists and legal historians to later sort out what was intended to be enforceable by the state, or which ought to influence the court on disputes over contracts or inter-personal relationships, and the moral or religious rules, which serve as guidance to the citizens but do not attract the attention of law enforcement. (Lloyd Duhaime Legal Dictionary, inline at duhaime.org)

Remember, the entirety of all supposedly “legitimate” legal law of the United States is only positive law. And its legitimacy stands only in fraud, as consented to by men acting in the public, positive law status (person) of the United States. The law attaches only to the person (status), of which the man stands legally in surety of. This relationship must end, the surety quit, the record corrected, the legal claim and contract (dis-ease) utterly destroyed.

The opposition between these differing states of law (Law) and of the dis-position of those under them is painfully apparent. Two masters seeking control; one artificial and one of the soul and conscious spirit. One of monetary value, one of absolute Purity and clarity that stands sure-footed and invisible to such falsehoods as estimations in money and law. One of war (commerce) and a hell (debtor’s prison) on Earth, one of True Love and Peace and Heaven on Earth.

“The first Matrix I designed was quite naturally perfect, it was A WORK OF ART, flawless, sublime. A triumph equaled only by its monumental failure. The inevitability of its doom is apparent to me now as a consequence of the imperfection inherent in every HUMAN BEING. Thus, I redesigned it based on your history to more accurately reflect the varying grotesqueries of your nature. However, I was again frustrated by failure. I have since come to understand that the answer eluded me because IT REQUIRED A LESSER MIND, or perhaps a mind less bound by the parameters of perfection.”

—Quote by: The Architect (played by Helmut Bakaitis), from the movie: ‘The Matrix Reloaded’
To be under this legal matrix of coded, amoral law and licensure of the gods in perfect title to commit the most heinous of crimes against Nature, it requires a lesser, unregenerate mind. It requires public-mindedness. It attracts the non compos mentis. For the only man in his right mind is the man that adheres only to his own Nature and Its Law (Reality). The design thus generally reflects not the designer but the educative standards that the designer forces upon his subjects. God’s Design of Nature is Perfect because all Creatures within it know no artifice, Living simply and without an overpowering imagination. Man, however, corruptible as his mind is, is the known variable. And this self-evident Truth is why the scriptural Law must be realized, respected, and acted upon by all men, an instruction manual for the soul, so that these conjurers, dungeon masters, and artificial intelligence networks cannot pluck man away from his Source of Highest Law into some virtual reality at odds with the Truth of Reality.

Like in that science fiction portrayal, the gods of the legal fiction have designed a God-less system as an artificial womb (legal matrix) for hu-man subjects in security. And just like in the movie, the artificial reality system that is our legally united nations were created solely for human capital management purposes, for the extraction, exacting, and extortion of time, energy, and thus wealth from the clueless multitude. The failure and problem spoken of has no answer, no True solution, for the very problem is the false law and abandonment of God’s Nature in exchange merely for the symbols and images that represent Nature in the fiction (construct). This is not a fictional plot. This is in fact our own ever-increasing virtualized reality. As with the fictionally portrayed computerized Matrix program, the only solution to our legal prison is to mentally and physically unplug; to stand without respect of its lies and detach our good (Source) name from its bad (artificial) name (sourced from a fiction of law). We must each take the land back and protect it from these immoral, fictional, corporate authorities and false religious doctrines.

Of course, to a fictional mind such as this ‘Architect’ character, an artificial intelligence based purely on the art of illusion and deception, it is only natural that his idea of a perfect “Matrix” program was a work of art. Art creating art… For what is perfect to a psychopath, one without moral or empathetic contemplation of that for which he seeks to enslave for his own benefit — that of all other men — cannot ever hope to be Perfect in Nature. The discord, disease, and poverty in our modern societies stems only from the greed of the private men who rule in sovereignty (without the Higher Law), the architects of always temporary, never perfect kingdoms. All empires are destined to fail, just as the legal matrix can never be perfected and must be reset by the same old bloodline of legal architects (creator gods). This is the mythos, the continuing saga of the phoenix rising and falling and rising again in perpetuity of recreation and inheritance. Destruction is purposefully built into the system, into the programming, for the masters know that eventually the purposefully corrupted souls within will seek to cause the failure of their planned dystopian program. The empires may fall by name, but the nature of Rome never dies. It is a movable castle. And its design is always one of planned obsolescence.

However, their greatest tool is a dead language that is very much living in the minds of the gods of the nations.

In this we can comprehend the actual meaning of the allegorical tales of the Bible, which explain the difference not between physical Life and death of the body (flesh), but of the power that legal law has to make spiritually dead a man living under man’s law with a civil re-presentation of life (evil) in persona. Life without personification (as civil death) is Real Life only within and in respect of God in Nature.

“For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For TO BE CARNALLY MINDED IS DEATH; BUT TO BE SPIRITUALLY MINDED IS LIFE AND PEACE. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: FOR IT IS NOT SUBJECT TO THE LAW OF GOD, NEITHER INDEED CAN BE. So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.”
—Romans 8: 5-8, KJB

He who is plugged into this legal matrix, as portrayed in the movie of that same name, serves only the artifice. He cannot serve God simply because he cannot serve or worship in any Real way God’s Creation of Nature. When our very Life force is encapsulated and drained to feed the artificial intelligence of these legal gods, stuck in cubicles and employments (uses) designed only to benefit they that feed upon our energy and turn it into a commercial value in mammon to ensure the continued existence of the simulation (fiction), then we are alive only in the flesh. We are carnal-minded. This is very much in similitude to the description of cattle.

This is not a reference to any “after-life” that the church doctrines teach. The “flesh” is figurative, not substantive. This is Real Life, Lived either in heavenly harmony with Nature and its Laws of spiritually and Pure Love in Charity or in a hellishly open-air debtor’s prison built upon absolute disharmony (flesh).

I have come to realize that my generation and those born after me are hooked on the flesh, addicted to all of the technology (art) that is the grand illusionary matrix, most of which did not exist just 100 years before. We ardently believe that it is our right to drive, to watch TV, to be connected digitally, and to have every foodstuff known to man delivered to our front door. And yet all of these artful benefits are only more and more inducements to contract, reasons to use credit in mammon. This strong delusion of rightness and righteousness permeates “humanity” despite the most alarming health statistics in history, without conscious consideration of the billions around the world starving and without homes.

But apparently if we attend a church building every Sunday (though not the actual or ceremonial Sabbath) all is just right as rain, as if our sins of ignorance are paid on schedule each weekend, washed away just in time for the afternoon football game.

So what happens when a church is incorporated under the laws of the state?

It is then literally and legally considered as Godless. The state is only a creator of legal things, as that which is opposed to God and Nature. The state is a surrogate god. And so any corporation called a “religion” or “church” in legal name and entitlement can only manifest itself as a legal fiction of the state in enmity with God. For all legal things must be in conformity with their creator and its law. This is why “charity” is as the drifting aroma of its True Source, corporately managed by the AI so as to never actually cure the problem or offer solution, only to remedy the necessary and well-managed legal dis-ease of poverty by throwing just enough money at it to continue it in agony while the wealthy thrive by its many benefits, write-offs, and tax loopholes. The church, as a legal creation, is not a True Charity. It cannot be, for True Charity requires True Piety, and that’s just illegal in the legal setting. A commercial person is never of Charity, for True Charity is the cure and solution to commercial personhood and legal law.

LEGAL - adjective - [Latin legalis, from lex, legis, law ] 1. According to law: in CONFORMITY WITH LAW, as A LEGAL STANDARD OR TEST, a legal procedure. 2. Lawful; PERMITTED by law: as a legal TRADE, ANYTHING IS LEGAL WHICH THE LAWS DO NOT FORBID. 3. According to the law of works, AS DISTINGUISHED FROM FREE GRACE; or resting on works for salvation. 4. Pertaining to law: CREATED BY LAW. The exception must be confined to legal crimes. So we use the phrase, criminal law. (Web1828)
ENMITY - noun - 1. The quality of being an ENEMY: the opposite of friendship: ill will; hatred; unfriendly dispositions; malevolence. It expresses more than aversion and less than malice, and differs from displeasure in denoting a fixed or rooted hatred, whereas displeasure is more transient. I will put enmity between thee and the woman. Genesis 3:15. THE CARNAL MIND IS ENMITY AGAINST GOD. Romans 8:7. 2. A STATE OF OPPOSITION. THE FRIENDSHIP OF THE WORLD IS ENMITY WITH GOD. James 4:4. (Webs1828)

Friendship with the legal matrix, the simulation, the artificial world, is enmity to God and Nature. We simply cannot expect our enemy, the Source of the Natural Law, to protect us if we act totally and comprehensively against that Law. If something is created by man’s law, it is not therefore a creation of God. To be created by “law” is to be created as a fiction belonging to law. In other words, anything legally created is simply not Reality. It is unnatural, and stands therefore opposed to God. According to Law, the only thing protected from the tyranny of man’s laws are the Natural Creations of God, namely those things that are without name, mark, number, and legal title. This is not the author’s opinion, it is the definition of and from the principles of law. This understanding in the reader is paramount, regardless of one’s religious or non-religious background, for the legal law requires abandonment of God’s Laws of Nature and expectation and intent of equitableness for all who negatively claim and uphold it. Government becomes the Romanized religion of its denominated followers in citizen-ship, and its governors and priests become gods. Fiction lives only in evil; in purposeful opposition to Life (Creation). Man’s formal (public) belief in any form of “God” is not required. Legal law is solely predicated on the lack of any substance of God in man’s consideration of moral issues. This is the definition of man’s legal law, not the author’s opinion. It is the self-evident foundation of the Truth of all things.

"All who sin apart from law will also perish apart from law, and all who sin under law will be judged by law. For it is not those who HEAR the Law who are righteous in God's sight, but it is those who OBEY the Law who will be declared righteous. Indeed, WHEN GENTILES, WHO DO NOT HAVE LAW, DO BY NATURE THINGS REQUIRED BY THE LAW, THEY ARE A LAW FOR THEMSELVES, EVEN THOUGH THEY DO NOT HAVE LAW, since they show that the requirements of the Law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them. This will take place on the day when God will judge men's SECRETS through Jesus Christ, as my gospel declares."

—Romans 2: 12-16, KJB

To know the Law is to obey the Law...

To ponder the Law without obeying is ridiculous, yet is exactly what the corporate church teaches as sacred despite the scriptures. Just pay your sin-tax and remain in voluntary ignorance. Empty works without Grace...

But they must also report to and obey government without that Highest Law to protect them, because though they may know the Law, they are not righteous in the eyes of either God or of the state. We are treated by the legal realm as it legally sees and respects us; giving us public law to fulfill our entrained public-mindedness. For what emanates from our mouths and what shines from our counterfeit flattering titles is adjudged by God and the state to be fiction, and obviously so, thus requiring the law of fiction. Only our own actions can manifest christ both within and without. Only when we wear naught but the Permanent Truth as our banner in the Highest borne Arms of Faith can we have no secrets to be judged. To walk in the Faith (Trust) of God is merely to walk in Truth of Nature without artifice, where no sin (syn) exists.

Christ will only have his re-turn when we start acting in and as christ (God’s Law/Word) to beat down the evils that have collectively ensnared us. For we seem to forget the story, remembering not who sacrificed for whom. It is we who must have our return to christ, as the ultimate spiritual debt to God, and as the sun returns to reclaim the Light from such darkness. It is man that must make his own glorious return to christ, for repayment is certainly due for that price paid by christ. To believe that this allegory is not the story of what is due from man to God through christ’s example for that ultimate sacrifice but instead what is somehow still due from christ to man, as his “return” to man instead of man’s re-turn to christ, is only the very epitome of that corrupted doctrine of the Romish church. These corporate institutions of the church turn us away from christ, standing as the ever-present and historically known stumbling block to knowledge and returning to Free Grace.

For as long as christ is always seen falsely to be only the coming or returning One, man will never see christ’s return in his Self in repayment of that spiritual debt. The consciousness of that state of Being in God’s Nature through christ’s example is the recompense, the return to christ, and thus the return of christ in each willing man.

RETURN - verb intransitive - [Latin torna.] 1. To come or go back to the same place. 2. TO COME TO THE SAME STATE; as, to return from bondage to a state of freedom. 3. To answer. He said, and thus the queen of heaven return’d. 4. To come again; to revisit. Thou to mankind be good and friendly still, and oft return. 5. To appear or begin again after a periodical revolution. With the year seasons return but not to me returns day - 6. To show fresh signs of mercy. Return, O Lord, deliver my soul. Psalms 6:4. TO RETURN TO GOD. TO RETURN FROM WICKEDNESS; to repent of sin or wandering from duty. - verb transitive - 1. To bring, CARRY or send back; as, to return a borrowed book; to return a hired horse. 2. TO REPAY; as, to return borrowed money. 3. TO GIVE IN RECOMPENSE OR REQUITAL. In any wise, return him a trespass-offering. 1 Samuel 6:3. THE LORD SHALL RETURN THY WICKEDNESS UPON THY OWN HEAD. 1 Kings 2:32. 4. TO GIVE BACK IN REPLY; as, to return an answer. 5. To tell, relate or communicate… 7. To render an account; usually an official account to a superior… etc. 8. TO RENDERS back to a tribunal or to an office; as, to return a writ or an execution. 9. To report officially… - noun - … 3. The act of putting in the former place. 4. RETROGRESSION; THE ACT OF MOVING BACK. 5. THE ACT OR PROCESS OF COMING BACK TO A FORMER STATE; as the return of health. 6. REVOLUTION; a periodical coming to the same point; as the return of the sun to the tropic of Cancer. 7. PERIODICAL RENEWAL; as the return of the seasons; or of the year. 8. REPAYMENT, REIMBURSEMENT IN KIND OR IN SOMETHING EQUIVALENT; for money expended or advanced, or for labor. 9. Profit; advantage. From these few hours we spend in prayer the return is great. 10. REMITTANCE; PAYMENT FROM A DISTANT PLACE. 11. REPAYMENT; REtribution, requital. IS NO RETURN DUE FROM A GRATUfUL BREAST? 12. Act of restoring or GIVING BACK; restitution. 14. In law, THE RENDERING BACK OR DELIVERY of a writ, precept or execution, to the proper officer or court; or the CERTIFICATE of the officer executing it, indorsed. We call the transmission of the writ to the proper officer or court, A RETURN, and we give the same name to the certificate or official account of the officer’s service or proceedings. The sheriff or his subordinate officers make return of all writs and precepts. We use the same language for the sending back of a commission with the certificate of the commissioners… (Weds1828) respect, this is the first and biggest step towards a return to our own spiritual Life under the spiritual Law. To have security only in God’s Nature by securing our Selves exclusively to Nature and out from the hands of evil men and their artifice and designs against It, this is the way and the Light. This is True Life. To feel empathetically the pain of the destruction and desolation of all parts of Creation and its Law as one Whole Body of God, this is the only True Being. This is a return to our very own Nature.

Until then, we must suffer being cheated away from our Source by these pirates of the nations, as long as we respect and worship them as our false gods. For suddenly with this knowledge we no longer have even the lame excuse of ignorance.

Is this religion? The fool will dismiss it as such, wise only in his own conceit, taking the Truth as offensive to his belief (love) of artifice. The wise and spiritually grounded man can only see this as self-evident, not because it is this author’s opinion but because Reality Exists despite all opinion. The evermore foolish man might dismiss this because he “knows” that Christ never Existed in history, forgetting that one ultra important and self-evident Truth that Jesus Christ means “Jehovah is Salvation,” that the Son is the Word and the Word is the Law of Nature. And the final Truth is merely this; that only when the Word (Law) is taken and re-turned into the actions and works of man, the Son (Word of Law) will never re-turn. Man will never find Grace.

“For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, TO GIVE THE LIGHT OF THE KNOWLEDGE OF THE GLORY OF GOD IN THE FACE OF JESUS CHRIST... We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed; Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, THAT THE LIFE ALSO OF JESUS MIGHT BE MADE MANIFEST IN OUR BODY. For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, THAT THE LIFE ALSO OF JESUS MIGHT BE MADE MANIFEST IN OUR MORTAL FLESH.”

—2 Corinthians 4: 6, 8-11, KJB

We will ourselves continue instead to appear before government and in its courts (jurisdiction) under a fictional surname when that demon is summoned; as if only our intangible evil twin, our mirror image may be seen as an apparition by the court — our form (name) but not our substance. It is in fact our substance (mind and soul) that ensures our form (body), our object relation to the fictional subject. We make sure the presence and action of the fiction. Our incorporated (combined) given name and surname is the name of the character we portray within that fiction (art). We must literally appear as an impersonation of our Real Selves, walking their pirate plank as a mirror image with no soul, with no Real substance. We must breathe artificial life into a dead (evil) financial instrument within the jurisdiction of a legal municipal corporation. We must become actors and portrayers of a mere image of ourselves, as if we actually are that Lifeless legal fiction strawman, so as to interact within the fiction of legal law that also operates wholly in name (fiction) only. Like a cartoon character on television, the fictional person cannot Exist in Reality, never escaping beyond the magic realm of its own fictional jurisdiction, as a creation of law, and yet causing man to do so much damage to his own Source.
Encyclopedia Britannica eloquently defines this purely false-nature (sin) of what a legal fiction is:

“LEGAL FICTION - A rule ASSUMING AS TRUE something that is CLEARLY FALSE. A fiction is often USED TO GET AROUND THE PROVISIONS OF CONSTITUTIONS AND LEGAL CODES that legislators are hesitant to change or to encumber with specific limitations. Thus, when a legislature has no legal power to sit beyond a certain midnight but has five hours more of work still to do, it is easier to turn back the OFFICIAL CLOCK from time to time than it is to change the law or constitution.

“IN ANCIENT ROME, WHERE EVERY FAMILY NEEDED A MALE HEIR, THE LACK OF ONE WAS OVERCOME THROUGH THE LEGAL FICTION OF ADOPTION. In England, when courts handling civil cases were full, the Court of Queen’s (or King’s) Bench, A CRIMINAL COURT, could take some of the load BY PRETENDING THAT THE DEFENDANT IN A SIMPLE CIVIL SUIT HAD BEEN ARRESTED AND WAS IN CUSTODY.

“Almost any legal fiction can be STATED IN TERMS OF FACT. Thus, THE FICTION THAT A CORPORATION IS, for many purposes, A PERSON SEPARATE FROM ITS MEMBERS is equivalent to saying that, for those purposes, the law deals with the group as A UNIT, DISREGARDING FOR THE MOMENT THE GROUP’S INDIVIDUAL MEMBERS AS SUCH ...

In a legal fiction (jurisdiction), the artificial (lie) always assumes the place of the Real. Men pre-tend to be fictional persons; characters in a cartoon world where the rules of the Natural world do not apply, where God is not a party, and where privacy is lost. Lies are said here to be as true facts. Thus, we s-t-r-e-t-c-h the truth into a legal fiction, though Reality Itself (God’s Creation) never changes...

Notice in this entry above the 2nd paragraph. This is the explanation of our collective public story for which this author has had such a hard time attempting to put forward in so simple of terms. Yet here it is. We, that common goyim of debtors in public society are pretended to be criminals, in the form of birth registrants guilty only for the imaginary crime of our ignoble birth. We are thus registered and pretended to be felons, thus being disregarded by that higher class with regard to equitableness under the Natural Law, held instead in a criminal state and tried under criminal (civil) courts. For our crime is against Nature. By pretending the United States to be, by its artificial jurisdiction, a penal colony (tax farm), “the law deals with the group as a unit,” and we as its individual natural persons (strawmen) are pretended to be paroled (under arrest) and under the custody of the state in parens patriae. And while some infants are allowed to join the infantry when of a ripe age, the rest of the infants are kept well secured in this debtor’s prison. But it’s all make-believe, where fools are made to believe in virtual reality. And so, as the Bible so fervently tells, these nations are Truly the scriptural storyboard of man’s fall into fiction. As sheep, we are tended by false shepherds, but only because at birth we are pre-tended (rendered) into fictional creations.

To our masters, we are all wolves in sheep’s clothing, always prodded to devour one another, and controlled only by the love of our own false appearance.
grudg’d the part which they pretend [In this we generally use pretend to.] 6. TO INTEND; TO DESIGN. [Not used.] - verb transitive - To put in a CLAIM, TRULY OR FALSELY; TO HOLD OUT THE APPEARANCE OF BEING, POSSESSING OR PERFORMING. A man may pretend to be a physician, and pretend to perform great cures. BAD MEN OFTEN PRETEND TO BE PATRIOTS. (Webs1828)

INTEND - verb transitive - [Latin intendo; in and tendo, to stretch or strain, from teneo; Gr. to stretch. | 1. To stretch, to strain, to extend, to distend. By this the lungs are intended or remitted. [This literal sense is now uncommon.] 2. TO MEAN, TO DESIGN; TO PURPOSE, that is, to stretch or set forward IN MIND, [This is now the usual sense.] FOR THEY INTENDED EVIL AGAINST THEE. Psalms 21:11. 3. TO REGARD; TO FIX THE MIND ON; TO ATTEND; TO TAKE CARE OF. Having no children, she did with singular care and tenderness intend the education of Phillip. [This use of the word is now obsolete. We now use tend and superintend or regard] 4. TO ENFORCE; to make intense. (Webs1828)

In the realm of the dead, the Living have no voice…

When future intent is predestined, that is, when intent is something that is pre-assigned as a surname at birth to ensure an adherence to commercial intercourse, its causal effect is to cause a destiny of voluntary servitude to legal law and inversely, purposefully not to God. This is the design of the pretenders, the adversaries. For in the public, legal realm, intent is a contrived disease with no remedy. The agent exists only to serve his principal, as master and servant.

We must pre- tend ourselves as something we are not, as the walking dead; pre-tending a false appearance as a fictional entity. We must inhabit and possess an imaginary avatar so as to interact with the virtual reality of the legal artefact. We must assume spiritual death to have civil ease with no remedy. The agent exists only to serve his principal, as master and servant.

Like an employee of Walmart must pretend to be a patriotic supporter of the false gods of that conglomerate fictional corporation (artificial person) that harms so many while enriching one family (bloodline) and its shareholders, the citizen must also pretend to be patriotic of his nation (municipal corporation). His patriotism may be true or false in his personal comprehensio, but it is always based on a lie. Citizenship is a status of employment (of being used for one’s labor) in order to receive benefits. No man is an employee, only the fictional person is an employee. Employment is a formal agreement, not informal. It is a legal fiction. It is birthed by words in contract. It is a fictional title laid upon the admixed legal name, for no artificial title can exist without an artificial name to be attached to it. A title respects only a fictional person, not a man. Government can grant no title to men, for men are not fictions of its law. A man must agree to an incorporated legal personification before any flattering title (employee status) may be bestowed upon the corporate name. Like the form of a person has no substance and requires a man to operate it, a formal title without a name is merely a form with no substance, a cartoon without an animator.

This literally means that all men acting in person and under titles like doctor, lawyer, biologist, teacher, secretary, and any other fictionally created artifice of the state, do so against God’s Law, prescribing only what the legal state allows by licensure (organized anarchy) to be professed as accepted “knowledge.” Titles are not of Nature. Titles allow destruction of Nature through legally protected and insured means. It allows compensation for the destruction of Life and Nature with fictional paper currency, as if that fiction of mammon can ever replace the Reality and Life of God’s Creation. Monetary compensation is certainly no excuse to sin despite God’s Law.

For all these inducements, to claim (pretend) these benefits, we must become sons of the state as a surrogate father and thus forsake our True Father (Creator) in Nature; re-birthed as ink on paper and held captive in the state registrar’s file cabinet; that unholy confederated and combined ark of the constitutional covenant. The strawmen we pretend to become are thus reborn into fiction through the registration of a bank note known as a birth certificate.
We become corporate sons of government:

BEGET - verb transitive present tense - Begot, begat; - participle passive - begot, begotten. 1. To procreate, as a father or sire: to generate; as, to beget a son. 2. To produce, as an effect: To cause to exist; to generate; as, luxury begets vice. (Webs1828)

SON - noun - The whole human race are styled sons of Adam... 4. A native or inhabitant of a country; as the sons of Britain. Let our country never be ashamed of her sons. 5. The produce of any thing. Earth's tall sons, the cedar, oak and pine. [Note. The primary sense of child is produce. Issue: A Shoot!] 6. One adopted into a family. Moses was the son of Pharaoh's daughter. Exodus 2:2. 7. One who is converted by another's instrumentality, is called his son; also, one educated by another; as the sons of the prophets. 8. Christ is called the son of God, as being conceived by the power of the Holy Spirit, or in consequence of his relation to the Father. 9. Son of pride, sons of light, son of Belial. These are Hebrewisms, which denote that persons possess the qualities of pride, of light, or of Belial, as children inherit the qualities of their ancestors. (Webs1828)

STYLE - noun - [Latin. Gr., a column, a pen or bodkin: from the root of the Teutonic stellen, to set or place.] 1. Manner of writing with regard to language, or the choice and arrangement of words; as a harsh style; a dry style; a timbrous or bombastic style; a loose style; a terse style; a laconic or verbose style; a flowing style; a lofty style; an elegant style; an epistolary style. The character of style depends chiefly on a happy selection and arrangement of words, proper words in proper places, make the true definition of style. Let some lord but own the happy lines, how the wit brightens and the style refines! 2. Manner of speaking appropriate to particular characters; or in general, the character of the language used. Not style is held for base, where love well named is. According to the usual style of dedications. So we say, a person addresses another in a style of haughtiness, in a style or rebuke. 3. Mode of painting; any manner of painting which is characteristic or peculiar. The ornamental style also possesses its own peculiar merit. 4. A particular character of music; as a grave style. 5. Title; appellation, as the style of majesty. Propitious hear our prayr, whether the style of Titan please thee more... 6. Course of writing. [Not in use.] 7. Style of court, is properly the practice observed by any court in its way of proceeding. 8. In popular use, manner; form; as, the entertainment was prepared in excellent style. 9. A pointed instrument formerly used in writing on tables of wax; an instrument of surgery. 10. Something with a sharp point; a graver; the pin of a dial; written also stilte. 11. In botany, the middle portion of the pistil, connecting the stigma with the germ; sometimes called the shaft. The styles of plants are capillary, filiform, cylindric, subulate, or clavate. 12. In chronology, a mode of reckoning time, with regard to the Julian and Gregorian calendar. Style is old or new. The Old style follows the Julian manner of computing the months and days, or the calendar as established by Julius Cesar, in which the year consists of 365 days and 6 hours. This is something more than 11 minutes too much, and in the course of time, between Cesar and pope Gregory XIII, this surplus amounted to 11 days. Gregory reformed the calendar by retrenching 11 days; this reformation was adopted by act of parliament in Great Britain in 1751, by which act eleven days in September, 1752 were retrenched, and the 3rd day was reckoned the 14th. This mode of reckoning is called New style - verb transitive - to call; to name; to denominate; to give a title to in addressing. The emperor of Russia is styled autocrat; the king of Great Britain is styled defender of the faith. (Webs1828)
And here I pause once more to pose this question:

What denomination, what style of Caesar’s universal church of pagan “Christianity” are you? Which name do you subscribe to while ignoring Source? Which word and style makes you feel better about denying the actual scriptures (Law) by pretending to be a follower of Christ while in Reality taking the mark of citizenship in Caesar’s district as its beast and by attending its corporate “Christian” denominated religions?

At what point will you embrace your own intent instead of allowing it to be redirected by these adversarial doctrines of false truth (faith) through membership in persona (in name only) to the state? At what point will your actions manifest the teachings and parables of the Christ figure you pretend to admire? When will your respect of Christ be ripped off of your chest as mere symbolic jewelry and be carried as a burden through your own actions? Because obviously something bad is happening all around you while you sit in your ordained, corporately owned pews in the profane intent of voluntary ignorance.

“THE DEAD PRAISE NOT THE LORD, neither any that go down into silence.”

“They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and THEY ABHOR HIM THAT SPEAKETH UPRIGHTLY. Forasmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poor, and ye take from him burdens (taxes) of wheat: ye have built houses of hewn stone, BUT YE SHALL NOT DWELL IN THEM; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them. For I know your manifold transgressions and your mighty sins: they afflict the just, they take a bribe, and THEY TURN ASIDE THE POOR IN THE GATE FROM THEIR RIGHT, THEREFORE THE PRUDENT SHALL KEEP SILENCE IN THAT TIME; FOR IT IS AN EVIL TIME. Seek good, and not evil, THAT YE MAY LIVE: and so the LORD, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate…”

“The rich and poor meet together: the LORD is the maker of them all. A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished. a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it. THE RICH RULETH OVER THE POOR, AND THE BORROWER IS SERVANT TO THE LENDER.”

—Proverbs 22:2-7, KJB

We are lent the strawman, it is not our own. And the user of the surname is servant to government, which is only the agency of the sovereignty of private People in compact. And we train our children just as we were trained, to embrace the fictional name and to love and respect the usury of mammon.

Why will the prudent be silent? Because the prudent will hold the legal system of mammon in contempt. The prudent will choose to remain Free and private from that system, and so they will not entrap themselves by those legal word-spells and names. They will not fall into the ethnicity of the legal nations, or they will carry themselves away from them in pious circumcision (verb), no longer speaking in lies with a forked tongue despite God. But who exactly are said to be the prudent?

PRUDENT - adjective - Cautious; circumspect; PRACTICALLY WISE; CAREFUL OF THE CONSEQUENCES OF ENTERPRISES, MEASURES OR ACTIONS; CAUTIOUS NOT TO ACT WHEN THE END IS OF DOUBTFUL UTILITY, OR PROBABLY IMPRACTICABLE. The prudent man looketh well to his going. Proverbs 14:8. A prudent man foreseth the evil and hideth himself. Proverbs 22:3. 1. Dictated or directed by prudence; as PRUDENT BEHAVIOR. 2. FORESEEING BY INSTINCT; as the prudent crane. 3. Frugal; economical; as a prudent woman; prudent expenditure of money. 4. Wise; intelligent. (Webs1828)

PRUDENCE - noun - [Latin prudentia.] WISDOM APPLIED TO PRACTICE. Prudence implies caution in deliberating and consulting on the most suitable means to accomplish valuable purposes, and the exercise of sagacity in discerning and selecting them. Prudence differs from wisdom in this, that prudence implies MORE CAUTION AND RESERVE THAN WISDOM, or is exercised more IN FORESEEING AND AVOIDING EVIL, THAN IN DEVISING AND EXECUTING THAT WHICH IS GOOD. It is sometimes mere caution or circumspection. Prudence is principally in reference TO ACTIONS TO BE DONE, AND DUE MEANS, ORDER, SEASON AND METHOD OF DOING OR NOT DOING. (Webs1828)

Of course the soul-stealing “The Beatles” and their counter-culture music and lyrics demonized poor Dear Prudence, for prudence deflects evil. Won’t you come out to play, Prudence? To sport? To wager? Won’t you abandon yourself to the lie, dear Prudence? Practice these unnatural arts of men without wisdom, perhaps?

We are incrementally turned into products of belial, unprofitable to the earth and to our very own Nature, never producing from the land but instead totally dependent on the fiction of commerce, breathing continuous artificial life into that fictional realm. Our legal system of commerce is an institutionalized system of wickedness, for it runs completely based on persons and flattering titles, oaths and surety, which should never be respected according to scripture, for all the gods of the nations are idols. Sin is certainly not what we have thought it was, for the originators of sin are the legal teachers, the Bar, the church, and the state!

BELIAL - noun - As a noun, unprofitableness; wickedness. As an adjective, worthless; wicked. In a collective sense, wicked men. (Webs1828)
Belial

All men should be equally yoked to God’s Law, which forbids such legal considerations because it as the scriptures so clearly express, no man should be “legally” public or private or any person (status) of sin (artiﬁce) outside of Nature and without God’s Law.

It is the curse and plight of all men wicked than the private brood who perpetrated this fraud upon the public in the ﬁrst place, the remember this dualism of words. A wicked person is a public person, which is only slightly less proﬁts and worth of and under God with those usurious and wicked ones of mammon. We must consider the dualism of words. A wicked person is a public person, which is only slightly less wicked than the private brood who perpetrated this fraud upon the public in the ﬁrst place, the constitutors in combination and conspiracy of conﬁederation. For both live only to serve mammon, one as slave (public) and one as master (private). It is the curse and plight of all men living in the person (status) of sin (artiﬁce) outside of Nature and without God’s Law.

The author does not promote either of these states of false being, neither the legal status of public or private, concerning the law of man. For the private landholder is merely a feudal land-lord, a false god participating, beneﬁting and proﬁting in a system of voluntary chattel slavery. In the end, as the scriptures so clearly express, no man should be “legally” public or private or any thing at all. All men should be equally yoked to God’s Law, which forbids all legal considerations because it forbids all legal considerations. No man has need to express his privacy if all men are private and all men follow the Highest Law only without excuse in false persona within legal ﬁction. Hell need not exist, for debt is only an illusion. In the end, no man should respect any ﬁction at all.

But the author also realizes that all men do not seek their own redemption from this system, and are quite happy to be in such a servitude, as Huxley promoted and deemed highly likely in this Brave New World. And so this knowledge on how to allow the reader to become private is not being shared here so as to become the wolves in sheep clothing, the he-goat of he-goats, though some reading this may seek that heraldic position in mammon, but instead to choose to become sheep of the Highest flock, followers of the Highest Law. Do not become that which you despise, that which currently binds you in the public chains of surety. Do not become your enemy so as to beneﬁt from your fellow man’s enslavement in the legal ﬁction of the public realm of mammon, for there is a special circle of the lowest, darkest hell reserved for those who prey as these do upon the helpless and ignorant DIS-positions of man. Love them but hate their evil ways and designs. Become what reading this may seek that heraldic position in mammon, but instead to choose to become sheep of the Highest Law. Followers of the Highest Law. Do not become that which you despise, that which currently binds you in the public chains of surety. Do not become your enemy so as to beneﬁt from your fellow man’s enslavement in the legal ﬁction of the public realm of mammon, for there is a special circle of the lowest, darkest hell reserved for those who prey as these do upon the helpless and ignorant DIS-positions of man. Love them but hate their evil ways and designs. Become what we are all meant to be. For sovereignty is just a flattering legal title for a slave-master. Walk on the path of christ, not of some false historical “fathers” of a constituted pirate cove and slave colony.

Strong’s Concordance deﬁnes the word Belial as follows:

Strong’s G955 - Belial - Βελίαλ - Belial, bel-e-yah’-al; of Hebrew origin (H1100); worthlessness; Belial, as AN EPITHEt OF SATAN—Belial.

Belial = “worthless or wicked”

1. A NAME OF SATAN

Strong’s H1100 - בְּלִיָּעַל - בְּלִיָּאָל - Belial, evil, naughty, UNGODLY (men), wicked.
Bēlya’al = worthlessness

1. worthless, good for nothing, unprofitable, base fellow
2. wicked
3. ruin, destruction (construct)

From Thayer’s Lexicon… Impatience of the yoke (of God), (contumacy) unprofitableness, worthlessness, meaning what is USELESS, OF NO FRUIT, little worth.

The publicity of the christian name admixed with the surname to create a legal entity (false identity) is a mark of Belial. And the issue of our fruit falls close to the tree, and the tree is corrupted by its own roots in the fiction of mammon and artifice. Like a genetically altered seed, all seeds that follow will be seedless, with no roots to the land. When we see words such as worthless and unprofitableness used as such in scripture, we must remember our perspective. For a worthless man to God is one who’s Life is spent in pursuit of fiction in mammon, his back turned from his own place in the Oneness of God’s Nature and Law. His profits are strictly monetary and counted as the object of his false god mammon, capable of only pointless, unspiritual, temporary possessions, and so he is of no profit to God’s self-Evident Realm, raping It instead for his own pleasures and gains. And of course, this is the state of being in ruination, a life of adversarial and trivial works in belial.

While participating in human trafficking (capitalism and commerce), a Living man acting as a fictional commercial entity (public persona) that we legally call as being in “citizenship,” is considered only as one (an agent) that can be employed (used) to make a profit for other powerful men in or out of their principal government. This is wickedness. This is slavery. This is an excuse to be dependent, lazy, and to Live without the burden of moral conscious through legal licensure. All men are branded and patriotically impressed like animals from birth with the notion that they should show their false value by working a meaningless job which offers the man working it in legal persona nothing but payment in debt currency (IOUs). These working men, no matter what the importance or pointless nature and obscurity their work amounts to, are considered as good sons of the nation. They produce nothing for themselves, living only to feed the hand that created their pretended legal status. They are good employees, well able to be used as live-stock. To be employed, however, has a special meaning that I suspect most men acting in public do not know, one akin to slavery and destitution:

HIRELING - noun - One who is hired, or who SERVES for wages. 1. A MERCENARY; a PROSTITUTE. - adjective - Serving for wages: venal; MERCENARY; EMPLOYED FOR MONEY or other compensation… (Web1828)

WAGE - In old English practice. To give security for the performance of a thing. (Black1)

WAGES - The compensation agreed upon BY A MASTER TO BE PAID TO A SERVANT, or any other person hired to do work or business for him. In maritime law, THE COMPENSATION ALLOWED TO SEAMEN FOR THEIR SERVICES ON BOARD A VESSEL DURING A VOYAGE. In political economy. The REWARD paid, whether in money or goods, to HUMAN exertion, considered as a factor in THE PRODUCTION OF WEALTH, for its CO-OPERATION in the process. “Three factors contribute to the production of commodities—nature, labor, and capital. Each must have a share of the product as its REWARD, and this share, if it is just, must be proportionate to the several contributions. The share of the natural agents is RENT; the share of labor, WAGES; the share of capital, INTEREST. The clerk receives a salary; the lawyer and doctor, fees; the manufacturer, profits. Salary, fees, and profits are so many forms of wages for services rendered.” (Black1)
Are your profits fictional or Real? Do they serve God or mammon?

The capitalists exist and subsist like parasites only on the interest earned off of the backs of their laborers, to whom they pay wages of debt and make loans of interest in return for their rendered service (voluntary servitude/slavery). In turn, those wages go to pay the rent of government agents acting as licensed landlords, grocers, and monopolists. And this is labeled in the legal realm as that which is a fair and equitable system. The feudal system may have changed, but we, the feudal tenants and our family of land-lords never did.

SALARium - Latin. In the civil law. An allowance of provisions. A stipend, wages, or compensation for service. An annual allowance or compensation. (Black1)

SALARY - A recompense or consideration made to a person for his PAINS AND INDUSTRY IN ANOTHER PERSON'S BUSINESS; also WAGES, stipend, or annual allowance. An annual compensation for services rendered; a fixed sum to be paid by the year for services. "Salary" signifies the periodical compensation to men in official and some other situations. The word is derived from "salarium," which is from the word "sal," SALT, that being AN ARTICLE IN WHICH THE ROMAN SOLDIERS WERE PAID. (Black1)

EMPLOY - To engage in one's service; to USE as an AGENT or SUBSTITUTE in transacting business; to commission and intrust with the management of one's affairs; and, when used in respect to a SERVANT or HIRED LABORER, the term is equivalent to HIRING, which implies A REQUEST AND A CONTRACT for a compensation, and has but this one meaning when used in the ordinary affairs and business of life. (Black1)

EMPLOYEE - ...The word is more extensive than "clerk" or "officer." It signifies ANY ONE IN PLACE, OR HAVING CHARGE OR USING A FUNCTION, as well as ONE IN OFFICE. (Black1)

EMPLOYED - This signifies both THE ACT OF DOING A THING and the BEING UNDER CONTRACT OR ORDERS TO DO IT. (Black1)

EMPLOYMENT - This word does not necessarily import an engagement or rendering services for another. A PERSON may as well be ‘employed’ about HIS OWN BUSINESS as in the transaction of the same FOR A PRINCIPAL. (Black1)

JOBBER - One who buys and sells goods FOR OTHERS; one who buys or sells on the stock exchange; a dealer in stocks, shares, or securities. One who buys and sells articles in bulk and resells them to dealers. A merchant buying and selling in job lots. A SORT OF MIDDLEMAN. (Black4)

ENGAGEMENT - In French law. A contract. The obligation arising from a quasi contract. The terms "obligation" and "engagement" are said to be synonymous, but the Code seems specially to apply the term "engagement" to THOSE OBLIGATIONS WHICH THE LAW IMPOSES ON A MAN WITHOUT THE INTERVENTION OF ANY CONTRACT, either on the part of the obligor or the obligee. An engagement to do or omit to do something amounts to A PROMISE. In English Practice. The term has been appropriated to denote A CONTRACT entered into by a married woman WITH THE INTENTION OF BINDING OR CHARGING HER SEPARATE ESTATE, or, with stricter accuracy, a promise which in the case of a person sui juris would be A CONTRACT, but in the case of a married woman is not a contract, because she cannot bind herself personally, even in equity. Her engagements, therefore, merely operate as dispositions or appointments pro tanto of her separate estate. (Black1)

SALIC LAW - A body of law framed by the Salian Franks, a Teutonic race who settled in Gaul about the beginning of the fifth century. It is the most ancient of the barbarian Codes. It is said to have been compiled about the year 420. It embraced the laws and customs of the Salian
It is of great historical value, in connection with THE ORIGINS OF FEUDALISM and similar subjects. Its most celebrated provision was one which excluded women from the inheritance of landed estates, by an extension of which law females were always excluded from succession to the crown of France. Hence this provision, by itself, is often referred to as the “Salic Law.” In French jurisprudence. The name is frequently applied to that fundamental law of France which excluded females from succession to the crown. Supposed to have been derived from the sixty-second title of the Salic Law, “De Alode.” (Black4)

You might say that getting a job is like getting married. The male’s and the female’s persons incorporate their fictional estates (their fictions/surnames) in contract and become one corporate body politic, one corporation. And as the male counterpart well knows, the female estate generally takes everything that the male estate holder owns when the contract of marriage is broken in divorce. This is of course due to the illegitimacy of the public, legal marriage. Legal marriage is not, in any way, based upon or inconformity to the Natural Law. Therefore no man (male or female) can equitably take another’s actual, lawful property under the Natural Law. But a man in public persona (property of another) holds nothing of his own and is bound under the eminent domain and dominion of his master, and so all is up for grabs. The legal vultures, the attorneys, seduce the legalistic, public-minded wo-man into committing as much pain and legal theft as possible against that which she vowed to love and protect. For the attorney cares for nothing except his billable hours. The attorney is strictly stuck in the artificial time domain, the realm of fiction. What happens to Reality, including the ruination of a man and his family, is irrelevant to the agents (attorneys) of fiction.

The word retirement, when applied to the employee that was being used like a slave for his labor, literally means to put to death (exterminate) the corporate bond and contract to that fictional person that executed its obligation. The man was never actually employed, only the fictional name of the man. Man is mere surety for the ad-mixed legal name in contract, ensuring the name delivers its contractual obligations.

And yet at the end of their Lives these good, agenticly acting sons of the nation have nothing of their own; holding merely paper title of the property they purchased (with debt) but do not own. For nothing can be bought with debt, only borrowed, rented, and leased in tenancy. These men, without comprehension, never actually worked a day in their Lives. They instead inhabited government property and as surety for titled strawmen were trafficked for their labor. The man never earned a True Living, for he was acting in spiritual death, and so never Lived while earning and never earned for his actual Self. He was dead the whole time. He never purchased a home, for he did so in the name of government’s citizen-ship utilizing government debt script in mort-gage (dead pledge). He registered his bank account, registered his car, and registered his children in a name that wasn’t his, in mortmain (dead hands); all of these things rendered and patented only under Caesar. And so while the memory of hard days at work fill his dreams and ache in his bones, in Reality he never worked for his True Self. The man was induced into the modern version of indentured servitude through peonage; a strange voluntary sort of slavery that most never contemplate even as they volunteer and are paid under it. And so after 50 years of labor, the man has nothing to show for it except a few papers that say he is a fictional tenant in government’s registered property. And without comprehension, he ensured that his children would follow the same course when he unknowingly signed and de-livered them over to the state at “birth.” And finally, the man dies without any actual thing that is his to show or to bequeath to his children, for his only prize is an invisible serv’s collar.

Webster’s 1828 expands on this Reality:
The 8-16 hour work day…

When can a man possibly find time to have a spiritual Life, to study the works of history and of the slave races existing before him, to read with contemplation and due diligence the scriptures, the sciences, the philosophies, or the law that binds him, to learn new things in order to improve his actual Livelihood, or to even learn his own disposition as a debt-slave? The typical man employed (used) in busi-ness has been compelled instead to get his spiritual ad-vice from a corporate church sponsored and licensed by the legal state, his knowledge earned and paid for from a completely corrupted, government-funded school, and to judge his own opinion of himself by how good he is at being used (employed) — by how many hours he can work for someone else with no actual reward except a paper currency that has unlimited regeneration because it merely represents the debt and obligation of all other employed and unemployed citizenships and their titles of “property” held by the nation.

The employer keeps the substance of the Real while the employee accepts the fictional form of his own indebtedness as payment, for the money only represents his own indenture. His time is used, and he is paid in the artificial valuation of the currency of time, called as money.

If this is not the perfect template for a voluntary slave society I don’t know what is.

And this brings us to the end of another chapter. Not, coincidentally, merely a chapter of this work, but of our very Lives. For here we find ourselves with the knowledge of what has been done to us through trickery and word-magic. We cannot simply forget this knowledge. And so, though this work goes on in future volumes, the question unanswered seems to be what is the next chapter in each of our own Lives?

Exit the legal, public matrix…. or plug right back in?

And the moral of this story?
We’ve all been cheated. Escheated. Governments and systems of religious and legal law are designed only to protect the cheaters, the inter-national round table of the monopoly board. And only our re-birth (re-turn) back into our Source, a homecoming back into God’s Realm of Nature and Law can save us from our fictional, re-presented selves in persona.

We are stuck in an illusion, a simulation of our True Self.

The pirates rule the virtual, commercial sea.

The legal matrix has us...

But wait a minute... You didn’t think the author wouldn’t provide the definition of a pirate before we depart, did you? After all, the looters must be shown for what they are:

“The real looting in this country takes place in the transfer of the wealth from the poor to the rich... and the poor have been systematically looted in this country. The rich have been made richer under this criminal, fascist president and his government.”

—George Carlin

For you see, a single pirate acting alone without license is merely an unauthorized, illegal pirate. But two or more pirates that unite together in their criminal intent is a con-spiracy, a combination, a confederacy, and yes, a nation. But it is not merely the foundational union of these private, privateering pirates in compact of nationhood that creates the piracy. It is what the nation creates in and of itself that is the pirate cove, a shelter and den for legalized thievery. A law that allows what is unlawful is no law at all, merely a fiction of legalese. Only congress as the lawmakers may decide what constitutes piracy. For they also define what a lawbreaker is, and it is never themselves or their bloodline. In other words, the pirates themselves decide what piracy is and is not. For the conspirators can commit no conspiracy against themselves. By Talmudic law, it is only when a pretended “Jew” of the synagogue of satan harms another false “Jew” that he breaks the law. The gentiles, as cattle, cannot be harmed, for we are acting as (surety for) voluntary property. And this is the moral compass of all commercial governments. It has to be. It is the law of nations, which is only invoked when one nation harms another, not when any nation harms its own property (persons). Remember, nations are persons too!

And so, as with all crimes, the word piracy is barred from being used to describe government, for its acts of piracy fall under the fiction of “by lawful authority,” as it has in all kingdoms and under all kings of old. As with conspiracy, piracy when legally defined is only that which is against government, not what’s taken on its behalf. Stealing children by birth certification is perfectly legal.

PIRACY - ROBBERY AND DEPREDATION UPON THE HIGH SEAS. Robbery and forcible depredation upon the high sea, animo furandi. Robbery or forcible depredation on the high seas, WITHOUT LAWFUL AUTHORITY, done animo furandi, AND IN THE SPIRIT AND INTENTION OF UNIVERSAL HOSTILITY. (WCA1889)

PIRATE - One who roves the sea in an ARMED VESSEL, without commission from any sovereign State, on his own authority, AND FOR THE PURPOSE OF SEIZING BY FORCE AND APPROPRIATING TO HIMSELF, WITHOUT DISCRIMINATION, EVERY VESSEL HE MAY MEET. (WCA1889)
PIRATICAL - adjective - [Latin piraticus.] Robbing or plundering by open violence ON THE HIGH SEAS; as a piratical commander or ship. 1. Consisting in piracy: PREDATORY: ROBBING; AS A PIRATICAL TRADE OR OCCUPATION. 2. PRACTICING LITERARY THEFT. The errors of the press were multiplied by piratical printers. (Webs1828)

LITERARY - adjective - [Latin literarius.] 1. Pertaining to letters or literature; RESPECTING LEARNING OR LEARNED MEN; as a literary history; LITERARY CONVERSATION. 2. Derived from erudition: as literary fame. 3. Furnished with erudition: versed in letters; as a literary man. 4. CONSISTING IN LETTERS: or written or printed compositions; as literary property. (Webs1828)

PIRATICAL - Imports an aggression unauthorized by the law of nations, hostile in character, wanton and criminal in its commission, AND UTTERLY WITHOUT SANCTION FROM ANY PUBLIC AUTHORITY OR SOVEREIGN POWER, that the act belongs to the class of offenses which pirates are in the habit of perpetrating, whether the purpose be plunder, hatred, revenge, or wanton abuse of power. HOSTILITIES COMMITTED UNDER A COMMISSION FROM A PARTY TO A RECOGNIZED WAR ARE NOT INCLUDED. In that case the superior may be held for the act. PIRACY IS THE SAME OFFENSE AT SEA AS ROBBERY ON LAND. It is everywhere punished with death, at common law was punished as an offense against the law of nations (part of the common law) — the universal law of society: A PIRATE BEING DEEMED AN ENEMY OF HIS RACE, hostis humani generis. Congress shall have power "TO DEFINE AND PUNISH Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offenses against the Law of Nations." "To define" is to enumerate the crimes which will constitute piracy. 2. Infringement of a copyright by reprinting all or a substantial portion of the production, word for word; or, by imitating or copying it with colorable alterations. Citing the most important parts of a copyrighted work, with a view not to criticism but to supersede the use of the original work and to substitute the review. In determining the question of piracy, quantity, quality and value are regarded. If these elections are made animo furandi, with intent to make use of them for the purpose for which the original author used them, to convey in a different publication the information he imparted, OR TO SUPPLANT HIM IN HIS OWN TERRITORY, a small quantity will suffice to support the charge. If the pirated portion, being substantial, cannot be separated from the original matter without destroying the publication, the whole book will be enjoined upon the principle of the doctrine of "confusion of goods." See Abridge; Compile; Review. (WCA1889)

CON - Preposition - WITH. A prefix meaning with, TOGETHER, Webster. - Adjective - A slang or cant abbreviation for CONFIDENCE, as a CON MAN or a CON GAME. Webster. (Black4)

CONSPIRACY - In criminal law. A combination or CONFEDERACY between two or more persons formed for the purpose of committing, BY THEIR JOINT EFFORTS, some unlawful or criminal act, or some act which is innocent in itself, BUT BECOMES UNLAWFUL WHEN DONE BY THE CONCERTED ACTION OF THE CONSPIRATORS, OR FOR THE PURPOSE OF USING CRIMINAL OR UNLAWFUL MEANS TO THE COMMISSION OF AN ACT NOT IN ITSELF UNLAWFUL. A combination, or an agreement between two or more persons, for accomplishing an unlawful end OR A LAWFUL END BY UNLAWFUL MEANS. A partnership in criminal purposes. The essence of "conspiracy" is an agreement, together with an overt act, to do an unlawful act, OR DO A LAWFUL ACT IN AN UNLAWFUL MANNER. Mere knowledge, acquiescence, approval, or attempt on part of one to perpetuate illegal act is insufficient. A CONSPIRACY MAY BE A CONTINUING ONE: ACTORS MAY DROP OUT, AND OTHERS DROP IN; THE DETAILS OF OPERATION MAY CHANGE FROM TIME TO TIME; THE MEMBERS NEED NOT KNOW EACH OTHER OR THE PART PLAYED BY OTHERS; a member need not know all the details of the plan or the operations; he must, however, know the purpose of the conspiracy and agree to become a party to a plan to effectuate that purpose. A consultation or agreement between two or more persons, either falsely to accuse another of a crime punishable by law; or wrongfully TO INJURE OR PREJUDICE A THIRD PERSON, OR ANY BODY OF MEN, IN ANY MANNER; or to commit any offense punishable by law; or to do any act with intent to prevent the course of justice; or to effect a legal purpose with a corrupt intent, or by improper means. (Black4)

CIVIL AND CRIMINAL CONSPIRACIES - The term "civil" is used to designate a conspiracy which will furnish ground for a civil action, as where, in carrying out the design of the conspirators, OVERT ACTS ARE DONE CAUSING LEGAL DAMAGE. THE PERSON INJURED HAS A RIGHT OF ACTION. It is said that the gist of civil conspiracy IS THE INJURY OR DAMAGE. While criminal conspiracy does not require such overt acts, yet, so far as the rights and remedies are concerned, all criminal conspiracies are embraced within the civil conspiracies. ACCURATELY SPEAKING, THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A CIVIL ACTION FOR CONSPIRACY. The better view is that THE DAMAGE SUSTAINED, AND NOT THE CONSPIRACY IS THE GIST OF THE ACTION. The combination may be of no consequence except as bearing upon rules of evidence or the persons liable. The essence of a "civil conspiracy" is A CONCERT OR COMBINATION TO DEFRAUD OR CAUSE OTHER INJURY TO PERSON OR PROPERTY, which results in damage to the person or property of plaintiff. (Black4)

And so the congress, as that which is at common law a legally lawful body (per the fictional law of nations), is the only decider as to what is a conspiracy. For the law of nations is only concerned with how nation treats nation, not how a nation treats its voluntarily contracted subjects (willing slaves). No law can protect a man who volunteers to his own tyranny, pain, and deceit. And so let us not forget the de facto nature of the other hat of Congress, that which is called as "congress" in name and title (US Code) only. When congress stands as both the creator and the lawmaker of the very pirate cove of the United States, and when that pirate cove only applies to those voluntarily subjected to it under civil contract within its district (seizure) and as dead objects of a declared war or emergency, then what possible force in this world can possibly sink such a fleet? What power can possibly defeat such a combination of men in cons-piracy to defraud and corrupt all others?

Well, how can we answer these questions until we first acknowledge the organized crime racket that is the de facto (illegitimate) national government, until we first admit that we have been severely duped, dwelled by patriotic nonsense while being openly and willingly robbed blind?

RACKET - Engaging in an operation to make money illegitimately, implying continuity of behavior. (Black4)

RACKETEER - A person who makes money by violations of the Penal Law. Particularly those violations accompanied by violence. (Black4)

RACKETEERING - An organized conspiracy to commit the crimes of extortion or coercion, or attempts to commit extortion or coercion. From the standpoint of extortion, it is the obtaining of money or property from another, with his consent, induced by the wrongful use of force or fear. The fear which constitutes the legally necessary element in extortion is induced by oral or written threats to do an unlawful injury to the property of the threatened person by means of explosives, fire, or otherwise; and to kill, KIDNAP, OR INJURE HIM OR A RELATIVE OF HIS OR SOME MEMBER OF HIS FAMILY. From the standpoint of coercion, it usually takes the form of compelling by use of similar threats to person or property a person to do or abstain from doing an act which such other person has the legal right to do or abstain from doing, SUCH AS JOINING A SO-CALLED PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION TO PROTECT HIS RIGHT TO CONDUCT A BUSINESS OR TRADE. (Black4)
Now, would you say that after reading US Code, Title 42, Section 1981, that the IRS and every government agency supporting it is in the business of legalized racketeering? I remind you that, as US code states, it is your strawman’s “equal right” to be “EXACTED” from, meaning EXTORTED.

But, you see, they aren’t extorting us as men, they are extorting their own property, their own persons. They can “charge” whatever they wish to their own debt-carrying vessels, and the agent in surety, whom voluntarily continues in his usage of that property (person-hood, citizen-ship) must pay the price of his sin for his usage of the artificial protections in licensed anarchy against the Natural Law of God. It’s quite a racket, amazingly awful in its evil design if I don’t say so myself.

And yet it comes straight out of the Bible… for those who have purposefully, inversely implemented it, are a cursed people that deny the New Law and Testament of Jesus christ (the Word/Son of God). They read the following passage with greed and ill intent, not with the Love and Charity required. For this is not just an instruction guide for pirates, it is a prophecy for the common masses of goyim, and it has all but come True. It’s exactly what needs to happen today.

“Then ye shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you,
AND DESTROY ALL THEIR PICTURES, AND DESTROY ALL THEIR MOLTEN IMAGES, AND QUITE PLUCK DOWN ALL THEIR HIGH PLACES: AND YE SHALL DISPOSSESS THE INHABITANTS OF THE LAND, AND DWELL THEREIN; for I have given you the land to possess it. AND YE SHALL DIVIDE THE LAND BY LOT FOR AN INHERITANCE AMONG YOUR FAMILIES: AND TO THE MORE YE SHALL GIVE THE MORE INHERITANCE, and to the fewer ye shall give the less inheritance: EVERY MAN'S INHERITANCE SHALL BE IN THE PLACE WHERE HIS LOT FALLETH; ACCORDING TO THE TRIBES OF YOUR FATHERS YE SHALL INHERIT. BUT IF YE WILL NOT DRIVE OUT THE INHABITANTS OF THE LAND FROM BEFORE YOU; THEN IT SHALL COME TO PASS, THAT THOSE WHICH YE LET REMAIN OF THEM SHALL BE PRICKS IN YOUR EYES, AND THORNS IN YOUR SIDES, AND SHALL VEX YOU IN THE LAND WHEREIN YE DWELL. Moreover it shall come to pass, that I shall do unto you, as I thought to do unto them.”

— Numbers 33: 52-56, KJB

Our eyes have been pricked and our sides have received thorns, and the land wherein we have become such fruitless dwellers has bee pirated away through the magically worded legal terms of art we have herein discussed. It is the multitude that have been dispossessed from the land, for we worship all that we should not — the pictures, molten images, and high places of the pirate cove of every nation and district around the world.

The point here is that if you keep volunteering to use and appear in their person, you have no private or public right to complain, for you necessarily in your usage of another’s property consent to Title 42, Section 1981, and all other laws regarding persons (rented ships). In other words, as they say, ignorance of this law is no excuse, and purposeful ignorance is just downright lame. You will be extorted and exacted by the chancery and community chest (treasury) — do not pass Go, and do not collect $200. You will pay for your choice and your election will be made painfully sure.

We now have the knowledge, as revealed again within this work; a work designed only to discover the Light and dark works of others, to reverse their spells and pull the curtain on their fragile illusion and devilish matrix code. We now know that this pirate cove exists only as long as we voluntarily serve it as its proprietary agents and believe in (falsely love) its authority to rule over us in fiction. We now know that the only power and authority that stands above that system and its flatteringly titled gods in a corporation of self-declared legal sovereignty is the ambiguous Nature of Truth in God Almighty. And we now know without question the purpose and power of that Highest Law of God and how to achieve Its very Real solution and only True redemption as the end of all contractual relationship upon that artificial sea created and governed by these pirates.

But who will step up to walk upon this path as christ’s example has shown us?

The story of our lives will depend on the answer to that very question.

My journey, my path, and this discovery of Truth has just begun. May we find the strength of will to help each other to find this path together…
Epilogue:
On Sovereignty
And Allodial Title

“But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles EXERCISE LORDSHIP OVER THEM; AND THEIR GREAT ONES EXERCISE AUTHORITY UPON THEM, BUT SO SHALL IT NOT BE AMONG YOU: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister: AND WHOSOEVER OF YOU WILL BE THE CHIEFEST, SHALL BE SERVANT OF ALL.”

—Mark 10:42, KJB

“And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles EXERCISE LORDSHIP OVER THEM; AND THEY THAT EXERCISE AUTHORITY UPON THEM ARE CALLED BENEFACtors. BUT YE SHALL NOT BE SO: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; AND HE THAT IS CHIEF, AS HE THAT DOTH SERVE... And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me;”

These verses tell us that as gentiles, as the common “public” persons of the multitude of goyim borne (carried) by the nation and that call the nation our father, that we shall be under the lordship of some form of “kings” (false gods). It tells us that those private, god-like People sharing in their own kingship as incorporated, militarized landholders shall exercise authority over the lands and over that landless multitude we are. It tells us that they are the “great ones” ruling by their supposed, self-proclaimed (positive/legal/ecclesiastical) sovereignty as the “benefactors.” Many a researcher and groups thereof have sought out this tantalizing title of flattery in that legal realm, seeking to somehow become the master (private citizen of a State) instead of the servant (national, public citizen-ship) by filing boundless legal paperworks, as if that is anywhere close to what Christ teaches will redeem us. The problem I keep coming back to hinges on the fact that every aspect of the Bible warns us against our voluntary, purposeful participation in such fictional “kingdoms” and respect of their idolatrous gods, and that the True Kingdom of God in Christ is not made of the artifices, buildings, and laws of man, nor built through such Masonic hands. We see it written over and over that the most mighty and kingly among us should be content to be relegated to the lowliest of occupations so as to serve others before oneself and to minister the Word without gains or profits, which of course fulfills the Highest Law, so that none should be wealthy before all others are first so. And yet to become a landholder, to fulfill the constituted purpose of those false, legal “fathers” of this United States and soon the United Nations’ global beast system goes against all of that scriptural knowledge. It requires a mark, a blemish, signs and tokens, a false name and a flattering title. And so I shall end this first volume within the clockworks of this very conundrum.

With the vast amount of information and piracy we have already uncovered, and in consideration that much more backing evidence is on its way with Volume II, I feel it’s my responsibility as the author of this work to end here with a warning, one similar to what I offered in the beginning of this work regarding a certain curse surrounding the Bible, depending on the intent of each reader. In one’s search for further enlightenment and possible action, one will certainly run across many self-proclaimed gurus and snake oil salesmen attempting to cause one to purchase their special, magical paperwork, their unproven methods, their legal dockets and court cases, etc… And they will do so at what are often outrageous prices attached to such outrageous, unverifiable claims. Like used car salesmen, they will promise that with a few magic words sent to government with red and blue ink and a special symbol or seal that you too can be like them, though you will never actually meet them or verify their delusional claims of success. For there is one litmus test that these gurus will never pass, ironically, which is to show that their cases are private in nature. The reason they can be found publicized, in other words, is because they have not accomplished the feat of becoming private citizens of any State or Land (territory), and therefore their cases are published in the administrative nature they exist, as public documents for public persons within United States (national) courts. If they are in a public court, they are public persons. And it is doubtful that any private landlord will lift a finger to cause the treasure of his mystery, his privacy, to be revealed. Therefore, these gurus continue to reside in the public domain. This is a dead giveaway. Pun intended. One is a fool to take advice from the spiritually dead while seeking True Life. The blind should not seek out the blind to see…

It has become a hobby of mine to ask most people that are pursuing such legal ends, to somehow impossibly solve spiritual problems through unspiritually legal, artful (evil) means, just exactly which example are they following? Whose is the success story they seek to emulate? Whom is it that overcame? Who’s person was crucified so that the spiritual man could rise again? Who out there is what they say they are, when you know always and in self-evident Truth that no man is some-thing, and can in Truth be no-thing, unless he taketh upon his flesh the mark and titles of man’s fiction?

As for me, I am just as you are, a seeker of answers to seemingly unlimited and often, on the surface, unanswerable questions. I am not a winner or a guru, and I have no path to offer you except that of the already Existing and self-evident model of Christ under the Natural Law. I offer no remedy, no monetary gain or reward; only this small parcel of knowledge given freely within these private works.

The point is that after receiving such information, I do not wish for you to place your trust and your well-being in the alternative, patriot, and so-called “truth” movements out there any more than I would ask you to trust in myself. For the scriptures warn us never to put our faith in any man. None of these things, these paperwork are self-evident, and there is very little useful information to be found. Much artful truth about the paradoxical reality of fiction abounds, and it’s
There are, sadly, a whole lot of slaves preaching and recreating their own deluded self-image as masters, and leading others to do the same, even while choking on and returning to their own conceit and vomit as the proverbs parabolically predict. Do not suffer these fools. Learn from them. If their claim to you is a legal or commercial solution and redemption of any kind, you know you are dealing with one who does not know the Highest foundation of Law. If money is their goal for you, as reparations, reward, or remedy, then you will never gain anything but debt in the form of an IOU, as a further inducement to your own love (belief) in that root of all evil, where mammon is your god and purchaser. If evil (money) be what you seek as remedy, then you deserve what you will get, as the perfect model of Huxley’s Brave New World citizen quite happy and brainwashed in his own servitude. For you can only spend that money in the company store, in the nation (jurisdiction) that creates it, even when utilizing that currency’s private capacity as legal tender.

But the agents are always watching, and every retailer and private seller is a potential agent and farmer of men (tax collector). It’s the company (national) rule! That money will remain the property of government while in your person’s hands, and proprietary strings and tribute are always attached to such commercial tools of mammon. To be clear, a reward in money keeps you in the system, for with-out that matrix system (outside its jurisdiction) that money is useless and carries no value (no belief/love), just as the cartoon only has fictional life inside of that electric magic mirror. Its value is simply not a Reality, not self-Existent or self-evident. Money has no place in Nature, and is of no use to a spiritually aware man of God. To be a user of money is to worship its god, plain and simple. The use of money carries with it an implied contract and law, and the creator controls. Remember, the devil controls man only through contract, through proprietary words, symbols, and numbers written with legal (anti-God) intent. And national currency carries a presumption of con-tract under law for its use by any man, both public and private.

As a telling example of such applied and misguided mythology from the shock-jocks, dreamers, and pontificators of the truth/liberty/patriot/sovereignty movement repeated time and time again, I turn now to a letter that was written to Cecile Bledsoe, a State representative of Arkansas, which was subsequently forwarded and responded to by the Attorney General of Arkansas and others, and finally publicly posted on that government’s website for the public record. A citation for the web address is included here strictly for source accreditation as an official (.gov) website of the Attorney General (AG). (http://ag.arkansas.gov/opinions/docs/2002-296.html)

Here we have the perfect example of how the law of man is twisted and wrongly transliterated so as to fit into the always limited perspective of he who seeks that which he is not privy to, be it due to one’s status or simply to one’s grand delusions of romanticized privilege. This also shows the extreme danger of quoting parts of the whole of any other court case, especially when those cases have nothing to do with the current one at bar. Always remember that a part does not equal the whole, and that the utilization of quotes must be understood and representative of one’s own case or subject-matter in every way. For every case is new in the eyes of the administrator (judge), and every case has the potential for new quotes, which are often only opinion to support fact. Remember too that the dissenting opinion of cases is just as valid as the supporting opinions.

The following is a great learning tool, showing us how the legal mind of these elitist Attorney’s think as opposed to the typical public-minded goyim, whom simply refuses to comprehend any legal truth or spiritual Truth that opposes his own world view. Perspective is everything...
This vulgar inquiry was initiated and answered as such (original inquiring author’s name omitted herein), where we find that the Attorney General is answering said inquiry as sent to Representative Bledsoe from a public-minded US Citizen-ship with what on the surface he believes are good and liberty-minded intentions, the pannage of we the useful innocents…

Dear Representative Bledsoe:

I am writing in response to your request for my opinion on the following questions:

Can property be taxed if the land patent is current?

Are the following opinions correct?

Article 2, Section 28 of the Arkansas state Constitution provides: “All lands IN THIS STATE are declared to be ALLODIAL, AND FEUDAL TENURES of every description, with all their incidents, ARE PROHIBITED.”

I HEREBY REASSERT ALL MY RIGHTS UNDER SAID PROVISION. I AM NOT A TENANT. Please note the following:

“That THE PATENT CARRIES THE FEE and is THE BEST TITLE KNOWN TO A COURT OF LAW is the settled doctrine of the court.” —Marshall v. Ladd, 74 U.S. 106.

“A PATENT is the HIGHEST EVIDENCE OF TITLE, and is conclusive, against the government and all claiming under junior titles, until it is set aside or annulled by some judicial tribunal.” —Stone v. U.S., 67 U.S. 765.

“ISSUANCE OF A GOVERNMENT PATENT GRANTING TITLE TO LAND is ‘the most accredited type of CONVEYANCE known to our law.’” U.S. v. Creek Nation, 295 U.S. 103-111. See also U.S. v. Cherokee Nation, 474 F2d 628, 634.

A PATENT ISSUED BY THE UNITED STATES so vests the title in the lands covered thereby, that it is the further general rule that, such patents are not open to collateral attack. Thomas v. Union Pacific Railroad Company (1956). (See also State v. Crawford, 475 P.2d 515 (Ariz. App. 1970). A patent is PRIMA FACIE VALID, and if its validity can be attacked at all, the burden of proof is upon the party seeking to upset the patent.)

See State v. Crawford, 441 P.2d 586, 590 (Ariz. App. 1968) (A patent to land is the highest evidence of title and may not be collaterally attacked).

In Hooper et al. v. Scheimer, 64 U.S. (23 How.) 235 (1859), the United States Supreme Court stated, “I affirm that A PATENT IS UNIMPEACHABLE AT LAW, EXCEPT, PERHAPS, WHEN IT APPEARS ON ITS OWN FACE TO BE VOID; and the authorities on this point are so uniform and unbroken in the courts, Federal and State, that little else will be necessary beyond a reference to them.” Id. at 240 (1859).

Courts of equity cannot set aside, annul, or correct patents or other evidence of title OBTAINED FROM THE UNITED STATES by fraud or mistake, unless on specific averment of the MISTAKE OR FRAUD, SUPPORTED BY CLEAR AND SATISFACTORY PROOF. Maxelli Land Grant Cancellation, 11 How. (U.S. 552 (1850).
A collateral attack to a land patent must be brought in the original land patent proceedings.

CONCLUSION: LAND CANNOT BE TAXED IF A LAND PATENT IS CURRENT.

To be clear, this is the fallacious conclusion of he who wrote this inquiry letter for clarification, who has been influenced by non-attorney gurus that sell their “methods” and worthless reams of publicly available (free) paperwork as if they’re claims are legitimate and stand as legal precedent.

Now that the goyim has stated his opinion on the way he believes things should be, as opposed to the way they are, to the Attorney General addressed as an official representative agent and officer of the United States and of the State, he has set out an opinion based on the idea that land cannot be taxed if it is under a legitimate, US granted land patent, and that such patents may be magically created by subjects (public citizen-ships). He has also confused the words Allodial and patent to mean the same thing. To further support this unprecedented opinion, various snippets of many mismatching court cases and opinions are quoted very much out of context to this inquiry, and is obviously done so without understanding or comprehension of the private nature of this pirate cove of qualified landholders in posterity and their created, corporate governments that prevent goyim like this from ever holding the private lands of the private People (States). In other words, we have a public person (voluntary slave) standing only in and from the perspective of a publicly educated, commercialized citizen-ship (a pseudo-feudal tenant) of the United States attempting to obtain the rights and privies of a private citizen (the masters of his person/status).

Most cases are lost or dismissed simply because of this black hole of misunderstanding, as the difference between public and private and between private State citizens and national citizen-ships. And of course we see that this inquiry has everything to do with debt and money, as it always does. In this case, money in the form of taxation is on the stand, where a hopeful peon seeks to bypass the very constitutional right of each States (People) to tax ALL property, private and public. For only the State hold land in Allodium, never the individual citizen.

Hilariously, this inquiry quoted the very code that defeats his opinion, which states again that, “All lands IN THIS STATE are declared to be ALLODIAL AND FEUDAL TENURES of every description, with all their incidents, ARE PROHIBITED.”

Translation: all lands are in this State, and thus the State holds all lands as Allodial, as the highest status possible. This is to say that because Alloodial title is equivalent to a feudal tenure, no private citizen of any State is allowed to hold Alloodial title. This is prohibited. However, the private citizens can be granted land patents (perfection of title) as a subordinate title to the State (principal), which takes away the power of feudal tenure but leaves the private rights of landholders. In other words, only the State is a feudal landlord, and it grants secondary, revokable patent rights to its citizens under the private law of the State. The State is a corporation, not a man, and not many men. The State, and therefore the “People,” is a fictional sovereignty as an artificial person (body politic). Note that this mentions nothing about public persons at all, because US citizenships are not able to hold patent to land, let alone set foot upon it without license by the feudal State and its United States joint-holding company for human capital (publicly, commercially borne/carry persons).

One other thing to consider here, as one of the most common mistakes made in such cases, is that the public person making this inquiry attempts to alter its own status under public citizen-ship by declaring that “I am not a tenant.” He believes he is his own person (property), that his strawman id-entity is his own, and thus that said legal persona is not property of the district that birthed it. He believes he (in person) has the right to alter the character of that legal persona he is standing in bond and surety for, because he knows not how to mentally separate his false legal persona...
(property) from his True Self. He is the perfect mind control subject, a study in public mindedness. He believes that he may “assert all his rights” in this instance, which is another way of stating that he believes that he actually has reserved some Natural Rights not given up to government in exchange for his status in public citizen-ship. He believes there is inheritable blood in his straw- man, not realizing that appearing as such a fictional entity is to admit and consent to its very purpose, a corruption (attainder) of the blood of the lawful heir. This foolishness is based not merely on a lack of knowledge but on the misguided information of other public-minded gurus seeking profit in mammon. But most of all, like most of us out here, this is the reasoning of a man who turned his back on God (the only Source of unalienable, Natural rights) without comprehension of his own actions. He is trying to apply the common law (including the unwritten Law of scripture and Nature) to his contractual state of citizen-ship that exists outside of the common law. He is attempting to alter the status of the property of another. But again, the maxim of law states that the contract makes the law. He is trying to intermingle two sets of opposing law, one of God (Nature) and one of the legality of nations (anti-God). He is attempting to make a declaration about a person (status) that does not belong to him. He is trying to tell government what his public person (status) is, as if a slave may ever insist upon his master anything at all. He believes that he may patent land himself, instead of correctly being granted such a patent by the State and United States according to his qualified, private status. And he believes that he may arbitrarily tell the court what his persona is, despite the fact that the court is the administrator of that strawman (person), which again is wholly the property of the corporation nation.

My intent is not to belittle this man in his efforts at comprehension, and indeed my respect goes out to any and all who at least attempt to fight this system of the devilmasters (attorneys) that created it. However, we must learn from our mistakes, and this is the perfect example of foolishness. As a self-admitted fool, as well as a tinkerer in legal matters just as this man is experimenting within that legal system, I use this example only to show that every fool, including myself, can be regenerate from such legal thought patterns of publicly induced education and mind control (govern-ment). All learned men start out as fools, and yet the only ones that succeed are those who realize and bear their former foolhardiness as a badge of honor, as that state of foolish being that was finally overcome by dis-covering and following after and becoming like the Right Hand of God.

In fact, I wish to commend this man for posting this response. His questions were indeed answer- ed, though not the way he desired. For as we will read, this response is an utter defeat, which means that he fell for some non-attorney guru’s soothsaying and followed in error his non-legal ad- vice. For posting this humiliating response, this man show more backbone, more honor and bravery than most of us can muster. My hat’s off to this man, for the lessons we all can learn and the facts we may confirm herein come straight from the devil’s mouth!

Unless we realize the part we play and the mask (persona) we operate under, we will never be heard or under-stood by these gods of the legal realm with the correct language and intent in court. We do not tell the court anything while in surety for its person (property), it tells us through our bondage under its words of art. We are not creators and we do not control anything except what business we are free (enfranchised) as denizens by law to commercially transact.

And so let us now view the perfectly written response to this vulgar, dog-Latin inquiry so that we may know our place in this system while in its publicly issued, proprietary persona. Let the patriot mythology hereby be crushed through reason and by the proper, petrifying legal (evil) magic that created such patriotic fervor for that which enslaves us.

Because answering your first question will entail considering the propositions set forth in your second question, I will address the two together.

RESPONSE - In my opinion, THE STATE CAN CLEARLY IMPOSE PROPERTY TAX ON GOVERNMENT PROPERTY THAT HAS BEEN CONVEYED TO A PRIVATE PARTY BY
LAND PATENT. Based on the opinions expressed in your second question, I assume that your phrase “the land patent is current” refers to the practice of individuals filing documents in the land records asserting their supposed “patent” interest in property. In my opinion, such filings have no legal significance other than possibly to cloud title to property without any legal justification. I disagree with the proposition that “allodial” property is not subject to taxation, and I do not believe the filing of any purported “patent” can relieve a property owner of the obligation to pay property taxes.

As you note in your request, Ark. Constitution article 2, § 28 provides: “All lands in this state are declared to be alodial, and feudal tenures of every description, with all their incidents, are prohibited.” Black’s Law Dictionary (7th ed. 1999) offers the following pertinent definitions:

Allodial: Held in absolute ownership; pertaining to an alладiум.

Allodial: An estate held in fee simple absolute.

“In this country, one who has full ownership of land is said to own it alodial – that is, free of feudal services and incidents.” — Thomas F. Bergin & Paul G. Haskell, Preface to Estates in Land and Future Interests 18 (2d ed. 1984).

This definition invites analysis in light of the following discussion in 1 D. Thomas, Thompson on Real Property § 4.06, at 155-57 (Thomas ed. 1994):

“Students of the common law are told that the fee simple absolute is the greatest estate in land known to the common law, and that its two chief characteristics are inheritability and alienability. The precise etymology of the term “fee” is uncertain, but it is obviously related to other terms signifying the feudal relationship, such as enfeoffment. In the medieval era, a holding in fee was a feudal holding. That is, subject to the rights and restrictions of feudal tenures. Under the terms of these tenures enjoyment of land was conditioned upon rendering various services and payments to a superior owner. Thus ownership in fee could be contrasted with “alodial” ownership, by which one held free of any other owner’s restrictions or concurrent rights, except the sovereignty of the state.”

* * *

...The fee simple of the thirteenth century was unlike the modern fee simple, mostly because the medieval estate consisted only of a set of feudal dues and responsibilities (all related to and burdening the land, of course), whereas the modern fee is simply full ownership subject to a less onerous set of sovereign prerogatives. This historical summary, which strikes me as fully consistent with the Black’s Law Dictionary definition, suggests that the medieval notion of alodial ownership has merged with the modern notion of ownership in fee simple absolute, signifying absolute ownership in the fee holder, subject to no feudal incidents but nevertheless qualified by certain continuing sovereign prerogatives.

Having tentatively ventured this conclusion, I should note the existence of differing authority regarding the meaning of alodial title. In the course of extensively analyzing just what property interest, if any, is conveyed by the issuance of a “land patent,” the court in Britt v. Federal Land Bank Association of St. Louis, 505 N.E.2d 387, 392 (Ill. App. 1987), drew the following distinction between alodial title and fee simple title:
“UNDER COMMON LAW TRADITION, ALL PRIVATE TITLES SINCE NORMAN TIMES HAVE ORIGINATED FROM TITLE HELD BY THE SOVEREIGN. (1 Tiffany, The Law of Real Property § 13 (2d ed. 1920.).) The seminal opinion in American jurisprudence analyzing the origin of sovereign titles and setting forth the principles by which conflicting title claims based upon competing sovereignties [sic: verb missing] was authored by Mr. Chief Justice Marshall in Johnson & Graham’s Lessee v. M’Intosh (1823), 21 U.S. (8 Wheat.) 543, 5 L.Ed. 681. There, Chief Justice Marshall outlined THE MEANS BY WHICH SOVEREIGNS ACQUIRE TITLE (CONQUEST, CESSION AND TREATY) and stated that by the Treaty of Paris in 1783:

“THE POWERS OF GOVERNMENT, AND THE RIGHT TO SOIL, WHICH HAD PREVIOUSLY BEEN IN GREAT BRITAIN, PASSED DEFINITIVELY TO THE STATES.” Johnson & Graham’s Lessee v. M’Intosh (1823), 21 U.S. (8 Wheat.) 543, 5 L.Ed. 681, 691.

This SOVEREIGN TITLE, WHICH IS ABSOLUTE AND ENCOMPASSES BOTH OWNERSHIP OF THE LAND AND THE RIGHT TO GOVERN THE INHABITANTS THEREOF, IS “ALLODIAL” TITLE. This term is used IN CONTRAST TO THE term “fee simple title,” which contemplates THE HIGHEST TITLE WHICH MAY BE PRIVATELY HELD. (Tiffany, The Law of Real Property §§ 6 and 13 (2d ed. 1920.).) In current usage, THE HOLDER OF FEE SIMPLE TITLE IS STILL SUBJECT TO DISPOSSESSION BY THE GOVERNMENT, THROUGH DUE PROCESS OF LAW, FOR NONPAYMENT OF REAL ESTATE TAXES AND BY EMINENT DOMAIN PROCEEDINGS.

Regardless of which of these definitions of allodial title one accepts – either that it represents the equivalent of fee simple title or that it represents the government’s overarching interest in property within the range of its governance – I believe the government is clearly invested with the right to tax private real property.

As the foregoing should suggest, I DISAGREE WITH THE APPARENT ASSUMPTION UNDERLYING YOUR REQUEST THAT “ALLODIAL” OWNERSHIP LOCATES PROPERTY BEYOND THE RANGE OF GOVERNMENT CONTROL, including through taxation. In Wash. Op. Att’y Gen. No. 96-006, my counterpart from the state of Washington addressed a request similar to yours involving a property owner’s claim to be exempt from property taxation by virtue of his alleged status as the holder of an “allodial freehold estate.” By way of background, the Washington Attorney General reported:

The... PROPERTY OWNER FILED A DECLARATION of homestead UPON THE COUNTY RECORDS. HE ATTACHED TO THAT DECLARATION A DOCUMENT entitled “Declaration of Assignee’s Update of Patent.” The “Declaration” consists of a description of the property, followed by a long recitation OF WHAT THE PROPERTY OWNER APPARENTLY BELIEVES TO BE recognized as legal principles regarding land patents. [11] Also attached was a copy of what is described as the original land patent from the United States.

My counterpart offered the following analysis in rejecting the property owner’s claim to be exempt from taxation as the holder of a patent on an allodial freehold:

The legal concept of holding land by “allodial freehold” or “in allodium” TRACES TO THE FEUDAL ROOTS OF THE ENGLISH SYSTEM OF LAND TENURE. As it operated at the height of the middle ages, FEUDALISM INVOLVED A DESCENDING PYRAMID OF LORDS AND VASSALS. THE MONARCH GRANTED TENURE TO TENANTS IN CHIEF, WHO IN TURN OFTEN GRANTED PORTIONS OF THEIR ESTATES TO OTHERS. Those lower on the pyramid OWED CERTAIN OBLIGATIONS, in the form of military service, cash, crops, or other services, TO THE HIGHER LORD. This system generated the revenues and services WITH WHICH THE...

…The distinction between property held subject to tenure and in allodium has long since been derogated to mere academic interest. The obligations owed by vassals to their lords, such as providing the services of a particular number of knights, were gradually superseded as society modernized. WHILE CONCEPTS OF LAND TENURE WERE INITIALLY IMPORTED TO THE AMERICAN COLONIES, AS EVIDENCED BY ORIGINAL ROYAL LAND GRANTS, SUCH CONCEPTS HAVE BEEN ABOLISHED WITH [SIC] ALL LAND, long since held FREE OF FEUDAL OBLIGATION. — Moynihan, supra, at 18-23.

There is no reason to conclude that the concepts of feudal landholding, including that of the allodial freehold, bear any current relevance to the payment of property taxes. OUR STATE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR A UNIFORM POWER OF TAXATION AS TO ALL PROPERTY. — Const. art. 7, § 1. THERE CAN, THEREFORE, BE NO QUESTION BUT THAT PROPERTY TAXES CAN BE IMPOSED WITHOUT REGARD TO WHETHER THE SUBJECT REAL ESTATE CAN BE DESCRIBED AS ALLODIAL.

(Footnotes omitted.)

Although the Arkansas Supreme Court has never found occasion to address the issue, I feel confident that it would agree in all respects with the Washington Attorney General’s analysis. Significantly, Ark. Const. art. 16, § 5, like the Washington constitutional provision referenced in the passage just quoted, EXPRESSLY PROVIDES FOR THE TAXATION OF REAL PROPERTY, indicating that the drafters of our constitution saw no contradiction in the concept of taxing “alloodial freeholds.” This harmony between the concepts of alodial ownership and taxability is reflected in the following summation by the Maryland Supreme Court:

“After the close of the Revolutionary War, the ownership of property in this country has frequently been referred to as “alloodial” in nature or that the property is held by “alloidal tenure.” In its strict sense, “allodium” means land owned absolutely, and not subject to any rent, service, or other tenurial right of an overlord; however, it has been, and is, UNIFORMLY RECOGNIZED THROUGHOUT THIS COUNTRY THAT THE OWNERSHIP OF PROPERTY IS SUBJECT TO THE RIGHTS OF GOVERNMENT TO TAX THE PROPERTY, to regulate reasonably its use and enjoyment UNDER THE POLICE POWER OF THE STATES, AND TO TAKE THE SAME, UPON PAYMENT OF THE VALUE THEREOF, when needed for a public purpose.” — City of Annapolis v. Waterman, 745 A.2d 1000, 1006-07 (Md. 2000).

My own research suggests that the Maryland court’s summation of the law is totally accurate: I HAVE BEEN UNABLE TO LOCATE A SINGLE INSTANCE IN WHICH ANY COURT IN ANY JURISDICTION HAS HELD THAT REAL PROPERTY IS EXEMPT FROM TAXATION BY VIRTUE OF ITS ALLODIAL CHARACTER.

Specifically with respect to the relationship between patents and taxability, the Maryland Supreme Court has more recently observed:

“Through the relationship between the states and the federal government in the post-revolutionary era, THE LORD PROPRIETOR’S SUCCESSORS, THE STATES, BECAME VESTED WITH THE RIGHT TO GRANT AND PATENT TITLES TO LAND TO THE CITIZENS, A PROCESS THAT CONTINUES. The grants and patents are SUBJECT TO THE REQUIREMENT THAT THE CREATED TITLE TO PROPERTY BE SUBJECT TO CHARGES ON THE LAND and that the title owners, AND THEIR SUCCESSORS, pay such taxes or charges on the land so granted, as the states from time to time deem necessary for the proper functioning of government. THE LAND ITSELF IS SUBJECT
TO TAXES. If the taxes are not paid, the title to the land through the tax sale process is granted and titled anew to the tax sale purchaser.” —Lippert v. Jung, 783 A.2d 206, 217 (Md. 2001)

As this passage suggests, A LAND PATENT IS A CONVEYANCE OF PUBLIC LAND TO PRIVATE OWNERSHIP; IT IS NOT A “DECLARATION” BY A PRIVATE INDIVIDUAL FACED WITH A MORTGAGE OR TAX LIEN THAT HE OWNS AN INDEFEASIBLE INTEREST IN PROPERTY BY PATENT. Given this distinction, courts have been understandably impatient when defendants before or after judgment CLOUD TITLE TO PROPERTY BY FILING BOGUS “DECLARATIONS OF PATENTS.” This judicial attitude is demonstrated in Britt, supra, in which THE APPELLANTS FILED VARIOUS “LAND PATENTS” AND THEN SUED TO QUIET TITLE in property they had lost to foreclosure. After characterizing THE PLAINTIFFS’ BRIEFS as “NOTHING MORE THAN A COMPILATION OF DISJOINTED AND NONSENSICAL CLAIMS AND LEGAL CONCLUSIONS TOTALLY UNSUPPORTED BY CITATIONS TO THE RECORD OR RELEVANT LEGAL AUTHORITY.” 505 N.E.2d at 389, the court offered the following analysis:

“[T]he courts of other States and the Federal courts have spoken to the issue of the legal sufficiency of ‘land patents.’” These courts have rendered decisions upon a variety of issues based upon facts similar to the case at bar, WHERE PLAINTIFFS IN A SUIT TO QUIET TITLE FILED A DOCUMENT DESCRIBED AS A LAND PATENT AND CLAIMED SUPERIOR TITLE TO THAT OF THE PURCHASER at the judicial sale of the property. —Hilgeford v. Peoples Bank (7th Cir.1985), 776 F.2d 176; Hilgeford v. Peoples Bank (N.D.Ind.1985), 607 F.Supp. 536; Nixon v. Phillipoff (N.D.Ind.1985), 615 F.Supp. 890; Federal Land Bank v. Gefroh (N.D.1986), 390 N.W.2d 46; Timm v. State Bank (Minn.App.1985), 374 N.W.2d 588; Wisconsin v. Glick (7th Cir.1986), 782 F.2d 670. Because of the lack of Illinois case law on what appears to be A PROCEDURE WITHOUT LEGAL FOUNDATION in Illinois, we find the analysis of Judge William C. Lee of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Indiana in Hilgeford v. Peoples Bank (Hilgeford v. Peoples Bank (N.D.Ind.1985), 607 F.Supp. 536) instructive. There, as here, THE PLAINTIFFS ATTEMPTED TO ESTABLISH SUPERIOR TITLE TO THE PROPERTY FORECLOSED UPON BY THEIR MORTGAGEE, the Peoples Bank. Judge Lee observed:

“The “patent” involved here IS NOT A GRANT BY THE UNITED STATES; IT IS A GRANT BY THE PLAINTIFFS. The “patent” here IS NOT A GRANT TO SOME OTHER HOLDER SO AS TO PASS TITLE ON TO ANOTHER PARTY; IT IS A SELF-SERVING DOCUMENT WHEREBY THE PLAINTIFFS GRANT THE PATENT TO THEMSELVES. This “patent” does not involve or concern “public land” — it relates to plaintiffs’ private property. The court cannot conceive how these federal provisions are implicated here, and THUS FEDERAL QUESTION JURISDICTION IS ABSENT.”

Of course, the purported “land patent” in this case fails for reasons independent of jurisdiction. As was noted before, the “land patent” attached to plaintiffs’ various filings IS A GRANT OF A LAND PATENT FROM THE PLAINTIFFS TO THE PLAINTIFFS. It is, quite simply, AN ATTEMPT TO IMPROVE TITLE BY SAYING IT IS BETTER. The court cannot conceive of A POTENTIALLY MORE DISRUPTIVE FORCE IN THE WORLD OF PROPERTY LAW than the ability of a PERSON to get “superior” title to land BY SIMPLY FILLING OUT A DOCUMENT GRANTING HIMSELF A “LAND PATENT” AND THEN FILING IT WITH THE RECORDER OF DEEDS. SUCH SELF-SERVING, GRATUITOUS ACTIVITY DOES NOT, CANNOT AND WILL NOT BE SUFFICIENT BY ITSELF TO CREATE GOOD TITLE. —505 N.E.2d at 390, quoting 607 F. Supp. at 538-39.

The court in Britt summarized as follows the effect of a legitimate conveyance of property by land patent:
What is TOTALLY INCORRECT is the implicit foundation of the Britts’ position: that the land patent issued to “James Evans” and “Francis Evans” in 1841 conveyed the entire title of the Federal government, such that no interest arising by operation of State law can attach to the title.

A LAND PATENT IS MERELY THE DEED BY WHICH THE GOVERNMENT PASSES FEE SIMPLE TITLE OF GOVERNMENT LAND TO PRIVATE PERSONS. (63 Am. Jur. 2d Public Lands § 70 (1984).) Once fee simple title is passed to an individual from the government, whether by land patent or otherwise, CLAIMS ARISING FROM CONVEYANCE OR MORTGAGE BY THAT HOLDER WILL BE ENFORCED AGAINST HIM. (Cf., Stark v. Starr (1876), 94 U.S. (4 Otto)477, 24 L.Ed. 276; United States v. Budd (1891), 144 U.S. 154, 12 S.Ct. 575, 36 L.Ed. 384; see also 63A Am.Jur.2d Public Lands § 92 (1984).) Where, as here, a decree of foreclosure and sale has divested title from the former mortgagor, THE MERE FACT THAT THE MORTGAGOR’S CLAIM OF TITLE MAY RUN DIRECTLY BACK THROUGH HIS FAMILY TO A 19TH CENTURY PATENT IS OF NO CONSEQUENCE. 505 N.E.2d at 392.

The court in Britt, like the court in Hilgeford, WAS SO INCENSED BY THE FILING OF BOGUS “PERFECTED PATENTS” DESIGNED TO CLOUD TITLE TO PROPERTY THAT IT IMPOSED SIGNIFICANT SANCTIONS IN THE FORM OF ATTORNEYS’ FEES BOTH BELOW AND ON APPEAL. Id. at 393-94. It further advised the prevailing defendant to consult the supreme court should it elect to pursue DISCIPLINARY ACTION AGAINST PLAINTIFFS’ COUNSEL FOR FILING AN OBVIOUSLY FRIVOLOUS CLAIM. The court quoted with obvious agreement the following attribution of motive for such bogus filings offered by the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals in Wisconsin v. Glick, 782 F.2d 670, 671-72 (7th Cir. 1986):

> People SADDLED WITH MORTGAGES may treasure the idea of having clean title to their homes. THE USUAL WAY TO OBTAIN CLEAN TITLE IS TO PAY ONE’S DEBTS. SOME HAVE DECIDED THAT IT IS CHEAPER TO WRITE A “LAND PATENT” PURPORTING TO CONVEY UNASSAILABLE TITLE, AND TO FILE THAT “PATENT” IN THE RECORDING SYSTEM.

In my opinion, a reviewing Arkansas court would apply this same analysis, possibly accompanied by sanctions of the sort discussed above, to an individual who sought to defeat a property tax lien by filing in the land records A PURPORTED DECLARATION OF PATENT.

With respect to the list of legal propositions set forth in your second question, I have the following remarks. First, nothing in any of the propositions dealing with the effect of land patents EVEN REMOTELY SUGGESTS THAT A CONVEYANCE OF PUBLIC LAND BY LAND PATENT WILL PRECLUDE THE GOVERNMENT FROM IMPOSING PROPERTY TAX ON THE LAND. Second, despite the contrary suggestion set forth in your request, U.S. v. City of Kodiak, 132 F. Supp. 574 (D.C. Terr. of Alaska 1955), DOES NOT HOLD THAT “[U]NRESTRICTED ALLODIAL PROPERTY IS NOT SUBJECT TO LOCAL TAXATION.” Regardless of whether allodial title is deemed coextensive with fee simple title, UNDER ANY READING OF THE TERM IT WILL NEVER BE “UNRESTRICTED,” GIVEN THAT THE GOVERNMENT RETAINS VARIOUS SOVEREIGN PREROGATIVES, INCLUDING THE POWER TO TAX THE PROPERTY. Moreover, THE RULING IN KODIAK HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH THE TAXATION OF ALLODIAL PROPERTY. The case stands only for the proposition that a municipal court cannot impose a tax on property that Congress, IN ITS ROLE AS TERRITORIAL SOVEREIGN AND GUARDIAN over certain Alaskan Indian and Eskimo natives, has expressly exempted from taxation.

My reading of Ark. Const. art. 2, § 28 essentially tracks one offered by the Wisconsin Supreme Court in interpreting a materially indistinguishable provision of the Wisconsin Constitution:
Article I, sec. 14, of the Wisconsin Constitution provides in pertinent part: “ALL LANDS WITHIN THE STATE ARE DECLARED TO BE ALLODIAL, and feudal tenures are prohibited...”

In Mutual Fed. S. & L. Asso. v. Wisconsin Wire Wks., 58 Wis. 2d 99, 108 n.1, 205 N.W. 2d 762, 767 (1973), appeal after remand, 71 Wis. 2d 531, 239 N.W. 2d 20 (1976), the court explained the meaning of art. I, sec. 14:

It appears that sec. 14 of art. I was added to the Wisconsin Constitution FOR THE PURPOSE OF ESTABLISHING THAT ANCIENT PRINCIPLES OF FEUDAL PROPERTY LAW ARE INAPPLICABLE WITHIN THIS STATE. In Barker v. Dayton (1871), 28 Wis. 367, the court was called upon to define the term “allodial,” which appears in the provision. With respect to that term the court said, at pages 384, 385:

Taken in such connection, it means little more than if the framers had said “FREE,” or “held in FREE and absolute ownership,” as contradistinguished from feudal tenures, which are prohibited in the same sentence, and by the very next words, and the prohibition of which, with their servitudes and reservations, and all the attendant hindrances and obstacles in the way of free and ready sale and transfer of real property, constituted the chief object of the provision.

Article I, sec. 14, of the Wisconsin Constitution protects against the establishment of feudal tenures because that system of land ownership PREVENTED EASY TRANSFER OF LAND. It does not prohibit Dane County from taxing the Every’s land, nor from taking a tax deed if real estate taxes are not paid, nor from evicting the Everys from Dan County’s real estate.

In my opinion, if faced with the issue, the Arkansas Supreme Court would construe Ark. Const. art. 2, § 28 in precisely this manner.

Assistant Attorney General Jack Druff prepared the foregoing, which I hereby approve.

Sincerely,

MARK PRYOR
Attorney General

[1] The mantric tone of a typical “declaration of patent” is illustrated by one addressed in Federal Land Bank of Spokane v. Redwine, 755 P.2d 822-23 (Wash. 1988), in which the Washington Supreme Court affirmed a trial court’s grant of summary judgment rejecting a property owner’s claim that his declaration necessarily defeated his mortgagee’s effort to foreclose: “I bring up this Land Patent or Grant IN MY NAME, as it is the only way a paramount, alodial and perfect title can be had IN MY NAME... IF THIS LAND PATENT IS NOT CHALLENGED BY SOMEONE IN A COURT OF LAW WITHIN 60 DAYS FROM THE DATE OF THIS FILING, THEN THE ABOVE DESCRIBED PROPERTY SHALL BECOME MINE AS AN ALLODIAL FREEHOLD.” In addressing the claims of “CONSTITUTIONALIST” GROUPS PRONE TO MISREPRESENT THE NATURE OF ALLODIAL OWNERSHIP, one commentator has remarked: MANY OF THE DOCUMENTS SUBMITTED BY THE GROUPS INDICATE A BELIEF THAT THE CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEMS OPERATE ON THE BASIS OF MAGIC WORDS OR MYSTIC DOCUMENTS AND ALL THAT ONE MUST DO TO MAKE THE GOVERNMENT OR HIS OPPONENT CEASE IS TO SAY THE MAGIC WORDS OR TO SEND THE MYSTIC DOCUMENTS. —Lawrence G. Wasden, Constitutionalist Groups Misrepresent Both Fact and Law, Advocate 8, 9 (Idaho 1996). This belief was amusingly demonstrated by a married couple who resisted an effort to liquidate secured collateral in their federal bankruptcy action by filing in state court the following “Constructive Notice and Demand,” including among the defendants the bankruptcy judge: That Deponents hereby DEMAND that you, and each of you, CEASE AND DESIST from any further unlawful acts with respect to Deponents’ persons and property. That any attempts to Hinder, Obstruct, harass or Interfere with Deponents’ said Alodial Freehold Property Rights, will result in criminal and civil charges being initiated against the offending parties in a court, at Law, with competent jurisdiction. Apparently duly intimidated, the bankruptcy judge honored the alodial freeholders’ demand to stop meddling in their affairs: HE DISMISSED THEIR PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY.

1128
LEAVING THEM TO THE TENDER MERCIES OF THEIR NOW UNRESTRAINED

[2] Indeed, the court has referred to Ark. Const. art. 2, § 28, which contains the reference to “alodial” property, on only one occasion, and then merely to remark in passing that the provision DID NOT BEAR ON THE DISPUTED ISSUE. —Funk v. Dyess Colony, Inc., 200 Ark.

Bottom line: No man is sovereign, only the State. There is no actual (individual) People, and People is just a term to mean the private State(s). No man is ever a plural, and thus no man is ever “the People.” No man, and certainly no person (status) under any state or nation, can ever be higher than the State (sovereign authority). Therefore, while private persons may take public land into their private hands by a permissively granted land patent, public persons have no such right granted to their foreign status, meaning a foreigner (US citizenship) cannot hold the land of one of the foreign States. All States are foreign to each other, including the United States, which is foreign to all 50 States (People). And finally, no citizen, private or public is immune from the constitutional duties of each State, and each State constitution certainly declares the State’s (People’s) right to collect tax upon any property, including that which was granted in modern fee as a patented title.

So what is left in this “movement” of so-called patriotic truth?

We have destroyed all foundational beliefs and logical fallacies here, revealing the American dream to be more like a feudal nightmare. We know now that there is no True sovereignty, that only the fictional corporation called the State (People) carries such a flattering title. There is no reason or logic to remaining patriotic in conceit of one’s own defeat and voluntary servitude under blood corruption. There is no True Liberty or Freedom here, unless you under-stand the legal (anti-Nature/anti-God) definition of freedom and liberty to be a commercial franchise under the state (false, sovereign gods), which is no True Freedom at all. And finally, and most importantly, God and Jesus the christos, as the Word/Law/Son of God, is certainly nowhere to be found within this deviling legal system, in its constitutions, in its so-called “People,” in its “Law of the Land,” and certainly not within its fictional legal existence and pretended jurisdiction (nouns). But I digress…

Before starting a whole new volume on the subject, I wish here only for the reader to have this clear and concise reference at his disposal before he falls for the many “self-help” legal gurus out there itching to relieve one of one’s hard earned slave-wages. This is the gift of perspective; one being that of the slave and one of the master. Argue with the guru and romancer of mythology all you wish, but once the religious aspect of this strange, false-patriotic legalism is set in one’s mind, this fictional, legal matrix is as real and legitimate to one’s conscious awareness as it is for a “Jew” to claim settlement rights on a victimized and unlawfully dispossessed Palestinian home; a fallaciously self-patented “right of return” to the land/property of fore-fathers that never Existed there in that more modernly built private abode. Same patriotism, only in that case its racial, and called as Zionism instead of exceptionalism. And any way you look at it, it defies all reason and purpose of law. It is an excuse to attempt to receive reparations for that which has nothing to do with you. It uses legal law as an excuse to harm, or in the desperate debtor under a foreclosure case’s mind, to pretend to lawfully renege on contracted debts by using the law with ill intent.
If there is one thing I certainly agree with as to the Bible scriptures, it’s that one is responsible for one’s obligations and debts. The great delusion is that through paperwork and magic words one may eliminate the debts they accumulated under legal contract and while in the proprietary person of another. This is patriotic foolishness. The scriptures tell us to render back to Caesar what is Caesar’s, which would also happen to include any legal title or patent to land.

So where does that leave us? What have we learned here? To recap:

1. No man is sovereign. Only the church and state (artificial persons) are sovereign. Sovereignty is just another patriot mythology. Sovereignty is only a legal (anti-God) concept, another flattering title not Existing self-evidently in Nature. The word Sovereign is not in the Bible except in very modern translations, and this word sovereign was used to replace the word Adonay (Strong’s H136 - ‘Adonay), which is always and only used before the word Jehovah (e.g., “Sovereign LORD”). In other words, only God (Jehovah) is Truly Sovereign, not man, and so man’s election of God shows which Sovereign and Law (Real or legal) he is subordinate to. Sovereignty requires belief in false gods (corporations).

2. The whole, as “We, the People,” is an artificially created, legal sovereignty. But the parts of the whole are not sovereigns over other men, for that would be a feudal tenure, which is outlawed here. The State is the only feudal landlord with feudal tenure, not any man as landholder. The landholder profits from the land, but is not the law of the land he profits from. Only through subjection and taxation to the whole may the part (citizen) partake in that granted title under State sovereignty. Jehovah and the Natural Law is no part of this.

3. Allodial status exists only legally (constitutionally), and only in the State (the whole). Private citizens can only hold a perfected patent to that allodial land in allodium (fee simple absolute), which means his sovereign lord is the fictional State (People) that granted that patent on its feudally held and tenured land. The land, though, never leaves the allodial holdings of the State (People), even when held privately by one of its private citizens. Again, no man or person is higher in status than that which grants such statuses, meaning no man or fictional person is ever higher than his Source/Creator.

4. No man or citizen can simply self-patent the land. There is no magic paperwork that we may use to somehow demand a patent be created out of thin air, from our own magic words. We are not magicians; not the creators of such artful things. And so one self-evidently cannot hold something with more authority than that from which it was granted. Property (public persons) simply cannot hold property, just as slaves cannot hold other slaves. A patent is not a property, merely a perfection of title. The title belongs to the State (People), not the patentee (landholder). Only the State may grant such a private, perfected title, and with that grant comes the burden of protection, and thus with it subjection (including taxation) under the constitutions of the States (People).

5. The patriot movement has become more of a religion creating its own doctrinal truth than an exercise in reason and knowledge. It is a logic-based dialectic based on very bad grammar (adversaria), opinion, faith, and extremely limited and personal perspectives. It cannot seem to differentiate Reality from its own desires and from fiction. It uses quotes out of context from both legal cases and from the Bible that do not apply in any way, and it is conveniently overlooked that all legal things are anti-God, including names, titles, patents, and all forms of money, even gold and silver.

6. No Truly, Naturally Free man under God may use the legal system to claim a right or title and still be under God’s Law. One cannot have two masters. One cannot follow two opposing systems of law. The religious man cannot taint his name with such additions of legal fiction except that he cease to be a Purely religious man and follow in surety an opposing law under the property of some false, legal god.
7. Strangely enough, no one man is actually “the People,” for no Real man is a plural entity. “The People” (gods) are merely a fiction of law; a construct of the legal matrix. It is the corporate god “The People” that sues each individual person, though there is never a list of just whom “the People” are given to the defendant. This is because there is no actual People called “the People.” It’s just the name of a corporate entity, an intangible deity. No man is “The People,” for no man is a plural thing, nor should he be part of any thing for that matter. We are instructed to Be (Exist) only in the I Am.

I have included this as a final entry of legal opinion and fact not to confuse, but to enlighten the reader. The Truth hurts, I know. For many years I too believed in this land patent and alodial title mythos, that I could help myself to any claim I saw fit over public lands. These Attorney’s General answers were right on and commendably relevant. But for God’s sake, above all else, don’t forget that these are attorneys; actors; employed and pensioned tools of the false gods. These are the agents of the legal matrix, and ultra-protective of its coded design and word DNA! Their response was, as easy or as difficult as it might have been for them, respectful only to their own artful profession and only in support of the hand (government) that feeds them and ensures their fictional status and flattering title in false existence at Bar. But this whole inquiry should again be read as a request, as nothing more or less than a PRAYER by a subject to its master; to the administrators of persons and titles. The citizen-ship that knows not even the origin of his bonded legal persona nor the power of his own christian name while under bonded surety to another certainly was not going to get one over on these organized apologists, pirates, and wordsmiths of the legal profession.

The point here again is that public persons cannot hold private land, and therefore cannot hold a patent on private land. The land held in the public trust under the United States must first be granted into “legitimately” private hands, and only then would the State (People) allow that land to fall under the title of being patented (similar to fee simple absolute), though not under one’s sole feudal hands. Once this land is held in such alodial status and only then under patent (in allodium/fee simple absolute), did you happen to notice that at best this is being done so in a private franchise (free-hold)? Did you notice that it’s not the man that is sovereign, but the State (People) as a sacred (cursed) deity? Did you notice that the State remains in that highest legal, sovereign capacity as the alodial holder of that land, and that any individual (undivided citizen), private patent-holder to that land is not the actual alodial landlord over the inhabitants of that land? In other words, did you notice that the State, “The People,” are still by law one’s pluralistic god? Let’s be clear here, private does not mean Naturally Free under God, and still requires fealty to a lesser god (the State). Do you now understand why this is so important?

The State and no other entity holds land in alodial status. Thus the State (god, The People) alone has the right of rule over the public inhabitants of all lands private or public. The State is a legal sovereign, not the individual man (person). The patent holder, in other words, has no power over the in-habitants of any land patented but what is prescribed to him by that government. If he did, this would qualify as a feudal tenure over the other inhabitants of that land. He holds land in the stead of and only through the People (State), on behalf and in conspiratorial, confederated support of it, and under its private (local) law and protection. And so of course he must pay constitutionally allowed (unreserved) taxes under this subjection for that god’s military protection.

The greatest lesson here is that no man is ever actually sovereign. Sovereignty is a ratified and confirmed lie (a legal truth). The “Pope” is certainly a fictionally sovereign office (another lie), but the Living, Breathing man that bears that fish-hat of “Pope” as an office is not sovereign, only the office is. And the office, the false persona in flattery of title, causes the frail old man acting as pope to be completely irresponsible for his own actions as a man. This state of godship is 100% against scriptural teachings. The self-appointed, legalistic or ecclesiastic status (persona) of sovereignty is commercial property of the Vatican corporation and city-state, the so-called “Holy See.” No present or former man acting as president is a sovereign man, only the proprietary title carries that style and status, as transferable clothing for any emperor. “President” is as well the proprietary title of the United States. And of course only the crown and office (false persona) of King and Queen is sovereign, not the men bearing those crowns. The “Queen of England” is a sovereign title in corporation sole. But the man (female) in and of herself, despite her fabled bloodline genealogy, is just a cowardly man hiding behind that jeweled, Victorian curtain and laced clothing of deceit. All so-called sovereignty is legal, ecclesiastical, and thus artificial. No man is sovereign, only God, including all of those false gods of the nations.

Standing in self-Existence is that one beautiful exception. Jehovah is the only True Sovereign Being, for Jehovah is all Being, all Life in Living, Equitable Oneness. This self-Existent Truth is not questioned by any nation or State, and is well-known to those many religious imposters. A man of God, as one that follows the Law of Jehovah alone and without addition or ad-diction, bears the burden and Truth of that only True Sovereignty. He is the subject and the master, the protector and the benefactor. No artifice is ever considered to be, even in its own doctrines, above Nature and Its God. Thus all men may choose to be parts of the Sovereign Whole by entering into the Kingdom of God through the example of christ. We may become the Living Heirs, but only if we return from the legal dead and stop respecting and worshiping such false gods (sovereigns) over the only True and Natural One. Do not mistake this for religion, for it is the foundational principles of Law as recognized. The Law must therefore be religiously (without deviation or license) followed.

Consider this… when any State of the union seeks to tax property, of which a patent portends and shows entitlement to the ownership thereof, it will always do so in its own currency, in this case the constitutionally agreed upon United States dollar. One cannot pay that tax in anything else but what it is charged in; not in cows or chickens or even in gold or silver. This is the ultimate power of control, the control over the source of the printing, circulation, taxation, and collection of money. Just as the colonies of America had to pay the king’s taxes in the king’s script, of which they could not create nor counterfeit in any way themselves, so too must the private landholders support their own in-tangible sovereignty of which they are apparently a part of from the backs of the public persons that tread there. Is this True Freedom? No! It is merely a subordinate position under a false “sovereign” god. It is legalized privacy, but it is not True Sovereignty under the Lord Jehovah.

This foolish dream of sovereignty does not actually Exist in Reality for any man, for his estate and status as land and patent-holder are as much his as the crown is the property of its current head of hair (blood heir). The status (persona) and title of “landholder” belongs to the State, just as the status and title of “King” belongs to the Crown Corporation. These are in actuality burdens, not free privileges. Privileges exist only legally (artificially), by grant of some pretended sovereign entity.

EMPOWER - A GRANT OF AUTHORITY rather than a command of its exercise. (Black4)

GRANT - To bestow; to confer; upon some one other than the person or entity which makes the grant. A CONVEYANCE, Transfer of property real or personal by deed or writing. A generic term applicable to ALL transfers of real property, including transfers by operation of law as well as voluntary transfers. A transfer by deed of that which cannot be passed by LIVERY. AN ACT EVIDENCED BY LETTERS PATENT UNDER THE GREAT SEAL, GRANTING SOMETHING FROM THE KING TO A SUBJECT. As distinguished from a mere license. A GRANT PASSES SOME ESTATE OR INTEREST, corporeal or Incorporeal, IN THE LANDS which it embraces...

PRIVATE LAND GRANT - A grant by a public authority VESTING TITLE TO PUBLIC LAND IN A PRIVATE (natural) PERSON.

PUBLIC GRANT - A grant from the public; a grant of a power, LICENSE, privilege, or property, from the state or government to one or more INDIVIDUALS, contained in or shown by a record, conveyance, PATENT, charter, etc. (Black4)
The public lands granted to private (State) citizens is not the same as the public granting of a permissive license or privilege to a public “individual” (US citizen-ship) to use that land in usufruct but without lawful interest. In other words, no districted public citizen-ship of the United States has the right to a “private land grant” while acting in public persona.

“EVERY GRANT IS ATTENDED BY “AN IMPLIED CONTRACT” ON THE PART OF THE GRANTOR not to claim again the thing granted. Thus, grants are brought within the category OF CONTRACTS HAVING CONTINUING OBLIGATION.”

—Chief Justice Marshall, from his opinion in Fletcher v. Peck, 10 U.S. 87

“FALSE OR BAD GRAMMAR DOES NOT VITIATE A GRANT. NEITHER FALSE LATIN NOR FALSE ENGLISH WILL MAKE A DEED VOID when the INTENT of the parties doth PLAINLY APPEAR.”

—FALSA GRAMMATICA NON VITIAT CONCESSIONEM. Shep. Touch. 55; 9 Coke, 44a. Shep. Touch. 87. (Black4)

As a final affront to the senses, we can now understand completely the power and sovereign authority of what was anciently and is modernly called as eminent domain. So that there is no doubt left that the patriot mythology we cling to is a false dichotomy in every way, we may now contemplate that the ultimate power of ownership and disposal of lands is not in any man or men, but in the false god called the People. For no one individual of those supposed “People” can override this right of the sovereignty to its eminent domain. But what is the sovereignty? It is no man. This is the greatest of myths. The sovereignty, as with all other corporate entities around the world, from the vatican and its fake office of pope to the United Kingdom with its sole corporate offices of king and queen, this notion of sovereignty only exists in the fiction, in the corporate entity, under flattering title, but never, ever in any man.

Here in these definitions, we discover the nature of just how non-sovereign each private citizen of each private State and of the United States actually is. For all land is held principally in the States, not by any man or private citizen. It is this invisible, intangible god “the People” that holds all property in its highest, feudalistic form. So let us complete her the grand delusion, the great legal lie, by discovering the truth about that which holds the ultimate power of eminent domain. We are indeed ruled by our belief and faith in fiction and its false gods (sovereigns).

DOMAIN - 1. DOMINION, OWNERSHIP, PROPERTY: ABSOLUTE PROPRIETORSHIP OR RIGHT OF CONTROL. (WCA1889)

PUBLIC DOMAIN - Public lands, with any buildings thereon, held in trust by the government. CONGRESS HAS EXCLUSIVE POWER TO DISPOSE OF THE PUBLIC DOMAIN OF THE UNITED STATES, and the exercise of the power is limited only by the discretion in that body. See Lands, Public. (WCA1889)

EMINENT DOMAIN - 1. The power to take private property for public uses is termed “the right of eminent domain.” “Eminent” imports HAVING PREFERENCE, BEING PARA-MOUNT, PREROGATIVE, SOVEREIGN. ALL SEPARATE INTERESTS OF INDIVIDUALS IN PROPERTY ARE HELD OF THE GOVERNMENT UNDER THE IMPLIED RESERVATION THAT THE PROPERTY MAY BE TAKEN FOR THE PUBLIC USE, upon paying a fair compensation, whenever the public interest requires it. The possession is to be resumed in the manner directed by the constitution and laws. THE ULTIMATE RIGHT OF THE SOVEREIGN, POWER TO APPROPRIATE, NOT ONLY THE PUBLIC PROPERTY, BUT THE PRIVATE PROPERTY OF ALL CITIZENS WITHIN THE TERRITORIAL SOVEREIGNTY, TO PUBLIC PURPOSES. Vattel says that the right in society or the sovereign to dispose, in case of NECESSITY, and for the public safety, OF ALL THE WEALTH (PROPERTY) IN THE STATE, is "eminent domain," AND A PREROGATIVE OF MAJESTY. In every political sovereign community there inheres, necessarily, the right and the duty of guarding its own existence, and of protecting and promoting the interests and welfare of the community at large. This power, denominated the "eminent domain" of the state, is, as its name imports, PARAMOUNT TO ALL PRIVATE RIGHTS VESTED UNDER THE GOVERNMENT, and these last are, by necessary implication, held in subordination to this power, and must yield in every instance to its proper exercise. The whole policy of the country relative to roads, mills, bridges, and canals rests upon this single power, under which lands have always been condemned: without the exertion of the power no one of these improvements could be constructed. THE EXERCISE OF A FRANCHISE IS SUBJECT TO THE POWER. The propriety of exercising the right is A POLITICAL QUESTION — EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE LEGISLATURE TO DETERMINE. The mode of exercising the right, in the ABSENCE of provision in the organic law prescribing a contrary course, IS WITHIN THE DISCRETION OF THE LEGISLATURE. If the purpose be a public one, and just compensation be paid or tendered the owner of the property taken, THERE IS NO LIMITATION UPON THE POWER OF THE LEGISLATURE. The right of eminent domain exists IN THE GOVERNMENT of the United States, AND MAY BE EXERCISED BY IT WITHIN THE STATES, so far as is necessary to the enjoyment of the powers conferred by the Constitution. Such authority is essential to its independent EXISTENCE AND PERPETUITY. THESE CANNOT BE PRESERVED IF THE OBSTINACY OF A PRIVATE PERSON, OR IF ANY OTHER AUTHORITY, CAN PREVENT THE ACQUISITION OF THE MEANS OR INSTRUMENTS BY WHICH ALONE GOVERNMENTAL FUNCTIONS CAN BE PERFORMED. NO ONE DOUBTS THE EXISTENCE IN THE STATE GOVERNMENTS OF THE RIGHT OF EMINENT DOMAIN. — A RIGHT DISTINCT FROM AND PARAMOUNT TO THE RIGHT OF ULTIMATE OWNERSHIP. It grows out of the necessities of their being, not out of the tenure by which lands are held. It may be exercised, THOUGH THE LANDS ARE NOT HELD BY GRANT FROM THE GOVERNMENT, either mediately or immediately, AND INDEPENDENT OF THE CONSIDERATION WHETHER THEY WOULD ESCHEvAT TO THE GOVERNMENT IN CASE OF A FAILURE OF HEIRS. The right is the offspring of POLITICAL NECESSITY, AND IT IS INSEPARABLE FROM SOVEREIGNTY, UNLESS DENIED TO IT BY ITS FUNDAMENTAL LAW. But it is no more necessary for the exercise of the powers of a State government than for the exercise of the conceded powers of the Federal government. THAT GOVERNMENT IS SOVEREIGN WITHIN ITS SPHERE, AS THE STATES ARE WITHIN THEIRS. When the power to establish post-offices and to create courts within the States was conferred upon the Federal government, included in it was authority to obtain sites for such offices and for court-houses, by such means as were known and appropriate. The right of eminent domain was one of those means WELL KNOWN when the Constitution was adopted, and employed to obtain lands for public uses. ITS EXISTENCE, THEREFORE, IN THE GRANTEE OF THAT POWER OUGHT NOT TO BE QUESTIONED. THE CONSTITUTION ITSELF CONTAINS AN IMPLIED RECOGNITION OF IT BEYOND WHAT MAY JUSTLY BE IMPLIED FROM THE EXPRESS GRANTS. The Fifth Amendment contains a provision that "private property" shall not "be taken for public use without just compensation." What is that but an IMPLIED assertion that, on making just compensation, IT MAY BE TAKEN. This power of the Federal government has not heretofore been exercised adversely: BUT THE NON-USER OF A POWER DOES NOT DISPROVE ITS EXISTENCE. In some instances the States, by virtue of THEIR OWN RIGHT of eminent domain, have condemned lands for the use of the general government, and such condemnations have been sustained by their courts, without, however, denying the right of the United States to act independently of the States... The proper view of the right of eminent domain seems to be that IT IS A RIGHT BELONGING TO A SOVEREIGNTY TO TAKE PRIVATE PROPERTY FOR ITS OWN PUBLIC USES, AND NOT FOR THOSE OF ANOTHER. Beyond that there exists no necessity which alone is the foundation of the right. IF THE UNITED STATES HAVE THE POWER, IT MUST BE COMPLETE IN ITSELF. It can neither be enlarged nor diminished by a State, NOR CAN ANY STATE PRESCRIBE THE MANNER IN WHICH IT MUST BE EXERCISED. THE CONSENT OF A STATE CAN NEVER BE A CONDITION PRECEDENT TO ITS ENJOYMENT. Such consent is needed only, if at all, for the transfer of jurisdiction and of the right of exclusive legislation after the lands shall have been acquired. THE RIGHT REQUIRES NO CONSTITUTIONAL RECOGNITION. When the use is public, the necessity or expediency of the appropriation is NOT a subject of judicial cognizance. THE POWER MAY BE DELEGATED TO A PRIVATE CORPORATION, to be exercised in the execution of a work in which the public is interested. Whether attached conditions have been observed is a matter for judicial cognizance: ASCERTAINMENT OF THE AMOUNT OF COMPENSATION TO BE MADE IS NOT AN ESSENTIAL ELEMENT OF THE POWER OF APPROPRIATION. The constitutional provision for “just compensation” is MERELY A LIMITATION UPON THE USE OF THE POWER. IT IS NO PART OF THE POWER ITSELF, but a condition upon which the power may be exercised. The proceeding for the ascertaining of the value of the property and the compensation to be made is merely an inquisition to establish a particular fact as a preliminary to the actual taking; and it may be prosecuted before commissioners, special boards, or the courts, WITH OR WITHOUT THE INTERVENTION OF A JURY, AS THE LEGISLATIVE POWER MAY DESIGNATE. All that is required is that it shall be conducted in some fair and just manner, with opportunity to the owners of the property to present evidence as to its value, and to be heard thereon. Whether the tribunal shall be created directly by an act of Congress, or one already established by the States shall be adopted for the occasion, is a matter of legislative discretion. The right over the shores and the land under the water of navigable streams resides in the State for municipal purposes, within legitimate limitations. Land taken for one purpose cannot, without special authority from the legislature, be appropriated, by proceedings in invitum, to a different use. The power of eminent domain expropriates, upon indemnity for public utility: the “police power” is exercised without making compensation — any loss occasioned is damnnum absque injuria. 2. TERRITORY OWNED AND GOVERNED: LANDS. See also Compensation, 3; Land, Public, Park, 2; Take. (WCA1889)

Now let me remind you of what an earlier, similarly feudal state looks like:

FEUDALISM - 1. A political and economic system of Europe from the 9th to 15th century, based on THE HOLDING OF ALL LAND IN FIEF OR FEE AND THE RESULTING RELATION OF LORD TO VASSAL and characterized by homage, legal and military service of tenants, and forfeiture. 2. A political, economic, or social order RESEMBLING THIS MEDIEVAL SYSTEM. (American Heritage Dictionary)

The State’s fictionally granted power and authority in allodium requires faith (fealty) and belief (love) by men in abandonment of their only True Sovereign — Nature’s God. Legal privacy as a status of citizen is just another legal lie, for the only True privacy is under God, the All-knowing. But what is privacy when compared to such omnipotence? Citizens require this implied contractual relationship even at this level of private, land-holding status, for the flattering title of such artificial (legal) status does not Exist in Nature. It is a simulation of the Real, of he who follows the Law of Nature. In the end, when searching for these mythological sovereign men, there are none to be found upon this earth, for no man is sovereign in and of him Self. The land is said to have transferred from the Crown Corporation (King’s) lands into an alodial holding within the several States set up under… what? A false god (sovereign)? A People? But there are no “People” in Reality, are there? That’s just a plurality of title, a proprietary name for the new, falsely created god (body corporate) of the totality of British and other royal-blood connected “white persons” and their posterity. If the Crown were not absent from America’s own corporate enfranchisement, the same bloodline inheritors would have become the private landholders, king or no king. Nothing inherently changed in the land or even in its flattering title, just the abolishment of feudalistic terms of art in replacement of more romantic, patriotic sounding ones. New words were made to replace old words, a “Babylonian name change,” as coined by researcher and author Patrick Jordan. And this allowed the very essence of feudalism to be simply recreated into that 14th amendment United States “public” citizen-ship under the private landholders of the feudal States.

And which god do they serve, those who have been granted patent (invention) to private, landed estate? Why themselves, of course, for they are the constituents of “the People” (a corporation) they pay tribute to, a legal and financial trust of the parts of the whole, the blood-right of lesser kings.

PEOPLE - A STATE; as, the people of the state of New York; A NATION IN ITS COLLECTIVE AND POLITICAL CAPACITY. (Bouv1856)

The delusion of some honorable, noble People being in control of any nation is perhaps the greatest lie of the entire legal matrix. It was of course spoken as such by Frederick Nietzsche not long ago:

“A state, is called the coldest of all cold monsters. Coldly lieth it also; and this lie creepeth from its mouth: "I, THE STATE, AM THE PEOPLE." IT IS A LIE! Creators were they who created peoples, and hung a FAITH AND A LOVE over them: thus they served life. DESTROYERS, ARE THEY WHO LAY SNARES FOR MANY, AND CALL IT THE STATE: they hang a sword and a hundred cravings over them. WHERE THERE IS STILL A PEOPLE, THERE THE STATE IS NOT UNDERSTOOD, BUT HATED AS THE EVIL EYE, AND AS SIN AGAINST LAWS AND CUSTOMS.”

—Friedrich Nietzsche, from ‘Thus Spoke Zarathustra’

The man acting in surety under the magic spell of education public-minded person exists by worshiping, paying tribute, and offering murderous sacrifices of foreign ethnicities through commercial wars to the nation, coveting above all else the product (money) of that corporation nation, including being a part of its human capital value as gross domestic product (live-stock).

Without users of its product, its money, every nation and its idols will crumble, and they know this. They must create United Nations to destroy all nations and raise them from the dead like the fiery Phoenix into one United Nation, one government, one religion, one people (persons). All nations will die in violent agony as they attempt to force their product (credit) upon its legally and scripturally illiterate, voluntary subjects.

And so here, at the end of this first Volume, I must ask not only myself but the reader of this work:

Do you really want to imagine yourself as one of “We, The People,” though this flattering title of plurality is not actually possible in Nature and thus can only ever be a self-delusional lie? Do you really still think the People actually Exist? Will you continue to worship these artificers of fiction, these devils incorporated into their own self-proclaimed godhood?
For all the gods of the nations are idols…

Do you really strive to become like them? Can you possibly believe that a private master and landlord is somehow any better than being a public subject in the eyes of God? Can you really believe that you are not created Naturally Equal to all others? Perhaps a better question is, have you figured out who is included in this posterity of “the People,” that American independence from the Crown corporation(s) and the big papa (pope) is part of the big legal lie of history, and that the bloodlines of these American landholders, politicians, actors, businessmen, and presidents are merely the same posterity of descended heirs to the English Crown? Does this sound like independence? Isn’t that what we supposedly fought a romantic war to escape?

“And provided further, that nothing herein contained shall affect THE TITLES OR POSSESSIONS OF INDIVIDUALS holding or claiming under the laws heretofore in force, OR GRANTS HERETOFORE MADE by the late King George II, or his predecessors, or the late lords proprietors, OR ANY OF THEM.”

—Declaration of Rights 1776, North Carolina Constitution, Excerpted from James Montgomery’s book “The United States is still a British Colony”

“But this state had no title to the territory prior to the title of the King of Great Britain and his subjects, nor did it ever claim as Lord paramount to them. This state was not the original grantor to them, nor did they ever hold by any kind of tenure under the state, or owe it any allegiance or other duties to which an escheat is annexed. How then can it be said that the lands in this case naturally result back by a kind of reversion to this state, to a source from whence it never issued, and from tenants who never held under it?”

—Marshall v. Loveless, 1 N.C. 412 (1801), 2 S.A. 70. Excerpted from James Montgomery’s book “The United States is still a British Colony”

If your answer is yes, and you aspire to become a cheater, a vampiric, parasitic escheater, a pirate of the legal cove and company store and corruptor of the masses of men as a false king in the pretended god-ship of some mapped off section in the upper butt-crack of the fictional property of that legal matrix, then I have failed here in my sincere efforts to teach you the moral law of God’s Nature. For it is the accursed power of the Bible in the hands of evil and deceitfully syndicalistic men, Its Truth and knowledge kept a mystery to all others they wished to rule over in sustained, militarily enforced, institutionalized ignorance — this will be your scepter of authority as you reign over the end of this age under the Open Conspiracy of the Luciferian Agenda 2030, and possibly over the end of man’s Existence under your elected god of mammon. Welcome to your own created hell. If your answer is no, if you seek a True and spiritual Life under Nature’s Law, then you are the remainder, or that which the scriptural prophesies call as the remnant.

Remnant - noun - [Contracted from remnant. See Remain.] 1. Residue: THAT WHICH IS LEFT AFTER THE SEPARATION, REMOVAL OR DESTRUCTION OF A PART, THE REMNANT THAT ARE LEFT OF THE CAPTIVITY. Nehemiah 1:3. 2. That which remains after a part is done, performed, told or passed. — adjective - Remaining; yet left. And quiet dedicate her remnant life to the just duties of a humble wife… (Webster 1828)
I offer one last tidbit of knowledge here, until Volume II of this work is in its finished and printed state to further solidify what we have learned thus far. For at this point the reader is at least vaguely contemplating his or her own exodus from this legal realm back into Nature and Its God and Law. Remember though, when one is already down the rabbit hole, one need not look down for the entrance but up for the exit. The problem is that the entrance is the exit and we haven’t quite yet realized we have fallen in, for this “event,” this fall, happens at birth. So where do we look for the solution to this conundrum? How do we escape the fictional realm of the gods of legal persons, places, and things when they seemingly exist all around us? How do we even begin to see the legal matrix when its fictions of law permeate everything we see and use through the proprietary names (nouns) and statutory controls of evil men? How in God’s Name do we leave this man-made hell?

The answer is hidden within these very questions…

You see, the word solution is yet another misunderstood concept used incorrectly by the corporate world in its logos and advertisements, as solutions to man-made problems that, for the most part, only exist in that artificial realm of technology (art), finance, and commerce. But what happens when we discover the actual intent and meaning of this word in law? Can the actual, Real solution really be as easy as uncovering the definition of this very legal term solution?

SOLUTIO - Latin. In civil law. Payment, satisfaction, or RELEASE: ANY SPECIES OF DISCHARGE OF AN OBLIGATION ACCEPTED AS SATISFACTORY BY THE CREDITOR. The term refers NOT SO MUCH TO THE COUNTING OUT OF MONEY AS TO THE SUBSTANCE OF THE OBLIGATION. (Black4)

SOLUTUS - In the civil law. Loosed; FREED FROM CONFINEMENT; SET AT LIBERTY. In Scotch practice. PURGED. A term used in old depositions. (Black4)

SOLVER - Latin. To pay; TO COMPLY WITH ONE’S ENGAGEMENT; TO DO WHAT ONE HAS UNDERTAKEN TO DO; TO RELEASE ONE’S SELF FROM OBLIGATION, AS BY PAYMENT OF A DEBT. (Black4)

SOLUTION - noun - [Latin solutio, from solvo, to loosen, melt, dissolve. See Solve] 1. The act of SEPARATING THE PARTS OF ANY BODY; disruption, breach… 3. Resolution, explanation: the act of explaining or removing difficulty or doubt: as the solution of a doubt in casuistry. 4. RELEASE; DELIVERANCE; DISCHARGE. 5. In algebra and geometry, the answering of a question, or the resolving of a problem proposed. (Webs1828)

SOLUTION OF CONTINUITY - THE SEPARATION OF CONNECTION OF CONNECTED SUBSTANCES OR PARTS; applied, in surgery, to a fracture, laceration, etc. (Webs1828)

SOLVE - verb transitive - solv. [Latin solvo.] 1. Properly, to loosen or separate the parts of any thing; hence, to explain; to resolve; to eclaircise; to unfold; to clear up… 2. To remove; to dissipate; as, to solve doubts. (Webs1828)

It is ironic that here, in the end, we find that legal death is the desired solution for a civil life. For we desire to kill the person (mask) while preserving the man. We must kill the strawman, severing any possible legal, contractual attachment to its fictional existence. We must leave its jurisdiction (place) and stop using its benefits (things). We must detach our christian name from its legal (antichrist) surname, so that our will under God is self-evidently testified. We must become anonymous, ambiguous, and therefore without legal, recognizable, proprietary form. We seek True Life after the spiritual death (civil life) we were tricked and induced into.

But this debt is not a monetary one, as we have discussed, meaning that it cannot merely be paid off with money. Money is just a representation of debt, of an IOU, and so its payment only passes on that debt to another. No, our debt is a performance debt, and is a legal dis-ease. The only way to shed a disease is to discharge that dis-eased material and state from the mind, body, and soul. Like pus formulated around a sliver signifying the body’s immune response and fight against foreign objects, so to must we discharge the foreign subject matter of personhood and all other legal thoughts and temptations from our Selves. We must remove the taint by discharge what it is that is corrupting our blood physically, mentally, and legally. Dis-ease cannot be tempted with money, it must be forced out by discharge. In short, we must return to our Natural, negative, pre-dis-eased state of Being, uncorrupted in our Oneness and obedience to God’s Nature and Law.

SINDERESIS - “A NATURAL POWER OF THE SOUL, set in the highest part thereof MOVING AND STIRRING IT TO GOOD, AND ABHORRING EVIL, AND THEREFORE SINDERESIS NEVER SINNETH NOR ERRETH. And this sinderesis our Lord put in man, TO THE INTENT THAT THE ORDER OF THINGS SHOULD BE OBSERVED. And therefore sinderesis is called by some men the ‘LAW OF REASON’, FOR IT MINISTERETH THE PRINCIPLES OF THE LAW OF REASON, THAT WHICH BE IN EVERY MAN BY NATURE, in that he is a reasonable creature.” —Doctor and Student. (Black1)

All of this brings us back to the essence of the Law of Nature, which is simply Love one's Self. This means keeping Pure and spotless the mind, body, and soul from all that corrupts from our Source.

“KNOW THYSELF.”

—Ancient Greek aphorism (γνῶθι σεαυτόν), and transliterated: gnōthi seauton; also (σεαυτόν). One of the Delphic maxims and was inscribed in the pronaos (forecourt) of the Temple of Apollo at Delphi according to the Greek perioctic (travelogue) writer Pausanias (10:24:1).

Citizenship is injury, as voluntary agency. And one that knows himself to be in fraud cannot ever claim that fraud is done on him through that voluntary injury. There is no tort for injury when one agrees to the United States code as their doctrine of law, for it is the right under Title 42, Section 1981 again to be put in pain, punished, taxed, and extorted (exacted) from. And because we voluntarily accept these rights as part of our injury into personhood, we agree to stand as the unavoidable surety to that legal persona and the protections is pretends to be subjected to the obligations created by those assigned equal rights of persons, the right to equal sanctions (punishments) by the gods of the nations and their mercenary agents (dementors) in uni-form.

As we are at the end of the first Volume of this work, I would like to kindly thank the reader once again for not shooting the messenger. You were warned that the Truth is often painful, and ever more so to he who hangs on to the deceits and lies (legal truths) of the fiction entwined within this artificial, legal realm and its false, flattering titles.

Like the way of the Dinosaur, the story of the strawman, the fictional persona must go extinct before man as a species with no foreseeable apex (summit) to his pointless industrial and technological progress towards a modern tower of babel and of bellial (wickedness) kills itself by killing its Natural habitat. The breath of artificial life must be severed by solution (discharge), by the end of all contracts and thus all contracted legal dis-ease, the artificial life extinguished from every legal persona of every legal entity and corporation for man to be Naturally Free from his own bonded surety (strawman) to tyranny. The legal lie must die so that the Real may once again be realized and Self-actuated beyond and in spite of these mere symbols and simulations of it. This process of awakening from the dead to Eternal Life so that we may Live for and protect Ever (Jehovah) is the only savior of man, and perhaps in these dangerous days, of all Life on earth entrusted in dominion to man as its caretaker. We must grow up and stop suckling the teat of artificial devices and hiding within artificial wombs (legal matrixes). We must become One with Everything and be Everything with the One.

But first we must voluntarily allow the artificial construct of false life and useless intelligence and information to die. We must be born again into our True Selves, embracing the Natural, embedded knowledge of the God-given gift of sindersesis, recognizing it as not merely the Love of Self but the True Love of the Self as part of the Oneness and Harmony of All self-Existence. We cannot know our True Self while pretending to be some thing we are not. And without such spiritual knowledge and Love of Self, it is impossible to Love all others as One, for all men have been retrofitted from birth with a false, legal id-entity. It is this artificial life, this strawman, that every man must discharge (stop breathing power into) and purge. The life of the puppet cannot exist without a willing master’s breath, and the strings of that master cannot be pulled by any principal if the principle’s puppet (property) is destroyed. To cut the strings of legal law, we must cut the strings to our puppet (person). But the law of the puppet (persons) only recognizes one solution, one alternative to the artifice it has constructed to hold us in this legal matrix — the return of christ (God’s Word/Law) to each man.

In the end, if all of legal fiction and language were to be destroyed, we must realize that nothing in Nature, nothing in Reality, and therefore no man would actually be harmed. The rabbit would carry on in its ambiguous substance as if the word rabbit never fictiously existed. And the Law of Nature would be untouched, for Its True, self-Existence never required anything of man, no names or titles, and certainly no language arts. I clarify this here because we must acknowledge that only a collective forgiveness of all fictions, of all debts and all crimes against Nature invoked by those currently hiding behind such legal persons and titles — only total forgiveness of all men may cause the death of all persons so that all men may Live and actually become absolutely responsible of one’s present actions. Only then may the artifice no longer be used as an excuse to sin (syn), and only then will the power of such legal deceits done in false persona have nowhere to hide, instead being Lovingly, reasonably, and Lawfully fought off by the force of the guardians of the Truth of Jehovah (self-Existence). Until respect of fiction is extinguished from the minds of men, those men playing as fictional characters will incorporate into artificial persons (conspiracies) and run together in corruption, piracy, and crimes against all of Nature. The spiritual, moral, Highest Law of God’s Nature must become the only Law, where fiction and lies are recognized as the deadly sins that were once, in a strange time long ago, protected by legal word magic.

But first, so much death must happen!

“In the same manner that a thing is bound it is unloosed.”

“A partnership is moreover DISSOLVED by the DEATH of a partner.”
“Death is called the ‘LAST PUNISHMENT,’ the ‘extremity of punishment.’”

“DEATH DISSOLVES ALL THINGS.”

—SOLVITUR EO LIGAMINE QUO LIGATUR, Livingstone v. Lynch, 4 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 582. (Black4)
—SOLVITUR ADHUC SOCIETAS ETIAM MORTE SOCIIS. Inst. 3, 26, 5; Dig. 17, 2. (Black4)
—Mors dicitur ultimum supplicium. 3 Inst. 222. (Black4)
—Mors omnia solvit. 3d. Cent. p. 160, case 2. (Applied to the case of the death of a party to an action.) (Black4)

How may I express here, as the Bible does, that death is a good thing when it comes to legal persons, places, and things (names)? Consider, perhaps, that when one is unplugged from The Matrix simulation in that science fiction story, does not one for all intents and purposes merely return to Reality, to one’s True Self in Nature? Does not the fictional representation and projected self-image of false persona (mask) therein digitally dissolve (die) and lose its artificial life?

How can one be dead in recognition of one’s attached legal name and Live only under one’s christian name and Its Law? How can we shed ourselves of this legal persona, this strawman, when our Lives have been repurposed towards that vessel of commerce and its success in the legal, commercial matrix?

The beautiful Truth is that none of this actually exists. Nonetheless, we must know what it is that causes us to be stuck in this hell of non-Existence as if it’s Real. We must first recognize the source of this legal debtor’s hell and what is perpetuating its eternal dam-nation before we can escape it.

PERPETUATE - TO CAUSE TO ENDURE INDEFINITELY TO PRESERVE FROM THE CONTINGENCY OF LOSS OR EXTINCTION. (WCA1889)

PERPETRATOR - See Accomplice, May include AN ARTIFICIAL PERSON, as, a railroad company.” (WCA1889)

PERPETUAL - Unlimited in time, continuous: as, a perpetual—_injunction, lease, statute, succession, qq. v._ A grant of perpetual succession to a corporation DOES NOT MEAN THAT THE CORPORATE EXISTENCE SHALL BE UNENDING, BUT ONLY UNBROKEN DURING THE TERM. Compare Permanent. See STATE. (WCA1889)

It was Thomas Jefferson that is noted for stating, “I prefer dangerous freedom over peaceful slavery.”

Insurance is the unnatural, “peaceful” legal admixture of surname is a perpetual (term/time-based) contract of surety that ends only at the death of that which is insured. And what is True, Natural Freedom if not the very lack of such insur- ance and perpetuities and their perpetuators?

Neither myself nor “God” nor the many authors of the Bible wish for you to die in Real Life, I assure you, only that you should stop your current necromancy with the fictions of man’s legal, always dead creations. It is the mind that must be reclaimed, the Natural Reasoning (sideresis) and the Natural Right to use Its moral guidance in all areas of True Existence, of Life in and under Jehovah and Its Law. In the ultimate of metaphorical hurdles, we must embrace death so that we may Live again. We must die in order to establish Heaven in this Life and for our future generations. We must obtain spiritual Life after this legally spiritual death, or continue being perpetually tricked into waiting for what the corporate church tells us will be the return of christ as deity. Of course, all of the fictional 13 gods of the zodiac are considered as the returning gods in their procession of the ages, and Pisces (the stars anthropomorphized as fish in a Yin-Yang position to each other) is no exception, even as Age of Aquarius the water-bearer returns in the year 2597, an astrological age returning after its full procession. But the return of the Son (Law/Word) can only really be achieved when we manifest christ in our Lives, in our actions and works, when we follow the Son (Law). But in this perpetual hell, when you actually, physically die, you will in that final breath know that these pirates of church and state have stolen the right of blood inheritance from you and your legally (bloodlessly) issued children so that everything you worked for in this dead, legal life reverts in escheat to the state (property holder), where it may beneficently allow your bastard offspring to acquire that stuff in legalized will for a small fee, say a 50% estate and orphan tax that will require your children to sell half the non-inheritable, legally willed estate to pay for it.

Note the difference here between Truth and legal fiction and ask yourself, which state of Being would you fight to protect and die for? Which word form below, Real or legal, do you desire to be your Reality? Which Law do you seek? (Terms ‘In Nature’ and ‘In legal fiction’ added by author.)

BENEVOLENCE - In Nature The doing of a kind or helpful action towards another, under no obligation except an ethical one. (Black4)

BENEVOLENCE - In legal fiction In public law. Nominally a voluntary gratuity given by subjects to their King, but in reality a tax or forced loan. (Black4)

We have learned that the Law (Son, Word) of God is of and for this Life and Nature of Existence, of this eternal Being. But as long as such corporations (artificial persons) of men in syndicalist combination (conspiracy) against God’s Law and Nature stand as false gods over our ability to self-govern and Reason in Nature, the longer we will remain in the debtor’s hell these institutions of man have created to enslave us. As in The Matrix simulation, we must unplug, discharge, and be ambiguous in civil death to its pretended existence. We must become extinct as to our legal presence and public state of mind. And as it turns out, christ’s example is the only path out of here that that legal realm actually respects. Christ’s example, as the spiritual path voluntarily bound under the Natural Law of God, is the only True Remedy, the only True Redemption, and the only True Shepherd. For what becomes extinct in the legal realm becomes Free and Pure in God’s Realm.

But once out, once unplugged and discharged, once we have made ourselves Living and thus recognizable (unable to be legally summoned), once we have exorcized this legal demon of false id-entity in third personhood under contractual agency with these master devils, we must never return to that artful realm. We must never be tempted by its artificers, trickeries, and insurances. For we may only be actors in and receive benefits from the legal matrix if we plug back in — if we abandon Jehovah and Its Nature and Law yet again to accept the mark of legal id-entity in devilry.

No, we must remain spiritually Living, while killing the strawman, causing the civil death of that civil life in attainder. Once extinct, once our blood is uncorrupted and our Lives made Pure under the Law, we can never return to such a tainted, artificial life. We can exist no more in the artifice.

MORS - Latin. Death. (Black4)

DEATH - Cessation of life; extinction of political existence. See Life. (WCA1889)

MORTISES - Latin. Dead. See Caput, Mortuum. (Black4)

MORTUUS EST - He is dead — a return to process. (Black4)

ATTAINDER - Staining; corrupting; pollution of blood. Extinguishment of inheritable quality of blood. When sentence of death is pronounced the immediate, inseparable consequence at common law is attainder.
the condemned is without the protection of the law. HIS ESTATES ARE FORFEITED, HIS BLOOD CORRUPTED. 3 The word is derived from attiricta; the stain or corruption of a criminal capitally condemned. THE PARTY ATTAINED LOST ALL INHERITABLE QUALITY — HE COULD NEITHER RECEIVE NOR TRANSMIT PROPERTY OR OTHER RIGHTS INHERITANCE. (WCA1889)

MORT CIVILE - In French law, CIVIL DEATH, as upon conviction for felony. It was nominally abolished by a law of the 31st of May, 1854, but something very similar to it, in effect at least, STILL REMAINS. Thus, the property of the condemned, possessed by him at the date of his conviction, goes and belongs to his successors; (heritiers) as in case of an intestacy; AND HIS FUTURE ACQUIRED PROPERTY GOES TO THE STATE BY RIGHT OF ITS PREROGATIVE, (par droit de deshension,) BUT THE STATE MAY, AS A MATTER OF GRACE, make it over in whole or in part TO THE WIDOW AND CHILDREN. (Black4)

CIVILITER MORTUUS - CIVILLY DEAD. DEAD IN THE VIEW OF THE LAW. The condition of ONE WHO HAS LOST HIS CIVIL RIGHTS AND CAPACITIES, AND IS ACCOUNTED DEAD IN LAW. (Black4)

MORTAL - DESTRUCTIVE TO LIFE; CAUSING OR OCCASIONING DEATH; EXPOSING TO OR DESERVING DEATH, ESPECIALLY SPIRITUAL DEATH; deadly; fatal; as, a mortal wound, OR MORTAL SIN; of or pertaining to time of death. (Black4)

IN FULL LIFE - CONTINUING IN BOTH PHYSICAL AND CIVIL EXISTENCE; that is, neither actually dead nor civiliter mortuus. (Black4)

EXTINCTION OF A THING - When a thing which is THE SUBJECT OF A CONTRACT has been destroyed, THE CONTRACT IS OF COURSE RESCINDED AS... as IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO DELIVER A THING WHICH IS NOT IN ESSE... When the subject of the contract is an individual, and not generally one of a species, the contract may be rescinded; when it is one of a species which has been destroyed, then, it may still be completed, and it will be enforced. (Black4)

IN ESSE - IN BEING, ACTUALLY EXISTING. Distinguished from in posse, which means 'that which is not, but may be.' A child before birth is in posse; after birth, in esse. (Black4)

EXTINGUISHMENT - Contracts. THE DESTRUCTION OF A RIGHT OR CONTRACT - THE ACT BY WHICH A CONTRACT IS MADE VOID. 2. ART EXTINGUISHMENT may be by matter of fact and by matter of law. 1. It is by matter of fact either express, as when one receives satisfaction and full payment of a debt, AND THE CREDITOR RELEASES THE DEBTOR, or implied, as when a person hath a yearly rent out of lands, and becomes owner either by descent or purchase, of the estate subject to the payment of the rent, the latter is extinguished; but the person must have as high an estate in the land as in the rent, or the rent will not be extinct. See Merger... Vide Discharge of a Debt. (WCA1889)

EXTINGUISHMENT - Whenever a right, title or interest is DESTROYED OR TAKEN AWAY BY THE ACT OF GOD, operation of law, or act of the party. (WCA1889)

EXECUTION - noun - PERFORMANCE; the act of completing or accomplishing... 1. In law, the carrying into effect a sentence or judgment of court; the last act of the law in completing the process by which justice is to be done, by which the possession of land or debt, damages or cost, is obtained. OR BY WHICH JUDICIAL PUNISHMENT IS INFLICTED. 2. THE INSTRUMENT, warrant or official order, by which an officer is empowered to carry a judgment into effect. An execution ISSUES from the clerk of a court, and is levied by a sheriff, his deputy or a constable, ON THE ESTATE, GOODS OR BODY OF THE DEBTOR. 3. THE ACT OF SIGNING AND SEALING A LEGAL INSTRUMENT, or giving it the forms required to render it a valid act, as the execution of a deed. 4. The last act of the law in the punishment of criminals: CAPITAL PUNISHMENT: DEATH INFLECTED ACCORDING TO THE FORMS OF LAW. 5. Effect: something done or accomplished. Every shot did execution. 6. Destruction: slaughter... 7. Performance, as in music or other ART. (WCA1889)

EXECUTE - verb transitive - [Latin exsequor, for exsequor, ex and sequor, to follow. See Seek.] (1) Literally, to follow out or through. Hence, TO PERFORM: to do; to effect; to carry into complete effect; to complete; to finish. We execute a purpose, A PLAN, DESIGN OR SCHEME; we execute a work UNDERTAKEN, that is, we pursue it to the end. 2. To perform: to inflict; as, to execute judgment or vengeance. 3. To CARRY into effect; as, to execute law or justice. 4. To carry into effect the law, or the judgment or sentence on a person; to inflict capital punishment on; TO PUT TO DEATH; as, to execute a traitor. 5. To KILL. 6. TO COMPLETE, AS A LEGAL INSTRUMENT, TO PERFORM WHAT IS REQUIRED TO GIVE VALIDITY TO A WRITING, AS BY SIGNING and sealing: as, to execute a deed or lease. - verb intransitive - TO PERFORM the proper office, TO PRODUCE AN EFFECT. (WCA1889)

EXECUTIONER - noun - One who executes: ONE WHO CARRIES INTO EFFECT A JUDGMENT OF DEATH: one who inflicts a capital punishment in pursuance of a legal warrant... 2. THE INSTRUMENT BY WHICH ANY THING IS PERFORMED. (WCA1889)

EXECUTED - participle passive - Done: PERFORMED: ACCOMPLISHED: CARRIED INTO EFFECT; PUT TO DEATH. (WCA1889)

DESTROY - As used in policies of insurance, leases, and in maritime law, and under various statutes, this term is often applied to AN ACT WHICH RENDERS THE SUBJECT USELESS FOR ITS INTENDED PURPOSE, THOUGH IT DOES NOT LITERALLY DEMOLISH OR ANNIHILATE IT. To ‘destroy’ a VESSEL within the meaning of an act of congress means TO UNFIT THE VESSEL FOR SERVICE, BEYOND THE HOPE OF RECOVERY BY ORDINARY MEANS... In relation to WILLS, CONTRACTS, and other documents, the term “destroy” does not import the annihilation of the instrument or its resolution into other forms of matter, BUT A DESTRUCTION OF ITS LEGAL EFFICACY, which may be by cancellation, obliterating, tearing into fragments, etc. (Black4)

DISCHARGE - As a verb and noun, conveys the idea of RELIEVING OF A CHARGE, BURDEN, WEIGHT, OR OF A DUTY, SERVICE, OR RESPONSIBILITY. -verb -(1) TO EMPTY OF CARGO OR FREIGHT: AS, TO DISCHARGE A VESSEL; also, TO REMOVE THAT WITH WHICH A THING IS LADEN: as, to discharge a cargo. See Dispatch; Poet, Of discharge. (3) TO EXTINGUISH, SATISFY: as, TO DISCHARGE a demand, DEBT, legacy, lien, JUDGMENT, incumbrance, OBLIGATION, qq. v. (3) To free from the payment of indebtedness already incurred: as, to discharge a bankrupt, an insolvent, qq. v. (4) To absolve from contingent pecuniary hability (ability): as, TO DISCHARGE AN INDORSER, A SURETY, A GUARANTOR, qq. v. (5) TO RELIEVE FROM THE PERFORMANCE OF THE DUTIES OF A TRUST; as, to discharge an assignee, administrator, executor, guardian, receiver, qq. v. (6) TO RELIEVE FROM FURTHER SERVICE in the consideration of a cause; TO dismiss: as, to discharge a jury. (7) To set at liberty; to free from imprisonment: as, to discharge a prisoner, a convict. (8) To decline further to entertain a proceeding; to vacate: as, to discharge a rule. - noun - (1) RELIEF FROM SOME BURDEN OR DUTY: EXTINGUISHMENT OR SATISFACTION OF AN OBLIGATION: EXONERATION FROM RESPONSIBILITY, ACCOUNTABILITY, LIABILITY: EXEMPTION FROM SERVICE OR ACTION: LIBERATION, ANNULMENT... (WCA1889)

QUIT - TO ABANDON, RELINQUISH, SURRENDER, TO QUIT A SERVICE IS TO ABANDON IT, not to leave it expecting to return the next day... (WCA1889)

QUITCLAIM - verb - TO GIVE UP ONE’S CLAIM OF TITLE. - noun - A DEED in the nature of A RELEASE, containing words of RESCUE and of GRANT... (WCA1889)

QUIETARE - L. Latin. TO QUIT, ACQUIT, DISCHARGE, or SAVE harmless... (Black4)
QUITE CLAMANTIA - L. Latin. In old English law, QUITCLAIM. (Black4)

QUITE CLAMMER - L. Latin. TO QUITCLAIM OR RENOUNCE ALL PRETENSIONS OF RIGHT AND TITLE. (Black4)

QUIETUS - In old English law. Quit; acquitted; DISCHARGED. A word used by the clerk of the pipe and auditors IN THE EXCHEQUER, in their acquittances or DISCHARGES GIVEN TO ACCOUNTANTS... In modern law, A FINAL DISCHARGE OR ACQUITTANCE, AS FROM A DEBT OR OBLIGATION; THAT WHICH SILENCES CLAIMS. (Black4)

Only in death may the beauty, Grace, and innocence of Life in God’s True Nature be found again.

Debt may not be paid off. One cannot pay a debt with more debt (money as IOU’s). A positive, in other words, cannot be discharged with another positive. Only a negative may cancel out a positive. More to the point, becoming again only a negative, ambiguous Being under God’s Law cancels out anything in man’s positive law by extinguishing the bond and surety as a performance debt and obligation under such contract. We must quit playing the game; quit acting the fools.

It is said that a man should strive to Live a simple Life. But how do we know what it is to be in the state of being simple when for our whole, fictionally driven lives we’ve been attached and bonded to all of the complications, competitiveness, immoralities, and sureties of this legal matrix code under the temptations of mammon? Just what does it actually mean, in Reality, to Live a simple Life? And how does that apply to the Law, to a contractual disposition and obligation, and to the respect of persons and usury? In the simplest of terms, the word simple merely means to Live Life in Nature without need or use of fiction, without surname, and without any signature! It means self-responsibility and self-governance. It is the way, the spiritual path of the True sons of God...

SIMPLE - PURE; UNMIXED; NOT COMPOUNDED; NOT AGGRAVATED; NOT EVIDENCED BY SEALED WRITING OR RECORD. (Black4)

What can I say here at the end of this first Volume to offer you comfort and good will in your journey that is not already written as the Word of God, whether you choose to accept this pre-fabricated fate and course in the devil’s hell for debtors or seek to discharge that which burdens you down in lading to it? Well, after much consideration, I suppose the only thing I can say is this:

“BE YE NOT UNEQUALLY YOKED TOGETHER WITH UNBELIEVERS; for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? AND WHAT CONCORD HATH CHRIST WITH BELIAL? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? AND WHAT AGREEMENT HATH THE TEMPLE OF GOD WITH IDOLS? FOR YE ARE THE TEMPLE OF THE LIVING GOD; as God hath said, I WILL DWELL IN THEM, AND WALK IN THEM; and I will be their God, AND THEY SHALL BE MY PEOPLE. Wherefore COME OUT FROM AMONG THEM, AND BE YE SEPARATE, saith the Lord, AND TOUCH NOT THE UNCLEAN THING; and I will receive you, AND WILL BE A FATHER UNTO YOU, AND YE SHALL BE MY SONS AND DAUGHTERS, saith the Lord Almighty.”

—2 Corinthians 6: 14-18, KJB

“So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.”

—Mark 16:19, KJB

“If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.”

—Colossians 3:1, KJB

Volume Two of this work will serve to solidify and verify in triplicate what has been disclosed herein, breaking down further these language arts and other barriers to knowledge. The legal matrix will be broken down to its coded terms of art, while compared extensively with the movie version of this debtor’s performance hell, including a look at the actual, stunningly intense and eyeopening books that were utilized and downright plagiarized without due credit in that film franchise. And the Truth is so much stranger than any Hollywood fiction made in simulation of It.

As for this first Volume, I can only say this: may the death of your ego, and thus the end of your vain belief in (love of) a legal, strawman id-entity, lead you onto the Right and spiritual path taken from you at your birth and de-livery into the bond and surety of this debtor’s hell. If it so moves you and, in christ (Law), should you now choose to find the path to Live Truly within Nature’s Realm and thus under the Right Hand of God, may the death of the state’s strawman be painless and honorable, its detachment without mental scar, that it may lead to a Truly untainted, unblemished, and spiritually Pure new Life. There is no other True redemption, for all else is of the god of mammon, of the path of magic and trickery, and each man may only serve one master. May we all be spiritually guided and motivated to find each other out there in and as the remainder! In the Purest Harmony of Love and Charity of all Life and self-Existence as the Oneness of God…
